

CHILDREN IN WAR STAMP SALE

TOTAL RECEIPTS OF $218 FROM SALE CONDUCTED IN THREE TWIN FALLS SCHOOLS

The total of $218.08 realized from the Thrift Stamp campaign conducted in the grade schools of the city on Thursday afternoon by Superintendent Hal G. Egan, M. A. Strunk, W. F. Graham and A. Gilbert, county war savings stamp director, far exceeded the expectations of the promoters.

The Washington school, which has seven rooms and 300 children, bought 384 stamps and fifteen baby bonds, a total of $103.40, averaging $21.91 per room.

At the Lincoln school, which has seven rooms and 288 children, 741 Thrift stamps and forty-two baby bonds were purchased; a total of $53.97, making an average of $21.10 per room.

The Bicket school, which has seven rooms and 334 pupils, has seven rooms and 334 pupils. The Bicket school celebrated by having a group picture taken and from all reports every "kiddie" registered a Twin Falls smile.

Preparations in Evidence

"Preparations" appeared to have been instituted in every little building at noon the small patriotic filled into classrooms with various amounts clutched tightly in their hands.

One little lad boasted the sum of ten dollars to swell the total for his building and another cautiously whispered before-hand that he had a "nigger" for "nigger babies for a week." A quarter was his contribution.

From first grade to eighth, every lad and lassie faced the problem squarely and sacrificed many a childish desire to be a giver.

WEATHER FAVORABLE TO ALL FARM WORK

FRUIT PROSPECTS SUFFER AS RESULT OF FROSTY NIGHTS, GOVERNMENT OBSERVER REPORTS

The weather of the past week has been very favorable for all farm work, which is uniformly well ahead for the season in all sections, says Clifton E. Norquist, meteorologist, in a summary of weather and crop conditions in Idaho for the week ending Tuesday, April 30. Seeding is about completed in all but the later districts. Cultivation of orchards is under way, where clean cultivation is practiced, and orchards sown to alfalfa or clover are being irrigated, as are also pastures and meadows. The weather was not so favorable for the growth of vegetation, the cold frosty nights and windy days affording poor growing conditions.

Winter wheat and rye look well. Wheat is growing in good shape. Spring sown grains are coming nicely. Growth is slow on account of cold, but the plants are rooting well.

Meadows and pastures continue in excellent condition, although rain and warmer weather are needed to promote rapid growth. Range forage is ample for present needs and all stock are improving in condition. Cattle are beginning to shed. Calves and lambs are doing well.

The weather was particularly unfavorable for fruit. Apples are coming into bloom slowly, being retarded somewhat by frosty nights. Prunes are dropping their petals. Apples, prunes and cherries were badly injured by heavy frosts, which occurred quite generally in all the fruit districts of the Snake River Valley, but the damage seems most severe in the Payette, Namsen and Caldwell districts, where apples especially were hard hit.

A large acreage of new gardens and truck land is now in readiness for planting as soon as weather conditions are favorable. Beet seed planting is under way in Jerome, Oakley, and Pocatello districts, and is more than half finished in the Blackfoot and Idaho Falls districts. Rain is needed to start germination.

REMOVED OF COMMAND

COLONEL EDDELBUTE OF IDAHO BOYS' LIFE TRAINING CAMP HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER BRANCH

Colonel W. H. Edelbute, of Bath, Idaho, has been relieved of the command of the One Hundred Forty-sixth regiment of field artillery, American Expeditionary Forces in France, according to word received here Saturday by Mrs. McRoberts from her husband, Captain F. W. McRoberts, commander of headquarters company of that regiment. Captain McRoberts writes under date of April 14. He was with his company at that time having spent several weeks as a student and later as an instructor at an officers training camp in France.

The retirement of Colonel Edelbute, Captain McRoberts states as an indication that the Idaho boys will be still being trained in the United States. He says that he has an assurance himself of remaining with headquarters company, which is composed largely of Twin Falls men, and that the relatives of the boys will be glad to have their sons in the service. He says that he has an assurance himself of remaining with headquarters company, which is composed largely of Twin Falls men, and that the relatives of the boys will be glad to have their sons in the service.

"We are certainly proud of Twin Falls and the way in which she is responding to the call made upon her for support in carrying on the war," Captain McRoberts writes. "It helps us more than may be generally understood to know someone there who is back of us."

