

CHIEF OF POLICE WILL WALK BEAT UNDER NEW PLAN

Twin Falls City Commission Works Out Scheme for Organization of Force; Moral Conditions Called Bad

Under a plan for organization of the police department worked out at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night by the Twin Falls city commission which took effect Monday, Kennedy Packard, police magistrate, will serve during the daytime as desk sergeant at the police station, and Owen Shriver, chief of police, will preside over the police desk at night.

Chief of Police George M. Eckhart announced that under this arrangement W. H. Olson and the chief would serve as day patrolmen and J. E. Cress and William Kessler as night patrolmen.

The commission's action in this regard followed the police chief's statement that the "moral conditions, gambling, saloons and American rooming houses are running wide open," and that one patrolman on duty at night could not cope with the situation. He requested the appointment of "W. O. Griffin, previously selected by the commission for merchant's policeman, as a regular patrolman for the night shift."

Upon suggestion of J. E. Roberts, commissioner of public safety, action on the police chief's request was deferred and later in connection with discussion as to the retention of A. Dittell as watchman at the municipal building, he suggested the scheme for police department reorganization which was adopted. The commission voted to retain Dittell at a salary of $65 a month, the same salary being paid Shriver as custodian and janitor.

Takes Commendation of Roberts.

The commission took official commendation of the police chief's statement and the police department's organization. Being approved by the commission, the city engineer, when it approved Commissioner Roberts' nomination of E. V. Berg as city engineer, the commission decided to be determined later after conference with the appointee. The administration's position in this regard was expressed by Mayor C. D. Tucker with the statement that the city engineer would be expected to "work in conjunction with the Warren engineer and see that we get what's coming to us."

Filter Plant Force Retained.

Operations at the municipal filtration plant will be conducted by the force of three men employed there under the previous administration, the commission decided by its vote upon the motion of Commissioner S. S. All. "There have been handled the job successfully for the past two years," the commissioner said, adding that "a critical season for the waterworks department is at hand and it is important that their experience be retained." He indicated also the possibility of danger of an epidemic in the community if the plant fell into inefficient hands and warned that in such an event the blame would be placed by the people upon the shoulders of the administration.

Holds Experienced Employee.

The commission by its vote to increase salary also retained the services of H. S. Rayburn, who has served for four years as foreman of the waterworks and street department. Rayburn had been offered $100 a month, but a reduction of $50 from the salary paid him under the previous administration. He asked for $125. J. T. Krivaneck, superintendent of street and waterworks department, told the commissioners Rayburn was a more reliable assistant than he had at first realized, and that Rayburn devoted from 16 to 18 hours a day to his work. The commissioners voted unanimously to grant the higher salary. They voted also to fix the salary of the superintendent at $150 a month, taking into consideration the fact that he has been doing additional duties previously devolving upon the electrical inspector and the plumbing and sanitary inspector.

To Relieve Unemployment.

Recommendation of the street and water superintendent to meet a condition of unemployment which he reported, was approved by the commissioners.

This plan provides for the creation until the latest season of a payroll of about 30 names for the street and water department; the understanding being that those employees, with the exception of a few occupying administrative positions, shall take turns at working for the city. The superintendent told the commissioners that ap-

With assurance given Wednesday that Francisco Garcia had suffered relatively superficial injury when he was shot Tuesday afternoon in the Blue Light pool hall on upper Main avenue by a fellow countryman whom the authorities have determined, bears the name of Vidal Corona, the prosecuting attorney's office Wednesday filed complaint charging assault with a deadly weapon against Corona.

Police intercepted Corona's flight following the shooting and after he had concealed his gun in a bed in a Mexican rooming house. He has been held a prisoner in the county jail pending the outcome of Garcia's injuries. He dedicated to authorities Wednesday that he had no recollection of having shot a man.

Garcia, at the county general hospital, told Assistant Prosecuting Attorney C. A. North that trouble culminated in the shooting had been brewing between himself and Corona all day Tuesday. Several times they had come to blows, he said.

Authorities believe that both men had been drinking heavily during the day.

Corona was shot through both hips with a .45 calibre revolver. The wound bled profusely and it was feared that the bowels might have been perforated. Examination showed that he had suffered only a flesh wound.

For several years prior to 1915, the complaint says, the Johnsons owned and occupied one of the richest homes in Casey. Johnson's wealth at that time was estimated at over $100,000.

In 1915, according to the complaint, Johnson sold this home, having previously come to Idaho with his son and only child, Wayne Johnson, and provided a home for his wife in a "small cottage lacking in modern conveniences" where she lives "on the charity of an invalid sister, Johnson having contributed nothing to her support during the year 1922."

Invests Wife's Legacy.

The complaint says further that in the early years of their married life, Mrs. Johnson inherited several thousand dollars, that Johnson invested this money and that the netted value of the inheritance is more than $100,000.

RENEWS OUSTER ACTION AGAINST SCHOOL BOARD

Amended Complaints in Castleford Case Said to Meet the Court's Objection

Attempts to remove from office the members of the board of education of the Castleford independent school district were renewed Wednesday with the filing in district court here of amended complaints by H. C. Mills, as attorney for E. R. Hobbs, against William Berger, John H. Glanders, G. F. Thomas, George Clement and J. G. Hayden.

Ouster proceedings originally instituted by Hobbs against the board members failed when Judge T. Bailey Lee, in district court at Burley, ruled that the court was without jurisdiction in the case because the complaints filed did not contain charges that the acts complained of were committed by the board members during their present term of office. The basis for this ruling is said to have been removed by the amended complaints.

