CANAL CHANGE CREATES WARM CONTROVERSY

CANAL BOARD VIGOROUSLY DENIES IMPUTATIONS ON INTENTIONS

Want Only to See Law Complied With

Members Say They Have Worked for Changes - Secretary Edwards Says Foes Played Dirty Politics.

With a few minor changes, practically all merely verbal, the canal company meeting Tuesday evening voted $43,134.64 to $616,410 to adopt all the changes proposed by the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau membership under the leadership of Dr. John E. White. The form of the amendments were agreed upon viva voce and then the vote by stock was taken. It is understood that a large amount of stock was in the hands of men who were present and did not vote either way. At the conclusion, M. J. Sweoley moved that the president and chairman and secretary certify the result in the proper form to the board of directors for their action, which, in the regular form, would consist of filing the changes with the county auditor for record.

The action of the meeting has created much interest and, while there was nothing but courtesy observed at the Lavering, the interviews published hereunder indicate that the course of canal affairs, like true love, doesn't run smoothly. President White appeared before the board Wednesday morning and asked them to announce whether they would assume the action which is the regular form, would consist of filing the changes with the county auditor for record.

Without depositing the ballot in any ballot box.

"I have been working for some of these things for several years," said Director J. J. Wertz, "and announced in meetings three or four years before the farm bureau was organized, and I favor most of them, but as the board is clothed with legal authority, I insist that they shall be done in that way."

"I was on the committee which helped draft the attorney bill, which made changes possible and do not propose to have it said that I am opposed to these things if legally done. Dr. White knew very well the substance of the bill, and made no objection. He knew that we wanted to give the stockholders a chance to consider the specific propositions before they fully proposed them to the board, and before they were acted upon."

"The board in so doing announced that they desired to proceed in accordance with the law and stated that should the attorney find that the changes were in his opinion legally made, they would proceed to call the special election for the first Tuesday in December. On the other hand, should further ratification be necessary and the changes be found not to be yet in force, they would proceed to call the election at the usual time in January. They asked that Judge Bothwell proceed as rapidly as he could in full justice to the importance of the matter. But to take all the time required to give the subject a thorough review. The decision will probably be handed in in writing this week, perhaps this evening or tomorrow morning."

The members of the board declare that personally they favor most of the changes, that they have not opposed them, and that they will proceed under the new order of things if legal. They declare, however, that they drop up the call including the word "initiate" after due consideration, because they believed that the people owning stock would want specific knowledge beforehand in regard to proposed changes, and they they supposed the things would be acted upon in a lump. They say they are not yet certain whether the voting was done legally or not. That there was neither a ballot box nor a viva voce vote by roll call and declare that the stockholders have been present simply took a slip of blank paper, wrote their names, the amount of stock and the word "Yes" or "No" on the paper, and handed it to the clerk without indicating on the paper what they were voting for, or against, and go to the bat with them. The question involved seems to be whether or not they shall regard the action Tuesday as final or shall have a ratification meeting. Of course, I do not know how many votes they have got. They did not vote the other day but tried to interfere with the taking of action and to delay things. They played all the dirty politics they could. They had the opinion of their attorney for days. They tried to get Chairman Sweoley to pass on the legal points as chairman while their own attorney was there with an opinion in his pocket. They tried to let dirty politics. The board promised to let us say that in the evening what action will be taken."

"The attorney for the canal company will, we are informed, hand in his opinion this afternoon on the legality of the action taken yesterday," said President John E. White of the farm bureau, in his morning paper. "He holds that final action could not be taken. I suppose that another special meeting will be necessary."

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS EXHIBIT A SURPRISING SHOWING OF RESULTS

Full Report of Premiums Awarded at the Fine Exhibit Made by the Vocational Clubs of Boys' and Girls' From Our Public Schools.

Table with columns: Kind of Club, No. of Members, No. of Exhibits, Est. Val. Exhibits, Prizes Offered, Est. Val. Products. Rows include Garden, Potato, Poultry, Corn, Pig, Calf, Lamb, Sewing, Canning, Baking, and a TOTAL row.

In the subjoined list of the awards made to the exhibitors, there are quite a number made on descriptive articles not enumerated in the printed list; and in some cases a premium of "honorable mention" (marked H. M. in list) was awarded to exhibitors who were not members of the clubs, as well as those who were and for whose excellent product no other premium was provided. The following is a complete list of premiums awarded:

- First—Everett Ross, Loving Cup. Second—Bert Shumor, $3.00. Third—John Burns, $1.50. Fourth—Walter Smith, H. M. Fifth—Melvin Whitehead, H. M. Sheep Exhibit. First—Merritt Shotwell, $3.00. Third—Chester Kerr, $1.00. Fourth—Conrad A. Faber, $1.00. First—Everett DeWitt, $3.00. Second—Wm. Kiersted, $2.00.

(Continued on Page 4) ... The attorney for the canal company will, we are informed, hand in his opinion this afternoon on the legality of the action taken yesterday, said President John E. White of the farm bureau, in his morning paper. He holds that final action could not be taken. I suppose that another special meeting will be necessary. Denton Favorited Change. "Some one reported that I was opposed to the changes made by the meeting Tuesday," said D. M. Denton yesterday. "I want to say that I have not yet had an entrance. I have been working for many of these things for years and the charge to the contrary is false. I was unable to attend the meeting being out of town on the north side, and unable to get away."

LIBERTY LOAN OF $600,000 IS DESIRED

TWIN FALLS COUNTY ASKED TO SUBSCRIBE THAT AMOUNT

Does Not Include the Buhl District

Chairman Finch Has Committees Ready for Work—Farm Bureau Will Do What It Can Under Difficulties.

The state committee of the Liberty Loan wants $600,000 from Twin Falls county, outside of the Buhl district, and the local committee under the leadership of E. J. Finch, is getting down to brass tacks and preparing to make a drive, such as the campaign will be on next week, and the fifty-one members of the larger committee will get to work with a will. Nobody will be passed up in the effort to secure money for the successful prosecution of the war for American rights on land and on sea. The farm bureau under the leadership of its president, Captain John E. White, and Secretary W. F. Edwards will conduct a campaign in the county at the same time, though owing to the extremely busy season they fear that their efforts will be greatly hampered. All the farmers are short-handed, they are in the midst of hard work trying to save all their crops and it will be difficult to find men who can devote the required time and energy to the work. Secretary Edwards said today that had the call come a month earlier, or had it been delayed a month later, a much more effective campaign could have been put up outside the city, but added that they would do the best that they could. The meeting tonight at the high school auditorium will be for the purpose of discussing food conservation, although the subject of the Liberty Loan will probably receive some notice.

COMMISSIONERS HAVE HARMONIOUS MEETING

The county commissioners yesterday met the Buhl Highway and street commissioners at Buhl, and went over the road plans thoroughly. The session was altogether harmonious. The county commissioners made their plans and maps conform to the plans of roads designated in Buhl, so that should the county bonds be voted they will have a complete system, getting its share of the state money for the state highway and its share of the county bond issue. The commissioners report that the best of feeling prevailed.

COAL TAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR RAILROAD

FIRST STEP TOWARD COMMANDEERING THE FUEL SUPPLY

Further Steps to be Taken Soon

Roads Must Be Kept Going—The Needs of Consumers Will be Taken Care of Later by the Nation.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The full power of the government was exerted today to solve the coal shortage problem when the first commandeering order was issued. Under the order issued by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, fuel administrator, the Pennsylvania railroad which serves 700 mines, will be supplying the bituminous producers on a pro rata basis. The fuel needed by the Pennsylvania system may be furnished at the prices fixed by the government. In some instances coal consignments under contract for delivery to other industries will be interfered with by today's order. "The railroads must be kept running," said the fuel administrator in his order, "and the fuel administration suggests that operators withhold coal from persons and corporations needing it least and that they assist in the supply of the needs of roads other than the Pennsylvania."

At the same time the fuel administration has announced that it will issue an order in preparation that will commandeer coal for all other important railroad systems of the nation. This step will be taken to place under commandeering fuel for commercial use. The needs of the government will be cared for first.

