

RUM RUNNERS IN NUMBERS AT GOTHAM GATE

Dry Navy Claims Capture of Some of Swarm of Small Craft Carrying Illicit Cargo from Fleet Off Sandy Hook

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The swarms of rum-running craft, which today sought by sheer strength of numbers to overwhelm the prohibition navy, with its newly acquired gun-toting flagship Lexington, tonight suffered its first "casualty" according to observers at Sandy Hook who reported that the launch Margaret B. Linden to the gunwales with whiskey, was captured by a coast guard crew.

A fleet of two steamers and 14 schooners dropped anchor off Sandy Hook and immediately a swarm of fifty small craft put off from shore to meet them. Tonight they were racing to cover with their booty, pursued by every speed boat the dry navy could muster.

Value Runs Into Millions. Observers ashore who professed in minute knowledge of the bootlegging trade, estimated that each of the small craft, if it succeeded in running the gunnle, would deposit a cargo of 75 to 500 cases at some cove along the Jersey or Long Island shores. The value of the liquor aboard the mother ships was roughly estimated in the millions, if each carrier was loaded to capacity.

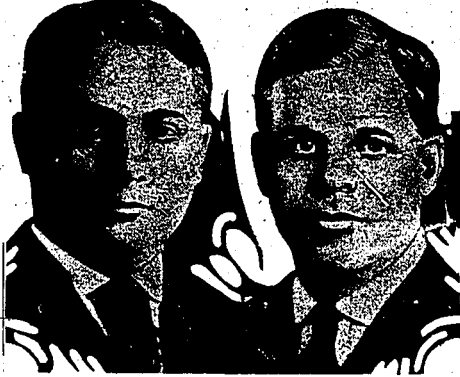

The smugglers' latest offensive evidently caught directors of the dry navy unawares. John D. Appleby, marine prohibition director in this zone, hastily went into conference with E. C. Yellowsly, state federal enforcement agent, and a plan of campaign was whipped together.

At first it was decided to dispatch a flotilla from New York to seize the mother ships, but later this plan was changed. Instead, radio orders were flashed to dry vessels on patrol duty to watch all possible landing points and cut off the small craft from reaching their shore bases.

Thousand Cases Seized. Almost simultaneously three other vessels of the rum fleet were reported to have been seized by coast guard craft off Ambrose channel lightship. The quadruple haul totaled 1000 cases.

Besides the Margaret B., officials said they had confiscated the Evelyn, a 25-foot sea skiff, an unnamed launch and a rum runner's scout boat, all of which were believed to have been owned in Highland, N. J.

DEPOSED RULER OF GREECE DIES

Former King Constantine, Broken in Health and Spirit, Expires in Exile

PALERMO, Italy, Jan. 11, (AP)—Former King Constantine of Greece, who twice was forced from the throne during the late turbulent years in his country, died suddenly here today of a cerebral hemorrhage...

Apparently the end was sudden and painless. It is said there was scarcely time to call his family around the death bed before the former monarch passed away.

Since he left Greece, Constantine appeared to have a premonition that death was approaching, as often he expressed a desire to be buried in Athens, if possible.

During his exile here, Constantine had lived modestly in a hotel. His quiet demeanor aroused feelings of sympathy among the townspeople for him and his family.

The funeral has been arranged for Saturday. The body will be removed to the orthodox Greek church in Naples, pending the Greek government's decision as to whether it can be taken to Greece.

BREATH OF ANCIENT ROME

Proud Symbol of Old Empire, "S. P. Q. R.," Still Appears in the Italian Capital

On the cap of the man who was lastly sweeping the dusty Roman street I saw a shield with the letters "S. P. Q. R.," writes Vladimir Pollakoff in the London Daily Telegraph.

Suddenly it seemed to me that I was looking out upon a wide plain. Among the whirls of dust I saw advancing the compact squares of Rome's legions. The helmets, the shields and the spears burned in the sun, and the spearheads were like sparkling diamonds.

The clouds of dust became denser; the legions marched into them and disappeared into the eagles continued to fly overhead, then they too, were swallowed up. Suddenly, out of the dust clouds emerged the man with the broom. He paused in his work; I asked him for the meaning of the letters on his cap. He moved his hand in a slow, carelessly negative gesture.

"These letters? Who can tell, signor? An ancient sign, surely. Something connected with the syndic. But maybe not..."

So, hidden away, the old spirit survives. I set out to discover its hiding place. The letters S. P. Q. R. I found everywhere—on all municipal buildings, on the uniforms and caps of city employees, on the way cars are numbered. But the vision of the eagles would not come back.

Six of Cities.

An eyed by the advertising man looking in all directions for business, cities and communities all have character. Indeed, it is said that some have sex. Pittsburgh, Gary, Youngstown and Akron are predominantly masculine. Stores catering exclusively to women would not prosper in those cities to anything like the degree that they would in such "feminine" communities as Haverhill, Lynn, Lowell or Fall River.

DISPENSE WITH MINOR OFFICES IN THE COUNTY

Two Are Released and Others May Follow; Ask Sentiment on Cutting County Agent Appropriations

With two county employees released and the possibility of others, including the county agent and the club leader, following in their footsteps, the newly elected county commissioners appear to be united in making use of the official as in county expenses.

