TWIN FALLS FOR
1923 CONCLAVE

Utah-Idaho District Convention
Delegates Pass Up Trip to Yellowstone Promised by
Idaho Falls to Come Here

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 24 (Special to The News)—Kiwanis clubs of Utah and Idaho will hold their 1923 convention in Twin Falls, it was decided by vote of the delegates at closing sessions of the 1922 Utah-Idaho district convention here today.

Idaho Falls also asked for the 1923 convention, but it held out as an inducement the promise to delegate an excursion trip to Yellowstone national park.

The vote on the selection of the 1923 convention town was: Twin Falls 25, Idaho Falls 13.

Quartet Given Credit

Twin Falls Kiwanis club's quartet, composed of C. E. Wright, Merita Batley, Robert Logan and Phil Goldwater, which secured a great triumph with its contributions to the entertainment program of the convention here, was credited with influencing the delegates in large degree in their choice of the convention city.

W. H. Reeder, Jr., of Ogden, was elected district governor for the coming year. Paul Peterson, of Idaho Falls, was elected lieutenant governor for Idaho, and Alex Hedquist of Provo, lieutenant governor for Utah.

Banquet for 398 Guests

Adjournment of the convention was followed by a banquet to 398 Kiwanians at the Hermitage. Guests included Governor Mable of Utah, who was to have addressed the convention in the afternoon but who was detained at Salt Lake by conference on the railroad strike situation. George H. Ross, president of Kiwanis clubs international, who arrived here this morning and addressed the afternoon session of the convention, also responded to a toast at the banquet and delivered the principal address of his visit here on the topic of "What Is Kiwanis?"

The Kiwanians pledged their support to the Utah governor in his efforts to maintain law and order during the railroad strike emergency.

O. O. Hagg of Boise, retiring district governor, presided at the banquet, and John Oully, president of the Ogden club, was toastmaster.

One hundred per cent of the Salt Lake club members attended the banquet, it was announced.

Springville, Utah, the youngest organization of Kiwanians in Utah, after Twin Falls had said it would be satisfied if given the convention, was awarded the "stunt" prize with a song, "Utah We Love Thee," composed by one of its members and sung by all of its 48 members in chorus before the Twin Falls quartet was called upon to repeat its repertoire at the banquet and there were insistent demands for its singing whenever its members were seen together.

Twin Falls' bid for the 1923 convention was made by Merita Batley, in an effective talk on the convention floor. After the vote on the selection of the 1923 meeting place, the Twin Falls quartet was called for and responded with three songs, including the "Twin Falls song" composed by Mr. Batley, which was enthusiastically received.

TWO MEN ARE HELD FOR ALLEGED MISCONDUCT

Young Girl Accuses Rancher and Youth in Connection With Auto Ride

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Carl Shumack, rancher northwest of Twin Falls, and Lawrence Hewlett, 21, were Tuesday placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff V. H. Ormsby, according to statements Wednesday at the sheriff's office. Shumack was released upon his own recognizance, and Hewlett is held a prisoner pending a hearing in the case. He is before Probate Judge O. P. Durall upon his return from St. Anthony.

The complaining witness in the case, authorities said, is a fifteen year old girl who was induced by the accused men to get into their car Sunday evening under the impression that they would take her to a home where where she was staying. Instead, it is said, the men carried the girl out some distance from town, where they made improper proposals. She escaped from the car and, walking into town, was discovered in a distraught condition by the police. She reported her story at the police station.

It is said to have come to Twin Falls Sunday with the expectation of undergoing an operation upon an abscess of the chest.

KIWANIS CLUBS
IN CONVENTION

Twin Falls Delegation Occupies
Prominent Place; Quartette
Makes Hit

OGDEN, Aug. 23 (Special to The News)—The Utah Idaho district convention of Kiwanis opened here this morning with a hearty attendance of delegates on hand. Registration occupied the bulk of the morning after which a luncheon was served to the delegates interspersed with brief speeches, songs and general entertainment features. A notable number was the singing of the Twin Falls Kiwanis quartet composed of Wright, Logan, Batley and Goldwater.

C. E. Wright of Twin Falls addressed the convention during the afternoon session on the subject "How May the Kiwanis code of business be extended beyond the club membership?" Mr. Wright's remarks dealt with the force of example in clean living, sound business ethics and rigid adherence to the rules of modern business.

Quartette in Prominent

The evening session was occupied by a general entertainment program during which the Twin Falls entertainers again distinguished themselves.

M. J. Sweeley, president of the Twin Falls club, is expected in Ogden today. Selection of place of the next year's district convention will be settled tomorrow. Twin Falls and Idaho Falls are active bidders for the honor, chances of the former being regarded as good notwithstanding the fact that the Castellio delegation is working hard for the selection of Idaho Falls.

CONGRESSMAN IS ASKED TO SPEAK

Addison T. Smith Invited to Address Spokane Business
Men on Project

SPokane, Aug. 24 (AP)—Following a conference of local business men and congressmen of eastern Washington here this afternoon, an invitation was extended to Congressman Addison T. Smith of Idaho to come to Spokane to discuss the Columbia basin irrigation project. Mr. Smith is at present at his home in Twin Falls. He has been prominently identified with reclamation legislation.

Frank M. Godwin, who has been in the inland empire investigating the project for Secretary of the Interior Fall left this evening for Washington, D. C., to make a favorable report, he said.

DECEPTION WITH RADIO

Admits Portions of Concert are Transmitted from Phonographs Here

That portions of radio concerts given under the auspices of the Boy Scouts here have been broadcast by phonographs located in Twin Falls is admitted by Donald McLean, scoutmaster of Troop 4, in a statement issued Wednesday. That there was an attempt to deceive anybody, however, is emphatically denied. The impossibility of receiving radio from a distance during warm weather, or in day time, due to static and other atmospheric conditions, is given as the reason for the supplementing of the matter received from distant stations by means of locally produced numbers. The difficulty of obtaining radio at any given time, and disappointment of audiences gathered to hear radio concerts, are also factors in the situation, Mr. McLean says. Boy Scouts, scoutmasters, and in some cases their parents, were all familiar with the fact that supplementary local entertainment features were being used whenever it was necessary, and at no time was there any deliberate intent to deceive the public or any individual, Mr. McLean's statement says.

Music reproduced at public radio concerts here is not transmitted from broadcasting stations at Denver, San Francisco or other distant points, but from a phonograph operated within three blocks of the reproducing apparatus, according to statement of persons presumed to know the facts figuring in discussions of the source of the radio concert music here Tuesday.

Isolation of Twin Falls from the standpoint of radio telephony, necessity for use of a machine connected not less than $5000 to produce successful results here, and the improbability of making good a guarantee to furnish radio concerts at designated hours were factors pointed out as indicating that the source of the radio concert music here was not a distant one.

Relies on Informants

When questioned in regard to the matter, C. D. Thomas, who appeared Monday night before the Twin Falls delegation with a request that the appropriation for the band be kept intact, said that he had no positive information on the subject, but that he had been informed by persons whom he considered credible witnesses that the music reproduced at radio concerts here was transmitted from a phonograph three blocks distant from the grand stand where concerts have been given.

"If that is true," Mr. Thomas said, "I consider the deception of the public and particularly the teaching of the boys engaged in the enterprise to deceive the public most reprehensible."

Another person who claimed to be more or less familiar with the radio telephony pointed out that from that standpoint Twin Falls is probably the most isolated point in the country, and that music reproduced for public concerts here was transmitted from a nearby station or that the reproducing apparatus must represent an investment of not less than $5000.

Manager Maintains Silence

Howard E. Sablin, business manager for the Boy Scouts interested in the enterprise, said Tuesday night that he had no statement to make on the subject at this time, although indicating that he might have something to say later.

Interest in the question apparently has been heightened by reason of the indefinite status of the appropriation for the support of the Twin Falls band by the city administration lately retired. Purpose of the present administration to divert a portion of this appropriation for the non-political league has been indicated, and Mr. Thomas, when he appeared Monday before the city commissioners, expressed his apprehensions that a reduction of the band's appropriation would result in the dissolution of the organization.

Admittedly Close

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 24 (AP)—Doubt that the contest for the republican nomination for governor in Tuesday's primary election would be decided before the official count of the vote by the state canvassing board early in September was expressed here tonight. With only 85 out of the 657 precincts in the state yet to be heard from, John W. Hay, "regular," was leading Governor Robert D. Carey, former member of the progressive party, by 158 votes. The count was: Hay 16,372, Carey 16,214.

Returns so far received indicated that Hay had carried nine counties and Carey four. Returns from the other eight counties were so incomplete to indicate who had carried them.

Other principles embodied in the platform included: Statewide primary; the initiative, referendum and recall; gradual exemption from taxation of the products of labor and industry; abolition of the state constabulary and the non-political league; government election of members of the public utility commission; a graduated inheritance and income tax on incomes of more than $5,000 a year, and the bonus bill.

