

PLANS FORMED FOR MEMORIAL TO LATE CHIEF

Place of Final Interment of Wilson's Body Yet to Be Determined by Widow; Want Burial in Virginia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Wrapped in the glory of death, Woodrow Wilson has found sanctuary under the towering arches of the Washington cathedral, acclaimed by his countrymen and the world.

Before his still in the task of deciding where shall be the final resting place of his honored husband. For months, probably, he will lie in the vault to which he was committed yesterday, just as night came slowly, over the nation's capital, but a greater will, one that he would have him to, to show the honor in which men hold him.

The dead man president had given thought to the place where he would rest in death and it will be within the District of Columbia that his ultimate tomb will be set. That has already been decided by Mrs. Wilson in accordance with his wish, although the place where the tomb shall be erected is still to be selected.

Tradition Followed

Above the vault where lies the casket that contains his body the cathedral structure has reached a point in building where the transepts north and south are next to be constructed. The north transept by tradition in England and the United States, is the transept of statesmen where those who have given great service to their countrymen in the civil walks of national life. Plans have been formed for the building of an adequate memorial to the late president.

The cathedral beneath which he now rests. It would be placed just where the massive northern wall of the nave and the western bulk of the transept will join.

As the plan now runs the tomb would be built into the wall of the cathedral itself and the casket so tenderly placed yesterday in the chapel vault would be sealed within its stone enclosure forever. Within the transept, on the main floor of the cathedral, a fitting memorial would be set as the inner face of the tomb.

Mrs. Wilson to Decide

Mrs. Wilson has not as yet assented to this plan. She has agreed with her husband that he lived for eight long years in Washington as president and came to the White House only to make his home in the city, it is in Washington, or at least within the confines of the District of Columbia, that he should be buried. So far as closest friends are aware, however, she has not as yet had time or the courage to select the spot.

Senators from his native state of Virginia have urged that his body should lie on Virginia soil, while from Princeton has come a claim that he should go back in death to the school.

The secretary expressed the appreciation of the United States government of the conditions extended on behalf of the Latin-American republic on the death of the former president.

"He has left an imperishable fame," Secretary Hughes said. "His leadership can never be forgotten by our people or other peoples in whose behalf he wrought in the cause of peace. I am sure that all Latin-Americans fully recognize the great worth of his labors in connection with the relations of the republics of this hemisphere."

On motion of Ambassador de Azevedo of Brazil, the board adopted a resolution expressing their respect for the death of Mr. Wilson and directing that the expression of sympathy be forwarded to Mrs. Wilson.

CONDEMNED MAN WINS REPRIEVE

Thomas Russell, Sentenced to Die from Lethal Gas, Gets Life Sentence

OASON CITY, Nev., Feb. 7 (AP)—Thomas Russell, one of the two men to die in the first lethal gas execution here tomorrow, was reprieved from death tonight. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment when Governor Shugrue, presiding at a special meeting of the pardon board, changed his previous vote on the question of leniency and decided to exercise mercy. Under the Nevada law, the governor's vote as well as that of the majority of the pardon board is necessary to commute such a sentence.

Tonight only one member of the board, E. A. Decker, chief justice of the state supreme court, voted against the commutation. The governor explained that he was influenced largely by a telegram received today from the district judge who presided at Russell's trial. The judge said he had doubt as to whether a case of premeditated murder had been proven against Russell.

Russell was convicted of killing his sweetest, Mary Kearney, an Indian girl. Although there was direct testimony from the girl's mother and from her little sister that they had seen Russell with the girl, Russell maintained his innocence, reiterating it today, within a few hours of his expected execution.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Governor Shugrue, "that Russell killed the girl; but there is doubt as to whether it was premeditated murder."

Standard Oil Company Disclaims Any Part in Development of Naval Reserves

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Standard Oil Company of California "has no interest, direct or indirect, in a single acre of naval reserve oil leases," announcement from the company offices here tonight said, commenting on a resolution offered in the senate today by Senator Walsh which called upon the secretary of the interior to take steps for the recovery of sections 16 and 36 in naval reserve number one.

"The company has no interest in section 16 in No. 1 reserve," the announcement said. "The attempt to link the Standard Oil company with the scandal in respect to naval oil leases is absolutely unwarranted and unfair."

Department of Justice Ready for Immediate Investigation of Alleged Corner on Oil Industry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The department of justice will immediately set in motion its machinery to force the disclosure of charges by Governor McKelvie of South Dakota, that "allied interests of the Standard Oil" had cornered the crude oil supply and advanced gasoline prices.

The department action has been taken upon instructions from President Coolidge to whom was referred today a telegram from the governor of South Dakota setting forth his charges and also a similar message from Governor Bryan of Nebraska.

Shortly after the announcement that the president had ordered an inquiry into the gasoline and crude oil situation, former Representative Campbell of Kansas, speaking for the Prairie Oil and Gas company, submitted to the senate a statement giving reasons for its institution of crude oil and gasoline prices in the last year.

Chas. Economic Law

Mr. Campbell suggested that the operations of the economic law of supply and demand alone were responsible for the fluctuating prices.

