

POSTAL SERVICE LOSS IS LARGE SENATE IS TOLD

Nearly $40,000,000 Spent in 1923 by Government Over Returns in Maintaining One Department.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A net loss of nearly $40,000,000 was sustained by the government in 1923 in operation of the postal service, it was shown in an expert analysis submitted to the senate today by Postmaster General New. More than half of the excess of gross expenditures over receipts was found to be chargeable against second class mail, embracing newspapers and magazines.

The report, filed in compliance with a senate resolution and designed for use in connection with the bill proposing general increase in salaries of postal employees, found that only first-class mail and postal savings were operated at a profit.

Salary Increase Coming.

With friends of the salary increase bill, vetoed at the last session of congress by President Coolidge, expressing confidence that it would be re-enacted, the cost study submitted today was seen as necessitating a revision of postal rates sufficient to bring in $100,000,000 additional revenue. As now drawn the bill provides an average increase of $300 a year to each of the 200,000 employees, with a total added expenditure of more than $60,000,000. Negotiations already are under way to fix a date for a vote on the veto, Senator Curtis, Kansas, republican leader, said today in reply to a question from Senator Dill, democrat, Washington. In the cloakroom predictions were heard that the bill would be delayed much beyond the present week.

New Bill Proposed.

Although Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, author of the vetoed measure, had prepared a new bill containing revenue producing sections, he declared today he had not decided whether to attempt to obtain its consideration. Senator Edge and other proponents of the salary increase were said to hold that it would be impossible legally, to combine the two purposes in one statute without running afoul of the constitutional prohibition against the senate's inaugurating revenue-raising legislation. It was their contention that the pending salary bill should be enacted at once and a separate bill in the house to effect the rate revision.

CASHIER UNDER ARREST.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 (AP)—Waldo C. Clappam, former cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Mutual, Okla., was arrested by deputy sheriffs here today on a fugitive warrant charging him with absconding with $50,000 of the bank's funds.

SHOALS PROBLEM IS BEING STUDIED

Senate Gives President and Senators Chance to Look Over New Underwood Plan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The senate paused today in its consideration of the Muscle Shoals problem to give President Coolidge and the senators an opportunity to study the new plan of Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama.

When the subject was called up in the senate at 3 o'clock it was agreed to carry it over until tomorrow. Because afterwards taken instead of adjournment, leaving the issue in its favored position on the senate calendar.

No movement toward settlement of the Muscle Shoals question is expected by congressional leaders until the president expresses his attitude on the Underwood proposal. The bill was taken to the White House early today by Senator Curtis, the republican leader, and Senators McKinley, Illinois, and Pepper, Pennsylvania, republicans.

The president referred the measure to the war department for a report from military experts, and he is expected to make an early announcement of his attitude on it to clarify the situation in the senate. Some consideration already has been given to the bill by the president, Senator Underwood having conferred with him several times while he was preparing it.

Finnish Vessel Is Lost; Eight Bodies Are Washed Ashore

All Hope for Remaining 19 Members of Crew Abandoned When Ship Breaks Apart.

LA ROCHELLE, France, Dec. 3 (AP)—Eight bodies were washed ashore today from the wreck of the Finnish freighter, Port Caledonia, which ran ashore on the rocks outside of here yesterday morning. Hope for the rescue of the crew of 27 which had taken refuge in the rigging when the vessel broke in two, was abandoned.

The Port Caledonia had been 117 days at sea, coming from Chile. Rescuing boats answered her call of distress but the high seas prevented their approach close enough to throw a line to the imperilled men.

NATION'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE SETS THRIFT EXAMPLE

Coolidge Traveling to Chicago Livestock Show in Ordinary Pullman; Saving of Approximately $1700.

ENROUTE TO CHICAGO WITH PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, CUMBERLAND, Md., Dec. 3 (AP)—an innovation in presidential travel was being tried tonight by Calvin Coolidge.

Since the days of Lincoln it has been the custom of presidents to travel by special train or at least in a private car on the longer trips, but Mr. Coolidge tonight was on his way to Chicago to speak at the International Livestock exposition, aboard a regularly scheduled train, with the same accommodations that may be obtained by any private citizen at almost any ticket office.

Example to Officials.

Economy which Mr. Coolidge, through his budget message and his annual message to congress, has, in effect during the last two days, declared to be the watchword of his administration, is the motive for the abandonment of the custom. Mr. Coolidge figured he could save approximately $1700 on the trip by eschewing the old methods of travel and decided that such a saving might be able to accomplish an example for departmental heads and bureau chiefs and possibly might have an effect on congress.

The president's party occupied a compartment car, which was placed between the diner and the observation car. The president and Mrs. Coolidge had a drawing room. The compartments were occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns, Secretary Stimp, Major General Correll, the White House physician, Captain Adolphus Andrews, naval aide to the president, and secret service men.

Mr. Coolidge soon after leaving Washington, took a nap, reclining on the couch in his drawing room while the open door gave other passengers passing on their way to the observation car an opportunity to catch a glimpse of the executive at rest.

President's Message to Law

Makers Stresses Economy as

Big Necessity; Outlines His Program.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—

President Coolidge submitted to congress today a broad program dealing with domestic and foreign affairs, but said frankly the chief job of the government was to keep down expenses.

In the face of the usual December drive for increased appropriations the executive again made economy his watchword and reminded the congress that he still stood in the gap to resist increased appropriation bills which would make future tax reduction impossible.

Supply Bills First.

