

WHIRLING SHAFTH CATCHES WOMAN

James Cummings Near Death's Clutch in Accident at the Sugar Plant

With a leg and arm broken and suffering from a score of bruises and contusions James Cummings, aged 40, is in a local hospital under the care of Dr. D. L. Alexander. Cummings was caught by a revolving shaft in the operating department of the Amalgamated Sugar company Sunday.

The accident occurred about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Cummings was a laborer at the plant, was passing near a shaft when a part of his overalls caught in the revolving rod. The shaft, it so happened, was moving at only a slow rate, and after several revolutions, was quickly stopped. Cummings was unconscious and was hastened to the hospital where his hurts were cared for. For some time it was suspected that he had sustained internal injuries in connection with the supposed crushing of the chest, but this theory seems to have been proven incorrect. The injured man is said to be in little danger of a fatal termination of the adventure.

JONES AND GONZALES RELEASED FROM JAIL

State Cannot Produce Witnesses in One Case; Evidence Lack in Other

In the district court Monday two actions brought by the state were dismissed. One was because of inability of the state to produce the principal witnesses and the other for lack of evidence.

The case against Oliver Jones was dismissed and Jones discharged from custody because the police and Hubert Snow, principal witnesses for the state, are not available. Snow left the state some time ago, and Harrison is said to have left on a sheriff's warrant on charge of defrauding an innkeeper about a month ago.

Jones was held in jail 75 days on a boot legging charge. He is said to have traded to Harrison six gallons of home-made whiskey for an auto radiator. One gallon of the liquor is said to have been delivered to Harrison but the remainder was missing when Harrison went to the cache to get it. Jones, it is averred, was arrested at the instance of Harrison. J. M. Evans, attorney in charge of the defense in this case.

Jose Gonzales, who has been held in the county jail 60 days, was ordered released from custody on the ground that the state was not in possession of sufficient evidence to hold the man on a grand larceny charge. Gonzales was accused of stealing a set of heavy harness belonging to Jack France, near Kimberly. The harness was found in Gonzales' shack on the west side. He claimed it had been left with him by an unidentified person. H. J. Benoit, attorney in charge of the defense in this case.

GOLDBERG'S GUILT IS FIXED BY TWELVE MEN

Dr. Goldberg was Monday evening found guilty of practicing medicine without being registered in the state of Idaho. The verdict was returned by a jury of twelve men.

The case was brought by the state against Dr. Goldberg, who was arrested last week. The jury found that Goldberg had made what was termed a "limited diagnosis," which was contrary to the law of the state.

IDAHO WATER USERS TAKE ISSUE WITH EASTERNERS

Meeting at Boise Brands as Untrue Stories About the Fall River Project

BOISE, Idaho, (AP)—Representatives of 80 per cent of the water users of the state of Idaho took issue with Emerson Hough and other eastern writers at a meeting held here Thursday in the capital building and branded as "untrue and misleading" statements to the effect that construction of the proposed Fall River Meadows project in the southwestern corner of Yellowstone park would be detrimental to the nation's playground and mar its natural beauty. The statements referred to have appeared in articles in current magazines and papers.

The following set of resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, Certain periodicals and newspapers of wide circulation have published articles, relative to the proposed Fall River Meadows reservoir in the extreme southwest corner of Yellowstone park, which are grossly misleading and are based upon assumed facts which are not true but which have apparently been furnished to the press by persons who either do not know the facts, or intend to wilfully mislead the public; and

"Whereas, The statement assembled by the United States reclamation service relative to said reservoir has been verified by competent engineers outside of such service and by other competent and reliable persons; and

"Whereas, No other feasible reservoir site can be found for the storage of such water outside the boundaries of the park, and the proposed dam would only be 50 feet high, and the back water therefrom would not even reach the falls which the published articles would be submerged; and

"Whereas, The alleged meadow that will be submerged by the reservoir is largely a swamp covered in part by coarse swamp grass, unsuited for feed for stock or moose, and with a few patches of small jack pines; therefore,

"Be It Resolved, That we condemn as untrue and misleading the articles so published, and we endorse the efforts of the senators and congressmen of Idaho to prevent the construction of such a project, and we urge the support of the bill for storing water for agricultural purposes in the remote western regions of the nation park, and we urge the proposed reservoir will not only add greatly to the wealth of the country, but render the park itself more attractive and interesting."

