

UTAH COMPANY SELECTED FOR BUILDING DAM

Recommendations Made to Secretary That American Falls Bid of $1,936,000 Be Accepted.

Recommendation to the secretary of the interior that contract for construction of the American Falls dam be awarded to the Utah Construction company on its bid of $1,936,000, was agreed upon and forwarded to the interior department officers at Denver, by members of the American Falls advisory board at their meeting this week at American Falls. It was stated by members of the American Falls advisory board who returned here Wednesday evening from attendance at the American Falls meeting. Announcement of the recommendation, they stated, should have come from the office of the secretary of the interior, but they admitted that reports that had gained publicity as to the decision reached were correct.

The recommendation was forwarded directly to the offices of the interior department at Denver through which it will be transmitted to the secretary. It anticipated that the secretary will approve the recommendation and that the contract will be entered into at an early date.

The Utah Construction company, it was stated, will be ready to begin active work within 20 days and probably will begin assembling equipment at once. The company's representatives announced that the work would be completed in 22 months after it begins.

Members of the American Falls board stated that the recommendation service did not participate in the bidding for the contract, but that it had laid before the board its estimate as to the probable cost of the work. This estimate, which approximated $2,000,000, lower than the bid of the successful contractor, members of the board stated, did not take into account possibility of the dam being built on a site other than entirely favorable conditions.

Vice Consul Was Stoned to Death as He Lay Unconscious in Hospital, Says Minister

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—How Robert Imbrie, American vice consul at Tehran, was stoned to death by natives as he lay unconscious upon an operating table, was related today by Joseph F. Korafield, United States minister to Persia, just resigned, who returned on the Lovatian with a report of the tragedy which he will submit to the state department at Washington.

"In Tehran as in most Persian cities," Mr. Korafield related, "there are numerous drinking fountains where are stationed self-constituted attendants, who in the name of a Mohammedan saint, Abbas, solicit alms. At the time of the Imbrie affair, there had gained wide circulation the story of a miracle that was reputed to have occurred at one of these fountains only a few weeks before.

Miracle Performed.

"The story was that a native approached this fountain to fill a gourd with water. 'In the name of Abbas,' asked the alms solicitor. 'No,' in the name of Bahai,' replied the gourd bearer. Straightway he was stricken blind and falling backward, he dropped to his knees and recanted with a prayer of apology directed to the saint. Abbas, alms sight was restored.

"The story of the miracle, the gathering place of thousands who tried themselves to it and lapped up the trickling water, or fought their way toward and prayed.

"Imbrie heard of this. One day he strapped on a camera and with his aide, named Seymour, drove in a bus to the fountain. He was spotted and forced his way through the crowd to take a photograph. The natives surged around him, clamoring, and he fled to the baroque and drove away.

"Behind the carriage the infuriated natives ran shouting, 'Stop him! The infidel has killed four of the faithful and poisoned the waters of the fountain!'

"Although he was not wholly informed of events that immediately followed, said Mr. Korafield, the gist of conflict and the stoning was that the natives heaved Imbrie's camera to be a weapon which silently dispatched death.

"They overhauled Seymour in an alleyway where he had taken refuge, and impaled him," he continued. "They pursued Imbrie into a tea shop; they clubbed and stoned him until the police rescued him and carried him to a hospital.

"Even then the outraged natives were not satisfied. They clamored for Imbrie's life in statement to their Mohammedan saint, Abbas. They stormed the hospital, battered down the doors and finding Imbrie unconscious upon an operating table, tore the tiles from the floor and crushed out his life with them."

The state department already was in possession of evidence reporting the story he related, said Mr. Korafield. "As for reports that Imbrie's death was the result of a long-drawn conflict between all interests of several nations," he declared, "it was fanaticism, not oil, that lay at the bottom of the tragedy." After reporting to Washington, Mr. Korafield will go to Toledo, Ohio, to assume charge of a synagogue.

NAVAL OFFICER TELLS OF LEASE

Initial Witness Is Called in Suit to Cancel Federal Oil Contracts.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 (AP)—Testimony was started in the United States district court here today in the government suit to cancel the lease of oil contracts of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, which E. L. Doherty, controlling stockholder, values at $100,000,000, and in the alleged conspiracy for granting of which the government charges Doherty pay $100,000 to Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior at the time.

Commander H. A. Stuart, United States navy, formerly officer in charge of the naval fuel oil reserves at Washington, was the first witness called by Owen J. Roberts, government prosecutor. Roberts said that Commander Stuart was placed on the witness stand to prove that a disagreement existed in the navy department concerning these leases; that the navy officer had not been in accord with the policy and was subsequently removed from office.

RAIL OWNERSHIP BY GOVERNMENT IS POSSIBILITY

Canadian Warns of Need for Efficiency and Prosperity to Prevent Losing Control.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Sir Henry Worth Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, told the conference on education and industry at the University of Chicago today that railroads must maintain a high degree of prosperity and efficiency to escape government ownership. The conference was held under the joint auspices of the university and the Institute of American Merchant Packers and in connection with the packers' annual meeting.

"The cardinal principle essential to the existence of any railway as a private enterprise," were set forth by Sir Henry. These were, he said: "The road must be solvent and meet its financial obligations; it must furnish adequate transportation, without discrimination with respect to communities at such rates and under such conditions as will permit economic development of the district it serves; it must pay to its employees that wage which, under reasonable working conditions, will permit them to live in decency and comfort."

F. Edison White, president of Armour and company, in a protest against "wholesale attack upon the political quacks who would nationalize or at least establish federal control over all industry," declared that the railroads were held down by restrictive laws and administrative regulations to such an extent that "individual effort is well nigh nullified."

Death of Spinster Discloses Wealth Hid Around House

Bonded Caretaker Placed at Home to Prevent Crowds From Seeking Hidden Treasure.

