

MILNER COMPANY MAY QUIT PLANS FOR RECLAMATION

BUILDING OF HANSE
SYSTEM BY OTHER WELL KNOWN INTERESTS IN INDICATED

Possibility of the withdrawal of Milner Canal company leaving field open to other interests to claim approximately 40,000 acres lands in what is known as the Hansen butte district lying above the canal between Hansen and Murtala is indicated in the statement of D. B. Moorman, secretary of the company.

Voigt Is Interested

That the S. R. Milner and Walter Filor estates, represented in this matter by Fred A. Voigt, a former manager of the Twin Falls Canal company are interested in the project, and if satisfactory terms can be agreed upon, they will undertake the enterprise, are features revealed in a Moorman's statement. Milner, and his wife, Mrs. M. E. Milner, and their son, were prominent as promoters of the Twin Falls Land & Water company, which built the irrigation system that has made possible the development of the Twin Falls country.

Mr. Voigt, prior to the organization of the Milner Canal company, expressed a favorable impression in respect to the feasibility of the Hansen butte reclamation project, and his heretofore stated his willingness to take an active part in the enterprise, provided he were given a free hand. Mr. Voigt, whose present home is in Long Beach, California, has been in Twin Falls several days past, and it is known that he has

Confident of Success

"I am so thoroughly convinced of successful conclusion to our negotiations with the Milner and Miller interests that I have asked L. B. Perrine and L. L. Palmer to return from Chicago, where they have been since the first of the week, in the interests of the Milner Canal company, to take

Mr. Perrine, "the father of the Two Falls country," is president of the Milner Canal company, and Mr. Palmer is the local representative of the Daniel Hayes company of Rockford.

Illinois, its fiscal agents.

Repossessing Securities

"With a view to disposing of our interests in the project to other parties we have been for some time repossessing ourselves of notes given by land owners of the project in payment for water rights under our project, and yesterday I received $10,000 worth of these securities," Mr. Moorman stated.

derstand it," Mr. Moorman continues. "In the event he decides to undertake the enterprise to install in connection with it a large electric power plant."

Project Often to Fore

Reclamation of the Hansen butte a project which has claimed the attention of various interests at various times since the opening of the Twin Falls country. That the Twin Falls Canal company should undertake the project has been the recommendation of successive managers of the company, but no move toward that end on the part of that corporation has ever developed.

About two years ago the Milwaukee Canal company was formed to reclaim this area, and soon afterward a movement was set on foot among the landowners to organize an irrigation district to accomplish the same end. The irrigation district plan has been active for several months.

Difficulties Mark Attempt
The career of the Milner Canal company has been one beset with many difficulties. The pumping plant for the first lift under its plans, which have been installed in time for use in season and the second lift was to have been completed this season. The company has failed in either undertaking.

Landlords of the Hansen butte are anxious, as among the Butwin family country. Practically the entire area of the proposed project has been taken up by squatted citizens, many of whom have entered the same with the Milner Cattle Company, giving their note in payment. The interest on the proposed irrigation system.

CALLS MEN FOR RE-EXAMINATION

LOCAL BOARD TAKES STEPS TO AUGMENT LIMITED SERVICE LIST

With a view to making available for special or limited service a number of the registrants of Twin Falls county previously assigned to class five on account of physical disability, the local board is calling in a number of such men for re-examination before the medical advisory board. The first examination is to be held on Thursday next and sessions of the medical advisory board for this purpose are to continue until all called in have been re-examined.

ENTERS RACE FOR TREASURER'S OFFICE

Colonel P. H. Crow is Aspirant for Position Subject to Democratic Primaries

P. H. Crow of Twin Falls, former Idaho adjutant general, has announced his candidacy, subject to the Democratic primaries for the office of county treasurer. The present incumbent of the office is Henry Coggins, a Democrat, who is not likely to be a candidate for re-election, it is stated. There are as yet no candidates for this office among the Republicans.

Colonel Crow was for several years a deputy in the office of the county and adjutant general, resigning that position in 1914 to become adjutant general. When the Idaho regiment was called into federal service for duty on the Mexican border in June, 1916, he gave up his job to become lieutenant colonel with the Idaho troops, serving in that capacity until compelled to resign on account of ill health after the regiment had been ordered back to this state.

A. Smutz, county club leader upon his return Wednesday from a visit of inspection to the district. Gardens in this district range in size from one-tenth acre to one acre, Mr. Smutz said, and all bear evidence of careful care given with an understanding of cultural principles.

The company stated in its telegram that it was prepared to send a construction foreman here immediately if they were deemed advisable to begin the work now.

