Advantage was taken of bulges in prices last fall to dispose of stuff

That eastern farmers fared better on the market last fall than western producers were able to, and, as a consequence, are not feeling the sting of the present money stringency, is the statement made last night to members of the city administration board by A. J. Hill, superintendent of construction for the Warren Construction company.

FEDERAL DEPARTMENT MAKES PROGRESS AT AMERICAN FALLS

Government Purchases More Land on Which to Locate New Town—Most of Present City Will Be Inundated when Monster Dam Backs Up Waters of Snake River to Irrigate 900,000 Acres of Valley Lands

During the past week the sum of $21,092 was paid out for 205.52 acres which were added to the new townsite of American Falls, according to word reaching Twin Falls from that place. The holders selling are: Mrs. Mary Franklin, 127.62 acres, price received $12,427; Mrs. John Tins, 85.9 acres, price received $8905. The property was purchased by agents of the federal government and was paid for in United States treasury notes.

Other Land Purchased.

These are not the only purchases made by the federal government of land adjacent to the old townsite of American Falls for the new site, authorities declare. In fact, similar purchases have been underway some weeks and the property required for town building purposes has practically all been acquired. The purchases are made in connection with the necessity of removing the present town to a higher location, the site formerly being needed for the proposed monster American Falls dam. This dam, creating the American Falls reservoir, will be about 90 feet high and require 5000 feet across the valley just below the present town. Present plans contemplate construction of a dam which will impound 1,500,000 acre feet of water to be used in the irrigating of 900,000 acres of land along the Snake River valley. Land to be watered by this impounding feature will run as far west as the present project.

The O. S. L. railroad bridge, spanning the Snake river will be raised about 10 feet to provide for safe clearance above the flood tides; the plant of the Idaho Power company, situated just below the railroad bridge, will be practically destroyed.

The railroad will be required to move about two and one-half miles of track, from one to three miles south of the present location and a goodly portion of the present town of American Falls will be destroyed by inundation.

The new location for the town is on the southeast side of the proposed reservoir. There will be approximately 144 miles of shoreline along the lake formed by the impounding project. The building scheme has progressed to such an extent that McGill Construction company, which will have charge of building the dam, expects to establish its office at American Falls about the middle of the present month. The McGill corporation is an Idaho-Utah concern.

House Favors Appropriation.

A letter received from Congressman Addison T. Smith last week states that the appropriation for $1,735,000 has been passed by the house of representatives to use the unexpended balance of about $600,000, which makes a total of $2,335,000. This has passed the house and the speakerman thinks there is no doubt but the senate will agree to the house provision, and also states that we may look forward with confidence to great development in the American Falls section of the state.

SPUD'S TERCENTENARY COMES NEXT DECEMBER

Originally a Denizen of Chile and Peru, Potato Comes to United States as Naturalized Englishman, Anthropologist Tells Association of Scientists

CHICAGO, Ill., (AP)—The tercentenary of the planting of the first potato in the United States will be next December, says Dr. Herchert Lauer, editor of anthropology, at the Field Museum here.

"The potato entered this country," Dr. Lauer said, in an address before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, "not as a naturalized Englishman, but as a naturalized Spanish adventurer, but in a perfectly respectable manner from the land where it had been introduced one year previously from England."

"It is a frank of fortune that potatoes, originally a denizen of Chile and Peru, appeared as a naturalized Englishman in the United States. The potato had been in England about 1530 or a little later.

"For a long time the belief was entertained by botanists that the potato, described among the wild roots of Virginia by Thomas Hariot in 1585, was to represent our potato. This supposition is erroneous. Data from the history of the Bermudas now make it perfectly clear that the potato was one of the plants which at that time and until then (that is, 1621) Virginia had not."

"The History of the Bermudas reports that in 1613 the good ship Eliza brought potatoes from England to Bermuda. The History further states that on the 2nd of December, 1621, Captain Nathaniel Butler, Governor of the Bermudas, sent from St. George, in the Sommers Island, a letter to the governor of Virginia (Francis Wyatt), two large cedar chests 'wherein were fitted all such kinds and sorts of the country plants and fruits, as were furnished by two young women appraised at the Orpheum theater, on potatoes, and cassia roots, and papaya (papaya), red pepper, the prittle pear (Prickly pear), and the Ilke."