Colonel Edelbute was commander of the Idaho regiment when that organization was in the federal service on the Mexican border in 1916. He continued in command of the regiment until it was split last fall prior to embarkation, into three component parts of other regiments of the First Army division, at which time he was placed in command of the One Hundred Forty-sixth regiment of artillery. No reason is given by Captain McRoberts for Colonel Edelbute's being relieved of the command of the regiment, but he has been transferred to another branch of the service. He is a civil engineer in civilian life.

PRINT WASHING TANK OVERFLOW DAMAGES

FLOOD FROM WYBLE PHOTOGRAPHIC LABORATORY SWEEPS THROUGH ROOMS BELOW

Water overflowing from a tank in which prints were being washed in the laboratory of the Weyle photographic studio on the third floor of the McCornick building early Sunday morning leaked through the floor, damaging furniture in rooms leased by Mrs. Margaret C. Green and about $800 worth of kid gloves, silk and shoes in the stock of the Bath Mercantile company, besides removing considerable portions of the plaster on ceilings on the two floors below.

The water was allowed to run over night. One of the prints clogged in the outlet to the tank. The mishap was not discovered until the water had reached the basement of the building. Mrs. Green called the sheriff's office at about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, asking that Weyle's automobile be attached to guarantee payment for damage resulting from the overflow.

PEERLESS

Ready to Romp

An athletic, light-hearted frolic! That's what the Peerless Eight makes of the ordinary day's work of utility driving.

The easy, easy flow of eighty horsepower makes it a romp.

Would you crawl at a snail's pace behind congested traffic? You may do so with ease and smoothness.

Does the traffic open up? The advance gets you for you have the "pick-up" to leave the cars about you as though they were stalled.

And the limit of speed for the open streets is a romp for your eighty horsepower.

And you waste not at all.

For all this is done in your "loafing" range of power—on half rations.

Many a lesser powered six—even many a four—would starve on the fuel that carries your Peerless romping through the day's work.

Ready to Race

But not every day is a work day. With your Peerless you sacrifice none of the holiday joys you are equally as ready to race as to romp—you have your "sporting" range.

You may master the road whatever the adverse conditions; you may make Time Laugh at Distance.

You have only to open your throttle wider to release her double poppets and utterly change the character of her performance.

Come now the soft flow of eighty horsepower "loafing"—as you reach her "sporting" range there comes a deep growl of brute power, all-conquering.

In her "sporting" range she is as mighty as she was gentle in her "loafing" range.

Let us show you the joy of these startling contrasts in performance—and the practical economy gained without sacrifice.

BOY SCOUTS TO GET "DUMMY" RIFLES

NECESSARY ADJUSTMENTS TO MILITARY DRILL PROVIDED FOR BY POPULAR SUBSCRIPTION

Orders were placed Thursday for 100 wooden rifles to be used by Boy Scouts and students of the Twin Falls high school in military drill under direction of Sergeant W. E. McCracken, in charge of the local marine corps recruiting station. The fund for this purpose was raised by subscription among the business men, the initiative in the matter being taken by V. H. Decker, president of the board of education, Sergeant McCracken and A. Gilbert. It is expected that the "dummy" rifles will be received in time for their use by the Scouts and students in connection with the Memorial Day observance on May 30.

The rifles ordered closely resemble the military rifle in size and appearance. It is of the type used by Indian military organizations throughout the country, and that has been used in regular army training camps where the military rifle has not been available. It weighs about 3 pounds, whereas the military rifle weighs approximately 10 pounds. It is not equipped with bayonet, but is fitted with the screw by which stacks may be formed.

OSTRANDER & COMPANY

"FURNITURE THAT FURNISHES"

A CONCRETE EXAMPLE

Here is a concrete example of what exactly constitutes a violation of the espionage law. Otto Jensen, manager of the Journal Iron Works, Oakland, California, pleaded guilty to a charge of espionage. Among other things Jensen said President Wilson should be shot for having declared a state of war against Germany; that his own sympathies are with Germany and that he would not fight for the United States; that he hoped every Yankee who goes to France to fight for the Allies is shot. The ideas of the average man are so vague as to just what does and what does not constitute a violation of law in this respect that the evidence in this case is interesting. There is no question but that there are a lot of Yankees in the country but the trouble is to prove it. Hence our anti-German sympathizers agree heartily with Mr. Jensen and they are too smart to say so.

