

DISCLAIMS PART IN MOVE FOR NEW GOVERNMENT

BUILDING TRADES' COUNCIL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF REED

Organized labor of Twin Falls has no fault to find with the present city administration and the circulation by Ardenas Reed, formerly business agent of the Twin Falls building trades' council of a petition for an election to extend the Black law plan of municipal government to Twin Falls was unauthorized by organized labor.

"Mr. Reed has now no connection with the building trades' council of with any other Twin Falls labor union," Mr. Cooney said. "We are given to understand that Mr. Reed has interests elsewhere and will leave the city shortly," said James B. Mann.

member of the executive council.
Was Business Agent
Reed had been business agent of the building trades' council since June 1, when he was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the appointment of his predecessor, J. S. McGraw, as district inspector for the United States employment service. "The building trades council is not going to recommend a commission form of government for the city at this time," Mr. Munn said, "but is adopting a sort of commission plan for itself, and will not name a successor to Mr. Reed at the present time.

UNION MEN TO HELP WITH CROPS

LOCAL LABOR ORGANIZA TIONS VOLUNTEER SER VICES WHEN NEEDED

Members of Twin Falls trades union, according to a resolution passed at the last regular meeting of the Twin Falls central labor union, in conjunction with the building trades council of this city, will when "urgently needed" place their services at the disposal of the farmers of this district in the harvesting of crops. They expect to fill the gap when farm help cannot be supplied through the United States employment service. A committee composed of A. F. Henry, James R. Munn and F. L. Woodruff has been appointed by the labor organizations to operate with S. J. Smith, district inspector for the United States employment service, in this undertaking.

Following is the statement of the union men in their resolution:

"Therefore be it Resolved, that when our services are 'urgently needed' to care for the present crops, that we discontinue work at our respective trades for a period of time sufficient to care for the feed supply of the season, at a scale of wages that will not prompt our sacrificing any greater amount of our wages in patriotism than the farm-four-year term on the fourth judicial district bench, achieving a record for responsibility for the position and expedition in the selection process. The nomination and dispatch in discharging the duties of the office were accomplished in a time that has won for him high praise from the attorneys generally of the district and established for him a place of high esteem in the estimation of the people of the district.

H. F. Bourgeois or Halibor, leader of the fourth district, under the provisions of the new constitution, was elected by the voters of the district to fill the vacant position created by the resignation of Judge James C. Rothwell, and will be a candidate in the election as district judge in 1902. His record is well known and needs no further understanding, although his record has not yet been fully appreciated.

OPENS DOORS TO STUDENT NURSES

BOYD HOSPITAL OF TWIN FALLS READY TO TRAIN 15 WOMEN

The Boyd hospital, Twin Falls, whose conditions of training have been approved, as required, by the state board of nurse examiners, is one of 1,879 nurses' training schools in the United States which have been accredited as training schools for 35,000 young women whom the government is calling to join the United States student nurse reserve and hold themselves in readiness to train for service as nurses.

In acceptance of the conditions prescribed by the government under which hospitals may be accredited as training schools, the Boyd hospital has done away with the three months' training course recently inaugurated as a war emergency measure and will provide instead the required two years' course of training.

Facilities of the Boyd hospital permit of the reception of 15 young women for the nurses training course.

Enrollment Campaign
Enrollment of young women in the student nurse reserve is to begin July 29, throughout the nation under direction of the council of national defense.

The call is for young women between the ages of 19 and 35.

Intelligent, respectable women of good education and sound health are wanted—the pick of the country.

Women will be given an opportunity to enroll in the reserve in any one of three ways:

(1) As engaging to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1920, to accept assignments to nurses' training schools. These women will be sent to the schools as far as vacancies occur. Those of superior qualifications will be given preference, and it is of course, possible that not everyone who enrolls will be accepted.

(2) As desiring to become candidates for the army nursing school recently established by authority of the war department, with branch schools in selected military hospitals.

(3) As engaging to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1920, to accept assignments to either a civilian training school or the army nursing school. Those who so enroll will be called where the first need arises. The government hopes that a majority of those who enroll will thus put down their names for both.

