

CITY'S BUDGET IS PROBLEM OF NEW OFFICIALS

New Administration Replaces Four Executives; Seek Ways of Cutting Expenses for the Ensuing Year

The problem of arranging a budget of municipal expenditures for the coming year was taken up by twin Falls city commission, immediately after its reorganization Monday evening, when Mayor J. D. Tucker and former Commissioners B. G. McAuley and J. E. Roberts gave up their chairs around the administrative table at the city hall to Mayor Shad L. Hodgins and Commissioners J. S. Keel and W. T. Leslie.

Four Appointments Made. On recommendation by Mayor Hodgins the commission appointed Charles E. Jones to succeed Harry L. Alexander as city treasurer; Phil Harrison, to succeed E. B. Croft as chief clerk; A. J. Myers as city attorney to succeed G. S. Davis, who was given the position of police magistrate and desk secretary; and E. J. Packard as police magistrate.

Mr. Alexander asked to be relieved at once of his duties in order to take up a new position with the American Electric company.

Immediately after the appointments and reorganization matters were disposed of Mayor Hodgins signified a desire to have the city commission and the other members of the commission being of the same mind, the commission began a two-hour discussion on the budget of the city for the coming year.

McCoy, city clerk, showed that the city budget for 1922-23 was divided as follows: Administrative, $11,700; fire, $13,366; police, $26,225; meat and dairy, $25,100; sanitary, $25,500; street, $10,000; sewer, $10,000; public works, $14,000; parks, $1,800; city scales, $1,000; bond, $600; engineering, $300; library, $660; contingent, $500.

NO LOOPHOLES TO BE LEFT IN DRY LAW RULES

Treasury Department Promises Penalties That Will Leave No Doubt as to Government's Intentions

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Treasury officials began today the drafting of definite regulations for enforcement of the prohibition law as construed by the supreme court, with the announced intention of determining that no loopholes would be left for evasion. Penalties will be provided, it was declared, which will leave no doubt as to the government's intention to deal vigorously with the situation.

The day's developments, therefore, augmented evidence already given in several quarters that the national policy with respect to the transportation of liquor within the territorial waters of the United States will be firm, and that after June 10, when the regulations become effective, strong representations will have to be made by foreign powers before any changes in that policy will be considered. Treasury plans contemplate the writing of regulations which will make the three-mile limit an actual deadline for ships with liquor aboard.

Medical Stocks Excepted.
There will be provision, obviously, for the entry into American waters of necessary stocks of medicinal liquor on ships, but the restrictions will be, it is said, of a character serving as proof of the positive stand of the United States government.

Officials explained that there is no desire to needlessly handicap legitimate business endeavor. The effect on foreign powers of the court's ruling having been taken into account, but many officials were willing to wait developments. No formal representations have been made, but it is believed by some officials that protests would come.

Retention Feared.
There was some fear that efforts would be made by some foreign governments to retaliate through the use of customs laws. Secretary Mellon disclosed that possibility, however, although he admitted such moves might be made. The use of retaliatory measures to embarrass American shipping would not go far, however, in the view of officials before they reached the point of violation of international law or treaties.

PRICE TREND IS LOWER

Bradstreet's Commodity Index Shows Provisions and Textiles Exhibiting Principal Weakness

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—A slight downward trend in prices for April is indicated by Bradstreet's commodity price index. It reflected some modified views of the outlook for business as a result of the quieting down first visible in late March. Provisions and textiles exhibited the principal weakness in April, but metals and naval stores also showed a declining tendency. In all, seven groups declined, while six advanced, although the advances in the latter were not impressive.

PHEASANT EGGS FROM ENGLAND WILL BE HATCHED IN AMERICA

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Experiments made by a large firm of game breeders have shown that pheasants' eggs can be sent to America and satisfactorily hatched out. The firm has therefore made arrangements with a transatlantic line of steamers to take up to ten thousand eggs by their vessels when the laying season starts next month. The pheasant is not native to America, and the manager of the firm said stocks have constantly to be renewed and the blood strains changed. Hitherto we have been sending live birds, but now we know that eggs can be sent equally as well. They will be shipped the day they are laid and should be under a hen pheasant or in an incubator in America about ten days later.

TOMBSTONE WARNS AUTOISTS

READING, Pa., May 3 (AP)—A tombstone erected near Hughes hill on the Pottsville pike, near Hamburg, is a grim reminder to reckless automobilists of the danger of careless driving on the highway. HERRICK FACES CHARGES

Former Congressman from Oklahoma is Haled into Police Court when Woman Complains He Annoyed Her

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The name of "Mannuel Herrick, occupation private detective," appeared on the overnight headquarters police blotter with a charge of disorderly conduct entered opposite.

