

PROSPECTS FOR NEW FARM BILL NOT PROMISING

Republican Leader Sees No Possibility of Enacting Substitute for McNary-Haugen Measure at Present Session

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—After a consultation with President Coolidge, Representative Longworth, the republican leader, conceded tonight there was no possibility of enacting a satisfactory substitute for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill at this session of congress.

During the day Mr. Longworth and Representatives Tinch of Kansas and Sanders of Indiana, both members of the republican steering committee, had discussed with the president a plan they had evolved to place the marketing abroad of surplus wheat, flour and meat products in the hands of the war flange corporation and the war flange corporation had the substitute, proved acceptable to the president it would be pressed to a vote as an administrative measure.

"No announcement that no action would be taken was made after Frank W. Mondell, a war finance corporation director, fresh from a conference with Mr. Coolidge, had discussed the situation for more than an hour with Representative Longworth, Representatives Tinch, Sanders and Sianott, republican of Oregon.

"The announcement was available at the White House as to the president's views and Mr. Mondell declined to discuss the situation beyond stating that he had seen Mr. Coolidge to make an announcement. The statement issued by the majority leader follows:

"Since the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill in the senate, in consultation with many members of the house and the official representatives of the large farm organizations, I have been attempting to arrive at some satisfactory measure for the relief of the agriculture situation. We also have discussed the matter with the president.

"The large majority recorded against the McNary-Haugen bill made it evident that any legislative proposition embodying the basic principles of this bill could not be passed. While fully realizing the need for farm relief, and with the most earnest desire to bring relief as far as legislative possible, we have so far been unable to work out a plan which would command the necessary support."

TWO URGED FOR SECOND PLACE

Coolidge Describes Type of Man for Vice Presidency; Discuss Hoover and Lowden

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 4 (AP)—President Coolidge has sent direct word to the republican party managers here describing the type of man he wants for a running mate.

The president's word reaffirms his previous understanding that he wants a man of his own political mind and does not wish the national ticket to represent an attempt to recognize the insurgent wing of the party.

Mr. Coolidge has told those to whom he confided his wishes that the vice presidential candidate should be a man who could carry an assurance to the country that should he succeed to the presidency there would be no change in the fundamental policies of the administration.

With this in mind the party managers here are carefully making a convention canvass of available men who would be acceptable to the president and agreeable to the delegates are continuing to discuss Secretary Hoover and former Governor Lowden of Illinois who has been mentioned.

Slain Lad Debated Against Enforcing Capital Punishment

Robert Franks Sympathized With Criminals and Urged Reformative Measures.

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—Robert Franks, kidnapped and slain school boy on whom account the state is seeking indictments against two miners on two charges punishable by death, two weeks before his death debated against capital punishment. His team upped the negative, victorious, against a team including his brother Jack in a school debate on the question: "Resolved, That Capital Punishment is Justified."

"Would it not better serve the community," he asked, "to put weak and mentally deranged criminals in institutions where removal from society, they would no longer be a menace? Punishment should be reformative, never vindictive." Franks and teachers declared that his mother at his side said her son believed in his side of the question, sympathizing with all criminals. "Criminals agree that most criminals have diseased minds," he said in his debate. "Only God is permitted to take human life."

DAWES REPORT FAVORED

BERLIN, June 4 (AP)—Frankly denigrating the Dawes report as the pivotal point in Germany's foreign relation and reiterating the majority's adherence to its previous acceptance of the experts' recommendations as a basis for the approaching reparations negotiations, Chancellor Marx's statement in the reichstag today on the occasion of his reappearance at the head of the second cabinet bearing his name, was occupied with references to the nation's foreign relations as affected by the apportion of the Dawes report.

VOTE FUNDS FOR BIG DAM

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—A senate bill to make available $5,000,000 for the construction of a dam on the Gila river, near San Carlos, Arizona, was passed by the house tonight. The dam would provide water for the irrigation of 80,000 acres, the larger portion of which is in the Pima Indian reservation. The measure gives the lands in private ownership shall pay construction charges of the dam, amortized at 5 per cent interest over a 40 year period.