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 22 (AP)—A bonded caretaker has been placed on guard at the residence of Miss Martha Shumate, wealthy spinster, who died last week, leaving a hoarded fortune stuffed and crammed in nearly every nook and cranny of the house.

The guard was established when crowded by the reports of hidden treasure, threatened to overrun the premises. Bank officials said the woman had drawn several thousand dollars from her account recently to distribute in modest bequests among her friends. It also became known that hardly a receptacle in the house has failed to give up money. Clocks, picture frames, covered plates and cruet and crockery poured out old gold and bank notes, much of the gold coin said to be of old mintage, many pieces being from the California mint, coined while the gold rush was at its height.

MINE EXPLOSION BURIES 9 MEN; 4 MAKE ESCAPE

Kentucky Miners Miraculously Avoid Injury; Five Held Underground Are Reported to be Safe.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22 (AP)—An explosion in the mine of the Hart Coal corporation near here early tonight entombed nine men four of whom escaped through an abandoned shaft and five reported that they were "all here," indicating they escaped injury, according to officials of the company.

The explosion occurred in shaft No. 9, 220 feet underground, shortly after the day fore of 250 men had left the mine. The blast from the shaft shot more than 100 feet into the air. The rage was jammed in the shaft and the tangle below partly over.

For several hours it was believed that the nine men known to be in the pits had perished.

Shortly before nine o'clock tonight the bodies of three of the men were recovered. One heard a voice from below shouting "Ho! Ho! Ho! here!"

It took those on the surface in reply to questions that "we are all here."

None of them was injured, he said. Two rescue crews were attempting to enter the workings tonight in search of two men who were said to be still in the mine. Company officials, however, said that there were only nine men underground when the explosion occurred.

The regular mine crew of 250 men left the mine only a short time before the explosion. The entombed men were shooting coal in preparation for the next shift. The explosion occurred. It is believed that gas burned in the mine had become ignited. Every effort is being made to rush a rescue car to the shaft.

He declared he believed Mr. Ford would renew his bid and that it would pass the senate if it came to a vote.

Senator Heflin said the Ford bill would have been adopted at the last session if the senate had been "allowed" to vote on it.

"Ford's offer is the best solution of Muscle Shoals from the standpoint of the people," he declared, "and until I am convinced that Ford will not accept it, I will continue to support his offer."

Former Leader of Legion Is Shot by Crazy Husband

Accuses Colonel John G. Emory of Breaking Up His Home; Wound Is Reported as Not Serious.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 22 (AP)—With the words, "You broke up my home" on his lips, Chedell Simpson, 44 years old, fired a bullet today into the left arm of Colonel John G. Emory, veteran of Cantigny, the Argonne and Meuse-Argonne, and former national commander of the American Legion. The shooting was in Emory's real estate office, where Simpson's 28-year-old wife is employed.

Tonight Colonel Emory is at a local hospital recuperating from his wound, and Simpson, against whom Mrs. Simpson recently filed suit for divorce, is in a cell charged with assault with intent to kill.

Colonel Emory, who is 43 years old and unmarried, could give no reason tonight why Simpson singled him out as the cause of his domestic troubles. The man's wife, according to Emory, has been employed in the real estate office only a fortnight and he had never seen either Simpson or Mrs. Simpson before, that time.

"Mrs. Simpson told me she had filed suit for divorce," Colonel Emory said today. "This morning she came to me and said her husband had come to the office again in a very intoxicated condition, and that she was afraid of him."

"I walked into the outer office where Simpson stood and asked him what he wanted. When I refused to permit him to enter my private office, where Mrs. Simpson had remained, he pulled a gun, leveled it at me and shouted, 'You're a dirty dog and everyone knows it. You're trying to break up my home.'"

BEAN GROWERS, LISTEN! Protective Tariff Saves the Bean Growers of Twin Falls County $1,050,000 on the 1924 Crop

IT IS conservatively estimated that in the year 1924 there were at least 40,000 acres of beans grown in Twin Falls County alone and the yield averaged 25 bushels per acre, or a total of 1,000,000 bushels.

Under the present tariff law there is a duty of 14 cents per pound on beans imported into this country and there is plenty of foreign beans seeking a market in the United States. That duty on imported beans means $1.05 protection per bushel to our growers. Figure for yourselves what that means in dollars and cents to the Bean Growers alone of Twin Falls County on their 1924 one million bushel crop.

The Protective Tariff protects the sheep and cattle grower and all other producers of Twin Falls County in the same way that it protects the Bean Growers.

Do you want protection or will you return to Free Trade? And did you know that LaFollette voted against a protective tariff on practically every product of Twin Falls County? Look up his record!

Below is a list of some of the products of this State which are protected by the present Republican tariff:

Wheat, per bushel	42c
Alfalfa and Red Clover Seed, lb.	4c
Timothy and Red Top Seed, lb.	2c
Eggs, dozen	8c
Poultry, lb.	6c
Butter, lb.	8c
Hay, per ton	$4
Barley and Oats, cwt.	20c
Beans lb.	14c
Peas, lb.	1c
Milk lb.	14c
Wool, lb.	31c
Cattle, lb.	14c to 2c
Sugar, cwt.	$1.76

Shall Idaho's basic industries be put on a competitive basis in the home market with cheap labor and low living standards of foreign nations? The laborers of Idaho should not lose sight of the fundamental fact that if the producers of the above products are compelled to sell on the basis of cheap labor and low living standards of foreign nations such producers will be able to pay for the labor required to produce their products, no greater wage than is paid the cheap labor in foreign countries. Do you want cheap labor in this country? The Republican party believes that the producers, that is the farmers, stock raisers and laborers of Idaho want good prices for their respective products. In the 1924 November issue of the Pictorial Review the Democratic party says:

"A vote for John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan is a vote for greater buying power for the American dollar." In other words, reinstate the Democratic party in power and the farmers will be compelled to deliver more of their products to obtain a dollar and the laborers will be compelled to deliver more of their labor to obtain a dollar. Is that what the farmers and laborers, the citizens of Idaho, want, or do they want more dollars for their products? If it is the latter vote to protect your products against the cheap outputs of foreign countries.

