Chamber of Commerce Directors Will Try to Find Out Where and How Effective Help May Be Given Project

In an effort to determine where and how assistance may be lent toward construction of the railroad, south from Eggerson to Wells, Nevada, at the earliest possible date, the directors of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce at a regular monthly business session last night decided to invite directors of the Idaho-Nevada holding company and representatives of the Contact, Nevada, mining district, to meet with them in the near future for a review of the situation.

No statement was made by the chamber of commerce directors as to the anticipated results of the proposed meeting. The chamber of commerce in the past has lent its active assistance to the railroad proposition, taking a leading part in the campaign to raise $500,000 bonus to be paid to the Idaho Central Railroad company in the event of successful prosecution of its plans to build the road.

Invite Business Experts
With a view to deriving suggestions for the advancement of Twin Falls and its business interests, in particular, the directors authorized issuance of an invitation to George Blakelock Irving, noted speaker and writer, and a recognized authority on business revival and community problems, to address a meeting of business men here. Irving is in Chicago and making a trip to the Pacific coast.

Hear American Falls Report

Mayor-elect J. D. Tucker extended the olive branch to former service men of the American Legion when, as their guest at luncheon Tuesday at the Rogers hotel, he said:

"I expect that it would be impossible to handicap a group of citizens who voted against me as solidly as did the American Legion members, and I presume there is not a man here who cast his vote for me. That, however, is a matter of the past, and hereafter every citizen will stand on his merits regardless of his political belief. If there are any former service men seeking appointments under the new administration I can assure you that they will receive the same consideration as any other citizen is they submit written applications either to myself or to Homer C. Mills, chairman of our campaign committee."
Replying to the mayor-elect on behalf of the Legion men, A. Dorman Johnson pledged their support to the new administration in its efforts to build a greater and better Twin Falls.

Charge of illegal possession of liquor preferred against Mr. and Mrs. Herman Southard, 214 Fourth street north, following their arrest Tuesday afternoon after an exciting episode in their residence in which the woman produced a revolver from a dresser drawer and warned the officers that she would not be responsible for what she did if they should "hurt my Herman."

The Southards were arraigned before Kennedy Packard, justice of the peace, and within an hour after their arrest they were at liberty on bail in the sum of $500 each which was furnished by J. N. Jensen and Frank Magel.

The officers confiscated four gallons of moonshine discovered in the house after Southard had smashed a bottle in the bath tub, when he found the officers had surrounded the house. Completion of this work there will make possible immediate action toward the legislature for the enactment of information gathered by Mr. Dibble. Claims of active farming operations upon the time and attention of west end lawmakers be delayed the circulation of the petitions up to this time it is said, although sentiment there is generally in favor of the proposition.

SPORTSMEN ASK DEPUTY'S SCALP

Rod and Gun Men of Twin Falls District Make Hot Charges Against Laws

Charging that one of the deputy state game wardens, an individual named Laws with headquarters at Gooding, "has strutted about fishing waters wearing a big six-gun and a belt filled with cartridges, thus rendering self ridiculous and the first and game department stogy and ineffectual," the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, in resolution Tuesday, addressed to Governor Davis and Otto M. Jones, state fish and game warden, has called for the dismissal of Laws.

The resolutions, which were adopted at a meeting of the association here Tuesday, were forwarded last evening to the officials to whom they are addressed and were at the same time made public by E. R. Dooley, secretary of the association.

Here is the text of the resolutions:

Conduct Brings Reproach.

Whereas, it has come to the notice of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association that one of the deputy game wardens, named Laws, has been guilty of conduct which will bring reproach upon the fish and game department of the state; and

Whereas, said Deputy Laws, has strutted about fishing waters wearing a big six-gun and a belt filled with cartridges, thus rendering himself ridiculous and the fish and game department stogy and ineffectual; and

Whereas, said Deputy Laws has arrested old and poor men, women and children for minor infractions of the law; and

Whereas, said Deputy Laws, has observed people approaching the imaginary line between legal and illegal and instead of warning them of the line and their danger of violation of law, has silently watched them step over the line and then arrested them, in violation of all rules of decency and fair play; and

Collects Own Fine.

Whereas, said Deputy Laws, has persistently pursued a policy of collecting fines which he himself assessed, thus violating the constitution and laying the fish and game department open to the charge, even though unjust, of blackmail; and

Whereas, said Laws, has in certain cases violated the law in failure to seize the tackle of violators of the fish and game laws, even when he has arrested and illegally fined the persons caught; and

Whereas, said Laws has brought general reproach upon the fish and game department, and caused it to be held in public scorn and ridicule;

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association do hereby express its disapproval of the methods employed by this deputy, Laws, and be it further Resolved, That we do respectfully request that he be dismissed from the service; and be it further

Resolved that copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the state fish and game warden, at his office in Boise, Idaho, to his excellency, the governor of the state, to his honor, the attorney general of the state, and to Boise and Twin Falls newspapers.

BANKS CLOSE FOR THE DAY

Financial Institutions Will Observe Pioneer Day, Otherwise Business as Usual

Bankers apparently will have a monopoly on the observance here today of Idaho Pioneer Day, a legal holiday, so designated in the statute books of the state. County and municipal offices will be open as usual, the explanation for their omission of observance of the day being that "it is not a bona fide holiday and there seems to be no good reason why the custom should be started this year."

The history of the movement leading to the observance of June 15 as Idaho Pioneer Day, seems to have escaped the memories of most Twin Falls folks, although one man ventured the suggestion that "it sprang from a mad idea during the administration of Governor Gooding or Governor Haines—no wam sure which."

SALMON PROJECT WATER CASE SET FOR HEARING

Litigation Over Basis of Water Deliveries Enters New Stage in Court

Hearing in the case of R. Glavin and others against the Salmon River Canal company and Robert Rayl, involving the plaintiffs' claim for delivery of irrigation water on a basis of acreage rather than upon the basis of stock holdings determined upon by the canal company, has been set for Monday next in district court here before Judge T. Bailey Lee.