Alleged acts of the board members against which complaint is made include alleged failure to hold regular meetings, alleged neglect to make and file or publish certain reports as to the financial condition of the district; alleged failure to require a sufficient bond for the district treasurer, and alleged failure to give to the state department of public investment preference in the disposition of $60,000 worth of bonds voted by the district in April, 1921.

BRINGS SUIT ON LIEN AGAINST MILLER LANDS

Suit instituted by John R. Butler against the Miller-Twin Falls Land and Water company, to establish and enforce a lien against lands, rights and claims of the company, was heard Thursday where it remains only for the plaintiff's attorney to present their arguments Friday morning.

The property in question has been transferred since the suit was instituted to the defendant company. The lands and irrigation system are situated in the vicinity of Murtaugh and Milner.

The controversy arises out of conflicting interpretations of a contract under which Butler performed certain labor in construction of the irrigation system on the lands of the company. Butler was entitled to $18,800.04 and he has been paid $17,617.87, leaving a balance due him in the sum of $1,182.17.

ASSETS CLAIM TO CERTIFICATE FOR SOUTH LINE

Engineering Company Asks Interstate Commerce Commission to Cancel and Re-Issue Permit for New Road

Claim to the possession of a certificate of necessity and convenience is sued July 1, 1923, by the Interstate Commerce commission to the Idaho Central Railroad company for construction of a connecting line from Rogerson, Idaho, to Wells, Nevada, is asserted by the Idaho-Nevada California company, engineering contractors, of which Earl J. Ahern, Twin Falls, is president.

World Build Road.

This claim is set forth in an affidavit submitted July 3 to the interstate commerce commission and made public here today. In this affidavit the engineering company "prays that it may cause the cancellation of the certificate, and that it be granted permission to revert to its original undertaking, that of financing the Idaho-Nevada and Tidewater railroad, and that at the proper time present proof of its capacity to construct the said railroad between Rogerson, Idaho, and Wells, Nevada, and the said railroad now held by the Idaho Central Railroad company revoked and returned to said Idaho, Nevada and Tidewater railroad."

Claims Property Used.

The engineering company, the affidavit says, has demanded until this time taking legal action or in any way embarrassing Davis or the Idaho Central company in its financial correspondence because of difficulties confronting the company and the intense desire of Idaho and Nevada citizens for the road.

The affidavit charges further that since the certificate was issued to the Idaho Central company "has made no effort to commence surveys, or in any way create a public confidence that they would construct the road and operate it, or to employ an engineer to visit the scene of operation."

Charge Neglect.

The engineering company, the affidavit says, has demanded until this time taking legal action or in any way embarrassing Davis or the Idaho Central company in its financial correspondence because of difficulties confronting the company and the intense desire of Idaho and Nevada citizens for the road.

CLOTURE RULE IS DEFEATED TEMPORARILY

Senate Republican Leaders Fail in Efforts to Limit Debate on Tariff — Bitter Fight is Provoked

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The republican petition for cloture to shut off debate on the administration tariff bill was presented today Wednesday in the senate. It immediately provoked a bitter fight, which promised to consume much of the session Thursday. Under the rules the issue must come to a vote at noon on Friday.

There were 52 signatures to the petition, or 12 less than the two-thirds majority necessary to invoke the existing cloture rule, which would limit debate on the bill to one hour for each senator and preclude the offering of any additional amendments, even by the finance committee majority.

Although a number of senators are absent from Washington, which would cut down the number necessary for a two-thirds majority, some of those behind the cloture movement doubted that it would succeed. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, told the senate that if it did not, it would be a failure for the republicans to decide whether they would lay aside the tariff and fight for a majority cloture rule, or force the senate to resume night sessions as a means of speeding up a final vote on the tariff.

All But Eight Sign

All except eight of the sixty republicans in the senate signed the petition. Those eight were: LaFollette, Norris, Johnson, Moses, Borah, Brandegee, Crow and Weller. As soon as the petition was presented by Chairman McCumber of the finance committee, it brought a protest from Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democrat leader, who said the democrats had "courteously" assented to the committee's request that its amendments be considered first and that it was not fair for the majority to come in now and propose to take away from the minority their right to propose amendments.

The democratic leader said that every item in the bill was of interest to some business concern of the country; that practically all of the items were of interest to the consumers, and that the majority should propose some rule which would meet the situation and not merely a gag rule. "The idea of discussing 1,000 amendments in sixty minutes," he exclaimed, "Gentlemen on the other side had better suggest that we have no further debate."

Good Faith Questioned

Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, in a vigorous speech, raised the issue of good faith in the presentation of the petition.

"Every senator knows," he said, "that the motion just submitted cannot prevail. If the proponents of this rule believed it would be adopted they would not dare submit it. I raise directly the issue of good faith in the presentation of this motion at this time. It isn't fair to the senate; it isn't fair to this side of the chamber; it isn't fair to the people of the country when the most important portions of this bill are undisposed of, being considered, to attempt to shut off debate and prevent senators from offering amendments."

Senator Robinson charged that the purpose was to cut off complaints against the bill from the majority side.

Senator Lodge replied that the petition had been offered in "absolute good faith."

Not Beaten Yet

"If any senator doubts that it was offered in good faith, let him vote for it and see if he does not put it through," said the majority leader. "If they (the democrats) think this tariff is beaten, why don't they bring it to a vote? They know it is not beaten."

Senator Lodge declared there had been a "reckless waste" of the time of the senate and the country in the discussion of the bill and urged the democratic side to set a time to vote on the bill.

Senator Underwood responded that it was not possible to agree to a time to vote on a bill which still was being amended by the finance committee, as opponents could not know what amendments would be presented or whether portions now satisfactory would be changed later.

