SWISS HOSTS TO ACCUSED TURK

Former Ottoman Official Accused of Atrocities Finds Temporary Haven

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—In one of the most luxurious hotels in Lausanne is now living the Turkish millionaire named General Ahmed Djemal Pasha, former Turkish minister under the Young Turk regime at Constantinople and former commander of the fourth Turkish army in Syria. He is the first upon the black list of the Arabian government for extradition and punishment, being accused as the Tribune of Geneva reports, of the deaths of 7000 Arabian, Syrian and Armenian families whom he is alleged to have ordered to be massacred and then sent into the desert where they died of hunger and thirst in the war. He has been sentenced to death after a hearing in Turkey.

Djemal Pasha who called himself the "Hero of Hama," admits, according to the newspaper, that he was "calmly and directly" responsible for about 200 deaths of heretics. By tyranny, it is charged, he obtained his vast wealth in Turkish gold always refusing bank notes. One of his wives or one of the members of his family traveled to Constantinople from Djemal's headquarters in Syria under military escort with small boxes of gold which were forwarded subsequently to Switzerland and Holland.

It was Djemal and Djavid Pasha who were at Paris in July, 1914, and, foreseeing the war, bought the German warships, Goeben and Breslau, for their government by orders from Constantinople.

Djemal who has only a temporary permission to sojourn in Switzerland was recently requested by the Swiss government to leave this country, but he managed to procure a medical certificate proving that traveling would be prejudicial to his health and remains at Lausanne.

The Tribune demands his expulsion from Switzerland with several of his relatives. Djemal, however, is expected to return to Turkey, as the death sentence awaits him there.

APPROVES OF REPEAL OF WAR TIME LEGISLATION

House Judiciary Committee Orders Resolution to Curtail Extraordinary Powers

WASHINGTON, (AP)—By unanimous vote, the house judiciary committee today ordered a resolution to repeal all war time emergency legislation excepting the Lever food control act, the trading with the enemy act, and the District of Columbia rent profiteering measure.

Chairman Volstead told the committee that he would attempt to have the house adopt the resolution before adjournment Saturday. House action, he said, would be attempted under suspension of the rules which would permit only 40 minutes of debate.

The war time prohibition act also would be repealed by the resolution. "Wets" on the judiciary committee insisted on having this act included in the hope that sale of liquor would be reduced through a supreme court decision holding the constitutional prohibition amendment invalid.

Congress, however, has gone on record against repeal of the war time act through the passage of the Volstead enforcement law over the president's veto.

The resolution would become effective immediately upon its approval by the president.

CHILE COOPERATES WITH BOLIVIA SEEKING OUTLET

Peru Will Have to Yield to Just Necessity Under Prohibitive Rule, Diplomats Declare

BUENOS AIRES, (AP)—Chile and Bolivia are co-operating firmly to find a solution of the problem by which Bolivia will obtain an outlet to the Pacific and Peru will have to yield to this just necessity, declares Dr. Emilio Bello Codecido, Chilean minister to Bolivia, in an interview in La Nación.

Whether Africa will be declared a free port or a strip of territory to be ceded to Bolivia with internationalization of the railroad, has not been decided, he said.

"With regard to Peru," Dr. Codecido continued, "the only thing she will be able to do is to yield to necessity, which at the same time is justice, and I am convinced that as soon as a plebiscite is effected in the provinces of Tacna and Arica, which Chile will not oppose, it will be seen that not only the Chilean inhabitants but Bolivians and foreigners and even the Peruvian inhabitants will vote in favor of Chile."

Dr. Codecido expressed the opinion that there is little likelihood of the league of nations intervening in the problem.

CHURCH SEEKS PUBLICITY AWARDS-PULITZER PRIZES

Report Argues for Religious Organization Cooperation with Newspapers

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Reports of the publicity and community commissions were presented at Wednesday's session of the church and community convention of the "commission on relations of the church and community of Christ in America."

The founder of Christianity would have gotten along with reporters famously, the report of the committee on religious publicity asserted.

"Had there been newspapers in Jerusalem," the report continues, "every newspaperman would have protested in his heart against the crucifixion whether the policy of the paper allowed him to protest publicly or not."

The report pleads for the intelligent cooperation of the churches with the newspaper, for the sake of presenting to the public the larger work of the religious organization but, without glaring publicity.

FRANKIE REAGAN TAKES MARGIN OVER AL NELSON IN 12 ROUNDS. NORRIS GETS SLEEPING POTION

Main Mix in Friday's Fistic Soiree is More or Less Disappointing when Boise Man Plays the Clinching Game—Pueblo Man Aggressor—Butte Boxer Has Nose Broken in Second Fray

A knockout and two decisions resulted from Friday night's fistic soiree at the Lavering arena last night. The card from curtain-raiser to windup was full of action and entertainment.

