

METER BUGABOO STILL HARASSES TOWN'S COUNCIL

City Administrators Harangued in Their Lair About Water Gangera

City council business was slow Monday night, but not so slow that the ubiquitous water meter question did not show its forked tongue in acrimonious forensics.

The debate was conducted by J. H. Nye, presenting the negative side, and Mayor W. H. Eldridge and other council members backing the affirmative. There was no judges' decision at the finish, not even the newspaper men vouchsafing a voiced expression of opinion. Mr. Nye prefaced his presentation with the statement that he represented no clique or coterie of objectors.

He said he came before the administrative body with only his personal complaint against the installation of water gauging devices, but he put in word here and there for the folks whom he declared were unable at this time to meet the extraordinary tax levied by the city for water gauging. He declared that he had no objection to the councilmen in broad and unmistakable terms that he proposed to see where the taxpayers stand on this particular and much-objected-to proposition. He said that he was sure that the administration had exceeded its administrative powers in contracting for the devices and he stoutly recommended that further purchases and installations stop.

Explanation Falls.

An attempt was made to explain to the judges the meter installation to check wafton waste of water during the irrigating season, and thus relieve the tax against the filtration capacity of the plant. The explanation was very apposed by this declaration, and recollected that when the plant was constructed it was with the understanding that its capacity would be equal to the population of the town, which is larger than Twin Falls is at present.

"That is true," Mayor Eldridge answered, "but it must be borne in mind that at peak of consumption the town consumes more water than it is consuming by waste sufficient water to supply another 8000 people."

"It must be the people outside of the city limits that are wasteful," Mr. J. W. Gunnerson

Where the Waste Is

"No," replied the mayor, "investigation has shown that the waste is by no means in the heart of the city. Mayor Edridge cited an instance of one consumer who kept his irrigation pump running at full force night and day most of the summer regardless of whether or not his lawn and garden needed the water.

"That fellow should be prosecuted and made to pay a heavy fine," Mr. Nye declared. He was told that there was no law against such regulations, such violations of economy. Mr. Nye suggested that purchases of meters and installation of the devices be deferred for a year. When advised that the city had contracted the purchase of all needed gauges he left but not before he had announced he would "get busy and work fast to stop meter installation."

BLUEJACKETS SEE THE SIGHTS-OF LONDON TOWN

LOVERS OF "DICKENS" WILL FIND A TREASURE IN THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP.

One can spend weeks in one section of the city of London, seeing something new every day. The Tower of London, the grim and forbidding with its tales of crime and critical gaze of our sailormen. Everywhere one goes there is some monument, some castle, tower or prison that conjures up memories of people who have made history. One needs only to step into a building to be carried back hundreds of years.

"The Strand, London's Broadway" is a melting pot of nations, while the benches in Trafalgar square are filled with spectators reviewing the "March of Nations." Often the spectator's curiosity is piqued by seeing the Scotch Highlander continually touching an American sailor's collar. To touch the collar of a Highlander is the Scotch omen for good luck.

The sailorman generally makes the best of his visit and endeavors to see as much of the city as possible during his short visit. Cameras are busy snapping pictures of London bridge, Buckingham palace and the House of Commons. London is a great believer in custom and it is for this reason that the visitor will find the same modes of living prevailing today as of yore.

London has always been a sort of post graduate school for the globe trotter and it's interesting to know that most of our sailors hold diplomas.

BLUE IS TENDERED CONTRACT FOR PERIOD OF THREE YEARS

Superintendent is Re-elected to Position but will Probably Decline — Official Expects to Enter Eastern University Next Year for Advanced Course of Study—Compliment to His Achievements

A new contract, covering a term of three years, superintending of the Twin Falls city schools, has been tendered Hal G. Blue, incumbent. The tender was made at a recent meeting of the school board of independent districts in a short time to accept. Mr. Blue made announcement some time ago that he would leave Twin Falls at the end of the present school year to take up advanced studies in either the Chicago or Columbia universities.

Tribute to Superintendent.

Re-election and the tender of the contract can be regarded only as a compliment of the highest degree, and a tribute to the capability of the official now at the head of the public schools of Twin Falls.

Hal G. Blue came to Twin Falls seven years ago to take the position of superintendent of schools. During his tenure of office the Washington grade school has been built and the new Intermediate school building is rapidly nearing completion. The former structure cost $40,000 and the latter $250,000. The standard of scholastic has been raised very materially, in attention of which fact stands out the honor being won by graduates of the Twin Falls high school in colleges and universities where they have enrolled.

Seven Years of Achievement.

Seven years ago the Twin Falls schools had an enrollment of 1800. This year the attendance is 3100. There were 5 teachers when Mr. Blue came here, now the board employs 110. The high school had an attendance of 325 when Mr. Blue came to the district, at present the enrollment is 700. In all departments of scholastic activity the standard has been materially and noticeably raised, and with the raising of standards progress of the schools has been materially marked.

When Mr. Blue came to Twin Falls in 1913 he found a more or less chaotic state of school administration. Grade buildings where then provided over by supervising principals. A scheme was immediately worked out whereby a supervisor, with jurisdiction over a number of schools, was employed, thus leaving the principals to direct attention only to the administrative end of the buildings. The one person now supervises all three grade buildings. In addition vocational work of the schools has been materially advanced. This department includes agriculture, mechanics arts, household economics and commerce. Last summer Mr. Blue offered courses in school administration at the state university and a year ago gave the same work in the summer normal of the Idaho Technical institute at Pocatello. Locally Mr. Blue is a member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, president of the Twin Falls Rotary club, member of the board of directors of the public library and also treasurer of the Associated Charities and head of the Men's class of the Methodist church.

Regrets Expressed.

Speaking with regard to this situation with regard to himself in connection with the local school work, Mr. Blue this morning made the following statement:

"While I have been very happy to work here and have had an opportunity to do some constructive work in the school system, I feel that for my personal interests I should endeavor to broaden out and get into a larger field. The community has been very kind and helpful in every way, and I leave with keen regret."

With reference to Mr. Blue, W. E. Nixon, of the school board, declared that although announcement had been made that the superintendent proposed to sever connection with the schools at the end of the year, the board had retained high hopes that he would change his mind and remain here.

