

SETTLEMENT OF LIQUOR ISSUE NOW IN SIGHT

Retiring American Envoy and Lord Curzon Give Attention to Draft Designed to Clear Liquor Situation.

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The rum-running issue between the American and British governments, which Ambassador Harvey in his conference with British officials repeatedly characterized as a dangerous menace to the existing good relations of the two countries, has been virtually settled.

On the occasion of his farewell visit to the foreign office, the retiring American envoy and Foreign Secretary Lord Curzon gave final consideration of the terms of a draft treaty which is believed to wrap up the whole question. The treaty is understood to meet the American desire for the right to search suspected rum-running vessels on the high seas, while Britain, but at the same time give to British America's formal affirmation of the three-mile limit as governing British maritime jurisdiction.

It also would allow British ships to carry liquor into American territorial waters under seal, thus enabling liners under the Union Jack to maintain bare cruises and after departing from American ports.

From the British side it only remains for the conference of premiers to place its imprimatur on documents embracing the points of the agreement. It was expected this would be done today, but as the document had not been completed it was postponed until Friday, after which the draft will go to America for ratification by the United States senate.

At the request of the British, the rights of the American authorities to detain British vessels suspected of rum-running will not be confined strictly to 12 miles from shore or other limits, but will probably embrace the broad distance covered by the broad term of "an hour's sailing distance from the American shore."

This increased total payments to O'Brien to approximately $97,000. The income tax return read into the record was a joint one of Johnson and his wife on the operations of their ranch near Livermore, out of which the hospital site has been carved. It showed these deductions from the gross profit of $85,742.40, which was made on the sale to the government; improvements, $20,974.52; selling ex-

With the settling of the rum-running and Newcastle issues, Mr. Harvey leaves London with no problem left for his successor, who, as the ambassador said today, is likely to have troubles enough of his own.

AVIATORS EMPLOYED IN HUNT FOR BANDIT GANG

MEDFORD, Ore., Oct. 31 (AP)—Two government mail airplanes which were engaged in making an aerial survey of the district in the Berkly mountains seeking four men believed to be the bandits who killed four men in an attempted train holdup October 11, returned to San Francisco today. They made a flight over the region. No official report was made public of their findings.

GRAFT CHARGES ENTER INQUIRY

Vets' Bureau Probe Reveals Alleged Discrepancies Over Sales of Hospital Site

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Evidence before the senate committee investigating the veterans' bureau today was that Lucien B. Johnson of San Francisco sold to the government for $105,000 a hospital site near Livermore, Calif. for which he paid $19,257, and then reported to the federal treasury for income tax purposes a net profit of only $185.53. Other disclosures included:

"That Charles F. Cramer, former general counsel of the veterans' bureau, who committed suicide here last March after his resignation, had reported to Charles R. Forbes, then director, that an option on the property at $150,000 had been obtained and had strongly urged the purchase at that price.

"That the comptroller general's office over the protest of Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, paid $30,000 to O'Brien to approximately $97,000. The income tax return read into the record was a joint one of Johnson and his wife on the operations of their ranch near Livermore, out of which the hospital site has been carved. National Political Structure at Present Not Likely to Be Affected Seriously by Selections to Be Made

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The national political structure is not likely to be much affected by the off-year elections to be held in scattering states throughout the country next Tuesday.

Vermont will elect a United States senator to succeed the late William F. Dillingham, and representatives from New York will elect four representatives and Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi will choose governors. In a few other states which will hold elections, reelection of the state legislatures hold the interest.

In Vermont, the republicans have nominated Porter H. Hale for senator to fill the term of the late Senator Dillingham, which would have expired in 1927. His opponent will be Mark H. Pollard, a Cavendish merchant, and cousin of President Coolidge. Mr. Dale favoring strict enforcement of prohibition, has the endorsement of the state anti-saloon league.

On account of Mr. Dale's resignation from the house, there is a vacancy in the second Vermont district, for which the candidates are Ernest W. Gibson of Battletown, republican, and Burton E. Bailey of Montpelier, democrat.

The four congressional elections in New York are to fill vacancies. Chief interest in the New York election is centered in the lower house of the state assembly. At present the assembly is made up of 81 republicans and 69 democrats. The democrats have been conducting a vigorous campaign to control the lower house as they already control the senate. Governor Smith is the democrat.

