

CITY EXTENDS WELCOME TO VISITING ELKS

Success Marks Opening Day of State Convention; Business Matters to be Acted Upon at Meeting Today.

ON PROGRAM FOR DAY AT ELKS' CONVENTION

- 10 a. m.—Convening of convention; report of committee; business session.
- 1:30 p. m.—Reconvening of convention; election of officers; designation of convention city.
- 3 p. m.—Adjournment.
- 6 p. m.—Baseball, Potomac Bears vs. Twin Falls Blues.
- 8 p. m.—Dance.

Members of Elks' lodges throughout Idaho, including more than 300 delegates and convention visitors to whom Twin Falls is a whole extended cordial welcome, closed Wednesday evening with dancing at the Elks' club and at Danesland, the first day of what is declared to be the most successful annual meeting in the history of the Idaho Elks' association since its formation three years ago.

They will enter today upon transaction of the business of the convention, including receipt of committee reports, election of officers and designation of the next annual meeting place, all of which is to be finished for adjournment at 3 o'clock this afternoon to be followed by the Potomac-Twin Falls baseball game, the principal feature of the day's entertainment program.

Good Fellowship Prevails

Good fellowship is manifestly the predominating feature of the Elks' convocation and political considerations, usually associated with similar gatherings, apparently are small figure in the annual assemblage of Idaho's antlered herds. The name of only one candidate for the office of president of the association had been presented informally up to Wednesday evening, and it was apparent then that Clinton Harrison, past president of the Boise lodge, would be elected today without opposition, the fourth president of the state association.

It Was Want 1925 Meet.

It was indicated that invitations would be extended by Caldwell and Bureau lodges to the association in selection of its next annual meeting place. Opening sessions of the convention today were limited to the addresses of welcome delivered by James B. Keel, president of Twin Falls municipal commission, and Attorney W. Orr Chapman, past president of the Boise lodge, in who was unable to be present because of necessity for his attendance at the trial.

Scene at Cleveland Convention Rivals 1896 Demonstration

Roaring Multitude Surges About Municipal Hall; Sing Star Spangled Banner to Get Radicals to Rise.

CONVENTION HALL, Cleveland, June 11 (AP)—The cheering, roaring multitude that thronged and surged about convention hall tonight shouting for Coolidge, staged a scene of riotous behavior which has not been seen in a republican convention since 1896.

The LaFollette delegates from Wisconsin, refusing to join in the demonstration, stood aloof while the howling throng reeled and surged about them, calling upon them to join. Finally, surrounded by groups of delegates singing the national anthem, the Star Spangled Banner, the LaFollette delegates were forced to their feet but they only stood silently at attention and then sat down again.

Old timers, veterans of many a fight and demonstration in the heat and furor of a campaign fight, compared the scene to that in the convention of 1896 when Senator Teller and his fellows of the Colorado delegation sat silently under the jeers and jibes of delegates who were the venerable senator to join with the majority in upholding the gold standard.

On that memorable occasion, which at times was one of the gripping scenes of republican party history—Teller, broke-hearted and weeping, led his delegation from the hall, saying through his sobs:

"I part with you on a matter of principle."

Tonight's business was the reading of the platform. Charles C. Warren, chairman of the platform committee, ambassador to Mexico, former ambassador to Japan and general secretary of the republican administration, presented the report of the resolutions committee, and, without effort on his part, started a boom for the vice presidential nomination. His friends in the convention said they expected him to show considerable strength among the puzzled delegates who did not know which way to turn.

BORAH SAYS HE WILL NOT ACCEPT THE NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—"I am not going to accept the nomination for vice president," Senator Borah declared here early today after being informed that republican leaders at Cleveland had agreed on him for the nomination.

The Idaho senator had nothing to add to this brief statement when awakened at his residence, and informed of the trend of events at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 12 (AP)—Delegates to the republican convention in Washington early today that he would not accept the republican vice presidential nomination, was made a statement from Secretary Weeks:

"We have been assured directly by Senator Borah that he will accept the nomination."

HOOVER BOOM CALLED OFF

CLEVELAND, June 12 (AP)—The California delegation tonight decided to abide by the wishes of Secretary Weeks, and to support his name to the convention for the vice presidential nomination.

VERDICT GIVES BOWMAN $26,000

Jury Assesses Damages Against Financial Backers of Live-Stock Feeders.

Verdict awarding $26,000 to R. A. Bowman from L. R. Adams and Tom Beech of Rupert and the Western Bond and Mortgage company of Portland, with the provision that judgment on this amount should be assessed against the bond and mortgage company, was returned late Wednesday afternoon by a jury in district court here at the close of a trial that was begun last Friday.

The verdict was returned by the jury after about seven hours' deliberation. The verdict was signed by 10 out of the 12 jurors.

The jury was discharged by Judge W. A. Babcock with the statement that it was the last case to be tried before a jury at the present term of court.

