Opposition of American Interests to Proposed Disposition of East Indian Fields Precipitates Problem

THE HAGUE, (AP)—United States authorities here fear that American interests will be excluded from the great Djambi oil fields to a subsidiary of the Batavia Oil company. The territory is described as the most valuable petroleum ground in the Dutch East Indies.

The field has long been the scene of commercial rivalry between Dutch, English and American oil groups. Americans here say that the only way in which American interests could obtain representation there would be for the Dutch government to permit them to subscribe to the stock of the proposed handling company to be formed to handle the concession.

In this holding company, the Dutch East Indies government and the Batavia company would be provisionally the joint stockholders, the government sharing largely in the profits. The government, however, will have a majority on the board of directors.

According to the Amsterdam Hansa, the preferred shares, giving a right to vote as to the control but not as to the direct management, which will be in the hands of the Batavia company, will be mostly under government control, but, in order to placate foreign, particularly American interests, a certain number of shares are known as the "B" shares, which will be sold to foreigners with the consent of the government.

A recent dispatch stated that the parliament of the Dutch East Indies had under consideration a motion opposing the granting by the Dutch government of an exclusive concession to the Djambi oil fields without the consent of the people of the colony.

MAKING READY TO PROSECUTE BALL PLAYERS

Attorney General Says Examinations Will Be Conducted in Three Weeks

CHICAGO, (AP)—The preliminary hearing for the eight Chicago American league baseball players and five alleged gamblers who were indicted by the Cook county grand jury in connection with the alleged "throwing" of games in the 1919 world series, will be held within three weeks and the trial will begin shortly after, State Attorney Robert E. Crowe has announced.

Mr. Crowe, assisted by George E. Gorman, second assistant state attorney, to handle the case and ordered him to prepare for an immediate trial. Mr. Crowe refused to say whether Hartley Repply, former assistant state attorney, who handled the grand jury investigation, will be connected with the prosecution. The grand jury, in its report, recommended that Mr. Repply be employed as special prosecutor despite his resignation from the state's attorney staff.

Mr. Gorman tonight said he expected to devote the next few days to a study of the grand jury investigation and that he then would set definite dates for the preliminary hearings. He refused to discuss the trial of the Pacific Coast league players where the judge ruled that "throwing" games was not a criminal offense but said that he would ask the attorneys who handled the prosecution of that case for the records of it so that he could see what bearing it might have on the trial of the major league players and the men charged with bribing them.

Eddie Cleotis, Joe Jackson and Claude Williams confessed their share in the scandal to the grand jury, and Oscar Polach was quoted by newspaper reporters as confessing to them but Felix, "Buck" Weaver, "Swede" Fisher, and McMillin have officially denied that they were guilty and have hired counsel to defend them. Jackson and Williams have been quoted in press dispatches as saying they would be back in baseball next season. Chick Gandil, the eighth player indicted, has not announced his plans in regard to the trial.

Brief Bits of Sport

The boat Able Miskid could go against Al Young in Salt Lake Monday was another draw.

Charlie Herzog insists he is going to find out why the Cubs canned him, and why all the other clubs in the league waived him.

The action of the National league managers with respect to Herzog, always has been more or less a mystery, but no doubt said "mags" know the answer.

And when "Buck" hears he may get a full ear of something that will quiet him down a lot.

There was considerable discussion heard over return of players who had jumped their clubs last summer or earlier to play with industrial teams. The wise ones were saying that the "old stuff" was going to be pulled by the managers and that the offending players—who had been proclaimed from the housestops as blacklisted for years—would be found drifting back without much if any penalty for their grasshopper stunts.

President Voeck of the Cubs and Manager Evers sparred with President Dreyfuss of the Pirates and Manager Gibson over a trade for an outfielder. The Cubs wanted either Carey, Southworth or Bigbee, but the deal was blocked when Dreyfuss insisted on a catcher, pitcher and infielder he would make in exchange for any of the outfielders.

Donovans come and Donovan go in the international league. Thus Patay Donovan succeeds Bill Donovan as manager of the Jersey City team and again becomes a manager in the league in which in the past he had led the Buffalo Braves and Syracuse teams. Last season Patay did some scouting for a major league club.