While generally endorsing most of the domestic legislative recommendations of the president, administration leaders at the capital saw little hope of translating many of them into law at this session. They will be fairly well satisfied if they can get all of the annual supply measure through before this congress expires by limitation next March 4.

Departing from the custom of recent years, Mr. Coolidge did not deliver his message in person. He transmitted it by messenger and it was read simultaneously in both houses. Senators and representatives as well as fairly crowded galleries gave it close attention. In the senate there was an absence of the applause which generally greets executive declarations when made in person but in the house members applauded several of the recommendations.

Two Tax Recommendations.

President Coolidge made no recommendations with respect to immediate tax reduction, but he told the congress that if it would keep within the limitations of the budget he presented yesterday it would be possible to have "a moderate amount of tax reduction and all the tax reform that the congress may wish for during the next fiscal year."

Chief among his other recommendations, some of which are reiterated in declarations in his first annual message were:

American adherence to the world court with reservations previously outlined and with an additional safeguard that this country shall not be bound by advisory opinions which may be rendered by the court upon questions which the United States has not voluntarily submitted.

The transfer of the emergency fleet corporation to the whole responsibility of the operation of the merchant marine fleet and property and leaving to the shipping board solely the duty of determining major policies which require deliberative action.

Agricultural aid through legislation to be submitted after the agricultural commission has completed its survey of the situation.

Full constitutional rights for the negro with legislative safeguards against lynching.

The placing of the prohibition enforcement forces and first, second and third class postmasters under the civil service.

Amendment of the immigration act so as to permit immigrants in this country more latitude in obtaining admission of members of their own families.

Passage of legislation for the reorganization of government departments.

Maintenance of the policy of "constantly working toward the full treaty strength of the navy."

Congressional support for the development of aid to relief and for the army plan of national defense.

NEW SCHEDULE OUTLINED FOR FREIGHT RATE

Grain Transportation Charge on Fixed Differential System Proposed at Salt Lake Hearing.

SALT LAKE, Dec. 3 (AP)—A rate structure on grain and grain products based on a fixed differential system or on what is known as the Kansas City rate combination basis, was proposed at today's hearing on the case instituted by the Ogden grain exchange to test the reasonableness of outboard transportation charges on grain and grain products from Utah and Idaho points. The proposal was made by W. B. Scott, Kansas City, representing the Ogden grain exchange and the board of trade of Kansas City, who agreed with the complainant that a rate adjustment is necessary but who presented a solution to the alleged discrimination in the form of a rate schedule entirely foreign to the basis of complainant's proposed schedule.

Interveners.

Other intervenors, representing the interests of the Southwestern Missouri Millers' association and the Northern Pacific Millers' association, also presented their respective cases. The divergence of the interests represented by the intervenors was brought out on direct and cross-examination. Thus far, three rate schedules, designed to eliminate the rate problems, have been proposed, the first by the complainant Ogden Grain exchange as presented Monday by H. W. Pickett, the second Tuesday by G. H. Worth, representing the Colorado Milling and Elevator company, and the third by Mr. Scott.

The testimony of W. A. Blank, Fort Worth, Texas, representing the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, and the southwestern railroads generally, concluded today's hearing.

UTILITIES COMMISSION PRAISES BOARD'S WORK

BOISE, Dec. 3 (AP)—There can be no doubt but that the car service given by the regional board for the central western division has been of great benefit to producers of Idaho, according to the state public utilities commission, which, in its eleventh annual report, submitted to Governor C. O. Moore, commends the work of the regional board and declares its activity has resulted in obtaining better equipment for moving produce to market. The utilities commission, says the report, has taken an active interest in the board and at practically all conferences at Denver, Salt Lake, Pocatello and other places in the district, has had a representative present.

THE DILEMMA OF THE ARRANGEMENT FOR THE PARTY TO WHICH NOBODY CAME

THE GUMPS—THE SILVER LINING

NOTED SPEECH OF PRESIDENT WAS PREPARED

Lincoln Not Natural Born Speaker, Opinion of Professor After Much Research; Result of Constant Effort.

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 3 (AP)—Contrary to the general belief that Lincoln's Gettysburg address was either unprepared or a hastily prepared effort, it was a result of careful thought and much work, according to Prof. Daniel Kilham Dodge of the University of Illinois. He is convinced after years of research work, that Lincoln's success in writing a speech was the result of constant effort and that standard English to the Civil War President was an acquired dexterity.

"It has often been assumed that Lincoln, like Goldsmith, was a master of English style by the grace of God. 'Nothing could be farther from the truth,' for we have abundant evidence both internal and external, that Lincoln's success in writing and speaking as in the practice of the law, was the result of constant effort and that, as he made thorough preparation of his law cases, studying his opponent's side as carefully as his own, never depending upon the inspiration of the moment, so he prepared his speeches, generally writing them out in full and committing them to memory. His manner of practice as a lawyer in these words of advice to a law student: 'Work, work, work, that is the main thing.' 'When he delivered a speech without preparation, as with the short speeches on the journey to Washington in 1801 or the response to a serenade the evening before the delivery at Gettysburg, the result was anything but successful. Unlike Beards, he had not the tongue of a ready speaker and with characteristic himself. This negative characteristic was undoubtedly due in part to the fact that standard English was not a dialect with him and therefore he lacked the spontaneity in its use of one to the manner born.

"But this defect also had its advantage and it is to a great extent responsible for his later complete mastery of the spoken word. It contributed to making Lincoln a progressive artist, advancing step by step from the crude 'Communication' of 1832, through the rather sophomoric efforts of the late thirties and early forties, to the more restrained speech of the fifties, to the mark of high literary distinction of the Cooper Institution Address, the two Inaugurals and the Gettysburg Address."