Majority elections will be held in two score cities, and supreme court justices will be chosen in several judicial districts. New York also will vote on four amendments to the state constitution. One is designed to legislate a soldier bonus of $45,000,000. Maryland will elect a governor, state officers, a new house of delegates and one-half of the senate membership. Governor Ritchie is opposed for reelection by Alexander Armstrong, republican attorney general. Both are avowedly wet, but as the republican platform ignored the prohibition question, the association against prohibition has endorsed Governor Ritchie.

Oregon Also to Vote. There is only one election of consequence in the west, and that is a referendum in Oregon on a state income tax

MASONS VOTE IN FAVOR OF CONFERENCES

Grand Lodge Delegates Take Steps Designed to Promote Harmony; Plans Arranged for Washington Ceremonial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Grand masters and past grand masters of Masons in America, gathered here for the laying of a cornerstone of the grand memorial to George Washington at Alexandria, Va., broke a precedent of many years' standing by voting today for the convening of annual conferences of grand masters hereafter. The sense of the gathering was said to be against a move to form a supreme grand lodge in the United States but it was emphasized that the plan for each year would give the personal contact and harmonious round table discussion necessary to wipe out differences of opinion, which may exist between some of the grand lodges. The resolution approving the step for the conferences was introduced by Judge Townsend of New York, and to Dr. Mark F. Finley, grand master of the District of Columbia, went the usual honor today of being chosen chairman of a meeting of grand masters. Arthur W. Johnson, secretary of the grand lodge, here, was named as secretary. Dr. Finley in his address of welcome said there should be no interference with the directorship and authority of each jurisdiction of Masonry.

Plans are completed for the ceremonies tomorrow at Alexandria, where the George Washington national Masonic memorial will be erected at a cost of $4,000,000. President Coolidge, making his first foreign trip from the capital since journeying to Marion to attend the funeral of President Harding, will go to Shoppers Hill, on the outskirts of Alexandria, where the memorial is to be built.

With the travel and by George Washington in laying the cornerstone for the capitol, he will appear mortar over the stone to be laid. Many other high government officials will participate and Masons estimated to number between 20,000 and 30,000 are expected to witness the ceremonies.

The cornerstone will be laid by the grand lodge of Virginia, assisted by the grand masters from the various states. Before it is scaled a relic from every jurisdiction in the country will be placed in it, in addition to an American flag, a Bible and literature

CARELESSNESS HELD AS CAUSE OF FATAL WRECK OFF CALIFORNIA COAST

NAME DARLINGTON AS MANAGER OF MINIDOKA IRRIGATION PROJECT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Edward B. Darlington was appointed by Secretary Work today to be manager of the Minidoka project in Idaho, with headquarters at Burley. The project is one of the largest under government operation.

Mr. Darlington has been actively identified for more than 35 years with irrigation activities in the southern Idaho. He served as engineer in charge of the construction of the canal system of the Salmon River project which was thrown open to settlement in 1908, and was thereafter for several years manager of the Salmon River Land and Water company and Salmon River Canal company with headquarters at Hellsister. During the past seven or eight years he has been associated at Jerome with the Twin Falls-North Side company.

Navy Officers Named in Inquiry Board's Report to Face Grave Charges; Men and Executives Cited for Bravery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—A judgment and fact investigation into the part of three officers caused the loss of 25 lives and of naval material to the value of $1,000,000 in the destroyer accident on Housatonic, Oct. 3, September 8, the board of inquiry declared in its final report to Secretary Denby.

On the recommendation of the board Captain Edward H. Wilson, the squadron commander, Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunt, commanding the Dolphin, flagship and leader of the nine destroyers which grounded, and Lieutenant Commander E. B. Blodgett, navigator of the Dolphin, will be charged before a general court martial with culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty, and a sentence. Eight other officers, including the commanders of as many destroyers, which figured in the catastrophe, will face charges of negligence in performance of duty.

The report was said by veteran naval officers here to be almost unprecedented in the history of the navy, in that it alleged to be responsible for the disaster.

"In the opinion of the court," it said, "the disaster is, in the first instance, directly attributable to the gross negligence of the commanding officer and family navigation on the part of three officers attached to and serving on the Dolphin, viz: The squadron commander, the commanding officer, and the navigating officer. . . . Their responsibility is complete and the court sees no extenuating circumstances."

Commanders of the other destroyers must be held responsible, in the board found, for having too blindly followed the judgment of the squadron commander, and in failing to check the position of their individual ships against that ascertained by the Dolphin. Dividing the fatal cruise of the Housatonic into three periods, the board declared the first two reflect no credit upon the navy," but commended highly the morale shown in the third period, which comprised the time after the ships were stranded.

