Chamber of Commerce and Realtors Dissatisfied with Assessor's Figures Wiping Out Two-Thirds of Increase

Approval by the state board of equalization of Twin Falls county assessor's property valuation abstract reducing valuations about $2,000,000, below the figure set for 1931 tax assessments; will not be accepted by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce committee according to Twin Falls realtors' association. Speaking to the treatment Wednesday of the Newell Wright certificate, the chamber of commerce committee chairman and realtors, he said, will hold out for further reduction, and have arranged for a special hearing Friday afternoon to present their claims before the state board of equalization at Boise.

Assessor Expects Approval
This statement followed announcement at the assessor's office that E. Cloud Stewart, assessor, speaking from Boise in a telephone conversation with a deputy, had expressed confidence that the Twin Falls county abstract embodying the $2,000,000 reduction would be approved.

Members of the committee and members spent considerable time on Wednesday collecting data for presentation to the board in support of claims for reductions. Several persons, it is said, will make the trip to Boise to interview the board, and will leave here in automobiles Friday morning.

Affects State Tax
Twin Falls county valuations, as submitted by the county assessor, were raised by the state board of equalization in 1919 and 1920, on the ground that valuations as submitted were lower than those placed upon similar property in other counties. The increase in 1920 was 20 per cent on agricultural lands, city lots and improvements and on some other property, and added to the tax roll approximately $3,600,000 in valuations. The assessor's abstract this year eliminates almost two-thirds of this increase.

The valuation question is considered of importance chiefly because a great

Twin Falls county citizens who appeared last year before the state board of equalization to protest against increase in valuations, said that the board had decided to order an increase of 35 per cent in the case of this county; and was prevailed upon to limit the increase to 20 per cent. DEALING IN BAD CHECKS

Conduct at Clothing Store Excites Suspicion and Leads

Charge of issuing a fictitious check may be preferred against a young man giving the name of Robert Smith, who

Smith Tuesday afternoon arrested by the police and turned over to the sheriff after his conduct at a clothing store where he had excited suspicion. Smith, according to the clothier, tendered a check for $17 bearing signature of F. L. Rogers, in payment for a number of articles he had purchased. The clothier declined to cash the check until he had made inquiry as to its validity and acquainted the young man with his intention. The youth straightaway took his departure, paying no heed to the clothier's invitation to remain and receive his change and leaving the articles he had purchased lying on the Inquiry at the bank on which the check was drawn disclosed the fact that the name of F. E. Rogers did not appear on its list of patrons.

The youth admitted under questioning at the sheriff's office that the check was fictitious. He said that it had been issued and delivered to him by a companion and that he himself had

NATIONAL GUARD FIGHTING FIRES OVER MINNESOTA

Two Towns Wiped Out and Six Known to be Dead in Worst Conflagration in State Since Year of 1918

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 17 (AP)—One thousand men tonight were battling a forest fire near Evelyn on the Mesabi iron range, while 1800 ore miners were held ready to aid should the flames approach dangerously near the city.

Several settlements near Evelyn and in the fire area are reported in serious danger. Evelyn, 40 miles northwest of Duluth, is surrounded by fire, according to report, while residents of Tolmie, 50 miles north of here, are reported to have fled.

Thousands of volunteer guards battled the flames on various sectors throughout the forenoon but the fires leaped past fire lines everywhere about midday. Fighters were ordered to retreat. When the guards left the fire fighting, they turned their attention to removing townspeople and settlers to places of safety. Throughout the night the state highway department which rushed every available truck to the fire zone, the refugees were hastily removed. Not a single fatality was reported from the districts where organized effort was made to rescue the refugees.

With numerous forest fires blazing, Governor J. A. F. Ross tonight personally took charge of the situation, ordering out national guardsmen here for relief duty.

Drought conditions have increased the menace to alarming proportions, according to state forestry officials, and tonight more than 2000 men were fighting fires in various sections. One unconfirmed report was that six persons had been burned to death.

Official reports tonight were that Fairbanks, Silver Creek and Pimlico, all small settlements, had been destroyed. The refugees mainly fleeing to Two Harbors. Cotton and Central Lakes were also reported to have been destroyed.

It was also reported that Wapogan, Wisconsin, where it was said that Drummond was menaced, but telephone communication with that place was interrupted.

