

TWO-THIRDS OF CITIZENS HAVE NOT REGISTERED

Check of Twin Falls Electorate Shows Only One in Three Persons on Lists to Vote for Mayor and Councilmen

Only one out of every three citizens in Twin Falls has qualified by registration to vote in Twin Falls' first general election June 6 for mayor and councilmen.

This situation is disclosed by a careful check of the electorate of Twin Falls just completed.

Considerable confusion and misapprehension is found to exist among citizens with respect to requirements for registration for the city election. Much of this misapprehension is said to arise from the fact that registrars for the primary and general elections this fall have been calling upon and registering the electors in their respective precincts. Registration is effected only for the primary and general elections only.

Must Appear in Person

There is no provision under present state law whereby citizens may register for the city election except by appearing in person at the municipal building at the corner of Second avenue and Beech street north. Citizens who voted for city officials last spring or in the special city election of March 28 are qualified to vote in the election of June 6 without registering again. Citizens who have moved from one ward to another since registering for the last election must re-register or arrange at the city hall for transfer of their names on the poll lists. Citizens who have lived in the state for one year, in the city for six months and in the city for 30 days before the election will be entitled to vote if registered. Registration books for the city election will close on the Saturday before the election.

CLAIM OF INTERVENORS IS DENIED BY JURYMEN

Verdict Awards Judgment on Note to Plaintiff in Suit in District Court

Judgment for $2000 and interest in favor of W. E. Eckley and against Calvin Owens, author of the note on which suit was brought, was returned Saturday afternoon by a jury in district court here. The verdict denied the claims of the intervenors, J. W. Laubach and the First National Bank of Kimberly, to interest in the note.

The note in question was drawn by Owens in favor of W. E. Eckley, son of the plaintiff in this case. It was by the son transferred to the father, who delivered it to the bank for collection. Laubach based his claim to interest in the note on the grounds that he had attached it in a suit against the younger Eckley. Evidence was offered by the plaintiff to show that the note had been transferred before the suit against the younger Eckley was begun.

Attorneys appearing in the trial of the case were H. H. Hodgkin of Walters, Hodgkin and Bailey, for W. E. Eckley; J. W. Porter of Porter and Williams for Owens; Charles A. North for the bank, and J. R. Bothwell of Bothwell and Chapman for Laubach.

POCATELLO, Idaho, (AP)—At a conference called under the auspices of the Bannock Sportsmen's association Thursday and attended by many delegates from all over the state, it was decided to call a conference to be held at Twin Falls July 12 for the purpose of completing a state-wide body, based on the county unit plan. The meeting was presided over by President Charles G. Sumner of the Bannock association, and many matters of interest, including civic affairs were considered.

MISCREANTS STEAL HOSE

Enter Basement of George Bailey's, New Home and Make Away with Property

George Enslver, whose new home is in course of construction on Eighth avenue north, is today mourning the loss of a brand new hose taken from the premises some time last night. A hole was cut in the screen door, although it is believed that the miscreants entered by the basement window.

Some time ago a quantity of lumber disappeared from the premises under similar circumstances.

Utah Automobile Association Charged with Discriminatory Routing of Tourists

Officials of the Utah State Automobile association, president of the Salt Lake Commercial club and other persons are discriminating against Pocatello and in favor of Twin Falls in the routing of west-bound automobile tourists, according to advices Friday from Pocatello. The Bannock Sportsmen's association of Pocatello, expects to take up the matter for speedy adjustment.

The word from Pocatello follows: "Ample evidence having been produced at a meeting of the Bannock Sportsmen's association, last night that officials of the Utah State Automobile association, president of the Salt Lake Commercial club and other individuals were unjustly discriminating against eastern Idaho and Pocatello in the matter of diverting tourist traffic, a committee was appointed to confer with the Pocatello Chamber of Commerce, and prompt action will be taken to bring about cessation of the unfair practice. The chamber and the Rotary club have already considered the matter."

"The evidence was secured by two local business men posing as 'tourists' and who after visiting several individuals waiting upon various organization officials in Salt Lake. The 'tourists' even were given a special 'tour' map, which clearly showed the intent of the Utah Automobile association through one of its officials. It directed all traffic over the so-called Evergreen highway to Twin Falls and west, instead of through Pocatello and over the hard Yellowstone highway. Expressions and attitude of the officials in question were shown and the matter will be taken up for speedy adjustment."

