President of Idaho Central Wires From San Francisco Money is Waiting to Carry Project to Completion

Funds sufficient to guarantee the construction of the Idaho Central road have been paid to the company and surveying crews have been increased and instructed to rush their work as fast as possible, Maurice Mulvihill, mining man from Contact, announced Monday. Mr. Mulvihill based his statements on a telegram received last Wednesday by the engineer in Contact from Contact, Idaho. Who the persons were who paid the money into the railroad company's treasury, however, was not made known.

A telegram from Mr. Wolfe last Wednesday stated that all finances have been completed and the company has sufficient money to go ahead immediately and continue construction work to completion," said Mr. Mulvihill.

"Mr. Wolfe's final telegram was preceded by another from him which stated that arrangements had been completed for completion of the financing but that the signatures had not been obtained.

No Doubt at Contact

"There is no longer any doubt in the minds of the mining men and others at Contact and vicinity but what the railroad is a sure thing. Everyone is certain that it will soon be a reality."

The surveying gangs have been increased and instructions have been issued to increase them still further, Mr. Mulvihill said. All work may be completed in a matter of weeks, he said, and the road will be completed immediately on the receipt of Mr. Wolfe's telegram, it is said.

The gang sent from Contact to Boggs on work south and the gang working north from Contact are working at top speed and as soon as the surveying is completed crews will be started cutting through the rock work between Contact and San Jacinto, Mr. Mulvihill said.

On receipt of the word from Mr. Wolfe, from San Francisco where he is said to have completed the financial details, Contact was quick to rejoice, unqualified in that district in 20 years, it was reported. Bon fires were built and residents of the district gathered to comment in jubilant terms on the news.

Canal Board Finds Many Who Favored Reservoir in 1919 Oppose It Now

The board of directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, at its monthly meeting Wednesday, discussed the diversion of water to certain tracts where it is needed through the winter, principally for supplying farmers with water. The matter was not definitely decided, but was left to Manager J. C. Wheeler.

As a matter of information the questionnaires sent out in 1919 to obtain the opinions of the stockholders on the American Falls reservoir project were reviewed. The portion of the questionnaires inspected represented between 15 and 40 per cent of the land owners, it was said, and they showed a preponderance of sentiment in favor of the project.

On the list are the names of several who are now taking leading part in opposing the building of the reservoir.

Fire of Unexplained Origin Consumes Four Heavy Motor Gravel Carriers

Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed four heavy trucks and a small temporary building in which they were kept three miles south of Holliester, Sunday evening, causing an estimated loss of $18,000. Three of the big trucks were owned by John Schatz of Twin Falls and the other was said to be the property of Mr. Irwin of New Meadows.

The trucks had been used in hauling gravel for country road work under contract with the Holliester. The small building constructed to house them also contained a large amount of gasoline and oil which spread in a flash and almost instantly destroyed the building and contents.

No person was in or near the building at the time, according to a report from Holliester, and no injuries occurred.

The case concerns the ousting of the three named defendants from the school board about a year ago through the efforts of Mr. Walton. The case was taken to the supreme court shortly after the decision was rendered against Mr. Bice, Mr. Parish and Mr. Clark, and it is still pending.

POLICE FORCE IS OUT ON GRIDOLE

Commissioners Air Dissatisfaction with Course of Events at Headquarters

Dissatisfaction on the part of members of the city commission with the administration of the Twin Falls police department was aired Tuesday afternoon at an informal conference of commissioners in which Commissioner S. S. All refused to take part and from which representatives of the daily newspapers were excluded.

With the exception of Commissioner All, who declined to participate because, he said, he would "have no hand in dealings that were not open to the public," all of the other commissioners and the mayor took part in the conference, together with representatives of the members of the police force and several other persons.

Newspaper representatives were told when they were asked by the mayor to retire, that the proceedings of the meeting would in due time become public through action taken at a regular meeting of the commission.