Perfect discipline. "From the instant," the report said, "squadron eleven displayed a zeal, courage and coolness in face of grave danger which is a matter of commendation to every American. From the commander down, there was perfect discipline and the highest traditions of the service were upheld up to the very end. It is reported that any ship whose officers or men faltered in their duty, or failed to act calmly under orders. It is due to this perfect discipline that the loss of life was so small."

Individuals Cited. Among those especially cited were: Commander William L. Calhoun, for coolness, intelligence and seamanship; Lieutenant Commander Walter D. Seed, "for great bravery in swimming 75 yards in a turbulent sea to test the feasibility of arrangements for saving the crew of the Housatonic; Jones and nine members of the crew of the Fuller for volunteering to operate a whaleboat "in the face of rough seas"; Chief Engineer E. J. Rhodamel and Machinist Frank M. Moon "for extraordinary heroism," and Lieutenant C. C. Hertzog "for especially meritorious conduct."

GERMAN RELIEF DRIVE STARTED

Commander of U. S. Occupational Troops Starts Campaign to Alleviate Distress

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Leading America in an endeavor to succor a distressed people, Major General Henry T. Allen, who commanded the United States army of occupation in Germany, today announced a nation-wide drive to carry relief to at least 2,000,000 children in Germany during the coming winter.

Food and fuel, administered through the American Society of Friends (Quakers), will form the chief commodities of the American relief work. Contributions to finance the undertaking will be solicited by the American committee for relief of German children, of which General Allen is chairman. More than 100 prominent persons have accepted places on the committee. Local organizations in the principal cities of the country will be formed as rapidly as possible.

The plan of the American committee as regards feeding, only, will cover the period from November 5 to April 10, including 14 actual feeding days. It will cost approximately two cents to supply one meal a day to each child, and on this basis it is estimated that "the immediate problem" of feeding 2,000,000 children will require $5,480,000, General Allen declared.

A letter from Secretary of Commerce Hoover endorsing the movement was read before a conference of anti-war sponsors by General Allen. Contributions totaling $120,000 were announced by Brigadier General Charles G. Daves, chairman of the Chicago committee tonight. Following an organization exercise attended by General Allen and a score of prominent citizens.

FORD AFRAID TO MAKE KNOWN HIS CANDIDACY FOR ELECTION TO JOB AT WHITE HOUSE, SAYS COUZENS

DETROIT, Oct. 31 (AP)—Henry Ford does not announce his candidacy for the presidency because he is afraid it will be "as great a fiasco as his peace ship," United States Senator Charles G. Couzens declared tonight in an address at a dinner of the Detroit Republican club.

Referring to the automobile manufacturer who recently criticized the senator's announced stand for 5 per cent beer, Mr. Couzens said: "Why does Henry Ford refrain from announcing his candidacy for president of the United States? He is afraid it would be as big a fiasco as his peace ship."

Senator Couzens and Henry Ford were associated in the Ford Motor company when the company was in its infancy. During the address, Senator Couzens referred to the automobile manufacturer as a "lovable" man and declared that he "loved Ford as much as any man could love another."

"But when Henry Ford differs with me on an amendment which I proposed to the Volstead act and says, according to a newspaper article, 'I know a lot better than to propose such an amendment,' he challenges my integrity and sincerity," Senator Couzens declared. "Ford has never recovered from his defeat as a candidate for the senate in 1918. Senator Couzens asserted, 'and for a man so politiically ambitious he has made more unfulfilled statements than any other man in America."

"Mr. Ford used the Musculo Shoals issue more for political purposes than from a desire to manufacture nitrate for fertilizer for the farms," a commendatory to the United States congress and government that a man so powerful has been unable to browbeat congress into giving an unfair advantage of Musculo Shoals."

"Why, Mr. Ford president—ridiculous! The Michigan senator declared. 'How dare you say that? You are of age who has done nothing but make motors aspire to such an office without training, education in government—riding the Ford attack and giving the surrounding him and propagating his candidacy are doing so for personal gain.' "My hope is that the people of this country will stop and think. I want to save Ford the greatest humiliation and equally save the government the humiliation of Ford as president."

Financial Aid to Farmers Is Goal of New Proposal

Representative Stockmen, Bankers and Federal Financiers Consider Scheme for Closer Co-operation

DENVER, Oct. 31 (AP)—Plans for bridging the gap between farmers and stockmen and the banks of the west were mapped out here today at meetings of farmers, stock growers and bankers from seven western states with officials of the federal land banks and the agricultural credit system. Charles E. Sobeloff of Washington, D. C., general counsel and fiscal agent for the farm loan board, declared the new system was intended as an emergency measure, but intended to assist those farmers and stockmen who are financially sound but temporarily placed in hazardous position financially by the current farm depression.

