RETURN OF KERENSKY TURNS EYES TO RUSSIA

PROBABILITY OF ALLIED AID TO RE-ESTABLISH EAST FRONT LOOMS LARGE—SIBERIA NEGOTIATING WITH JAPAN AND CHINA WHILE ALLIES EXCHANGE IDEAS—WASHINGTON TO DECIDE SOON

ALLIES EXCHANGE IDEAS

LONDON, June 27.—Lord Cecil, minister of blockade, announced in the house of commons today that there is "constant discussion between America and the allies regarding Russia," but that he was unable to make any statement regarding intervention.

TO DECIDE SOON

WASHINGTON, June 27.—American action as to Russia will occur soon. The first step will probably be dispatch of a commission to Russia to check up on Russian needs and desires, with power to act thereon.

SIBERIA CONFERRING WITH JAPAN AND CHINA

STOCKHOLM, June 27.—Conferences are proceeding between representatives of the Siberian government and the Japanese and Chinese for the latter's aid in overthrowing the Bolsheviks and making war on Germany, it was learned here today.

Japan is said to be asking certain privileges of Siberia, such as exploitation of her gold and other resources. It is believed an agreement will be reached.

KERENSKY FAVORS ALLIED INTERVENTION

LONDON, June 27.—The dramatic and unexpected appearance of Alexander Kerensky at the labor party conference yesterday raised many questions concerning his future actions and his connection with the allied policy toward Russia, which may be explained in his speech before the conference today.

The Mail says the government did not invite Kerensky to England, but that he asked the right of asylum as a private citizen.

"However," continues the Mail, "it is understood whether Kerensky brought an invitation for allied intervention from the Russian moderate Socialists."

It is reliably reported that Kerensky favors intervention by all the allies—except though one country furnishes aid under the direction of the league "fighting Germany," while not interfering with Russia's internal affairs. Kerensky is said to believe that allied intervention will unite the present warring factions opposed to the Bolsheviks and is reported to have indicated that Russian military assistance is possible, if it is used only in a defensive way.

LONDON, June 27.—Alexander Kerensky, Russia's "man of destiny," told friends today there are definite indications that order will be re-established in Russia with the aid of the allies and America, resulting in the creation of an "east-front" again.

He said it is positive that Russia is ready to join the allies, as soon as the yoke of the Bolsheviks is thrown off.

DEAD, DEAD OR ALIVE?

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Rumors that the czar has been assassinated reached the state department today through Swedish press reports. These quoted the soviet government as saying that the reports "need" confirmation.

PABIS, June 27.—An agency dispatch from the K. K. K. today reported to confirm the assassination of the former czar in Ekaterinburg.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY IN DAKOTA

Republican Candidates Ahead, But Leagueurs Claim Priority Privileges Yet to Be Heard From

BISMARCK, N. D., June 27.—

With John Steen leading the Republican Franchise Nonpartisan League candidates by 5,000 votes today, the Republican gubernatorial nomination was in doubt and both sides claimed victory.

Returned from 650 precincts out of 1,078 gave Steen 20,783 and Frasier 17,754.

Nonpartisan League officers declared the precincts yet to be heard from are strong league territory and said Frasier has won by 10,000 votes. The Bismarck Tribune, conceded Frasier's nomination, conceded Frasier's nomination.

Commissioner J. M. Dyer, however, has been defeated the re-election by Frasier.

MARINES DISTINGUISH THEMSELVES IN FRANCE

With great satisfaction the American public has read of the valorous conduct of the United States marines in the fighting in France. A large detachment of the men of the corps is here shown on its way to the fighting front.

ITALIAN FORCES CONTINUE GAINS

AUSTRIANS DEFEATED AT EVERY POINT OF BATTLE

NUMBER OF PRISONERS STEADILY INCREASING AS RESULT OF CONTINUING ADVANCE BY VICTORIOUS ARMIES—PIAVE AND BRANCHES CROSSED AT NUMEROUS POINTS, ENEMY STANDS BROKEN UP

AMERICANS ARE HIGHLY HONORED FOR GOOD WORK

UNIT WHICH STOPPED GERMAN RUSH TOWARD PARIS CONGRATULATED BY CLEMENCEAU

By LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE MARNE, June 27 (4 p. m.)—Premier Clemenceau today personally congratulated the American unit which stopped the German rush toward Paris.

He arrived at headquarters in an ancient farm-yard early this morning, following a long motor trip. After he was introduced to the officers he said: "I admire very much the work of this unit. I came especially to felicitate it."

Addressing the men, he said: "The French general tells me those operations were peculiarly American in conception, planning and execution; that they have been extremely successful, and that they resulted in important gains, with only slight losses."

The American general remarked on Clemenceau's sympathy and knowledge of America.