"In the following year, a Virginian bark took from the Bermudas 'twenty thousand weight of potatoes at least.' The fact that potatoes were actually planted in Virginia at the moment of the first introduction is affirmed in letters from Virginia in and published by Purchas.

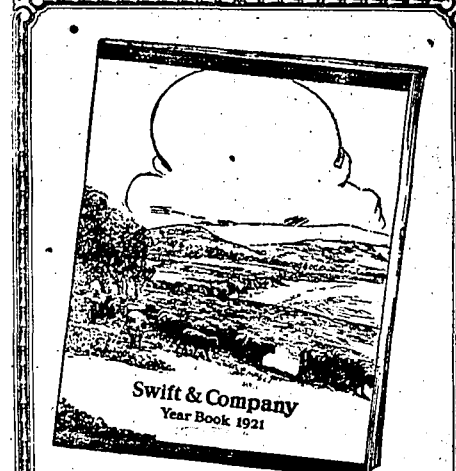

"The gifts of the New World of the line of cultivated plants were of a democratic character and most world-wide appeal; tobacco conquered all peoples of the globe without distinction, and I know of only a single native which does not practice smoking—the poor Islanders of Botol Tuobacco is now universally consumed than any other narcotic, has profited by influenced the economy of many lands and significantly affected social customs and promoted accessibility. The spirit of gratitude, Chinese and Japanese have bestowed on tobacco the name of 'amiability' (talking easy) they explain, 'on account of the delicate feelings entertained toward one another by all classes of mankind since its use has become general.'"

LATIN AMERICA GREET'S FLEETS

Peru and Chile Extend Cordial Welcomes to American Officers and Crews

LIMA, Peru, (AP)—This city and Callao, six miles westward, shared in the program of entertainment arranged for the officers and crews of the warships making up the United States Atlantic fleet. The feature of the day's activities was a reception given by Admiral Harry B. Wilson on board his flagship "Pennsylvania," which was planned as a return of the courtesies shown the higher officers of the fleet at the presidential banquet Tuesday night. During the afternoon, Peru and the United States sailors were to compete in sporting events. A large number of American sailors attended a bull fight at the fair grounds here yesterday afternoon and saw Juan Belmonte, the famous Spanish torador, in action. Admiral Wilson occupied the presidential box, being accompanied by members of his staff. Belmonte was slightly injured in an encounter with an especially fierce bull, but courageously secured another sword and killed the animal. Belmonte was given the ears as a recognition of his good work, and other bull fighters who made their appearance were well received.

During the day 800 enlisted men went to San Diego, where they were given a luncheon by the Chilean committee, and went sight seeing about the capital. Twenty-five Chilean professors went on board various ships of the fleet during the day to lecture on Chile, while members of the Valparaiso medical society heard a lecture on naval sanitation on board the hospital ship "Merry." Admiral Bodman and his staff went to Santiago last evening to receive a reception given by the diplomatic corps.

POLES VISIT PARIS TO DISCUSS RUSSIAN MOVE

Possibility of Bolshevik Offensive is Subject of Conference with French

PARIS (AP)—President Pilsudski of Poland with a large number of high Polish officials and their associates arrived in Paris at 11 o'clock this morning to discuss with President Millerand, Premier Briand, Marshal Foch and other prominent French statesmen the possible Bolshevik offensive against Poland in the early spring, and other subjects interesting to the two countries. The party, which numbered a dozen persons including Prince Sapieha, Polish foreign minister, and General Bonokowski, war minister, was met by Premier Briand and escorted to the Hotel Cailhon. "The most disturbing factor of Poland's plight is the impression that she is imperialistic," said Prince Sapieha soon after his arrival, "and the next is the problem of finding enough food for her starving people. The government is most anxious in combating the idea that Poland has ambitions for further territorial gains."

