Farm-Labor Delegates Balk at Platform Dictated by Workers' Party Leaders; Recess Staves Off Bolt

CHICAGO, July 5, (AP)—The Federated Farmer-Labor party with a platform under the leadership of the Workers party of America, was born here tonight, but in which the farmer-labor party refused to participate. A substitute to the organization's platform was submitted by the caucus of the farmer-labor delegates that provided an organization affiliated with the third internationale at Moscow could be agreeable to the party.

The caucus report offered the structure of the new party organization, to be launched under its name, and to be open to affiliation by all groups whose doctrine did not advocate force and violence in obtaining control of political government. After it was voted down a motion was adopted to recess for the election of a national executive committee.

Glories in Radicalism

The substitute was feebly supported but elicited speeches of radical nature that repeatedly brought dirt to the conference, made up of delegates representing industrial and farm workers here meeting with the convention of the farmer labor party. E. Backus, newly arrived delegate from California, where he said he represented the Non-Partisan League, was among the first to get the floor.

"I'm a red; have been a red from the beginning and you can't get too much red for me," he shouted. "I'm a 'lato' party to the proceedings but I'm here to put in a glorious finish. I constituents will stand for a lot of red action!"

CHICAGO, July 5, (AP)—The platform of the proposed Federated Farmer-Labor party, described as "too red, communistic and bolshevik and too radical for even the radical state of Wisconsin to accept," split the conference wide open today and it recessed for a night session in order to stave off a threatened bolt of some farmer-labor delegates, ostensibly in their own convention.

The recess was taken to permit a farmer-labor council to discuss the various participation and action. At that time the Workers party of America, which C. E. Ruthenburg, one of its group leaders, said was a branch of the communist party, was in control of the conference. Jay G. Brown, national Farmer-Labor party, refused the platform for his organization.

Chicagoan Arraigs Proposals

The organization committee composed of delegated reporting industrial workers, farmers and minority political parties, reported the platform through Joseph Manley, New York, and other workers' party delegate, which Ruthenburg said was signed by 26 of the 29 members. It was immediately attacked by the Illinois Farmer-Labor unit, but it was John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago delegates, who delivered the severest arraigs.

"The Farmer-Labor party called this conference-convention in good faith, with a desire for principal unity," Fitzpatrick said. "But other groups invited here have taken advantage and injected a platform that is adopted will kill the farmer-labor party and mean death to the ambitions of the working class for twenty years as soon as it becomes known that the workers party, a communist branch, is identified with the movement. It will be used to bring ruin and death to us. If William Z. Foster, Ruthenburg, Manley and the others believe they can attract union men and women to this platform they are mistaken. If those men really want to serve the cause they can do it best by picking up their tents and being gone. The delegates who framed this platform were gagged and delivered to the organization committee."

Price Commanded by Idaho Lambs Brings New Hope to Wool Growers

SALT LAKE, July 5, (AP)—Idaho lambs sold on the Chicago market Tuesday of this week at $16.15 a hundred pounds and the 1600 so sold averaged 71 pounds each," said F. J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Wool Growers' association, on his arrival here from his home at Spencer, Idaho. "That means about $11.47 a head, which we consider pretty good for spring lambs this early."

Mr. Hagenbarth is on his way to Elstair, Ariz., to attend a joint session of the Arizona Wool Growers' association and the Arizona Stockmen's association. The seasons begin next Monday and will continue until the flocking is completed, although it is expected the program

PAINTS EUROPE IN SOMBRE HUE

Senator Underwood Finds More Causes for War Abroad Now Than in January, 1914

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—More causes for war exist in Europe today than in January, 1914, Senator Underwood of Alabama, former democratic floor leader in the senate, declared today in a statement reviewing conditions as he found them during a trip abroad. While he contended the United States must aid Europe in adjusting its affairs, he asserted nothing in that direction could be accomplished by joining an international court of justice.

No reference was made in the statement to domestic politics, notwithstanding the senator's announcement before his departure for Europe that he would discuss the possibility of becoming a presidential candidate, as urged by his friends on his return.

War on Exhaustion

Declaring that nothing had been done by the United States to assist in the solution of European problems, Senator Underwood insisted that this country could not possibly be obligated if there is not war, he asserted, "it will be solely because Europe is financially and economically exhausted."

"We are not a party," he continued, "to the causes of the strife as they exist today in Europe, and theoretically, certainly it is not necessary for our country to become involved. We must remember that in 1914 when war broke out in Europe we stood for peace. In 1917 we were in the war and sons of America were dying on the battlefield of Europe. I cannot believe that the people of America have forgotten their pledges to aid in securing the peace of the world; that they have forgotten that our men and women said we were fighting that we might make the world a better place in which to live."

Governments Tottering

Declaring that government abroad is almost as uncertain and insecure as finance, Senator Underwood said the various governments were drifting to their various faces, without defining policies.

"Our governmental arm," the statement continued, "seems paralyzed so far as help in that direction is concerned. We seem to be standing in respect to the affairs of Europe without apology, without courage of conviction, without anything that we can make a man a man, or a government a government. We seem to be just observing and drifting, at least so far as the public is allowed to know. We continue to drift down stream and the roar of the cataract can be heard ahead."

It would not be necessary for the United States to enter the league of nations or the world court to discharge its obligations, the Alabama senator asserted, adding that the United States, however, should have a policy looking to the ultimate peace of the world and rehabilitation of shattered financial conditions."

BERLIN LIKELY TO PUT LIMITS TO RESISTANCE

Government Statement Depreciating Sabotage in Ruhr is Expected Following Intervention by Papal Nuncio

BERLIN, July 5, (AP)—The German government is expected to issue forthwith a statement depreciating sabotage and all forms of active resistance in the Franco-Belgian occupied areas.

Chancellor Cuno has been having discussions with Monsignor Paellli, the papal nuncio, whom Pope Pius sent here from Munich to make intercessions upon the subject of the Ruhr campaign. The chancellor is understood to be most desirous that Germany's resistance in the occupied territories shall be strictly passive and in Reichstag circles it is fully expected that the government will make an announcement within the next 24 hours voicing its opposition to active resistance in any form against the French and Belgians in the occupied territory, emphasizing that deeds of this nature are likely to jeopardize Germany's interests abroad.