"Yes, I have long admired United States institutions," the premier replied. "I entered Richmond five months after General Grant did, in 1865. The Americans showed great fighting qualities in that war."

Take More Prisoners
The total number of prisoners in the hands of the Americans today is 10,000. The first group of 1,000 was taken at the battle of the Marne.

Know Up Station
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 26 (night)—An American bombing squadron blew up the railroad station and yards at Gouffier (30 miles east of Verdun) this morning and returned safely.

Major Harold E. Hunter of Burlington, Kansas (Burlington, Kansas) was an eye-witness when he brought down a German plane. He had brought down four while serving with the royal flying corps.

KUEHLMANN STARTS FINE ARGUMENT

KAISER FURIOUS AND PRESS DEMANDS RESIGNATION OF MINISTER

AMSTERDAM, June 27.—Chancellor von Hertling's speech, explaining that of Foreign Minister Kuehlmann, was the result of orders from the Kaiser, it was reported here today. The Kaiser is said to be furious at von Kuehlmann.

COOPERATION, June 27.—

The general opinion prevails among members of the German Reichstag that Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann will be compelled to resign, according to reports received here today. The conservative press is attacking him violently and asking his removal.

Chancellor von Hertling's speech is received by the press with satisfaction.

TALKED TOO PLAINLY

WASHINGTON, June 27.—German diplomats are now blaming their difficulties for prolonging the war. Senatorial excerpts from Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann's address to the Reichstag Tuesday explaining his remarks of Monday show that he literally struck the jokers between the eyes. He declared that Ludendorff should be made to answer for lack of German success in the war, not the German chancellor. He scored Von Capelle for saying the U-boats would keep American soldiers from France "and there are 700,000 of these troops now there."

He derided those militarists who said America wouldn't enter the war, and said German domination of Eastern and Livonia, "pompously called liberation of smaller peoples," is "deplorable and hopeless."

GIVES HIS O. K.

AMSTERDAM, June 27.—Speaking in the Reichstag Tuesday, regarding Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann's assertion that peace is militarily impossible, Herr Naumann said that "those words of soldiers' think the same," according to a Berlin dispatch.

SOLDIER WOULD HAVE BOUNTY ON PACIFIST SCALPS

EDGAR WARRINGTON, WITH CANADIAN FORCES, AIRS DECIDED VIEWS IN LETTER

The following optimistic letter was received this week by Jessie Warrington from her brother, who has been with the Canadians in France for nearly two years.

France, May 27, 1918.

Dear Sister—
Your dandy letter received today. Am glad to hear you are taking a rest. But I should like to be down there at the front with you now. I can not play out, you know, and do not want to quit it, but we all long for that sort of thing. Best, quiet, home-cooked grub, and Oh, Lord, that trout stream you told about!

Home on Battle Line

Say, let me tell you about "out home." There are three of us. It is a hole dug into the bank. Then pieces of steel (red with rust) form the sides and roof. Over the top is about two feet of earth. The front is closed by laying sandbags, filled with chalk, and the interior is decorated with shelves, one home-made stove, one table made of three ammunition boxes, three bunk beds. The walls are artistically hung with a variety of equipment such as rifles, packs, gas masks, bayonets, etc. and some of this grubbing machine is eight feet long, eight feet wide and six feet high. Every one that saw us building it asked if we were building a castle. We do not have electric lights or a telephone, but, believe me, we have a lot of faith in "The Big Gun" up yonder, and in the Allied Armies. So what more could a man want?

Russ Batted World Treat

What do you think of "Fritts" bombing those hospitals a few days ago? And now he is squealing because we are bombing him and some more of his towns. He wants to sign a treaty not to bomb such places. Why? Because we are dropping ten bombs to his one. I expect some of those "peace mongers" will want to sign a treaty with him. They should line up every pacifist and shoot him. There should be a bounty for their scalps the same as there is for coyotes and other animals of the same species.

While I was in Paris recently, I went down to the U. S. Soldiers and Soldiers Club. I certainly had a grand reception and had a fine time. Had two air raids while I was there. People did not seem to mind it much. Also was down to Nick. It is the most beautiful place I ever saw. The air was fine. I was in the back up here I felt like a new man. Fritts sure gave me a good reception the night I reported back for duty. Was in the hospital 27 days. Have been back only a short time all right. And all this again. I have not bothered us very much at this place yet.

I have not been stationed where there were many U. S. troops yet, but hope to see some in the near future. I would be the best placed man in the world if I could get into the U. S. army.

Love to all.

Your brother Edgar.

P. S.—If you come to France let me know when you get to the Canadian Corps Headquarters and I can arrange to meet you if you can fix a certain date.

ONE WEAPON OF THE HUN

The kaiser is reported to have said recently that the Germans had taken enough prisoners, the inference being that all the wounded should be killed. This weapon, one of many thousands captured, is a sample of those used by the Hun to murder soldiers taken in their trench raids.

