

MEXICANS ROB AND LEAVE THEIR VICTIM FOR DEAD

CHARLES MISNER HAS A HAAROWING EXPERIENCE AT THREE CREEK

TREATMENT WOULD HAVE KILLED ORDINARY MAN—WALKER 4 MILES TO THREE CREEK—EIGHT MEXICANS IN COUNTY JAIL

Struck on the head with a rock, shot in the back with a 32-calibre rifle, stabbed, cut, gashed so that a physician had to take 72 stitches to close the wounds, thrown over a cliff and boulders rolled down upon him, Charles Misner lives today to tell the tale, the survivor of a weird series of events which would have put to shame the wildest "mello" movie that was ever screened. And most miraculous of all, Mr. Misner was about the streets of the city yesterday feeling but little worse for his hair-raising experiences, though little of his face could be seen through the maze of Bandages that were wrapped about his head, and he talked with some difficulty.

Right Mexicans Held In the county jail eight Mexicans languish awaiting the arrival of the prosecuting attorney and sheriff of Owyhee county, where the assault was committed. Three of the eight were the assassins, but all are being held for the Owyhee officials. Misner was able to identify them Wednesday morning.

Crime in Owyhee County

The assault took place about four miles from Three Creek in Owyhee county, late Monday afternoon, probably around six o'clock.

The Mexicans had been working for William Jenkins on road work near Jarbidge. They arranged with a man by the name of Smith to drive them to Regerson. Three of them left the party and went over to the station at Jarbidge, then caught a ride a little way, and were walking toward Three Creek when they overtook Misner, whom the Mexicans had probably seen at Jarbidge and knew he was carrying money on his person. Bobby was clearly the motive. Misner says the men did not appear to be intoxicated, but they afterwards admitted that they bought only a quart between them at Rattlesnake.

Heavy Clothing Saves Life

Misner had left the stage to see a man about buying a Mexican and on his way into Three Creek. The first he knew of the intention of the Mexicans was when he was struck in the head from behind with a rock. He turned to confront them when, when one of the Mexicans, afterward identified as Joe Yallego, aged 19, started shooting. Misner turned and ran, but the three Mexicans gave pursuit, Yallego firing with a revolver as he ran. A bullet struck Misner in the back, not owing to his head being turned, but penetrating deeply, and caused only a flesh wound. He was not able to outrun the men because of this heavy clothing. They soon overtook him and beat him three, with no opportunity to get out of his coat, he was quickly overpowered. It was then that he was stabbed and cut, the Mexicans sliding the knife being identified later as A. R. Max, who gave his age as 23. The third man, who was identified as A. Amaran, aged 21, assisted, kicking over a fence. Apparently Misner did not lose consciousness at any time, as he distinctly remembers the men searching his pockets and taking his bank roll, which contained $155.

Throw Body Over Cliff

Satisfied that their victim was dead, or nearly so, they carried the body to a nearby cliff and pushed over. Instead of falling to the bottom a distance of 40 or 50 feet, the body lodged against a brush about ten feet down. The Mexicans attempted to dislodge it by rolling boulders down. Satisfied at last that they had disposed of their victim they continued their way into Three Creek, where they spent the night.

Misner, an hour or two later, recovered.

SHORTHORN SALE BIG EVENT AND WELL ATTENDED

RESULTS IN PERFECTION OF STATE AND LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS

UNUSUAL INTEREST SHOWN IN PURE BREED STOCK—PURCHASERS RESIDE IN MANY SECTIONS OF STATE—REGULAR EVENT

The Southern Idaho Breeders' association's first sale held here Tuesday proved successful beyond all expectations, and was the cause of a state association being formed and a local association covering the north and south side Twin Falls projects being organized, with the assurance of the visitors from other parts of the state that the breeders in their respective localities will immediately organize local organizations affiliating with the state association. The officers and directors of the Southern Idaho Shorthorn Breeders' association for the first year are: H. W. Bowman of Caldwell, president; J. A. Clifford of Filer, vice-president; H. H. Schildman of Filer, secretary-treasurer; and Rex Leland of Wendell, R. A. Parsons of Blackfoot, Robert McGuffee of Caldwell, comprise the board of directors.

Bring Good Prices

Speaking of the prices paid at the sale, Mr. Dorman said: "The prices obtained for the cattle offered, considering the small amount of publicity given the sale and the short time allotted for the fitting of the cattle, was entirely satisfactory to the breeders. A large part of the offering was suckling calves which sold from $100 to $200 each." The majority of the older cattle were plain bred, while the younger stuff was sired in many instances by pure Scotch bull. The result of the sale and the prices obtained for the different types fully demonstrates that the breeders as well as the beginning appreciate the stronger type in the beef lines.

PROBATION OFFICER ACTS AS "RECEIVER"

Takes Charge of Elaborate Stock of Cigars and Cigarettes Boys Find In Abandoned Reservoir

Probation Officer Ormsby on Thursday morning placed under arrest William Horst, who confessed to having entered three local business houses and to have stolen about $250 worth of merchandise. The places entered were Mcintosh drug store, Skeels-Wiley drug store, and the Mike Cannon pool hall. In each instance the store room door was opened by means of skeleton key. Horst admitted disposing of part of the loot to a pool hall at Buhl.

A juvenile mercantile agency was disrupted by Probation Officer V. H. Ormsby Monday when he commenced an investigation as to the source from which the young concern was obtaining its supply of choice brands of cigarettes, cigars and confectionery. The boys insisted they found the stuff in the old city reservoir across from the Levering theatre. Mr. Ormsby visited their temporary warehouse and confiscated their $150 stock.

It did not take long to connect up a portion of the stock with Mike Cannon's pool hall under the Big White Store, which was robbed Thursday evening. F. F. Varney also reported that his place of business was found open one morning recently, and it is thought that a part of the find might have been stolen from Varney's, although Mr. Varney reported that he was unable to state positively that anything had been stolen from his store.

Officer Ormsby has satisfied himself that the boys were not the original culprits, and outside of interrupting their short-lived enterprise, will do nothing further with them. He is, however, on the trail of the original culprits, and some arrests as the result of his investigation are expected shortly.

WAR FUND TO BENEFIT BY K. OF C. DANCE

Local Order Seeks to Raise $1100 for War Work—Ask Assistance From All

A dance Tuesday evening, for which tickets will be sold for $1 per couple, is the means adopted by the Knights of Columbus to raise the $1100 assigned to the Twin Falls order as its share of the huge war fund being raised by the order for war relief work at the cantonments in this country and on the fields of France. The Catholic ladies of the city will circulate among the people selling tickets to the dance, and those accepted are invited to remember that the dance is secondary to the principal purpose. But a real dance is promised at that, so that those who dance can feel they are getting double value for their money.

PURE WATER BOND ELECTION WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday the voters of Twin Falls will pass upon the proposed bond issue submitted by the city council for the improvement of the municipal water works system. All registered resident taxpayers will vote at this election.

ALIENS MUST REGISTER FOR UNCLE SAM

SUBJECTS OF COUNTRIES AT WAR WITH U. S. MUST BE RESTRICTED

AFFIDAVITS, FINGER PRINTS AND PHOTOGRAPHS REQUIRED—REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES TO BE KEPT ON PERSONS

To Chief of Police William Taylor in the city of Twin Falls and the various postmasters throughout the county, falls the task of registering all alien male citizens above the age of fourteen years who are subjects of any of the countries at war with the United States. Such aliens must present themselves for registration some time during the week beginning February 4 and ending February 9. They will find Chief Taylor or a deputy at the city clerk's office in the Ferrine hotel building at any hour between six in the morning and eight o'clock at night. The regulations require that all alien enemies register at this time. After February 9 an alien enemy shall not be found within the limits of the United States, its territories or possessions, without having his registration card on his person.

BEATS BOY WHO WANTS TO JOIN ARMY

Such Is Charge Filed Against Andy J. Daum, Filer Farmer—Victim Is Arthur Kropstadt

Andy J. Daum, a farmer residing southeast of Filer, was placed under arrest late Wednesday charged with assault and battery, the victim being a lad who had been working for him. The boy's name is Arthur Kropstadt.

According to the story told by the boy, he informed Daum, for whom he had been working for several weeks, that he was going to quit. He says he told him that he was about to be drafted into the national army and wanted to visit his folks in Oregon a few days before joining the army. Daum, he claims, was angry, and wrote out a check, which the boy says was $3 short of what was owing him. It is claimed that Daum then drew a gun, threatened his life, beat him and drove him off the place.

The boy says that Daum is a German, a German of Filer, and that he has refused to sell his 1917 wheat crop, and that the boy's leaving to join the army was what provoked the assault. Daum was released on bonds to appear Thursday.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF STEALING 3 RAILROAD TIES

Representatives of the Oregon Short Line caused the arrest Thursday morning of C. Jennings, who is charged with having stolen five ties of the value of one dollar each.

APPOINT HOSPITAL BOARD

With the nearing completion of the new county hospital, the county commissioners have appointed a board of five men to comprise the managing board for a term of one year. The men appointed are C. J. Hahn, L. E. Soladay, A. L. Swin, all of Twin Falls, E. E. Haug of Filer, and Russ Wilson of Kimberly. The board will open about the first of April.