Complaints have been registered that the railway companies were confiscating coal to the disadvantage of private consumers. The fuel administration took today's step in order to stop that practice and place under provision of coal for railroads on a systematic basis.

According to the fuel administration, the purpose of this measure is to relieve the coal shortage. It is expected that within two weeks time coal provisions will have been made for all railroads. First general increase in the schedules of coal prices fixed by President Wilson in August were announced by the fuel administration this afternoon. Increases were granted in the Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia fields where operators complained that the prices set by the president were too low to allow them to operate at a profit.

The new schedule of prices for these areas is as follows: For run of mine $2.40; former price $2.00. For prepared sizes $2.65, former price $2.25. For slack or screenings $2.15, former price $1.75.

German Naval Revolt Regarded as Serious

American Officer Says That While Suppressed It Marks Beginning of the End.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—American naval circles today were anxiously seeking further information about the mutiny in the German navy. The admission that one had taken place in the Baltic, yesterday by Minister of Marine Capelle, was considered most significant. Naval revolts have been few in history, and were pointed out as rare men are extremely free from agitation that makes for unrest. In discussing one of the latest developments one of the highest officers of the navy department said today:

PROVINCES ARE IN WAY OF THE GERMAN PEACE

CHANCELLOR DECLARES FOR RETENTION OF ALSACE AND LORRAINE

Peace Delegates Plot His Downfall

Much Suffering From Cold in Berlin—Report of Big Conference Between Central Rulers Received.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) BERNE, Oct. 11.—A severe obstacle to the early peace negotiations is seen in the announcement of the German chancellor that Germany will not relinquish Alsace Lorraine. Diplomats who studied carefully the declaration of Dr. Michaelis in the reichstag on Tuesday said today that, in their opinion, this is the nearest Germany has yet come to making public any of her peace terms. With France committed to the restoration of Alsace Lorraine and the German government on record for the retention of these provinces, a deadlock in the peace situation seems inevitable for the time being. A delayed dispatch from Berlin said that the political debate in the reichstag executive committee would be resumed today.

A movement is reported under way in the reichstag, backed by a number of deputies, to compel the resignation of Chancellor Michaelis and reelected Prince von Buelow, who formerly held that post. During proceedings in the reichstag on Tuesday oral attacks were made against President Wilson.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 11.—Koen enforcing has been ontalled in Berlin by the government decree that no coal fire for other purposes than cooking may be lighted before October 15. Germany is now feeling the first touch of winter weather.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Official Washington is daily becoming more confident of assistance in the winning of the war from internal sources in the German empire. Members of the president's cabinet and other high officials who are kept informed of the secret communications which reach the American embassy through diplomatic and secret service channels say that a new movement is being felt within the central powers, which is believed to be of a serious nature. The new element in the war situation is known as the southwestern movement. It springs from the people of Bavaria, Hungary and the other lesser provinces and minor kingdoms in the southwestern part of the Pan-German domain. Considerable numbers of these people are gathering sufficient strength to embarrass the Prussian military party.

A Geneva dispatch received yesterday from the British board of control new peace terms had been called in Serbia and would be attended by the monarchs and cabinets of Germany, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Bulgaria and the allies.

Today's dispatches report heavy fighting at two points on the French front with slight advantage to the allies. In the English, Russian and Italian fronts, Premier Kerensky again pledged support to the allies today.

State and U. S. Land Officials Visit Salmon

Opportunity Offered for Full and Complete Understanding of Matters Connected with Water Questions—Meeting at Hollister Monday.

Under instructions from Governor Alexander, notice has been given in previous editions of the TIMES and by posters, that the Idaho State Land Board accompanied by U. S. Land Commissioner Tallman, would be in Hollister on Monday and Tuesday, October 15th and 16th, for the purpose of conferring with the settlers on the Salmon River tract. Notice is also desired to be given of a public meeting to be held in the high school auditorium at Hollister, at 1 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday, October 17th, at which the land board, and Commissioner Tallman will be present. A message from Hon. H. C. Howell, receiver state land, dated Monday, October 15th, advises the TIMES that Hon. Clay Tallman, commissioner general land office, was to arrive in Boise last night and that, with the state land board, he would be at Hollister on the 15th and 16th.

W. C. T. U. HOLD MEETING

The Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of the president, Mrs. Montooth, October 5. Ten members were present. A program was made for the monthly meeting of the year; superintendents were appointed for the different departments of the work as follows:

National prohibition work, Miss Tella Smith; legislation work, Mrs. Bernice Kabe; soldiers and sailors, Mrs. J. H. Hardin; flower and mission work, Mrs. Mattie Ellis; labor and temperance work, Mrs. Queenie Shaw; rescue work, Mrs. Maude New; corner, social meetings and red letter day, Mrs. Charles Moore.

Committees will be appointed to finish the program. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. W. Swearingen, the first Friday in November. Mrs. Mattie Ellis will be the leader and all are invited to attend. Be a friend and be one of us to help the good cause along. We have reorganized and have twenty-four members.

(Signed): Mrs. Ollie Montooth, President. Mrs. Ida E. James, Secretary.

MEMORIAM

Roberta Jean Waite, the infant daughter of Kyle Waite, private at Vancouver barracks, died Tuesday morning at the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank of Kimberly. Mrs. Waite, Roberta's mother, died during the early part of June at Twin Falls, and Mrs. Della Frank, sister of Mrs. Waite, immediately adopted the child into her keeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Waite have a multitude of friends both in Twin Falls and in Kimberly. Any woman who Waite died shortly following the birth of little Roberta, a grave love went out from all for the little motherless babe.

Mr. Waite, who felt keenly the call of his country, was constrained to enlist his services for the cause of human liberty. He bore the first great grief privately and heavily; his friends await with anxious sympathy and sorrow his second answer to the call of his loved one, passed on before him.

Mr. Waite has been notified by telegraph of the death of his babe, and is expected home soon.

Arrangements for the funeral service will be made here. Thus it is that little lives, their future unknown and only dreamed of by fond parents, pass into that great ether, to sway against human judgment and desires.

Whether the life was finished and its work fulfilled, or whether it was caused to wither before the blossom we do not know. The tiny baby's breath is as fragrant and truly a blossom in full bloom as the larger life. So perhaps a life so short and so sweetly pure as little Roberta's as free from the stains of the world, and vulgar sin, and men's scuffings, was as truly a life fulfilled, ready for the harvest as the life of the sage; even that sweet old grandmother whose life of four-score years is drawing to its close.

Precious seeds of great importance are often sown by little hands in a very short time; and who knows or dares to doubt that the few short days of an infant's life, and every day into immortality; have not brought many nearer to the throne of grace, into the kingdom of the father; and that the greatest work a mortal man can do.

Of the beyond we know nothing aside from a few, vague teachings and some visions of hope and desire, as Whitlows says: 'I care for the souls, who have left the light.

To reveal their lot; I bond my ear to that wall of night, And they answer not.' But this we do know, that when the life departs from the earth it returns with the spirit to God who gave it, and we rest content with the assurance, that no who was wise enough and great enough and kind enough to create and sustain so great a universe, is also able to care for the little one who is called to his side.

B. H. Atkinson's father is in Kimberly this week. Mrs. Alice Atkinson has been touring the United States, having traversed eight states since August first. He arrived in Kimberly last Monday on the noon train.

Frank Wilson, local merchant recently married, has purchased B. H. Atkinson's residence, and will occupy the place as soon as improvements are complete.

North Swearingen and G. H. Smith of Kimberly were in Salt Lake City the first part of this week, leaving Kimberly Sunday evening and returning Tuesday afternoon.

Allen and Savage, well known potato raisers of the Kimberly vicinity, are planning to start their potato digging machine some time this week. They estimate an unusually large crop for this season.

This is the time of year when Kimberly folks are beginning to think seriously about their winter's supply of water. Several new citizens are being dug about the neighborhood.