"The board is extremely sorry to lose Mr. Blue, but we would not limit to retain him," said Mr. Nixon. "We feel that Twin Falls is losing a most efficient administrator of matters educational, and it is with the profound regret that we view his contemplated leaving. The board is as sure that it will be the hardest of tasks to find a man to take Mr. Blue's place. We wish we could make him see that it is as everybody's advantage for him to stay. Perhaps we may yet be able to make him see this."

WATER WASTE ENORMOUS REPORT OF PLANT SUPERINTENDENT SHOWS

Eight Thousand People are Consuming, at Times, Water Sufficient to Provide for Wants of Nearly Double that Number—J. J. Pilgerim Makes Illuminating Statement on Meter Installation and Need of Economy

Appropos of the agitation now rife against installation of water meters, and tending to prove that there is a dire need of measuring devices as a means of checking extravagance and waste in the use of filtered water, John J. Pilgerim, superintendent of the city water plant, has issued a statement, which as it alludes to consumption at peak point in the irrigating season, is especially illuminating.

Charged to Extravagance

This report was compiled by Mr. Pilgerim at the request of Mayor W. H. Eldridge, following a forensic tilt at Monday night's council session, when attempt was made by a resident opposed to the use of meters, to show that such installation is not necessary and even intimating that the procedure of the council is illegal.

The statement, which shows that 8,000 people are consuming water sufficient for a population of nearly twice that number, during the summer period reads:

"The Twin Falls filter plant was designed to take care of a population of 15,000 people. The plans provided for a 24 inch intake pipe line from the canal. The city had already 800 feet of 16-inch pipe line from the canal to the plant and decided this would be large enough for present needs. When the plant was put into operation in June, 1919, it was found that the consumption was more than the pipeline would deliver to the plant, and it was also found that the consumption would take the plant to its limit at certain hours during the day. The city then ordered the 24 inch pipe line, provided in the original plans to be put in, and also to provide for any emergency a Brewster pump to be installed. In order to insure a sufficient and steady supply and the plant not be overtaxed meters were decided upon as a conserving measure.

Beyond Capacity

"In July, 1920, the total consumption was 4,200,000 gallons per day. The capacity of the plant being 3,000,000 gallons, this means that certain hours during the day the plant had to operate at a rate of 7,000,000 gallons per day.

"The cost of each meter to the city is $10.75. Materials used in installation $0.50, labor, estimated, $3, making a total cost of meter and installation $20.25, for which the contractor is to be paid $20 with a discount of 10 per cent for cash."

LEGION MAKES PROVISION FOR DISABLED MEN

Co-operates with Federal Government Agencies in Emergency Relief Measures for the Veterans in Arizona City.

INDIANAPOLIS. (AP)—Emergency measures are necessary for the relief of 500 disabled war veterans who are at Tucson, Ariz., without the proper hospital facilities. It is announced here by national officers of the American Legion. The men are suffering from tuberculosis which is developing rapidly among veterans who were gassed.

It is the plan of the legion to co-operate with the war risk insurance bureau and the United States public health service in meeting the situation. An amusement park at Tucson will be taken over and converted into a temporary hospital. Many of the afflicted veterans failing to find shelter elsewhere are now sleeping in the park, according to reports to legion officers.

National Adjutant Lemuel Bolles has asked Bert C. Glavin, commander of the Arizona department of the legion, to organize volunteer crews of carpenters from the legion membership to that state to assist in construction work.

A corps of public health nurses and physicians and two construction engineers have been promised by the federal government. Governor Campbell of Arizona has also pledged the use of state employees for construction work.

Mr. Bolles advises afflicted veterans against going to Tucson as arrangements can be made for only those who are already there. The veterans now are from all parts of the country and went to Tucson on their own initiative.

The legion is continuing its campaign for hospital facilities for all disabled veterans. Mr. Bolles says.

Bill Introduced by Oregon Congressman Meets with Approval of Republican Leaders

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Republican leaders of the house have agreed upon an appropriation of $100,000,000 for state road aid. It became known Tuesday after an executive session of the house-roads committee.

A bill introduced by Representative McCarthy, republican of Oregon, now before the roads committee, would make $400,000,000 of federal funds available during the next four years, but it developed that the republican steering committee has decided that in the interest of economy the appropriation should be limited to $100,000,000 and should not cover more than a two-year period.

George, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Charles

The royal blood and governments of Europe are watching with much interest and anxiety the outcome of the reported engagements of former Crown Prince George of Greece to Princess Elizabeth of Romania, and that of Crown Prince Charles of Rumania to Princess Helen of Greece. Dispatches from London stated that they would do all in their power to prevent the royal lovers from being united in matrimony.

HEAVY FIGHTING MARKS GUERRILLA WAR IN IRELAND

Large Forces of Civilians Engage in Serious Conflict with Soldiers and Police with Numerous Casualties

AUTHORITIES AMBUSHED IN SEVERAL LOCALITIES

LONDON. (AP)—Twenty persons were killed in Ireland during the last week-end, according to a statement made in the house of commons here yesterday by Sir Thomas Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland. Sir Thomas said these persons were murdered by unknown individuals. The others were civilian Sinn Féin volunteers, who were killed while attacking crown forces or attempting to evade arrest.

DUBLIN. (AP)—Heavy fighting has taken place between large forces of civilians on one side and soldiers and police on the other, in the section lying between Callan, County Kilkenny, and Glenageary, county Tipperary. The military and police were ambushed at least less than three different places Monday and numerous casualties resulted on both sides. About 30 civilians were wounded or captured. An official communication issued by General headquarters last night estimated the casualties among the attacking forces at 11 and among the military and police at 10.

The inhabitants of the countryside are in a state of terror and many are fleeing from their homes.

The first conflict occurred early in the day at the foot of Selevannan Hill. After a sharp fight, the military force got through and sent a message to Callan for reinforcements. In this instance it is believed the ambushers secured unscathed.

At about the same time, reinforcements from Callan were attacked near Glenageary, where the biggest battle of the day occurred.