The litigation grows out of the disposition made by the canal company of its stock that had been issued prior to the reduction of the Salmon River project from 100,000 to 35,000 acres. The company proposes to appropriate this "surplus" stock among settlers of the retained area who enter into a settlement agreement, and to deliver available irrigation water on the basis of stock holdings. Rayl is alleged to be one of the settlers who has complied with terms of the settlement.

Testimony in the case was submitted at a previous hearing here before Judge Lee.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs are John W. Graham, Twin Falls, and A. A. Fernald, Boise. For the defendants, Twin Falls, and O. O. Hago, Boise, represent the canal company, and T. K. Hackman, Twin Falls, is counsel for Rayl.

Van Coten, of this city, on charges of blackmail, according to his statement Tuesday when he was arraigned before W. S. Mallory, justice of the peace, and waived preliminary hearing. Murphy was not represented by an attorney. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $4000 on a certificate of the sheriff that he could furnish the same, and was committed to the custody of the sheriff until bail was furnished.

Murphy's wife left Monday, authorities said, going to her parents at Roseworth, who is only 20 years of age and is the mother of a three months' old child.

Decision to this effect was reached at a meeting of the chamber of commerce celebration committee at luncheon Wednesday at the Rogers hotel, at which time details were worked out for a number of the proposed attractions for the event.

Two operators of wild horse bucking outfits are competing for the Fourth of July date here, and decision as between the two is to be made by the committee at a later date.

Day Full of Thrills

Plans for the celebration as now outlined provide for a full day of thrills and enjoyment.
In addition to the baseball games and bucking contests, there is to be held a field day for boys and girls at the city park, swimming contests at the lake, a roller skating rink, and a varied and amusing program of sports, including roller skating, bicycle and "wild cat" races on the pavement on Main avenue.

Events of the evening will open with a concert brought here over a distance of hundreds of miles through the air by means of the radio telephone.

Center of Entertainment

The intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street is to be the center for later attractions. At this point there is to be erected a structure that will serve as a place for the band furnishing music for the parade, and the fireworks exhibition provided for the occasion will be set off on the court house grounds.

But more generally probably will remain open during the forenoon, the committee has been advised.

SUES ON CONTRACT FOR BLUE LAKES PROPERTY

Shoosh Club, in Court, Calls on Mrs. Hortense Perrine to Deliver Deed

Suit against Hortense Perrine, Rolan J. McChesney, William Graham and Jennie M. Graham to compel delivery to the Blue Lakes Country club of a deed to the famous Blue Lakes ranch, comprising 1400 acres in specific performance of a contract made in 1914, was instituted in district court here Wednesday by Asher B. Wilson, J. R. Bethwell, W. O. Chapman and E. Dean Thomas, attorneys for the country club.
The complaint recites that the purchase price agreed upon was $50,000, of which $3000 was to be cash and $47,000 in bonds or notes bearing interest from March 23, 1922. Tender of the cash was made to Mrs. Perrine May 22, but Mrs. Perrine has refused to execute a deed as called for. Robert J. McChesney, William Graham and Jennie M. Graham are creditors of the Perrine interests, holding mortgages on a part of the Blue Lakes property.

LAND DEAL CONTROVERSY IS AIRED BEFORE COURT

Widow's Suit to Quiet Title is Restated on Grounds of Unjustifiable Attempt to Forfeit Contract

Suit brought by S. A. Foren, a widow, to quiet title to land described as the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 16-31-17, against claims of Richard Hanning and his successor in interest, Charles Summers, was tried Wednesday before Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here. Judgment in the case was taken under advisement by the court.
Evidence showed that Mrs. Foren in 1918 contracted to sell the land to Hanning who later disposed of his interests to Summers. The widow's suit to quiet title was restated on the grounds that the land comprises only 35 acres instead of 40 as represented, and that she failed to give legal notice of the declaration of forfeiture to the defendant. Defendants Hanning and Summers, damages in the sum of $1,085 were asked by the defendants.
M. C. Crowley of Sweeney and Sweeney appeared for Mrs. Foren, and Orr Chapman of Bothwell and Chapman for the defendants.

NEWSPAPERS ARE SINGLED OUT TO FURNISH TARGET

Metropolitan Press of Eastern Seaboard Called Spreaders of Insidious Propaganda Against Tariff

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Metropolitan newspapers, especially of the eastern seaboard, and importing houses and department stores of the country, were attacked in the senate Wednesday by Senator McCumber, republican, of North Dakota, who charged that they were spreading "insidious and poisonous propaganda" against the pending tariff bill to further their selfish interests and to maintain "extortionate" profits.

Assailing particularly New York, Boston and Philadelphia newspapers, the committee chairman said the republicans had decided to change their policy of keeping silent on the subject of profits and now read to meet the arguments especially of the so-called republican press who have so capriciously condemned this bill.

Senator McCumber's speech, nearly two hours in length, immediately precipitated replies from the democratic side and brought a resolution by Senator Walsh, Montana, calling upon the attorney general to advise the senate whether steps had been taken or were to be taken to establish whether a conspiracy existed among the interests mentioned by the North Dakota senator. The resolution asked that if such combination existed, prosecution of those suspected be instituted under the anti-trust law.

McCumber Objects

The Montana senator sought immediate action on the resolution but Mr. McCumber objected, saying he had heartily in favor of an investigation of the facts and incidents presented but did not believe the Walsh resolution was in accord with the situation laid before the senate. The resolution went over a day under senate rules.

Senator Underwood, Alabama, the democratic leader, characterized the senator's stand as "most remarkable and entirely new in tariff discussion." He declared that on the position taken by McCumber, the republican protectionist had left no longer any appeal to American manufacturers or labor.

The McCumber speech came at the end of a day of little progress on the tariff bill and just at the time when it is to be laid aside temporarily for consideration of the annual naval appropriation bill which is expected to be before the senate the remainder of the week.

Superstitious Islanders.

The inhabitants of the New Hebrides, composed of 12 large and 100 smaller islands, believe in witchcraft and all sorts of signs and omens, particularly of their departed ancestors and in gods which are thought to be incorporated in certain stones or animals. Every village has its dancing ground. Here the natives meet on moonlight nights and perform wild and fantastic antics to the booming of their deep drums, some of which, six feet or more in height and carved from the trunks of trees, are capable of making terrible noises.