During the discussion, it was learned that Chief of Police J. E. Cross was asked if he thought he could "get along" in his present position, to which he replied, "I can get along with anyone; I can't stay here at anybody's word."

Statement was made that night patrolmen were in ignorance, under the existing organization, of information that had come to headquarters during the day. The chief replied that the day force was equally in the dark as to the activities of the officers on night duty.

Under an arrangement adopted by the present administration, the chief took office last spring the chief of police is required to serve as one of the patrolmen.

PLAN CHRISTMAS CHEER FOR POOR

Civic Organizations and Lodges to Play Role of Santa Claus to Needy Families

In order that there may be Christmas cheer in the homes of the needy in Twin Falls this year nearly 20 representative organizations including the Elks' lodge, the Rotary club and the Twentieth Century club met in the office of Probate Judge O. P. Duvall Tuesday evening and outlined tentative plans for the day.

It was reported at the meeting that it is known that 27 homes in Twin Falls will not have a pleasant Christmas unless given some help. Others have been interviewed and it was heard to the effect that J. T. Krivacek, superintendent of street cleaning, has frequently used a city truck to make trips to Jerome for children's presents.

The plan, as discussed at the meeting, is to select a certain number of families to reach organization in order to make the plan a success. The plan is to play the role of Santa Claus will obtain provisions, toys and some of the more essential supplies needed in homes of the poor and on or about Christmas day they will deliver them.

The representatives were much in favor of the plan and full co-operation was promised.

RATE BODY AWAITS SHOW OF SINCERITY BY ROADS

Members of Association Want Temporary Rates Until Situation is Adjusted

Members of the Idaho Freight Rate Reduction association have announced that they are waiting for some action on the part of the railroad officials to substantiate the promises of the latter to cooperate in the obtaining of lower rates for Idaho.

One matter that will meet with the thanks of the association and which is in the power of the Union Pacific is the reduction on coal rates from Wyoming into this state. The temporary reduction of rates in general, or other form of relief that can be obtained by the officials, would be quite acceptable, members of the association believe.

Officials of the roads who are sincere in their announced desire to work with the association for lower rates will find the committee of the association waiting and more than willing to bring immediate action, it is announced.

Members of the association point out that they are especially anxious to have temporary reductions put in effect to be used until the rate situation is permanently adjusted and thus avoid the losses they will incur to shippers until rates are permanently adjusted.

INSPECTION TO COST BUTCHERS DOLLAR A YEAR

City Commission Amends Meat Ordinance to Take Inspector's Salary Out of General Tax Funds

An amendment to the city meat ordinance was passed by the city commission in regular session Tuesday night as a substitute for the measure recently drafted and providing for the payment of $1 a year for an inspection license by all meat dealers. The city limits and for the monthly inspection of slaughterhouses free. The salary of the city inspector will be paid out of city taxation funds instead of revenue from the license and inspections as provided in the first proposed amendment.

The amendment is practically the same as the old ordinance except that it provides for the $1 fee for inspection. The commissioners stated that the special inspection of several meat dealers and butchers since the last meeting and that the new amendment met their approval. The principal factor in favor of the new amendment was that it will result in cheaper meat for the consumer.

"We stand for the consumer," said the mayor. "We were elected to represent them, and if this ordinance works a hardship in any way on the dealers here it will be offset by the saving in meat prices for the widows and children this winter."

All Cases Commotion

Finance Commissioner S. S. All was responsible for something of a commotion when he reported to the commission that he had heard to the effect that J. T. Krivacek, superintendent of street cleaning, has frequently used a city truck to make trips to Jerome for children's presents.

The charge was indignantly denied by Mr. Krivacek, who said he used his own car in such cases. The commissioner said that the truck was used to draw from the city's tank and declared he had been informed that the city employees were accustomed to using the city's trucks to haul coal to the homes of the needy.