ESCAPE AMBUSHED IN HILLS WITHOUT LOSSES

CLOMEL, Tipperary, Ireland. (AP)—The military and police who were ambushed at Clonmel Monday at Mullinahone in the mountains of Tipperary, and escaped without casualties, contrary to the earlier reports. It was said that the military and police of the attacking party suffered casualties.

A dispatch to the Freeman's Journal of Dublin Monday said it was understood the troops fired on the ambushers, killing ten and wounding several. The military and police casualties were reported variously between eight killed and one wounded.

RAID ON POSTOFFICE IN CORK MET WITH FAILURE

CORK. (AP)—Armed men last evening raided the postoffice department of the postoffice. The invaders levelled their rifles at members of the staff and riflemen in the building but the police on duty promptly opened fire on them. One raider was killed and several were wounded, including members of the raiding gang who were taken into custody. Troops quickly surrounded the building.

An attempt was made to raid the auxiliary postoffice in Douglas street. This attempt failed.

The number of raiders in the postoffice department aggregated about a dozen. Their purpose apparently was plunder. It is said a bag containing 600 pounds sterling was recovered. The wounded included one policeman and another man and one woman. Late reports expect the effect that all the raiders except the one killed escaped.

LEGION ASKS FOR HOMES FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

Camp Dodge Comes In for Consideration in Plans for World War Veterans' Organization

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Camp Dodge may become a home for disabled soldiers if a plan being sponsored by the national organization of the American Legion is carried out. Austrians Write Popular Songs About Life-saving Food

When the first American Relief Administration food drafts were received in Vienna they had to be explained, as this official is explaining one here, but now the receipt of hundreds of them has proved they are not "too good to be true," and the Austrians write popular songs about them. Food drafts are more welcome than money in Austria as they bring the things money cannot buy, supplies of flour, beans, bacon, milk, lard, corned beef, cottonseed oil, and sugar and cocoa, standard-sized packages of staple foodstuffs that keep many a family from starvation. Austria cannot produce enough food for her population, and what food there is for fabulous sums. The cost of living has gone up 155 times the pre-war state in Austria.

Friends and relatives of European families in need can buy American Relief Administration food drafts, payable in Austria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia, at 4438 banks in the United States. They are issued in $10 and $50 amounts. A draft should be mailed to the person in whose favor it is drawn. On receipt of it is presented at the American Relief Administration warehouse where it is cashed for him in food. The Food Draft plan is Mr. Hoover's, instituted by him in an effort to help adults in the hunger countries of Europe with the greatest economy of money and food. The boys and girls of these nations be looking after through the American Relief Administration European Children's Fund, of which he is chairman. Through the generosity of the American people the Fund hopes to save from starvation, the two and a half million children who depend on it for life.

HALTS WORK ON NORTH DAKOTA'S NEW STATE MILL

Industrial Commission Suspends Ambitious Program of Non-partisan League Because the Market for Bonds Falls

BISMARCK, N. D., (AP)—At the end of the present week, or at soon thereafter as practicable, work on the state mill and elevator building at Grand Forks is to be discontinued, according to a resolution passed by the state industrial commission, it became known today.

The resolution stated that the financial situation is such that it appears the enterprise should be discontinued until further funds can be obtained through sale of mill and elevator bonds.

INVADES PRIVATE ENTERPRISE
DOMAIN IN FOUR DIRECTIONS
FARGO, N. D., (AP)—The state of North Dakota has engaged in four lines of activity usually followed only by private enterprise. These are:

1. Insurance (for public building and for crops).
2. Operation of mill and elevator.
3. Operation of bank.
4. Operation of a home building association.

These activities are part of the industrial program backed by the Non-partisan league. The last three named are under the control of the industrial commission of the state.

Possibly the most ambitious of the four programs is that for a chain of state-owned mills and elevators. A state-owned flour mill with a capacity of 125 barrels a day is in operation at Drake. A 3,000-barrel a day mill and a 1,000,000-bushel elevator are being built by the state under one roof at Grand Forks. These would be ready to time to handle wheat of the 1921 crop.

The mill and elevator system is to be only a beginning, says H. E. More, state secretary of the Non-partisan league, the plan being to supply, eventually, machinery to handle live stock and other farm products. The final aim, according to Mr. More, is to handle, store, manufacture and distribute in finished form, the products from within the state, thus avoiding transportation to distant factory points and costs involved by passage through the hands of middlemen.

Oliver Banks' Program
The program of the state bank, according to Mr. Banks, is to give credit to the farmers and to mobilize money in the state at points where it is most needed, by redepositing it in local banks at the lowest possible rate. The state-owned bank, however, is to be a state-owned bank, and is to be a state-owned bank, and is to be a state-owned bank.

Before the November election a law provided that all public funds in the state be deposited in the state bank, but an initiative law passed at that time now makes the depositary of county, township, municipal and school moneys optional with the treasurer of these respective funds.

The capital stock of the bank is $2,000,000. The home building association, which is in its infancy, has built about 100 homes throughout the state, Mr. More says. The plan is to build homes costing $5000 or less and sell them for a cash payment of one-fifth the value and the rest in 10 or 20 year payments. The monthly payment on a $5000 house after the $1000 has been paid would be $28.64, including interest, under the 20 year plan.

Insurance Schemes
All public buildings in the state are insured against fire and windstorm. There is a demand, according to league officials, that this insurance be made available for private buildings. The administration of this tax is more economical than in old line companies, as soon as a sinking fund has been accumulated, the cost which now is about equal to that charged by the old line companies, will be lowered, Mr. More says.

A three cent per acre tax is levied on all taxable land for the state land tax. Last year this tax cost the farmers who insured their crops 25 cents per acre. This compares, according to Mr. More, with 75 cents per acre charge by private companies for hail protection. Both forms of state insurance he adds are making money.

KIRKPATRICK TO TRY AGAIN TO BREAK FLIGHT RECORD
MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., (AP)—Lieut. Ross C. Kirkpatrick, army flyer, who was forced down Wednesday while attempting to break the world's record for continuous flight, will have another try at the record soon, he declared upon alighting from his four hundred horse power army plane.