Kansas Aviatix Finds Frostbites at High Altitude

ST. LOUIS, July 5 (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Hercheum, professional aviatix, of Benson, Kansas established a new altitude record for women by ascending 16,300 feet at St. Louis aviation field late today. The previous record was 15,700 feet, and was made by Andreee Peyre, French woman flier, in California.

Officials at the field announced that the flight was official, being held under regulations of the National Aeronautical association. Mrs. Hercheum was in the air two hours and eight minutes. When she descended she had to be helped from the cockpit of her plane. Her hands and feet being frost bitten, despite her wearing winter clothing. She was placed under the care of a physician.

NO WORD FROM FOUR BALLOONS

Lieutenant Olmstead, Landing at Marilla, New York, Sets Race Record. Thus Far

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5 (AP)—Only four of the thirteen balloons which left Indianapolis late yesterday afternoon in the flight for distance, remained unheard from or in the air at a late hour tonight. Nine of the participants in the race thus far have been heard from.

Lieutenant Robert O. Olmstead, piloting an army craft, had apparently traveled the farthest of any balloon which had thus far reported. He landed at Marilla, N. Y., after he and his crew had encountered a severe thunder shower.

Eight Still in Air

Eight of the thirteen balloons which took off here yesterday afternoon in the national contest for distance still were in the air and drifting east over eastern Ohio at a late hour today, according to word received by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the race.

Thrills recently marked the brief stay in the air of the four bags, which were reported having landed near various cities in Indiana and Ohio. One pilot and his aide were forced to jump for

PRESIDENT ON BOARD SHIP TO VISIT ALASKA

Chief Executive and Mrs. Harding Leave Tacoma at End of Transcontinental Trip for Northland

TAOAMA, Wash., July 5 (AP)—In the midst of the blaring of bands and the farrowl cheers of thousands of Tacoma citizens, President Harding called today for Alaska the first executive of the nation to visit that territory since it came under the American flag 50 years ago.

A few minutes after 9 p. m., the scheduled hour of departure, the United States naval transport Henderson, which for the next 20 days will be in reality the White House, got underway, cleared the harbor and steamed past the Tacoma stadium where a few minutes before the President and Mrs. Harding had received the Good speed of Governor Hart of Washington, and where the president had declared for an American merchant marine second to none.

As the big transport swung by the stadium those who had assembled there to hear the president speak, stood and cheered. Mr. and Mrs. Harding acknowledged the cheers and waved farewell from the bridge, until distance made them only indistinct figures to those on shore.

Realizing Ambition

The president, as he boarded the vessel, was in an unusually happy frame of mind, pleased by the reception given him in Tacoma, glad to obtain a few days of rest after his 57-day transcontinental trip, and overjoyed by the prospect of realizing the ambition he has held almost ever since he entered the White House—an ambition to visit the great northern territory and obtain first-hand information with respect to its needs.

Two days of steady sailing lay ahead of the party when he left here, up through the inland passage of British Columbia and Alaska. It will not be a monotonous voyage by any means, for the boat will pass up through narrow winding channels with mountains rising directly from the water's edge.

The first stop will be made at Kotzebuk, either late Friday or early Saturday, and after a stay there the president will go to Etanagel, spending three to spend Sunday, according to tentative schedule.

To Penetrate Interior

The arrival at Juneau, the territorial capital, has been fixed for July 10, and three days later the party will reach Seward. Four days then will be devoted to the trip up the Alaskan coast to Anchorage, Chitina, Bettendorf and Fairbanks, within 200 miles of the Arctic circle. At the Tanana river bridge at Nenana, the president will drive the golden spike symbolizing completion of the railroad constructed by the government to provide an outlet for the rich interior.

The return trip southward will be made by motor over the Richardson trail connecting the Copper River and Northwestern railroad at Chitina with the arrival at Cordova scheduled for July 18. Sixty will be reached two days later and then the chief executive will bid farewell to the territory and sail for Vancouver B. C. and Seattle.

Cabinet Members in Party

The president was accompanied by the three members of his cabinet whose departments are most entirely interested in Alaska. They are Secretary Hoover of the commerce department, Secretary Work of the interior department and Secretary Wallace of the agriculture department. Also in the party are Speaker Gillett of the house, and Director Greeley of the forest service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding had a busy four hours in Tacoma before they sailed. Arriving here about 10 o'clock, they held a public reception at their hotel, visited a hospital to greet soldier patients, and attended the farewell ceremonies held at the stadium.

Governor Hart, in his message of farewell, expressed the hope that from the visit of the president to Alaska might come a removal of "some of the fetters of misconception with which both Alaska and this western country have been burdened."

"Imagine, Mr. President," the governor said, "with what feelings of elation and anxiety the people of the great empire of the north await your coming. What a thrill must have come to the hardy men and women of Alaska and their children, when the news, 'the president is coming,' was flashed by radio, or carried by dog train through the mining camps, the valley farms and the fishing towns of the great north country."

Crowd Gathers in Rain. Despite the drizzling rain that fell as the chief executive was speaking, the stadium was comfortably filled.

SMYRNA RISING OUT OF RUINS LEFT BY FIRE

Americans See Turkish Effort to Give Lie to Prediction That City Would not be Rebuilt

SMYRNA, July 5, (AP)—After ten months of death-like stillness which followed the devastating fire, Smyrna has taken on a new lease of life. Quay Street, which skirts the waterfront, has been cleared of debris and the familiar one-horse rickshaws are running. Two moving picture panoramas which feature American films are operating conveniently near the spot where passenger ships tie up. Turkish newboys cry out a two-page edition of a daily French propaganda paper, and the cafes are running full blast. The American flag is still flying from the quay, but is in a new place. It was removed from the burning consulate at the height of the fire in September, 1922, and again when the temporary consulate was destroyed by a blaze several months ago.

American tobacco men who have struggled back to Smyrna have been surprised at the commercial activity of the city. Exports of figs, raisins and tobacco have revived to a small degree, and American sales and buying materials are being imported. The Turks, the Americans say, are making a big effort to give the lie to those who prophesied Smyrna would remain a dead city under their rule. In this the Turks are being assisted by a generous sprinkling of Dutch, the oldest of the western colonies in Smyrna before the fire, and Italians, a new importation, who are jealous of French efforts to capture the trade of the one port from the community and principal outlet for the riches of Asia Minor.

