

WITNESS LIST IN HEARSE QUIZ IS LENGTHENED

Private Line of Communication Maintained by McLean, is Revealed; Telegrams Read; Expect Daugherty to Quit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Another Pandora's box was opened today in the oil scandal.

As a result, new fields for exploration were discovered and the list of committee witnesses was appreciably augmented.

A chief development was the reading into the records of a sheet of telegrams sent to Edward M. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, at Palm Beach last December and January by his agents and others in Washington. These disclosed persistent efforts were made on behalf of McLean to keep him off the witness stand in the oil inquiry and that in this connection attempts were made to bring pressure on Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, chief figure in the investigation.

Know All Facts.

There was also evidence that McLean was kept constantly advised as to developments in the inquiry and as to the movements and policies respecting the investigation of Albert B. Fall to whom the publisher at one time said he had loaned $100,000.

From the telegrams the committee learned also that D. W. Smithers, chief communications officer at the White House, had been employed to man the Washington and of a telephone wire which was installed between this city and McLean's Palm Beach cottage.

One of the arguments advanced to the publisher in favor of the private wire was "easy and quick access to the White House," and another was the "congressional situation."

Advised McLean.

In this same message sent by John J. Major, one of McLean's secretaries, under date of December 22, the publisher was advised that C. B. Buecum, secretary to President Coolidge was looking that night for Palm Beach.

Mr. Buecum has testified that he talked about oil matters with McLean at Palm Beach and advised him to "get it all out" in his testimony before Senator Walsh at the Florida resort.

Additional telegrams to McLean will be read into the record tomorrow. Senators said that one would show that an agent reported to the publisher that A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, and acting for McLean, would try to have "Underwood" use his influence with Senator Walsh in McLean's behalf.

A telegram to be read tomorrow and signed by the publisher, says, according to committee men, that Francis McAdoo, a New York lawyer, or his father, William G. McAdoo, another candidate for the presidential nomination, had been his attorney for several years.

Smoot Makes Disclosure.

Before the committee went into session, Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, former chairman of the committee, disclosed publicly that he was advised in advance by J. W. Zovely, personal counsel for Harry F. Sinclair, the E. I. Doherty was coming to Washington, clear up the matter of the $100,000 loan.

At the same time Senator Smoot told of a visit he and Chairman Leavitt made to Fall's apartment at a hotel here during the Christmas holidays for the purpose, they said, of urging him to tell the committee where he got the funds to improve and enlarge his New Mexico ranch holdings.

Both declared there was nothing serious about the matter.

ret about their visit and that they told several members of the committee about it.

EXPECT DAUGHERTY TO QUIT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Attorney General Daugherty will remain for the present a member of President Coolidge's cabinet, but he will be expected to retire to private life as soon as the senate has completed its inquiry into his administration of the department of justice.

His determination not to resign without a hearing on the charges against him was reaffirmed today in the face of growing pressure for his removal. He even refused to promise that he would vacate his post upon termination of the senate inquiry, but it was apparent in other quarters that any plan for his retention beyond that time had been abandoned.

TYPED LOVE LETTERS

SHOCK SOCIAL MENTOR

PARIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Andre de Fouquieres, who is universally accepted in France as the highest authority on social etiquette, has been asked his ruling whether a member of society, of the male sex, should use a typewriter for a letter to another member of society, of the female sex. If the letter is not strictly limited to business matters.

Decidedly not, says M. de Fouquieres. "The most elementary proper feeling and the simplest courtesy exact that any such letter be written by hand," he declares. "It is impossible even to imagine a typed letter being addressed to a woman, although the contents might be more commonplace; how much more inconceivable, then, would a typed letter be if it expressed tender affections! Such a letter is bad form in that it allows the supposition that it may have been dictated to a third person."

COMPROMISE ON TAX BILL URGED BY LONGWORTH

Numerous Conferences Among Congressmen Held as Final Action Approaches; Insurgents to Study New Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Approach of final action on the revenue bill in the house brought forth a whirl of conferences among republicans today in a feverish attempt to unite their forces for a stand against the democratic income rates. A compromise advanced by the organization leaders was the subject of the conferences held after the house adjourned following the Harding memorial services, without consideration of the bill on the floor.

Representative Longworth, republican leader, after presenting his compromise to insurgent leaders at a meeting with the steering committee, said the situation was unchanged, with the prospects of republican gaining sufficient strength to defeat the Garner rates a toss-up.