Lieutenant Kirkpatrick landed at Mitchell field at 1:34 o'clock on Wednesday, after a 24-hour flight, after being in the air a little more than 18 hours—about six hours short of the record.

THINK FOOTBALL DAILY.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP)—A plan has been evolved at Carnegie Tech. to keep the football squad in the gymnasium year round, and thus help its efficiency. The plan is to hold meetings at regular intervals throughout the year. According to one of the members of the new plan is to have the Tech football team "think football every day of the year."

WHITE MURDER SUSPECT LYNCHED BY TEXAS MOB

Tom W. Vickery, Held in Connection with Killing of Po. Hoeman, is Hanged

PORT WORTH, Texas, (AP)—Tom W. Vickery, a white man held on a charge of murder in connection with the killing Monday night of Policeman Jeff C. Couch, was taken from the county jail here shortly after midnight by a mob and hanged. Several shots were fired into his body. Twenty-five masked men entered the jail and overpowered the jailer and his assistants. Opening Vickery's cell, the mob removed the prisoner, clad only in night clothes, to a grove near the packing house district, and swung him to a tree. After firing a few shots into the body, the mob disappeared.

Sheriff Smith and Chief of Police Porter, warned anonymously by telephone that Vickery was being held, reached the scene shortly after the mob had disappeared. Vickery was 30 years of age and a chaperon. Policeman Couch answered a call from a garage Monday night to arrest an alleged intoxicated man. The officer was shot when he arrived at the garage. Vickery was being held in the county jail at the time.

County officers said today the lynching would be investigated by the next session of the district grand jury.

Deaf Mutes Stuff Pockets While Burglar Alarm Rings Police to Scene of Attempted Robbery

SCRANTON, Pa., (AP)—New currency displayed on two illuminated Christmas trees in windows of the First National bank at the most prominent business corner of the city, attracted thieves just before daybreak today. They hurried stones through the windows and gathered up the bills indifferent to the burglar alarm loudly clanging over their heads. Police hurried to the scene and arrested the two men with their pockets bulging with the new bank notes. Both are deaf mutes.

Mr. Blaney is reported to be one of the best bowlers in the northwest and resides in Portland.

LEGION MEN VOLUNTEER TO CURB WAVE OF CRIME

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—Services of ten thousand members of the American Legion will be offered to this city as an auxiliary police force to check the unusual prevalence of crime, the Inter-post commission announced today. Mayor Snyder and the police commissioners said they would be glad to get the former soldiers' aid.

American Food Their Only Hope

This Polish mother, waiting at one of the kitchens of the American Relief Administration European Children's Fund in Warsaw, is typical in her suffering and need. She has nothing but black bread made from bark and straw to give her babies. Her boys of fourteen and sixteen followed their father to fight the Bolsheviks. In Eastern Poland there are families worse off than hers, living in dugouts, sometimes ten families in one. Not a shack of any kind has been left standing in many areas invaded by hordes of Bolsheviks.

The Americans keep child-feeding stations going here. A million Polish boys and girls depend on them for existence. Austria, Czechoslovakia, and the Baltic States contribute another million and a half who must be fed if this generation is to have a chance. The European Children's Fund, under the chairmanship of Herbert Hoover, has undertaken that obligation and will continue it if the American people take it on financially. Twenty-three million American dollars will save two and a half million European children from starving to death.

QUOTES PILGRIM DICTUM AGAINST USE OF WATER

History Teacher Reveals Interesting Standpoint on Views of Mayflower Passengers

BOSTON, Mass., (AP)—"Much drinking of water," was considered by Governor William Bradford of Plymouth a contributory cause of the ravages of disease and the shortness of life that afflicted the Pilgrims in the early days, Horace H. Morse, head of the historical department at Mt. Hermon school, told the Bostonian society at a meeting last night.

He quoted largely from the diary of Governor Bradford. The speaker also pointed out as a fact of curious historic interest that Pastor John Robinson who led the Pilgrims into Holland, but did not accompany them to New England had twice remitted on one-half a case of liver trouble and one hoghead of wine every three months because he held a professorship in the University of Leyden.

Today's Markets

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, (AP)—Gains ranging from 2 to 6 1/2 points were made by many issues in the stock market today, the advance going far toward offsetting recent losses. Sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.

Many substantial additions to yesterday's late rally were made at the active opening of today's stock market, to the evident surprise of the short interest. Oils, steels, rails and shippings again featured the advance, but many recently heavy specialties also rallied briskly. Gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded in first half hour. By Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum, Royal Dutch, Texas and Pacific Coal and Iron, Sloss-Sheffield, American Locomotive, American Car and Steel, Southern Railway, Pullman, Bethlehem and West Virginia, Atlantic Gulf, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and Sears-Robuck. The few weak issues included—American Woolen, International Paper and Atlantic Coast Line.

Maximum prices of the season were registered in the last hour under the guidance of oil shippings, oils and equipments. The closing was strong.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bonds closed: 1 1/2's $93.50; first 4's $84 bid; second 4's $83.70; first 4 1/4's $84.90; second 4 1/4's $84.50; third 4 1/4's $84.50; fourth 4 1/4's $84.50; Victory 3's $84.80; Victory 4's $84.80.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Sharp upturns in wheat prices took place today owing more or less to the house vote in favor of an emergency tariff on farm products. Word that there had been export buying overnight tended also to lift values. Shorts covered freely, and there was in addition a fair demand from commission houses. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1c to 1 1/4c higher, with March $1.03 to $1.06 and May $1.02 to $1.01 1/4, were followed by moderate reaction from initial top figures.

Advances in the New York stock market helped later to bring about new gains for wheat. The close was unsettled, 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 c higher, with March $1.00 to $1.01 1/4 and May $1.02 to $1.03 1/2. Corn was stronger than wheat. After starting 3/4c to 1 3/4c up, including May at 73 3/4 to 75c, the market held within the opening range.

Evening up for the holidays counted subsequent to a bullish factor. The close was steady, at 1 3/8c to 1 3/4c net advance, with May 74 7/8 to 75c.

Oats reflected the action of other cereals, beginning 1-5c to 5-8c higher, May 49 1/2c to 49 1/2c, and hardening a little more.