The former congressman from Oklahoma and erstwhile "aerial daredevil of congress," was picked up by a traffic policeman who said he intervened after a woman had complained that Herrick was annoying her. The policeman also reported that the prisoner had been brought in only after a tussle. He was released on $5 collateral.

When his case was called in police court the district attorney's office announced that several women had asked for permission to testify against the prisoner. Herrick attempted to conduct his own defense, but after a consultation the hearing was postponed until tomorrow.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK PLANNED

Principal Speakers in Connection with Idaho Graduation Exercises Named

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 3.—Dean Paul Roberts of St. Michael's cathedral of Boise will preach the baccalaureate sermon and Professor Edmund S. Meany, head of the department of the University of Washington, will deliver the commencement address to the University of Idaho's class of 105 graduates at commencement exercises this spring. This announcement is made from the office of President A. H. Upham. Dean Roberts is one of Idaho's most prominent clergymen and is active in church affairs in the northwest, while Professor Meany is an authority on early day history and an adopted member of three northwest Indian tribes. Both are excellent speakers and the appearance of Professor Meany will be significant in connection with the presentation of the big pageant depicting early Idaho history.

Governor C. C. Moore has accepted the invitation of President Upham to be present at commencement this year and will probably deliver a short talk at the commencement exercises. Professor Meany, who has been at the University of Washington for many years, is regarded as the "keeper of traditions" of that institution. In 1900 he was adopted by Chief Joseph into the Nez Perce, north Idaho's famous tribe, as "Miat Watt," which means "Three Knives." In 1903 he was taken into the Vancouver tribe as "Chiniponowski," meaning "The Sun Warming the Morning" and in 1905, not less a person than the famous Chief Red Cloud of the Sioux tribe gave him the name of his son, "Wahinko Numpu," or "The Arrow."

This year's commencement program has been changed somewhat from programs of former years and baccalaureate exercises will be held on Wednesday, the commencement exercises the following day in stead of Wednesday, as has been the practice. The commencement week program commences with a recital by the department of music Friday, June 8, while the following day is devoted largely to alumni activities, with the big historical pageant coming in the evening. Sunday morning Dean Roberts will give the baccalaureate sermon, and in the afternoon the R. O. T. C. military band will give its annual concert.

Monday, June 11, will be the big day on the program, for besides including commencement exercises proper it will witness the dedication of the Mary E. Forney hall, new dormitory for women, which is now being completed. The academic procession, it is planned, will start at Blenheim hall and go to Mary E. Forney hall for short dedicatory exercises before proceeding to the auditorium for the commencement exercises. The afternoon will be devoted to social events for the alumni, seniors and visiting friends of the institution.

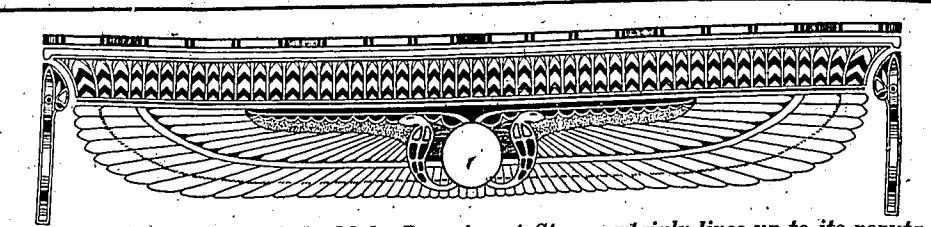

With the graduating class numbering 105, the largest in history, and with unusual commencement speakers, the program this year promises to be outstanding. The exercises are being made to get as many alumni and friends of the institution as possible to come to Moscow.

POSSIBILITY OF PLOT IS SHOWN IN MORSE CASE

Prosecution Piles up Evidence of Opportunity for Conspiracy to Defraud Government in Ship Contracts

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Additional evidence designed to show that there was opportunity for a meeting of the minds of Charles W. Morse, his sons and other defendants, for the formation of the conspiracy charged against them in the defense of the federal government on war time ship contracts, was presented today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

At the same time defense counsel elicited from the government's witnesses, E. G. Hixley of New York, who was an officer of an counsel for the various Morse companies, the statement that he knew of no fact then and had known of none since which showed that the contracts for building government ships were entered into for the purpose of defrauding, delaying, thwarting or the government of the purposes of the government.

