Directors of Big District Set May 12 as Bond Election Date; Will Meet Soon at American Falls

The beginning of construction work on the American Falls reservoir shortly after July 1, or possibly before that time, is considered probable by members of the board of directors of the Big District who met yesterday.

Interested persons attending the sessions of the board at the canal company offices here Wednesday afternoon were of the opinion that the election may be called at an earlier date, but W. F. Alworth, secretary of the board, stated that so far as the board is concerned the date is officially set as May 12.

Include Districts
May 12 was selected as the date for the election only to allow as many contracting districts as possible to join, as the individual cost will be lessened according to the number of contractors.

JOHNSON SEES FALSE STEP TO JOINING LEAGUE

California "Irreconcilable" Assails President's Proposal for Accepting Membership in International Court

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—President Harding's proposal that the United States accept membership in the permanent court of international justice was assailed here tonight by Senator Johnson, republican, chairman of the committee on the senate irrefragables, as a first "false step" toward membership in the league of nations.

Speaking before the senate board of trade, the California senator declared the demand for American participation in European affairs was based on no logical foundation, but emanated from a "theological intellectual intellectualism" or a hysterically perverted imagination.

"Still the cry continues, the propaganda persists for our entry into Europe," said Senator Johnson. "It takes now one form and then a totally different one, and has run the gamut of possible international organizations. Its advocates appeal to truth with equal fervor to our altruism and our egotism."

The demand that America join the league of nations is succeeded by the beautiful word picture of an economic conference and the great part the moral weight of the United States might play in a treaty world.

Now again our old longears, vary from defeats, in dulcet tones invite us to join the international court.

Has Honorable Sound.

"An international court which substitutes the rule of law for that of power, and the dominion of justice for armed might has a honorable and an appealing sound. To argue that just as courts determine issues between individuals, it is logical there should be a like mode of adjustment of differences between nations by similar courts, at once strikes a sympathetic chord.

"But what is not said and what is not understood is that the so-called international court is no court at all, as court is commonly understood. It is little more than what exists with our arbitration treaties. It does not function like theory courts with which we are familiar. It cannot hale before it recalcitrant countries, nor can it, of itself, assume jurisdiction of disputes between nations. It is a mere arbitral tribunal to which nations may submit disputes if they see fit, and only those questions, which the parties themselves agree to submit can be heard at all.

Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan have refused to submit to any compulsory jurisdiction, reserving to themselves to decide any question which controversy in which they are interested shall come before the international tribunal.

Lacks Essential Powers.

"Thus the much heralded court, which is to prevent war in the future, is denied in its inception by the great nations of the earth the right of the power to act upon any question which may be the breeders of war, without the consent of these nations themselves.

"It is proposed that we do exactly as Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan do. In no case is it submitted to the jurisdiction of the court unless we wish to submit to it. In a controversy with one of the powerful nations of the earth, without that nation's consent, even if we desire it, the international court could not act. The grandiloquent statements, therefore, made to our people by those who are establishing the rule of law as opposed to the rule of power, substituting the domination of justice under law for armed might, eliminating the causes of war, are the paradoxical phrases, the enticing generalities which will illumine every reference to our international relations.

"The so-called international court is a part of the league of nations, created by the league entering the court, which some may believe to be of little consequence, is nevertheless the first false step. There is no illusion about that. It means among the advocates of the league. They understand full well, and their press boasts the fact, that it is the entering wedge, the first movement, which ultimately is to lead to full membership in the league of nations.

Continues Old Fight.

"It has been a long and a difficult fight to keep us from membership in the league of nations. We fondly hoped it had been decided by the American people. Perhaps it must be fought again. If so, let's fight it in the open, with full understanding and knowledge on the part of our people.

"If America is finally to be driven in, let's go in with head up and fighting. Do not permit our great nation today timidly to enter one concealed portal, tomorrow surreptitiously to sneak in another, and while pretending we are going some place, ultimately when too late when the last irrevocable step has been taken and we cannot extricate ourselves, find our country unknowingly a member of a league which has so conspicuously repudiated."