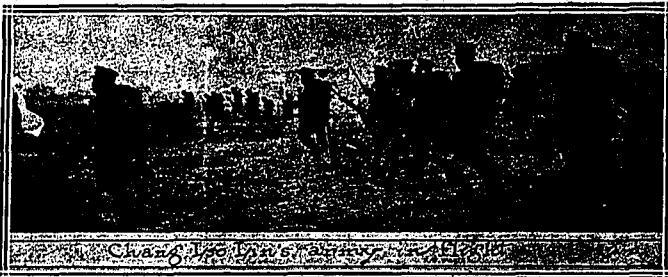

"You know you cannot go to the country and justify the passing of this bill under a gag rule," he declared, "and you had better not pass it that way and throw this mis-shapen thing into the face of the people."

INSURGENTS ARE FINALLY BEATEN BY FREE STATERS

Siege of Many Strongholds is Nearing End at Staggering Cost in Men and Property—De Valera Reported Missing

DUBLIN, (AP)—The siege of the strongholds of the insurgent Irish forces virtually was ended Wednesday night with the surrender of small groups of the men who had been fighting for the past week behind the barricades, and the capture of one of the principal leaders, Cathal Brugha, former minister of defense. But the success of the national cause has been purchased at the cost of blazing buildings and terrible destruction in O'Connell street, to say nothing of the loss of life and the many seriously wounded.

There still is no information as to the whereabouts of Eamon de Valera who apparently has escaped from the Free Staters' net.

In the late afternoon, when ten buildings, including three hotels were aflame the remainder of the irregulars, driven into the Granville hotel, with fire on all sides, still maintained a desperate resistance with automatics and rifles, but it was seen that they could not long delay the inevitable end.

Armored Cars Used

Still the battle raged, the irregulars firing fusillades from the windows of both the Gresham and the Granville, while the national riflemen replied vigorously from their positions opposite and from armored cars.

Shortly after 1 o'clock an armored car took up a position opposite the Gresham and poured a hurricane of machine gun fire into the hotel windows. Smoke belched forth, quickly followed by a muffled explosion and tongues of flames from the windows, and within half an hour the front of the building was a flaming furnace. The firemen played water on the premises between the Gresham and the Hammam and saved them in part, but the fate of the Gresham was from the first hopeless.

Even while the lower floors of this hotel were burning, the irregulars continued to fire from the upper windows, but by 3 o'clock the remnant of the "hardcore" five men, weary-eyed and "blacked-out," emerged from the rear of the building under the white flag and surrendered.

Driven Out by Flames

Other irregulars, driven from place to place by the flames, took up a position in the Granville and from points of vantage they fled during a brief fire against the national. In the meantime fire broke out opposite in the store next door to the Edinburgh hotel; presently a white flag was seen protruding from the door of the Edinburgh and a man stepped forth, in one hand and a suitcase in the other. Behind him walked a curious and pitiful procession of between twenty and thirty persons, mostly women, a white haired woman of seventy bringing up the rear, all carrying small quantities of luggage.

They explained that they had been living in the Edinburgh a whole week, chiefly taking refuge in the cellars, but were forced to leave by the flames in the adjacent store. These unfortunate civilians were escorted to a place of safety by members of the Red Cross.

Golden Plover's Travels

The American golden plover is the greatest long-distance migrant known to natural history. His flight from north to south is approximately 4,000 miles, the greatest distance traversed by any bird, and 2,400 miles of this is done without a single rest. From September to March he spends on the pampas of Argentina, and after this six months' residence in the southern hemisphere he starts his trip to the Arctic circle. The plover's route is across northwestern South America, then over the Gulf of Mexico, and into the United States along the coast of Louisiana and Texas. Thence he moves up the Mississippi valley, and by early June is nesting on the "barren ground" above the Arctic circle.

RADICALS HOLD HUGE MEETING

Crowd Estimated at 300,000 Persons in Demonstration Against Government

BERLIN, (AP)—Radical Germany and organized labor joined in public demonstration throughout the country Tuesday in an effort to impress the government with the strength of the workers while the government is shaping a program for the defense of the republic. Simultaneously with the processions and assemblies there was a general cessation of work in all branches of industry during the afternoon.

Breaking the precedent of years by ignoring the spacious Lust Garden for their meeting, Berlin's demonstrators, numbering at least 300,000, invaded the thoroughfares of the fashionable West end, meeting at the Kaiser Wilhelm memorial church. By 3 o'clock the space surrounding the church was jammed, the overflow extending for blocks in each of six radiating streets. No speeches were made, the demonstration being purely a mute show except for group singing and the playing of two bands. The "Internationale" figured prominently in the singing and playing.

The whole demonstration was marked by orderliness and thorough organization.

FAMOUS HISTORICAL RIDE SUBJECT OF INVESTIGATION

Question as to Whether Priscilla Rode White Bull to Church Must Be Settled

CHICAGO, (AP)—Investigation to determine whether Priscilla really did ride on a white bull to the log church in Plymouth to marry John Alder has been ordered at the annual reunion of the Midwest chapter of the Alden Kindred of America.

Longfellow, in "The Courtship of Miles Standish" contended that Priscilla did, but the question nevertheless aroused a debate at the meeting which was attended by 75 of the kindred. Mrs. Jane Alden Hawes of Oak Park, asserted that Priscilla could not have ridden a white bull as no cattle were imported to Plymouth until four years after her marriage. Mrs. Harry Neely of Chicago, said that Longfellow told her when she visited his Cambridge home as a child that the white bull version was correct. The inquiry was ordered, however, to finally settle the question.

Studebaker Bodies Don't Rattle or Squeak

Studebaker bodies rest squarely on the chassis frame—not on the body sills. The body and the frame form a rigid unit that successfully resists the rack of the road.