A. T. Turner is digging a new one at his residence estimated to contain 700 barrels. He is also digging a 300 barrel capacity cistern back of the wagon out store building. Ed. Bayrd is installing one at his new residence.

Also J. M. Steelwith, who is constructing a new residence in the city, and nearly all the cisterns are being cleaned.

A. Hollingsworth sold a forty acre farm last week.

J. M. Steelwith bought a forty acre farm last week. Mr. Clint Ridgway left Tuesday morning for the east. She has been visiting for several weeks with her brother-in-law, Carl Ridgway of Kimberly.

Frank Willmarth began excavations for his new residence late last week. He is building on a recently purchased site on the north side of town.

Jim Dunn and Jim Elmore are in Kimberly from Three Creek spending a few days visiting with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Swearingen spent Sunday with Grant King and family.

George Smith of Gillis' blacksmith shop is taking a weeks vacation. He is, however, spending his leisure time in Kimberly.

Ered Martin, formerly the local cleaner and presser, left last week for Pocatello.

Frank Swearingen went to McDermis ranch Monday of this week to repair an engine.

Fanley purchased a bunch of sheep the first of this week. Howard and Roy Cox have been in the mountains for the past several days looking after some cattle in the interest of the Model Meat market.

J. E. Ogg and wife, together with two daughters, Misses Alma and Lulu Ogg, are on their way to Kimberly, from Watertown, S. D. The last letter received from them by Mr. Ogg's sister, Mrs. North Swearingen of Kimberly, was mailed from Nebraska. They are making the trip by automobile.

Seven years ago Mr. Ogg made a visit to Kimberly and looked over the Twin Falls tract, becoming so infatuated with the prospects of the country, that he declared that as soon as he could he was coming to live on the Twin Falls tract. He will purchase or rent as soon as he arrives.

Frank Swearingen requests public notice to the effect that he has purchased some cheese and supply of traps with the intention of going into the hide and fur business. He hopes to accumulate enough fur to make a mossy colored coat.

Mrs. George Bremer is staying with her mother, Mrs. R. W. Eubanks this week. Mrs. Bremer is attending to some recently purchased shoes.

O. G. Zuck left Monday night for American Falls on business. He will not find Delta Ferguson's school. The new school wagons are being constructed at the village blacksmith shop. The schools are enjoying the largest enrollment in their history, and still more are being expected to enroll, following the harvest season.

A. D. Felton left the first of this week for the mountains to hunt bear. He expects to be gone for a couple of weeks if the bear is not luckier than he.

Naomi Wright scalded her arm severely last Monday night, when she accidentally tipped over a kettle of boiling water.

Miss Della Ferguson is planning on a trip to Buhl for the week-end and will visit with some old friends from her home town in Pendleton, Oregon.

We are convinced that Kimberly needs some new homes. The families here, and their children are in school, but do all they can—they can not find house room. It is unusual for a town to get too large to hold its people. But such is the case with Kimberly and we have some folks we can't afford to lose.

NEW THEATRE OPENS The new Star theatre opened last Monday night with a full house. The new building recently constructed is not altogether finished, but the interior of the auditorium proper is almost complete. The auditorium will seat about five hundred people, and the stage is the largest in the village. The opening night was greeted by a large and appreciative audience, who gathered to see the British war pictures, presenting the tanks in action at the Battle of the Ancre. The pictures were realistic in the extreme, and presented another side to our general war ideas, aside from the noise of cannon, the slaying of men, drilling and the marching in nice uniforms, so forth. It presented rather macabre carrying lumber, wading through mud and slush, digging trenches, and doing all kinds of manual labor. For button-wrappers in any quantity call up the Kimberly Advance.

It is interesting to note the fact that the twenty thousand airplanes provided for in the $640,000,000 aviation bill passed by congress that July are actually under construction. They are practically agreed that the airplane is one of the most essential machines of modern warfare. The airplane provides the one means of warding off and combating the submarine, it is the only practical means of observation that serve against the long range, and of the enemy, and it provides by far the most satisfactory and the safest and speediest means of travel and transportation in the world today, speaking from the standpoint of the conditions and handicaps that naturally arise out of war.

According to Secretary Baker, the airplane of the United States will provide the eyes of our army, and the crafts are being constructed upon every practical scientific basis provided by present day knowledge in the art of building and operating a craft of the air. There are at the present time under construction, training machines, light, high speed fighting machines, powerful battle and bombing machines of the very heaviest design, and giant craft designed for the hardest usage and the heaviest fighting.

With construction and provision of the airplane in so large a quantity, comes also the demand for men to man them. Thousands of young men have already responded to this call of the high places and over twenty-four schools are in operation for the purpose of training and equipping the young man with sufficient knowledge of the science of flying to make them highly useful in that regard future when the utmost of their nerve and ability will be put to the severest test.

Aerial warfare is a new type of warfare, and naturally demands a new type of soldier. The airman, will from necessity, not be the splendidly efficient machine in the hands of an engineer or many engineers, as is the private officer of the navy or of their sort. The airman must be his own engineer. He must rely upon his own wisdom and resources for his orders in cases of emergency and extreme danger.

Aerial warfare of the present hour is much different from aerial warfare but three or four years ago. At the beginning of the war in Europe the airplane was quite a distinct, and also quite an exact feature of the aerial battle as compared with its present place. It is certainly less exact now, even if it is more distinct than before. It was used originally at the beginning of the war for the purpose of observation, in which service it became so efficient that the war department began to consider plans for adopting it as a more essential part of the war equipment.

Then it was that a system was organized for using the airplanes. A system of observation it was, conducted upon the old (and not so old either) disciplinary idea of order and strict obedience to a commander from the superior officers. The observer was sent upon his flight and route at a certain hour each day, with orders to return at a certain hour and come within a certain time of the base, and he would, he knew must fly his route and ascend and descend at his given hour, though that might mean the destruction of his own life.

The result of the system thus adopted was entirely unsatisfactory. The art of flying became so extremely dangerous that almost no man was permitted to fill the ranks of the fliers. This difficulty in securing airman, the place that aircraft had made for itself in warfare, almost stopped the possibility of the man who dared to launch out at the given hour for his route of observation; these things united in bringing about a great change in aerial warfare.

Today the airman leaves at no given hour, no regular period of departure, to be celebrated by the enemy with their cheering and enthusiastic ambition to bring him to earth. Nor is there a regular route, or a given period for his return. He rather waits for the order and conviction of his superiors embarks on his heavenly journey and come what will he must meet them as best he can. But he has this advantage, there is no order to obey but his own, whether that come from wit, experience, or intuition.

If troublesome conditions arise, he flies himself being ever on the watch by the enemy, if he meets them unawares passing through a clouded heaven, he is in his own general and orders his own retreat or change which ever the case may be, and you can depend upon it, it will be a charge if there is the least hope for a victory, and sometimes when there is none.

This type of aerial warfare that demands and develops the ingenuity of the soldier, that makes him a reliable and a more efficient man, is the type of warfare that will call the best of our land within its array. It calls for manhood, for generalship, for character, for fortitude, for courage, and the soldier who fills the conditions is more than a soldier, more than what he was in his position in civil life, he is a man.

The airplane is the machine of modern warfare that stands out as the supreme destructor and protector of every other form of modern warfare. It is a machine supreme, and that machine manned by the best men, the most reliable men, that the country can produce, is a general, a general, we can readily see the place that the air holds in our great enterprise for the sake of democracy and human rights.

We are glad for these words of our secretary, "There is practically no limit to the number of aerial fighters which the United States can and will furnish in the war for democracy."

Methodist Episcopal
Rev. A. W. James, pastor.
Services for Sunday, October 14, 10 a. m. Sunday school session. J. E. Halferty, superintendent.

There will be no morning sermon on account of the dedication of the M. E. church at Twin Falls. The congregation will attend that service and enjoy the opportunity of hearing Bishop Matt. Hughes of Portland.

7:30 p. m. Epworth League, topic, "Country Boys in Crowded Cities." Leader, Jay Scott.