RUSSIA DEFENDS GRAIN EXPORTS IN FACE OF NEED

Soviet Asserts Inability to Confiscate Private Property for Famine Requirements Although Seeking Aid Abroad

MOSCOW, Mar. 8 (AP)—Russian ships loaded with grain for western Europe may steam out of Soviet harbors at the same time that American ships, likewise laden with grain for the Russian famine sufferers, steam into Russian ports unless present plans of the Soviet government are changed. The Russian authorities, largely interested at this time in the building up of future agricultural and industrial possibilities anticipate that they will be able to export even more food stuffs than they are asking such foreign organizations as the American Relief Administration to import. They explain the apparent inconsistencies of this plan by the statement that the outgoing foodstuffs are private property, and that, to be considered in their new policy of permitting private initiative, they cannot confiscate the food for famine needs even though they have to request that food be sent into Russia to prevent thousands of deaths from starvation.

Trade for Implements.

The grain for export, they say, is the property of various co-operatives accumulated by them from individual peasants who, in some fruit-ful regions, had a surplus above their own needs. This surplus was consigned to the co-operatives to be exchanged abroad for implements and other articles which the peasants must have, but cannot secure in Russia.

Asked why the government does not help its own people when there is sufficient food in the country to feed the entire populace, instead of continuing to plead for American and other foreign aid, one official said that if the surplus to be exchanged were taken away from him this year, he probably would not raise any more grain than he absolutely needed for himself next year.

"The government had to abandon the policy of requisitioning supplies from the peasants two years ago, and to encourage them to plant more grain than they needed for their own use," this official said. "If we started again to requisition grain from the peasants or co-operatives, we not only would undo all of the work of the last two years, but would be directly retarding our new policy of free trade."

World Regain Markets.

At a recent meeting of The State Plan Commission, the official statistician declared that Russia should be able to export from last year's crop about 100,000,000 pounds or roughly 60 million bushels of grain. The time is now ripe, this expert said, for Russia to endeavor to regain the European bread market. He doubts, however, the ability of the co-operatives to handle such a large quantity of grain. A small amount of Russian rye and wheat is already at the ports, but up to the present time little of it has actually been placed aboard ship for export.

S-36 LAST WORD IN SUBS

Largest Undersea Craft Ever Built on Pacific Coast Nears Completion in San Francisco Yards

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 8 (AP)—The S-36, "the last word in subs," and the largest undersea craft ever built on the Pacific Coast, will soon be completed at the Union Iron Works Plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company here, according to her commander, Lieut. L. A. Alford said. Two hundred and twenty feet long and with a tonnage of 1,000, she will outrange any of the 51 other S-type submarines already completed or under construction. Lieut. Alford said her total cost will approximate $1,000,000.

Although launched in 1919, then about 60 per cent completed, the hull in ship construction following the S-36, Lieut. Alford said, however, have retarded the "finishing touches" to a great extent, even though the national tonnage of submarines was not affected by the conference.

Lieut. Alford pointed out, however, that the T and V models, work on several of which is now under way

SHOE MEN WIN FROM WRIGHT'S

Foot Fitters Take Odd Game from the Department Store Bowlers; Yochem Rolls High

The Shoe Market bowlers took the odd game from the Wright's store men last night at the Twin Falls bowling alley in the last regular scheduled series for the week.

The opener showed the Wright's store team trying to break a low record, their total reaching 707, while the foot-fitters totaled 812. In this game Jake Yochem came to the front with 188 for high.

Jake Yochem was the big noise in the second game, also, coming to the bat for the tenth inning with the bases full and a strike needed to win the game. The old fighting spirit gripped the mighty Jake, and he threw the ball, the audience watched the ball take its course down the polished surface, the dropping of a pin would have sounded like an earthquake, which it did as he sped to its destination. In a flash it was over. The mighty Yochem had delivered in a pinch, and the Shoe Market team had won another victory. The score in this heart-breaking affair was 772 to 751. Art Boone had high in this game with 197.

