HIGH SALARY PLAN ROASTED BY MEETING

GATHERING OF STOCKHOLDERS DETERMINE TO FIGHT PROPOSED CHANGE

Another Meeting Held Tomorrow Night

People of Different Parts of District Expected—Farm Bureau Members Lead the Campaign Against Increased Expense.

The campaign against the fixing of salaries of three directors for the canal company at $1000 a year each as proposed by some, and against the holding of the board in continuous session is now taking shape, as a result of two meetings held Saturday and Monday nights respectively by the "Efficiency Men," among the stockholders, which elected "J. A. Cron" chairman last week.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow night at which it is hoped to have a large representation from all parts of the county of those who believe that it is incumbent to pay so much money out for directors. At that time, too, it is hoped by the members to have the men who meet agree among themselves on representative men from their respective districts for the directorship.

The line of argument pursued by the opponents of the high salaries is centered, first, on the fact that they say that if the canal company plan is to be copied, and they declare that they favor something of the kind, the idea would be to have the board meet when the stock is at a peak, and place the management in the hands of the expert. Mired for the purpose. As far as details of business is concerned, the expert in the management is worth his salary, he will know what to do without a high-salaried board of non-experts in season.

He also disputes the assertion that the other plan is a case of "one man proposition, but says that it is the result of skillful manipulation on the part of the farm bureau president, Dr. Cron, who is not a member of the majority in their meetings as bureau members. Chairman Cron says that he was with Dr. White while the latter was in the city and that he thought that the plan was to get them together and let the representatives of the different local bureaus plan a case of "one man proposition, but says that it is the result of skillful manipulation on the part of the farm bureau president, Dr. Cron, who is not a member of the majority in their meetings as bureau members.

Frank McClain questioned whether all those now nominally elected directors are really the men who are elected. "It was made chairman by appointment and ousted by disappointment," he said. He says that he was appointed by the county chairman and when he ventured to suggest that the plans of the latter were not in all cases feasible, the county chairman apparently was very displeased. "Why I thought you would be with us," the "US" meaning the president, he says he never did learn how he came to be elected.

LAFOLLETTE TO BE ON GRILL LATE THIS WEEK

INABILITY OF BRYAN TO BE PRESENT TODAY CAUSED POSTPONEMENT

Former Secretary to Testify Monday

Question of Veracity Between Former Friends Regarding the Lusitania—Wisconsin Senator Conducts His Own Defense.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The investigation into the alleged disloyalty of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, was temporarily blocked at the eleventh hour by the inability of William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, and several of the members of the probing committee to be present. It is hoped to resume the inquiry before the end of the week in time to make a report next Monday or Tuesday. The investigation committee, however, will be compelled to ask an extension of time to complete its work.

Mr. Bryan today wired Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, head of the committee, that he would be in Washington on December 2, and the committee decided not to require him to make a special trip to the capital before the hearing. Senator Walsh, who is ill, and Senator Fall, who is detained at home on business, both expressed a desire to participate in the inquiry and in this account it was decided to postpone the reopening of the hearing until they could reach Washington.

The postponement was announced after practically all other arrangements had been completed for the hearing. Many persons were turned away from the committee room disappointed this morning.

Armed with facts and data gathered by exhaustive research during the recess of congress, Senator LaFollette is prepared to make the final before the committee. He is going to present his case entirely on the right of free speech, which he contended in his speech before the Non-Partisan League at St. Paul last September.

Senator LaFollette plans to conduct his own defense and to be on hand personally to conduct the cross-examination of the witnesses to be summoned before the investigating committee. Officials in Washington are waiting with the greatest interest the matching of wills between Senator LaFollette and William Jennings Bryan, who has been called to testify about the facts in the Lusitania case. Both men were ardent pacifists before the war, but the declaration in April brought a parting of the ways. The accused senator has a number of questions to ask Mr. Bryan to establish finally and definitely the facts about the sailing and the sinking of the Lusitania. Administration leaders are confident the testimony of the former secretary of state will sustain the position of the government which finally resulted in the declaration of war against Germany.

The outcome of the inquiry will have the most far reaching consequences. It is regarded as marking out the road to be followed throughout the war in dealing with the movement in and out of congress. Whatever punishment is meted out to Senator LaFollette will be reviewed as precedent to all future similar cases.

Speculation as to the finding of the committee ran to wide extremes today. The scrupulous silence maintained by Senator LaFollette during the recess of congress was the basis of a theory that he would be let off lightly probably with a committee report censuring his conduct. On the other hand, senators on both sides of the political fence returning from visits in their home states, report a violent feeling against Senator LaFollette which can impede.

Only three members of the investigating committee were on hand today. They were Senator Pomerene, chairman, of Ohio; James, of Kentucky, and Dillingham, of Vermont. Senator Fall of New Mexico and Senator Walsh of Montana are not expected to arrive in Washington until later in the week. The examination of officials of the state department regarding documents in the Lusitania case is expected to occupy the early part of the week.

Palmer's Discussion Meets Warm Approval

Spokane Daily Newspaper Gives Editorial Approval To Twin Falls Man's Talk

The discussion Orchard costs and Economics, by Leslie L. Palmer, of this city aroused the greatest interest at the fruit growers conference held during the tenth national apple show at Spokane last week. The Spokane Daily Chronicle said regarding it: "I do not believe that 50 per cent of the apple growers made money this year in spite of the high prices. To make money raising apples, it is necessary to have a manager and a responsible staff."