Provisions tended upward, influenced by hogs and grain.

KOREANS MAKE GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST JAPAN

Military Authorities are Accused of Deeds More "Frightful and Barbarous" than Occurrences in Belgium

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—A statement charging Japanese military authorities with more "frightful and barbarous" than anything ever alleged to have occurred in Belgium during the war was issued here today by the Korean commission based in the commission said, on authentic reports received by it from Manchuria.

The Japanese punitive expedition sent to the Hunchun district following the clash last November between Japanese troops and Korean insurgents was alleged to have burned 32 villages, killed all the male inhabitants of the district and "murdered" 100,000 "innocent inhabitants" in one town, where one house was burned, it was added, "with women and children inside."

Women Also Executed.

"Authentic reports received by the Korean commission in Washington," the statement said, "show a total of 386 non-combatants arrested and executed, of whom 86 were wives and 12 were mothers, who answered 'Olong Kano' (Gone somewhere, we do not know) to questions as to the whereabouts of their husbands and sons."

The Japanese commission said "evidence of terror in Korea" and the commission asserted, had now been carried into southern Manchuria where "some 100,000 Koreans" reside under Chinese rule, "driven out of their native land by the Japanese."

"Last November," the statement continued, "an unfortunate clash occurred in Hunchun district between Japanese soldiers and Korean insurgents. Promptly taking advantage of this pretext, the Japanese government sent 5000 soldiers on a punitive expedition. The insurgents fled after giving a stubborn fight to the Japanese army."

Deliberately Wreak Vengeance.

"Then the Japanese soldiers set out deliberately to wreak vengeance upon the peaceful people who stayed at their homes, trusting to the humanity of Japanese officials, believing that the punitive expedition was sent to punish only those who took part in the conflict. But the Japanese soldiers went to the torch all the villages in the district, burning three thousand houses and all the grain supply stored for the winter. Then they systematically killed all the male inhabitants of the district. In some villages women and children were not spared."

"Thus at Durahue, where the Japanese soldiers massacred 145 peaceful inhabitants, a house was burned with women and children inside.

"Thirty-two villages were thus wantonly destroyed and the destruction still continues notwithstanding the 'regrets' expressed by Colonel Minami, head of the Japanese military mission at Chien-tao to a Canadian missionary who visited the devastated districts."

DR. SCILLIANO TO BE GREEKS' ENVOY IN U. S.

Partisan of Constantine Announces His Nomination as Minister at Washington

ATHENS, (AP)—Dr. Scilliano, head of the political bureau of the foreign office, said today he had been nominated minister to the United States. He stated that he would go to America only in January and possibly would be accompanied by the Princess Anastasia, who before her marriage to Prince Christopher of Greece was Mrs. William D. Lewis of New York.

Dr. Scilliano, who is 40 years old, several times was imprisoned by the Venizelists. He declared the Greeks were determined to lose all if necessary, even their lives, to keep their king.

Edward Cappe, American minister, and Major Martin, Greek military attaché called at the king's palace today and signed their names on the visitors book. They were accompanied by the prince of the Brazilian minister, and it was explained that the action was inspired by courtesy and was not the result of instructions from Washington.

Peculiar Will Upheld.

An elderly Frenchman was found dead in his house at Doumely in the Ardennes. A search among the papers failed to reveal any will until under his bed, a piece of sheetiron was discovered, with these words written on it in white chalk: "I bequeath all my property to the borough of Ardennes on condition that the mayor give 210 to the local fire brigade for a banquet. (Signed)" The relatives disputed this queer and very brief will, but the local court decided that it was valid.

ELLIS ISLAND OFFICIALS PREPARE FOR NEW RECORD CHRISTMAS RUSH

NEW YORK, (AP)—Immigration officials at Ellis Island are preparing for the greatest Christmas rush of immigrants in the history of this port. Special plans have been made to expedite the movement of between 20,000 and 30,000 newcomers during the few days preceding the holiday.

Thousands of immigrants timed their departure from Europe so that they might spend Christmas with relatives in this country, and the immigration authorities have speeded up the inspection machinery to make this possible.

Despite the extra efforts, officials say thousands will be disappointed. Christmas day is expected to find Ellis Island overflowing with immigrants and several ships awaiting to unload their human freight.

Recently immigrants have been arriving at the rate of more than 2,000 daily and more than 20,000 have been in transit on the coast at one time.

Welfare organizations have offered their cooperation to the island officials to bring a bit of holiday cheer to the newcomers who may be there Christmas day.

With the high-tide of incoming Europeans there has also been a large emigration from this port during the past month. The outgoing are mostly persons who were returning to Europe for a visit and to pass the holidays with the "old folks." A small proportion announced their intention of remaining abroad, using their savings in the upbuilding of business under new conditions.

HOUSTON AVERS DEFICITS LOOM

Secretary of Treasury Says New Sources of Revenue Must Be Found

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—A gross deficiency in national fiscal transactions of $2,100,000,000 for the next fiscal year was forecast today by Secretary Houston in testimony before the senate finance committee. He is considering the soldiers' bonus bill.

The secretary said federal finances were in such shape that new sources of revenue must be found and no new burdens added to the treasury.

Secretary Houston said ordinary receipts this year should exceed ordinary expenditures by about $800,000,000 and next year by about $550,000,000 but that these sums would be inadequate to pay interest on the public debt of about $1,500,000,000 annually.

The secretary said new sources of revenue must be found because excessive profits taxes and income taxes on higher groups.

He warned against "tampering" with the sinking fund arrangement for retiring the war debt, saying:

"When we go to tampering with the sinking fund, I believe we are gone."

KEEPING WELL

Man was made to live outdoors. Nature did not invent hose burners, steam heated apartment houses and factory buildings. Man designed those things, and man must make the best of them. But let's not overlook the necessity of getting as much good, clean, wholesome fresh air in our system as we can.

The diseases most common from unwholesome air are influenza, pneumonia, bronchitis, diphtheria and tuberculosis. And colds. Colds are the most prevalent ailment and the most easily avoided. It isn't the cold windy air that gives you a cold, it's your clumsy efforts to dodge it, the doctors say. Those other diseases usually grow out of colds. It is because we allow the germs to be introduced into our noses, mouths, throats and lungs, and then don't get enough good air to kill them.