TRAIN PIGEONS FOR WAR WORK

Extensive Use in Directing Artillery Fire Is Planned by the U. S. Army.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Possible extensive use of pigeons in directing artillery fire is engaging the attention of the Signal Corps of the U. S. Army. Observers in advanced positions release the birds, carrying messages telling where the shells are falling, and they are trained to fly back to the lines. This method would be used when other channels of communication, such as radio or telephone, were not available. The German utilized pigeons to direct artillery fire on the western front during the World War.

There are now 1500 pigeons at various posts, in the keeping of the Signal Corps, which has a breeding center for them at Camp Vail, N. J. The birds are retained at the various army corps area headquarters, in the insular possessions, and in Panama.

Officers say, to train a pigeon to return to its loft and get its bearings. Pigeons do not fly well at night and as a result have been experienced with pigeon fancies in the army, who wish to make pigeons a major method of communication. Only one bird in 500 is considered capable of flying 500 miles in one day.

In the Canal Zone, hawks constantly menace pigeons while in flight. To overcome this, a whistle is fastened to the tail of the bird, and as it flies, the rush of air causes the whistle to sound and frightens away birds of prey.

Where Solons Are "Docked"

In Australia, where members of parliament receive about $5,000 a year, the members are fined or "docked" for absences during a session. This system differs from that in effect in the mother country, England, or in America, where a member may take a day or so off every now and then to attend to his private affairs without worrying about it. In England the salary of a member of parliament is only about $2,000 a year.

COUNCIL FAVORS SHORT ROUTE TO FREIGHT YARDS

Municipal Commissioners Approve Plan for Building Gravel Road on Minidoka Street to Solve Traffic Problem.

Twin Falls municipal commission at a regular meeting Monday evening gave its approval to a project looking toward building of a gravel road on Minidoka street, extending straight west from Kimberly road to connect with the pavement at Oregon Street. Lina freight offices here, a distance of about one-half mile. The improvement of the street was proposed by S. S. All, commissioner of streets and water works, who was authorized to proceed with estimates and preparation of detailed plans for the work.

It was pointed out in the course of discussion that improvement of this thoroughfare would divert a large proportion of heavy traffic now passing over a longer distance toward the same destination, on paved streets; that wear and tear on pavement would be reduced and that mileage and time would be saved to farmers and others hauling loads to the freight yards and warehouse district.

Drops Occupational Tax.
Under suspension of the rules, the commission adopted ordinances agreed upon at last week's meeting to do away with requirement for payment of license by show houses, auctioneers, plumbers and electricians doing business in Twin Falls. These license fees that had been designated in discussion by the commissioners as "occupational taxes," had been required under ordinance many of which were enacted several years ago, and generally at the instance of persons already engaged here in the lines it was proposed to assess.

License issued to Mrs. A. Avery to operate the Keith rooms on Main avenue east, was by the commission at this session revoked on recommendation of Chief of Police P. C. Horrigan. Mrs. Avery was convicted recently of violating the prohibition laws.

Permit for installation of sockets in sidewalks in which flags purchased by business houses are to be displayed on occasion was voted by the commission when the salesman for the flags presented evidence that flags in sufficient numbers had been shown here to provide for their display at intervals of 25 feet on Main avenue and at the rate of eight to the block on Shoshone street.

Corrects Assessments.
Cancellation of assessments for spraying trees in cases where property owners against whom the levy for this purpose had been made showed that they had no trees to be sprayed, was approved by the commissioners.

Payment of $4194.85; sprinkling fund, $31; library fund, $500.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Twin Falls Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Twin Falls resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Aug. Wellner, carpenter, R. F. D. No. 2, Twin Falls, says: "I had a lame back and a soreness over my kidneys that made me miserable. When I got down, I could hardly get up on account of the sharp, stabbing pains. My kidneys acted too often and the secretions scalded in passage. Doan's Pills cured me entirely and I have had no trouble since."

SUIT INVOLVING NOTE ON TRIAL IN DISTRICT COURT

Couldn't Understand. A Kansas City man stood on the corner and watched his wife in the family car undergo a run-in with the traffic patrolman. As the cop whistled her down and made her drive up to the curb and listen to a lecture, her meekness, to the husband, was a marvelous sight to behold. "How does he do it? How does he do it?" muttered the Kansas City man in admiration, and walked away shaking his head in wonder.—Kansas City Star.

SPORTS CLASS GAMES TO MARK BASKETBALL BEGINNING

High School Seeks Talent to Replace Stars of Last Year Team Lost Through Graduation.

Inter-class games beginning, either Friday or Monday, will mark the opening of the basketball season in the Twin Falls high school. Each of the senior high school classes is to be represented by a team and supremacy is to be determined by a tournament in which each team will play two games.

The high school has lost several stars through graduation. Jenkins, last year's star forward, is enrolled at the University of Michigan; Stan Cron of last year's squad, is at the state university; Ross Cole will not be back this year, although he is still eligible.

Timms, captain of the squad this year, will be back at guard; Navin will also be back and will no doubt play the other guard. Martin, forward on the last year team, is in school and going strong. Carl Weaver, a member of the Kimberley squad, is in school and should fit in well at center on Platinio's aggregation.

Trolley Hits Truck Loaded with Turpentine; Score Saved From the Wreckage.

DETROIT, Dec. 3 (AP)—Four persons were burned to death here tonight when an interurban car enroute to Toledo and Cleveland crashed into a truck loaded with turpentine at Wyandotte, a suburb. The dead were so badly burned that it has not been possible to ascertain whether they were men or women.

