

GOMPERS FLAYS COURT RULE IN CORONADA CASE

Declares Organized Labor is Forced to Enter National Politics to Secure New Legislation Permitting Strikes

CINCINNATI, (AP) — Protests of organized labor, as voiced here Friday at preliminaries for the annual convention next week of the American Federation of Labor centered against the supreme court, the congress and state legislatures in general.

Gompers Attacks Courts

Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, in addressing a club of business men, interpreted the supreme court decision in the celebrated Coronado coal case as a negation of the right to strike and declared that organized labor would appeal to congress for new legislation setting aside the decision.

In criticizing the supreme court, Mr. Gompers said that he expected to be "taken strictly to account," for his utterances, adding that "I do not run away from a fight."

"But it has come to a pretty pass," he continued, "when an American citizen can no longer discuss and criticize the decision of the courts."

Must Invade Politics

"Anyone, if he feels so disposed, can criticize even the president of the United States, or the United States senate or the congress. Pray of what flesh are the members of the supreme court that they are above criticism beyond that of the president of the United States?"

Delegates to the meeting of the metal trades department of the federation, by unanimous action, assailed congress and state legislatures as enemies of labor and declared for labor's active participation in the fall campaigns in an effort to elect its friends regardless of the political party.

In his speech, Mr. Gompers said the Coronado decision made international insidious strikes liable for damages and he asserted this meant the unions must withstand "constant litigation or go out of business."

CHICAGO CHEESE MAKER URGES DAIRYMEN'S BANK

J. L. Kraft Sends Message to Idaho Bankers Telling of Needs of State

BOISE — Establishment of a dairy-men's national bank in Idaho was urged by J. L. Kraft, prominent cheese manufacturer, in a speech read Wednesday before the Idaho State Bankers' association in convention at Hayden lake. Although invited, Mr. Kraft was unable to attend the convention, but prepared a paper and sent it to Governor D. W. Davis, who forwarded it to the bankers at Hayden lake. Word that the speech had been read before the bankers was received Wednesday by F. W. Brown, secretary to the governor, who released the speech.

Mr. Kraft recently completed a survey of the southern part of the state to inspect dairying possibilities. He says in his address that Idaho is bound to become one of the greatest, if not the greatest, dairy states in the union.

Opportunity Is Best

"The cheese manufacturer does not say that he will establish a bank in the state, but says that the opportunity for such a bank is one of the best he has ever seen. As far as a market for dairy products is concerned, Mr. Kraft says that the market awaits the product, and if a time should ever come when dairy products will be unsalable at a profit, much less would there be a market for alfalfa, corn and other grains now being raised."

He questions the possibility at the present time of awakening any great majority of the bankers of the state as a class to the opportunity which is presented.

Idaho is naturally a dairy state, he says, and holds out to the dairy farmer a "triune of perfection — perfect soil, perfect water and perfect sunshine, and in no other state have I found these three essentials made so available in right proportions."

Guard Against Forest Fire

A fire that would be the biggest ever known or result, government officials believe, if a great mass of fallen timber in the state of Washington should be set ablaze. The trees were blown down by a 150-mile gale that swept the forest last January. They cover about 60 miles long and from 20 to 30 miles wide. There are more than 6,750,000,000 feet of timber in the mass. To guard against the fire danger, the federal government and the state of Washington have appropriated $100,000 each. The forest service and the state are taking all kinds of fire preventive measures, including patrol by airplanes.

Triplets Graduate in Same Class

Laura, Louise & Lillian Buiset.

Misses Laura, Louise and Lillian Buiset, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buiset, of Punnett-Harney, Pa., are members of the graduating class, 1922, of the Punnett-Harney High School and are believed to be the only triplets in this country graduating from the same class at the same time. The girls were born in Eldred, Pa., May 18, 1903. They have dressed alike since childhood, but no matter how badly their clothes may be mixed up at night they could always pick out their own garments in the morning.

BURLEY DISTRICT SPUD FIELDS SHOW INCREASE

Ten Thousand Acres Devoted to Crop is 3000 More Than Last Year

BURLEY.—Figures just compiled by the reclamation office here show 15,738 acres of alfalfa on the pumping unit of the South Side Minidoka project this season. This is far the largest acreage planted to any one crop, and is approximately the same as last year. The heavy seeding last spring makes up for the large amount of the older crop plowed up this season for grain and potatoes. A lighter yield is anticipated, however, because of the backward spring, and the prevalence of the weevil over a large portion of the east end of the tract.

Wheat Ranks Second

Wheat ranks second again in number of acres planted here, there being 11,000 acres devoted to that crop. This is practically the same as in 1921. The outlook for the crop is not so good as at this time a year ago. The stand is not so good, and the plants are small and weak. However, the yield should be larger than in 1921, when the rust cut down the average to less than 20 bushels to the acre.

Big Acreage Spends

Pointers are close contenders with wheat for second place, with a total of approximately 10,000 acres devoted to the crop. This is 3,000 acres above last year. Better seed was planted this season on an average, and while the crop will be late, the plants are coming up good, and the stand over the project will be an average. Farmers will be forced to raise many of their potatoes if the yield is normal because of the lack of railroad facilities here to handle them at digging time.

There are approximately 4000 acres of beets here this season as against 4000 last. Taken as a whole the stand is good and the crop prospects are promising, although much later than common. Clover has made a gain from 1400 in 1921 to 1000 acres in 1922. There are 1300 acres devoted to oats, the same as last year; and 273 acres of barley as against 570 in 1921. The remainder of the project, some 3500 acres, is planted to pasture, gardens and other crops, running about the same as during the previous years. All crops are suffering for want of water at this time, and it will continue unless we have rains. Many farmers are behind with their irrigation, and some crops may suffer for want of water before the end of the season.

WHY WORRY

There are two reasons why man should not worry, either one of which must operate in every instance.

First: Because he cannot prevent the results he fears. Second: Because he can prevent them. If he is powerless to prevent the blow he needs perfect mental concentration to meet it bravely, to lighten its force, to get what salvage he can from the wreck, to sustain his strength at this time when he must plan a new future.

