Victims Succumb to Injuries Received When Crowded School House Burns; Others at Hospitals May Die.

HOBART, Okla., Dec. 23 (AP).—Mrs. J. P. Noah, 55, died in a hospital here tonight, bringing up to 35 the number of fatalities in the Babbs Switch school house fire Christmas eve.

Mrs. Noah was the second victim to die today as a result of burns, John Goforth having succumbed this morning. Three other persons are not expected to survive.

HOBART, Okla., Dec. 23 (AP).—Death stood menacingly outside the doors of three local hospitals as the first of the victims of the Babbs Switch school fire on Christmas eve were buried in the Hobart cemetery today.

The list of dead which ran to 34 this morning with the death of John Goforth, was expected to mount higher before dawn comes to signal a renewal of the interment.

At the Physicians' and Surgeons' hospital, Mrs. J. P. Noah grew weaker as darkness set in and tonight attendants held little hope she would survive the night.

Three Sisters.

Night cloaked the Hobart cemetery as the last of the eight bodies buried today was laid to rest. In one grave sleep the Clements sisters, Mabel, Mary Lois, and the Juanita Clements Stephens, and the 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Stephenson.

A wreath of pink and white flowers, a lover's last mark of devotion to the earthly being of his sweetheart, went into the grave with the body of Gladys Clements. Claude Bolding, fiancee of the dead girl, dangerously burned, is in a hospital. They were to have been married yesterday.

The three bodies were discovered in their home by J. L. Adams, a relative, who called at the house this afternoon.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS IS UP TO COOLIDGE

President Undecided as to Whether Legislative Body Should Hold Meeting Immediately After March 4.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP).—Decision as to an extra session of congress after March 4 is being withheld by President Coolidge, but in his opinion should be called only in event of some development of great importance.

The president will await the termination of the present session before making any attempt to decide on the question of an extra session. The chief task before the present session is the enactment of the regular appropriation bills and with three of these already approved by the house the feeling in administration quarters is that this work will be performed before March 4.

Many Recommendations.

Mr. Coolidge recommended a wide diversity of other legislation to the attention of congress in his annual message, some of which he regards as very important, but whether any of this, if not acted upon is sufficiently important to warrant an extra session is a question he is not ready to determine.

Several republican leaders, including Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, believe the new congress should be called into session immediately after March 4, while others including Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, think an extra session would be advisable in the late summer or early fall. Still other leaders are not in favor of any meeting of congress prior to the regular assembly next December.

Test to See "Which Could Shoot the Best" Witnessed by 30 Boys; Wounds Are Serious.

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 26 (AP).—Julius Jordan, 16 years old, is in a hospital not expected to live, and police are searching for another youth about the same age, as the result of a shotgun duel staged by the boys this afternoon to see "which could shoot the best."

The shooting followed an argument between the two boys as to which one was the best marksman with air rifles and when the discussion became somewhat heated, some companions went for the shotguns so that the boys could settle the affair.

The shotguns were thrown down between the youths, each took one, then backed away about 50 or 60 feet and both fired. Jordan dropped wounded while the other boy ran.

The left side of Jordan's face and head is filled with buckshot and his left eye is believed to be punctured. Part of his face was shot away.

Between 25 and 30 boys witnessed the argument and the shooting, one boy saying that "he could not look at the shooting" and ran across a railroad track nearby.

The appropriation bill does not include provisions for the increase of the navy or for carrying out the modernization program, those projects having been included in a separate measure when authorized for the work was given by congress. FOURTEEN DEAD AS RESULT OF BREAK IN DAM

Rescue Parties Find Six Additional Bodies in Mud From Avalanche Sweeping Down on Valley.

SALTVILLE, Va., Dec. 26 (AP).—With the recovery of six additional bodies today, witnesses are known to have perished Wednesday night when an avalanche of mud, released with the breaking of a Holston river dam, swept down from its pocket into a little valley that sheltered a dozen homes.

The known dead: Major James Scott, Mrs. John Scott and two children; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Zetter and two children, Emory Clear, 7, Maury Walk, 7, and an infant eight months old, the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Walk; Ollie Pauley, 12; Mrs. Ernest Johnson, 19, and an infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Prater.