Studebaker bodies are built in Studebaker shops by men, many of whom have been building vehicle bodies for Studebaker for upwards of 30 years—and their fathers before them. Studebaker has been building fine bodies for seventy years.

Studebaker Special-Six bodies, because of their quality and soundness, weigh more than those of other cars around the Special-Six price. You cannot skimp in material and build a body that will not rattle.

Freedom from rattle or squeak is just another of the fine-car refinements that emphasize the extra value of the Studebaker Special-Six.

VOLCANO CAUSE OF COOL, DAMP SUMMER OF 1912

Katmai's Explosion, if it Had Occurred in New York, Would Have Wiped Out Manhattan, Expedition Leader Says

BOSTON, Mass.—When Katmai volcano, in Alaska, blew off its top the cloudless sky of Sahara was overcast and the United States had the cold damp summer of 1912 which weather observers could not account for at that time, according to Dr. Robert F. Griggs, who spoke Monday before the conference on geography, National Education association, Boston.

Had the eruption occurred in New York City not a soul would have survived on Manhattan, the thunderous noise would have rolled across the central states and sounded like an artillery duel even in St. Louis, and the sulphur fumes would have polluted the air of all the territory east of the Rocky mountains, the speaker said.

So remote is Katmai that not a soul was killed in the terrific upheaval, and the amazing effects are just becoming known as the findings of the National Geographic society expeditions, of which Dr. Griggs was the leader, are announced.

Bring Back Motion Pictures
For the first time a scientific expedition of this kind was accompanied by motion picture camera men and remarkable motion pictures of the Katmai region and the adjoining "eighth wonder of the world," the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, were exhibited.

While Katmai's explosion was the invitation to scientific study, the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes which the expedition discovered will be a permanent laboratory for scientists and one of the most remarkable scenic playgrounds among our national parks—second in size only to Yellowstone, and displaying phenomena to be seen nowhere else in the world.

This valley, which recently was set aside as a national monument, presents a panorama of rolling clouds of vapor that arise in never-ending streams and go billowing off down the valley with mile-long trails behind them.

Upon closer inspection this steam is seen to pour from vents, called fumaroles, and upon its emergence it is sometimes six times as hot as ordinary steam—so hot that a single breath would be fatal. Everywhere these fumaroles produce colorful eruptions, now a mass of bright yellow sulphur, now a chunk of ash turned red and blue by the action of heated gases, now a lump of pure white silicious material. Members of the expedition cooked their meals over them, once they learned to hold down their frying pans against the force of the uprushing steam.

Remote But Accessible

Though remote, this newest member of the national park family is not inaccessible. A commodious harbor was added to the maps of the region of the expeditions, and named Geographic Harbor in honor of the society which directed the explorations.

A falling mountain that rumbles as it disintegrates, a lake where one may get a bath hot, cold, or any temperature desired by swimming a few strokes, and, perhaps most amazing of all, streams with trout that will bite at almost any bait, are among the other marvels of this Alaskan wonderland described by Dr. Griggs.

Pictures no longer are a teaching luxury but an absolute necessity, in many branches of study, according to Miss Erna Grassmuck, director of geography in the State Department of Education of Pennsylvania, who presided at the conference.

Both newspapers and magazines offer picture sources which should be more generally utilized, both in the school and in the home, Miss Grassmuck said. "That which attracts the child of two years and still holds the attention of the octogenarian is worthy of care-

Pictures Have Social Value

"Pictures make a decided contribution in helping us to understand and thus appreciate the problems confronting the various people of the world, be they Tibetans, Bolivians, Kaffirs, or Armenians. Not less do they make us feel one with the people of Massachusetts, Louisiana, California, even though we live in North Dakota. They show us economic and social life as it exists and produce those attitudes of mind which could never be developed through words alone.

"In this connection, we cannot speak too highly of the splendid aid which the National Geographic society has given us in the six sets of pictorial geography. Having at their command thousands of pictures, portraying not only the human but also the plant and animal life all over the world, illustrating civic and social aspects as well as the scenic phases of life, they have been able to draw upon this rich store and thus have given to us a mine of ideas and also afforded the teacher that comfort and satisfaction in presenting her work which otherwise would have been impossible."

OIL COMPANIES ARE HARD HIT

Appearance of Salt Water in Mexican Fields Leads to a 'Sharp Price Break'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Appearance of salt water in the Tocco Corro Azul oil fields of Mexico caused a sharp decline in the New York stock and curb markets Wednesday of the prices of oil stocks of companies operating in that territory.

Mexican Petroleum, which has been one of the speculative favorites of the big board in recent weeks, was the hardest hit, closing at 166 for a net loss of 11 1/2 points. Class A and B stocks of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, which owns more than 70 per cent of the stock of Mexican Petroleum, suffered losses of 6 1/4 and 6 points respectively. Transactions in these three stocks made up more than 25 per cent of the entire day's dealings on the stock exchange, which totalled approximately 585,000 shares.

Mexican Seaboard Oil, a curb stock, opened at 47 1/2 and dropped to 36 3/8, a new low, closing at 36 1/2, a net loss of 11 points. Transactions in this issue reached nearly 80,000 shares, while sales of the old voting certificates of the same stock were nearly 15,000 the combined total exceeding 20 per cent of the day's curb dealings.

Executives of both the Pan-American and Mexican seaboard companies issued statements confirming the appearance of salt water, but set forth that it was not unusual and not unexpected.

J. M. Danziger, vice-president of the American and Mexican Petroleum companies, declared the loss from the Tocco Corro Azul field, when it is finally through, will be offset by other production elsewhere.