Morale Depends on Health

The war is exacting an unprecedented demand for "valued" nurses, says the women's committee of the national council of defense in a statement just issued in regard to the nurse training reserve. Only those who are in the best of health can be eligible for service with our forces overseas. These nurses are being drawn largely from our hospitals at home. Their places must be filled by student nurses enrolled for the full training course. In addition to the 35,000 young women who enroll in the United States student nurse reserve is released a nurse for service at the front and swelling the home army which we must rely on to act as our second line of hospital defense. Upon the health of the American people will depend the spirit of our fighting forces.

SAYS VICTORIES STIR RUSSIANS

JOSEPH GOLDMAN FORMER RABBI PREDICTS OVERTHROW OF BOL-SHEVIKI

One more allied victory or even the advance of the allies opposed to the Germans for a distance of five miles will be the signal in Russia for the revolt of the Russian people against the bolshaviki government which has betrayed Russia to the Germans, and will mark the reumption of the Russian active offensive against the Hun.

This is the prediction made here Tuesday by Joseph Goldman, former rabbi of the Jewish church in Russia, who addressed large meetings here July 14 in the Christian and Presbyterian churches on the Russian situation.

"I have always maintained that the Russians have never quit fighting. The Russian nation now is sick, but the victories of the allies will be the remedy that will restore it to health, and the Russian armies are going to be factors in the ending of the war in victory to the cause of humanity," Mr. Goldman said.

To Lecture at Kimberly
Mr. Goldman lectured last Sunday to crowded houses at Burley, and on Sunday night is to address three gatherings in Kimberly. He will speak in the morning at the Christian church on "Judaism." At 3 o'clock in the afternoon he will address a mass meeting in the Star theatre on "Russia and Her People," and in the evening at the Christian church he will lecture on the "Ten Lost Tribes of Israel."

(Special to The News)
ARTESIAN CITY—Settlers of this locality are much pleased over the report that F. A. Volgt and some associates may be considering plans to reclaim the Russian butte high lands. Much of this land is already cleared and ready to bring in returns the day water is turned on it. Several settlers from here who had signed up for water with the Milus Cattle company, have applied to Secretary D. B. Moorman for the return of their notes upon learning of the possibility of the company turning over the Hansen butte reclamation project to other interests.

The new crew is a grade of two mile stretch on the Pettijohn-Budledge bond toward this week.

SERVICE TAKES MORE MEN OF THIS COUNTY

ABOUT 70 REGISTRANTS
WILL ENTRAIN HERE
TOMORROW FOR CAMP
LEWIS

Not less than 70 young men entering the military service under selective service call will entrain from Twin Falls for Camp Lewis, Washington, when Twin Falls county sends her July quota of 69 registrants to national army cantonments. Eighty-nine Twin Falls county registrants have been called to fulfill this quota, and in addition to the 69 called for in this quota, others will be sent at this time to fill the vacancies occasioned by the rejection of several men from the June 28 quota.

Seventeen of the registrants of this county summoned under this call have been granted permission to entrain from points where they are now residing, and under similar arrangement 10 registrants of other counties of districts will entrain here with the Twin Falls county contingent.

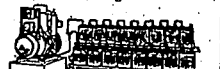

Planning Farewell
Plans are being formulated for a farewell demonstration for the men leaving here Friday evening, similar to those carried out in connection with the departure of the men of this county who have preceded them into the service. In this demonstration the Twin Falls band, the local post, Grand Army of the Republic, and other organizations and citizens generally will take part.

Natfager in Charge
The men have been ordered to report at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the office of the local board.
E. P. Nafziger, instructor in science and athletic coach at the Twin Falls high school, who was called into the military service from Urbana, Illinois, where he was taking a summer course in athletic training, has been placed in command of the party of registrants leaving here tomorrow evening for Camp Lewis.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

(Paid Advertising)

I WISH TO ANNOUNCE MY CANDIDACY for reelection to County Superintendent of Public Instruction, subject to the Republican Primaries, held Sept. 3, 1918. I wish to thank the people of Twin Falls County for the splendid cooperation given me in my work during the past two years, and if re-elected I hope to give my best in making Twin Falls Schools the best schools in the State.
(Signed) BREITMART WOLFE.