The president's instructions, it was said at the department of justice, would broaden the inquiry which has been under way many months. United States attorneys long have had instructions, officials added, to aid local officials in efforts to run down monopolistic tendencies of all kinds in oil and gasoline as well as any other commodity.

Want Prices Checked

Although there has been constant observation of conditions in the oil industry, diplomatic officials said there would now be an intensive study of the situation of which the two state executives have complained.

Governor McKelvie declared his telegram received today from the district judge who presided at Russell's trial. The judge said he had doubt as to whether a case of premeditated murder had been proven against Russell.

BREWER PLACES CHARGE AGAINST U. S. TREASURY

Bureau of Engraving Trouble Again in the Limelight as Claim of Duplication of Bonds Is Put on Record

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The smoldering embers of the bureau of engraving conspiracy which first blazed up two years ago with a wholesale dismissal of employees by President Harding has again been fanned into flame.

Charles B. Brewer, department of justice attorney who investigated charges of duplication of government securities, brought the case into the open today with the filing of sensational charges against the treasury, and despite denials by Secretary Mellon and other officials that Brewer's allegations contained merit, Representative La Guardia, republican, New York, began steps by introducing a resolution of inquiry to force a congressional inquiry.

Alleges Duplication

The charges by Brewer were contained in a copy of a report he had sent previously to President Coolidge and Attorney General Daugherty, and were made public when they were attached as exhibits to an injunction suit filed here against government officials, whom Brewer said were interfering with this inquiry. They set forth that there had been duplications of bonds; that the treasury had suppressed knowledge of them; that treasury officials had threatened Brewer in his attempts to uncover the condition, and that duplications of bonds had been destroyed in the treasury.

Secretary Mellon, on learning Brewer's charges had been made public, said that for every bond issued, its face value had found its way into the treasury vaults. He added that there had been duplication of numbers, but there was no duplication to either the public or the government. He attributed the duplication of numbers to mechanical error, which Brewer had said was not the case.

Brewer's charges have been known to treasury officials for many months and they said, had been investigated and disproved. They included the assertion that a clique swayed the treasury.

There were not hearse enough in the city to carry all the bodies to the cemetery. Three motor trucks were pressed into service to make up the deficiency.

BANK RESOURCES SHOW BIG GAIN

Comptroller Dawes Gives Analysis of Conditions as Shown in Call of December 29

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Aggregate resources of the country's national banks increased $431,171,000 during 1933, Comptroller Dawes of the currency, announced tonight in making public an analysis of the banking conditions as shown in the call of December 29. The total resources were $22,406,128,000, the greatest since the call of December 29, 1929.

Deposits of the national banks December 29, amounting to $17,828,801,000, were greater than at any call date in history, except that of December 31, 1919. This represents an increase of $768,331,000 since the call of September 14, but an increase of only $68,389,000 over the end of 1932, because of the reduction in deposits during the summer preceding season when heavy calls were made for funds.

OPPOSE TERMS OF TRADE PACT WITH GERMANY

Opposition Centers Around Claim of Probable Retarding of Development of American Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—After further opposition to the treaty of commerce and navigation with Germany had been voiced today in the senate foreign relations committee, the senate at the request of Chairman Lodge took the somewhat unusual step of making it public in advance of a report by the committee.

Chief opposition to the treaty centers around the most favored nation clauses which, it is argued, will retard development of the American merchant marine by restricting freedom of action by the United States in the lower tariff duties on goods imported in American ships than those brought by ships under other flags.

Opponents of these clauses have laid stress on the action of congress in 1920 in placing in the shipping act a provision directing the president to negotiate similar provisions in existing treaties of commerce.

No Action Taken

President Wilson declined to comply, as did President Harding, and so far President Coolidge has taken no action.

The most favored nation clauses in the pending treaty are said to be typical of those venturing for commercial treaties with a number of other powers and are a part of the plan of the administration for modernizing pacts in the light of changed conditions since the world war. These sections in the treaty with Germany guarantee most favored treatment in respect to the movement of commerce, navigation facilities, the levying of duties on imports and exports and similar subjects.

Duties Limited

Provisions in this connection which have come under fire in the foreign relations committee declare the necessity of contracting power shall suffer imposition of duties or other restrictions greater than the most favored nation.

Other sections give to the nationals of the country the right to enter, travel and reside in the country, and any part of legal industry upon payment of ordinary taxes imposed in the country; assure freedom of entry into every open port except that the restriction of American coastal trade is recognized and provided for the exchange of consular representatives and their privileges and duties.

As in the case of most such treaties it is to run for ten years.

Coolidge Approves Co-operative Plan of Farm Marketing

Farmers' National Council Hears Endorsement of New Scheme by Many Speakers as Convention Opens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Endorsement of the co-operative marketing movement by President Coolidge and addresses on various angles of the question marked the opening session here today of a three day conference of the national council of farmers' co-operative marketing associations.

President Coolidge, in his message to the conference, declared there was need also of co-operative organization among urban consumers. He advocated "a close working relationship" between the producers and consumer groups, as an "ideal toward which the larger co-operative movement of the country should aim."

Speakers at the meeting who urged further development along co-operative lines included former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; Senator Capper, republican, of Kansas; and Robert W. Bingham, Louisville, Ky., publisher and chairman of the conference.

