It is the plan to erect immediately a standard derrick rising 86 feet high for the first drilling. The derrick alone is to cost 25,000, and the further plan is to expend at least $150,000 on the first hole. Should a commercial flow of hot water be encountered a natatorium will be erected on the spot, and a recreation ground established at the site. The hole will be 24 inches in diameter, and is expected to yield an

An 80-acre farm near Hansen, bought in 1911 for $94 per acre, was sold yesterday.

The farm is the Leighton place, on which was harvested a district record wheat crop recently. It was owned by H. Leighton and his mother, Mrs. Abby C. Leighton who, through the Hanger-Robbins realty agency, disposed of the place to Walter M. Beck

HARDING STAND ON RECLAMATION PLEASES IDAHO

Republican Leaders of State
Telegraph Expressions of Gratitude for Senator's Recognition of Program Virtues

BOISE, Idaho, (Special to The News)—Sweepingly significant, in the opinion of Idaho republican leaders, is the vigorous address on reclamation delivered yesterday by Warren G. Harding.

Governor Davis, former Governor Gooding and persons who have played an active part in the campaign being waged by the United States Reclamation association believe that the orator's utterances mark the beginning of a new era in the development of the west.

The following telegram—each expressing gratitude for Senator Harding's striking recognition of the virtues of the reclamation program, were sent to Marion.

Addison T. Smith, member of congress—The first duty of the government is to its people, opportunity for its citizens by the development of the development of the country's natural resources. We are all rejoicing that this policy is recognized by your address to the republicans from the west and that you are in favor of an aggressive policy of reclamation of the arid states.

By conserving the water and by now going to waste millions of acres of rich lands can be carved into farm homes and the nation's food supply greatly increased. Your attitude on western development will result in bringing over western state into the republican column next November.

Governor D. W. Davis—"Permit me as president of the Western State Reclamation association to express to you my sincere and enthusiastic approval of your address on reclamation."

We of the west, delighted beyond measure because we know that our problems will be dealt with in the most direct and sympathetic understanding which permeates your declaration on this subject. Your endorsement of our program means for the west the most sincere and sympathetic understanding which permeates your declaration on this subject.

John Thomas, former republican state central committee—"Your strong stand for reclamation has confirmed us in the faith that the nation's next reclamation president will be from the west. You have remembered the west and none can doubt that the west, which never has been lacking in gratitude will remember you at the White House."

Our campaign in Idaho has been given added inspiration. Count on this state for a majority of at least 20,000. Former Governor Frank Gooding—"I am more than delighted with your address on reclamation. Its breadth of understanding, its evident cordiality and its unquestionable sincerity will make thousands of Harding zealots in this western country. We know now that we are to have a president who appreciated the magnitude of the reclamation problem and who is prepared to meet it squarely."

Confident we can win the next election, we are confident that we will win the next election. Leave that matter to the west. We understand how it should be handled."

FRANCE MAKES PUBLIC ITS RECONSTRUCTION STORY

Commission for Devastated Regions Issues Booklet Visualizing Work Accomplished is Issued

PARIS, (AP)—A little booklet entitled "Facts and Figures Regarding France" in which the story of the devastated departments and the work of reconstruction is visualized in a series of tables is being given to American visitors by the commission for the devastated regions whose president is Andre Turiau.

Contrasted with the burdens of a national debt seven times that of 1914 and taxes more than four times as great are the hopeful possibilities of rapidly improving export trade, the acquisition of the potato, iron and steel industries of Alsace-Lorraine and the gradual development of France's water-power possibilities.

The new source of electric power is estimated at 9,000,000 horsepower of which 750,000 horsepower have been utilized and an additional 850,000 horsepower will be producing during the coming year. Now that France is so short of coal the power question is regarded as among the most important, for such hydraulic horsepower is considered equivalent to a ton of coal saved.

MOST OF TODAY'S CLASSIFIED ads will lead to "business." Sales will be made, jobs will be found. Some will discover, perhaps to their surprise, how economically advertising serves them.

Dr. Parrott and Associates Have Interesting Experience in Canadian Country

Having spent about three weeks in Alberta, British Columbia and Washington, Dr. Parrott has returned to Twin Falls. He was accompanied on the northern trip by his daughter, Miss Edna Parrott, Alvin P. Senior and M. E. Parrott. The latter returned Sunday.

Dr. Parrott has laid holdings near Lethbridge and it was in connection with the trip that he was made. He reports excellent wheat all through the Canadian territory, and expects the farmers of western Canada to reap a record harvest of all sorts of grain.

Returning from Lethbridge the Parrott party entered British Columbia by way of the Crow Nest pass, one of the most ruggedly wonderful bits of natural scenery in all the Canadian domain. The pass is negotiated over the M. E. Parrott bridge, late Parrott, a great proportion of the line being constructed on trestles and around "S" curves.

One of the historical features of this line of railroad is found at Frank, where some years ago mining was extensively carried on. The town, some 2000 population 15 years ago, was more particularly speaking, a mining camp, the railroad looking down upon extensive mining activities from a height of several hundred feet.

One mountain pinnacle standing like a monster sentinel over the camp gave forth immense quantities of coal and copper and was a veritable haystack at its base. So extensive had mining operations been in this particular hill that the base was fringed every way with pick and shovel and, due to the underground mining, one night while the town was slumbering it split and fell over, burying Frank and all occupants, man, child and beast, under millions of tons of rock and rubbish. History records that of all the population of Frank only one boy escaped beyond recovery, and one horse was ever taken out alive.

The horse, through the mistaken kindness of an official, was permitted to drink his fill at the door of the cave from which he had been rescued.

Although it is nearly 10 years ago since this calamity occurred, interest is still manifested in the scene and tourists all flock to the windows and door of Frank for a peep at the site of British Columbia's buried city.

Dr. Parrott and his party took as keen an interest in the history of Frank and the scene itself as any other tourist on the train which bore them homeward.

Ranch Owners and Authorities
Join in Campaign Against the Rustlers

BUENOS AIRES, (AP)—Vigorous raids on the haunts of cattle rustlers by roundup parties representing ranch owners and the authorities are making a land-slide brand changing an unpopular on the pampas as it became on the plains of the North American west with the coming of the law.

In a roundup just completed by officers and 88 gauchos, as the hard riding and tactful brothers of the Texas cowboys are called, 3000 head of cattle have been recovered with brands that showed signs of "funny work."