"KICK FOR SHERIFF"
To the voters of Twin Falls County: I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the Democratic Primaries September 3, 1918.

Higher Rates Required

ALl over the country public service corporations are being allowed to advance their rates for service.

The Postoffice Department has increased letter postage rates 50%. The Government management of the steam railroads has raised rates 25%, so as to secure nearly a billion dollars more revenue, made necessary by war-time conditions.

The large increase in wages and in the cost of rolling stock, fuel and raw materials is generally recognized by the Government and the public as sufficient justification for rate increases.

The telephone service has not been exempt from the contributory causes that have increased the cost of giving public service. Four-fifths of all telephone materials are now costing an 180% of the average price of such materials before the war.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1918.

WHAT FOR?

At a conference held at Chicago the other day in connection with the work of the Women's National Liberty Loan Committee, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, chairman, said: "I haven't had a new dress in the last three years." Mrs. R. A. Baldwin of San Francisco announced that she had had no new hat ornaments—presumably for the same period. Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip contributed her quota in the form of a statement that she had had "no new clothes for the children, or at least as few as possible."

The object of the conference was to arrange for the organization of the women in order to help market the Fourth Liberty Loan, and somehow or other the idea intruded itself that the dreamers of the country would have hard work buying their share of bonds if the women who buy their wares should literally profit by the implied advice—and those stores which sell hats and hat ornaments, they too would be more or less affected in their ability to buy Liberty Bonds no matter how willing they might be, if all the women were like Mrs. Baldwin. And if no more children's clothes were sold, just exactly where will the children's clothes store man turn for the money to put into the bonds he wants to buy? To practice thrift is one thing, national thrift, and individual thrift, but there can be no thrift if those who would practice it have not the money with which to be thrifty.

Any system which tends to disrupt the commercial and industrial life of the nation can hardly be a good thing, and in the matter of switching a people from plenty to poverty over night, much may happen which was not included in the original program.

If there is such a thing as a non-essential industry, in war times or peace times, by all means get rid of it. But it is a question if any industry is literally non-essential which produces something people are willing to pay for and which enables its owners and employees to pay their share of the upkeep of the government and the winning of the war. Where any single industry can be dispensed with and its other work of a more necessary character, government work, perhaps, no harm is done, but to disperse even broadly a line of conduct which in its final analysis is calculated to lead to business bankruptcy does not appear to have a great deal to recommend it from the standpoint of nation or individual.

SINKING APPREHENSION

The pathetic spectacle of a maimed soldier, broken in body and in spirit, subsisting upon what must be practically, if not in fact, alms, is not to be witnessed in this country as incidental to the present war, because the American Red Cross and the War Department co-operating are working out plans that will bring about the practical rehabilitation of those men who shall give more than their lives in the defense of their countrymen and of humanity.

Humanitarianism has kept pace with science, and if the business of war has been made more dreadful by the contributions of man's mind, the gift of man's heart is sufficient not only to relieve present suffering but to preserve intact the pride that depends upon economic independence although the body may be broken.

Schools have been established for the vocational instruction of men who may have sacrificed an arm or leg, and now announcement is made of the opening of the former home of Mrs. T. Harrison Garrett at Baltimore, where blinded soldiers, sailors, and marines will be received for rehabilitation. They will be discharged from this hospital after they have been taught a practical self-supporting trade, put in good physical condition and taught to read standard printing in raised type. The men will be sent to their home communities and placed in the trades for which they have been trained. Red Cross workers will watch after their welfare.

The man in the military service asks no more than this plan provides. The undertaking is epoch making—an achievement in this war, but it is more than this, justice, and a grateful American people welcome in it an opportunity through which they can most acceptably express their appreciation to the men who have given much in their behalf.