DELINQUENTS ARE REPORTED BY LOCAL BOARD

POLICE DIRECTED TO LOCATE 106 WHO FAIL TO SEND QUESTIONNAIRES

AFTER FIVE DAYS LIST WILL BE CERTIFIED TO ADJUTANT GENERAL—NEGLECT MAY RESULT IN INDICTION INTO ARMY

With the certification to the county police authorities Monday of 106 additional names of registrants who have failed to return the questionnaires mailed to them by the local board, the total number of reported delinquents in this county is now swelled to approximately 256, the board having certified 150 names on January 7.

Many Had Relisted

Of the final list, however, nearly half have been accounted for. For one reason or another many registrants failed to return the questionnaires within the time fixed or, due to enlistment, the questionnaires were not returned with that information in time to give the local board the information necessary to withhold the names from publication. The board presumes that quite a number of the registrants listed under date of January 21 have also enlisted, but in the absence of definite information the board has no alternative other than to include in the delinquent list the names of all whose questionnaires have not been returned.

Board Adopts Lenient Policy

No punitive measures have yet been adopted by the board for failure to make proper return within the required time. Policy will be as lenient as possible where there is absence of proof of deliberate intent to hinder the work of the board or to evade the law. The board has no intention of punishing the authorities of the county to get in touch with the registrants reported in the delinquent lists, and see that the returned answers are not delayed. After five days a new list is certified to the adjutant general, who gives the delinquents still another opportunity to return their answers. Then, at the option of the adjutant general, the men are without further ceremony inducted into the national army and posted as deserters.

Delinquent List Not Complete

The delinquent list certified to January 21, was far from complete. The list of registrants in this county, there being a few over 2500 men registered in the county, while the last number of the previous list was 1000, the numbers given are the order numbers of possible military service which the men drew in the draft: 645 Philip Hill, Buhl, Idaho. 653 Santiago Aglier, Filer, Idaho. 655 Francisco Baryola, Researbia, Regerson, Idaho. 704 Charles Clarence Barker, Filer, Idaho. 719 Wm. Chas. Holladay, Murtaugh, Idaho.

WAR SAVINGS STAMP DRIVE IN FULL SWING

COUNTY THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED—300 WORKERS ON THE JOB

W. R. FAIRBIE, COUNTY CHAIRMAN SAYS EVERY SECTION OF COUNTY THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED FOR BIG EFFORT

W-S-S! This is the sign that should be hanging in every window before the end of the week. It signifies that the possessor has invested in a War Savings Stamp—whether it be for 25 cents or in the larger denominations. It signifies that the possessor has enlisted in the great thrift campaign to help the government win the war.

Over three hundred men are engaged today in spreading the gospel in all parts of the county. W. R. Fairbie, county chairman, has enlisted the services of members of the school boards in every district in the county, and states that the response has been astonishing.

Highest Drive Yet

E. L. MacVicar has charge of the campaign in the city. Twenty-two teams of three members each are making a thorough canvass of the business section. Some of the men have been assigned every block in the city and a house to house campaign is in progress. It is one of the highest and most systematic drives yet attempted in the county. It is one in which all can participate, because the small denomination stamps are within the reach of everybody.

Dr. A. F. McCluskey of Buhl has charge of the drive in the west section of the county.

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN SKIDMORE CASE

After three hours deliberation, the jury in the case of the state of Idaho against Bert Skidmore, an 18-year-old Twin Falls boy charged with a stationery charge, returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

The trial of the case occupied Monday and Tuesday afternoon. The prosecution represented the defendant, and assisted by the firm of Swedley & Sweeley. No trial at Twin Falls in recent years has been as largely attended as this.

The jury was chosen with little delay, the defense using two peremptory challenges. The jury consisted of the following: B. C. Letach, Frank Housman, A. Davis, E. F. Blaisdell, Dave Beamer, J. W. Hardin, William J. Kunkle, A. E. Housman, D. R. Churchill, N. Jordan, Charles Slack, and E. H. Proctor.

Complaining witnesses were parents of a sixteen-year-old girl. The case went to the jury at 5:45 Tuesday afternoon and the verdict was returned at 9:45.

PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF BEATING WIFE

Bert Schnittfeld Admits Offense—To Be Sentenced Later

Bert Schnittfeld's method of disciplining his wife resulted in his being brought before Probate Judge Duvall Wednesday morning on a "wife beating" charge. Schnittfeld, a resident of the city, returned to his home near the ball park Monday evening and found his wife away. According to the information filed, she was over at a neighbor's, a Mexican woman's home, where she was helping the woman's son with an arithmetic lesson. Schnittfeld, angered at her absence, struck her when she returned, and in falling against a door she sustained a bad gash on her head. He is then said to have kicked her.

He pleaded guilty Wednesday morning. Sentence was deferred pending further investigation of the case.

ACCUSED OF CHICKEN BAITING

Two of Buhl's prominent citizens were arrested and appeared in justice court this week on a charge of baiting chickens. It was the case of Lemuel and Edna Smith. The boys pleaded not guilty, though the complaint alleged that they used a tub as a trap to catch them under.

Twin Falls Has Been Chosen as Next Convention City by Sixteen Societies

Twin Falls will have the privilege of entertaining sixteen state organizations in a joint convention the first of next year. The selection of Twin Falls, in connection with Boise and Pocatello, came at a joint conference at Idaho Falls. The societies are: The Idaho Society of Engineers, State Good Roads association, Idaho State Live Stock association, Idaho State Dairyman's association, Idaho Wool Growers' association, Idaho Potato Growers' association, Idaho Seed Producers' association, Idaho State Truckmen's association, Idaho Bee Growers' association, Idaho Poultry and Pet Stock association, Idaho Beekeepers' club, Boys' and Girls' Rural club. At the recent convention resolutions were adopted calling on the governor to call the legislature together in extra session for the purpose of providing labor law for the working after war matters having to do with the agricultural interests of the state.

No Decision as Yet Reached as to Calling Special Legislative Session

No conclusion has been announced yet by Governor Alexander as to the convening of a special session of the legislature. The governor has had the matter under consideration for some time, and it was said that final determination of the question would hinge upon the recommendations of the House of Representatives. The Council at its recent meeting at Boise went on record, in favor of a special session to enact legislation covering the following matters of state-wide interest: Reorganizing the Council of Defense and making an appropriation for its use; to provide for the conscription of labor; to provide for a state constabulary; to pass legislation protecting soldiers' civil rights; to provide county, state or municipal support for productive enterprises where necessary; to take action on the proposed federal reclamation bill. In addition to these problems which have been largely brought to the front by the war, there are known to be some other matters that have developed since last winter's session of the legislature that need attention.

HUSKY SWEDS WOULD COMMIT MURDER

WANTS REVENGE BUT IS DELAYED BY ARREST OF HIS PRISON BOND

When Charged With Threatening Man's Life, He Tells the Judge that He Meant Every Word of It—Four Dollars the Amount Involved

Harry Larson, a big raw-boned Swede measuring better than six feet in his stocking feet, is in the county jail. Private Judge Duval is causing him to be held until sponsors can be found who will pin their faith to his cessation of hostilities to the extent of two thousand dollars.

Larson took occasion to assure the judge that he could furnish twenty such bonds, and also had considerable to say about "revenge being sweet." While not regarded as a particularly bad customer, he possesses a splendid line of belligerent talk.

Starts Over Four Dollars
Charged with threatening the life of E. O. Cain, a prominent sheep man of the Castleford neighborhood, Larson admitted the offense and asserted he meant every word of it.

The trouble started over the sum of four dollars which Larson claims was due him. Going to Cain's home a few days ago, he endeavored to start a fight. Cain told him that so far as he was concerned there would be no row, but intimated that it would be necessary for Larson to leave the house at once. Larson complied, but mounting his horse, he rode back, shouting to Cain to come out and fight, and threatening to kill him.

Cain started for Buhl in his car to inform the authorities, but did not get far before the machine became stuck in the mud. Larson, it seems, heard of Cain's misfortune, and soon appeared on the scene again, on horseback. Circling around the car he dared Cain to get out, and once more assured him that he would kill him if he did. Cain stayed in the machine and warned Larson away.

Makes Men Eat Guns
Monday night El N. Day and Marshal Baymiller of Buhl went to Larson's home and placed him under arrest. He promised more dire consequences if he was locked up, and when brought into court Tuesday morning was still full of fight. Among other things he informed the judge that he came from the Ozark country where he used to make men eat their guns.

Judge Duval thought that two thousand dollars was about the right amount to insure peace and tranquility if Larson was to be turned loose. In the event of failure to arrange bonds, Larson will probably spend the next six months in the county jail.

EXILED IDAHOANS HOLD WINTER PICNIC

Loyal Residents of the State Gather at Long Beach—Many Twin Falls People Are Present

Alex McPherson, of Long Beach, California, sends a clipping from the Long Beach Telegram, being an account of a midwinter picnic gathering of exiled residents of the Gem state. Mr. McPherson states that a similar picnic on Christmas day was attended by over a hundred people who claim Twin Falls county as their home.

The Telegram's account follows: The biggest picnic ever held under the auspices of the Idaho Society of Long Beach was that in which approximately 600 former and present Idahoans gathered today at the sun-parlor at the end of the Pine avenue pier. There, the assemblage blessed by the unsurpassable weather of an ideal southern California day, those picnicers, among whom were many from other cities and towns, enjoyed a basket dinner at the noon hour and afterward a program of speeches and music, through which ran the theme of patriotism.