ALL WATER USERS STOCKHOLDERS IN MUNICIPAL FILTRATION PLANT

Alderman C. B. Channel Explains Why the Twin Falls People Should Get Behind Water Meter Saving Scheme as a Practical Means of Making Waterworks Institution a Paying Proposition

Every water-user in this community is a stockholder of the Twin Falls waterworks. As such stockholder it is to the advantage of each to give every assistance in efforts to make the water delivery plant a service as well as financial success.

To this effect Alderman C. B. Channel addressed the municipal administration Monday night. He stated that in his opinion average user of water looks upon the city as a trust fund for the purpose of operating the city waterworks without considering the bill, wishes or pleasure of the people.

Meters Cause Complaint

Alderman Channel's statement was made in connection with a discussion over the installation of water meters throughout the city. This discussion brought out the fact that numerous complaints have been lodged against the installation of these measuring devices both as to the plan of charging the cost of the devices to the consumer, and also as a means of regulating and charging for the amount of water used.

Dismissing the question of the spreading the cost of the meters against the people the fact was set forth that the people will have to pay for the device in some way, either by direct payment of $20 or the sum of 10 per cent, or by monthly installments or through taxation against all users all over the city.

Broad as Long

"I have told all those who complained to me about charging the property owners and users for the meters that the whole proposition is as broad as it is long; that the people must pay for the measuring devices one way or another, and that is the long and short of it. If they prefer to pay by taxation that is up to them, but the meters must be paid for and only the people themselves are involved," said Alderman C. B. Channel. The same sentiment was voiced by the council colleagues, including Mayor W. H. Eldridge.

JUDGMENT IS ASKED AGAINST E. A. WILSON

District Farmer Sued for Total of $13,519.97 by Two Plaintiffs

Aggregating $13,519.97 three damage actions have been instituted in the district court by separate plaintiffs against Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilson from operators in the Twin Falls district. Two of the suits are based upon alleged sale of crops mortgaged to the plaintiff, John D. Norris, while the third is brought by the Boise-Payette Lumber company against E. A. Wilson alone, for judgment in the sum of $108.75 on alleged debt.

The other cases involve damages in each instance of $500.00 and the two cases are asked in addition. In the first complaint booked the plaintiff makes the Rogers Brothers Seed company a plaintiff with E. A. Wilson, and in the second complaint the Boise Commission company is so named. It appears, according to the papers, that the Rogers Brothers Seed company is a plaintiff in the first mortgage against Wilson's crop of beans to secure a promissory note of $524.24, and a similar mortgage on a potato crop in a similar mortgage to the Rogers Brothers Seed company.

The beans were sold to Rogers Brothers and the spuds to the Boise Commission company without consent of the mortgagee. The Rogers Brothers Seed company's fees amounting to $576 in each case are asked in judgment.

CORNER LOT TAX CASE AGAIN COMES IN COURT

Restraining Order is Sought Against the County Treasurer and City Clerk

Suit has been filed in the district court by J. E. Babcock, as executor of the estate of W. A. Babcock, against the county treasurer, E. L. Warren, from making certain collections, and against W. A. Babcock, city clerk, restraining that official from filing further assessment rolls governing the taxes involved in this suit.

The action comes out of the city's scheme of taxing special improvement on laterals against the corner property, the claim being made that this system is illegal, and that the lateral tax should apply in proportionate amount to the middle of the block. The city lost a case of this sort in Judge Harry Essig in the district court, and has appealed to the superior court for reconsideration.