"Accounted For"

FURTHER ADVANCE POSSIBLE

From present indications the Franco-American offensive may continue for some days yet if General Foch is minded to permit of such advance. Today the German armies are simply a demoralized herd, herded to the slaughter by a cold-blooded application of Prussian militarism and cut down in great swaths by the onrushing French and American. Just how long it will take for the German armies to back up to a point where they formerly occupied German trenches will be encountered it is difficult to say, but when these are reached the Hun will probably stand and fight.

Possibly the offensive will not stop there. It is quite likely that the Boche could be shelled out in a very few days, after which progress may be continued. Whether the present movement develops into a general offensive or not one thing is certain, Paris and Epervay are no longer threatened, for the present at any rate.

In the meantime, one million two hundred thousand men are in France or en route, according to figures given out officially yesterday by General March.

Eventually Germany will know that American fighting men are something more than cannon fodder.

THE WAR STAMP SENTINEL

The policy of requiring persons convicted of vagrancy to make regular investments in War Savings Stamps, inaugurated in this country by Probate Judge O. P. Duvall, is one not only praiseworthy in itself as striking at the root of conditions resulting in vagrancy and insulating habits of thrift that, if established by this means, are bound to result in the betterment of the subject, but it is a policy that might well be amplified and extended to apply to persons not subject to the laws regulating vagrancy but who are heedless of the opportunity given by the government for its citizens to assist by lending their savings in the winning of the war.

The purchase of War Savings Stamps is not to be regarded, properly, as a penalty in any sense of the word. It is rather a privilege vouchsafed to those who cannot otherwise serve in the cause of humanity, and an opportunity for investment with the best security in the world.

If the court sentence were required to bring about a realization of this fact in some few quarters not yet brought to see it, it were well applied.

IN FRANCE

That the major part of the German war lords is seriously menaced by the turn of events in France is at once apparent, but that the war is anywhere near over, or that a further general offensive by Germany is not to be expected is by no means a reasonable hypothesis.

To date the work of the American-French forces has been a matter for heartfelt thanksgiving. There has been an example to inspire the Allied world but the and is not yet and there are many and varied elements bearing upon the future of the war, many of which should not be lost sight of. Hindenburg may be expected to make perhaps the greatest effort of the war to wrest the initiative from the Allies, and the effort may begin at any time.

Writing yesterday, J. W. T. Mason, war expert of the United Press offers an analysis of existing condition which is worthy of the closest thought. As Mr. Mason sees it, General Foch is moderating his drive between the Allies and the Marne for the apparent purpose of "consolidating his gains and preparing for inevitable German counter attacks."

Great caution is now necessary on the part of the allied commanders and General Foch is splendidly demonstrating that he can not be run off his feet. It would serve Von Hindenburg's purpose admirably if General Foch were to extend the battle along the Aisne-Marne into a major offensive.

A forward movement on so gigantic a scale before the Americans are fully ready to participate would be to accept the German terms on which such a battle should be fought.

General Foch is now declining to be inveigled into playing Germany's game under such conditions. The Aisne-Marne thrust must be considered as a local offensive, which, however, has already had major consequences through safeguarding Paris and driving the Germans north of the Marne.

General Foch above all has demonstrated that he will not sacrifice his own men on the barbaric principles of Von Hindenburg and the Hohenzollerns.

Von Hindenburg is unquestionably piling his reserves into the northern and central areas of the Aisne-Marne salient especially about Soissons and Fere-en-Tardenois, which are the most important pivots of the present German resistance. In this respect, General Foch has gravely interpreted Von Hindenburg's future offensive plans. The moral effect in Germany, of a confused offensive strategy at the Kaiser's headquarters will be very great, coming so closely upon the dismissal of Foreign Minister Von Kuehlmann for predicting that peace can not be won on the battlefield.

Von Hindenburg, therefore, will resort to desperate expedients in order to try to wrest the initiative from General Foch.

MUST TELL TRUTH

AMSTERDAM, July 25.—On the occasion of the eighteenth month of unrestricted submarine warfare, Captain Penrice, writing in the Berlin Tageblatt said: "We must admit that the tactics hitherto maintained by some have fallen disappointingly short of realization. It is foolish to think our U-boats can starve England. We must tell the German people the truth."