Employees of the United States Pension bureau in Washington lost 18,736 working days a year through illness. A ventilating system was put in the building, and the days lost were cut down to 10,114 a year. Five hundred employees of a New York factory did the work it had taken 600 to perform after fresh air was introduced as a factor in efficiency.

Maybe those figures don't mean much to you. What does mean a great deal, however, is your own health, and that of your family. Guard it. It is easy. It merely means that you should sleep with a window open every night—even the coldest nights. You should have some air circulating in the room wherever you are, and as soon as you go outdoors you should not hunch down under your coat or fur, but throw up your head, take a deep breath of the crisp, fresh air, and put disease to flight.

WATER METERS

Apparently, Saturday night's meeting of citizens called together to discuss municipal reforms, developed at least as many opinions as to the utilitarian value and general desirability of water meters in Twin Falls as there are water users. Objections were voiced as to the question of the location of the meter, the method and cost of installation, and the payment for the same. The main point of the whole matter, namely as to the necessity of water meters for the measuring of the domestic water supply of the city of Twin Falls, was touched upon scarcely at all.

When all is said and done the whole problem, summed up, presents but one point namely as to whether or not it is better to charge the water meter and excessive use of water upon the same basis as the careful, conservative citizen, or collect from all upon the basis of the actual use of water of each.

Water meters will result in the equalization of water charges. Many a householder, today, is paying a minimum of $1.25 per month for water who formerly paid $1.00, before the installation of the meters, and vice versa. There are garages, hotels, plants and similar establishments who are now paying much more for their water supply—all of which, in simple justice, is exactly as it should be. If the waterworks department shows a profit, the rate will be lowered to a point even smaller than the present rate. If it does not, steps must be taken to increase the income. The cost to the taxpayer is and must be the cost of the distribution of the water. Those who favor the old hit-or-miss system of the flat rate will object strenuously to the installation of the meter. That is to say, a large majority of those who, in the past, have used more water than they paid for, are against measuring devices. Those whose monthly bills are lowered as a result of the installation, will hold a reverse view.

The question as to whether or not the cost of the meter should be charged to the property of the waterworks department, or assessed against it as a tax at the end of the year should not make a great deal of difference. The waterworks system is not the property of the City Council, it belongs to the people of Twin Falls. The cost of meter installation is merely the augmenting of the system by its owners, and the same is true whether the money be paid by bond issue, waterworks funds, or by the individual direct. In the long run the latter pays it anyway.

It would be interesting to compile a list of the "yes" and the "no's" on this question of water meters. Probably a very large majority of those who have the water meter installed and paid for would be found to be wholly in favor of water meters, while those without the step just ahead would be just as strongly opposed.

It is to be regretted that the item of expense created by the meter installation should have come at a time when the people of Twin Falls are really unable to take on extra financial burdens than has been the case during any year for a long time past. It is unfortunate that some scheme cannot be devised to permit of the payment in small installments covering several months, rather than its collection in a lump sum upon the completion of the work of installation. Such arrangement would meet with general approval and go far towards quieting the opposition of those to whom the payment, coming at this time, is a genuine hardship.

But the water meter constitutes the only fair basis for the distribution of water. To argue to the contrary is to waste time.

LIFE IN THE COUNTRY

Considerable discussion is heard these days as to the means that may be adopted to keep folks on the farm. The situation has become serious, for many experienced farmers are moving into the cities, either for the purpose of earning what they consider easier money, or to use their savings in giving their children and themselves the advantages of city life. Whatever the cause, the situation remains, and it constitutes a problem that may well engage the attention of national and state authorities. The fear is expressed that the production of food may become reduced to such an extent that the scarcity will not only greatly increase the prices, but threaten the welfare of the people.

While the reasoning is purely academic and subject to the views of each individual, it is probably true that the persons who make occasional trips from the rural districts to the larger towns enjoy these visits and the things they see much more than those who see them every day. It is a case where familiarity sometimes breeds contempt. In the matter of better school facilities in the towns, there is in most cases no place for argument, although some progress has been made in a number of the towns to bring about a centralization of teaching that gives country pupils some of the advantages of the city in a course of study.

There is nothing to justify undue pressure to keep men and women and boys and girls on the farms. Rural life should be so attractive in itself that enough persons will make choice of the country life to insure the crops of grain and quantities of other foodstuffs needed to maintain all the people at a reasonable cost.

GETTING BACK TO THE FARMS

No figures are available to show what movement, if any, is under way on the part of persons in the towns to get back to the rural homes which they abandoned to earn big wages in industrial plants during and since the war. It was hoped the one good effect from the slowing down of industry would be the creation of more interest in farming.

Under the stimulus of war conditions the farmers of the United States planted record crops, and since the war the decrease in acreage has not been more than 15 per cent. With the sharp drop in prices and the drift of so many of the farmers toward the cities, it must be plain that a crisis in agriculture will be created within a short time.

Reports from Kansas are that wheat growers have now slightly more than 10 per cent less acreage in wheat than the preceding year, but the sharp decline in the quotations for wheat will probably have the effect of causing more marked reductions next year, unless prices are advanced.

Farmers will yield to the lure of wages and the advantages of the cities unless farming is reasonably profitable. The idea of a paternalistic government may not be a pleasant one, but congress should do what it can to aid in financing present and prospective farmers, just as it aids, through the banking system, the manufacturers and the business men.

GETTING CLOSER TO CONSUMERS

Before business had reached the present perfection of system, the farmers would haul their produce to town and sell either to consumers direct, or to grocers, who would take a small profit in passing the goods on to their patrons.

This method has been almost generally abandoned for the more complex, and also more expensive, one of having several persons take profits between the time the farmer sells his produce and its arrival in the home of the consumer. In many cases these profits are shown to be out of proportion for the service rendered.

It is admitted, of course, that few farmers can afford to take the time required to dispose of their stocks direct to consumers, so they prefer to sell to the jobber who visits the farm and buys an entire crop, or to the grocer, who becomes the distributor to the public. The complaint of both farmer and consumer is that the middlemen are taking more than a fair profit in the transaction, and there is an insistent demand that brokers and others who do not actually handle the farm products be eliminated from any participation in the business.