Peace Wants Time.
Representative Fear, republican insurgent, Wisconsin, said later that the insurgent group, which agreed at a meeting today to reopen negotiations for a compromise, would study the plan further.

Meanwhile Secretary Mellon met with republican leaders of both the senate and house to discuss the future of the bill. He was advised not to expect the senate to reduce any income surtax rates voted into the bill by the house. Plans were made, however, to facilitate consideration of the measure when it reached the senate.

Those present at the meeting included Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee; Speaker Gillette of the house; Representative Longworth and members of the house republican steering committee.

Compromise Plan.
The compromise presented by Mr. Longworth called for a flat 25 per cent reduction in the surtax rates in the existing law, with the same brackets retained. This would make the maximum rate 37.5 per cent on incomes in excess of $200,000, instead of the 25 per cent maximum on incomes in excess of $100,000 as proposed in the Mellon plan. The democratic minimum surtax is 44 per cent on incomes in excess of $50,000.

Lower Minimum.
The compromise further provides for a two per cent minimum normal rate, applying to incomes below $4,000, and six per cent above that amount. The Mellon rates were three and six per cent. The democratic rates in the bill are two per cent on incomes below $5,000; four per cent on incomes between $5,000 and $25,000 and six per cent on incomes above that amount.

Mr. Longworth said he had been assured by the treasury the compromise would raise sufficient revenue for government needs.

Largest California Bank Will Be Under Employees' Direction

President of Bank of Italy Announces Change in Control of Big Institution

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Control of the Bank of Italy, California's largest bank in financial resources and eighth ranking financial institution in the United States, gradually is to be passed to its employees. It was announced recently by A. P. Giannini, the president. This step, he said, would be epoch making in bank management.

Giannini started in the bank 20 years ago as a small loan officer. Today this San Francisco bank has 75 branches throughout California, with deposits exceeding $300,000,000. The bank has 485,000 individual depositors.

The bank of Italy has more than 2000 employees, most of whom now own stock, according to Giannini, but his plan will assist every employee in obtaining additional stock holdings with the definite aim of eventual control passing to these workers. This is declared to be the first time a large banking institution has endeavored to turn over its affairs to employees.

Giannini was the first man in America to develop state-wide branch banking to a great success. He will retire from the presidency of the bank October 17 next, when he will become chairman of the executive board. His resignation, he said, was to relieve him from banking details, "to give the younger fellows a chance," and to allow him time to work out the profit sharing ownership plan.

CHURCH LEADER LAMENTS MODERN TREND OF YOUTH

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP)—One phase of what has been called the "revolt of youth" today may be truthfully called the "collapse of restraint," according to Dr. W. B. Ewald, corresponding secretary of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church.

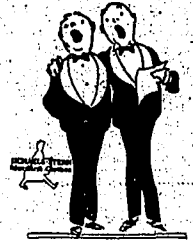

"Parents have almost quitted raising their children; teachers have no badge of authority; and society in general refuses to train up children in the way they should go," Dr. Ewald asserts.

"Even moral distinctions are denied if they offer the slightest barrier to the complete satisfaction of life's many appetites."

"Any hesitation to follow one's natural instincts to the fullest is branded as cowardice or hypocrisy. This teaching is finding its way into the thinking and living of our day."

In this critical transition of authority it is our solemn duty to arouse the teaching capacity and kindly to a flame the spiritual devotion of the church in order that the on-coming generation may have an adequate personal experience of God."

ANNUAL STATE HOOP TOURNEY IS SCHEDULED

Interscholastic Tournament to Be Held at Moscow on March 14 and 15; Teams from All Parts of Idaho Listed

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Feb. 27 (Special to The News)—The annual state interscholastic championship basketball tournament is scheduled to be held in Moscow at the University of Idaho, beginning Friday and Saturday, March 14 and 15, according to word received by the athletic department of the university from the office of the state interscholastic board of control.

Basketball teams winning district championships in tournaments in the seven districts into which the state has been divided will compete in the meet here for the state title, which last year went to the Moscow high school quintet.

As in the past, the university athletic department, through Athletic Director R. L. Mathews, will handle local arrangements as representatives of the state association, whose officers are: Superintendent M. O. Mitchell of Twin Falls, Superintendent B. L. Cherry of St. Maries, and Superintendent C. J. Ray of Caldwell.