No Time to Read

They were discussing on a Collier car and were discussing some friends who had evidently not called recently.

"We've been there twice," she said, "since they were at our house." "Well," returned the man, "I don't care. In fact, I'm rather glad of it. I like to read the paper once in a while. When we go there and they come to our house so much, I never know what is going on."—Indianapolis News.

Convenient Root

In one of the rose garden displays at the Indianapolis flower show, a beautiful sun dial, inscribed with Browning's "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be," held a prominent place. A woman, vigorously cheering, came, gave it a passing glance, and remarked to her companion: "Grow old along with me! Ain't that funny? I guess that must be for the chicken root."

UNIVERSITY'S YEARBOOK IS RECEIVED ON CAMPUS

Vernon Walters, Twin Falls, Member of Staff of 1923 "Gem of Mountains"

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW.—(Special to The News) The 1923 "Gem of the Mountains," yearbook published by the junior class, has been received on the university campus. This year's book contains 353 pages and is profusely illustrated, including a nice-page color section showing the more familiar and picturesque scenes on the campus. A special section is devoted to the alumni and their work in boosting for the university.

The innovation in this year's book is that student activities are placed ahead of the class groups in the makeup scheme. The athletic department is elaborate, featuring reviews of the basketball and football seasons.

Ess Kimmel of Boise, a junior in the college of law, was editor of the book; Louis A. Boas of Boise, a junior in the college of engineering, assistant editor; William C. Carpenter of Boise, business manager; Vernon Walters of Twin Falls and A. Kenneth Anderson of Moscow, assistant business managers. Other members of the staff are: Robert Cummins, Wallace, photographer; Richard Johnson, Morton, snapshots; Margaret Kutunavsky, Boise, society; Kenneth Hunter, Moscow, alumni; Helen Bloom, Spokane, and Cameron King, Lewiston, art; Sylvester Klerfner, Twin Falls, and Vernon Walters, Twin Falls, humor; Philip Buck, Boise, Joe Curtis, Boise, Ted Sherman, Boise, literary; Charles Preuss, Tacoma; Jack Armstrong, Pocatello, Robert Garver, Walla Walla, athletics; Ruth Litton, Lamont, Mary Ball, Colorado Springs, and Bethel Collins, Boise, organizations.

Westminster's Bells

It is only on very rare occasions that the peal of the Westminster abbey bells is heard; but on Princess Mary's wedding day the bells in the northwest tower added their joyful notes to the proceedings. The tower bell is very old, dating from 1430, and two of the others were presented by Gabriel Goodman, a dean of Westminster in Queen Elizabeth's time. The octave was incomplete, however, until some little time ago when two additional bells were added; and the existing six were at the same time rehung and tuned. The peal rung on February 28, which consisted of just over 5,000 changes, promises therefore to be of exceptional interest as the first full one heard from the abbey bells.

POLITICAL LID IS LIFTED BY G. O. P. RALLY AT RUPERT

RUPERT.—The lid was ripped off the county political campaign Friday night, when republicans here held their first rally at the courthouse with a goodly number of persons in attendance. A. C. DeMay was elected chairman of the meeting with Judge C. D. Phipps secretary.

E. B. Blumley, principal speaker, gave a resume of the county, state and national republican administrations. He laid great stress on a platform of low taxes, urging that all county and state candidates should be pledged to keep the cost of government to a minimum. His talk was well received.

Announcement is made that on Saturday, 2 p. m., at courthouse, the new progressive party will come into being in Minidoka county. It is expected that a complete county ticket will be put into the field.

Time for filing for county offices commenced June 2 and all candidates must file with the county recorder between that date and July 2.

Never Again

A certain man was determined to be on hand with his revolver the next time burglars got into an apartment in the flat where he lived. So much thievery had been going on that he wished to do a cleanup job. Early one morning he was shaving "decollete" when he heard a noise, then the warning scream. He sprang for his revolver, rushed down the steps two and three at a time, arriving on the scene in his B. V. D.'s, his pipe in his mouth and his revolver flourishing wickedly—a combination of leisure, haste and quick action. It was a false alarm, and he "came to" when the screams turned into shrieks of laughter.

PAUL FARMER LOSES EYE.

RUPERT.—As a result of infection caused by getting rust or some other foreign substance in his eye when putting a cultivator together about ten days ago, George Kerbs, a farmer residing near Paul underwent an operation at his home Sunday for the removal of his eye. This was done that the vision of the other eye might be spared. Mr. Kerbs stood the operation well and was resting as well as could be expected.

ON RUPERT COUNCIL

RUPERT.—Paul Zimmerman was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of O. F. Allen, at regular meeting of council Tuesday night. He is deputy county auditor and favorably known. Bid for auditing financial records of the city was let to Frank Fox, $150 being the contract price.

What Is Woman's Part In Your Success?

Often the strongest impulse to SAVE comes from the woman of the household.

"Every man should consider himself fortunate indeed when his wife or mother helps him to save money and to accumulate a nest-egg."

Folks who live the "thrifty way" usually achieve comfort and independence.

The formula for successful saving is a simple one; simply spend a little less than you earn.

President Harding once said: "Let us call to all people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic."

One of the best talks on saving was delivered by the Hon. Simon Bamberger of Utah when he said: "It is the dollar saved that provides shelter and comfort on rainy days; that is available for wise investment; that leads to financial success and independence. Saving is no more than intelligent spending. The man who saves is seldom out of a job. He is the man to whom comes the greatest opportunities."

And it was the Hon. John H. Bartlett of New Hampshire who gave equally sound advice in these words: "Nothing more conserves the peace of mind of the member of a home than the thought that they have at their ready command in a bank the ammunition to fight the sudden attacks of life."

Surely a man's best friend is his bank account. It gives him confidence to face the uncertain future. As it grows he gains courage—he feels himself climbing to the firm ground of financial independence and safety.

Remember that SERVICE is the very essence of banking. Your banker welcomes your account, no matter how modest it may be. And, too, your banker has a vast store of knowledge and sound advice at your disposal when you need it.