CHEESE MAKER PRAISES IDAHO

Kraft Says State's Possibilities for Dairying Are Best in the Union

At the close of a four days tour through Idaho dairy regions which opened last week with his arrival in Twin Falls, J. H. Kraft, well known cheese maker of Chicago, told members of the Bannock Rotary club at a luncheon meeting Thursday that he would begin a campaign through dairy publications of the state and to induce more Idaho young dairymen to take advantage of the opportunities offered in this state for the production of dairy products.

"Idaho has the climate, the high production of feedstuffs per acre and the general soil conditions to make it a leader in dairy products," Mr. Kraft said. "I have seen enough of the state to convince myself that Idaho has the largest possibilities of any state in the Union."

The lecture continued by Mr. Kraft of the opinion that Idaho dairies could produce one pound of cheese or one pound of butter 25 per cent cheaper than it can be produced in Wisconsin.

The lecture continued by Mr. Kraft that the manufacturer had intimated that he would provide a market for all Idaho dairy products.

Mr. Kraft told the Rotarians that as a producer of cheese, a dairy products factory should be built, and this factory should be a cheese factory because it can be supported on a smaller unit plan.

He warmly praised the vision he said had been displayed by R. E. Shepherd, manager of the Twin Falls North Side project, who has helped financially and in other ways in the state a large amount of livestock.

HANSEN BUTTE DISTRICT FILES ON AUGUR FALLS

Reclamation Plans Contemplate the Development of 13,500 Horse Power to Operate Pumps at Milner

With a view to development of hydro-electric power to operate pumps to lift water for reclamation of the lands of the district borders, directors of the Murtagh irrigation district have filed in the office of the federal power commission at Washington, an application for a power site at Augur falls on Snake river, four and one-half miles northwest of Twin Falls where Rock creek enters the Snake river.

Funds Made Available

Resident landholders of the district recently voted unanimous approval of the issuance of $3,000,000 worth of the district's bonds to carry out the reclamation plans in which development of the power site has an important part. These plans have been made by H. T. Henderson, engineer for the district.

Development of 13,500 horsepower at the Augur falls site is contemplated by the plans. This power will be carried over a transmission line 34 miles to Milner, where it will be used to operate seven 35-inch pumps capable of lifting 400 second foot of water to the district's lands situated between Hansen and Murtagh in what is known as the Hansen Butte region.

Under Two Lists

Approximately 27,000 acres of land are to be reclaimed under the district's plans. This area is divided almost equally into two regions the first of which will be irrigated with water lifted to a height of 15 feet.

Power developed at Augur falls may be made available also for use of residents of the district for lighting and heating in their homes.

SOCIALISTS TAKE STEPS TO REVIVE ORGANIZATION

Five Persons Join in Movement to Resurrect Extinct Local Here

Steps toward resurrection of the organization of socialists here were taken at a meeting Friday evening in the union labor hall addressed by Emil Herman of Seattle, organizer for the socialist party new operating in Idaho.

Temporary organization of a socialist local here was effected with the selection of H. H. Fredholm as secretary. Five persons signed the application for a charter for the local organization and promise of 10 others to affiliate with it was received.

The socialist organization here will take no active part in the coming state and county elections, Fredholm said today, but the organization is being formed at this time in line with the movement throughout the country for rehabilitation of the party.

The local organization of socialists passed out of existence in the year 1917 when the United States entered the world war. It had at one time about 300 members, and there were listed 700 societies on the roll of the party.

Emil Herman here Friday evening addressed an audience of about 30 persons. Under Fredholm's guidance, it is reported, he spent the night in an obscure warehouse.

POLICE SEIZE STILL AND LIE IN WAIT FOR OWNER

Garrett Latest Addition to List of Suspected Liquor Law Violators

Police Friday evening raided the residence of William B. Garrett, 707 Third street east, where they discovered a crude moonshine still constructed out of a pressure cooker and wash boiler together with a quantity of its product, and took Garrett in custody to face a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

Garrett was absent when Chief of Police Rex J. Brown and Patrolman W. C. Shumman arrived at the premises. The police chief seized the still and a quart of the liquor and returned with it to the police station. Thereafter Garrett with a companion put in an appearance. The man with Garrett explained to the waiting officer that he had been brought by Garrett to the place to arrange for hauling of an oil stove and some other articles. He said that he suspected Garrett might offer him a drink. Garrett spent the night in the city jail.

CARRIERS VIEW CROP PROSPECT

Pacific Fruit Express Company Prepares to Meet the Increased Demand

The Pacific Fruit Express company, which last year handled 150,000 cases of fruit and vegetables out of the western country, has added 3300 new cars to its equipment, making a total of 22,600 cars to handle increased crops expected this season.