Prize Morsel Among Cannibals

Among the cannibals of New Guinea, according to W. F. Alder in his new book, "The Isle of Vanishing Men," no morsel is more prized at a feast than the left shoulder blade of a ten-year-old girl. It is recorded also that one roasted "tong pig" will satisfy the hunger of 10 persons, but that it is considered more prudent to have one for every six feasters. When a raiding party of cannibals, says Mr. Alder, finds a victim asleep, they always awaken up before killing him; the reason being that the first word he utters is used as the name of the next baby born in the settlement of the raiders.

FAMILIAR COUNTRYSIDE TRANSFORMED INTO WONDERLAND BY NATURE STUDY

HIKING THROUGH THE DUNES

CHICAGO.—Elliot R. Downing of the University of Chicago has written a new type of nature-guide in "A Naturalist in the Great Lakes Region."

He has abandoned the old method of treating plants and animals as isolated individuals and deals with them in groups and associations affected by environment. He sketches the geological history of the north central states and that part of Canada within the basin of the Great Lakes and sets forth the evolution and interrelation of the plant and animal life adapted to the climate and soil of this region.

Prof. Downing has designed his little book to be the companion of lovers of out-of-doors in the Great Lakes region. It tells the reader what to look for there and in places with similar climate and topography and how to identify what he sees on hikes through the countryside. It is particularly full of information regarding the sand dunes of the southern shore of Lake Michigan, the only dunes of this Mississippi.

This weird region of shifting sands, seemingly dead and desolate, teems with life and a midsummer census, according to Prof. Downing, showed a population of 16,000,000 living creatures to the acre, beetles, wasps and ants predominating.

Prof. Downing is associate professor of natural science in the College of Education in the University of Chicago and is editor of the University of Chicago Nature Study series of which this volume is a part. The book is bound with a limp cover for pocket use and 450 illustrations add to its value to the amateur naturalist. It is published by the University of Chicago Press.

COMPROMISE WATER CASE

Citation Against Canal Company Officials is Dismissed in Court

Directors and the general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, before Judge F. S. Dietrich in federal district court at Boise, Monday, were not required to show cause why they should not be punished for alleged violation of an order previously entered by that court in two causes instituted by the canal company against Edwin Damman and others, relative to delivery of water to lands north of Buhl, held by Damman and his associates.

Through agreement by the litigants the citation against the canal company officials was dismissed, and an order entered providing for use by the Dammans on their lands of such waters as were not required for use by canal company stockholders. The court also appointed E. V. Borg, Twin Falls, commissioner to apportion the water in controversy and to make measurements and reports on his work to the court and to the attorneys for the litigants. Each party to the action was required to pay his own costs.

WILLARD NEEDS SOME TIME YET

Manager of Former Champ Declares Match Before October Impossible

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Jesse Willard, former heavyweight champion, will not be ready for a return match with Jack Dempsey, champion, before October 15, it was declared Thursday by Gene Doyle, who is looking after Willard's local interests, upon reading a Wichita dispatch stating that Willard's manager, Ray Archer, had announced that a Dempsey-Willard bout was practically assured before October 1.

Doyle said Willard also received a telegram from Archer stating "the big thing" concerning the match had been practically agreed upon, but there were a few minor details to be settled before articles could be signed and a definite date set for them.

"Willard cannot get into condition for a bout with Dempsey Labor day," said Doyle. "That's only two months away. In fact, Willard is not intending to make his present champion before October 15. He is satisfied his condition will be all right by October. He does not care where the match is held as long as it is held. The location is up to Tex Rickard, the promoter."

The News is read by the permanent evening classes.

JOHNNY DUNDEE BEATS SHARKEY

Forces Fighting From First Round and Easily Earns Decision

NEW YORK, (AP)—Johnny Dundee earned the judges' decision over Jack Sharkey in a 16-round bout Thursday night. Dundee weighed 129 pounds and Sharkey 127.

Sharkey landed along with occasional rallies until the fourth.

Dundee did the leading after a cautious first round but at times found it difficult to reach Sharkey who often walked away—with his back turned. During several rounds, Sharkey did little except cover up and with both hands Dundee shintered him continually.

After landing often in the second and third, Dundee shot a left to the head in the opening of the fourth that sent Sharkey to his knees, for a short count.

Sharkey came out of his shell for a brief rally in the fifth and took another lead in the seventh. Then Dundee drew blood from a cut over Sharkey's left eye.

Sharkey's unwillingness to mix it caused a chorus of boos from the crowd at the finish.

DEMPSEY OFFER IS SUBSTANTIAL

Champion's Manager Has Opportunity to Match His Man for Labor Day Bout

CHICAGO, (AP)—Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, announced Thursday night he had received an offer of $100,000 with a provision for 50 per cent of the gate receipts for a match between Dempsey and Harry Greb, light heavyweight, at Pittsburgh, Labor day.

Kearns said he had not closed the contract with Floyd Fitzsimmons of Michigan City, Ind., promoter, for Dempsey to meet Bill Brennan or some other heavyweight at Michigan City on Labor day. He said that the offer was being considered, however.

Dempsey and Fitzsimmons are personal friends and it has been understood that Dempsey was anxious to appear at Michigan City.

Greb, the Pittsburgh light heavyweight, has a referee's decision over Tom Gibbons to his credit and has provided stiff opposition for Dempsey in many of Dempsey's training matches.

Dempsey, Kearns and Teddy Hayes, Dempsey's secretary, arrived here Thursday from Syracuse, N. Y., where Dempsey will stage an exhibition.

