

MEN GOING TO CAPTURE KAISER LOUDLY CHEERED

FAREWELL DEMONSTRATION FOR LARGEST SELECTIVE SERVICE CONTINGENT EXCEEDS ALL

A great cheer was raised by a crowd of more than 500 people assembled at the depot Tuesday evening when the train pulled out carrying 35 men going from Twin Falls to report for military service at Camp Lewis, Washington, under the second draft call. The contingent was the largest one leaving Twin Falls under selective service levy, and the farewell demonstration was the largest yet given here on similar occasions.

Crowds Are Excited

A half hour before the departure the registrants who were to go, assembled with the band and an escort composed of members of the local post, G. A. R., Elks lodge and citizens generally at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street. The line of march to the depot was lined with people, and scores of citizens on foot and in automobiles joined in the procession headed by the band and Civil war veterans carrying their first flag.

A special car was provided for the contingent leaving here. At Burley the Cassia county contingent was entrained in this car, and at Mielokla it was attached to a special train carrying the registrants from southeastern Idaho.

Twin Falls county's quota under this call was for 87 men. Thirty-two registrants of this county entrained here and eight at other points, and four were given permission to go at this time in advance of the time when they would be called according to their order numbers. Four registrants of other districts entrained here with the Twin Falls county contingent.

Lake Is Made Leader

The men who left Tuesday reported at 10 o'clock in the morning at the office of the local board, and the men who were to take the train were named from among their number at that time as follows: Leader, Robert T. Lake, Twin Falls; assistant leaders, Grant Edgar Kunkle, Twin Falls; Lemuel Martin Allen, Burley; Morley Elmer Boy, Hellsburg, Twin Falls; and Joseph Arnold Hutto, Twin Falls. Two registrants from this county and three from outside districts summoned for this contingent failed to report and will be pointed as deserters. Those of this county are Samuel Lockwood Stanford of Twin Falls, last heard from in California, and Curtis L. Smith of Eureka, California. Those of other districts are Jennings Bryan Anderson, registered at Great Falls, Montana; Russell P. Bell, Covington, Indiana; and Alex Medema, Dunn, Chester, North Dakota.

Twin Falls County Contingent

BAND MEN ACCOMPANY MEMBER ON FIRST LAP OF TRIP TO CAMP

Declaring that the thought of separation was unbearable, each and every one of the members of the Twin Falls band boarded the train Tuesday evening that carried away the contingent of selective service men going from this county to enter the military service at Camp Lewis, Washington, and along with it, Robert T. Lake, leader of the contingent, and for several months past, the sturdy drummer of the local band, whose induction at this time was in advance of the time when he would have been called in so accordance with order number 123. As he was ready to go and wanted to get into the game at the earliest possible opportunity.

The drummer was worried as his associates of the band insisted that they were going to accompany him. When he went, even down Under den Linden, and persisted in their intention, climb

HONOR ATTORNEYS ENTERING SERVICE

COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION GIVES BANQUET FOR TAYLOR CUMMINS AND CARL L. DELONG

Honoring Taylor Cummins and Carl L. DeLong at Twin Falls, two of its members who are leaving to enter the military service, the Twin Falls County Bar association gave a banquet at 8:30 o'clock this evening in the Perrine hotel. Mr. J. Sweeney was named by the president, H. C. Haul, as toastmaster for the occasion, and responses were given by Judge E. A. Walters, R. M. Wolfe, W. Orr Chapman and C. A. North. Mr. Cummins and Mr. DeLong also made brief talks.

Mr. Cummins left Thursday morning with Mrs. Cummins on an overland trip to his parents' home in Ohio, where Mrs. Cummins will remain until the war is ended. He will proceed to the Atlantic coast, where he will enlist in a branch of the service that will permit of the earliest possible departure for France.

Mr. DeLong expects to leave later in the week as soon as he has closed up his business affairs and probably will enlist in the quartermaster corps.

Mr. Cummins has practiced his profession as a lawyer in Twin Falls since September, 1911, and has been associated for three years past with the firm that is now Walters & Hodgins. Mr. DeLong came to Twin Falls about eight years ago as the local manager for the Boye Commission company. About two years ago he quit the mercantile life to return to the practice of his profession. He has been prominently identified with the agricultural and sheep growing industries in this section.

Both Mr. Cummins and Mr. DeLong have taken prominent parts in politics, the former serving as secretary of the Democratic county central committee, and the latter occupying the position of the representative of Twin Falls county on the Republican state committee.

JAW IS BROKEN BY HORSE'S KICK

BOOK ORRER RANGEMAN FOUND UNKNOWNLY FOLLOWING INJURY—HURT ATTENDED HERE

Returning after an absence of two hours, members of his family Monday afternoon found Clyde Atkin, ranchman at Rock Creek, with a broken jaw as a result of a kick inflicted by a horse with which he was working alone. The injured man was brought to the Physicians and Surgeons hospital in Twin Falls, where his injuries were dressed. Fracture of the jaw on the left side in two places was found to have resulted. Attending physicians stated Tuesday that the probability for saving the teeth were excellent.

CARRY WAR STAMPS CAMPAIGN TO SCHOOLS

A sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps among the pupils of Twin Falls schools will be conducted on Thursday by A. Gilbert, War Savings Stamps director for Twin Falls county, and Postmaster M. A. Stronk. Announcement of the sale is to be made in each school room a few days in advance in order that the pupils may be prepared on the occasion to invest their savings. Between the hours of 10 o'clock and 11 o'clock the sale will be held in the high school, and from 11 o'clock until noon it will be held in the Washington school. Beginning at 1 o'clock and continuing for one hour, the sale will be held in Lincoln school, and between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock, pupils of the Bickel school will be given opportunity to participate in the sale.

CASUALTY LIST INDICATES IDAHO MEN IN FIGHT

SERGEANT WILLIAM R. KNAPP REPORTED KILLED MAY BE MEMBER OF IDAHO REGIMENT

The casualty list among the members of the American Expeditionary forces Tuesday, reporting the death of Sergeant William R. Knapp, indicates that units of what was the Second Idaho regiment of infantry are in the forefront stemming the advance of the Germans in France.

No indication of the unit to which the Sergeant Knapp was killed was given in the casualty list, but it is known that William R. Knapp of Ashol, Idaho, who was quartermaster sergeant of the Idaho regiment, went with units of that organization to France.

Official announcement made by the war department to relatives of the death or injury of men in the expeditionary service must be depended upon to reveal their identity conclusively. Captain Allen, commander of the supply company of the Idaho regiment, is an uncle of Sergeant Knapp.

FOLLOWER OF PASTOR RUSSELL ARRESTED HERE

U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY AUTHORIZES DETENTION OF P. G. GLOYSTEIN ON FEDERAL CHARGE

Pursuant to instructions of the United States district attorney at Boise, Sheriff F. M. Kendall yesterday arrested Prentice G. Gloystein, of this city, for the part taken by him in the distribution of a paper, said to have been published in Brooklyn, New York, and carrying accusations that the Protestant and Catholic clergy of the United States had instigated government action against members of the International Bible Students' association. He was released from custody on his own recognizance pending the receipt of further instructions from the federal district attorney.

Objectable Publication

This association published and sponsored the circulation of a book called "The Finished Mystery," which recently was suppressed. The paper, distribution of which here by Gloystein, and the distribution of the book, was headed "Kingdom News," and the subject matter bore the title "The Finished Mystery and Why It Was Suppressed."

Nine men were arrested and thousands of copies of the paper were confiscated, and the direction of a federal district attorney.

Compelled With Role

Mr. Gloystein has been one of the leaders of the International Bible Students' association here for several years. Prior to the suppression of the book, "The Finished Mystery," he took an active part in sending it in this district. It was reported that he had been arrested in Portland for his activities in this connection. This report he denies, saying that he has not sent a copy of the volume since its suppression.

Says Question Not Political

"The question involved is not a political one," Mr. Gloystein said yesterday following his arrest. "It does not affect the government one way or the other. It is purely a religious one and is opposed not by the common people, but by a majority of the profession of the Christian faith. I am a Christian through many channels to bring prayer for Fred Grieshaber, Buhl; Wesley William Worley, Rogers; William G. Gunn, Buhl; James Harley Billwell, sure to bear upon the government to suppress this Christian and philanthropic work completely.

SELLS LAND AND WILL BUY BONDS WITH PROCEEDS

REAL ESTATE TRANSFER IS INTERESTING INCIDENT AT SESSION OF COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

A real estate transaction by which J. M. Shank of Buhl became the owner of a 160-acre farm near Castleford previously owned by T. H. Wagener, of Buhl, was an interesting incident in connection with the proceedings of the county council of defense at its meeting here Tuesday evening.

Wagener had been the owner of the property since 1906. During his term of ownership he had not removed the sagebrush from any portion of the land except about 20 acres. He was cited to appear before the council to explain why he permitted his acreage to lie idle while the wartime demand for food production is so urgent. He told the council that he was not in position to farm the property himself, but that he would sell it for $100 an acre to anyone who would improve it. Mr. Shank, who is a member of the council, immediately became the purchaser of the place.

Will Buy Bonds

Wagener announced that he would invest $10,000 of the purchase price in government war bonds.

FARM BUREAU LEADERS TO GET NEW QUARTERS

GOVERNMENT AGRICULTURAL DIRECTORS TO OCCUPY COMMODIOUS ROOMS WITH OFFICES

The close of this week will find the offices of the several representatives of the department of agriculture in Twin Falls county which have been distributed in the past between the court house and the Gubert building on Main avenue north, situated in commodious and well furnished quarters in the basement of the Corcoran building at the corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue south.

Authorities Lease

The county farm bureau executive committee at its meeting Saturday afternoon authorized the leasing of the new quarters for this purpose. The move has been under consideration for some time.