To meet the demand for farm labor in the Twin Falls district, George S. Fletcher, district inspector for the United States employment service, with headquarters in the Bangs building, Twin Falls, has placed a call for six men daily with the federal employment service station at Pocatello. He also is seeking to secure 40 farm laborers for work in the vicinity of Gooding, and 30 for Rupert, besides numerous others for various other points in this district.

MARRIAGES

Fletcher Adams

The marriage of Mrs. Jessie Adams and B. F. Fletcher took place in the presence of a large number of friends at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at their home, 836 Sixth avenue north. The ceremony was performed by Dr. A. H. Brand, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson, and proceeded to the altar which was beautifully built of flowers and ferns while Charles Barbee of Idaho Falls, at the piano, played Mendelssohn's Wedding march.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of navy blue hand-embroidered tulle. The matron of honor wore white moesline.

The bride served light refreshments following the ceremony.

Mrs. Fletcher has been a resident of Twin Falls for eight years past and is held in high esteem by all who have made her acquaintance. Mr. Fletcher is a valued employee of the Rogerson hotel.

Truly Euphemistic.

"Just what I meant by a euphemism!" "I'll explain," said the erudite person. "When a widow who has been married three or four times ropes to another man it is announced that she was 'led to the altar.' 'Re-ally?' 'That phrase 'led to the altar,' is a euphemism."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Effective Thursday morning, May 8, and continuing until the completion of road improvement work now in progress, the Shoshone Falls grade will be closed to traffic of all sorts except between the hours of 6 o'clock p. m. Saturdays and 8 o'clock a. m. Mondays. By Order of the County Commissioners—adv.

JURY AWARDS PART OF JUDGMENT ASKED

Verdict Gives Damages of $300 and Restitution of Premises to T. J. Walters

Damages in the sum of $300 and restitution of the premises in controversy were awarded to the plaintiff by a jury in the trial of the case of T. J. Walters against Mrs. Brackett and her wife, B. E. Brackett, in district court here Tuesday. Mr. Walters claimed damages in the sum of $500 for injury done to the property by livestock of the defendants, and claimed further damages in the sum of $1250 on account of alleged prevention on the part of the defendants of the use of these premises and of hay stacks on them. The parties involved in the litigation are prominent livestock growers of the Roseworth district in Twin Falls county. H. C. Hazel represented Mr. Walters in this action, and the defendants were represented by S. T. Hamilton.

The Final Word
Of Approval

It took a good many years for the Motor Truck to secure a place in the confidence of those interested in the transportation problems of business, of all kinds. Recognition of the superiority of the Truck over the horse as a means of transport had to be won handily. Finally, however, right of way of streets and highways has been secured.

It has remained for the force of public opinion to compel recognition of merit from business men and farmers. Sentimental attachment for old ways and temperamental opposition to change were the principal forces that to the end were arrayed against it.

Since the beginning of the war the motor truck has won, in a few months, standing and prestige in the commercial and farming world which without a universal catastrophe and a sudden striding across ages and decades of times would have required years of steady upbuilding.

The INTERNATIONAL MOTOR TRUCK, since the war, has won almost universal acknowledgment and applause. All it needed to establish itself in a position of impregnable firmness was governmental sanction and approval. Now that has come, as witness:

Resolved, That the Council of National Defense approves the widest possible use of the motor truck as a transportation agency, and requests the State Councils of Defense and other State authorities to take all necessary steps to facilitate such means of transportation, removing any regulations that tend to restrict and discourage such use.

THE KAISER'S SUREST ORDER
It is too early to predict whether the Austrian rout will be turned into a decisive victory for the Italians, or whether it will in the end constitute only a serious setback for Austria. In either event there is plenty of grounds for immense satisfaction.

The war in its present stage is race against time. The military caste appreciate the necessity of winning the war before the force of America is too strongly felt on the Western front. It is this knowledge that has led them to stake their all on the series of costly attempts to penetrate the Western French front. Nor is there reason to believe that there will be a cessation of offensives on that front. Rather, it is a frantic effort to be expected to force the issue to a decision within the next few weeks at one or more of the several vital points that are now within easy striking distances from the new German lines.

Austria was doubtless forced by Germany, as well as by the necessity of diverting attention at home from food conditions, to a new offensive, to strike at Italy to prevent further withdrawals of Italian troops to strengthen the French lines, as well as to endeavor to induce the Allies to send reserves into Italy.

The complete failure of this strategy consists not only of the failure to accomplish these objects, but also in the valuable time lost.

A few weeks ago America had 800,000 men in France.

A few days ago it was announced that there were 900,000 men in France.

A few days more and it will have crossed the million mark.