MANUFACTURERS OF SILK WANT TARIFF RESTORED

Representatives of Industry Tell Congressmen of Alarm Over Japanese Progress in Styles

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Asking restoration of the Payne-Aldrich tariff rates on silk, manufacturers of that cloth told the house ways and means committee today that they were "alarmed" at the increasing ability of the Japanese to copy rare patterns, which had enabled them to make heavy inroads on American trade. Before the Japanese were handicapped by a lack of style information and the character of goods consumed in the American market. This handicap, however, witnesses declared, is rapidly disappearing.

Definition of Sueda. This name, given to a kind of ungrained kid leather, is simply the French word for "Sweden." The velvet finish is supposed to have originated in Sweden and it was applied at first to kid and not to calfskin. The process of making it involves buffing on an emery wheel the flesh side of the leather, so as to produce a sort of nap or velvety surface. Some makers' leather adopt a different process, buffing or scouring off the grain side of the leather to produce the nap.

Today's Markets

WHEAT PRICES DECLINE TO NEARLY LOWEST MARK

Financial Conditions are Construed as Bearish and Close is Heavy 3-14 to 5 Cents Not Lower

CHICAGO, (AP)—Putting a ban on the use of Argentine quotations here tended today to give an advantage to bulls in the wheat market, but the effect failed to last. Notice of a bankruptcy in the New York flour trade had a depressing influence, and so too, did absence of any important investment demand. On the other hand, there was considerable selling on the part of yesterday's buyers. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to a 1-4 higher, with March $1.58 3-4 to 1.57 and May $1.46 1-2 to 1.47, were followed by setbacks all around to well under yesterday's close. Financial conditions were construed as bearish, and prices declined to nearly the lowest level yet for the crop. Messages from Illinois points indicated an increase of rural selling. The close was heavy, 3-14 to 5c not lower, with March $1.52 to 1.53 1-4 and May $1.43 3-4 to 1.44. Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening 1-8c off to a like advance, including May at 65 to 65 1-4c, the market hardened somewhat and then underwent a general sag. Despite falling off in the volume of receipts, the arrivals continued to exceed the demand. Both corn and oats touched the lowest prices so far this season. Closing quotations were weak, at 1-2 to 7-8c not decline, with May at 1.43 1-4. Oats were governed by the course of other cereals, starting unchanged to a shade lower, then scoring moderate gains and later heading down grade. Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

Omaha Livestock OMAHA, Neb., (AP)—Hog receipts 12,000; medium and light butchers 15 to 25c higher; others mostly steady; 16c higher; bulk medium and light butchers $9.20 to 9.50; top $9.60; bulk strong weight and packing grades $9.75 to 9.16. New York Stock Market NEW YORK, (AP)—Tight money and an absolute lack of public interest characterized today's stock market, lenders showing declines of 2 to 6 points. Sales approximated 600,000 shares. Pressure against speculative shares was assumed at the outset of today's stock market session, the stiffer money tendencies inviting further selling for both accounts. Oils were again the heaviest feature with metals and specialties the latter including mail order shares. General Asphalt, Mexican Petroleum and Royal Dutch lost a point or more in the first few sales and Crucible Steel showed a decline of 2 3/8 points and down $10 to 10.85; bulk 220 pounds up $9.40 to 9.65; pigs 10 to 15c higher; bulk desirable 90 to 120 pounds $9.85 to 10.10. GERMANY BENDS EFFORT TOWARD REVIVING TRADE

Shipping Interests Begin Intensive Campaign to Recover Position Despite Stupendous Handicaps

HAMBURG, Germany, (AP)—Despite lack of tonnage, shortage of coal, labor and currency, German shipping interests have begun an intensive campaign to revive pre-war trade. Millions of marks have already gone into important ship-building contracts.

Shipping Extends Influence

Hugo Stinnes, reputed to be the wealthiest man in the new republic, and a heavy shareholder in a number of shipping companies, is reported to be attempting to extend his influence, which is now the controlling factor in the German East Africa line and the Woermann line, and an important factor in the affairs of the Hamburg-American line.

Regular steamship services with America, East Africa, Mexico, Cuba, Spain, Portugal, Australia and Mediterranean and Scandinavian ports, have been re-established, and the North sea, Baltic and Rhine traffic has assumed a new and lively aspect. Handicapped by shortage of ships as well as coal, they turned their attention to conversion of warships to commercial uses, to construction of motor ships out of sailing vessels, and to the study of oil-fuel as a substitute for the more expensive coal fuel.