Eddie McKenna was handsome and popular for himself when he slipped a brace of punches on Tom Norris' huge one in the fourth and one in the fifth rounds of their six frame argument, the last smack doing for Tom, who went down for a long count, to be picked up and carried to his bench for restoration.

That was the semi-windup, but it was the best match of the soiree and was McKenna's eighth fight against Frankie Reagan, winner of the ultimate affair.

Lads Promote Fun

In the opener a couple of local youngsters entered the ring for four rounds of two minutes each. The lads, Bill Bluffs and Rex Walker, demonstrated conclusively that while they know little of the many art of self defense they are willing to learn. Walker won the bout on aggression, but only got a draw because his aggression was principally directed to missing Reagan's little less than a half mile from his objective. But it was humorous sport, all right.

Frankie Reagan demonstrated superior aggression against Al Nelson, his heavier opponent, and won the 12-round windup on points. But a stiff punch connected with Reagan's efforts were confined to jabbing and running into clinches. It is estimated that half the time employed in running off this affair was consumed in being for Reagan, who, hitting in clinches was taboo on this occasion the clinches gave Reagan to chance to work his hands.

Starts Fast

Reagan started off fast and landed some stiff jabs to Nelson's head, from which he kept a constant stream of crimson flowing for three rounds. The Pueblo boy was the aggressor throughout, and won a margin of rounds. Nelson took the sixth, seventh and eighth, Reagan had the second, fourth, fifth and eleventh and others being even. The best blow of this scrap was landed in the eleventh when Reagan smashed his man a hard right on the jaw, suggesting Nelson and sending him to his corner with a peculiarly pained expression on his lips.

McKenna-Norris

The McKenna-Norris was as clean an affair of this sort as could be desired. Both boys worked hard, fast, cleverly and willingly. Ong was as aggressive as the other, but McKenna's blows seemed to have the harrier kick. Norris was dropped hard twice, before his quietus came, but he gave as good as he received while he was working. It is eminently probable that McKenna and Reagan will be signed for the main feature at the next show in Lavering theater, and there is a movement on foot to get Bill Woodhead matched with Tom Norris. But that match cannot be made until Tom's bubble mends.

In the first soccer match between girl teams of France and England played at Preston, England, the British girls were returned the victors by a score of 2 to 0. The game was a strenuous affair, as can be seen by the picture, and the girls were repeatedly cheered by the large crowd for brilliant plays. Judging by the facial expression of one of the girls, she evidently missed the ball and bumped her opponent's head.

Members of the board of city administration got home Tuesday in time to change their clothes and go to work at their own business. They spent the night and a fair portion of this morning discussing municipal matters.

It cannot be said, either, that a great lot of business was transacted at the prolix party, but such matters as were considered and disposed of were of prime importance to the city in general. Mainly local matters contemplated were the sale of improvement district bonds, ordinance of one sort or another, and the departmental and individual boosts in pay.

Disposal of some $600,000 worth of street paving improvement bonds took the greater portion of the afternoon session, there being a number of technical matters to consider and a contract was entered into between the municipality and the purchaser of the bonds. The ordinance of the resolution ordering the sale of the bonds, in order to make the sale, a hard and fast contract, occupied much time in discussion. Other matters brought up were given a similar amount of intense consideration.

GIVE SCHEDULE OF EVENTS FOR G. O. P. SESSION

Nominating Speeches to Come on Thursday with Ballotting on Friday, Secretary of the Committee Announces

Representatives of the Militant Suffragists Prepare to Picket Convention Hall for Platform Declaration

CHICAGO (AP)—Nominating speeches in the republican national convention next week probably will come on Thursday, with balloting on Friday, L. W. Henley, secretary of arrangements committee, announced today.

Following the keynote speech of Senator Charles McNamara, temporary chairman, Henley said that the convention probably would adjourn until Wednesday for committee work. Permanent organization, rules and order of business are on Wednesday's tentative program. After the nominating speeches, Henley said, the tentative program would leave Friday and Saturday and possibly part of Thursday for balloting and consideration of platform.

State Conventions Scheduled

On Monday preceding the opening of the convention, caucuses of many state delegations are scheduled to select national committeemen and make suggestions for platform. There are more than 100,000 applications for tickets for 13,280 spots, Mr. Henley stated, and 1100 applications for delegates. The association of women in politics was assigned by Mr. Henley as a ramp for the ticket demands. Distribution of tickets is to begin Saturday through national committeemen.