7:30 p. m. sermon by the pastor, subject, "The Bible and World War." Don't miss this sermon. Come and hear about the "Bible in the trenches," a subject to grip everyone. Sunday evening, some very fine social music will be rendered that will be a treat to every one.

The choir rehearsal every Thursday evening.

Some instructive study classes will start right away.

The Adult Bible class social meeting for October will be held at the home of Mrs. M. J. Scott. A delightful time was had with an interesting program and delicious refreshments. The attendance reached above the half hundred mark.

Woman Instructs Student Aviators

(International News Service)
SANDUSKY, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Alys McKay Bryant is the only woman in Ohio who is training aviators for possible war service. Mrs. Bryant, an excellent flier and the widow of Johnny Bryant, an aviator who was killed during a flight four years ago, accepted a position as tutor in the school established here by Tom Benedict for aviators. Benedict died a few months ago and Mrs. Bryant took charge of the school. She has volunteered her services for war, but will not be summoned unless an "emergency" arises.

U. S. German Paper Quits During War

(International News Service)
YOUNGSDOWN, Oct. 11.—Although there was no official complaint against the paper, William F. Maag, for nearly fifty years owner and publisher of the monarchical German language newspaper, has voluntarily discontinued its publication during the war. Mr. Maag also is owner and publisher of the Youngstown Vindicator.

Mr. Maag's action, it is believed, sets a precedent in this country. Giving up the publication was a personal act and not a result of any financial loss. There was no lack of public confidence in the Rundschau.

There will be a meeting of the official board of the church next Sunday morning following the morning services. This will be a very important meeting and it is hoped that all the officers of the church will make it a point to be present.

Choir practice every Friday night. Your attendance at the choir practice is warmly and kindly requested. This is an important feature of our church work.

The Loyal Workers class held their regular monthly club dinner and business meeting last Sunday.

Our church is growing rapidly in all departments and interest is increasing. We are looking forward with great eagerness to the coming and the service of the Organ-Mell Evangelistic company in January. There are many of the vicinity who should identify themselves with our work, having been members of an organization elsewhere and now making Kimberly their home.

LOCAL SCHOOLS ORGANIZING SCHOOL RED CROSS

Intelligent Co-operation of the Parents Sought

According to the proclamation recently issued by President Wilson the schools all over the country have been conducting a campaign for membership in the school red cross societies. This is a separate organization from the town Red Cross society, in that all work is done by the children.

The first step in the organization of Christmas boxes for the soldiers, also the making of wax tapers which are used by the soldiers in the trenches. A membership card for every child is necessary before this organization may be affected. There is a great deal of work which can be done by the children, but unless every child is a member no society can be formed. Some of the children have been so imbued with the Red Cross spirit that they have volunteered to help their parents share to help others who can not pay, and to hasten the organization of the School Red Cross.

Has your child? If he has not, send twenty-five cents or more tomorrow. So far, the senior high school and the fifth grade have their money all in, and ready to do their bit.

Twice-a-Week Published Tuesdays and Thursdays by the TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC. C. L. LONGLEY, General Manager $2.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

GOOD ROADS ASSURED

It certainly seems as if the road bond situation had become such as to insure an affirmative vote upon the question of a county issue. For confirmation, note the prospective arrangement to be agreed upon by the commissioners from the county and from the highway district as set forth in our last issue.

There is today no necessity to recapitulate the economic and practical advantages of good roads. Everyone knows how they save time by making distances shorter, and save money by making the load of produce greater.

TABACCO FOR SOLDIER BOYS

In consonance with its theory that both sides of any public question are entitled to a hearing, the TIMES published in its issue last Sunday a strong and well written protest against giving, or selling, tobacco to our soldiers.

The TIMES is compelled, nevertheless, to differ diametrically from Mr. Perkins' declaration that tobacco should not only be excluded from sale to the army, but that it should not even be supplied by loving friends at home.

LA FOLLETT'S SPEECH

The Wisconsin senator in his attack in the senate on the war policy of the United States, deftly assailed congress for alleged failure to exert its constitutional powers.

dom. In other words, LaFollette, like the wolf which devoured the lamb at the spring, can find some excuse for hamstringing his country, in war with a great despotism, however farfetched and quibbling and inconsistent and worthless that excuse may be.

As a sample of false representation the following regarding the "pact of Paris" is a "speech": "No one thing has been done more to solidify the assistance of the Central powers than the adoption of the Paris conference of its policy of trade reprisals to be made effective after the war."

For the definition of the word in international law is, "The act or practice of resorting to force or threat of war to procure redress of grievances." In this case, the reprisal was in the nature of trade retaliation, whereby the customs of nations were to be perpetually utilized in trade relationship after the war to favor the foes of Germany and the neutral nations.

whose doings it has already been necessary to allude. The gentleman who were placed upon it were selected, partly - of course, for political reasons, and were all men who had made themselves conspicuous for enthusiasm and their vehemence; not one of them had any military knowledge.

Taking into consideration the disastrous effect of the activities of this sort of committee, President Woodrow Wilson wisely frowned upon the idea that he should delegate any of the powers conferred on him by the constitution to a sort of committee, which had it been created, must have helped Germany, however patriotic its members might have been personally.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING is a Business Proposition Pure and Simple, and is So Regarded by All Intelligent Advertisers.

GOOD BUSINESS MEN Do Not Advertise in a Newspaper Through Friendship or for Charity. They Do So Strictly for Their Own Benefit; to Bring Their Wares to the Attention of Its Readers; and the More Readers the More It is Worth to the Advertiser.

NEWSPAPER CIRCULATION is Alone the Fair Basis for Advertising Rates. This is Recognized by Both Advertiser and Papers—a Certain Approximate Value Being Allowed for Each Hundred Bona-Fide Subscribers.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK TIMES Has So Increased the Number of Subscribers That it is Giving to Its Advertisers Over Thirty Per Cent More Publicity Than Was the Case Six Months Ago; and, Therefore, Announces an Advance in Its Advertising Rates, Beginning Nov. 1, 1917.

UNDER THE NEW RATE Advertisers Will Get More for the Money Than They Did Six Months Ago; and, the TIMES Will Receive Some Return on the Greatly Increased Investment and Expense Incident to the Progress It Has Made.

Where Years Mean Money

Farm machinery wears out soon enough even with the best of care. You don't care to replace it any sooner than is absolutely necessary, for it represents a big outlay of money.

The one best way to get all the good out of your machines is to provide plenty of shelter for them. The first cost of a suitable shed is a small item and the saving is worth while.

Whether you need a new shed or just an addition, build now and add years to the life of your equipment.

The quicker you get your shed started, the quicker it will start saving you money.

Keet Murder Trial Begun in Missouri

Men Charged With Kidnapping Baby, Killing It And Throwing Body In Well on Dock.

(I. N. Leonard Wire) MARSHFIELD, Mo., Oct. 8.—Nearly clad in a dark suit, his face pale and haggard, Claude J. Piersol, alleged to be the father of the murdered baby which abducted Baby Loyola Keet today entered a plea of not guilty at the opening of the trial here today. Tears streaming down his cheeks Piersol's aged mother stood by his side, mumbling "My boy! my boy!" Leaning on her husband's arm, Mrs. J. Holland Keet, mother of the murdered baby took station near Piersol. She gazed at him fixedly throughout the preliminary hearing. Feeling against the defendant is running high and mob violence is feared on the court room was crowded. Qualification of the panel of sixty-four jurors was started.

Judge Skinker today granted a severance of the joint charge against Taylor and Cletus Adams and Piersol in the Keet case. Piersol will be tried first. Feeling in Marshfield and in all southeastern Missouri is running at top speed. It is a continuation of the feeling which almost cost Piersol his life under a tree at Stockton last June, shortly after the murder of baby Keet was found.

Piersol will never live to go to prison with the other people in the streets, in hotels and restaurants. Mob violence may assert itself again if the state proves its case against Piersol.