PEA WEEVIL IS ENEMY TO CROP

ENTOMOLOGIST R. H. SMITH SAYS RAVAGES OF APHIS FALL IN COMPARISON

While the clover aphis in the Twin Falls district this year has done considerable damage in some fields, according to R. H. Smith, entomologist of the state university extension department who is here investigating the clover aphis pest, the most dangerous menace to the pea crop in this district is the pea weevil, which apparently has been introduced here through contaminated seed. Mr. Smith states that many fields as well as gardens in which peas are grown, bear evidence of the presence of the weevil. He found numerous eggs of the weevil in small pods.

Elimination of the pea weevil depends upon care in the selection of seed, or in treatment of infested seed either by dipping in formaldehyde solution or by heating to 120 degrees. The latter treatment, Mr. Smith advises, will kill the insect but will not impair the germination of the seed.

Aphis, which has been found here this year in considerable number in both the clover and wheat fields as well as in the pea fields, seems not to have attacked the bean fields, according to Mr. Smith. Development of a fungus consequent upon recent rainfall seems to have eradicated the aphis from the clover, and the presence of lady bugs, together with the appearance of a parasite which causes the aphids to become yellow, apparently are driving them out of the wheat, where they have not yet done much damage.

TWO THIRDS OF TEACHERS RETURN TO PLACES HERE

SHOWING IS UNUSUAL IN WESTERN SCHOOLS AND GRATIFYING TO ADMINISTRATION

Sixty-five teachers have been retained as instructors in the Twin Falls schools during the coming term. Of this number 45 are teachers who previously have been employed in the local schools and 23 are newcomers to Twin Falls.

The fact that practically 60 per cent of last year's teachers are returning this year marks an unusual situation among western schools, even in normal times, Superintendent Blue states, and is a fact that is highly gratifying to the superintendent and trustees as bespeaking general satisfaction with the administration of schools here.

Draft Makes Inroads
The selective military service regulations have claimed three members of last year's high school faculty, and may make further inroads among the eligible instructors. Those taken into the service so far are George E. Donnan, instructor in agriculture; Roscoe G. Linder, instructor in science and leader of the band and orchestra; Edward H. Mathew, instructor in science and athletic coach.

Assignment of the teachers so far employed to the positions which they will occupy in the local schools is yet to be made by Superintendent Blue.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The World's First Torpedo Failed

ITS inventor, David Bushnell, an American, in 1776 attempted to sink the British warship, Eagle. Bushnell towing his torpedo, charged with powder, by means of a hand-power semi-submersible, planned to fasten it to the hull of the attacked ship with a steel plunger; then explode it by clock work. His torpedo—too much of an experiment—failed. Safeguarding the user against failure, Goodrich never markets an experiment, tire or anything else. Goodrich Tires, though built with the experience and skill of the oldest and largest rubber factory, are proved out by the practical road travel of Goodrich Test Car Fleets to make them in word and deed—

For Goodrich recognizes but one value in tires—their SERVICE VALUE on your car and on the road; one tire value—SERVICE VALUE. Whatever pounds of rubber and other material go in tires; whatever hours of work and skill, their VALUE to motorists is their SERVICE, in comfort, dependability and durability. And you are sure to get it if your tires are GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORDS, or BLACK SAFETY TREADS. Make sure of economy and security in tires by demanding big, masterful SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Fascinating Screen Facts
The hopeful spirit of the youth of Japan endeavoring to emulate the American spirit of freedom and democracy is brought out in a most effective way in "The Bravest Way," starring Sessue Hayakawa, which will be shown at the Idaho Theatre next week. It is a picture that will go straight to the hearts of American audiences.

"Bull" Montana, who supported Doug Fairbanks in many of the latter's pictures, has enlisted in the navy. "Bull," who has won national fame as a wrestler, will be physical instructor for the entire submarine base at Port San Pedro, Cal., where he will instruct thousands of enlisted sailors in his gymnastic art. "Bull" wears a 6% hat and an 18% collar.

One of the most enjoyable comedies seen here in many weeks is "Ladies First," the new Paramount-Mack Bennett production, which will be shown at the Idaho Theatre next week, featuring Chester Conklin, Mary Thurman and Harry Gibson. The story is most reliable and the situations are decidedly humorous.

Dolby Marguerite Clark, whose "Bab" pictures are well remembered, has a new vehicle, "Rich Man, Poor Man." This is a splendid screen subject, filled with tense dramatic situations by the aid of which an absorbing dramatic story is developed. It is one of the best photoplays in which Miss Clark, the "sweetest girl in motion pictures," has been seen in this city, and it seems certain that her many admirers now will turn out in force at the opening display.