MONDELL WOULD CUT ESTIMATES $1,400,000,000

Republican House Leader Urges "Rigid Economy" in Appropriations for Government Expenses to Lighten Tax

SUGGESTS SCALING DOWN OF ARMY AND NAVY COST

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Dring "rigid economy" in appropriations for government expenses during the next fiscal year in order to lighten the burden, Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican leader, declared in the house today that the total estimate of $4,614,000,000 submitted by the secretary of the treasury should be reduced by approximately $1,400,000,000. This reduction, he said, must be effected chiefly by a drastic scaling down in estimates for the army and navy and also for sundry civil expenses, the total of which, he pointed out, exceeded current appropriations by more than $914,000,000.

Criticizing the administration for the "unfathomable inconsistency" in the estimates submitted to congress and the "plans for economy made by the president and the secretary of the treasury," Mr. Mondell declared he would "leave it to others to decide which characterizes these estimates."

"Two years after the war," the republican leader added, "when the world outside our borders laid bankrupt and creative is praying for reduction of armaments, the administration asks for an appropriation of more than $1,414,000,000 for the army, navy and fortifications, or five and a half times the highest peace time appropriation of 1910."

Deficiencies File Up.

Mr. Mondell declared these figures did not include current deficiencies which "may be swollen indefinitely" if the war department continued its policy of recruiting the army up to full strength, contrary to the understanding that it should not be increased above the "total of 175,000 men contemplated by the appropriations." He said it had become the duty of congress to take action that would prevent "such squandering of the peoples money by creating deficiencies in violation of law."

Asserting that if the economy in appropriations advocated by him was carried out the tax burden for the calendar year 1921 might be "substantially lightened," Mr. Mondell said he believed continuation of a tax program designed to raise a minimum revenue of $4,000,000,000 for two years as recommended by the secretary of the treasury, was "unjustified."

War Rates Unnecessary.

With 44 per cent of the net cost of the war, excluding foreign loans, already paid, he said, it was unnecessary to "keep up war rates of taxation for the purpose of reducing the public debt at a rate greatly in excess of the sinking fund rate applied to the entire debt."

While he favored repeal of the excess profits tax and reduction of the higher income surtaxes, Mr. Mondell said, he thought it unnecessary at this time to consider alternative revenue provisions because "no one can tell what increased revenues may result from the passage of a tariff bill along protective lines."

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Weakness developed in the wheat market today owing more or less to bearish opinions current regarding the economic outlook. The influence of the government crop report continued also as a handicap to the bulls. On the declines, however, there was free buying for houses with cash or connections. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 2 1/4 cents higher, with March $1.58 1/4 to 1.59 1/4 and May $1.54 to 1.55, were followed by sharp downturns all around and then something of a rally.

Subsequently, indications of export business on a large scale led to a transient uptick in prices. It was announced that estimates of the wheat surplus in Australia had been reduced to 20,000,000 bushels. The market closed heavy at the same a yesterday's finish to 1c lower, with March $1.58 1/4 to 1.59 1/4 and May $1.53 1/4 to 1.54 1/2.

Corn sagged with wheat, May and July corn touching the lowest level yet this season. After opening unchanged to 5-8c off, including May 60 to 60 1/4c, underwent a general setback before beginning to recover.

Corn rose later with wheat, but power to hold gains was lacking. The close was weak, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4c net lower, with May 67 7/8 to 68c.

Increased country offerings had a depressing effect on oats. Prices started 3-8c lower to a shade higher, May 47 5/8 to 47 3/4c, and then gradually descended.

Provisions went downward with the grain and hogs.

FACTIONS DELAY ATTAINMENT OF CHINESE UNION

Presidential Mandate Loses Force when "Independents" Disavow Relinquishments of Canton Government

PEKING HOLDS HOPE OF EVENTUAL CONCILIATION

PEKING, (AP)—A proclamation of the reunion of North and South China has just been issued by President Hsu Shih-chang. The mandate orders the various provincial authorities to exert themselves to the end that the democratic government may be promoted, and announces that the republic "will henceforth be united."