DEMPSEY IS WILLING TO GO

Champion Declares He Is Anxious for Chance at Willard or Anybody Else

WICHITA, Kansas, (AP)—"I am willing to fight Jess Willard any time and at any place which can be agreed upon," Jack Dempsey, world's champion boxer, declared after a boxing exhibition here Thursday night. "I will take on any man in the world of any color, who thinks he is capable of making the match interesting."

Ray Archer, of Kansas City, Willard's manager, Thursday announced that a bout to be staged within the next year between Dempsey and his man virtually was assured. Archer talked over the proposed match with Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, and a representative of Tex Rickard, New York promoter, last night.

WINS BIG FEATURE RACE

Nedda, Driven by H. Fleming, Carries Off First Money on Grand Circuit

NORTH RANDALL, CLEVELAND, (AP)—Trotting one of the greatest heats ever witnessed at the North Randall track, Nedda, owned by the Hillandale farm, Mammaraonek, N. Y., and driven by H. Fleming, won the trotting eventakes for 2-2-2 trotters, the feature of this Grand Circuit racing card here Thursday. Several very close finishes marked the day's racing.

Getting away to a bad start in the first heat, Nedda, apparently out of it, overtook her field, one of the fastest in training, and trotted the distance in 2:02 3-4, three seconds faster than the time for the heat to win. She trotted the last three-quarters in 1:30 1-2, the last half in 59 1-2, and the last quarter in 29 1-2 seconds.

The official time for the heat, 2:05 3-4, is taken from the first horse to start and the first to finish, while Nedda's time is that in which she negotiated the mile, after being length behind at the start.

Nedda got away in front in the second heat and held the lead all the way, withstanding the challenge of the field, which was well bunched down the back stretch, and won it and the race easily.

The time for the race was the fastest trotted this season.

POLICE SEIZE BREW AND SEND WOMAN TO JAIL

Raid on Blue Lakes Boulevard
Residence Results in Discovery of Six Bottles and Charges Against Young Matron

Mrs. Eva Raymond, who is according to the police, the mother of two children and wife of a former service man under treatment at the public health service hospital at Boise, was Thursday afternoon committed to the county jail after police in a raid at her home on upper Blue Lakes boulevard discovered six bottles of what they said was home-brewed beer in a kitchen cupboard.

Mrs. Raymond was committed to jail by Kennedy Packard, police magistrate, in his capacity as justice of the peace, in default of $500 bond to secure her appearance in court on charges of illegal possession of liquor preferred by Chief of Police George M. Eckhart, who conducted the raid in company with a special officer.

Through the office of Probation Officer John R. Ault, arrangements were made whereby a younger sister of Mrs. Raymond was to take care of the children during the mother's enforced absence.

SIGNALMEN TO DEFER ACTION ON WALKOUT

Meeting Not Unlikely.

Mr. Macken said that a meeting of the 16 standard railroad unions to take action in regard to this resolution was possible. He termed the resolution "partisan," asserting that the labor board had failed to take similar action when the railroads violated the board's orders or wishes.

Federal court action in connection with the strike developed Thursday at East St. Louis, Ill., when the Illinois Central railroad obtained a temporary injunction against picketing.

SPECIAL OFFICERS HELD.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., (P)—Reports were received here Thursday night by the Montgomery Advertiser from Albany to the effect that 1500 striking shopmen delay "picketing" duty have 25 special officers of the Louisville and Nashville road held virtually prisoners inside the railroad property.

Governor Kilby has communicated with officials of the road and promised adequate protection to property. Governor Kilby who is in Clinton, will return here Friday when he will decide whether state troops or special state officers will be sent to the scene.

GUARDS USE GUNS.

RICHMOND, Ga., (P)—Six shots were fired by guards at the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company shops Thursday at a group of supposed trespassers, according to a report made to Chief of Police W. H. Wood. As far as is known, no one was hit. Chief Wood ordered the guards to discontinue using their firearms.

Cadman Praises Art of Stearns-Hellekson Trio

Noted Composer Says Their Interpretation Is One of the Best He Has Heard

"That a musical program of real worth is scheduled for Chautauqua when the Stearns-Hellekson Trio appears in the afternoon and evening of the second day, is shown from an interesting telegram from Charles Wakefield Cadman, noted composer, to Miss Ethel Stearns, manager of the company. The wire is quoted here: "It is with sincere pleasure that I find you are to play my trio on your program for your coming tour. I consider your interpretation one of the best I have heard so far. I wish you great success." It is a remarkable tribute when one considers the fact that Cadman has heard practically all of the country's leading chamber music groups.

FIRE SITUATION STILL SERIOUS

Lack of Men to Fight Flames
Results in Rapid Spread of Destruction

SEATTLE, (P)—The forest fire situation in the Northwest continues serious.

In Washington, one county, Grays Harbor, Thursday reported an improved situation, all fires in that region being under control. But there are 15 fires in Stevens, Spokane and Ferry counties, several of them being beyond control. Only three of the seven fires in Stevens county are being fought, there being no men available to combat the others.

In Oregon, serious fires have spread into large timber at the crest of the coast range in Tillamook county and large forces of men were rushed into that section Thursday to fight the flames.

In British Columbia, including the Vancouver Island district, 2000 men are fighting fires. Prospect of rain Friday is the most hopeful factor in the situation there.

PICKETT'S CHARGE

Six thousand United States marines repeated the famous charge of Pickett's men at Gettysburg on the fifty-ninth anniversary of the battle, July 1. It was an inspiring spectacle and an inspiring military movement, affording means of comparing the tactics of today with the massed formations of the Civil War period.