Political forces are gathering slowly here, and while the pre-convention election of delegates is in progress, no political leader of recognized importance has up to this time been willing to attach his name to a definite prediction of whom the convention will name as its candidate or when it is likely to do it. The end of the week with the probable adjournment of congress, however, will bring all the national leaders to Chicago and by Saturday or Sunday convention delegates are expected to begin taking definite form.

Suffragists on Ground

Representatives of the militant branch of the woman suffragists are on the ground preparing to picket the convention in order to enforce their demand for a platform declaration of interest of women in politics was assigned by Mr. Henley as a ramp for the ticket demands. Distribution of tickets is to begin Saturday through national committeemen.

Plan Johnson Demonstration

The Johnson forces are counting on a burst of speed with the arrival of Senator Johnson here tomorrow. A street parade and a demonstration have been arranged. A large delegation of service men who saw service with the American forces in Siberia, which the Johnson forces are returning home, will be in the escort.

Unpledged Groups in Power

In the coming convention the unpledged delegates are holding the balance of power and already plans for rounding out their preferences are being discussed. A caucus of the unpledged ones sometime after Sunday is one of the plans being canvassed. Quite irrespective of any decisions the national committee may make on the pending contests, the unpledged delegates will still remain in the majority and the managers of the various campaigns will have to plan to bring them to their support.

Such discussion of the platform plank is going on among the unpledged delegates and it is probable that a majority feel that the prohibition question may be regarded as one of the issues. In the field of foreign relations there seems to be an agreement of opinion that the Mexican plank will follow the line of the four years ago in which the democratic administration's policy was denounced, and as regards the peace treaty and the league of nations, the plank adopted by the Indiana state republican convention may serve as a nucleus for the plank in the national platform. No one on the Johnson side is expected to touch what the labor plank will be there seems to be a common agreement that it will probably be the most difficult one to place.

McDonnell Comes to Twin Falls

The selection of a permanent chairman, seats for have made and progress have been made in the last days. There is now a talk among national committeemen of the selection of former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, and more talk of the selection of Senator McCormick of Illinois. Political leaders here who are supporting Senator McDonnell seem to have the approval of Senator Furness for their choice. If a contest should develop over the selection, there is always the possibility that the convention might have to the plan it followed in 1916 and 1919 and make the temporary organization the permanent one.

ISSUES WARNING OF PROSECUTION IN FREIGHT JAM

Interstate Commerce Commission Declares Penal Provisions will be Invoked Unless Railroads Comply with Order

INSPECTORS REPORTING DELIVERIES NOT MADE

Procedure to be Governed by Results of Investigation to be Made into Circumstances, the Statement Says

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Warning that the penal provisions of the interstate commerce act would be invoked unless the railroads comply with orders designed to relieve freight congestion was issued today by the interstate commerce commission.

The commission in a letter to Daniel W. Pratt, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives car service committee, said that inspectors reports had shown that deliveries of equipment as ordered by the commission were not being made. The matter will be investigated, the commission added.

FEDERAL WHEAT STANDARDS HELD

Secretary Meredith Makes Decision with View to Benefiting Farmer

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Continuation of present federal wheat standards was decided upon today by Secretary Meredith in an opinion covering hearings held to inquire into dissatisfactions in the northwest with existing grades for hard red spring durum wheats. Requests for lowering the present standards, the secretary announced, will be considered in the return to farmers, while advocates of the change argued that the producer would receive more money for his wheat.

The federal standards established in 1917 and revised in 1918 have been operative only under fixed price and marketing agreements. The secretary is adding that opportunity for fair tests of their merits or defects has not been afforded under normal marketing conditions.

LEAGUE OFFICIALS EGGED

Townley Organizers Complain at State House of Misconduct in Kansas

TOPEKA, Kansas, (AP)—Three non-partisan league officials, their clothing bespattered with eggs, attempted to tell state officials today how they had been driven from Ellingwood yesterday by men, dressed in soldiers' uniforms.

The men, Walter Thomas Mills, national organizer of the League, Joseph, state organizer, and M. L. Ames, Ellingwood, showed an American flag which they said they were carrying yesterday when they were being driven from the place. It also bore egg stains.

Without succeeding in getting an interview with any state official, they left the building. Mr. Mills declared "there appears to be no act of government in Kansas."

Mr. Mills said that they were attending a farmers' picnic when men in soldiers' uniforms escorted them from the ground, later throwing eggs at them and placing them in a stockyard.