HAILS HARDING AS POSSESSING QUIET COURAGE

Dean West, of Princeton, Lauds
President for His Position on Big Issues — Audience is Stirred

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — President Harding dedicated a monument to the achievements of George Washington in Princeton Friday and heard himself hailed as a man of "quiet courage" and "immense patience and self-offering modesty" in his own policies toward current and controversial political issues.

The words came from Dean West, who used them in mention of the president's stand against the veterans' bonus and his voice for anti-trust laws as a senator, as he recited the reasons which induced Princeton University to give the president an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Breaks From Set Speech.

Twice the stimulus of an intent audience caused President Harding to break away from prepared manuscript in speech-making.

Before the Princeton student body, stirred evidently by the high praise of the citation of himself, he almost disregarded preparations to lay down the standards of valuation of men. "I care not what position a man may momentarily be in," he exclaimed, "you can measure his standard of usefulness to America by the service he renders the community in which he resides. Less than a century and a half has this republic endured. The founding fathers who gave us America, no man dreamed that 125 years would bring us to the point of the possibilities of the future."

Possibilities Are Limitless.

"When I realize what has happened in that time I dare not lift the cup of optimism to the lips. There are such limitless possibilities; we have seen such incomparable contributions to mankind's progress in our generation. We can little imagine what time will bring."

"Doctor," the president turned to Dean West and President Hibben of Princeton. "I thank you for your earnest words. I care not who one is, if he can only expend his power in righteousness, he shall not have lived in vain. We can only ask God to let us make our way in righteousness, and if, in that making, we can make our way religious, we'll be a little bit better for that."

World Cherish Traditions.

The earlier interruption to set speeches occurred when the audience, in the line of interpretation, the president read his auditors to cherish traditions by such erections, that they might be helped to "fulfill the great American destiny."

Gatherings of Princeton's student body for the president's visit, historical references to George Washington, famous Jersey campaigns against the British and Hessians, and military panegyrics supplied by troops in revolutionary dress uniforms, marked the day.

President Hibben told the audience at Nassau hall, where the degree was granted, that the building itself was the barracks from which Washington's continental dragoon regulars in the Princeton battle.

The president dined with Dr. Hibben, after a reception tendered students and visitors. He left for Washington shortly afterward, Speaker Gillette of the house and Senators Elmer and Follinbaugh, who accompanied him all through the trip.

FALL FROM POWER POLE IS FATAL TO BURLY FARMER

BURLY—Born Matson, age 48 years, and one of the earliest settlers on the Matson place, passed away Sunday night, June 4, at midnight, at his home in the Claremont vicinity, death resulting from a broken back and other injuries received when he was thrown from an electric line pole, 25 feet in the air on which he was working, last Thursday, June 1.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Claremont, Rev. Ziegler of Paul in charge and interment was made in Pleasant View cemetery. Mr. Matson is survived by a wife and five sons. He was one of the highly respected farmers of this project, and his friends here, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family in their great loss.

"Would you give a weary wanderer a bite to eat, mum?"

"If I will if you will do me a favor."

"What is it, mum?"

"Go across the street to that green house, ask the woman over there for a cup of coffee and say you are a true wanderer in a true house. She's been going around telling the neighbors I couldn't afford one."

LEGEND LIVES ON

Another Explanation of Lost Continent of Atlantis.

Students of History Are Coming to the Belief That There May Be Basis of Truth.

A story of the perhaps authentic continent of Atlantis has recently appeared from the pen of Scott Elliot, that submerged land in which interest is heightened by the fact that so little is really known about it.

The present writer takes up the story of the lost continent, which is a story of the Christian era—some between 200,000 and 300,000 years ago, the most recent, 2,500 years before the drama of Calvary. At these several periods the form of the seas and continents was modified, water taking the place of land and vice versa.

The traditional deluge conforms to the last of these hypotheses, which is also the basis of the legend of the lost city of Ys. It explains, moreover, the curious memories of certain ancient peoples relative to a large island lying beyond the Pillars of Hercules, our modern Gibraltar.

Plato, and others before him, spoke of the invasion of Greece by a people from a distant land. There were golden cities in this land and magnificent orchards and forests, and its inhabitants dwelt in peace and prosperity under the scepter of Neptune's descendants. But, it was related, this people fell into evil ways, so that Jupiter rolled the ocean over them, and all perished.

These happenings, ignored by us, barely punctuate the mists that enshroud the hundreds of centuries that have come and gone; yet it is none the less true that human kind vaguely cherishes the belief in these gigantic earth movements concerning which so many suppositions have been advanced. Diodorus of Sicily mentions the hypothesis of a violent disturbance in the Mediterranean, which, traveling through the straits of Gibraltar, overwhelmed Atlantis beyond.

Is it possible, then, that there is no basis of truth in these strange legends? Who would attempt a denial in the face of Mr. Elliot's evidence? Whence came the wonderful tales of flourishing countries and splendid cities forever covered by the waves?

It is easy to appreciate the attraction offered the imaginations of poets, novelists and philosophers by the mystery of Atlantis. Plato made it the subject of a magnificent narrative, which, in turn, has supplied the plot of a beautiful present day poem by the Standard, Don Jacinto Velazquez. Bacon, too, wrote of "The New Atlantis," city of scientists, where everything that could produce human genius found its focus and was preserved and brought to perfection.

It is easy to see, then, that we shall know nothing definite concerning this dream country in which superstitious sailors still believe, bending over the taffrail or dark nights to catch the distant ringing of water muffled bells in the drowned steeples far below.

Ah, no! like enough we shall learn nothing more. No doubt that is why the story is so dear to us.

Have Crooked Spines.

Miss Margaret Major, physical director of women at the University of Pennsylvania, declares that half of the 200 freshmen girls at the institution have developed some sort of curvature of the spine from sitting and standing carelessly.

"They are accustomed to carry their books in their right hand," she says. "They rest on the right foot when they stop. That raises the right hip and raises the right shoulder and soon, without daily counteracting exercises, they have developed curvature."