The investigation of the charges was asked. Commissioner All also sought the opinion of the other commissioners relative to sending Twin Falls fire apparatus to Washington to meet the mayor and Commissioner Roberts said they were wholly in favor of lending assistance in time of need and that the local fire insurance rate would not be affected materially thereby.

License Card Tables

TEAGLE GIVES INTIMATE VIEW OF OIL TRADE

Standard Oil Company of New Jersey Anticipates Questions of Senate Probe Body and Prepares Statement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Facts and figures concerning the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, its control, its operation and to a certain degree, its policies, were presented by Walter C. Teagle, its president, to a senate manufacturers' sub-committee today at the resumption of the senate directed inquiry into prices and conditions of the oil industry.

Appearing as the first of the leaders in the American oil world, the sub-committee summoned, Mr. Teagle for four hours was closely questioned by Gilbert E. Roe of New York, counsel for the sub-committee. The questions concerned the minutest details as to the operations of the company and were directed toward bringing out the exact cost of the major oil products and the extent of competition in the oil industry brought about by the supreme court dissolution decree of 1911. Mr. Teagle had ready answers for most of the questions and if some question of minor detail with which he was unfamiliar was put, he called on a large staff of assistants who had accompanied him to Washington, bringing voluminous files.

LaFollette Rejects Statement.

At the start he offered a prepared statement, but was cut short by Chairman LaFollette, who announced that the sub-committee had decided he should be questioned by the committee's attorney. Questions asked by Mr. Roe during the hearing, however, resulted in the placing of most of the statement in the committee record and just before adjournment, Mr. Teagle obtained from Acting Chairman Jones tentative permission to file the statement at the conclusion of his testimony, probably tomorrow.

The statement, advance copies of which had been given to the press prior to Mr. Teagle's taking the stand, in addition to giving details of the corporation's organization and business operations, declared the directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey in accord with the supreme court dissolution decree, had conducted the business of the company under conditions of free and active competition which they recognized the public demanded. It added that the company is not "a party to any combination agreement, or arrangement to fix or maintain the selling prices of its products."

Justifies Stock Dividend.

The prepared statement also discussed the recent declaration by the corporation of a stock dividend, justifying this action on the ground that the company from its inception had been under-capitalized with steadily increasing disparity between issued capital stock and net assets; that it was desired to effect a wider existing issue because of the high market value of the company's stock and that an increase in the outstanding stock was financially necessary.

Questions put by Mr. Roe at today's hearings related largely to the domestic and foreign business of the company, the operation of its pipe lines, its refineries and its ships. The committee counsel also was much interested in the ownership of the corporation's stock and in reply to questions the witness gave a detailed statement of stock ownership.

Stock Widely Distributed.

"Only six stockholders held one per cent or more of the company's stock at June 30, 1922," Mr. Teagle testified. "These six shareholders own a total of 23.4 per cent of the company's common stock. The largest individual owner of common stock is John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with 11.4 per cent.

Three of the remaining five stockholders on the list owning together 10 per cent of the common stock are philanthropic institutions, such as the Rockefeller Foundation and the general education fund. It may be of interest to the committee to know that John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has not been a shareholder in this company since 1920, and that the late William Rockefeller owned only 700 shares at the time of his death."

Other questions brought from the witness the amount of crude oil and gasoline held in storage, prices paid for crude oil, and costs of transportation and refining.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The cabinet and committees of the Blue Triangle club held a meeting Wednesday evening at 4:10. The social and service committees are working together in preparation for the annual Christmas party to be given next Wednesday for the children in Twin Falls. Each club member is responsible for a guest and is to go after the child and take him home also. Other business was discussed.

The various clubs of the high school held meetings Wednesday during the fourth hour.

The members of the Social Science club enjoyed a talk given by Mr. Rice, a veteran of the Civil war. He told of his experiences during the war and of the conditions at Andersonville.

where he was a prisoner for some time. It was especially interesting to the students of history V., because they have just finished the study of the Civil war. Imogene Craven played a delightful piano solo and the meeting adjourned at 3 o'clock.