Speakers on the program were: Hon. I. N. Sullivan, former chief justice of Idaho; Senator George A. Day, former land commissioner of the state; I. N. Yost, a prominent Idaho fruit grower; Charles DeCamp, ex-water commissioner of Idaho and a resident of St. Anthony; 1924 Campbell, the first ex-Idaho in southern Idaho in 1903; Mrs. L. A. Campbell, of Idaho Falls; George Harlan, of Twin Falls; and Alexander ("Sandy") McPherson of Long Beach, president of the Idaho Society for the last five years and for 23 years a state official in Idaho.

President McPherson presided over the program. Other officers who have served during the past year are: vice-presidents, R. W. Jones, Henry Wright, H. B. Clifton and Frank Goss; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Fritz Gilbert.

One of the features of the program was the singing of a song, "Idaho, My Idaho," which was a tribute to the beauties and riches of the state and also contained a fitting reference to the state's "soldier sons."

The official badge for the picnic was a medallion bearing two flags, crossed, with the words around the rim of the medallion, "Long Beach Idaho Society."

HARRY KUBEY NOVELTY TRAPPER ARTIST

FOR THE CHILDREN--VAUDEVILLE AT THE SATURDAY MATINEE

CUTS AND FLASHES

There are really only a few novels in the English language that may lay claim to the distinction of being perennial; which are taken from the shelves and re-read, year after year, even as a new generation is reading them for the first time. "Tom Sawyer" is one of these. It is a book that never grows old, that discloses new joys at every reading, and with so much of human quality that it appeals to man, woman or child. Mark Twain said it was a "hyphen" and indeed, as a poem of youth, it embodies some of the characteristics of a sacred song. And now, after the author has passed into the Great Beyond, boys of all ages will see Tom Sawyer on the screen, created

JACK PICKFORD IN MARK TWAIN'S "TOM SAWYER" AT THE IDAHO THEATRE NEXT WEEK

In "Tom Sawyer," Jack Pickford has achieved one of the best boy impersonations of his entire career. The picture was filmed in Hannibal, Missouri, and shows the very house where Mark Twain lived as a boy and the house where Huck Finn, whose real name was Tom Blankenship, lived. It is all there, even to the famous fence which Tom was set to whitewash the morning his friends came to jeer at him but refused to assist the fence—for which precious privilege they paid dearly to Tom—do you remember?

by that splendid young actor in Paramount pictures, Jack Pickford. Adolph Zukor, head of the Paramount-Artcraft combination, was among a number of "picture" rights emancipated for jury duty last week in New York. Of the lot he was the only one who failed to claim exemption—even though he was informed that the trial would last from four to five weeks. Perhaps he welcomed the chance to get away from temperamental stars!

Robert McKim, Thos. H. Ince's arch screen scoundrel, has one of the most important parts in his motion picture career in "The Silent Man," the new William S. Hart photoplay made by Thomas H. Ince for Artcraft. McKim plays the role of an Arizona resort keeper and much of the action revolves about this character, and from the first foot of the film to the end McKim is in the midst of situations that keep him actively engaged.

"QUEEN OF HEARTS" BEHIND WORTHY CAUSE

Twentieth Century Club Plans Result Depleted—Proceeds of Benefit Play to Rescue

Owing to the great demands on all organizations interested in public welfare, there has been a great drain on the Twentieth Century club this year.
The club has given nearly $200 to the Red Cross, and at the last meeting there was voted from the treasury sufficient funds to complete the Twentieth Century memorial fund; for the university loan scholarship fund; also a contribution to $25 given to the current events department for the purpose of buying material for lectures for the babies of France and Belgium.

There have been many calls for aid from various parts of Europe most affected by the war which the club has been unable to give.
In order to meet these calls as they come along, the club voted to give a benefit entertainment under the direction of Mesdames Schuriger and Battiste to be given at the high school auditorium on February 1.
Mrs. Schuriger will offer a play entitled "The Queen of Hearts," in which one hundred children will take part.

manufacturing business to engage in farming. The other officers are well known business men of Twin Falls, all of whom have been eminently successful in their respective lines of business.

The company manufactures several automobile specializations, and, although it is only a few months old, it has already established connections with jobbers all over the United States, and in Canada and Australia. The present plans complete the addition of new automobile accessories to the company's line from time to time, establishing each new article thoroughly with the automobile trade before being put into manufacture of another. The company has advertised prominently in the automobile trade papers, and has several trade names which are already quite valuable assets in an advertising way, the most important of which are "Tombline" and "Gask-Hot."

JURY FREES RUPERT OF BOOZE CHARGE

North Side Farmer Claims He Did Not Know Passengers in Car Had Liquor With Them

It took the jury in the district court less than an hour Wednesday afternoon to acquit Harry Rupert, a North Side rancher, of the charge of illegal transportation of liquor.

The defense was based upon lack of knowledge on the part of Mr. Rupert that the men in his car had liquor with them. Mr. Rupert asserted that during haying time, rather than lose his four ranch hands, he agreed to take them to Twin Falls on July 4. He claims they agreed not to attempt to bring any booze back with them. On the way back the party was intercepted by Deputy Sheriff Thompson and Williams. The other four men entered plena of guilty and have served out their time.

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS RULING OF JUDGE BABCOCK

An appeal taken from the decision of Judge Babcock of the district court, denying defendant's attorney's petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Melvin Pettit, charged with a statutory offense and whose trial has been set for Monday morning, was denied by the supreme court of the state Tuesday. The writ was sought on the grounds of insufficiency of information upon which the defendant was held over by the probate court. The case is remanded to the district court for trial, and, if the calendar permits, will come up for trial Friday morning.

DETROIT

December 20, 1917.

Mr. Boyd H. Fuller,
924 Chamber of Commerce Bldg.,
Detroit, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Fuller:

Although we are no longer handling the account of your company, the writer was mighty glad to learn from our recent conversation the almost phenomenal attention which the Totalone is now receiving from the jobbing trade.

To get an expression of interest from 85 representative jobbers, and to actually receive orders from 50 of that number in 3 or 4 months' time on a new specialty in the automobile field is absolutely without precedent in our experience, and what we say to you is based upon the records compiled in this office covering the campaigns of some of the leaders in the automobile accessory field. Although these concerns all invested a great deal more money in advertising and sales effort than you found it expedient to invest during the first few months of your campaign, we can say absolutely that not one of them ever made the progress in three or four months that you have up to the present time.

As we see the possibilities for the Totalone, the educational work is now well under way—you have a good distribution—and with just a little more advertising and sales effort, you will have the proposition on a strong paying basis. We consider it easily possible to sell 5000 Totalones each year after this preliminary work is done—and as we recall your manufacturing costs this will leave you a net profit of somewhere between $15.00 and $20.00 annually.

We think that if properly supported, you will have your company on a profitable basis within the next sixty days without a doubt.

Very truly yours,
BROOKER, SMITH & MOORE, Inc.
(Signed) Guy C. Smith.

GCS-K

THE COMPANY'S POSSIBILITIES ARE PRACTICALLY LIMITLESS for the manufacture and sale of automobile accessories.

SHERPHERD'S OBSERVATIONS GOT HIM INTO TROUBLE

Joe Hines, a shepherd, is in the county jail at Rupert, according to the Democrat of that place, awaiting investigation and possibly trial, for making derogatory remarks, cursing the president and stating that he should be shot and contending that we of the common herd were foolish to observe "whistles" and "meatless" days, and asserting that the president and the moneyed men of the United States were not observing these days. At a local restaurant, where he was eating, he constantly growled and grumbled because these days were being observed. Sheriff Thompson was notified and placed Hines under arrest Saturday evening.

Geo. Grover from Garland, Utah, has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Salmon River Land & Water company. He expects his family soon, and will occupy the Pratt home in East Hollister.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Garman were passengers to Twin Falls Thursday. They are farming the W. McDonald place this year.

Mrs. Keith Jones and children are visiting her parents, Wm. McDonald and wife, a few days this week. While Rogers is not a bad place to live, "there's no place like home."

Mrs. Suddeth and children are just recovering from chicken pox. Mr. Suddeth has not yet returned from his visit with his parents in North Carolina where he went to spend the holidays.

Until further notice church services will be held here every other Sunday, beginning January 27, both morning and evening services the same Sunday. Everybody welcome. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

There are rumors of a change in our school staff for the coming school year—nothing definite yet. School is being held six days each week at present, to make up for time lost during holidays and the enforced vacation.

It is a structure of which Hazelton is justly proud.

At the Hazelton lodge No. 2, of Hazelton, installed their officers last Thursday evening. They were assisted by Mrs. Bertha E. Bowley of Rupert, grand warden of the state assembly. Two men in each section were appointed to make a house to house canvas and place the necessary papers in the hands of each man, woman and child. B. H. Denton acted as chairman of the meeting and will line up the town people Wednesday. Kimberly will again do more than her share in the work of winning the war.

G. B. Smith has resigned as cashier of the Farmers & Merchants National bank. L. H. Walden is now in charge of the bank.

The A. V. McKillip sale was well attended Tuesday and articles sold well. Mr. McKillip expects to move east.