The Wyandotte fire department rescued more than a score of injured from the burning wreckage. Some of the less seriously hurt said they would have perished from the fumes of turpentine and they not been dragged from the wreckage.

The truck contained 40 barrels of turpentine.

NAME OF POTENTATE IN LONDON SCANDAL IS NOW MADE PUBLIC

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Indian office today lifted the embargo on the publication of the name of the eastern potentate who was referred to in the sensational Robinson blackmailing case only as "Mr. A." The name, it was stated, is Rajah Sir Hari Singh, nephew of the Maharaja of Jammu and Kashmir.

The suit in which the Indian nobleman was the unnamed but principal figure, was that of C. E. Robinson, a former bookmaker, against the Midland bank for 125,000 pounds alleged to be due him through a settlement with the eastern potentate over the latter's alleged attention to Mrs. Robinson. When the time came for the introduction of the so-called victim's name the court ruled that "for reasons of state" he would be referred to merely as "Mr. A."

Dr. Baker was alleged to have collected $1487 from the home of the order in Omaha on one claim and to have turned over only $385 to the member, and in another case to have turned over to the claimant only $159 of a $900 claim.

RAIL ISSUES LEAD STOCKS TO NEW MARKS

Message of President to Congress Favoring Economy and Railroad Consolidation Reflected on Exchange.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—President Coolidge's message to congress urging economy in government expenditures and the expedition of railroad consolidations was the signal for another outburst of bullish enthusiasm in the stock market, 73 issues being boosted to new high prices for the year on total sales that ran above the two million share mark for the fourteenth time since election day. The general average of leading railroad stocks was carried to the highest level in several years with the industrials showing a substantial gain on the day despite the heavy profit taking in some of the popular issues.

Sixteen rails bettered their previous high prices, the list including Atchafalaya, Atlantic Coast Line, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Railway, Erie first and second preferred, Washash preferred A, B, Texas and Pacific, Gulf, Mobile and Northern common and preferred and Kansas City Southern preferred. The extreme gains in this group ran from 1 to 3 1/2 points. Additional evidence of the prosperity that the roads have enjoyed this year and the prospect for the future was furnished after the market closed by the directors of the St. Louis-San Francisco railroad, who inaugurated dividends of the common stock at the rate of 85 annually, and declared the full year's dividends on the preferred for 1925. Brokers report that public interest in the market is the greatest in years. Lack of any reaction is generally attributed to the unusually heavy buying orders placed on the "scale down," this demand apparently taking care of all the short selling and profit taking to date. While bear traders have been heavy sellers of stocks in which spirited advances have occurred on the theory that they may be purchased cheaper later, but they have failed to attract a following among the smaller operators.

Owing to the unusually rapid advance since election day the year has been marked absence this year of so-called "tax selling" for the purpose of establishing losses for income-tax purposes. This has been confined largely to the oil and copper, which have not shared to any appreciable extent in the general advance.

BALLOON TIRES POSSIBLE WITHOUT WHEEL CHANGES

"There are a good many car owners who want balloon tires on their cars but hesitate to tackle a changeover because of the expense involved," says E. Lind, of the Lind Auto company, Goodyear dealers of Twin Falls. "And they were right in feeling that it was a pretty expensive proposition by the time new wheels and now rims were substituted for the old, and the labor for having the work done was added in. But now our customers can get balloon tires that will fit virtually all makes of cars without expensive wheel and rim change overs," continued Mr. Lind.

"The new interchangeable type balloon tire is Goodyear's latest contribution to the development of the tire industry. This new tire is an important step forward in allowing the automobile owner who wants the easy riding qualities of the balloon tire to get this result without spending money for expensive mechanical changes. The interchangeable, in other words, eliminate the charge of say $100 or more that it costs to get new wheels and rims.

Can Fit Any Car.

"You can fit any car that has straight side rims with a Goodyear interchangeable balloon tire with no wheel or rim change or expense whatever, and by a comparatively simple and inexpensive rim change can fit any clincher tire cars with the new balloons.

"Booklets answering car owners' questions about balloon tires covering points like inflation, sizes, clearance and load are available on request," Mr. Lind said.

An added feature of the new balloon type tire is that it carries the suspension found only in the Goodyear all-weather tread. This should be a deciding factor for those who want balloon tires for driving over slippery, muddy streets and roads in late winter and spring weather.

She was also Duchess von Wittelsbach in her court days. Count Karl Larisch, her son by a former marriage, attended the wedding ceremony in Elizabeth, N. J., recently. Reduced by poverty after the war, the countess became a servant in a German household. Meyers heard of her plight and wrote, proposing marriage. She accepted. GRANT PARDON TO MURDERERS

Two Chinese Held for Killing in Tong War at Boise Are Given Freedom.

BOISE, Dec. 3 (AP)—Don Song and Lo Ming, Chinese, convicted of murder for the slaying of Wong Bock Sing in a Tong war in 1917, and sentenced to life imprisonment, were granted pardons today by the state pardon board at a meeting in the office of Governor C. C. Moore. The one member of the board who voted against the pardons was A. H. Conner, attorney general.

Application for pardon for A. H. Aspy, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon upon W. T. Cope, near Payette, was denied. Aspy was sentenced in 1921 to six to 14 years in the penitentiary. Roy L. Black, Poetelle, former attorney general for Idaho, appeared in behalf of Aspy.