HOUSE MEMBERS BEGIN DEBATE ON AMENDMENT

Ways and Means Committee
Agrees to Report New Revenue Bill; Will Mean Loss of $220,000,000 Annually

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The first step in the revision of federal taxes was completed today when the house ways and means committee after two months consideration agreed to report the new revenue bill to the house. Shortly afterwards the house opened debate on another feature of the taxation program, the constitutional amendment resolution to prohibit issuance of tax exempt securities.

The committee revenue bill proposes reduction in income tax rates amounting to a loss in revenue of about $220,000,000 annually and cuts off about $11,000,000 annual revenue from the indirect, or war-excess, taxes, many of which were repealed. In addition a 25 per cent reduction in 1923 income taxes payable this year was provided, saving taxpayers about $225,000,000 on these taxes.

Chairman Green will report the measure to the house next Monday with prospects of an extended fight on the floor against the income rates approved by the committee. Mr. Green himself has come out against the 25 per cent maximum surtax rate in the bill, and it became known today that the republicans had been working for a compromise in the party on a higher surtax rate to assure passage of a republican bill. Democrats have announced they would stand united for the higher surtax rate and lower personal income rates proposed in their bill.

Opposition Develops.
Considerable nonpartisan opposition developed on the floor to the tax exempt amendment which would grant the federal government power to tax state and municipal securities and in turn give states and cities the right to tax federal securities. Indication of its defeat was seen in a test vote on adoption of the special rule making the resolution in order before the house, which was approved, 225 to 132, or less than the two-thirds majority necessary for passage of a constitutional amendment. The amendment passed in the house last year but was not voted on in the senate. The resolution will be voted on tomorrow upon conclusion of the allotted eight hours' debate.

Bill Voted Out.
The revenue bill was voted out by the committee, 15 to 3. Eight of the 11 democrats voted "present," announcing they did not wish to delay a report of the measure but were opposed to the income rates fixed by the republicans in private and which conform strictly to the recommendations of Secretary Mellon.

The income rates provide for a reduction in the normal tax on the first $4000 of net income from four to three per cent and from eight to six per cent on the remainder of the net income. The maximum surtax rate is reduced from 50 per cent to 25 per cent to be levied against net income of $100,000 and over. The graduated scale starting at one per cent is made to apply first at incomes of $10,000 instead of at $20,000.

Provides for Reduction.
The measure also provides for a reduction of 25 per cent in taxes on incomes which are earned, all incomes under $5000 being classed as "earned" for purposes of this reduction. The amount of income which may be declared earned is limited to $20,000. The indirect taxes were revised to include repeal of the tax on telephone and telegraph messages, soft drink beverages, candy and several other luxuries. Taxes on all tobacco products of 50 cents or under also were repealed.

Chairman Green of the ways and means committee, author of the resolution, was its chief proponent, with Representative Longworth of Ohio, republican, floor leader, and Crisp, democrat, Georgia, among others, supporting him.

Secs Evil Effect.
Mr. Green predicted if the resolution were adopted that in a few years the "rich" through their investments in tax exempt securities, would have concentrated the wealth in a few hands, "while we of the mass having moderate incomes will have to pay all the taxes." He said he believed farmers were willing to have farm loan bonds made taxable, if "this other huge volume of securities is opened to taxation." He estimated there are about $13,000,000,000 invested in tax exempt securities.
Representative Crisp declared the amendment was necessary as a compromise to the income tax since "the rich investors are escaping the surtax through investments in the tax free bonds."

EXPORT BILL ATTACKED
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The McNary-Hugan bill proposing a grain export certificate to handle surplus crops was attacked today as an impractical and superficial measure before the house agricultural committee by L. F. Outen, former president of the Chicago board of trade, and E. C. Watkins, president of the National Grain Dealers' association.

RECALL GUARD IN NICARAGUA

Arrangements Made for Maintenance of Order without Presence of U. S. Marines

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Plans for the withdrawal of the American legation guard of 100 marines from Managua, Nicaragua, after the inauguration of the new administration there in January, 1925, were announced today by the state department.

Arrangements have been made between the two governments for organization of an efficient constabulary to maintain order when the marine detachment is recalled.

Correspondence between the Washington and Managua governments made public with the announcement shows that the latter has accepted the offer of the American government to provide instructors in creating the constabulary as well as the services of Dr. H. W. Dodds, secretary of national municipal league, to assist in the administration in the electoral law adopted by Nicaragua. Dr. Dodds will be assisted by a limited number of technical advisers.

A note from John E. Ramo, American minister at Managua, to J. A. Urtecho, the Nicaraguan minister of foreign affairs, advising him of the intention to withdraw the American marines, said it was not the intent of the Washington government to make

GAME WITH PAUL FIVE ON SCHEDULE TONIGHT

Motorists Billed Against Small But Fast Basketball Quintet for Session in Local Gymnasium

Following their trip to Boise last week, where they made a creditable showing against the Capital City hostesses with a crippled squad, the Motors face other conditions tonight when they play Paul in the local gymnasium.

Although the Paul aggregation comes from a small school they have met all of the big schools of the eastern end of the district and promise the blue and white men a real battle from the time the game starts until the final whistle and the Paul team are well known for their fight.