Cletus Adams and Taylor Adams, Piersol's alleged henchmen in the case will be tried with him. Sam McGinnis, Taylor Adams, Moxie Adams and Dick Carter will be tried on the charge of conspiring to kidnap C. A. Clomont, Springfield jeweler. The state will try to prove it was Piersol who pointed the letters to J. Holland Keet, father of the child, in which $5,000 ransom was demanded. The defense has scores of witnesses to attempt to establish its alibi. Oscar Schmidt, agent of the department of justice at Kansas City will go on the stand in an attempt to connect Cletus Adams, Piersol, alleged leader of the kidnaping ring with anti-American propaganda. The little court room of Judge C. J. Skinker was packed to suffocation at the opening of the trial this morning. Marshfield is crowded with hundreds of witnesses, "movie" men, newspaper men, lawyers and the merely curious.

Boy's Judging Contest Was a Great Success

Many Entered From All the Towns in the County and From Jerome--List of Prizes.

(Written for THE TIMES) There was a great deal of interest taken at the Filer fair, in the boy's judging contests. Boys under 18 entered this contest from Buhl, Filer, Kimberly and Jerome and there was a good deal of rivalry as to who should come nearest judging the way the judge did and give the best reasons, for no doing. Eugene Wheeler, a very small boy of Twin Falls, deserves the special mention. He was one of the most earnest and entered each of the contests, dairy, hog and sheep. He did not once turn, in his cards until the end and was constantly figuring on which point was the best in each animal. Out of some 60 entries he won second prize for judging in each contest.

Harold Harvey, of Buhl, had the only perfect score of any class. He got 200 out of a possible 200 in dairy cow judging. Following are the names of the prize winners in each class.

- Dairy Cows
1st prize—Harold Harvey, Buhl.
2nd prize—Eugene Wheeler, Twin Falls.
3rd prize—Robert Davis, Twin Falls.
4th prize—Ernest Dow, Buhl.
5th prize—Dean Henry, Jerome.
6th prize—Roy Lange, Twin Falls, South Park Add.
Hog Judging
1st prize—Roy Lange, Twin Falls, South Park Add.
2nd prize—Eugene Wheeler, Twin Falls.
3rd prize—Dewey Bargo, R. R. 3, Twin Falls.
4th prize—Howard Sileyer, Buhl.
5th prize—Lester Chamberlain, Twin Falls, R. R. 1.
Sheep
1st prize—Kenneth McGinnis, Filer.
2nd prize—Eugene Wheeler, Twin Falls.
3rd prize—Donald Jayne, Kimberly.
4th prize—Darrel Rigney, Jerome.
5th prize—Jess Rigney, Jerome.
6th prize—Dwight McCorkle, Jerome.

County Superintendent Wolfe, Mr. McCall, state boys' and girls' club leader, County Agent McClellan and the extension service of the University of Idaho are doing everything in their power to encourage this type of work among young boys and girls of the county. They believe that there is nothing that stimulates so much the study of agriculture or interest in the stock and farm products as these contests and nothing is of more value educationally when they can be conducted properly. The Filer fair-board deserves special praise for giving such an opportunity to this type of contest. It is hoped that the agricultural teachers and teachers of the rural schools will particularly urge upon their pupils that they prepare for the contests and that the prizes which will doubtless be much larger.

Knitters for Red Cross Work Needed

Boys Have Only Cotton Socks in the Trenches and the Weather Will Soon be Cold.

Somewhere in France are thousands of American boys who will shortly be joined by thousands more fighting for their country. These boys will never have cold feet during the war according to the unanimous verdict of the American people; in various parcels of cotton socks, but there is grave danger that some of them will suffer from chilly pedal extremities if the women of the country do not "stick to their knitting," for the only socks available now are cotton ones and winter is approaching.

In order that the soldier boys may not involuntarily fall into the condition attributed to the once renowned Jerry Simpson, who Vig Murdock called "The Soulless Socrates of Medicine Lodge," it will be necessary for the women and girls of this country, in addition to sending clothes to war, to knit socks for the husbands and sweethearts, to also send something snug and cozy covering their "Fribbles." The story of love and unvarying fidelity is the only yarn that will count; the yarn made in our nice, warm homes will have its effect, and prove to be an evidence of good faith. The old story about reaching for the stars is not so far off, for his stomach is not right enough, but in these days of long range warfare, other strategy is necessary on occasion, and a move a in via pedal route is not to be lightly made and make him captivate promptly. No American will have his heart in his mouth, but he may have it in his feet.

The point to this story is that the Twin Falls chapter of the Red Cross association has a lot of fine yarn on hand, that the boys in the trenches are wearing cotton socks, that if the women of the home do their duty, they will rise to the occasion, and that the managers of the association desire they shall understand the necessity.

The room in the high school building are always available.

INCREASE IN MUNITIONS IS PLAN OF ENGINEERS

(International News Service) ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 9.—Increasing the country's production of sulphuric acid by 2,000,000 tons, which can be made possible chiefly through the greater production of pyrites in this country, will be one of the principal war services of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, according to plans discussed at the recent session of the institute, which is in convention here. Sulphuric acid, besides being a prime requisite in the making of munitions, is important as a fertilizer ingredient and to the chemical industry.

Government authorities at Washington have informed the institute that 2,500,000 tons of sulphuric acid were produced in this country last year, and in order to prosecute the war without handicap in this country it is necessary to increase this production to 5,000,000 tons during 1917. The principal pyrites mines are now located in Virginia, California and New York, but on account of transportation difficulties the California deposit is almost unavailably. Last year 40 per cent of the sulphuric acid production came from pyrites shipped from Spain, 6 per cent from Canada, 13 per cent from domestic pyrites, 22 per cent from amter acid and 19 per cent from native sulphur.

The country's pyrites supply is said by the mining engineers to be only second in importance to increase the supply of manganese ores for the American steel industry. The conservation of this mineral and methods to increase production are also considered by the institute.

ELECTRICITY IS FACTOR IN RURAL PREPARATION

One of the big difficulties experienced by the American farmers is the frequent shortage of labor, and for this reason, his greatest need lies in the utilization of every possible labor saving device. Undoubtedly electricity is the greatest single labor saving agency that the farmer can use. Electric power can be made to do a great many different kinds of work, both productive and non-productive. And electric light is a time and labor saver. The following are some of the ways in which electric power will save time:

It will pump water; it will churn butter; it will separate cream; it will turn the grind stone; it will run the milking machine; it will run a washing machine; it will run an electric iron; it will run a vacuum sweeper, and it will run an electric fan.

In many cases electric power allows one man to do the work of two, releasing one for other productive work. In other cases it shortens the time taken for a piece of work and releases the operator sooner for other work, and in all cases it, at least, saves effort for work where power cannot be used.

The use of electric light will save time as follows:

First: It will make it possible to use every daylight hour for field work by doing the necessary inside work by electric light.

Second: It will reduce the time necessary for doing the chores by one-half, as compared with the time required when lanterns are used.

Third: It will save the time formerly taken to clean and fill coal-oil lamps and lanterns.

MARMON 34

ADVANCED ENGINEERING

Noble In Grace and Conduct

NOSING its way among the heavier cars that idle in congested traffic, the Marmon quickly picks up speed and throttles down rapidly with liquid smoothness.

Though long and large, it turns in a short radius—though a half ton lighter than cars of like size and power, it is low on the wheels and rides safely and comfortably.

Marmon Closed Cars, for all their roominess and luxury, do, in fact, weigh less than touring cars of this class. They give more mileage from fuel and tires by far, and can be handled without fatigue for hours at a stretch.

Cheaper Gas Is Promised Soon

Arrangements Made by Independents With the Standard for Securing Contracting From Low Grade Oils.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Gasoline is going to be cheaper in the United States before long, according to members of the Independent Oil Men's association, who are here to attend the sixth annual convention of that organization. The Standard Oil company, it was declared, is going to surrender its secret and patented process for extracting gasoline from low grade oils, allowing the independent producers to pay a royalty. This, it was asserted will increase the supply of gasoline and cheapen the cost to the consumer.