But it lacked the thrill and sentiment that marked the celebration of a few years ago when, on the fiftieth anniversary of the event, the few survivors of the conflict marched out from the woods and across the famous field to meet the little band of Union soldiers behind the stone walls which a half century before they had defended so gallantly. Nobody who saw that picture ever will forget it—the little band of Confederate veterans with their battle flags flying, marching forth as sturdily as their years would permit, out across the broad breadth of green meadow and right up to the stone wall from which just 50 years before to the very hour they had retreated after one of the most amazing demonstrations of courage and military fortitude in the annals of all history. And when the two forces met, not with pistol and bayonet, with hands outstretched to greet each other as brothers, there was not a dry eye among the thousands who saw and applauded.

Spick and span and up-to-the-minute as the marines were when they re-enacted this famous military maneuver, they will not afford such a picture as did the soldiers of the blue and gray that day when they once were deadly foes met as long lost comrades, mingling the victorious colors of the united nation with those of the Lost Cause.

DID HE BEAT IT?

The death recently of the Prince of Monaco and announcement that his will provides for the closing of the notorious gambling resort of Monte Carlo discloses that of the thousands of dupes who frequented the gambling halls there only one ever beat the game and did not return to lose his winnings. Few gamblers are ever ahead of the game they play, because if they make a winning it is only temporary and they lose all they won later.

"Bonne-Chance" Wells, a Britisher, gave the Monte Carlo gamblers a genuine thrill some years ago and, playing "a little system of my own," departed after a week's orgy, $140,000 to the good. He never returned, which proves that he was not a gambler. Asked why, if his system was infallible, he did not go on and break the bank, he replied: "The physical strain is beyond my strength." In one week his nerves were shattered, and it is doubtful if $140,000 was compensation for the injury to his health.

All gamblers lose, even when they win.

FARM CONVENIENCES

Much has been said about making farm life more attractive by means of modern inventions in rapid communication and transportation and labor saving. The trade record of the National City Bank offers some interesting figures on the subject. At the close of 1920 nearly one-fifth of the telephones in the country were on farms or in farm business offices. Farmers owned considerably more than one-fourth of the automobiles, not including 139,000 motor trucks and 240,000 tractors. More than 30 per cent of the reporting farms use autos.

The census figures on farm implements and machinery show a total value three times as great as 10 years before, five times as much as in 1900 and seven times as great as in 1890. A slight rise in the fact that the value of horses on farms showed a decrease of 14 per cent in the last decade, while all other farm animals showed an increase, sheep 70 per cent, poultry 141, cattle 145, swine 148 and goats 184 per cent.

RE-STAGING 1920 CAMPAIGN

The outcome of the fight Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, is making for renomination and election is of interest to the entire country for the reason that it turns almost entirely on national issues. It has, of course, a factional aspect in that Reed, who is too much of a fighter not to have built up a strong personal organization is opposed with unprecedented bitterness by the old Wilson crowd. But this factionalism is the direct result not of any state issues but of Reed's attitude in the senate toward the League of Nations and other Wilson policies.

There was a time when Mr. Wilson counted Reed as a "deserving Democrat." He would probably be writing letters describing him as that today if Reed had not both spoken and voted against one Wilson measure after another in the senate. And the reports of Reed's stumping tour indicate that he believes Wilsonism is just as unpopular now as it was when the nation rolled up a 7,000,000 majority against it in the last presidential election.

The Missouriian is employing all his vituperative eloquence in slashing at tactics upon not only the Wilson policies but Mr. Wilson himself. He is too shrewd not to see the chance of winning many thousands of votes by denouncing the former president's patriotic spirit and methods and pointing out that he is in a sense even yet attempting to dictate to Missouri Democrats by his demand that they defeat Reed and send a former Wilson officeholder to Washington in his place.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine cents in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a man can save by buying goods like buying seeds for the garden. It will save several dollars a year later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs a few cents more than other brands but it has been found to be a doctor's bill of several dollars—adv.

HECTIC SCENES MARK DEBATE IN PARIS CHAMBER

Premier Poincare of France
Receives Warm Evidence of Approval for Responsibility for World War

PARIS, (AP)—M. Viviani stamped the chamber of deputies into a tumult of approval of Premier Poincare Wednesday, during the course of a debate on "the responsibility for the war." This was the culmination of the long threatened attack on the premier precipitated by Tuesday's scene between M. Poincare and M. Vaillant-Couturier, when the communist deputy made reference to a photograph showing the premier and the American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, apparently smiling while passing through the Verdun cemetery.

M. Viviani interrupted a long and dreary reading of newspaper clippings and diplomatic messages by the communist designed to show that M. Poincare was responsible for the war, and exclaimed:

"If anyone is responsible for the war, it was I. I was head of the government; I took whatever action was taken and I acted in perfect accord with M. Poincare (then president). I was in touch with him and in agreement with him when he was at St. Petersburg."

This was an allusion to M. Poincare's visit as president to the Emperor Nicholas. The deputies jumped to their feet, waving their arms wildly and M. Poincare rushed to M. Viviani and kissed him on both cheeks. Other chamber members, the premier and the ex-premier and for several minutes there was great enthusiasm. The debate had begun in general apathy, the deputies paying slight attention to Vaillant-Couturier's speech which he read, and in which he had embodied many telegrams from the Russian ambassador, M. Isakovskiy, the Russian capital, showing that M. Poincare and France were ready to join Russia in war.

Personal Views Denied.
The premier interrupted several times to remind the chamber that the bulk of these proposals had been published. The personal views of Isakovskiy, he pointed out, had been denied officially.

When he could make his voice heard above the uproar, M. Viviani pleaded with the deputy to abandon his interpellation, as it was of no use to continue, and asked him to return to the "Sacred Union" observed during the war, when all parties buried the political hatchet. His eloquence so moved the deputies that they stood in silence as a mark of admiration.