There will be no girls' game and the regular game will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Evans expressed his usual warning with the Paul team, "Paul and his friends are a tough crowd and are to be among the best by rough, representative of the Paul schools, who is regarded as an authority in this district."

GAME PROVES FEATURE OF JUNIOR GATHERING

School and Class Spirit Emphasized; Ninth Grade Wins at Basketball; Band Shows Good Progress

The assembly of the junior high Thursday was devoted to school and class spirit. During the assembly hour in the afternoon the entire student body of the junior school filled the gymnasium and spent the period singing their class and school songs and giving their yells.

The feature of the program was a basketball game between the eighth grade and the substitutes for the ninth grade. During the first half the younger players led the older team by a safe margin but the eighth grade scoring stopped when Meier and Kelly, regulars, entered and held the younger players scoreless in the last half with the final score reading 30-15 in favor of the sixth grade.

The music class school band of 22 players was also very much in evidence. Professor Bainbridge expresses his approval of the young organization this year, which he considers one of the best juvenile bands that he has had charge of.

The secret of Hollocher's demand against the Chicago club in refusing to sign until "the financial differences" between him and the Cubs had been adjusted, was revealed today when Hollocher said "that accruing amount of back salary" would have to be paid him before he would affix his signature to a contract. TWENTY-EIGHT MEN BRING WOMAN TO HOSPITAL

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 7. (AP)—Twenty-eight men, working in relays, were required to carry Mrs. Ray Prunty on a cot from Oxford, a remote town in Ritchie county, to the railroad station at Toll Gate, in order that she might be brought to a hospital here.

Impossible roads over mountains and through valleys made the primitive method of transportation necessary after the village doctor had decided the woman needed hospital treatment. Mrs. Prunty suffered from exposure but hospital physicians said today that she would recover.

Gift of Clothing Believed Rifled at German Border

Ogden Man Sent $2,000 Worth of Clothes to Russians; Gets Old Shoes Back

OGDEN, Feb. 7. (AP)—Two years ago Jacob Greenband, wealthy Ogden hosiery dealer, and his wife shipped 13 bundles of clothing, valued at about $2000, to 13 families in Russia. Relative to whom the packages were consigned have since written to say they never received the bundles.

A few months ago Greenband started to investigate. He found that the packages seemingly had never left a custom house on the German-Russian frontier.

Saturday five packages were returned to his home here. The wrappings were those of the original bundles, but the contents, Greenband says, consisted mostly of ragged and matted clothing. One of the bundles was three pairs of shoes, out of the 72 pair shipped. He does not know where the other seven bundles are, but has placed the case in the hands of his attorney.

COOLIDGE APPROVES MARKETING SCHEME

He told the conference "that it would be unfortunate for the farmer if he became imbued with the idea that cooperative marketing in itself is a panacea for all agricultural ills." While a wisely managed co-operative association can be most helpful in many ways, he said, its "operations will be amenable to economic law as those of other business enterprises."

A tremendous problem awaits solution in crop mortgages and farm tenancy, Carl Williams, president of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, said in urging appointment of a special group by the conference for a study of these questions.

The threat of the money lender to "make the farmer sell his crop at harvest is keeping the majority of American farmers in virtual bondage," Mr. Williams said, adding that the remedy for the situation lay with the education of the money lender to permit the crops to "move in an orderly manner through the co-operative."

Thomas E. Wright, general manager of the New York Canning Crops association, said that the growers must be taught that the co-operative organization is not a form of socialism or a "red" movement on the basis of service. He advocated an educational campaign in the interest of the co-operative movement and declared standardization of products and strict honesty with the public based on the right type of management were essential to its success.

Testimony introduced by physicians at the inquest was that Stackman, while in a state of coma, mumbled, "My sweetheart and I had a falling out; I did it."

Along the treasury department and that J. W. McCarty, former assistant register, had complained of being charged for bringing complaint of alleged irregularities to the notice of treasury officials. Brewer also charged spurious securities had been issued and that duplicate bonds had been traced "to treasury sources from surrendered bonds stolen from the treasury vaults."

Says Harding Knew Facts

The report of Brewer disavowed that he had caused the dismissal of bureau employees by President Harding and set forth that the president had been informed of "many irregularities" at the bureau before Brewer entered the case.

Treasury Officials Said Today That the Department of Justice Would Make Reply to Brewer's Suit

Among the conclusions Brewer said he drew from his investigation were these:

"There are about 3,000 known years of duplicate bonds and about 4,000 known pairs of duplicate coupons. Duplicates still coming."

"That duplicates are being held by parties with guilty knowledge awaiting destruction of the bonds which would prove their duplicity."

"That much that could be told has been held back by employees who fear the consequences."

"Were Decided"

"That treasury officials from the start have given no real effort to officially determine the cause of duplication; that some impelling motive has caused them to intimidate employees; to join other enemies of the writer in other fraud cases who are officially on record as seeking his discharge for two years; and to themselves attack him in the public press; and to falsely assail his honor in the same medium; to defy President Harding, to deceive Mr. Mellon, and to temporarily deceive President Coolidge."