Mr. Sobeloff advised bankers present at the meeting to cooperate in forming such organizations to permit them to handle cattle and farm notes while protecting themselves against the demands of their depositors. After considerable discussion a resolution was passed favoring the appointment of a committee to meet tomorrow morning and consider and draw up plans by which agricultural interests may take advantage of the new intermediate credit banks. The committee will also serve as a permanent committee to assist in bringing bankers and stock growers into closer touch with the facilities of credit banks.

Fighting Irishmen Expected to Put Up Stiff Battle; Vandals Get in Trim

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Oct. 31 (AP)—Fighting to gain admission into the Northwest conference, Gonzaga will strain every effort to beat Idaho in the eleventh annual gridiron contest of the two institutions at Moscow Friday. Gonzaga is on probation this year and upon her showing depends her admission into recognized company.

Still smarting under last year's defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs, Idaho is determined that the score shall be reversed and that her position, lost temporarily by that defeat, shall be regained. In the past the Vandals have had the edge on Gonzaga, for, out of ten games played, Idaho has won eight, all by comfortable margins.

Coach R. L. Mathews has succeeded admirably in his development of the Idaho team. The three straight victories won so far this season are proof of the consummate strength of the Vandal machine. Both L. H. Gregory and George Vail of the Portland Oregonian and the Spokane Chronicle, respectively, authorities on football, feature Idaho's hard-hitting and fast-charging line and predict astonishing successes for it.

Gonzaga Fast
Gonzaga is opening the season with a fine showing. Under Coach Dennis the Bulldogs have made tremendous advances in the last few years. Proof of their increasing reputation is shown by the fact that, by the end of this season, they will have played two inter-sectional games. Last year Gonzaga held the University of West Virginia to a close score at Pasadena on Christmas day, and this year she is scheduled to play Detroit university.

With the exception of two years when no games were played, Idaho has won eight out of ten games scheduled since 1911, and plus a total of 142 points to Gonzaga's 65.

SOCIALISTS DECIDE TO FORM MINORITY PARTY

DRESDEN, SAXONY, Oct. 31 (AP)—The socialist party has decided to form a socialist minority government. Dr. A. Fellisch, who, prior to the setting up of the deposed socialist communist government, was minister of economics, has announced his intention to undertake the formation of such a cabinet. The democrats have agreed to support a socialist government which would thus command an adequate majority in the diet.

It is expected that Dr. Fellisch will present the names of his ministers shortly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Varsity letters, won 50 years ago but never awarded, will be presented to a gray-haired group of veterans during the approaching Princeton-Yale game at Yale bowl, according to plans outlined by Princeton athletic authorities.

This year's Bulldog-Tiger battle will mark the fiftieth anniversary of their gridiron relations; the first game having been played at New Haven November 15, 1873, with Yale the victor, 3 to 0. One point then was credited for a field goal, Yale scoring three.

In those days it was not customary to give varsity athletic letters. Princeton, however, plans to award the varsity letters to the surviving members of the 1873 Tiger team. Yale may take similar action in regard to the surviving members of the 211 array of that year.

The Tech has lost its famous trio of backfield men of last year. Holmes is playing halfback for the University of Wisconsin. Place is not at the Tech this year, while Hurt is deprived from playing by work that he has to do to pay his way while in college. However, Tech supporters are looking to a stronger line to hold the "Coyotes" in check while the lighter and more inexperienced backs carry the ball for gains.

Utilitarianism, It Seems, Must Ultimately Kill the Pure Desire for Knowledge

Wireless is of great practical importance. It facilitates slaughter in war, the dissemination of journalistic falsehood in time of peace, and the broadcasting of trivialities to relieve the tedium of evening hours not devoted to success. But the men who made it possible—Faraday, Maxwell and Hertz—were none of them the least interested in furthering this remarkable enrichment of human life; they were men solely interested in trying to understand physical processes, and it can hardly be said that the existence of industrialism helped them even indirectly. The modern study of the structure of the atom may have a profound effect upon industrial processes, but those who are engaged upon it are very little interested in its possible future effect of their work.