BUSCH WANTS TO BEGIN BREWING

Man Who Helped to Make St. Louis Famous Indites Second Letter on Subject

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—The statement that A. D. Lasker, chairman of the United States shipping board, "misunderstood and therefore assailed" the motives of Adolphus Busch III and his father, August A. Busch, president of Anheuser Busch, Inc., in writing to President Harding regarding the sale of liquor aboard the steamship George Washington, a shipping board vessel, and the violation of the prohibition act, is embodied in a second letter of Adolphus Busch III, given to the Associated Press Wednesday in reply to the letter of Chairman Lasker, given out in Washington.

The letter, dated Wednesday from this city, says:

"I have read in today's St. Louis papers what purports to be a letter from you addressed to me from Washington, D. C., under date of yesterday, the 13th inst. I have no doubt the letter will reach me in due course, and I am taking it for granted the newspapers have correctly printed the letter. It refers to my letter of the 8th inst., addressed to the president, complaining of violation of the Volstead law by the United States shipping board, a department of the United States government.

Takes Truth for Granted.

"Inasmuch as you again resort to this argument that our passenger ships cannot do business unless they do the thing which we charge is being unlawfully done, I am bound to consider that you admit the truth of the charge.

"On our behalf I admit the correctness of your charge that we are selfish in that we seek to again have the lawful right to manufacture beer. If this is selfishness let it go at that. We, in that respect at least, have the shipping board as an example. The shipping board desires to maintain the value, as a going business, of the government's investment in merchant ships; while we are selfish in hoping that our investment of many millions may be saved through a restoration of the lawful right to make wholesome beer.

Motive Misunderstood.

"You have misunderstood, and therefore assailed our motive in writing the president of the 8th inst. as we did. Our motive is to remind the chief executive that the compulsory violation of the Volstead law on land and sea destroy the investment of law abiding manufacturers who might otherwise preserve their investment, and at the same time endeavor, as we are endeavoring, to have restored by an amendment to the law the right to make beer.

"Respecting your entirely irrelevant insinuation that we are German sympathizers, we remind you that all the facts and most of the falsehoods on that point were thoroughly dealt with and disposed of finally by the federal government during the war. See the files.

"You flatter me by your suggestion that I have as much power as to be able to effect, adversely, the American and promote the German merchant marine. Whether this is a compliment or an accusation, it's obvious absurdity must constitute its own answer.

Break Law for Profit.

"We seek no controversy with you or your board. We reiterate the charge that your board, without taking the trouble to get the law amended, violates for profit a law which we have always observed and which we are trying to have amended because it cannot be enforced. You suggest that we do not come to the bar of public opinion with clean hands. It has cost us millions of dollars to keep them clean, and we remind you that we have in this correspondence repeated our demand for a congressional investigation.

"The temperature in my office is well above 90, and the law prohibits me making here in America a glass of wholesome beer, such as my grandfather, Adolphus Busch, made famous over the world as an American product. Yet, as I write, I contemplate the shipping board approving vouchers for the disbursement of American government money from the treasury in payment for German and British beers and wines to be sold by our government at a profit. The prospect does not, I assure you, tend to lower the temperature."

NEW PARTY WILL TRY OLD SCHEME

Leaders of Movement in India to Attempt Reforms by Constitutional Methods

DELHI, India, (AP)—A new political party, calling itself "The National Party," has been organized in the Indian legislature to give embodiment to the ideas of the Indian moderates. Under the leadership of Sir P. B. Sivaswami Iyer, it is seeking to extend its organization into the provinces and districts.

The new party stands for "the attainment by constitutional methods of full responsible government in India as an integral part of the British empire." It is opposed on the one hand to those British interests which are seeking to prevent the attainment of self-government by India, and on the other hand to the aims of extremists. Indians who are seeking to make India an independent republic and who do not limit themselves to constitutional methods.

The immediate objective of the party is full autonomy in the provinces and the transfer to the legislature of the central government of the control of all subjects other than defense, political and foreign affairs, and ecclesiastical matters, subject to adequate safeguards for the protection of the vested rights of persons already in the service of the crown, and the fulfillment of the country's obligations.

Among other policies favored are the Indianization of the army by training Indians for service in all branches of the defensive force and for entering the commissioned ranks thereof, so that the Indian army may be officered by Indians; the amelioration of the conditions of labor, and the development of the resources of the country along the most suitable lines. Leaders of the new party hope to attain their ends by peaceful, orderly and constitutional methods, and without recourse to any methods likely to result in violence. The party is opposed to the policy of producing convulsions in the internal administration of the country for the purpose of securing any of its objects.

SALE OF LIQUOR TO CONTINUE ON FEDERAL SHIPS

Chairman Lasker of Shipping
Board Reiterates His Decision to Let Matters Rest Pending
Fresh Ruling

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sale of liquor on shipping board vessels at sea will be continued, Chairman Lasker reiterated Wednesday night, until a separate decision has been rendered holding such practice illegal under the prohibition laws, or until he "has been convinced of its illegality."

Mr. Lasker maintained throughout the day the position taken by him in his letter to Adolphus Busch, Jr., vice president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company, St. Louis, despite indication that it would be made the subject of attack in congress and by dry organizations.

Officials of the department of justice refused to comment on the situation but in some quarters attention was called to an opinion on file there which was rendered by former Acting Attorney General Frierson in 1920. Mr. Frierson held that the national prohibition act was effective upon ships flying the American flag wherever they might be.

According to high department officials, a decision of an attorney general retains the official interpretation of a law until it has been changed by court decision or by a superseding opinion. Furthermore, they added such opinions always stand unless request for a review comes from the same department or agency which originally requested the ruling.

Origin of Decision
Mr. Lasker's stand as to liquor sales on board American vessels was taken, he informed Mr. Busch, on the authority of an opinion rendered by General Counsel Schlesinger of the shipping board.

The chairman conferred Wednesday with Attorney General Clegg and while there gave him copies of the correspondence with the St. Louis brewer. The matter of liquor sales at sea was not the primary purpose of the conference, Mr. Lasker indicated, but it was brought up incidentally.