The Potsdam gang is not blind to the shipping tonnage figures. They still try to fool their people with exaggerated claims of submarine victories, but they are not deceiving themselves.

American ammunition—American planes—American guns—all are crowding the brief time in which the Potsdam gang have given themselves to win the war.

American fighting effectiveness already prove annoying obstacles in the path to Paris.

Now comes not only delay but a disastrous rout with its dampening effect on the morale of the armies and peoples of the Central Powers, and the ever-increasing unrest of the Austrians greatly accelerated by the defeat of their forces.

The sinking fortunes of the Central Powers can be stayed by no other means than brilliant victory at arms, and the Potsdam gang will endeavor to deliver this victory regardless of cost.

Whether the mad rush that is impending will hit the Western front in France, or strike out from the mountain district in northern Italy, only time will show.

REMOVING THE LIMIT

The senate committee on military affairs has approved the house provision giving the President unlimited power to increase the size of the army, as he sees fit. This simply means, in view of the President's recent utterances, that the only limit will be the limit to the number of men the industry of this nation can train, equip and transport.

The senate committee reported the largest army appropriation bill in the nation's history—carrying $18,089,785, 082.11. We strongly suspect that the eleven cents is camouflage, but the rest of the figures are impressive enough. Five billion dollars of the appropriation is for field artillery for the next year, which means formation of three American armies of 1,375,000 men each. Each of these armies will consist of thirty divisions and five corps, making six divisions to the corps. Included in each army are 300,000 non-combatants, leaving 1,075,000 fighting men to the army.

These eloquent little figures will doubtless be copied by Berlin and Vienna papers—at their own risk.

ITALY ON THE JOB

The diversification that the Central Powers attempted on the Italian front ended up like a Sunday School picnic in a thunderstorm. Everything seemed to have gained out wrong. In the end the Italians didn't take any more of the German submarine called

ROAD DISTRICT IS ENDORSED BY VOTE OF 10 TO 1

ELECTORS TAKE HIGHWAY AFFAIRS OUT OF HANDS OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

THE VOTE
Twin Falls No. 2	178 3
Twin Falls No. 1	308 3
Kimberly	28 14
Sanac	26 3
Morehead	6 14
Hollister	26 4
Bogerson	49 0
Berger	18 4
Rock Creek	13 3
Riverdale	—
Total	545 48

Creation of the Twin Falls highway district to include in its boundaries all of the territory of Twin Falls county outside the Buhl and proposed Filer highway districts was authorized by 10 to 1 vote at an election held in the district Saturday. The returns show practically no opposition to the proposition, Murtagh precinct alone, by a vote of 14 to 6, declaring against the organization of the district. Bogerson cast 49 votes, all in favor of the district.

Declares Election Legal
No question as to the legality of the election exists on account of the small vote cast. Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan said this morning. A majority only of the vote cast, whatever that may be, is required to carry the proposition, he stated.

Governor to Name Director
Within ten days from the date of the election the county commissioners are to meet to canvass the returns of the election. A certified copy of the returns will be forwarded to the governor, who will appoint the three members of the highway district board of directors. The election was held January 1, 1918, and for four years thereafter. Their successors are to be elected by vote of the people of the district.

No Bond Issue Yet
The creation of the district removes administration of road affairs within its boundaries from the jurisdiction of the county commissioners and places it in the hands of the road district directors. The issuance of bonds by the district is not contemplated at the present time.

Accountants Divide Charges

Within ten days after the commissioners of the highway district shall qualify, they shall meet with the county commissioners and each shall appoint a competent accountant, the two accountants thus designated to act as the auditing board, which must meet five days thereafter to ascertain the whole amount of the indebtedness of both the county and district and determine upon a division of the indebtedness. The creation of the district does not relieve it of liability for, and it shall thereafter be assessed by the county for necessary taxes to pay off the outstanding bonds at the time of its creation or any extension or interest as it shall become due.

Powers of Road District

Among the powers granted to the highway district are the rights to sue and be sued; to purchase and hold lands or personal property as may be necessary or convenient; to levy and apply taxes for purposes under its exclusive jurisdiction, and to exercise general supervision over all highways within the district with full power to construct, maintain, repair and improve, all highways within the district except those included in incorporated municipalities within its boundaries.

A section of the state law in this connection says further, "The grant of powers in this act contained to highway districts and highway boards and to officers and agents thereof, shall be liberally construed as a board, and the general grant of powers to the end that the conduct and administration of the district may be efficient; nor shall the enumeration of certain powers that would be implied without such enumeration be construed as the denial or exclusion of other implied powers necessary for the free and efficient exercise of the powers expressly granted."

We see no telegrams this time to the Kaiser telling what "our arms and God" have accomplished. As a matter of fact it rained! Temporary bridges washed out and inconceivably left quite a number of Austrians on the wrong side of the river. This seems to have been about the extent of the Austrian dash, although it is said that Austria had massed practically all of her effectiveness for the big smash.