In arranging for the tournament this year a new district has been created, known as the east central district, and comprising Challis, Mackay, Arco, Salmon, Leadore, and smaller schools in the general territory of Ouster, Loni, and Butte counties. Other districts are essentially the same as in former years, four in southern Idaho and two in northern, with Sandpoint, Coeur d'Alene, Mullan, Kellogg, Wardens, and other adjacent schools comprising one of the northern divisions, and Lewiston, Moscow, Coldspring, Orofino and Grangeville the other.

Southern District
In the south, Pocatello, Blackfoot, Shelly and Aberdeen are leading cities in the extreme southeast section; Idaho Falls, Rexburg, Ashton, Rigby and Rupert comprise the second section; Twin Falls, Buhl, Burley, Piler and Driggs are the principal schools in the third district; while Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Mountain Home, Water and Estacada constitute the remaining southern district known as the Boise valley district.

Tourneys Scheduled
District meets will be held shortly in each of the seven districts to determine winners to compete in the state championship tourney here next month. The winning team in each tournament is similar to last year's, using the double-defeat system of elimination which necessitates any team being defeated twice before being eliminated from the pennant race. Not more than eight men may be carried by any team entering the state meet, rules of the state organization specify, which assure teams traveling great distances under financial handicaps an equal break with teams within comparatively short distances of Moscow.

Expenses of the teams entering the state tourney will be met as far as possible with funds remaining after all travel and local expenses attached to the meet, to be pro-rated to schools from the south and southeastern sections of the state. Members of visiting teams will be housed in the various hotels or fraternity homes on the campus while here.

WHOLE HOGG BURNS IN FILM SPECTACLE

One of the most stupendous film spectacles ever offered, will be seen at the Orpheum theater Monday. It is one of the sensational scenes in the highly dramatic super-production, "The Midnight Alarm."

LIKE SHAKESPEARE "DOUG" NEVER REPEATS

After all is said of the ability Douglas Fairbanks is continually displaying the performance of an actor as impossible as must not lose sight of the colossal nerve exhibited by him in his motion pictures.

There are occasions when at the spur of the moment the thought of the execution of a possible stunt may arise in his mind, a rehearsal of which would be superfluous as well as impracticable. According to his way of thinking, a perilous stunt successfully accomplished can be filmed when in operation for the first time. Hence, no need of repetition. If unsuccessful it courts dire disaster.

A case to illustrate this point can be seen in his latest United Artists production, "The Mark of Zorro," which will be shown at the Idaho theater beginning today. There is one scene in which "Doug" was to be pursued by a group of soldiers on the roof of a church. A method had to be devised of escaping capture that would serve an audience a real thrill.

OUR SCHOOLS

Now that the school tax election is happily over might be a good time to suggest a little closer degree of co-operation as between taxpayers and the Board from this time on with a view not only to bringing about a closer understanding of school matters on the part of the public but as a means of assisting in the shaping of school policies without waiting until the eve of an election to begin filing objections to Board activities.

The School Board should be, and is, thoroughly responsive to the public will. There is nothing in the attitude or actions of the Board to suggest the idea that the institution is the master rather than the servant of the taxpayers. In fact it is unfair to the Board as an institution for any considerable number of citizens to credit it with occult powers and the ability to "see into the minds of the people" without a single spoken word from the people themselves.

Yet this is exactly the view of a good many taxpayers. They are perfectly willing to withhold even a hint of their views as to school operation, yet carefully nurse every petty difference of opinion until the cumulative result manifests itself in a popular outbreak of opposition to this, that or the other Board proposition.

School Board sessions are held in the full light of day. Each and all are public meetings. Not only the results but the discussion at such meetings should be open to the public. Executive sessions are not contemplated under the law, and star chamber proceedings of any sort, if they are held at all, are usually for good and sufficient reason.

Those who object to the manner in which the schools are conducted have ample recourse at all times. No Board in the world will deliberately abuse its course in opposition to public opinion, but the mistake lies in the fact that public opinion fails to manifest itself over the period when it might do some good but proposes to wreak its wrath in the eleventh hour in one fell swoop—the twenty-four hours immediately preceding an election being the time generally chosen.

What is required is co-operation, not opposition. A good many grievances disappear in the light of a full understanding of the facts involved. There is never anything to be gained by ignoring the facts, and yet the tendency appears to be steadily in that direction with respect to public affairs.