This was the statement of J. P. Crawford, assistant general manager of the company, on his arrival in Twin Falls Monday on an inspection trip over the Union Pacific system.

Mr. Crawford, accompanied by other officials of the company and some railroad officials, came here in the course of an inspection trip over the Union Pacific system to determine requirements for transportation of fruit and vegetable crops this season. The company he represents is owned jointly by the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific.

Other members of the party included G. W. Wall, superintendent of refrigerators; C. S. Gunnell, superintendent of the company at Ogden; L. N. Randall, general agent refrigerator service for the Union Pacific system with headquarters at Boise, and E. S. Kinnersley, Salt Lake, car service agent for the Oregon Short Line.

C. M. Secrist, president of the Pacific Fruit Express company, left the party Saturday at Salt Lake, where he received a telegram telling of the critical illness of his daughter at Tucson, Arizona. The daughter has since died.

"We haven't been over the whole system," Mr. Crawford said, "but we have information that convinces us the crops will be as large as last year or larger. We are making this trip to inspect our icing facilities and to get a closer estimate of crop conditions. We are making many improvements in our preparation for the season. Our expenditure on new ice plants will be about $2,000,000 this year. We are building a new plant at Pocatello and are adding to the old one at Nampa. This expenditure does not include repair work on old plants. Our business is good now and has been good, but there is heavier work ahead and we are getting ready for it."

Some weeks ago Miss McGeehin wired the police here asking for assistance in locating her brother, but search made at that time was unsuccessful.

The missing youth last wrote to his sister soon after his arrival here last March. He told her that he had been seriously ill with influenza.

He is 18 years of age and six feet two inches in height. He has light hair and blue eyes. His disposition is said to be quiet and retiring.

DENIES PERMIT TO CUT BRANCH TRAIN SERVICE

Public Utilities Commission Sustains Objections Raised to Proposed Curtailment by Leonard Way

Application of the Oregon Short Line to curtail passenger train service on branch lines in Idaho has been denied by order of the state public utilities commission issued Saturday following a series of public hearings at points in regions affected by the proposed curtailment.

The effect of the commission's order is to require the Short Line to maintain passenger train service in accordance with existing schedules.

The commission in its order, sustains practically all of the objections presented by Leonard Way of the Southern Idaho Traffic association, who protested against granting of the application at the several local hearings and at a general hearing at Shoshone, April 18, and who subsequently filed with the commission a brief summarizing the argument against permitting the proposed curtailment.

The lines upon which the Short Line asked permission to curtail passenger train service are the Rogerson, Nampa-Murphy, Idaho Northern, Caldwell-Wildford, Oakley, Deelo, North Side, Victor, Mayfield, Wood River and Hill City branches.

The series of local hearings began at Nampa, March 28, and was closed April 19, at Fairfield.

The commissioners authorized installation of two siphons on this road and they gave assurance that if it were found possible later, they would provide for grading of the road this year.

That portion of the road on which this improvement work is to be done extends north about one and one-fourth miles from the high line canal to connect with pavement already in place.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Bank Loan Provision Retained But Many Amendments Added to Measure — Senate Fight Assured

WASHINGTON, (AP).—The house soldiers' bonus bill, amended in several important particulars, but with the much-discussed bank loan provision retained, was approved Wednesday by the senate finance committee by a vote of 12 to 4. Chairman McCumber proposes to report the measure to the senate within a few days and said he hoped to get action on it before the passage of the tariff bill.

The more important alterations made in the bonus measure were:

The changing of the effective date of the legislation from next October 1 to January 1, 1923.

Removal of the time limitation on the filing of applications by world war veterans for adjusted service compensation.

Abandonment of the reclamation plan and the substitution of a provision under which veterans would be given preference in sinking entry on public or Indian lands when opened to entry.

Forfeiture Eliminated.

Elimination of the forfeiture provision, under which veterans failing to repay loans made by banks or the government on adjusted service certificates, would have forfeited their certificates.

Under the amended bill each veteran could reclaim their certificates at any time before their maturity, 20 years from the date of issue, upon payment of the sum they were in default plus interest at 4 1/2 per cent compounded annually.

Approval of the amended bonus measure was commonly called the McCumber plan, was voted by the committee after rejection, 8 to 5, of a measure offered by Senator Smoot of Utah, ranking committee republican, proposing that life insurance in lieu of all forms of compensation. In addition to its author, senators supporting the Smoot bill were Calder, New York; Dillingham, Vermont; Frelinghuysen, New Jersey; and McLean, Connecticut, all republicans.