This was in the province of Buenos Aires, the most populous of the Argentine provinces. From the less settled provinces also there came from time to time reports of rustling and summary punishments that lead one to think of the old Wyoming or Idaho days.

The telling pampas of Argentina scarcely ever broken by the sight of a tree, have had much the same history as the North American western plains.

In past years, especially in the more distant provinces, a cattle rustler at times flourished. One picturesque outcome of this in the past was the effort of the Welsh colonies among the foothills of the Andes of Patagonia to set up an independent authority because rustling was not put down by the government.

GROESBECK RUNS AHEAD AT POLLS

Later Returns from Michigan
Primary Favor Attorney
General for Governor

DETROIT, Mich., (AP)—After running second on early returns to Milo D. Campbell, candidate of the farmers' organization, Attorney General Alex J. Groesbeck Wednesday jumped into the lead of the nine primary races for the republican gubernatorial nomination in Tuesday's state-wide primary.

Returns from 127 precincts out of 243 in the state gave: Groesbeck 44,131; Campbell, 37,950; plurality for the attorney general of 6181.

Groesbeck overcame Campbell's lead on returns from Wayne (Detroit), Kent (Grand Rapids) and Houghton counties.

Democrat Outopped.

In the democratic ticket, former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris was opposed for nomination for governor.

An interesting feature of the congressional contests was the fight for the nomination in the third district. Mrs. Helen Curtiss Stutler of Kalamazoo was giving her two male competitors the liveliest sort of a race, 135 precincts out of 178 in the district placing Elton B. Eaton in the lead with 5223. Mrs. Stutler was next with 4839.

Fordney Leads Head.

Congressman Joseph W. Fordney of the eighth district apparently was assured of re-nomination. Congressman Earl C. Michigan of the second congressional district was also leading strongly in his respective districts, while Congressman W. Frank James in the twelfth had a lead of about 1000 over Martin MacDougall in 56 out of 190 precincts.

Urging America to Join the League

COLISEUM, Fair Grounds, Columbus, O., (AP)—Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic standard bearers, were given a rousing reception when they arrived at the big coliseum at the Ohio state fair grounds Monday afternoon.

Telling of starving conditions in Russia, Germany, Austria and other war-ridden European countries and the threatened spread of Bolshevism, the governor said Germany had not gone to work "because the indemnity has been fixed" and that France has not returned to normal "apparently until she gets her indemnity."

The German indemnity has not been fixed, he asserted, because England and France cannot agree on what it shall be, adding that the people of Europe are praying that America will assert its voice and say what the indemnity shall be.

He urged that America join the league of nations.

LONDON, (AP)—A working agreement has been entered into between the Musical Conductors' association and the National Orchestral Union of Professional Musicians whereby members of both bodies are pledged to oppose alien competition. Their purpose is declared to be to combat "the determined efforts of foreign conductors and instrumentalists to regain their former footing in London theaters," and to "recognize the need for a concerted defense."

The organizations state that "at the outbreak of war, only one English conductor was employed in all the London theatres then producing light opera. The remaining conductorships were held by Germans and Austrians, nowadays reappearing in the roles of Swiss and Japanese."

GREENWICH VILLAGE COURT
IMPOSES CURFEW ON JAZZ

NEW YORK, (AP)—Quinn's Greenwich village, New York's Bohemian quarter, famous in song and story as the home of new thought, has something new to occupy its attention—jazz curfew at 11 o'clock nightly. This ultra modern idea was not of the village's own initiative. It was decreed by a matter-of-fact magistrate in Jefferson Market court who ordered the clanking of cowbells and the moaning saxophone to cease their jangle in a tearoom an hour before midnight, in order that complaining nearby tenants might sleep.

By HAL G. BLUE
Superintendent City Schools.

Nothing more clearly and convincingly shows the steady growth of Twin Falls than a study of enrollment data extending over the last six years of the work of the local schools. The following are the enrollment figures of the school year opening in September, 1914:

First grade	257
Second grade	226
Third grade	226

Freshman class	143
Sophomore class	83
Junior class	74
Senior class	42
Total in high school	368
Total in entire school system	1908

Shows Substantial Growth.

Comparing the above data with the following figures which shows the enrollment in the various divisions for the school year opening last September, 1919, there is revealed a very substantial growth.

First grade	397
Second grade	328
Third grade	328
Fourth grade	281
Fifth grade	281
Sixth grade	281
Seventh grade	234
Eighth grade	231

Junior class	176
Senior class	90
Total in high school	676
Total in entire school system	2945

Enrollment Nearly Doubled.

By nearly doubling its enrollment in this period of time, the high school shows the greatest increase in enrollment, 100 per cent, while the elementary grades by increasing their enrollments more than 700 pupils reveal a gain of 100 per cent.

During the last six years the greatest gain in a single year was that made by the last school year over the previous year.

The elementary grades:

School year beginning Sept. 1919	2579
School year beginning Sept. 1918	1849

Gain in elementary grades—296

The high school:

Eight Teachers Added.

In organizing the schools for the year open September 1, 1920, every possible plan is being laid to care for an enrollment that will go well beyond the 3000 mark. Eight teachers are being added to the faculty, making grades one to six, making 48 instructors in these grades as against 40 last year. These eight additional teachers will not only take care of enrollment increases but they will smooth out the seriously congested room conditions that prevailed last year.

The organization of the seventh and eighth grades is going to be seriously hampered by the completion of the new intermediate school building, which is being constructed as an addition to the high school building. The intermediate school will provide 35 or 40 extra rooms, which are going to be sorely needed in caring for increased enrollments in both the high school and the intermediate school. And, too, the completion of the new school is going to delay the reorganization of the vocational departments—the department of mechanical arts, the department of domestic arts, the department of agriculture and the department of commerce. The large basement rooms of the new school will be completely occupied by the departments of mechanical arts, household arts, and agriculture; consequently, the basic reorganizing work of the vocational courses will need to be somewhat delayed.

High School Innovations.