LEADERS TRIM FINAL PROGRAM OF LEGISLATION

Barest Essentials Only Included in Lineup for Action During Closing Days; Seek Reclamation Action.

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—A legislative program stripped to barest essentials for the final days of the present session was agreed upon today by leaders of both parties in congress. Favored measures of influential members were ruthlessly sacrificed in the pruning as developments pointed to much of the time remaining until adjournment at 7 p. m. Saturday being devoted to speeches for the Record.

Reclamation and naval modernization held the right of way with the farm relief given a prominent place in the lineup. The Ford bill to discontinue their fight for immediate consideration in return for a pre-ferred position on the calendar of the next session. Unanimous consent was given to make this question the unfinished business next December 3.

The program approved provides for passage, probably tomorrow, in the house of a separate measure of the reclamation-relief bill approved by the interior department and its consideration in the senate as a rider on the deficiency bill.

JURY TO VOTE ON INDICTMENT

Score of Witnesses Testify in Franks Case; May Close Hearing Today

CHICAGO, July 4 (AP)—A score of witnesses testified today before the grand jury which has been asked to indict Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, university students and sons of Chicago millionaires, for murder and kidnapping for ransom in connection with the slaying two weeks ago today of Robert Franks, school boy son of another wealthy Chicagoan.

It was expected tonight that the last witnesses will appear tomorrow and that the grand jury will vote then on the state's attorney's request for indictments on the two charges, each punishable by death if convictions are obtained.

Meanwhile the youths, who have confessed that they kidnapped and killed Robert Franks to obtain excitement and a $10,000 ransom for a trip to Europe, were in the custody of the police.

While members of the state's attorney's staff and detective investigated their possible connection with the slaying last fall of Freeman Louis Tracy, a university student, and the mutilation of Charles Ream, a taxi driver.

Detectives who have been investigating the slaying of Franks and the attack on Ream were waiting to appear before the grand jury in connection with the Franks case today but asserted they had found information that may connect the youths with these two crimes. They said they expect to resume their investigation tomorrow.

MEREDITH ON WITNESS STAND RENEWS DEAL

Former Secretary of Agriculture and Backer of Idaho Irrigation Project, Testifies Against Contractor's Claim

E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, testified Wednesday in a dispute over a $100,000 claim in connection with the building of the irrigation works for the Roosevelt project. The farm development company is seeking judgment for approximately $100,000, as the amount of difference between the actual and the contract price of the work together with the penalty. Claim of the construction company is based on an alleged oral agreement which it alleges superseded the written contract under which it was to build the dam and canals.

Denies Agreement as to Profit. Mr. Meredith's testimony tended to corroborate statement of John Monarch, president and manager of the construction company, that as to an understanding between himself and Monarch that Monarch might deviate from the contract to the extent of performing less work on certain portions of the irrigation works with corresponding increase of labor on other portions. Mr. Meredith insisted, however, that this understanding was not effective only insofar as deviations from contract provisions might be approved by the engineers in charge. He denied that there had been any agreement between himself and Monarch for payment of contractor's profit or completion of the work on a cost plus basis.

Witnesses testified Wednesday for the farm development company, in addition to Mr. Meredith, were W. B. Lawrence of the Edwin A. Willis company, accountants, who audited the books of both the farm development company and of the construction company following completion of the works about four years ago; W. G. Swenson, state commissioner of reclamation; John Badley, former Carey act engineer; William A. Gilman and Henry Hamming, engineers employed by the farm development company; E. Berg, engineer; Myron Swenson, employed by the farm development company as superintendent on the works after the time that the construction company is alleged to have defaulted its contract; and Edwin G. Boise, attorney for the farm development company.

Testimony of several of the witnesses was to the effect that the construction company was to build the dam and canals.

THE GUMPS—THE WOUNDED HERO

DAUGHERTY PUTS HALT TO INQUIRY

Former Attorney General Refuses to Appear Before Senate Investigators

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Former Attorney General Daugherty got an abrupt if perhaps only temporary stop to his storm marked course of the senate investigation of his official conduct today by refusing to appear as a witness and by withdrawing the attorneys who have represented him in the prolonged proceedings.

