

WILSON GIVES SOLUTION FOR WORLD UNREST

Former President Asserts Spiritual Redemption Is Essential if Civilization Is to Survive

BOSTON, July 26 (AP)—Former President Woodrow Wilson writing under the caption, "The Road Away From Revolution," for the August number of the Atlantic Monthly, has issued a warning that our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually.

This is the first time since his illness that Mr. Wilson has made public his views on present day problems in the United States and throughout the world. They will be presented in permanent form between covers.

"In those dreadful and anxious days, when all the world is in unrest, and look which way you will, shadows and glooms seem to be darkening the world, and danger of many kinds, it is," says the one who commanded the ship of state during the world war, "only common prudence that we should look about us and attempt to assess the causes of distress and the most likely means of removing them."

Then avoiding the pitfall as he analyzes the existing state of American civilization, the writer goes on to the root of the world's trouble, and essentially what is a religious appeal for a better understanding between the nations and the "have-nots." "Real ground for the universal unrest," he asserts, "lies deep at the sources of the spiritual life of our time, and leads to revolution."

Gives Cause of Revolt.

The cause of the Russian revolution, which he calls the outstanding event of its kind in our age, was in his view, a "systematic denial to the great body of Russians of the rights and privileges which all normal men desire and must have if they are to be contented and within reach of happiness."

"What has this to do with America? It was against capitalism," he declares, "that the Russian leaders directed their attack and it is against capitalism, under one name or another, that the discontented classes everywhere draw their indictment."

Everywhere, he says, there are thoughtful men who believe that capitalism is indispensable to civilization, but he goes on to ask:

"Is it not true," the inquiry continues, "that capitalists have often seemed to regard the men whom they used as mere instruments of profit, whose physical and mental powers it was legitimate to exploit? Ought we not seek a way to remove such offenses and make life itself clean for those who will share honorably and cleanly in it?"

America Must Lead.

"The world has been made safe for democracy. There need now be no fear that any such mad design as that entertained by the ignorant and ignorant Hohenzollerns and their successors may prevail against it. But democracy has not yet made the world safe against irrational revolution. That supreme task which is making the salvation of civilization now faces democracy, insistent, imperative. There is no escaping it unless everything we have built up is presently to fall in ruin about us; and the United States, as the greatest of democracies, must undertake it."

"The road that leads away from revolution is plainly marked, for it is defined by the nature of men of organized society. It behoves us, therefore, to study very carefully and very candidly the exact nature of the task and the means of its accomplishment. The sum of the whole matter is this, that our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually. Here is the final challenge to our churches, to our political organizations and to our capitalists—to everyone who fears God or loves his country."

Woman Is Victim of Two Mishaps Within One Hour

MOSCOW, Idaho, July 26 (AP)—Being thrown through the windshield of two different automobiles within an hour was the distressing experience of Mrs. Thomas Balderson near here recently. The first accident occurred when the car in which she was riding was forced into a stump by a tree which crowded it from the road. Mrs. Balderson was cut painfully about the face when she went through the windshield, and the second accident occurred on the way to the hospital in a borrowed car. In making a turn in the road, this car collided with another and Mrs. Balderson was again thrown forward through the plate glass. Her wound were bleeding profusely when medical aid was finally secured.

TALK PLAN FOR SHORTER HOURS

Heads of Steel Companies Confer in Secret on Shortening Day in Mills

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Heads of manufacturing subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation and Chairman Elbert H. Gary made a start in their plans to eliminate the 12-hour day in the industry at a conference behind closed doors today.

At the same time, Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, announced his company was making progress in formulating plans for the discontinuance of the much criticized 12-hour shift, and expected to begin a very short time to begin the actual rearrangement of the working force.

Chairman Gary declined to make any statements other than that the conference would be continued.

It was thought likely that the matter would be considered tomorrow at a meeting of the directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Requires More Men.

The chief problem involved, according to officials of the United States Steel corporation and of the independent companies, is that in obtaining the additional workers required in maintaining the three shifts of eight hours, instead of two shifts of twelve as at present.

"With steel mills running at about 80 per cent capacity, the labor problem is a formidable one," said one official. "A let up in activity would partly solve that problem, the men now carried on the rolls could be spread out to cover three eight hour shifts in the continuous operation arrangements and placed on a nine and ten hour shift in other departments."