IMPOSES MAXIMUM FINE UPON CLOTHING DEALER

Federal Judge Pronounces Heaviest Penalty Upon Law Firm for Use of Coercive Practices

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The John A. Boyd corporation, of Utica, dealers in wearing apparel, was today fined $55,000 by federal Judge Harland B. Howe, following its conviction of profiting from eleven counts of law violations.

In the field of foreign relations there seems to be an agreement of opinion that the Mexican plank will follow the line of the four years ago in which the democratic administration's policy was denounced, and as regards the peace treaty and the league of nations, the plank adopted by the Indiana state republican convention may serve as a nucleus for the plank in the national platform. POMERENE ASKS WIDER INQUIRY INTO CAMPAIGNS

Ohio Senator Proposes Authorization of Committee to Extend Investigations Beyond Convention Dates

MISSOURI MAN DENIES
LOWDEN MONEY OFFERED

State Chairman Brands as False Previous Testimony that He Accepted Fund for Illinois Governor

WASHINGTON, (P)—The senate was asked today by Senator Pomerene, democrat, Ohio, to authorize the committee investigating pre-convention political financing to extend its inquiry to the presidential and senatorial campaigns which will end with the elections in November.

Senator Pomerene's resolution would direct the committee to investigate after the adjournment of the democratic national convention and before the November elections, 1920, the receipts and expenditures of all the political committees, and the receipts and expenditures of the campaigns conducted by, and on behalf of, or against, the candidates for president and vice-president, and the United States senate, and make report of their proceedings to the senate not later than the first Monday in December, 1920.

The resolution went over until tomorrow.

Cole Brands Statement.

Flat contradiction of previous testimony that he had accepted money to be expended in behalf of Governor Lowden's candidacy in Missouri was made today by W. L. Cole, republican state chairman in Missouri. The witness said that "there wasn't a word about Lowden" when E. L. Morse handed him a check for $500. He added that he had assumed the money was used as a personal contribution from Morse in the fight in the third Missouri congressional district.

Cole was called to the witness stand by Governor Harding's campaign manager, Harry M. Daugherty, had shown that $1250 of Harding funds had been given to the state chairman for Harding activities in that state while Morse's testimony had shown $500 of the Lowden funds had been given to Cole by going to Cole in Lowden's interest.

Wood Delegate Seated.

In the sixth Tennessee district it was announced that Harry A. Luck of Nashville, had been given the contest, J. C. B. McCall of Nashville, undaunted, was seated. He was claimed for Wood.

The first contest taken up today was the suspended Florida case, the dispute between the Wood faction headed by National Committeeman Benn and that led by J. Anderson of Jacksonville, reported to favor Johnson.

After the re-hearing the Florida case got another decision, being put over to 3 p. m.

Meanwhile the committee took up the North Carolina contest, there a contesting delegation was asking for the seats to which the Morehead faction had been certified. The Morehead delegates were seated.

Oklahoma Contests.

The white delegates from the second Oklahoma district, L. G. Disney of Muskogee and O. O. Grant of Stillwater, were seated. The negro contestants argued unsuccessfully that they were debarred from the Muskogee conventions.

In the fifth Oklahoma district, the committee seated W. H. Trudgen, Oklahoma City; Chris Madison, Guthrie; Mrs. F. P. Northrup, Oklahoma City; and Mrs. J. A. Anderson of Shawnee, each in a half vote and claimed for Wood. They are identified in the McGraw faction.

DANIELS BURGESS DARING SPIRIT

Secretary of Navy Addresses Graduating Midshipmen at Annapolis

ANNAPOILIS, Md., (P)—Upon the spirit and will of its officers to cast off "slavery to tradition" and venture into the realm of the future and undried depends the future strength and efficiency of the American navy, Secretary Daniels told the graduating class of midshipmen at the academy here today in presenting diplomas to its 288 members.

"To some men tradition is a task master, a dead weight, a path," he said, "to others it is a star in the firmament, a light to the pathway, wings on which to mount for clearer vision and wiser action, to win the goal, not by precedent or rule, but by an illumination that is spirit and not creed."

"No two wars were ever won by the same tactics and a few by the same weapons. The military leader of the future may navigate his ships by radio and the day may even come when all his fighting craft may be 'air navies' battling in the central blue."

"The American tradition of boldness and audacity," the speaker continued, "enforced by world war achievement, will save you from the danger of slavish adherence to tradition or precedent in method, while heartening you with the guiding realization that the tradition of daring and audacity is bounded by no limits or possibilities or misadventures."