Right you are Mr. Palmer. No line of industry can thrive to just advantage where there is no business head. Expense control must be carefully watched. Every item connected with any industry must be studied, lest bankruptcy enter in.

That's the value of the fruit conferences held in connection with the national apple show. Experts gather there to swap opinions and give advice to less informed growers. Apple growing has become too large an industry in the northwest to be run haphazard. The successful grower is the scientific grower, and the scientific grower obtains a big portion of his knowledge attending fruit conferences where real, practical information is to be had.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the First District Federation of Women's Clubs in this city last week will long be remembered not only on account of the intellectual features in which the program abounded but because of the earnestness and intensity of purpose which characterized the talks and actions.

The meeting, as noted in a previous issue of the TIMES, was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. W. Clouchek. The invocation by Mrs. J. E. Bradley, of Twin Falls, was solemn and striking and appealed to all. Two talks appeared at this point, representing the Twin Falls Commercial Club and the Twentieth Century Club, each presenting a floral in behalf of the organization represented.

Following the announcement of committees, Mrs. M. J. Sweeley, of this city, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, delivered an address of welcome which was universally praised by the delegates as exceedingly timely. The response, equally appropriate, was delivered by Mrs. W. J. Ingling, of Pocatello. A delightful piano solo by Lisle Varning of this city was followed by the report of the program committee, of Mrs. J. Ingling, of Twin Falls. In speaking of Mrs. Schroeder (it should be remarked that the women of this city unanimously agreed to be united in a uniting work more than to the efforts of any other person, credit must be given for the successful manner in which the details of the preparations for the meeting were handled. MEANS ON TRIAL FOR MRS. KING MURDER

(International News Service) CONCORD, N. C., Nov. 26—Gaston Bullock Means goes to trial today before a Cabarrus County jury on the charge of the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, wealthy Chicago and New York widow. Today's trial will begin the unfolding of a murder mystery that has attracted the attention of all the United States.

Clement, of North Carolina, called for a reopening of the coroner's hearing in the case. Assistant District Attorney DeLoach, of New York, and a number of New York witnesses came to Concord on September 24. Soon after their arrival Means, who had been free up to this time, was placed under arrest on a charge of murder sworn out against him by Solicitor Clement.

On September 26 Means went to preliminary trial before Magistrate Pitts. Numerous expert witnesses were put upon the stand by the State to show that Mrs. King could not have killed herself. The testimony of James Charles D. Dry, who lived near Blackwelder Springs, showed that the shot which killed Mrs. King was fired after dark. The defense refused to present evidence, but counsel, consisting of nine lawyers, began argument. In the midst of their argument, following an attempt to secure by certain writs the papers of Means, New York officers from Means' apartment, they suddenly waived examination and agreed that their client be remanded to jail to await grand jury action.

AN APROPOS QUESTION

A century is a short period in the life of a nation," writes General Upton in his classic history of "The Military Policy of the United States," but its history may convey many valuable lessons as the result of the system which we cherish as our own invention; thus the War of the Revolution lasted seven years, the War of 1812 three years, the Florida War seven years, the Mexican War two years, and the Rebellion four years; not to mention the almost incessant Indian wars of this period. In other words, since the publication of the Declaration of Independence to this time these figures show that for every three years of peace we have had one year of actual war.

THE TREACHEROUS HUN

In common with other newspapers of that date, the last issue of the TIMES chronicled the capture of one of the largest German submarines and the surrender of its crew of nearly fifty officers and men. The boat was disabled by gunfire, was surrendered and made fast to the United States destroyer that put it out of business. Then, while the American jacks were busy salvaging the crew and taking care of desperately wounded, one of the surrendered Huns sneaked into the hold, opened the submerged valves and sent the ship to the bottom so suddenly and unexpectedly that one or more of his own comrades went down with her and she was with difficulty cut loose from her captor. This act was as treacherous as hill-billy, in no manner out of character for one of a nation of purveyors of poisonous gas, robbery of private homes and ravishers of women.

A CAPTAIN OF THE COMMISSARY

Mr. Carl Shurz Vrooman, who is Assistant Secretary United States Department of Agriculture, gives to the public the following with regard to county agents and the important work that is expected from them: The county agents constitute American agriculture's first line of defense. They are the men in the first line trenches, zealously guarding the farmer's interests and bringing to his attention all that is of immediate practical value in our scientific teaching, and fortifying this with results from the experience of the most successful hard-headed practical farmers of each county. At a time like the present, when the nation is engaged in a great war wherein food production is of vital military importance, the value of the county agent to the government can hardly be over emphasized. Since the United States became a belligerent, the county agent has done a most brilliant and gallant war service. In counties having ing agents, it was possible during the past summer to secure truly wonderful results, in quickly and adequately meeting a difficult labor situation; in locating available seed stocks; in arranging for farm credits for the purchase of machinery and fertilizer; in supplying tractor power; and in other forms of effective leadership, all contributing to a great increase in the production of spring wheat, oats, corn, potatoes and other food crops. Finally in assisting in facilitating marketing. Some of the most important battles of this war will be won during 1918 in the furrows and fields of America. The county agents will be the Captains of the soldiers of the Commissary who will make these victories possible.