FOREST FIRES RAGING

HIBBING, Minn., Aug. 17 (AP)—Forest fires near Hibbing tonight were burning south, southeast and southwest into today, and hundreds of men are fighting blazes which have been fanned by a strong west wind. The most severe fire is in the Little Swan valley.

FIRES SERIOUS MENACE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 17 (AP)—Fires during the wooded country from a point 100 miles north of here to the Canadian boundary present a menace more serious than any in years, State Forester W. T. Cox said tonight.

"In other years," Mr. Cox said, "the dry spots have been localized, but this year the drought conditions are general. A wind that would ignite the small fires would create a disaster of conditions—one we are bending every effort to avoid."

FIND INTERESTS SCIENTIST

Fossil Remains of Fish Millions of Years Old Disclose Fresh Facts

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—A fish—Macropetalichthys by name—which died some 400,000,000 years ago of some unknown cause and sank to the bottom of the ocean near where the New York, New stands, has astonished the scientists at the Field Museum.

Some 300,000,000 years after his death, in what is now called the Devonian period of the nineteenth century, the fossilized remains of the Macropetalichthys was dug up by an enterprising geologist.

Dr. Erik Stensio, docent in paleontology at the University of Uppsala, Sweden, who obtained permission to open the fossil with a chisel, with a result that has startled the museum authorities as well as himself.

It was found that the brain, the nerve cells and arterial canals as well as the intricate structure of the eye remained intact, preserved in stone and giving a previously unthought of opportunity for studying the internal structure of a fish of the Devonian age.

Interiors Well Preserved "Recent fossils," said Dr. H. W. Nichols of the museum, "often have their interiors well preserved. But as if they are not more than 50,000,000 or 100,000,000 years old. But never before, I believe, has a specimen thus been found so well preserved internally."

"Even though I have made only preliminary study," Dr. Stensio declared today, "I have made discoveries which will probably make great changes in our morphological views. This fish, for instance, which was thought to be related to the lung fishes, is really a close relative of the modern shark."

"It also astonishes me to learn that this specimen was well equipped with bony structure in the head. Previously it was thought that the fishes of the Devonian age possessed only cartilage. That, too, changes our ideas about the evolution of the bony structure. The discovery of this specimen will probably give us a great deal of knowledge about other forms of life in the Devonian age."

Texas Senatorial Race Is Bitter

Earl B. Mayfield, candidate in the Texas senatorial race.

A bitter contest is being waged in Texas in the run-off primaries for the Democratic nomination to the United States senate, in which the candidates are State Railroad Commissioner Earl B. Mayfield and James E. Ferguson, who was impeached and removed as Governor in 1917. The primary will be held August 26, the successful candidate to oppose the republican nominee in November. Personal attacks have marked the campaign. Mayfield, originally a candidate to oppose the Each-ingham act and permit each state to fix its own rate, together with no cancellation of the foreign debt, and "100 per cent Americanism," is said to have the backing of the Ku Klux Klan on the latter issue. Ferguson, a member of the Klan and of not being sincere in his backing of the Volstead act. Ferguson is running on a platform of opposition to the dry law and in favor of union labor in its fight for the closed shop.

IDAHO'S CROPS IN GOOD SHAPE

Federal Weather Bureau's Report Shows Conditions Favorable in State

BOISE—Moderate temperature prevailed during the week throughout southern Idaho and light rains, beneficial to growing crops, occurred, according to the weekly summary of weather and crop conditions in Idaho issued here Wednesday by Clinton E. Norquest, meteorologist, for the federal weather bureau.

Rains in north Idaho were copious benefiting growing crops and causing no damage except delaying progress in harvesting and threshing in progress in the higher sections.

The summary follows:

Notes from the Field
Welter, Washington county: Farming busy haying and harvesting wheat with weather very favorable; fall lettuce being planted.

Cambridge, Washington county: Week favorable for farm work which consists largely in threshing and plowing for summer fallow.

Burley, Cassia county: Grain harvest well begun; several cuts potatoes shipped; second cutting hay almost completed, yield good.

Montpelier, Bear Lake county: Rains damaged hay, much of which is down, but benefited grain crops and the range materially; wheat beginning to ripen.

Garden Valley, Boise county: Weather much cooler; light rains very beneficial, but more needed; second crop alfalfa coming nicely and some being cut; some grain being cut.

McCall, Valley county: Rains interfered somewhat with haying, but very beneficial for pastures and range; wheat mostly ripe, but oats still green; lettuce crop being marketed.