In the new quarters there will be situated the offices of County Agent Donald McLean, and his recently appointed assistant, A. P. Wicker, together with those of Miss Gertrude Dencke, county home demonstration agent, and of F. A. Smitz, county boys' and girls' club leader.

In connection with the office there will be maintained a rest room for women and a reading room where government bulletins and agricultural periodicals are to be found at all times. A pool table has been ordered to be installed in the reading room.

Farm Bureau Headquarters

The new location will be the head quarters for the county farm bureau organization, and meetings of its various committees as well as those interested in the several phases of its work will be held there from time to time.

The farm employment bureau, which the farm bureau has been operating with a high degree of success, will have its early spring season, will be accommodated in these rooms.

Best Room for Women

The rest room for women in the farm bureau offices takes the place of the one that was opened here some three years ago under the auspices of the federation of rural women's clubs and which has been turned over recently to the use of the Red Cross refugees' relief committee.

ABANDON FESTIVAL PLANS FOR WAR WORK

ANNUAL MAY DAY EVENT IN LOCAL SCHOOLS DISPERSED WHILE PUPILS GRIEVE

Decision to dispense with the annual May Day festival in the Twin Falls schools this year was reached by the superintendent and board of education in consideration of the fact that teachers and pupils have been called upon to give largely of their time and effort to the demands of war work to which they have responded generously. Superintendent Hal G. Blue said Tuesday.

In previous seasons, the May Day festival, in which the pupils of all the local schools have taken part in pretty folk games and drills in the open air, have been one of the bright and colorful events of the school year, making large claims on popular interest. This year, because of the expense, time and effort involved, the festival has been abandoned, and the pupils' protest fasted to a record of achievement in the evening and knitting of Red Cross garments and bandages, to their attainments in the fields of instruction in methods of conservation, and to their purposes in the summer to aid in the Red Cross production of food stuffs, and of war relief materials. Teachers also have had a large share in assisting and directing the work of the pupils in these pursuits, and besides, have given largely of their time and effort to various phases of patriotic endeavor.

MAKES INTERESTING TRAFFIC OBSERVATION

MOTOR VEHICLES IN VAST MAJORITY IN TWIN FALLS AS SHOWN BY COUNT MADE

The preponderance of motor vehicles in Twin Falls is shown in an interesting way by a study of the Sunday afternoon report of Col. J. W. C. Deake. From the veranda of his residence at Tenth avenue and Shoshone street between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock, he counted 103 automobiles, two horse drawn vehicles and five bicyclists. Between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock he counted 131 automobiles, eight horse drawn vehicles and 12 bicyclists.

BIG CHICAGO STORE CHANGES OWNERSHIP

CHICAGO, May 1.—The Hugel-Copple department store stock, valued at $175,000, has been sold to the Boston store here, it was reported today, making withdrawal from State street of one of its famous landmarks. The Hugel-Copple building will be converted into a government warehouse, it is reported.

REPORTS SHOW BIG GAINS FOR THE RED CROSS

RECORD OF SHIPMENT OF SUPPLIES FROM COUNTY IS 123 BOXES DURING FIRST QUARTER YEAR

Indicative of the enormous increase in the output of Red Cross supplies at the hands of the workers of Twin Falls county is the statement of Mrs. W. F. Edwards, chairman of the military relief department of the Twin Falls County chapter, made in her report at the quarterly meeting of the branches and auxiliaries held here on Saturday afternoon in the Moose hall. During the three months period ending April 1, Mrs. Edwards said, there were shipped through the county chapter, 123 boxes of supplies. Prior to January 1 there had been shipped a total of 22 boxes. The quota for workers under direction of the Twin Falls County chapter is eight boxes per month.

Purchase Run Into Thousands

Mrs. O. J. Schneider, purchasing agent for the county chapter, reported purchases of materials for the various branches and auxiliaries under its supervision, amounting to between $2500 and $3000 per day.

Exceeds Expectations

That the quantity of work being turned out by the Red Cross workers is far in excess of any anticipations was stated by Mrs. L. Turner of Seattle, accountant for the northwestern Red Cross division, who was in attendance at this meeting. Mr. Turner announced that arrangements are being made whereby all materials used will be sent from division headquarters through the local chapter at ready cut-out and ready to be sewed together. He hoped that the purchase of "material" would be "made" through the Red Cross organization, thus saving the Red Cross organization the expense of purchasing materials otherwise placed in the hands of the dealer in competition with the merchandise dealer, to the disadvantage of the Red Cross. He urged the making of prompt reports of the monthly financial reports on the part of branches and auxiliaries to the chapter treasurer, in order that the promise of the Red Cross that every dollar donated to it would be accounted for might be fulfilled.

Representative Attendance

In attendance at the meeting Saturday there were representatives of practically all of the branch and auxiliary organizations. Mrs. E. E. Osterander, first vice president of the chapter, presided, and Mrs. E. L. McVicar, secretary of the chapter, acted as secretary of the meeting.

Reports Show Work Done

Reports of the several subordinate organizations made at this time indicated uniformly increased effort and production among all of the workers of the county. This aggregate of the work of the subordinate organizations is given in the reports of the chapter officials, through whose offices all of the supplies made are checked and shipped.

Where Material Went

In detail the report of Mrs. Edwards showed that there had been made and shipped during the first three months of this year the following articles: 139 pairs of socks, 35 pairs of slippers, 1433 pairs of knit socks, 606 sweaters, 97 helmets, 450 pairs of wristlets, 70 mitts, 210 pairs of gloves, 100 pairs of shoes. There had been used in the making of these articles, 7500 yards of cotton, 2200 yards of twill, 6250 yards of unbleached muslin, 353 pounds of yarn and 164 grams of buttons.

Provide for 500 Mothers

The fact that there had been no diminution, following the announcement that materials used would have to be donated, in the production of layettes required by mothers of France and Belgium was related by Mrs. A. E. Reder in her report as chairman of the "refugees" relief committee. She stated that 200 complete layettes had been finished during the period of 16 weeks' work. There is no probability of lessening in the demand for this work, Mrs. Reder stated, among the most needed now are muslin blouses, children's dresses and floor slacks.

Anticipates Another Call

Mrs. Kennedy Packard, appointed for the chapter to supervise the collection and preparation of the shipments of clothing and accessories in support of the mothers of France and Belgium, called by the Germans, reported that the Twin Falls county chapter had received most of three thousand dollars in contributions.

HEAVY DRAFTS ON MAN POWER ARE DECIDED UPON

DUTY OF PROVIDING REPLACEMENT UNITS FOR ARMIES IN FRANCE BELONGS TO U. S.

BY CARL N. GROUT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—“Very large quotas” of American men will be required “in the immediate future” for service overseas to fill up the gaps inflicted in the west front drive, the war department weekly summary declared today.

Man Power Will Decide
“The outcome of the present operations in the west depends on man power,” the statement said, “and the imperative duty of providing replacement units for the armies now in France. We must be able to put fresh men in the field thoroughly and methodically trained. In addition to those already called to the front, new units selected for service, very large quotas will be required in the immediate future to fill the gaps.”

Drafts to Follow Fast
This warning apparently was intended to prepare the nation for calls even larger than those listed for the coming month or two.

“Assessing the gravity of the situation,” the statement declared the crisis up to the present, has resulted “in large measure, favorably to the army” but pointed out that with joint allied command the battle has fallen in its purpose of weakening the British army. The summary announced for the first time, so far as the department is concerned, that American troops are located east of Amiens, have had a part in the struggle which kept the German off the coast, and have acquitted themselves well.

Single Engagement Not Decisive
“A battle of such magnitude as the one being fought in the west cannot be decided by any single engagement.”

“The vigorous attacks driven against the British lines were intended to paralyze the independence of the British command, in this the enemy has failed. With the command of the allies has extended operations to the broader field of general engagements in which all the allied forces will henceforth be used interchangeably.”

Fresh Troops May Turn Tide
“It must be constantly borne in mind that the enemy is seeking a decision that will end the war. This decision can only be arrived at by the destruction of the allied forces in the field before fresh units contributed from additional levies in France and Great Britain, as well as by our own troops, can take up their position in sufficient number to turn the German successes to defeat.”

MRS. MORRIS HAS GAINED 20 POUNDS

FRANKS, HER GREAT CHANGE IN HER CONDITION BEING TAKING TANKS

“I have gained twenty pounds or more and anyone who knew the dreadful condition I was in can readily see the wonderful change Tanks has made in me,” said Mrs. N. P. Morris, who resides at 910 East Missouri Street, El Paso, Texas, after taking five bottles of the “Master Medicine.”

“No one,” she continued, “except those afflicted the same way can have but a faint idea of the awful suffering I went through for seven years. I had indigestion, a bad stomach and rheumatism in my back and shoulders. Many a day, and even months at a time, I have lived most altogether on liquids. Occasionally for breakfast I was allowed a glass of milk and a little stale bread soaked, and I got so I couldn't even take that. I couldn't even drink water without it causing me trouble. I was often so sick and nauseated I felt like I would die and some days there was an hour but what I would have a vomiting spell, and while in this I was completely helpless. The gas on my stomach made my heart beat so fast, it seemed like it would jump out of my body and I just had to struggle for breath. I was very nervous, could not sleep at night and felt tired and worn-out all the time. I had fearful headaches and, really, I never knew what it was to be free from suffering.”

“I spent three months in one hospital and was told my trouble was caused by either gallstones or appendicitis, but I came back to El Paso and kept getting worse. My suffering was so terrible I didn't much care whether I lived or not, and I had become discouraged and down-hearted. Then I went to a hospital and my appetite returned. But I still suffered the same. My husband and family paid out hundreds of dollars trying to get something to help me, and just to think a few bottles of Tanks have just made them everything else certainly seems remarkable to me. Tanks seemed to go right to the seat of my trouble and in a few days I had a good appetite and commenced to gain in weight and strength. My rheumatism and nervousness are gone and I sleep good every night, and my appetite is so great I have to guard myself to keep from eating more than I should. I am still taking Tanks and I have already gotten so stout and healthy looking I don't get any more sympathy. I'm talking Tanks all the time and my friends often speak of how much better I look.”