THANKSGIVING AND CHURCHES

It is well for the people of this country to keep Thanksgiving (both in body and spirit) this year and to obey literally the request of President Wilson and Governor Alexander that they repair to their places of worship on that day and offer up prayers of thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has bestowed. Without going into detail regarding such blessings, it might be well to note the one that they have churches left standing, untouched by the hand of war in which to worship. There are enough places for all who wish to offer the thanks which they should feel and it is more than usually appropriate for them to do so on this occasion.

COMMUNITY RED CROSS

An interesting meeting was held by Red Cross members of Community Auxiliary at Community church Wednesday, November 21. Mrs. J. L. Dain, chairman, called the meeting to order for a short business session. The majority of the members present decided that a donation of ten dollars be given to the Twin Falls chapter to assist in furnishing Christmas boxes for the soldiers. Sewing and knitting was not neglected. Hostesses who were present were Mrs. Owen, Mrs. Windle, Mrs. Fred Hillis and Mrs. Davis. Members present were, Mesdames Jones, Reiderman, Hunter, Dallon, Cantor, Brooks, Short, Moody, Dean, Mary H. Hillis, Fred Hillis, Fred Davis, Goodrich, Gamble, Griffith, Swift, Gwinn, Windle, Owen and the Misses Jones, Voss and Griffith.

War Likely to be Extended by Congress

Declaration Against Austria, Turkey And Bulgaria Unless There Are Reasons Against It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—With the arrival here today of a large number of leading senators and representatives to take up the preliminaries of the regular session of congress a week from today, enthusiasm increased as to whether the United States will declare war on Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. It was evident this afternoon this subject will be one of the first to engross the attention of the national legislature.

Many of the senators and representatives openly favored an immediate war declaration holding that the events on the Italian front make it necessary that all of the Teutonic allies be considered enemies of the United States. They agreed, however, that they will be guided in their action by the action of President Wilson. The necessity of the United States actively assisting Italy is one of the main subjects now being considered by the Paris interallied conference and the necessity of whether there will probably depend this country's line of action. It is understood that Colonel E. M. House already has acquainted President Wilson with the views of the British government on this subject.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations who will have charge of any way resolution in the senate, said today that he believed it would be advisable for the United States to declare war on Austria to clear the situation, but that this was for the president to decide.

An immediate declaration of war against Austria and Turkey was advocated by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, democratic whip of the whip, as he was leaving for Chicago this afternoon. He expressed the view that this would be one of the paramount questions before congress when it meets next week.

Foreman Sam Boone of the TIMES writes from New York City, where he and his boys are in the company of Chester, who is in Company D, and says that the boys are all well and glad to see someone from Twin Falls. His letter indicates what was stated in the interview of E. J. The letter which indicates that he is staying at the Hotel Imperial on Broadway.

New York City, Nov. 22, 1917. J. V. Robinson.

Twin Falls, Idaho. Dear Joe—Have been in this city for two days, and say, it is some "burg." Spent the day yesterday out at Camp Mills. The boys are looking fine and full of the same. Chester came in from camp with me and will stay until this afternoon, could not get a longer leave of absence. They are getting pretty strict and it is hard for the boys to get passes any more. The captain said he would let Chester off a day and night on account of my being here. I tried to get Carlin's advice off to come with us but could not make it. The people of New York certainly do think a lot of the soldiers and they will get out of their way to do them a favor. Camp Mills is not near so nice a camp as Camp Greene. The drainage is very poor and it has rained a great deal since the boys have been there. I ate dinner yesterday at camp with the officers and took supper last night in the kitchen with the boys. They treated me fine and they all seemed to be mighty glad to see somebody from Twin Falls. It is hard to tell how much longer they will be here, but the indications are that it will not be very long. Chester sends his regards to all the office force, also remember me to everybody. Yours truly, S. M. BOONE.

I have met a very nice class of men, both amongst the enlisted men and the officers. The one feature of the whole trip is the wonderful food we had all the way and the comfortable quarters for sleeping. In fact, I consider it a vacation. As far as the weather is concerned we could ask for nothing more, but very little water and a beautiful moon most of the way. I was most fortunate in not being sick, for I certainly had anticipated being one of the victims, especially after having gone through three days of such illness while on my trip over the great lakes. There were no unusual occurrences of any kind. To add to the pleasant atmosphere the band played each day and the concerts were excellent and most pleasing. I was more than pleased upon meeting two Georgetown boys and naturally we have been together at all times. It has made the time pass very quickly, for there were many fond recollections of school days mentioned and we are very much in hopes of having some kind of a reunion while over here. I could almost write a whole book, which may not be of interest to you, but still it would take that much to describe everything as I would like to, but I will keep it all in reserve and when I return I expect to have many more added tales of interest to relate to you. I am most thankful for such a safe voyage. With love to all, I am, Your son and brother, HARRY.

AN APROPOS QUESTION

"A century is a short period in the life of a nation," writes General Dutton in his classic history of "The Military Policy of the United States." But his history may convey many valuable lessons as the result of the system which we cherish as our own invention; thus the War of the Revolution lasted seven years, the War of 1812 three years, the Florida War seven years, the Mexican War two years, and the Rebellion four years, not to mention the almost incessant Indian wars of this period. In other words, since the publication of the Declaration of Independence to this time these figures show that for every three years of peace we have had one year of actual war."