Jury Reduces Claims

The verdict awarded to Bowman, plaintiff in this action, the exact amount of his claim for a total of 12,000 sheep delivered by him in the fall of 1922 to Adams and Beech at Twin Falls under a feeder's contract, which amount, Bowman claimed, had been paid back by Adams and Beech when they made payment on the basis of 5 cents a pound for the animals with the understanding that they should receive from Bowman 75 cents a pound for the animals when they should have been brought to the end of the feeding period. The verdict disregarded other items of Bowman's claim for damages amounting to approximately $50,000 and also denied the defendants' counterclaim for approximately $3000 representing profits which defendants claimed they would have made if Bowman had accepted the sheep when they were ready to deliver the animals.

The Bond and Mortgage Company Was Involved as the Financial Backer of the Defendant Feeders in this Deal.

Weighty Dispute Causes Suit.

Evidence during the trial showed that the suit grew out of a dispute between Bowman and the feeders as to the manner of weighing the sheep when the feeders undertook to deliver them to him, and that the sheep eventually were sold by the feeders to other buyers on the market, the bond and mortgage company posting bond in court to permit of such sale.

Plaintiff Bowman was represented in this case by Attorneys H. C. Hazel and S. L. Hodgins of Twin Falls, and W. E. Cameron and Paris Martin of Boise. Mr. Martin opened and Mr. Hodgins closed the argument for the plaintiff just before the case was submitted to the jury Wednesday. Homer C. Mills of Twin Falls, representing the Western Bond and Mortgage company, closed the argument for the defendants.

ARRAIGNMENT OF YOUTHS DRAWS EXCITED CROWDS

Impetuous Throng Breaks Door of Courtroom to Get Glimpse of Two Held for Murder of Franks Lad.

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—Before an impetuous crowd that broke a courtroom door from its hinges in an effort to see the confessed kidnaper and slayer of 13-year-old Robert Franks, Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, millionaire's sons, today pleaded not guilty to charges of kidnapping, murder, and murder and heard August 4 fixed as the date of their trial.

The youths were unshaken by the hostile women, who pushed and scrambled to catch a glimpse of them.

Chief Justice John R. Caverly of the criminal court, who will preside at the trial, June 21 at 10 a. m., for preliminary motions. Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney had asked that the date of trial be set for July 15, the earliest possible date under the law.

The defense attorneys, headed by Clarence Darrow, accepted the trial date set without objection except to stipulate that they would ask for a continuance if unable to prepare for trial by that time.

Young Loeb, made his appearance in court to answer the two crimes, each punishable by death, on his nineteenth birthday. He had planned to sail for Europe today with Leopold. "Standing near the boys when they came to court was a brown-haired girl who smiled at them repeatedly. They did not glance at her. She is the girl who went to the state's attorney's office yesterday and asked to see the boys but left when asked her name."

She told an assistant state attorney today that she is one of the girls with whom they said at first they went out riding the night of the slaying. The boys' alibi was broken down by their confessions, however, and the state attached little importance to the girl's statement. Jacob Franks, father of the slain boy, was also a spectator in the court. The grand jury that was the last case to be tried before a jury at the present term of court.

Warden Wesley Westbrook of the Cook county jail said that the two boys continue to receive scores of packages and letters through the mail daily practically none of which reaches them. The mail, he said, ranges from black stockings to pictures of girls and love letters.

PARTY PLANKS ARE OPPOSED

Sharp Debate Centers on Several Points Included in Republican Platform.

CLEVELAND, June 11 (AP)—Sharp opposition to a number of the plank in the republican party platform worked out by leaders at their all-night conference developed today at the final meeting of the resolutions committee. As a result one plank was rewritten and modifications were made in several others.

The world court, the Ku Klux Klan and the railroad question, were the chief fighting points.

The world court plank as recommended by the draft committee was approved only after Congressman Warren had given his personal assurance that it had been written by President Coolidge himself.

Attempts to alter this provision were made by Senator White of Indiana and Harfield of Oklahoma.

The Ku Klux Klan issue was presented by R. E. Greager, national committeeman from Texas, who insisted on an unmistakable and vigorous declaration against that organization. He offered a sub-stronger in language than the committee's guarantee provision submitted by the drafting committee, but lost his fight. It was currently reported that the vote was 18 to 17.

Senator Cummins of Iowa, former chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, forced a re-write of the plank dealing with railroads. He expressed dissatisfaction with its wording and it was necessary to apply two different sub-committees to work out sub-drafts before an agreement could be reached.

Believe Idaho Senator Will Be Named; Party Platform Is Adopted

CLEVELAND, June 12 (AP)—Senator William B. Borah of Idaho was agreed upon by administration leaders early this morning for the vice presidential nomination.

Hilles and Theodore Roosevelt of New York, and William Butler of Massachusetts, president's campaign manager, and Frank B. Stearns of Boston, his friend and adviser.

Russell, Wyoming, here this afternoon, winning up the annual polo classic. Boise came through the tournament with a perfect record while each other team lost at least two games.

Balloting closed at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon with the extreme and rivalry between the supporters of the two candidates for the presidency remaining until the last vote was cast. Tonight both camps are predicting victory.

The report of the committee on outdoor advertising, urging restriction of billboards along public highways, precipitated one of the liveliest battles on the convention floor.

BOISE WINS POLO TITLE

THE SKELETON AT THE CLEVELAND FEAST

Republicans' Position on Important Affairs Is Given in Platform

Many Accomplishments Listed Under G. O. P. Regime; Demand Rigid Economy in Government; Would Reduce Taxes Further; Pledge Favorable Action on Agriculture.