ALEXANDER IS SELECTED AS
BOURBON HEAD

Former Governor Nominated
by Acclamation to Lead
Forces of Idaho Democracy in Coming Election

HAILEY, Aug. 22 (AP)—Moses Alexander of Boise was nominated by acclamation for governor by delegates to the democratic state convention late Tuesday night.

Elmer Johnson of Bonville county was nominated over W. F. Alworth of Twin Falls for lieutenant governor. Bon R. Gray of Blaine county was selected to make the run for secretary of state over Leslie Dillingham of Custer county, and John C. Rice was nominated for the supreme court without opposition.

Adjournment was taken until 9 a. m. Wednesday when nominations will be completed.

The platform as adopted calls for the abolition of the cabinet form of state government and the establishment of a system of nominating in favor of the state-wide direct primary. The platform took a stand for a bank guaranty act.

Supporters of W. M. Morgan, former justice of the state supreme court and Mr. Alexander's most formidable rival for the nomination, practically withdrew their forces Tuesday afternoon after they had lost, 70 to 29, a resolution requiring that a two-thirds vote should be required for nomination.

HAILEY, Aug. 22 (Special to The News)—George Watters of Weiser in the first congressional district of Idaho and W. P. Whitaker of Pocatello in the second district were nominated early tonight as candidates for the house of representatives at the democratic convention here.

Mr. Watters was practically unopposed, although both Weeks of Comer and Alexander and C. T. Stratton, of Salmon were nominated by their respective delegations. Mr. Weeks withdrew his name and supporters of Mr. Stratton gave him a unanimous vote for the Weiser candidate.

Mr. Whitaker was opposed by Chester G. A. Divilbiss of Buhl.

Delegates assembled at 8:30 to tonight after they had been served a banquet of grouse and mountain trout by the Commercial club of Hailey.

John C. Rice, president elect of the Idaho supreme court, is conceded the nomination for justice.

Permanent Chairman Named

Delegates assembled at 1 o'clock this afternoon. L. Evans of Malad was elected permanent chairman of the convention and Miss Ludwig of county secretary.

Delegates to the convention in Idaho were represented with the exception of Owyhee, and 255 delegates are in the city to participate in the convention. Delegation of committees appointed by the chairman involved more than three hours time, at the end of which only the report of the committee on order of business and rules brought a contest.

Suggest Two Third Vote

Members of the committee, it was said, were evenly divided on the proposal to require that nominations of all candidates be made by a two-thirds vote instead of the usual majority. Charles Winstead of Boise, chairman of the committee, cast the deciding vote against the proposal. A motion was made by a vote of 17 to 16.

A fight on the majority report of this committee developed. At this time the committee developed a majority of 35 to 16 when it was shown that the forces behind W. M. Morgan for governor were favoring making nominations by vote of a minority. A minority report was introduced favoring the proposal and in the vote on the matter 75-23 votes were cast against it and 23 for it.

May Indicate Strength

This vote is said by leaders of both the Alexander and Morgan supporters to indicate the strength of the two men. The Alexander forces were in favor of majority rule and it is believed as a result of this vote that Morgan will be cast for the former governor on the first ballot when nominations for governor are made.

The credentials committee seated delegates at the convention at 5:30 o'clock. When the convention adjourned from the first and second congressional districts to caucus for candidates for congress, the platform and resolutions committee had not reported.

RESIGNATION OF VOLSTEAD ASKED BY RESOLUTION

House Takes Quick Action on Effort to Oust Leader from Committee Seat for Alleged Improper Connections

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (P)—The house swiftly struck from its record today a resolution presented by Representative Tinkham, republican, of Massachusetts, calling upon Chairman Volstead of the judiciary committee to resign his committee seat because of aid said to have been given in his last campaign in the seventh Minnesota district by the Anti-Saloon League of America.

As read by a clerk during a hub-bub of laughter, the resolution provided that unless Mr. Volstead retired within 14 days of its adoption, his seat on the committee, which framed the prohibition enforcement act, be declared vacant.

On his feet, the moment the reading had been concluded, Representative Mann, republican, of Illinois, moved that the proposal be laid on the table, which would kill it, and the house laid it there with a shout of approval. Then Representative Dyer of Missouri, a republican member of Mr. Volstead's committee, offered a motion to expunge the resolution from the Congressional Record, and it went by a vote of 141 to 3. Two New York democrats, Cullen and Carow, and Mr. Tinkham, made up the opposing trio.

Another 18 silent, taking no part in the brief debate, then a flurry he gave out a statement containing what he had expected to say to the house, and in which he asserted that since the report filed with the clerk of the house by Wayne B. Wheeler, for the Anti-Saloon League, showed expenditures of long years in Mr. Volstead's district, two years ago, Mr. Volstead ought not to sit as chairman of a committee before which the organization's counsel appeared for or against legislation. After adjournment of the house he issued this statement:

"The house of representatives, dominated by the anti-saloon league with an almost unanimous vote, today issued debate upon the merits of the resolution calling for the peremptory removal of the chairman of the judiciary committee, Andrew J. Volstead, for improper legislative conduct, but cannot suppress before the American people the vital issue raised by the resolution as to whether the chairman of a committee of congress properly, honestly and in decency can hold his position when a private organization, corporation or individual is using legislation from his committee either contributes money to him or pays his bills or expense money for him for political purposes.

Up to American People
"Upon the decision of the American people in the immediate future depends whether or not a private organization participating actively in elections with legislation in view shall be allowed to spend money to subsidize members of congress in advance of their action upon such legislation."

Mr. Volstead issued the following statement:
"I am much gratified at the reception the house gave the resolution of Mr. Tinkham, in which he sought to have me removed from the judiciary committee because the Anti-Saloon forces supported me in the last election. The house did not only kill the resolution, but promptly, without debate, expunged it from the record.
"I don't very much that Boston will be proud of this performance of its representative. No doubt the enemies of prohibition, now no active throughout the country, inspired this resolution in the hope that it could be used as campaign material against my re-election; but the emphatic way in which the house reacted against such bar-room methods will give them small comfort.

Never Shirked Fight
"I have never shirked a fair fight, but have tried to treat my opponent fairly, and as a rule I have in turn received fair treatment—although the fight over prohibition has at times been very bitter. The member from Massachusetts, who poses as one of the prominent leaders of the wets, is the only one in the house who has broken the rules of civilized warfare."
Mr. Wheeler declared in a statement that the house vote on the resolution "was evidence of what the house thinks" of Mr. Tinkham's charges which, he added, were "false, flimsy and foolish."

OFFERS REFUNDING PLAN

Former President of Southern China Would Invoke Aid of American Dollars

SHANG HAI, Aug. 24 (P)—Sun Yat-sen, former president of China and later of South China, who has been leading conferences here on plans to reunify the country, today outlined a plan to rehabilitate China's finances by having America take over China's debts to European countries on a refunding basis, as part payment of European debts to the United States.

In making known his suggestion, Sun stated that he could not see his way clear to go to Peking and assist in reorganizing the government unless some satisfactory financial program was mapped out. He frankly admitted that he looked to the United States as a strong factor in aiding China in her struggle back to solvency as a nation.

Political reunification of the country is impossible until China's chaotic finances are reduced to a semblance of order, the southern leader said.

SUBSIDY BILL COMES LATER

President Anxious that Consideration Should Be of Thorough Kind

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (P)—President Harding, in a letter to Representative Mondell, the republican leader, has expressed willingness to have congressional consideration of the administration ship subsidy bill deferred "until we can rivet the attention of congress with a full attendance."

Success of the measure, the president added, might be jeopardized by pressing for immediate decision.

The letter was in reply to one from Mr. Mondell, in which the republican leader had declared that he and his associates were reluctant to bring the bill to a vote in the house at this time.

"I am frankly disappointed," the president stated, "that the circumstances have combined to make a difficult situation, due on the one hand to the diminished attendance in the house and changes on the other to the new complications which have arisen. It would be folly to score the development of the prohibition issue which came up so unexpectedly, and we must face the fact that the friends of the bill must harmonize their views to accord with both the constitutional amendment and public opinion on this subject."

Moreover, the same friend of the measure must reach agreement in the matter of the favoring provision carried in the tax exemption section which was designed to provide an indirect aid to American shipping enterprises.

The president expressed the hope that the administration "would find a way to deal with these new difficulties and the approval of all supporters of an American merchant marine, and that we then may have favorable action before the congress gets too deeply engaged in the pressing legislation session."

CROPS HARVEST IN FULL SWING

Rains of Week Interfere But Little in the Farm Work Throughout State

BOISE, Aug. 24—Thunderstorms and showers were general throughout the state but did not seriously interfere with harvesting operations now in full swing in Idaho, according to a weekly summary of weather and crop conditions issued Wednesday by Clinton E. Norquest, meteorologist here for the federal weather bureau.