The secretary told the young officers they were to be congratulated upon coming into the navy "in a day when it holds—and holds deservedly—higher place in the confidence of the American people than in any period of its history."

HOUSE ADOPTS REPEAL OF WAR TIME LEGISLATION

Democrats Support Resolution Under Protest Against Levy or Act Retention

WASHINGTON, (P)—By a vote of 233 to 3 the house today adopted and sent to the senate a resolution repealing all war time legislation except the food control act and the trading with the enemy act.

Though supporting the resolution, democrats protested against the repeal of the Lever act and expressed doubt whether the repeal bill as drafted covered all war legislation, particularly all war time laws except the Lever food control act and the trading with the enemy act.

On the roll call, however, only three democrats opposed the resolution: They were Representatives Sims and Garrett, Tennessee, and Welling, Utah.

URGES AID FOR BUSINESS

U. S. Chamber of Commerce President Proposes Federal Charters

CINCINNATI, (P)—Speaking before the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, Harry A. Wheeler, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, urged the federal government "place itself" underneath business in a helpful way, especially in the export field, just as England and other countries have done.

Mr. Wheeler insisted, among other things, that American concerns desiring to operate in foreign countries be given charters from the United States government, instead of state charters, which he said, mean practically nothing to prospective investors abroad.

RECRUITING IS SUSPENDED FOR NEW AUSTRIAN ARMY

VIENNA, (P)—Recruiting for the new army that is to replace the Volkswehr under the terms of the treaty of St. Germain has ceased, the allowed 30,000 men having been enlisted. It is said that 70 per cent of the force are social democrats in spite of the failure of the peasants to enter service in the provinces, where the conservative, locked for heavy taxation, to offset the industrial centers. Many of the provinces failing to raise the quota, natives of the defaulting provinces are expected to be enlisted and sent to their home states.

USE STREAM TO ERADICATE DESTRUCTIVE BOLL WEEVIL

NEW ORLEANS, (P)—The pink boll worm, more destructive to cotton than the boll weevil, is to be steam eradicated. Poisoning has failed to kill the pest but it is expected that steaming will do the job and make it possible for oil mills to handle seed from infected territory.

The decision was the outcome of a conference here between superintendents of cotton seed mills in Louisiana and other places where the pest has been purchased from areas known to be infected with the worm.

Agricultural Rock on which Marxians Split

COLOGNE, (P)—The impending formation of a "green international" of peasants' interests was announced yesterday by Dr. Helm, the widely known leader of the Bavarian peasants party. Dr. Helm asserted that agriculture was the rock upon which socialism would be wrecked.

August 6 has been fixed as the date for the international peasants congress, to be held at Cologne.

ADVISES TREATY RETURN

Committee Would Put Proposed Colombian Agreement Before Senate

WASHINGTON, (P)—Return of the proposed treaty with Colombia to the senate for final action was recommended today by the senate foreign relations committee by the sub-committee appointed to draft an amendment to the document.

The treaty was reported back without amendment, the sub-committee saying that such action had been made unnecessary by the decision of the supreme court of Colombia in which an oil decree regarded by American oil producers as confiscatory in character had been declared unconstitutional.

Under the treaty the United States would pay Colombia $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama.

During consideration of the proposed amendment a "misunderstanding" was disclosed. According to the committee's report the Colombian government had expressed dissatisfaction with the terms of the document, but an examination of the records of the state department failed to show the correspondence.

OPPOSITE PERRINE HOTEL

The Twin Falls auto camp site is now in full operation and is being used constantly by tourists and campers passing through the "Twin Falls country. The contrast to be observed as between present facilities, and those of former years is readily apparent and the amount of benefit in the way of general advertising which our city gains through the establishment of the camp can hardly be estimated in terms of dollars and cents.

Probably in the years to come present facilities will be added to and further and more extensive conveniences provided for the comfort of our visitors, but as matters now stand the City is to be heartily congratulated upon the possession of the park site.

LET'S GET THE FACTS

"It helps discussion somewhat to know what we are talking about." This is the dictum of William Howard Taft, sometime president of the United States. It was delivered in connection with a lecture he gave in Spokane the other day. The lecture was an exposition of the league of nations from the viewpoint of Mr. Taft.

In no other connection could Mr. Taft's remark serve to better purpose than in relation to the league of nations question. It is good any time and in any connection; but with the league of nations being pushed into the forthcoming campaign at the insistence largely of Mr. Wilson, it is advice that is of paramount importance during the next few months.

With the league of nations as an issue in the campaign, fertile field is opened up for continuation on larger scale of the flood of oratory that has characterized its consideration in the senate.