Public Economy

I am for economy. After that I am for more economy. At this time and under present conditions that is my conception of serving all the people.—PRES. IDENTITY COOLIDGE.

The Republican party in its platform of 1920, and throughout the campaign, promised rigid economy in the administration of public affairs, the reduction of taxes, and the introduction of business methods in the routine of government. The administration and the Republican Congress came into power pledged to these policies. The manner in which the pledges have been redeemed can best be set forth by the plain figures. The following is a summary of a little over three years of economy under the Republican administration:

Public Debt Reduced by $3,000,000,000

Public Debt, February 28, 1921	$24,051,684,728
Public Debt, June 30, 1924	20,981,242,042
DECREASE IN PUBLIC DEBT	3,070,442,686

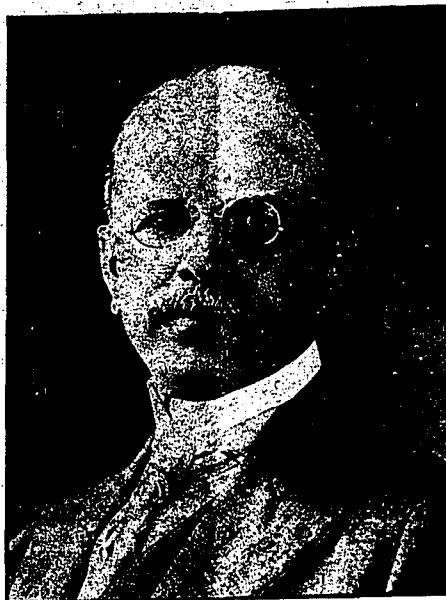

This decrease in the public debt carried with it a tremendous decrease in the interest charges. The interest rate on our public debt averages 4½ per cent. A reduction of a billion dollars in the debt, therefore, means a reduction of $45,000,000 in the annual interest charges; and the reduction of over three billion dollars which the Republican administration has actually made in the principal of the public debt has meant a reduction in the annual interest charges of more than $135,000,000. In addition, Secretary Mellon has refunded a considerable portion of the outstanding public debt at a lower rate of interest than it originally carried. The interest savings due to this refunding process amount to tens of millions of dollars.

Downward March of Public Expenditures

The story of the decrease in public expenditures is told in the following table, which shows the annual expenditures of the government, excluding the postal expenditures payable from the postal revenues, for the last four years:

Fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, (all but three months of which was under Democratic administration)	$5,538,000,000
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1922	3,795,000,000
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1923	3,697,000,000
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1924	3,497,000,000

FOR CONGRESS

ADDISON T. SMITH

TO THE PEOPLE OF IDAHO:

The usefulness and influence of a Representative in Congress is largely determined by his knowledge of public affairs, his acquaintance with his colleagues and the officers of the government in the various departments, as well as the methods under which the business of the nation is transacted; as well as the long experience gained by long service. Congressman Addison T. Smith has so impressed his usefulness to Idaho as a Representative in Congress that he has repeatedly been nominated without opposition, and elected by increased majorities.

The Republican County Central Committee therefore presents his candidacy for re-election with pride and satisfaction because of what he has accomplished in behalf of the State, with the utmost confidence that he will have the earnest support of those, regardless of party, who place efficiency in the public service above partisanship.

Congressman Smith has stood for the developments of the West with a determination that has won for him the respect of even those in Congress of peculiar interest to the public land States; and while he has specialized in legislation providing for the reclamation of the arid lands, he has earnestly supported legislation for the benefit of the agriculturist and the wage earner, including the following measures:

Farmers' Emergency Tariff Bill; Permanent Tariff Bill; Agricultural Credit Act; Reduced Freight Rates; American Falls Reservoir; Rehabilitation Fort Hall Irrigation Project; Cheaper Power for Gen Irrigation District; Providing for Appointment of a Farmer on the Federal Reserve Board; Co-operative Marketing Law; Butter Standard Act; Restricted Immigration Law; Packers' and Stockyard Act; Federal Appropriations for Highways; Legislation for Benefit of Ex-service Men; Woman's Suffrage; Prohibition Enforcement; Legislation Preventing Exploiting of Child Labor; Reduction of Taxes; Legislation to Curb the Narcotic Evil; Uniform Marriage and Divorce Laws; Opposed Issuance of Tax Exempt Securities.

By reason of Congressman Smith's long service he has attained the position of Chairman of the Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation, and is next to the Chairman, in point of service, on the Committee on Public Lands, two of the most important committees in the House to the West.

His re-election to Congress will be a recognition of the splendid service he has rendered the State, and give him additional prestige and influence in the councils of the Nation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. GRAHAM,
Chairman Republican County Central Committee.

ernment has been slashed over $2,000,000,000 since the Republican administration came into power.

The reduction in appropriations made by the Congress since it came into control of the Republican party appears from the following table, showing appropriations by years beginning with the fiscal year 1920:

Fiscal year ending June 30, 1920	$7,052,387,633
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1921	4,070,964,534
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1922	4,177,802,100
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1923	3,951,062,084
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1924	4,013,109,837
Fiscal year ending June 30, 1925	3,823,125,959
It should be kept in mind that in these appropriations, as well as in the public expenditures, there is included the interest on the public debt and payments on the principal of the debt, two items which alone amount to over $1,350,000,000 a year. Excluding these items, and the appropriations to the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, which average about $400,000,000 a year, it will be seen that the routine expenditures of the government and the Congressional appropriations are gradually returning to the pre-war basis, notwithstanding the fact that practically every department of the government is performing more service than ever before in the history of the United States.