Printing: stamped "News Print" is right.

JOIN THE MARINES

Sergeant McCracken, in charge of the local recruiting office of the marine corps, reports several enlistments since last week. William R. Kellogg of Jerome is the only man from outside of the county who joined. In the county were Samuel D. Durfee, Geo. Atherton, Herman J. Campbell, Edwin E. Thieme, Clarence O. King, Robert L. Reed, and Claude J. Baughman.

Registrants under the draft law can still enlist in the marines, even though they have been placed in the first class. They must have a certificate from the local board, however, showing that they have not yet been called into the national army.

FARM BUREAU CARRIES CASE TO SUPREME COURT

WANTS INTERPRETATION OF STATUTE GOVERN-ING CORPORATION

ATTORNEY WOLFE HOPES TO GET RULING WITHIN THIRTY DAYS—
INSTALLATION OF DIRECTORS
DEPENDS ON DECISION

The question of whether the directors elected at the Canal company meeting early in December shall take office has been taken to the supreme court of the state by the interests represented by the farm bureau.

Unless Judge Babcock's ruling is reversed, there will have to be another election called, as the district court has held the meetings of October and December last illegal.

Judge Babcock interpreted the enabling act passed by the last legislature to authorize the amendment of the by-laws at any regular meeting by a two-thirds majority of the stock represented at the meeting, but held that this would not apply to a special meeting, and that consequently the amendments adopted at the October meeting were void, and the election in pursuance of those amendments was likewise of no effect.

Attorney E. M. Wolfe, who represents the farm bureau, expresses the belief that the supreme court will find it possible to pass upon the questions involved at an early date, in order that many pending matters pertaining to the management of the Canal company may be disposed of.

ered sufficiently to drag himself to the top of the embankment, and stumbled along the road for a distance of four miles into Three Creek, where he arrived about three o'clock in the morning.

Assaults: Surrender.

Medical assistance was at once summoned. In the morning he identified Miss as the man who had attacked him with the knife in his hand, and Max was held by the people at Three Creek, while J. L. Hingland and R. L. Hinchwent after the other two. These they found hiding by a haystack, and covering them with a Winchester, brought them back to the hotel, where Minner was able to identify them. The sheriff's office at Twin Falls was notified, and Deputy Sheriff Beck started to meet the party at the Salmon dam.
When he arrived there, he found the Three Creek people had overtaken the other Mexicans and were holding the eight. Beck telephoned for another car and the entire party was taken to Twin Falls and lodged in jail. Bills in the denominations possessed by Minner were found on different ones of the eight, which lead to the belief that they had divided the money between them.

Wednesday morning the men denied having any intention of killing Minner, excusing their action by saying that they were under the influence of liquor.

SHORTHORN SALE BIG EVENT

The distribution of these 40 head of cattle covers some territory never having been covered before. It is a very encouraging feature to the breeders offering these cattle at this sale.
The state organization will plan for a semi-annual sale in the several districts, encouraging the breeders to get together at least semi-annually if not often for the purpose of encouraging the breeder to improve his herd and to assist him in marketing his surplus stock.

The next annual meeting will be held in January, 1919, at Twin Falls, at which time there will either be a sale or an exhibition of pure-bred cattle sold or shown, at the time of the joint conference of agricultural, engineering and irrigation societies, which has already decided to meet here at that time.

The sale was conducted by Col. R. O.
Waller and Roy Clayton, Twin Falls, being present. Many out-of-town buyers were present, and the Idaho Farmer, a farm publication, had a representative, R. M. Silvernail of Boise, on the grounds.

MILITARY NECESSITY

IN EIGHTEEN hundred seventy eight, General Von Hartmann in a handbook for the guidance of the German army said:

"The enemy state must not be spared the want and wretchedness of war; these are particularly useful in shattering its energy and subduing its will.

"Individual persons may be harshly dealt with when an example is made of them, intended to serve as a warning. Whenever a national war breaks out terrorism becomes a necessary military principle."

That this idea became a fixed principle in Germany with the passing of the years is shown by this extract from the German war book published in 1902, and regarded as the most authoritative of the hundreds of books on war published in Germany:

"By steeping himself in military history an officer will be able to guard himself against excessive humanitarian notions; it will teach him that certain severities are indispensable to war, nay, more, that the only true humanity lies in a ruthless application of them."

Then, after this war had started and Belgium had been crushed, General von Bissing, military governor of Belgium, is quoted as saying:

"The innocent must suffer with the guilty. In the repression of infamy human lives cannot be spared, and if isolated houses, flourishing villages, and even entire towns are annihilated, that is assuredly regrettable, but it must not excite ill timed sentimentality. All this must not in our eyes weigh as much as the life of a single one of our brave soldiers—the rigorous accomplishment of duty is the emanation of a high kultur, and in that the population of the enemy countries can learn a lesson from our army."

And yet there is such an animal as the German sympathizer!

COST OF LIVING

ACCORDING to the bureau of labor statistics of the Department of Labor, in the year from November fifteenth, nineteen hundred sixteen, to November fifteenth, nineteen hundred seventeen, prices of food as a whole advanced twenty-three per cent. Potatoes is the only article that shows a decline in price. Corn meal advanced eighty-seven per cent; bacon, sixty-two per cent; pork chops, forty-eight per cent; beans, thirty-nine per cent; salmon, thirty-eight per cent; milk, thirty-three per cent; and lard, twenty-seven per cent.

Food as a whole was forty-eight per cent higher on November fifteenth, nineteen hundred seventeen, than on November fifteenth, nineteen hundred thirteen, and forty-six per cent higher than on November fifteenth, nineteen hundred fourteen. During this four-year period corn meal advanced one hundred twenty-seven per cent; flour, one hundred nine per cent; lard, one hundred four per cent; bacon, seventy-seven per cent; sugar, seventy-five per cent; and potatoes, seventy-two per cent. No article declined in price.

WHY ARBITRATION FAILED

WHENEVER the causes of the World War are inquired into, Germany reverts back to the plea that England's proposal of arbitration was only a sham—that the Central Powers alone sought to avert war by amicable methods.

An interesting side-light on the German attitude towards arbitration is found in F. von Bernhardt's "Germany and the Next War." Bernhardt, a retired cavalry general at the time he took up writing, is an authority of national standing in Germany.

"Arbitration treaties," Bernhardt says, "must be particularly detrimental to an aspiring people which has not yet reached its political and national zenith and is bent on expanding its power in order to play its part honorably in the civilized world."

This, of course, is quite obvious, but Bernhardt appends the following explanatory remarks, probably to thoroughly convince his readers:

"Every arbitration court must originate in a certain political status; it must regard this as legally constituted, and must treat any alterations, however necessary, to which the whole of the contracting parties do not agree as an encroachment. In this way every progressive change is arrested, and a legal posi-

MUST CHANGE THEIR ACT OR QUIT

THERE have been many wild guesses as to what is going on in Russia. And the wildest of all, seemingly, have come from so-called authentic sources, investigators who either were on the ground or received their information "first hand."

This situation makes it very embarrassing for the distant prognosticator.

But from the tangled mess known as the Russian situation, a real ray of light—and of hope—seems to come from the "dissolving" of the Constituent Assembly by the Bolsheviks the other day.

Heretofore all we have dared to accept about the Russian situation was that that country was a ship with too many captains, too many charts, and no rudder. We have known the Bolsheviks, far more radical than any of our Socialists, were maintaining a more or less autocratic government until such a time as it could receive from the Russian people themselves, legal authority for its existence. It was for that purpose—to decorate the antics of the Bolsheviks with the cloak of authority—that a Constituent Assembly was called.

This is where something slipped. The Bolsheviks failed to control the election of delegates. M. Tchernoff, minister of agriculture in the Kerensky government, was chosen chairman over the opposition of the Bolsheviks, and by a ponderous majority.

Then, for a few hours, Russia was closer to us than she has been in a long time. Talk changed from a humiliating peace with Germany to the proposition of an allied war council, and M. Tchernoff declared:

"Everybody says that Russia cannot fight

tion created which may easily conflict with the actual turn of affairs and may check the expansion of the young and vigorous State in favor of one which is sinking in the scale of civilization."

It is interesting to contemplate, in view of the continual advancement of human society, the condition to which the world would revert, if the principles advocated by Bernhardt were to be applied to the relation of man to man, instead of nation to nation. Feudalism, in all its questionable glory, would be tame compared with the pure, unadulterated idealistic state of anarchy that these principles, thus applied, would justify.

Bernhardt's Germany would be an anarchist among nations.

And his shades have not been doomed to disappointment!

A Performance for Little Children

because of the extreme state of disorganization. All know that the decision in this war will be on the western front, but Russia can act as a magnet to draw German forces and prevent their being thrown over to the western front."

The Bolshevik delegates "bolted," as we say, and their leaders forthwith "dissolved" the Assembly. This "dissolution process" should not be confused with some constitutional method of adjournment. It was much simpler. Sailor guards entered the hall and informed the Assembly that it was all over, and backed up their information by tossing out bodily members who seemed reluctant to accept the mandate of the Bolsheviks.

From this incident we get a glimpse of conditions in Russia, seemingly as they really are. We find, in this incident, some warrant for our belief and hope that the Russian people are not in sympathy with the government that now imposes its authority upon them. And knowing the determination of Russia to have a truly democratic government, and not to lose what it has gained by its overthrow of an autocracy, we are led to believe that the Russian barometer registers "Change."