Italy has reflected a world of cred upon herself, and the gratitude of the Allies will flow out to her for the trouncing she gave the enemy. It is one of really few entirely satisfactory episodes of the war during recent months.

RUPERT SOLDIER FALLS IN ACTION

MANY ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR PRIVATE G. E. MARSHALL

(Special to The News)

RUPERT—Memorial services for Private George E. Marshall, a member of D company, One Hundred Sixteenth Engineers, who was killed in action in France June 12, were attended Sunday evening in the high school auditorium by one of the largest assemblages ever brought together here. The death of Private Marshall placed on the Minidoka county service flag its first star of gold. Of his parents there is left only his father, Albert E. Marshall, to mourn his death, his mother having died about two months after his enlistment, April 5, 1917, in one of the units of the old Second Idaho regiment, which later were converted into the One Hundred Sixteenth Engineers. He was one of the first to enlist from this county after the declaration of war against Germany. The only other Rupert boy in his company is Don Johnson, although there are others from this city in his regiment.

Private Marshall was born March 17, 1899, in Tullapell, Montana. He came here in January, 1908, with his family moving from Calgary, Canada. He attended the Episcopal church. He was at home last in October, 1917, on furlough, just before leaving for New York, where his company was embarked for Europe in the latter part of November.

The telegram received Friday by the father from the adjutant general breaking the news of Private Marshall's death is as follows: "Deeply regret to inform you that Private George E. Marshall, engineers, is officially reported as killed in action, June 12."

Pfeister B. Owens, Twin Falls, and Gertrude Arnold, St. Charles, Idaho.

Reciprocal Relations of Utility and Public

WHILE the ownership of a utility is lodged with individuals, the service which it renders is for the use of the public. The public is, therefore, justified in expecting that the service shall be of a satisfactory quality and adequate to meet the needs of the community.

But no utility can be successful without the co-operation of the public. In fact, a relationship of reciprocity exists between the utility and the public. The duty of the utility to the citizen and the duty of the citizen to the utility is reciprocal and each is interested in the welfare of the other.

If the citizen does not prosper the utility loses its patronage. If the utility is not prosperous, the citizen loses through inferior or inadequate service.

Hence the question of adequate revenues for the utility is one with which both the utility and the public are mutually concerned.

The Telephone Company is carrying a terrific load of abnormal costs of material and labor. In view of the fact that our revenues are going along practically on a level, not increasing with the increased costs of rendering service, the burden has grown too heavy for us to carry alone.

The year 1917 produced in Idaho alone a deficit of $118,233.76.

Until adjustments are made that will correct this condition, the telephone service upon which the public depends will remain in jeopardy.

No utility can meet the expectations of the public without adequate revenues. So the public serves its own interests when it co-operates with the utility in any effort which the utility makes to produce revenues sufficient to meet the requirements of the service.

OLD-TIME BIBLE IN TWIN FALLS
MAY BE WORTH THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

In the city of Twin Falls—anybody can look at it—there is a copy of an edition of the Bible printed in London

by Robert Barker in the year 1606.

In Oakland, California, a few months ago, a copy of an edition of the Bible printed in London in 1712 sold for $22,500. There is no question as to the authenticity of the sale. Mrs. M. F. Haynes of Sacramento got the money.

The Twin Falls book is of the edition known as the "Britches Bible." It is in a splendid state of preservation, printed in old English type of a quaint and curious style, and has a wooden frontpiece which carries with it an air of antiquity impossible to mistake.

D. G. Watson is the owner of the Bible, and the question which he is now engaged in turning over in his mind is this—if a 1712 Bible is worth $22,500, what is the possible value of one which antedates it by better than 100 years?

SOLVES PUMP PLANT WATER DIFFICULTIES

Parties at Interest Accept Electricians' Plan to Improve Irrigation Supply for North Side Farmers

Several employees of the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water company appeared as witnesses, as did also B. B. King of the Idaho Power Co., W. B. Elmer, an engineer from Rupert, and E. E. Bixby, of Burley, an electrical expert. Mr. Bixby made the following recommendations, which were adopted by the defense and with which the water company and power company agreed to comply: That the power company keep the frequency of power up to normal, and that the water company place a night operator at plant No. 2, to work with the day man and also to make the repairs as recommended.

Canning Clubs

A conservative estimate by the highest authority is that 750,000 cans of vegetables were shipped into Twin Falls county last year. Think for a moment what this startling fact means. It means that many thousands of dollars of good Twin Falls money is being sent to other states and localities. It means that many tons of shipping material are used needlessly in bringing into this county products that grow and waste in unlimited quantities on the Twin Falls tract. It means that the people of this county are not doing their patriotic duty in shipping their surplus of food stuffs and that they are paying an army of workers who might just as well be employed in other work.