Roger Bresnahan of Toledo announced on Thursday that Bill Clymer would act as his field leader in 1921, but there will be a native player in addition as manager of the team. Previously a story had been printed that Bresnahan had negotiated with the Boston Braves for Catcher Arthur Wilson with the intention of making him manager of the Toledo team.

Bill Donovan, as new manager of the Phillies, associated with Hugh Jennings, assistant manager of the Giants. Baseball men assembled were at a loss whether to congratulate Donovan or console him as the leader of the hapless Phils.

President Harry Frazee of the Boston Red Sox said on Thursday that he had come to terms with Jimmy Burke by which the former manager of the St. Louis Browns would act as assistant manager to Hugh Duffie. A few hours later came a denial of this statement, so that no one knew what to believe.

President Grant of the Boston Braves told Pitcher Dick Rudolph he could negotiate with any club for his services. The Boston club hopes Rudolph can place himself, if not he will get his unconditional release.

John Heydler already had one year office to serve and the additional three years given him means four years in his new contract at increased salary. Heydler was warmly endorsed for the manner in which he had handled National league affairs the past season.

Talk of a 100-game schedule heard earlier was still when the managers got down to the business of making plans for the 1921 program. They sensibly concluded that 154 games are enough.

On account of the high cost of living the National league umpires were voted a sum of money to reimburse them for extra expenses incurred in their travels last season.

Taking it by and large, Herzog seems to have been whitewashed but he has no job.

Give Bill Donovan a lot of good

There's some talk of creating a new league with some eastern, western, northern Idaho and Montana teams comprising the circuit. Spokane has withdrawn from the Pacific International league to get a better league.

RULES NORTH DAKOTA'S RAILROAD TAX INVALID

WILSON VETOS MEASURE TO IMPAIR CLAYTON ACT

President Defends Law in Message, Overruling Joint Resolution

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Wilson vetoed today a joint resolution designed to suspend a section of the Clayton act prohibiting common carriers from dealing with any concern having interests in common with the carrier except to a limited extent as to contracts.

The message was read in the senate and some discussion followed as to what should be done with it. Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, finally asked that it go over and this was agreed to.

The president in his message said the principle of the Clayton act was sound and that as much as section 10 has been suspended ever since the act was passed in 1914, the carriers had had some time in which to adjust their affairs so as to comply with the law.

FLYERS LEAVE SAN DIEGO FOR PANAMA CANAL

Fourteen Seaplanes Comprising Pacific Air Force, Take Off at North Island Station on Epoch Making Flight

INITIAL LAP CARRIES AVIATORS TO COAST PORT

SAN DIEGO, Cal., (AP)—Heeded by the P-5-L, squadron leader of fourteen seaplanes left the North Island navy air station here at 8:30 o'clock this morning on the first lap of the proposed flight from San Diego to Panama.

The seaplanes, comprising the Pacific air force, started on their 3000-mile flight to Balboa, Canal zone. The route lies along the Mexican coast, the American west coast with "hops" of the seaplane squadron scheduled from bay to bay or port to port.

Take Off Without Incident.

Take-off was without incident, all according to schedule, the fleet taking off from the North Island naval air station to the open sea before rising from the water.

Twelve of the fleet are P-5-L naval seaplanes, equipped with twin Liberty motors of 400-horsepower each. These, in two divisions, took off in the lead, lifting from the harbor entrance at 8:20 o'clock and forward among them was Captain Henry Mustin, commander of the Pacific air force and flight commander.

In the wake of the P-5-L divisions, the two great NC seaplanes of the type which flew across the Atlantic in 1919, took off. These are equipped with three Liberty motors of 400-horsepower each and are expected to overtake the P-5-Ls on the first lap of the flight which was to find the aircraft fleet riding the waters of San Bartolome bay. Lower California, this afternoon.

Towers Go Ahead.

Commander John H. Towers, who won fame in the trans-Atlantic flight of NC planes, is commander of the NC division, but is aboard the auxiliary aircraft tender Magdalen, which, with the aircraft tender Ancon, sailed in advance to the city of Cedros island and to await the passing of the plane.

In a comparison of the trans-Atlantic and Balboa flights, Commander Towers said he regarded the present one as more difficult. By the plan of daylight flights check upon the squadron's "laps" will be available. At San Bartolome bay the fleet will be waiting to refuel the fuel tanks and provide warm dinner for the crews. The aircraft will remain there until tomorrow and then "hop" to Magdalena bay.