The proclamation is practically coincident with a declaration from Canton by Tsen Chan-huan and others of the "executive committee of the southern military government," announcing the dissolution of that government and the establishment of the "independence" of the southern provinces.

Mandate Loses Force.
The reunion mandate loses much of its force due to the fact that another independent faction is in control of the territory which the "military government" relinquishes, and that the signers of the Canton declaration immediately boarded a British steamer to escape the incoming troops of the opposition faction. Also leaders of the Cantonese faction deny the right of Tsen Chan-huan, General Lu Yung-tung and Mu Yung-hsien, of the Kwangtung party, to dissolve the military government.

The Peking government, however, appears to have hopes that these other factions can be conciliated. Coupled with the reunion mandate, the president issued an instruction to the ministry of the interior to bring about the election of a new parliament of the republic. In conclusion the president says:

Better Days Dawning.
"The people are coming to the dawn of better days and I, the president of China, do hope that this order will be observed and acted upon by all concerned."

Schools Closed for Lack of Coal at $8
Get Plenty at $5.50

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP)—Pittsburgh public schools, buildings, which a few weeks ago were closed because of their inability to obtain a bituminous coal supply at $8 a ton, were today storing quantities of coal at the nominal rate of $5.50 a ton.

The bottom fell out of the market when a wholesaler notified the superintendent of supplies that he had 2000 tons which he had to get rid of because the railroad company was demanding demurrage. The superintendent named his own price.

It has been broken off at the ends, and appears to have been several feet in length in its original form. The bone is believed to have been part of the skeleton of a monster pachyderm.

TWIN FALLS WEEKLY NEWS

Established 1904

Twin Falls News Publishing Company,
Lds. Publishers

To the city police force, attached to the sheriff's office, auto owners and drivers and the public generally, the following is heartily and earnestly recommended:

BISON BECOMING PLentiful

One may doubt if buffalo meat will ever come into wide acceptance as a substitute for beef, but it is gratifying nevertheless to learn that the buffaloes continue to multiply and promise to furnish the country a valuable resource to the ordinary sources of meat supply.

It seems as though it were only a few years ago when we were told that this animal, so conspicuous in the history of the exploration and development of the western plains was doomed to extinction. The surviving specimens were few. Now they have come back in such numbers that many are being slaughtered from time to time for food.

Thanks to an awakened public sentiment, reflected in protective legislation, the people will permit no other valuable animals or birds to come so near to being exterminated.

IDAHO'S NEEDS.

Within a very short time now the duly elected representatives of the people will gather in the Legislative Halls of Idaho for a sixty-day session intended primarily to be devoted to the work of improving the lot of Idaho and her people.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the salient features of the real work of a Legislature will be kept prominently and constantly in mind.

This year, above all others, there is need of the best thought of the best men in the State in the matter of the things to be accomplished at the forthcoming session. The State does not stand particularly in need of a fresh crop of additional laws, introduced and passed upon the hypothesis that the business of a Legislature is to legislate, but it does require the enactment of certain fundamental features by way of improvement in existing conditions, the passage of necessary appropriation measures, and the application of certain corrective principles in the matter of laws now on the statute books.

Idaho legislators should gather to gether for the work of this session with the idea firmly implanted in the mind of each and every one that, this year if never before, Economy should and must be the watch-word. If there ever was a time when retrenchment should properly be the order of the day, that time is now, and if the members hope to return to their constituents with anything like an abiding conviction that their services have given satisfaction, they will see to it that the old order of things is relegated to the scrapheap and a new record set along lines which will make for lower, not higher, taxation.

If we judge the temper of the people aright, no explanations will go. The people of Idaho want Economy, and with the "com" left out.

ABOLISHING MONEY.

The economic ideas of the soviet government of Russia, as they have been applied to industry and business, have not demonstrated their worth to the extent that would make anybody but a Russian become enamored of the proposal of Lenin and Trotsky to abolish money. It is true that if money in the United States did not possess any more purchasing value than the millions of currency issued from the printing press of the soviet government, the people might be prepared for the next step of eliminating it altogether.