The summary follows:
North Idaho: The first half of the week and the closing days were cool with considerable cloudiness, but days intervening. Thunderstorms and light rains in variable amounts over the district Friday. Higher humidity, cooler, cloudy weather, and the light rains benefited pastures, ranges and all vegetation. Fruit, corn, beans, irrigated crops and the condition of livestock continue in progress. Highest temperature at Lewiston, 101 degrees on Thursday; total precipitation 0.07 inch.

Southeast Idaho: Moderate temperatures prevailed and the light rains that fell Friday. Higher humidity, cooler, wheat and barley are being harvested in good condition; this work was delayed somewhat by rains in a few localities. Threshing of winter wheat is in progress. Potatoes are good to excellent and the early crop is being dug. Beans are growing well and corn fairly well in progress. Highest temperature at Pocatello, 98 degrees on Thursday; total precipitation 0.07 inch.

Southwest Idaho: The week was fairly hot days about the middle of the week, otherwise temperatures were generally a little below normal. There was some cloudiness, but sunshine was ample. Scattered showers occurred on two days, but the amounts of precipitation were light and the rains had little effect on the progress of crops or the prosecution of farm work. All crops are maturing rapidly and in good condition. The third crop of alfalfa is making splendid growth. Cattle and horses are making excellent growth and begin to show considerable color. A plentiful crop of melons, of excellent quality, is being harvested. Harvesting and threshing of wheat are making rapid progress. Digging and marketing of the early potato crop has been hampered by unfavorable market conditions and transportation difficulties. Pastures and ranges mostly good and all livestock thriving.

Notes from the Field
Richfield, Lincoln county: All crops in good condition; some grain being harvested; pastures and ranges excellent; good rain Friday.
Blackfoot, Bingham county: Moderate temperatures with light rain; barley, oats and spring wheat in good condition and being harvested; threshing started; corn fair; potatoes excellent; range and pasture fair to good.
Garden Valley, Boise county: Week hot, favorable for growth of alfalfa; a few light showers; one light frost; grain harvest begun.
Geneva, Bear Lake county: Recent rains refreshed range and pasture; ac-and cutting of alfalfa begun; fall wheat ready to cut; potatoes fine; livestock in shape.

Birth, Bingham county: Weather favorable for growing crop; some disease showing in potatoes; grains generally good; potatoes and fruit fair; pastures and ranges excellent.
Abandon, Bingham county: Barley, oats and spring wheat good, and being harvested; second crop of alfalfa being cut in excellent condition; potatoes excellent; early crop of grain good; Bonner Ferry, Boundary county: Light showers of last week have all evaporated; they benefited potatoes and corn only a very little; soil drier now than at any time the past three years.

Bliss, Gooding county: Potatoes growing well, prospects good; some good; growing very fast; grain all cut and threshing begun; a good third cutting of alfalfa in prospect.

Twin Falls, Twin Falls county: Week hot; frequent thunderstorms greatly delayed clover threshing and hay stacking; wheat threshing just beginning; apple growing very fast; potatoes doing well; beans excellent.
New Meadows, Adams county: Hay harvest practically completed, with some re-cutting of stacks yet to be done; alfalfa and wheat harvest in good; some oats being cut green for hay; dry land and grain rather light; range fair; stock doing well.

Oakley, Blaine county: Cattle and sheep-rango good; light showers interfered somewhat with second crop haying; threshing dry land grain; most crops extra good; grasshoppers doing some damage; locusts poisoned to save crops in some localities.
Fruitland, Teton county: Prunes beginning to come in; some early crop of apples coloring a little and making good growth when thinned; lettuce thinning under way; some potatoes being harvested, but at a loss to the growers; account low prices.

Sleep Hill, Boise county: Fore part week cool, latter part sultry; hay cured very slowly; timothy mostly cut and baled; alfalfa better than normal, favored by cool nights; some oats cut and wheat about ready; range and livestock conditions above normal.
Twin Falls county: A few rather warm days, but most of week characterized by moderate temperatures; abundant sunshine; light local showers, but not enough to interfere with farm work; all crops maturing in good shape; third crop alfalfa making good growth; harvesting and threshing of grain made good progress; fruit doing well; plentiful crop melons being marketed.

DEAD MAN EXHONERATED

Army Board Finds Death of Beck Not Due to Dishonorable Conduct

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (P)—Lieutenant Paul W. Beck, army air service, who was killed last April by a "gunshot wound in the head" inflicted by a revolver, held in the hand of "Jenn P. Day, of Oklahoma City," died "in the line of duty," and his death was not due to his own willful "recklessness," according to official findings of an army investigating board, made public and approved today by Secretary Weeks. Charges that Colonel Beck was killed during an attack upon Mrs. Day were not substantiated by the report, it was said.

Colonel Beck was killed in the home of Day after he and several others had been guests at the home one evening. The killing occurred when Day returned after taking other guests to their homes and found Colonel Beck and Mrs. Day alone. A coroner's jury subsequently exonerated Day.

In announcing the board's findings,

Secretary Weeks said he would forward the evidence to the Oklahoma attorney general. The secretary's approval of the findings, it was explained, officially cleared the military record of Colonel Beck from any question of dishonor.

Cause of Appendicitis
When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestines become packed with refuse matter, that is made up largely of germs. These germs enter the vermiform appendix and set up inflammation, which is commonly known as appendicitis. Take Chamberlain's Tablets when you need and keep your bowels regular and you have little to fear from appendicitis—adv.

I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. DIFFERENCES IN TARIFF MEASURE MUST BE CURED

Strenuous Task Awaits Conference of House and Senate in Composing Points of Difference in Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Shelving the American valuation question for the time being, at least, the six republican conferees of the senate and house today began their task of composing the 2,430 differences between those two bodies on the administration tariff bill. The valuation question was discussed only briefly and there was no indication when it would come up for a decision.

Members of the conference disclosed, however, that the American valuation as originally written into the house bill was receiving little if any consideration. The plan under discussion was the basing of all valuations on the wholesale selling price of the imported goods in the American markets. Adoption of this plan was urged on the conferees by Senator Odell, republican, of Nevada, in a prepared address in the senate. He said it would remove the administration difficulties presented by the original proposal and at the same time prevent "chaos" growing out of undervaluation of imports.

In deciding to pass the valuation problem for the present, the conferees, it was stated officially, agreed that in acting upon all valuations, rates should be computed on the basis of both the foreign valuation and the American wholesale selling price, so that a retreating of steps would not be necessary, no matter which plan finally was adopted.

Meetings of the conference committee are closed.

THOUSANDS ARE IN LINE

Borrowing Spectators View Passage of Body of Late Leader in Dublin

DUBLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Twice today the body of Michael Collins was carried through the streets of Dublin, which were lined with sorrowing spectators. Early in the day, in impressive procession, the body was taken from the steamer Cianin and transported in a gun carriage to the St. Vincent's hospital. This evening it was removed to the city hall, where it will lie in state until Sunday.

Military and civil guards, ministers of the government, members of the Dail Eireann, relatives and many clergy, among them three bishops, followed the coffin, which was covered with the Irish tricolor.

Irish pipers played a lament, while officers of the Dublin brigade acted as pallbearers. Dense crowds had gathered hours before the appointed time and on all sides poignant grief was displayed as the cortege passed. Hundreds of Dublin guards formed an escort, with arms reversed, and a vast procession of bareheaded men and women followed. The coffin was placed on the same catafalque on which had rested the body of Arthur Griffith.

It is the first time he has ever been more than six miles from his farm near Bancroft, Ill., which he has worked for 77 years. He was accompanied by his daughter and made the trip in a private car.

Wonderful Maine "Skeeters"

The mosquitoes up on Pushaw stream seem to have a size and character of their own, equal perhaps to that of the famed Jersey "skeeter." It is said that two young old town men went up the stream last Sunday in a canoe and ran into a swarm of mosquitoes of such size and strength that they (the boys) were lifted out of their canoe and unceremoniously dumped into the stream. Another story says that a mosquito alighted on one of the fellow's neck and he struck at it with such force that he upset the craft—but most people believe the first story.—Kennebec Journal.

UNION PACIFIC TO CUT RATE ON IDAHO'S SPOUS

Reduction of 20 Cents a Hundred Pounds Awaits Assent of Commission

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 24—The Union Pacific system will grant Idaho growers a reduction of 20 cents a 100 pounds on potatoes shipped to Missouri river points and the east as soon as formal permission has been given by the interstate commerce commission, according to messages received Wednesday by Governor D. W. Davis and the state public utilities commission.

The utilities commission received a telegram from H. M. Adams, vice-president of the system, and the governor was advised by H. V. Platt, general manager of the Oregon Short Line at Salt Lake.

While Mr. Adams' telegram does not specify when the new rate will go into effect, it does say it will remain in effect until September 30. George E. Erb, president of the state public utilities commission, believes the new rate will be put into effect between September 1 and 5.

THREAT BY GUARD CAUSE OF TEMPORARY WALK OUT OF RAILROAD YARD MEN

Altercation Between Peace Officer and Engineer Leads to Quick Action

OMAHA, Aug. 24 (AP)—A temporary walkout of switchmen, engineers and firemen in the Union Pacific yards at Grand Island, Neb., today has been settled and the men are back at work without having tied up passenger traffic, according to officials at Union Pacific headquarters here.