There was a special meeting of all the Blue Triangle members Thursday during the sixth period. It was a short business meeting relative to the party which is to be given next Wednesday.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention.

It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds may be had for a trifling sum.

FLORIDA MAN BETRAYS BELIEF IN "OLD WEST"

Spokane's Mayor is Asked to Locate Brother on "Horse Ranch Some Where Out There"

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 14 (AP)—That the "wild west" of story book fame still exists in the minds of American citizens who have never been west of the Rocky mountains has been further demonstrated by the receipt here of a letter from Edwin Terry of Miami, Fla.

Terry's letter addressed to the Mayor of Spokane Falls, Washington Territory, reads:
"I am writing you concerning my brother. Do you know anything about him or his family? It is nearly 20 years since I heard he had a horse ranch out there somewhere and there is a small legacy in his favor and I would like to find him or his family. His name is C. D. Terry, or Christopher Duncan Terry. Information will be gratefully or thankfully received."
(SIGNED) "EDWIN TERRY, 'Miami Fla.'"

After stating that he intended to tell Mr. Terry of Florida that the Indians were too active this winter to permit of searching the plans of eastern Washington for the lost relative, Arthur Meacham, secretary to Mayor Charles A. Fleming, said he would like to learn of C. D. Terry's whereabouts.

INDIAN VETERANS FORM AMERICAN LEGION POST

Members of Crow Tribe Who Served in World War Organized Post Unit Composed Entirely of Redmen

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Dec. 13 (AP)—America's first all-Indian American Legion post has been organized at Lodge Grass, Mont., according to information received here. The headquarters of the post are at the Crow agency. The post membership is composed exclusively of members of the Crow tribe who served in the world war.

The organization of the post followed suggestions made by Hinford MacNider, former national commander of the legion in a letter to legion members at Hardin.

The new post has been named in honor of Joseph Chief-at-Night, the only member of the Crow tribe to lose his life in the service. He died at the Presidio in San Francisco and his body lies beside Custer's men in the national cemetery at the Custer battlefield.

Post officers elected at the organization meeting are: Anson Pease, commander; David Pease, adjutant; Clarence Stevens, finance officer; and Joe Pickett, sergeant at arms. The membership is composed of the younger, better educated and more progressive element of the tribe.

GOVERNOR ASKS FALL TO GRANT SETTLERS AID

State Executive of Colorado Paints Dark Picture of the Plight of Farmers on Government Projects

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 13 (AP)—Painting the plight of the farmers in the Uncompaghe and High Line districts and government projects on the western slope of Colorado as most distressing, Governor Shoup has requested relief for them in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Fall.
That the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad, owing to a strike, has been unable to supply the necessary cars for settlers to market their crops that prices have been very low and that conditions at this time are "not only serious, but almost pathetically appalling," is pointed out in the executive's letter, written in the Uncompaghe project.

In connection with the High Line project, Governor Shoup declares: "This territory comprises three rich out counties in Colorado, naturally, and there are no better citizens any place in the world than the inhabitants of those counties, and this ruination of the farmers carried with it practically the ruination of everybody else unless the hope of relief can be held out."

SENATE BACK TRACKS ON APPROVAL FOR EXPENDITURE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Through an inadvertence the senate today passed but later recalled a bill giving the government's consent for construction at Trenton, N. J., of a bridge to commemorate the historic crossing of the Delaware river by George Washington. The bill went through first as a routine measure until senators discovered that it carried an appropriation of $400,000. Passage of the bill was recalled and it was referred to the appropriations committee.

RAISES 140 BUSHELS OF CORN ON ONE CITY LOT

LOWELL, Wyo., Dec. 13 (AP)—After several years of careful selection of seed Rosmus Lynn has raised 140 bushels of corn on less than an acre of ground, a city lot in Lowell. The corn is from a selected variety of White Flint, which matures early and has large, well-filled ears.