The witness testified that while he was connected with the companies he used his very best efforts to carry out the contracts.

Government counsel brought out that the Hixley Navigation Co., New York, had outstanding mortgages of $4,000,000, and that several of the steamers listed in the assets of the United States Steamship company had been destroyed, one of them never having been heard from after starting for Rumania.

Before the trial was resumed today, counsel for the government and the defense, with the concurrence of the justice staff, reached an agreement under which the deposition of John Barton Payne, former chairman of the shipping board, will be taken this week so that he may leave Sunday night for Mexico City. Mr. Payne is listed as a witness for both sides.

PIGGLY WIGGLY COUNTS ON SALE OF ITS STOCK

Plans for Disposing of Approximately 50,000 Shares are Perfected in Effort to Save Chain Stores from Ruin

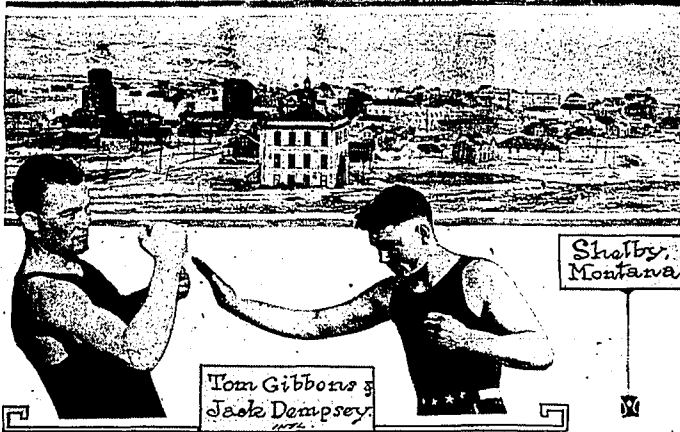

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 3 (AP)—Plans to market approximately 50,000 shares of stock of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., at $55 a share were perfected at a meeting today of Memphis business men who rallied to the support of Clarence Saunders, president, who announced in page newspaper advertisements that he would "go broke" unless he disposed of the stock.

Under the plans adopted all money paid in on stock subscriptions will be held by the sales committee until the entire block is sold and an investigation is to be made by the committee as to the soundness of the investment. If the shares are not all sold or if the committee fails, the money will be returned to the subscribers.

The situation which resulted in the organization of the stock selling campaign came as an aftermath to a recent sensational Wall street episode in Piggly Wiggly and Mr. Saunders' venture in the market in a buying campaign which, he declared, was necessary to "save the stockholders of my company from loss and my business from ruin."

Whooping Cough.
This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—adv.

MAN AND WIFE SINK

Then the crew launched the two boats, West and two of his companions in one, the remaining eight in the other. As they pulled away from the side of the bark, they saw the Captain and Mrs. Neilson, standing hand-in-hand on the poop deck, until the craft took her last plunge beneath the mountainous waves.

The larger boat capsized and seven of her occupants were drowned, but the eighth, Frank Neilson, swam to the side of West's boat and was hauled aboard. Then a weary voyage began.

A sail was rigged on the small craft and for twenty-eight days the castaways ploughed through a wide expanse of water until they made Surigao, on the island of Mindanao in the Philippine group.

They had a small supply of canned meat and when this was exhausted they managed to catch a dolphin, which they ate raw. Next, the water was but a day's thirst a squall blow up with heavy rain and they refilled their cask.

After landing at Surigao, they were sent to Manila where they arrived today.

OUTCASTS BEAT JUNIORS

A team composed of members of the Twin Falls high school baseball squad who were not able to make the trip to Nampa with the first string men, called themselves the "Outcasts" and won a hard fought seven inning game from the junior high schools boys, 7 to 3, at Lincoln field Thursday afternoon.

The smaller lads led 3 to 1 up to the first, but the seventh when the "Outcasts" scored six runs. Fratelle and Wieser did the heavy work for the Junior High boys, with Doc Jarman and Ed Martin doing the winning for the winners, with "Stubby" Dana on the receiving end. Ormsby did the umpiring and seemed to satisfy both teams.

SPORTS Stream Near City Stocked in Trout

Action by Local Sportsmen Makes Good Fishing Available by Next Year

In planting larva consignments of eastern brook trout for two consecutive years in what is known as the slaughter house creek in Dead Man gulch just below the bridge near the county hospital the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association has taken action that will result in good fishing in the near future for the many local fishermen who are unable to travel long distances to reach suitable streams and lakes.