Grand Duke Nicholas Reported a Fugitive

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 11.—It has been reported here that the Grand Duke Nicholas, uncle of the Czar and former commander in chief of the Russian armies, has escaped from his estate in the Caucasus, where he is reported after the revolution and where he had been practically held a prisoner of the provisional government. The dispatch comes from the Holmboer correspondent of the Politiken, who says that the rumors persist in Petrograd that the Grand Duke is a fugitive.

Liberty Loan Is Deserving Support

Idaho Must Give Enthusiastic Endorsement In Practical Way Says The State Board.

BOISE, Idaho.—Idaho must invest $4,000,000 in Liberty bonds. The executive committee of the twelfth district has fixed this figure as the minimum for the state. The maximum is $13,000,000. In order to have the state keep up its record for supplying funds for war purposes and to come up to the expectations of the executive committee of the twelfth district, Idaho must buy bonds to the amount of $10,000,000. The government must have $3,000,000,000 and to get this minimum amount Idaho must subscribe $7,900,000, but this figure should be increased to $9,000,000. Chairman Davis says that $9,000,000 must be taken as the state's minimum and that the full $10,000,000 that the western division headquarters expects should be subscribed.

The government cannot get along with less than $3,000,000,000 and it is asking subscriptions up to $5,000,000,000. In order to meet the demands of the government it is imperative that Idaho buy bonds up to the full $10,000,000 allotment. "Some people have the idea that to buy a Liberty bond is to make a donation to the government," said former Governor James H. Hawley. "If the government were taking our dollars in the shape of taxes no loyal citizen would have a right to complain. We are, however, offered a government bond that pays, we think, more interest. Holdings up to $5000 are exempt from all taxes. All holdings, no matter if one has a million dollars worth, are exempt from local taxes and also from the normal income tax. Can you find a better and a safer investment for the man who wishes to buy a Liberty bond? If he has the money to buy with, it is not a good citizen. The question of investment should be a secondary consideration. The all important thing is that our boys, the sons of mothers and fathers of Idaho, have gone to the front. Their welfare demands that our dollars be handed over to the government. The red-blooded loyal American will give unstinted financial support, whether it is for Red Cross work, for Liberty bonds or for one of the other funds needed for the welfare of the enlisted men."

CANAL CHANGES

shall appoint from the bona fide stockholders outside of their own number the secretary and treasurer of the corporation. The officer of secretary and treasurer may be held by the same person.

(b) That not more than one stockholder from each district shall be qualified to act as director.

(c) That at the next regular meeting of the stockholders there shall be elected three directors who shall meet immediately after the election and decide by lot which director shall serve for three years, which director shall serve for two years, and which director shall serve for one year. Such decision shall determine the order in which a director shall thereafter be qualified to serve from each district. The term of office of each director thereafter elected shall be three years, except when elected to fill a vacancy as provided by the by-laws; and except as a director may be recalled as provided by the by-laws.

And, be it further resolved: That the by-laws of the Twin Falls Canal Company be amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE II. Section 1. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled by the board of directors, but, if the term of the director whose place becomes vacant would extend beyond the time of the next regular meeting of the stockholders, the director appointed to fill such vacancy shall be entitled to serve only until the next regular meeting of the stockholders, at which time the stockholders shall elect a director for the unexpired term.

ARTICLE III. Section 5. No officer, director or employee of the corporation shall act as proxy for any other stockholder at any meeting of the stockholders.

Section 6. All lands served by the irrigated system of the Twin Falls Canal company shall be divided into three districts to be known as District Number One, District Number Two, and District Number Three. District Number One shall comprise all lands east of the north and south section line which is two miles east of the line between Ranges Sixteen and Seventeen, from the Snake river across the High Line canal. District Number Two shall comprise all lands which are west of the west boundary line of District Number One and east of the north and south section line which is one mile east of the line between Ranges Fourteen and Fifteen.

District Number Three shall comprise all lands which are west of the west boundary line of District Number Two.

Be it resolved: That Article II of the By-laws be amended by adding thereto a further section to be known as Section 2, to read as follows:

Section 2. (a) Upon petition signed by stockholders owning at least 15 per cent of the total stock issued by the corporation, an election shall be called to determine whether the director named in such petition shall be recalled, and another elected in his place. Such petition shall state the name of the director sought to be recalled, the ground or grounds upon which such recall is sought, and shall be filed with the secretary of the corporation.

(b) The board of directors shall immediately provide for the fixing of the time for holding such election, which shall not be less than thirty days after the filing of such petition, the manner in which notice thereof shall be given, and the method of nominating opposition candidates and of holding the election.

(c) In case a director is recalled his successor shall be elected at the same meeting and no vacancy shall occur unless as is contemplated in Section 1 of this Article.

Be it resolved: That Article III of the By-laws be amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 6, to read as follows:

Section 6. The board of directors shall require the secretary and the treasurer of the corporation to make a monthly report of the affairs of the corporation in their charge, and shall cause these reports, together with the minutes of the meeting of the board of directors, to be published each month in such newspapers as the board of directors may designate. He it resolved: That Section 2 of Article I of the By-laws be amended to read as follows:

Section 2. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the first Tuesday of December, 1917, beginning at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., and each year thereafter on the same day and at the same time in said day (there shall be held the annual meeting of the stockholders).

The last proposed section reads as follows:

That the Articles of Incorporation of the Twin Falls Canal company be amended by adding to Article III the following: "And the corporation shall have power to loan any funds of the corporation, arising from sinking funds, or other funds not immediately needed for the conduct of the affairs of the corporation for such time, upon such security and at such rates of interest as may be approved by the board of directors. This plan was made by the meeting and a substitute adopted which made it obligatory for the board to collect the interest on moneys belonging to the company, deposited or loaned out."

Fuel From Peat Bogs. The fuel famine in France has directed attention to extensive peat bogs, heretofore despised, which may aid in solving the problem as the lignite deposits of the center of France, provided the question of labor is solved. The "Grande-Bruyere," near St. Nazaire, and the Fagon of Chloz, according to expert estimates, hold 50,000,000 tons of dried peat, affording an average of 2,000 calories a pound, or about half the heating power of coal. Considering the greater facility of production, it is figured that one workman can extract a number of calories in an hour far superior to the average production per minute from coal.

Quarantined there, without relief, medicine, work, wages, food, hope, the mortality is frightful. They built him a hut there among the rest of them, and they let him out of quarantine to get medicine.—The Christian Herald.

SABOTAGE WAS PLANNED BY ZIMMERMANN AND BERNSTORFF

German Ambassador Also Planned Embargo Conference Which Stirred Up McLemore Resolution—Jerry O'Leary Exercised by Mention of His Name in Cable.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—That Count von Bernstorff, while ambassador of Germany to the United States, plotted the destruction of the Canadian Pacific Railway at several points so it would be entirely tied up was made known here today. The state department made public three telegrams which the German ambassador exchanged with the German foreign office on the subject detailing the plans. The messages also suggested general sabotage in the United States, mentioning Americans who might be used for such a purpose.

Count Bernstorff also cabled his government that an organization known as an "Embargo conference" was about to convene in the United States to secure a majority of both houses of congress favorable to Germany.

The statement as made public by the state department was as follows: "The secretary of state published the following telegrams from the German foreign office to Count von Bernstorff in January, 1916:

"January third. Secret. General staff desires energetic action in regard to proposed destruction of Canadian Pacific Railway. You are requested to point with a view to complete and protracted interruption of traffic. Captain Boehm, who is now on your staff and is also returning, has given instructions. Inform the military attaché and provide the necessary funds.

(Signed) "ZIMMERMANN."
"January twenty-sixth. For military attaché. You can obtain particular as to persons suitable for carrying on sabotage in the United States and Canada. From the following persons: One, Joseph Macgarrity, Philadelphia, Pa.; two, John P. Keating, Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill.; three, for example, to Park Row, New York.