A substantial increase in high school enrollment is anticipated and so some additions are being made to the faculty. For the first time in the history of the high school, a director of physical education will be in charge of the work in physical training and athletics. Plans are being made to have the director devote some time to work in physical education in the elementary school buildings. Clinton W. Evans is the director. The girls have not been neglected in the matter of physical training. Miss Winslow, who is in charge of the physical training work and athletics in addition to her work as teacher of physiology and hygiene in the high school, and the intermediate school, Mr. Evans is a graduate of the University of California and Miss Rundquist has spent the summer at the same university taking courses in physical education and girls' athletics. Another departure that will certainly result in excellent achievement on the part of the girls in the intermediate school is the selection of Carl H. Oltz to head the department of music. Mr. Oltz is a product of the University of California and is recommended by Dr. Hollis P. Dana, the director of the conservatory. Mr. Oltz will give will both be at their old posts again next year. For a time it was doubtful if Mr. Mitchell would return as he desired to go to Harvard to complete his work in a national.

Fortunate in Supervisors.

Twin Falls is fortunate in the return of the three supervisors who have done so much in their service for the work of the schools. Miss Elizabeth Shattwell will continue her work as supervisor of the elementary grades, Miss Grace Brynha, will again be the supervisor of music in the elementary grades, and Miss Fannie Perkins will continue in her work as supervisor of domestic arts and penmanship in the grades below the intermediate school.

List of Teachers.

The following is a complete list of teachers for the next school year:

General and Special Supervisors—Grace Brynha, drawing and penmanship; Elizabeth M. Shattwell, elementary music; Bertha Wilson, health; Clinton W. Evans, physical education and athletics; Principal—Matthew C. Mitchell, high school; L. E. Bear, intermediate school; Frances Agar, Washington school; Lois Stewart, Lincoln school; Helen Way, Bickel school.

High School.

English Department—Alice Johnson, Concordia College, Leavenworth, Kan.; Helen Loebe, Vassar Institute, Virginia, Anderson.

Latin Department—Naomi Gunderson, Lillian Lindner.

Modern Language Department—Ellen Gobel, Louise Grymacker.

Public Speaking and Expression Department—Mary Glibson.

Mathematics Department—George J. Neupert, Ethel Barney, Theresa McLaughlin.

Science Department—E. P. Nafziger, John Holke, Eleanor Krake, John D. Hamilton.

History and Social Science Department—Emilio Noack, Carrie Sampson, Thelma Planted.

Commerce Department—D. A. Elles, Beulah Hall, Lella Matten.

Mechanics Arts Department—Donald L. Robey, Renaldo V. Jones.

Agriculture Department—Warren C. Peterson.

Household Economics Department—Mary E. Fisher, Juanita Sutcliffe, Grace Burwash, Corrie Yought.

Department of Agriculture.

The department of agriculture under the new head, Warren C. Peterson of the Kansas State Agricultural college, is making changes in its organization, will be well organized by George E. Deaman, who resigned to become state supervisor of vocational agriculture, John D. Hamilton, who is principal of the State college as well as teacher in the department of science.

Department of History.

The department of history has new instructors in Miss Carrie Sampson of the University of Iowa and Miss Thelma Planted of the University of Washington. Miss Planted will take charge of the department of history, sociology and economics. Miss Planted will also have charge of the department of general social science—community civics.

Strong Mathematics Department.

The department of mathematics will be strengthened by George J. Neupert, who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and who has been a professor of mathematics. Mr. Neupert is a graduate of Vassar and will take charge of the department of mathematics of the high school. Miss Thelma Planted is a new instructor in the new school.

Miss Mary Glibson of the University of North Dakota and a graduate student of the University of Wisconsin will take charge of the department of speaking and expression. Miss Helen Loebe of the University of Minnesota and Miss Verna Hovind of the University of Wisconsin will be teachers in the department of English.

The return of Miss Helen Gobel to resume charge of the department of domestic arts, the department of agriculture and the department of commerce. The large basement rooms of the new school will be completely occupied by the departments of mechanical arts, household arts, and agriculture; consequently, the basic reorganizing work of the vocational courses will need to be somewhat delayed.

Only two changes occur on the staff of school principals. Miss Ruth Way will succeed Mrs. Charles North, who was principal for several years of the Bickel school. Mrs. North will be principal for three years in the Bickel school and is splendidly equipped for her new field of work. Miss Lois Stewart will succeed Mrs. John F. Bear as principal of the Lincoln school for three years and who left Twin Falls to accept a similar position in Livingston, Montana. Miss Stewart has taught in the intermediate school of the Idaho Technical school in the Twin Falls schools last year. Each teacher on the intermediate school faculty is well trained and has had excellent experience.

Two Principals.

The organization of the new school is going to delay the reorganization of the vocational departments—the department of mechanical arts, the department of domestic arts, the department of agriculture and the department of commerce. The large basement rooms of the new school will be completely occupied by the departments of mechanical arts, household arts, and agriculture; consequently, the basic reorganizing work of the vocational courses will need to be somewhat delayed.

METHODIST MINISTERS SURRENDER PEOPLE WITH HIS RESIGNATION

The Rev. A. G. Bennett and the Rev. E. L. White, of Great Falls, Montana, Mutually Agree to an Exchange of Pulpits—Announcement Officially Promulgated from Local Pulpit on Sunday

The Rev. A. G. Bennett, of the First Methodist church of Twin Falls, Idaho, started his congregation with the announcement that he had received and had accepted a call to the First Methodist church of Great Falls, Idaho. The Rev. E. L. White, of the First Methodist church of Great Falls, Idaho, started his congregation with the announcement that he had received and had accepted a call to the First Methodist church of Twin Falls, Idaho.

Exchange of Ministers.

This exchange of ministers, negotiations for which have been in progress some weeks, has been mutually satisfactory to the boards of both churches and the transfers, according to an announcement, will take place almost immediately.

Longing Strong Pastor.

With the transfer of Dr. Bennett, Twin Falls loses one of the strongest of its pastors. Dr. Bennett has been in the city for over a year and has been an upbuilding power in the church from the start. He has many friends and has a high place in the community.

Good Man Coming.

The Rev. E. L. White, D. D., who is to relieve Dr. Bennett of the First Methodist church pastorate here, is now serving his seventeenth consecutive year in the First Methodist church of Great Falls, Idaho. His success and popularity as a pastor is attested in the fact that the Great Falls congregation has increased to over 1000 members.

Good Man Coming.

The Rev. E. L. White, D. LEGION WORKS FOR VETERANS ON MISSING MEN

Veterans Organization Endeavors to Mitigate Distressing Phase of Aftermath of War; 2000 Personal Mysteries

NEW YORK, (AP)—The American Legion is making an effort to mitigate a distressing phase of the aftermath of the war, the 2000 personal mysteries of the great struggle of men who are classified "missing" and heavy lists as "missing" in action, "killed in battle" and "presumably dead." The work has been rewarded with some success, it is announced. In several instances the Legion has been able to locate the mother more and clearer details of how her service son died, or put a wife in touch with the comrades of her husband, and in some cases the soldier himself.