The association has just planted the consignments of 15,000 trout that reached Twin Falls last week and last year a total of 20,000 were turned loose in the small stream. The fish planted last year have flourished very well and by next year the stream will offer exceptionally good fishing, according to Jack Shrout, president of the association.

SOVIET GAINS MASTERY OVER RUSS CHURCH

Moscow Conclave Adopts Resolution Unfrocking Patriarch and Identifying Christianity with Communism

MOSCOW, May 3 (AP)—With virtually no opposition the resolution unfrocking the Most Rev. Dr. Tikhon, former patriarch of all Russia, was adopted today by the Russian church conclave. The resolution proclaims that henceforth Dr. Tikhon will be an ordinary citizen, with his lay name of Basil Yevanovich Balabanov.

The scene of the Russian church conclave which took the action was similar to the gathering which in 1917 elected Dr. Tikhon as patriarch, but in all the absence of be-whiskered faces of priests and laymen making up the conclave it seemed as if few, if any, defenders of the patriarch could be found.

His prosecutor in the church proceedings was the Petrograd apostolic priest, Vedensky, a firm believer in the idea that the communist regime is materialistically practicing the precept of the original Christianity.

Lenin's Picture on Wall.

Standing on the stage under an unframed picture of Christ, and gazing into the large picture of Lenin which is hung with those of other communist leaders on the walls of the room the prosecutor held although for several hours running the gamut of his voice from a croaking murmur to the thunders of condemnation.

The new ideal of Christianity was growing, despite the fact that it had been fought up "even Christianity, which elected Rockefeller and not Christ as its leader," said the speaker.

Calls Capitalism Sin.

Vedensky declared that the church formerly was a tool of the czar and that Dr. Tikhon was a worker against the revolution by pronouncing anathema on socialists who strove for the betterment of humanity. "Our ethical duty before the world is to pronounce capitalism a sin," Vedensky exclaimed.

Refuting the accusation that the conclave had been called to condemn Dr. Tikhon, Vedensky added:

"If you believe Tikhon, follow him; put yourself in martyrdom for the orthodoxes. But you do not believe in him you must agree to the unfrocking of him. You must choose between Tikhon and Christ."

Metropolitan Peter, who acted as chairman, hastened to put the resolution calling for a vote. Appeals to be heard were ignored, Peter declaring that the business of the conclave must be finished. He demanded that all in favor of the resolution lift their hands.

Single Negative Vote.

In the darkness of the room it seemed that something more than half the number of delegates raised their hands and that the other delegates were taken by surprise at the suddenness of the vote.

Negatively only one hand was raised, but five of the delegates asked to be registered as not voting.

Lost Treasure of Montezuma.

According to legend, Montezuma, at the time of his overthrow in 1520 by Cortez and his Spanish followers, had, in addition to the colossal loot which the victors secured in gold and silver, fabulous wealth in gold stored away beneath his secret palace hidden in the plateau region of what is now the state of Sonora, Mexico.

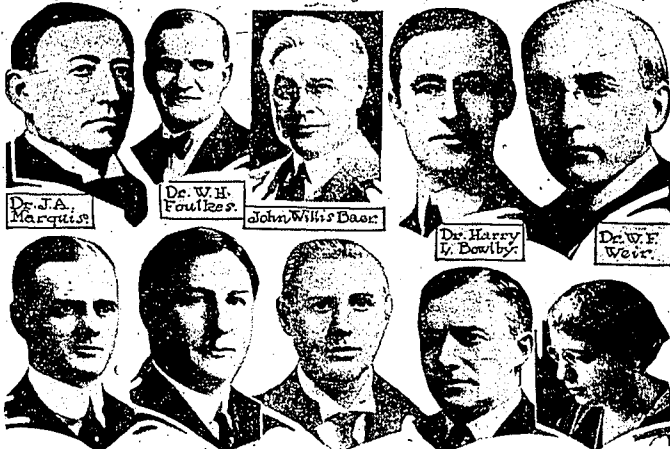

The loot, which the invaders secured, was stupendous, to be sure. But they missed the greatest single cache of gold in Mexico by dismissing Montezuma in time for him to recall his messengers sent out to bring in the gold from the chief treasure house of his gods.

Cortez tortured and then murdered hundreds of the leading Aztecs in an effort to get from them the secret of the location of the great treasure place and palace. Failing to gain his information in that way, he spent several years scouring the western part of Mexico, but in vain.