With the exception of the metal used in money, it has no intrinsic value beyond that possessed by the paper for waste; but bills, checks, and other evidences of credit are used between civilized nations and people as a medium of exchange, and it will continue to be regarded as such until something better than no money at all has been provided as a substitute.

Russia will injure only herself by destroying money as a means of exchange, for Russia will not be able to get anything from other nations unless she pays in current value or trades goods for goods. This is not progress, but retrogression as far as financial policies are concerned.

Huge financial transactions are carried on by telegraph and cable, orders being flashed from one financial agent to another, the good faith of the governments backing the policy which makes business dealings quick and satisfactory. Russia would destroy all the conveniences of a medium of exchange that is recognized by progressive nations.

A PROBLEM TO SOLVE

Population arose in the west about 30 years ago because of the low price of farm products, the prevalence of mortgages and a belief, whether well-founded or otherwise, that the farmer was not getting a square deal. The mortgage is far less common now than then, but the other conditions at present are about the same and the protest against the situation that now is heard reminds much of populist days. The untoward farm condition is not confined to the west, but that section being more exclusively agricultural the resentment is voiced in greater volume. The price decline is the basis of the complaint and western senators and representatives are so well aware of the feeling that they without regard to party are busy at work trying to devise some means of relief.

It is not astonishing that a farmer who raises wheat at a cost of $2 a bushel should feel that he has a grievance when he finds that he can sell his crop only at a price that means a heavy loss. He would have no such well-founded cause for complaint did he find that what he has to buy had declined in price in the same proportion, but right there is where his wrong lies. His products have dropped pretty nearly to a pre-war basis but what he has to buy is as a general rule at war figures. The farmer is angered still more when he discovers that his loss has been offset the ultimate consumer little and that the latter estimates the farmer a profiteer.

The question of what can be done to render the situation less tense is the big problem before congress. Revival of the war finance corporation, extension of credits to Germany in order to afford a market for our surplus products and placing a tariff on Canadian wheat have been suggested. The credit situation is the largest factor in the problem, though there is no intention of making an effort to have the government offer financial aid since that is realized as impossible. The farmers do not object to the deflation, realizing that we must eventually get down from the plane of high prices, but they do raise protest against being the only element deflated and in this they seem to have a good case. It is a business proposition that faces agriculture, the task of making production pay its own cost.

The problem affects those not engaged in agriculture as well. It is of vital ultimate concern to the consumer. Production that fails to realize cost will cease to be production at all. The farmer will not produce unless it pays and the consumer will eventually cease to eat unless somebody produces. It is a plain proposition. The remedy lies in affording the farmer a price that will pay. This can be accomplished in a long time and by several means. By raising the present prices of farm products or by lowering the prices of other products to the present farm price plane. How to do one or the other is the problem.

WOMEN CANDIDATES FARE ILL IN MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON. (AP)—Women candidates except those for school committees, fared poorly in the municipal elections held in sixteen Massachusetts cities yesterday, returns showed today. At Attleboro, Mrs. Eliza Baggett, candidate for mayor, received only 51 votes out of a total of 2,000. Three women alternate candidates in other cities also were defeated. Thirteen of the cities, including Boston, voted to prevent the state from placing boxing under control of a state commission and to permit amateur sports on Sunday afternoons.

British Women Become Expert Shoemakers

As the result of the experience they had working in English shoe factories during the war, many English women have become expert shoemakers and are continuing at the work. Some factories employ women almost exclusively, as it is said, they are more efficient and economical than men employees. The picture shows a pretty worker putting plates on workmen's shoes.

PERSIAN COUNTRY SEETHING CALDRON

Murder Follows Wake of Bolshevism

Former Residents of Twin Falls Now in Tabriz Write Interestingly Upon Conditions Existing in Far Eastern Land—Ordered Out of the State Because of Dire Condition of Uprising

The following interesting article is made up of extracts from letters received by friends in Twin Falls from letters received by friends in Tabriz, Persia, where they expect to spend eight years in missionary work for the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Wilson was formerly Miss Fern Wilson and is well known here in Butte, Mr. Wilson's relatives live at Idaho Falls. They speak of the joy that led them from America, giving them saying that "now the roads are closed except the long route around by India, letters from home seem like messages of joy from a world we can touch in no other way."