"One and two are absolutely reliable and discreet. Number three is reliable but not discreet. These persons were indicated by Sir Roger Casement. In the United States sabotage can be carried out on every kind of factory for supplying munitions of war. Railway embankments and bridges must not be touched. Embassy must in no circumstances be compromised. All preparations must be taken in regard to Irish-Propaganda German propaganda.

(Signed) "Representative of the General Staff."
"The following telegram from Count von Bernstorff to the foreign office in Berlin was sent in September, 1916:

"September 15th. With reference to report A two hundred and thirty-six of May 10, 1916. The embargo conference in regard to whose official fraudulently cooperation Dr. Hildebrandt gave information in last week's report is a vigorous campaign to secure a majority in both houses of congress favorable to Germany and requests whether support of the expediency of our being compromised. Request telegraphic reply."

In connection with the mention of the name of Jeremiah O'Leary, president of the American Truth society in connection with the state department's revelations, officials made public the letter which Count von Bernstorff wrote him (O'Leary) on September 20, 1915, in reply to a telegram announcing that O'Leary would not vote to re-elect him. The letter was as follows:

"Dear Sir: Your telegram received. I would feel deeply mortified to have you or anybody else say that I am a man who you have access to them and I have not to ask you to convey this message to them."

The embargo conference mentioned in County Bernstorff's last cable was organized in Chicago. It had for its avowed object securing the declaring of an embargo against the United States government. It sent a committee to Washington to confer with senators and representatives. One of the first acts of the conference was the introduction by Representative McLemore of Texas of his resolution which was designed to warn American citizens not to take passage on steamships.

Tabling of this resolution gave congress an opportunity to show the strength of the standing committee of the house and senate. The conference bombarded senators and representatives with telegrams urging support of Representative McLemore's resolution and at the same time a distinct question raised as to where the money came from which paid for these messages.

The state department declined to elaborate on the series of telegrams. Secretary Lansing declared they spoke for themselves and there was nothing to add to that.

No information was forthcoming as to how they were transmitted between Berlin and Washington. It was generally assumed that they were sent forward through a neutral diplomatic channel.

"Furthermore, I would like to make it clear that I would consider such a suggestion from the German foreign office a gross insult. All my affairs are being conducted along strictly American lines. There is absolutely nothing pro-German about me. I am pro-American and have no intention of hindering the affairs of the United States or the administration at Washington.

"I have always made it a point never to have any dealings with Germany in any of her commercial or political matters. But they have to be watched carefully because they are ever ready to approach us under disguise."

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Two, John P. Keating are listed in the Chicago city directory. One of them, a foreman in the employ of the International Harvester company, denied any connection with the embargo conference. The other, a salesman, could not be reached.

Jasper T. Davling, who was president of the embargo conference, said he knew no one by the name of Keating and added that he also knew nothing of the alleged campaign to get a majority in both houses of congress favorable to Germany.

Beautiful 1918 Maxwell Now On Exhibition

Without altering the world champion motor, the famous perfected clutch and transmission or the mighty axles, the Maxwell builders have produced a new wonder car, far superior in construction and in appearance to anything yet turned out by the Maxwell factories—we have this new and beautiful car—come and see it.

- The car is larger and roomier, for one thing—the wheel-base has been increased six inches.
- It is also a stronger and more rigid machine for the road.
- The frame is now six inches instead of three inches deep.
- And the body rests directly on this powerful frame instead of on brackets extending from the sides, as in the past.

Do you know what that means?
It means this: The firmness with which the wheels grip the road and the steadiness of the car at high speed give you a sense of security such as you have been able to enjoy before only in cars shackled with a battery of shock absorbers.

More than that—it means greater economy. And the Maxwell before was the most economical 5-passenger car in the world. Compensating underslung rear springs—the last word in spring suspension—mark this wonderful Maxwell of 1918. They mean greater comfort—greater economy, by lessening wear and tear on the car.

Maxwell Now Has the Style of the Costliest Cars

The new Maxwell is a car of great beauty. It has a sloped windshield and rakish lines never before produced in any car costing less than $1200. Its good looks now equal its proved mechanical efficiency. The new upholstery is richer and gives a new comfort. Inside and out the new 1918 Maxwell is a perfected car. We're proud to sell it. You'll be proud to own one.

This New Car is 50 Pounds Lighter

There's a marvel of engineering for you, friends! The car is made bigger and stronger—and yet actually lighter. This means greater ease and comfort on the road.

Eden News

Louis Judson and Mrs. Essie Tillman surprised their many friends in Edna last Wednesday when they went to Rupert and were quietly married. Mr. Judson is the son of Charles Judson, a prosperous rancher who lives southeast of Edna, and the bride is the daughter of Hazelton's liverman, Mr. Rogbinette. They many friends wish them joy as they travel down the matrimonial stream.

Mr. Flynn, telephone manager from Burley, was an Eden caller last Friday, looking after the interest of the Bell Telephone company.

Mr. Pettit of the Gem State Lumber company, from Twin Falls was an Eden caller last Friday looking after the new building that is being erected for the Gem State Lumber company at Edna, and which is practically completed. They have started to move the old stock to the new yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Youngs and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Youngs motored to Rupert last Saturday evening to hear Senator Borah speak.

C. J. Kelly and wife took two auto loads of Kangeris to Rupert to the fair last Thursday and were royally entertained by them. Such a dinner as they served "in the park—well it couldn't be beat, that's all!

Erwin Webbs and family have moved back to Eden and Mr. and Mrs. Lambeth are living with Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy for the present.

Mr. Clyde Williams from Shoshone, accompanied by her mother, was an Eden caller last Friday.

The Harris young people motored to Rupert and took in the fair last week. Mrs. Hartly who lives on the Webb ranch was quite seriously injured last Sunday. They were raising a house at one of the press stopped and struck her on the head, cutting a gash that took several stitches to sew up.

C. J. Kelly of the Eden garage has installed an air compressor and is now furnishing air to car owners with which to inflate their tires. This compressor, together with the storage battery charger that he purchased a short time ago and the prestylene welding outfit, makes quite an up to date equipment.

Miss Maule Bainter spent Wednesday and Thursday with Miss Helen Hobbe at her home in Paul, both girls going to the fair Thursday and returning to Eden Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. Seydels took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds last Sunday.

See the Webb Mercantile ad in this paper this week. All about the kitchen cabinet that they are giving away.

Mrs. Frank Webb spent Saturday at the ranch picking peaches of which they had a fine crop.

Mrs. Floyd Brown last Friday.

Mrs. C. Kelly picked peaches at the Floyd Brown ranch last Friday. Mr. Brown has a large crop of peaches, several hundred bushel, but is so busy that he has not time to pick or deliver them and is selling them for fifty cents a bushel at the orchard and the place is like a bee hive with pickers.

The sidewalks in Eden are about completed, there being sidewalks on all of the main streets, and we are glad to see them in before the water was turned off and the muddy season begins.

A pie social was held in the basement of the church last Friday evening and there was a good attendance and a neat sum was taken in which will be used for the benefit of the church. The bell fund must be nearly three hundred dollars to be hoped that a church bell will soon be heard in Eden.

Miss Helen, who has been employed at the Wilson home, went to her home in Paul to assist her parents through the best topping season.

Clarence King went to the fair in Rupert last Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Myers went to Rupert on business last Wednesday and returned Tuesday.

Mr. Abshire attended the fair last Thursday.

Joe Day went to Caldwell on business last Tuesday.

Mrs. Elsie Warrington from Dietrich visited friends and relatives on Tuesday and returned Wednesday.

Mrs. McClure's sister, who has been visiting her, returned to her home in Plover last Friday.

Otto Osterow, Eden's blacksmith, visited to American Falls to visit old friends and neighbors last Saturday.

C. O. Royce shipped two carloads of sheep to Chicago last Saturday.

Mrs. E. W. Severe went to Burley last Sunday to visit her children who are attending school there.

Wm. Thompson was a Twin Falls caller last Saturday, returning the same day.

T. G. Wilson is on the sick list this week.

Miss Maule Bainter is working for Mrs. Schafer at the depot this week.