The men walked out after a railroad guard is alleged to have threatened to fill an engineer "full of lead." The guard claimed that the engineer sprayed hot water on him as the engine passed the guard. The engineer denied the accusation.

WIND CAUSES DAMAGE

ST. PAUL, Aug. 24 (AP)—Heavy wind and rain storms visited this city tonight, uprooting trees, breaking windows and causing interruption of telephone service. The rain was reported general over the state and in northern Minnesota greatly aided 2,000 men fighting forest fires.

Wisdom in Liberty

The United States is the only country where one can say offensive things about the executive and go unpunished, which may have much to do with the traditional sweetness of the American disposition, fermenting opinions of those in authority being promptly unceremonious and as soon forgotten.

American Royalists

John Adams estimated that one-third of all the people of the colonies were royalists, that is, opposed to the war with Great Britain. A minority of these favored obedience to British laws, but the great majority opposed the British methods with the colonies, but wanted a peaceable settlement and the maintenance of the British connection. The war drove the royalists, or so-called Tories, into armed resistance, and the colony of New York alone more than 20,000 took up arms for the British. Out of a total population of less than 4,000,000 more than 60,000 royalists left the colonies during the revolution because of their political position.

Miraculous Patchouli Plant.

From the Little Revlon we pick this gem concerning the patchouli plant: "If only Darwin had lived to see the patchouli plant! You have heard of flowers specially adapting themselves to be fertilized by bees or butterflies or spiders and such-like? Well, this plant which grows in the forests of Guatemala can only be fertilized by English explorers. On either side a small crevice may be discerned in the fleshy lobes of the only. The English traveler seeing this plant is immediately struck by its resemblance to those penny-in-the-slot machines in the railway stations at home. Through sheer force of habit he takes a penny from his pocket and inserts it in one of the crevices or slots. Immediate result—a jet of highly scented liquid pollen is discharged from the spout upon the plait lying below, and the plant is fertilized. Could anything be more miraculous? And yet there are those who deny the existence of God. Poor fools."—The New Republic.

Ancient and Modern Coinage.

Man first had an opportunity to call "heads or tails" more than 2,200 years ago, when the practice of stamping a head on coins was instituted by the Greeks, with the likeness of Alexander the Great. Some of the ancient Greek coins are valuable as art objects alone, the embossing being of rare workmanship and surpassing anything to be seen on the coinage of today. It is naturally an example of the great height which Greek culture reached in that day. The coins of civilization, in fact, can easily be traced in these ancient coins. Roman coinage, some of which bears the head of Nero, is not equal in beauty to that of the Greeks, but nevertheless shows a high quality of art. But the money of the succeeding Dark ages is crude in the extreme, and even the English 10-cent piece of 1000 A. D. is childishly primitive in comparison. —Pearson's Weekly.

The Woman's Side of It.

To run a home well is no easy task, no matter how small that home may be. It is a business which takes brains, an infinite amount of household knowledge, acres of experience and almost inexhaustible patience. From this list of qualifications it may be guessed that woman's end of the matrimonial partnership is just as important, if not more so, than the man's. It is her task to make a real home or to make of their dwelling place nothing but a shiftless abode, erected only for temporary convenience.

SOLDIER BONUS MEASURE TAKES SECOND PLACE

Pressure of Coal, Rail and Newberry Situations Results in Postponement of Action—Long Debate Anticipated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The soldier bonus bill received but little attention today in the senate. It was submerged by discussions of the coal and rail strikes and the Newberry case with the result that leaders now do not anticipate its passage before next week.

In the brief debate, Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader, voiced his opposition to the measure, with Senator Heflin, democrat, of the same state, vigorously urging its passage.

Senator Underwood declared the measure was not an adjusted compensation bill; that it had been properly named by the public a bonus bill. "You cannot measure service to the country in dollars," declared the minority leader. "If you are to measure service in that way, then $225 is an absurd proposition. The payment of a dollar a day will not adjust that great debt, a generous people must always owe to the gallant men who carried the flag in time of war."

Obligation Exists
The senator said there was an obligation on the government to take care of the sick, disabled and needy in old age, but that there was no obligation to give "a pittance" to the others, many of whom, he said, did not need it. "Ascertaining that hundreds of thousands of former service men now were without a job, Senator Heflin declared that there could be no talk about "cheapening" a man's patriotism when hunger demanded that "he get something to eat and a place to sleep."

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN ST. LOUIS SPUD MARKET

Idaho Potatoes Quoted at $1.50 to $1.60 at Ft. Worth and $1.50 at St. Louis

CALDWELL, Idaho—Idaho No. 1 potatoes were quoted for the Fort Worth market at $1.50 to $1.60 and on the St. Louis market at $1.60 a hundred pounds by Wednesday's bulletin of the federal bureau of agricultural economics issued by C. E. Schultz, local representative.

Demand and movement was improving at St. Louis, the bulletin said, with slightly stronger market and prices slightly higher. Demand was slow at Fort Worth, with the market unsettled and weaker, prices remaining about the same.

Market conditions at other centers were summarized as follows:

Chicago—Demand good for good stock; market strong on whites, firm on Early Ohio; 110 cars on track.
Kansas City—Supplies liberal; demand and movement slow; market dull; 13 cars diverted from team track; 24 cars on track.

Arrivals Wednesday at Kansas City included 7 cars of Idaho potatoes out of 13 received; at St. Louis 1 car of Idaho potatoes out of 5 received, and at Fort Worth 19 cars of Idaho potatoes out of 25 received.

Surface Living.

"Most of us continue to live unnecessarily near our surface," said Professor James, when speaking of the stored-up resources of energy hidden in man, and seldom drawn upon. "The plain fact remains that men, the world over, possess amounts of resources which only the exceptional individual pushes to their full use." Surface living, leaving untouched our greatest capacities, physical, mental and moral, makes our lives commonplace and unsatisfactory. We must learn to draw upon our resources, not only to accomplish so little, but we do not put our whole selves either into our work or into our religion, into our aims for this world or for the next. "With all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind," was God's measure for devotion when the law was given. Unused resources rob both the physical and the spiritual life of power, and make it unsuccessful.

Superstitions of Japan.
In Japan the nursery is still protected from the intrusion of moieties and other infections by means of an inscription over the nursery door stating "this child is not at home." In the Wellcome Historical Medical Museum, says the London Lancet, a most fascinating exhibition is on view, illustrative of "Japanese charms, amulets, votive offerings, and objects of medical interest," among which these nursery notices occupy an important place. Akin to these notices are the charms embodied in toys. A yellow tiger with a waxing tiger is now said to be a toy, but anciently it was a form of exorcism against palsy and numbness of the limbs.

STRONG TREATY OPPONENT EMBRACES REGULAR CAUSE

Tom Hales, Noted Political and Military Figure, Experiences Change of Heart

CORR, Aug. 24 (AP)—After having accepted responsibility for the ambush in which Michael Collins was killed, Tom Hales, former fierce opponent of the treaty, today threw down his arms and offered to join the national forces. It is not known whether his offer will be accepted.

Hales is a brother of Sean Hales, pro-treaty member of the Dail Eireann. Tom and his sister on last St. Patrick's day set fire to the military barracks where a demonstration in favor of the treaty was being held under the auspices of his brother, Sean, and Canon Cohanlan, parish priest of Bandon.

His present change of front is regarded as significant and as giving point to the prevailing belief that the death of Michael Collins may have been in vain, as his action may animate his comrades to do likewise.

Had Trying Experience

Sean Collins, proceeding from Clonkilly yesterday to attend his brother's funeral, had a trying experience. He was arrested on the Bandon-Macroom road by regulars, who wanted him for lacking the courage "to stand up and be plugged," and spoke jubilantly of having "plugged McKoon, the traitor," referring to his brother Michael.

Sean Collins remained in custody overnight but was released this morning, reaching here this evening. He was met by special messenger, E. J. O'Donnell, and General Ennis and Sean Hales.

CADET CORPS TO BE WORKED OVER

Military Instructor Praises the Showing Made by Students at Summer Camp

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Aug. 24—Reorganization of the cadet corps so that it may more readily lend itself to the maneuvering of the regular army will be one of the outstanding changes made in the department of military science and tactics at the university of Idaho this fall, according to Captain Charles L. Lloyd, instructor in the department.

The corps will be organized so as to consist of two battalions of three companies each and will be handled by a student colonel, lieutenant colonel and two majors. Each company will contain fifty-eight men or be equal to the strength of a platoon. Each battalion will be equal to the strength of a company.

"The reorganization of the university cadet corps will be made possible by the increased enrollment expected this fall," said the captain, "and will greatly facilitate the handling of the corps for ceremonial and tactical purposes."