Must Adjust Wages.

"It breaks down all the old traditions of the industry," he added. "You can't take a 12-hour laborer who has been making $4.30 a day and ask him to work eight hours for $3.25. Wages must be adjusted either by increasing the pay per hour, or the working out of an entirely new basis of pay in the industry."

Plans for making the changes in the United States Steel corporation, Mr. Grace said, were being worked out through conferences between subsidiary heads and representatives of the employees.

Billiousness and Constipation.

"For years I was troubled with billiousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin granules and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know when I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to get well naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.—adv.

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Two policemen were shot and killed tonight by the occupants of a taxicab at Sixty-fourth street and Second avenue, a short distance from the New Society Colony, established by leaders of New York's "four hundred." One of the patrolmen, Charles Reynolds, was wounded. The other was Frank Rammello.

FISHERMEN USE AIRPLANE

Heavy Shipments of Carp Are Sent to Eastern Markets After Being Taken from Lake in Washington

EPHRATA, Wash., July 26 (AP)—New York for some time has been receiving a considerable supply of fish from one of the driest counties of Washington. Moses lake, near here, is the scene of an odd fishing business which makes this possible.

In the business and is said to be most successful. The locations and directions of the schools of fish may all be completed so expediently by using the plane. N. McGrath, the company's president, explains, "that there is little danger of losing them after they have been sighted. With the motor boat alone much time is lost in returning to direct the tugs from the camp."

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.
The average man does not have to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.—adv.

Dundee Takes Featherweight Title From French Battler

Crigue Loses Crown Held For Two Months
American Floors Opponent in Opening Rounds; Frenchman Shows Courage

20 (AP)—The featherweight championship of the world, in French hands for nine months, came back to the United States tonight when Johnny Dundee, grizzled Italian-American veteran, battered his way to victory over Eugene Crigue, gallant expatriate, in a gruelling 15-round struggle that was never in doubt from start to finish.

Dundee was cracking away when the bell stopped him.

ROUND THREE—Crigue looked good enough as he sat in his corner listening to the count of his hand. Dundee punched his body in the first attack and then landed a left. Dundee repeated with his left and forced his right solidly. Crigue came in for more, punching wildly with his left, but always advancing. Dundee was much too fast for the Frenchman, easily evading his futile attack, and punching accurately with both hands. Dundee laid back to his old trick of bouncing off the ropes, but it noted him nothing except laughs from the crowd. Dundee repeated his trick twice, this time to good advantage, sending a left into the Frenchman's ribs. He was starting the trick again when the bell ended the round.

ROUND FOUR—Crigue started the attack, but he was short or over and a series of clinches resulted. Dundee was a little slower and they sparred. The challenger dodged a half dozen leads and left jabs as he kept on the defensive. Then Dundee started bounding off the ropes, advancing across the ring. Crigue struck at the flying target but it was no use. They were in a slight clinch when the bell rang.

ROUND FIVE—Crigue spat up blood while his handlers worked feverishly. Dundee wasn't fanned. Johnny landed a half dozen lefts and they fell into a wrestling clinch. Crigue landed a wide right, but was too wide with his next early. Dundee pounded the champion's kidneys and they clinched and slashed over three stiff lefts. Crigue poked his stiff left to Johnny's head. The pace had slowed, but still Crigue could not solve his opponent. He was warned for hitting on the breakaway. Dundee began chopping uppercuts when the gong sounded.

ROUND SIX—They came together fighting. Crigue taking the lead. Dundee battled toe to toe and his left had the better of it. Dundee was hustled by Crigue's maneuvering and occasionally he slipped over that pop-gun left. They exchanged punches, but there was not much to choose from. Crigue was getting the better of the in-fighting. They were sparring at the gong.

ROUND NINE—Crigue was in probably as bad condition as he could be, but Dundee seemed fresh. With marvelous grit Crigue continued stepping in, though his legs were so weakly he could hardly stand. The Frenchman vainly shot off his left, but he was very tired. Dundee's repeating left tapped him a half dozen times and he clinched. Dundee now came in with both fists, tearing away, but still Crigue walked on, striking wildly and ineffectively covering up. They fought toe to toe in a slashing body exchange and Dundee as he walked to his stool, was plainly perplexed.