Schuyler Adams has bought himself a farm in Canada and will leave for his new home this week, shipping his goods Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Adams have met many friends who will miss them but wish their happiness and prosperity in their new home.

The passenger train was five hours late last Saturday owing to a wreck on the line at Tuttle.

here, will also speak, as will Rev. O. T. Anderson of the Twin Falls Baptist church. Bishop Hughes will speak in the evening. The program for the following week will appear in the TIMES Sunday. The new church is 82 by 110 feet in size, with a basement under the entire edifice. The old auditorium is shut off from the new with doors which may be opened and which permit the throwing of the whole together, so that it has a seating capacity of 1300. The seats are of quartered oak, sawed, and the auditorium floor, with opera chairs in the balcony. The old auditorium will be sent with movable chairs. The choir loft will hold eight-four. There are seven small rooms above ground for Sunday schools, choir rooms and pastor's study. The old basement will be used for primary grade Sunday school. One of the basement rooms under the new building will be for the juniors and the other for the men's class. The old auditorium will be used for drama, art, art room, and the new for adult classes. The old auditorium can be used for a banquet room. The total membership of the Sunday schools September 1 was 532. The total membership as of September 1, which is more than double the membership when the present pastor, Rev. C. L. Bent took charge. The new church cost without pipe organ or piano yet to come, the total sum of $40,280, and the entire property is valued at $52,000.

MCKINLEY MEMORIAL WAS HELD ON OCTOBER 5

Beautiful Monumental Building of Marble Honors Martyred President At His Birthplace, Niles, Ohio.

On October 5, at Niles, Ohio, was dedicated a beautiful building in honor of our late martyred president, William McKinley. Most fitting monuments for the occasion served as fitting tribute to Mr. McKinley.

The national McKinley Birthplace Memorial results from an inspiration that came to the Honorable Joseph G. Butler, Jr., that something be done in a substantial way to honor McKinley's memory at his birthplace. Distinguished men everywhere endorsed the idea and gave it financial support. An association was chartered in 1911 by act of congress, unanimously passed, and subscriptions for the erection of the building subsequently made by people the country over.

The memorial association trustees desired that the building have a monumental character and contain an auditorium, a library and a statue of the late President McKinley, prominently placed. The architects, Messrs. McKim, Mead & White, New York, admirably carried out their commission by placing both departments of the building on the ground floor and connecting them with the Court of Honor surrounded by a peristyle of Greek Doric columns, especially made for the reception of the statue of President McKinley. The colonnade, forming the entrance to this court of honor, dominates the main facade of the building and gives access to the court through a double row of twelve columns.

To the right and left one enters from the court respectively into the auditorium and the library, and directly opposite appears the statue of the late President McKinley, heroic in size, executed by the famous New York sculptor, J. Massey Rhind. To the visitor approaching the building the statue is thus visible through the colonnade from afar and occupies the most conspicuous point in the plan. The aisle formed by the peristyle contains busts of statesmen associated with McKinley in national affairs.

Within the building, in the center of the library delivery room, there is a statue of Henry C. Frick, and in the second story are rooms containing McKinley memorabilia and busts of pioneers in the district's iron and steel industry: Andrew Carnegie, Mark Hanna and others.

The court itself is laid out as an Italian garden, adorned with hedges, vases and parterres designed to enhance the effect of the principal statues. The auditorium, which occupies the right wing of the building, is designed to accommodate eight hundred people and has a semicircle stage, dressing rooms, etc. The library, on the opposite side of the court, contains a public exchange surrounded by reading and reference rooms, the librarian's room and the open stock room. The entire structure is of Tennessee and Georgia marble, with American hazelwood finish throughout. The McKinley Memorial is thus a shrine at which to honor a great American, as well as an educational community center for the city of his birth, Niles, Ohio. Early in 1916 congress authorized the college to buy a hundred thousand souvenir gold dollars in commemoration of the erection of the McKinley Birthplace Memorial and for the purpose of aiding in defraying the cost of completing the war. The coins bear McKinley's likeness on the obverse and a representation of the memorial on the reverse. They were issued by V. H. Decker, the local jeweler, who just received a few of these memorial coins, which are on display in his windows.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS STARRING IN HIS OWN STORY--"DOWN TO EARTH"

WHERE CRITICS AGREE

EXCELLENT EVERYTHING ABOUT THIS LATEST FAIRBANKS PICTURE. THEY SEEM TO BE IMPRESSED BY HIS DOUGLAS' BEST EFFORT. B. W. MAGEL

After two months of this we found the whole gang having a wonderful time, and then the society gent who had become engaged to Doug's girl, discovered that the mountain picture had been started by Doug's hired "wild man" was really a little opening in the hills that overlooked a summer resort city, thereby learning that they had been with in a mile of civilization all the time. The question is: What does Doug's girl do about it?

Never before has the popular Douglas appeared in a photoplay that wears only its own optimistic nature. His sunshine philosophy and personality is expressed in every scene of "Down to Earth," making in all refreshing entertainment that will leave every person the better after seeing it.

Elleen Percy, leading lady with Doug in "Wild and Woolly" is with him again, playing to a much greater advantage. The entire cast is excellent, and Anita Loos has prepared the titles which are exceptional, and nearly a whole evening's fun in themselves.

Douglas practically kidnaps an entire bunch of sanitarium invalids in this picture, and forces them to live in a natural way, and we wonder whether they like it or not. When they find that Douglas has put something over them, they walk out and refuse to associate with him until he has made a few things to eat, and Doug puts them all to doing something which would cure their ailments.

Three Nights "Down to Earth" will be shown three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, matinee and evening. Prices at matinees will be 5 and 15 cents; evenings 10 and 25 cents. Evening performances commence promptly at 7:15. Inasmuch as the seating capacity of the Idaho has been unable to care for the usual Saturday crowds, it is suggested that our friends plan on taking in this excellent program Thursday or Friday. The program will include the usual vaudeville numbers.

BEBAN AND "BOB WHITE" COMING MONDAY

George Beban, the well known Italian impersonator, bids fair to be confronted with a formidable rival in his own field of endeavor in the person of small "Bob White," age exactly two and a half. "Bob White" simply couldn't be kept out of the motion picture business and skipped right into a scene in the middle of a picture under the camera man's very nose, and before that astonished gentleman had had time to stop his craning.

Having "registered" in one scene, "Bob White" was allowed to appear in several others and made such an instantaneous hit that Kathryn Williams, the actress-author who wrote "Lost in Transit," Mr. Beban's latest Paramount picture, created an important role especially for "Bob White." Father and son are to be seen in "Lost in Transit," at the Idaho theater commencing Monday. IDAHO THEATRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Little Benny Kauff, of Federal league fame, stands emblazoned on the pedestal of popularity after and occupies the place of his two homo runs, which featured the terrific attack of the Giants and helped them to a five to nothing victory over the White Sox in the fourth game of the world's series today. It will go down in baseball history as two of the greatest "blows" ever recorded.

Kauff is now the undisputed "home run king." He replaces Frank Baker, the hero of other years, and the most remarkable feature of his work with the bat lies in the fact that his homers were the first hits he had garnered in the series. Kauff is now a hero and he enjoys the distinction of being the second player in modern world's series history to score two home runs in one game. Harry Hooper is the only other player to accomplish the feat.

Sharing in the glory of today's Giants victory with Kauff is Ferdinand De Soto Schupp, the youthful left hander of McGraw's champions. Schupp's great pitching was an outstanding feature in the defeat of the Sox. He came back gamely today after being knocked from the box in Chicago. He pitched wonderful ball and got better as the game proceeded. Schupp's great pitching and Kauff's hitting featured the Giants playing, but the team as a whole deserves great credit for the strand of baseball it displayed. The Giants are now in top form. They have regained the punch they appeared to have lost and today's victory may be expected to greatly weaken the morale of the Chicago team. The teams will play the fifth game in Chicago Saturday and it appears certain now that the series will go seven games. No two more series have been met in a world's series before. That much is certain. He had good control, a sharp breaking curve and a blazing speed, which turned the Sox back tanning after in-