Here Is Good News for Women

From Wright's Shoe Department

Save Your Feet---It Pays in the Long Run---Wright's Shoe Department Can Help You If You Read This "Good News"

This "good news" is about a shoe that comes up—and stays up—to the Foot Arch. It is the most remarkable shoe ever designed for wear by the business woman, the woman who loves to walk, or the woman who is much on her feet.

The "Arch-Preserver" Shoe

Is a new and different kind of shoe, so much so, in fact, that it is necessary to see the shoe and try it on to appreciate how different it is, how much better it fits and holds the foot than any shoe you have ever worn, how it comes up to the foot arch and how its new "anchored-arch" construction holds it up there and preserves its shape and graceful appearance throughout the life of the shoe.

And also how it preserves the foot at the same time. Don't confuse the "ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE" with the so-called "arch prop" shoes that you know about. The ARCH-PRESERVER is designed especially for those who have good, sound feet—and who want to keep them from becoming stretched and strained and deformed.

The Cause of Most Foot Troubles

Practically every foot trouble known can be traced direct to shoes that are misfitted and which are not strong enough in the shank to properly hold the foot and keep it from breaking down.

The human foot can carry the load imposed upon it without being subjected to unfair and unnatural strain—only when placed upon a firm, unyielding tread-base, such as it has when the bare foot is placed upon the floor or ground.

When the foot is put into a shoe with a heel of any height, the shoe becomes a bridge as shoes always have been constructed, the shank—which is the center of the bridge—is the weakest part of the shoe.

Everyone knows that a bridge which sags in the middle when a load is placed upon it is not a reliable bridge to travel upon. Sooner or later the bridge goes down. That is what happens to the bridge in the ordinary shoe after it is worn for a short time. The foot arch, reaching and straining to find a proper base to stand on so it can carry its load, finally goes down with the shoe.

Then the owner of the foot has a broken arch—flat-foot condition with all the misery that follows in its trail.

Beware of the "Just-as-Good" Kind

Don't let anyone deceive you into believing that some other shoe has the same features as the ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE. This is not possible for all of the features which make this shoe fit so well, and feel so good, and stand up to the foot, are covered by patents. They are not and cannot be put into any other shoe.

ARCH-PRESERVER SHOES are made with various types of toes and heights of heels, also in different leathers and patterns. There is a type of shoe for every purpose and all occasions.

For the Woman Who is Over Weight

There is a special type of last for the heavy woman who almost invariably finds

COME IN AND HAVE OUR SHOE FITTERS EXPLAIN THE MERITS OF THESE SHOES. NO OBLIGATION TO BUY.

Every woman
 can keep her feet well all her life! — and have style too —

WELL arches mean well feet. Keep your foot arches healthy and strong and you'll always enjoy foot comfort and vigor. Arch-Preserver Shoes keep arches exactly as Nature intended them—correctly designed last. Arch Preserver Shoes are good style shoes. Wear Arch Preserver Shoes—enjoy them—and be able to know that your feet always will be healthy. Foot health helps maintain general health and vigor. See our line of Arch Preserver Shoes for all purposes and all occasions.

ARCH PRESERVER SHOE
 "KEEPS THE FOOT WELL"

Shoe Building Like Building a Bridge

ARCH-PRESERVER Shoes are built—mark that word—BUILT upon the same principle that a real bridge is built. And the bridge in the shoe reaches from the heel to the ball of the foot, and is so anchored that the bridge absolutely refuses to sag in the middle.

That is why the arch of the ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE comes up and stays up to the foot arch.

Then the inside tread surface of the shoe is so modeled that it provides the foot with exactly the sort of surface to walk upon that nature intended it should have.

While in the ordinary shoe the tread surface is just the reverse, or concave slightly, adding to foot discomfort and eventually deformity.

Everything about this new shoe is designed to preserve the feet that are good—or reasonably good. At the same time, there are thousands of people with weak arches who claim that the ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE is the only shoe that ever has "stood up" under them and given them the foot comfort they have longed for.

Our confidence in this new shoe is such that we do not hesitate to invite every woman—whether her feet are good and strong or weak and troublesome—to come to our stores and examine them and try them on without any obligation whatever to buy.

it difficult to find shoes in which she can have even reasonable foot comfort, and which will stand up under her weight.