We demand, and the people of the United States have a right to demand, rigid economy in government. A policy of strict economy enforced by the Republican administration since 1921 has made possible a reduction in taxation and has enabled the government to reduce the public debt by two and a half billion dollars. This policy rigorously enforced has resulted in a progressive reduction of public expenditures until they are now $2,000,000,000 per annum less than in 1921. The tax burdens of the people have been relieved to the extent of $1,250,000,000 per annum. Government securities have increased in value more than $3,000,000,000. Deficits have been converted into surpluses. The budget system has been firmly established and the number of federal employes has been reduced by more than 100,000. We commend the firm insistence of President Coolidge upon rigid government economy and pledge our earnest support to this end.

FOREIGN DEBTS.

In fulfillment of our pledge in the national platform of 1920, we have steadfastly refused to consider the cancellation of foreign debts. Our attitude has not been that of an oppressive creditor seeking immediate return and ignoring existing financial conditions. Our position has been based on the conviction that a moral obligation such as was incurred should not be disregarded.

We stand for settlements with all debtor countries similar in character with our debt agreement with Great Britain. That settlement, achieved under a Republican administration, was the greatest international financial transaction in the history of the world. Under the terms of the agreement the United States now receives an annual return upon the $4,600,000,000 owing to us by Great Britain, with a definite obligation of ultimate payment in full.

The justness of the basis employed has been formally recognized by other debtor nations. Thirty-five per cent of the total foreign debt is now in progress of liquidation.

The Republican Platform on the Tariff

We reaffirm our belief in the protective tariff to extend needed protection to our productive industries. We believe in protection as a national policy with equal regard to all sections and to agriculture and industry. It is only by adherence to this policy that the interests of the consumers can be safeguarded and American agriculture, American labor and American manufactures be assured a return sufficient to perpetuate American standards of life.

A protective tariff is designed to support the high American economic level of life for the average family and to prevent a lowering to the levels of economic life prevailing in other lands. It is the history of the Nation that the protective system has ever justified itself by promoting industrial activity and employment, enormously increasing our purchasing power, restoring confidence and bringing increased prosperity to all.

The tariff protection to our industry works for increased consumption of domestic agricultural products by an employed population, instead of one unable to purchase the necessities of life. Without the strict maintenance of the tariff principle our farmers will need always to compete with cheap lands and cheap labor abroad, and with lower standards of living.

The enormous value of the protective principle has once more been demonstrated by the effects of the Emergency Tariff Act of 1921 and the Tariff Act of 1922.

We believe that the power of the President to decrease or increase any rate of duty in the Tariff Act furnishes a safeguard against excessive duties and against too low customs charges, and affords ample opportunity for tariff duties to be adjusted after a hearing that they may cover the actual difference in the cost of production in the United States and the principal competing countries of the world.

Prominent Democrat Says Protection Is Necessary

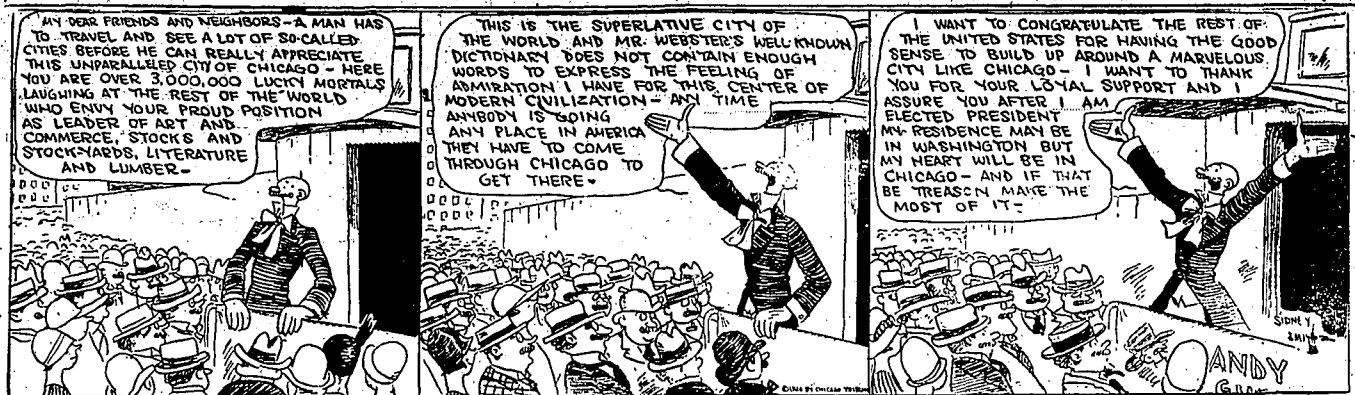

Mr. Samuel Untermyer, one of the most prominent Democrats in the United States, in an interview reported to the New York Times of September 2, 1922, stated that he was not a stranger to Europe, nor merely a casual observer of affairs there. In relation to the tariff, he said:

"If we were to beat down our tariff walls instead of building them higher in self protection, and were to supply those countries with raw materials in return for their manufactures, we could, of course, help them. But that would mean that we should have, in order to finance them, to destroy ourselves by closing our factories and throwing our workmen out on the streets. Never in our history has there been a time when enlightened selfishness so strongly dictated the necessity of protecting our labor from the annihilation which would follow the pauperized conditions of Central and Southeastern Europe."