A MAN'S DUTY.

While the coming election is one in which political merit will out perhaps less figure, than in almost any other in the history of the country, it is also true that there never was a time when more care should be used in the selection and election of candidates. Particularly is this true of the men who will be returned to Congress.

While politics of the old time style has become repugnant to a large number of people the snare and pitfalls which follow in the path of the work of an indifferent electorate are among the worst evils which can befall a nation. The selection of the men who are to evolve the principles and policies which shall govern legislation is in the hands of the people and neglect, carelessness or indifference may be of the gravest consequences.

In connection with this subject the National Security League sets forth the fact that there are many men in the present Congress who do not measure up to the high standard of vision, balanced judgment, sound common sense and broad general experience which proclaim the statesman. The decision about such men must necessarily remain with their respective districts. But every effort should be made to forcibly bring home to the people the grave importance of returning men at the next election whose capabilities are equal to the crisis which the country is facing.

The selection should not be confined to the men who have been active in party ranks. The best men in each party should be chosen without regard to his past political activity. Nor should the fact that a man has previously served be considered, unless that man has demonstrated beyond a doubt his ability to deal understandingly with the great problems of the country. It should not be considered sufficient that he has voted satisfactorily on the measures which have been put before him. That is merely a negative merit. His ability as a thinking and constructive statesman should be the measure of his fitness.

The day of the typical American political spirit of 'let George do it' should once for all be ended. Are the only Americans who can do their duty those who are offering their lives in the trenches, on the sea, or in the air? Or are there left at home enough patriots of the active, as distinguished from the merely vocal sort, to do their duty in this crisis by giving the nation and its precious lives, now or to be in the service, the adequate guidance and stewardship which can only be supplied by an eminently capable Congress?

GOOD FOR SENATORS

Henry Ford, in announcing his determination to run for the United States Senatorship of Michigan says, "I have been nominated by the President to run for Senator." Of course, this is merely Henry's way of putting it. What the President really said, publicly, was "Mr. Ford is my choice for Senator" (in Michigan).

Mr. Ford is not a Democrat, neither can he be called a Republican. If the Detroit newspapers are to be believed he has voted but twice in the past dozen years. Mr. Ford is a pacifist. "A pacifist I will always be," was his way of stating it shortly after and in explanation of the bootless return of his European peace expedition.

Republicans and Democrats in Michigan are for the most part up in arms over the situation which has developed through the effect on the electorate as a whole of the Presidential endorsement. The opposition appears to be about equally divided between those who believe that Mr. Ford is of the greatest possible good to the country in his present line of endeavor and those who object to his candidacy on the ground that Michigan should be allowed to make her own choice of a man for Senator.

But neither objection would have made any difference in the result had it not been for the element injected into the situation through the unequal endorsement lent to Mr. Ford's candidacy by William B. Hearst. Twice he has been elected before, now present and in the future, his name is being put forward as a candidate for the next election. The coupling of the Heard propaganda and the well-known efforts towards an understanding and permanent peace, with the well known and oft-repeated peace theories of the Detroit manufacturer.

That the two men have anything whatever in common is hardly worthy of serious consideration. Both are pacifists, to be sure, but here the resemblance ends. Ford is an honest, honorable business man with a genius for organization, a valued servant of the American government and the American people. Hearst is the publisher of a chain of newspapers and periodicals which benefit only Hearst and in the opinion of many men high in public confidence, constitute a menace to the esprit de corps of the American people.

HELPING THE PRESS

Some idea of the growing costs of the business of publishing newspapers may be gleaned from the fact that the government itself has come to the aid of publishers with a set of rules designed to trim expenses. In the case of a majority of newspapers the new order of things will make but little difference as the proportion of free copies and free service generally has been steadily curtailed for some time past until at this time there is actually very little waste of this sort.

The rules, which follow, are nevertheless interesting:

Discontinue the acceptance of the return of unsold copies.

Discontinue the use of all samples or free promotion copies.

Discontinue giving copies to anybody, except for office-working copies or where required by statute law in the case of official advertising.

Discontinue giving free copies to advertisers, except not more than one copy each for checking purposes.

Discontinue the arbitrary forcing of copies on news dealers (i. e., compelling them to buy more copies than they can legitimately sell in order to hold certain territory).

Discontinue the buying back of papers at either wholesale or retail selling prices from dealers or agents in order to secure preferential representation.

Discontinue the payment of salaries or commissions to agents, dealers, or newsmen for the purpose of securing the equivalent of return privileges.

Discontinue all free exchanges.