McLean Breaks Tie.

On the vote for the McCumber measure, Senator McLean broke the tie that had existed among the 10 republicans of the committee as between two propositions. Besides Mr. McLean, those supporting the amended house bill were McCumber, North Dakota; LaFollette, Wisconsin; Watson, Indiana; Curtis, Kansas; and Sutherland, West Virginia, all republicans; and Simmons, North Carolina; Walsh, Massachusetts; and Gerry, Rhode Island, democrats.

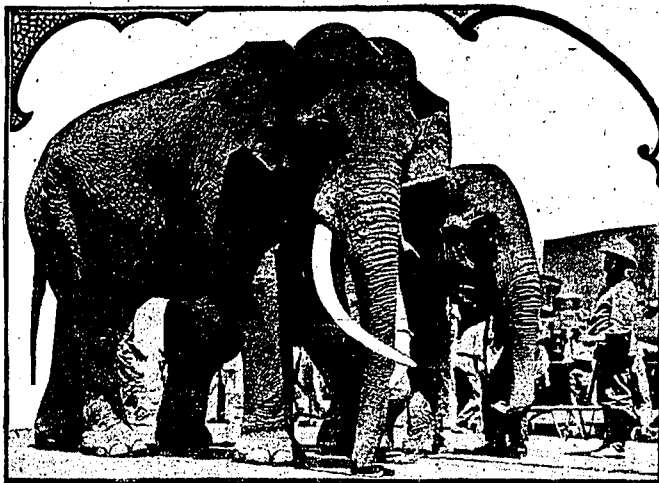

Senator Simmons, ranking minority member of the committee, said the democrats supported McCumber's plan, not because they favored it, but to obtain quick action on bonus legislation.

Neither President Harding's views with respect to the bonus nor methods of financing the legislation entered into the committee discussion, senators said.

Senate Fight Assured.

The bonus bill is certain to lead to a long fight in the senate. The democrats express themselves as not at all pleased with its present form and have

AL. G. BARNES MAKES GOOD HIS BOYISH BOAST AT JUMBO'S BIER

Tusko, the largest elephant that the world has ever known. Tusko stands twelve feet and seven inches high and weighs ten tons. A foot and a half taller than Jumbo, and weighs three thousand pounds more than Jumbo did.

Thirty-seven years ago a farmer had stood in the railway yards at St. Thomas, Ontario, and gazed at a huge, baddish bulk of Jumbo dead—killed by a Grand Trunk railway switch engine.

This bul was Al G. Barnes, known throughout that part of the province as "the boy horse trainer," a lad whose father had a standing forfeit of $100 posted for anyone that could produce a lanky equine that years A. G. could let drive off in ten minutes. Gazing on the dead Barnum elephant, young Barnes declared, "Some day I'll have a bigger circus than this one and I'll have a bigger elephant than Jumbo!" Bystanders laughed, but there were some who gave serious thought to the lad's boast, for they had a lively respect for his way with animals.

The next year the boy took the road with a pig dog and a greyhound. His rise to the ownership and operation of the world's largest wild animal circus is the greatest individual achievement in white tip history. And this year, Al G. Barnes has made good—more than made good—his boyish boast by presenting the American public Tusko, the largest elephant in the world, a foot taller than Jumbo and a ton and half heavier—an elephant with tusks six feet long, a veritable mammoth. When the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus comes to Twin Falls, Monday, June 5, for two performances, be sure and see Tusko. He is an education in himself. The world will never see his like again.

The big street parade will be held at 10:30 Monday morning. The circus will arrive here from Boise Sunday afternoon.

STAGE REVOLT ON HIGH DUTY

Senate Republicans Decline to Accept Recommendation of Finance Committee

WASHINGTON, (AP).—There was a revolt tonight in the senate republican rank against the finance committee recommendations to impose a duty of 70 per cent ad valorem on electric light bulbs and other illuminating glassware. An amendment by Senator Jones, democrat, of New Mexico, to substitute a 40 per cent rate, was defeated, 31 to 30.

Senator Jones first sought to make the rate on bulbs and other illuminating glassware 40 per cent, but that amendment was rejected, 27 to 29. Thirteen republicans and the 14 democrats present supported it.

A letter written to Senator LaFollette, republican, of Wisconsin, by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Lockwood investigating committee in New York, which was read in the senate last week by Senator LaFollette and which alleged control of the electric bulb situation by the General Electric company, played a prominent part in the more than two hours' debate on this subject.