Refusing to discuss his talk with Mr. Clegg, Chairman Lasker declared he would not until the department had a new opinion, being entirely satisfied with that rendered by Mr. Schlesinger. He added that he would not answer further letters on the subject of liquor sales.

Official Action Unlikely

While there was no indication on Wednesday night that there would be any move by an executive department in the matter, at the capital the Busch-Lasker correspondence provoked considerable discussion among prohibitionists coming as it did, on the heels of the attack Tuesday on the board by Representative Gallivan, democrat, Massachusetts, for permitting the sale of liquor on American ships.
Neither the Gallivan speech nor publication of the Busch correspondence gave legislative leaders their first knowledge of liquor selling at sea, however. During recent months many of them have received wire lists from American vessels mailed in all parts of the world, with facious comments.

Arizona's Petrified Forest.

The petrified forest of Arizona is really a series of petrified forests. There are four of these forests included in a government reservation called Petrified Forest National monument, created by presidential proclamation in 1906. The name "forest" is not strictly appropriate, for the petrified tree trunks are all prostrate and are broken into sections. The logs are the remains of giant trees that grew in Triassic time, the age of reptiles. Some of the tree trunks are six feet in diameter and more than a hundred feet in length. In the first forest there is a fine trunk that forms a natural bridge over a small ravine, the water having first washed away the overlying clay and sand and then, following a crevice, worked out the channel underneath. The length of this log is 120 feet, and the diameter four feet at the butt and one and one-half feet at the top. These facts have been given out by the United States geological survey.

"THE MAN FROM HOME"

A Rhymed Review
By Albert Deane

With a heart full of woe
Vowing love to a trusted young friend
And for Europe she sailed
With her plans big, but veiled
And with millions of dollars to spend
A few years sped by
In which love seemed to die
And crazy for a "title" was born;
Impelled by her hints
An Italian young prince
Vowed he'd love her to Judgment Day
She knew not his name
Knew but only his name
But soon was embraced in his plots
While intrigues daily swirled
Till they left her brain whirled
And black murder grew out of his
She then did she send
To her one real true friend,
To bring her back safely a note;
And the man from back home
Travelled over the foam
—Now guess if you can what she wrote.

HARDING GIVEN WARM GREETING

Executive Enthusiastically Received Upon Dedication of National Memorial

BALTIMORE, (AP)—A national memorial to Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star Spangled Banner," was dedicated by President Harding Wednesday on the site of Fort Mifflin, where in 1814, hung the flag to which the anthem was written during an attack by a British fleet. Referring to the inspiring words and their prayer that victory ever may be justified when liberty is imperilled, the president declared that "to give ringing voice" to such an inspiration "was one of the greatest services which any man could do for the young republic."

Lowering skies and occasional rain greeted the presidential party as it arrived by automobile from Washington, but did not dampen the enthusiasm of the greeting by the people who lined the route of a pageant of 100,000 which preceded the unveiling and which the president rode. Thousands of men and women in uniform and children sang and waved flags in Latin music greeting.

President's Speech

President Harding spoke as follows: "My fellow Americans: The shrines of American patriotism not only reflect the quality of its greatness, they are ever ready to inspire. We are assembled today to rededicate one of these sacred shrines. We are met to commemorate a historic victory in arms, when the young republic was first established on its national rights against an armed foe. And we are met to commemorate a very unique achievement in the literature of national inspiration. Here the patriotic song of the early republic crushed one of the most ambitious invasions ever aimed against our nation. Here during the hour of combat was born the swelling anthem of American nationalism.

"It is wholly fitting that flag day should be chosen for this commemoration and rededication, because our hymn of patriotism is an apostrophe to the flag we love. Yea, it is apostrophe and invocation as well, born of a patriotic and poetic soul in the travail of a sublimely heroic night.

In Living Truth

"Some one has said in substance: 'Let me write the songs of a people and I can not make them false.' That quotation presents one of the living truths in every land, under every sky, about appeal of poetry and song to the finer sense of man. The truth is completely demonstrated in the appeal which The Star Spangled Banner made to the American people from the day it came from the pen of its author and poet. I think it fair to say that we have come here not so much to pay tribute to the genius which caught the inspiration of a vital moment and wrote the song that has become the song of the ages, but rather more to memorialize the patriotic service of the author on his overlasting contribution to the soul uplift and to the nation of his countrymen, who live after him.

Was Great Patriot

"Francis Scott Key, though he produced some splendid lyrics which are less familiar than his 'Star Spangled Banner,' was less, but he was more than a great poet. He was a possessor of patriotism which is not a great poet's patriotism, but a supreme moment could make a man not a great poet, but a great patriot, and so a modest genius was raised in one flaming hour to place among the immortals. That the song became instantly popular and that it was adopted as the anthem of militant Americanism, testifies that already, more than a century ago, the conviction of a great nation, and a great poet, had taken hold upon the American people. To give ringing voice to such a conviction, to such an aspiration was one of the greatest services which any man could do for the young republic. That was the service of Francis Scott Key.

Aids to National Spirit

"To one who has a bent for such oddities, there will be found much of absorbing interest in the study of those songs of patriotism which at different times have enjoyed popularity. The civil war brought a generous contribution of songs, good, bad and indifferent, but all adding to the national spirit. It was the time when millions of tongues, sung in every assembly; yet one will have difficulty finding any body of the present generation who is familiar with more than a line or two from any of them. I must, of course, except 'Dixie,' which in the years since Appomattox, has been claimed like every good song that the South possessed as part of the common heritage of the entire people.

Adds Luster to Flag

In ending his address, the president said: "An American citizenship of the high and simple faith of Francis Scott Key, firm for defense and no less devoted in meeting the problems of peace will add to the luster of the banner he so proudly acclaimed. Every glittering star is fixed, every word of the song is the more impressive for its bearing, every passion for country is refixed by its unfolding. A ship of mercy, a vessel of war, in ships of mercy, or at the memorials of peace, in rejoicing procession or flying from the staff over the simple temples of the shouting youth of America, it pleases where it pleases, the eye and the heart and the soul, until we sing in all confidence with the poet-patriot.

"The Star Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave, over the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Are These America's Twelve Greatest Women?