Tanks is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Boggs by McLaughlin Drug Co., in Murtagh by McLaughlin Drug Co., in Filer by A. B. Wood, in Buhl by C. D. Boring Brothers Co., and in Kimberly by W. A. L. Stowe.—Adv.

BEST REMEDY FOR WHOOPING COUGH

Last winter when my little boy had the whooping cough I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, writes Mrs. J. B. This remedy is also good for colds and croup.”—Adv.

Gandy, county boys' and girls' club leader, were the speakers at a community dinner given Sunday in the school house in the Lucerne district. Other representatives of farm bureau activities in attendance were Donald McLaughlin, county agent, and W. F. Alworth, president of the county farm bureau.

You know that Huge Fortunes Have Been Made and are Being Made in OIL

BROTHERS LEAVE FOR CAMP TOGETHER

HERMAN T. STEVENS ASKS FOR ADVANCED INDUCTION WHEN HOWARD STEVENS IS CALLED

Herman T. Stevens accompanied his brother, Howard F. Stevens, in the selective service contingent that left Twin Falls on Tuesday evening for Camp Lewis, because the local board has approved his request for induction out of the order of his liability for military service.

Howard Stevens, whose liability number is 583, was called for this contingent. Herman Stevens held liability number 1535, and in the natural order of selection would not have been called until a later date. The brothers wanted to enter the service together, so Herman asked to be taken at this time, and his request was granted. The brothers registered at Murtagh, but are employed now by Boring from which point they will join the Twin Falls contingent.

SAYS FOSSIL FIELD ATTRACTS OIL MEN

S. HENRY BOLTON REPORTS ON PROGRESS IN WYOMING DISTRICT WHICH HE VISITED

That the Fossil, Wyoming, oil field is attracting the attention of experienced oil men in increasing numbers is a statement made by S. Henry Bolton, of Twin Falls, on his return from a short visit to that district. There are 15 drilling rigs on the ground at the present time and the prospects are becoming increasingly encouraging as the work proceeds, he says.

In well number two on the property of the Idaho-Wyoming Oil company, which is 355 feet deep, oil stands to a depth of 335 feet. Well number one on this property is only 255 feet deep but holds 75 feet of oil. The Wood Oil & Development company has its first well down to a depth of 655 feet, having passed through two small oil sands of some commercial producing value. The bore will be continued to a depth of 750 or 800 feet and from present indications a greater production than that of the shallower wells will result, Mr. Bolton states.

“No one knows what these wells will pump out, but it looks as though they will produce from three to ten barrels of oil per day,” Mr. Bolton says. “The oil is of a very high grade.”

“The price of crude oil is such that small production at a shallow depth pays now, while a few years ago, this would have been unprofitable.”

EIGHTH GRADE PUPILS DISCUSS PART IN WAR

PASSED UP OTHER SUGGESTED TOPICS FOR EXAMINATION ESSAYS TO OUTLINE WAR DUTIES

The type of patriotism that sacrifices to the limit is universal among the pupils of Twin Falls county schools. An incident in connection with the recent eighth grade examinations held throughout the common grade schools of the county gives proof of this fact.

Four Topics Suggested

One of the requirements of the examination provided by the state superintendent, was for an original essay on any one of four subjects. The subjects were the following: "Christmas Holidays," "What I Can Do Help Win the War," "The First Snow," and "Thrift Stamps."

Many Creditable Papers

Without exception, so far as reports have been turned into the office of Miss Britton Wolf, county superintendent, the pupils chose the second suggested topic, and from among a number of creditable essays the following have been selected:

Get Given Views

"I, you, everybody can win this war for democracy," said, Wilma L. Brown, pupil of the Poplar Grove school, taught by Miss Laura M. Lynn. "We can buy Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps. We can give to the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. All of the women, girls and boys can knit in the winter time. The girls and women can make clothing for the French and Belgian war orphans. We can go to entertainments and lectures that give the money to the Red Cross.

"We can raise more garden stuff than usual, and we can take the place of hired help both in the field and kitchen. Boys, girls and women will have to work in the fields sometime, so why not do it now?

"Our soldier boys get sugar once a week. We get it once or twice a meal. Couldn't we boys and girls raise a patch of sugar beets and take care of it and help our country raise its amount? Sure we could. Well why can't we do it? Isn't there a patch of land that isn't being used that we could raise beets or gardens. On most places there is one.

"A $50 bond is only a drop in the bucket," but they count up. But another thing we owe everything to our country.

"We girls might can more fruit. We can raise flowers, but gardens and poultry and stock are more necessary.

"We must use all of our spare time this summer in doing some good for the nation. At Washington, D. C., you can write to the department of Agriculture and get bulletins that tell how to raise all kinds of plants. In fact on every subject of farming and cooking. These are for everybody, but everybody does not take this advantage.

"Do not grumble because you have to eat flour substitute. Make up your mind that they are good, for some substitute will win the war."

How Gladys Helps

"I, a girl, am going to try to do my bit," says Gladys Hoover, pupil of the Lucerne school, Miss Bertha Alford, teacher.

"I am going to help my brother on a ranch this year. He is going to have large crops and I am going to help him. I can feed him, I can wash his potatoes. The soldiers surely need all we can do. I intend to work in the field with horses and machinery. I will help with shearing of the wheat and with the harvesting of the potatoes.

"Of course I can not be in the field a great deal on account of the house."

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Twin Falls Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Often it is the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Twin Falls women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. Marie Stevens, Third Ave. E., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several times and have been thoroughly satisfied with the results. My worst complaint from my kidneys has always been with my back. My back has been weak and lame and ached so I could hardly keep up. I have always been dizzy and felt all run down at such times. I first got hold of Doan's Kidney Pills through a friend's recommendation and they did me so much good I have used them whenever I have needed such a remedy. Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to cure me of an attack of kidney trouble."

work. It takes quite a bit of time, but it is necessary in making the war secure it has to be done. I gladly give up half of what I had to the war. The war bread suits me as well as any. I can make use of most everything in most ways, as to give things that are too little for me to the Red Cross and knit, sew and help with the Red Cross work.

"Another thing I can do to help win the war is help the government and protect the rights of it also.

"Gardening is another thing that will help out. We people can eat lots of garden truck that can not be shipped to the soldiers across the water, and I can do without lots of other things then that can be sent to them. What I can do without might save a soldier's life and I surely would like to see all our boys come back. I am delighted to be with stock and need lots of it so I can help with the cows, horses and hogs."

Proud of Bond

Fred Ringert, another pupil of the Poplar Grove school, expresses his conception of his wartime duties as follows:

"Now is the time when every government expects and needs everyone's help to win the war. This is especially true of our own government, and it has provided means for everyone, rich and poor, to do their bit. Anyone that does not do his bit is a slacker, working for Germany and her allies.

"I can help win this war by saving the little things, by buying Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps, and last of all, by behaving as I ought to. Saving is the most important of these; saving food, energy and money. Food is wasted every day, and by trying, I, myself, can save some of this. Energy and money go together, as energy helps to make this money. As we save from saving comes the feeding and clothing of our soldiers and sailors.

"Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps."

How proud I feel that I own some, and these are so easily purchased. I am surprised that all of the people in the U. S. do not own some, $245,000,000,000 and more in circulation in the U. S. and less than one-tenth of it has been used to carry on the war. A Liberty Bond of $50 bought by everyone here would mean five million dollars. I can purchase that, and also have $50 left for stamps. By saving money I could have more, which would mean a lot more for the government than it would to me for buying candy.

"Another important factor is the raising of larger crops, and feeding and clothing myself more inexpensively, by buying clothes that are not made of wool, by not buying the small luxuries of life and by working hard and doing my best on the farm. It is up to the people of the U. S. to wake up, realize the conditions in Europe, and save themselves and their posterity from the military tyranny of the Hun."

FILER RED CROSS BENEFITS BY AUCTION

FINANCIAL REPORT AT ANNUAL MEETING SHOWS $9000 IN THE TREASURY

The fact that the Filer Red Cross branch has in its treasury approximately $7000 as a result of its receipts of the proceeds of the Red Cross auction held there recently was brought out in reports of officers made at the annual meeting of the organization held in the Filer Methodist church on Friday evening last.

Preliminary to the business session patriotic singing by the audience and an address given by J. C. Diehl, were features of this session. Other reports given at this time showed that during the year the Filer branch had shipped 3980 articles of hospital garments and supplies, 449 garments for infants, 107 hospital articles, 4698 Christmas cakes, 4698 Christmas kits and donated $100 for a hospital bed, $700 for a motor kitchen and $15 for a concert in France.

Officers of the branch for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Chairman, Mrs. E. H. Schildman; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Shear; treasurer, Guy Shearer; directors, William Bunce and A. B. Wood.

Mrs. Schildman and Mrs. E. J. Weaver, chairman of the surgical dressings committee, were designated to attend the Red Cross training school at division headquarters in Seattle.

TO BEGIN WORK HERE

William Harkins to Commence Trenching for New Waterworks System in Near Future

William Harkins, contractor to whom contract for trenching, hauling and laying pipe for the supply and distribution lines of the new municipal waterworks system has been let by the city council, returned Thursday from Burley where he had been attending to details incident to the completion of work done by him under contract with the Burley highway district. The work in the Burley district included graveling of about 30 miles of highway, involving an expenditure of about $60,000. It was begun last fall.

Mr. Harkins stated that the work on the new highway road for which he is the contractor, will be completed on or about May 1, and that he expects to begin work on the connection with the improvement of the city waterworks system about May 10.