Pardon was granted Jess Abbott, convicted of robbery and sentenced to five to ten years. Recommendations for leniency in Abbott's case was filed with the board by Elbert Deina, Charles F. Reddick and 11 of the jurors who heard the evidence.

The board heard a statement by the Rev. G. W. Williams, pastor of the African Methodist church, Boise, in behalf of Mr. Conner. He said he had December 7, for slaying "W. A. Chap at Hope, Idaho, July 10, 1923. The matter, however, was not formally before the board as no proper steps had been taken to comply with the statute on the procedure of application for a pardon. Mr. Conner submitted a statement with reference as to what his proportion would be should a reprieve be granted and the matter come before the next board session in which he declared he will oppose any granting of clemency to Arnold. F. A. Jeter, secretary of state and secretary of the board, will submit a statement later. Governor Moore would not indicate today whether he will grant a reprieve.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Seven brokers, including William S. Silkworth, former president of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, were sentenced today by Federal Judge Augustus N. Hand to terms of varying length in federal and county institutions.

Convicted of using the mails to defraud after the failure of numerous brokerage firms in 1922, from which arose charges of bucketing, Silkworth was sentenced to Essex county, New Jersey, jail for 90 days and ordered to pay a fine of $1000.

Malcolm J. Nichols and Earl H. Truesdell were ordered to Atlanta penitentiary for two years. Their partner, De Witt O. Raynor, Nichols and Truesdell, who pleaded guilty and turned state's witnesses, will accompany Silkworth to the Essex county institution for a 90 day term.

Describes Conflict and Offers Remedy

Ruth Bryan Owen in Notable Lecture Gives Lyceum Audience Here View of Future.

With a vivid and illuminating personal story of the world war on the eastern front and with a trenchant plea for establishment of enduring peace through the "accumulation of public opinion to force an end to war," Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan and wife of Major Reginald Owen of the British army, fulfilled her promise to give her audience "an opportunity to look over the shoulder of destiny," and delivered Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium one of the most powerful as well as the most entertaining lectures ever heard here.

Mrs. Owen spoke here under the auspices of the Twin Falls lyceum course, addressing an audience of about 500 persons.

She referred only incidentally to her own part in the conflict on the eastern front where Major Owen served with the British forces and where she herself served as a war nurse in the British voluntary aid detachment in Egypt.

Interest attached to Mrs. Owen's explanation of the great world war, which she said, by the Germans to a Turkish general in recognition of his services in defeating the allied forces in the peninsula campaign, and was returned by the Turkish officer to the British commander of the Turkish Jerusalem by whom it was presented to a "certain war nurse."

LEGAL BATTLE TRIAL FEATURE

Forbes-Thompson Veterans' Bureau Conspiracy Case Under Way in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—The testimony of Arthur C. Crump of Philadelphia, formed the background for an all-day battle of counsel today in the Forbes-Thompson veterans' bureau conspiracy trial. Crump, during the period when Charles R. Forbes was head of the veterans' bureau, was secretary-treasurer of the Pontiac Construction company of Detroit, the firm which got the first veterans' bureau hospital contract, the one for the foundations of the Northampton, Mass., hospital building.

Both sides, through Crump, introduced a large number of letters and telegrams. On cross examination Crump said he had refused an interview two months ago to counsel for Forbes and his co-defendant, a St. Louis contractor, being advised by the district attorney at Philadelphia not to give them any information. The Pontiac company, it was brought out, was an open shop subsidiary of the James Black Masonry and Contracting company of St. Louis, Black, now dead, being a business associate of Thompson.

The annual roll call of the American Red Cross has been deferred. In order to hold a chapter in Twin Falls it is necessary to retain a certain number of members and it is desired that all who are interested in the organization leave their membership fee of $1 at the City Library before December 8—adv.

KANBAN HIGHWAYS
Kansas, determined to have a fine, complete system of highways throughout the state, has developed a plan that should be of interest in every state and county in the country. It is the joint product of county commissioners and chambers of commerce and is complete except for the necessary legislation, which is expected this winter.

There is to be a state system of primary roads aggregating seven hundred miles, huge undertaking for one state. The distribution is interesting. Every county will be entitled to roads equal in distance to the mileage across the county from north to south and from east to west,
and will be assured paved roads connecting its county seat with neighboring county seats. There will be 40 per cent of available funds spread equally among the one hundred and five counties, thus taking care of large counties with small populations
as a matter of general public policy.
The remaining sixty per cent of funds
will be distributed among the counties on the basis of their assessed valuation. That will do justice to the wealthy and populous communities.

The money is to come from a gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, along with seventy-five per cent of the automobile fees and a special tax on commercial vehicles. The only road assessments on adjoining property will be two per cent for hard surface.
The state fund provided, and also the place for road-building, will be in charge of the commissioners of the various counties, subject to the approval and supervision of the state highway commission.

Here are boldness and novelty in tackling what is probably the leading public problem in the United States
today—the problem directly intersting
and affecting the most people.

THE ADMIRER HORSE

Although the horse is supposed to be out of date and to have no place
in daily life, particularly in cities,
the horse show continues to be a popular affair. The shows held in Kansas City, Missouri, recently as part of the American Royal Livestock Show were largely attended by enthusiastic crowds. There were cowboy stunts, special cavalry drills and other features. In addition, there was a fine display of harness horses, three-and-five-gaited saddle horses, hunters
and jumpers, Shetlands and Welsh ponies, Hackney horses and other samples of "the cream of horsemanship." There were special one thousand and three thousand-dollar state events.