One of the distinguished commissioners to the assembly is Dr. John Willis Bacon, of Pasadena, California, formerly of Boston, who is the only layman who ever held the office of moderator in the church. For the first time since he became general secretary of the Presbyterian New Era Movement, Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, of New York, is commissioner and as such is said to be slated for moderator. COMMITTEE WILL CONSIDER PLANS

Organization Working for Big Project to Make Statement to Land Owners

For the purpose of discussing a number of matters associated with the campaign on the American Falls reservoir project, the fate of which will be decided by the result of the election on May 12, a meeting of the executive committee of the Idaho Reclamation Association has been called by Chairman Swin, for today at 12:30 at the Zorrine hotel. The members of the committee, in addition to Chairman Swin and Secretary E. J. Finch of the general committee, are: H. J. Weaver, Piler; Carl Miller, Castleford; W. D. Gilles Piler; W. M. Van Houten, Kimberly; S. G. Dick, Piler; P. F. Ahlquist, Bohi; Willis Sampson, Hansen, and W. H. Turner, Kimberly.

It is stated the committee will consider a statement to be sent the land owners on the south side tract.

Features for Consideration.

Some of the outstanding features of the committee's probable presentation to the land owners may be summarized as follows:

Removal forever of water shortage, whether periodical or otherwise. That would operate to stabilize values and place every piece of property on the tract in better shape both as to production and sale.

Providing ample water for later irrigation each season. It is pointed out that this is highly desirable on account of the increase in dairying. Late pasturage, which requires late irrigation, is possible and will reduce feeding costs. A certain late water supply for beets is also necessary.

Creation of more and nearer, therefore better, markets for the products of the tract.

This can be accomplished through railroad construction to the large and near-by markets of California. With the added advantage of water transportation to the eastern coast via the Panama canal.

It is the belief of a number of well known citizens, it is stated, that the stakes are set up for this important railroad development south, and it is their deliberate judgment that, with the future possibilities of the tract established, such a line will be constructed.

Nothing that could be done would so completely establish that future as the construction of the American Falls reservoir, it is pointed out.

Representatives of the Idaho Reclamation Association, which includes investigations as to transportation and marketing in its reclamation efforts, are most emphatic in their declarations on the subject of a railroad south from the Twin Falls tract.

"I am as confident, as ever I was of anything that successes after the building of the American Falls reservoir will be followed by construction of a railroad south from Twin Falls," said Guy Flenner, manager of the association.

"It must be remembered that railroads cannot build extensions out of their earnings. Therefore, they must seek capital for such investments. There are enough railroad facilities here now to move the present production, and such business could be taken care of by additional equipment over the same lines.

"The trouble is we reach the wrong markets by those routes. The need is for closer markets—California, and those that may be reached under more favorable conditions by way of the Panama canal."

"The existing railroad in this territory, the Union Pacific, is as anxious as we are that the territory it serves should have the best possible outlet."

"A poor territory for us is a poor territory for the railroad system."

"But investment in railroad securities has not been and is not now, attractive."

"Capital has sought other outlets of investment. It is difficult to secure money for railroad purposes under any circumstances and next to impossible to do so unless the territory to be served shows possibilities justifying the new investment."

"If other works, such territory must do its part to establish itself on a basis of more steady and profitable production, which means a certain and not a fluctuating tonnage. The American Falls reservoir project furnishes the chance to do that very thing; and with that development assured, the railroad extension will follow, in my opinion."

GIVES QUALIFICATIONS FOR VOTING ON BONDS

Irrigation District Directors Hold Quiet Session at Regular Meeting; Alworth States Requirements

The board of directors of the American Falls irrigation district held a rather uneventful session at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon in the canal company offices. Only routine matters were considered. Residents throughout the district will not be required to register for voting on the bond issue on May 12, according to Secretary W. F. Alworth. Residence in the state six months, in the irrigation district 30 days and the ownership of property are the principal requirements for qualification, Mr. Alworth said. Only persons owning property can vote. Partnerships may vote providing they are the owners of real property.

TWIN FALLS WEEKLY NEWS

Established 1904
Twin Falls News Publishing Company, Ltd., Publishers
Issued on Thursday of every week
Entered as second class matter December 12, 1904 at the Post Office at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

IT HAS A FALSE RING

Judged by the emotions in which the war was fought, the tragedy it represented to millions of homes and tens of millions of people, the occasional trials of statesmen and officers concerned therein and their punishment should stir us with a profound sense of that human vengeance so perfectly illustrated by the Count of Monte Cristo.