Paul Howland of Mr. Daugherty's counsel, read the statement of his client, charging that members of the senate committee had sought to blacken his reputation and injure his standing in an inquiry which an Ohio federal court had pronounced an illegal proceeding.

The absence of the tomb has forever rendered the direct denial of these slanders impossible. Mr. Daugherty said in a declaration that he had never during tenure of office "performed in any illegal, corrupt, or unethical way directly or indirectly."

Chairman Brookhart in an immediate denial declared the committee had proved the "existence of a criminal conspiracy in the household" of the former attorney general, referring to testimony concerning alleged activities of the late Joe W. Smith, Mr. Daugherty's companion.

Further, he said, the committee had shown by tax records that Mr. Daugherty on entering office had little property, but that in 1924 they had found evidence of $75,000 cash deposited to his credit in his brother's Ohio bank.

Such popularity must be deserved

OLD records to break, new ones to make! Grilling tests of speed, stamina, power! And for the winner—popularity, hard-won and deserved.

So with everything else. To win popularity even a cigarette must deserve it. Chesterfield, for example, has long been winning an average of over 1000 smokers a day.

One thing alone—Chesterfield's better taste—can account for such popularity.

C. C. Elliot is returning to Cliff Lake, Montana, from California, where he has been living for several months. He says that the hoof and mouth disease is not such a bad thing as most people think, for the drought has about killed the grass and the cattle are starving, and would be a total loss; but if they die of the hoof and mouth disease the owners will get something for them from the state and the government.

COURT UPHOLDS HAZZARD CLAIM TO POWER SITE

Decision Denies All of Adverse Contentions Urged by Mrs. Mary E. Syster to Clear Lakes Water Rights

Claim of W. O. Hazzard to waters of Clear Lake for power development purposes has been upheld by Idaho's supreme court in a decision written by Judge T. Bailey Lee of Burley, sitting in consultation with Justices Bugge, Dunn and William A. Lee. Copies of the decision were received here Tuesday by attorneys for Hazzard and his associates in the litigation which was instituted March 21, 1919, by Mrs. Mary E. Syster for cancellation of permits issued to Hazzard and for restraining order enjoining Hazzard and his associates from interfering with her rights under later permits which she sought, also, to have declared superior and prior to those claimed by Hazzard and his associates. The suit was tried before Judge H. P. Ensign in district court in Gooding county, and judgment of the trial court is affirmed by the supreme court except as to the earlier of the Hazzard permits which had previously been abandoned by Hazzard.

During the trial, the court found that with development of power rights claimed by Hazzard and his associates could be completed at a cost of $60,000 and that some $19,000 had been expended within the limit set by the state engineer. Application for extension of this time had been granted on Hazzard's representations that litigation over the property and water involved had prevented him from complying with the terms imposed.

Associated with Hazzard in this case were the Mutual Light, Heat and Power company; E. J. Finch, trustee, and the Farmers' Mutual Power company. Their attorneys were bothwell and Chapman, George Henriett and Turner K. Hackman, all of Twin Falls, and H. C. Wyman.

Attorneys for Mrs. Syster, whose claims are allowed to go forward at the instance of the Idaho Power company, were Hawley and Hawley, Richards and Hagg and C. T. Ward.

EFFICIENT USE BEING MADE OF WATER SUPPLY

Twin Falls Canal Company Manager Praises Waterusers on Vigilance in Irrigation Methods of Season.

Waterusers under the Twin Falls canal system are making efficient use of available water and operation of the system is running smoothly, it was stated Saturday by General Manager Burton Smith of the Twin Falls canal company.

Inspection made prior to the rainfall of last Thursday, Mr. Smith stated, showed little or no waste water running through spillways into Snake river, indicating that highly efficient use was being made of the water, in irrigation of growing crops. With the running of the showers, tendency toward less efficient use of water was observed, and some waste into the river was noted.