CLEVELAND, June 11 (AP)—The following is principal part of the text of the republican platform as presented by the sub-committee to the full resolutions committee at the national convention today:

"We, the delegates of the republican party in national convention assembled, bow our heads in reverent memory of Warren G. Harding."

"As delegates of the republican party we share in the national thanksgiving that in the great emergency created by the death of our great leader there stood forth fully equipped to be his successor one whom we had nominated as vice president—Calvin Coolidge, who as vice president and president by his own election has proved the faith and confidence which he has won from the nation."

Situation in 1921.

"When the republican administration took control of the government in 1921 there were four and a half million unemployed; industry and commerce were stagnant; agriculture was prostrate; business was depressed; government bonds were selling below their par value."

"Peace was delayed; misunderstanding and friction characterized our relations abroad; there was a lack of confidence in the administration of government resulting in a growing feeling of distrust in the very principles upon which our institutions are founded."

"Today industry and commerce are active; public and private credits are sound; we have made peace; we have taken the first step toward disarmament and strengthened our friendship with the world powers; our relations with the rest of the world are on a firmer basis; our position was never better understood; our foreign policy never more definite and consistent. The tasks to which we have put our hands are completed. Time has been too short for the correction of all the ills we received as a heritage from the last democratic administration and the notable accomplishments under republican rule warrant us in appealing to the country with entire confidence."

Public Economy.

"We demand and the people of the United States have a right to demand, rigid economy in government. The policy of strict economy enforced by the republican administration since 1921 has made possible a reduction of taxes and has enabled the government to reduce the public debt by two, and a half billion dollars. This policy vigorously enforced, has resulted in a progressive reduction of public expenditures until they are now two billion dollars per annum less than in 1921. The tax burdens of the people have been relieved to the extent of $1,250,000,000 per annum. Government securities have been increased in value more than three billion dollars. Deficits have been converted into surpluses. The budget system has been firmly established and the number of federal employees has been reduced more than one hundred thousand. We demand the firm insistence of President Coolidge upon rigid government economy and pledge him our earnest support to this end."

"We believe that the achievement of the republican administration in reducing taxation by $1,250,000,000 per annum; reducing of the public debt by $2,430,000,000; the establishment of a budget system; reducing the public expenditures from five billion five hundred million dollars per annum to approximately $3,400,000,000 per annum, thus reducing the ordinary expenditures of the government to substantially a pre-war basis, and the complete restoration of public credit; the payment or refunding of seven and a half billions of public obligations without disturbance of credit or industry—all during the short period of three years—presents a record unsurpassed in the history of public finance."

"The tariff protection to our industry works for increased consumption of domestic agricultural products by an employed population instead of one unable to purchase the necessities of life. Without the strict maintenance of the tariff principle our farmers will need always to compete with cheap lands and cheap labor abroad and with lower standards of living."

"The enormous value of the protective principle has once more been demonstrated by the emergency tariff act of 1921, and the tariff act of 1922."

"We assert our belief in the elastic provision adopted by congress in the tariff act of 1922 providing for a method of readjusting the tariff rates and the classifications in order to meet changing economic conditions when such changed conditions are brought to the attention of the president by complaint or application."

"We pledge ourselves to the progressive reduction of taxes of all the people as rapidly as may be done with due regard for the essential expenditures of the government administered with rigid economy and to place our tax system on a sound peace time basis."

"We endorse the plan of President Coolidge to call in November a national conference of federal and state officials for the development of the effective methods of lightening the tax burden of our citizens and adjusting questions of taxation as between national and state government."

Reorganization.

"We favor a comprehensive reorganization of the executive departments and bureaus along the line of the plan recently submitted by a joint committee of the congress, which has the unequalled support of President Coolidge."

Improvement in the enforcement of the merit system both by legislative enactment and executive action since March 4, 1921, has been marked and effective."

"We favor the placing of prohibition enforcement entirely within the classified civil service without necessarily incorporating the present personnel."

Foreign Debts.

"In fulfillment of our solemn pledge in the national platform of 1920, we have steadfastly refused to consider the cancellation of foreign debts. Our attitude has not been that of an oppressor, but that of a creditor. We return and ignoring existing financial conditions, but has been on the conviction that a moral obligation such as was incurred should not be disregarded."

The Tariff.

"We reaffirm our belief in the protective tariff to extend needed protection to our productive industries. We collect tariff duties for the benefit of the treasury and in aid of agriculture, industry and occupations."

Foreign Relations.

"The republican party reaffirms its stand for agreement among the nations to prevent war and preserve peace. As an important step in this direction we endorse the permanent court of international justice and favor the admission of the United States to this tribunal as recommended by President Coolidge. This government has definitely secured membership in the league of nations and to assume any obligations under the covenant of the league. On this we stand."

Agriculture.

"In dealing with agriculture the republican party recognized that we are faced with a fundamental national problem and that the prosperity and welfare of the nation as a whole is dependent upon the prosperity and welfare of our agricultural population."

"We recognize our agricultural activities are still struggling with adverse conditions that have been brought about by drought. We pledge the party to take whatever steps are necessary to bring back a balanced condition between agriculture, industry and labor which was destroyed by the democratic party through an unfortunate administration of legislation passed as wartime measures."