Without imputing purpose of deliberate misrepresentation to either of the parties contending over this issue, it is to be remembered that the question has two sides. It is hardly to be expected that the question when it is thrust forward as a campaign issue, will be handled by campaign orators in a wholly impartial manner. Mr. Taft, himself, being president of an organization that stood foremost in the fight to secure ratification at first of an unaltered treaty and covenant and later for the covenant and treaty, with reservations, is hardly to be accepted as an impartial adviser.

There are just two ways in which the truth that lies between the two extremes likely to be stressed in the campaign, is to be approximated. One is to hear all of the arguments on both sides. That method is more likely to breed confusion than to clarify the issue. The other is to study the text of the covenant itself.

The political party which contends itself with placing a copy of the covenant in the hands of each elector, leaving it to the elector's own intelligence and judgment to decide the issue, would seem, at this juncture, to be making a long step toward ingratulating the support of the public that is entitled to credit for ability to make its own decisions on the basis of the facts presented.

WHY NOT THE PUBLIC?

According to L. E. Shepherd, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, the railroad brotherhoods are unalterably opposed to boards of arbitration on which the public is represented. Their opposition as well as his own, Mr. Shepherd declares, is based on the idea that representatives of the public on arbitration boards do not know enough about railroad labor problems to be fair.

It is to be hoped that acceptance of Mr. Shepherd's action in this respect is not as general as he would have us believe.

If Shepherd is right in his contention, then the jury system in jurisprudence is open to very serious criticism. If he is right then it would seem to follow as a logical conclusion that every juror who sits in the trial of a murder case for instance, ought to be at one time or other closely connected with a homicide or at least to have acquired the familiarity with such incidents as falls to the lot of a police detective.

If Shepherd is right, then the parties to litigation involving articular water rights, for instance, would be justified in objecting to trial of their contentions before a court that had not acquired familiarity through first hand experience in well drilling operations. Impassability of Mr. Shepherd's claim is important on its face.

The person or organization must be in and straits that fears to let enter into the determination of its case an impartial factor, which, if it cannot, excise the advantage of intimate familiarity with actual working operations involved, ought at any rate to be depended upon to be guided by a spirit of fair play.

GETTING NOWHERE

It is difficult to see where any good purpose is being served by the continuing investigations of pre-convention campaign expenditures of presidential candidates.

Not one scintilla of evidence has been adduced tending to show corruption in any of the activities of candidates or their supporters so far called on the carpet; and proof alone that greater or lesser amounts of money have been raised and expended in the interests of any candidate cannot be accepted as disproof of corruption. It is hardly to be argued that effort to obtain the nomination of one of the great political parties, for the highest office within the Nation's gift is in itself, a blameworthy activity. No stigma attaches to the name of Lincoln because of his admitted seeking after that high office.

Effort of this nature necessarily implies the making of friends; and friendships are based upon acquaintance. Extension of acquaintance on the part of any candidate—and especially under the primary elections system—involves the expenditure of effort, either through personal meeting with the voters or through use of the printed word. Either involves the expenditure of money, and when it is taken into consideration, as was brought out by a member of the senate inquisitorial board, that it would require $1,500,000 to give national circulation to a single platform pamphlet for a candidate, the expenditure of the money that have been bandied about in the investigation's disclosures does not seem unreasonable.

Question, perhaps remains as to the personnel of campaign contributors. There must be always a possibility that the contributor may be seeking to advance his own interests; and that he may be attempting to attach strings to the candidate. But the likelihood that honest personal admiration for a candidate may serve as the contributor's motive is also entitled to consideration. This should apply as well to the millionaire who advances $1,000 or $500,000 as to the wage earner who donates a dollar. Dismiss itself, should be regarded as criminal.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY

Governor Allen of Kansas, in his debate the other evening against Samuel Gompers, propounded an immense question when he asked:

"When a dispute between capital and labor brings on a strike affecting the production or distribution of the necessities of life, thus threatening the public peace and impairing the public health, has the public any rights in such a controversy or is it a private war between capital and labor?" If you answer this question in the affirmative, Mr. Gompers, how would you protect the rights of the public?"

In consideration of Mr. Gompers' relation to the question under discussion in this debate, it is not strange that the veteran labor organizations leader deemed it the better part of valor to evade and refuse to answer this specific inquiry. At the same time, Mr. Gompers and those who coincide in his publicly expressed views on the subject, certainly passed up right here a wonderful opportunity for occupying a place in the front rank of civilization's advancement.