The truth is that the trials and sentences stir little if any corresponding rejoicing. The supreme difficulty is that there is no genuine world-wide conviction that any of these men was responsible; there is a feeling that the war resulted from longer causes; no doubts if the men tried represent more the guilty element; whether more are untried than are convicted; whether they are guilty at all; whether a sense of justice or a sense of political expediency governs the trials.

In Bulgaria the men recently punished are all political foes of the premier, Stambouliak. His position was precarious and he needed a successful masterstroke. One cannot overlook such a coincidence. Radoslawoff, the former prime minister, is safe in exile; to punish him for his contempt of court he gets a life sentence; Jokoff, the commander in chief, left his refuge and returned to face his accusers, so he is rewarded by only ten years. But Jokoff, of course, is serving his ten years, while Radoslawoff sustains his heavy sentence at liberty.

There may be a signal lesson somewhere in these trials. But if the six condemned men are guilty of sending Bulgaria into the war, someone else already had provided the war. In these snarled post-bellum days, the business has a false and ineffective ring to it.

THEY'LL GET THAT MONEY

Doubtless it requires knowledge of the technical problems involved to appreciate properly the feat of rising six or seven yards in a helicopter, reported recently from Dayton. As a record this does not particularly impress the lay mind accustomed to airplane altitude marks exceeding six miles. But the inventor in Dayton finds encouragement in his progress to date and feels that the germ, at least, of a correct scientific idea has been proven in the tests.

To realize the distance that must be traveled before the helicopter has a practical value it is only necessary to recount the conditions exacted by the British air ministry before it awards a prize of fifty thousand pounds offered for a perfect helicopter. It must rise perpendicularly to a height of two thousand feet and be able to maintain a position over a given spot for half an hour in a twenty-mile wind. It must be able to make safe descents, and be capable of a speed of 60 miles an hour in horizontal flight.

The gap between the twenty-foot ascent and the achievements sought by the British would appear to be tremendous. So accustomed are air engineers, however, to accept any goal as attainable, that the Dayton jump, which is something less than the height of an ordinary barn, arouses optimism. A public cautioned to surprise can expect to read eventually that the air ministry has paid over the money it offers, just as every other trophy hung up for air "impossibilities" has been won long since.

A GOAT GETTER

There is an infinitely toothsome sound to the word chevron. It just seems to melt in your mouth. You would not dream of seeing such a delicious morsel listed on a bill of fare with plain soup courses, meat courses and pie. Rather you expect it, on the menu, somewhere after potato and poisson and before petit deois and the fromage. The aristocracy of the word calls for soft music, high prices and roof garden service.

Chevron is new to the world of delicacies. From the extremes of outer darkness the morsel has penetrated to the inner circles where epicureans dwell. The Associated-Goat Raisers of Missoiri, Oregon, Iowa and other western states, in solemn convention assembled, have adopted chevron as the name of their wonderful concoction. Even when the Sultan of Turkey evinced his love for America by sending us nine nannies-bank in eighteen hundred forty-nine, the need of a new name for goat was faintly scented. In nineteen hundred one the department of agriculture placed its approving stamp upon the goat, its fleece, its meat, its milk and its resulting cheeses. Missouri recently passed a law, officially removing the goat from the class of the horse and mule, and elevating its meat to an honorable place beside that of the lamb and the veal. Now the name chevron gives a finishing touch. The Associated Goat Raisers are doing a worthy thing, and under the new name the noble goat should taste as strong.

Loss of the records was announced today by Vice Consul Edward B. Thomas upon his arrival here, following the recent order from Washington directing the consuls at Harbin and Vladivostok. The documents were in the hands of the United States.

Settlers Introduced Honey Bees. In reality all honey bees are wild, for they have been but little changed by man, both in structure and in habits.

It does not seem to be generally known that there were no honey bees in America before they were introduced by the early French, English and Spanish settlers.

The old histories contain, however, very few dates on the spread of the bees. The Indians culled the swarms, which occupied and settled in hollow trees, English bees. They hated them as precursors of the whites, but they quickly learned to eat the honey.—Exchange.

Takes New Position—Frank Mattison, who has been connected with the Mac-

Origin of "Yankee." Yankee is a cant name for Americans belonging to the New England states. During the Revolution the name was applied by the British to all the insurgents and during the Civil war it was the common designation of the federal soldiers by the Confederates. In Great Britain the term is sometimes improperly applied generally to natives of the United States. The most common explanation of the term seems also the most plausible, namely, that it is a corrupt pronunciation of English or of French "Anglais" formerly current among the American Indians.