With 2770 feet of water available at Milner Saturday for the Twin Falls canal system, water deliveries were maintained at a scant 50 per cent of normal for this season, it was stated at the canal company's office. Measurements made at Milner in the upper valley indicated that the river was continually and rapidly falling.

Storage Water Released
Three thousand second feet of water was released Friday from Jackson lake reservoir, according to report of G. Clyde Baldwin, engineer, for that day and received Saturday at the office of the canal company here. All of the natural flow of the river that day amounted to 2940 second feet.

There remained in storage Friday at Jackson lake 471,550 acre feet of water, a depletion of 9,460 acre feet under the high point for the season recorded at 481,000 acre feet.

Measurement of the stream made at Howell's ferry, just below the Minidoka dam, showed Friday a total of 5240 second feet of water in the river. Water was being diverted to the North Side, 2770 feet being made available at Milner for this purpose.

SWEETLEY TELLS OBJECTIVES IN POWER DISPUTE

Attorney for Idaho Consumers Association Calls for Fair Rates on Fixed Basis and Safeguard of Resources.

A state public utilities commission that is crippled in consequence of reduced legislative appropriations, a power company that has both rights and interests, and public sentiment that is apparently apathetic are prime factors in the Idaho power rate situation as outlined before members of the Elitians club at a regular meeting Monday by Everett M. Sweetley, former president of Idaho's public utilities commission and now attorney for the Southern Idaho Power Users' association.

Mr. Sweetley was invited to address the club on the power situation from the viewpoint of the consumer and at its meeting last week the club has arranged to hear a representative of the Idaho Power company on the subject. Rates made effective last March, Mr. Sweetley said, were "unbalanced," while the Idaho Power company held the stop watch, and are "unbalanced," and "unjust."

"What we want and what we are after," Mr. Sweetley declared, "is to get those rates fixed upon a sound and fair basis so that they will stay fixed and make an end to this squabbling and confusion."

"And as a part of this work, we want to get a definite determination of how much of what this company is entitled to for the service of the people of Idaho, and how much of it has been to further the corporate aims of the Idaho Power company as dictated from New York."

"And then we want to get established in Idaho the policy that the natural resources of Idaho are to be kept and preserved for the people of Idaho, so that when, and as we need them, we won't be forced to compete with industries of other states for what is at our very doors."

As an instance of inequality, in the present rates, Mr. Sweetley stated that the Idaho Power company furnished power for irrigation in Oregon at a price 10 per cent less than the charge in Idaho. Utah, Nevada and Oregon, he said, are getting almost twice as much power from Idaho as is used by Idaho consumers. Idaho power users, he declared, ought not to be thrown in competition with Utah, Nevada and Oregon for the product of a natural resource of Idaho.

Company Makes Figures
Valuation of power development has been determined in Idaho as the basis upon which to compute power rates. Mr. Sweetley said this policy was decided in 1910, about two and one-half years after the formation of the Idaho Power company in which several competing companies combined to form a corporation which exercises practically monopolistic control over power development of south Idaho. Mr. Sweetley said the power company's estimate of the value of its property was completed last December. The utilities commission was not provided with funds for obtaining a check by the state engineer, could only check the power company's figures.

"The time and effort necessary to arrive at a sound basis for power rates has not been available, and it is not now," Mr. Sweetley declared. The power company, he stated, lay great in the valuation and rate case approximately $200,000, "and by the expense of the public utilities commission since its establishment in 1917."

"The closer we get to the time for getting down with the Idaho Power company," Mr. Sweetley said, "the less money the legislature gave the commission to meet the requirements of that time."

Mr. Sweetley said that the rate is a practical question and one that requires time and study for its proper solution. The question, he said, will be settled only after the time of the first years, and the manner of settlement depends very largely upon the attitude Idaho citizens take now.

MEREDITH ON WITNESS STAND REVIEWS DEAL

tion company defaulted its contract in December, 1919, and that thereafter, under agreement, its equipment was employed in company with P. O. Meredith, president and general manager of the farm development company.