Social Notes

Members of the Rotary club, were astonished to be greeted by their wives when they assembled at Tom's cafe on Wednesday for their regular weekly luncheon. The tables were decorated in honor of Flag day with small silk flags, in groups of three, placed at intervals down the center of the tables, and with red and white flowers were used as decorations. Placed at each cover was a tiny flag to be worn as a favor. During luncheon the patriotic songs were played, the entire company joining in the singing, which was led by Rotarian C. E. Booth. After luncheon Professor M. C. Mitchell gave a brief history of the flag. Rotarian Chap Hodgson, of Birmingham, Ala., who is a guest at the L. L. Breckenridge home, gave a short talk. Barry Dillible of American Falls, who was the guest of the club, spoke of the necessity of getting the required number of signatures in this section for the projected American Falls dam. The whole affair was informal and most enjoyable, and there was a large attendance.

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 386.

Mrs. Ernest White was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the M. C. B. club at her home on Eighth avenue east. The guests of the club, spoke of the necessity of getting the required number of signatures in this section for the projected American Falls dam. The whole affair was informal and most enjoyable, and there was a large attendance.

The Wednesday Bridge club met this week with Mrs. E. B. Williams. Mrs. W. H. Greiner was first prize and Mrs. J. G. Thorpe received the consolation. Ten members were present.

The Tatapocheon Camp Fire circle met Tuesday morning with Donna Wynne. The regular order of business was transacted, and it was decided to hold a cooked food sale Saturday at Alvord & Mott's grocery store. A social hour followed. About 15 members were in attendance.

Counting Mouse Hairs. Determining how many hairs there are on a mouse is the task that R. H. Buehler, graduate student of the University of California, has laid out for himself. He smoothes out a piece of dried mouse skin and under a microscope counts the number of hairs. Whether there are hereditary changes in mice hair is being studied. A mouse has two kinds of hair, not including the whiskers.

The Home of the Soul. In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach. Most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.—Adv.

It was evening, and several callers were chatting in the parlor, when a patter of little feet was heard at the head of the stairs. Mrs. K. raised her hand for silence. "Hush," the children are going to deliver their good-night message," she said softly. "It always gives me a feeling of reverence to hear them. They are so much nearer the Creator than we are, and they love the love that is in their little hearts never so fully as when the dark has come. Listen!"

There was a moment of tense silence. Then "Mamma," came the message in a shrill whisper, "Willie found a bed-bug!"

Why Suffer from Rheumatism? Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscle, or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to anyone afflicted with rheumatism.—Adv.

Gladstone to His Son.

With respect to philosophy, I do not know what may be best according to modern fashions at Oxford, nor do I know what number of books you should take up. But, as far as the value of the books in themselves and for discipline of the mind are concerned, I should recommend you as three books Aristotle "Ethics" of "Politics," and Butler's "Analogy." You should also read and know Butler's sermons. I should think you ought now to begin the "Analogy," or the "Politics," if not both. I would read little at a time, making sure that you thoroughly understand and possess everything as you go along—not that the two are the same, for the "Politics" will call more upon memory, the "Analogy" upon thought.—Gladstone to his son at Oxford.

Snow is Radio-Active.

Constantin and Neer have published a resume of the results obtained by them in a study of the radioactivity of snow which fell at Boulogne last winter. It has been known since 1904 that new-fallen snow is radio-active, but the subject has not received any very great amount of attention. In this case the investigators announce the following conclusions: New-fallen snow quickly gathered after its descent to the earth is highly radio-active; radio-activity disappears almost entirely after the lapse of two hours; snow that has fallen on a hill appears to retain its radio-activity a little longer than that which has come to rest upon the roofs of buildings. These results confirm in a general way those obtained previously by Kauffmann, who, nevertheless, found snow which retained radio-active 100 hours after its fall.

Beauty and Power of Sincerity.

Finally, let us remember that the great secret of clear expression is sincerity. If your deepest desire is to speak the truth, your utterance will have the beauty and the power which belong to sincere speech. Say the thing that you know, the thing that you heartily believe, and say nothing else. Let all your discipline in speaking or writing be a discipline in truth telling. Don't talk against conviction or without conviction. Don't amuse or try to trick us if you cannot make a strong argument for a false position. Don't talk for effect. Don't talk for popularity. Don't talk for victory. Speak the thing that you have found to be true, in your own experience, or the thing which, with the best light you can get, you believe to be true.—"Live and Learn," Washington Gladden.

Four Rivers Close Together.

A British explorer, Capt. F. Kingdon Ward, tells in an English magazine about a remarkable belt of country between China and Tibet, where within a distance of 100 miles four of the big rivers of Asia flow close to and parallel to one another. These rivers, the Irrawaddy, the Salween, the Mekong and the Yangtze, he says, flow in gorges two and a quarter miles deep, in one place only about fifteen miles apart. The gorges are separated by snow-capped rock walls rising for twenty-one thousand feet above sea level.

These vast canyons may, it would seem, prove, when fully explored, to be worthy rivals of the Grand canyon, of the Colorado.—The Outlook.

He hated having his photograph taken, but his wife, indirectly, had forced him to undergo the much dreaded ordeal. When she saw the photograph she cried out in horror: "Oh, Gosh, you have only one button on your coat!"

"Thank heavens," replied friend husband, "you've noticed it at last. That's why I had the photograph taken."

Eleventh Cavalry Goes Down to Defeat — Rain and Wet Field Hamper Ponies

BOISE, (AP)—Boise's polo team won 11 to 7 from the Eleventh Cavalry, of the Monterey, Calif., here Wednesday in the semi-finals for the North-western polo championship. Rain and a wet field hampered the ponies although the two teams exhibited more fight and close contesting than in any of the foregoing matches of the North-western and Ninth corps area series.

Mud and a torn up dirt field made long shots impossible today and the ball proceeded in a series of short passes. Buck stroking by both quartets was a feature.

Thursday's match is a specially scheduled competition between the independent Freebooters, a pick-up team from all teams and an all-Bik quartet, in honor of the state convention of the Elks' order.

The Milwaukee speedboat made the four laps of the two and one-half mile course in 13 minutes and 5 seconds. The race was the feature of the National Power Boat Regatta held here Wednesday.