HUNS REFER TO FRENCH TANK USE

The French have used eight hundred tanks in their counter offensive, the Kolnische Zeitung declares.

This German newspaper probably refers to the small "fifty" tanks, which the French are employing in increasing numbers.

JAPAN APPROVES AID FOR RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Japan has approved the American proposal for aid to Russia. It was stated on high authority here today. The official text of the Japanese note to the United States on the subject has not yet been received, however, and until it arrives, President Wilson will not issue his statement on the allied project in Siberia and its scope and its purpose. It is ready for issuance as soon as the official text of the Japanese answer arrives from Tokyo.

CONSTANTINE FOR FINNISH THRONE

PARIS, July 25.—Germany wants to place former King Constantine of Greece on the throne of Finland according to advices received from Stockholm and already has sounded Finland regarding the proposal.

Advocation is in the classified columns of The News. Somebody will want it.

Pea Weevil Doing Damage

Several complaints have been received about worms or maggots in peas. This is the common pea-weevil. The adult insect is a hard-shelled beetle one-fifth inch long, black or mottled brown in color. It deposits small (1/16 inch) elongated orange colored eggs on the surface of the pods. This year the eggs were found abundantly on both garden and field peas, throughout June. The eggs hatch into very small grubs which bore through the pod and into the seed. Here they feed and destroy from one-third to one-half of the seed. When full-grown the grubs transform themselves into the beetle stage. The beetles remain in the seed over winter. When planted in the spring they emerge and deposit eggs on the surface of the new crop. There is only one generation a year and dried peas are not attacked. Weevils peas can be detected by a circle beneath the skin through which the weevil later emerges.

Control: The weevils may be kept out of the seed by dipping the seed in a solution of 100 parts of kerosene to 1 part of water for a few minutes and the weevils killed without injuring the germinating qualities of the seed. A better treatment is to fumigate with carbon bisulfide, using one ounce to 100 pounds of peas. Place peas in a light barrel or box. Pour carbon bisulfide into a pan and leave on top of peas. Cover the barrel tightly and leave a day. Carbon bisulfide is explosive; do not bring near fire.

RAULPH H. SMITH, Entomologist.

Many farmers around Elmer are planning to harvest their potato crop in crates instead of sacks. They claim the potatoes less, have a good deal of labor at a critical time, and are much cheaper than sacks, costing 15¢ to 20¢ each, depending on the size. If interested call at the Farm Bureau office, where these crates are on exhibition.

Banishing the Barberry

The campaign to eradicate the common barberry harbors the black or stem rust of wheat, oats, barley and rye, a disease which causes enormous losses in this country. In certain European countries it has been demonstrated that the eradication of the barberry has resulted in a marked decrease in the amount of damage caused by the disease. In central and north-western states where the campaign is being conducted public sentiment has been aroused. Nurseries for the most part have agreed to discontinue distributing common barberry bushes.

State nursery inspectors or state entomologists are destroying the bushes wherever they must infection is found. Several state councils of defense have issued appeals for the eradication of the barberry, and the public safety commission of Minnesota has issued an order providing for compulsory eradication in that state. A law providing for eradication has been on the statute books of North Dakota for more than a year.

Carrots as a Substitute for Eggs

Anything that can be used as a substitute in these days of high prices and give good results at the same time is a welcome addition in helping to keep down the high cost of living.

Boiled carrots according to the Popular Science Monthly, when properly prepared, form an excellent substitute for eggs in puddings. The carrots are boiled until they are tender and seasonally ready to fall apart; then carefully drained and mashed and pressed through a coarse cloth or strainer. This pulp is then introduced among the other ingredients of the pudding and the eggs omitted. Puddings made in this manner are equally as light and as palatable as where eggs are used. The carrots also impart a rich yellow color to the pudding, so that no one can tell whether eggs were used or not.