While the charges of Brewer, the denials of Secretary Mellon and the threats of congressional investigation filled the air today, the employees discharged by President Harding and later exonerated, called on Secretary Mellon, and on Attorney General Cummings, who have been active in their behalf, to make complaint, that they had not been reinstated. Secretary Mellon has announced they would be given re-employment.

PLANS STARTED FOR MEMORIAL TO WILSON

Little scenes there of his early triumphs. Perhaps there will come from all of this discussion a movement to erect to his memory at some appropriate place a memorial that is not also a tomb as the Washington monument and the Lincoln memorial mark in Washington, the respect and admiration of the nation for great men who are buried elsewhere.

But that is a question which only time and the development of opinion can answer.

PROMINENT MEN ARE DEFENDANTS

Alleged Wave of Immorality in California City-Culminates in Sixteen Complaints

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Investigation of an alleged wave of immorality which carried on its crest several business men and high school boys in Pomona, near here, resulted today in the issuance of 16 complaints against prominent residents of that place and the announcement by District Attorney J. W. Jones that 20 more complaints will be issued tomorrow.

The persons named in the complaints are ordered to appear at once in the juvenile court to answer charges contributing to the delinquency of young girls. Bail in the sum of $3000 was fixed for each of the defendants.

Two police officers already have been discharged from the Pomona police department on charges growing out of alleged poker and liquor parties in which, it was charged, young girls figured.

The ages of persons in complaints so far issued, according to the district attorney, range from 18 to 25 years, but those persons named in the complaints to be issued tomorrow are said to be older business men.

EXPLAINS TROUBLES OF NORTHWEST FARMERS

Editor and Publisher of Breeder's Gazette Calls Attention to Primary Cause of Financial Difficulties in Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming; Too Many Banks Contribute to Difficulties

(By National Press Association)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—One of President Coolidge's recent callers was Alvin H. Sanders, of Chicago, editor and publisher of the Breeder's Gazette. Sanders, who had been making, for some time, a careful study of conditions throughout the country, today said:

"The sorest spot on the map, financially speaking, is the northwest; more especially, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and adjacent areas. Attempted liquidation of loans, precipitating bank failures because the enforced disposition of the collateral security has not netted enough to take up the obligation.

"The outpouring of all classes of range cattle during the last months was too great for the central markets to absorb at anything like normal figures. There was no outlet for breeding stock except through the gates that led to the slaughtering pens. This was a deplorable situation, too sure to be reflected later on in a cattle shortage from that region."

Too Many Banks

"Wheat growers were hard-hit because of high production costs and low prices. In many cases the yield per acre was too meagre to admit of profit. The Dakotas were over-banked for one thing—one bank to every 400 or 500 people tells its own story."

"The whole situation up there is most distressing and I am glad to note that President Coolidge is apparently taking steps to extend government aid to the remaining institutions, by some form of co-operation between the federal reserve bank of that district and other governmental agencies. Unfortunately, aid comes too late to save many farmers and stockmen who have already been wiped out, but it will provide the necessary capital for getting a lot of crippled banks and some of their borrowers."

"The corn belt states are in better shape. Farmers who had avoided hard and other speculations and saved some of their war profits are coming through. They do not keep all their eggs in one basket. Diversified farming is the rule in the middle west. Last year's hog crop was marketed at a fine profit and this year corn is commanding a good price. Western sheep and wool men have been enjoying real prosperity and should continue to prosper unless the fact of tariff reduction sets them into a panic. It is certainly to be hoped that this does not occur at this time."

Surtax Is Main Feature

"The country seems slowly waking up to the fact that the most important single feature of the tax-reduction bill, suggested by Secretary Mellon is the surtax feature. Even the more extreme advocates of high surtaxes are now conceding that the effort at reaching the great masses of the wage-earning classes through that means has failed. President Coolidge is standing firmly for 25 per cent as a maximum. He is right in asserting that any higher rate than that will not call out and make any available for productive enterprises, except that basis, millions of money now locked up in tax bonds will be released to flow into active business operations and farm mortgages. The bill will then begin to pay their share of the income tax, but at the same time, young men, all soldiers on some proposed by politicians, maneuvering for support party advantage, they will prefer to pay bonds with surtax bonds and the burden will thus be shifted to the backs of those less able to bear it."

It will thus be noted that the farm editor has not been led astray by the demagogues, who in their efforts here in Washington to fool the people in the matter of high surtaxes which would really place the greater burden of taxation on persons with a small income.

WOODROW WILSON

History alone can tell whether Woodrow Wilson was the sorry figure he appeared in the eyes of his enemies or the superb hero he loomed in the eyes of his friends, whether he was merely stubborn and self-opinionated, or whether he was animated by a vision so far ahead of the time that his impatiently with the inability of the average man in political life to keep up with him was but a minor detail in his effort to make real for all humanity a far-advanced ideal of democracy and peace.

On these matters, no man living is fitted to speak with authority.

But as to the fact that America has lost a great mind, a man who loved his country supremely, and who was martyred by war as definitely as any soldier on the European battlefield, there need be no two opinions.

The death of Wilson at this time is in no way to be regretted. His body, shattered by carrying too long the terrible burden of war, was but a bit of "broken machinery," ready to be laid down. Those who hated Wilson, and those who loved him, those who agreed with him and those who mistrusted him, unite in wishing speed to his spirit, undergoing the Great Release.