BRAWLEY PLAN TO AID SOLDIER IS BIG SUCCESS

California High School Works
Out Scheme to Help Ex-
Service Men with Assistance of Federal Government

DRAWLEY, Calif., (AP)—The rehabilitation of disabled ex-service men under a trainee system worked out by the authorities of the "Brawley plan," is a success according to a recent report made by a special committee appointed by government officials to make an investigation of the work being done here.

The committee found a group of 57 ex-soldiers and 1100 ex-servicemen, a group of 11 of them were or less disabled during the recent war. A majority of them are married, and each has a ranch of his own, ranging in size from five to forty acres. They are looking forward to the day when the indebtedness will be paid off and deeds obtained to their property.

Make Land Purchase Easy
While high schools in many parts of the country have entered into contracts with the government for the rehabilitation of disabled ex-service men, the Brawley plan is attracting special notice. Under it a trainee suffering from slight disability is given the opportunity of purchasing land on long time payments with interest as low as three per cent. He selects his own tract, being given such assistance as desired, and for his protection the terms of payment and interest rate are passed upon by a committee of local business men.

The Brawley high school employs four instructors, each, an specialist in some particular branch of agriculture. These instructors devote all of their time to the trainees in actual work on their ranches, teaching them the latest methods of farming. The government allows each trainee $100 a year for the purchase of farm implements. In several instances these funds have been combined by trainees so that complete sets of farming equipment are available to those who have contributed to the purchase.

Government Pays Monthly
All of the trainees now working under the Brawley plan draw regular monthly allowances from the government. These are handled through a local bank which makes every trainee to keep his expenses within a scientific prepared budget.

Referring to the financial success of the Brawley plan from the standpoint of the trainees the committee cited the experience of one ex-serviceman who was among the first to avail himself of the opportunity offered by the plan. With the assistance of the school experts this trainee planted his acreage to lettuce. The returns from the crop this year were sufficient to pay off all indebtedness, and the newly-made farmer is planning the erection of a $6,000 home.

DEAN IDDINGS HONORED BY COLORADO COLLEGE

Receives Honorary Degree of Master of Science From His Alma Mater

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW (Special to The News)—Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture has received the honorary degree of master of science from Colorado agricultural college in recognition of the service he is rendering to the agricultural interests of the country. An announcement to this effect was made from the office of President A. H. Upham of the University of Colorado. Dean Iddings is a graduate of Colorado agricultural college. Notice of the honor conferred upon him came to Dean Iddings in a telegram from President Charles A. Ledy of the Colorado institution, saying: "Your alma mater confers the master's degree (honorary) in recognition of distinguished service you are rendering. Congratulations and best wishes."

Dean Iddings joined the staff of the Idaho agricultural college in 1910. The school has made noteworthy growth under his administration.

Bad blood between Biggs and Jiggs in the mountain section of northeast Pennsylvania came again when Biggs put up a fence which blocked an old cowpath and Jiggs' cattle were called upon to detour. Jiggs tore the fence down. Biggs put it up again; then Jiggs demolished it once more. Biggs went to an attorney and asked what he could do. The lawyer said: "I am trespasser. I can sue him for you. The cost will be about $10." Biggs produced a greasy wallet and $20 in currency and said: "I want you to law that sucker. I want him laved a good $20 worth. As soon as you get the case started call him a blankety-blank!" this volley included about every banned epithet in the English language, any of which would have meant contempt proceedings by the court. "After that," said Jiggs, "begin to warm up gradual and leave Jiggs know that when I law a man I law him proper."

Martial Law Is Proclaimed Over Utah Coal Field

Battery and Cavalry Troops
Dispatched from Salt Lake
After Word of Killing

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—The killing of a mine guard and the wounding of a mine official by men who shot at a train Wednesday near Castle Gate in the coal strike area of Utah, resulted in the denouement Wednesday night of three units of the Utah National guard to the scene and the issuance of a proclamation by Governor Mabee of martial law in the district.

Two hundred gardenmen comprised in a battery and two cavalry troops Thursday morning were dispatched to the coal strike area to maintain the law and order in the vicinity of Cameron, Holper, Seftield, the scene of the first disturbance several weeks ago. Winter Quarters, Castle Gate, Keulworth and in the Spring Canyon region. Maj. Elmer Johnson will be in command and under the governor's proclamation will have the authority to close all mines in the district if necessary for the restoration of law and order.

A. P. Webb, a mine guard, was killed. General Manager H. E. Lewis of the Standard Fuel company was shot in the leg, and one of their alleged assailants had an arm almost shot off when men said to have been striking miners ambushed a train bearing non-union miners at Standardville.

Second Attempt at Mob Violence Nipped by Police

Alleged Slayer of Miss Alice Mallett Again Escapes from Enraged Citizens

LANSING, Mich., (AP)—A second attempt by a number of Jackson citizens to seize George Stramb, alleged slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, a Jackson welfare worker, was frustrated here Wednesday night by state anti-loitering police. A score of automobiles left Jackson about 11 o'clock Wednesday night for Mason, carrying men and some women, who declared their intention was to seize Stramb, who is alleged to have confessed the slaying of Miss Alice Mallett last Thursday night. The group was generally believed at Jackson Stramb was in the Ingham county jail at Mason instead of Lansing.

NEW TELEGRAM IS INTRODUCED

Evidence in Obenchain Trial
Goes to Show Intimacy of Defendant and Burch

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A newly discovered telegram was read into evidence Wednesday in the second trial of Mrs. Madeline Obenchain for the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy. It was sent by testimony by Mrs. Obenchain from Los Angeles June 6, 1921, to Arthur C. Burch, co-defendant in the case, at Chicago. It read as follows:

"Please send following wire for me to J. Belmont Kennedy, 2855 Francis avenue: 'Arrived in Chicago this a. m. Good-bye forever.' received your wire and feeling better. Do this at once for me."

The message to Kennedy was sent by Burch and introduced in evidence in the previous trial of Burch and Mrs. Obenchain. The latter, on the stand in her first trial, said she had Burch send the message so Kennedy's parents would not realize she was in Los Angeles. Prosecution attorneys said they had been unable to trace the first telegram in time for presentation in other trials.