In the last game of the evening, the Department Store chips stepped on it and came out on top. The final reading of the game was 818 to 784. Emory Benoit had high in this game with 195. Jake Yochem took high honors for the evening with an average of 180. Total pins stood 2350 for the Shoe Market marble shooters, to 2277 for the Benoit spinners.

WHEN WRIGHT IS WRONG

All good games to look at, although no records were broken.

The Shoe Market filled Hugh Lewis' place with Art Hansk. Not a bit bad.

Captain of the foot covers changed his line-up, and the second game proved that he was right. Jake Yochem is the right man at anchor.

The change in line-up didn't seem to help. Dug Salmon much but Yochem knocked 'em cold.

Art Boone surprised the fans by shifting gears and getting into inter-mediate. Art came out with 615 for the evening with all the added speed. The stop watch caught the ball making the trip to the pins in two minutes flat.

Charley Hill said he was glad that the new pins would be a week older before he bowled again. Charley had plenty of, hard luck, and when that part of the program was missing he kept on missing.

Jimmie Hultihan looked good last night and yet he didn't get very far in the totals. The new pins failed to respond to his magic touch.

Art Hansk is coming right along, and now that he is a regular on the Shoe Market team, he will give the boys a real race for top honors. Art throws a ball that takes a slight reverse, and toward the last seemed to be getting control of the pesky thing.

Jake Yochem's work for the evening was the potent factor in the Shoe Market's two victories. Jake is as cool as the proverbial cucumber, although not as green when it comes to knocking over the maples.

Emory Benoit was not up to standard, owing to the fact that he didn't knock down as many pins as he usually does. His first game totalling 131 showed that he missed the 200 mark by 69 pins.

Walter Buchanan fell down in the third game, stopping at 140. Walter used to pick up most of his strikes, but last night the 7 and 10 pin seemed to bother him a little.

Dug Salmon kidded the scorekeeper by rolling 167 in the opener. Dug isn't strong for kidding, so passed it up in the next two games.

Art Finko was another of the top notchers who fell down in the average. Art couldn't get started, although he did pop off 170 in the last game.

After it is all said and done, one must not forget to mention the wonderful work of "Pop" Klefner. This vintage of '70 sparkled with enthusiasm, but that let him out.

In his first game he rolled the clever sum of 113, but fell down a little in the second, stopping at 111. His last game of 165 came as a thunder cloud out of a clear sky. It is said that one of the spectators fainted when Klefner's last score was announced.

Tonight the Independent market will take on the Central Market bowlers for the seventh time in the hopes that the worm will turn, and they will see what it feels like to win a series.

Our daily bowling thought: What a man learns about a woman depends upon how he tries to teach her.

DRIGGS TO MEET WESTON

Eastern Idaho District Basketball Championship at Stako in Contest to be Staged on Rexburg Floor.

POCATELLO, March 8.—(Special to The News.)—Weston and Driggs will battle on the Ricks academy floor at Rexburg Friday night for the right to go to Moscow and compete for the state title, as the result of Weston winning two straight from the local hoopers Tuesday.

Driggs took a hard fought game from Idaho Falls to win the right to play Weston, and Friday night will decide the fate of these two teams.

BUYERS SHY AT SALE OF CLUB

Prospects Poor for Change in Ownership of Boston Americans and Brooklyn Nationals

NEW YORK, March 8.—(Special to The News.)—Two major league clubs on the block today—the Boston Americans and Brooklyn Nationals—although interests in both admittedly were for sale to the highest bidder, doubt was expressed tonight as to the prospects of either changing ownership at present.

Harry H. Praze, president of the Boston Reds, declined to comment on reports regarding the possibility that he might sell his interests. It was learned, however, that he had not conferred today with Ban Johnson, president of the American league, on the subject, as suggested in advice from training camp sources.