Publicity Brings Results.

Requests of relatives and friends of soldiers, sailors, marines and military nurses about whose fate little is known are being sent to newspapers throughout the country for publication. Results of this publicity are carefully tabulated at offices here.

All buddies' officers, doctors, nurses or inferiors, who make up the Legion, are frequently a number of names of men and women who served in the war, but who failed to reach home, is sent to the newspapers. The current report list of the Legion contains the following statistics: 2000 "mysteries" are published in the Legion's organ and frequently a number of names of men and women who served in the war, but who failed to reach home, is sent to the newspapers.

Details Last Hours.

Mrs. Catherine Holbeck, of Allentown, Pa., asked for information concerning the circumstances surrounding the death of her son, Sergeant Joseph Holbeck, of the 28th division, who died in a French hospital. CONSTRUCTION REVENUE LIGHT CONTRACT WITH POWER COMPANY

Agreement Covers Three Separate and District Systems, Overhead, Cluster and Curb Illumination Systems—Contractors Bringing Paving to Completion—Estimates Allowed

Mayor W. H. Eldridge and City Clerk W. A. Minnick Monday evening announced their official signatures to a renewal of the city's contract with the city of Twin Falls and the Idaho Power company.

The contract was presented and read by R. B. King, general manager of the company, with headquarters at Boise. The agreement is intended to include and cover operation of an overhead pole system, the present cluster lighting plan covering the county building and the city park, as well as the proposed curb, or ornamental post lighting system.

Option Allowed.

After long consideration and discussion of the many phases of the contract the council voted unanimously its adoption. There is a clause in the agreement which gives the city the option of installing the contemplated curb lighting system by force account, by private contract or by purchase of the power company to do the work.

Signings of the contract was, perhaps, the most important phase of last night's deliberative business by the administration.

The business next in importance to the signing of the contract was a plan of further work to be done by the Warren Construction company and the Heinicke Construction company on the new city hall. The plan was prepared and submitted by W. L. Hoff, city engineer, and is valued at $125,000. It includes the construction of a new city hall, the construction of a new city hall, the construction of a new city hall.

Paving Near Finish.

The Warren company has, to date, received $583,000 on the present city paving contract of about $750,000. All work on this contract, according to a statement, made last night, by General Superintendent A. J. Hill, will be completed about September 12. Official notice of the council's decision was given by resolution of the council for permanent change of standard rates for the city of Twin Falls, Idaho. The resolution was adopted and will be presented by Secretary R. B. King, of the chamber of commerce at a meeting to be held in Boise on September 2 for presentation and consideration of arguments for and against the abolition of the Pacific time in favor of Mountain time.

Same Tax Levy.

Decision was reached to make the tax levy for the ensuing fiscal year 27 cents on the dollar. This would provide 15 mills for general taxes and 12.12 cents for interest and sinking fund.

In the case of Judge O. R. Baum's appeal from the city of Twin Falls, Idaho, the council decided to carry the matter to the higher court and "see what the law is." The council also decided to carry the matter to the higher court and "see what the law is." The council also decided to carry the matter to the higher court and "see what the law is."

Bill and claims occupied the final minutes of the meeting.

SULLIVAN TO MOVE.

Dr. W. A. Sullivan, veterinarian who has been located in this district some years in charge of the federal work of the United States Department of Agriculture, will leave September 1 for Boise, where he is to have headquarters. Dr. Sullivan, and his family, are packing their belongings for shipment to Boise.

Two marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk late Saturday night. They were for William E. Adams of Provo, and Beatrice Roberts No. 17, of Twin Falls; to William P. O'Connell, of another town, and Frances Holman, 18, both of Twin Falls.

A Grateful Letter.

It is not every condition like that related below by Mrs. George L. North of Naples N. Y. that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer," she says, "my little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from town. BOURBON CHEST IS EMPTY SAY PARTY LEADERS

Chairman and Treasurer Differ on Amount Needed for Campaign; White Says $2,000,000; Marsh, $1,200,000

CHICAGO, (AP)—Members of the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures and contributions today expected to receive the data on which Governor Cox based his charges that the republicans were raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund. E. H. Moore of Youngstown, O., Cox's pre-convention manager would appear with documents furnished by Governor Cox, according to word received by the committee.

Special Train Figures

One of the other witnesses, the committee planned on today is Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the democratic speakers bureau. Wilbur W. Marsh, democratic national treasurer, told the committee yesterday the democrats had thus far proposed only $100,000 for a speaking campaign. Senator Spencer asked Marsh if the expense of Governor Cox's special train on the coming western trip would not cost about $20,000 and Marsh said it would be about $30,000 to start with.

Further investigation into the republicans' book, last published by the William Baines of the Albany Evening Journal, will be undertaken by the committee next week in Pittsburgh, it was announced today by Senator Keaton.

Mr. Barnes will be subpoenaed to appear at the Pittsburgh hearing, it was announced.

Bourbon Coffers Empty

W. D. Jamieson, financial director of the democratic national organization, appeared at a night session which was ordered in an effort to speed up the hearings.

Mrs. White, chairman of the democratic national committee, and Marsh agreed that the democratic coffers were practically empty but both hoped for better conditions soon. They said that the party as yet had no campaign committee, no finance committee and Mr. Marsh added that the heads of bureaus had not yet been appointed.

They agreed that there was nothing in the budget of $3,000,000 presented on Monday by Will Hays chairman of the republican national committee that was not in itself evidence of a desire to corrupt the American electorate.

Mr. Marsh thought the amount named was not excessive for a republican campaign but he said it would be much more than would be needed for a democratic effort.

Satisfied with Little

The officials differed as to the amount needed for this year's democratic campaign. Mr. White made a "strictly personal estimate" of $2,000,000, but Marsh said his was too high and that in the two months remaining before campaign he hoped they could collect $1,200,000. He said he would "be very happy" to accept that amount at the disposal of the national committee. The evidence confirmed previous assertions that the 1916 cost the democrats $2,200,000.

Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee, issued a statement last night in which he declared that when Governor Cox charged the republicans were receiving subscriptions $3000 to $10,000 and quoted a document marked "form 101" as his proof he was speaking of a plan which was never adopted. Form 101 called for such a plan, but was never ratified or put into use and was expressly vetoed, "according to the statement."