Buhl Officer Has Retentive Memory

LAPSE OF TIME DOES NOT PERTURB PROSECUTION OF YOUTH ON BAD CHECK CHARGE

The fact that Officer A. F. Baymiller of Buhl possesses a retentive memory in respect to infractions of the law was evidenced this week when Fred Hansen, aged 18, returned to Buhl from California and was immediately placed under arrest under warrant issued last November for passing a check without funds at the Citizens State bank at Buhl. The youth was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace L. C. Washburn at Buhl, as a result of which he was sentenced to spend 30 days as a prisoner in the county jail. He began serving his sentence Tuesday.

STEEL LICENSE PLATES CAUSE AUTO ACCIDENTS

CLAIMS FOR COMPENSATION ARE BASED ON INJURIES SUSTAINED WHILE CRANKING CARS

Steel license plates carried on the front end of automobiles in Idaho this year are responsible for accidents to motorists, according to Dr. Edward T. Bower, secretary of the state board of health. Several claims for compensation have been filed by drivers with the state industrial accident board.

Motorists are forced to carry plates on the front and the rear of their machines. They suspend the plates carried in front from the rod between the lights. Some of the drivers have cut their wrists on the plates while cranking their cars.

PEN PICTURES

Some remarkable pen pictures of European war scenes are being given to the world these days. That of the American soldiers on the heaving decks of the torpedoes "Tusculum" singing "Where do we go from here, boys, where do we go from here—" as they get ready to get into the boats, must ever be remembered as one of the richest gems in the crown of American manhood.

Here is the way the United Press correspondent describes the entry of Americans into the fighting zone, in yesterday's news budget.

The Americans entered into the battle line in northern France followed a trip partly by rail and partly by marching.

The troops were in the highest spirits throughout. They cheered the villagers from their freight cars and flat cars as they passed through the towns. Rolling kitchens, mounted on flat cars, kept them supplied with hot "alum."

Leaving the train after two days and nights of riding, they marched to the mobilization area, where they were billeted in villages and chateaux.

They rested in reserve three days, then began the march of marches to the line.

They swung through villages singing, "Hall, Hall, the Gang's All Here." Big camouflaged guns rolled across the plain for the first time.

The march was made in stages of from 15 to 20 miles a day, the men sleeping in barns, mills, anywhere, at night.

These are the pictures which will live. The homely scenes with the human touch, the lights and shadows of every day life, commonplace if you will, but close and intimate and gripping in their simple naturalness. The background, as it were, for the staging of great scenes just beyond.

THE NAVY'S PART

From time immemorial the "wooden walls of Old England" and their successors on the job have been looked upon as capable in their particular line. England's naval strength has become almost traditional and up to now there has not been lacking a feeling of disappointment over the comparatively small part this institution has played in the war.

Apparently there is to be a change. Yesterday's action and that of a week ago when a number of German destroyers were taken to indicate that the government is to dispense with watchful waiting as a policy and go after the game. And there is keen satisfaction in army and navy circles over the prospects.

There is every reason for such a policy. Today England's troops have been beaten on land. They have been annihilated but they have been forced back at the point of German bayonets until it has become a very grave question if there is sufficient resistance left to put up a really effective offensive. This is not true of the British navy. It has had nothing to do but prepare for nearly four years.

As far as land fighting goes Germany will be decisively defeated when America can land enough men to do the job, probably not sooner. But there is a distinct chance that a naval action because it fortifies the lungs and throat, creates strength to avoid grippe and pneumonia and makes rich blood to avert rheumatic tendencies.

would go far towards crippling the Hun power right now.

THE GERMAN PLAN

A singular unanimity of opinion is to be found among foreign correspondents as to the German plan of action for the immediate present. One and all agree that the Huns are preparing for a final push. They will stake all on one great effort before the promised help of America materializes. All available troops have been drawn from German garrisons everywhere. Germany is ready to sacrifice one-third of her manpower to gain a decisive victory over the allies.

Comes the question of what constitutes a decisive victory. Not Ypres, hardly Amiens; possibly the channel port of Calais, perhaps the fall of Paris. For any of these things Germany is willing to pay in human lives a price which can hardly be reckoned in the ordinary terms of civilized warfare. And having accomplished any of these ends and paid the price, there is still the British and American navies, the armies of the United States and the resources of the "trained" leaders of the allied cause. It is not impossible that something of this sort should happen. The defeat would be a bitter one, but the end of the struggle would be not one-whit less inevitable. If it takes twenty years to do the work, Germany must be beaten, if human rights and human liberty are to continue to obtain on earth.

AMONG THE POSSIBILITIES

Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, former well known Socialist worker and writer, is under indictment on three counts for pernicious anti-government activity.

All three counts of the indictment were based upon a letter written to the Kansas City Star.

Here is the letter: "A heading in this evening's issue of the Star reads: 'Mrs. Stokes for government and against war at the same time.' I am not for the government. In the interview that follows I am quoted as having said: 'I believe the government of the United States should have the unqualified support of every citizen in its war aims.'"

"I made no such statement and I believe to no such thing. No government which is for the profiteers can also be for the people, and I am for the people, while the government is for the profiteers."

The point of the matter is this: There are probably dozens of men in Twin Falls County today who have openly said the very things, in effect for the saying of which Mrs. Stokes is under federal indictment.

Those who are given to loose thinking and talking along lines of criticism of Government activity in war time would do well to ponder the possibilities.

A CONTRAST

It is interesting to contrast the treatment accorded the body of Captain Baron von Biechthofen, German aviator killed in action with British planes, by the British troops into whose hands the body fell, and the German method of procedure in the case of dead and wounded victims from the Allied side having the misfortune to come into the possession of Hun troops.

The Baron was accorded full military honors and was buried following a service as impressive, dignified and sincere as might have been accorded any man of similar rank in any of the Allied armies to die under similar circumstances. A floral wreath with the words, "A valiant and worthy foe" graced the bier. Airman circled over the grave in a final expression of respect and admiration.

Suppose the situation reversed—can anyone imagine the body of a dead Englishman being so treated behind the German lines?

Honor, respect, unselfish admiration of the virtues of an enemy are no part of the Hun program as exemplified by the fighting forces of German imperialism.

CONCRETE SHIPS

The idea of using concrete for the hulls of ships seemed very daring when announced that Italians had decided to undertake it: it was made nearly 20 years ago. Today the concrete ship is a widely recognized achievement.

A recent writer, summarizing its advantages, says a concrete ship can be built in one-half the time required for the construction of any other type, and at a cost 50 per cent lower than for wood or steel. It involves little need of skilled labor.

These are important advantages, but there are others, one of them being the immunity of concrete ships from the deleterious action of salt water, which in the case of wood and steel requires much docking, scraping and painting; and freedom from the destructive boring animal life of the sea. "One expert in a telling epigram, declares that the 'concrete ship is rat-proof, rot-proof and fire-proof.' It would seem that the concrete ship is likely to figure largely in the future.

WHERE DEFEAT LIES

There can be no adequate apology, although the result will bring with it sufficient penalty, if the Hun is permitted to win the war through failure to realize the gravity of the present crisis.

"If the war is lost by America on the allies, it will be the fault of the men, women and young people of the United States to whom the war has not, as yet, become a really serious question," is a blunt statement but a true one recently uttered by Dean Eugene G. Davenport of the University of Illinois.

The consciousness that is alive does not require the spur of organized drives and campaigns to enlist it in the forces at the battlefront or in those equally essential forces of those who produce the food and finances that spell the winning of the war, but until the last shot in defense of the rights of humanity and the tenets of democracy is fired, there cannot be a cessation of operations that will bring about universal awakening to complete recognition of the supreme danger.

ANOTHER STRIKE?

According to current press dispatches, plans are complete and instructions issued for a general lockout, in the event the telegraph companies fail to accede to the demands of employers.

A strike of telegraphers at this time would constitute a blow at government industry of nationwide scope. It would paralyze the nerve centers of a people: Next to a general railroad strike there could be no greater calamity.

Such a strike will probably not be called until every effort is exhausted to patch up existing difficulties. Should this point not be kept clear in the minds of strikers and public it is going to go hard with the strikers—and equally hard with those on the other side of the controversy unless they too use every last ounce of energy in an effort to effect a settlement of the difficulty.

HIDENBURG BREAD

Hidenburg bread is the name given by an eastern Journal to pure white flour bread.

We rather like the name. Hidenburg bread is the bread which helped to make the patent medicine bottle a household god in America. Through his manufacture certain big business interests were able to pile up riches a little faster through the sale of the by-products in other forms. White bread has nothing and never had a single thing to recommend it. It will not of itself sustain life. It costs more and gives less than almost any manufactured product on the market. White bread today is no sign of social elegance, it is an evidence of supreme selfishness or worse on the part of those using it.

Let's give it its proper name, then use the bread we ought to use.

GERMAN CAMOUFLAGE

The half million of men that Secretary Baker said would be in France early this year have been reduced by the Teutonic newspapers to 50,000 by the simple expedient of dropping a cipher. But the old tactics of the ostrich of burying its head in the sand to overcome facts by avoiding looking at them never did accomplish anything in the way of satisfactory results.

AIN'T IT GRAND?

There is no question but that the new postoffice now under construction will be a distinct improvement to the city as well as a great convenience to citizens.

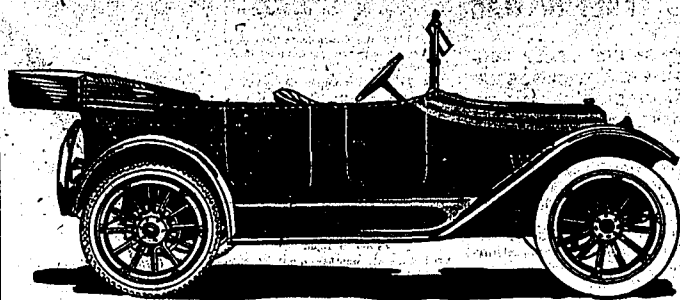

The name of Mr. McAdoo carved in to the cornerstone which will go into place in a few days is expected to add at least 50 years to the life of the building.