Kentuckian Makes Offer. Owners of the Brooklyn club meanwhile, admitted they had been approached by representatives of Edward F. Simms, wealthy Kentucky turfman and oil operator, with an offer of $500,000 for their interests, but did not appear to regard it favorably.

Charles H. Ebbets, president of the club, who has on several occasions expressed a desire to sell his holdings and retire from the game, was quoted by the Brooklyn Eagle's training camp correspondent as saying the price was not satisfactory.

In Brooklyn, Stephen W. McKeever, who, with his brother, Edward J. McKeever, holds a half interest in the Dodgers, declared emphatically he would consider no proposition to sell and added that "there isn't money enough in New York to buy our share in the club."

McKeever Holds Balance. Baseball men regarded the attitude of Mr. McKeever as practically quashing the proposed deal because of an agreement he and his brother are understood to have with Mr. Ebbets, under the terms of which each party has first option on the other's holdings in the event either desires to sell.

"Proof of the existence of this pact was given in the statement by Mr. Ebbets that he could reach no decision regarding the Simms offer until conferring with the McKeevers."

OAKLEY LOSES FIRST OF SERIES GAME TO BOISE

Capital City Braves Defeat South Central District Basketball Champions, 36 to 23

OAKLEY, March 8.—(Special to The News.)—Boise won the first basketball game of a three game series from the Oakley hoopers here tonight, 36 to 23, before a crowd of 550 fans.

Using the five-man defense style of play, with short snappy passes, the visitors completely outplayed the local cage artists who failed to fashion the changed style of play.

Oakley's heretofore smooth running machine crumbled in tonight's game, the tension being a little too much for the home boys.

Quinter, Boise's captain and right forward, was the star of the evening; his floor work combined with his scoring of 24 points, placing him far over the others. One of Quinter's baskets was shot from beyond the center of the floor with one hand.

Bill Larson failed to convert the foul game, placing him far over the other. The entire Oakley team seemed nervous, while Boise's team work was the best seen here this season.

The second game will be played Friday evening, and in the event of Oakley winning, a third will be played Saturday evening to decide which team will be sent to Moscow to compete for the state title.

The Big "T" society is composed of athletes of the high school who have made letters in baseball, football, basketball and track.

Those who have watched the fortunes of the boys through the season past are making arrangements to attend the hop tonight to show their appreciation for what the boys have done to put Twin Falls on the athletic map. The athletes of Filer, Buhl, Kimberly, Hollister and Jerome have been invited to attend, which promises to be the big social event of the high school year.

APPROVES BENTON'S TRANSFER

CHICAGO, March 8.—(Special to The News.)—The controversy over Pitcher J. C. "Rube" Benton was settled today in a decision by K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, declaring Benton eligible to play in organized baseball, approving his transfer to the Cincinnati Reds by the St. Paul Minn. club and criticizing those who brought charges against Benton.

The National league has objected to the transfer of Benton on the ground that he had knowledge of the 1919 world series scandal and failed to bring it to the attention of the proper authorities and failed to sustain charges filed by him against another player.

CHAIN STORES GO INTO HANDS OF RECEIVERS

Steel Enterprises Doing $20,000,000 Business in Three Years Appeal to Court to Avert Threatened Crash

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 8, (AP)—Twenty corporations comprising the Leonard R. Steel company enterprises, into which the public has poured more than $20,000,000 in the last three years, were placed in the hands of receivers today by Federal Judge John E. Hazel. Ancillary receivers will be named for every store and branch of Steel corporations in this and other states.

The receivership, officials of the company said, is friendly one and designed to avert a crash of the entire financial structure by the hostile attitude of certain stockholders and creditors, which, it was declared, had become apparent during the last 24 hours.

The principal companies named in the receivership proceedings are the L. R. Steel company, Inc., the parent organization, L. R. Steel company, Limited, operating chain stores in Canada; the Federal Stores company of Youngstown, Ohio, and F. E. Nelson Stores company of Massachusetts, in which Steel companies had a 76 per cent interest; the Mary Lincoln Gandy company, Inc., stores and factory the Steel Department Stores Holding corporation of Delaware and the Steel Department Stores, Inc., with branches in many states including Colorado, Utah, Minnesota, Washington and Idaho. In addition to department stores, the corporation owned or controlled restaurants and cafeterias. A statement issued last October indicated ownership of about 90 stores, ten of which have since been sold or discontinued.