ENGLAND TRADE
OUTLOOK GRAVE
IS DECLARATION

More Than One Million Now
Unemployed, Says Englishman, and Figures Rapidly Mounting.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Charles C. Pearson of Liverpool, England, member of the war time allied purchasing commission, told the members of the Institute of American Meat Packers here that the trade outlook in England "for the coming winter is grave."

He cited statistics to show that when he left home a month ago "there were unofficially 1,200,000 unemployed, and unfortunately, the figure was increasing weekly as the winter advances."

"With these figures of unemployment before you," Mr. Pearson continued, "you do not want to be told that trade is bad; in fact, the outlook for the coming winter is grave. Financially, England has made great sacrifices and since the war has become a comparatively poor nation, but only temporarily, we hope, as I believe our recuperative powers will again make good."

Disease Hurts.

E. N. Westworth, director of the livestock bureau of Armour and company, told the institute that financial conditions, the poor crops and the certain extent, foot and mouth guarantees were operating to restrict the supply of cattle. High prices of corn, he declared, had prevented the export of revival in the production of hogs this coming spring. Sheep and lambs would run heavier in 1925, "assuming that there is no further pressure from the drought affected regions west of the mountains."

Oscar G. Mayer of Chicago, was elected president of the institute at today's session, succeeding Charles E. Horlick of Chicago.

FARM TENDS TO UNITE FAMILY

Country Life Best to Promote Unity Says Oregon Man at Meeting.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 22 (AP)—

The farm industry in its economic sense fights for the unity of the family and the city industry tends to disrupt it, the Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, social action department, rural life bureau, of Eugene, Oregon, declared before the second annual Catholic rural life conference here.

Because husband and wife in the country have the same intellectual interests, make the same contracts and directly supervise the training of their children in the only apprenticeship left for children of America, divorce is comparatively infrequent in rural districts. On the other hand the city is strewn with the wreckage of homes, the speaker said.

Much undoubtedly may be said for yearning human individuals in great cities, but the farm house remains the natural habitat of the family," the Rev. Mr. O'Hara declared.

"The significance of the farm lies in providing a normal environment for the family; its contribution to America is not bread, but babies. The country is the most prolific nursery where the city recovers its sustenance and its population."

HANSEN

HANSEN—Mrs. August Kahle and daughter, Esther, were making calls here last of the week.

Mrs. Raymond Durk is seriously ill with pneumonia and is being cared for by a trained nurse. At present there has been no change for the better.

The ladies of the community council are looking forward to a profitable meeting on Thursday afternoon. Miss Hopworth, Dole, state superintendent of women's work of the state for the university extension department, and her assistant, Miss Esther Kahle of Rupert, will be present to address the women on home economics.

Nearly the entire membership of the church and a large number of visitors were present for the church services last Sunday.

SHULBERG AIM TO AID FARMER

Progressive Party Nominee for Congress Tells Views on Political Situation.

William Shulberg, of Preston, candidate on the progressive party's ticket for representative in congress from the Second Idaho district, addressed a meeting of about 150 persons here Thursday evening, declaring that if he were elected to congress it was his purpose to "represent my interests as all other congressmen do," and concluding that he meant by this that he would seek to advance the interests of the farmers.

He declared his purpose to vote against the "farmers' financial difficulties." This declaration was received with applause and Mr. Shulberg continued with the statement that "there are financial difficulties among the people and if we can't find the remedy we will all die financial death."

"Legislation," he declared, "has brought our life upon us and they can be cured by legislation."

Hope Federal Reserve.
He pronounced himself in favor of amendment to the federal reserve act, "so that we shall have a banking system that will be a benefit to the farmers."

Deflation, he asserted, brought about the farmers' financial difficulties, and deflation, he declared, was brought about by arbitrary act of the federal reserve board in February, 1923.

Reference to Senator LaFollette, who "was who has raised the people from slavery," brought applause from the audience.

Declains Radicalism.
"There is nothing radical," Mr. Shulberg asserted, "according to my understanding, in the progressive cause." He refused to answer the proposition to the declaration of independence to justify alteration, or even destruction of existing form of government, in order to bring about better conditions.

Mr. Shulberg told his audience that he had been a resident of Franklin County for 21 years and that he had been a boy in this country from Sweden. He has been identified, he said, with the building of irrigation systems in southern Idaho.

Mr. Shulberg was preceded by Mrs. E. E. McAuley, progressive candidate for probate judge. With regard to her own candidate, she stated that the office of the probate court was one of the offices that properly came within the increasing sphere of woman's influence and should be placed on humanitarian principles by a woman official.

The speakers were introduced by W. E. Hahn, chairman of the progressive county committee. Several of the party's candidates occupied seats on the stage.

Popular Proverb.
The expression, "Out of the frying pan into the fire," means that in trying to extricate yourself from one evil, you fell into a greater. The ancient Greeks used to say, "Out of the smoke, into the flame," and the French say, "Tombe de la poêle dans le feu," that is, to fall from the stove into the hot coals.

True Riches.
In this world, it is not what we take up, but what we give up, that makes us rich.—Rougher.

HOLSTEIN COW NAMED DAIRY QUEEN; 36,217 POUNDS MILK IN YEAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—A new dairy queen was proclaimed today by officials of the Holstein-Friesian association of America, named Helen Woodcock, a pure bred Holstein on the farm of F. M. Helm, Fresno, Cal. She has just completed a yearly test with a record of 36,217 pounds of milk and 3,002.80 pounds of butter fat, equivalent to 1254.8 pounds of butter. This milk production record, the association says, has been exceeded only by the champion of all ages and breeds, Segia Plotzke Prospect of Seattle, Wash., with a yearly record of 37,881 pounds of milk.

The California cow takes the record for a three-year-old from Grahamholm Colantia Pauline Segia, in the herd of Christopher J. Graham of Rochester, Minn., but the Minnesota cow retains the four-year-old butterfat record at 1141.4 pounds.