We earnestly recommend this special type of ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE to every woman who is much over-weight for her height. Accept the first opportunity to come and try on one of these shoes—no matter whether or not you are at the moment ready to buy shoes.

There will be no obligation whatever.

When you have once felt that comfortable "FEEL" that every woman expresses about this shoe, you will be looking forward with keen pleasure to the time when you will be ready to come and get a pair.

There is an ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE for every heavy woman, for every purpose and for every occasion.

The prices on all are reasonable.

FAMILY RESCUED BY RELIEF PARTY

County Authorities Bring Desolate Family from Snow-bound Home

By the merest accident the county commissioners late last week heard of the desperate situation of a family living in a two-room house at the end of the Shoshone basin, more than 40 miles from Twin Falls, where they had been snowed in some time. A relief expedition, the immediate danger of starvation, and the family recovered from the peril of starvation.

The family in question is that of Earl Gearing, who, with wife and five children, have been living in the shack all winter. They are now saved in a house in Amsterdam, where the county commissioners have placed them with an ample supply of provisions to meet all immediate wants.

Left Desolate. Gearing's situation, the authorities declare, caused through no direct fault of his own. He is a farm worker and owns a plowing outfit, with seven head of horses and also one cow. He was employed all summer plowing on a 1000-acre farm owned by one named Davis. The latter left some time ago for the east, without advising Gearing of his intention to leave. The plowing was done with a bill of $900 for plowing, but a small supply of provender for his animals and a short supply of household provisions.

Word of the Gearing family's desperate circumstances reached the county commissioners on Christmas eve when a man came through the bush and creek and told them that supplies were low and that the snow prevented his moving out. The commissioners called on County Health Officer G. Jackson to go and see the family. Mr. Jackson took Thomas from Twin Falls and picked up F. J. Craig at Amsterdam, and with eight horses and two sleighs they broke trail through to the Gearing home. The rescue was made from Twin Falls on Christmas day, the party reaching Gearing's on Monday noon.

Snow Is Deep. In the snowbound district the ground was found covered on an average of 24 inches, while in many places the snow was from six to seven feet deep. It took the party about an hour to break through four and a half miles of the snow section, the men and horses being almost exhausted when they reached the beleaguered family.

Gearing's provisions when the rescuers reached the place, consisted of a few potatoes, 20 pounds of flour and a jack-rabbit carcass or two. The latter game had provided meat for the family for some time. In the hay corral there were about 10 pounds of hay for the stock and no grain. Some time ago a Big Creek rancher, hearing of the plight of the Gearings, loaned Gearing a rifle and told him that he could find some deer and some domestic calves. Gearing declined to meet the emergency he found himself in by breaking the deer and also save, finding himself to the hunting of wild rabbits to supply the family with meat.

DR. BOYD'S DENIED RESTRAINING ORDER

Judge Babcock Refuses to Grant Injunction Against Dr. Hal Bieler

In the district court yesterday Judge W. A. Babcock denied the application of Dr. T. O. Boyd for a temporary restraining order against Dr. Hal Bieler, to prevent the latter from leaving Twin Falls within 50 miles of Twin Falls.

The action grew out of the alleged breach of a contract entered into between Dr. Boyd and Dr. Bieler, where the latter engaged in medical service for the former.

Summing up the case, which had been under consideration some time by the court, Judge Babcock makes the following statement:

"The first question presented for consideration is whether or not an injunction will lie on a contract, such as the one in question, where there is a stipulation for liquidated damages for the violation thereof. The weight of authority seems to be in the effect that such a stipulation will not preclude a court of equity from granting an injunction. The question in the case being 'what is the real meaning of the contract,' and that if the substance of the contract is to be enforced, the party shall not do a particular act, and that is the evident object and purpose of the agreement and that in case there is a breach of the contract, the party shall pay a stated sum, which does not clearly appear to be an alternative which he has the right to adopt instead of performing his contract, there could be no reason why he should not be restrained from doing the act, and thus entering into the intention of the party."

EAGER CHILDREN ARE MADE HAPPY AT PARTY

Salvation Army Christmas Festivities Well Attended and Add Much Joy

Approximately 400 children of this city were made happy on Christmas tree and Santa Claus party, given in parish hall by the Salvation Army last night. The spacious hall was crowded to capacity with eager children and their guardians. Not one went away disappointed.