Accountant Gives Figures
Audit of the books, according to the testimony of P. O. Meredith, showed that P. C. Meredith had thus advanced in excess of $150,000. The accountant's testimony also dispelled Meredith's statement that he had spent his own money on the work in the sum of $40,000, and reduced the figure to $130,000, of which amount $10,000 was accounted for as expenditure for new equipment.

Attorneys for the farm development company announced that they would introduce testimony today of only one more witness, the statement being taken to indicate that P. O. Meredith could be called a witness stand at the opening of today's session.

Members of the Rotary club and their wives were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Booth at an informal dinner served on the lawn last evening. Following an amusing program given up by the ladies the party adjourned to the house for dancing. E. T. Morehead of Des Moines, who is in Twin Falls on a brief visit, was a guest, as was A. W. Ostrom of Buhl, with Mrs. Ostrom.

The grounds were prettily decorated for the occasion and the entire affair was voted one of the most enjoyable of all recent Rotary functions.

On Wednesday evening at the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Wilson the P. E. O. Sisterhood entertained with the delightful reception in honor of their supreme chapter president, Mrs. Vina Line Bowden, and the state president, Mrs. Edith Erwin.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and the hostess, Mrs. Vina Line Bowden, presided. Mrs. Erwin, Mrs. Carl Felt, president of the Twin Falls chapter, and Mrs. T. F. Warner presided at the state president.

After brief talks by the guests of honor the following program was given: Vocal solos by Mrs. A. W. Ostrom of Buhl, Mrs. Zenas Smith and Mrs. Frank S. Bell; instrumental numbers by Mrs. Mannon of Jerome, and Miss Grace Bell; two vocal selections by a quartet composed of Meddies H. Johnson, Gray and "Smith," and the Misses Alice Taylor and Grace Bryant, with Miss Bell accompanying.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a dainty set with a centerpiece of marguerites, the flower of the society. Crystal candlesticks held yellow candles tied with white ribbons. Decorations in the dining room were in yellow and white and the same color scheme was carried out in the refreshments.

Mrs. S. A. Bell, Mrs. F. S. Bell, Mrs. Zenas Smith and Miss Jane Maxwell presided at the coffee urns. Assisting in serving were Mrs. J. P. Johnston, Mrs. Dorman Johnson, the Misses Grace Bryant, Julia Jannison, Alice Taylor, Georgia Stewart and Jessie Fraser. The entertainment committee was composed of Mrs. Charles Hart, Mrs. T. F. ## TWIN FALLS WEEKLY NEWS

Established 1904

Twin Falls News Publishing Company, Ltd., Publishers

Issued on Thursday of every Week

Entered as second-class matter December 13, 1904 at the Post Office at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.Speculation is rife as to the particular element responsible for the terrible crime of two Oregon young men in strangling to death a third youngster of advanced school age.In one quarter, higher education is blamed as the cause of the tragedy yet there seems little evidence upon which to base such a view. Rather it would appear a more tenable theory to suppose that the sort of life led by the two, apart altogether from education, was responsible.There can be no question but what the thirst for new sensations in the youth of both sexes is fed constantly by the scope and the depth of the indulgence of modern life. Young men and women enter into their late teens and early twenties these days with scarcely any unexplored territory ahead. Sometimes, let us hope in a majority of cases, they merely dabble with the unknown and eschew the strictly forbidden. In others there isn't a thrill left in life by the time they reach majority. It is a pitiful thing.Oscar Wilde, than whom no more brilliant mind in the world of letters of his age existed, frankly offered the excuse for his downfall that, satiated with every known form of pleasure, unconsciously perhaps, his intellect began the exploration of new fields with their accompanying evil. With every form of worldly indulgence his command, nature called over for something new. The life story is not a pleasant one. The picture of Wilde is not something to be read for entertainment.It would seem that there is a paral-el between the case of this English author and the two vicious and degraded youths of Chicago. This is interesting merely in passing. What is of the greatest moment to the world right now is to how far the parallel may be extended.Are young people, generally, over the country, actually in their daily lives, setting their feet upon the path which lead eventually to emotional insanity, disgrace and death. Standards are different today, to be sure, but one does not have to be a merely morbid sentimentalist to begin to wonder if after all a little less speed in the game of growing up would not be a good thing for the race.