Sitting with the right leg crossed over the left likewise tends to the same effect, according to Miss Major.

Sweet Things.

Dr. George T. Harling, the president's father, discussed on his recent wedding trip certain aspects of Germany's position.

"When you consider a German by telling him that his depreciated exchange allows him to undersell his rivals," said Dr. Harding, "he feels, 'I'm sure, like the young lady.'"

"Jane says," said a point-n-counterpoint, "said this young lady to her chum."

"Well, never you mind what Jane says," the chum consoled her. "If Jane had your complexion, she'd paint, too."

HUNT FOR SECRET OF LIFE

Dream of Every Scientist, Although Always Regarded as a Widely Improbable Thing.

A hunt more exciting than any man-hunt is going on at present in the laboratories of some of the most advanced of biological chemists—a hunt for the secret of life.

It is now seriously hoped by some of the more advanced scientists which he believed tended to prove that new life had been created in a test-tube, but critics proved that there was some flaw in the proceedings—that the spark of life had crept in unobserved and had not been created.

Efforts are now being made to arrive at the point of discovery along the road of chemistry—to discover the exact combination of oxygen, nitrogen, and so forth, that goes to make up the term of life.

One scientist is already said to have made "synthetic eggs"—that is, to have compounded substances which had the taste of eggs, and it is claimed that real hens' eggs in an infertile state—incapable of developing into chickens—will, if treated with lithium chloride, manifest the signs of life and undergo development for a few days.

These infertile eggs, fertilized with lithium chloride, have not yet produced chicks—after a few days the development stops—but hope is not abandoned that the secret of introducing effective life into an infertile egg by chemical means may be found.

The starting of life in frogs' eggs has also been contrived, merely by pricking holes in them, but here also the process stops after a few hours.

The idea of being able to create life is so "colossal" that some scientists and most thinking people smile at it, and regard it as wildly improbable.

The Blue and the Gray

"My father was a Confederate soldier but was a Union suit." was the proud boast of a political split-brain early in the week.

HAVENS IS NEW HEAD ROTARY ASSOCIATION

Kansas City Man Chosen on Initial Ballot on Last Day of Convention

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Raymond Havens of Kansas City, Mo., was chosen president of the International Association of Rotary clubs at the final business session of the thirteenth annual convention of the organization, Friday afternoon.

The selection was made unanimous by the delegates after the election committee of congress in only part of his duties. He is also chairman of the council of national defense, a member of the Smithsonian Institution, the Arlington memorial amphitheater commission, chairman of the commission on memorial to women of the Civil war, president of the national recreation commission, on the Grant memorial commission, chairman of the Meade memorial commission, on the United States interdepartmental social hygiene board, member of the Hock creek and Potomac Parkway commission, and chairman of the federal water power commission. Aside from that he has nothing to do but try to beat President Harding playing golf.—Washington Star.

Hard-Worked Cabinet Official.

John W. Weeks breathes a very sincere sigh of relief at the end of each week of his official life. Being secretary of war and frequently called upon to testify before some committee of congress is only part of his duties. He is also chairman of the council of national defense, a member of the Smithsonian Institution, the Arlington memorial amphitheater commission, chairman of the commission on memorial to women of the Civil war, president of the national recreation commission, on the Grant memorial commission, chairman of the Meade memorial commission, on the United States interdepartmental social hygiene board, member of the Hock creek and Potomac Parkway commission, and chairman of the federal water power commission. Aside from that he has nothing to do but try to beat President Harding playing golf.—Washington Star.

WHY NOT MAKE IT UNANIMOUS?

It is perhaps unfortunate in the juncture which has arisen with respect to the election of Dr. Dwight as City Councilman, that some means could not be devised whereby the Doctor might concede the election of Mr. Asauley and permit the Tuckett ticket to take office in it, so quietly without the formality of another election.

This would seem to be the sportsmanlike thing to do. Dr. Dwight has received a popular vote which constitutes a public tribute of which any man might be proud. His presence at the councilmanic table can hold few inducements to him under the circumstances, while from the general standpoint of election results, the winning ticket would be strengthened and the expense of another election saved.

Dr. Dwight has himself taken the best way out of the matter by asking his supporters to vote for his opponent in the special election which must, under the law, be held. There is nothing apparently to bar the Doctor from such action, although he is stopped from withdrawing from the contest in any other way than that chosen.

In the judgment of The News Dr. Dwight is to be commended on the position he has taken. By his action the election of the Tuckett ticket is virtually made unanimous and the winners are handed the job on a basis of one hundred per cent strength.

The only unfortunate feature of the case lies in the fact that there is no way to eliminate the forthcoming election. What Twin Falls needs now is a chance to forget elections and go to work.

A FAR-REACHING INDUSTRY

Stand a row of domino blocks up and just far enough apart so that when one falls it will knock down the one next to it, and you have a fair picture of the relation which our industries bear to each other. A cessation of work or an increased activity in one will affect practically all others, and some of them very directly.

The average motorist will see little relation between the motor car and the glass industries. He will be surprised to learn that nearly a third of this country's production of plate glass is used in the making of motor cars. He thinks of his car as being made mostly of sheet metal and steel, and still twenty-two per cent of this country's entire aluminum output goes into motor cars and trucks.

But it is when we consider an industry far removed from the automobile factory that the greatest surprise awaits us. Who would have predicted that the automobile would make possible an advance in education? On the surface these two things have little in common. And still the tremendous growth of consolidated schools in the country is made possible only through a more extensive use of the motor car.

Motor vehicles in Oklahoma transport to the consolidated schools of the state daily 19,000 children. North Carolina in this way takes care of 14,000 boys and girls for whom otherwise the education supplied by a more thoroughly equipped consolidated school would be impossible. Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Connecticut and other states have found the motor car indispensable to the maintenance of consolidated schools.