RIGHT OF WAY
ENGINEER HERE

Short Line Representative Confers with Local Railroad Committee on Work Ahead

Practically all yesterday afternoon was spent by the local railroad committee in conference with Right of Way
Engineer T. C. Bult of the Oregon Short Line over the matter of the securing of the necessary right of way for the Wells-Rogerson line.

Ownership of the right of land from one terminal to the other was carefully scrutinized. Just what steps the local committee will be called upon to take, however, has not yet been decided upon nor will they be for some days as a number of details remain to be considered.

Right of way for that portion of the line within the state of Idaho has all been secured with the exception of one privately owned piece, title to which will be definitely secured in the near future, and some school land which will require condemnation proceedings.

The land traversed by the Wells-Rogerson line is very largely owned by the Utah Construction company through whose property the road runs for miles.

Some further land through which the road will pass is held under grant by the Central Pacific and the road grades within Wells and Elko are privately owned pieces will be traversed.

Land secured to date in Idaho has cost practically nothing, and little if any further expense is likely in connection with those pieces remaining to be secured within this state. The matter of the Nevada lands has not yet been taken up.

Sugar Makers Offer
Fifty-fifty Division

Amalgamated Company's 1924
Contract Provides for Equal Division of Profit with Growers

The Amalgamated Sugar company, under provisions of its 1924 contract announced here Monday, will divide a fifty-fifty basis with the beet growers the profit from the sale of this season's sugar production, and guarantee to the growers a minimum price of 40¢ per ton for their beets. It is estimated that the growers, under the new contract, will receive around 50 cents per ton for their beets this year under last year's contract which provided for 42-62 division of the profits, the manufacturer taking the longer end.

The new contract will be submitted to the growers beginning next week, it was announced. A minimum of 6000 acres of beets to insure operation of the Twin Falls factory this year will be sought, while through its factories at Twin Falls, Burley and Pocat-to, the Amalgamated company is in possition to handle the crop from 25,000 to 30,000 acres of beets.

COMMERCE BODY
GETS FREIGHT
RATE REVISION

Oregon Short Line Adopts New Tariff Giving Local Jobbers
Even Break with Competitors, Directors Are Told

Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce directors at a regular meeting Tuesday evening were advised by a communication received that day by the secretary that the Oregon Short Line had been authorized in response to representations made by the chamber of commerce, has adopted a new freight tariff containing a set of distributing rates to and from Twin Falls that will be equivalent mile for mile with the rates fixed for Pocatello and Boise.

The exact date at which the new rates will be made effective was not stated in the communication received by the chamber, but assurance was given that the matter would not be long delayed.

Outs for Inequality.
The new tariff is expected to remedy the present situation under which local jobbers are required to pay more for shipping goods to market for the Wood River region and other surrounding territory, than do competing jobbers situated a greater distance from these points.

Representations made by the local chamber of commerce in support of the request for equalization of rates included a detailed schedule setting forth existing rates which operate to the disadvantage of Twin Falls jobbers. It was shown, for example, that local jobbers pay on 100 pounds of first class freight to Pocatello $1.03, while Boise jobbers shipping the same freight to the same destination would pay $1.23 cents and Pocatello $1.22 cents.

Reach Out for Territory.
Grasping an opportunity to divert a greater volume of tourist travel through Twin Falls, the chamber's directors Tuesday evening voted to become affiliated with the Western Golf Tennis and Tourist Routing association, which has been organized to attract the directing of tourists over a route from Los Angeles, through Tonopah, Wells and Contact, Nevada, to Twin Falls, Idaho, and on to the Yellowstone national park. More than 10,000 camps on which this route is plainly indicated will be distributed to the association during the coming season.

In this connection, and upon recommendation of C. E. Lind, chairman of the roads department, a resolution was adopted urging members of the Idaho legislature to take steps to secure improvement of roads in national parks.

Oppose Tax Proposal.
Idaho's senators and representatives in congress also have been urged by the local chamber of commerce, according to report made by T. J. Lloyd, to oppose their influence against adoption of a provision of the Mellon tax revenue act which would require the right to make income tax returns on the basis of community property in the seven states recognizing community property rights of which Idaho is one. Effect of the Mellon provision in this respect, it is contended, would be to increase income taxes on persons entitled in this state to file returns on the community property basis.

For Merchants' Carnival.
Women of the Twentieth Century club were assured of the cooperation and support of the chamber of commerce in the proposed Merchants' Carnival to be held here next month, and the chamber president was authorized to appoint a committee to work with the women's organization in this undertaking.

The directors also heard a detailed explanation given by M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, and a member of the chamber directorate, of the effect of recent legislation requiring authorization by the electors at a special election for levying of tax in excess of 8 mills for operation of schools.

Cost of public school operation, status and prospects of the American Falls reservoir project and importance of the dairy industry to southern Idaho were topics of discussion at the community dinner served in Tom's cafe Thursday evening in connection with the university farm life institute in progress here.