REASONING FOR MOTIVES

Germany is boasting about its success in the campaign upon some more or less plausible explanation of the honor conferred by British troops upon the body of the late Captain Selton Von Richthofen whose funeral was held back of the British lines a week or ten days ago. One writer says the whole thing is simply advertising. Self laudation of imaginary virtues by way of camouflage. He is willing to give credit for honest admiration on the part of the British troops for the virtues of a man who, while an enemy, was yet entitled to the honor conferred.

Not that the German mind is unable to comprehend such conduct, not at all, merely because the Imperial government cannot afford to take chances with the tiniest germ of sympathy thought loose among the rank and file of the German people. Anything to fan the flames of hatred but never a word which might serve to in any manner diminish the feeling Germany has been at such pains to build up.

OPTIMISM

General Foch is optimistic, declares a news dispatch from Paris. In fighting the battle of the fact it is well to remember that Foch has never before so expressed himself. That in fact he is not a man given to expressions of any kind along the lines of war activity. If he really feels that there is no element of discouragement for the Allies in the outlook it is the best of all auguries for the future. All in all, there is ground for the belief that Foch has a right to feel optimistic. Germany is strained to the breaking point or almost of that there can be no doubt. The Allied troops are battered and war worn but fired with the consciousness of good work well done, coupled with the inspiration which comes of a just cause and a worthy motive.

NEVER PUT OFF

That the present shortage in iron and steel will be reflected in the stove and range situation before the year is over is definitely foreshadowed by existing conditions. This is a part of the general shortage which the small consumer will be called upon to face in various lines and which will permeate to the lowest strata of society. Many manufacturers are urging dealers to protect their customers in the only way possible, by advising them of the possibilities of shortage and the consequent increase in prices when the goods are to be had at all.

PROPER FOOD FOR WEAK STOMACHS

The proper food for one man may be all wrong for another. Every one should be alert for the signs of weak stomach action. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel full and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.

FARM AFFAIRS

There is now very little room for doubt but that the addition bill, so named by the Senate by a heavy majority last Saturday, will finally meet with the approval of the House. It is now the law. It is the duty of the Senators to to invade the right of free speech are those who would employ it as a shield for a course of action which would not be tolerated for a minute on any other excuse on earth.

A SPECTACULAR RESULT

It is estimated that fully twenty million persons are now the owners of Liberty Bonds of the third series. The figure constitutes a magnificent tribute to American citizenship. It means, roughly, that one man, woman or child in every five is a subscriber. Eliminating the children and minors it amounts to very nearly every second person in the country owning a Liberty Bond. This is precisely the sort of result the government hoped for. A popular subscription, with the bonds spread thickly over the entire body of the nation. There is strength and unity in a result such as this and gratifying evidence of public confidence.

Germany's offensive has indeed slowed down. They haven't shelled a church, bombed a school, fired on a hospital ship or murdered a child in over a week.

An eastern newspaper says that nearly a thousand members of the German nobility have been killed in the war. The world is that much safer for democracy anyway.

TAKES DEATH CLAIM TO SUPREME COURT

ATTORNEY JAMES H. WISE REPRESENTS HEIRS OF HARRY M. KING, KILLED FIVE YEARS AGO

Claim of the heirs of Harry M. King, a politician, who was killed at Bull May 6, 1913, for damages from the successors in interest of the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power company, employers of the deceased, will be presented to the United States supreme court this week by Attorney James H. Wise of Twin Falls, who appears in this case for Carl J. Hahn, administrator of King's estate.

Mr. Wise left for Washington on Sunday morning and will be away for about 10 days. The case was instituted in district court here, and upon application of the defendant for change of venue, was transferred to the federal court. Arguments on the part of the plaintiff to establish his priority of his claim over those of other creditors of the defendant corporation were sustained in both the federal district court and circuit court of appeal. The case goes to the supreme court upon application of the defendant for writ of certiorari.

First Wife Eliminated. The heirs of Harry M. King are his widow and two minor children residing in Denver. In the course of the hearing in the federal district court in Boise the claim of a divorced wife of King was denied.

Alexander does not recall answering the alarm. Associates noticed that he appeared groggy when he took his place on the engine.

PAIGE
The Most Beautiful Car in America

The Car of Your Choice

It is a well known fact that a shortage of motor cars is inevitable. Already there have been substantial curtailments in production and the freight situation has made deliveries extremely difficult. So now is the time of all times to buy the car of your choice. If you put the matter off too long you may have to compromise on "any car" that is available. And that is never a very satisfactory way to solve your automobile problem.