THE TREACHEROUS HUN

In common with other newspapers of that date, the last issue of the TIMES chronicled the capture of one of the largest German submarines and the surrender of its crew of nearly fifty officers and men. The boat was disabled by gunfire, was surrendered and made fast to the United States destroyer that put it out of business. Then, while the American jackies were busy salvaging the crew and taking care of desperately wounded ones, one of the crew members sneaked into the hold, opened the submerged valve and sent the ship to the bottom so suddenly and unexpectedly that one or more of his own comrades went down with her and she was with difficulty cut loose from her captor. This act was as treacherous as hell-bait, in no manner out of character for one of a nation of purveyors of poisonous gas, robbers of private homes and ravishers of women.

A CAPTAIN OF THE COMMISSARY

Mr. Carl Shurz Vrooman, who is Assistant Secretary United States Department of Agriculture, gives to the public the following with regard to county agents and the important work that is expected from them: The county agents constitute American agriculture's first line of defense. They are the men in the first line trenches, zealously guarding the farmer's interests and bringing to his attention all that is of immediate practical value—our scientific teaching and fortifying this with results from the experience of the most successful hard-headed practical farmers of each county. At a time like the present, when the nation is engaged in a great war wherein food production is of vital military importance, the value of the county agent to the government can hardly be over emphasized. Since the United States became a belligerent, the county agent has done valiant war service. In counties having agents, it was possible during the past summer to secure truly wonderful results, to quickly and promptly meet a difficult labor situation; in locating available seed stocks; in arranging for farm credits for the purchase of machinery and fertilizer; in supplying tractor power, and in other forms of effective leadership, all contributing to a great increase in the production of spring wheat, oats, corn, potatoes and other food crops; and, finally in assisting in facilitating marketing. Some of the most important battles of this war will be fought during 1918 in the furrows and folds of America. The county agents will be the Captains of the soldiers of the "Commissary" who will make these victories possible.

THANKSGIVING AND CHURCHES

It is well for the people of this country to keep Thanksgiving both in body and spirit this year and to obey literally the request of President Wilson and Governor Alexander that they repair to their places of worship on that day and offer up prayers of thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has bestowed. Without going into detail regarding such blessings, it might be well to note the one that they have churches left standing, untouched by the hand of war in which to worship.

There are enough places for all who wish to offer the thanks which they should feel, and it is more than usually appropriate for them to do so on this occasion.

COMMUNITY RED CROSS

An interesting meeting was held by Red Cross members of Community Aid at Community church Wednesday, November 21. Mrs. J. L. Dallas, chairman, called the meeting to order for a short business session. The majority of the members present decided that a donation of ten dollars be given to the Twin Falls chapter to assist in furnishing Christmas boxes for the soldiers. Sewing and knitting was not neglected. Hostesses who served refreshments were Mrs. Owen, Mrs. Windle, Mrs. Fred Hills and Mrs. Davis.

War Likely to be Extended by Congress

Declaration Against Austria, Turkey And Bulgaria Unless There Are Reasons Against It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—With the arrival here today of a large number of leading senators and representatives to take up the preliminaries of the regular session of congress a week from today, enthusiasm increased as to whether the United States will declare war on Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. It was evident this afternoon this subject will be one of the first to engage the attention of the national legislature.

Many of the senators and representatives openly favored an immediate war declaration holding that the events on the Italian front make it necessary that all of the Teutonic allies be considered enemies of the United States. They agreed, however, that there will be a great deal of action by the action of President Wilson. The necessity of the United States actively assisting Italy is one of the main subjects now being considered by the Senate. In an earlier conference and on the conclusion reached there will probably depend this country's line of action. It is understood that Colonel E. M. House already has acquainted President Wilson with the views of the British government on this subject.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations who will have charge of any way resolution in the senate, said today that he believed it would be advisable "for the United States to declare war on Austria to clear the situation, but that this was, for the president to decide."

An immediate declaration of war against Austria and Turkey was advocated by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, democratic whip of the whip, as he was leaving for Chicago this afternoon. He expressed the view that this would be one of the paramount questions before congress when it meets next week.

Sam Boone Is on New York's Broadway

TIMES Foreman Boops in Tammany Tigerdom—Boys All Well and Send Regards to All.

Foreman Sam Boone of the TIMES writes from New York City, where he and Mrs. Boone are visiting their son, Chester, who is in Company D, says the boys are all well and are glad to see someone from Twin Falls. His letter indicates, what was stated in the interview of E. J. Ostrander, recently published in the TIMES that New York City wants to do all that it can for the soldier boys and that the people there are enthusiastically patriotic. The letter which indicates that he is staying at the Hotel Imperial on Broadway, follows:

New York City, Nov. 22, 1917.
J. W. Robinson,
Twin Falls, Idaho.
Dear Joe:—Have been in this city for two days, and say, it is some "bang." Spent the day yesterday at Camp Mills. The boys are looking fine and feeling the same. Chester came in from camp with me and will stay until this afternoon, could not get a longer leave of absence. They are getting pretty strict and it is hard for the boys to get passes any more. The captain who I met yesterday took off a day and night on account of my being here. I tried to get Carlus Linville off to come with us but could not. The boys are all well and Chester certainly do think a lot of the soldiers and they will go out of their way to do them a favor. Camp Mills is not so nice a camp as Camp Greene. The drainage is very poor and it has rained a great deal since the boys have been here. I ate dinner yesterday at camp with the officers and took supper last night in the kitchen with the boys. They treated me fine and they all seemed to be mighty glad to see somebody from Twin Falls. It is hard to tell how much longer they will be here, but the indications are that it will not be very long. Chester sends his regards to all the officers, I force, also remember me to everybody. Yours truly,
S. M. BOONE.