Governor Allen, in propounding this question, was stating a situation with which he had been called upon to cope in his own state during the coal miners' strike of last winter. Governor Allen's answer was the dispatch of volunteers to the coal mines and the Kansas industrial relations court law.

Mr. Gompers opposed the employment of volunteers in the coal mines, and he denounced the industrial court law which is designed to prevent recurrence of similar emergencies.

But Mr. Gompers had no answer for the question. His attitude brands his policy as one of reaction and negation. Besides his monumental failure in this respect, his platitudinous allusion to the poitocracy of the laborer who does not seek to better his condition, and his reference to benefits that cannot be disputed that have been won by industrial strikes pall and shiver miserably.

It is difficult indeed, in consideration of both sides of the argument as presented by the governor and the labor leader, to escape conviction that the Kansas was quite right in his conclusion that "Gompers' remedy for war is more war; mine is peace, conditioned on the impartial judgment of responsible government."

ENOUGH CALAMITY HOWLING

(Dubuque (Ia.) Times-Journal)

There really ought to be no room for the calamity howler. We have had enough predictions of this and that evil in the past few months, and nothing came of all the terrible fears. In our country it is clear that radicalism has had its day. Even in the socialist convention the extreme radicals were voted down. A sensible view of international relations is taking the place of the Utopian scheme the president brought back from Paris. His attempt to force his ideas on the country has failed, and its place we shall no doubt develop a more practical plan of international co-operation. The optimist can see the first sign of a decline in prices. The necessity of increased production is being realized. Slowly the process of deflation is doing its work of overcoming the evils of inflation, and the currency is slowly and steadily returning to a normal condition of life. A comprehensive view of the world situation will show that we are in a world which is tidously making its way to the light and we need the cheer of the optimist to help it along.

WHEN MONEY IS ABOLISHED

The ambition of the soviet rulers of Russia to abolish currency is nearing achievement, according to a special dispatch to the Sun and New York Herald from its correspondent, who quotes an interview with the soviet commissioner of finance, Georgievitch Tikhonovich.

Under the soviet plan, money will ultimately be abolished entirely, and in the future when a Russian wants a new hat he will be issued a government order on the hat maker. When he wants a pair of shoes, he will be issued an order on the shoe-maker—maybe. Labor is to be paid in the future in boots, shoes, clothing, food, theater tickets, and probably tooth brushes, Bolshevik pamphlets, patent medicines, and snuff.

Life under such a system would not be without interest. The Russian would find occupation for the long winter evenings in swapping "tickets." Bath tickets might fall alarmingly in value, for example, until they were quoted at 10 bath tickets for one bread ticket. The possibilities of barter in tickets would be almost unlimited. The workman might even find it profitable and quit work entirely and devote all his life to swapping tickets with his fellows.

And what would the tickets be but an immensely complicated money system. Money is merely a medium of exchange. The shoe-maker who wants to trade a pair of shoes to the baker for some bread, finds it much simpler to reduce both the shoes and the bread to terms of dollars and cents.

The difficulties of foreign travel were called to the attention of the Russian foreign minister, who was asked if a Russian would find it necessary to start on his travels abroad with enough supplies to last him until his return, and if he would have to anticipate every possible need.

The solution of that was simple. "If there was not particular necessity of your going abroad you would not leave Russia," he said. "If the motives back of your journey should interest the government, it would always have foreign currencies in its coffers."

Pleasant people, the Bolsheviks, aren't they? And what a delightful thing this "new freedom" is. It puts the individuals in the position of the negro before the Civil War with the state taking the place of the slave owner.

HANSON

Ole Hanson resigned as mayor of Seattle because he would not apologize to the council after insulting it. Ole Hanson was admitted to membership in a Seattle real estate men's club by a bare majority vote, being opposed on cause of his reputation for moral obliquity in certain real estate deals. Politically Ole Hanson has been for fifteen years a chameleon; economically he is a conglomerate of supple-jack and Punch and Judy, plus the circus-crooked threads of Emma Goldman's "Crastest" needlework.

To this effect and without any apparent provocation, sings the local propagandist of hate in a recent ebullition.

Ole Hanson may be the greatest racial outside of prison walls; but acceptance of the whole damning indictment does not detract one iota from the fact that Ole Hanson stood four-square against the human powers of darkness in their effort to scuttle the ship of state in Seattle, and that the name of Ole Hanson among Americans pretty generally connotes sturdy Americanism and tested fidelity to law and order.

Ole Hanson may or may not have adopted the most palatable methods in dealing with the emergency with which Seattle was confronted. It is easy now for carpenter to find fault. The fact remains that Bolshevism had pretty nearly gained a foothold in America, and Ole Hanson disengaged its tentacles.