The exchange of ideas on saving is a patriotic service. Food is no longer judged by its money value. A short-ago of food cannot be remedied by money. It is the nutritive value we must realize, and when we can save a loaf of bread from the garbage pail, a need is being met. If that is an opportunity let us meet it. If we can encourage less waste, greater consumption of perishables, more preservation, that is our duty. With this spirit our record will be one that we shall be proud to repeat, and this is the spirit of the women everywhere.

Artisan Women Hold Demonstration

The women of Artesian met at the school house Tuesday afternoon, and were very interested in a wholesome demonstration of cookies, cakes and bread. Biscuits were distributed and the "cutting cheese dishes" (a period old pack method of home canning) and "save the wheat" were the most popular.

Cheese Excursion

A very valuable lesson was learned by the women who visited Knappa cheese factory Wednesday morning. The process of making cheese in the home is a very practical one and not difficult. When we realize the value of conserving the protein of the milk for human food, it is not surprising that we should want to know the correct measure to use the whole milk for this purpose. The remaining whey from the factory is fed to the calves, and all the milk used to an advantage. Directions for Preparing and Canning Vegetables and Fruits.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS

The premium list of the Southern Idaho Fair is now complete and will be published in an early date. Boys' and Girls' club work has been given a very fine list of prizes in all branches of the work and members should watch these columns for details.

Sweet Clover Seed

Do you know that there is a source of considerable profit in the clover along the roads and ditch banks? It is a patriotic duty on the part of all to produce and conserve to the best of their ability. The boys and girls of this county can not only reap a fine profit for themselves but also add thousands of dollars to the Thrift Stamp totals by using their spare time in harvesting this seed that would otherwise be wasted. Plans will be offered by the Southern Idaho fair to the club member who harvests the greatest quantity of this seed.

Uncle Sam's Club

The Uncle Sam's Club of Castleford met with the county leader Saturday evening and planned their Festival day at Twin Falls. A delightful program consisting of music and recitations was rendered by the members. Excellent reports of work were made by a number of those present. The singing of patriotic songs showed ability and true American spirit. After refreshments the club adjourned to meet again August 17.

Bickel Girl Makes Her Garden Pay

One sixteen year old girl member of the garden club in the Bickel district, east of Hansen, has sold already this season produce from her garden at a profit of $48, and all club members in this district are engaging enthusiastically and with excellent results in the vacation work outlined by the organization, according to the statement of W. A. Smith, their club leader upon his return Wednesday from a visit and inspection to that district. Gardens in this district range in size from one-tenth acre to one acre, Mr. Smith said, and all bear evidence of careful care given with an understanding of cultural principles.

Twenty-two cows owned by members produced over 50 pounds butterfat each in June. These girls are making their owners money and none of them are for sale.

THREE DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, July 25.—Three persons were drowned in the Skunk river northwest of Fremont yesterday. Claude McKinlin, 14, was swimming and got beyond his depth. His cries were heard by L. A. Coburn, who plunged in to save him. Coburn got caught in a snag and his calls for help brought the Rev. W. E. Bruner, who was dragged under the water by the other two.

TRAINED MEN TO DRILL HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

TWO LOCAL MEN WILL ATTEND SIX WEEKS
COURSE PROVIDED BY WAR DEPARTMENT FOR TRAINING AS MILITARY INSTRUCTORS

Military instruction in the Twin Falls high school this year will be conducted by members of the family who are graduates of the training course instituted by the war department at the San Francisco presidio for the training of military instructors in colleges and high schools throughout the west.

A telegram received Wednesday by Mayor F. F. Bracken from Colonel Dickinson, military commander at the San Francisco presidio, authorizes the sending of two men from Twin Falls to attend this training camp, which is to be open to them not later than August 1, and which is to continue until September 15.

Student May Go
Dr. P. G. Nelson, dentist of Twin Falls, is one of the candidates to attend this camp, and the second candidate is to be designated by M. G. Mitchell, principal of the high school, in whose charge the training course is placed.

The other of the war department and possible commandant is made available to the Twin Falls high school through the action of the board of directors but upon its providing for the employment this year of an athletic coach qualified to act as military instructor.