Ten months ago there were 200,000 Greeks in Smyrna and another 150,000 in the flourishing hinterland. Today the only Greeks in Smyrna are prisoners of war prisoners from the island of an alien-ruled Turkish non-commissioned officers, and guarded by Turkish privates with long-barreled rifles. Carrying steel rails with their bare hands from ships in the harbor, and clearing debris from the narrow, winding streets emerging from the waterfront are their chief labors. They look cowed and tired. They work from daybreak until darkness and get a small ration of bread, olives and Turkish coffee. France, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Bolshevik Russia maintain consular consulates and trade representatives. The entire British colony has deserted the city. American destroyers and United States Shipping Board steamers call here regularly. Uncle Sam's freighters are capturing most of the cargo business in the Mediterranean from the British, French and Italians. Passengers and crews on all boats entering Smyrna Bay are required to wear lifebelts because of the menacing minefields laid by the Turks. A Turkish tugboat leads the American destroyers through the lanes of mines. Antipathy toward foreigners has not been wholly removed, the passengers are not permitted to land. American bluejackets, however, are always welcome, because the Turks have not forgotten how splendidly they behaved when the city was in flames.

SETS HEARING ON WAGES

Federal Railroad Labor Board Prepares to Take Up Case of Signalman Claiming Increased Pay

CHICAGO, July 5, (AP)—The hearing of the wage dispute between the Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen and the Atlantic Coast line; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Chicago, Rock-Island and Pacific; Chicago and Western Indiana; Grand Trunk lines in United States; Louisville and Nashville; the Western Pacific and other roads which may have similar disputes pending will be held July 19, the United States Railroad labor board notified the parties involved today. The signalmen request a wage increase.

The board today also set July 23 for beginning hearing of the dispute involving wages, inequalities in rates and working rules of the clerical and station employes on 42 railroads in the United States.

President E. H. Fitzgerald, of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks and Freight Handlers, Express and Station employes, has filed the necessary submissions, all requiring an increase in wages. Most of the carriers involved are short line railroads.

GNOCLAVE RAPS LAW VIOLATORS

Christian Endeavor Convention Receives Resolutions Pledging Aid to Dry Forces

DES MOINES, July 5.—Resolutions were introduced at tonight's session of the 20th International Christian Endeavor convention commending President Harding for his support of Volstead Act and pledging support to candidates for public offices and to the Eighteenth Amendment and to the party that make unequivocal commitments to their enforcement.

The resolution was introduced at the instance of the executive committee of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, under whose auspices the convention is being held.

The text of the statement follows:

"Prohibition has vindicated itself. In spite of great handicaps, its benign effects are now apparent in the steadily declining death rate as revealed in the bulletin of life insurance companies, in the 74 percent decrease in drink cases with their attendant problems coming to charity organizations, and in the growing moral tone of our community life. "The great cities on our far-reaching coast lines and wide extending international boundaries, present serious difficulties in law-enforcement and cannot now be expected to reflect the prohibition sentiment of the nation. For some time to come they will continue to deceive themselves and our visitors from other lands, who would rejoice in the repudiation of national prohibition.

See Increasing Benefits "Even these vast and cosmopolitan communities record unmistakable benefits accruing from the closing of saloons and bars—benefits that will increase steadily with the strengthening of the spirit and agencies of law-enforcement.

"For the bootlegger, we have only slightly less condemnation than for his patron. The latter, from the standpoint of individual morality, is essentially the worse, while in citizenship he is a greater menace. Striking at one law, he slashes all. He gives heart to every evil doer, and by the measure of his influence weakens the protecting wall that surrounds his life, his liberty and his temporal goods.

"In law-enforcement the supreme issue of the hour joins. The forces of nullification are active and determined. They have united powerful interests at home and abroad to embarrass public officials to break the morale of conscientious enforcing agents and to discourage public sentiment. They have found a spokesman in the governor of a great state.

"We declare here that state righteousness is greater than state rights, and that no state has rights which prohibition does not strengthen. We stand for liberty under law. We pledge ourselves anew to the Constitution of the United States. We commend the president for his repeated statements in support of the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

Speak for Four Million

"Speaking for four million enrolled young people, citizens and citizens-to-be, we further declare that no candidate for public office and that no political party, failing to make such unequivocal commitment, has the right to expect or will receive our support and votes.

"We believe that total abstinence is the only consistent attitude for a Christian and that the agitation for a modification of the Volstead act to legalize light wines and beers is a subterfuge and blind; those who advocate it now were but a short time since the stalwart defense of the open saloon and the liquor traffic. It is a dishonest issue.

"As the ultimate solution of the liquor problem for this nation was national prohibition, for which Christian Endeavor declared in 1911 with its militant slogan, "A Saloonless Nation by 1920," so the ultimate solution of the problem for all nations is world-wide prohibition. We here reaffirm our declaration of 1919, for "A Saloonless World," and pledge the full strength of our movement to the achievement of this high goal."

DEMPSEY QUILTS SCENE OF WORK FOR TITLE BOUT

Great Falls Starts Back to Normalcy with Championship Clash Relegated to Pugilistic History

OREGON FALLS, Mont., July 5 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight champion, tonight is starting out on a few days' vacation after his confining nine weeks' training grind for his championship battle with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby yesterday.

The champion expects to be in New York by August 1, ready to receive training for a title punch with either Harry Wells, the negro heavyweight, or the winner of the Luis Firpo-Jack Willard fight.

In High Spirits. Dempsey was in high spirits before his departure, joking to the station crowd that came down to see him off.

Members of Dempsey's training staff plan to scatter tomorrow. Harry Dranko, the British light heavyweight, who lost to Bud Gorman in a preliminary at Shelby yesterday, wore a bandage over his right eye, which was completely swollen shut.

Billy Wells, the British welterweight, is matched to box Jim Omaha, while Jack Burke, the Pittsburgh light heavyweight, plans to return home.

Suit for $1750 in damages alleged to have been done to property at Dempsey's camp, was filed in circuit court today by the owners of the property.

The owners contend that when the lease of the house was signed, any improvements made were to remain. The complaint alleged that the two boxing rings, valued at $700, had been removed and that plumbing installed in the house, valued at $500, also had been taken out.

The premier's declaration Monday was: "In my view it would be premature to hope for the successful issue of such a conference until a number of outstanding matters which remain unsettled in Europe are settled."

MEDIOCRE GAME IS WON BY ELKS

Poorly Played Contest Falls to Arouse Interest When Ant-Entered Herd Win 16 to 4

Jerry Jarman blowed forth last evening as a pitcher, and beat the Bankers, 16 to 4, in five innings of the poorest baseball seen in Twin Falls this season.