Let there be plenty of criticism and plenty of commendation as well. The Board needs both and out of the clash of conflicting views will probably come a good average common-sense result which will be as close to the real popular majority view as it is possible to get.

But let's have it right along, not merely at election time.

TWO NEW CITIZENS

A cultured American woman who married a man born in England was by this marriage made a British subject, although the man had taken out his first naturalization papers and was well 66 by the time of his marriage. The lady, to regain her American status, has had to undergo naturalization herself, and was naturally very much interested in the process.

She was one of a group, the rest foreigners speaking very little English, when she was examined. The judge put her through quite a competent grilling. She was able to answer all his questions about the government, the Constitution, national and state affairs generally, save one. She did not know exactly how many members her state was entitled to send to the electoral college. This knowledge the judge supplied, and as she had answered the other questions correctly, he passed her.

The man preceding her in line was a Russian not less than fifty years of age. Asked whether he was an anarchist, he said no. Asked what was an anarchist, he said, "Man believe in nothing, he God, nothing at all." Asked what was the American form of government, he did not know. He said he could read, but was not asked to prove it. Asked what was his own name, he could not explain in English, and had to ask his witnesses to explain for him. A few personal questions were asked him, but the device examination was limited to those mentioned. The woman, naturally, supposed he had failed, and was amazed to find him preceding her again in the room where they all went to await allegiance, to receive the number by which their records are filed, and to be told to come back in sixty days for their final papers.

"Something must be wrong," said the woman. "For me, who could not possibly be a lot of politicians, everything was made difficult. For that man, ignorant of our language and government, everything was made easy."

BURTON SMITH
CHOICE FOR NEW CANAL MANAGER

Engineer and Canal Operator with Wide Experience in California Elected Successor to
J. C. Wheelon

Burton Smith, identified for several years as engineer and superintendent of the Turlock and South San Joaquin, California, irrigation districts, was Friday elected general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, at a salary of $350 per month, to succeed J. C. Wheelon, who is rounding out his sixth year in that position. The new manager will enter upon his position March 1, and will be assisted by a number of time longer to give such assistance as may be needed, it was announced.

Election of the new manager took place at a special meeting Friday of the canal company directors. Four out of the five members of the board voted for the new manager. The election was a close one, with the new manager being cast by William Cunningham, Buhl. Mr. Cunningham had previously had moved that Mr. Wheelon be retained as manager at his present salary of $7000 a year. The motion failed for lack of a second. Neither Mr. Buhl nor Mr. Cunningham were present at the board meeting.

Issues Proxy for Meeting.
In addition to its action with regard to the office of general manager, the board authorized issuance of a proxy to either Carl E. Blalock, president, or J. C. Wheelon, to represent the company at a meeting of Snake river water users to be held March 3 at Idaho Falls. Mr. Smith, the newly elected manager, has been a resident of Twin Falls since last fall, when he came here with a view to studying irrigation methods under Idaho conditions.

Mr. Smith was for seven years engineer and superintendent for the Turlock, California irrigation district, entering upon his work there in 1909, during a period of rapid colonization and development from dry farms or abandoned socially, and being put in operation on irrigation system which, according to engineers, was in 1902, wholly inadequate to meet the demands upon it and under conditions when every dollar had to be made to do the work of two.

Praised by Former Associate.
A. Griffin, now employed on Canadian Pacific reclamation project, and a former associate of Mr. Smith, in a letter replying to inquiry made by the Twin Falls canal directors, says Mr. Smith is the most experienced, most practical and most economical man in North America in irrigation management.

As engineer and superintendent of the Turlock district, Mr. Smith was responsible for operation of canals having an area of 700,000 acres, and he became engineer and manager of the Oklahoma district with an area of 71,122 acres.

Makes Splendid Record.
Mr. Wheelon, the retiring manager, came to Twin Falls six years ago in response to a demand for the most competent canal operator that could be obtained for the Twin Falls system. Under his administration the canal system has been operated without a break; loss of water in transmission through the system has been reduced from 32 per cent in 1918, to 12 per cent in 1922, and a financial deficit of $304,330.28 at the close of the year 1917, was reduced and a surplus in the sum of $82,956.98 had been accumulated at the close of 1923. Maximum debt of $182,000 at the close of 1917 has been reduced to $105,000. During Mr. Wheelon's administration a budget system and application of the merit system in advancement of employees was adopted.