"ARE WAITRESSES SAFE?" SENNETT COMEDY SHOWING AT THE IDAHO

VIVIAN MARTIN IN "THE SUNSET TRAIL" ON SAME PROGRAM—TWO ACTS OF VAUDEVILLE.
LOUISE FAZENDA, long conceded to be one of the funniest women on the screen makes her Paramount-Mack Sennett debut in "Art Waitresses Safe?" Now showing at the Idaho, and it is confidently asserted that for laugh-producing qualities this vehicle will be her greatest triumph. The comedy, supervised by Mack Sennett, includes in its cast beside a large number of super-meritaries such well known humorists as Ben Turpin and Slim Summerville. The riot starts in a bakery and restaurant where Louise is singing. Ben and Slim are suitors for her hand. Later Louise gets a job as maid in the mayor's home. All does not go well! One of the features that will appeal to all those who are appreciative of feminine pulchritude is the fact that "Are Waitresses Safe?" abounds in examples of girlish beauty and a corps of "Comedy Outlets" which takes part in the ensemble scenes is said to be excellent even in Mack Sennett productions. New and novel "gags" of all sorts have been interspersed and from all indications Louise will be put to rest thoroughly by this farce. —Adv.

and though his first letter isn't long and lacks details as to his work, a precaution taken doubtless because of his knowledge as to censored letters gained while acting as assistant secretary to George Creel, of the government war information board at Washington, he tells of the wonderful treatment received while en route and of the fine class of men he has met as a whole. The letter follows: Dear Folks: After a most pleasant voyage we have arrived safely. I realize that it will be some time before you receive this letter and am myself worried over the suspense this must have caused poor mother. But mother you have nothing to worry about for I will be perfectly safe at all times and will soon be home, safe and sound and much better off for the experience. Of course you are aware that we can say very little in letters. But I cannot refrain from telling you how courteously we were treated on our voyage. I have met a very nice class of men, both amongst the enlisted men and the officers. The one feature of the whole trip is the wonderful food we had all the way and the comfortable quarters for sleeping, in fact, I consider it a vacation. As far as the weather is concerned we could ask for nothing more, but very little water and a beautiful moon most of the way. I was most fortunate in not being severely hurt. I certainly had anticipated being one of the victims, especially after having gone through three days of such illness while on my trip over the great lakes. There were no unusual occurrences of any kind. To add to the pleasant atmosphere the band played each day and the concerts were excellent and most pleasing. William Duncan and Carol Holloway is the stellar roles accomplish some death defying stunts. The tale in brief follows the adventures which befall the discoverer of a valuable ingredient for the making of a powerful explosive, and the efforts of a foreign enemy to get possession of the secret. The photoplay is unusually beautiful and artistic.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS
John Gwyn, an American mining engineer, is working a western mine to furnish the government with the ingredients of a powerful explosive essential to the manufacture of ammunition. He is fought by an agent of the Central Powers, who, with tools murder the owner of the mine and when Gwyn marries the daughter, cry, and almost succeed, several times, in killing them. They finally attack the mine in force and capture it, together with the deeds.

CHAPTER 9
Von Bleck started and sat up, the old look of cunning breaking through his stupor. He raised a trembling finger and pointed down the road. "Arrest me!" He laughed. "Don't as the tree crashed to the ground. Hogan's brakes were grinding fire as he drew up with a jolt that almost threw the occupants from the car. They had escaped death by the narrowest fraction, but danger meant nothing now. The heavy tree lay like a prostrate giant across the path. Sick with the sense of defeat, the crowd watched the approach of the other cars that had followed from the railroad wreck. Then came a horseman—two of them. It was a fighting chance at least. The riders, who had dismounted before Nan and Gwyn were in the saddle, picking their way over and between the broken branches and then dashed on up the road. But the first glimpse they had of the commissioner's office was all too convincing that their race had been in vain. The sheriff's car, with Von Bleck leaning from the top and was just rolling off down the street, and Causley himself stood in the doorway.

FEDERATION IS ON RECORD

Miss Helene Altmendinger. The address of Rev. Willile Martin, already covered at length in the TIMES, was greatly appreciated. Mrs. J. W. Faris of Buhl presented his report of the legislative committee, which was read and approved. The following meeting sang the Star Spangled Banner with feeling and the largest and most successful meeting of the district federation was at an end. The following is the address of the president, Mrs. Clouchek, referred to in the resolutions, which created much favorable discussion among the delegates:
President's Address
We are in the midst of the world's greatest tragedy. We have chosen to win for these countries that are fighting for freedom and already from the trenches "somewhere in France" has come this message, "tell the folks at home that I went out game."
We are told over and over again that this is a war of resources, that man power marks only 30 per cent of the efficiency of modern warfare, that it takes far more than the lives of the boys who go out "kannely" to win and that if we wish their sacrifice not to be in vain, it behooves us to strain our energies to the utmost and not account our work well done when we have supplied our boys with the necessities of life and observed the needless and wasteful killing.