Jerry used nothing but a fast one, mixing in a little common sense when a hit meant a run, the result being that the Bankers failed to get a man across the platter until the Elks had gathered 10 runs.

Walter Krongel opposed Jarman, and received one of the second and third innings of his young life, particularly in the fourth, when the Elks chased nine men across on six hits.

The feature of the game was the batting of Thomas. This clever batsman smashed out four clean hits in four trips to the plate, driving in seven runs.

The Elks scored three hits, one by Kieffner, which hit the top of the left field fence, and the other by Jamison, coupled with a triple by Curtis Linville, and followed by an error and a hit, netted the Bankers their four runs.

The box score: Bankers—AB R H PO A E; Kieffner, cf, 2 1 1 0 0 1; Jamison, lf, 2 1 1 0 0 0; C. Linville, rf, 2 1 1 1 0 0; Fix, lb, 2 0 1 2 1 1; Richardson, c, 2 0 1 3 0 0; Miller, 3 b, 2 0 0 1 3 0; Clayton, 2 b, 3 0 1 1 2 3; Walling, cf, 2 0 0 0 0 0; Krongel, p, 2 1 0 1 2 1.

Summary—Stolen bases: Mussell, Thomas, Two bases hits: Kieffner, Jamison. Three-base hits: Linville. Struck out: by Jarman 6, by Krongel 1. Base on balls: off Jarman 3, off Krongel 6. Left on bases: Bankers 3, Elks 6. Wild pitch: Krongel. Umpire: L. Whetzel. Time of game: 1 hour 30 minutes.

BEHIND THE SCREEN The poorest game of the season. If the different members of the teams don't show up the Twilight league will go up in smoke.

True, the crowds are rather disappointing, and ball players don't like to play to empty bleachers, but if every ball player gets to the park in time, the fans will start coming.

Several fans went to considerable expense getting the fence put up, and it is up to the rest of the fans to see them through. It is a pity that a town the size of Twin Falls can't support a Twilight league, when there are so many good players here who are more than willing to do their share, providing the fans do theirs.

The Electricians and the Bankers play Tuesday evening, and it is hoped that every fan in the town turns out, and help the Twilight league get on its feet. Never let it be said that Twin Falls ever started anything that it couldn't finish. Heads up, and let's go.

PRESIDENT ON BOARD

The president's address was well received and his reference to the proposal for elimination of the 12-hour day in the steel industry was roundly applauded. He was again applauded when, departing from his prepared address, he expressed the hope that the maiden voyage of the reconstructed Steamship Leviathan, which sailed yesterday from New York in the trans-Atlantic service of the shipping board, would "establish a new oceanic record and furnish the impetus to a revival of the independence of the American marine on the seas of the world."

Christian Endeavor Delegates Hear British Ship Owners Denounced by Countryman

DES MOINES, July 5 (AP)—Prohibition was the dominant issue before tonight's session of the International Christian Endeavor convention here.

During the day, Wayne B. Wheeler, of the Anti-Saloon league, renewed his attack on individuals who he declared were endeavoring to nullify the prohibition enforcement laws and asserted the "refusal of New York to aid in enforcing the Volstead act had greatly strengthened the prohibition forces because the public realized the movement was an attempt to undermine the constitution."

HARDING GIVEN PLEDGE TO END LONG WORK DAY

President, in Tacoma Speech, Gives Correspondence with Directors of Iron and Steel Institute

TACOMA, Wash., July 5 (AP)—President Harding made public here today the correspondence between himself and the directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute, and, in a statement incorporated as a part of his address here, said: "The larger majority of the United States... have undertaken to abolish the twelve hour day in the American steel industry at the earliest moment that the additional labor required shall be available."

The letter to President Harding, signed by Elbert H. Fry, John A. Tompkins, W. A. Boggs, W. H. Donner, W. J. Filbert, E. A. S. Clarke, James A. Farrell, E. C. Grace, Willis L. King, James A. Burden, L. E. Black, Soverin P. Keer, J. A. Campbell, A. C. Dinkay and Charles M. Schwab of the American Iron and Steel Institute, follows: "Careful consideration has been given to your letter of June 18th instant by the undersigned directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute, comprising all of those whose attendance could be secured at this time.

Recognize Public Opinion.
"Undoubtedly there is a strong sentiment throughout the country in favor of eliminating the twelve hour day, and this we do not underestimate. On account of this sentiment, and especially because it is in accordance with your own expressed views, we are determined to exert every effort at our command to secure in the iron and steel industry of this country a total abolition of the twelve hour day at the earliest time practicable. This means the employment of large numbers of workmen on an eight-hour basis and all others on a basis of ten hours or less. Without an unjustifiable interruption to operations the change cannot be effected over night. It will involve many adjustments, some of the complicated and difficult, but we think it can be brought about without undue delay when, as you state it, there is a surplus of labor available." The iron and steel manufacturers generally of the United States, outside of the directors referred to, are expected to concur in the conclusions reached by the directors as above stated."

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. MCGORMICK

Widow of Inventor of Grain Reaper, Social Leader and Philanthropist, is Dead

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—Mrs. Nettie Fowler McCormick, widow of Cyrus Hall McCormick, Sr., the inventor of the grain reaper, was found dead today at her home at Lake Forest, of acute bronchitis. She was 88 years old.

Age and years of delicate health combined to bring on quick exhaustion in her present illness, which lasted only a week, death coming at 11 o'clock this morning.

Three of her children, Cyrus H. McCormick, Jr., Harold F. McCormick and Mrs. Emma Dutton were at her bedside when she died. Two other children, Stanley of Tarrytown, N. Y., and Miss Virginia, are returning to Chicago from California.

The older Mrs. McCormick, one of the last of the old-fashioned social leaders in Chicago, was known not only for her participation in society events which continued even to within a few weeks of her death, but for her large contributions to philanthropy. Her contributions to the foreign educational and missionary work had made her known internationally.

Possibly her most outstanding gift to foreign education was that of a group of buildings to the Shantung Christian University at Tsinan, Shantung, and the University of Foreign Languages at Nanking, China, universities supported by the American Presbyterian board. She is said to have given more to the Presbyterian church than any other citizen of the United States.

Mrs. McCormick was born in Jefferson county, N. Y., February 7, 1835. She was the only daughter of Melzar Fowler, a prosperous farmer in 1858, when a girl in her early twenties, she married a young inventor whose achievement of fame and fortune was getting under way.