And to all this many persons who have never driven or ridden a horse in their lives came and applauded enthusiastically.
The horse has long been a friend to man, and man has long admired the horse. It is possible that this element enters in making the popularity of a horse show. When people go to an automobile show they are either planning to buy cars or wishing that they might buy cars. When they go to a horse show no such practical motive impels them. They go because they admire the fine horses to be seen
there and because they can't help having a keen interest in them.

The Question of Echoes

Bare walls are not the best thing in the world for the radioophone broadcasting studio. Recently, one of the leading studios moved into a large,
beautifully decorated room, with paneled walls and smooth, unbroken ceiling.
Previous to that time, the studio had forth in what had been the cloakroom
of a factory office, where the bare walls had to be hidden with draperies and rugs, and the ceiling was broken up by beams. However, the results obtained with the old studio room were excellent, for the reason that there was practically no echo of sound reflecting from the walls and ceiling. The new studio room will have to be provided with tapestries or some other form of sound-absorbing hangings in order to reduce echo—Scientific American.

Nature's Gift to House Fly

Each foot of the house fly is formed
at a pair of books and a pair of pads.
The latter are covered with microscopic hairs, at the tip of each of which is a particle of sticky fluid, enabling the fly to adhere to any smooth surface, while the books are used for rough surfaces.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

MOTHER DEER MOUSE

"When night comes," said Mother Deer Mouse, "I don't tell my children go to bed."

"I don't say a word about sleeping or having pleasant dreams, or any of those things."

"Justified, I tell them it is time to get up, for we like to sleep during the daytime and to travel at night, and see the sights and do our marketing at night."

"My children are so beautiful. They do look like little deer children—and they are deer children, too."

"Their coats will grow lovelier all the time—such beautiful coats of light gray—and their tails will be such a handsome shade of gray and they will have touches of white for decoration
and trimming."

"Their eyes are so bright and their ears so pretty—they do have some of the looks of the deer family."

"They hang on to me when they are little, and I take them about with me this way. If one of them falls off I leave the others in a safe place and go back for the one that has fallen."

"Then I carry him to safety in my mouth."

"My children are learning the good climbing lessons all deer mice should know."

"They are bright at their lessons.
They like the tree nest and they soon learn to sing a little—such pretty little songs."

"They are fond of nuts, and they know that no market baskets are so good as their own pouches for carrying home the goodies."

"They are so fond of their baby darlings they would not part with them for anything. But that was all right.
It was warm then, but now they have lovely coats."

"They were such helpless, feeble little darlings and they couldn't see a thing."

"But Mother Deer Mouse looked after them. She was afraid of nothing where the safety of her babies was concerned."

"They have such nice little teeth,
and they can eat grain and corn as well as nuts."

"I am speaking, of course, of my youngest children. They have still younger sisters and brothers born later in the springtime. It makes it so nice for the older ones to have younger sisters and brothers and for the younger ones to have older sisters and brothers who help to teach them Deer Mice ways."

"Some animals go to sleep in the winter time, and many of them now are thinking of a long, winter's sleep."

"But not the members of the Deer Mice family. We're too wide awake for that."

"We even travel about over the snow, and though it may get very cold, still, we think it makes us strong."

"We are nervous little creatures, but still we don't spoil ourselves by sleeping in warmth and safety all the winter."

"We like adventures too much for that."

"But we must be gathering together
plenty of nuts for the winter now."
Before long food will be scarce and we must be ready for that time."

So Mother Deer Mouse, who had been talking to herself while the children slept, awakened them and said:
"Come, my darlings, we must get food for the winter. We must begin now."

"Wake up, my darlings! Open your sleepy eyes!"

And the little deer mice opened their sleepy eyes and went with Mother Deer Mouse to hunt for food. The cool air made them feel like hurrying
and they worked hard and fast.

They tried to keep safely out of the way of Mr. Owl, as Mr. Owl had long been a family enemy, and there was no sign that he was thinking of ever becoming friendly.

Oh, such a scampering and such a rushing as there was in Deer Mice circle.

Such a preparation for the cold, long days and nights of winter.

But they were all very gay and very happy, for they were a big, happy family, and they all loved each other.

And, why not? Were they not as pretty and appealing a little family of cuddly deer mice as ever you'd hope to see!

Western Freighter and Pioneer Albion Merchant, Dies

James Wilson Snodgrass, 82, frontiersman and friend of James, Bridger and Kit Carson, pioneer freighter and for many years merchant at Albion, Idaho, died Sunday evening at the home here of his daughter, Mrs. W. H.
Stanley, after only a few hours illness. Funeral services, under auspices of the Christian Science church, are to be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Blue and Sturdivant chapel here.
The body is to be taken Wednesday to Albion, where burial services will be conducted by Albion lodge A. F. and A. M., which he served for 35 years
as its treasurer.

Leaving his home at La Harpe, Ill.,
and going to Denver when he was 17,
Mr. Snodgrass spent the next 30 years freighting between Nebraska
City to Central City, Colorado, Denver
City, Virginia City, Montana; Nebraska
City and Salt Lake, and Salt Lake and Los Angeles. In 1869 he established a livestock stable at Corvallis, Utah, and in 1873 he bought a ranch at Plymouth,
Utah, where two years later he married
Miss Martha Plerson, whose death occurred at Albion 12 years ago. The family home was established at Albion, then Marsh Blain, in 1878. Three of the nine children born to Mr. and Mrs.
Snodgrass survive. They are Dr. E. N.
Snodgrass of Jerome, Idaho; M. D.
Snodgrass of Ashton, Idaho, and Mrs.
Stanley of this city.