The number of consolidated schools is growing rapidly in this country. This type of school now puts within the reach of children in the rural districts

British Aviator Must Die As Murderer

The appeal in London for a new trial for Captain Ronald True, convicted of the murder of Gertrude Yates in her London apartment, has been denied, and he must die on the gallows. True was a member of the British Royal Flying corps, and for a time during the war he was detailed to instruct American flying cadets at the army field at Houston, Texas.

weight champion, took the title in that division in the second night's fighting for the Far Western amateur championship. He defeated Claude Deal of the Olympic club of San Francisco, the "fighting person." Deal saved himself from a knockout by hanging on throughout the bout.

Jerry McManus of the Pittsburgh Athletic club, national flyweight champion, won his first match, defeating Ray Fee of the Olympic club. Fee put up a game fight but the champion knew too much for the Olympian. Fee was floored once.

FIRST ARREST IN BOMB PLOT

Sergeant at Fort Benning Taken in Custody for Alleged Complicity in Outrage

COLUMBUS, Ga., (AP) — The first arrest in connection with the recent bomb explosion at the home of Mayor Homer Dimon was made here Thursday when Sergeant J. G. Kimball, stationed at Fort Benning, was taken into custody.

He was held as an accessory before the fact to the bomb explosion, which under Georgia law is a capital offense. No one was injured in the explosion which followed warnings to the mayor that he must get rid of H. Gordon Hinkley, city manager. The mayor declined to do so but later Hinkley left for his former home in Altoona, Pa., saying he was not being given co-operation, which the mayor and commission denied.

JOHNNY WILSON IS READY

Middleweight Champion Anxious to Go Against Harry Greb in New York or Elsewhere

HOSTON, (AP) — Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, is ready and willing to meet Harry Greb in New York or anywhere else at any time if Greb will agree to make 155 pounds at the ringside, according to Marty Killian, Wilson's manager. This statement was in answer to the recent ruling of the New York boxing commission that it would declare the champion title forfeited if he did not fulfill his agreement to meet Greb. Killian contended that Wilson should not be forced to meet a light heavyweight.

"When Wilson won the title from Mike O'Dowd in 1920 he won it at 158 pounds. He will fight to retain his title at the same weight," he said.

JUST MISSES KNOCK-OUT

New York National Amateur Middleweight Champion Retains His Title

OAKLAND, (AP) — William Anthony of the Pastime Athletic club of New York, national amateur middleweight champion, retained his title

NEW YORK, (AP) — There will be no Benny Leonard-Jack Britton boxing contest for the world's welterweight championship June 23, Tex Rickard, promoter, announced Thursday.

The announcement came as a surprise, for it was understood that all preliminaries incident to the bout, including the signing of articles, had been completed. Rickard's statement places the blame for the calling off of the contest on the two champions, declaring they made exorbitant purse demands when they learned the bout was to be staged in the Valiant, New York, instead of at Boyle's Thirty Acres in New Jersey.

Calumet is made under such exacting conditions — packed in such a scientific manner, that its leavening strength and purity never vary. It retains its original strength for months after leaving the factories.

When you tip the can to get the last spoonful, you know your baking will turn out all right — the last spoonful is the same as the first. This uniform quality of is cause for its big demand. Housewives know they can depend upon the results obtained — that climatic conditions or temperature cannot deteriorate its positive leavening power.

When you buy baking powder remember these facts — that a uniform leavener means bakings that do not vary in quality — that Calumet is uniform.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a lb. when you want it.

FRIEND OF YANKS

American Has Won That Reputation in Cuba.

Colonel D'Estrampes Is Remembered With Gratitude by Many Foolish and Unfortunate Visitors.

If you ever go down to Havana, run into a rum den, tinkle a bit and wake up in jail — as many an American does — you'll want to meet Jose D'Estrampes. Since Rowan carried the message to Garcia there has never been on the whole island of Cuba a figure more picturesque, more romantic, more genuinely flavored with tropical adventure and romance, than this man D'Estrampes, avers a New York Sun writer.

Colonel D'Estrampes — for he was a colonel, right beside Roosevelt at San Juan — is not a native. Born in New Orleans, he there picked up his first experience of Spanish, the language that later facilitated his passage on board a frigate to Havana.

Id Havana, always a hotbed of politics, D'Estrampes, tall, handsome and courtly, was soon recognized as a friendly American and effective orator. It wasn't long before his chair was drawn up every night among those other chairs clustered around the small, marble-topped saloon tables over which Cubans were their bitter political campaigns. He was elected to congress and later to the senate and for his services in the war against the Spaniards was commissioned colonel.

All the influence which Col. Jose D'Estrampes has accumulated through these years he now employs to the benefit of his visiting countrymen. He can always exert a little "pull" to the down-and-out American.

If an American is locked up let him send a messenger to Col. Jose D'Estrampes and he'll get out of jail without any diplomatic red tape. If a girl comes to Cuba with some traveling vendette team, is stranded in Havana, let her communicate with the colonel. He'll arrange to house her temporarily with one of the many wealthy families who always welcome D'Estrampes and whenever he introduces.

"You're a sort of self-constituted minister to Cuba, aren't you, colonel?" he was asked. "Why do you take so much pains with all these unfortunate?"

"Now," drawled the colonel with a sun-browned smile and he waved his sun-scarred right hand out toward Key West, 90 miles across the water. "Now, I'm no diplomat. Folks up in Washington send your diplomats down here, your ministers and your consuls, you know. Now, I wouldn't be one of them. Too many bosses!"

"But you take as much trouble with Americans, colonel, as if you were a consul."

"More, I guess," he admitted and scratched his head. "But it ain't diplomacy. It's just a sort of friendly feeling for home folks — patriotism they call it during a war. I always kind of keep in mind and try to recollect that I used to be an American and it don't seem so long ago, either, that I was almost a bum, too."

The Home of the Soul. In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter. — Adv.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality — and DEMAND it. They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy — because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended — and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTE AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

ARMISTICE IS DECIDED UPON

Chinese Generals Agree to Truce — Wu Pei-Fu to Withdraw All Forces

TSEN TSIEN, (AP) — Chang Tso-Lin has accepted the terms of an armistice proffered by Wu Pei-Fu and will withdraw all his forces to Mukden within three days, according to a report received Thursday from Wu Pei-Fu's general headquarters at Peking.