In view of the facts that the world faces a food shortage, that every bit of food is needed in patriotic service, that every ton of shipping is needed, can you let this waste go on? Serve your government in your spare hours.

RECIPES AND SUGGESTIONS FOR WAR TIME COOKERY

Following are recipes and suggestions furnished by Mrs. Edith E. Baker, who spoke on Wednesday morning at the Chautauque on Food Conservation.

WHEATLESS RECIPES

(1) Corn Flour Mince
One cup liquid; 2-3 cups corn flour; 3 tablespoons fat; 6 (level) teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt. If willing to make Drop Mince, the texture will be still better. The recipe will then read: 1-1/4 cups liquid; 2-3 cups corn flour; 3 tablespoons fat; 4 (level) teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt.

Suggestion: In mixing any kind of bread, use milk, or water, or whey, or the water in which rice, or macaroni, or potatoes have been cooked. Why is especially valuable as it contains the mineral values of the milk, and milk-sugar.

(2) Steamed Brown Bread
One and one-half cups corn meal; 1 1/2 cups barley flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1-4 teaspoon salt; 1-4 teaspoon ginger; 1 teaspoon soda; 2 cups milk; 2-4 cup molasses. Mix the ingredients together and combine with the liquid. Beat well, and steam in well-greased tin or baking powder cans 4 to 5 hours, or better still, bake in the fireless cooker.

(3) Miso Mince Bread
One quart mashed potatoes; 1 cup potato water; 1 cup molasses; 2 tablespoons sugar; 2 tablespoons salt; 1-4 to 1 cake compressed yeast; 1 1/2 cups miso (made from either of the two following combinations of ingredients: 1/2 cup (scant) corn flour; or 1/2 cup rice flour; 1-3 cups barley flour.

This bread may be made by either the long or short process, but should only be baked once after all the ingredients are incorporated.

Three cups molasses; 6-14 cups barley flour; 3 tablespoons salt; 2 tablespoons corn syrup; 2 tablespoons fat; 1 cake compressed yeast softened in 1-4 cup water; 1/2 cup molasses. If you could take warm, add the yeast and other ingredients. Allow the dough to rise to double its bulk. Work it down and let it rise until increased in size about one-half. Shape into rolls and bake in oven.

How The Bayonet Lost a Great Battle

BAYONETS, first made at Bayonne, France, whence they get their name, to begin, were almost as dangerous to the army with them as to its foe.

Fashioned with a solid butt, to be jammed into the muzzle, it rendered a gun useless for firing.

The butt was soon changed to a socket, but not before the new fangled bayonet brought the English army to grief at Killcrankie.

The English soldier found the bayonet a poor fit, hard to get into his gun; and when he got it in, hard to get out. When he had to bayonet, he couldn't bayonet; when he had to shoot, he couldn't shoot.

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The bayonet experiment gave the Scots the battle. To safeguard tire users against the chance of experiment, Goodrich Test Car Fleets put the road test to Goodrich Tire, to make them in word and deed SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Goodrich sees but one tire value, SERVICE VALUE. That is, what a tire provides it is worth to the motorist on his car and on the road, in comfort, economy, dependability, and durability.

All Goodrich skill and sincerity build up SERVICE VALUE, whether you get SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES, or BLACK SAFETY TREADS, you get SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Gain mileage, and the security of knowing your tires will not fail, by demanding SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

RED CROSS CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS

The Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter has been given a quota of 325 comfort bags to be made and returned by July 1. Because of the branches being so busy with their regular work, it is hoped that the women's clubs and the high school girls will volunteer to do this work. Material for these bags may be had at the supply rooms on Shoshone street or from Miss Crossland at the high school.

Words Frequently Misspelled.

Note: From the Outlook: "What words are most frequently misspelled in the papers? Two candidates for the honor have good claims. 'Haley'—'hailed into court'—often appears as 'hailed.' 'Identity' for 'some confusion,' is frequently printed 'identifiy.' 'Superceded,' 'ecstasy' and 'develop' might receive honorable mention in the list."

GOVERNMENT TAKES A HAND IN DISCREDITING LECTURER ON CHAUTAUQUA PLATFORM—CAPT. DEBEAUFORT BEING INVESTIGATED

A sensation was created in Chautauqua Saturday evening when announcement was made that Captain J. M. DeBeaufort, a star attraction of this year's Chautauqua, had been discredited. In making his announcement Superintendent Flint did not go into detail except to give due credit to Captain DeBeaufort for his splendid work both in the Chautauqua and in U. S. government war work.

In Officers' Hands
It is learned that no papers were filed against Captain DeBeaufort, but that there is a possibility that he is a German spy or an impostor posing under the name he now gives.