Through Idaho in 1865.
Mr. Snodgrass first visited Idaho in the fall of 1865 when he passed through this region freighting flour from Denver to Cache Valley, Utah. From 1865 to 1868 he was associated with Campbell brothers' freight outfit, plying between Nebraska City and Central City, and in the last named year he extended
the freight route from Denver to Virginia City, Montana. He spent one year freighting between Nebraska City and Salt Lake and two years on the route between Salt Lake and Los Angeles.

being associated with Siegel brothers
during that time.

During 45 years' residence at Albion
he was engaged in general merchandise
business and operated a blacksmith shop. He served as postmaster and as county treasurer.

He was one of 30 persons present
when the first load of lumber was delivered in this vicinity for construction of the first ferry boat across Snake river at Shoshone falls.

He had been a member of the Masonic lodge for 55 years.

The "Ape Man" of Java

One of the most primitive of the human species has been discovered in the remains of the "trinit" or ape man of Java, whose indeterminate character is indicated by the name "ape man." A scientific reconstruction of the head of the "trinit" shows a degree of development of forehead which is emphatically more marked than that of either the gibbon, the orang, the chimpanzee or the gorilla, designated as "anthropoid ape," because of their resemblance to man. The restoration of the skull and head of the "trinit"
or ape man, is based upon a discovered brain case and two teeth of this early inhabitant of Java.

New Ice Age Predicted

A French savant has predicted that a new ice age will seize the world within a few hundred years. He bases his conclusion on the fact that the world is using up its supply of calcium much faster than it is, or probably will be, manufactured.

OREGON AGGIE FOOTBALL WARRIOR VISITS AT HOME

Dean W. Mickelwait on Way Back to School From Nebraska Game, Spends Day Here With Mother.

Dean W. Mickelwait, son of Mrs.
May I. Mickelwait, and member of the graduating class at Oregon Agricultural college, on his way back to school at Corvallis from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he played tackle and acting captain of the Oregon Aggie football team against the University of Nebraska, spent Sunday here visiting his mother. He ended this year his third successful season on the Oregon Aggie team, serving as acting captain under the system used by Coach Schieler, where no captain is elected, but an acting captain is appointed before each game.

Was Mythical Monarch

Prester John was the title given to an imaginary Christian sovereign, who,
according to medieval tradition, ruled over an extensive empire in the interior of Asia during the Twelfth century. This myth is supposed to have originated in the stories of the Nestorian missionaries, who, in the Eleventh and Twelfth centuries, penetrated into eastern Asia and converted to Christianity one Oung, a klan of Tar-tary. In 1177 Pope Alexander III dispatched an envoy to Prester John, but the ambassador never returned; and in 1254 Louis IX of France sent Rub-ruquis, a French friar, to search for him, but the journey proved fruitless.
In later years tradition transferred Prester John to Abyssinia, where he continued his mythical existence as king of that country.

Meadow Lark Useful Bird

The meadow lark is a familiar bird of grassland throughout the United States. Like our eastern meadow western prairies and southern savannas, its clear pipe as sweet and clean as silver, may be heard in spring, announcing the return of the season of procreation and growth. More than half of the lark's food consists of harmful insects. Its vegetable food is composed of either noxious weeds or waste grain, and the remainder is made up of useful beetles or neutral insects.

If you are planning to buy a lighting plant—

BE SURE you investigate the J. B. Colt system of Carbidegas lighting, cooking and ironing before you decide.

Lower in original cost than other plants of equal value, 55% cheaper to operate than an electric-light plant (according to published statements of the Wisconsin Agricultural College), and furnishes the light that science says is nearer to sunlight than any other artificial illuminant.
The highest insurance authorities agree that Carbide-gas is safer than the illuminant it replaces.

No complicated mechanism to get out of order—no parts to replace—no fuel or lubrication. The J. B. Colt system requires only recharging (average two or three times a year)
with Union Carbide, and removal of residue which then gives service as whitewash, soil corrective or germicide.

And remember—besides lighting, this system furnishes gas for cooking, ironing and water-heating.

The J. B. Colt "pit-type" plant is installed in a convenient place in the yard, out of the way and away from the buildings.

Very liberal terms of payment allowed. Have a Colt man tell you the whole story.

GRAINS ADVANCE ON

THE CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Influenced by prospective sudden falling off in the movement of spring wheat northwest and by notable strength in the corn market all grain stored an advance to date. Wheat closed unsettled, 3.8 to 23.8c net higher, May $1.01 to 1.01 1/8 and July $1.41 7/8 to 1.42, with corn 1 1/4 to 3c up, oats showing 1c to 2c gain, and provisions varying from unchanged to a rise of 4c.

According to reports which were current arrivals of spring wheat both south and north of the Canadian boundary were expected to decrease to a great extent within the next ten days. Messages at hand from many Canadian elevators were scheduled to close, that broadly speaking the Canadian crop had already been marketed and that the last ocean bound ships of the season had left Montreal. Unfavorable crop news from Argentina as to wheat as well as corn tended also to lift values and to minimize the effect of lower wheat quotations at Liverpool and of rains in the domestic winter wheat belt.

Drink returns in the price of corn were due largely to damage reports from Argentina, the outcome of frost and drought. Besides, there were predictions of stormy weather west of Chicago. Country offerings of corn at hand were increased as a result of the bulge in prices, but failed to make the market show any important setback. Eastern interests were said to have bought rather freely. Hoses with connections also were reported to have been buyers of oats. Provisions advanced notwithstanding heavy receipts of hogs.