A few years before Mr. McCormick had completed his invention of the McCormick grain reaper following experiments along the same line of his father. The reaper had become known in the world through exhibitions in England and France.

Five Men Riding Freight Train on Milwaukee Road in Illinois Only Victims of Smash Up

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—Five men riding a freight train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, were killed and eight others were injured when the train was wrecked near Kankakee, Ill., tonight, according to reports received by railroad officials here. None of the freight crew was injured, it was reported. All those killed and hurt were tramps, according to information received here, who were riding on one of the cars that was smashed up in the wreck.

BERLIN LIKELY

British cabinet, Premier Baldwin, even if he so desired, would find it difficult to initiate any separate action aimed against France. Nevertheless, the premier's view is believed to be that the problem, so far as England is concerned, turns largely on the question of international debt and the necessity of securing through reparations agreement such payment from Germany as would cover the amount of Great Britain's yearly payments to the United States.

Proposes Exchange of Debts.
In this connection, importance is attributed to Mr. Baldwin's statement in the house of commons yesterday indicating that he regards Great Britain still free to propose some settlement of the allied indebtedness which would be based upon some reparations settlement, whereby Germany would agree to pay sufficient to cover Great Britain's yearly indebtedness to the United States. It is further stated that to trade French indebtedness to England against part of Germany's indebtedness to France.

This supposed predilection on the part of the prime minister is said to be shared by Reginald McKenna, who it is generally supposed will enter the British cabinet soon as chancellor of the exchequer. But it is quite certain that Mr. Baldwin would meet with strong opposition among his own colleagues, such as Lord Derby, should he propose to negotiate directly with Germany.

SONS DROWN WHILE FATHER ATTEMPTS TO SAVE GIRL

MARYSVILLE, Cal., July 5 (AP)—

While attempting to rescue a Miss Wilson of San Francisco, from drowning, Kenneth and Keith Torrey, 10 years old twins, were drowned in Lake Francis yesterday. Their father, thinking his sons would be able to make shore safely, left them and rescued Miss Wilson.

The great Chicago fire in 1871 destroyed the McCormick works and wrecked much other property in which her husband had invested. The plant was rebuilt and the industry continued to prosper.

The McCormick theological seminary is one of the principal monuments of her generosity, while hospitals, schools and charitable institutions in every quarter of the globe have benefited by her contributions.

RAILWAY VALUE HEARING THEME

Commission Hears Views on Methods of Prosecuting Task, Now Nearing End

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Arguments on the general principles involved in the federal valuation of railroads—now nearing completion—opened today before the interstate commerce commission with an attack on the methods of the commission in arriving at its conclusions by D. R. Richberg, counsel for the National Conference of American Railroad Valuation. He was followed by F. J. Farrell, solicitor for the commission in a defense of its valuation conclusions.

Mr. Richberg's chief contention was that the commission was bound to assert and use, in placing a value on railroads, estimates of the actual investment made in acquiring and constructing transportation properties. Where books are not available or are untrustworthy as to those figures, he said, the commission should assemble engineering experts to determine actual costs.

Two Means to Similar End

"Are you aware of the fact," Chairman Meyer asked, "that in our valuation department we have accumulated a good deal of evidence as to the cost to date of railroad construction and that when reproduction costs as of the date 1914 are estimated, the two figures are very similar?"

"But if the commission is going to consider reproduction costs at all," Mr. Richberg responded, "it must consider the courts have ruled, the present costs of reproduction as they stand on the increased price levels of 1922 and 1923, not as costs of reproduction in 1914 would have been."

"That question will be considered when the problem of bringing valuations up to date is attacked," Chairman Meyer remarked.

"No," Mr. Richberg insisted, "we consider that the commission will obey the courts in construction of its valuation data. Observation of them where we shall be left; we shall have here a figure representing the cost of reproducing roads on the price basis of 1922 and 1923. From that tremendously enhanced level of 1922 cost, it will be impossible even to see the much smaller figure of the actual investment that was made in constructing roads when they were made."

"Unless the commission ascertains what that original investment was, we shall be left totally without evidence to protect the public interest against the attempt to build up great figures of capital investment on which the public will be required to furnish an annual return."

Some Elusive Facts

Solicitor Farrell argued that the element of cost to date never could be established as a fact. Some data as to actual investment made by original railroad builders would be helpful he conceded, but not of final importance in swaying a commission conclusion as to the value of a railroad.

In the passage of years, Mr. Farrell said, some railroad road beds and equipment have worn out requiring replacements. In the corporate care of the roads, receiverships and reorganizations have been frequent, most of them winding up by the exchange of new securities of various types. The value of such securities, though constituting a real investment in a railroad, he contended, never could be ascertained.

Expenditures for purchases of railroad lands, Mr. Farrell said could be determined but in the main, he added, the situation is one in which the commission "could not even find a reasonable foundation," for an estimate as to capital invested in the creation of railroads.

suit another state in the union," he added.

Forster was given the biggest ovation of the day when he spoke for the platform, but it was a brief talk and confined to an urging that it be adopted. The principal objection to the goal of the class movement was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, he asserted.

Objects to Competition

Brown accepted that part of the platform which declared that evil faced the producers but based his objections on the fact that the platform set up a new party with a new constitution competitive to that of the already organized farmer-labor party, that the proposed title was of too many words to be placed upon the ballot in many states and that if put to a vote of the farmer-labor party it would be rejected.

Ruttenberg took issue with his arguments by charging the farmer-labor party with bad faith and that it was afraid of the response and sentiment that was the result of their invitation to meet with them in convention to reach a political unity.

"The platform we recommend, even though charged with being 'red, bolshevik, ultra-radical,' is hard for us, the communists, to swallow," Ruttenberg declared. "We have made concessions to some groups, but we have been unable to get a statement as to what the farmer-labor group will support. They are afraid to go ahead now that the moment is here for action. They called us politicians, yet they are near revolt."

William F. Dunne, of Butte, Mont., representing the trades council; A. J. Phillips of Cincinnati, of the machinists, and representatives of farmer-labor organizations in Ohio, Oklahoma and Washington, supported the platform, which disclosed a friction between the national officers and the state bodies.

Would Nationalize Utilities

The platform declares the party to be formed to "wrest control of the government from the hands of the financial and industrial masters who have amassed fortunes under the two major political parties at the expense and well-being of the industrial workers and farmers."