For some time federal officers have been trailing the captain, and the Ellison-White bureau has been in constant touch with the officers.

At Idaho Falls Friday evening word was sent by the Army Intelligence department to the Chautauqua manager to meet to discredit DeBeaufort, and he was asked to go to Salt Lake, thence to San Francisco. Although apparently surprised, he expressed willingness to go and was readily released by the Ellison-White bureau.

"The case seems to be a peculiar one," said A. J. Haskitt, from the Ellison-White office, who was in town Saturday evening. "Captain DeBeaufort was one of the most active and effective workers in New York and Pittsburgh during the second Liberty Loan drive, and the Liberty Loan workers were most incredulous when they heard that there was any suspicion whatsoever as to the captain's genuineness. He was employed by the government to assist in the second Liberty Loan, later by the Rotary club of Washington, D. C."

Worked for U. S.
"In Texas recently while filling his Chautauqua engagement he was instrumental in raising $10,000 in his Chautauqua audience for the Liberty Loan. Enthusiasts frequently resorted to his lecture."

"In every way he has 'made good' in his Chautauqua and Liberty Loan work. His lecture was well received everywhere. But with the first hint of suspicion the Ellison-White company has been on the alert and has co-operated with the federal authorities as much as possible in trying to determine DeBeaufort's position. The company had nothing but intuition on which to base their suspicions. But in three times the government can take up chances and neither can the people. We certainly feel relieved now that this action has been taken, for we hope the federal authorities will soon determine without a doubt whether he is all wrong or all right."

Engagement Here Cancelled
Captain DeBeaufort was to have spoken in Twin Falls on Sunday evening, following the lecture by Charles Cleveland Gove, the third man in the afternoon. The program for Sunday was changed and the Zeidler Symphonic quintet gave a full concert instead of a playlet in the afternoon. The evening program included a prelude by the quintet, followed by Mr. Gove's lecture.

AN AMERICAN SOLDIER WHO WENT
ARTHUR GUY EMPEY
MACHINE GUNNER, SERVING IN FRANCE

(Chapter 23 continued)

We turned about. In the gray light of dawn, a few yards in front of me I could make out a brick wall. Against this wall was a dark form with a white square planned on his breast. He was supposed to aim at this square. To the right of the form I noticed a white spot on the wall. This would be my target.

"Ready! Aim! Fire!"

The dark form went into a huddled heap. My bullet sped on its way, and hit the white spot on the wall; I could see the splinters fly. Some one else had received the rifle containing the blank cartridge, but my mind was so busy that there was no blood of a tumult on my hands.

"Order—Arms! About—Turn! Fire—Arms! Stand—Clear!"

The stacks were re-formed.

"Quick—March! Right—Wheel!"

And we left the scene of execution behind us.

It was now daylight. After marching about five minutes, we were dismissed with the following instructions from the officer in command:

"Return, alone, to your respective companies, and remember, on talking about this affair, or else it will go hard with the guilty ones."

We needed no urging to get away. I did not recognize any of the men on the firing squad; even the officer was a stranger to me.

The victor relations and friends in Blighty will never know that he was executed; they will be under the impression that he died doing his bit for king and country.

In the public casualty lists his name will appear under the caption "Accidentally Killed," or "Died."

The day after the execution I received orders to report back to the line, and to keep a stiff tongue in my head.

Executions are a part of the day's work. But the part that hated most of all I think—certainly the saddest. The British war department is thought by many people to be composed of rigid regulations all around around with red tape. But it has a heart, and one of the evidences of this is the commissioner who, in which an execution is considered and repudiated to the relative of the unfortunate man. They never know the truth. He is listed in the bulletins as among the "accidentally killed."

In the last ten years I have several times read stories in magazines of cowards changing in a charge, to heroes. I used to laugh at it. It seemed easy for story-writers, but I said,
"Nothing more than a charge, to heroes. In France I learned once that the struck of yellow can turn all white. I picked up the story, bit by bit, from the captain of the company, the sentinel who guarded the poor fellow, as well as from the men on the firing squad.
First I did not realize the whole of his story, but after a week of investigation it stood out as clear in my mind as the mountains of my native West in the spring sunsets. It impressed me so much that I wrote it all down in rest billets on scraps of old paper.
The incidents are, as I say, every bit true; the feelings of the man are true too; know from all I underwent in the fighting over in France.

Will you call him Albert Lloyd. That was his name, but it will do.

Albert Lloyd was what the world
terms a coward.

In London they called him a slacker.
His country had been at war nearly eighteen months, and still he was not in khaki.

He had no good reason for not enlisting, being alone in the world, having been ever since the death of his father, and there being no one dependent upon him for support. He had no good position, to lose, and there was no sweetheart to tell him with her lips and white her eyes pleaded for him to stay.