Those reported missing include Mr. Ann Jackson and four children; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Zetter and an infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Walk.

Officials of the company today expressed the belief that it was the tremendous pressure exerted by waters piled up in the muck reservoir from recent rains that caused the dam to give way. The muck stored behind the dam contained a strong lime solution that resulted in severe burns to those caught in the path of the flood and it was feared that, when other bodies are found they will be burned beyond recognition.

Children Drown.

Grim stories of how many of the victims met death or injury were told. Two children were said to have been swept into the murky waters while would-be rescuers felt exhausted trying to reach their quivering forms. The wave of muck and water, released by the breaking of the dam was described by survivors as having been at least 100 feet high.

Plans are under way to rid the settlement grounds of the deep crust of muck mud. It is believed the many automobiles coated with the slime can be reclaimed but all houses caught in the path of the wave are said to be beyond repair.

CAUSE OF RICH ORPHAN'S DEATH NOT YET KNOWN

Typhoid Germs Found at Autopsy in McClintock Investigation but Officials Continue Investigation.

CHICAGO, Dec. 26 (AP)—An autopsy over the body of William Nelson McClintock, "millionaire orphan," who died three weeks ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shepherd, his foster parents, with Miss Isabelle Pope, his fiancée, to marry him, has disclosed the presence of typhoid germs but has not determined the cause of death, Coroner Oscar Wolff announced today.

The death certificate showed young McClintock, who left his fortune under the terms of a will, to Mr. Shepherd, aged for an $800,000 trust for Miss Pope, had died of typhoid fever. It will take two or three days more to complete the chemical analysis and determine exactly what caused death, the coroner was informed by his chemist.

Tells of 1919 Visits.

An indication of the thoroughness of the investigation came tonight when George B. Gorman, assistant state's attorney, made public a statement made by Dr. T. B. Bridgman of Battle Creek, Mich., formerly in charge of clinical routine of the Illinois research laboratory here.

In 1919, Bridgman said Dr. Olson, now dead, and a brother of Judge Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court, and a friend of the McClintock family, who asked that the investigation be launched, brought two men to the laboratory.

They were introduced to him, he said, as "William McClintock and Mr. Shepherd." The man known as Shepherd, Bridgman said, came to the laboratory several times, with Dr. Olson, and later made three or four trips alone.

Interested in Bacteria.

During visits to the laboratory Bridgman said, the man known to him as Shepherd watched his work and expressed particular interest in bacteria cultures, and discussing typhoid germs with Bridgman, who was then working as a chemist and druggist and was interested in clinical routine.

On three occasions, he said, a woman introduced to him as "Mrs. Shepherd" accompanied the man, but she did not enter the laboratory.

The last time he saw the couple, the statement said, was at the funeral of Dr. Olson, but he added that he did not talk with them then and did not know where they lived.

Will Arrive Today.

William D. Shepherd now is on his way back to Chicago from Albuquerque, N. M., where he and Mrs. Shepherd went to rest after young McClintock had died. He is expected to arrive here tomorrow morning and Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, has indicated that Mr. Shepherd, who is a druggist and chemist will be questioned at once about young McClintock's death.

Joseph Savage, assistant state's attorney, said that his office had not determined as yet what significance might be attached to Mr. Bridgman's statement which came to the office from Judge Olson. Commenting on the investigation, he said:

"Our investigation is including all possibilities in that case, not excluding that of typhoid inoculation and the possibility of improper treatment of the patient, such as feeding of solid foods. Our examination of Dr. Rupert Stolp, attending physician, today failed to elicit any confirmation of the possibility of typhoid inoculation. It has been hastened or his illness intentionally aggravated."

Does Not Expect Poison.

Judge Olson, who asked that the inquiry be instituted in commenting on the autopsy as thus far revealed said: "I have expected that poison or anything of that sort would be found. It would not surprise me at all if the autopsy clearly showed that McClintock died of typhoid fever, as his physicians said. The autopsy would not be the end of it. The whole story has not been told. Much remains to be cleared up. Our investigation should not end until it is clear that McClintock's death was natural."

The body of McClintock which had been disinterred for the autopsy again was buried in Oakwoods cemetery today.