If you are like the average intelligent American, you have already decided what car you prefer and can afford to purchase. Quite naturally, we hope that your choice has been a Paige. But, at any rate, be sure to buy the car that you believe in—and buy it immediately.

In the field of mechanical products, the Paige nameplate stands as an unquestioned guarantee of honest manufacturing and fair dealing. It is a hall mark of quality—a symbol of our obligation and the confidence and respect which our product enjoys.

We ask you to buy that nameplate—rather than four wheels, and a painted body. We ask you to buy a reputation that has endured through many fitful periods in the motor car industry—a reputation that will endure so long as Paige cars are made for and sold to the American people.

RED CROSS

Edited by Twin Falls Chapter

CHAPTER OFFICERS ATTEND MEETING

Those at the head of the county supply rooms in the Parish hall are in need of a large table (a dining table would answer the purpose) and chairs. Will any one having any of these articles that they would care to loan or donate to this department, phone headquarters, No. 950, and they will be called for!

RED CROSS WAR FUND ORGANIZATION FORMED

The Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter is represented at the northwestern divisional institute for Red Cross workers at Seattle beginning on Thursday next by the following from among its officers, who left with Stuart H. Taylor, district war fund drive manager, for Seattle Saturday evening: Mrs. E. K. MacVicar, secretary; Mrs. W. P. Edwards, chairman of the war relief department, and J. G. Bradley, treasurer.

Mr. Taylor will confer for a time with the divisional manager for the war fund drive which is to begin on May 20. The institute will be held in the Buildings of the University of Washington, which have been turned over to the Red Cross society for that purpose. It will be in charge of most competent instructors in the several phases of the Red Cross activities.

Mrs. Edwards will enroll in a course of instruction in the making of surgical dressings according to the new requirements, to the end that Red Cross workers in this county may have, through her experience, the advantage of most thorough instruction.

Mrs. MacVicar will devote her time at the institute particularly to the organization phases of the work, while Mr. Bradley will familiarize himself with the systems of finance and accounting adopted by the society.

Will all graduate nurses in the county, who are eligible and willing to qualify as Red Cross instructors in "Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick," report at an early date, either in person or by telephone, to Dr. Emma O. Crossland, chairman of the committee on nursing service of the Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter? The need for such instruction is very urgent and it is earnestly requested that all who can do so will respond promptly to this call.

There will be an entertainment at the Idaho theatre Friday, May 10, given by the children of the Washington school. Tickets will be 25 cents and the proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

The Wednesday Bridge club has made and donated to the surgical dressing department twelve aprons to be used for this work.

The pupils of Miss Fraser, Lincoln school, presented the Red Cross with a Baby Bond this week. Margaret McAttee and Mary Hughes brought the donation to headquarters.

The Meaning of Our Red Cross
 The red in our cross stands for sacrifice, for giving life, as the warm crimson blood gives life to the body. The cross has the same length on all four sides of its arms, to signify that it gives life equally to all, high or low, east or west. It stands alone, always, no words or markings on it to show that the Red Cross workers have only one thought—to serve. They ask no questions, they care not whether the wounded be ours or of another people's—their duty is to give, and to give quickly. The Red Cross stands on a white ground because real sacrifice can come from a pure heart only.

Delegates from the Twin Falls chapter have been sent to the institute at Seattle this week by Stuart Taylor, chairman of the war fund drive, Mrs. MacVicar, secretary of the chapter, and Mrs. Edwards, head of the woman's bureau, will represent the Twin Falls County chapter. While there Mrs. Edwards will take a course in the new surgical dressings. The northwestern division has been given an allotment of 500,000 moss surgical pads of the new type to be made as rapidly as possible. In Pacific county, Washington, the supply of this material is practically inexhaustible and the citizens of this county have pledged themselves to gather such quantity of moss as may be needed up to twenty car loads or more.

To two Cincinnati sisters belongs the distinction of having knit, during their spare time, 170 pairs of woolen socks for the boys "over there." Their work is particularly interesting because it is done on an old fashioned knitting machine resurrected from the attic after 20 years of disuse. With it they turn out a pair of man's socks in 47 minutes.