Every time he saw a recruiting sergeant he'd sneak around the corner out of sight, with a terrible fear gnawing at his heart. When passing the big recruiting posters, that on his way to business and back he passed many, he would pull down his cap and look the other way from that awful finger pointing at him, under the caption,
"Join King and Country Now or Never."
or the boring eyes of Kitchener, which burned into his very soul, causing him to shudder.

These the Zeppelin raids—during them, he used to crouch in a corner of his boarding-house cellar, whimpering like a whipped puppy and calling upon the Lord to protect him.

Even his landlady despised him, although she had to admit that he was a good boy.

He very seldom read the papers, but one morning he found the landlady put the morning paper at his place before he came down to breakfast. Taking his seat at the dining table, he saw "Conscription Bill Passed," and stare at it. "Conscription Bill Passed,"
he murmured. "Conscription Bill Passed,"
he murmured. "Conscription Bill Passed,"
he murmured.

With the horror of it gnawing into his soul.

Having saved up a few pounds, he decided not to leave the house, and to sham sickness, so he stayed in his room and had the landlady serve his meals
there.

Every time there was a knock at the door he trembled all over, imagining it was a policeman who had come to take him away to the army.

One morning his fears were realized.
Sure enough, there stood a policeman with the fatal paper. Taking it in his trembling hand he read that he, Albert Lloyd, was ordered to report himself to the nearest recruiting station for physical examination. He reported immediately, because he was afraid to disobey.

The doctor, looked, with approval upon Lloyd's six feet of physical perfection, and thought, what a fine guardman, he would make, but examined his heart twice before he passed him as "physically fit." It was beating so fast.

From the recruiting depot Lloyd was taken, with many others, in charge of a sergeant, to the training depot at Alderson, where he was given an outfit of khaki, and drew his other equipment. He made a fine-looking soldier, except for the slight banding in his shoulders and the hunted look in his eyes.

At the training depot it does not take long to find out a man's character, and Lloyd was promptly dubbed
"wimpy." In the English army "wimpy" means cowardly.

The smallest recruit in the barracks looked on him with contempt, and was not slow to show it in many ways.

Lloyd was a good soldier, learned
quickly, obeyed every order promptly,
never grumbled at the hardest fatigues.
He was afraid to. He lived in deadly
fear of the officers and "noncoms" over
him. They also despised him.

quickly, obeyed every order promptly,
never grumbled at the hardest fatigues.
He was afraid to. He lived in deadly
fear of the officers and "noncoms" over
him. They also despised him.

One morning, about the middle of after his enlistment, Lloyd's company was paraded, and the names picked out for the next draft to France were read.
When his name was called, he did not step out smartly, two paces to the front, and answer cheerfully, "Here, sir," as the others did. He just fainted in the ranks and was carried to bar-acks amid the sneers of the rest.

That night was an agony of misery to him. He could not sleep, just cried and whimpered. His bunk became on the morning the draft was to sail for France, where he would see death on all sides, and perhaps be killed himself. On the steamer, crossing the channel, he would be jumped overboard to escape, but was afraid of drowning.

Arriving in France, he and the rest were huddled into cattle cars. On the side of each appeared in white letters,
"Company 40, Division 1." After being off or bumping over the uneven French roadbeds they arrived at the training base of Rouen.

At this place they were put through a week's rigid training in trench warfare. On the morning of the eighth day they paraded at ten o'clock, and were inspected and passed by General H—, then were marched to the quartermaster's, to draw their gas helmets and trench equipment.

At four in the afternoon they were taken into the cattle cars. This time the journey lasted two days.
They disembarked at the town of Fre-vent and could hear a distant dull boom. With knees shaking Lloyd asked the sergeant what the noise was,
and next day when the sergeant replied in a somewhat bored tone:

"Oh, them's the guns up the line.
We'll be up there in a couple of days or so. Don't worry, my lad, you'll be in the line in ten days or so. You get 'em to Blighty again, that is,
if you're lucky enough to get back.
Now lend a hand there unloads their cars, and quit that everlasting shakin-
'n' bellerin' your ears. The last with a contentious and snarl.

They marched ten miles, full pack, to a little dissipated village, and the sound of the guns grew louder, constantly louder.

The village was full of soldiers who turned out to inspect the new draft.
The men who were shortly to be their mates in the trenches, for they were going "up the line" on the morrow, to take over their certain sector of trenches.

The draft was paraded in front of battalion headquarters and the men were assigned to companies.

Lloyd was the only man assigned to Company 40, Division 1. He was in charge of the draft had something to do with it, for he called Lloyd aside
and said:

"Lloyd, you are going to a new company. No, you know, you. You are going to be a sergeant. You are a sucker, but you are a man. I think you have the spirit, in you, my boy, so good-by, and the best of luck to you."

The next day the battalion took over their part of the trenches. It happened