Revival Is Indicated

Revival of German commerce is indicated by the increased number of ships calling at the important ports. During the first 11 months of 1920, 4309 vessels of a tonnage of 3,822,540 arrived at Hamburg, as compared with 1854 vessels and 1,800,029 tons in 1919, and 13,875 vessels of 1,006,426 tons in the first 11 months of 1918.

ENGLISHMAN SAYS RECOVERY IN MEASURE IS OBTAINABLE

LONDON, (AP)—Sir Alfred Booth, chairman of the Cunard Shipping Company, is of the opinion that up to a certain point Germany is bound to recover her shipping position.

"While it is true," he stated in an interview here, "that Germany has started again practically from the beginning, it is also true that the beginning has already been made."

"The newly issued German shipping annual tells the world that nine German steamship lines are working regularly to the two Americas and to Mexico, India and the Dutch Indies, to Scandinavia, Cuba and the Mediterranean, the Baltic, even to Antwerp and to England."

"The rumor that a further 200,000 tons of shipping is soon to go to Germany may be but a rumor," added Sir Arthur.

"Certainly it is partly by blending chartered foreign steamers with the handful that was left to them under the provisions of the Versailles treaty, partly by an alliance between Germans with experience and no ships and Americans with ships and no experience, Germany is preparing to bring to her old place in the shipping world."

Sir Arthur Booth said that the chances of Germany's success depended on whether those who held the ship now made the most of their opportunities.

Chief Seat of iron industry

In the early days Massachusetts was the chief seat of the iron industry in the American colonies. In the first successful blast furnace having been put in operation at Lynn in 1643. In 1750 Pennsylvania became the leading iron producing state, and maintained its supremacy for upward of a hundred years.

New Points in Afternoon Gowns

SO FAR as the silhouette is concerned afternoon frocks have nothing new to offer. Apparently, to be graceful in the chief end of woman, and therefore beauty of lines engages first the attention of designers. It is a small matter to make the too stocky figure look thin or the too thin body lose its angles, but it must be done and has been done. After this most important matter of lines has been disposed of, designers may occupy themselves with other things—such as the introduction of new features in sleeves or collars and details of decoration or color combinations. It is in these items that the styles are varied.

In materials for afternoon frocks, soft satins and crisp tulleins hold first rank just now, often used in conjunction with sheer fabrics, as georgette or organdy or batiste and, of course, lace plays, as usual, an important role in their makeup. Three-quarter-length sleeves, half-sleeved or draped, appear to be slated for a long popularity and small cape collars are several good neck finishes. Both these points help to make the frock at the left of the two shown above an interesting model. It might be developed in any of the fashionable, quiet tones—not forgetting that light gray is most admired—or overlooking the novel arrangement of the neck. A wide panel on bodice and skirt, with a border of embroidery at the bottom of each, of all things, the most important to this model. The frock at the right has a full skirt with tucks simulated by means of four tucks. These tucks are wide and slope upward toward the back. The draped bodice is extended into a girde and faced with soft satin in a contrasting color. The sleeves are finished with tabs or petals of the satin and the neck high at the back but open in front, having a small, turnover collar faced with satin. Both the sleeve and neck finish are worth noting since they reveal features in spring styles.

Victoria's Grandson Will Enter Business

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Marquis of Cambridge, who was booked to sail today for England aboard the steamship Aquatonia, announced he would enter a business career with a large London shipping concern. CHURCH UNITY MOVES ARE UNDER DISCUSSION

Clergy and Laymen of Various Denominations in Conference Relating to Co-ordinating Activities

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (AP)—Clergy and laymen of various Protestant denominations today were continuing their conference here which is intended to pave the way for co-ordinating the interests of the several national and international movements for church unity. Representatives explaining the scope and character of these movements related denominational differences are endangering religion and asserted that cooperation is necessary to effect a satisfactory union.

It was stressed also that the proposed measure do not entail any assumption of church or surrender of faith. Robert H. Gardner of Boston, secretary of the world conference on faith and order, declared the plan for a world conference is meeting with widespread approval.