H. G. Jackson, deputy health inspector, and George H. Smith, purchasing agent for the county hospital, are the two who have been released from service effective immediately by the unanimous vote of the commissioners.

Whether or not the county agent and club leader will go depends upon the sentiment expressed by them reflected by the work of those offices, it is indicated, and the commissioners are requesting the expression of anyone interested. Present indications point toward the release of Mr. Hrossard and Mr. O'Reilly.

Want Two Retained.

L. S. Otto, president of the Twin Falls County Vegetable Growers' association, which urged the retention of the county agents through action at the recent annual meeting, appeared before the commissioners Thursday and pleaded for their retention. Miss Davis, leader in pig club circles, and E. S. Wood also asked that the agents be not discharged. The present appropriation from the state extension department is not, according to the commissioners, before final action is taken.

The county farm agent and the club leader can be retained only by refusal of the commissioners to appropriate the county's share of the cost of maintaining them. The present appropriation is sufficient to retain the services of the two until next April.

Assume Duties.

The commissioners discharged Mr. Jackson and Mr. Smith because, they said, they felt their services were not needed and that the work of the two could be carried on by the commissioners themselves. Other minor county offices may be done away with or consolidated with others, they said.

"The county commissioners do not want to cripple the forces of county employees in any way, but we are determined to cut expenses as far as possible and where it can be done, someone can possibly be dispensed with, it is expected that they will be released," said O. E. Carlson, member of the board. "Wherever possible the board will take the responsibilities of the offices cut off from appropriations."

Will Present Proposal ON GRAVELING SHORTLY

Data Being Prepared by City Executives for Information of Local Residents

Details of the plan for graveling the numerous unimproved streets in the city are being prepared and will be mailed in printed form to the residents along the streets where the graveling is proposed. They will be ready by next week, J. T. Krivanek, street superintendent, stated Thursday.

The benefits to be derived from the plan is planned to put the estimated cost and the methods to be used in the graveling work. The proposition of financing the work is also included.

The plan has already met with much favor, Mr. Krivanek said. The Twin Falls Highway district has offered the use of the district equipment and to cooperate in any way possible. Several individuals have expressed themselves as ready to support the idea as much as they can. The estimated cost of graveling the 400 block on Third avenue north is said to be much in excess of graveling that district.

"If anyone is interested in the results of graveling, we urge that they make an inspection of Sixth avenue north, where the city has put on a surface of gravel with an ash base, the same to be used in other places where the taxpayers want it," said Mr. Krivanek.

HOLD BOYS FOR STEALING

Two Youths Alleged to Have Confessed to Taking Gun and Sheep Felt from Camp at Milner

Two boys are held in custody here as a result of stealing a gun and a sheep felt from the Milner sheep camp at Milner two weeks ago. They confessed to the offense, according to J. R. Ault, juvenile officer.

According to the confession alleged to have been made by the boys, they threw the revolver into the canal when they saw the owner approaching them. The sheep felt was taken at Milner. The complaint was filed by Mr. McRae before the county attorney. The boys are 15 and 17 years of age.

RE-ELECT CANAL BOARD CHAIRMAN

Ivan Lincoln Remains as President; Two New Members Are Installed

Ivan Lincoln of Filer was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Twin Falls Canal company at the board meeting Thursday. T. M. Baird of Knall and Frank Bower of Rock Creek, the newly elected members, were sworn into office, succeeding W. P. Alworth and C. W. Gohner.

Carl J. Miller was named as vice-president, William Cunningham as secretary-treasurer, and W. O. Taylor will be assistant secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Baird was forced to leave the meeting before the matter of the board positions was disposed of and the appointment of the manager and attorney for the year was reached.

The meeting was otherwise featured by the discussion of minor matters of business affecting the canal.

Assessment statements for the coming year are being prepared and will be mailed in the near future. The 1923 assessment, through an act of the board at a recent meeting, is $125 as compared to $150 last year and $2 for the previous year. This time it was $3 an acre for three years.

RACE TROUBLE AVERTED; BLAME PARENTS OF GIRL

Incident Involving Negro and Young Girl Here Showed Lack of Parental Authority, Officials Believe

Lack of parental authority and discipline is given by authorities as the cause of an occurrence here recently involving Charles Nelson, negro, and the 14-year-old girl, and which resulted in expression of indignation and monetary matters of violence.

Investigation of the case showed that the negro had been entering the girl by giving her candy and money. A complaint was filed and the negro taken to the county jail.

Soon after he was placed in the jail reports were received that plans of violence were being among a number of local citizens who had learned the girl's name. The negro was consequently released and made good his promise to leave the city immediately.

Nelson was not charged with the commission of a crime and authorities made it plain that there was nothing in the case which would lead to criminal action although the negro's purposes were questioned by the officials.

Mild sensation was caused in a drawing room when a woman was heard to utter dramatically to her hostess on the subject of some person under discussion. "My dear, how could you possibly expect anything else of him? Can the leper change his spots?" With some presence of mind the hostess murmured that she supposed he could not.