It consists of 10 planks, which are proposed as follows:

- Nationalizing of all public utilities.
- Operation of industries on a basis of workers and farmers increasing control of management, and operation through their own economic organizations.
- Maximum security against destitution, unemployment, sickness and high prices.
- Governmental enactment of a maximum of an eight-hour work-day in industry, making violation a criminal offense.

Governmental enactment of a law making the federal reserve board serve the farmers and workers.

Child labor laws, limiting employment to children over 18 years of age.

A soldier bonus to be raised through the levying of inheritance taxes, excess profits, surtaxes and taxes on unearned income.

Enactment of a social insurance law, funds for which are to be raised through taxation similar to that of the soldier bonus.

Enactment of a maternity insurance law, which would provide full trade union wage compensation to all prospective mothers one month before and after the birth of the child.

Establishment of a minimum living wage for all workers.

A SUPER-POWER SYSTEM

Important alike as an aid to national defense in time of war and national prosperity in time of peace is the proposal of the War Department for the creation of a super-power system by linking together the power plants of the country.

The movement assumes particular importance at this time in view of the South's absorbed interest in hydro-electric development, the widely advertised Ford projects in Michigan and Minnesota and the country's growing recognition of its too great dependence upon coal as a source of power as well as fuel.

The last decades have witnessed tremendous strides in the matter of transportation, communication and mass production of commodities.

The War Department is primarily interested in national defense, and it is obviously important. As a nation, however, we should hope that the opportunities which its survey may reveal along other lines will not be neglected.

TRUTH MEDICINE

A short time ago the psychologists were detecting lies on the witness stand by means of blood pressure machines. When the lie was told, the pressure strengthened because of the effort.

Now California scientists are saying that they can make criminals tell the truth and the whole truth by giving them scopolamin. This is the drug which came into public view a few years ago as the agent of "twilight sleep" in maternity cases.

The drug, says a physician, "induces a semiconscious, somnolent state, which frees the subconscious mind and subdues the intellect."

A big field opens up for this treatment. Any of us can think, easily enough, of a lot of people we'd like to give a dose. But its use has to be restricted.

Tired and Happy Crowds Leave For Home at Midnight After Spending Day in Typical Observance of Event

Twin Falls community observed the Fourth of July here with a celebration program that contained a variety of attractive features.

The day was ushered in by the noise of firecrackers exploded promptly at 4 a. m., just as the first light of day appeared to start the bombardment, which continued until after midnight.

A large crowd was on hand at Main and Shoshone streets when the city band appeared and gave its first concert. Following this the crowds shifted to Lincoln field to see the exhibition ball game between Edon and Hansan.

Then came the boys' and girls' bicycle and swimming contests with crowds of spectators on the banks of the river. The swimming contest was held at the various events to start.

Neon found the city park filled with picnickers who spread their lunches on the grass and enjoyed a rest for a while. The park was crowded throughout the remainder of the day, many preferring to remain here to watch the celebration.

In his address the mayor induced the serious thought that follows when history is brought to the front and the reason for Independence Day is set forth in its true light.

The field was crowded all available seating space was filled, with the overflow packed along the double benches extending to the front of the bleachers. Several exciting stunts were staged, although the contest in general was not on a par with that of last year.

The prize for the best rider was awarded to E. Yeoder. "Yankee Sue," owned by W. V. Wilson, was accredited the wildest horse in the show.

Way Cleared for Granting Permit

Last Obstacle Apparently Removed in Withdrawal of Protest on Certificate

With the protest against granting the certificate of convenience and necessity for the Rogerson-Wells railroad withdrawn Tuesday by E. V. Larson on behalf of the Idaho-Novada-California company, cause for further delay on action by the interstate commerce commission was placed at a minimum.

The withdrawal of this protest from the interstate commerce commission Tuesday and signed his intentions of placing the claim in the district court. His attorney, E. V. Larson, stated that the complaint would probably be filed late this week in which Mr. Albrecht seeks $100 for engineering services in connection with the early survey of the proposed road.

The withdrawal of this protest removes the last obstacle in the way of granting the certificate," said Congressman Arthur T. Smith. In view of the fact that the certificate will doubt be granted within a few days after the questionnaire is returned to the commission by the railroad company.

REPORT ON DAM MISCONSTRUED

Board Member Believes Crampton Not Rightly Informed on Contract

Confidence that undue alarm has been created by the announcement of Congressman Crampton of Michigan, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, relative to the American Falls reservoir and that the true situation is greatly misunderstood by Congressman Crampton, was expressed by W. F. Alworth, secretary of the American Falls district board of directors, on his return from American Falls.

The matter was discussed by the directors, who met at American Falls last week. "According to the report made to me by Crampton several members of the board, including Mr. Alworth, got in touch for a brief time with Secretary Crampton."

Congressman Crampton evidently misunderstood a statement by R. E. Shepley, secretary of the board of directors, here, that the contract was not to be deferred contracts made some years ago involving the various canal companies.

Congressman Crampton was assured by Mr. Alworth that if there has been any so-called discrimination among the various districts in regard to their participation in the project, it is a matter of record that these matters would be adjusted very satisfactorily.

The board spent much of its time during the sessions last week in obtaining further options of lands for the townsite. The townsite is being held under order of the government appropriation of $1,000,000 was reported to have been spent for this purpose.

BROTHERS MEET DEATH BY BOLT FROM LIVE WIRE

Death of Three Youths With Hay Derrick Under Power Line Witnessed by Mother and Bride of Eldest

Three brothers, Glen, Tom and Lloyd Aker, were instantly killed Friday when 40,000 volts of electricity carried by the transmission line of the Idaho power company passed through the bodies of the three as they drove a hay derrick underneath the power line at their residence southeast of Tuttle, about four and one-half miles northeast of Hagerman.

The bride of a few moments of Glen Aker and the mother of the three boys were driving the hay derrick under the wire when in some manner the cable on the arm of the derrick came in contact with the bare wire carrying the deadly charge of electricity.

Youngest Dies First

Lloyd Aker, age 12, who was riding on the derrick, was the first to lose life. His two brothers, Glen, age 21, and Tom, age 13, who were walking alongside the leader driving the four horses rushed to the side of the derrick, apparently unmindful of the danger involved and they were both killed instantly as were the four horses. The bodies of the victims were burned beyond recognition.