"HARTFORD" HAIL INSURANCE

Your crops are your livelihood. Into them you put your thought, your energy, and your money. Out of them you expect a fair return for a year's industry.

It is therefore essential that you safeguard them in every possible way. Of all calamities that may visit a farming community none is more destructive than hail. MARY'S DECREE BULLET PROOF

Screen Favorite's Divorce from
Owen Moore Finally Sustained by Nevada Court

CARSON, Nev., (AP)—Mary Pickford's divorce from Owen Moore, precipitated today when the Nevada supreme court affirmed the order of District Judge Frank P. Langham, quashing a writ of summons in the action brought by Attorney General Fowler to set aside the decree granted the movie star.

The divorce of Mary Pickford at Minden, Nev., March 29, 1920, precipitated an action by the state for the dissolution of the decree on the ground that Miss Pickford's residence in the state had not covered the period required by law. The district court, in which the divorce was granted, was asked to review its decision and reverse itself, but held that the action had been regular in every particular and that the decree should stand.

Attorney General Fowler then applied to the state supreme court, charging that the divorce was obtained through "fraud and collusion" on the part of Miss Pickford and holding that the Minden court had no jurisdiction. The defense answered that the state was not an aggrieved party and therefore had no authority under the Nevada law to prosecute the action.

SHEEP GO TO PASTURE

University's Pure Bred Herd is Shipped to Summer Range

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow.—The University of Idaho's herd of purebred sheep numbering 172 head, has been shipped to Potlatch for summer pasturing on the lands of the Potlatch Lumber company. This step was taken, according to Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture, because of the shortage of grazing land at the institution and the recent conversion of the fair grounds, which has been used as a summer pasture, into an amusement park.

Loss of the fair grounds has proved a serious matter in the problem of securing adequate summer pasture for the university's fine purebred flock. Through co-operation with the Potlatch company experienced shepherds will be placed in charge and assurances have been given that the flock will be well cared for. Use of sheep in grazing is fast becoming a recognized method as a means of reducing the fire hazard.

VETERANS TO BE URGED TO REINSTATE POLICIES

Twin Falls Will Compete With
Boise, Pocatello and Lewiston in Contest

SEATTLE.—For the purpose of having every ex-service man and woman in the Pacific Northwest protected by government insurance, an intensive drive for reinstatement and conversion of war risk insurance will be held in Idaho, Washington and Oregon under the direction of the United States Veterans' bureau and the American Legion, June 12 to 17, inclusive. It was announced here today. It is proposed to secure a total of $5,000,000 in veterans' insurance in the Northwest district.

Twin Falls will compete with Boise, Pocatello and Lewiston in a contest to see which city can secure the largest amount of government insurance for its war veterans. The veterans' bureau has set the quota for each of the four cities in Southern Idaho at $150,000 apiece.

The state departments of the American Legion in Idaho, Washington and Oregon have endorsed the proposition of the drive and promise to work actively in securing the quotas assigned to the various cities and states of the Pacific Northwest. It was stated here, Norman W. Engle of Seattle, northwest representative of the national organization of the Legion, has sent out communications to the various posts of Idaho, urging them to appoint committees for the purpose of pushing the drive in their respective communities. The quota set for the state of Idaho is $1,000,000.

AND THEY SLEPT "UPSTAIRS"

Childish Frank Not So Enjoyable as Youngsters Imagined It Was Going to Be.

An Indianapolis woman is fond of telling a story about her girlhood days. There were several children in the family and they went to school with other children, perhaps a trifle better off as to this world's goods than they were. At any rate, the other children were always talking about their "upstairs." And there was no upstairs to the cottage where the Indianapolis woman's family lived—it was only a cottage. But children-like, they had to be able to say with cool disdain when they went to school: "Why, upstairs where we sleep."

So when "mother" went downtown one day these small children laboriously took their little bed apart and carried it up the narrow, steep dark stairs that led to the attic. Then they carried up the bedclothes; then their little chairs. They were indeed, going to sleep upstairs.

When mother came home she found out what had happened. She climbed the attic stairs, and there amid the dust and dirt and whatnots and cobwebs were the two beds. So just to punish the children for their disobedience mother made them sleep up there a few nights in the hot weather, until they were glad they had no "upstairs."

Is the Walton Ticket Controlled by Walton?