"We affirm that under the republican administration the problems of the farmer have received more consideration than ever before both by definite executive action and by congressional action not only in the field of general legislation but also in the enactment of laws to meet emergency situations."

"We promise every assistance in the reorganization of the market system on sounder and more economical lines and where diversification is needed government assistance during the period of transition. Vigorous efforts of this administration towards broadening our export market will be continued. The republican party pledges itself to the development and enactment of measures which will place the agricultural interests of America on a basis of economic equality with other industry to assure its prosperity and success."

Highways.

"The federal aid to road act adopted by the republican Congress in 1921 has been of incalculable value to the development of the highway system of several states and of the nation. We pledge a continuation of this policy of federal co-operation with the states in highway building."

Railroads.

"The people demand and are entitled to have prompt and efficient transportation at the lowest rates consistent with good service and a reasonable return upon the value of the property devoted to public service."

"We believe that the American people demand, and we favor a careful and scientific readjustment of railroad rate schedules with a view to the encouragement of agriculture and basic industries, without impairment of railroad service."

"The present laws regulating railroads which were enacted to meet post-war conditions should be modified from time to time as experience shows the necessity therefor."

Government Control.

"The prosperity of the nation rests on the vigor of private initiative which has bred a spirit of independence and self-reliance. The republican party stands now as always, against all attempts to put the government into business."

World War Veterans.

"The republican party pledges a continually and increasing solicitude for all those suffering any disability as a result of service to the United States in time of war."

"We pledge ourselves to meet the problems of the future affecting the aged and wounded and disabled in a spirit of liberality and with that thoughtful consideration which will enable the government to give to the individual veteran that full measure of care gained by an effective administration machinery to which his patriotic services and sacrifices entitle him."

Conservation.

"We believe in the development of effective and efficient, whether of oil, timber, coal or water power resources of this government, only as needed and only after the public needs have become a matter of public record, controlled with a scrupulous regard and ever vigilant guards against waste, separation and monopoly."

Education and Relief.

"The conservation of human resources is one of the most solemn responsibilities of government. There is an obligation which cannot be ignored and which demands that the federal government shall see to it that its power give to the people and the states the benefit of its counsel."

"The welfare activities of the government connected with the various departments are already numerous, and important, but lack the co-ordination which is essential to effective action. To meet these needs we approve the suggestion for the creation of a cabinet post of education and relief."

Universal Mobilization.

"We believe that in time of war the nation should draft for its defense not only its citizens but also every resource which may contribute to success. The country demands that should the United States ever again be called upon to defend itself by arms the president be empowered to draft such material required, and to stabilize the prices of services and essential commodities, whether used in actual warfare or private activities."

Orderly Government.

"The republican party reaffirms its devotion to orderly government under the guarantee embodied in the constitution of the United States. We recognize the duty of constant vigilance to preserve at all times a clean and honest government and to bring to the bar of justice every defiler of the public service in or out of office."

"Admitting the deep humiliation which all good citizens share, that our public life should have harbored so dishonest men, we assert that these undesirable do not represent the standard of our national integrity."

"It is a grave wrong against these patriotic men and women to strive indiscriminately to besmirch the names of the innocent and undermines the confidence of the people in the government under which they live. It is ever a graver wrong when this is done for partisan purpose or for selfish exploitation."

Immigration and Naturalization.

"We favor the adoption of methods which will exercise a helpful influence among the foreign born population and provide for the education of the alien in our language, customs, ideals and standards of life. We favor the improvement of naturalization laws."

Reclamation.

"The federal reclamation of the arid and semi-arid lands in the west have been the subject of intensive study in the department of the interior during the past year. No policies and methods of operation have been adopted which promise to insure the successful accomplishment of the objects sought. The completion of this reorganization plan in the interests of farmers and of all the people ultimately."

HEALTH OFFICERS OF WORLD TO UNITE IN ONE SOCIETY

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—There is soon to be organized an international health society, as a result of the recent interchange of public health officers who have visited this country to study English public health methods.

A provisional committee, composed of doctors from Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany, Poland, Italy and Ecuador has been elected to draw up the constitution. The society will have its headquarters in Geneva and all public health officers who have already taken part in league interchange—240 from 43 different countries—will be invited to become original members.

Many of these doctors have not only been interested in the work of the league of nations, but their society will have as its primary object the interchange of public health officers. The members of the league's health organization. The members of the new society will also exchange information on preventive medicine and all matters of public health.

GERMANY OFFERS GOOD MARKET FOR AMERICAN AUTOMOBILES

BERLIN, June 11 (AP)—Prospects for American automobiles in Germany are excellent and especially in the medium priced cars may a substantial business be looked for, says a trade report of the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany. Auto trucks also will find a good market here, the report adds.

High priced passenger cars will meet the competition of German manufacturers, according to the chamber, so it appears that cars selling below $1000 will be mostly in demand.

ENOCH ARDEN' PROVISION IN NEW CZECH MARRIAGE LAWS

PRAGUE, June 10 (AP)—The newly formulated bill regulating marriage in Czechoslovakia contains the "Enoch Arden" clause. It provides that, in the event of the return of a husband thought dead after the woman has remarried, he has no legal rights that can affect the new marriage.