ROUND TEN—Crigue sent a left to the face in return for a left to the stomach. Crigue was leading with his left but it was invariably wise and he fell into Dundee's arms. Dundee rounded his head with both hands in a neutral corner. The crowd cheered Crigue as he resumed his undaunted advance, but his blows were weakly feeble. He nearly fell over the challenger when he swung a hard right and Dundee swayed back to measure him, but they clinched.

ROUND ELEVEN—Crigue was wide while Dundee landed a hard left to the head and jabbed with it three times. Dundee, who was less affected now, went grimly to his work, retreating now and hammering again.

He landed both hands to the jaw in a clinch. Dundee was falling against the ropes and bouncing out when Crigue stood by with glassy eyes. All he could do was to wave his hands at the striking opponent. Crigue missed a wild uppercut after Dundee was short with lefts. Dundee had slowed down and they sparred quietly when the bell rang.

ROUND TWELVE—Crigue tried to smile with his shattered jaw. Crigue still was leading, but Dundee was getting in the blows, hefty lefts. Dundee rocked the champion with two fast attacks that would batter down a post but Crigue, wobbling on his feet, stood his ground. Crigue weathered that storm and lowered his head for another advance. The action slowed for a minute, then Dundee placed both hands again, hitting Crigue on every vulnerable spot, but the Frenchman smiled derisively and tried to put over an uppercut. The crowd was on its feet in a moment as Crigue gave another derisive smile, going to his corner at the bell.

ROUND THIRTEEN—They clinched. Dundee began his attack earnestly but Crigue fought back and Dundee clinched. Crigue backed Dundee into a neutral corner but had difficulty keeping his blows high. Dundee staggered him with a right cross, but Crigue advanced again, heaving at the great fist. The Frenchman ducked a wide left and was wild with two more. Dundee planted his feet and ploughed with his left, but he kept waiting and Crigue was leading another advance when the gong ended the round.

ROUND FOURTEEN—They sparred at long range and danced about before Dundee hit over two lefts that forced a clinch. Crigue caught Dundee flush as he bounded from the ropes but Crigue could not break an egg now. He did not retreat from the attack and was mixing with his adversary when the bell rang. This was the slowest round yet.

ROUND FIFTEEN—Crigue nodded

his head negatively to a friend at the ringside showing he knew it was hopeless. Dundee came from his corner very determined, but they clinched three times. Crigue was trying hard for a knockout, as was Dundee. The challenger got in another two-fisted attack to the head, and Crigue sighed again before he clinched. They sparred a minute, exchanged at arm's length and then clinched before Dundee began his next foray. He swung both hands to the head with all his might and Crigue could not hold his strength enough in his legs to walk in again. Dundee then thugged the Frenchman's body and Crigue danced away. Dundee mounted his head unmercifully with both hands and was whaling away when the bell rang.

Dominion of Canada, a very warm welcome and most cordial greetings. "For more than a century the peoples of the great neighboring republic of the United States and of Canada, has enjoyed a period of undisturbed harmony and concord, unique and unprecedented in the history of nations. "Your visit, marking as it does the first with which our country has been honored by a president of the United States during his term of office, comes with particular appropriateness at this time as affording us an opportunity of demonstrating to the American people through their illustrious president, our desire that these happy relations shall continue. "The city of Vancouver was profoundly dejected with British, Canadian and American flags, in honor of the visit of the presidential party and the military display, consisting of British naval and army units, two companies of Canadian Royal Mounted police, and other units, was greater than has greeted the president anywhere on his present

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS
ROUND ONE—They met in the center of the ring. Crigue landed a right to the body. Dundee landed the first real blow, a long left to the head. They kept exchanging blows until clinches, but neither was doing much damage. Crigue landed two hard lefts to the head. Dundee sent a solid left hook to the jaw and Crigue staggered with the same hand to the body. The Frenchman hooked a heavy right to the jaw that hurt. Dundee sent Crigue to the floor with a hard right to the jaw and the Frenchman remained on one knee while the referee called off a count of nine. Dundee got in a relentless attack when Crigue gained his feet, slashing with both hands to the body and punishing the champion severely.