Fiance Dies on Wedding Eve

MISS ISABELLE POPE, fiancee of William D. Shepherd.

CHICAGO AUTHORITIES have called William D. Shepherd, foster-father of William Nelson McClintock, orphan millionaire, for questioning on the result of the death of McClintock, who died but a short time before Miss Isabelle Pope of Wilmette, Illinois, returned from obtaining a marriage license to marry him. McClintock left an estate valued at $2,000,000 which went by will to the Shepherds, but which would have gone to Miss Pope had they married.

Artificial Silk Industry Shows a Healthy Growth

Future of Newest Textile Is Discussed by Roger W. Babson, Famous Statistician; Has a Place of Its Own.

BAIBSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 26.—The news that premiums are being offered for delivery of artificial silk while the rest of the textile industry is just emerging from one of the worst depressions in its history is interesting and may be significant. In a statement issued today bearing on this situation, Roger W. Babson clears up several misunderstandings regarding this newest textile.

"Although the process for making artificial silk has been known for 20 years the industry has not developed to any great extent," said Mr. Babson. "Some $1,000,000 pounds of artificial silk was made in the United States during 1923. Production last year equaled 35,380,000 pounds and this year will doubtless show an even greater increase. American production last year equaled two-thirds as much as the rest of the world. The rest of the world's production of artificial silk totaled as much as real silk produced. What was real silk produced? What was real silk? The baby industry grew so fast in fact, that the textile manufacturers and dealers did not even have time to name it. The first name, 'rayon,' did not seem to suit and the second, 'artificial silk,' has been used more generally than any other. It is not a correct classification. The new fabric is no more artificial silk than it is artificial cotton. It is a distinct textile made of cellulose. Some of its uses are to find out just how it is made by the nitrocellulose process. A cheaper grade is made from wood fibre by the viscose process. Manufacturers and dealers have named it 'rayon' and it is hoped that it will soon be known and called by this, its own name."

Real Silk Lustre.

"Having somewhat the lustre of real silk, the new product is being used to lend a desirable effect to other fabrics. Lacking the necessary strength to be used alone for most sorts of clothing it is being mixed with cotton and wool or combined with these fabrics where their strength is not needed. The question as to its effect on other textiles has not been directly with silk but when its actual uses are analyzed it is seen that it is employed where real silk would be too expensive to use. The two materials really have distinctive fields. There will always be a demand for real silk with its greater strength and other qualities which have not been reproduced in newer products. Rayon tends to supplement the silk industry rather than compete with it. Of course there is direct competition in some instances but it is not anywhere near as serious as superficial consideration might suggest."

"The cotton and woolen interests have watched this new development with interest, trying to find out how it will affect them. Rayon is being produced in certain European countries, notably Italy, at a very low cost, so low in fact as to compete directly with some grades of English cotton yarns so far as price is concerned. The Italian product is made largely from wood pulp by the viscose process. Water power is plentiful in Italy and abundant cheap labor has enabled them to get their costs down to a minimum. As processes are further perfected and costs are reduced it is possible that rayon may come to direct competition with cotton for certain purposes. As far as Europe is concerned most manufacturers of cotton, however, have been filled so far by the introduction and popularity of the new product. They have incorporated rayon with cotton to get designs and effects heretofore impossible or impractical. In a real sense the added beauty gained by combining rayon with cotton has acted as a stimulus to the demand for certain types of cotton goods. "Rayon, then," concluded Mr. Babson, "is neither an imitation of silk nor a substitute for cotton. It is an entirely new product contributed by science to the textile industry. It is relatively free from price fluctuation and promises to add materially to the variety obtainable in textiles. As an industry, rayon, is enjoying a growth hardly surpassed by any other industry in the present decade."

General business as reflected by the Babsonchart continues at normal.

RECORDS SHOW STEADY INCREASE IN USE OF TELEGRAMS BY KOREANS

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 26 (AP)—Although the telegraph system of Korea is still used chiefly by the Japanese officials and residents of the country, the natives are making an increasing use of the telegraph and in their own language, according to statistics published by the communications bureau of the Korean government.