The Constituent Assembly has encouraged us to believe that the Bolsheviks will shortly bring about its own downfall, or else that that party will be forced to change its course. And evidence is not lacking that its leaders themselves are cognizant of these alternatives.

The show that Lenin and Trotsky have been staging is getting monotonous. They will soon have to put on a new act or quit.

SIZE OF AMERICAN FORCES

THERE were one million four hundred twenty-eight thousand six hundred fifty enlisted men and one hundred ten thousand eight hundred sixty five officers in the United States army at the opening of nineteen eighteen, more than one and a half times as large as any force ever before mobilized by this nation, according to a statement by Secretary of War Baker.

During the war with Spain the army of the United States at its maximum strength aggregated two hundred seventy-two thousand men and officers. The army in the field and in training now is practically six times as great as the maximum number under arms in the Spanish-American war.

About forty-five thousand officers were com-

Are You Doing Your Bit?

ARE you doing your bit? Are you earnestly and conscientiously co-operating with Uncle Sam in prosecuting to a successful issue the mighty struggle in which we are now engaged? Are you, as a unit of this great nation going to be a factor in making the world safe for democracy?

These are the questions which each and every one of us, in the Twin Falls County, should ask ourselves. The universal answer will be "I believe I am doing my bit," and of this there can be no doubt, for we have given generously of our boys, our money and of our time. We have observed wheatless and meatless days, each week, and demonstrated to the world, in many other ways, that we have been doing our bit, but in spite of all this are we really doing everything we can to relieve the distress and suffering and to alleviate the range of hunger of our friends and allies, in all parts of the world, in order that they may have the strength and courage to stand shoulder to shoulder with us, for all time to come, equally insuring to the world an everlasting peace—to equip and supply our boy and our neighbor's with an abundance of everything they shall require, at home and abroad, in the struggle they are waging against the mightiest military organization the world has ever known, the destruction of which is absolutely essential to the future peace and welfare of yourself, your country and the world at large?

That we may be assured of this let each and every one of us resolve, today, that we will do henceforth, and merely our allotted bit in contributing our time and money to all the causes that can be best served through these channels, but to forego, if need be, that which we are now enjoying and which can well be dispensed with during the period of the war, at least. To practice the strictest economy in the conservation of all food products, along such lines as the Food Administration may direct from time to time, and let our actions speak, louder than words, for the work which we are now doing.

While the absolute necessity exists for the most intensive conservation of all the principal food products and as time goes by this fact becomes more apparent, there is, however, one item, above all others, which our armies and our allies stand most in need of and which they must have if this war is to be prosecuted to a successful conclusion. Wheat and flour they need. Wheat and flour they must have. Every pound possible, we must save for the next six months, at least, and as loyal and patriotic American citizens it is our duty, as we see it, to observe two wheatless days where but one was observed before, to save and conserve by substitution and economy that which is, in truth, the staff of life.

The savings effected by the practice of these economies and sacrifices can be made to serve a double purpose and at one stroke make your bit a super-bit. Invest in War Savings Bonds.

missioned from civil life in the two series of training camps, nearly eight times as many as the number of officers in the regular army on April first, nineteen seventeen.

A LAUDABLE AMBITION

IN CONNECTION with the proposed reform program of the Non-Partisan League, one point stands out with startling clearness and the League is to be heartily congratulated upon the fact. Apparently Moses Alexander has to go. So far as can be judged it is apparently the program of the League to eliminate Governor Alexander from Idaho politics. At least an effort to do so will be made.

Such an effort is entirely laudable and any body of men accomplishing such result is entitled to the sincere thanks of the people of Idaho.

LOAN YOUR DOLLARS

UNLESS a man's conscience tells him to buy War Savings Stamps, it is not likely that any other ordinary voice will reach him, yet there are enough reasons in favor of such action to provide basis for a thousand sermons.

Looking at the matter from a purely selfish standpoint, there is no better, sounder investment in the world. Our Government does not ask that you give the money, it merely proposes to borrow and to pay a good substantial rate of interest for the loan.

There can be no question of the Government's need of the money. If it had not wanted it it would not have asked for it.

It is a duty of citizenship to buy War Savings Stamps, to stand back of the Government, in fact and in thought, to help Win the War.

THE LABOR SITUATION

NOW is the time for the agricultural interests of Idaho and of Twin Falls County to begin laying plans for this year's labor supply.

The labor situation left to itself will not greatly differ this year from last year. Properly organized and definitely planned the situation can be met. Unless it is met waste will follow and it may be that actual want will stalk in the track of waste.

Those who are familiar with the way the matter worked out last year need no second example but in order to profit by the experience it is necessary to make a start, and the time to make the start is NOW.

WHERE WE MISTAKEN?

(Goodwin's Weekly.)

It is beginning to look as though it is Secretary Daniels' turn to laugh. In company with almost everybody else in the country, we have long been harboring the conviction that the amiable Josephus was pretty much of a joke. But now it would seem that we were entirely mistaken. According to the findings of the investigating committee, the Secretary of the Navy so far has more than made good on the job. Not only have the investigators found everything in satisfactory shape, but some of them have already acquired the habit of holding up Mr. Daniels as a first-class pattern for certain other officials of the Administration to follow.

All of which is most refreshing information. In company with others, we have poked our share of fun at the general Secretary, but at that, the assurance that his department is in ship-shape order is infinitely more acceptable than to have an ugly scandal uncovered. We congratulate Mr. Daniels upon his good fortune and trust that he will realize as much pleasure out of the unexpected turn of affairs as the situation will warrant.

Also, we commiserate with Mr. Baker. Just now his boat seems to be rocking badly. Inquisitive senators have trained their guns on him. Some of them seem to be unfriendly. His position is anything but pleasant. Yet he seems to be possessed of unusual patience. It is to be hoped that the senate will give him a fair deal. The country also wants a square deal. It will not do to attempt the white-washing process. The citizens will not stand for such action.

IT CAN BE DONE

(New York Tribune)

Somebody said that it couldn't be done, But he with a chuckle replied That "maybe it couldn't," but he would be one Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried. So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin On his face. If he worried, he hid it. He started to sing as he tackled the thing That couldn't be done, and he did it.

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that, At least, no one ever has done it." But he took off his coat and he took off his hat, And the first thing he knew he'd begun it. With the lift of his chin and a bit of a grin— If any doubt rose he forbade it; He started to sing as he tackled the thing That couldn't be done, and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done. There are thousands to prophesy failure; There are thousands to point out to you one by one The dangers that wait to assail you. But just buckle right in with a bit of a grin, Then take off your coat and go to it. Just start in to sing and tackle the thing That cannot be done, and you'll do it!

UNCLE SAMUEL WANTS TO KNOW YOUR INCOME

DEPUTY COLLECTOR AT COURT HOUSE TO AS- SIST TAXPAYERS

ADVISE ANYONE IN DOUBT TO SEE HIM—BIG PENALTIES AND HEAVY FINES FOR FAILURE TO MAKE RETURN BY MARCH 1

The task of compiling federal income tax returns is under way in Twin Falls county and will probably not be completed before March 1, the last day for making official return to the collector of internal revenue on incomes during 1917. R. H. Arbuckle, a deputy collector, is now in Twin Falls for the purpose of assisting prospective taxpayers in compiling their return. He is located at the county building.

1500 Returns Expected
Under the new revenue law reducing the exemption on income tax, it is estimated that 1500 persons residing in Twin Falls county should make a return on their 1917 incomes before March 1. It is obligatory upon the prospective taxpayer to look up the revenue agent and procure the necessary blanks or ascertain if he, or she, is required to pay. The federal government has provided the field deputies for this purpose and has also requested bankers and others to co-operate in the work.

Who Must Report
Every single person who received $1000 or more as income during 1917 and every married person or head of a family who received $2000 or more as required under the federal law to make a return to the collector of internal revenue. There is an additional exemption of $200 for every child under 18 years of age but every married person should bear in mind that regardless of the $2000 exemption, he or she should make a return if the 1917 income was $2000 or more.

Two Per Cent Is Lowest
The normal income tax for incomes in excess of $1000 and $2000 is two per cent of the total until the excess reaches $2000 in either case. Then it is four per cent on the balance. There is also the surtax which applies to net incomes of $5000 or more. As an example of the normal tax: Jones received a gross income of $5000 during 1917. He is a married man with two children under 18 years of age. Deducting $2,400 from $5000 the taxable balance of his income amounts to $2600. On the first $2000 a tax of two per cent or $40, is collected. On the balance of $600 the tax is four per cent, or $24. Jones' total income tax is $64.

How to Save Time
In keeping with the slogan that time costs money, the internal revenue agent has outlined a few fundamental questions which the prospective income taxpayer should be prepared to answer before he interviews the collector. Here are some of the questions:
What is your income from salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses and pensions?
What's your income from your business, profession, or farm?
What profit did you make from sale of land and other property, personal and real?
What is your income from rents and royalties?
What interest did you receive from bank deposits, bonds, notes and mortgages?
What dividends did you receive from corporations?
What did you receive from life insurance policies?
What income did you receive from any partnership or joint venture?
State income from any other source.
What have you paid out in expenses to conduct your business?
What taxes did you pay?
Stiff Penalty for Failure
If the prospective taxpayer will prepare himself to answer these questions he will greatly facilitate the work of compiling his income tax return. Failure to make a return of income for 1917 is punishable by a fine of not less than $20 and not more than $1000, together with payment of additional fifty per cent of the amount of tax due.