Inquiry Story Unconfirmed
A report that the receivership would be immediately followed by an inquiry into the manner in which the stockholders' money was disbursed found no confirmation either at the district attorney's office, nor from the receivers. District Attorney Guy B. Moore said he had not been asked to take a hand in the proceedings.

No statement of present assets and liabilities is available, auditors at work on the finances of the various corporations not having completed their work.

VALENTINO TROUSERS IN DISREPUTE ON CAMPUS

Three Colorado Students Sue for Damages for Injuries to Person, Sensibilities and Apparel

BOULDER, Colo., March 8, (AP)—Damages totalling $2,231 are to be sought in moot court here by three students who alleged they were assaulted by class mates and stripped of their "Valentino" trousers. Suitors in the law school have been assigned to the case.

The suits are a sequel to the campaign conducted by the Purity League for a "Valentino" campus. Reid Williams, president of the associated students, asks $200 for a black eye, public ridicule and his torn Valentino trousers, naming Homer Burger, football end and star member of the boxing team, as defendant. Arthur Quinlan, captain of the football team, asks $100 damages to his body and joins the other plaintiffs in seeking $1,500 exemplary damages. Marion Stauffer is the other plaintiff. In addition to Burger, the other defendants are Paul Oldenburg and Dean Rider.

GASOLINE PUMP ISSUE IN COURT

Right of Wholesalers to Dictate Use to be Made of Handing Devices is Attacked

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Contracts under which refiners and wholesalers of gasoline install pumps and tanks for retailers on the condition that they are not to be used for handling the products of competitors was under discussion in the supreme court today in four cases brought by the federal trade commission against the Sinclair Refining company, the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the Gulf Refining company and the Marjorie Oil Manufacturing company. These cases involved proceedings brought by the commission against about 30 wholesalers and sought to attack present gasoline retail practices prevailing throughout the United States. The commission contended that the contracts had the effect of restricting competition because they deterred refiners from seeking the removal of retailers using apparatus installed by competitors.

The refiners and wholesalers asserted that in most instances the retailers were set up in business by them; that the retailers had the option of purchasing tanks and pumps; that such apparatus could be purchased by the retailers in the open market and that the contracts did not prohibit the retailers from installing the apparatus of more than one refiner. It was asserted also that the business was devoid of all interstate commerce features.

The decisions of the lower courts in all the cases were adverse to the contentions of the federal trade commission. A free lecture on Christian Science at High School Auditorium next Monday evening, March 12, at 8:15.—adv.

JURY IN SYNDICALISM CASE BEARS DEADLOCK
TILLAMOOK, Ore., March 8 (AP)—Reports from the jury room tonight were that there was little prospect of an agreement in the case of Ole Hendricks, charged with violation of the criminal syndicalism act. It was said the jury appeared hopelessly divided, with a majority favoring a verdict of conviction. Hendricks is an organizer for the Industrial Workers of the World. He has been employed in various lumber camps of this county and while so engaged is alleged by the prosecution to have advocated violence and subversion in fomenting a general strike in the lumber industry of the state, which he is alleged to have said would be called May 1.

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 8, (AP)—An eleven-year old daughter of Paul Porcos, a farmer living near Battle Ground, 16 miles from here, was found dead beside the road near her home tonight under circumstances indicating murder, according to word received by the sheriff and coroner. Both officials left for the scene.

According to the scanty information given the officers over the telephone, the child's body was found with the clothing torn to shreds and other indications of a terrific struggle.

Heavy Demand for Books of Fiction

Circulation of Library for February Shows New Works Proven Popular with Public

The demand for books of fiction was far heavier than that for any other class of literature during the month of February, according to the monthly report of Leslie Strain, librarian, of the city of 2489 adult fiction works and 1078 juvenile were taken out of the public library during the month.