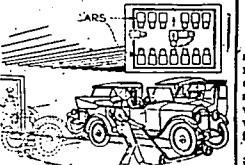

Ten years ago telegrams delivered to Koreans were only 11 per cent of those in the Korean language. During the present year 27 per cent of telegrams delivered are for Koreans, and of these more than half are written in Korean.

Upside-Down Rainstorms Given as Cause of Lightning

From tethered balloons during summer thunderstorms, scientists have observed the phenomenon of topsy-turvy rainstorms, spray hurled upward from the clouds by ascending blasts of air. In this movement the raindrops act as carriers of electricity and, according to a U. S. weather bureau expert, are responsible for the accumulations of positive and negative charges that produce lightning.

Increasing Storage Space in the Garage

Garage men who find their car space limited may profitably following the example of one resourceful proprietor who practically doubled his storage capacity without the expenditure of a cent. He saved the usual 2-ft. space on each side of a car, ordinarily allowed for maneuvering it, in the following way: When a motorist drove his car up the center aisle he was stopped just past the front end of the car was then lifted upon a wheel jack and swung around until it was at right angles to the aisle, as shown by the dotted lines in the drawing. It was then backed into the parking space with ease.

only about 1/2 in. of clearance from the adjacent car. The only requirement is that the aisle must be somewhat wider than the length of the biggest car one expects to shelter. Skillful manipulation of the wheel jack is soon learned by any garage attendant.

ENGINE PILOT SAVES WOMAN

Projection Saves Life of 19-Year-Old Bride; One Killed, Two Are Injured.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26 (AP)—"I've thanked God a thousand times that I'm alive," sobbed Mrs. Mary Clark, 19, who lay in a hospital bed here today and described a Christmas night ride of 12 miles on the locomotive pilot of the Knickerbocker special, a fast New York Central train running from Indianapolis to New York. Mrs. Clark was caught on the pilot when the train demolished an automobile at a crossing here, killing one member of her family and injuring two others.

Mrs. Clark's mother-in-law, Mrs. Clyde Clark, died of injuries. Kenneth Clark, 23, husband of Mrs. Mary Clark, and Clyde Clark, Kenneth's father, were injured. "Billy," Hartman, 20-month-old nephew of Mrs. Kenneth Clark, escaped unharmed.

Terrifying Experience. "It was the most terrifying experience I ever expect to have," said Mrs. Clark, as she told of clinging to the locomotive until she finally became unconscious and was swept off by a blast of air where she was found by a farmer who heard her scream.

Mrs. Clark said as the automobile started across the tracks she heard a terrific crash and then remembered nothing until she found herself on the engine pilot.

"I was still somewhat dazed," she said, "but I realized where I was and I apparently had enough presence of mind to cling to some kind of an iron bar on the head of the locomotive. I screamed, shrieked and shouted until my throat became raw. I was unable to make further outcry. It seemed that I was flying, the train was going so fast."

Minutes Like Hours. "The minutes seemed like hours and the wind was so strong I was afraid to use my arms to look ahead. It was the coldest wind I ever felt."

"I felt that it would only be a question of a few seconds until I probably would be dashed to the tracks below and ground to pieces. It was terrible. I prayed to God to give me strength to hang on just a little further. I also asked that if he intended to take me to please spare Kenneth and the rest of the family."

"I thought of Kenneth and his father and mother and little Billy many times as the train sped on and I wondered if they had been killed. I prayed and prayed that they be saved."

MISS ABIGAIL VICTORIA HARDING, sister of the late President Harding, was married recently to Ralph T. Lewis, real estate broker of Marion, Ohio, after a romance which began years ago. ## SEEK CLUES IN BOMB OUTRAGE

California Attorney Is Injured When Christmas Gift Explodes; Police Get Busy.

GLENDALE, Cal., Dec. 26 (AP)—Search for bits of wrapping paper about a Christmas package which contained a bomb that exploded and injured Ernest M. Torchia, an attorney, here yesterday, was being made by authorities today.

Without the wrapper postal inspectors said efforts to trace the origin of the bomb in the mail would be difficult.

Torchia, whose left hand was blown off when he opened the package, who was otherwise injured, was in a critical condition at the hospital today.

Check of the room in which the explosion occurred indicated that the explosive had been contained in a small pillow which had been exploded by a percussion cap, by contact with a shock from a battery, parts of which were found. Imbedded in the woodwork of the room were bits of carbon and a piece of zinc. The container was a two-pound wooden box, the edges of which were dovetailed.