Home Service
 Home service is the work of helping such families to solve the problems confronting them, and of aiding them to adapt themselves to the exigencies of war time. Later when the soldiers and sailors begin to come back from the front there will be an additional service of fitting disabled men for their old occupations or for new ones.

Home service applies to the families of men in all branches of the service. The frequent and severe separations from the front lines of the Red Cross is the home service of helping families

WORK OF PUPILS ON EXHIBITION

ANNUAL VOCATIONAL EXHIBIT IN HIGH SCHOOL REDOUNDS TO CREDIT OF ALL CONCERNED

The vocational exhibit held at the high school Friday afternoon and evening was a credit to the pupils and instructors.

Hundreds of parents and friends viewed the handiwork of the orchestra under direction of E. G. Lindner, which entertained in the auditorium during the afternoon. The band gave a concert during the evening in the same room.

Dinner Table Figures

The domestic science department, under the supervision of Miss Young, of the cooking department, and Miss Greenleaf of the sewing department, demonstrated some very practical lessons, well learned. Both the sewing and cooking exhibits were large and minute in detail. A perfectly laid dinner table was placed in the center of the kitchen, directed by the expert hands of the delectable dishes of every description were grouped. Much of this exhibit was sold to the public.

The well made garments which hung in gorgeous array about the walls of the cafeteria bore evidence of a great deal of originality on the part of the seamstresses.

Developing Experts

F. A. Smutt had charge of the manual arts room, which boasted many a neat piece of furniture made entirely by hand. The training received here is of unbounded value and many of the boys are becoming experts in the art.

Social science work was displayed under M. C. Mitchell's supervision very creditably.

Latin and French books and compositions under Miss Goebel's care made an interesting spot in the library, as did the English work under Miss Johnson. Both exhibits brought to light some unique ideas.

Business Methods Prominent

The commercial department under Miss Schorn and M. S. Hoover emphasized the fact that business methods still hold a prominent place in the high school.

WITHE TRUCKS AT BUHL

During last week the four trucks of the Buhl highway district were hauling gravel on the second mile road south of the southwest corner of the Buhl townsite, a distance of three and three-fourth miles from the gravel pit, says the Buhl Herald. This mile of road was previously crowned with a layer of crushed lava rock, five inches in thickness, and the gravel is placed upon the lava to a thickness of four inches.

The trucks are making from three to four loads each day, and in three days this week built a quarter of a mile of road. That is, they surfaced it with a four inch layer of gravel.

PIONEERS ENTERTAIN AT OLD TIME DINNER

BOOK CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. H. Strickler entertained the family and relatives at a genuine old time dinner Sunday. The dinner hour was set at one o'clock as in the olden days and after the dinner the party was loaded into the big truck for a short ride. The ride over, the party returned to the house and the remainder of the all too short day was spent in singing the songs which they sang 40 years ago, after which a lunch was served and the party broke up. As in the old days when they were young, Mr. and Mrs. Strickler are noted for their hospitality and it was with reluctance that the guests departed for their homes at a late hour.

Beside the members of the family residing at home, those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hansen, Mrs. Ellen Olse and Miss Ruby Olse, all of Twin Falls, and Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Brose, Walter Brose, Bernard Stricker, Wm. Haynes, Miss Helen Brose and Tom Haynes.

PLAN PUBLICATION OF WAR TIME COOK BOOK

A plan is under way to publish a "Twin Falls County Cook Book" containing "tried and true" war time recipes made wholly of substitutes. Names of the donors will be attached. The idea also involves a "100 per cent Substitute Club" which is just a suggestion as yet but will work out splendidly. Those interested in these substitutes in the city have learned that for the next ten days at the Overbye hotel in Boise has been using 100 per cent substitute with good results.

ANNOUNCES NEW MEATLESS PROGRAM

FURTHER ECONOMY AND ELIMINATION OF WASTE WILL MAINTAIN BALANCE

BOISE—May 2.—Food Administrator E. E. Kinnell has been directed by Herbert Hoover to make the following announcement concerning a new meatless program:

"The food administration is extremely desirous of securing economy in consumption of all kinds of meats without the installation of meatless days for the present. The seasonal decline in volume of animals coming to market is now in progress and its volume will undoubtedly further decrease during the next few months as is usual, but the probable amount of such decrease is not ascertainable."

"The necessities for shipment abroad to our army and allies are very large and amount to roughly seventy-five million pounds of meat and meat products of all kinds per week against pre-war needs of less than fifteen million pounds."