The conditions that prevailed throughout Europe in the period just after the war, when the return of men missing or reported dead to find their married wives was an ordinary affair, probably inspired the law.

Otherwise, the marriage act as framed follows those of most countries. Both civil and religious ceremonies are recognized. The marriageable age for males is fixed at 18 and for females 16.

Hen Cannot Steal

The District court at Chelsea, Mass., ruled that a hen cannot steal and therefore is not amenable to the law. Lady Camille, a hen in a poultry show, was haled into court on charges of larceny for plucking a diamond from a ring on the finger of George A. Hennesey. The court, said that Hennesey had no redress against John Stren, the owner of the hen, nor against Lady Camille, who was ordered restored to her coop in the chicken show.—Pathfinder.

Emma Was Boss

Emma was one of the old-fashioned faithful-retainer type and she had been with the family over twenty years. She ran the house and the family, too, so much that her masterful airs became at last intolerable, until one day she threatened to renounce with her—her husband Emma exclaimed: "Well, mumm, you will please to take a moment from the first as I always felt from the first as how I shouldn't suit you!"

SHEPPARD TAKES 10-ROUND BOUT FROM IDAHO MAN

Potter No Match for Salt Lake Heavyweight; Feature Event of Elks' Program Draws Big Crowd; Hanna Wins.

Ed Sheppard of Salt Lake, Utah heavy-weight champion, won a judges' decision over Henry Potter of Elks, Idaho, in a scheduled 10-round bout presented as the main event of the boxing exhibition staged as a feature of the Idaho Elks' association convention entertainment program at the league hall grounds Wednesday before a comfortable crowd.

The semi-final between Bert Delano of Twin Falls and "Fido" Hanna of Pocatello, both in the light-weight class, was a short-lived affair. Hanna completely outclassed his opponent from the first and in the second round of the scheduled six rounds he sent a left and right hook to the head that made Delano take the count.

"Battling Luke" Hull of Crooksville, Mo., won a decision in the first preliminary of the afternoon against "Tuffy" Schroll of Sacramento, Cal., in a four-round bout. The first number between this pair was more or less of a disappointment to the fans, and the bout was won and lost by both in the course of the battle, Schroll staying down long enough for the count, in the second round, but the referee forgot about counting to the bout continued in the third when Hull brought Schroll to his knees and then punched him the while referee Bobler was counting the Sacramento fighter out. However, the decision failed to please the fans and the two fought a fourth round with Hull getting the decision.

As a third preliminary, two bantam weights, "Smitty" Smith, a local school boy, and "Kid" Wilson, manager for Sheppard, staged a four-round exhibition which pleased the crowd.

Issues "Challenge."

Previous to the main bout, Doctor Snook, thinking for the evening, made an announcement of a "challenge" received just before the bout from D. E. Sullivan, who all thought absent for the day's festivities, presented his share of the announcement with a telegram which read:

"I hereby challenge winner of feath fight to fight today in final fight. No decision, lower take all, 50 foot ring, 50 ounce gloves. I am in the pink of condition. Signed "Sully". C. D. Thomas introduced Potter, who entered the ring first, as the heavy-weight champion of Idaho, weighing 164 pounds. A few minutes later he introduced Ed Sheppard, who entered the ring at 161 pounds as the champion of Utah. "Dick" Bobler, referee, spoke to the men and the battle started.

Sheppard took the aggressive from the start and for the first two rounds Potter, fighting a defensive battle was able to hold his own. In the third round Sheppard drew blood and Potter gave some signs of weakening. The fourth round went to Potter with a comeback to Sheppard's offensive. In the fifth and sixth Sheppard again was the aggressor, smashing out rights and lefts in an effort to put Potter on the floor, but the Idaho man was capable of taking punishment and doggedly held off an attack until the seventh round when a furious attack drove him through the ropes. He came back in the eighth and ninth, however, and the pace set by Sheppard in the earlier rounds began to tell on his wind. Sheppard continued to reduce Potter's face to a mere or less bloody proposition in the final round, easily getting the decision of both judges, one of whom gave Potter but three of the ten rounds and the other who gave Sheppard six with the remaining four called as draws.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stockstein are going from Eureka, Cal., to St. Louis. They came through Nevada and when asked about the roads in that state they said, "Horrible."

Frank Miller and family, who are traveling from Phoenix, Ariz., to Boise, came by way of Snowville. Mr. Miller said that he would not advise any one to go that way as long as the road through Pocatello is passable.

I. B. Acheson and family from Hood River are going to spend their vacation sightseeing. They will go from here to Yellowstone park.

J. H. Little and family from Denver are going to Portland.

The tourists are feeling more numerous every day. During the month of May the average number in the park was a fraction over nine. For the first ten days in June the average is almost fourteen.

There are still some people who object to a charge being made for parking privilege, but the most bitter opponents are residents of Twin Falls, and not the tourists. Several travelers have said that they would not stay in a free camp.

The Month of June Must Yield $12,000 in Extra Business

Customers will remember that about 3 weeks ago we announced that the stocks of this store were to be reduced $25,000 in a very short time. More than one-half of this amount has been taken from the stocks.