New Meadows, Adams county: Farm work practically confined to haying, which was somewhat delayed by light showers; pastures and range are holding out well and livestock are in good condition.

Copeland, Boundary county: Light showers last of week, but still very dry.

Council, Adams county: Light rains helped range, which is much greener than usual at this season.

Dubois, Clark county: Moderate temperatures with light showers; crops generally fair to good, first crop alfalfa is harvested.

Blackfoot, Bingham county: Moderate temperatures with light showers; all crops doing well; harvesting of grain begun; potatoes excellent.

Ashton, Fremont county: Moderate temperatures with good showers during week; all crops doing well; needless good condition; barley, fall wheat and peas being harvested.

Markey, Custer county: Rains during the week beneficial to crops and range; corn ready in some earlier fields; second crop alfalfa doing nicely; oats leading out; new potatoes on market.

Fruitland, Payette county: Prunes dropping badly; apples making fine growth and will be larger than usual; second crop alfalfa in attack; threshing full swing; fall crop lettuce coming up nicely.

Pocatello, Bannock county: Moderate temperatures and light showers were beneficial to crops; second crop alfalfa being cut; oats and spring wheat good condition; beets doing well; range and stock good condition.

Twin Falls, Twin Falls county: Showers interfered with haying and checked threshing of alfalfa clover; high wind blew down many apples and lodged wheat; potatoes doing fine; lettuce growing nicely; wheat harvest full swing.

Boise, Ada county: Week opened warm but much cooler at close; crops maturing fast; wheat mostly harvested and threshing well under way; prunes dropping too freely; apples growing well; orchardists thinning and propagating; pastures good.

Parma, Canyon county: The few apples have large and fine but they are more wormy than when the crop is late. Prunes are dropping badly on account of heat. A few prune orchards are infested with spiders for which spraying is now in progress.

Idaho Falls, Bonneville county: General condition fairly good; rust seems checked in wheat; alfalfa fair, mostly cut; potatoes fair, rain helped a little; winter wheat being harvested, condition poor on dry farms; peas good condition, late varieties ripening.

Arden, Blaine county: Moderate temperatures with light rain on one day; spring wheat, oats and barley fair to good; barley and oats being cut; potatoes and other vegetables are excellent; beets good; alfalfa and clover seed fair; crops damaged by grasshoppers.

Originated in America. The familiar expression "used up," for being tired or exhausted, originated in America. The first known use of the phrase, in print, occurs in Sam Silek's "Human Nature," page 102. "Well, being out, night after night, she got kinder used up."

Same Old Story But a Good One Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others, as follows: I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few days of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles."—adv.

NOT POLITICAL MACHINE

Ku Klux Klan Declared to Have No Affiliation with Any Party

ATLANTA, Ga.—With the political "doctors" growing more excited every day over the reported activity of the Ku Klux Klan in city, state and national politics, and the survival of the "people" themselves viewing with certain apprehension the appalling power of the Klan, it is interesting to learn that Edward Young Clarke, acting Imperial Wizard, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, disavows that his organization is to be a political machine. Asked what the political status of the Klan was, Mr. Clarke said: "The Ku Klux Klan shall never be an independent party, and it will never officially endorse any particular policy. We are not interested in party lines, nor platforms. We are, however, vitally interested in the candidates themselves. The Klan as an organization has its principles and ideas, and Klansmen will naturally give their support as individuals to those men who promise to embrace these principles. Mr. Clarke stated emphatically that the Klan would never dictate to their members as to how they should vote.

Referring to what is popularly known as the Klan "victory" in Texas, the acting Imperial Wizard pointed out that the Klan had taken no part in the primary contest until enemies of the organization made it an issue. "Klanmen," said Mr. Clarke, "were branded as outlaws and subjected to every sort of abuse. Our very existence was threatened. It was only human and natural that Klansmen of Texas became incensed and decided to fight the matter out at the polls. Where the life of any fraternal organization is jeopardized, it is natural that we would certainly rally to its support, politically or otherwise."

RESPONSIBILITY IS FIXED

Director of Railroads During War Must Answer for Death Under Train

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (AP)—The supreme court has held Walker D. Hines, director of railroads during the war, solely responsible in the case of Mrs. Gertrude E. Lawrence of Los Angeles, whose husband, George V. Lawrence, was killed by a train at El Centro April 3, 1919, and who was awarded damages in the sum of $30,000. The judgment was obtained in Imperial county jointly against Hines and the Southern Pacific company. The defendants appealed and the supreme court reversed the decision as to the railroad, but affirmed it as to Hines.