BRITISH TRADE PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT, SAYS LABOR MINISTER

LONDON, March 8 (AP)—Sir Montague Barlow, the minister of labor, struck an optimistic note on the prospects of a revival in trade when speaking recently in Birmingham.

"I do begin to see a little daylight," he said. "There are indications that we are weathering the storm. Frankly I do not want the process to be too rapid. If it were I could be afraid that it was merely effetequent; improvement is going on steadily in a manner which makes me hopeful. No one can tell what the effect of certain political changes on the continent may be, but apart from that it seems that we are climbing the hill steadily and, although the way is hard, we shall safely reach the summit."

The retailers of England also feel hopeful as to the future. "A state of hope for better things rather than actual fulfillment is virtually the condition of trade today," is the way the Retailers association sums up the retailer's point of view of the trading outlook. It is added, however, that the optimistic feeling bids fair to be translated into business in the early future.

Bolshevik Rule Wins Admiration of Idaho Solon

Borah Demands Right of United States to Question Russians' Choice of Government

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 8, (AP)—Praise for the present government in Russia was heard from United States Senator Borah tonight at the annual clamber of commerce dinner. The form of government, he said, had nothing to do with the situation and he demanded to know what right the government or the people of the United States had to question the form chosen by the Russian people.

"Do you believe that world peace can be established?" he asked, "until Russia had been given the right to come back into the council chamber of the world?" "It is not as real as you think, however," he went on. "Tonight I say, I wish well of the Russians. No people ever had more to be desired."

Youth of Russia Is Active in Atheism

Young Communists Stage Grotesque Anti-Religious Demonstrations, Christmas Day

MOSCOW, Feb. 8 (AP)—Christmas day on the Russian calendar, January 7, the day on which this year the young communists all over Russia staged grotesque anti-religious demonstrations, is to be entered on the official records as a permanent holiday under the name of "The Day of the Depositing of the Russian Calendar."

The government, which in some ways oppressed the churches from the very beginning of the Bolshevik revolution, did not, however, take any steps to close churches until this year. In Moscow several of the smaller street churches before which the faithful were accustomed to bow and cross themselves for many centuries, are now to be closed, it was announced.

Most of the young communists who are directed in the anti-religious campaign, declare they are sincere atheists, even though most of them have as parents persons who cross themselves before every shrine and who even now consider their children as anti-religious, surely bound for hell and damnation.

CONDemn SUNDAY AMUSEMENTS

SYDNEY, N. S. W., March 8 (AP)—Condemnation of amusements and other amusements on Sundays and a plea for a more Christian observance of the Sabbath, were contained in a manifesto issued by the Anglican, Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational and Baptist churches of New South Wales.

The manifesto states that the church leaders view with deep anxiety the growing disposition on the part of many persons to "rob the Christian Sunday of its distinctive character, and in that way lay grave peril to the moral standards of the people." Definite action against Sunday sport has just been taken by the Victorian cabinet, which provided for the prohibition of the playing of games in public places on Sunday.

BUTTER RECORD SMASHED

British Columbia Experiment Farm Beats Old that Produced 1,681 Pounds in Year's Time

VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 8 (AP)—Annie Segle May Echo, a five-year-old Holstein, owned by the Dominion Experimental Farm at Agassiz, B. C., has established a world's record in butter production, according to the announcement of W. H. Hicks, superintendent of the farm.

This queen of dairy animals, Mr. Hicks said, has in 365 days produced 30,880 pounds of milk, averaging more than 4 per cent butter fat and yielding 1,681 pounds of butter. "This," said Mr. Hicks, "is seventy-four pounds of butter more than that produced in the same period by the previous world's record holder, Belle Pointe of Brantford, Ont."

Mrs. Woods declared she had gone out to her land each May and remained until October, coming into town during cold weather. She had fenced land and had run stock upon it.