The Screen

Opening with today's matinee the Idaho theatre is presenting a play made from Stuart Edward White's novel "The Gray Dawn." In this production there are 18 prominent screen artists whose individual talents are utilized to the best advantage in portraying the story characters. Robert McKim with his unsurpassed "villainy" heads the list of stars.
A Christie comedy with Bobby Vernon in which over 500 people are employed, furnishes the fun, to which is added "Red Man Sport," showing the sports indulged in by Indians of all nations. "Run From the Press," completes the big program.

Orpheum.
"That's the great mistake. Parents either blindfold their children or give them free reign." These remarks coming as they do from the aristocratic father in "Why Girls Leave Home" give an insight into one of the most unusual screen plays that has ever been filmed. Chuck full of human interest. At the Orpheum Friday and Saturday. Don't miss this treat.

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS

"Do your Christmas shopping early," say the stores of Southern Idaho, but they whisper it this year where in previous years the phrase has been heralded to the housewife.

There is sound reason back of the "shop early" idea at the Christmas season and not at all a merely selfish desire to do more business, as many people suppose. An eleven hour rush of business during the day or two preceding the holiday causes no regrets anywhere and yet if this same volume of trade could be more or less evenly spread over the preceding two or three weeks it would be better for the merchant, better for the shopper and infinitely easier and more satisfactory for the men and women, the clerks, in the stores who work harder than any other class, in the holiday season and whose aching backs and tired hands are seldom given a thought by the great body of people whom they serve.

"Shop Early" is a purely common sense notion. Liberally translated it means "Shop early if you can but don't be afraid of lack of service if you are compelled to defer your Christmas shopping until later. We are here to give the best service of which we are capable at all times but we may be able to give your requirements closer attention and offer a wider selection of goods from which to choose if you will spread out your shopping rather than concentrate it."

FREIGHT RATES

The status of the Central Pacific railroad with respect to its relation to the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific was handled without gloves by Senator Frank R. Gooding in a recent statement to the Interstate Commerce Commission, copies of which have just reached Twin Falls.

Senator Gooding bases his objection to control of the Central Pacific by the Union Pacific upon the proposition that to legalize such control would be to strengthen the monopoly of the Oregon Short Line, in Idaho.

"Anything that would tend to increase the Union Pacific's monopoly over the territory they now control or that would add new territory to that monopoly, would, in my judgment be a crime and an outrage against the people of my State and all the people over whom the Oregon Short Line now enforces its monopoly," says Senator Gooding—a view of the case diametrically opposed to the expressed attitude of Idaho Commercial clubs and various other semi-public bodies.

The speech constitutes a stirring arraignment of high freight rates in this State and a strong appeal for relief in the interests of the farmers and the people as a whole. It is perhaps to be regretted that the painting of so gloomy a picture of Idaho conditions is necessary to the argument but there isn't much doubt but what the relief contended for is vitally necessary.

Dog Talk.

Our neighbor's dog came to our porch one day last week and my little sister, aged four years, was stroking his head and saying, "Maude, do you like me?" She repeated it several times, when mother said: "Maude can't talk, dear." Then Mary answered quickly: "He can shake his head, can't he?"—Exchange.

AGED APACHE RAILS AT COURT ROOM PROCEDURE

Makes Graphic Criticism of Lawyer's Interruptions While He Tells Story of Circumstance in Own Way

GLOBE, Ariz., Dec. 13 (AP)—Disapproval of the legal procedure of the "paleface" was voiced by Nokgaya, aged blind Apache Indian, when he testified at the Sprule murder trial here.

County Attorney John Murphy, in order to shorten the lengthy testimony of the aged Indian, attempted to bring out the important points by question. Nokgaya, however, desiring to tell his story in his own way, created considerable amusement in the court room.

At the conclusion of his testimony he stepped down from the stand and spoke some testy words in Apache.

Willie Stevens, Apache interpreter, put them into English: "Your lawyers don't seem to give me a fair show to tell how things happened."