Sprains Finger in Fall of 16 Stories

NEW YORK, (AP)—Nathan Cohn, structural iron worker, who plunged from the top of a new 16-story building in Broadway yesterday, reported for work this morning. His fall through space was broken by a heavy canvas debris receptacle, stretched from the fifth tier, his little finger was sprained.

Fit for Fat. The late Archbishop Benson could had to face criticism of the clergy as a body. It was urged that the bishops ought to see that better candidates were brought to them for ordination. Benson, with good humor, replied: "Well, you see, we bishops find ourselves in a difficult position, as we have only the duty to choose from." —London Morning Post.

SINN FEINERS IN ATTACK WORSTED

Police Beat Off Onslaught on Elaborate Scale; Six Lose Lives

SKIBBEREEN, County Cork, Ireland, (AP)—Six members of a party of seven hundred Sinn Feiners were killed and several wounded in an attack last night upon 15 police between Burgado and Ross Carbery, according to police reports today. The attacking party was beaten off after a fierce fight abandoning a quantity of ammunition.

The police, the reports declare, sustained no casualties.

The attack was on an elaborate scale, the accounts state. The Sinn Feiners had as their base the house of Magistrate King, which they had commandeered the previous night, and attacked from the surrounding grounds. The police returned their fire and the battle raged until the arrival of military and police reinforcements when the attacking party was routed. The magistrate's house was badly damaged.

FOUR MEN DEAD AS BALLYNALEE AMBUSH RESULT

DUBLIN, (AP)—Four men are dead as a result of an ambush of a squad of auxiliary police at Ballynalee, near here, yesterday, two of the wounded having died late last night. Details of the attack have not been received here but it is known that one of two motor lorries was blown up by a mine set in a road. It being said that this was the first time such a method of attack had been used against crown forces in Ireland.

Three lorries loaded with police were attacked here last night, several bombs being thrown at them. The officers on board returned the fire, two civilians being wounded. A constable in plain clothes who was cycling along Trinity street, was shot dead during the evening.

Lord Dunsany, poet and playwright, who was arrested recently after a search of Dunsany castle, in County

Month, will be tried by court martial at the Kilmainham courthouse, Friday, as was announced today. The charge against him is keeping fire arms and ammunition not under effective military control.

TWIN FALLS WEEKLY NEWS

Established 1904

DO YOU BELIEVE IT?

It is time to call off the so-called "buyer's strike" and substitute the "buy now" theory of operation. Possibly there was a time when the public determination to go without was justified. But if there ever was such a time it is a thing of the past today. The problem is as wide as the country and as small as its application right here in Twin Falls. In its broader aspects, to buy now, not recklessly and extravagantly, but sensibly and carefully, is to assist in the reopening of mills and factories over the whole country and thus contribute to the bringing about of a return of national prosperity. And without national prosperity there can be no individual prosperity. To supply one's family with necessary clothing, furniture, dress goods, etc., purchased long delayed in pursuit of the theory of forcing lower prices by going without, is to place in circulation a part of the money which is being held for this very purpose at a time when to spend is economy and to continue to do without is very apt indeed to force a return of the very evil—higher prices—which it was sought to eliminate.

The Chamber of Commerce of Winston-Salem, N. C., in an interesting advertisement for the stimulation of buying, says that prices "went up a step at a time and they can't come down the banister. If you wait for the bottom to drop out neither you nor the other fellow may be able to buy them." The News is honestly convinced that clothing in Twin Falls is as cheap today as it will be for two or three years, possibly cheaper. This conclusion is based upon a study of actual conditions in the clothing trade. This is also true in the matter of the great bulk of all dry goods lines. Probably it is true of many other lines, but there isn't any room for question in the case of the two examples referred to.

No thoughtful man can believe that prices are going back to pre-war levels unless he believes that wages in factories, salaries in stores, and rent for stores are going back to pre-war rates. Clothing and many other lines are cheap today, in many instances cheaper than similar goods in the same line will be this spring. And the reason is that retail merchants over the country and right here in Twin Falls have sacrificed their profits and even marked much of their stock at less than it cost them. There are women's dresses and men's suits of clothes selling in Twin Falls today for less than it cost the manufacturer to produce them.