There are a good many people who while not actually extending aid and comfort to the enemy, are refusing it to America—by declining to buy Liberty bonds.

RESULTS OF ELECTIONS

IN SCHOOL DISTRICTS
Results of elections April 15 in the several school districts as reported on Wednesday to the office of the county superintendent are as follows:
District No. 25—S. F. Coombs elected trustee for three years to succeed W. H. Brewer; E. P. Bissonette elected trustee vice A. A. Warren, resigned.
Chas. E. Bader—Otto C. Levensgood and Bart Preest elected trustees.

CHEVROLET

"Bringing Home the Bacon"

Greater and greater grows the popularity of the Little Wonder Car—THE CHEVROLET—not only among the people of towns and cities, but also, and perhaps particularly, with the farmer and rancher. There are so many errands the Chevrolet can do for you which cannot be done by any other means so cheaply, expeditiously or well.

Look at your neighbor with his Chevrolet and compare his lot with yours. If you both have cars his car is the more useful one, price and expense of operation considered. If you have no car, remember he pays himself for being better off, for the Chevrolet can be bought for the price of a good team and it doesn't eat anything when not working.

Think it over, then buy a CHEVROLET while the opportunity is presented

RECENT FOOD PRICE CHARGES COMPILED BY LABOR BUREAU

The United States department of labor, bureau of statistics, issues the following statement concerning changes in retail prices of food during one month, one year, and since 1913:

In February, 1918, the principal articles of food combined, in Washington, D. C., cost 76 per cent more than they did in February, 1913; 70 per cent more than they did in February, 1914; and 21 per cent more than they did in February, 1917; but were 2 per cent cheaper than they were in January, 1918. These facts are brought out in a table compiled by the bureau of labor statistics.

Changes in One Month

During the one month from January to February, 1918, of the 23 articles included in the bureau's index number, 11 articles increased in price, 10 articles decreased in price, and 2 articles, lard and milk, remained the same. The greatest increase, 43 per cent, was shown in beans. The greatest decrease, 13 per cent, was shown in eggs.

A comparison as between February, 1913, and February, 1918, a per cent increase, shows that only two articles decreased in price. These two articles were potatoes and coffee; which decreased 33 per cent and less than 1 per cent, respectively. In this year only two articles increased less than 10 per cent. The increases in the price of six articles ranged from 13 to 25 per cent; increase in 10 articles ranged from 25 to 45 per cent; and in three articles from 57 to 97 per cent.

Increases in Five Years

For the five-year period, February, 1913, to February, 1918, every article increased 38 per cent or more. Only four articles increased less than 50 per cent. Ten articles increased between 50 and 100 per cent. Five articles

DEATH HALTS JOURNEY
OF CAPT. JOHN CARMICHAEL, STAGE DRIVER AND STEAMER CAPTAIN

Captain John Carmichael, 85, retired "master of steam" for the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company and stage driver and pioneer of the west, died at 5:00 o'clock this morning at the county hospital here, where he has been given refuge intermittently since the infirmity was established. His death occurred just 17 hours after his return here yesterday.

Travelled on Fumes
A railroad pass in his possession showed evidence that he was enroute from Seattle to Denver, and that realization of the approach of death led him to turn back to Twin Falls. Another brother resides in Los Angeles.

Clippings Tell Life Story
Fragments of Captain John Carmichael's life history are revealed in newspaper clippings which he guarded jealously.

During pioneer days in the mountain region, he drove the stage between Kelton and Boise and between Albion and Kelton.

He was one of the oldest of the old-time residents of Arizona, being a resident of Prescott, having charge of stage transportation in the thrilling era of Apache uprisings. Later he had charge of the ambulance service in and out of Fort Huachuca, Arizona, serving under General Crook and other officers, often escaping capture by the Indians by his broadside.

During the San Francisco exposition, when 52 years of age, Captain John Carmichael took the steamer Roanoke on three trips from the northwest to the exposition city.

Favorite in Transportation Circles
Captain John, as he was familiarly known, was a favorite in railroad and steamship circles. He knew many of the now high officials when they were boys and clerks working their way to their now lofty positions, and among his possessions are personal letters from E. H. Cady, president of the Union Pacific; together with passes over almost all of the railroad lines of the west.

With the Red Cross Work
At Home and Abroad

Edited by Twin Falls Chapter

Stuart Taylor has been appointed chairman of the war fund committee and E. L. MacVicar, campaign manager by the board of the Twin Falls County chapter, to conduct the war fund campaign for the American Red Cross beginning May 20.

S. Turner of the accounting department at divisional headquarters at Seattle visited the chapter on Saturday and addressed the branches and auxiliaries at the noon hall. While here Mr. Turner audited the books and accounts of the county chapter.

With the organization of a branch in Twin Falls city, the Red Cross is 100 per cent organized in the county. This is the largest per cent of membership in the state. The jurisdiction of the Twin Falls city branch includes all the territory covered by the independent school district No. 1.

The following garments have been made and shipped from Red Cross work rooms in the last year:

971 suits of pajamas, 1038 bed shirts, 284 convalescent gowns, 718 pairs bed socks, 151 bag covers, 840 shoulder wraps, 117 comfort pillows, 648 don muslin bandages, 148 bandaged foot socks, 63 taped bed shirts, 179 bed jackets, 540 suits of underwear, 10 operation leggings, 127 towels, 202 comfort pillows, 818 sheets, 271 slips, 100 bath towels, 280 face towels, 174 wash cloths, 133 pairs socks, 35 pairs slippers, 1453 pairs knitted socks, 616 sweaters, 97 helmets, 480 pairs wristlets, 70 mufflers.

From the surgical dressing department 121 boxes of dressings have been sent, while the following list of materials is not complete, still it gives an idea of the yards and yards of materials required to fill our quota:

7680 yards cutting, 5290 yards twill, 4859 yards unbleached muslin, 11,429 yards gauze, 1858 the yarn, 5210 yards tape, 164 gross buttons.

The high school will have its Red Cross exhibit at Clev. Book store on Saturday.

Twin Falls county chapter will send delegates to the Red Cross institute at Seattle, May 6-11.

A box of split irrigations has been received from Filer to help fill the quota of the surgical dressing department.

Mrs. Clyde Bacon donated $5 to be used in the surgical dressing department.

The Episcopal choir donated $15 to the Red Cross chapter.

C. E. Munson reports proceeds from the sale of the socks collected by the Boy Scouts some time ago to be $61.21. If school children will take any socks to their homes in the different buildings they will be called for and sold and the money turned in to the Junior Red Cross fund.

Mrs. Huala, of Pleasant Valley sold goods Saturday at the sale grounds for $150, the money to go to the Red Cross. The gentleman buying the goods donated it to the local Red Cross and it will be sold again in the near future.

Dr. H. W. Wilson, chairman of the county chapter, will return from Rochester, Minn., this week, where he underwent an operation at the Mayo hospital.

L. J. Arne, field representative from divisional headquarters, gave a most interesting and instructive talk to the members of the county board and the officers of the chapter at the Pacific Hall Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Arne's specialty is home service work but he was able to answer questions on general Red Cross work as well as his own branch of the service.

The representation of branches and auxiliaries at the quarterly meeting on Saturday was most gratifying and the reports of the chairman were very encouraging. All are doing their share of the chapter quota work.

WOMEN'S OVERALLS

Helps to win the war are being brought out from mass to mass. We realize that the labor shortage is becoming more acute as each batch of men leaves for the front. So women will have to fill their places. Suitable garments for them to wear in the garden, in the fields and in the kitchen are the women's OVERALLS and OVERALLS at $3.00 to $3.50 a pair.

From now on each day will bring a warmer weather, and mothers need not be told of the great number of wash suits their youngsters will require. WIND CARRIES AWAY PART OF CHURCH ROOF

PRESBYTERIAN BUILDING COMMITTEE HOLDS REFUSAL TO ACCEPT WORK JUSTIFIED

A portion of the roof of the Presbyterian church was blown off by wind Thursday afternoon, exposing a space about 20x30 feet. Workmen were put to work at once repairing the damage so that further portions might not be blown away and rain permitted to enter the building. The damage resulted at the southwest corner of the roof, and was a result, the building committee states, of improper laying of the composition roof. The building committee had refused to accept the roof as it was laid, and the contractor, the North Pacific Construction company, holds a sub-contractor liable.

Short Stories of Plays and Players

As Nance Molloy in her newest picture, "Smiling Lady," Ann Pennington is introduced as a typical "alley rat," just as ready to plunge into a rough-and-ready fight as she is to take tender care of her neighbor's baby. Her champion, Dan Lewis, is played by John Hines, while the role of "Barbara Clark," the rich man who turns out to be the villain, is interpreted by Richard Barthelmex. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, two denizens of the alley who are prominent in the story, are played

FIRST SHOWING TONIGHT AT THE IDAHO THEATRE—THIS PICTURE IS "ALL THERE"—POSITIVELY EVERYTHING YOU LOOK FOR IN "DOUG"

"Headin' South," the Artcraft picture now being exhibited at the Idaho theatre, is an exceptional Fairbanks production, and is full of action from start to finish. In addition to the scenes photographed in Arizona, including the forest of giant cactus, two western villages were reproduced at the California studios at great expense. Because of the peculiar photographic effects necessary, requiring the aid of all sorts of electrical apparatus, Director Art Rosson ordered the building of these two complete villages. Expense seems to be the least consideration in Fairbanks pictures.