The speakers were M. G. Mitchell, superintendent of Twin Falls schools; W. F. Alworth, secretary of the American Falls reservoir district; board of directors, and Gustav Kunze, Buhl, founder of the Clover Leaf cheese factory at Buhl and president of state and national dairymen's associations. E. L. Ashton, a member of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of arrangements for the community dinner, presided.

Impulses No Tax Boost.

Twin Falls board of education, Mr. Mitchell said, under provisions of a new state law, this year must apply to the voters of the district instead of to the state board of education, as in the past, for authorization to lay a sufficient tax levy to meet operating expenses of the schools for the coming year. This, he explained, does not imply an increased expenditure for this purpose.

Request for authorization of a levy deemed sufficient to operate the schools next year will be laid before the voters of the district at an election within the next few weeks. If the request is denied, Mr. Mitchell said, revenues for operation of the schools next year will be limited to a sum approximately $40,000 less than the amount actually expended last year when expenses were so severely curtailed that school authorities here were warned that the standing of the local high school on the accredited list was in jeopardy.

Upon suggestion of C. E. McGinnis, chairman of the board of education, Mr. Mitchell cited statistics showing expense per pupil per month in the Twin Falls high school at $8.04, was less last year than in 16 out of a total of 21 Idaho high schools with enrollment of 200 or more pupils. Mr. McGinnis presented figures showing expense per pupil per month throughout the entire school system in Colorado at $10.13 as compared with a cost of not to exceed $7 in Twin Falls schools.

Cows Basis of Stable Values.

Recalling his prediction made in 1912 when Twin Falls county land that sold for $10 an acre is now worth $250 an acre, Mr. Kunze stated that he had been his prediction on the value of the land when used for dairy purposes. His prediction, he said, had been fulfilled, but land values had fallen when cows were shipped out of the country in excess of the price of wheat at $2.50 per bushel. Now, he said, wheat is selling at $1 per hundred pounds and cows are coming back. "The cows are coming back this time to stay," he declared, "and when there are 10 cows on each 80-acre farm to consume the roughage necessarily produced on it, there will be no more periods of depression for the Twin Falls country."

Project Prospects Brighter.

Status of the American Falls project has been materially improved as a result of the approval by the house of representatives of the appropriation of $2,000,000 for the project. Mr. Alworth stated: "It is true," he said, "that the amount of the appropriation was left for the senate to supply; but we believe and have reason to believe, that the attitude of the senate as a whole toward the project is a friendly one."

Baby Fires Dwelling With Coal Oil Paint.

Timely Arrival of Mother Saves Little Tots when Youngster Dabs Stove with Kerosene

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lovelock, 151 Quincy street, undertook Thursday afternoon to paint the kitchen stove, using an open can of kerosene in which his father had recently cleaned some paint brushes. The mother entered the room just as the kerosene spilled over on the kitchen stove where the little fellow had put it. She snatched up the young painter and a younger child and carried them to safety. Flames destroyed the kitchen and an adjoining bedroom with most of the contents. The fire department truck was hindered by almost impassable roads but arrived on the scene in time to have approximately one-half of the dwelling and family beds and bedding destroyed.

Farm Problem Solution Seen in Vision of Service

Plea for Dedication of Individual Effort Toward Stabilizing Rural Population Marks Conclusion of Second Day Sessions of Farm Life Institute Here; Hen and Cow Get Innings

Dedication of individual effort toward solution of the farm problem through ministering to service, as well as moral and religious needs, as well as economic requirements of rural communities was urged by the Rev. E. Lloyd Roberts, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Jerome, in an address Thursday evening which closed the second day's sessions of the farm life institute here in which the University of Idaho and the Twin Falls Chamber of commerce are co-operating.

"The time will come," Mr. Roberts declared, "with the development of a broad vision of service, when men will no longer be farmers, but will be new order men to be ministers. Men will come to appreciate the world's dependence on farming, and men will become farmers through a sense of duty and because of recognition of the fact that farming is one of the greatest fields of human service."

Define Farm Problem.

The farm problem, Mr. Roberts said, is one of getting standard men and women to remain permanently on the farm and be satisfied to remain there. It must be shown, he said, that there are as big fields for achievement on the farm as in any other sphere of human endeavor.

"The man with the vision and dynamic energy to put electric lights in every farm home in the Twin Falls country," he said, "will do more than almost anyone else to bring about a new era where the farmer will be pointed by a rural citizenship that is satisfied and desirous of remaining on the farm."

Spiritual Needs Figure.

"Desire," the speaker said, "is one of the most effective of human motives. If a man is content to drive to town in a lumber wagon, his farm will produce only a lumber wagon, but if he is soiled with the desire to drive a Ford, he will make his farm produce the price of a machine."

Human desire, Mr. Roberts continued, is not confined to material things, nor will the placing of all one's dependence on a farm home solve the farm problem. There remains, he said, to be reckoned with the human need on the sides of the intellect, social instincts and moral and religious aspirations. Among agencies ministering to these needs the speaker mentioned the university, free traveling library, radio communication and social organizations such as the grange.

"There can be no better monument erected to the memory of any person," he declared, in conclusion, "than the recognition that some of service will be done in community building."