LUTHERANS DISCUSS CHRISTIANITY IN WAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—The United Lutheran church in America at the close of the first day of its convention here today, faced the issue of whether a Christian may ever justify war. On the one hand was citation of the Augsburg confession, 394 years old, the first and still recognized confession of the church; and the other a demand from various Lutherans for a new pronouncement. This is the anniversary of the signing of the Augsburg confession, said to be the first pronouncement of a protestant body on the war question.

The issue was outlined in the report of the Rev. Dr. M. G. Gehrer of Philadelphia, secretary. He said the issue was before the church in the form of four memorials from his many synods, and in the report of the committee on social and moral welfare.

ELECTRIC CHAIR USED TO MAKE PUPILS IN BEHAVE IN CLASSES

BARNESVILLE, Minn., Oct. 22 (AP)—Excitement which had prevailed with the first announcement that H. T. Opahl, school teacher in the Barnesville high school, had been arrested and released on $2000 bonds in connection with charges that he had used an "electric chair" to punish inordinate students had died down in Barnesville today with parents and pupils, members of the school board and Opahl all apparently content to await the outcome of the preliminary hearing next Saturday. Until that time, it is indicated Opahl will continue to have charge of his classes as usual.

The use of "electric chair," according to Opahl, was the outcome of a method to "scare the pupils who since the beginning of school, would not subject themselves to discipline." It was made from a standard office chair, to which a high frequency coil had been attached, said Opahl, and under the most favorable conditions, the current "would merely cause a tingling sensation to the student being punished."

SMITH RELATES TARIFF BENEFITS

Congressman and Lieutenant Governor Share Platform at Meeting at Paul.

PAUL, Oct. 22.—(Special) To The News.—Congressman Addison T. Smith and Lieutenant Governor H. C. Baldridge, republican nominees for reelection, shared the platform at a meeting here this evening in the interests of the republican party and candidates at the coming election.

Benefits of the republican protective tariff policy were emphasized by Congressman Smith.

"The agricultural and livestock interests of the country," he said, "are still suffering from the restrictions of credits and the calling of loans by the democratic federal reserve board during 1919 and 1920, although under the benefits offered by the tariff bill enacted during the first year of the republican administration the farmers and stockmen are rapidly curtailing their financial obligations and within two or three years will be on the road to prosperity if the 'republican policy of protection is continued.'"

Praise Moore's Achievements.
The administration of Governor Moore, came in for commendation at the hands of the lieutenant governor, who praised the governor's consistent and conscientious efforts throughout his term of office to curtail public expenditures with the result, Mr. Baldridge stated, that approximately $1,000,000 had been saved to the taxpayers.

Inquiry Committee Learns of Method Used to Bring Leaders to Capital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Intimate details of the bringing of labor leaders to Washington to hear President Coolidge in a Labor day address have been given today by the inquiry committee light on methods employed to raise money for the conduct of the republican party's national campaign were furnished today to the senate campaign fund investigating committee.

T. C. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board, told them he had arranged to bring the labor leaders here, and had advanced the money, about $300, to pay their hotel and taxicab bills in Washington. This sum, he added, later was repaid to him by Joseph Ryan, vice president of the International Longshoremen's union. He denied that he had discussed the matter with either President Coolidge or the president's secretary, C. Buxton Slomp, but under sharp cross examination he stated he had taken it up with one White House attaché.

Joseph R. Grundy, a wealthy manufacturer of Bristol, Pa., and chairman of the Pennsylvania ways and means committee of the republican national committee, said his organization has raised $305,000 up to today in 53 counties in Pennsylvania outside of the Pittsburgh district.

W. J. Mellon, a relative of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, is in charge of raising money in that district, he said.

TWIN FALLS MAN IS HELD IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Dorriann O. Rice is lodged in the Oakland jail on a federal indictment returned September 10 at Boise on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead law.

Rice was jointly indicted in Boise by the United States grand jury in September with J. H. Jones and S. M. Brackenbury, the indictments containing 11 counts in which conspiracy is alleged. A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Rice September 29 when he failed to appear, and now heads fixed at $1500. No word of the arrest had been received Monday at the United States clerk's office at Boise, but as court is now in session at Portland it was believed notification had been sent there.

Care of Shoes.
One little lady seldom blackens her boots. She carries one of those handy little brush-on wheels with her in her shopping bag and keeps her boots always free from dust. Every day she uses a stiff brush on the soles and the grooves between sole and shoe, blacks and polishes the heels and the edge of the sole, then turns the rest to a tooth with a sponge lightly moistened in milk. The boots take a dull polish, never crack and keep their softness to a good old age.

LAFOLLETTE ATTACKS COOLIDGE ECONOMY

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 22 (AP)—Centering an attack on President Coolidge in an address here tonight, Senator Robert M. LaFollette, independent presidential candidate, declared that the chief executive "saves at the spigot and wastes at the bungole."

"Coolidge is keen," continued the Wisconsin senator, "the economy plan to prevent the national from discharging its just obligations to the world war veterans and old soldiers of the Civil and Spanish-American wars, and to its postal employees, but when it comes to the big wastes and grafts that are draining the public treasury, he suddenly goes blind."

DAVIS COMPLETES HIS CAMPAIGN IN INDIANA

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 22 (AP)—Completing his third and final campaign tour of Indiana with an address tonight at Evansville and in the late afternoon at historic Vincennes, John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president, charged that the last three and one-half years of the republican administration has produced the third party, and offered with the help of a democratic congress to remedy "the disease which had brought it about."

Mr. Davis also pledged in the name of democracy to give relief to the farmers of the country; to bring about a thorough house cleaning of the Washington government; to put an end to bureaucracies and install a government based on a sane, forward looking and progressive liberalism.