Praises Cadets' Work

In speaking of the work of the cadet battalion at the university, Captain Lloyd spoke very highly of the showing made by those students who went to the summer camp at Camp Lewis and college H. O. T. C. units at Camp Lewis this summer.

"Although the delegation from Idaho represented but the average run of cadets it was among the very best there and has the records to back up the statement. It made not only a very good showing in the rifle contests but was one of the best handled units from a tactical standpoint."

"Among seven competing teams, the Idaho representation won second place, in spite of the fact that most of the men had never practiced shooting on anything more than an improvised range. This netted the institution a beautiful silver loving cup. In addition each member received a national match badge."

Twin Falls Man on Team

"The rifle shooting team was composed of Walter C. Chubbuck, Blackfoot, captain; Harrison B. Armstrong, Moscow, coach; E. Fred Cregue, Seattle, manager; and the following shooting members: John Rasmussen, Shelly; Lewis H. Russell, Payette; Bryan B. Bundy, Caldwell; Vaughan Price, Twin Falls; Roy K. Hendrickson, Lewiston; Lief E. Fjord, Moscow."

"James A. (Babe) Brown from Idaho was the only man in the entire infantry camp at Camp Lewis to make the qualification of pistol expert. In addition twelve other men from Idaho qualified for marked 'proficiency' in their work. They were:

"Advanced course men: Bryan B. Bundy, Caldwell; Wm. C. Carpenter, Boise; Robert M. Cummings, Wallace; William W. Gartin, Caldwell; Abe Goff, Walla Walla, Wash.; Guy O. Penwell, Moscow; Vaughan A. Price, Twin Falls; John Rasmussen, Shelly.

"Basic course men: Marvin M. Scott, Palouse; Theodore J. Schwartz, Palo Alto, Cal.; Roy H. Hendrickson, Lewiston; Walter C. Chubbuck, Blackfoot.

Gain Practical Experience

"The camp was so organized at Camp Lewis that every advanced student, who must have had two years of basic military work in the universities and colleges, had an opportunity to get practical experience in the commanding of troops. At this task as with all others, the Idaho cadets were well at the forefront. Abe Goff of Idaho was called on perhaps more than any other one individual to take command of the cadet corps."

DEMPSEY WILLING TO GO

Champion Satisfied with Offer to Fight in South America, Manager Silent

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, is willing to go to South America either this fall or next spring to meet Luis Angel Firpo, holder of the South American crown, if Tex Rickard, noted promoter, is willing to stage the bout.

After a conference with Jack Keenan, Dempsey's manager, Rickard announced this afternoon that the suggested match depends on Firpo.

Some time ago Rickard declared that he was too busy in the United States to take a fight below the equator and earlier than that Keenan declared that Dempsey had a $500,000 offer to go to Argentina, but would not accept it.

TITLE CLAIMED BY JEROME

North Side Ball Club Ends Season with Victory Over Hansons Team

JEROME, Idaho, Aug. 24 (Special to The News)—Jerome closed its 1922 baseball season with its game last Sunday against the strong Hansons club, which it won 11 to 3.

Jerome has not all corners this season and has won from them all, and lays claim to being the undefeated champion of South Idaho.

L. B. Bills managed the club and also led the club in hitting with an average of .475 in the 18 games played. In only one game did he miss hitting safely, and that was in the last game of the season at Hansons. In this game he walked twice.

Five other players made exceptional records as hitters—Ashenbeller, Leach, Brooks, Patis.

Jerome had no star players. Bills and Brooks received offers to play in organized ball, but both are in business here and decided to remain.

MATCH CLOSE TO A DRAW

Tunney, Former Light Heavyweight Champion, Wins by Narrow Margin

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24 (AP)—Gene Tunney of New York, former light heavyweight champion of America, defeated Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia in an eight-round bout here tonight, in the opinion of a majority of sports writers at the ring side.

Tunney weighed 173 pounds and Loughran was 160 pounds lighter. Tunney landed a hard right on Loughran's jaw in the first round and Tommy went down for the count of nine. Loughran came back gamely and made a great battle, so much so that some sports writers were inclined to judge the match a draw.

JOE LYNCH WINS ON KNOCKOUT

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 24 (AP)—Joe Lynch tonight defeated Benny Levy of Chicago by a knockout in the fourth round of a scheduled 12-round fight. The champion never was in danger from the start of the fight, but kept Levy on the defensive throughout. Lynch outclassed his opponent. Levy put up a good fight until he went down for the count of eight in the fourth round, rose and met his opponent again, only to be felled for a knockout.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 24 (AP)—C. S. Ruthenberg, one of the alleged communist party members in jail here, tonight told the Associated Press that he expects to be freed of the charges of violating the Michigan syndicalism act. This statement was made after Ruthenberg, speaking for the other 18 prisoners being held on similar charges, had conferred with his counsel.

"The law won't stand its initial test," Ruthenberg, one time candidate for governor of Ohio, said. "The same statute was enacted in Ohio and 12 indictments were drawn in Cleveland against alleged violators. When the cases came into court they were thrown out on demurrers."

WHEN LIFE WAS SIMPLE

Unless it has something to do with airplanes or motor cars, or with the more vigorous and spectacular games like tennis or baseball, it is not likely that the announcement of a coming national tournament will get much attention. And when we learn that the tournament in question is to decide the national championship in horseshoe pitching we are inclined to yield it over less than passing notice.

In an age when we demand for diversion nothing short of headlines on the wings of a rushing airplane; when a game of auto polo is an ordinary occurrence only occasionally thrilling us; and when a ball player has to be a consistent home run hitter, we are not likely to wax enthusiastic over horseshoe pitching.

And yet, this ancient pastime is not without its merits. More keenly than ever should it today challenge our attention, for it goes back to a time when life was simpler. It carries us to remote countryside and lanes at a time when the noise of the world was barely making itself heard even in the great cities. Quiet days those! When men got their exercise at their work, and didn't find it necessary, as men do now, to work at their play.

The game of horseshoes satisfied to the full the simple desires of a simple life. It did not take years of most exacting toil to perfect one's self in it; one improved with practice, of course; one may become exceedingly skillful at it, but the nerve racking apprenticeship required for perfection in a game like golf, for instance, is not needed to enjoy pitching horseshoes.

It recommends itself to the novice and to the master; to old and to young. It stimulates an easy-going interest; its leisurely pace permits of conversation running into amiable channels of every sort. It is associated not with throbbing multitudes jeering and opposing player or luckless umpire, but with individuals engaged in talk the while the happy hours go by.

As such the game of horseshoes is a restatement of a view of life and a manner of living now rapidly going from among us. We are glad that a national tournament is coming off in Iowa this month. It will be in some ways an assurance that the good old times may be brought back occasionally.

BIG REWARDS FOR BRAIN

Announcement is made that since an accounting was filed by the executors, Theodore Roosevelt's estate has been increased fifty thousand dollars by the payment of book royalties accrued before his death but only recently paid. It is probable the Roosevelt heirs will receive income for many years from this source. Good books live and are in demand long after death claims their authors.

Mark Twain's estate received one recent year from the subscription publisher of his work over eighty thousand dollars. One book of adventure first published almost fifty years ago "goes big" among the boys of today and must be a source of large profit to the author's heirs, if they have managed to retain an interest in it.

Book copyrights are valuable property, provided the works have value. It is just that the author have what they earn, and his heirs after him. But this is contrary to the theory of not a few of the most vociferous preachers on "human rights." Those people would count the author out and give the rewards to the men who had a hand in manufacturing the material book. These are the "workers," they think. Production is the work of hands alone, according to them.

But no hand over was useful for more than fighting and scratching unless it were directed by a brain; unless somebody thought out processes by which hands might transform raw materials into consumable products. Authors of books make work for thousands in the various branches of the publishing business and they are entitled to the major profits arising from their work. The principle runs true in all creative activities.

A STRIKING EXAMPLE

The six days' street car strike in Chicago is a striking example of the folly of allowing industrial disputes to reach that stage. After the men had lost seven thousand dollars in wages, the public been put to an additional expense of two million dollars finding improvised transportation, and the company and the business of the city subjected to the loss of millions of dollars, negotiations which should have been as readily possible before the tieup as at the end of six days, brought about an adjustment accepted by both sides.

We claim to be reasonable beings, but let us ask ourselves if that way of adjusting the everyday relations of employers and employed is anything but childish. All America throw up its hands in horror at the folly of grownup men in Europe resorting to arms to settle disputes that should have been adjusted at a council table. But are we any wiser when it comes to civil controversies at home? There is only one basis for lasting peace between nations or individuals, and that is justice, and it is to be obtained by argument and reason and not by force.

BRITISH PUBLIC GREATLY MOVED

English Press Expresses Universal Regret Over Collins' Death

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The death of Michael Collins, who has fallen in actual combat with the rebels, as one of the true victims of the substituted plan of guerrilla warfare for organized resistance to the provisional government, has impressed the British public far more than did even the death of Arthur Griffith, while the circumstances of his death, fought against desperate odds in a carefully arranged ambush during the course of an inspection of his troops' position around Cork, adds to the halo surrounding his lamented death.