REFERENDUM MEASURES FEW IN WASHINGTON

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 26 (AP)—Only four initiative or referendum measures have been passed by the voters of Washington in the dozen years since the enabling law was adopted.

The initiative measures enacted into law by popular vote since 1913 were a prohibition bill knocking out saloons in the state but establishing a permit system by which a certain amount of liquor could be shipped in; a "home dry" bill that superseded the first law, and the bill abolishing the first poll tax. The only referendum passed was one granting a bonus to veterans of the world war.

Ten initiative measures and 17 referendums were voted down during the period. The record shows that only one out of eight measures met public approval.

Shirkers in Abraham's Day. There were always some people in the world who shirked their work. Far back in the days when Ur of the Chaldees where Abraham lived was a fine city they had them. Perhaps because there were so many of them the Father of the Faithful got up and left. Not long ago men were digging in the ruins of the old city, one of them tells us, searching for the foundation deposits of a temple. The diggers came across a small box containing a statue of the ancient king carrying the first basket of earth from the site, and underneath that he found a beautifully polished but perfectly blank marble tablet. Upon this should have been the history of the city, but he could only assume that the scribe had drawn pay for work he never performed. Probably no one ever knew of the rascality until the English explorers discovered it.

When a Man is at His Prime. From twenty-eight to forty-nine for the average man. Lower and higher than was considered at his strongest and most beautiful between twenty and thirty, at his best as a leader or manager from thirty to forty, as an experienced man of business from forty to fifty, as a counselor or judge of other men's troubles from fifty to sixty. Roughly these divisions are to some extent still correct. Modern life, however, with its increased opportunities for travel and education, has so speeded up conditions that young men of business, for example, may be in their twenties often acquired enough experience to allow them to rise to their prime early in life. At the other end of life, altered social conditions and better medical attention have allowed physical efficiency to be retained far longer.

Pigeon Finds Way by Sight.

A British royal air force pigeon released from a balloon a mile and a half above the ground, was unable to see the earth below on account of a thick blanket of clouds. Later by flying around for a little time the bird gave up all hope of finding its way back to its home, some 150 miles away, and settled down comfortably on the balloon, much as Noah's dove settled on the ark when it could find no place to rest on account of the waters. The pigeon, however, had better luck than Noah's dove. After a time a rift appeared in the clouds, and the bird swooped from the balloon through the gap in the vapor, and two hours later had delivered the message tied to its leg. This incident indicates that a pigeon finds its way home by sight, not by instinct, as many have thought.

Paper Hat Parasol for Men Serves as Shield from Sun or Rain

Protection from sun or rain is provided by a paper parasol that slips over the top of men's hats and is held by a rubber band or piece of elastic. The flaps that hang over the brim can be folded in nine different ways, thus allowing the wearer at any desired angle, while the exposed portions of the shade may be printed with advertisements. Special styles are manufactured also in thin sheet rubber with rigid side strips, while those made from ordinary paper are reinforced with backing have been found serviceable even in heavy rains.

Hints for Radio Builders.

"Spaghetti" or other protective tubing should be used sparingly, if at all, in radio-frequency circuits. In audio-frequency circuits, on the other hand, it should be used to prevent high plate-voltage leads from touching at all points where they cross. It can also be used on filament leads to prevent shorts. A variable condenser is commonly used in radio circuits, but very often wrongly connected. It may be placed in the aerial circuit, either in series with the primary tuning coil or shunted across it in the plate circuit as a control for regeneration, and in the grid circuit as a control for tuning across the secondary of the tuning coil. In the first case, the rotor plates should be connected to the ground; in the second to the B-battery, and in the third case to the A-battery. By applying this rule equals and howls in single-circuit receivers are eliminated, and body capacity effects reduced in all kinds of circuits. Varmer variable condensers are necessary where tuning is critical. A varmer control can be added to any variable condenser by connecting a three-plate variable condenser in parallel with it. This will serve as a varmer to the larger condenser and give fine tuning control.