Again we are in the midst of a revolution. I mean that old standards are being broken down and new ones are in a formative period. Within the close of this war so many new conditions will confront us that we shall be appalled at their enormity if we do not do our duty. If we shut our eyes to all else but war until it has been brought to a successful conclusion, we shall awake to find that we have been miserably defeated. The energies expended by our allies in their endeavor to keep all of the business nearly normal as possible during this terrible strife, the thought and time given by them to the realization of the fact that the war is almost beyond comprehension. The part that women are playing in this world's wonderful. Never before in the world's history has so much depended upon their industry and intelligence and the part that we of America play in this world's tragedy, will be the measure that will give us our status in the community of the world. We are, if you please, in competition with the women of the world and it behooves us to look well to our laurels.

England with her man power behind the lines in Belgium, France, Italy, Asia and Africa is producing more coal and iron than she ever has in her history. She is now manufacturing most all of her munitions of war. In 1918 she will produce four-fifths of all foods necessary for her sustenance—something that we have not. Her working conditions for employees, who are mostly women, are better than at any previous time. She is planning and devising ways and means whereby the maximum of this war may earn their livelihood and training them in their new occupation. She has discovered that her educational system is in a bad way and must be revised. She knows that she will face tremendous odds when the time comes to disband the army. Today she is attempting to work out all of these problems and so fit all other nations at war.

We too are faced to face with these same conditions. As our boys are taken into the national service our girls are taking their places in the industrial world. Already we have elevator girls, girl ushers in theatres, girls in every form of service in the industry. And already the cry is going up that vice is springing up in new places. It is necessary for girls and women to fill those vacancies left by the men and we should do our best to see that the conditions under which they work are as sane as possible. Of course, a girl in a thinny population as ours this place is not so vital as in more densely populated states; yet every step taken in the right direction now will obviate many difficulties later. We still have the working girl problem—I mean the girl that does housework, who seems to get so little for her money. It is no wonder that domestic help is so hard to obtain. One of the commissions that has come my way more than once is from women who are anxious to obtain this also here; law for women but you carefully left out the girl that works in your home. It would be a woman who would make it no have that law operate in your home.

SEND IN YOUR RECIPES

The Pure Food Editor wants all the readers of the TIMES to help make this as beneficial as possible. Many of you have excellent recipes that would help your neighbors. If you have one that is particularly good, send it in and we will publish it in this department, also giving you credit for it.

Below we are printing a few recipes which might give a suggestion that will be helpful.

YOU MIGHT TRY

Recipes for Nourishing Soups.
Scotch Broth—3 pounds mutton, 2 tablespoons pearl barley, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons minced turnips, 2 tablespoons minced carrot, 2 tablespoons minced celery, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 tablespoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 3 quarts cold water.

Remove the bones and all the fat from the mutton cut the meat into small pieces, and put into a stew pan with the water, chopped vegetables, barley, and all the seasoning excepting the parsley. It will be found convenient to tie the bones in a piece of thin white cloth before adding them to the other ingredients. Bring the stew to a boil, quickly skim it, and allow it to simmer for three hours, thicken with the flour, and add the chopped parsley.

Dried Fish Chowder—One-half pound salt fish, 4 cups potatoes, cut in small pieces, 2 ounces salt pork, 1 small onion chopped, 4 cups skimmed milk, 4 ounces crackers.

Salt cod, smelt, halibut, or other dried fish may be used in this chowder. Pick over and shred fish, holding it under lukewarm water. Let it soak while the other ingredients of the chowder are being prepared. Cut the pork in small pieces and fry it with the onion until both are a delicate brown, add the potatoes, cover with water, and cook until the potatoes are soft. Add the milk and fish and reheat. Salt, if necessary. It is well to allow the crackers to soak in the milk while the potatoes are being cooked, then remove them, and finally add to the chowder just before serving.

Milk and Cheese Soup—3 cups milk, or part milk and part stock; 1-2 tablespoons flour; 1 cup grated cheese; salt and paprika.

Thicken the milk with the flour, cooking thoroughly. This is best done in a double boiler, with frequent stirrings. When ready to serve, add the cheese and the seasonings.

The protein in this soup is equal in amount to that in five-sixths of a pound of beef of average composition; its fuel value is higher than that of a pound of beef.

Milk and Vegetable Soup—1 quart skim milk; 1 cup bread crumbs, or 2 large slices stale bread; 1 small onion; 1 small amount spinach or other leafy lettuce (not more than 4 ounces); salt.

Cut the vegetables into small pieces and cook with the bread crumbs in the milk in a double boiler. If large quantity is being prepared for use in a school, for example, put the vegetables through a meat chopper. In this case slices of bread can be ground with the vegetables, in order to absorb the juice.

Cowpea Soup—1 tablespoon butter or pork fat; 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion; 1 stalk celery, finely chopped; 1 cup dried cowpeas; salt.

Soak the peas 8 or 10 hours in water, enough to cover. Fry the vegetables in the fat, add the peas, and the water in which they were soaked, and cook (preferably in a double boiler) until the peas are tender. Put the mixture through a sieve and add water enough to bring it to the desired consistency. Reheat. If this soup is bitter, the onion and drippings slowly in a stewpan with a little water, the pea pulp will be prevented from sinking. (Dried navy or lima beans, peas, soy (tofu) beans, or other legumes may be used instead of the cowpeas.)