There is So Much to Be Done.
No way has been found for making heroism easy, even for the scholar. Labor, iron labor, is for him. The world was created as an auditor for the atoms of which it is made and opportunities. Head the importance of Bentley, of Gibbon, of Cuvier, Geoffrey Saint-Hilaire, Laplace. "He can't tell terribly," said Cecil of Sir Walter Raleigh. These few words sting a little and lash us when we are frivolous. Let us get out of the way of their blows by making them true to ourselves. There is so much to be done that we ought to begin quickly to beat ourselves. This day-labor of ours, we confess, has hitherto been a little bit of a waste. ## MEETS TRAGIC DEATH IN FIGHT WITH BEAR

Gruesome Find Near Yellowstone Park Discloses
Story of Trapper's Terrible Struggle with Huge Grizzly — Victim's Rifle Smashed to Pieces by Enraged Brute

TRAPPED ANIMAL BREAKS LOOSE AND WREAKS AWFUL VENGEANCE

LIVINGSTON, Mont., (AP)—With one arm and a leg partially chewed off and the head and torso clawed and lacerated, the body of Joseph Duret, aged 60, was found early Wednesday on Slough creek in Park county, near Yellowstone national park. Wednesday night park rangers were on the track of a huge grizzly bear, which killed Duret after breaking loose from a trap set by the grizzly's victim.

Duret, a pioneer of Park county, is survived by his wife, Jennie, who searched the hills near the Duret home all day Tuesday in an effort to locate her husband, who has been missing since Monday noon.

Terrible Battle Evident
A terrific battle took place between Duret and the immense bear early on Monday afternoon, according to Horace M. Albright, superintendent of Yellowstone park, who investigated Duret's death. Pieces of hair and flesh, remnants of the bear trap, and a rifle, clawed and chewed, were found at the place where Duret originally set the trap, which was carried off by the vicious animal.

Duret left his ranch home early Monday morning and returned at noon, telling Mrs. Duret that he had trapped a large grizzly. According to park rangers, who found his body, Duret fired one shot at the big bear, which then broke the trap loose from a chain and jumped onto the hunter.

Crawls Mile and a Half
The injured man was able to crawl a distance of a mile and a half toward his home from the spot where he was engaged in a hand to hand fight with the grizzly.

Superintendent Albright said Wednesday night that the tracks of the grizzly were the largest ever seen by park rangers. So badly mutilated was Duret's body when found that it was necessary to bury the remains near the spot where he met his death.

According to H. J. Miller, Livingston attorney, who handled legal affairs for the dead man, Duret was a member of a prominent French family. Duret met his death at a spot in Yellowstone park made famous 15 years ago by Theodore Roosevelt. Roosevelt fished along streams in the park situated within a short distance of the spot where Duret and the bear battled to the death.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Opposing motion of the California Cooperative Groceries to vacate or modify the packers' consent decree of 1920 divorcing the packing business from the so-called unallied businesses, counsel for O'Leary and Company, and Morris and Company, filed "briefs" before Justice Bailey in the District of Columbia supreme court Wednesday declaring they did not desire to return to the whole sale grocery business. After a brief hearing, Justice Bailey took the California canneries petition under advisement and ordered final briefs filed. Opposition to any change in the decree also was voiced by counsel for the American Wholesale Grocers' association and the National Wholesale Grocers' association.

BUILT BETTER than Cars that Cost More-

A CAREFUL analysis of the construction and complete equipment of the Light-Six will convince you that it has no duplicate in value in the light car class.

For instance, the machining of the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces is a manufacturing practice that is found only on costlier cars.

This particular operation is mainly responsible for the fine balance of the Light-Six motor and its remarkable freedom from vibration at all speeds. It also has an important bearing on the wearing quality of the car and on its long-lived dependable service.

The exceptional values in the Light-Six are possible because practically every part that goes into the car is manufactured complete in the most modern plant in the world. Parts-makers' profits are practically eliminated. Important savings through better methods and bigger volume permit greater value to the buyer.

From the standpoint of shrewd investment you should find out why the Light-Six offers you so much more for your money in performance, service and economy.

TRAINS STALLED BY HEAVY FLOOD NEAR BILLINGS

Fifty Mile-Area in Montana Is Subject to Rain, Hail and Electrical Disturbance; Road
Damage is Considerable

BILLINGS, Mont., (AP)—Two passenger train Wednesday were stalled by washouts and considerable damage done within a radius of 50 miles of Billings as a result of a torrential rain, hail and electrical storms which swept this district late Wednesday afternoon.

According to reports received here late Wednesday night, the storm centered about 20 miles west of Billings and although considerable hail is said to have fallen, farmers declare damage to crops is not as severe as at first anticipated. The principal havoc wrought was to roads, many culverts having been washed out and trees leveled.

Little Chance to Move.

Northern Pacific limited train No. 1 due here from its last stop at midnight, is held at Waco, 50 miles east and Great Northern train No. 44, due at 5:30 p. m., is held at Bradwell, 20 miles west of Billings. Railroad officials declare there is slight chance of moving the trains before late Thursday.

WASHINGTON'S SELECTED FOR SHRINE CENTER

Nation's Capital Chosen as the Meeting Place for Convention of 1923—Weather Adds to
Gayety of San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Washington, D. C., was chosen Wednesday by the imperial council of the Order of the Myths Shrine for its next meeting place. The council also re-elected for trustees the Shrine's hospital children for crippled children. They were W. Freehand Kendrick of Philadelphia and Dr. Oscar M. Lundstrom of Helena, Mont.

A human river of color, even more barbaric than the flood of electricity, that by daylong flow through the streets of San Francisco Wednesday night, the Shriners went to the election of James S. McConville of Honolulu, as imperial patriarch of the order.

Scores of hands and Arab patrols, dressed in the bright head oriental turbans, that became the most familiar sight in downtown San Francisco yesterday, the last few days, briskly marched their way through banked masses of spectators.

Weather Well Nigh Perfect

The procession was a virtual duplicate of the opening parade Tuesday, but the clearest of California skies overhead, and the balmy breeze made all Tuesday's jokes about "heavy mist" and "unusually damp fog" merely a stale recollection.