Customers have been fully paid for coming to the store for unusually good values have prevailed.

Some three weeks ago, our entire organization of branch managers and department heads were called together and told that the stocks in our stores were too heavy by $200,000, and that for not less than 30 days we were to comb our stocks as never before and turn our stock into money. It has been done. Four large stores and some of our specialty shops have been holding one of the greatest value giving events in southern Idaho and Utah.

As a result of this effort, business has been wonderfully good and we have gone more than half way in this reduction of our stocks.

The month of June will see the fight continue. We intend to get our quota and so look out for our offerings. Watch the windows.

THE LIVING RAIN; WHAT IT MEANS

Few city folks realize how serious was the drought that was broken by the recent rains. In some sections the best seed had not sprouted. It is reported that in other sections the best fields were plowed up. The range on which cattle and sheep graze was burning. There was a feeling of gloom on the part of farmers and stockmen and on the part of business men in town who were familiar with the condition.

And then came the saving rains. Reports are to the effect that the rain was general in Utah and southern Idaho. Cities can not prosper unless farming sections prosper, for most of our wealth comes out of the ground.

EVER STRETCH A DOLLAR BILL?

Ever take a dollar bill in your hands and try to stretch it? If it's a new bill, it won't stretch a bit, and if it's an old one maybe it will budge a fractional part of an inch. But it goes right back into place again. It won't stay stretched.

There's another way you can stretch a dollar bill, however. And make it stay stretched positively! Often you can stretch it to cover a territory usually covered by two one dollar bills. By shopping around in this great store—by sojourning in Adventure Land where value and quality do a little act all of their own that always wins the audience's applause.

For be it known that there are many bargains that are never advertised. There are many short lines of merchandise that are never shown in the windows. There is always being thrown on the tables of all sections merchandise that is left over—and always it is picked up by prudent shoppers.

Some women are good shoppers—most women are; but there is a class who buy without investigating. While we are glad, of course, to have customers buy promptly, still as a matter of fact we'll admit that it pays to shop around. Be free to shop around on every floor of the store. Whether you buy or not—it is a pleasant thing to do. Incidentally, it's the only way we know of to make a dollar bill stretch.

Stout Women Are Interested

A contrivance has been created for the reduction of the lines of the overlarge figure. Although it has been shown here for the first time within a month, already the sale is very large.

It is a hip-confiner of pure gum that is worn next to the skin; at once the figure is improved and gradually reduced. Ask to see the hip-reducer at the Corset section.

"DEFENSIVE" WAR

It is reassuring to find certain large groups of citizens, in urging that war be "outlawed," and voicing their horror of all warfare, declare at the same time that "of course they would fight in a defensive war."

Nearly everybody, possessed of any physical courage, or moral responsibility, would "do that"—granted that there was no question about the "defensive" nature of the war. But there is the real question—What is a "defensive war?"

History shows that almost without exception, wars are quarrelsome defensive by both sides. It was so in the World War. The defensive case of France and Belgium seems simple enough, for they were suddenly attacked and it became a question of self-preservation. The case of Great Britain and "America," and various other Allies was not quite so clear, yet their fighting is generally explained as "defensive," on the ground that Germany aimed at them indirectly, and would have attacked them eventually. But the Germans themselves have always maintained that their attack on their neighbors was defensive, because if they had not attacked when they did, the neighbors would have attacked them sooner or later.

Consider also the question of fighting for the defense of another nation, as the British and Americans professed to be doing while the World War was in progress. Would that be ruled out by the outlaws of offensive fighting?

Specifically, would the reformers in question have fought in our own Mexican war, or in our Spanish war, one of which has often been called a war of conquest and the other of which was entered upon in a spirit of pure altruism?

All this is said not in antagonism to any genuine peace movement, but in emphasis of the fact that the whole question of war and peace is badly confused and demands clear thinking and precise speaking.

A STANDARDIZED WORLD

Henry Ford reports that he has now produced ten million cars of his standard model. More impressive still is the recorded increase in the rate of production. Starting in 1908, it took the Ford Motor company seven years to turn out the first million cars. It turned out the last million in one hundred thirty-two working days.

Millions of cars exactly alike! That is the most notable example of the whole industrial tendency nowadays. Standardization is the big thing. Every product must be made according to a standard type, for quantity production.

This is good economically. It simplifies manufacture and makes things cheap, thus broadcasting comforts and conveniences.

In other ways it is not so good. Even Ford owners got tired occasionally of seeing so many Fords on the street. Uniformity kills, whether it be uniformity of automobiles, phonographs, clothes, rocking chairs or tablecloths. The mind craves variety and individuality in things as in people.

Imagine all our pictures and statues standardized! Art fights for the life against uniformity. And art simply grows out of human nature. Therefore it is a foregone conclusion that civilized life is not going to be standardized altogether. There will be a revolt, sooner or later, and a movement back to variety and individuality.

"People can afford to indulge their personal preferences better, too, after a generation or two of great economies through standardization."