HEARINGS TO BE DEFERRED

Inquiry into Gas and Oil Prices by Senate Must Go Over for a Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Further hearings in the senate commerce committee's investigation of oil and gasoline prices probably will be deferred for a week or ten days, Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, acting chairman, said, because of the senate's legislative program.

The pending tariff bill, Senator McNary said, precluded hearings this week, and with his interest and those of other senators in the soldiers' bonus bill, scheduled to follow the tariff measure on the senate floor, he declared it was doubtful whether more witnesses could be heard by the senate before the latter part of next week.

FIGURES ARE DECEIVING

Some member of the "Round Numbers and Ends to Endors Club" has compiled an interesting set of figures to show how much a woman's work comes to in the ordinary round of 365 years of household duties.

At the end of 30 years of married life, we learn, the average woman has served 500,000 meals. She has put up more than 3,000 jars of preserves; made 32,850 beds; swept more than a million square yards of floor space, and dusted furniture enough to fill several warehouses. The time devoted to sweeping and scrubbing is to be estimated at not less than 35,000 hours.

For this particular statistician these figures lead to the query: "And what has she accomplished after all this labor; is she even permitted to retire with a pension after all this work?" As a matter of fact it is probably true that most women could not be tempted to retire at the end of 30 years of household work, and if they were pensioned they would want to be given something else to keep them busy. In which respect they are like most men.

But in the matter of figures it must be remembered that these things are meaningful only by comparison. For instance, as women's household duties look when thus totaled over a period of years, the numbers look less imposing when compared to other similar figures. At the rate of 1,900 bricks a day for 300 days a year a bricklayer will lay 14,400,000 bricks in 30 years. The number of miles covered by a postman in his daily round over a period of 30 years would probably make our feet ache from the very reading of it.

This sort of game has infinite possibilities. We might take the case of an elevator girl in a 20-story building. Ascertain the number of trips she makes a day, the number of days in a year for 30 years. Calculate these trips in number of feet traveled upward; reduce to number of miles, and if for a period of 30 years the total distance traveled upward is less than 35,000 miles, it is only because the elevator is the slowest one in the world. And there is no such elevator.

Figures are deceiving.

A POOR EXAMPLE

To take a chance and when caught confess and pay the penalty with a smile is good sportsmanship as we understand it and in keeping with rules of fair play. The average man, therefore, is inclined to applaud the chief justice of the Ohio supreme court who was arrested for speeding the other day. He said he was in a hurry to get to golf links, pleaded guilty and was fined.

It would have been amusing if the municipal court justice had seen fit to give his superior on the bench a lecture on the law and the necessity for upholding it, but such lecture was not undeserved. The chief justice knows as well as anybody that his conduct should be almost beyond censure and an example for others less prominent. Traffic laws are to prevent accidents and to decrease the appalling number of deaths; they are for the safety of the many, and should be respected as are other laws entailing more severe penalties. It is good sportsmanship to take a chance, but to endanger the lives of others, recklessly, in order to keep an engagement for a golf match is the worst kind of citizenship. The small fine imposed by no means indicates the gravity of the offense.

COERCION NOT PART OF PLAN FOR RESERVOIR

Canal Company Directors Will Assist Dissatisfied Persons in Securing Exclusion of Lands from Big District

Whereas, it is not the desire or purpose of those favoring the organization of the irrigation district to coerce any landowner to remain in said proposed district; therefore, be it resolved, that upon the request of any landowner that his land be excluded from said district, the boards of directors of the Twin Falls North Side Canal company and the Twin Falls South Side Canal company will recommend that the county commissioners exclude said land from said district.

Text of a resolution adopted by unanimous vote at a joint meeting here Wednesday of directors of the Twin Falls and North Side Canal companies.

Landholders who do not desire that their lands shall be included in the proposed irrigation district to finance the building of the American Falls reservoir will be assisted by the directors of the Twin Falls North Side Canal company, in obtaining the exclusion of their lands from the district's boundaries.

Pledge to this effect was embodied in a resolution adopted at a joint meeting here Wednesday of the directors of both companies convened to discuss proposed elimination of certain areas under both canal systems which are said to be un reclaimed and not admissible to the district.

A second joint meeting of the directors was arranged to be held here next Wednesday for further consideration and decision on this question.