And NATURALLY SOME "HAIR-RAISING" STUNTS
"Headin' South," Douglas Fairbanks' latest picture for Artcraft, gives him the role of a western cowboy who takes an active part in troubles on the Mexican border. Fairbanks undertakes some hair-raising "stunts" with his fleet pony "Smiles," and the photoplay bristles with gun-play and battle in which hundreds of cowboys run down a lawless band of Mexican rangers whose depredations have aroused a desire for retaliation and punishment.

Charles Eldridge and Helen Tracy. The story is an adaptation of Alice Hegan Rice's well known "Calvary Alley."

Wallace Reid and Ann Little, directed by Donald Crisp, began work last week on "Believe Me, Xanthippe," the production takes on the well known Harvard prize play which had such a successful run in the eastern theatre a few seasons ago. In this picture, Miss Little returns again to cowgirl rig, in her role of a Colorado mountain maid, while Mr. Reid as the chairman who goes west on a wage is cast for an entirely agreeable part. Some splendid exterior scenes will be required for this, but it has not yet been decided just where they will be taken. There are many spots near Los Angeles that would prove entirely suitable but the company may go clear into the ranges of the Sierra Nevada to get the proper atmospheric background. It will be a Paramount picture.

Theodore Roberts, Tully Marshall and many other well known players will be seen with Mary Pickford in "Xanthippe," her new Artcraft picture, from the story by Bret Harte.

ISSUE CALL FOR BIDS ON HANSEN SPAN

COMMISSIONERS OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY AND HILLSDALE DISTRICT TAKE ACTION

Saturday, May 25, is the date designated for the reception of contractors' proposals for the construction of a steel suspension span to bridge Snake river canyon at a point near Hansen.

Form Bridge Commission
The date was set by the Hansen bridge commission, which is composed of the commissioners of Twin Falls county and of the Hillside district, who met here in joint session Saturday afternoon and organized the commission by election of A. B. Rice of Hazelton, as chairman, and E. J. Finch, Twin Falls county clerk, as secretary; accepted the plans for the structure submitted by two concerns dealing in bridge materials, and authorized the issuance of the call for bids.

Call for Alternate Bids
The commission is asking contractors to submit bids on both plans which were accepted, one set of plans being submitted by the Midland Bridge company, represented by D. J. Cavanagh of Salt Lake, and the other by the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron company, represented by H. L. Luther of Boise. The secretary was directed to telegraph to R. M. Murray of Billings, Montana, steel bridge engineer, the offer of the commission inviting him to undertake the supervision of the construction.

Provisions of Plans
Members of the commission would make no statement Saturday with regard to the relative advantages of the two plans accepted, stating that this matter should be left to the determination of the supervising engineer.

Both plans, however, provide for a bridge of the suspension type to span the canyon at a point where it is approximately 700 feet wide. Both plans provide for a roadway 16 feet wide capable of sustaining a concentrated load equivalent to the weight of a 15 ton road roller.

There is available for the construction of the Hansen span, the sum of $20,000 derived from $50,000 bond issue voted in the fall of 1916 in both Twin Falls county and in the Hillside district, together with $20,000 appropriation for the purpose made by the last session of the state legislature.

HOSPITAL DIRECTORS EFFECT ORGANIZATION

POSITIONS ARE ASSIGNED TO MEN WHO WILL SUPERVISE NEW COUNTY INSTITUTION

Organization of the board of directors appointed by the county commissioners to manage the new general hospital to be opened here about May 15, was effected at a meeting of the appointees with the county commissioners in the commissioners' room at the court house Wednesday evening.

In accordance with by-laws and regulations for the management of the institution adopted by the directors at that time, the terms of office of the directors were fixed as follows. Three year term, Carl J. Hahn, Twin Falls, and Russ G. Wilson, Kimberly; two year term, Arthur L. Swin, Twin Falls, and L. T. Wright, Twin Falls; one year term, E. E. Haug, Filer, and L. E. Salladay, Twin Falls.

Salladay Named Chairman
Mr. Salladay was elected chairman of the board of directors, and Mr. Wright was chosen vice chairman. E. J. Finch, county clerk, was installed as ex-officio secretary to the board of hospital directors.

Regular meetings of the hospital directors are to be held on the fourth Wednesday of each month. On the fourth Monday of May, the annual meeting will be held, at which time the appointment of two directors to succeed those whose terms expire will be made by the county commissioners.

Miss Nancy Shaw, superintendent appointed by the county commissioners, attended the joint meeting Wednesday, and discussed with the directors the advisability of provisions of the rules adopted for the management of the institution, which were patterned after similar regulations in use in several of the larger hospitals of the country.

FREDONIA MAN JUST HEARD ABOUT THE WAR

Seeking to help Uncle Sam in his efforts to get the Kaiser, James Andrew Quigley, a deaf mute of Fredonia, Ariz., tried to enlist in the marine corps at Salt Lake on March 21. Quigley was waiting at the station when the recruits arrived to begin the day's work.

He first accosted them with gesticulations, moving his lips as if to form words, but uttering no sound. When furnished with a lead pencil and paper, he scribbled that he had been deaf and dumb since birth, and that he had learned only a few days before that the United States was at war with Germany. He proceeded at once to Salt Lake, making his way by foot to Caliente, Nev., and coming the rest of the way by rail.

When informed that it was impossible to accept him for enlistment, the man broke down and sobbed. Recovering his composure, he told the recruiters that he would return home to plant a war garden to help feed those who are being sent overseas to help "get the Kaiser."

Fredonia is one of the most isolated places in the United States. Situated on the Grand Canyon, in the extreme northern part of Arizona, there is little communication with the outside world. The nearest railroad is over 100 miles away.

GOVERNMENT COMMANDERS ALL WOOL IN THE COUNTRY

The farm bureau has just received the information that the 1918 wool clip is to be commandeered by the government. This includes all the wool now stored in warehouses, and that yet in the hands of the growers. It is believed the price to be paid for the wool will be that governing the market during last July. The price paid at that time in southern Idaho ranged from 64 to 63 cents.

High Cattle Prices Accompany High Beef Prices

If consumers are to pay less for beef, live-stock raisers naturally will receive less for cattle.

If farmers are paid more for live stock, consumers will necessarily pay more for meat.

Swift & Company pays for cattle approximately 90 per cent of the price received for beef and by-products. The remaining 10 per cent pays for dressing, freight to market, operation of distributing houses, and in most cases, delivery to the retailer. Net profits also have to come out of this 10 per cent.

This margin cannot be squeezed arbitrarily without danger of crippling the only effective means of performing the complex service of converting cattle into meat and distributing this meat to the fighting forces and to consumers.

Swift & Company's net profit on beef during 1917 was only 1/4 of a cent per pound. On all products, it was a little less than four cents on each dollar of sales. Complete elimination of these profits would not affect appreciably retail prices of meat, or farm prices of live stock.

Swift & Company will be glad to co-operate in devising methods that will improve conditions in the meat and live stock industry.

"Then he turned to me and shouted: 'Wilson, what do you think of it? Did you ever see the like of it in your life?' D—n a fine work, I call it."

"Pretty soon a look of wonder stole over his face and he exclaimed: 'But who in h—l gave them the order to fire. Bang and everything correct, too. I know I didn't. Wilson, did I give you any order for the battery to open up? Of course I didn't, did I?'

"I answered very emphatically, 'No, sir, you gave no command. Nothing went through this post. I am absolutely certain on that point, sir.'"

"Of course nothing went through," he replied. Then his face fell, and he muttered out loud:

"But, by Jove, wait till Old Pepper gets wind of this. There'll be fur flying."

Just then Bombardier Cassell cut in on the wire:

"General's compliments to Captain A. He directs that officer and signals report at the double to brigade headquarters as soon as relieved. Believe now on the way."

"In an undertone to me, 'Keep a brass front, Wilson, and for God's sake, stick.' I answered with, 'Hoy on me, mate, but I was trembling all over.'"

"I gave the general's message to the captain, and started packing up."

"The relief arrived, and as we left the post the captain said:

"Now for the fireworks, and I know they'll be good and plenty. They were."

"When we arrived at the gun pits the battery commander, the sergeant major and Cassell were waiting for us. We fell in line and the funeral march to brigade headquarters started."

"Arriving at headquarters the battery commander was the first to be interviewed. This was behind closed doors. From the roaring and explosions of Old Pepper it sounded as if raw meat was being thrown to the lions. Cassell, later on, described it as sounding like a bombing raid. In about two minutes the officer reappeared. The sweat was pouring from his forehead, and his face was the color of a beet. He was speechless. As he passed the captain he jerked his thumb in the direction of the lion's den and went out. Then the captain went in, and the lions were once again fed. The captain stayed about twenty minutes and came out with the same face, but the drop in his shoulders was enough. He looked like a wet hen."

"The door of the general's room opened and Old Pepper stood in the doorway. With a roar he shouted: 'Which one of you is Cassell? D—n me, got your boots together when I speak! Come in here!'

"Cassell started to say, 'Yes sir.' But Old Pepper roared, 'Shut up! Cassell, come inside and answer me. He said nothing, but as he passed me he put his tongue into his cheek and winked, then, turning to the closed door, he stuck his thumb to his nose and left."

"Then the sergeant major's turn came. He didn't come out our way. Judging by the roaring, Old Pepper must have eaten him."

"When the door opened and the general beckoned to me, my knees started to play 'Home, Sweet Home' against each other."

"My interview was very short. 'Old Pepper glared at me when I entered, and then let loose. 'Of course you don't know anything about it. You're just like the rest. Ought to have a nursing bottle around your neck and a nipple in your teeth. Soldiers—by gad, you turn my stomach to look at you. Win this war, when England sends out its surplus as I have in my brigade! Not likely! Now, sir, tell me what you don't know about this affair. Speak up, out with it. Don't be gazing at me like a fish. Spit it out!'