IDAHO BREEDERS TAKE STEPS TO GET FIELD MAN

Employment of National Association Representative for South Idaho Gets Favorable Consideration

Employment by the Southern breeders of southern Idaho of a field representative of the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, to give special attention to the livestock industry here, was given favorable consideration by members of the Twin Falls North and South Side and Minidoka-Ideas Shorthorn associations who participated Thursday afternoon in the annual excursion and picnic conducted under auspices of the breeders of Twin Falls county.

Discussion of this question arose at a business session of the association members following a program and luncheon at the Filer county fair grounds after Shorthorn herds on the farms of Musgrave and Sons and Dr. R. S. Arnes had been inspected earlier in the afternoon by 65 persons who made the excursion.

Secretaries of both organizations reported were directed to communicate with the national organization regarding the possibility of securing a representative for southern Idaho. The association at the present time is represented by only one field agent in the northwest, E. L. Walter, who, in addition, includes the three states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Urges Cooperative Effort. Walter in conjunction with the range men and the smaller breeders was urged upon members of the association by Dean E. J. Iddings of the Idaho agricultural college, who, as the principal speaker, discussed the future of the Shorthorn industry in this region and took an optimistic view of the situation. Farmers in increasing numbers are selling inferior stock to the buyers, Dean Iddings pointed out, and are replacing it with better stock. In the first place it is necessary to improve the quality of livestock throughout the country, and in the second place, it provides an outlet for stock produced by the larger herds.

Other speakers included Dean Sullivan of Rupert, president, and L. M. Gillette of Burley, secretary of the Minidoka-Ideas Shorthorn Breeders' association. E. F. Binehart, field animal husbandman of the state university of extension division, and A. L. Lewis, northwestern representative of the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, who were expected to attend to take part in the excursion and program were unable to attend.

O. E. Walter of Filer, was master of ceremonies during presentation of the program, and C. E. Lewis, president of the Twin Falls association, presided at the business session.

Contribution by Filer business men of a program and luncheon at the Filer county fair grounds, which was served in the shade on the fair grounds, elicited expressions of appreciation.

ROGERSON BANK ROBBER SUSPECTS TO GO FREE

Investigation Leads Authorities Here to Believe That Robbers' Fugitive Would Be Insufficient to Convict. No charges in connection with the robbery of the Bank of Rogerson, October 1, 1921, will be leveled by authorities here against O. C. Rockson and James Sullivan, held in custody at Cokoville, Wyoming, as suspects in the case. It was determined following investigations made at Rogerson by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor, Probate Judge O. P. Dwyer and Sheriff M. E. Filer that there was insufficient evidence could not be collected to warrant an attempt at extradition proceedings for the return of the suspects.

Reports from the Burns agency, by whom the two men were detained at Cokoville, said that they had in their possession an elaborate outfit of burglars' tools and that one of them had a ring corresponding to one reported missing from the Rogerson bank after the robbery.

Mistaken Identity Occasions Search

Lads Reported Missing Safe at Boy Scout Camp; Others Came Home

Reported absence from the Boy Scout camp in Shoshone basin that occasioned an extensive search Wednesday night by the father and deputy sheriffs for Max Johnson, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, and another unnamed lad, proved upon further investigation Friday to have involved a case of mistaken identity.

In respect to Johnson's message asking that his son be permitted to return home from the camp at the first opportunity, F. Douglas Hawley, scout commissioner, in the name of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, advised that the Johnson boy and another lad had set out on foot Tuesday noon, returning to Twin Falls.

The scout leader referred to Wayne Johnson, 17, and Paul Galloway, who had made the trip on foot to Twin Falls, arriving here at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, about 15 hours before the telephone played the trick that occasioned the search and a great deal of apprehension, on the part of parents of other lads at the scout camp. The Galloway lad, who is employed this summer on the farm of S. Kayler, was anxious to return here Wednesday before the closing of the camp, in order, as he believed, to hold his job.

Neither Max Johnson nor any of the other lads had left the camp except the two named, the scout leader advised Friday. Approximately 100 miles was traveled by Douglas before he located Johnson and E. F. Prater in their search for the lads believed to be missing Thursday night. Early Friday morning they located on the way to the basin that two boys had been seen some time before making toward Twin Falls, and at another stop they were before the closing of the light. They desisted from the search then, believing that the lads, having made their way so far, would reach home without incident.