The festivities began about 8 o'clock after the seating arrangements of the hall had been taxed beyond limit and children of the overflow were compelled to sit on the floor. Several areas were placed in the creases along the huge Christmas tree, a necessary expedient that had been donated by Mrs. T. H. Herring. The tree itself was laden with presents of all sorts, and the children were borne down to straining point with ample filled stockings which were distributed during the evening by Santa Claus to happy laze and ladies of the throng.

The evening's program was in charge of Ensign John Nelson, assisted by Mrs. T. H. Herring. Under the direction of these, a program of Christmas carols and recitations was presented during the first part of the evening. The children then spent the remainder of the evening, pending the arrival of Santa Claus. When, in the din of clanging bells, the children's eyes were turned to the entrance of Santa Claus, who, with a spontaneous shout of exultation which died down only when the work of distributing gifts began, he came and carried on until all had been amply supplied with some remembrance.

The children's feature of the evening was well given and each number was received with loud applause. The children's feature of the evening was well given and each number was received with loud applause. The children's feature of the evening was well given and each number was received with loud applause.

The second offering of Handel's "Messiah" will be a benefit for suffering people of the Near East. All money contributed will be donated to the Near East Relief.

Agreement to this plan was unanimously given by the members of the Community Choral at a meeting held in the Presbyterian church last night. The second presentation will be in the Presbyterian church next Sunday night, beginning at a 7 o'clock hour.

Last night the choral held rehearsal for the coming festival, and transacted business connected with the Choral club.

The Community Choral was not organized for pecuniary benefit, and since it is believed that the receipts of the first offering of the choral on Christmas eve will cover expenses incurred it was decided that further receipts should be devoted to relief or charity purposes. With this in mind the trustees of the Presbyterian church have donated the use of the church for the recital purpose, and also donated the light and heat for the evening.

The Messiah will be submitted according to the program presented in parish hall Christmas eve. The soloists are: Miss Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. P. Duval, Mrs. W. H. Dwight and Mrs. T. J. Woods, soprano; Miss Martha Andrews and Mrs. P. S. Bell, alto; D. B. Smith and Mrs. H. H. Herring, tenor; James Hall and Nelson Hayward, baritone.

Deaths. Mrs. Marie E. Edmister, 31 years of age, the wife of Clyde E. Edmister, died yesterday afternoon at a local hospital. She was brought here on Christmas day from Rock Creek, where she had been attending to her medical attention, but declined rapidly. The body is at the Grosman mortuary chapel awaiting completion of arrangements for forwarding to the old home in Wisconsin.

The body of Mrs. Louise Benstrup, aged 41, is at De Witt's undertaking place awaiting completion of plans for the funeral. Death occurred yesterday in a local hospital of tubercular disease of the body. It is understood, will be sent to Kansas for burial.

COMPANY IN HOUSE; HUSBAND COMPLAINS

A. T. Carr Has a Grievance Which He Takes into Court for Inquiry

In the court of Kennedy Packard, justice of the peace, is being heard this afternoon A. T. Carr's accusation against his wife, Mrs. T. Carr, and Allen F. Webster. The complaining witness has asked the court to investigate the presence of Webster in the Carr house with Mrs. Carr during the absence of Carr.

The complaining witness is a district rancher and has been living on his place since coming to town but occasionally, it is said, Mrs. Carr has been living on a north side avenue. Tuesday night Carr came to town and went to his home. He declares he found Webster in the house. A complaint was sworn to in Judge Packard's court that night and a warrant for arrested was issued. Webster was apprehended by police officers and lodged in jail over night. Yesterday morning they were released on bond to appear this afternoon at 2 o'clock for hearing.

This morning Mrs. Carr complained to the sheriff by telephone that her husband had obtained possession of a rifle and, according to the authorities, was "picketing" in front of the house. She declared that she had been dispatched to the scene of activities and found Carr in a house next door to the one occupied by Mrs. Carr. Her husband had been in the house for some time and she was unable to get him out. She said she had no intention of doing so. The sheriff said he would take her to the gun in his property and has been rented furnished to another family. His wife residing next door to the Carr house, was wanted to take out to the farm with her goods stored in the house. The weapon was in charge of by the officers and is held by the sheriff.