Instantly upon the contact of the iron cable on the derrick arm with the live wire a thunderous crash followed which was heard by neighbors living in the vicinity. The neighbors, startled, hastened to the scene. The transmission line from which the fatal current flashed is the one that carries the high voltage power passed down along the arm of the derrick, through the body of the wagon and contacted with the fence wire of a house in a shallow pool directly under the wire and in which the derrick stood. Passing down the fence the current killed a cow 100 feet away.

Crash Alarms Neighbors

The father of the boys was killed on the spot and was buried in the Gooding cemetery. The funeral for the three sons will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Gooding and the body laid at rest beside that of the father.

Union Pacific Begins Assembling of Data on Agricultural Opportunities for Mid-West Advertising Campaign

Announcement has just been made by the Union Pacific railroad of plans to obtain reliable data on farms available for purchase or renting, this information to be obtained by sending a middle-class west with the view of inducing farmers in that section to take advantage of agricultural opportunities in the west.

The plan is in charge of Vice President Platt of the Oregon Short Line, who expects to have a complete canvass of the state made. D. E. Sullivan, Twin Falls agent of the Short Line, will have personal charge of the work here and he will start out Monday morning on his duties throughout the Twin Falls country.

The railroad system evidently plans on making the canvass complete in every detail. Best price and rentals on farms available in the Twin Falls country. Mr. Sullivan will obtain information showing the divisions of crops to be cultivated, improvements, the condition of the land and crop records, distances to schools and to towns and county seats.

Notice is hereby given that on June 19th, 1923, a writ of attachment was issued out of the above entitled court in the above entitled action, attaching the property of the above named defendant for the sum of $121.65.

Woman Uses Knife to End Own Life

Worry Over Daughter's Marriage Believed Cause of Suicide of Mrs. W. Thompson

Mrs. William Thompson committed suicide Tuesday morning at her home five miles southeast of Hagerman by slashing her throat with a knife, according to reports from Hagerman.

Worry over the recent marriage of her daughter was believed to have been largely responsible for the act, according to the report.

Whether or not the protest filed by E. J. Ahern on behalf of the Idaho-Novada-California company against the granting of the certificate of convenience and necessity for the construction of the Rogerson-Wells railroad will be withdrawn remains a question.

The following was received Friday from The News correspondent at Washington, D. C., in regard to the protest filed by Mr. Ahern on the strength of his claim:

"The interstate commerce commission probably has not authority to enforce payment and has suggested to the protestants that they take the claim into court and withdraw the protest. If this is not done the commission will have to consider the protestants that they will not let it interfere very long with the granting of the certificate to the Short Line. Up to Friday the Short Line had held $1,000,000 in questionnaires sent out by the commission."

Mr. Ahern stated Friday night that he had received word from the commission that the protest would be set for a hearing on his protest. He stated that he had not decided as to whether or not he would withdraw his claim from the commission and bring it in the courts and would not make up his decision in the matter until he could consult his attorney Sunday.

GRAIN UNDERGOES DECLINE

Increasing Movement of New Wheat Crop and Favorable Condition for Corn and Oats Cause Downturns

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—Grain underwent a material decline in price today owing more to loss of the increasing movement of the new wheat crop than to the result of favorable conditions for the growth of corn and oats. December corn and all deliveries of oats touched a new low price record for the season. Wheat closed here, 5-4 to 1-4 cents net lower, with July and September both 11.02-1-4 to 1.02-3-8, and December 11.00-1-4 to 1.03-3-8.

Except for a brief time as the market, wheat trading lacked volume, and prices faded in the absence of any particular demand. Lack of sustained buying interest on the part of speculators was especially apparent. An unexpected upturn in Liverpool quotations was chiefly responsible for a little in-line strength here, and it was felt that conditions likely to promote black rust were prevalent in the domestic spring wheat belt.

Lowest prices of the day were reached in the wheat market during the late dealings with no aggressive support in evidence and with early buyers selling out.

Liquidations on the part of holders led to something of a flurry in corn and oats near the end of the day. Bidders, though, quickly canceled. July oats momentarily showed a drop of 4 cents from the opening.

Provisions were higher in line with hog values.

ST. ELMO'S FIRE

The well-known phenomenon, St. Elmo's fire, which is a form of atmospheric electrical discharge, was recently observed aboard a steamer. During heavy rain squalls, accompanied by heat lightning, the port wire of the radior aerial aboard a steamer became illuminated for an entire length with a glowing in its light, giving the wire a fuzzy appearance. This continued for about ten minutes, after which the light gradually faded from the ends of the wire and finally disappeared from the center of the aerial. The compasses were not affected—Scientific American.

NOTED EXPERTS LAUD DAIRYING OPPORTUNITIES

Predict Fame for Twin Falls District if Natural Advantages are Developed; Party is Taken on Automobile Trip

Although the addresses and demonstrations given at Parish hall Thursday afternoon by noted dairy authorities who accompanied the Union Pacific special dairy train to Idaho were of tremendous value, probably the most interesting phase of the event was the fact that the party, members of which are nationally known among dairymen, placed the stamp of approval on the Twin Falls district and classified this locality as having natural advantages that will place it at the top of the list of dairying districts if properly developed.

The train arrived here early in the afternoon and the dairy lectures were delivered at Parish hall before a good sized and very appreciative audience, after which the party, including the Twin Falls district but not required an automobile trip to convince the experts of the truth of the statements.

Take Auto Trip. As the special was scheduled to arrive at 8 p. m. the personnel was taken in an overland trip in automobiles to the center of the west end district. On the trip they were shown the quality Jersey herd of S. H. Knyler and Lewis dairy ranch and a part of the visiting group was taken to the J. A. Waters ranch to view the Guernsey herd, some animals in this herd have been imported from Guernsey Island.

The result of the inspections of the dairies and farms along the line and seeing at first hand what intensive methods here are being pursued with record results, elicited from the visitors expressions of amazement. What seemed to appeal to them most was the fact that large herds of dairy cows are being kept on a small fraction of the size of the average amount of land required for the same sized herd in Minnesota or Wisconsin. They showed especial interest in the J. J. Schick farm at Buhl, where a herd of 25 Jerseys and several head of horses are being maintained at a profit on 40 acres and all feed required being raised on that acreage.

Praises District. W. A. von Berg, representative of the Wisconsin State Bankers' association, who is making the trip with the special, stated that the Twin Falls district has by far the best dairying possibilities of any district seen along the route of the special.