The effort to discredit Hanson at this late date somehow does not ring quite true.

Would-be detractors from his reputation cannot efface the general conviction that in the hour of trial Ole Hanson stood true to the best principles of Americanism. In the long run the question of whether this person or that is entitled to the credit for a certain great and good achievement is not nearly so important as the achievement itself.

But Hanson's place in history and in the estimation of his countrymen generally is too well established to be affected by any such belated criticisms of somebody's grindstone.

CAR DROPS 70 FEET OVER CANYON; OCCUPANTS MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPE

Mrs. Donald Mackay is Pinned Under Wreck but, with Husband and Baby, Escapes Serious Harm — Accident Occurs when Attempt is Made to Avoid Crash with Opposing Machine on Wrong Side of Bridge

Although she was pinned under a heavy car which after three days had dashed more than 70 feet over the rim of the floor of Dead Man gulch Mrs. Donald Mackay sustained no injuries of a particularly serious nature. She is in the county hospital. Mr. Mackay and their 3-year-old baby, miraculously escaped injury of moment in the crash.

The accident occurred late yesterday afternoon when Mr. Mackay drove a heavy Kiesel car through the railing of the Dead Man gulch bridge as he attempted to avoid collision with an opposing car occupied by two men. The Mackays, who reside on a farm and about three miles north of Filer, were coming to Twin Falls. As the Kiesel car approached the bridge the opposing car was seen and the Mackays reached the structure from the Twin Falls side. The latter car was driven, it is stated, on the wrong side of the bridge and the Mackays were so driven to avoid a bad hole at the east approach.

According to Mr. Mackay there was no time to stop and to have attempted to pass on the right hand side of the opposing car would have been to court a collision. Mr. Mackay further explains that he believed that the opposing car was coming from the west and he was so driven to avoid a bad hole at the east approach.

In the fall both Mr. Mackay and the baby were thrown clear of the wreck, and alighted in a manner that caused them no particular injury. Mrs. Mackay, however, was caught by the neck under a part of the damaged machine and she was released her from her precarious position and an attempt was made immediately to obtain medical aid from the hospital. At that institution it was learned that no physicians were available at the time and a trip was made to Twin Falls to procure assistance. Dr. D. L. Alexander, attending Mrs. Mackay, who was removed to the hospital for treatment. She will probably remain in the institution several days.

Mrs. Mackay, besides operating a ranch of her own, is in partnership with Robert Rogerson in the sheep raising business.

Three marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk yesterday. One was to Roy Burr and Florence McMahon, of Twin Falls, another to A. Clyde Glasgow, aged 45, and Clara A. Daniel, 25, both of Filer, the third to Gwen M. Pugh, 26, of Twin Falls and Laura M. Butler, 27, of Filer.

The first named couple later in the day appeared before Judge W. A. Babcock of the district court, and a marriage ceremony was performed.

PERMITS TO BUILD.
According to a permit issued by City Clerk W. A. Minnick yesterday, W. H. Thompson contemplates the erection of a 12 by 20 residence addition on Seventh avenue east. The improvement is to cost about $300. M. S. Hoover has taken out a permit for the construction of a garage to cost about $200. The building will be placed on property on Sixth avenue north and will be 12 by 18 feet in size.

WARE IS IMPROVING.
Reports from a hospital in Buhl indicate steady improvement in the condition of M. G. Ware, deputy assessor, who was operated upon last Saturday for appendicitis.

Theatre

IDAHO.

One of the most pleasing features outside of Tom Mix's great stunts of daring, in "The Terror," which William Fox presented at the Idaho theatre last night before a capacity audience, is the beautiful scenic effects achieved by the director, Jacques Jacard.

"The Terror" reveals Mix at his best. From the opening scene until the final fadeout this daring star holds the attention unintermittently by his remarkable feats of horsemanship and sheer dare-deviltry. As Bat Carson, a deputy United States marshal sent to run down a gang of gold thieves in the Sierras, he is in his glory.

The story is rich in romance and in that kind of adventure which every red-blooded American likes to see. Beautiful Francis Billington, as leading woman, makes a very fascinating heroine. Others of importance in the cast are Charles K. French, Lester Cuneo, Lucille Young, Joseph Bennett and Wilbur Higby.

AMUSEMENTS
GEM—"The Isle of Conquest," starring Norma Talmadge; also two part comedy.
IDAHO—Tom Mix in "The Terror"; also comedy.
ORPHEUM—"A Little Brother of the Rich"; also two feature, vaudeville acts; orchestra music.