Federal Mon Attention The meeting Wednesday was attended by B. E. Steutemeyer, Boise, attorney, and Barry Dibble, American Falls, project manager for the federal reclamation service, by which the reservoir will be built providing the various canal companies, including the Twin Falls and North Side companies, arrange to meet and future payments under their contracts for water from the American Falls reservoir. Organization of the proposed irrigation district to include the lands under these companies' systems is the method by which it is expected these payments will be met.

Requires Only Request. Landowners who object to the inclusion of their lands in the proposed district, have only to make their objection known, according to the resolution adopted Wednesday, and the directors of both Twin Falls and the North Side companies will recommend exclusion of such lands to the federal commissioners on or before August 23, the date set by the commissioners for the public hearing on the petition for submission of the question of whether the district to vote of the landholders affected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Wholesale and retail cost of food and other commodities took an upward jump in July, retail prices averaging one per cent increase, while wholesale prices advanced three and one-half per cent, as compared with June, the department of labor announced today.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders, you should give the weak-kneed kidney prompt attention: Eat little, take the things easiest to digest, use a reliable kidney tonic. There is no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Twin Falls people rely on them. Ask your neighbor! Here's one of the many statements from Twin Falls people.

Mrs. J. M. Diamond, 303 4th Ave. E., says: "I was run down with an attack of kidney trouble. I had terrible headaches and dizzy spells and my back ached severely. I was also unable to sleep. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and got immediate relief. Only a couple boxes were necessary to restore me to my usual good health. I have been well ever since, and I gladly recommend Doan's."

OPTIMISM HIGH ON BOTH SIDES

Coal Operators and Union Heads Convinced Strike Settlement is Close

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17 (AP)—Optimism prevails tonight among leaders of the miners and operators directly interested in the authorized coal situation following the first session of the joint conference which is expected to result in a settlement of the strike and send 155,000 men, idle since April 1, back to work. The operators have announced they could return at the old wage scale.

In a statement given out after the conference had adjourned and after John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and Samuel D. Farmer, spokesman for the operators, said there apparently was a "sincere determination" on both sides to effect an adjustment, "if at all possible," but that it was necessary that the union officials and the operators should confer between themselves before further progress could be made.

The meeting was said to have been marked by no friction at all, and it was chiefly taken up by preliminary discussion.

Both Mr. Warriner and Mr. Lewis appeared "calm and collected" and prospect of peace, neither, however, would say what their intentions were, but indicated they were anxious to confer with the respective sides as to be able to go into tomorrow's conference with a definite program.

Some persons in close touch with the situation predicted an agreement would be negotiated not later than Saturday and that the men would be back early in the mines in a week or ten days.

STORY OF RAID TOLD IN COURT

Statements by 17 Out of 36 Persons in Ku Klux Klan Affray Recounted

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17 (AP)—Statements of 17 of the 36 defendants in the Ingleside raid case, made before the grand jury, were introduced in evidence today by the prosecution in the trial of the 36 on felony charges. The jury, however, was admonished by the court that each statement could be considered only with reference to the person making it.

The statements contained admissions that the persons making them took part in the raid upon the home of Fidel Bryan. The defendants, who were taken bound to the Ingleside and Redondo Beach jails, at each of which the jailers refused to receive them as prisoners.

Then, the statements continued, the captors started to take the prisoners to the federal authorities but were turned over to the federal authorities by the court the way to turn them loose.

Command in Question.

"We would make them raise their right hands and swear they would go back home and back to their farming and not booting any more," said one, L. L. Bryan. The defendant, who was charged to who was wounded in the shooting affray between the raiders and Deputy Sheriff Warriner, who resulted in the death of Constable M. B. Mosher, swore that Mosher led the party. Two others declared that Nathan A. Baker, Ku Klux Klan delegate, was in charge, and assigned squads of men to various duties.

MANY INDIOTMENTS ISSUED

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 17 (AP)—Two hundred sixteen men were indicted today by the Brooke county grand jury for alleged participation in the battle at the Clifton mine, Clifton, on the morning of July 17. Several of the indicted are charged with first degree murder and the rest with conspiracy. All but about 50 of the indicted men are in custody.

Emergency price control legislation, which is understood, President Harding will suggest in his message to congress tomorrow, would apply only to coal moving in interstate commerce, in the opinion of the secretary.

State authorities, he believed, would have the power to regulate coal prices during the emergency, especially if the federal government acting nationally gave the states the framework to build on.