These are facts, and they are facts readily susceptible of proof. Go to any merchant in whom you have confidence, ask him. He will tell you, frankly and freely, if not altogether cheerfully.

If after talking the matter over, the average man still does not believe, it will be because he doesn't want to believe.

There are sales in Twin Falls stores today which it will pay anybody to attend and where it will profit a man or woman to buy and buy freely. There are no profits in business now, whatever they may have been in the year or two just past. But there will be profits in business again, and that in the not too distant future for the very excellent reason that there will have to be.

Prices have fallen and fallen hard but the drop has not been uniform. It never is. It has not affected all lines in the same proportion, nor have all the merchants accepted the same degree of loss. Buy them, carefully and conservatively, but buy. Buy where the merchants are selling the cheapest. Watch the sales. Read the price tickets on the goods in the windows. Read the advertisements in the newspapers.

Do these things and if then you still doubt, don't buy—put it off until nineteen twenty-three.

YOUR OWN HOME

A lot of young folk who have been wanting to buy their own homes will find this present season an excellent time to do it. Prices are down pretty well, and it is possible to pick up a bit of property on more reasonable terms of payment than it has been for several years.

It is hard to get along without spending more than is good for folks. So the young couple must exercise judgment and get some competent advice. Choose the neighborhood carefully, don't take on too big a financial burden, look before you leap, and—buy your own home. You'll be happier.

PURBING RENT, PROFITEERING

How far can a state or federal government go in the direction of placing restrictions on the manner in which a person may handle his own property? This is a question that may be answered if the legislature of Pennsylvania adopts a measure introduced in the house. The bill would limit to 10 per cent any increase in rent which may be made by the owner of any dwelling property, unless application is made to the county court, showing the necessity of a higher increase and setting forth the investment and returns from the property.

If the law can fix the rent which an owner may ask for the use of his property, why may it not fix the prices which a merchant may ask for his goods, or the value which a farmer shall place upon a horse which he desires to sell? Are the property rights in any instance different from those of others? It is evident that rent profiteering is working injury to the public interests by crowding families together, but it is doubtful if a law can infringe, at least in times of peace, on the rights of an individual to administer his own property according to his judgment, even though his demands be excessive. Another member of the Pennsylvania legislature plans a measure that would impose a fine of not less than $50 on the landlord who would discriminate against families with children. It will be interesting to see how far such paternalistic legislation goes with the courts.

AMERICA'S FOREIGN TRADE

During the time the United States was engaged in the war against Germany many mercantile vessels were constructed at large expense, and the prediction was made that these vessels would be the agency through which this country would build up a great trade with foreign countries. The expectation was not realized. Congress has revived the War Finance Corporation, which is expected to function in the creation of credits and other aids whereby the countries of Europe may be enabled to buy American merchandise on time; but if that is the only thing the corporation is able to accomplish, there is reason to believe that other disappointments are in store.

Announcement has been made that a well-financed corporation, authorized under the Edge Law, would devote itself to establishing a line of credits in Europe and other countries, and it is now said that this corporation will soon be ready to function. It is hoped that these agencies will do all and more than is expected of them in the promotion of foreign trade. But it is doubtful if their efforts will be very successful as long as the rate of exchange between this country and Europe remains so greatly to the disadvantage of Europe.

Merely to dump American goods in Europe under the proposed plan of liberal and extended credits will prove only a temporary expedient. Europe may not be any better off when pay-day comes than she is today, and it is never easy to pay for something that has been consumed. Europe must be encouraged to produce what she needs, thereby doing much to restore currency to its normal place in the family of nations.

VALUE OF LIFE INSURANCE

One day of strife work, which was observed throughout the United States last week, was devoted to creation of greater interest in life insurance. It is probable that there are still a few persons who regard life insurance as "flying into the face of Providence," as some opponents of insurance protection have designated it, but insurance is now recognized as of such business value that persons of intelligence no longer make any pretense of opposition. The business of promoting interest in insurance in its approved forms should not be left to those who are directly engaged in the selling of policies. It should be the desire of every person that his neighbor be amply protected from any loss that is avoidable, either through his death or because of accident or sickness. Insurance constitutes a great mutual organization, in which its members undertake to protect each other against certain kinds of losses. No person considers himself a good business man if he neglects to protect his buildings or other property from complete loss by fire. Loss of the earning power of the individual because of death or incapacity should be guarded against as well.