Today's Markets

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bulls again were the featured feature of the stock market today, the entire list, however, improving mainly as a result of lower money rates. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

An advance of six points in the preferred shares of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis road at the opening of today's stock market pointed to a continuance of the recent broad buying movement in speculative rails.

Other transportation stocks were fractionally higher with several of the steels, equipments and oils, but trading in other quarters of the list was more contracted than at any recent period.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bonds closed: 3 1/2's $89.94; first 4's $85.10; second 4's $85.10; third 4's $85.10; second 4 1/4's $85.10; third 4 1/4's $85.10; fourth 4 1/4's $85.10; Victory 3 3/4's $95.48; Victory 4 3/4's $95.44.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat took an upward swing in price today after a hesitating start. The "strong" which developed was ascribed to prospects of a continued good export demand. Selling pressure ceased when it became apparent that offerings were being quickly absorbed. Opening prices, which ranged from 1-4 decline to 1-3 advance with December $2.35 to 2-3 1/2 and March $2.30 1-2, were followed by a moderate general sag and then by a sharp rise to close above yesterday's final figures. Houses with seaboard connections bought freely, and the market continued to ascend. Damage reports from Argentina attracted special notice. The close was nervous, 4-3 to 0 1-4 went net higher with December $2.30 3-4 to 2-40 and March $2.37.

Corn rallied with wheat. At first, however, large receipts pulled down the market to the lowest figures yet this season for some deliveries. After opening 1-8 to 3-4 lower, December $1.77 to 1-17 1-8, prices scored fair general gains.

On the upturn, there was buying on a large scale for a leading cotton and stock trader who has been bearish for some time on corn. The close was settled at 3-8 to 1-3-4 net advance, with September $1.30 to 1-30 1-4 and December $1.18 3-4 to 1-10.

Oats were governed by corn but kept within narrow limits, ending a shade to 1-4 lower, December $0.18 to 1-8, went down a little more, and then recovered. Provisions lacked support. September pork was especially weak.

COX PROMISES FREE HAND TO DIRT FARMERS

Democratic Nominee Says He Will Appoint Tillers of Soil to Responsible Government Positions

COLUMBUS, O., (AP)—Governor Cox today declared that if elected president, he would appoint "dirt farmers" to responsible government positions, including the secretary of agriculture and members of the federal reserve and general reserve boards (trust commissions) and the interstate commerce commission.

The democratic presidential nominee discussed agricultural questions and outlined his proposed policies in an address, at the executive office, to about one hundred representatives of the national board of farm organizations holding a convention here.

Outlines Policies
Federal regulation of coal storage facilities, a fair test of private railroad ownership and operation and cooperative buying and selling by farmers was advocated by Governor Cox. He also declared that business, labor and agricultural interests must be defined by law limitations which they can understand and stay within in their future conduct.

Declaring himself to be "a farmer and not an agriculturist," Governor Cox said he congratulated American farmers upon "ending their 'Big Van Winkle sleep' and moving toward organized betterment of their condition."

"Farmers are not only entitled to larger representation in government," he said, "but the public service will have its efficiency advanced by larger representation of the agricultural thought."

Advocating appointment of farmers to the federal reserve board and also regional boards, Governor Cox added: "I mean by that 'dirt' farmers; you know what I mean."

"I wish there were more farmers on the board. A great many interests do not look with favor on my election because they want to change the law (the federal reserve act) by making banks only eligible for membership. Nothing could be more injurious to the farmer. The time has come for the farmer to have his feet under the table when policies are being made."

Farmers are needed on the tariff and interstate commerce commissions, Governor Cox said, to aid in supervising, respectively, agricultural exports and transportation.

"I don't believe there is a man on the interstate commerce commission," he said, "who knows much if anything about farming. I'm not criticizing the policy of the administration that have led to this thing, but I'm contrasting what is, with what ought to be."

More than 100 I favor appointment of a dirt farmer as secretary of agriculture. You may recall I gave that policy in my speech of acceptance."

PENNSYLVANIA COAL INDUSTRY IS PARALYZED

Complete Tie Up of Many Collieries in Anthracite Field Results in Miners' "Vacation" Walkout Movement

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Complete tie up of 52 collieries in the ninth district of the Pennsylvania anthracite fields were reported today. In the operation of labor in the first official advice received as to the "vacation" walkout movement in the region. Twenty-eight collieries in the same district were reported working with reduced personnel.

In the Panther Creek valley which joins the ninth district, 20 collieries were reported idle. In the Shamokin and Mahanoy regions fifteen pummen and engineers have joined in the walkout, it was stated.

INDUSTRY IS SERIOUSLY CRIPPLED BY WALKOUTS

WILKESBARRE, Pa., (AP)—The anthracite industry was seriously crippled by the strike of insurgents in the ranks of the United Mine Workers of America. It is estimated, according to early reports that 100,000 tons of anthracite work for today as a protest against the recent wage award and that 180 of the 400 collieries in districts 1, 2 and 9 were in idleness. No disorganizing was reported in the "vacation" period of the miners set in without any display on the part of the rank and file of the insurgent movement.

INSURGENT UNION MINERS BID DEFERENCE TO WILSON

WILKESBARRE, Pa., (AP)—Two hundred delegates representing insurgent members of 66 of the 130 local districts No. 1, United Mine Workers Wednesday bid defiance to President Wilson and an unusual vote decided that a "vacation" be taken on Thursday morning and continue until an increase over the 17 per cent award be granted. The vote was 100 to 20 in favor of the resolution demanding that the miners be given the award made in the minority report submitted by N. J. Fox.

In a majority of the locals represented the insurgents are in a minority and union leaders believed that a majority of the men would remain at work to accept any decision made at the joint scale committee at Scranton on Thursday.

LEWIS ORDERS GENERAL STRIKE IN ALABAMA COAL FIELDS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, late yesterday issued an order for a general strike in the bituminous coal fields of Alabama.

President Lewis' message in part, follows: "The organization committee of the international legislative board who recently visited Alabama and the legislative office of the international union today gave the fullest consideration to the unsatisfactory conditions prevailing in the mining industry in Alabama. We realize that ever since the award of the president's bituminous coal commission was rendered in March that Alabama mine workers have been struggling to secure the improvements allotted by the commission."