Chang Tso-Lin also agrees to return the railroad cars he seized upon his retreat into Manchuria after his defeat near Fakuin at the hands of Wu. Chang Tso-Lin's son already has started to Chin Wangtao to discuss details of the armistice with the commander of Wu's Chihli troops. A report from the headquarters of the Chihli troops says the Fengtien troops of Chan Lin evacuated Shan Halkuan Thursday morning in their retreat northward.

CASH REGISTERS MUST PAY DUTY SENATE DECIDES

Sewing Machines Also Removed From the Free List as Final Chapter in Two Day Fight Over Tariff Items

WASHINGTON, (AP) — After a two-days' fight, the senate voted Thursday to remove sewing machines and cash registers from the tariff free list. Committee rates ranging from 25 per cent ad valorem to 40 per cent on these machines and 25 per cent on cash registers were approved.

At the same time the senate refused to accept the committee rate of 50 per cent ad valorem on printing presses, lawn mowers and machine tools and adopted, 28 to 27, an amendment by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, cutting that rate to 15 per cent.

This was the fourth time the committee had been overturned in the six weeks the tariff bill has been under consideration. Seven republicans joined with the solid democratic minority in supporting the Robinson amendment. They were Borah, Kellogg, Ladd, La Follette, Lenroot, Nelson and Norris.

Lenroot Sees Notice

Senator Lenroot, one of the leaders on the majority side, gave notice to the committee that he would not support it in recommendations to increase existing rates in cases where it was shown, as he said it had been in this instance, that imports were negligible and exports large.

He said he was not in favor of trying to "translate into figures" as this bill all of the possibilities of the future," adding that it was proposed to take care of unforeseen circumstances through the flexible tariff provisions in the measure.

Chairman Mcumber of the finance committee argued that the rates proposed were for revenue purposes. Senator Lenroot replied that if imports were small under the present duty of 15 per cent, they would be shut off entirely by doubling that rate with a result that the government would not receive any revenue.

Would Merely Raise Price.

Reopening the debate on the cash register amendment, Senator Underwood, democratic leader, said the proposition to put a tax on them was unreasonable and was far from the purpose of raising the prices to American consumers.

Calling attention that in the free list provision of the law, linotype machines were among the items exempted from cash registers, Senator Underwood said he could not understand why the committee left linotype machines on the free list since the amount of labor entering into their construction was much greater than that entering into the making of a cash register.

Cannot Challenge Press.

"I cannot understand why," he continued, "except that possibly the committee believed it had reached an adversary it was afraid of. They were not afraid to put sewing machines which the women use in the homes on the dutiable list, but they did not dare challenge the opposition of the great American press."

Supporting the duty on cash registers, Senator Townsend, republican of Michigan, declared this tax would increase prices to American consumers and argued that it was necessary to protect independent manufacturers in Saginaw, Mich., and St. Louis.

Rickenbacker Is Delayed by Many Minor Accidents

Famous Ace, Flying With Five Passengers, Strikes Bad Luck at Every Turn

CHICAGO, (AP) — Eddie Rickenbacker, who started from Detroit late Thursday afternoon in his airplane for Chicago, was forced to land shortly afterward at Ypsilanti, Mich., because of a leaking water line to his motor, according to dispatches received by the Aero Club of Illinois Thursday night. It was said that he did not expect to resume his journey until morning.

Rickenbacker was forced to land shortly after 8 o'clock p. m. because of darkness.

It was the climax to a day of troubles which began when lightning delayed the start from Detroit, injuring a mechanic and fusing parts of the machine. After starting for Chicago, a leaking water connection on the motor necessitated a forced landing at Ypsilanti, Mich. A fresh start was made but darkness intervened.

Rickenbacker is carrying a message from President Harding to the convention of Shriners in San Francisco. He is flying in an all-metal plane and is accompanied by five persons.

PUBLIC FULLY PROTECTED AS TO COAL PRICES

Secretary Hoover Declares Tendency Towards Runaway Market is Checked and the High Mark Past

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Agitation breaking out on the floor of the senate over the administration's efforts to keep bituminous coal prices from climbing during the strike was met Thursday night by Secretary Hoover with a statement asserting that "the essential thing about coal prices is that the runaway market has been stopped."

Except for "a small percentage of the present producers who have refused to co-operate," he contended, "the prices have receded from the level reached on May 15 and the public has been protected from a repetition of 1920 conditions."

Precipitated by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, who declared that the public patience was being exhausted by coal operators taking advantage of agreements reached with Mr. Hoover to boost their prices to the retailers, discussion of the fuel situation became general in the senate Thursday.

Senators suggested and opposed the practicability of government control of the mines as a solution of the conditions.

Extortion Charged

"Extortion is going on with apparent government approval," Senator Walsh declared, explaining however that he did not wish to criticize Mr. Hoover. The latter, however, he declared, had been "fooled" by the operators into approving a maximum fair price of $3.50 a ton for coal at the mines.

"Some of the senators have been misinformed," Mr. Hoover said, "by misleading statements from a small group of retail dealers who object strenuously to any attempt to restrain prices."

Mr. Hoover declared that the retailers had addressed the same figures to him as they had to the senators in describing the present coal situation and made public his reply to Homer D. Jones, Chicago, president of the National Retail Coal Merchants association, in which he took issue with the retailers position that an advance of $1.50 a ton for coal to the householders was warranted as a result of the recent negotiations with operators.

Assuming from the associations statement that it was opposed to any governmental policy controlling the production or distribution of coal, Mr. Hoover expressed the belief that the "association does not wish to co-operate in the prevention of profiteering in this time of emergency."

MYSTERIOUS NOTE MAY OR MAY NOT HELP SOLUTION

Blackmail Murder Case Further Complicated by Discovery of Garage Workman

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., (AP) — Discovery of a note on the floor of a machine taken to a garage to be washed served Thursday to lift the curtain of mystery surrounding the card party held in the New Rochelle home of Walter S. Ward, the night he shot and killed Clarence Feltus.