The British press is filled with tributes, personal sketches, anecdotes and stories of the hairbreadth escapes of the dead commander-in-chief of the course of Ireland's warfare with Britain, together with testimony of his political strength, his sagacity and loyalty in carrying out the conditions of the treaty he signed with England. Prominent men, at home and abroad, from the prime minister down, hasten to pay tributes of condolence and respect.

Work Still Ahead

When Arthur Griffith died it was the subject of general comment that his life's work was virtually accomplished and his ideals achieved. With Michael Collins, his work was still to do, and perhaps the most important part of the British public is what will follow upon the tragic disappearance of the two most important leaders.

The new constitution of the Irish free state, which is being drawn up, is a task which government still have to pass the British parliament and will be the chief business of the autumn session. The death of Michael Collins, a leader which deprived Ireland at such a critical moment of its two greatest leaders is the subject of great anxiety in political quarters here as well as in Dublin. Richard Mulcahy and William Cosgrave are the two names in greatest prominence as leaders of Irish affairs. The meeting of the Dail Eireann, which is under postponement until Saturday, and which is expected to delegate the necessary ministerial changes, is therefore awaited with intense interest.

Government Issues Statement

DUBLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Irish government this afternoon issued the following statement on the death of Michael Collins:

"The greatest and bravest of our countrymen has been snatched from us at a moment when victory smiled through the clouds upon the rising up of the nation to which he had dedicated all the powers of his magnificent manhood."

"The genius and courage of Michael Collins lent force and inspiration to the cause he fought, the long fight against the external enemy to a triumphant end, which had become almost a dream, and swept before it the domestic revolt which tried to pluck from your hands the fruits of that triumph of your unchallenged authority in the land."

"In every phase of the awakened activity of the nation, the construction, administration and execution of the military, the personality of Michael Collins was vivid and compelling. He has been slain to our unutterable grief and loss. But he cannot die. He will live in the rule of the people which he gave his great best to assert and confirm and which his colleagues undertake as a solemn charge to maintain."

The Dulness of Routine.

It is remarkable how few events or situations permitting mental exercises there are in our histories; how little exercised we have been in our minds; how few experiences we have had. I would fain be assured that I was growing apathetic and feeble, though my very growth disturbs this occasional slumber—though it be with struggle through long, dark, muggy nights or seasons of gloom. It would be well if all our lives were a divine tragedy instead of this trivial comedy or farce. Then at rare intervals, some thought would come, as at Lechmere, the car on a railroad, then indeed the cars go by without his leaving them. But soon by some inexorable law, our life goes by and the car returns—Thoreau.

WRECKED CREW ON A FAIRY ISLE IN SOUTH SEAS

Rescued Captain Tells Racy Tale of Adventures Following Loss of Vessel and Rescue by Natives

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 24 (AP)—A sunny coral isle in the South Seas, far from the propeller-churned paths of the ocean liners, where lazy palms fringe the coral atolls and the women, young and beautiful, dress in the moon more than 14 to 1, where 80 cents lasts a month; this is the story told of Tagaway, an islet of the Ellice group, by Captain J. A. T. Olson, of the American schooner Henriette, wrecked July 16 in those latitudes.

Captain Olson told the members of his crew are in Honolulu today with the British steamer Hauraki, which picked them up at Tagaway and is taking them to San Francisco.

The captain's tale runs as follows: "Tagaway is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 180 persons, of whom only 12 are men."

"Our schooner, the Henriette, was swung off her course and onto Nukunui reef by heavy seas, which made it highly dangerous to attempt a landing in a lifeboat without a pilot."

Native Savs Lives

"We struck at night and at dawn we tried for the shore. Before we hit the coral we saw native men, clad only in loin cloths, pushing an outrigger canoe into the water, and with their canoes we made the shore in safety. It had not been for the natives, we probably would have lost our lives in the heavy surf."

"Our coming was hailed with joy by the natives, who pass their existence in a state of isolation. The women outlasted the men for four to one, or more, and some of them are beautiful. Their ages range from 12 to 18 years and there are only a few older."

"The chief of the tribe, a husky Samoan, turned over his grass hut, 'palace' to the mate and myself to be used as our quarters during our stay on the island. He also tendered me one of his daughters, a beautiful, dark-eyed girl with a lovely figure, as my servant. Other pretty girls were assigned to the mate and to the members of the crew to wait on them."

"We certainly did not lack for entertainment. I had a great time and would not have missed the experience for any amount of money."

Had Only 30 Cents

"I had only 30 cents in my pocket when I landed, but money was no object. Many dinners were given in our honor and native maidens in grass skirts performed hula dances for our amusement."

"All the inhabitants of the island are Christians and all lead upright lives. 'We had a hard time getting away. The women wanted husbands and they pleaded with us and coaxed us to stay. Owing to the isolation of Tagaway, most of the men of marriageable age have left it, some have gone to sea as sailors and others are scattered throughout the southern ocean and as far away as Australia."

Steamer Is Sighted

"On our 20th day the island Mate N. P. Benson sighted the mate of the steamer Hauraki. We put out in our boat and signalled repeatedly, finally catching the attention of those aboard her and they picked us up."

"We were not worrying, for if the Hauraki had not sighted us we would have been taken off the island by the London missionary society boat, which calls at Tagaway twice each year."

Captain Olson and others of the schooner will leave for the mainland tomorrow on the transport Henderson

Brush Finish for Brass.

Steel wool will be found to be a very useful material for giving brass and similar metals a brush finish by rubbing them with it. Care should be taken that the rubbing is done in one direction, otherwise a scratched surface will result. A lacquer should be applied to prevent tarnishing. A thin solution of white shellac alcohol applied with a brush is satisfactory as a lacquer for large work, and small pieces may be dipped in the solution. Anciently the plant equiseta or "mosses" was employed as a polisher, and as many a sportsman has found by experience with a rusty gun, provides a very fair, and not exceedingly "scratchy," polisher.

Then He Flew the Coop.

To a newsstand came a near-patron, who seemed to have but hazy ideas of just what he wanted. He looked at "stationery" and he looked at pencils and he looked at the price of this magazine and that and looked over postcards and the books. The young lady who was in charge of the counter became somewhat weary answering questions without making a sale. At last the prospective customer asked: "Have you any fly paper?" "Yes, sir," was the prompt reply. We have the Aeroplane Journal and the Aviator's Gazette,"—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Allotments to the states include: Minnesota $24,000; South Dakota $10,000; Montana $13,725; Idaho, North $21,000; Idaho, South $23,000; Washington $24,000; Oregon $24,000, and California $22,000.

Judge Submits to Unique Test When Justice Requires

Charge of Cruelty to Children Issues from Court Following Experiment

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 24 (AP)—Judge Harry B. Keldan, in recorder's court today, was lashed on the hand with a heavy strap at his own request. The judge ordered that he be struck to assist him in determining disposition of the case of George Blackman, 35, charged by state humane officers with assault and battery on his six year old stepson.

After feeling the sting of the strap, Judge Keldan ordered a new warrant sworn out, charging Blackman with cruelty to children.

Requirements for Works Manager.

There are many good mechanical engineers—there are also many good business men—but the two are rarely combined in one person. But this combination of qualities, together with at least some skill as an accountant, either in one person or more, is essential to the successful management of industrial works, and hence the most effective method of uniting in one person, who is thus qualified to supervise either personally or through assistants, the operations of all departments of a business, and to subordinate each to the harmonious development of the whole.—Engineering Magazine.

Crushed Coal in Smelting.

A new method of utilizing coal in competition with all fuel is being tried at Vancouver. Those conducting the experiments claim that crushed coal can be supplied to steam-producing furnaces by the same method that oil is utilized. The new process is of special interest to British Columbia, as it is proposed to apply it for smelting purposes in the big mining plants of the Province. It is claimed that seven per cent of copper can be smelted with one ton of coal by this process, whereas formerly the ratio was a ton of coal to a ton of ore.

ADMITS TAKING FUNDS REACHING ENORMOUS SUM

Philanthropist and Leading Citizen Acknowledges Theft of Three-Quarters of a Million by Means of Clever Scheme

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 24 (AP)—John Guild, philanthropist, leading citizen of Honolulu and until a few days ago treasurer of Alexander and Baldwin, sugar factors and shipping and insurance brokers, has admitted a shortage in his accounts of $750,000, and has told how it was done, according to an announcement today by the firm's directors.

Guild, they said, had duplicates of all statements, accounts and stationary used in the firm's offices here and at San Francisco, New York and Seattle, which enabled him to manipulate the inter-office balances so as to extract surplus cash and cover up shortages.

Recovering Health

Physicians attending Guild reported today that he was recovering from the heart attack, which menaced his life following the shock of publication of the charges against him. The grand jury will be called in special session tomorrow to consider the case of Guild.

Alexander and Baldwin announced that they would make a complete statement of Guild's alleged proceedings as soon as possible.