Poor quality of hog arrivals was cited as further evidence of a scarcity of hog supplies before the winter is over.

CARRY CONTEST ON WATER TRADE TO WASHINGTON

Directors of Minidoka District and Twin Falls Canal Company Protest in Resolution to Secretary of Interior.

Minidoka irrigation district, directors and directors of the Twin Falls Canal company at a joint meeting here Wednesday adopted by unanimous vote a resolution addressed to the secretary of the interior and director of reclamation service protesting against the "use of Jackson lake reservoir for the storage of decreed water, during the season of 1925, or at any other time or at all."

Adoption of the resolution marks a further step in the controversy between water users of the upper and lower Snake river valleys that has continued since the policy of permitting upper river users to exchange decreed water for water stored in Jackson lake reservoir was made effective two years ago. The dispute previously had been carried into the state courts by the Minidoka district in a suit against W. O. Swenson, Idaho commissioner of reclamation, and G. Clyde Baldwin, water master, to prevent continuation of the policy. Twin Falls Canal company appears as intervener in this action which is expected to come to trial in district court here within the next two or three weeks.

To Meet Application.
Directors of the Minidoka district and Twin Falls Canal company adopted the resolution of protest as a means of opposing the application that holders of decreed water rights of the upper valley recently voted to make to the secretary of the interior and director of the reclamation service for permission to store decreed water in Jackson lake reservoir next season.

In support of the protest the joint meeting included in its resolutions five reasons for its attitude in this regard. The text of the resolution is as follows:
"Resolved, Whereas the board of directors of the Minidoka irrigation district and the board of directors of the Twin Falls Canal company have been advised that an application has been made to the secretary of the interior of the United States of America, or director of reclamation, or both, by the owners and holders of decreed water rights in the upper Snake river district in the state of Idaho, for permission to store decreed water in Jackson lake reservoir, during the year 1925, and

"Whereas, such use of Jackson lake reservoir was permitted during the year 1924, against the will and without the consent of the water users of the Minidoka reclamation project, and adverse to the interests of the water users of the Twin Falls Canal company, and
"Whereas, such practice during the year 1924 proved detrimental and injurious to the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company, and substantially deprived the Minidoka reclamation project of its right to the natural flow of the waters of Snake river of which it is now the holder and owner of a decreed right, for 1726 cubic feet per second with date of priority of March 23, 1902, and 1000 cubic feet per second of the flow of the waters of Snake river, with date of priority of August 6, 1908.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the directors of the Minidoka irrigation district, and the directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, at a joint meeting of said boards, duly called and held at Twin Falls, in the county of Twin Falls, state of Idaho, on the third day of December, 1924, shall and do hereby protest against the use of Jackson lake reservoir for the storage of decreed water, during the irrigation season of 1925, or at any other time or at all, for the following reasons, to-wit:

"1. That said proposal, if granted, will be and is contrary to the laws of the state of Idaho, and the United States which guarantees priority of right for the use of water in arid regions.

"2. That such practice substantially deprived the Minidoka reclamation project of any and all of its rights to the natural flow of the waters of Snake river, with date of priority of March 23, 1902, and a subsequent right to the natural flow of the waters of Snake river of 1000 cubic feet per second with date of priority of August 6, 1908, and causes the said Minidoka reclamation project to rely substantially exclusively upon its storage rights for water for the irrigation of the Minidoka reclamation project, which storage rights, without being supplemented by its rights to the natural flow of the waters of Snake river, are inadequate and insufficient.

"3. That such practice greatly in-pairs the rights of the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company in and to the natural flow of the waters of Snake river, and gives to the users of water of Snake river having later and subsequent rights, a preference over the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company.

"4. That users of the Jackson lake reservoir for the storage of decreed waters, as aforesaid, destroys the water rights of the water users of the Minidoka reclamation project, the project for the benefit of which the Jackson lake reservoir was constructed and to which the initial cost was charged.

"5. That the practice of storing decreed water in Jackson lake reservoir for the year 1924 enabled the water users and water claimants near the source of the water supply to so manipulate and handle the flow of the waters of Snake river as to give the users the source of supply, an undue and unfair advantage over the owners and users of water farther down the stream."

FUND IS ASKED FOR MEMORIAL

Twin Falls Citizens Have Opportunity to Contribute to Monument for Governor.

Opportunity is to be extended today to Twin Falls county citizens to contribute to a fund for erection on the lawn of the state capital at Boise of a memorial monument of the late Frank Steunenberg, martyred governor of Idaho, to whose credit belongs the designation for reclamation of lands now under the Twin Falls irrigation system, and under whose administration suffrage was extended to women of the state.

Solicitation in this cause is to be done by volunteer workers under leadership of James McMillan of this city who, in 1917, was named county chairman for the Steunenberg Memorial association, and with the assistance of Lewis Williams of Boise, secretary, and E. M. Wolfe of this city, a member of the memorial commission.

It is proposed to raise by subscription by Idaho citizens a fund to match the $15,000 appropriation made for the memorial by the 1917 session of the state legislature. Twin Falls county's quota has been set at $1500 an amount, Mr. Williams pointed out Wednesday, that represents only about 15 cents for each vote cast in this county at the last general election.

Governor Steunenberg, who served two terms as chief executive of this state and was elected in 1896 to that office with the largest vote ever given a candidate in Idaho, is probably best known on account of the firm and effective measures he adopted when lawlessness openly and aggressively in 1899 challenged the powers of the state to maintain law and order within its boundaries. Measures adopted by Governor Steunenberg, in this crisis met the approval of the entire country, but ultimately cost him his life.