At the same time the Westchester county grand jury, resuming its investigation of the case, after a day's recess, went into conference with District Attorney Weeks over newspaper reports of its activities and the necessity for greater secrecy during the inquiry. When the jurors adjourned on Tuesday after examining five New Rochelle policemen, nothing could be learned regarding the nature of their testimony.

The note—the latest clue in the mystery which has been puzzling detectives since May 16—was turned over to the county authorities by Benjamin Kennedy, a Whiting Plains garage man. He said he found the letter, addressed to Mrs. Charles Dubois of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., in a car.

According to Kennedy the note read in part: "Frank was there when it happened and left at 10:30. The glass that they found in the driveway was not from Ward's car at all. It came from mine. Wait didn't arrive until 9:30 although Beryl was waiting."

Leaving for California soon via auto. Have room for three passengers. Please 34 of 814 for appointment.—adv.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF A. M. FLORY

Funeral Services for Pioneer Twin Falls Citizen Largely Attended

Neighbors and friends joined with bereaved relatives in paying a final tribute to the memory of a pioneer citizen of Twin Falls at funeral services Friday afternoon at the Church of the Brethren for Abraham M. Flory, who died Wednesday at his home here at the age of 79 years. Accommodations at the church were inadequate for the number of people who gathered to attend the services, which were conducted by the Rev. Charles W. Ronk. The casket was covered with a profusion of floral offerings. Pallbearers chosen from among intimate friends of the family were C. H. Hempleman, A. J. Marquis, J. W. Norris, I. F. Finney, E. A. Moon, C. H. Perry. Burial was in the Twin Falls cemetery.

Coming here in 1900 from Illinois, Mr. Flory became actively interested with his sons in a grocery business and erected the building in which it was conducted. The business now is owned by the Shaggs interests. Later Mr. Flory owned extensive orchard lands here which he operated until failing health caused his retirement from active work.

The sketch of Mr. Flory's life read by the minister at the funeral service contained the following:
Abraham M. Flory was born in Augusta county, Virginia, March 1, 1843, and died at his home in Twin Falls May 7, 1922, aged 79 years, two months and six days.

Active in Church Work

He was the oldest of a family of five children and had two brothers and three sisters. Mrs. Barbara Swink of North English, Iowa, and Mrs. Sarah Brower of Reedy, Calif., remain.

He was married to Susan Miller, March 27, 1870. To this union were born four children: Anna May, who died at the age of two years; John B., pastor of the Church of the Brethren at Polo, Ill.; Henry D., who died at the age of 25 years, and Elmer N. of Twin Falls.

He united with the Church of the Brethren in 1870 and lived true to his faith until his death. He served the church faithfully as a deacon during the greater part of his life. Father Flory was a patient sufferer for 15 years, being almost helpless for the last three years of his life, but with it all he never murmured nor complained of his lot. In the last days of his life he repeated his oft expressed desire to move to his permanent abiding place. After moving to Twin Falls in the summer of 1900, even under the hand of affliction, he never missed a service in this church for seven years. Those of his family, his relatives and friends of whom he leaves a large number will remember him as an example of patience and Christian fortitude to the end.

Police Effect Release of Dog From Basement

A dog's unsuccessful efforts to escape from the basement of the Woolworth store last night attracted considerable attention and several calls were turned in to the police station before an employee of the store with a key to the building was located by the officers and the dog's release effected. The animal was owned by J. W. Tritt, manager of the store, but its presence in the basement was unexplained so far as the police were concerned late last night.

Clouds Bring Heavy Rain Along Foothills With Sprinkle Here

Cloudy weather promised by the state's official forecaster Friday developed into rain clouds which left a sprinkle at Twin Falls and immediate vicinity while along the range of hills to the south and at Hollister and Murtaugh, the precipitation was considerable.

Temperature during the 24-hour period ending at 6 o'clock last evening was high at 77 degrees above zero and low at 48 above.

The weather man says that today will be fair and warmer.

BALL PLAYERS RESPOND TO CELEBRATORS' BID

Interesting Baseball Games Assured for Independence Day Here

Baseball teams of neighboring towns, in numbers sufficient to provide games for a three-days tournament, have responded to the invitation to participate in contests in connection with the Fourth of July celebration here. Navel B. Wight, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, said Friday. Not all of the teams which have responded can be accommodated, because the celebration will be of only one day's duration, although it will extend well into the night, and selection will be made of the teams whose appearance in contests here would culminate in well-developed rivalry and command widest interest.

Arrangements for a wild horse bucking contest in connection with the celebration are progressing satisfactorily, Mr. Wight said, as are arrangements for the event generally in the hands of the celebration committee.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

"Member of Federal Reserve System"

If all the printed matter used in Twin Falls county were purchased from Twin Falls county printing establishments, at least $2,500.00 a month would be distributed in wages over and above the amount now paid out.

Of course the time will never come when all printing used here will be produced here, principally for the reason that there are certain kinds of printing which require special machinery of a sort which could not be kept busy one day a week if all the printing of that particular kind in Southern Idaho were obtained.

This is the branch of the business known as the "specialty" lines. Always it must be purchased in the large eastern or western printing centers.

BUT many a local business man receives his local monthly statement or bill upon a printed form printed miles away from Idaho—many a blank of every-day use by public and private institutions was printed on either coast—many a letter written in Twin Falls extolling the virtues and advantages, business and otherwise, of Southern Idaho helped to pay printers' wages in Chicago or San Francisco instead of in Twin Falls.

And there isn't an ounce of advantage in it to the user anywhere along the line. It doesn't cost less, last longer or look better and it might just as well be printed at any one of half a dozen printing establishments in Twin Falls county.

PRINTED matter is not purchased more extensively at home because the average buyer never gives the matter of the actual printing a thought.

To be sure every man has the right to purchase his requirements in any market he sees fit to patronize and the only real argument in favor of home purchases is as to whether or not he can actually do as well here as elsewhere.