"I stammered, 'Sir, I know absolutely nothing. 'That's easy to see,' he roared; 'that stupid face tells me that. Shut up. Get out; but I think you are a d—n liar just the same. Back to your battery.'"

"I saluted and made my exit. That night the captain sent for us. With fear and trembling we went to his dugout. It was dark. After he had us standing at attention in front of him and waited. His say was short. 'Don't you two ever get it into your heads that Morse is a dead language. I've known it for years. The two of you had better get rid of those surplus habits of tapping transmitters; it's dangerous. That's all!'

"We saluted, and were just going out the door of the dugout when the captain called up back and said: 'Morse Goldfish! Yes. Well, there are two fish of them on my table. Go back to the battery, and keep your fins out of my room!'

tongues between your teeth. Understand."

"We understood. 'For five weeks afterwards our battery did nothing but extra fatigue. We were sent out so were the men. It was worth it to put one over on Old Pepper, to say nothing of the injury caused to Fritz's feelings."

"When Wilson had finished his story looked up and the figure was jammed. A military captain and two officers had also entered and stayed for the finish. Wilson spat out an enormous cloud of tobacco, looked up, saw the captain, and got as red as a carnation. The captain smiled and said, 'Wilson whispered to me: 'Blime me, Yank, I see where I click for execution. That captain is the same one that chucked us Goldfishes in his dugout and here I have been chiding me weight about in his hearing!'

Wilson never clicked his crucifixion. Quite a contrast to Wilson was another character in our brigade named Scott; we called him 'Old Scotty' on account of his age. He was fifty-seven, although looking forty. 'Old Scotty' had been born in the Northwest and had served in the Northwest Mounted police. He was a typical cowpuncher and Indian fighter and was a dead shot with the rifle, and took no pains to disguise this fact from us. He used to take care of his rifle as if it were a baby. In his spare moments you could always see him cleaning it or polishing the stock. We bet the man who by mistake happened to get hold of this rifle: he soon found out his error. Scott was as deaf as a mule, and it was amusing at parade to watch him in the manual of arms, slyly glancing out of the corner of his eye at the man next to him to see what the order was. How he passed the doctor was a mystery to us; he must have bluffed his way through, because he certainly was independent. Beside him stood a French of July looked like Good Friday. He wore at the time a large sombrero, had a Mexican stock saddle over his shoulder, a lariat on his arm, and a 'forty-five' hanging from his hip. Dumping this paraphernalia on the floor he went up to the recruiting officer and shouted: 'I'm from America, west of the Rockies, and want to join your d—n army. I've got no use for a German and can't see any sense in this war. You turned me down; said I was deaf and so I am. I don't hanker to ship in with a d—n mud-crunching outfit, but the cavalry's full, so I guess this regiment's better than none, so trot out your papers and I'll join 'em. He told them he was forty and shipped by, and was on recruiting service at the time he applied for enlistment."

It was Old Scotty's great ambition to be a sniper or 'body snatcher,' as Mr. Atkins calls it. The day that he was detailed as brigade sniper he celebrated his appointment by blowing the whole platoon to fragments."

Being a Yank, Old Scotty took a liking to an end and used to play some games with the platoon, and the whole platoon would drink these in and ask for more. Annals was a rookie compared with him."

The captain and discipline could not agree, but the officers all liked him, even if he was hard to manage, so when he was detailed as a sniper a sigh of relief went up from the officers' mess."

Old Scotty had the freedom of the brigade. He used to 'draw two or three days' rations and disappear with his glass, range finder and rifle, and we would see or hear no more of him until suddenly he would reappear with a couple of notches added to those already on the butt of his rifle. Every time he got a German it meant another notch. He was proud of these notches."

But after a few months Father Rheumatism got him and he was sent to Blighty; the air in the wake of his stretcher was blue with curses. Old Scotty surely could swear; some of his oaths actually burned you."

No doubt, at this writing, he is 'somewhere in Blighty' 'passing' fooding it on a bridge or along the wall of some munition plant with the 'G. R.' or Home Defense corps."

CHAPTER XVII

Out in Front.

After the Lieutenant Storer of our section came into the dugout and informed me that I was 'for' a reconnoitering patrol and would carry six Mills bombs."

At 11:30 that night twelve men, our lieutenant and myself, went out in front on a patrol in No Man's Land."

We cruised around in the dark for about two hours, just knocking about looking for trouble, on the lookout for Boche working parties to see what they were doing."

Around two in the morning we were carefully picking our way about thirty yards in front of the German barbed wire when we came into a Boche covering party, nearly thirty rifles. Then the music started; the leader rendered his bill, and we paid."

Fighting in the dark with a bayonet is not very pleasant. The Germans obeyed the man, but our officer was no notice at the game and didn't follow them. He gave the order 'down on the ground, hug it close.'"

Just in time, too, because a volley skimmed over our heads. Then in low tones we were told to separate and crawl back to our trenches, each man on his own."

We could see the flashes of their rifles in the darkness, but the bullets were going over our heads."

We lost three men killed and one wounded in the arm. If it hadn't been for our officers' quick thinking the whole patrol would have probably been wiped out."

After about twenty minutes wait we went out again and discovered that the Germans had a wiring party working on their barbed wire. We returned to our trenches unobserved with the information and our machine guns immediately got busy."

The next night four men were sent out to go over and examine the German barbed wire and see if they had cut lanes through it; if so, this presented an early morning attack on our trenches."

Of course I had to be one of the four selected for the job. It was just like sending a fellow to the undertaker's to order his own coffin."

At ten o'clock we started out, armed with three bombs, a bayonet and revolver. After getting into No Man's Land we separated. Crawling four or five feet at a time, ducking star shells, with strychn cracking overhead, I reached their wire. I scouted along this lock by lock, scarcely breathing. I could hear them talking in their trench, my heart was pounding against my ribs. One false move or the least noise from me meant discovery and almost certain death."

After covering my sector I quietly crawled back. I had gotten about half way when I noticed that my revolver was missing. It was pitch dark. I turned about to see if I could find it and it couldn't be far away, because about three or four minutes previously I had felt the butt in the holster. I crawled around in circles and at last found it, then started on my way back to our trenches, as I thought."

Pretty soon I reached barbed wire, and was just going to give the password when something told me not to. I put out my hand and touched one of the barbed wire shanks. It was iron. The British are of war metal; while the German are of iron. My heart stopped beating; by mistake I had crawled back to the German lines."

I turned slowly about and my tunic caught on the wire and made a loud ripping noise."

A sharp challenge rang out. I sprang to my feet, ducking low, and ran madly back toward our lines. The Germans started firing. The bullets were hitting all around me, when bang! I ran smash into our wire, and a sharp challenge. 'All, who comes there?' rang out. I gasped out the password, and groping my way through the lane in the wire, tearing my hands and uniform, I tumbled into our trench and was safe, but I was a nervous wreck for an hour, until a drink of rum brought me round."

OUR BOYS "OVER THERE" ENJOY TOASTED CIGARETTES

Through the patriotism of the citizens of this country, thousands of smoke kits are being distributed to American soldiers in France. Authorities agree that men in the trenches need cigarettes almost as much as food and munitions."

Doctors, nurses, and commanding officers all join in the demand which has awakened in this country a great movement to keep our boys supplied with smokes."

Millions of the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes are "going over" all the time. There's something about the idea of the toasted cigarette that appeals to the men who spend their time in cold, wet trenches and billets."

Then, too, the real Kentucky Burley tobacco of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette gives them the solid satisfaction of a pipe, with a lot less trouble."

Help The Freight Situation

There is a tremendous movement of freight on the railroads. War supplies are being transported in such vast quantities that congestion is bound to develop at terminal points.

Therefore, the Government has earnestly requested the public to postpone all "unnecessary traveling." It has said in very plain terms—"Please keep off the railroads."

By all means observe this request. Buy a reliable motor car—just such a car as the Paige, for instance—and use it, not only for side trips, but those longer journeys as well. Encourage the Touring Movement. It will help Uncle Sam and afford healthful relaxation for you and every member of your family.

Farm Wages in Missouri

The following is a clipping taken from the Agricultural Review and gives a comparison with the Idaho Farm Market scale:

"Farm wages in Missouri have advanced from $5 to $8 per month during the past year, according to the March report of Jewel Mayes, secretary of agriculture. Good farm hands now get around $30 per month with board and 40¢ per month without board, or an average. In some parts of the state the rate is $10 higher than these figures."

SOLDIER'S FURLOUGH

Farmers Must Make Application Through County Agent
Any farmer who wishes to secure the help of any particular soldier located at a training camp in this country is entitled to make application to the commander at that camp for the furlough of such soldier for a specified time.

In every county where there is a county agent it would be advisable for a farmer wanting the soldier's help to see his county agent, who will give him a blank to make the application on, and who can advise with him concerning the matter.
The farmer must take oath to a statement of facts concerning his need of help, among the facts being the following: Location of farm, name of owner or tenant, kind of farm, number of persons working on it, number of acres, approximate acreage of each crop planted for this year, number of horses, cattle, sheep and sheep, value of farm, value of last year's production, farm machinery in use, wages paid, availability of labor in the vicinity and the soldier's personal experiences in farming.
The application blank, after being filled out, must go to the local exemption board. After it has been passed upon by the board it is sent to the army camp. There the soldier whose furlough is applied for will sign the application, thereby indicating his willingness to serve on the farm in question. The application will then go to the commanding officer of the camp for approval or disapproval. If approved, the soldier will be sent at the time specified, and if approved in application will be returned to the farmer with the statement of reasons for disapproval.

The war department announces that it will not allow the furlough system to interfere with army training. No soldier will be furloughed whose furlough would result, and any soldier who is furloughed is subject to instant recall to the army camp if needed. A soldier already in France, en route to France, or on his way to port for sailing to France is not subject to furlough.