Board Instructs Course
The other of the war department and possible commandant is made available to the Twin Falls high school through the action of the board of directors but upon its providing for the employment this year of an athletic coach qualified to act as military instructor.

Drifts Out Faculty
Necessity for securing military instructors outside the high school faculty proper exists by reason of the fact that the high school faculty have been employed, while three of last year's faculty members who would have returned this year have been called to other duties. Mr. Mitchell expressed regret that it is impossible for him to attend the training camp, but that he will endeavor to see the beginning of the school year.

Extended to High School
Following is the text of the telegram accompanying the course of instruction at the training camp, received by Mayor Bracken from the war department. The war department has instituted a training camp for the military instruction of high school boys in the west. We have extended the privilege to include bona fide members of the boards of high schools which have not have had or complete having military instruction as part of their course. The state of California has 120 members of high school boards. We will train not to exceed two members of the faculty from each high school in your city should you contemplate military training for your high school. That instruction in athletics be considered.

Are Temperately Banned
The course of instruction given in civilian life will be temporarily cancelled in the national army for the period of the camp which will close September 15. Applicants must be over 18 years of age before or above the draft age; if in draft age must have deferred status, classification. They should be recommended by a reputable physician.

Applicants Accepted
Applicants accepted will be furnished with uniforms and pay and allowance of pocket money. Transportation will be refunded at the rate of four cents per mile both ways.

Write me at once if you will send any candidate to give me their names and them to report at once. It is desired that names shall be sent after August 1.

MURTAUGH MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

JOHN OAKLEIGH, FARMER AND STOCKMAN, MEETS DEATH ON TRACKS AT BURLEY

(Special to The News)
MURTAUGH—John Oakleigh, aged about 42, farmer and stockman for 15 years past a resident on his farm property four miles east of here, was last night killed by a train while he was struck by the evening west-bound passenger train at Burley. Statement of those who witnessed the accident is that Mr. Oakleigh was asleep, evidently on the railroad right of way lying near to his rails, when the train struck him. The locomotive and baggage car cleared him but either he was awakened and started to rise or the vibration of the train brought him closer to the rails and he was struck on the head by the second coach. The remains were taken on the train back to Burley where a coroner's inquest is to be held today.

BOARD GRANTS CLAIMS FARMER REGISTRARS

Provides Deferred Induction Into Military Service For List of 14

The local board has granted claims for deferred induction into the military service in the case of 14 residents of Twin Falls county who were called for the selective service, contingent leaving here for Camp Lewis Friday evening, and who, according to their affidavits, are actively engaged in agricultural pursuits. Following is the list of registrants to whom deferred induction was granted: George L. Johnson, Twin Falls; James Allen Griffin, Twin Falls; Herbert H. Hanes, Parrott, Idaho; John E. Williams, Kimberly; Ralph Robert Modlin, Kimberly; Fred Albert Danley, Hollister; Ralph Otis Butler, Kimberly; Grover Cleveland Jackson, Holper, Kansas; Bert Walcott, Amsterdam; Roy Smalley, Buhl; Perry Roberts, Hollister; Oscar Dore Lieberman, Hollister; John Olson, Twin Falls; Gedy Landy, Buhl.

MURTAUGH RED CROSS TURNS IN ITS WORK

(Special to The News)

SCORING DIRECT HIT ON AMERICAN SUBMARINE

WASHINGTON, July 25.—An American submarine, fired on by mistake by an armed merchantman, July 23, suffered slight damage, the navy department announced today, but returned to her base under her own power.

The department issued the following announcement: "The navy department is informed that a United States submarine was fired on by mistake by an armed merchant vessel on July 23 off the American coast."

"The shell penetrated the outer hull of the submarine but did not explode. No material injury was done, only a small section of shell plating being damaged. No one aboard was injured and the submarine proceeded to her base under her own power."

OUTTING EARLY GRAIN CROPS AT KIMBERLY

Threshermen Anxious to Get Busy With Long Run Ahead

KIMBERLY—The early crops of wheat and oats are being cut now and the hum of the threshing will be heard in a few days and as there is a long run ahead of them they are all anxious to get busy.