"The Alabama coal operators have persistently refused to put into effect the provisions of the award. This attitude is maintained despite the fact that the commission is appointed by the president specifically set forth in the president's report that Alabama operators should meet in joint conference with the representative of the mine workers to put into effect the award therein recommended."

In a time when prices are unstable it is important that women should keep informed as to the latest fluctuations, that they may solve their shopping problems wisely.

The afternoon was spent looking at university pictures and sewing. Ostrander, Mrs. Merrell Bailey, Mrs. H. C. Alexander, Mrs. Wendell Allen and Miss Byrd Wall.

Sunday, August 29, saw a pretty lit the function at the home of John P. Hansen on Fourth avenue east.

Mrs. John E. Hayes of Denver, a daughter of the family, had been visiting for a couple of weeks and had until all arrangements for her departure for home the next morning, and the influx of friends and relatives from all parts of the county, was interpreted as a desire on the part of these people to see "Ann" once more before she went away, and aroused no suspicion in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, who were doing their best to entertain the great crowd. At 5:40 in the afternoon one of the party announced that dinner was served in the park and invited all to join. Even then the occasion of the surprise had not dawned upon the guests of honor, and not until a noon had been read by Mrs. Hayes did it occur to them that the celebration was in honor of the forty-third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hansen. After the reading of the poem, Mrs. Hayes then the another slip of paper and read a presentation verse, which was accompanied by a beautiful golden gift for each of the celebrants, and then all went to work on the fried chicken, salads, fruits, ice cream and cake contained in boxes and baskets. Of the guests that attended the wedding 43 years ago, only four, besides the bride and groom, were present at last Sunday's gathering. These were Judge Lawrence Hansen and his daughter, Mrs. D. P. Albee, Rock Creek, and C. S. Walcott and Mrs. C. S. Walcott, who served as best man and bridesmaid at the original celebration, and are referred to in the above poem, and who are all that we know of as being alive at that time. The party gave the early portion of the evening with music and conversation, and as all had a long trip to reach their respective homes, departed as soon as the shadows of night spread over the city, leaving with best wishes and promises of returning on the next anniversary.

The real anniversary of the wedding is September 2 but owing to circumstances had to be celebrated last Sunday or not at all. Thirteen grandchildren of the Hansens helped to make the celebration a success, and even some of those promised to attend the next golden wedding.

Mrs. J. E. Hill will entertain the Presbyterian Aid society on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The ladies of the congregation are invited.

The first autumn wedding of the season in Twin Falls took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Zenna Smith on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Beulah Cobb, sister of Mrs. Smith, became the bride of Glenn Thompson of El Centro, Cal. The Rev. Asher H. Brand of the First Presbyterian church reading the ceremony. Already artistic in their appearance, the living rooms of the Smith home lent themselves admirably to a wealth of gold-colored, greenery and many colorful chrysanthemums which were decorated, while the sun parlor was a veritable bower of ferns and flowers in which the bride and groom stood as they plighted their troth. Enhancing the beauty of the scene was the picture made up into Miss Virginia Smith, who, dressed in a dainty gown of pink organdie, carried a basket of sweet peas in which was hidden the wedding ring. The bride, a charming brunette, was attired in a gown of pastel pink, gotte crepe over satin and her bouquet was a shower of pink and white sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served in the dining-room where the soft shades of pink and white prevailed. A beautiful overflowing with sweet peas adorned the table, the same color scheme being carried out in all the appointments.

An honored guest of the occasion was Henry Drybread, an uncle of the bride, with whom she has made her home since childhood. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. McVinn, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James McVinn, Kate Dodge, and the Rev. and Mrs. Brand.

Following the completion of her studies Miss Cobb taught in the schools of California the past two years, teaching in Oakland. During a former visit to her sister and aunt in Twin Falls she became very popular with the younger set and others who met her. These, together with friends more recently acquired, extend to the young couple their heartfelt good wishes.

Mr. Thompson, who served his country in honor overseas, is engaged in business in El Centro, California, where the young couple will make their home, leaving on last evening's train for that city. They were accompanied as far as Salt Lake by Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Smith.

In honor of their members who are to leave for school, the remaining members of the Epworth League will entertain Friday evening of this week at the Methodist church. A selection of officers also takes place on this date and a good representation is expected.

Mrs. C. T. Buncie entertained at a six-course luncheon yesterday afternoon in honor of her house guest, Mrs. William Mortimer Buncie of Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Buncie is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry J. Wall. The 16 ladies present were served at small tables and progressed after each course. Mrs. Buncie was assisted by Mrs. William Buncie of Elmer, Miss Byrd Wall and Miss Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Z. H. North and Miss Florence Costello entertained at a 10 o'clock breakfast yesterday morning at the home of the former for the "Round Robin" girls. Covers were laid for ten.

Mrs. Morley Bailey entertained yesterday afternoon at a 4 o'clock tea for Miss Beatrice Ostrander, Miss Byrd Wall and Miss Florence Costello, all members of the Round Robin, who are leaving soon. A social hour was spent at cards and the guests of honor were each presented with a dainty gift.

Mrs. H. P. Barger was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. H. W. Sawyer was given the prize for high score and Mrs. F. R. Cox was a guest of the club. Dainty refreshments were served to the eight members present.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

"If anyone discusses this question (League of Nations) on the basis of party advantage, I repudiate him as a fellow American."—President Wilson at San Diego, Calif., on Sept. 19, 1919.

Query: Did your personal representative and spokesman at the Democratic National Convention disobey you when he insisted that the "winning" issue was the "League of Nations"?

COX'S POLLY

Myriads of words are likely to be wasted both in defense of charges that the Republicans are collecting an immense campaign fund to "buy" the presidency, and in effect it is bound to be negligible upon the refutation of these charges; but the individual who has a firm grasp on the truth that the Democratic national organization has neither funds nor likelihood of collecting funds in any considerable amount, and further that the limit on amount of contributions has been officially removed by the Democratic leaders.

Subsequent developments are certain to make plain the fact that the Republican national committee for several years past has had an effective organization which it has used in the collection of a legitimate campaign fund, and that contributors in every instance will stand unflinching in the light of publicity.

Incidentally there are some hundreds of contributors to this Republican campaign fund now resident in Twin Falls county, where the concerted effort at collecting money for this purpose which is now under fire of Democratic artillery, was conducted in a manner that was open and above board and typical of the plan of action employed throughout the nation. Persons who are interested in arriving at the facts in the case, might well begin their inquiries among their neighbors. It is certain that such inquiry will be received in every instance with proud acknowledgments of the fact that contributions were made not with any expectation of future reward other than benefits accruing from return of Republican administration to power in the nation.