Within the past few days workers for the Walton Ticket have repeatedly denied that the candidates on that list are controlled by Walton. They assert that Mr. Walton is a community patriot, and that his work for the ticket which he created and is sponsoring is for love of his fellow man, and that his hope for reward lays in the distant future.

If this be true, why do not the candidates, from Mr. Tucker down, REPUDIATE WALTON?

Why do they not tell us that they and their platform are not instruments of the aspiring boss of Twin Falls.

Dare they make such a statement? Would it be believed, if made thus public?

Let us see:

Every candidate on the Walton ticket was approved by Walton before even the petitions were circulated for nomination.

The men who helped in securing these signatures are Walton henchmen.

The platform upon which the Walton candidates are running was built in every plank by WALTON.

It was not even offered to any daily newspaper in Twin Falls for publication, though both the daily newspapers would have been glad to carry it as a matter of NEWS.

The platform was thus withheld from publication in the daily newspapers and first made its appearance in Walton's own newspaper days after it had been built by Walton.

Thus the Walton-made ticket running on a Walton-built platform stands in the position of seeking now to create the impression among voters that WALTON WOULD HAVE NO CONTROL OVER THE ADMINISTRATION IF HIS TICKET SHOULD WIN.

Such an assumption of indifference to Walton is clearly for purposes of deception, and the voters of Twin Falls will not be deceived.

The issue in this campaign is WALTON, and WALTON RULE.

Is Twin Falls ready for a political Boss?

Shall he be WALTON?

If you are not registered, better go to the office of the City Clerk and prepare yourself so that you can vote against boss rule—RULE BY WALTON. Saturday is the last day of registration.

SPORT CHATTER

(By Hizzumps)

The move made by the four managers appointed for the different teams to give Twin Falls twilight ball, is in deed a good one.

A town the size of Twin Falls should have twilight league, and also a team to represent the town when other towns want to play baseball.

Twin Falls is the only town in the United States of its size that is without baseball. Why? There is plenty of material here, and all the ball players are more than willing to get into harness, and yet the necessary punch from the fans is missing. It is regrettable to say the least.

One of our better ball players left the other day for other fields. If Twin Falls doesn't get busy in the very near future, the rest of them are going to leave. No doubt after the cream has been skimmed the fans will decide on baseball, but that will be too late.

Last year, when the season was about over, a team was picked to play Boise. What happened to Twin Falls is history, and the alibi offered was that if the team had been organized a few weeks earlier, we would have won from Boise. Now is the time to get busy. It will only be a week until "Syb" Kieffner and Otto Neuman will be home. Otto is a fielder of the highest type, while Syb makes them all take notice in the infield.

Bart Wolcum, who demonstrated in Tuesday's game that he is still the ball player of old, is more than anxious to locate in Twin Falls. Bart would make a wonderful playing captain.

How would this lineup look? Put Syb behind the bat, Wolcum on first, "Bill" Pailey on second, "Syb"

THEATRE TICKETS FREE

To every new, paid in advance annual subscriber, or to any regular subscriber paying a year's subscription in advance, The News will give two tickets to "FOOLISH WIVES". The play of the century. Leaving Theatre, June 9-10.

Kieffner on short, Bruce Watson on third, Bob Whitel in left, Otto Neuman in center, and Red Bell in right. There are plenty of good pitchers to pick at least two good ones. Of course, these players are only picked at random, without looking over the field, and yet, with practice, they would be a hard combination to beat.

Every town in the state has a ball club, and most of the different sections have leagues. Very few fans will deny that they are fond of baseball and yet, but what's the use of talking?

GETS TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT

MISSOULA, (P)—"Cyclone" Walk, or of Yakima Thursday night scored a technical knockout over Sewell Denno of Wallace, Idaho, in the eighth round of their scheduled 15-round bout. Walk, or knocked Denno down in the fifth round and twice in the seventh. Kidney punches appear to have weakened the Wallace battler early in the fight. The fight was billed as for the welter weight championship of Idaho.

PLANT TREE IN MEMORY OF LATE FRED R. REED

Living Tribute is Paid at Pocatello to Foremost of Empire Builders

POCATELLO—As part of the Memorial Day observance in Pocatello, a tree was planted at the entrance to the beautiful campus of the Idaho Technical Institute in memory of the late Major Fred R. Reed, the "father of reclamation in Idaho."

Dr. C. R. Frazier, president of the Tech, expressed his satisfaction that the campus ground had been selected as the site for the Reed memorial tree, for the inspiration it would give all who sought in the institution a cornerstone for their future. He referred to Major Reed as an empire builder, and declared that his life work should constitute an example to all who wanted to aid the development of Idaho and the West.