Split-Pea Soup—1 pint dried peas, 4 quarts water, 1 large onion, minced fine, 4 tablespoons sweet drippings, or butter, which gives a better flavor, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon minced celery or a few dried celery leaves, one-half teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons salt.

Wash the peas and soak them overnight in cold water. In the morning pour off the water and put them in the soup pot with 3 quarts of cold water. Place on the fire and when the water comes to the boiling point pour it off (throw this water away.) Add 4 quarts of boiling water to the peas and place the soup pot where the contents will simmer for four hours. Add the celery the last hour of cooking. Cook the onion and drippings slowly in a stewpan for half an hour. Drain the water from the peas (save this water) and put them in the stewpan with the onion and drippings. Then add the flour and cook half an hour, stirring often. At the end of this time mash fine and gradually add the water until the soup is like thick cream. Then rub through a sieve and return to the fire; add the salt and pepper and cook 20 minutes or more. Beans can be used in the same way as peas.

Mixed Vegetable Soup—3 quarts of water, 1 quart shredded cabbage; one-half pint mixed carrot, 1 pint sliced potato, one-half pound minced turnip, one-half minced onion, 1 leek, 2 tomatoes, 2 tablespoons minced celery, 2 tablespoons butter and drippings, 2 tablespoons green pepper, 3 teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon pepper.

Have the water boiling hard in a stewpan and add all the vegetables except the potatoes and tomatoes. Boil rapidly for 10 minutes, then draw back where it will boil gently for one hour. At the end of this time add the onion, turnip, leek, and cook one hour longer. Have the cover partially off the stewpan during the entire cooking. This soup may be varied by using different kinds of vegetables.

Cabbage and Potato Soup—One-half boiled cabbage, finely minced, 3 medium sized potatoes, 1 and one-half level tablespoons butter drippings or other fat, 1 teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, 1 and one-half pints milk, whole or skim, or milk and water, boiling water.

Peel the potatoes, cover with boiling water and cook until tender, usually 30 minutes, pour off the water and mash until fine and light. Add the cabbage, butter or other fat, and seasonings, then slowly add the hot milk or milk and water and boil up well. If a thinner soup is required the amount of milk or milk and water can be increased. If liked, an onion cut up fine and cooked in a little water may be added to the soup to give additional flavor, or grated cheese may be mixed with it. Kale, turnips, or a mixture of vegetables can be substituted for the cabbage, if desired, and this is a good way to use up leftover vegetables.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES FROM TIMES LEASED WIRE

INSANE MAN'S DEED
Frank Warner, son of a former sheriff of White county, Indiana, is held in the county jail at Monticello, Ind., as insane, after an attempt to destroy his wife and children and his own by fire Saturday night. Nine men are suffering from wounds inflicted by Warner when he fired a shotgun at the crowd that assembled to fight the fire. According to stories told by Warner's wife and son, he poured gasoline over them and over the house and garage. He then set fire to the garage and to the house. The garage and an automobile it contained were burned but the members of Warner's family were rescued and the fire in the house extinguished with small damage.

FEAR SEA RAID
Five United States army generals and two admirals of the American navy have just arrived at an Atlantic port from Europe. One of the generals intimated his belief that this country is not absolutely safe from attacks and that every effort should be made to give the coast cities the best possible protection.

SIX ITALIANS ARRESTED.
Six Italians, one of whom declared to have made a partial confession, were arrested in Milwaukee Monday in connection with the bomb explosion which killed eleven persons and wrecked the Central Police station on Saturday night. The alleged confession, police officers declare, has furnished clues that will lead to the arrest of ringleaders.

Federal authorities admitted today they are making an investigation of the bomb outrage to discover if it was the result of a pro-German plot.

PIERSOL ADMITTED TO BAIL
The supreme court of Missouri on Monday approved the writ of Habeas corpus in the case of Claude Piersol, convicted of complicity in the kidnaping and murder of Baby Keet of Springfield, and directed his release on bonds of $20,000. The appeal will hardly be argued until next year.

BEAT ORGANIZER
A sheriff's posse organized shortly after H. E. Turner of St. Louis, organizer of the United Shoe Workers' union was kidnaped at Moberly, Mo., last night and taken from the city in an automobile discovered Turner unconscious in a roadside road near Franklin, a small hamlet, six miles east of Moberly early this morning. Turner is in a critical condition as the result of a beating administered by his captors.

TOOK VACATION
To get away from his daily toil and ease his mind and body of the strain of conscious labor is the reason assigned today by Alfred Brown, head of the Austin Business college, of Chicago, for his disappearance six months ago. Brown reappeared at his home and declared he had been working on farms in various parts of the country. Brown said he made no attempt to conceal his identity and used his own name at all times.

WRECK KILLS THREE
Three men were instantly killed at 6:55 o'clock Monday, when they drove a garbage motor truck in front of an eastbound Omaha express on the Illinois Central railroad grade crossing at Perryville station, five miles east of here. The dead are Arthur Peacock, Earle Gramer and Glenn Taylor, all from Cherry Valley, a small village near Camp Grant.