Joe-K Says:

We notice where some bunk rubbers killed another officer who was trying to arrest them. Straight shooting by a few two-gun officers will put the fear of the law into empty heads of some of these worthless kids, who think a loaded pistol is all one needs to pry loose a living from society. The only good hand is a dead one.

BOBBED HAIR UNDER FIRE

PARIS, Oct. 22 (AP)—The attack on bobbed hair opened at Deauville, now is being fully developed at the start of the Paris autumn season. The main support of bobbed hair, its opponents declare, is the difficulty of presenting an attractive appearance during the intermediary period while the hair is growing again. To overcome this the hair dressers are making a special show of devices for camouflaging scanty locks.

"Iberian" The Iberian peninsula was so named from the ancient inhabitants, who were known as the Iberes. According to some authorities the word merely means "inhabited." The name seems to have been applied by the Greek navigators to the peoples of the eastern coast of Spain, probably originally those who dwelt by the river Iberus, the modern Ebro. Iberian thus means sometimes the population of the peninsula in general and sometimes the peoples of some definite race who formed one element in the population.

Admit Possibility of Metal Transmutation

Nothing better could illustrate the new conceptions of matter now existing in scientific circles than the tour to which the orthodox physicists comment on the report from Germany of the turning of mercury into gold.

A few years ago no real scientist would have had the patience to dignify such a thing as the attempt of transmuting, says the New York Times.

The difference between the elements was held to be essential and unchangeable. At present there is more than doubt if any essential difference separates any so-called element from any of the others, and to claims of transmutation the answer is "Not impossible."

The old assumptions as to the indestructibility of matter and the conservation of energy, they too, have taken upon well days, and the respect that used to be theirs has waned to next to nothing. Yet science need not confess inability, since it never as serious infidelity. The old hypothesis fitted all of the known facts of their day, and they met the pragmatic test—they worked.

It was said of Heriberto Spencer that his idea of a tragedy was the overthrowing of a beautiful hypothesis by an ugly fact. In these days no horror at all and not even disquietude is caused by such happenings.

BLAME DISEASE FOR BEAN LOSS

Specialists Report Tentative Conclusions Following Investigation Here.

A disease that is favored by hot, dry weather, and not alkali salts or insect pests, was the major trouble causing extensive damage to bean crops in Idaho, whose preliminary report, according to tentative conclusions reached following extensive investigations carried on in the field and in laboratories by Roy E. Noid, plant pathologist, and J. M. Rader, assistant plant pathologist, of the University of Idaho, whose preliminary report of their investigation was received here Wednesday.

The report is summarized as follows: 1. Preliminary investigations indicate that the major trouble causing the death of beans is due to a disease which is similar to a root rot caused by a species of fungus.

2. Alkali salts and insects are a minor contributing factor causing reduction of crops in a few fields.

3. Work is in progress to further establish proof of these tentative conclusions. Work is also under way to establish the tolerance of beans toward different concentrations, and combinations of alkali salts.

4. It was very noticeable that certain varieties were more resistant to this disease, the Mexican being the most resistant, in fact almost totally immune. Next appeared the Montana Whites and the least resistant were many of the garden wax varieties.

5. Resistant varieties could not be developed by seed selection. The children of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gabbart gave a charming dinner in honor of their sister's wedding anniversary on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gabbart, on Third avenue north. The centerpiece for the table was a gold basket filled with gold flowers and the decorations for the dining room were in the same color. Mr. and Mrs. Gabbart were each presented with a handsome gift. Those present besides the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Meeds, Samuel Yantis and daughters, Fern and Opal; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hawley and Mrs. James Hawley of Shelbyville, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gabbart and family and Katherine Gabbart.

6. A means of combating the disease should each season be such as to promote its growth, is as follows: Great care must be given to careful seed selection; rotation of crops. If it is the disease we think it is, it is not transmitted by the seed; rather the disease comes from spores in the soil. Hence little can be done along the line of soil sterilization.

SAMUELS AND HIS COAL MINE

H. F. Samuels advocates the taxation of mines, including coal mines, upon the basis of the value of the mineral content in sight in the mine. The present method of taxation is to levy upon the annual output.

Mr. Samuels, at a hearing before the Idaho Public Utilities Commission some weeks ago swore that his property contained ten million tons of coal. If this amount of coal were taxed at the rate of only five cents per ton the annual tax expense to the mine would amount to five hundred thousand dollars. If the tax were but one cent a ton the amount of the tax levy would be one hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. Samuels has contracted to get out one hundred tons of coal a day, or thirty-six thousand five hundred tons per year, which he is now selling at the rate of five dollars per ton. His gross income from this output would therefore be one hundred eighty-two thousand five hundred dollars, out of which, upon the basis of his own plan, he must pay a "normal" tax of one hundred thousand dollars, on the basis of one cent a ton taxation.

What would happen to Samuels and his stockholders if such a law should be put in effect? Samuels would be well pleased to see such a law in effect with respect to all other mines in Idaho, but does anybody suppose seriously that he wants it for a single minute in his coal business? And if he got it, who could afford to buy the coal?

Those who are interested in the Samuels candidacy may figure it out for themselves. Comment, in the opinion of The News, is superfluous.

LAFOLLETTE.

The Portland, Oregon, campaign headquarters for Wheeler and LaFollette is sending out to voters circular letters in the German language which contain, speaking of the American government, the following paragraph:

"They have cast our men into dungeons; dishonored our women in devilish lust and mocked and despised our children." Vote for LaFollette who stood for the rights of men in a pious time.

Senator LaFollette, it appears, is proud of his war record. Recently in one of his speeches he said: "I would not exchange my war record with any man, living or dead, and if it were within my power to alter a single line or word in that record I should not do so."