ECONOMY AND PEACE.

Herriot, who succeeds Poincare as French premier, demands a "reduction of military costs by cutting down expenses" and shortening the term of military service."This is getting somewhere. France has more than doubled its indebtedness since the armistice. Its maintenance of great land and air forces, along with its reconstruction work has a menace to the peace of Europe. And been a grievous burden on France and when the French militarists were not running the country further into debt for French armaments, they were leading hundreds of millions to small European allies to spend in armament.All that was in expectation of immense reparation payments from Germany, as well as defense against Germany. But it is becoming plain to the French people themselves, as it has been for some time to the outside world, that the danger from beaten Germany and the possibility of recovering any great amount of reparations have both been exaggerated.The Herriot policy seems calculated not only to save France money immediately but, through its new note of conciliation and reasonableness, to prevent the need of immediate armament hereafter to defend France against a desperate Germany bent on revenge.Such a policy, originating in France where it was most needed, should benefit all the world. Military economy and conciliation naturally go hand in hand anyhow.

NATIONAL SPORTSMANSHIP.

The American naval hero, John Paul Jones, might be surprised if he could see, from his sailor's heaven, the use to which the latest American warship named after him has been put.The destroyer John Paul Jones left a Japanese port the other day, after a hurried call and a forced run, with a spare airplane belonging to the

Breakfast Food

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH McRAY

My husband is continually asking me where things are.He knows, as well as I do, but he goes on asking just the same. I think he enjoys it.When I'm downstairs he keeps calling to me: "Where are my clean shirts?" "Where are my clean socks?"
"Where'd you put my cuff links?"And when I'm upstairs he shouts from below: "What'd you do with my tennis racquets?" "Where's my old brown hat?" "Who took my raincoat out of the closet?"There'd be just as much point in his going out and asking these questions of the first person he met as in bothering me with them.I haven't hidden any of his things.
The clothes are in to one that they're where they always are. And if they're not, they're exactly where he left them himself.When he begins asking me these questions now, I respond pleasantly: "I don't know, dear. Why don't you call 'Information'?" She might be able to help you."Tomorrow: "My wife expects bram."British aviator, MacLaren, who wrecked his original plane in Burma.
Reaching Hongkong, the destroyer will turn the plane over to another American destroyer, which will rush it to India to enable the Briton to continue his flight.The American warships are rendering this service because there were no fast British craft in the vicinity, available for the purpose.Such a voluntary service on the part of the United States navy, to help a British aviator in his efforts to beat the American fliers across the world, is surely a fine specimen of sportsmanship, to which the famous John Paul Jones himself would hardly object.Individual sportsmen do that sort of thing right along. Why should not a nation be as sportsmanlike as an individual?

Lee Statue Controversy

The statue of the Goddess of Liberty is 111 feet tall; 111 feet to the extremity of the torch. The statue of General Lee on Stone Mountain is to be 140 feet from the top of his hat to the bottom of the horse's hoofs. It is said that a man standing on the general's shoulder could reach the statue's head. The distance from the horse's knees to the top of General Lee's hat is 120 feet. The depth of the relief on the extreme point will be about 20 feet, while the average depth of stone to be removed over the whole surface—300 feet in length, by about 200 in height—will be about 3 feet.

Missing the Sights

Senator Underwood said in a discussion of spiritualism at a dinner party:
"There is one sure thing about the spirits called by Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle—they talk in a light way about heaven."The details that these spirits give us remind me of the little girl who, rummaging in a drawer, exclaimed:
"There! Grandma's gone to Heaven without her spectacles!"— Los Angeles Times.

ing up the rest of the congregation.

Augustan Age of Rome

The Augustan age was the most brilliant period in the history of Roman literature, taking its name from the Emperor Augustus, who generously aided and encouraged the writers who lived in his reign. It was the time of Horace, Ovid and Vergil, the age which saw the highest development of the Latin language and in which Litary man received the highest honors. says the Detroit News. In England the term later was applied to a corresponding period of great literary activity, the age of Steele, Addison and Swift, and in France to the reign of Louis XIV.