Cleanly Wild Animals.

Animals, says a French savant, furnish man an example in the matter of hygiene. They were the first creatures who made use of the sponge, soap and even of the toothbrush. From time immemorial they cleaned themselves by using the tongue as a brush, their saliva as soap, their tail as a towel, their claws as a comb. Furthermore, they bathe themselves frequently.

Colonies of monkeys isolate those among them who refuse to observe the rules of cleanliness. It has been remarked that monkeys with well-cared for hands take the precaution when drinking of never letting them get wet. Chimpanzees almost invariably rinse out their mouths after eating, and a certain young orang-outang always used a toothpick.

Slept Seven Months.

The young Sicilian who is now gradually awakening from a seven months' sleep apparently holds the world's record as a sleeper, but England has in her time had sleepers of note. There was the case of Samuel Clifton, the Somersetshire marvel of the seventeenth century, who attracted the attention of many of the learned, and set them "testing" him with "large pins and caustic ammonia" in the gentle fashion of the day. Clifton fell asleep in August and awoke on Jan. 1, 1700, in spite of the large pins of inquiring scientists. A Newcastle girl, too, is recorded as having slept for nearly four months in the eighteenth century. But that seven months' sleeper wakens for a very different world from that he closed eyes upon—London Chronicle.

American Citizens.
In practice there is no such thing as a "citizen of the United States." Such "citizenship" is about as mythical as the mermaid. In order to vote, for instance, one must bring his citizenship down to the concrete and become a citizen of New York, or of some one of the other states. You cannot vote in New York unless you are a citizen of New York; and the same is true of all the other states. The "citizen of the United States" is a very vague gentleman.

The telescopes constructed by Galileo consisted of one convex object glass and one concave eyepiece, which were placed at the extremities of a metal tube, the first of these magnifying the height and breadth of objects three times. Later on he produced a telescope which magnified eight times, and about five years further along produced a telescope with the power of magnifying objects about thirty times larger than they appear to the unaided eye.

Advertising is the Sunlight of Business

To all that is healthy and vital in business, it means increased strength and growth, but advertising is a fierce heat which withers and consumes that which is unsound.

A business which is not a good business should not be advertised. A business which would not benefit from widespread appreciation of its ideals had better acquire a new set of ideals.

EXTRACTION TO BE APPLIED FOR IN FOSTER CASE

Governor of Illinois Will Be Asked to Assist in Securing
Chief Radical for Trial in Michigan

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 24 (AP)—Law enforcing officers of Berrien county tonight were marshaling their forces for the prosecution of Foster, arrested in a raid on an alleged radical meeting in the wilds near Bridgman, last Tuesday by local and federal officers.

While officers of the law were preparing their evidence for presentation at preliminary examination, probably during the first part of next week, David Bontall, Chicago attorney, was making ready the defense for the men now held in jail. He has been retained as counsel for the seventeen.

Each of the seventeen men is being held in jail in default of $10,000 bonds each, fixed today when arraigned before the local justice of the peace, who ordered their preliminary hearing postponed. The date of this hearing has not been set.

Each defendant is held on two counts, one of conspiracy against the government and the second charging violation of the Michigan syndicalism law. This law has been the first trial under the latter law. The penalty for violation of its terms is a prison sentence of ten years, a fine of $5,000, or both.

Talk Freely of Raid
Federal officials spoke freely of the raid, but refused to allow reporters to quote them. They said at least five members attended the sessions. Their arrests were made soon, they asserted.

To Little Carl Muller, 12 years old, of Chicago, was given the credit of locating the evidence now held by the federal and local officials regarding the meeting. Noticing men carrying explosives and papers hurrying through the woods, he followed, and when the officers arrived led them to the spot where the records were found.

Poster Out on Bond
CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—William Z. Foster, arrested Wednesday in connection with a gathering of alleged radicals in Berrien county, Michigan, was released today on $5,000 bonds. Foster, who was arrested on charges preferred under the Michigan anti-syndicalist law.

Concerning Sleep.
Deeply rooted in the popular mind is the feeling that "a series of bad nights" means "something wrong with the brain." This is a bog, says a writer, "that wants men dealing with, and is always frightening numbers of nervous persons into poor health. If weight is maintained, the mind clear, and digestion good, why worry about sleep if only a few hours are obtained each night? It is always a matter of individual constitution and right rules about sleep are deceptive. If not dangerous. One person gets as much benefit out of a habitual five hours' sound sleep as many another derives from eight or nine hours' lighter slumber, for quality of sleep is as important as quantity, a point that is often overlooked. Again, it is difficult to see on what grounds the average healthy woman should be advised to "steal an hour's sleep more than the average man."

When City Is Surrounded.
Article 18 of General Orders No. 100, United States Rules of War, reads as follows: "When the commander of a besieged place expels the noncombatants in order to lessen the number of those who consume his stock of provisions, it is lawful, though an extreme measure, to drive them back, so as to hasten surrender."

Stand by the Truth.
Much less recourse is needed to bluster out a defiance before our enemies than is needed to simply state the truth as we see it, and quietly stand by it. After all, quiet conviction can always be trusted to carry conviction.

Federal Control of Coal Mines is Proposed in Bill

Government Operation and Distribution in Interests of Fair Prices to Consumers, Object of Senate Measure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Government operation of the coal mines and federal control of coal distribution in such a manner as to prevent profiteering were proposed in a measure introduced today in the senate. Other developments in the coal and rail situation included:

Decision by the senate labor committee to substitute the Borah coal commission bill for the Winslow commission bill, passed yesterday by the house.

Demands in the senate for prompt and drastic government action to end both the coal and rail strikes.

Announcement by Secretary Hoover that within a week daily bituminous coal production would be sufficient for the nation's needs, but that the country faced a shortage of freight cars which would be acute within a month.

A suggestion by chairman Borah of the senate labor committee, that the authorities of other states follow the lead of Governor Miller of New York in dealing with their local coal situations.

Check Up on Unions
A declaration by Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee, that congress at its next session, will take up industrial problems with a view to determining "what place unionism should occupy in the civilization of the United States."

A resolution empowering the president to take over and operate mines was introduced by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, after a long and heated senate debate, and was referred to the interstate commerce committee. To this same committee was sent an administration bill offered by Senator Cummins proposing to create a federal coal distribution agency, which, working through the interstate commerce commission, would control not only distribution of coal, but production in coal. Chairman Cummins called a meeting of his committee for Saturday to consider the administration measure.

Borah Bill to Come Up
The senate is expected to act first on the Borah substitute for the Winslow bill, which Senator Borah plans to call up tomorrow. It proposes a commission of five members to investigate the whole coal industry and make recommendations to congress.

Mystery in Footprint.
Tradition has it that the first Spaniards to land in Hawaii were wrecked on the southeast coast in 1576; but the clear imprint of a Spanish shoe has been preserved in the surface of an ancient lava flow on the west coast near Hanalei, the "City of Refuge." Since the lava flow must antedate the building of the city in 1100, how the footprint got there is a mystery that will probably never be solved.

Studebaker
Now $1275
Special-Six Touring

SAVINGS resulting from capacity manufacture are now offered to the buyer of the Studebaker Special-Six. The new price of $1275 is $200 under its former price.

Studebaker reductions became effective August 1st after Studebaker had completed the biggest seven months in its 70 years' history. And at a time when Studebaker had 15,000 unfilled orders on hand! It is a Studebaker policy of long standing to share manufacturing savings with the customer.

The performance, durability, comfort and quality of the Special-Six are recognized everywhere. And here's new proof of its endurance: Studebaker's sales of repair parts, covering accidents as well as service, for the first seven months of 1922 were less than they were for the first seven months of 1919, in spite of the fact that 186,000 new cars were sold and put into operation since January 1, 1920.

The Special-Six at $1275 represents a new standard of value—the greatest value Studebaker has ever offered, and that means a value that is positively unapproached anywhere in the industry.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

MARKETING OF ALSIKE BRINGS IN MONEY HERE

Twin Falls County Shipments
Estimated Between 12 and 15 Carloads; Value Between
$45,000 and $58,000

Alsiak seed, worth at prevailing market prices, between $45,000 and $58,000, has been marketed this season by Twin Falls county growers, according to the statement Thursday of a seed dealer here.

The amount of seed shipped from here was conservatively estimated at between 12 and 15 carloads, each containing 30,000 pounds, and worth, at the average price of 13 cents a pound, $3,000.

Threshing of the alsiak seed crop is well under way, but has been delayed by wet weather and a considerable quantity remains to be hulled and marketed. The crop in the east end of the county has been marketed pretty generally. In the ordinary farm program, threshing of alsiak preceded grain threshing and is followed by hulling of alsiak and clover seed hulling.

Alfalfa Outlook Excellent

Prospects for the alfalfa seed crop in the Twin Falls district this year are considered exceptionally favorable. In some outlying localities, grasshoppers and hail have reduced the probable yield, but alfalfa seed growers of the district this season will harvest an exceptionally large crop of exceptional quality, it is said. Harvesting of the alfalfa seed crop is expected to begin about next week.