Inspiring Band Music Brings Chautauqua to End of Record Season Here

The band that is pronounced his best by A. F. Thavin, director of the band that opened and closed the San Francisco exposition, brought to the closing number of Chautauqua Thursday evening the largest audience that has been assembled under the big brown top during the season here. Every available seat was occupied and scores stood about inside the tent, while hundreds of others draped themselves from their places on benches or on the grass in the city park.

Thavin, dapper, metical, efficient and glowing when he himself poured golden notes from his cornet—as though he played at once all the massed instruments, drew with a wave of his hand the thrilling music from his clarinet and stringed instruments, with vigorous gesture, invoked crashing thunderous blasts from the band.

Three grand opera singers, Lillian Cummins, soprano; Maxine Bradt, tenor; and George Smith, baritone, were featured in the evening's performance. The audience called for repeated encores. It was a thoroughly well satisfied and delighted audience that broke up when the band finally playing the inspiring rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner."

During the intermission Miss Lethe Coleman, director of Twin Falls Chautauqua, expressed appreciation of herself and visiting talent of kindness shown them by Twin Falls people during Chautauqua week, and bade a reluctant adieu to the community.

Mrs. Burton E. Morse, acting chairman of the Chautauqua association, announcing a meeting of the organization to be held Friday evening in the high school auditorium, declared that patronage of Chautauqua that had set a new record for the institution in Twin Falls this season, was the result of appreciation of things that are good and worth while.

Dr. W. F. Pike, chairman of the association's executive committee, announced that six numbers had been selected for a lecture course here during the late fall and winter months, and he spoke for the lecture a manuscript of report that had been given the Chautauqua.

SUDDEN DEATH CLAIMS MRS. GEORGE BOUSMAN

Stricken suddenly by heart disease from which she had suffered for many months, Mrs. George Bousman, aged about 40 years, who came here a few weeks ago with her husband from Wyoming, to become associated with her father, Roy Duncie, in the Washington grocery, died at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The body was taken to the P. J. Grossman mortuary. Funeral arrangements await the arrival of relatives from Casper, Wyoming, and California.

Mrs. Bousman is survived by her husband and three children, two daughters and one son, and by her father, W. R. Bruce, a brother here.

Insect Specialist Would Demonstrate

Ralph H. Smith, Entomologist, Suggests Field Tests as Well as Lecture on Pest Control

In addition to delivering an address Friday evening before a meeting to be held in Parish hall here under auspices of the Twin Falls County Horticultural society, Ralph H. Smith, entomologist, formerly connected with the University of Idaho and now employed in research investigations by California entomology, announced on his arrival here Thursday that he would be glad to conduct a spraying demonstration Saturday afternoon in an orchard close to Twin Falls, if it could be arranged.

"It is a great deal more satisfactory to me, at least, to demonstrate what I am talking about as I go along," Mr. Smith said, "and I am inclined to believe that a demonstration, if it can be arranged, will be worth while."

Mr. Smith came here from Boise, where he attended the convention of the Northwest Association of Horticulturists, Entomologists and Plant Pathologists. Recently he has been engaged in research investigations in western Washington, and will go from here to Grand Junction, Colorado, where he is working in cooperation with the state university extension division in a campaign against insect pests in orchards.

"In the Grand Junction district," Mr. Smith said, "about 25 per cent of the total crop has been condemned because of worms, and I have just had a report from there that worms have been found in all the apple orchards in the orchard and that the inspector has advised destruction of the whole crop."

Holding Company, Through Chamber of Commerce, Remits Money and Notes Amounting to $375,000

Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Friday began the work for the Idaho-Nevada Holding company of returning by mail approximately $375,000 in cash and notes subscribed more than a year ago by citizens of Twin Falls and southern Idaho and northern Nevada, toward a $500,000 fund to have been paid as a bonus to the Idaho Central company if it had constructed the Rogerson-Wellis railroad. Promise of the holding company to return the subscriptions made effective upon the issuance by the interstate commerce commission of the certificate of convenience and necessity to the Oregon Shortline to build the road. The certificate was issued Thursday and the promise of the company was immediately fulfilled.

A letter inclosed with each remittance, the holding company, through its president, Asber B. Wilson, and secretary, C. N. Beatty, says: "We wish to thank you for the part you took in this matter; your step enabled our community to get the railroad connection finally at a much lesser cost to our community than was originally anticipated."