SUFFERING FROM COLD

If you shiver in frosty weather, if you have cold hands and feet, if colds are stubborn and frequent, then your blood may be thin and impoverished.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

has been correcting this condition for nearly fifty years. It possesses rare powers for creating natural body warmth, for charging summer blood with winter richness and strengthening both throat and lungs.

The Norwegian cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is refined in our own American laboratories which means it is pure and of the highest quality. It is sold in bottles of 1/2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 12 and 24 bottles.

STATE OWNERSHIP OF MARKETING MACHINERY

more to the winning of the war than any other thing. Now we want to emphasize this because in North Dakota the farmers raise the wheat, and that is all they have to do with it. After they raise it they turn it over to the grain trust to handle it for them. We haven't been getting along very well raising wheat in North Dakota, though, the average farmer, out there will raise enough wheat in one year to feed his family 50 years.

"There is a great difference between raising wheat and handling wheat. There is a great difference between raising anything you farm, are produce and handling it. Did you ever hear of a farmer handling anything? All the farmer does is raise it.

"To illustrate: I see lots of potato warehouses and so I suppose you raise potatoes. As I understand it, all you have to do when you raise potatoes is not the seed in the cellar in the fall. Then in the spring you take the seed out of the cellar, cut it into small pieces, you plow the ground, drag it, disk it, take the seed into the field, plow a furrow, drop the potatoes in the furrow, then cover them up; then you drag and cultivate and pull the weeds out, you kick and pick and poison the potato bugs; in the fall you plow them out, put them in the bins; sort them, sack them, perhaps put them in a warehouse, perhaps put them in the box car yourself, and then somebody begins to handle the potatoes. Up to that time all you have been doing is raising them. Now they make more money handling one bushel than you make raising ten.

Big Profits in the Handling
"Remember the next time you get a calf's head between your knees trying to push his head into the stall to teach it to drink milk, someone is going to make more in twenty minutes handling that calf than you are out of raising it. After you work three years to raise it somebody will handle it in about 20 minutes and make more out of it than you make after three years of raising it.

What the Professors Told Them
"We have a professor by the name of Dr. Wurst who was for 25 years head of the farm school of the state of North Dakota. We have another professor by the name of Dr. Leach who has been associated with him. These men are experts and they are scientists, and they are honest, sincere men. They have a foolish notion that the farm school was intended to be of service to the farmers. These two professors, through Dr. Wurst speaking from the platform to the farmers of North Dakota three years ago said that if the farmers of the state of North Dakota would handle their own wheat instead of raising it and push his head into the stall to teach it to drink milk, someone is going to make more in twenty minutes handling that calf than you are out of raising it. After you work three years to raise it somebody will handle it in about 20 minutes and make more out of it than you make after three years of raising it.

"When we discovered that there was a chance for us to get $1200 apiece more out of every wheat crop, that is when we began to get busy. We couldn't get anywhere with the legislature as it stood so we decided to organize the farmers into one organization for the purpose of electing men to run in the state whose friends lived in the state of North Dakota. We still have a few hold-over senators.

Other Parties All Alike
"We said, how have we have been making a mistake. Here is a Republican farmer and he has been voting for Republicans. Here is a Democratic farmer and he has been voting for Democrats. Here is a Socialist over here and he votes for the Socialists. It doesn't make much difference to us whether the farmer is a Republican, a Socialist, or a Democrat. We have tried electing Democrats and electing Republicans and we find it amounts to pretty much the same thing. We have tried Socialists, we don't know what they would do, we don't think they know themselves. But all us farmers, whether we are Republicans or Democrats or Socialists, know what the Republicans and Democrats had been doing.

Kick Party Politics Out
"We said to the farmers, 'We are forming a political organization of farmers, not a political party, but we are building an organization here; it makes no difference whether they are Republicans or Democrats or Socialists; we won't care just so they know what we want, and will stand for what we want.'

"As a matter of fact, in the state of North Dakota the farmers endorsed both Democrats and Republicans in the same county and elected them to office. We want to elect men to office so that we can build terminal elevators in the state, flour mills, warehouses, and so on. We said to the farmers, 'We are going to put one hundred organizers into the field, in a hundred automobiles, to work in the state, don't you know? We said that we can win the next election, and the farmers said, 'You bet, that's all right.' But we said, 'It is going to cost money to buy the only of you, Mr. Rockefeller sells his oil for cash and we have got to have money to pay these expenses. What we want is $3 a year, for two years.'

could save the seed we were giving away in one year it would amount to seven million dollars, and if we could save that seven million dollars in one year it would be enough to pay the membership for all the farmers for 21 years. They could understand that, and they could see that the farmers had joined the organization in North Dakota; paid their membership fee, some of them gave post-dated checks; some of them were trying to pay those checks yet—quite a lot of them. They are going to pay them, too. They are going to pay them out of that seed if they don't do any better, because we are going to save that for them.

"When we had the farmers organized, then we went to the merchants, the lawyers and the doctors and all the rest of the people in the state and said to them: 'We want you to help us in our battle against big business. We want you to help us establish a government of industrial democracy here in North Dakota. The biggest part of the merchants agreed with us. They had been for some time. They had been fooled. The politicians had fooled them just as they had the farmers of the state and they were going out of business and here a few business men, as the farmer, and they said we were right, the biggest part of them said we were right, and we are going to help you.'

Business Men and Farmers
"But we had in North Dakota, and still have, something different, some of the kind of merchants so lacking in business judgment and good sense that they are so much under the influence of the politicians of the state, so much of the politician influence, so much the tool of those who were getting the $30,000,000, these business men who had been under the domination of big business interests and they despised the farmer. You can see them stick their thumbs in their vest-holes and strut around; I say a few merchants of that kind are a few business men. They call themselves 'business men' and the farmers 'farmers'. They have a phrase that runs like this: 'Merchants are business men and farmers are business judgment and good sense that they are so much under the influence of the politicians of the state, so much of the politician influence, so much the tool of those who were getting the $30,000,000, these business men who had been under the domination of big business interests and they despised the farmer. REAL PATRIOTS ARE PRODUCT OF TRAINING CAMPS

MEN SKEPTICAL AT FIRST SOON LEARN TO ENJOY EXPERIENCES

CORPORAL ALLEN, OF FILER BAYS ATTITUDE OF MEN TOWARDS WAR CHANGES—TALKS OF THE CAMP LEWIS LIFE

Many things of interest relating to life at Camp Lewis, Washington, at which the national armies raised in this section are assembled and trained, and sidelights on the mental attitude of the men at the camp, from Corporal Charles M. Allen, formerly of Filer, in a letter to J. W. Tanner, editor of the Filer Journal. Parts of the letter follow:

Could tell you many things of interest relating to our life at this camp and the course of training that we are taking, but as one bit of "harmless information" added to other "bits" may be formed into real "information" for some one, we are forbidden to go into details on any subject. All I dare say is that everything is going fine, and you people at home can rely on the 91st division when the time comes for it to make its stand "over there."

Impatient to "Go Over"
I remembered well how many of the boys dreamed to come up here to this camp and then when they found that they had to go they figured that the training wouldn't be so hard if they didn't have to go to France and the home folks almost convinced them that they would never see the other side. To the newly made soldier that was a happy thought but today they know why they are in this war and they realize that they need us in France as soon as we are prepared for action. If there is anything that makes a man want to fight it is the stories and details of German atrocities that we hear almost daily. They don't kid a soldier up here; they tell us the real cold facts and we know just what kind of a game we are in and we know that we will be in it until Germany has taken the count. One night last week the 10th sergeant told us that the 36th field artillery had orders to prepare to leave on the following day for an eastern port and from there across we would go. That was the best news we had heard since the czar was dethroned and the boys all cheered and shook hands with each other, but the joy was taken out of life when it was announced that it was a "false rumor." Now we don't know when we will leave or where we will go from here, but that demonstration proves that they have all changed their minds and would like to go abroad before they die even if it isn't exactly a health resort in the first line trenches.

Cayuses Do Their Bit
All we can do now is to wait our turn to go and in the meantime try to ride some of those hard-boiled cayuses that the Idaho and Montana people were so willing to sell to Uncle Sam. Some of these horses have a dozen notches on their hoofs and they have sure been doing their "bit" in keeping the base hospital filled up. This seems to be the healthiest of all the camps and although the winter constantly it is real mild and no one suffers from the cold. The total rainfall here for December was 16.8 inches and was the heaviest registered since the weather bureau was established in Tacoma, consequently there has been much damage from floods.

Says Stand by Red Cross
The Red Cross packages that came to camp were greatly appreciated by all and many of them that came to Battery B were from the Twin Falls section.

Never be backward about the Red Cross or the Y. M. C. A. I have told you about all I can tell about how the boys are getting along, how anxious they are to get into the real thing and fight, but no one can describe the feeling that comes over every American soldier when at camp, under the bugle sounds, the "Call to the Colors," and the band plays the "Star Spangled Banner" at Retreat.