The political situation has not cleared any since we last wrote. The Bolsheviks have pushed on further and have come to Persia in two places. We do not know just what our status will be if they occupy this province but we feel it would not do us much good to run away from there. In place to go and we would rather rely upon the tender mercies of the Bolsheviks than the Turks or Kurds. We have finished our work in the school for this term, we had only three members in the graduating class this year because of the war and all the interruptions. They are splendid young fellows and we hope they will be an influence, as other graduates are, in improving the condition of their people.

We had a letter from a man in Twin Falls asking for a certain kind of wheat seed, he had seen our letter that was published in the Twin Falls News and he was very interested. We have good houses but miss a few things like bath rooms and electric lights and these things we did not fully appreciate while in America.

Rumors Worried.

The one thing that is hard to bear is the continual tension caused by rumors of fighting and political trouble. There are many here who believe that if the Bolsheviks advance much farther in the Caucasus bolshevism will flame forth here. The Turkish nationalist soldiers are said to be not far from the border and there have been threats by local moslems here to take revenge on Christians because the Kurds have very cruelly molested villages in the Caucasus. These unsettled circumstances make life especially hard for the missionaries who have been here through the war and have experienced massacres and all the fears that death could bring from Turks, Kurds, and Persian Moslems.

Last Tuesday we had the sad news that Captain Gerard, the British political officer who had been here for a long time and been killed on the road between here and Teheran.

Tells of Murder.

He was a fine young fellow who seemed to have no fear and rather courted danger than avoided it. He had made trips to the Caucasus where he had seen the bodies of many Europeans who had been killed on the road. He had seen the bodies of many Europeans who had been killed on the road. He had seen the bodies of many Europeans who had been killed on the road.

Continues Old Methods.

Four of us were out for a horseback ride last evening. We rode to a little village near here and it is a typical Persian village with streets so narrow we couldn't turn our horses around. We saw the farmers threshing wheat in the same way as they did in the times described in the book of Ruth that happened 3000 years ago. A Syrian woman was just here with her little girl asking for help, the child had been kidnapped and was being sold as common in this country. It is prevalent mostly among the Moslems and this little girl caught it while she was playing in the Moslem street. A Christian man in a village near here was the disease is practically cured now but it has left one-half of her head bald and hair will never grow there again. The native doctor whom they had charged them 100 and they can't pay it. We try to keep rates like these by paying but our money is not so many poor people who are actually suffering from hunger that we cannot afford to spend much money for anything but bread. It is not for the money sent from America, many of these poor people must have starved long ago.

JURY DECLARES SAWYER GUILTY

Osteopath Not Permitted to Perform Surgery, According to Verdict

After one hour's deliberation a district court jury last evening brought in a verdict of guilty against Dr. H. W. Sawyer, tried on charge of practicing medicine and surgery without having been provided with a regulation practitioner's permit for the state of Idaho. Sentence will be pronounced by Judge W. A. Babcock Saturday morning.

The penalty for an offense such as is declared to have been committed in this case provides a fine of from $100 to $1,000 and a term of one year in the county jail. All papers in appeal have been drawn by the attorneys for the defense, Wolfe & Martin and E. V. Larson.

The case brought by the state against Dr. Sawyer hinged upon the specific question of the right of a practicing osteopath to perform surgical operations or prescribe medicinal remedies. The question of qualification was not brought into the case. Testimony adduced proved that Dr. Sawyer, while a graduate of a regular osteopathic school, does not carry a graduate certificate from a regular school of medicine recognized in the state of Idaho. The case will be appealed to test the validity of the law on this particular score.

On the stand Dr. Sawyer admitted that he had performed surgical operations, including those for appendicitis, classified as a major operation, and it was upon this that the state based its attack.