News printing is in competition with the world.

News printing asks no favors and no odds from anyone.

The quality of News work is comparable to that of any printing establishment in America.

And the price is never higher.

On this basis of understanding, and this basis alone, The News submits its claims to patronage.

FOLLIES SCORE A PALPABLE HIT WITH AUDIENCE

Generous Measure of Mirth, Music and Comedy is Crowded Into Elks' Home Talent Offering

More than eight hundred persons filling the Orpheum theater to its capacity, made up a highly appreciative audience for the initial performance of the Elks' Follies last night, giving evidence of a duplication tonight of the success scored at the first presentation.

Thirty distinct numbers of vande-ville, singing and dancing, presented in a setting of mirth, music and color entered into the program which was built about a slender thread of plot to substantiate the claim to being a musical comedy. There was a laugh in every line, and dull moments were conspicuously absent. The performance was moved along with precision and marked in a home talent production, and only about three hours time that sped swiftly, was occupied in its production.

Generous Both Ways
Performers responded with generosity in lavishing themselves upon the audience for their share of applause. Three numbers, perhaps, might be regarded as standing out in special relief, if it were possible to make distinctions in a program of such merit as a whole.

In a "Six Hopkins" role Florence Fitzwater brought down the house with her song "Don't". The appeal of childhood was an especially strong element in the song, "Goodly Shanghai," as given by Miss Thelma Berger, assisted by Walter Buchannan and four tiny tots, the Misses Janet Felt, Alline King, Josephine Kuhlmann, Emma Jean Levy.
One of the hits of the evening was scored by the "Old Timers" quart, composed of Melvin Batley, C. E.
Wright, Phil Goldwater and Bob Legan, with "some old favorites and some new and timely winners." Incidentally "Twin Falls folks discovered a comedian of talent in the person of Goldwater, whose performance bore resemblance of professional experience.

Handy With Fiddle.
"The Brother from 225," in the person of U. F. Nell, who played the fiddle with a bottle, an old shoe or most anything else that came handy, provided one of the diverting numbers, and Luck, the "magical man" with the assistance of Emil Strobeck, gave a really clever exhibition of right-of-hand.
"All Aboard," a vaudeville number with its setting at the Idaho Country station at Contact, was the medium for some clever comedy presented by Jimmy Wheeling, Arthur Beckwith, Ed Follman, porters, and the Misses McFate, Berne Hare, and Gail and Emil Strobeck as passengers.
"Ham and 1/2" afforded F. C. Ellis and Miss Maurine Sifter an avenue for putting over an entertaining act, and M. Sifter, J. Caldwell and D. Son, "singers and steppers," were pleasing in "Some of Us Boys" (1).

Composed for Occasion.
An interesting feature of the musical program was the song, "I'm Glad I'm an Elk," words and music of this production by Taylor O. Friedman. It was sung by Emory Bonett.

Other musical numbers were "Umi
Hum," by Maezer Rydahl; "Angel
Child," by R. L. Beach, the "Angi
Child" and chorus; "When Miami Dreams," by Luella Ellis; "My Love Dollars," by Arthur Beckwith; "Nice People," by Melvin Batley; "Toll Her at Twilight," by Edna Lewis; "The Obscured," by Edna Lewis; "Hello,
My Dearie," and "Play That Song of India Again," by Julia Taylor; "Good-Bye Girls," by Walter Buchannan and the Goodbye Girls, and a selected solo by Paul McKinley.

Combining the features of both song and dance Howard E. Sablin, under whose direction the Follies was produced, and Mrs. Sablin gave "Affix Sundown" and the "Spirit of Play Dance." Mrs. Sablin impersonating the spirit of play, Harriet Bakke in a Spanish dance and Miss Lona Yochim in a ballad classic, gave entirely pleasing performance.

With minor variations the musical program will be duplicated at tonight's performance.
But as to the story or plot. It was simple. In the opening act it was discovered that the plans for the Elks' home had disappeared. In the last act a visiting broker was accused of making away with the plans. He was brought to trial. The complaint was read and the prosecuting attorney entered upon an oration. Then the plans re-appeared.

Prominent People Impersonated.
Well-known Twin Falls people were impersonated by players in the presen-

STATE SHOULD KEEP OUT OF POWER DEVELOPMENT

Voting of Bonds for Industrial Development Described as Pure Socialism

BOISE, (P) — Efforts of states to vote huge bond issues for the development of "water power" and "hydroelectric" plants, are described as "pure socialism" at the convention of the Northwest Electric Light and Power association here Thursday by Tracey E. Bibbins, president of the Pacific States Electric company.

He called attention to the initiative measure before the people of California for a bond issue of $500,000 to develop "water power" and "hydroelectric" plants at that state. If this measure is passed Mr. Bibbins declared this entire amount will be placed in the hands of a "hand-picked few" who will have absolute control of its expenditure.

This endeavor among an element of the population of the coast state, the speaker averred, if successful, will set back the progress of California 10 years.

No Change for Show at Boise
"Frolie" Not To Be Repeated
at Capital but "Old Timers Four" May Go Along

Suggestion that the entire cast of 50 persons be taken to Boise to present the "Elks' Frolie" there in connection with the Elks' state convention beginning next Wednesday, was not presented at the regular meeting of the Elks' lodge last night.

"It was the general feeling among members," Paul R. Taber, exalted ruler, said last night, "that the lodge ought not to impose upon Boise's hospitality on this occasion to the extent of putting on a show for the purpose of making money for the Twin Falls lodge. If an individual or individuals were to undertake such an enterprise on their own responsibility that would be a different proposition."

"A committee of the lodge," Mr.
Taber said, "however, is considering the suggestion that the 'Old Timers Four,' composed of C. E. Wright,
Robert Logan, Merlin Batley and Phil
Goldwater, be taken along as a contribution on the part of the Twin Falls lodge to the entertainment program for the occasion."

That quietest one of the vande-ville numbers in the "Frolie" with marked success.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?
Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscle or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to anyone afflicted with rheumatism.—Adv.