The whole outcry smacks too much of the clamor raised by the fellow who has nothing against another who has been more successful.

It neither can nor deserves to be taken seriously.

LAFAYETTE DAY

There is beautiful sentiment in the custom born of the war, and which seems likely to be continued, of celebrating American and French national holidays jointly in both countries. It is a fine token of friendship for America to observe Bastille Day, no less than for France to celebrate the day of our independence.

But there is one day in the celebration of which both nations can join unreservedly and wholeheartedly, with no deference to either. September 6, anniversary of the birth of Lafayette, and of the first battle of the Marne, is a natal day in the life of America as well as in that of France. Americans will always think of the immortal Lafayette more as their own than as a Frenchman who performed noble service for this country. And we now know, though on that fateful day in 1914 our interest was merely that of a curious spectator, that in the Valley of Marne as well as France were victorious when the Hun was stopped in his first drive on Paris.

In churches, schools and public places let us pay tribute to the man who with Washington paved the way to liberty for our country when the American colonists were ensnared in turmoil and revolution. Lafayette's devotion to our cause, his unceasing effort and personal sacrifice, are typical of the spirit of France today. Let us voice our appreciation of one of her most glorious sons.

As Lafayette's birthday falls on labor day this year, which is a happy coincidence for the thousands who hold his memory in grateful admiration, this year, above all others there will be an opportunity for them to make a public demonstration of their gratitude and patriotism.

Pessimism Out of Place

The pessimism we always have with us. On every hand, in every age, are men who delight to drag a snipebox out into the streets of the world and cry out to all who will listen that mankind is on the highway to perdition. Sooner or later they are run down by traffic, and in their grooves fate they find complete vindication for their theories. Beyond dispute the world is as gravely troubled today as ever in its long and laborious history. But what is important to note is that it has been troubled gravely before. And it has always come out, scarred, but sound. Ever since shortly after the dawn of history there have been anarchists and reactionaries and profiteers and greedy fellows of every type, in every walk of life. They are forgotten now, as the troublemakers of today will be forgotten in another century. Man remembers long only those who serve him well.

There is no need for men to shake their heads, despairingly, in fear that civilization and organized government are bound for destruction. Nations have been overthrown before now, and empires have expired, but mankind kept on, developing through the centuries, his knowledge and faith and power. We shall come through this storm somehow, and be the better for the experience.

But there is no progress through wishing. Man grows only by working. It is not enough to have faith that we shall come out of the valley of our discontent. We must have the faith that inspires work, and the seal of precept that enforces example. If we would live again in the piping times of peace and plenty we must labor for them.

A FORGONE CONCLUSION

Running true to form, Samuel Gompers and some of his associates among leaders of the American Federation of Labor, have finally announced "after comparing the public records of the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees" that Governor Cox had "shown himself possessed of a fuller understanding of the needs of the working people."

There is no question but that this declaration might have been highly efficacious in the impending campaign were it not for the commonly known fact that Gompers every four years regularly turns Democratic after posing as an "Independent" during the interval between presidential campaigns.

So accurately, however, has American public opinion been able to forecast this declaration that it is extremely doubtful whether either Governor Cox or Senator Harding suffer as a result of it. Certainly the time has not yet come when any group of American citizens has become so inane of independent thought in political spheres as to require coaching and guidance of any such character.

CROSS PURPOSES

Declaration of Candidate Cox that agricultural production must be increased or "America will be importing foodstuffs within a short time" is hardly the sort of advice that will be welcomed by farmers of the Twin Falls country at least who have something like three million bushels of wheat on hand without a market because of lack of cars to move it, and who, for the most part, must sell at once in order to meet bills incurred to pay high prices for help and high prices for machinery.

Candidate Cox would do much better to take up the fight of Representative Burton L. French of Idaho, and Republicans to secure adoption of the Federal Reserve Board of a policy which would permit banks to rediscount wheat paper at the end of ninety days and six and nine months in certain definite amounts thus permitting wheat produced in the country to pass from the wheat growers to the consumer in the shortest possible time and without being held up for long intervals by undisciplined who expect to enjoy and take advantage of economic conditions in six months and a year from now.

It is to be feared that Candidate Cox's interest in the farmer's welfare is a superficial one, and that his argument for increased production is in the nature of camouflage for impurity of foreign products bound to result from continuation of the Democratic trade policy, rather than from any deep-seated wish for agriculture's well-being or of real appreciation of its needs.

By remaining out of the Wilson League of Nations, the United States now holds the balance between the forces of good and evil among the governments of the world. America's attitude gives only hope for peace in war-torn Europe. In this hour Europe is tangled up in premier and rulers turn to the only foot-loose nation among the great powers for disinterested advice and possible assistance on the side of right. Not bound by any entanglements and free to act without foreign guidance, the United States government already is exerting a pronounced and beneficial influence on the chaotic situation. America will sanction no partition of Russian territory nor endorse the policy of holding the Russian people responsible for the acts of the Bolshevik government.

This country, being free to act, need not recognize Lenin or the soviet form of government and it can recognize that the Allies were unjust in their treatment of Russia. As a member of the League of Nations it would have no such independence of action, but he would be bound to uphold the despoiling of an old and over friendly power.

On paper every member of the league flies to defend Poland's integrity in pursuance of Article X. England refuses; France won't do it. The Russians even under a hated banner spring to attack Poland to preserve their own integrity. Thus is demonstrated that which all the Republican Senators opposing the league foretold—a nation will not fight unless their own national spirit is aroused—and the chief purpose of the Wilson League under Article X falls to the ground.

CONSIDER EVERY FACTOR

When, as taxpayers, Idaho citizens this fall are asked by political orators, to examine 1919 tax receipts with a view to comparing them with similar records of the previous two years, it is to be hoped that the requested examination will be made by every holder.

Justice demands that such consideration shall be made with a full understanding of all significant factors.

It requires that consideration be given to the proportion of municipal taxes, if the taxpayer happens to be a resident of a city; and that due weight be given to the burden of county taxation. These are taxes in large part, approved by direct vote of the taxpayer.

Justice demands further that consideration be given to the probability that increasing value of property on which taxes are paid may have resulted in increased valuation of the assessor's books in consequence of which a heavier tax would be paid even though the tax levy were to remain unchanged.