REPORTS PROGRESS ON WATERWORKS

CONTRACTOR WM. HARKINS SAYS EXCAVATION NOW FAIRLY BEGUN

Excavation for the laying of the new municipal waterworks distribution system was begun Monday afternoon on Sixth avenue west by workmen in the employ of William Harkins, contractor. This is the first work done on the distribution, although excavation for the reservoir and supply line has been in progress for several weeks. About 60 men are employed at the present time and the work, although only fairly started, is proceeding at a satisfactory rate. Mr. Harkins states, while pipe and other materials are arriving in large quantities.

CHEESE MAKING EARLY INDUSTRY

JOHN F. HANSEN TELLS OF ESTABLISHING FACTORY ON COTTONWOOD CREEK IN 1878

Dairying is not a new industry in Idaho. The pioneers of this country brought with them their dairy herds and were provided for their own consumption not only with milk and butter, but with cheese produced among them by those who were familiar with the art of its manufacture.

Red Skins Stop Operations

John F. Hansen of Twin Falls, who came to Idaho in 1876 from Indiana, where he lived at first after emigrating from Denmark, with Mrs. Hansen, were the proprietors of one of the first cheese factories in the territory of Idaho, which was established by them in April 1878, on Cottonwood creek, 35 miles east of Twin Falls, and continued in operation until in the second year of the uprising of the Banquo Indians in 1877, 1878 and 1879, the approach of the redskins compelled its discontinuance.

This was not the first cheese factory in Idaho, Mr. Hansen says. Prior to this time pioneers of north Idaho in the vicinity of Moscow operated a factory producing a product which was known as Clearwater cheese.

Market at Kelton

The output of the Hansen cheese factory was distributed among the sparsely settled community, for the most part through the general merchandise store at Kelton, Utah.

"We sold our cheese," Mr. Hansen says, "to Harry Ellsworth at Kelton, receiving 18 cents a pound for it. The same quality of cheese cannot be obtained today for the reason that we did not use so much water in our product as is done now, and today we pay 35 cents a pound for cheese."

Herds Are Scattered

With the approach of the Banquo Indians in 1878, the residents of what is now the Twin Falls country abandoned most of their possessions and fled to the old stage station known as Ten Mile on the Overland train, 10 miles north of Kelton. There were between 15 and 16 families assembled there for five or six weeks. When they returned to their homes they found their cattle scattered and most of their possessions destroyed.

COMES GLADLY TO TWIN FALLS

REV. A. W. MOORE ENTERS UPON MINISTRY HERE THIS WEEK

Rev. W. A. Moore, who has been called from the pastorate of the Central Christian church of Cincinnati, Ohio, to become minister of the Twin Falls Christian church, has terminated his work in Cincinnati and will arrive here this week to enter upon his ministry in Twin Falls.

Worked Way Through School
The following which appeared in an article published in the Tacoma Times four years ago, serves as an intimate introduction to the new minister in the local field.

The minister was born on an Iowa farm in 1869, and received his early education in a log school house. At 16 he entered the county high school, studying three months each year, and working on his father's farm during the remaining nine months.

The summer that Rev. Moore was 18 proved the turning point of his career. It decided him, in fact, for the ministry.

The boy was anxious to obtain an education, but his services were badly needed on the farm. There were eight hungry children in the family. Young Moore received an appointment as janitor of the high school building at P. Moore, near his home, and it was the most appreciated gift that was received in his entire life.

It meant that the young scholar could earn a livelihood, and attend school, without being an encumbrance on his father. It meant harder work for the older Moore, but he was glad of the boy's chance, and bore steadily under his own added work. Moore earned $10 a month as janitor for two years, graduating from school far up in his class.

It was after graduation that Moore, aided by the splendid education that he had obtained in high school, decided to enter the ministry. In those parts, a minister was the most important citizen of the community, and Moore set his heart upon achieving that position.

As Moore now says: "The preacher of gospel truths was the greatest man who had ever come into our house. If I could be one I would be no less."

The embryo minister taught district school four seasons while he studied at Drake university, besides preaching on every spare Sunday. His first pastorate was in Lewis, Iowa, where he succeeded in building up a large congregation in a little more than a year. The pastor moved to St. Louis and then took up work with the Missouri State Bible School board. Ten years ago he and Mrs. Moore came to Tacoma.

How France Has Been Fed

"Before the war, a distinguished French Officer, General Maitrot, wrote a series of articles in the 'Echo de Paris' to warn France, that in case of war, the French meat industry would be unable to supply the French army in the field with fresh meat,—owing especially to the lack of modern refrigerating plants and of refrigerating transportation,—and too, owing to the deficiency in the national herd."

"Since the war began the French army has never been short of fresh meat, thanks mainly to the prosperous condition of the American meat industry, and too, to the American live stock breeder."