Mr. Roberts' address was preceded by an interesting talk on "Husbands Rights," by Miss Katherine Jensen of the university extension division. Reviewing several concepts of the marital relation, Miss Jensen declared that sacrifices of autocratic prerogative on the part of the male member of the matrimonial concern had been amply compensated by his recognized sharing of responsibility with the wife of the family welfare.

Steele Cow and Hen.

Steele was laid in discussion led by Dean Moore, poultry husbandman, and F. W. Atkinson, university professor of dairying, in Thursday's institute sessions, upon the hen and the cow as important factors in the agricultural industry.

A new attendance record for the institute was set Thursday afternoon, when Parish hall was comfortably filled by the audience assembled to participate in these discussions.

"The Hen as a Relief From the Tax Burden," was the topic of Mr. Moore's address at the forenoon session, and in the afternoon he spoke on "Giving the Hen a Square Deal." Mr. Moore illustrated his remarks with pointed reference to instances of individual success attained in connection with the development of the poultry industry in Idaho from the standpoint both of production and marketing.

The future development of south Idaho is intimately associated with the advancement of its dairy industry, and southern Idaho, because of its natural advantages for dairy products, is destined to become an important dairy center, "whether we go into dairying or someone else does," Professor Atkinson told the institute. He spoke in the forenoon on "The Market that Beats the Freight Game—the Cow," and in the afternoon on "Cooperation With the Cow."

R. E. Brossard, Twin Falls county agricultural agent, spoke briefly of production of beans, as an industry of growing importance in the Twin Falls region.

Music Is Feature.

In connection with Thursday's institute sessions, an interesting feature was the musical program in which Miss Florence Selsby, appearing in the stand of Miss Adair of the university faculty, sang several numbers, at both forenoon and afternoon sessions.

Two-day sessions of the women's sections, over which Mrs. W. F. Alworth presided, were concluded Thursday with making of arrangements for formation through women's organizations here of millinery classes next month, to be followed by other activities under the leadership of home demonstration workers.

The women were addressed Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Nina Huxley Turley, and Miss Katherine Jensen.

Closes Muddy Road to Heavy Traffic

State Commissioner Orders Trucks of 5000 Pounds Gross Weight Off Highway Gap

Coincident with word reaching here Thursday that the heavy motor stage operating between Twin Falls and Buhl had been dragged by a team of 10 horses out of a mud-hole making an unimproved gap in the state highway between Piler and Buhl, word was received at chamber of commerce offices here from W. J. Hall, Idaho commissioner of public works, of the issuance of an order closing this stretch of road to all traffic in excess of 5000 pounds gross weight until further notice.

Issuance of this order followed a assurance given by Commissioner Hall on Wednesday to Shad L. Hodge, Twin Falls mayor, that the state highway department would take immediate steps to make possible the use of road.

Commissioner Hall's order closing the road is as follows:

Owing to the soft condition of approximately 1.54 miles westerly from the west end of the Piler highway disconnection, no payment, it has become necessary to close the road to all traffic in excess of 5000 pounds gross weight, including vehicle and load.

Local description of this section might be given as that portion of the state highway between the F. T. Piler ranch and the west end of the concrete pavement out of Piler.

It is therefore hereby ordered that no traffic in excess of 5000 pounds gross weight, including load and vehicle, will be permitted to move over this section of the state highway until further notice. Signs will be placed on the state highway on the southwest corner of the Buhl townsite and the two roads leading into Piler from the south side of the Piler townsite, which signs will indicate that the section of the road herein mentioned is closed to traffic in excess of 5000 pounds gross weight.

NEBEL AND GIRL DENY KIDNAPING

Trial of Contact Man Involving Alleged Abduction of Child Attracts Crowd

Joe Nebel of Contact, Nevada, commonly known as "Spooky Joe," on trial in district court here Thursday on a charge of kidnaping 11-year-old Vernora Darling of Rogerson, last December, heard the child in the case testify that Nebel had not influenced her to come to his cabin where she spent the night and was found the following morning by her mother, Mrs. Fred Craig, and the officer who took Nebel in custody.

The girl was introduced as a witness for the state, after the prosecution had offered the testimony of the mother and of the driver of the car in which she and the arresting officer traveled to Nebel's cabin.

Nebel then took the witness stand to testify in his own behalf. Under questioning by his attorney, W. P. Guthrie, Nebel related his story of the girl's visit to his cabin and traced his own relationship with the child and her family. Nebel testified that his attitude toward the girl was wholly one of friendship. He said he did not go to bed on the night of her visit to his cabin, but made repeated effort to persuade her to return to her home.

Holds Back Witnesses.

Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor began cross-examination of Nebel just before the evening recess, and will resume questioning of the accused man when the trial is resumed this morning. It was stated at the prosecuting attorney's office that testimony of a witness, the witness probably will have offered today in rebuttal of the defense evidence.

The trial attracted to the court-room Thursday afternoon a greater number of spectators than have heretofore been in attendance during the present term of court.

Selection of the jury, for which a special venire was required, was completed Thursday forenoon. Members of the panel are F. H. Black, F. W. Mackey, Lou Manly, J. C. Beauchamp, J. G. Barkley, G. E. Thameret, D. Patrick, L. S. Schneider, F. D. Brown, E. H. Snyder, W. O. Smith, W. S. Parish.