Force of Gravity

The Naval Observatory says that the moon's tide-raising force, when the moon is in its zenith, is about one thirty-millionth part of the force of gravity. A ship weighing 45,000 tons would lose 10 pounds of its weight when the moon is overhead.

Heard and Not Seen

Parents seen and not heard don't disappoint the young man in the parlor so much as the parent heard and not seen. (On the upper stairs landing)

BIG BULLFROG

"I'm quite ready to eat anything I see," said Mr. Bullfrog. "I'm the king of the pond as it were and so I will eat delicious bugs and insects and little turtles and fishes and I will even eat my frog.""Some think that is a shocking habit and perhaps it is."
"But then you know I rather enjoy the taste of frog!""An important creature such as I am should have some rights. Now I do not become a bullfrog in a hurry."
"It takes me a second year and sometimes even a third to become a full-sized bullfrog. I remain a little learning tadpole for a good length of time that is quite of.""Maybe that is why I'm a smart old fellow when I do become full grown and sit around in my splendid, kindly fashion as ruler of the pond.""When I say that it takes me a second year and sometimes a third to become a full-sized bullfrog I mean that it takes a member of our family that long.""It takes me two years to become a bullfrog. And now I shall enjoy myself.""If enemies come for me I fool them. Young Mr. Bear thought to catch me in his paw the other day, but I was too quick for him.""I got down into the mud and when Mr. Bear pulled up his paw all he had was mud.""Goo-goo-rop, goo-goo-rop, goo-goo-rop. I call that a joke."
"And Mr. Long Neck Bird as I call him, or Mr. Heron as he would have said."

"I'm the King of the Pond."

on his visiting cards if he had visiting cards, came the other day."He might have caught me if I had been sitting upon the mud for I could not get down far enough but what he would be able to go down after me with that long and very unpleasant beak of his.""But I was sitting by the side of the pond and quick as a flash I was in the water and he had missed me.""Oh, you say that as you see me sitting here that I'm not paying attention to what is going on about me.""You may think that I'm dreaming the time away as I sit here blinking."
"But I'm on the watch for everything that is going on.""Quick as a flash am I!"
"There! Did you see that bug? He came near and I caught him."
"I was so still he had scarcely noticed me. But I had noticed him.""But I think I will go and call a young Miss Bullfrog whom I would like to ask to be my mate."
"I'm not such a sociable old fellow, but I do feel that it would be nice to have a companion.""After a time we will go our own ways. I will long for my solitary life again, but I will explain all that to Miss Bullfrog.""Now that it is early summer and all the spring I've been hearing talkDIRECTORS VOTE

The Samaritans

The Samaritans was a mixed people of ancient Palestine, composed of the remnant of the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh, and of colonists introduced from Assyria after the Ten Tribes had been carried into captivity (721 B. C.).
They accepted the Pentateuch, but rejected the rest of the sacred writings of the Hebrews. In 400 B. C. they erected a temple on Mt. Gerizim, intended as a rival to the one in Jerusalem, and thus incurred the hatred of the Jewish people; so that for many years the Jews had no dealings with the Samaritans.

Famous Greek Inventor

To the Greek Anaximander of Miletus is attributed the invention of the first navigation instruments. The following account is given: Mariners had observed that the farther north they went the higher the Pole star rose in the heavens, and Anaximander is reputed to have invented an arrangement of two sticks hinged together, so that when one was held horizontally and the other pointed to the Pole star, the angle they made would indicate how far north the observer was.

For Doors That Stick

If you would avoid in your home the nuisance of doors that stick in moist weather, paint or varnish the tops and bottoms—places that are usually neglected because they don't show. These hidden edges, if not painted, are vulnerable points where the wood absorbs or loses moisture, rapidly. Special danger points are the ends of the outside sashes, where the wood grain is exposed.—Popular Science Monthly.