The foregoing statement was made by a representative of the Allies now in the United States.

Another representative of the Allies said recently:

"that the American packers have been of the greatest possible assistance to the Allies and have, by their efficient co-operation, contributed in the utmost degree to the successful prosecution of the war."

LABOR BACKS ACTION FOR NEW REGIME

BUILDING TRADES' COUNCIL BUSINESS AGENT TALKS ON PURPOSES OF PETITION FOR ELECTION ON CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION

There have been secured one half the required number of signatures to petitions for an election to bring the city of Twin Falls under the commission form of government as provided for in the state law known as the Black law, according to the statement Monday afternoon of Artime Reed, business agent of the Twin Falls building trades' council, which with other labor organizations of the city, is fostering the movement.

The law requires that the petitions shall be signed by electors numerically equivalent to 25 per cent of the total vote cast for mayor at the last municipal election on April 24, 1917; there were cast for both candidates for mayor a total of 1879 votes.

The petitions which, Mr. Reed states, have been circulated quietly for several days, provide that in the event the commission form of government is voted, there shall be called within 60 days thereafter an election for five members of the council one of whom shall be the mayor.

Labor Will Nominate

It is practically certain, in the event the commission government is voted, that the labor organizations will place a ticket in the election for candidates.

"For many years," Mr. Reed stated Monday, "labor organizations have not been interested in politics, but they find now that in order to secure what they want they have got to gain their ends through political action."

Gives Worker Better Chance

"Under the form of municipal government provided by the Black law it is impossible for a person who is interested in an electric light or power plant or other public utility which furnished services within the territorial limits of the city to be elected or appointed to a city office."

"Such a provision tends to give the laboring man a better chance. The salary of councilmen, while it is merely nominal, can be put to better use by the laboring man by those to whom it is gasoline money."

"This provision also would tend to prevent and overcome opposition in the council to municipal ownership of public utilities such as electric light and power plants."

Not a Non-Partisan Move

The movement for an election on instituting the commission form of government in Twin Falls is backed at this time by the labor organizations, who, in this regard, are not acting in conjunction with the Non-Partisan League.

Mr. Reed declared that Mr. Reed was in Boise, he stated, at the time the Black law was passed by the state legislature, and later when Boise city government was changed under its provision. "I believe that there is no dissatisfaction with the operation of this law in Boise at the present time although there was much complaint at the time it was adopted there—just as there is about the adoption of anything that is good," Mr. Reed stated.

The initiative, referendum and recall are powers vested by the Black law in the electors of cities governed under its provisions.

Council Must Act

Within 10 days after the filing of the petition bearing the required number of signatures, under the terms of the state law, it is incumbent upon the city council to call a special election on the question of applying the principles set out in the Black law to the city government.

The initiative, referendum and recall are to be called for a date within 60 days from the date of the filing of the petition. If the proposition fails at the election it may not be resubmitted within two years thereafter.

In the event of the endorsement of the proposition at the election, the city proceeds to the election of five councilmen, one of whom shall be mayor. This election may be deferred until the date of the next regular municipal election.

Candidates for councilmen, under this law, are placed in nomination by petitions to be signed by at least 25 electors.

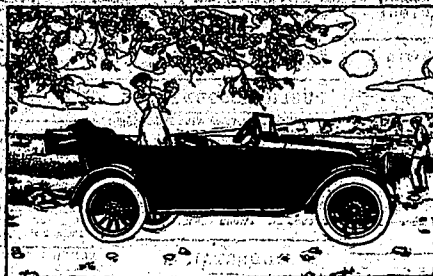

Upon the election of the new council, the councilmen are divided into two classes, those in the first class to serve for two years or the date of the next municipal election, and those in the second class to serve for four years.

Means Increased Salaries

The Black law provides compensation for the mayor and councilmen in accordance with the population of the city operating under its provisions. In Twin Falls the salary of the mayor would be $600 and that of each councilman $400 per annum. Under the present regime the mayor receives an annual salary of $150, and councilmen each $100 per year.

Under the Black law the mayor has no veto power, and three councilmen constitute a quorum.

Electors may propose ordinances for the adoption of the council under the Black law, when such proposed ordinance is filed with a petition signed by electors representing 25 per cent of the vote cast for all candidates for mayor and a written statement not to exceed 200 words in length, setting forth the reasons for the adoption of the measure. Within 20 days thereafter the council must adopt the proposed ordinance or submit it to a special election.

Recall Provisions

The recall may be invoked in the case of an official after he has served for three months. The petition for recall also must be accompanied by written statement of reasons for the action and petitions signed by electors.