The senate and house have passed a measure that would permit farmers to sell under the co-operative plan without incurring the penalties of the Sherman anti-trust law, and it is likely that it will soon become a law. Growers could market their produce in bulk through a farm agency and sell to grocers direct, or to consumers in quantity.

If such a plan should succeed in eliminating interests which are taking unearned profits from the distribution of food profits, it will have served well both the grower and consumer, who are equal sufferers under the present system of moving food from the producer to the home table.

A FIELD FOR REFORMERS

This is a great season for reformers. With myriad devices to make the world utopian, a multitude of aspiring organizations are projecting themselves into the foreground. They are directed and supported by men of many types; practical and impractical, sensible and fanciful, sincere and insincere. They propose various programs: stricter motion picture censorship, Sunday blue laws, prohibition of tobacco, and a constitutional amendment declaring this to be a Christian country.

In most cases the agitators probably believe what they propose is an important contribution to the public welfare. The difficulty lies in making the multitude see it that way. To gain this end, certain sums totalling millions of dollars are being raised, by which the people are to be "educated."

The reformers have a hard road to hoe. At a time when the average man is conscious of a number of pressing needs that cry out for relief he is not likely to respond enthusiastically to the attempt to make him believe that other things are more important.

It is too bad that the reformers do not pool their strength behind the things that the people need; instead of behind things which they are not sure they want. Among the things the people need, and for which the reformers could fight with a clear conscience, are:

More and better homes in the cities. More and better schools in the country districts. Lower federal taxes by spending less on war machines and some other government departments. Conservation of resources, particularly our forests.

These tasks are quite enough to challenge the ablest reform organizations in the nation. With better schools and homes, lower taxes, and protection of our inherent wealth, the people would be far happier and better satisfied with themselves and their lot.

A happy people will not go far wrong. They might be able, even, to dispense with a reformer's chalk line.

THE SOCIALIST VOTE

The vote for Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate for president, approximated 850,000. This is computed from official and unofficial returns. The figures must be discouraging to socialists, and correspondingly gratifying to Americans concerned for orderly processes of government. In 1912 Debs got 901,873. Four years ago the socialist candidate pulled 399,473. Obviously no addition is not increasing in the United States, for we must credit a considerable percentage of the Debs vote this year to women. Altogether the returns are gratifying as showing that we are in no danger from the spread of socialism.

ARGENTINE WHEAT CROP PROMISES HEAVY YIELD

Buenos Aires Newspapers Estimate the Harvest Now Beginning Will Produce 5,000,000 Tons

BUENOS AIRES, (AP)—Argentina's wheat crop for 1920, now ready for the harvest, gives prospects of a heavy and profitable yield. Official figures place the area seeded this year at 6,750,000 hectares (of 2.47 acres), or about 23,000 hectares more than in the previous year. La Razon estimates the crop for 1920-21 will reach 5,000,000 tons and La Epoca figures 5,000,000. The oats and linseed crops share the good prospects of the wheat.

FARMERS URGED TO TAKE STAND COMMON CARDS WITH FESTIVE REGALIA OF YULETIDE

Farmers were urged to stand squarely for the present excess profits tax and against a proposed new sales tax, at the recent meeting of the American Farm Bureau federation, at Indianapolis, which was in an effort to shift the burden of taxation directly upon the consumer, and it was stated that with the changes that are being advocated, corporate earnings of 10 to 15 per cent and over would escape with the payment of a nominal tax entirely out of proportion to their share.

An analysis of all the substitutes," said H. C. McKenzie, chairman of the federation's committee on taxation, "shows invariably an effort to free income of a large part of the burden they are now carrying and substitute for them consumption taxes which would be paid largely out of the living wage and which would fall on those least able to pay."

The present system of taxation where the government derives approximately 75 per cent of its revenue from income taxes and the remainder from consumption taxes is economically sound and eminently fair, Mr. McKenzie declared. He said that the income tax is paid from the living wage. Proponents of a change, he said, would practically reverse this ratio, relieving corporations of the burden of heavy taxes and saddling them on the consumer.

Refuting the claim that the excess profits tax has added to the cost of living is the significant fact that the corporations and not the public are advocating its repeal.

Dismissing the proposed sales tax, Mr. McKenzie said: "The basis of the tax would be gross income and the tax would have to be paid whether there was any profit in the business or not. In many cases it would be paid out of capital—a dangerous expedient."

A tax of 1 per cent on the farmer's gross output of approximately $25,000,000,000 would be $250,000,000, he said, an alkali, he declared, would be paid out of capital as much as the farmer's output is without profit.

Mr. McKenzie recommended relief of high incomes from heavy mitzies as he said men of large incomes were avoiding payment of these higher taxes by investing in the tax free bonds.

JOYFUL NEWS IS SENT TO MINING INTERESTS

Senate Passes Bill Extending Time for Doing Assessment Work on Claims

Of tremendous interest and vital importance to mining men and mining projects throughout this state is the action of the senate during the week in passing a bill extending the time for completing assessment work on mining claims.

In the past day or two Twin Falls people interested in mining projects in this and other states have been advised by Congressmen Addison Smith that the senate bill extending time for doing the preliminary claim work has been extended to July 1, 1921. Mr. Smith gives assurance that the bill will receive the president's signature in due time. One such message from the Idaho congressman was received by A. G. Bennett and reads as follows:

"The senate bill extending the time within which assessment work for this year shall be performed on July 1, 1921, has just passed the house and will doubtless receive the president's approval."

People of City and District Prepare to Celebrate Christmas Season with Song Festival and Tree Entertainments—Messiah Will Be Sung Friday Night—Salvation Army to Dispense Season's Cheer

There is no day in all the Christian year like Christmas day. From the earliest memories of childhood it has brought a touch of the most exquisite romance into the year and has later become a priceless gift to lives when they were being commonplacely and duty with the stress of experience.