SEARCH FAILS TO REVEAL BRADY WILL

Probably That One-Third of Late Senator's Fortune Will Go to His Widow, Rest to Sons

WASHINGTON—Diligent search by relatives of the late Senator Brady has failed to disclose a will disposing of the estate, estimated by those who know him best at approximately $2,000,000.

So far as present knowledge goes the estate will go by the laws of descent, which will mean that the senator's widow will take her dower interest of one-third and the remainder will be divided share and share alike between his sons.

The failure to find a will is matter of surprise to those interested. It may develop later, but it is possible that the late senator decided that the law provided a distribution such as he wished and he purposely refrained from leaving a written testament that might invite litigation over construction of its terms.

LINDSEY WILL GO TO FRANCE TO STUDY CONDITIONS
WASHINGTON—Hon. B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court today accepted an assignment from the American government to study the conditions in France and study social conditions and rehabilitation plans among the women, children and girls in occupied and repatriated territory.

WOMEN SHOW HOW TO CONSERVE FOOD

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYS SPECIALISTS TO TEACH PEOPLE IN WAR EMERGENCY WORK

Miss Amy Kelley, State Leader, Discusses Activities of Home Demonstration Department in Idaho—Explains Distinctive Values

Women have always helped in providing food for soldiers during war, but this is the first time in the history of the United States that the government has seen fit to employ trained women for this purpose, says Miss Amy Kelley, state home demonstration leader, discussing the work in her department in Idaho. When the bill for stimulating agriculture and the distribution of products was passed in August, it provided a certain sum of money for each state to carry on what they termed food emergency work. This money is being spent under the direction of the extension departments of the land grant colleges and the states relations service of the United States department of agriculture.

In Idaho, there are at present seven women doing this work. They are located in various parts of the state so that no one section will be neglected. The plan, however, is to place these women one in a county as a county home demonstrator as soon as the counties are organized. These counties allowing the most interest will secure the services of these women permanently.

This work is being carried on in the various counties with the co-operation of the county agents and the farm bureau. The county agents have arranged meetings with the women of their counties. The home demonstration agent has, in this way, presented to the women plans for carrying on emergency work. As the vital issue at present is food conservation, emphasis has been especially laid upon the re-stored use of wheat, meat and fat. After the signing of the pledge cards, many women were troubled in carrying them through as they had so little knowledge of food values. In such places, demonstrations have been held giving definite instruction for providing the substitutes demanded. Not only is instruction given but before leaving the community the home demonstrator with the help of the local women, decides upon some particular conservation project to be carried on during the next few months. In many sections of Idaho it is not practical to practice substitution so a campaign to eliminate all waste has been attempted.

So far some very successful work has been done in Blaine county under the direction of Miss Alpha Holt, home demonstration agent in the counties of Gooding, Blaine, Lincoln, Cassia and Twin Falls.

Miss Louise Riddle has just closed a four weeks' campaign in Madison county. Miss Riddle found the women there very anxious to help in every way and the women's committee of county defense was most helpful in creating interest in the meetings. Miss Riddle's headquarters are at Idaho Falls and her district includes the upper Snake river valley.

Miss Lela Bullock at present is carrying on the food conservation work in Franklin county under the auspices of the county farm bureau and the county food administration. Through the courtesy of the Idaho Technical Institute, Miss Bullock has been working from that source. She will conduct meetings in the following counties—Begr Lake, Oneida, Franklin and Bannock.

Miss Dorothy Taylor has been working in Lewis and Nez Perce counties. She is one of Idaho's own graduates and much interest is attached to her work because of this. Latah, Idaho and Clearwater counties are also in her district.

Demonstration agents for the remaining counties will soon be provided.

SOON OVER HIS COLD

Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pleasant, Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."—Adv.

FIRST MOTORIZED BATTERY FORMED

Oklahoma Captain in Charge of the Most Modern Crew of Fighters

Doubtless there will be many completely motorized batteries before the present war is ended, but the honor of being first goes to Battery C, 5th field artillery, commanded by Captain W. H. Capron, and formed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

A battery consists of four guns with their limbers and six caissons with their limbers, six ammunition trucks, a store truck and a machine shop or repair truck. In the case of guns of smaller caliber a tractor will haul a section of artillery which consists of a caisson and its limber and a gun and its limber. Much shorter poles are used than with horses, the end of the pole being provided with a lunet or eye, making the coupling for the tractor. Each tractor pulls a load of about nine tons.

The vehicles used are the six trucks, the Holt 45 horsepower Caterpillar tractor and a Dodge Brothers touring car. The entire brigade as proposed by the war department will be composed of three regiments having a maximum strength of 3685 officers and men. It will have 72 guns and 108 caissons. quire 108 ammunition trucks, 27 store trucks, 90 tractors, 9 repair trucks, 21 repair cars, 9 passenger trucks, 9 tank trucks, and 37 supply trucks, all motorized. In addition to the motorized equipment the brigade has 30 motorcycles with side cars and 30 real cars. The adoption of universal motorized equipment is the acknowledged desire of military authorities. The first railroad track offers to the enemy an opportunity of delaying operations since it is only necessary to drop a few bombs to put transportation facilities out of commission. Roads are easier to repair and the use of motor trucks and touring cars of sturdy construction allows detours when necessary.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION

Filer and Kimberly, Idaho, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the above mentioned county. The examination only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post-office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in form No. 1077. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

WEEKLY WAR NEWS DIGEST

Stories of Activities and Conditions Throughout the United States and on the Battle Fronts, from Washington, D. C.

Library Association Provides Books for Fighting Forces

More than half a million books already have been furnished soldiers and sailors in training camps and in France by the American Library Association War Service and the flow is steadily increasing, according to the director of this work.

For the men in France the association has organized distributing stations at all points of embarkation, where books are assorted for shipment abroad. Soon every soldier who steps on a transport will carry a book with him, which he and his comrades will read on the way across, after which it will be forwarded to the men back of the trenches. No attempt will be made to establish libraries in France, but the association will have representatives there to supervise the work of distribution.

Matches and Other Articles Barred from Foreign Mails

Postmasters are directed not to accept for shipment to members of expeditionary force packages containing matches, cigar lighters, or solidified alcohol, including the preparation called "Stereo" or canned heat.

It is not deemed safe to admit these articles to mails for foreign countries or for United States naval vessels, including mailboxes on shore in other countries.

Defective Eyes Cause Many Men First Rejected to Be Rejected at Camps

Examination of the records of 10,000 men passed for military service by local boards and then rejected by camp surgeons show that nearly 25 per cent of the final rejections were caused by defective eyes.

Teeth were responsible for 8.50 per cent; horns, 7.47 per cent; ear, 5.61 per cent; heart disease, 5.87 per cent; tuberculosis, 5.37 per cent.

Attempts to evade military duty by deception regarding physical condition were very few.

Men With Trades Have Chance for Admission Into Signal Corps

Men qualified along certain lines, although registered under the selective service law, may be inducted into the land division of the signal corps, which is in need of men for the following duties:

Chauffeurs, motorcycle drivers, and gas engine repairmen for duty in field and telephone battalions; telegraphers, both wire and radio; telephone men, including switching operators; telephone repairmen, and men skilled in testing and repairing telephone lines; telephone and telephone linemen; photographers, still and moving; linemen.

Pigeon men; radio men who are familiar with installing radio apparatus; men qualified as cooks, clerks, stenographers, blacksmiths, meteorologists, cobblers, cable men, etc.

Men inducted into this division, unless otherwise requested by the Chief Signal Officer of the army, are sent to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

75,000 Colored Men Called Into Army by Selective Service Law

Eight per cent of the 9,586,508 men registered under the selective service law are colored. Of these nearly 200,000 have been called and more than 75,000 have been certified for service.

Out of every 100 colored men called, 35 were certified for service and 64 were rejected, while out of every 100 white citizens called, 25 were certified for service.

German Newspaper Criticizes Punishment of Soldier's Wife

The committee on public information has made the following translation of an article appearing in the Bremer Bürger-Zeitung:

"A soldier's wife who had gathered round in the common forest of Waldkirch, near Freiburg in Breisgau, was sentenced for the offense in the following terms:

"Mrs. Clara Gantner, on June 13, 1917, has removed from the common forest of Waldkirch, Sec. 123, one bag of dry fire twigs of the value of 10 pfennig. In punishment thereof she is sentenced to a fine of 1 mark and one day's imprisonment."

"The husband of the culprit has been for three years at the front, she herself has four small children to support in the direst poverty. Similar reports of punishment should be reported in greater numbers. Our husbands are in the trenches how to employ this period of shortage of wool and coal on a large scale for the benefit of the treasury."

Color of Cord on Hat Denotes Service of War

Just as the sleeve chevrons and hars stars and eagles on the shoulder proclaim ranking officers, the hat cord denotes the branch of service each private has entered.

Light blue signifies infantry; scarlet, artillery; yellow, cavalry; buff, quartermaster corps; scarlet and white, engineering corps; orange and white, signal corps; black and white, post office; black and white, field clerk; maroon, medical corps; black and gold, officers; silver and black, adjutant general's clerk; green, instructor home guards; green and white, home guards. These cords are worn only on service hats.