Only a few acres of red clover seed have been cut and hulled, and the bulk of this crop is expected to come in at about the same time the alfalfa seed crop is ready for market.

New crop alfalfa is being harvested at Yuma, Arizona, with prospects for a total crop of between 125 and 150 cars. A few carloads have been threshed and one or two sales made.

California crop promises to be about normal and Utah and Idaho crops above normal.

Legislation Factor

Effect of tariff legislation on the seed market is a topic of consuming interest to growers and dealers. Around 8,000,000 pounds or 100 carloads of South American alfalfa has been shipped into the United States during the past two months, it is said. Some of this seed has sold as low as 10 to 12 cents in New York. In order for western seeds to compete with this price, it is said, it would be necessary for growers to sell at around 8 to 10 cents. A. C. H. western points out on account of freight rates in its seed, a considerable benefit to alfalfa and clover growers of the west.

The senate has definitely adopted a tariff rate on alfalfa, red clover and alsiak of 4 cents a pound and white clover 3 cents a pound. It is supposed that the entire tariff bill will be acted upon during the latter part of August, and it is felt in some quarters, that the bill, if enacted, will mean considerable benefit to alfalfa and clover growers of the west.

EXPERT WILL TELL HOW TO "SELL" COMMUNITY

Closing Lecture of "Better Business" Institute Thrown Open to Public

Principles of successful salesmanship as applied to "selling" Twin Falls as a community will be discussed by Perry B. Arnold, business analyst, at the closing session Friday evening of the "better business" institute for business men and their employees in progress here this week. It was announced on Thursday at the offices of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the open session will be held.

Successing lectures at the institute during the week have been attended by increasing numbers of business men and their employees, and the forthcoming lecture on "selling" the community is awaited with high interest. The lecture will be given at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Parish hall. No admission will be charged. It is expected that the audience will tax the capacity of the hall.

Little Mary's Suggestion.
Her father took Mary out for a walk one day in the country. They passed a pasture where some bulls were inclosed. The bulls were bellowing, and Mary's father attempted an imitation of it, to the great amusement of Mary, who finally said, after many encores had been rendered for her benefit, "Daddy, wouldn't it be a good joke if we were to hide behind a tree, and when people came by you would undo your voice and frighten them."

Only two more Sundays for this season at the Banbury "Nat." Better be there and have a good time.—adv.

TWO HERDS GET BILL OF HEALTH

Federal Veterinarians Here in Connection with Tuberculin
Tests of Cattle

Completion of tests for certification of dairy herds as being free from tuberculosis, brought Dr. W. A. Sullivan, director in charge, and Dr. M. J. Sisley of the federal bureau of animal industry, here from Boise Thursday. They will remain here Friday on business in connection with this work.

Certificates have just been issued by the federal veterinarians to Emery Foltz and E. H. Ehler, Twin Falls, dairymen, whose herds have successfully passed the required tests begun a year ago to determine absence of tuberculosis.

Recently discovered prevalence of tuberculosis in range cattle of Lemhi and Bonnevill counties has resulted in arrangements for a campaign to open about September 1, in which the federal veterinarians, co-operating with the state veterinarian and county commissioners, will make tuberculin tests of all cattle in both counties. Dr. Sullivan said Thursday.

Dr. Sullivan was accompanied here by Mrs. Sullivan and their little son, John Roger Sullivan, who are guests of relatives.

CITY OFFICIALS WAGING WAR ON NOXIOUS WEEDS

Wild Morning Glories Discovered in Surprising Numbers in Town

Vigorous warfare is being waged by S. G. McAulay, commissioner of streets and waterworks, and the municipal street department upon noxious weeds, which have been discovered, it is reported, in surprising quantities here. Wild morning glories especially are said to be prevalent, killing out all other vegetation in places where they are found, and in one place on Kimberly road growing vines are lifting and breaking a concrete sidewalk.

The municipal weed fighters are proceeding with the war on noxious weeds by means of a chemical extirpator. The campaign is being conducted in co-operation with county and state authorities. Under provisions of a lately adopted municipal ordinance, owners of lots on which noxious weeds are discovered are required to destroy the weeds. If this is not done by the owner, the city authorities step in and do the work, charging the cost against the owner. In numerous instances, it is said, owners have voluntarily requested city authorities to do the work. The cost of eradication in ordinary cases is said to range from $1.50 to $2.50 for each lot.

THE TWIN FALLS COUNTY FAIR

The following verse was sent to the secretary without explanation or comment:
Bring your things to the County Fair,
Do it a common spud or a chicken rare,
A plate of fruit, a sheaf of wheat,
A bunch of carrots or sugar beets.

Bring on your horses and your cows,
Your prize-winning sheep and the old brood sows.
Bring on anything good that you have got.
It will help fill up if it wins or not.

To make a fair a successful thing
It's up to you something to bring.
If we will all just do our best
The superintendents will do the rest.

So put in a gallon of gas and a quart of oil,
Clean a spark plug and adjust a coil,
Wind up the pump and away we'll go
To the very best fair in Idaho.

PETITIONERS SEEK TO KEEP M'CLAIN ON BOARD

Innovation in Manner of Nominating Board of Education
Director Introduced

Petitions for the nomination of O. E. McClain as a candidate at the Twin Falls school district election September 5, for one of the two members of the board of education to be chosen at that time, were in circulation here Thursday. Mr. McClain has served as a member of the board since the resignation of D. W. Updgraff eight months ago, when he was appointed to serve out the unexpired term.

The term of Mrs. Jane Craven Scott, president of the board, also will expire September 5.

Nomination of candidates for school director by petition is an innovation introduced here this year for the first time. Heretofore candidates have been placed in nomination at the meeting of board and electors immediately preceding the opening of the polls.

One of the petitions for the nomination of Mr. McClain was circulated by James Fitzgerald, treasurer of the board.

This team will give three of the 15 demonstrations to be conducted at the fair by Twin Falls county girls' canning teams. Two of the demonstrations will be given by the McMillan club girls' team which last year won the state championship at Boise. Members of this team are Miss Leona Stoddard, Miss Elizabeth Miller and Miss Roberta Silver.

FUNERALS

Mrs. Christina Carlson
Funeral services for Mrs. Christina Carlson, aged 64 years, wife of John V. Carlson, whose death occurred Sunday at the family home at Moore, Idaho, were held Thursday afternoon at the J. E. DeWitt chapel here and were conducted by Rev. Edgar L. White of the Methodist Episcopal church. Burial was in the Twin Falls cemetery, the wishes of the decedent being carried out in this regard. She had expressed an aversion before her death, at the thought of burial in the lately reclaimed region about Moore. She is survived by a brother and sister here.

BUHL DAIRYMEN HEAR EXPERTS

Co-operation and Sanitation
Are Topics of Federal Government Agents

BUHL, Idaho.—(Special to The News)—Farmers and dairymen of the Buhl country attended the meeting of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening to hear H. A. Mathieson, of the United States Department of dairy husbandry, discuss the organization of co-operative bull associations, and to hear H. R. Lochery, dairy specialist, give an illustrated lecture on cleanliness in milk production. Following each lecture round table discussion ensued, which was taken part in by many Buhl dairymen.

Mr. Mathieson said that the United States raises fifth among the nations in butterfat production per cow, due largely to selection of an inferior bull to head the herd. He gave illustrations of bull associations in Missouri, where butter production among cows had been doubled, due to the selection of good bulls from cows with butterfat records of 600 pounds of butterfat, or more per year.

Successful in Idaho

Mr. Mathieson said that a successful co-operative bull association exists in Franklin county, Idaho, in which the farmers have organized and purchased five good line bred bulls. One bull is used in each of the five blocks containing about 40 cows. After a bull has been used in a block for two years, he is exchanged for one in another block, and thus he is good for service for about ten years.

In answering some of the objections to organizing bull associations, Mr. Mathieson said that the Illinois experiment station has learned that the bull is not an agent for the transmission of contagious abortion.

Idaho Falls farmers are organizing a bull association, and 24 pure bred bulls have been purchased for that community.

Mr. Lochery stressed the importance of keeping cows clean, keeping the barn yard free from manure, as an important factor in milk production. He showed a chart of records kept on groups of dairy cows, and their butterfat production. One group of cows that cost $35 to feed each per year produced milk at a profit of $10, while another group that cost $60 to feed, returned an average profit of $108 per cow.

Production and Costs

Mr. Mathieson said that the dairy records of the department showed that cows producing 100 pounds of butterfat per year, did so at a cost of 50 cents per pound, while cows that produce 300 pounds of butterfat did so at a cost of 20 cents per pound.

B. P. Dolan, manager of the Buhl Cheese factory, also spoke, emphasizing the importance of cleanliness among the dairymen bringing milk to the factory.

The meeting was presided over by R. E. Broadard, county agent, who introduced the speakers.