Mr. Wheelon is the owner of a large farm and stock ranch in the vicinity of Garland, Utah. He has indicated that he expects to devote his time in the future to the active management of this property.

Shagbark Valuable.
The shagbark hickory is one of our most valuable trees from many standpoints. It is the American Tree association of Washington. It is not, however, one of our largest, averaging at maturity from 60 to 80 feet in height, with a trunk diameter of from one and one-half to three feet. It is one of the most valuable trees in the country, and is known to reach a height of 120 feet.

RESULT OF THE VOTING ON SCHOOL TAX LEVY
Lincoln	Yes	No
Bleeker	434	181
Totals	917	415

Twin Falls independent school district voters, at a special election Tuesday, by vote of 917 to 415, authorized the district board to levy a school tax of 5 3/4 mills in addition to the 8 mills authorized by law for maintenance and support of Twin Falls school system. It is estimated that the additional levy will raise approximately $55,000.

May Levy 14 3/4 Mills.
Under authorization given by the voters at yesterday's election the board may levy a total of 14 3/4 mills for school operation and maintenance, and, according to statement of the board, the present standard of efficiency in the schools may be maintained. The levy authorized for next year is the same as that laid by the district directors for this purpose last year. A tentative budget for next year recently worked out by the board provides for expenditures in the amount of $275,000, an increase of approximately $30,000 provided for in this year's budget.

Heavy Vote Cast.
The vote cast in the election, aggregating more than 1300, is one of the largest ever polled in a school district election here. Magnitude of the vote is accounted for generally by the opposition expressed in statements published Monday evening in which it was asserted that if the levy were defeated the district would "still have enough money to run all schools efficiently."

Declines Explanation.
Responsibility for this statement was traced to C. E. Blalock, photographer, who declined to explain his statement at a meeting of Snake river water users to be held March 3 at Idaho Falls. Mr. Blalock, the newly elected manager, has been a resident of Twin Falls since last fall, when he came here with a view to studying irrigation methods under Idaho conditions.

Mr. Smith was for seven years engineer and superintendent for the Turlock, California irrigation district, entering upon his work there in 1909, during a period of rapid colonization and development from dry farms or abandoned socially, and being put in operation on irrigation system which, according to engineers, was in 1902, wholly inadequate to meet the demands upon it and under conditions when every dollar had to be made to do the work of two.

Crosses Early Millionaire.
CROSS, King of Lydia, in Asia Minor, was famous in antiquity for his great wealth. It is said that he was a rich man, and his wealth was derived from the gold mines of the River Pactolus, which flowed through his dominions, but the true source of his riches was antiquity found in the industry of the Lydian people. The value of his landed property has been estimated at $3,333,333. The expression, "As rich as Croesus," has passed into a proverb.

Congressman Smith Recommends Appointment of Veteran of Two Wars to Office Here

BOISE, Feb. 26.—According to Washington advices received here, Representative Addison T. Smith Monday recommended the appointment of P. W. McRoberts as postmaster at Twin Falls. Mr. Smith also recommended the appointment of Albert B. Bean as postmaster at Pocatello to succeed Lee M. Rusk, whose term will expire soon. Three candidates for the Twin Falls postoffice were certified by the civil service commission—P. W. McRoberts, first; M. A. Smith, second; and G. H. Sturgess, third. McRoberts was captain in the army during the Spanish-American war and held the same rank in the World war, receiving service in France. Mr. Smith recommended the appointment both on account of his high rating and because of his military record, he said. The nomination probably will go to the senate in a few days.

Too Late.
Now comes an Egyptianist with the declaration that Cleopatra was neither a beauty nor a rump, that she really thought she was married to Caesar, and that she was the mother of a son. It is too late to put this stuff before us, but we do to the "I am dying, Egypt, dying" era of civilization.

LOWER-FREIGHT TO ADVANTAGE OF TWIN FALLS

New Schedule of Commodity Rates Puts Local Shippers on Better Than Even Basis with Competing Centers

Freight reductions on commodity rates in less than carload lots which place Twin Falls on better than a parity with Boise in the case of shipments to many important centers are contained in a new schedule which goes into effect March 22, and which has just been received at the local freight office of the Oregon Short Line. The schedule was made public a few weeks ago, at which time a meeting was held and the entire situation pointed out in detail, with Shipl L. Hodgins, chief secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce representing this section.