As long as Americanism remains a vital and a living thing in America there should be no place in government for LaFollette.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Addressing a group of American girls about to vote for the first time, a clear-headed and high-minded minister tells them:

"Your immediate task is to begin the development of an intelligence of a rare kind. Perhaps you will be bewildered by political propaganda in various plausible guises. You must learn to see beneath the surface."

"You must learn what it means when a British prime minister goes to his king and says that the country must pass on the matter of a treaty with Russia. You must learn that the intricate and the significance of Japanese exclusion. You must learn these things, not as abstract information, but in their relation to the issues on which you must pass at the polls."

"You must get behind the personalities of candidates and learn the background of the things for which they and their parties stand."

"And it will be your privilege to aid in the establishment of a personal contact between the public official and the electorate." Do not let him think that the wire pullers and professional politicians who are constantly turning up as his coat tails represent the opinion and the wishes of the public."

Here is a large order for inexperienced citizens. But it points the sure way to political progress. And it is the right kind of thing to say to first voters. Being still young and plastic-minded, they can learn more readily than their elders. In them lies the best hope of making our future political life better than it has been in the past. They may make political intelligence less rare.

THE BUSINESS OF LIVING.

In his autobiography Benjamin Franklin tells how he kept books on himself. He had a ledger, at the top of each page of which he wrote one

THE HUMAN ZOO

(See U. S. Patent Office)

"Sumptin' tells me, a still, yer don't quite trust me."

A STILL SMALL VOICE

of the several virtues he regarded as fundamental for right living. One page he devoted to frugality, another to temperance, a third to industry, a fourth to silence, and so on.

At the end of each day he examined himself and if he had failed in any of these virtues he gave himself a black mark on the ledger. In this way he kept himself informed as to the weak spots of his makeup, and devoted himself constantly to improving them. Thus he kept the record in the ledger balanced.

To Ben Franklin living was the most important of all businesses. He was more concerned in showing gains and stopping losses in his living business than in his printing business.

Franklin's bookkeeping system was a practical application of the injunction, "know thyself." Self-knowledge is the fundamental of the living business. Most of us are too busy with other businesses, to look after this most important of all businesses. That's why there are so many failures in this business.

Honors for political slogans must go to the candidate this year. What other slogan could one hope to compete with "Me for Me"?

Spring's First Arrival.
The blizzard is among the first, often the first to arrive in spring in the northern part of the United States, from the southern states, where this aristocrat has been spending the winter, says the American Forestry association, Washington. Sometimes more handy blizzards will come the foot of the blue-white, eggs which it lays. The female is paler in color than the male bird.

SEES SOURCE OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER IN CANAL

Burton Smith, Canal Company Manager, Presents Interesting Possibility in Talk Before Rotarians.

Possible utilization of the Twin Falls reservoir to generate hydro electric energy, which might be used for light and power purposes in Twin Falls county was discussed by Burton E. Smith, canal company manager, at this week's meeting of the Rotary club held Wednesday noon.

Mr. Smith stated that there was every reason to believe that about 4,000 and 15,000 horsepower could be readily generated by means of a fall in the low line canal which with very little outlay would amount to 147 feet. This he stated should be sufficient to supply the minimum and maximum referred to between the low point in winter and the high point in summer. The amount of energy is comparable to that of the Shoshone Falls plant of the Idaho Power company with its approximate 15,000 horsepower, it was stated.

Cheap Power Essential.

"Cheap, readily available power is a necessity to Twin Falls," said Mr. Smith. "If Twin Falls is to attain the degree of development which is rightfully hers, on the basis of the electric price, she must have a California plant capable of generating the amount of energy which could be developed by means of the canal system here would run at an upkeep and maintenance charges and leave a surplus of $100,000 a year. I feel that the canal company should be the institution to take the initiative in this matter of an investigation of the plan as approximately 75 per cent of our population are stockholders."

During the discussion which followed it was brought out that Idaho Falls, Soda Springs and Halley are among the towns of the state which generate their own current for lighting and heating purposes. Arthur L. Selvin described the results of an investigation of the Idaho Falls plan made some six or seven years ago.

Sweeley Urges Action.

Ernest M. Sweeley told the club that the only way to safeguard the people of southern Idaho with respect to power and power development was to put the remaining power into use with as little further delay as possible. He stated that power generated in Idaho was now being used in Nevada, Oregon and Utah and that as far as the securing of more power was concerned, Twin Falls was in a position to take advantage of its natural advantages in this respect could buy as cheaply in the markets of Utah as it could at home.

The value of practical competition, Mr. Sweeley said, lay in the likelihood of such competition inducing a change in the attitude of the power company towards industrial development in this section where power is a factor. Power and transportation were two of the main needs of southern Idaho, he said, and power can now be bought as cheaply in Salt Lake City as in any place in this section of the state.

The need of a general survey which would set forth the local products and their extent together with the natural advantages of this section was dwelt on at length by Mr. Sweeley. This he declared to be the first important step, necessary to induce investment and consequent industrial development here.

Lieutenant Governor H. C. Baldridge of Parma was the guest of Joseph Seaver.

NO QUARTER IN FIGHT ON CONSTITUTION IS STATEMENT OF DAWES

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP)—Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential candidate, carrying his party's campaign into the home state of John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, told his audience here tonight that there was no room between the lines in the fight for and against the constitution.

The republican nominee devoted most of his address, delivered at the tri-state rally of West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania republicans to a criticism of his assault on the LaFollette independent candidacy characterizing it as "an attack on our constitution and existing form of government." But near the end of his speech he turned to the democratic opposition declaring, "I know I am speaking to a great many patriotic hearted, liberty loving democrats, but there is no room for any one between the lines in this great fight for and against the present form of this government and our constitution."