Of all the many things which revealed the cruelty and hideousness of the recent war none proved more vivid than the changed feeling toward Christmas day. The ivory gates that led back to the land of childhood seemed to have shut out from the fairytale which had been known with such profound pleasure in the days before.

Now, in God's great mercy that gate is opened once again, and it is with the light and free hearts of childhood that manhood and womanhood hasten back from all the growing-up noise and bustle of the year to gambol around the Christmas tree and to gather the gifts of Him who on that momentous day took humanity as it was, with its devotion and pure dedication, of native and unselfish heart, and let this Yuletide spell out the end of unexampled peace and un-Christian thoughts.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT ABROAD

JUST AS IN OTHER YEARS

Due to unusual weather conditions, the Christmas spirit abroad is being felt throughout the country at large, the Christmas commemoration plans of the community are not as elaborately extensive as they might otherwise be. The spirit of the period, however, surges as rampantly in the breast as in the heart, and in church, school and home, Yuletide will have its full observance despite a world-wide situation demanding economy and husbanding of resources for the time-being.

Despite a somewhat depressing national condition community features will mark the local Christmas observance, with the usual entertainments and exchange of presents of many sorts. Homes are displaying the Yuletide festive appearance, while churches and other public places are being arrayed in their vestments of green and other appropriate festive coloring. Many a home window already displays its wonted wreath of holly, white holly and hollyhocks, and in colorful decoration and festoon.

One more day is left for the busy buyer to fill the basket with the things needed for the proper celebration of Christmas, and a huge rush is looked for, as usual, on the last day before the merchant and his aides leave off the holiday season.

To Give "Messiah"

One of the particularly bright features of the Twin Falls Christmas festival observance is the arrangement for the presentation of Handel's great Christmas oratorio, "The Messiah."

For this great musical festival community Christmas eve brings $45 have been preparing during the past two months. The oratorio will be given in Parish hall Christmas eve beginning 10:15 in all, ten of the most eminent feature choruses, with arias, recitatives and solos, as well as preludes and interludes of an instrumental order, will be rendered.

On Christmas morning Knights Templar of this district will gather in the regular Assembly at Masonic temple for scheduled annual business session. This will be directed by the officers of the advanced Masonic order. These observations consist of semi-annual reports, financial reports, and songs, by the Twin Falls Opera quartet, addresses by prominent members of the order, and toasts. This observance is in accordance with the rules of the Knights Templar wherever Templars are gathered throughout the globe. The observance will open at 9:30 o'clock. Toasts will be given at 10.

Churches generally will have some sort of commemoration of the festival season either on Christmas eve or Christmas morning, although most of the denominational institutions have planned more or less extensive programs to be given on Sunday instead of Christmas day.

Activities will consist mainly of tree and gift programs. Schools closed at the termination of study periods yesterday afternoon to remain closed until January 3.

Benefit Dinners

The Salvation Army has made elaborate plans for relieving distress in this city and district. Tomorrow afternoon, between the hour of 5 and 4 will distribute dinner baskets to needy families. Thus far more than 100 baskets have been distributed. It is expected that at least 50 will be filled with dinner viands to satisfy all immediate wants. On the night of December 28 the Salvation Army will conduct a Christmas tree festival in Parish hall, when stocking filled with goodies and toys will be distributed to children who through force of circumstances have otherwise been left out of consideration by Santa Claus this year. The party is deferred to the 28th because of inability to get a suitable place to hold it before that date.

At St. Edward's Catholic church special festive music will be celebrated at stated periods during the day, while immediately after Christmas eve there will be held in the church of the Assumption, Sisters' celebration of the Holy Eucharist in simple form. At 10 o'clock Christmas morning there will be a special service by the Sunday school in the parish hall, followed by 11 o'clock of similar celebration, with special Christmas music by the regular choir. On Christmas eve there will be a Christmas tree celebration by the primary department of the Baptist church beginning at 4 o'clock and continuing to 6 o'clock. The Baptist Sunday school will give a special musical and recitation program at 7:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

BEVERCOMBE DENIED WRIT AGAINST CITY

Judge Babcock Refuses to Order Issuance of Permit to Build Oil Station

Judge W. A. Babcock yesterday afternoon, in the district court, denied a writ of mandamus applied for by John A. Bevercombe to compel the city of Twin Falls to issue a permit for the construction of an oil and gas service station near the Washington school. The compulsory writ was applied for after the city officials had denied Mr. Bevercombe a permit covering the station construction on the ground that the institution would constitute a menace to public safety, especially to the safety of pupils passing to and from the Washington school. The city has previously refused to grant the Continental Oil company a similar permit. This company had negotiated with Mr. Bevercombe for the purchase of the property on which it was contemplated to erect the service station.

The filled stockings will be delivered to the Salvation Army for distribution to children at the Army's Christmas tree exercises in Parish hall on the night of December 28. This is the only date during the holiday season when the hall could be obtained for entertainment purposes. The Twin Falls band will provide music on that evening.

WATER METERS MAKE ECONOMY IN USE OF FLOW

Figures in Comparison Show Twin Falls Leader in Per Capita Consumption

That meters promote economy in the use of water is a fact amply set out in a comparison of consumption with Twin Falls and Sacramento not metered on the one side and nine other cities in the middle and western states.

This comparison shows that without measuring devices installed Twin Falls and Sacramento far exceed per capita other towns such as Salt Lake, Spokane, Kansas City, Omaha, Duluth, Oklahoma City, San Diego, Los Angeles and Pasadena. It is ascertained, too, that this economy in no way affects the beauty of these communities through greenery and gardens.

The following comparisons, of per capita daily consumption, provided by the water department, tell their own story of the effectiveness of the meter system as an economy producer:

Twin Falls, not metered.....	61.
Sacramento, not metered.....	316.
Spokane, 65 pct. metered.....	24.
Salt Lake, 35 pct. metered.....	203.
Kansas City, 71 pct. metered.....	149.
Duluth, 73 pct. metered.....	102.
Omaha, 96 pct. metered.....	118.
Oklahoma City, 98 pct. metered.....	118.
San Diego, 100 pct. metered.....	127.
Los Angeles, 80 pct. metered.....	147.
Pasadena, 96 pct. metered.....	150.