The list of experts accompanying the special train includes W. L. Baird, secretary of the Waukesha (Wisconsin) County Holstein Breeders' association; B. F. Sheridan of the American Guernsey Club; E. M. Logan, National Holstein association; J. C. Robinson, president of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association; L. L. Oldham, secretary of the Holstein Freisian association, and several other dairy authorities of note.

Results of the special was accompanied to Twin Falls by J. A. Reeves, general freight agent of the Oregon Short Line; C. C. Gignoux of the agricultural department of the Union Pacific system, and R. E. Shepherd of Jerome, chairman of the board of directors of the American Holstein district, and prominent farmer and business man of the north side district. D. E. Sullivan, A. L. Swain, W. T. Leslie and others accompanied the party on the trip to Buhl.

Addresses Given. Addresses and lectures were given by Mr. Reeves, Mr. Baird, Mr. Sheridan, Mr. Logan and Mr. Shepherd. The addresses were more or less similar. Among the points brought out by the various speakers were that dairying constitutes the one stable phase of agriculture which can be depended upon for results wherever it is carried out. Conditions on the farm are somewhat of a gamble and do not have the advantages to be found in dairying. The Wisconsin man showed how that state has been developed into its present status in the dairy world and that intelligent work and cooperation in the Holstein, Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey and Jersey lines. Included in the group is a Holstein cow from Wisconsin holding the world's championship for milk and butterfat production among grade cows.

Go to North Side. The special, which was arranged in cooperation with the Wisconsin Agricultural college, will be at Jerome, Wendell, Bliss and Mountain Home on Friday, and will stop at 16 other points in Idaho before leaving the state on the return trip about July 15.

The visit of the special party was received as a big boost to dairying here and local business men and farmers were agreed that much good should result. Mr. von Berg of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, privately gave out information on the financing of dairy projects as conducted in Wisconsin. He made several suggestions as to the operation of an association here for the financing of dairymen to result in the improvement of their herds, his plan being virtually the same as that suggested here some time ago.

Arrange Plans for Chautauqua Event

Selection of Location Left to City Commission; Guarantors Hold Lengthy Session

Consideration of a location for the Twin Falls Chautauqua this summer occupied a secondary position among the matters discussed at the lengthy meeting of the local Chautauqua association Thursday night in the probate court rooms, according to Mrs. Burton E. Morse, who presided.

The association apparently still hopes to be able to stage the Chautauqua on grounds in the city park. It was decided to leave the matter to the decision of the city commission.

The meeting was called principally to study the general arrangements for the Chautauqua and to confer with Earl Not of Portland, district advance agent for the Ellison-White organization.

The association hopes to sell as many tickets as possible this year as arrangements have been made to divide the surplus, over $1020 worth of tickets sold, half the amount over this figure will go to the company and the remainder to the reserve fund of the local association for future use. Season tickets for adults will be sold for $2.75; for students a rate of $1.50 will be charged, and children's tickets are $1.

JAILER IS SLUGGED AS THREE BREAK FROM CELL

Prisoners in Power County Jail Make Get Away as Keeper Opens Door; Guard Overpowered and Bound

Three prisoners escaped from the Power county jail at American Falls, Monday evening, after severely beating and slugging E. J. Salling, the jailer. The men who escaped are Jimmy Duffy, charged with stealing an automobile; Jim Doyle, charged with manufacturing and selling liquor; and Vernon McBride, who was held on a charge of larceny.

The escape occurred after Duffy had been permitted to speak to a friend in the hallway. After the friend had left and as Duffy was being taken back to his cell the jailer opened the cell door and was attacked by Duffy. The other two men in the cell joined in the fight. Thwarted in an effort to use his gun, Jailer Salling was bound hand and foot, gagged and tied to the plumbing in the jail hallway.

The supposition is that the prisoners were getting away in a waiting automobile or freight train. Salling is said to have taken the blame for their escape.

PRISONER MAKES TROUBLE

Claim William Franklin Indulges in Too Much Moonshine and Starts to Remove Plumbing from His Cell

Excessive indulgence in moonshine in celebration of the Fourth of July was said to have produced in William Franklin a mania for destruction, results of which cost him $73 in fines and costs in probate court Thursday.

According to the authorities, Franklin began activities by breaking up the furniture in a farm house near Twin Falls. He was lodged in the county jail where he pulled the plumbing fixtures loose and required considerable attention before he could be calmed down, it is said. He was fined $25 for drunkenness and $50 for property damage.

S. A. Casler was arraigned before Probate Judge O. P. Davall Thursday on a charge of selling liquor. He was fined $50 and was held for the district court.

FRIENDS PAY TRIBUTE TO GEORGE E. PLEDGER

Expressions at Funeral Services Attest to Esteem in Which Hansen Man Was Held

Funeral services for the late George E. Pledger were held at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning at the P. J. Grossman chapel. The services were attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The Rev. A. G. Parsons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The casket was covered with floral offerings expressing the message of the love and esteem of true friends.

George E. Pledger was born in Spencerport, N. Y., a little over 33 years ago. He came to Idaho in 1907 with the Oregon Short Line for the last 15 years. On December 18, 1909, he married Miss Ella M. Meier at the home of her sister Mrs. J. T. Todd of Pocatello. Mr. Pledger is survived by Mrs. Pledger and four children, Henrietta, Isabel, George H. and Amy M. Pledger. He had four sisters and one brother and his father, John Pledger, all of whom reside in New York. On account of the distance these were unable to be present at the services.

The deep sympathy for the family and the sterling friendship of many acquaintances was feelingly expressed by the Rev. Mr. Parsons. The music of which Mr. Pledger was a great lover, was unusually touching. Mr. Noel Provost sang, "O'nb Fleeting Hour" and a male quartet composed of Messrs. A. Scott, Otis Sampson, Willis Sampson and Noel Provost sang, "Heavenly Isle of Somewhere." Mrs. J. L. Dowdy, Mrs. J. M. Tollo, and Mrs. J. L. Dowdy, who also accompanied the singer, all sang in the funeral service by Chopin. The entire service was held in accord with the desires of the deceased. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Todd of Ippert and Mrs. Meier of Avoca, Iowa; mother of Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Pledger were present.

Keep the engine cool—the gasoline, wood, and cloth in your car are easily ignited. There are other common causes of fire, some of which can be easily detected. Even a minor blaze in your car or garage means an outlay of cash for repairs. It is wise to insure your car against such loss.