Jobben Benefit Chiefly.
The new rates operate chiefly to the advantage of jobbers who ship to this time of year, which is to sell in a number of southern Idaho towns because of the lower rates prevailing on shipments from both Boise and Pocatello. Under the new schedule, Pocatello and Boise common points in this section.

INVESTOR HELD LIABLE TO PAY FOR EXPERIENCE

Instructed Verdict Awards $396
to Receiver for Defunct Co-
Operative Concern from Buhl
District Farmer

Joseph Abbl, Buhl district farmer, who executed his note for $300 in February, 1922, in payment for shares of stock in the now defunct Idaho Co-operative Beet Sugar company, is liable for payment of the note and interest amounting now to a total of $396.67, according to a verdict rendered Wednesday afternoon by a jury in district court here.

Abbl is one of a great number of farmers who were organized or organized by the company to build and operate a beet sugar factory in this region. It was announced at one time that a factory in Nevada was to be purchased by the company and moved to Elgin. Subscribers to stock in the concern alleged that none of the promises made to them by its representatives were carried into execution.

Obligations $40,000
The alleged Abbl, which is said to be the last, was presented by E. H. Cox as receiver for the defunct corporation. Mr. Cox testified during the trial that the total unpaid notes of the corporation's stock would exceed $40,000.

Some of the records and property of the concern were destroyed or damaged in a fire which gutted the second floor of the Smith-Rice building, Main avenue north, where the company maintained its offices, and a part of the evidence introduced in the trial. The Abbl case was a charred stock subscription agreement.

Soos Chance for Refund
Mr. Cox and his attorneys, Porter and Witham, fix the liability of the defunct concern on the basis of the fact, will permit of a substantial refund to subscribers to its stock, provided payment is made for all stock subscriptions. Subscribers, however, say, paid in cash the full amount of their subscriptions. In justice to such stockholders, the receiver and his attorneys argue, there should be a refund of the obligations for stock subscription in order that all subscribers may share alike.

Legal Parties Mark Trial
Trial in the Abbl case was marked by close fought legal battles, the jury being engaged occasionally while attorneys argued points of law. Under ruling following one such argument, the defendant Abbl, representing the Attorney A. W. Ostrom of Elgin, was denied the right to introduce evidence in support of his cross-complaint under which he claimed damages caused by the company in connection with his stock subscription; and finally, on questions of law, the court ruled that the jury must return a verdict for the plaintiff receiver. The trial occupied almost two entire days.

Deal in Sheep Taken Up
Following return of the verdict in the Abbl case a jury in the Buhl district court, presided by Judge E. Jones, against James S. Russell, involving Jones' claim for about $5000 in connection with financing purchase and feeding a band of sheep, and Russell's counter-claim for approximately $7,500 on account of Jones' alleged indebtedness to a Twin Falls bank of which Russell is an official. In the dispute brought to trial in this case, arbitrators were appointed at one time. Findings of the arbitrators awarding to Jones $500 of Jones' counter-claim, and the controversy was carried into the courts. The plaintiff Jones is represented by Porter and Witham, while Stephens and North appear as counsel for the defendant Russell.

The jury impasse in this case is composed of J. P. Johnston, H. J. Johnston, H. J. Barger, J. P. Jewett, Leo Manly, J. C. Beauchamp, M. E. Gamble, George P. White, G. E. Thamer, John Lundahl, C. L. Hart, P. A. Dean.

WATSON GETS JAIL TERM FOR THEFT OF HARNESS

Youth Who Alleged Confession That He Had Taken $100 in Riding for Liberty, Receives Sentence

Earl Watson, who pleaded guilty to theft of a set of harness taken from about February 2 last, was sentenced Wednesday by Judge O. P. Duvall in district court here to a term of 30 days in the county jail. Watson's alleged confession is said to have involved Fred Green, who will today be arraigned in district court on a charge of larceny in connection with the alleged theft of the harness. Immediately thereafter hearing will be held in district court on the application of the prosecuting attorney for revocation of parole to which Green was admitted last fall when he pleaded guilty before Judge T. Bailey Lee in district court at Burley to charge of burglarizing a chicken house in this county. Green was sentenced at that time to serve one to 15 years in the state prison.

Green was arrested here by members of the sheriff's force soon after he had taken Watson in custody at Buhl last week. Watson is now in custody of the county jailer under habeas corpus proceedings.