"TOO HAPPY"

There is an eloquent sermon in the suicide of the New York boy who killed himself in Quebec because he had everything he wanted. "People have always smiled at the Gilbert Sullivan song" which runs:

"Oh don't do the day seem dark and long,
When all goes right and nothing goes wrong!
And isn't life extremely flat,
With nothing whatever to grum-

MY HUSBAND DOES IN CHURCH

That's the only thing that reconciles me to the fact that he never goes more than once a month. If he'd only keep awake, I know I'd adopt strict rules of attendance for him.

But by the time the service is about fifteen minutes under way, Hugh begins to close his eyes. By nudging I can keep him "awake" for about fifteen minutes more. But after that it's a losing fight.

I generally have to wake him up for the hymns after the service, but then he's just as likely as not to ask me what's the matter and tell me that he hasn't been asleep at all.

I know that half the congregation have seen him napping, and I'm always embarrassed to walk out of church with him.

Especially when he asks all of the people we meet if they didn't think the sermon was splendid.

Tomorrow—My Wife Has Had Her Hair Shingled.

fancy. Yet here is the young man found lying beside his limousine with a bullet wound in his head and a note pinned to his coat, saying:

"I wish it to be known that I committed suicide because I was too happy. I always got what I wanted in my life. My parents are millionaires. I realized all that it was humanly possible to wish. I do not find life good enough to remain in it."

So the person who gets everything he wants is unhappy! Tell that to the struggling lad in his poverty, to encourage him. Life grows uninteresting if everything comes easily. The road ahead becomes uninviting. There is no more adventure—and life should be a glorious adventure.

JURY'S FINDING GIVES $45,000 TO CONTRACTOR

Idaho Construction Company Wins Judgment Against Farm Development Company for Building Irrigation Works.

Verdict awarding $45,000 to the Idaho Construction company from the Idaho Farm Development of which E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, is the principal stockholder, was returned at 10 o'clock Thursday night by a jury in district court here, following five hours' deliberations. Trial in the case was begun last Monday.

The construction company, in this action, sued for approximately $80,000 claimed as compensation for its services in construction of the irrigation works on the farm development company's project at Roseworth, Idaho, which was completed four years ago.

The farm development company denied liability for payment of any of the amount claimed by the construction company, and on a counter claim sought judgment from the construction company for the sum of approximately $140,000, claimed as the difference between the contract price and the actual cost of the works, together with penalties for non-compliance with contract provisions.

Stands on Oral Agreement. The construction company alleged that the contract was made orally by oral agreements under which it was to receive compensation on a cost plus basis together with contractor's profit in a definite sum.

Testifying Thursday for the farm development company, P. C. Meredith, of Buhl, its president and general manager, stated that an oral agreement had been made between the construction company and farm development company, which agreement was made necessary by failure of the construction company to fulfill contract provisions. Under this agreement, Mr. Meredith testified, the construction company's equipment was retained on the works, but all expense involved was paid by himself.

Attorneys' arguments occupied Thursday afternoon's session, argument for the plaintiff construction company being presented by A. A. Fraser of Boise, and J. R. Rothwell of Twin Falls, and for the defendant farm development company by Edwin Snow of Boise, and Shad L. Hodgins of Twin Falls, with whom was associated Arthur W. Gstrom of Buhl.

Ocean breeze, or at least good imitations of them, are said to be obtainable from a household electric vacuum cleaner at about 2 cents an hour. The bag and detachable filter of the cleaner are removed and a sponge soaked in salt water is placed in the suction end. The effect of sea breeze is heightened by placing the converted vacuum cleaner in an open window. Popular Science Monthly.

COUNCIL GETS IN ACTION ON GARBAGE PLAN

Early Decision on System for Removing Refuse Is Seen; Commissioners Inspect Bills; Dairyman Are Heard

Early disposal of the question of removal of garbage in Twin Falls was indicated at the regular meeting of the municipal commission Monday evening, the matter being the subject of lengthy and intensive discussion.

The subject was introduced by Commissioner J. S. Keel who expressed the hope that it could be disposed of as soon as possible, the other members of the commission joining in this sentiment.

Mr. Keel expressed the belief that a system of garbage and refuse removal could be arrived at that would be satisfactory and would be effected at a lower ultimate cost to the property owner than is now the case.

A long time contract with an individual was a suggestion that was given much consideration, as was a plan for removal under license and fee system. Legal phases of the matter will be investigated before final action is taken.

On the present system remains in full effect, each individual being required to see that garbage and rubbish are not allowed to collect on his property, the cost of removal being met by the individual.

As a final check on municipal expenditures by the city commission, at its meeting Monday evening, the returned the custom of inspection by the commissioners individually of bills against the city.

The practice was adopted following recommendation by Commissioner of Finance J. S. Keel.

Dairyman Object

John Gott headed a delegation representing the larger dairies of Twin Falls in objection to a permit license for $10 a year while the smaller, or "one-cow," dairymen pay only a fraction of that amount. The visitors were assured that the matter will be given close study by the commission with the view of arriving at a fair conclusion and invitation was extended the dairymen to submit any suggestions they might have.