Stout of the hands and patrols were out of town Wednesday while the imperial council went through part of its business, electing imperial officers and hearing committee reports. Stent of the hands and patrols were out of town Wednesday while the imperial council went through part of its business, electing imperial officers and hearing committee reports.

Old Officers Re-elected.
Conrad V. Dykman of Kismet temple, Brooklyn, N. Y., succeeded McConville as imperial patriarch. The two officers who have handled the business administration of the Shrine for many years were re-elected. They were William B. Brown of Syria temple, Williams, Pa., and Benjamin V. Rowell of Aleppo temple, Boston, imperial president and imperial recorder, respectively. Other imperial officers were advanced one grade.

Keeping One's Head Clear

Here's a very childish plan that works—a plan that keeps your head clear during any readjustment. Merely make up your mind that all the big functions are really to be enjoyed. Personally, I have turned my proxy over to the Alt-Wise—I haven't sensed enough to vote on these current issues anyhow. Get one thing clearly in mind, namely that nothing is happening by chance. Nothing taking place now is accidental. Somewhere there is a big scheme and a plan. Somebody comprehends all this and is working it out. Somewhere there is a head older than time, who knows his business. You have no idea how coming to this simple conclusion straightens everything out. Try it and feel your blood pressure go down.—Bomer McKee, in Forbes Magazine.

Why Horses Sleep Standing.

It is sometimes argued as a reason why horses sleep standing that they have an acute, instinctive fear of being injured. However, this argument is not conclusive. When turned out to pasture, horses are apt to spend more time lying down, but even at that they seldom spend more than an hour at night recumbent. That hour is generally taken at the right. It is not uncommon for a horse to express wonder at the quiet way many horses will stand still, practically motionless for hours in one position. Their weight is generally on three legs, while the fourth is resting. Few people realize how complete is the relaxation obtained by a horse when he is able to rest in a few hours of such repose. Stable men declare some horses have never slept, except on their feet, in their lives.

Valuable Word.

Pluck, one of the definitions of which is a word that in coming to mean has become a favorite child of the language. It was commonplace to begin with—pluck—a term used in stone cutting and photography and also as the heart, liver and lungs of an animal; as a verb to pull out feathers, to pull in, to pull out, as something. After a while the English college boys used it to signify the rejection of a candidate for a degree. Best of all, it came to mean courage, spirit, resolution. We could scarcely get along without the colloquial significance of the word. It is a pluck, while his strict understanding and application thereof has made Uncle Sam what he is today.—Ekechase.

WOMAN DOESN'T FEAR DEATH SENTENCE

Mrs. Cora Lee Vinson

MRS. CORA LOU VINSON, under sentence of death in Atlanta, Ga., declares she does not believe she will die on the gallows, adding: "They don't hang women, and they won't hang me." She testified he had a revolver and tried to shoot her, but that the pistol was hidden away by policemen after her arrest. Mrs. Vinson is wrong in believing women are not hanged in Georgia, for three white women have been hanged there though none has been put to death for twenty-five years.

July Leads in Bulleins.

The month in which the largest number of suicides occurs is July.

Valuable Talecloth.

Guests at a formal dinner once given by Mrs. Andrew Carnegie in New York were surprised when, after the last course, the latter passed a pouch to each and their hostess requested that every one write the name inside his plate, say the benediction. Afterward, explained Mrs. Carnegie, the cloth would be carefully removed and given to an embroiderer who would "do" the signature in outline stitch. Famous names were already embroidered at that place.

Thomas Edison, John D. Burroughs, Philip Gibbs. The cloth formed an interesting souvenir of guests who had broken bread at this famous hostess' table.

POLITICAL POT BEGINS TO SHOW SIGNS OF ACTIVITY

Applications for Nomination Papers Made By Representatives of Democratic and "Progressive" Parties Marks First Stir Here Toward Selection of County and Legislative Officers at Primary and General Elections; Time Growing Short

The first signs of activity in political circles here looking toward the selection of county and legislative officials at the primary elections, August 1 and the general election in November, was observed Wednesday when representatives of the Democratic party and of Idaho's new political organization known as the "Progressive" party applied at the office of the county recorder for nomination blanks for candidates in the primary elections.

The application on the part of the Democrats was made by W. B. Lawrence, chairman of the Democratic county central committee, and the request for the "Progressives" was made by O. C. Hall, formerly organizer for the Non-Partisan league in this district.

No applications for nomination papers had been made theretofore, and there was no indication in the political circles here as to who the candidates would be.

The fact that only 10 days remain for the filing of nominations of candidates to be voted upon at the primary elections was remarked in connection with these initial manifestations of political activity.

In the primary elections, each of the political organizations participating will choose its candidates for county offices, including state senator and representative, and precinct officers, pro-claim committee members and delegates to the county convention.

Offices To Be Filled

This year the following offices will be filled by the voters of this county from among candidates nominated for the several political parties at the primary elections; state senator; four representatives; two district judges; three county commissioners, auditor, recorder and ex-officio clerk of the district court; prosecuting attorney; sheriff; county treasurer; probate judge; county superintendent of public instruction; county assessor; coroner and surveyor.

Voters of each party in each precinct, at the primary elections, will elect delegates to the county convention and precinct committees.

Apportionment of delegates to the county conventions among the several precincts has been made as follows:

FUNDAMENTALIST GROUP IN APPARENT MAJORITY

Contest Between Two Wings in Northern Baptist Convention Waxes Warm

INDIANAPOLIS, (P)—Leaders of the fundamentalists groups in the Northern Baptist convention expressed the belief Wednesday night that they held the advantage in their contest with the moderates as the result of action at the opening session of the convention. At the instance of the fundamentalists the convention voted to send a committee to the fundamentalists to ratify by the whole convention. It was pointed out that this opened the way for removal of compromise views which might not be in accord with those of the fundamentalists who now claim a majority of the convention delegates.

The convention, which is the fifteenth in the church history, opened Wednesday with formal ceremonies. A plea for unity between the two groups was made by Mrs. Helen B. Montgomery of Rochester, N. Y. Montgomery urged that the church take part in the solution of three outstanding problems—international peace, furtherance of education, and industrial peace.