With these factors in mind direction should be turned toward the causes which lie behind the increase in state taxes.

Why were state taxes higher, and what did the taxpayer get for his money? Does he know that the bulk of all the increases in taxation provided for at the last session of the legislature will be found in such items as: "State roads and bridges, $1,008,000; payment of 1918 deficiency claims, $187,000; redemption of state bonds, $105,000; benefit soldiers, sailors and marines, $100,015?"

Does he understand fully the imperative necessities that brought about the legislature's decision to increase the appropriations of state educational institutions $402,694, and those of charitable and penal institutions $230,700? By all means, examination of tax receipts is desirable; but this examination ought to be made with intelligent comprehension of all the circumstances which the taxpayer owes to himself and to the present state administration.

BOLSHIEVISM LACKS COURAGE

The public bears considerable days about the ideals of the Russian Bolsheviks, how the Muscovites have a great principle of government for which they are willing to sacrifice themselves in order to impress it upon the "capitalist nations."

The defeat of the Russian border by a smaller number of heroic Poles, fighting for their national existence, provides an encouragement for the belief that bolshievism represents even the lowest type of national principle. Men who believe in the righteousness of their cause do not run like frightened rabbits.

It must be plain, even to the preachers of sovietism in the United States, that bolshievism, deprived of its incentive to loot and take without compensation the property of others, is the most cowardly and contemptible thing on earth.

Some of the most thrilling stories in world history tell of a few brave men, fired by the love of country or fidelity to a great cause, who withstood forces which greatly outnumbered them—men who would rather die than give up the defense of a principle.

"The Russians have been deceived in to acceptance of a political creed that has nothing in it of the morality that is necessary for the success of any cause," Lenin and Trotsky have been trying to capitalize the ignorance and stupidity of their followers. The attempt gives promise of dying of its own poison.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER?

(Pargo Forum)

Not long ago the Democratic financial administration in Washington reported that it had purchased

United States Liberty bonds in the depressed public market at a discount and thereby saved the public treasury about $40,000,000. This achievement was announced with much gloe and caused the officials the greatest satisfaction.

Contrast with this the statement of Mr. Harding in his speech of acceptance:

"I believe the government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds available to the patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them. Most of us have a few of these bonds in the strong box, all rated at the market at several dollars less than the par value we paid for them. We bought them from patriotic motives to aid the government and its great work. We did not expect to be subjected to an extra tax in the shape of a heavy discount in addition to originally taking a low interest paying security. We have been asked to sell these bonds to its par value and will welcome any proper means that will accomplish that end."

It was not very creditable for the administration to take advantage of the necessities of a public spirited people and then boast of the achievement. The rub lies in the fact that the government has sold what speculative money with at the same time an utter disregard of the necessities and loss of a large number of citizens together with failure to take any steps to remedy a serious financial condition.

The transaction in Washington was opportunist although it brought the government some money and less public treasury. However, the people paid the money and many were serious losers as a result.

It is a more reasonable would have been more strenuous effort to bring the bonds to par value, thus adding to stabilize conditions in general throughout the country. The fact that the policy of Alexander Hamilton, and the other fathers of the Republic whose wisdom established American credit so firmly and whose policies have been continued by their successors of the Republican party.

SILVER THREADS NOT INSPIRING

Christina Cooper, Married at 61, Accuses Spouse of Cruelty and Desertion

When in the year 1910 George Cooper led his bride, Christina Winfrey to the altar of Hymen he was 50 years of age, she 61. Both had experienced matrimony before and the bride had a grown son.

The greater age of the bride, according to her own statement, does not appear to have inspired that degree of affection, or even respect, said to be due gray hairs, on the part of the groom. And now the wife wants a divorce and restitution of property she claims to be hers by right of possession before this marriage, as well as restoration of the name she bore when she plighted her troth to Cooper in Pocatello.

Mrs. Cooper says George is a cruel man in his demeanor toward her and aside that on various and sundry occasions he has used opprobrious and mean language in addressing her, even in the presence of company. Also, according to the bill of particulars filed in connection with the divorce proceedings by Attorney John E. Davies, Cooper has developed a penchant for the company of either women, or at least one other woman. The latter is named in the complaint as Mary Miller, and with said Mary defendant is said to have wanted to fly hence, Mary Miller being of somewhat more tender years than Christina.

All these charges are preferred in the bill, together with numerous references and allusions of a more or less malignant character, all of which tend to put the defendant in a bad light as a husband. One charge is that Cooper has deserted plaintiff and has threatened to kill her grown son. Mrs. Cooper claims she has right and title to property valued at approximately $35,000. This she wants restored to herself without leaving any rights vested in the husband.

Dr. Evans, the Optometrist, is at his office this week but will leave Saturday evening September 4, to be gone a few days.

OPERATIC SINGERS ON FAIR PROGRAM

Salt Lake Quintet will Appear in Concert Work During the Exposition Week

Open air singing will be one of the prime attractions at the Twin Falls county fair this fall. The entertainment will be supplied by the Salt Lake Opera quintet directed by Fred C. Graham.

The quintet, which in years past has made a wonderful reputation with county and state fair assemblies in Idaho, Utah and Montana, is composed of some of Salt Lake's highest-class musicians. The soprano, Mrs. Mary Atkinson, is known throughout Utah as the "Red state's premier lyric singer. Miss Edna Dwyer contralto, is a worthy vocal companion to Mrs. Atkinson, possessing a powerful alto voice of great depth, power and tonal quality. Both ladies, in addition to being eminent singers, possess exceptional personality and stage presence.

Fred C. Graham, tenor, is noted throughout the west as the "man with a silver throat." He is an accomplished singer, sympathetic in interpretative ability, and has a compelling manner before an audience. Alvin Reddington, advertised as a baritone, is more of a basso, though not of profound quality. He is the newest member of the quintet, and was selected to take the place of Melvin Peterson, whose baritone voice, though of good quality and pleasing was not sufficiently heavy to balance the organization.

Miss Becky Almond, accompanist, is without doubt one of the most accomplished of Utah's pianists. She is a thorough student of the piano, and one of the most sought-after accompanists in Salt Lake.

The company will appear at least twice daily on the county fair grounds giving concerts of mixed, popular and classical selections.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.

The closing concert of the season will be given by the city band in the park tonight. A review program has been prepared for this occasion. The concert will be held at the usual time, 8 o'clock.