INTERIM A WASTE OF TIME

The proposal to advance the date of the inauguration nearer to the time of the election of the president and vice-president of the United States is one that should not be permitted to pass without serious consideration by congress. It will be necessary to secure the adoption of an amendment to the constitution to bring about the change. Congress has been in session since the first Monday of December, but it has done nothing in the way of legislation or any other action, to help solve the problems of the readjustment period, and the majority is waiting until a president in sympathy with its political ideas has been inaugurated. The interval of four months which elapses between the election and the inauguration of a president is practically wasted by congress when a change of administration is pending. Even if congress should pass measures favored by the republican party, it is almost certain that they would be vetoed by the democratic president.

Two proposals for amending the constitution regarding the inauguration are pending in congress. One of them fixes the first Monday of December for the meeting of the new congress and the second Monday for the inauguration of the president. The other fixes the second Monday of January for the meeting of congress and the third Monday for the inauguration. The first proposal would probably be favored by a majority of the people. If there is any advantage in making the change, it might as well be made within 30 days of the holding of the election, which would give plenty of time for verification of the vote by the senate, which would meet one week ahead of the inauguration.

The waste of time and money by a congress which is not actually functioning because of an antagonistic administration, seems warrant enough for the passing of a resolution that would place the matter of changing the inaugural date before the state legislatures. It looks like a bit of governmental economy that may well be approved by all the states.

THE FORUM

To the Twin Falls News:
 A situation described in an article which appeared in Thursday's News under the caption "Tuberculosis Has a Little Hint of It" is so very far from true that I beg leave to correct it. I personally assisted in drafting the tuberculosis hospital bill which is under attack and worked day and night for its passage and the enactment. I feel qualified to speak on the subject and will give direct answers to the misstatements made.

In the first place Senator Snook, who recommends the repeal of the bill and the diversion of the funds to the insane asylums was not a member of the last legislature and I am forced to conclude, knowing nothing about the subject and is not interested in anything but cutting expenses.

He states that appropriations amounting to $400,000 were made for two tuberculosis hospitals and that the bill repealed and the money used to build over insane asylums. As a matter of fact the bill sets for 14 of a mill tax on the assessed valuation of the state for the first year and 1/4 of a mill every year thereafter. The figures were based on the old valuation which would have given about $120,000 for the building of the two hospitals and 1/4 of a mill there after would have yielded to the neighborhood of $6000 annually for maintenance. According to the new valuation of $1,000,000,000, the bill would have provided for the building purposes which was fortunate as prices increased so much.

The bill was an emergency bill and became operative as soon as it was passed two years ago, but no money had been appropriated for it. The tuberculosis commission by the state and all its other expenses have been made under the state department rest and recovery fund.

S Senator Snook states that the appropriation for the hospital at Pavette and Lewiston can be sold and money turned over to the asylum. The sites for the building were donated and would no doubt be returned to the donors in the event of not being used. The architectural plans were also donated to the National Tuberculosis Association, and had the money been turned over by the state the hospital would have been finished and operating long ago.

In recent words of the report: According to Snook the legislature two years ago appropriated money for the sanitariums because it wanted hospitals for the treatment of soldiers who had been gassed. The action of the federal government in looking after the former service men makes state action unnecessary. It is said.

CAPPER URGES PASSAGE OF EMERGENCY TARIFF

Kansas Senator Deplores Short Sightedness of Senators Opposing Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Failure of congress to enact emergency tariff legislation will encourage advocates of state socialism and "a host of other visionary extreme and impracticable doctrines," Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, declared today in a prepared speech delivered in the senate. Deplored the "short-sightedness" of senators unwilling to support the bill, he urged that the legislation be passed as an economic necessity.

Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, obtained unanimous consent to have the bill read for amendments and the reading was begun immediately. This, it was explained, would make it possible to take up amendments individually and to that extent reduce the time consumed.