"Even with these large shipments the allies have found it necessary to reduce consumption of all kinds of meats and poultry to an average of about one and one-quarter pounds per week per person in order that no further draft, should be made upon shipping that is now required for the transportation of our soldiers."

"Our consumption of meats is about three and one-quarter pounds per week per person and if we are to make both ends balance during the short marketing season we must have further economy."

"If the public will continue in rigorous elimination of waste and will further economize by reducing the quantity prepared for each meal of all kinds of meat and poultry, most particularly of beef, and will restrict its purchases accordingly, the food administration hopes that the necessary balance can be maintained."

A general adherence to these recommendations will avoid the inconvenience which arises in many directions from meatless days and will cause less interference in daily preparation of food.

MARGUERITE CLARK IN "THE SEVEN SWANS"--A WONDER STORY YOU'LL LIKE

A Picture That'll Stir Up Memories of Other Days and Make You Wish It would Never End -- Vaudeville

AT THE IDAHO THEATRE
THREE DAYS COMMENCING TODAY

Did you see Marguerite Clark in her charming Christmas picture called "SNOW WHITE" last year? If so, you know it was one of the most famous pictures of screen history; but if not, you will have the opportunity of seeing her in another fairy story of equal charm called "THE SEVEN SWANS" at the Idaho theatre.

LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE

Miss Clark has decided to make one picture each year for the holidays, including, she says, those from 7 to 77, and all others who have not grown old and hard at heart. Even the tired business man is delighted to relax once in a while and enjoy a thoroughly impressive bit of fairy tale lore. Witches, hobgoblins, swan-stadmas and moon fairies have all been woven into this story with exquisite charm.

THE STORY

In this picture, Miss Clark knits 7 shirts for her 7 brothers, and after she had worn out her patience and fingers, Prince Charming carried her off in triumph to his palace, where they lived in great splendor until a wicked queen became jealous and—But we will leave the rest of the story for you to see.

Kendall, a member of the hospital detachment of the One Hundred Forty-second regiment of field artillery in France, under date of April 14, writes that he has been promoted twice within one month, being advanced first to the position of sergeant and later to the position of quartermaster sergeant for his detachment.

Employment Office Open—G. S. McGee, Twin Falls district labor examiner for the employment service in connection with the United States department of labor, has opened offices in room 56 on the second floor of the Baugh building at the corner of Main avenue and Shoshone street north, where he is equipped to respond to the needs both of employers and those seeking employment in every field of endeavor.

Mr. McQuire, whose business interests at Tremonton include a newspaper plant and a picture show, has picked out Twin Falls as his future home, particularly because of its school facilities, and it is with the object of moving his family there that he has interested himself in Twin Falls property.

Johns Recruiting Party—Private Charles B. Frith of the Salt Lake United States army recruiting station, arrived here Tuesday to be associated with Sergeant Leonard Trimley and Corporal C. McGee, the third member of the local recruiting party. CHAPTER XVII.

Staged Under Fire.

Three days after the incident just related our company was relieved from the front line and carried. We stayed in reserve billets for about two weeks when we received the systems down that our division would be back of the line "to rest billets." We would remain in these billets for at least two months, this in order to be restored to our full strength by drafts of recruits from Blighty.

Everyone was happy and contented at these billets; all you could hear around the billets was whistling and singing. The day after the receipt of the order we had for five days, making an average of about twelve kilometers they will be written at the small town of O.

It took us about three days to get settled, and from then on our camp time started. We would parade from 8:45 in the morning until 12 noon. These parades for an occasional day or brigade guard we were on our own. For the first four or five afternoons I spent my time in writing up to date my neglected correspondence.

Tommy loves to be amused, and being a rank, they turned to making something new in the line. I taught them how to pitch horseshoes, and this game made a great hit for about ten days. Then Tommy turned to America for a new diversion. I was up in the air until a happy thought came to me. Why not write a sketch and break Tommy in as an actor?

One evening after "lights out," when you are not supposed to talk, I imparted my scheme in whispers to the section. They eagerly accepted the idea of forming a stock company and could hardly wait until the morning for further details.

After parade, the next afternoon I was almost mobbed. Everyone in the section wanted a part in the proposed sketch. When I informed them that it would take at least ten days of hard work to write the sketch, they abruptly disappeared. I immediately got busy made a desk out of biscuit tins in the corner of the billet, and put up a sign "Empey & Wallace Theatrical Co."