Johanson testified that in October, 1920, he bought 450 acres of land near Livernore from the Chesta Blanca Wine company for $35,000, and that one year later he gave Thomas O'Day, a San Francisco real estate dealer, an option on 250 acres at $100,000 and later executed another option, under which he was to have received $77,500 net. O'Day sought to sell to the government, but was unsuccessful and his option expired.

A negro talking upon an old friend who received him in a rocking chair and continued to rock himself to and fro in a most curious way.

"You ain't sick, is yo', Harrison?" asked the caller, anxiously.

"No, I ain't sick, Mosé," said Harrison.

There was a moment's silence, during which the caller gazed wide-eyed at the rocking figure.

"Do," continued Mosé, "why does yo' rock yo'self dat way all de time?"

Harrison explained: "Yo' know Bill Blott? Well, he sold me a silver watch cheap, an' if I stops moving like dis, dat watch don't go!"—Tid Bits.

Fair Warning. She was very beautiful and had called in answer to an advertisement for a typist.

"Where were you employed last?" asked the head of the firm.

"In a doll factory," replied the applicant.

"And what were your duties there?" was the next question.

"Making eyes," she replied, with a smile.

"Very well. You are engaged," she was informed, "but please don't demonstrate your capabilities when my wife is around."

Why Kick About It? Outbiter heard that they were going to launch a newly completed liner and break the traditional bottle of champagne over its bow.

Among others he cornered Hoffy and announced: "We must fight it!"

"Fight what?"

"Christening this vessel with real champagne, which was served."

Hoffy declined to become excited. "I don't see why you object," stated Hoffy calmly. "I thought you wanted all bottled goods smashed."—Boston Globe.

Puzzling a Candidate. A parliamentary candidate in a rural district made the following remark in the course of his address: "There is no question in the world which I cannot answer with just 'Yes' or 'No.'"

An old farm laborer jumped up and said: "Please, maister, might I ask 'a question?"

"Certainly, my good fellow," said the candidate.

"Well, then, maister," said the old farmhand, "what's the time?"—London Telegraph.

Prefers Normal Daughter to "Child Wonder"

Viola Mitchell

Viola Mitchell is Pittsburgh's 12-year-old child prodigy, whose parents are forcing her to live a normal girl's life when she might be rich and famous. On a recent trip to New York with her teacher, Miss Margaret Horns, she played her rare Gurners violin before Professor O. Sevik, teacher of Kubelik and other prominent violinists. "She is marvelous! At 20 she will be another Maud Powell!" he exclaimed.

Immediately Viola was besieged with vaudeville offers. But her father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. Alice Mitchell, refused them all and took their daughter back to their Pittsburgh home, where she is kept away from music for all but a short time each day and told to "go out and play with other girls."

"Better a normal, happy daughter than a thousand pale-faced 'child wonders,'" is Dr. Mitchell's motto.

Copied Monarch in Wearing Wig. It was in the Seventeenth century that the wig found its maximum development in the peruke. The Abbe La Riviere, it appears, started it off by attending the court of Louis XIII in a wig.

The big, controlling fact in modern life is the command of power. Principle man had his own muscles. A little later he learned to use wind and current, he began to tame animals, he took to the bad sidetrack of enslaving his own kind. But not till he learned to harness the forces of nature did he win to real earth mastery.—Chicago Journal.

UNITY URGED TO AVOID BIG WAR

Lloyd George Again Pleads for Support of U. S. with England to End Terrors

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—The English-speaking peoples of this earth "can save civilization from doom-doom-doom," Lloyd George, the wartime premier of Great Britain, declared in an address here today before a great audience in the state armory.

"Do you think I am using violent words?" he asked. "If you do, go to Europe, go to see Europe, to see conditions, the fear of some impending terror."

"And if the blow falls it will be such a war as humanity has never conceived."

The people of the United States and Great Britain in acting together to insure order in the world, he asserted, need enter no formal agreement to that end.

"Not by alliances, but by understanding," he said. "Not by contract, but by co-operation."

Early in his address Mr. Lloyd George paid tribute to Charles M. Schwab, who was seated on the platform, for his war services, and the two men shook hands and embraced while the audience cheered.

Frances Schwab said "I owe him an especial debt of gratitude and here I am speaking for millions of my own people, the war premier said, 'He was one of the Americans who from the start placed the whole of his great genius for organization at the service of the allies. The first man of our own land, the first man from the United States of Tides Not Unusual. The board found no evidence of unusual tides or extreme errors of radio signals which it would accept as contributing to the disaster, although "radio bearings received by the squadron commander were obviously in error when considered for navigational purposes."