The dedicatory remarks were made by Guy Finner, who succeeded Major Reed as head of the Idaho Reclamation association, and who said, in part: "Major Reed saw in the cultivated flower and tree and in the growing crops the finest and truest picture of human progress. He devoted his life to producing greater happiness by encouraging the building of more homes and the beautification of homes and communities. "If all the trees now growing in Idaho, planted as the outcome of his inspiring efforts, could be grouped there would stand a forest of unsurpassed beauty and surprising magnitude.

"It is fitting that his friends should attain remembrance of him with his accomplishments, and what more beautiful, appropriate and enduring tribute could be paid him than to preserve a living typification of the spirit that actuated his activities? "May this tree develop as to its trunk the ruggedness of his character and life work, and as to its foliage the peace, the usefulness, the comfort and the contentment he would have us all enjoy.

"We dedicate it to him, enriching and protecting it with the soil of Idaho—the soil he so loved—the soil that took him to its bosom as a mother and a tired child."

The golden spade used at the ceremony was the property of the Tech and used heretofore only for Arbor day exercises.

The memorial was closed by Miss Ethelyn Glasser, secretary of the Idaho Reclamation association, depositing a floral offering at the base of the tree.

The Home of the Soul. In older times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach; most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.—Adv.

In other words, don't be deceived by a few pennies—the cheapest baking powder in price is often the most expensive.

TRIBUTE PAID IN TWIN FALLS TO HERO DEAD

Memorial Day Observance Sets
New Mark With Hundreds Gathering for Decoration of Last Resting Places

On the most generous scale in its history Twin Falls Tuesday paid tribute to the memory of fallen veterans of American wars.

Business activities were entirely suspended and through silent flag draped caissons the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic at 10:30 o'clock led the Memorial Day procession to the cemetery where nearly 2000 persons assembled to pay honor to the heroic dead.

Weather conditions were ideal, permitting general participation in the Memorial Day services.

Move With Precision.

Events of the day moved with precision and dispatch. Promptly at 10:30 o'clock, the procession moved off under direction of Herbert G. Lauterbach, former commander of Twin Falls American Legion, as marshal of the day. A score of Civil war veterans, practically the entire membership of Dan McCook post, led the march, preceded by the Twin Falls band and the national colors. D. B. Pettigrew, aged 88 years, was the oldest veteran in line. Then came a detachment of American Legion veterans, and Captain P. W. McRobert, mayor of Twin Falls.

With the color guard, George Edinger, head of the national color, and Leonard Avant, the Legion's flag, at the head of the column of World War veterans.

Organizations in Line

Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Daughters of the American Revolution, joined in the procession as organizations, and hundreds of citizens in automobiles joined in the line of march. At the intersection of Main avenue with Third Street, the marchers were taken aboard cars and proceeded to the cemetery.

Graves of 26 veterans of the Civil war and of 15 veterans of the World war were decorated by detachments of little girls and small boys in groups led through the cemetery's paths by members of the Grand Army and of the American Legion.

Ritualistic Memorial Day services in charge of the Grand Army men were conducted by J. D. Smith, commander, and W. W. Humphrey, chaplain, of Dan McCook post at the side of the grave of the late C. A. Osterlund, former commander of the post, whose death occurred in the year past. The services were opened with the reading of General John A. Logan's order setting apart Memorial Day for the remembrance of the heroic dead.

"Salute the Dead."

At the conclusion of the ritualistic services and at the command of "Salute the dead," given by the Grand Army commander, the entire assembly were fired by a squad of American Legion members under command of Captain J. H. Kregel and composed of Tom McGrew, Ralph Elliott, A. Doran Johnson, Clarence Elliott, Don Linville, Wilbur Rowberry, James H. Harvey and Byron Decker. When the roll of the volley died away, J. G. Thorpe, leader of the band of the 14th artillery regiment, sounded taps, the army's final tribute to its dead. The services were concluded with a benediction pronounced by the Rev. W. H. Tolliver, and the singing of America in which the entire assembly joined.

Hundreds of automobiles in which the veterans and their friends were conveyed to the cemetery, were directed to parking places by a score of Legion men under direction of Ray Brown, and so skillfully was the work done that there was no confusion in getting in or out of the grounds.

Tribute of Remembrance.

Men of the Memorial Day services held in the afternoon at the high school auditorium at which a considerable audience gathered to witness the continuation of the exercises and to hear the address of the occasion delivered by Former Senator M. J. Sweeney.