BURGMEISTER OF VIENNA CREDITS AMERICAN RELIEF WORK IN AUSTRIA WITH SAVING THOUSANDS OF LIVES

NEW YORK, (Special).—American relief in Austria was praised as the "influence that has saved thousands of lives throughout the country" in a Thanksgiving day proclamation of gratitude by Burgmeister Reumann of Vienna, a transcript of which has just been received at New York headquarters of the European Relief council. The burgmeister said in part: "Austria this year joins with the country from which its most generous assistance has come since the war in celebrating the holiday that is the oldest of American institutions. On this day Austria extends its thanks to America for the wonderful and humane work of its relief organizations which has salvaged thousands of lives and alleviated the suffering of millions of our countrymen."

"Eternal thanks are due to Herbert Hoover whose efficient administration of the relief work has extended its benefits to the ultimate of possibility. Austria at present depends on charity, but ambitions to develop its industry and agriculture to a level that will permit of self-support for the kindness extended by Americans in the time of our greatest distress and want."

The European relief council, through which relief is now being extended in Austria and the other war-torn areas of Central Europe, is an amalgamation of the leading American welfare agencies, recently formed to coordinate their several activities for the promotion of efficiency and economy. Herbert Hoover is its chairman and Franklin K. Lane its treasurer. The amalgamation comprises the American relief administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends Service committee, the Jewish Relief Distribution committee, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A.

The council is at present feeding more than 2,000,000 children and nursing mothers in the stricken section of Central Europe and will expend $23,000,000 for the relief of their suffering during the present winter, when famine conditions will be most aggravated.

RE-HEARING PETITION DENIED BY DIETRICH

U. S. District Court Jurist Declines Modification of Salmon River Order

Disposition on the part of Judge F. S. Dietrich of the United States district court in Boise, to insist upon the bringing together of all holders of water contracts under the Salmon river irrigation project as defendants in foreclosure proceedings is further indicated in an order entered by him Tuesday in the case of the Commonwealth Trust company of Pittsburgh, trustee, against Max Smith and Margaret Smith. Plaintiff's petition for re-hearing on a decision to this effect previously rendered in this case by Judge Dietrich is denied by this order, the court stating that subsequent argument has furnished "no reason for modification of the original decision."

Copies of the order were received here yesterday by T. K. Hackman, attorney for the defendants. The Trust company is represented by Richards and Haga of Boise.

interest or less until July 1st, or longer. Greenhouses are now full of carnations, house plants, etc., so these will have to be mostly thrown out at a heavy loss April 1st if certain extensions cannot be made before spring, for it takes all our space in greenhouses as well as outside frames and thousands of square feet of canvas to satisfy our thousands of customers for garden plants. For which for the spring of 1921 we will raise and have for sale and will sell the largest number of the finest and largest plants at a reasonable price ever seen in the Twin Falls district. The most important business for the amount of capital invested in the city, last spring we could have sold $1,000 worth more if we had had them, and next spring we are going to do it and more. This is the only greenhouse in the city limits of Twin Falls, and a space one-fourth the size of a city block is not too much if covered with glass houses to properly supply the trade here. Any money invested here is as safe as in any bank and pay many times the income. No company or partnership schemes are offered. And further here is the best chance in the country for someone with $6,000 or $10,000 to back up this place the way it ought to be, will make a deal with the right party under contract to furnish all borrowed capital for a stated term of years at a certain rate of interest or interest and percentage of profits, to be covered by first mortgage. But it must be done now. The writer has many years of valuable greenhouse experience as well as in other lines, but insufficient capital. Furnish the extra capital and profit by my experience. Oh, no! We are not facing bankruptcy, such an idea is not entertained by any one that trades here or by anyone in this neighborhood, but right now it takes $1,000 to carry this business through right. The best in flowers and plants at the lowest price from the best of seed and care and the best of pay and treatment to employees are principles in which there will be no change. Call and learn the requirements, a great amount of cash is not required all at once.