Each ship, the report said, had its equipment for determining course and location which would have been used if correct judgment had been displayed.

In view of the maneuvers in which the ships were engaged, the board did not think a speed of 20 knots was excessive for the greater part of the cruise, but held that it should have been reduced considerably as soon as the first doubt as to the position of the squadron was felt.

America who came to our help in providing munitions was Mr. Charles Schwab."

Mr. Lloyd George told how the Kaiser had heard that Mr. Schwab was supplying the deficiencies of the allies and made him an offer that would pay him three-fold in pecuniary benefits for throwing up the allied contract, "and he stood by the allies."

"I wish to thank him," the former premier said, "for the timely, generous and chivalrous aid he gave to the great cause of liberty when it was in jeopardy on the battlefields of Europe."

First Church of Christ, Scientist OF TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, Announces a Free Lecture on Christian Science BY WILLIAM W. POETER, C. S. B. OF NEW YORK CITY. In the High School Auditorium, Friday Evening, November 2, 1923, at 8 o'clock. THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND.

SOCIETY Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 390. The Twin Falls Rotary club's celebration of Halloween took the form of a dinner with its wives of the members in charge of one of the cleverest programs ever enjoyed by the club. With ceremonies appropriate to the occasion the members were escorted to their seats by a corps of ladies specially garbed for the work in hand and in the midst of a setting of black cats, witches, pumpkins and weird lighting arrangements the members were treated to a program in which specially written and costumed songs were a prominent feature. Following the dinner a 30-minute musical comedy act in which the men were cleverly burlesqued was thoroughly enjoyed, after which a short sketch in serious vein closed the program. Wives of the entire membership took part in the program, complete arrangements for which were in the hands of the ladies. Take-offs on the various members with some clever singing of original songs were the main feature of the first part. The second, intended to portray the aims of Rotary in large measure, consisted of a picture in allegory setting forth the spirit of Rotary as exemplified in the doctrine of the movement. Mrs. Ostrom of Buhl was in charge of the music. Mrs. Edwards, who produced and directed the first part, and Mrs. Burton E. Morse prepared and staged the second part of the program. The entire entertainment was splendidly carried out. Following adjournment a majority of those present repaired to the Elks' for dancing. Miss Vera Jamison and Miss Elsie Murray entertained the teachers of the Washington school at the home of the latter on Ninth avenue at the Halloween party on Wednesday evening.

BLACK LABOR

The negro migration from the South to the North and Central West still continues. The head of Tuskegee institute finds no cessation of it in the last year and a half. The labor commissioner of Georgia reports that two hundred fifty thousand have left that state during the last few months. The movement is said to be large from all the southern states except Texas.

Like every big migration, this is economic. The negroes move northward because wages are higher there. Thus they help to fill the gap made by the curtailment of immigration and relieve the scarcity of industrial labor. They will continue to flow northward until equilibrium is restored—that is, until the demand and reward for labor fall off in the North, or the demand and reward in the South rise to the northern level.

It is not generally realized that this movement is resulting in a new, extensive distribution of the negro race in America which may be permanent, with marked effects on the whole country. The blacks will be no longer concentrated in one section, but will be spread through all sections.

This helps to solve the old southern negro problem. At the same time it raises new racial problems in the North, though they are not so serious. Economic assimilation of this race, difficult as long as it was concentrated, may go on more rapidly. Also, political assimilation. Social assimilation is, of course, another question.

In any event, the negro's position in America is never going to be the same again. Neither is the agricultural situation in the South. With negro farm labor moving to northern factories, southern farmers will be driven more and more to use labor-saving machinery. Even the cotton industry may be transformed.

STUDENTS' HELP WILL BE MISSED

Increased Demand for Workers in Harvest Fields Anticipated with Re-opening of School

Material increase Monday in the demand for help in harvesting of the district's perishable crops was anticipated Saturday at chamber of commerce offices here. Opening of the senior high school, with consequent withdrawal of nearly 400 boys and girls from orchards and fields where they have been employed during the past two weeks, was regarded as a principal factor making for largely increased demand for help from other sources.

The number of volunteer workmen sent out Saturday through the chamber of commerce for work in the potato harvest proved insufficient to meet all demands. Calls also were received during the day for additional help in bean fields and orchards to begin work Monday when the students will return to school.

SCHOOL SESSIONS RESUME

With only 20 absentees out of an enrollment of about 380, sessions of Twin Falls senior high school were resumed Monday after suspension for almost two weeks during which students took an active part in a community effort to save the district's perishable crops.