Cadet aviators wear as hat bands inch and a half white ribbons and on coat collars, insignia representing the aviation branch of the signal corps, propeller blades.

Three Per Cent of Men Gainfully Employed Now in Service

In a bulletin on the employment of women in the storage and warehousing depots of the United States army is the following:

"The census of 1910 reported that of every 100 men and boys 10 years of age and over, only 10 were not gainfully employed. This group of 10 included old men not able to work, children too young to work, the sick and handicapped, and men in schools and colleges.

"Assuming that 500,000 of the number called by the selective service law have had some form of gainful employment, we may estimate that 1 out of every 50 men in the industries and professions not able to work have been called into military service, while another in every 60 has voluntarily joined the forces of the army or navy. Thus, about 3 per cent of the gainfully employed men have been taken out of their occupations."

The Italian wheat crop for 1917 was 30 per cent below the average.

The year of 1917 established new high production records for corn, oats, rye, white and sweet potatoes, tobacco, beans, and onions.

The 16 cantonnements built for the training of soldiers cost $135,000,000, with a net profit to contractors of 2.93 per cent.

Government estimates of the production of petroleum in the United States in 1917 place it at nearly 144 per cent greater than any previous year.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

Trade at final distributive markets tends to emerge from seasonal dullness, but at large industrial and shipping centers the combined effect of the continued cold or stormy weather and real scarcity have been to impede shipping activity and retard the movement of goods abroad.

Markets dealing especially with the surplus crop producing sections repeat the reports of good demand and interest for the holidays; retail trade is fair to good, and wholesalers and jobbers are being pressed by ship spring goods. Collections generally are slow and west at the south, where cotton has risen to new heights.

This week's index number, based on the prices per pound of thirty-five articles used for food, is $4.50, compared with $4.48 last week, $4.45 for the week ending December 28, 1917, and $3.22 for the week ending January 12, 1917. This week's number reflects an increase of four-tenths of 1 per cent over last week and an increase of .35 per cent over the like week last year.

Wool Strong

Following the high prices realized at last week's auction of Australian wool and the enthusiasm and buoyancy there shown, the Houston wool market has taken on a wholly different appearance. Government control still looms big among the possibilities. Arrivals of foreign wools have been heavy of late, both from South America and South Africa, and much of the wool arriving has come on the market. Prices realized on all current sales have been on fully as high a basis as last week, and in fact, it is difficult to find a weak spot in the market.

Business Failures

Business failures for the week ending January 30 were 324, which compares with 206 last week, 381 in the like week of 1917, 437 in 1916, 600 in 1915 and 413 in 1914.

NEW TYPE HUDSON NOW ON DISPLAY

Johnson Auto Sales Company Receives First Consignment—Will Display Them Friday and Saturday

The new type Hudson Super-Six is here. The latest Hudson model has just arrived and is being displayed for the first time on the sales floor of the Johnson Auto Sales company. Such is the announcement made yesterday by E. S. Johnson, and there can be no question but that the new model will be the center of attraction in automobile circles here at once.

The Johnson Auto Sales company has made arrangements to have the new Hudson on display January 25 and 26 in order to give the many motorists and prospective owners who have called or telephoned regarding the new cars an opportunity to inspect them. That Mr. Johnson and the members of his organization are delighted with the new model is best evidence in what Mr. Johnson had to say yesterday. "They are sure enough winners," he declared. "I have been mighty curious for a week and now that the cars are here I am delighted."

The new four-door sedan is one of the handsomest and most luxurious closed all-year around model manufactured by any American car maker. The distinctive feature about the Super-Six closed car is the fact that they have a great deal of speed because the tremendous reserve power of the Hudson Super-Six patented motor carries this closed car type with ease and there is none of the sluggishness so common to many cars of the closed type.

Both the new Hudson phaeton and the four-door sedan will be on exhibition at the Johnson company's sales room for the next few days.

RECIPES FOR KEEPING EGGS

- 1 cup salt;
 - 1 piece lime as large as a lemon.
- Boil a gallon of water and pour over the lime. It will all foam up and boil after it has boiled up put in the salt and let it stand and then when the lime has settled to the bottom, pour off the clear water over the eggs. They will keep as long as you want them to—from one spring to the next if necessary.

HOW MEATS ARE CANNED

Timely Food Conservation Suggestions
by Otis E. Hall

Meats can be canned successfully by any housewife who understands the use of the hot water or steam pressure cookers or methods of canning, according to Otis E. Hall of the division of extension, Kansas State Agricultural college.

In the canning of meats, as in the canning of vegetables, definite rules must be followed to insure success. All parts of the meat that are used should be thoroughly cleaned. If the hot water bath method is used the water must be intense enough to boil the water rapidly and the time of processing or cooking should be continued until the water around the jars boils.

Sterilize With Boiling Water

The jars, lids, and rubbers should be washed and sterilized with boiling water and the meat should be packed into the hot jars until it reaches the top. If screw type lids are used they should be made as tight as possible with thumb and little finger before placing the jars in the cooking vessel. If the ball type jar is used the top ball should be loose until jar is taken from the hot water bath. Only first class rubbers should be used. Good rubbers can be stretched and will return to their natural size. Lids should be tightened as soon as the jars are taken from the hot water bath or steam canner.

If there is not enough meat to fill the jar, it is not necessary to do so with water. Usually about a tablespoonful of boiling water, or just enough to create moisture in the jar, will be sufficient. If the meat has been browned before canning and the jar is not filled, the liquid or grease in which the meat has been heated should be poured over it as there is no danger of getting too much of this and it will make good gravy when the can is opened. When the meat is partly cooked before canning one hour less time is required in processing. All these points—although some of them seem unimportant—are a direct bearing on the success of the canning work and none of them should be overlooked.

Spareribs and Pork Tenderloin

In the preparation of spareribs and pork tenderloin for canning, cut into sections the will drop into jars. Spread these sections in a single layer in bread pan or baking dish, place in a hot oven and cook until each piece of meat is evenly browned. This usually requires from 20 to 40 minutes for a hot oven to properly brown the meat. When browned sufficiently, pack well in hot jars, using two to four tablespoonfuls of liquid from the pan to each quart of meat or the entire space left in the jars may be filled with the liquid.

Make sure the part of the liquid reaches the bottom of the jar. Add two teaspoonfuls of salt to each quart. Put on rubbers and lids carefully. Process in hot water bath three hours for pint and 3½ to 4 hours for quart. If steam canner is used, process 60 minutes under 10 to 15 pounds of steam for pints, and 75 minutes for quarts. If the grease from the baking dish is poured over the meat, it may be used for gravy when the can is opened.

Rubbers and Lids

Spareribs and tenderloin also may be packed into jars raw, as recommended for heart, and processed 20 to 40 minutes longer than previously stated. The following, however, adds a flavor which is not obtained when meat is packed into jars raw.

Rubbers in Cold Water

Rinse beef or hog heart in cold water, and cut in portions to fit jars. Pack the raw meat into jars and add two teaspoonfuls of salt to each quart and one teaspoonful of boiling water. Place rubbers and lids in position. If hot water bath is used, process three hours for pints and 3½ hours for quarts.

Rinse tongue thoroughly. Cut in pieces or leave whole, as desired. Pack well in jars, adding two teaspoonfuls of salt to each quart, one tablespoonful of vinegar, one tablespoonful of sugar—brown preferred—and two or three cloves. Fill jars with boiling water. If the water bath is used, the jar will hold little water—one tablespoonful is enough. Place rubbers and lids in position. If hot water bath is used, process 2½ hours for pints and 3 hours for quarts. If steam canner is used, process 60 minutes under 10 to 15 pounds of steam for either pints or quarts.

NO RESTRICTION ON MEAT EXCEPT PORK IN IDAHO

FOOD ADMINISTRATION MAKES NEW TEMPORARY RULE

COMPULSORY ACTION TO COMPEL
FOOD ECONOMY IS DETERMINED
UPON IN WASHINGTON—
FUEL DICTATOR TO POOL COAL

While the necessity for further nationwide savings of wheat and some other foodstuffs is emphasized by an announcement that additional legislation will be asked of congress to enforce rigid economy, the state of Idaho has been relieved of the restriction as to consumption of meat, and meanwhile, so far as beef and mutton are concerned, are suspended until March 13.

Instead of meatless day, the states of Idaho, Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada and Arizona will observe two porkless days each week. Food Administrator telegraphed Administrator E. F. Bicknell Saturday. This action is taken "in view of the animal situation, due principally to transportation," according to Hoover.

The order, he states, is a result of a recent conference of state food administrators with him at Washington, at which it was deemed best to remove restrictions from the use of beef and mutton for a while and effect a larger saving in pork.

Tuesday and Saturday will hereafter be porkless days, when residents of the western states will be asked to refrain from pork in any form. They will also be expected to have one porkless meal each day.

Faced by a 35,000,000 ton coal shortage, the food administrator plans to pool all coal by April 1. In the meantime, frank warnings were issued of nationwide suffering unless universal rigid fuel economies were adopted.

Forecast of Action

The people will be given another chance to save food. While hotels and other public eating places will probably go under compulsory saving at the outset, the private household will not be touched unless he shows voluntary savings are impossible.

Universal use of "war bread" also may come in the near future, food administrations indicated. Formulas for a bread in which much of the wheat ingredient is replaced by rye, cornmeal,