The Cadman Chautauque closed Tuesday evening after a six days session. Some good numbers were on the program but owing to the busy season and the fact that Chautauque had been held already this year in both adjoining towns there was not a large attendance, so Kimberly will probably not try the enterprise again next year.

Mrs. P. E. Moffett and baby returned to Michigan the first of the week with her father, who has been here visiting. There she will remain until after the war, as Mr. Moffett leaves in a few days for the coast where he has enlisted.

Mrs. W. A. Gill is in Twin Falls in a hospital, where she underwent a serious operation a few days ago but is reported as improving rapidly now, which will be good news to her many friends here.

R. H. Benton was in Salt Lake City on the past few days getting lined up on the grain market which opens here in a few weeks. He will have charge of the southern Idaho string of elevators for the Farmers Grain and Milling Co. this year.

E. D. Marritt has resigned his position with William Bros. store to take effect August 1. He has accepted the position of manager of the Hazelton elevator beginning next month and he and his family will move there soon.

Ralph Odgers will give his celebrated lecture at the Christian church in Kimberly Sunday evening.

HAILEY BAR NAMES ENSIGN AS CANDIDATE

Nomination of Junior District Judge to Succeed Himself Filed

Henry F. Ensign of Hailey, was nominated Tuesday by members of the Hailey bar for judge of the fourth judicial district to succeed himself.

Judge Ensign has been junior judge of this district since his appointment to the bench nearly two years ago to succeed Judge James R. Bithwell, who resigned to enter the practice of law in this city. He has conducted one term of court here and has been an occasional visitor to Twin Falls since his appointment to the bench. He is held in high esteem among the attorneys and laymen of the district.

State judges of the fourth district, Judge William A. Babcock of Twin Falls, and Judge Ensign are in the campaign so far without opposition, and it is fairly predicted that there will be no other candidates for the place this year.

POSTER SHOW HELD FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

(Special to The News)
JEROME—Saturday afternoon Miss Valentine Grant gave a poster show.

She had many posters and among her collections was a German helmet that was taken at the battle of Liege. The opera house was decorated with the posters and white daisies. The afternoon program consisted of music and singing by the talented women of Jerome.

Ten of the Junior Red Cross girls served punch in the afternoon and also in the evening, when dancing was indulged in until 11:30 and then a tableau was given. The parts were: The Belgian—Miss Grant. France—Mrs. Fields. England—By Daggett. Italy—Mrs. Churchman, sister of Miss Grant. America—Mrs. Yerkes. Mother Red Cross—Mrs. Moore. The nurses were the Misses Piper.

White, Davis, LeMay, Palace, Darlington, Brewer, Rice, Gorman and Mitchell. After the tableau the dancing continued for an hour. This was given for the Belgian children, and all was given to them, as there was very little expense. The affair was very successful and greatly enjoyed by the large attendance. Make W. B. How The Bayonet Lost a Great Battle BAYONETS, first made at Bayonne, France, whence they got their name, to begin, were almost as dangerous to the army with them as to its foe.

Fashioned with a solid butt, to be jammed into the muzzle, it rendered a gun useless for firing.

The butt was soon changed to a socket, but not before the now fangled bayonet brought the English army to grief at Killiecrankie.

The English soldier found the bayonet a poor fit, hard to get into his gun; and when he got it in, hard to get out. When he had to bayonet, he couldn't bayonet; when he had to shoot, he couldn't shoot.

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The bayonet experiment gave the Scots the battle. To safeguard tire users against the chance of experiment, Goodrich Test Car Fleets put the road test to Goodrich Tire, to make them in word and deed SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Goodrich sees but one tire value, SERVICE VALUE.—That is, what a tire proves it is worth to the motorist on his car and on the road, in comfort, economy, dependability, and durability.

All Goodrich skill and sincerity build up SERVICE VALUE, whether you get SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES, or BLACK SAFETY TIRES, you get SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Gain mileage, and the security of knowing your tires will not fail, by demanding SERVICE VALUE TIRES.