"As long as history is read and as long as gratitude remains a virtue, let us continue to remember these heroic men who have responded in the hours of the nation's greatest need," the speaker said. "There is little now that we can do but remember. All but a handful of the men who fought this nation in 1861-65 have been mustered into the Grand Army of the Republic; but we can help those who have gone and those who remain and we can help ourselves by remembering the sacrifices they have made and the causes in which they made them."

The program included reading of "High Treason" by R. H. Barnes, former commander of Dan McCook post, and of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech by Marcus Ware, a graduate this year of the Twin Falls high school. Two vocal numbers were given by a quartet composed of J. E. White, George W. Bice, Curtis Turner and Earl Dougherty, with Mrs. F. S. Bell at the piano. The invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. Mr. Tolliver. J. D. Smith, as commander of Dan McCook post, presided at the afternoon services.

for Assault

RURLEY—(Special to The News)—John Bergman will today be haled into court for a second time to answer to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon made Monday afternoon upon Bergman's brother-in-law, Napoleon Olson of Twin Falls, at the former's farm home near here, according to the statement Wednesday night of Prosecuting Attorney T. M. Morris.

Bergman was arrested at his home Wednesday at about noon and arraigned in probate court. According to the prosecuting attorney, the arrest was made upon a complaint made by Olson that he was the victim of an assault which led to the attack by Bergman, and Bergman was released without bail. This took place in the absence of the prosecuting attorney who will today cause Bergman to be brought again before a magistrate, and will demand that bail be required.

Olson, who is suffering from three compound fractures of the skull, inflicted with a shovel, was last night reported to be resting fairly easily in a hospital here. Attending physicians said that they could determine this morning whether Olson would recover.

BURLEY BANKER WILL BE TRIED, COURT DECIDES

Proceedings Brought by Prosecuting Attorney Against D. R. Langlois Held Valid After Hearing on Petition

Proceedings against D. R. Langlois, charged with making false statements as to the condition of the Commercial State bank at Burley of which he was vice president, and with receiving deposits when he knew the bank to be insolvent, were held valid Thursday by Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here, and Langlois was ordered remanded to the custody of the Cassia county sheriff.

The court's decision was given at the close of a hearing Thursday on the motion of Prosecuting Attorney T. M. Morris of Cassia county, to grant Langlois' petition for writ of habeas corpus. The prosecution argued that the petition was insufficient.

Langlois, through his attorney, S. T. Lowe, argued that the failure of the grand jury recently convened in Cassia county, to return a true bill against himself, would entitle him to discharge by the prosecuting attorney.

Langlois appeared in court in the custody of Deputy Sheriff A. L. Stokes of Cassia county. He was arrested some weeks ago at his home in Burley.

H. Harvey, V. R. Laird, P. C. McCreath, H. T. Hays and the Citizens State bank of Buhl.

The Chicago bank in this case is suing for collection of the $10,000 note alleged to have been executed by the oil company and its directors, and which it received from the Buhl bank.

Complaint charging the crime of grand larceny will be filed today by G. A. North, assistant prosecuting attorney, against William M. Shepherd, who Wednesday night took an automobile owned by W. C. Before departing in the car Shepherd called the attention of Patrolman W. A. Austin to the machine and told the officer that he had lost it. It is valued at $500 from a man who was going to Oregon. He asked the patrolman to bear witness that he was the owner of the car.

Subsequently Fletcher reported the loss of his car to the authorities. CRUSHER PLANT AGAIN OPERATED

Warren Construction Company Starts Work Toward Pavement Repair

Crushing of rock to be used in resurfacing and repair of pavement laid here in 1920 was Thursday begun at the Twin Falls highway district quarry and rock crushing plant here by a force of workmen under direction of L. B. Chase, resident engineer for the Warren Construction company.

Satisfactory progress was made with the work the first day. It is estimated that approximately 200 yards of rock will be crushed daily. The total amount to be used will depend upon the requirements as they are determined in the prosecution of the resurfacing and repair work, Mr. Chase said.

Operations at the crusher plant will continue for about a week before work is started on the pavement itself in order that a sufficient supply of crushed rock may be accumulated to permit the work on the streets to continue without interruption after it is begun. An expert "top" foreman will arrive here next week from San Diego to take charge of the re-surfacing, Mr. Chase announced.

A small force of workmen in the employ of the Warren Construction company is at work repaving and replacing defective curbing along some streets in the west quarter of town.