Origin of Navel Oranges

Navel oranges, of which California sends out 8,000,000 boxes a year, were introduced into the United States from Brazil by the Department of Agriculture in 1870. The first experimental grove contained fewer than twenty trees. One of the original two trees brought here may be seen in Washington, D. C., still and the other is exhibited in California.

THE MARKETS

WHEAT MARKET TAKES DECIDED UPWARD TURN

Higher Quotations at Winnipeg and Bullish Opinions on Legislation Lead to Price Strengthening.

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—Broader speculative demand based partly on higher quotations at Winnipeg and partly on bullish opinion about farm legislation gave a decided upward swing today to the wheat market here. Closing prices for wheat were firm at 1-5/8 to 2-1/8 net gain, July $1.05 1/8 to 1.05 1/4, and September $1.06 7/8 to 1.07, with corn 3-4 to 1-1/8 up; oats showing 3-4 to 7-8 to 1-1/2 advance, and provisions unchanged to 12 to 15c down.

What began to climb almost as soon as business began. With dry weather complaints coming from the American and Canadian northwest and from the Pacific coast states, the Chicago market quickly responded to strength shown at Winnipeg where July delivery went to a larger premium over Chicago, despite buying here and selling there.

Besides, in some quarters the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill was taken as a motive for greater confidence on the part of numerous buyers who were said to have been awaiting what was described as normal functioning of the market aside from legislative factors. On the other hand, the move today for enactment of a substitute farm bill at Washington seemed also to have a decided stimulating effect.

Storage is Held in Reserve for Twin Falls Water Users

Canal Company Management Making No Draft On Jackson Lake, Where Level is Declining After Reaching Peak at 481,860 Acre Feet; Water Master's Reports Made Public

Increasing draft upon storage water in Jackson lake reservoir is an interesting fact indicated in reports of G. G. Galloway, watermaster on water conditions on Snake river during the past week which were made public Wednesday by Burton Smith, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company.

The Twin Falls Canal company is drawing out none of its storage water in Jackson lake, because of opinion reports of G. G. Galloway, watermaster on water conditions on Snake river during the past week which were made public Wednesday by Burton Smith, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company.

Water Level Lowering.

Jackson lake water level reached its highest stage this year May 27, when it contained 481,860 acre feet, according to the watermaster's report. The quantity of water in storage in the reservoir was reduced from June 2 to 444,180 acre feet, all of the natural flow of the stream being released through its headgates.

Water now being diverted at Millar for the North Side has been released into the river from accumulation in Lake Weleet.

Following are the excerpts from the watermaster's reports made public by the canal company manager.

Twin Falls County Farmers Preparing for Short Water

Views and Ideas of Men Who Expect to Raise Good Crops Notwithstanding Existing Conditions; Methods of Handling Crops Set Forth in Interviews Gathered by The News

W. C. Potzold, who farms 40 acres one and a half miles east of the sugar factory and three quarters of a mile south, states that he is not at all uneasy over water conditions although he anticipates a curtailment this year.

His farm is planted this year to five acres of potatoes, five acres of clover seed, five acres of beets, three acres of beans, four acres of barley, ten acres of alfalfa with two acres in pasture and the balance given up to house and orchard.

Mr. Potzold went through the short water year of 1919 and states that at one time the water was cut to 35 per cent of the normal supply. He is located on the lower end of the lateral and says that during 1919 he estimates the flow of the season at about 70 per cent of normal. That year, in spite of short water, he got 165 bags of spuds to the acre, 40 bushels of barley, 18 tons of beets, 27 bushels of beans and five and one-half bushels of clover seed. In 1923 he got 32 1/2 bushels of beans to the acre, 23 1/2 tons of beets and 180 sacks of spuds to the acre.

Use Simple Methods.

Asked as to his methods of handling his land, Mr. Potzold said: "I've simple enough. I make cultivation do the work. I use a water pump for the water. Then I water early, turning the water in on every second row of beans and beets. Land for spuds, beets and barley is all fall plowed. I believe the right thing to do. At least I know it pays me to do it."

"No, I am not worried about water shortage. I believe I can make a good crop. I know we are going to be short of water, but I am ready for it."