About five that night they returned covered with grime and dust, but loaded down with a miscellaneous assortment of everything under the sun. They must have thought that I was going to start a department store, judging from the different things they brought back from their pillage.

saloon, and the audience got its first shock. The saloon looks like a pigpen, two stumps lying dead on the floor, and the bartender in a dirty shirt with his sleeves rolled up, asleep with his head on the bar.

Enter Abe, Bambo and They, and the fun commences.

One of the characters in the second act was named Broadway Kate, and I had an awful job to break in one of the Tommies to act and talk like a woman.

Another character was Alkali Ike, an Arizona cowboy who just before the close of the play comes into the saloon and wrecks it with his revolver.

Preparing the "Chow."

themselves "The Bow Balls," and put on a sketch entitled, "Blighty—What Hopes?" They were the divisional concert party.

We hoped they all would be soon in Blighty to give us a chance. This company charged an admission of a franc per head, and that night our company went en masse to see their performance. It really was good.

I had a sinking sensation when I thought of running my sketch in opposition to it.

In one of their scenes they had a cobbler called Floasie. The soldier that took this part was clever, and I made a few-appearing and chic girl.

As our section passed her I yelled out: "Hello, Floasie; Blighty—What Hopes?" Her reply made our love die out instantly.

CHAPTER XVIII.

At 5:15 there was a mob in front of our entrance and it looked like a fighting line. We had just been commencing our people, and these we immediately add out. From a brilliant idea came to Dixy Odomas. Why not use the rafter overhead, call them boxes, and charge two francs for a seat on them? The only difficulty was how were the men to reach these boxes, but to Dixy this was a mere technicality.

He got long ropes and tied one end around each rafter, and then tied a lot of knots in the ropes. These ropes would take the place of stairways.

We figured out that the rafter would seat about forty men, and that that number of tickets accordingly.

When the ticketholders for the benefit got a glimpse of the rafter and were informed that they had to use the rope stairway, there was a howl of indignation, but we had their money and told them that if they did not like it they could write to the management later and their money would be refunded; but under these conditions they would not be allowed to witness the performance that night.

After a little grumbling they accepted the situation with the promise that if the show was rotten they certainly would let us know about it during the performance.

Everything went lovely and it was a howling success, until Alkali Ike appeared on the scene with his revolver loaded with blank cartridges. Behind the bar on a shelf was a long line of bottles. Alkali Ike was supposed to start on the left of this line and break six of the bottles by firing at them with his revolver. Behind these bottles a piece of painted canvas was supposed to represent the back of the bar, at each shot from Alkali's pistol a man behind the scenes would hit one of the bottles with his entrenching tool handle and smash it to give the impression that Alkali was a good shot.

Alkali Ike started in and aimed at the right of the line of bottles instead of the left, and the poor boob behind the scenes started breaking the bottles on the left, and then the boxholders turned on me and called me a Saco. The performance was a huge success, and we decided to run it for a week.

New troops were constantly coming through, and for six performances we had the "R. R. O." sign suspended outside.

CHAPTER XIX.

On His Own.

Of course Tommy cannot always be producing plays under fire but while in rest billets he has numerous other ways of amusing himself. He is a great gambler, but never plays for large stakes. Generally, in each company, you will find a regular Canfield. This man backs nearly all the games of chance and is an undisputed authority on the rules of gambling. Whenever there is an argument among the Tommies as to which is correct, it is to whether Houghton is entitled to Walker's allegiance, the matter is taken to the recognized authority and his decision is final.

Serving in a World at War

We are doing our utmost to serve the public as satisfactorily today as we did before the war upon the commercial world.

In the face of greatly increased costs of material we are endeavoring to maintain our plant at the highest point of efficiency.

Despite the high cost of labor, we are maintaining full crews that there may be no part of the work slighted or neglected.

While the demands of the signal service of our armies have deprived us of many technically trained men, those who remain have spread out to fill the gaps by extra effort.

In some places congestion has occurred because we have been unable to secure equipment for relief, but in such cases the traffic is being handled to the full extent of human ability.

With the world rocking under the weight of war, with economic conditions unsettled and abnormal, we are striving always to coordinate our efforts to the great problems involved in the winning of the war.

We feel that uninterrupted, efficient telephone service is playing a conspicuous part in the forces that will bring ultimate victory.