If a farmer wishes to secure the services of more than one soldier, he may do so if he is within 24 hours' travel. That is, two men may be secured from Fort Douglas, Utah, but only one from Camp Lewis, by one farmer.

Directions for Dipping Potatoes

There are two materials commonly used for dipping seed potatoes in formaldehyde and corrosive sublimate. The latter is the best because formaldehyde does not control rhizoctonia, which corrosive sublimate will, in addition to which, therefore only corrosive sublimate should be used and directions for using it are as follows:

Prepare the solution by dissolving 4 ounces of corrosive sublimate in a quart of hot water. Hot water makes it dissolve more rapidly. When it is completely dissolved add water to make 10 gallons. Powdered or crystalline corrosive sublimate is best and can be secured from any drug store.

Do not use metal vessels or containers since the solution corrodes metals and rapidly loses strength. Barrels, wooden tubs or concrete vats may be used. It is a deadly poison and must be kept away from children and animals. It will injure the hands. Treated seed is poisonous and must not be fed to stock or eaten.

After sorting and cleaning, place the seed tubers in sacks or crates and submerge in the solution or merely pour them into the solution for about an hour and a half. Remove and drain the sacks or spread the seed to dry, after which it may be sent. Prepare a fresh solution after dipping four batches as it loses strength through use. If the potatoes are to be "greened" before planting this should be done after treatment, otherwise the sprouts would all be killed or otherwise greatly injured.

How to Increase Your Potato Yield
It has been known for some time that various diseases of potatoes play a very large part in the reduction of yields and the quality of the tubers. The farmers of Twin Falls county who are growing potatoes must take such diseases as fusarium wilt and rhizoctonia into serious consideration of potato cultivation. Confer with the county agent and make arrangements to have the off type plants taken out during the growing season. If these precautions are followed and your yield is free from disease this fall you can have your potatoes certified.

To entirely control all the diseases which affect the productiveness and quality of the potatoes, it will be necessary:

First: To grow a pure seed plot that is certified to be free from one of the diseases. The plot should be clean ground, preferably old alfalfa; the seed should be true to type, clean and free as possible from scab and rhizoctonia. Dip the seed in corrosive sublimate solution. Confer with the county agent and make arrangements to have the off type plants taken out during the growing season. If these precautions are followed and your yield is free from disease this fall you can have your potatoes certified.

Second: See that potatoes are not grown on the same ground oftener than 3 or 4 years. A number of diseases remain alive in the soil from year to year and rotting the crops will tend to prevent disease.

Third: Practice careful seed selection to avoid the so-called tuber-borne diseases, such as fusarium wilt, blackleg, blight and inherited weaknesses which reduce the yield, quality and keeping qualities.

Fourth: Dip the seed, preferably in corrosive sublimate, to avoid the introduction of rhizoctonia, scab, etc., in the field.

Fifth: Spray the vines with Bordeaux mixture to hold in check the early and late blights, which are successfully prevented in no other way.
Sixth: Store the crop in cool, dry, well ventilated cellar, in order that the serious storage rot may be held in check.

WHEAT HAS EMBARKED FOR FOREIGN SERVICE; POTATOES THE HOME GUARD

COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT DISCUSSES RELATIVE VALUES OF FOOD AND URGES PATRIOTIC NECESSITY FOR ADVANCED CONSERVATION

We have not enough wheat for our allies and ourselves, says Miss Gertrude Dencke, county home demonstration agent, outlining the relative food values of potatoes and wheat, and urging the patriotic necessity for increased use of potatoes in order that the necessary saving of wheat may result.
The situation, in brief, is this, Miss Dencke says: We have not enough wheat for our allies and ourselves. We have an abundance of potatoes—an estimate of 50,000,000 bushels over normal times.
If we are to win this war the allies must have wheat. The potato cannot quite come up to wheat in food value but it does come about as close to taking the place of wheat as any other food. Therefore, by eating potatoes we can save wheat for the allies.

Energy Value of Potatoes
One medium sized potato (8 1/2 oz.) equals one slice of Victory bread (2 oz.).

Mineral Value of Potatoes
For two cents you can get more mineral matter in potatoes than in bread. Potatoes cannot be shipped.

One pound of wheat equals in energy value four pounds of potatoes. We cannot ship the latter "over there" but we can ship the former. Germany consumes per capita weekly

Ques. Why aren't some of the surplus potatoes shipped abroad?

Ans. The shipping facilities are so limited that it is impossible because of their bulk; also potatoes do not keep as well as grain. Potatoes are not needed so much for the allies as wheat, meat and fats. It is our privilege, therefore, to use the potatoes here and release more wheat for the army and the allies.

Ques. How much wheat can we eat?

Ans. It is very true that we are allowed to purchase fifty pounds of wheat with fifty pounds of substitutes. However, even that is a lot, and it is required of us. The food administration's regulations say that for a man doing heavy labor three pounds a week is the limit, and for the man doing sedentary work one and a half pounds per week is the weekly allowance. From this we can figure the weekly supply for our family.

For a woman, man, two children, a twenty-four pound sack a month would be the supply. This is the maximum amount and anyone who exceeds this is violating the law. A thirty day supply is all that can be on hand at a time for those who live in the country, even for those people who take their wheat to the mill to be ground.

Ques. Can we do it? That anyone who wants to do it must sign an affidavit stating that they will purchase and use fifty percent substitutes. In this matter let us know the rules and then play fair. What's the law? It is required of us who is not doing the government's duty? That's the law. This is a time when we are our brothers' keepers. We must see that brotherhood across the sea, and here we have their share. What we do

URGE FARMERS TO PREARE TO STORE GRAIN

FARM BUREAU TAKES ACTION TO MEET PROBLEM RESULTING FROM THE INCREASED ACREAGE

Increase by 30,000 acres of the plantings of wheat in Twin Falls county, which were 60,216 acres in 1917, and which will be 90,324 acres this year, coupled with difficulties in crop marketing consequent upon the demand of war upon traffic facilities, involve problems of marketing and storage which the county farm bureau executive committee is undertaking to cope with by advising growers to provide their own granaries and storage accommodations.

To Address Growers
At its meeting Saturday afternoon, the committee took steps toward interesting growers in this respect. The issuance of a circular letter setting forth the conditions that probably will exist and urging the necessity for storage of the grain crops on the farms where they are produced was authorized by the committee, and preliminary arrangements were made for exhibiting in the farm bureau office plans of the recommended type of granaries that are recommended, as well as for organizing excursions of growers for the purpose of inspecting granaries already installed and in use in this district.

The statement of Lee S. Fishary of Boise, director of agricultural extension work in Idaho, was considered by the committee in arriving at its conclusions with regard to the grain marketing and storage problems in prospect. In his letter addressed to the county agent, Mr. Fishary says:

Storage Facilities Indispensable

"In all of the irrigated districts of southern Idaho, the increase in wheat acreage for this season in comparison with last is from 75 to 100 per cent. With even a moderate crop the warehouse, elevators and mills will not be able to handle the grain without a great deal of difficulty. Many of the farmers will have to hold all or part of their supply over the winter, and for this reason should make provision at this time."

"Since the government has fixed the price of wheat, it will be only natural that farmers will want to rush it to the elevators at mills at the earliest possible moment in order to get their money. Unless there is some provision made for farm storage there will be a large quantity of wheat without any shelter during the winter of 1918-19."

Sack Situation Serious

"Just at present the sack situation is very serious. As you probably know the federal grain corporation has established a differential of nine cents per bushel in favor of sacked grain. Many of the farmers have taken this to indicate that the federal government has given a supply of sacks. At the present time, however, we are short more than 8,000,000 sacks in the Pacific northwest states without any relief in sight."

"DOG" HAS BRASSY ROLE IN "HEADLIN' SOUTH"

The scenario for "Headlin' South," Douglas Fairbanks' picture at the Idaho the next three nights, was written by Chief Director Allan Dwan and given Mr. Fairbanks a role in which he does his utmost to outdo the stars that made his recent picture, "The Man from Palatka Port," somewhat of a novelty from an anecdotal standpoint. The story carries the actors over a wide range of territory, from Canada to Mexico, and presents a vast variety of scenery, including snow-capped mountains, forest wildernesses, the western plains and the blazing desert.

Catherine MacDonald makes her first appearance opposite Douglas Fairbanks in this picture. She recently completed a picture with Charles Ray, "The Face of Fear." The story is an O. Henry twist at the end, which is not being divulged.

Two of the biggest scenes in the picture were villages which were specially constructed for the Mexican border and in which the depredations of the bandits are pictured.

Hudelson in her petition for divorce filed in district court here Thursday by her attorneys, North & Stephens. The Hudelsons were married in October, 1917, at Placerville, Michigan. Bertha, the plaintiff, alleges, Hudelson, threatened to whip her 14-year-old daughter, and threatened to chastise and curse all of her children. A month later, according to the petition, Hudelson concluded that his wife was a mistake and he wrote to his wife's uncle inviting him to provide a home for Mrs. Hudelson and her children.

pounds additional for good measure. There is every reason to believe that there will be later calls for clothing for the refugees, and that bedding especially will be required, she stated.

Twin Falls Branch

Mrs. F. F. Bracken was introduced as the chairman of the newly organized Twin Falls branch, and Mrs. F. W. McRoberts, second vice president of the chapter, explained the relationship of the Twin Falls branch to the chapter, stating that the former organization is on a parity with other branches subordinate to the chapter. The Twin Falls chapter, she announced, will shortly open its headquarters in the Parish hall, while the Twin Falls branch will maintain its offices in the basement of the Methodist church.

Honor Roll Requirements

In explanation of the rigid requirements with regard to knitting, Mrs. Edwards read a letter from division headquarters which concluded with the statement that as the Twin Falls County chapter is one of the leading chapters in the state it is expected that it will soon be on the honor roll, which means that the knitting sent in conforms so closely to the regulations that it needs no inspection.