Reserve Petition

Submission of a petition by residents of the Golden Rule addition requesting the forbidding of staking out of livestock on the ground that the custom of staking out livestock causes too much discussion and was taken under advisement. The petition incidentally led to consideration of a problem that faced the Turkey administration, namely, the advisability of limiting the number of chickens to be kept within the city limits. Under the present ordinance no limit is placed on the number of fowls permitted to be kept in city pens. City attorney A. J. Meyers stated that in conferring with counsel for the Twin Falls canal company he had learned that the city had been advised by the canal company against making alterations to the cross-city irrigation ditch but previous to the time such alterations were made a few years ago.

War on Weeds

The closing feature of the session was a consideration, as recommended by S. S. All, spiritedly declaring that an immediate declaration of war on morning glories now decorating numerous street lots throughout the city is necessary. Various methods of destruction were argued without reaching a definite conclusion.

A permit was granted to permit to conduct two card tables at 242 Main avenue south. Application of the Guarantee Volunteering works, 213 Main avenue, to install a gasoline tank and curb ramp in front of its place of business was granted following a short discussion in which Mr. All raised the question of the advisability of issuing permits of that nature. The report of the city treasurer showing $35,200 in cash on hand on May 6 was accepted and ordered filed.

During the early part of the session Commissioner Keel inquired as to what disposition had been made of the order made by the city council on May 6, 1924, relative to the removal of the old city hall.

disposition had been made of the order. The requirement of construction of concrete pits under large oil storage tanks within the city. It was announced that an ordinance requiring such construction had been passed some time ago, but had not been signed in view of the difficulty of obtaining concrete during the winter, the matter having been brought up during that season. The commissioners expressed themselves as being in favor of an ordinance requiring construction of pits and applying uniformly to all concerns with tanks inside the city limits.

THE MARKETS

HEAVY BUYING RESULTS IN WHEAT PRICE RAISE

Prices Soar to Nearly Nine Cents a Bushel Higher Today on Monday; Shortage Is Predicted.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Wheat soared today to nearly 9 cents a bushel higher prices than were touched on Monday before the United States government export report was issued. The fresh advance today appears to have been a result of huge buying that developed after one of the leading authorities in the grain trade here had expressed decided bullish views regarding world supplies of bread making wheat.

Wheat closed unsettled, 2 to 2½¢ net higher, July $1.10½ to $1.10, and September $1.12½ to $1.12½, with cash showing ½¢ to 1½¢ up, and provisions 10 to 22 cents down.

On today's advance, September and December deliveries of wheat imported last season's previous high price record, but the extreme gains leading to heavy profit taking, sales failed to a reaction of about 1 to 1½¢ at the final hour.

Further impetus to the upward movement of the wheat market was afforded by unofficial estimates indicating a reduction of 50 per cent in the average of the northwest, with a condition of 8.5 against 9.5 last year, suggesting a yield of 275,000,000 to 285,000,000 bushels compared with 450,000,000 bushels harvested last year.

Warmer weather after the corn market and heavy December data. Temporarily, however, December data sold at new high records.

Provisions declined owing to sympathy with high values.

CITY EXTENDS WELCOME TO VISITING ELKS

In district court at the trial of a suit in which he was an attorney.

In response to the welcoming address, A. M. Peterson of Pocatello, president of the state association, referred to his former residence in Twin Falls when he was one of the "Homestead Twenty," a new historic organization composed of the pioneer citizens of Twin Falls.

G. W. Edgington of Idaho Falls, district deputy grand exalted ruler, and O. L. Stewart of Boise, past president of the state association, who also were to have responded to the welcoming addresses, were unable to be present, and letters of regret were also read from James G. McFarland, grand exalted ruler, and R. E. Evans of Tacoma, member of the Elks' general welfare committee.

The convention session recessed after the appointment of a credentials committee composed of W. A. Baker, Idaho Falls; J. F. Garvin, Blackfoot; A. J. Pierce, Pocatello; H. B. Grant, Twin Falls; C. R. Kelsberg, Nampa; S. E. Balen, Caldwell; Fred Roscoe, Boise, and F. B. Parks, Burley.

Festivities of the afternoon were featured by one of the largest parades in Twin Falls' history, in which hundreds of Elks passed in review before throngs of friendly spectators lining the streets on the line of march.

The national emblem and the Elks' banner were borne at the head of the procession. Thereafter came members of Twin Falls police and Twin Falls lodge officials in cars. Then came officers of the Twin Falls lodge on foot, the Twin Falls band and more than 200 members of the Twin Falls lodge.

Pocatello's Royal Italian band led the second section of the parade, in which members of visiting delegations and Boise lodge's famous drill team in imposing uniforms were included.

Handsomely decorated floats built for the Twin Falls lodge and two business houses, Strauss and Glauber and the Idaho department store, concluding the second section of the parade in the wake of which many citizens in automobiles covered the line of march.

Pocatello's band, on the street in front of the Elks' club immediately after the parade, gave a concert which local bandmen pronounced the best concert without exception ever given in Twin Falls.

While many of the convention visitors repaired later in the afternoon to the ball park to witness the boxing exhibition, visiting police were honored guests at a reception given in the parlors of the Elks' club which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion.

In the evening a large crowd witnessed Boise's drill team almost faultless execution of complicated drill movements presented on the street in front of the Elks' club.

Dancing for members of the order and their ladies continued until midnight in the Elks' lodge room and at Danceland, both halls being beautifully decorated with the colors of the order for the occasion.