The premier told briefly of the big steps in France's foreign policy which he was promoter under M. Poincare and recited again the history of the movements that led to the war, claiming for himself full responsibility for everything that was done and praising the wisdom of Poincare. He ended with an appeal to the patriotism of the members in memory of the hundreds of thousands who had fallen for a cessation of the strife.

The scene thus created interrupted the debate for so long a time that the chamber adjourned until Thursday afternoon, the premier insisting upon a full airing of the matter.

It was the premier's second victory of the day over the communists, as the chamber called in the day voted confidence in the government, 307 to 61, on a minor interpellation relative to suppression of communist activities at Tunis.

RECALCITRANT HUSBANDS ARE CALLED INTO COURT

Assault of Brother-in-Law
One of Three Charged with Neglect of Duty

Warrant for the arrest of John Bergman, Burley district farmer, who recently attacked and severely injured his brother-in-law, Napoleon Olson, Twin Falls, was one of three warrants charging failure to provide for maintenance and support of wife and minor children sworn out Wednesday by Probate Judge O. P. Duval.

The complaint against Bergman was signed by his wife, Christina Bergman. It charges that since May 1 Bergman has contributed nothing to the support of his wife and four minor children, who are at present in Twin Falls.

Boy Middleton, in probate court Wednesday, admitted that since February 23 he had contributed nothing to the support of his wife, Ethel Middleton, and their minor child. He pledged himself to secure bond in the sum of $200 to guarantee that he would assist in the maintenance of his family in the future. The complaint was signed by Mrs. Stella Harrison, mother of the wife.

J. E. Doughty, Twin Falls, was accused by his wife, Grace M. Doughty, with failing since June 4 to contribute to the support of his wife and three minor children.

HARDING TRIES EDITOR'S ROLE

Chief Executive Takes on Old
Job and Produces Leading Editorial

MARION, O., (AP)—President Harding tried his hand again Wednesday at his old job of writing editorials for the Marion Star.

Wednesday's edition carried a two column editorial signed by "Warren G. Harding." It was headed, "The Essentials to Success" and brought out that honesty, simplicity, industry, capacity and determination "available to all who aspire" are the chief essentials of success.

The text of the editorial follows: "While Marion is celebrating the centennial of the city's founding, it is fine to rejoice in the coming together again, to find happiness in the exchange of sentiments born of homecoming, to recall the pride in things accomplished, and above all else, appraise the quality of men and measures which have made us what we are to-day. The latter is essential to the preparedness for greater progress in the future."

"Sturdy men plowed the way to early settlement and sturdy women, too. They blazed the way of development in Ohio, and sent many of their sons and daughters to the peaceful conquest of the greater west—the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, chaste and able men made secure the social order here and simple and courageous men blended determination with gentleness and made the industrial beginning. They had little of wealth, but they wrought wealth of opportunity. Only a few know their struggles, their sacrifices, but honesty, simplicity, industry, capacity and determination are known to have been the chief essentials of their success. These make for success anywhere and are available to all who aspire."

Profit by Lessons of Past

"Let Marion observe every good lesson of the yesterday and resolve to go on, adding to the pride in industry and commerce and determine that every enlargement in material growth shall reflect larger progress the finer attainments which make a community worth while. The fit counterpart to the city of material success is the city of happy homes, ample education, fortunate and profitable employment, worship of God facilitated, a civic conscience and a community soul."

BANKRUPT STOCK FOR SALE
Sealed bids will be received until ten o'clock a. m. Saturday, July 8, 1922, by the undersigned, for the entire stock and fixtures of the Twin Falls Book and Stationery.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT ITSELF

Demands Made Upon Chemical
Foundation Necessitated by Filing of Many Suits for Restitution of Earnings

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The move of the administration to recover from the Chemical Foundation, Inc., all alien enemy patents purchased by that organization in 1918 from the then alien property custodian, Francis P. Garvan, was declared in official circles Wednesday to be a logical step on the part of the government to defend suits brought against it to recover royalties collected from the licensing of those patents.

It was said there are more than 60 suits already pending against the treasurer of the United States to recover royalties which have accrued as a result of licenses issued by the federal trade commission under authority of the trading with the enemy act.

Allen Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller announced Wednesday he would demand that this week on the Chemical Foundation for the return of the patents in conformity with President Harding's instructions. In the event of a refusal, Mr. Miller said, suit in equity immediately would be filed in the supreme court of the District of Columbia. He declined to disclose the basis of such a suit, or to discuss the causes which led to the move at this time to recover the patents. He denied emphatically, however, that politics was involved.

No Charge of Fraud.

In official sources outside the department of justice and the alien property custodian's office, however, it was said that while the government was not prepared to characterize the sale of the enemy patents to the foundation "as clean as a hound's tooth," neither was it prepared to say that there was fraud or anything criminal involved. Up to the present it was said, there has been no suggestion of fraud in the transaction by which Mr. Garvan, as alien property custodian, sold the patents for $250,000 to the organization of which he now is president.

Defense is Compulsory

Confronted with the suits filed against the treasurer of the United States by the Chemical Foundation, it was explained, the department of justice was compelled to defend the suits, or be placed in the position of paying money out of the treasury to the foundation in the face of "widely expressed doubt" as to the validity of the foundation's title to the patents. The administration, it was said, had in mind the numerous attacks made in congress and elsewhere on the sale of the German patents for the "nominal" sum involved and wanted to "into court with all the facts." As a logical first step, the president was said to have been advised by the department of justice that a move to recover the patents would settle for all time the question of legality of the sale which was said to hinge on whether there was "sufficient consideration" paid by the purchaser.

Illnesses and Constipation

"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It feeling at once, strengthens the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.—a. v.