ALLEGED I. W. W. VENGEANCE
Secret service men investigating the Frisco wreck south of Muskogee, Okla., express the opinion that the wreck was the first of a series of outrages planned in revenge for the arrest of I. W. W. members in the Kansas oil fields. Home guards and deputies are guarding hundreds of miles of railroad track heretofore. Several arrests have been made and possessors are still after the train wreckers who are reported to have passed through Muskogee northbound in an automobile last night. About 30 United States officers taking part in the manhunt.

YOUNG BURGLAR KILLED
The attempt of three negro boy burglars to break into a drug store in St. Louis Monday, resulted in the killing of one of the youthful robbers by L. H. Slicht, the proprietor. The dead youth was identified as Wilson Jeffries, 13 years old.

A BOMB IN ST. LOUIS
There was a stir at police station in St. Louis yesterday when Sam Sorano, an Italian lugger, a "bomb" into the building. The tap wrapped can was viewed astance by police recalling the Milwaukee incident. It had a fuse and was filled with a liquid the police will examine. Sorano said he found the "bomb" with fuse burning on his doorstep and extinguished it.

PAPER TRUST FIELDS.
The government's proceedings against seven officials of news print paper corporations pending and to a compromise with five of the accused men were permitted to enter pleas of nolle contendere Wednesday. This action followed an agreement between the officials of the department of justice and print paper manufacturers by which the price of print paper was fixed for a period beginning January 1, 1918, and ending April 1, 1919, when the terms of contracts for the sale of print paper shall be fixed by the federal trade commission.

I. W. W. CAUSE WRECK
Three trainmen were killed Sunday morning as a result of a wreck south of Henrietta, Oklahoma, when Frisco train No. 11, traveling 25 miles an hour crashed into a rail which had been chained to the track by I. W. W. members. It was the second attempt to interfere with railroad facilities in eastern Oklahoma within 12 hours, the first attempt being that made by members of the I. W. W. to destroy the M. K. & T. bridge at Osage Saturday night.

HELPFUL RALLY OF TWIN FALLS SUNDAY SCHOOLS
MEETING IS HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT METHODIST CHURCH

Different Parts of Work Discussed

Religious Education Urged by Rev. J. D. Stringston of Portland—Full Week Institute Is Planned for Coming Winter.

A rally session of the Twin Falls County Sunday School association met Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in this city, presided over by Hon. S. P. Atherton, president of the association. The president, together with Mrs. H. H. Hart, secretary, had planned the program of the meeting and had secured two out of town speakers, Dr. J. D. Stringston, of Portland, who is religious educational director of the northwestern states and who is an expert in the work of religious education, and Mrs. L. M. Ormsby, of Boise, secretary of the State Sunday School association, was also on the program.

The meeting was called to order at 2:30 p. m. by Mr. Atherton. The devotional part of the program, consisting of songs and prayer, was led by Mr. Mott of the Organ-Mell Evangelistic company. Mr. C. Hackman made the welcome address, and Rev. O. T. Anderson made a brief address in response, emphasizing the necessity of organizing all of our churches in our churches upon the basis of religious education.

An address on "The Adult Bible program, delivered by Rev. W. E. Harmon, pastor of the Christian church.

The next speaker on the program was Dr. J. D. Stringston, who outlined the great need of religious education in the churches of today, and then placed the responsibility squarely upon the churches. He urged that above all things the church school needs trained workers, men and women who will give the necessary time and effort for preparing themselves for efficient leadership in the church schools. Among other things, he spoke of the religious training of our boys in the cantonnements of the country, some of which he had recently visited and in six of them speaking to our boys. His speech left no doubt that the men who have had the proper religious training in the homes and churches before going into the army are the men who will face with least danger the temptations incident to army life.

After Dr. Stringston's address Mrs. Ormsby spoke briefly of the state work and of the relation of the county convention of schools to the state association, after which the meeting adjourned.

Dr. Stringston spoke at the Baptist church in the morning and Mrs. Ormsby at the Methodist church in the evening.

The president and executive committee of the county convention expect to plan for a full week institute during the winter in which the principles of religious education may be set forth and a definite work in training workers may be accomplished.

Russians Hungry and Rioting in the Capital Is Feared in Consequence—Another Socialist Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Petrograd and Berlin are in constant wireless communication according to a special dispatch received by the state department this afternoon from American Ambassador David R. Francis. Mr. Francis made no comment upon the reports of the dispatch, but he also stated that "another socialist government" has been set up in a city near Petrograd. The dispatch, however, contains nothing to indicate the active heads of this organization.

A menacing note in that it disclosed the possibility of looting was contained in Mr. Francis' communication, he is reporting to the department that the Russian armies are reported as very short of food. Officials said that a revolution was likely to lead to serious outbreaks.

MONDAY WAR MOVES FAVOR THE ALLIES

Monday's important war moves: German troops that tried to drive back the British west of Cambrai on the western front, fought themselves to exhaustion and were unable to renew their counter attacks last night. They retired leaving the British in possession of Bourlon wood, which is on high ground dominating the German key position at Cambrai and in partial possession of Bourlon village. On the west Flanders front, at Passchendaele, violent cannonading has been resumed.

Enormous losses have been inflicted upon the Germans and Austro-Hungarians on the Italian front without breaking the Italian lines on the Piave river, and the Asiago plateau. The German encircling movement against the Italian wing has been definitely checked between the Brenta and the Piave valleys, according to all indications today.

Unimportant firing was reported on the eastern front.