Attaching Carpet to Concrete

Attaching a carpet to a concrete floor is rather difficult because nails or tacks cannot be driven into the concrete. It can easily be done in the following way, which, however, requires the use of padding under the carpet: Drill holes in the concrete along the edge of the wall about 1 ft. apart, and plug them with hardwood. A tapered wooden strip of approximately the same thickness as the padding is run along the edge of the room, being secured to the wooden plugs. The padding is then laid on the floor, and the carpet stretched over it and tacked to the strip.

LABOR IS NOT DOWN-HEARTED OVER RESULTS

Outcome of Elections in England Recently Fails to Discourage Workers' Political Organization.

LONDON, Dec. 25 (AP)—Labor is far from down-hearted over the result of the recent election. Although it lost nearly 50 seats, the party gained more than 1,000,000 new voters, demonstrating that the socialist movement in British politics is not only alive and kicking, but growing lustily as well.

After all, the sweeping change in party strength in the house of commons, which the election brought about, was due greatly to what Lloyd George and others have assailed as unjust, and undemocratic anomalies in the British electoral system. In three-sided contests the existing system permits the election of a candidate by a minority of the voters, as the high man of the three wins.

Luck a Year Ago.

A year ago the luck of the three-party fighting went to labor and against the conservatives. This time the reverse happened. This time the conservatives polled less than half of the vote cast by the populace, but won more than two-thirds of the seats. In every seven votes that were conservative, labor got five. Yet more than 400 conservative candidates were elected, while labor won less than 100 seats. The liberal strength shrunk at the polls from more than 4,000,000 to less than 3,000,000 and in the house this middle party withered to less than 40 members.

Gets Fresh Vigor.

In consequence of the strange harvest that sprung from the vote of the nation, the advocates of electoral reform are pushing pens and using vocal chords industriously. The movement for introducing proportional representation has taken on fresh vigor. The Proportional Representation Society has pointed out that had the system it supports been in use, the Tories would have only three-fourths of their present parliamentary members; labor would hold more than 200 seats instead of 158, and the liberals would have 100 members instead of a mere omblous handful of less than 40. There are no indications, however, that electoral reforms are nigh. The conservatives are satisfied, and it would be hardly human nature for them to push through reforms that would weaken their parliamentary position.

Self-Mastery.

The greatest virtue you can gain is to master yourself. Sward Permandina writes: "The thirst for happiness is a common instinct in all mankind; but every one of us does not possess the secret of acquiring it, nor have we the power to retain when it comes. This requires both wisdom and endurance. Perhaps for this reason the great men of all countries and ages have laid such tremendous emphasis on a life of self-discipline and self-control. Self-discipline enables us to organize and control our scattered forces. This necessarily increases our power for both thought and action."

Apologized for the Fish.

Folliteness has developed among the Orientals to a degree of extravagance that is intensely amusing to visitors. oftentimes to the people themselves. As was the case when the popular Prince Kuni of Japan was fishing at Ritsurin Koen and twice lost a big fish from his line and the governor of the province appeared and made profuse apologies for the unfriendly conduct of the behavior of the fish. —Ohio State Journal.

Pearl Superstition

There is an old superstition that pearls are the condensed tears of heaven. There was a belief in the East that at the full moon the pearl oyster rose to the surface of the sea and opened to receive falling dew drops from heaven, which hardened into pearls.

AMERICA HURT BY PASSPORTS LEGISLATION

Post-War Travel Charges Gradually Being Reduced for Everybody Except Citizens of United States.

LONDON, Dec. 25 (AP)—The expenses and exasperations of post war travel with passports are gradually being reduced for everybody except Americans. Beginning December 1, British subjects for only seven shillings six pence can obtain passports valid for five years from the date of issue. No visa at all will be required for visiting most of the continental countries to which the English go in large numbers. The British simply puts his $1.75 passport in his pocket and crosses the channel. For an extra five shillings he can have his passport extended to 10 years.

His lot is a lucky one compared to that of the American traveling abroad. First of all the American must pay his own government $10 to get a passport which expires in 12 months and cannot be extended for a period longer than two years from the date of issue. Then for each country he visits, except in Switzerland and Belgium, he must pay another $10 for a visa.

The American is merely an innocent bystander suffering from a little game of retaliation against his government. When the United States began charging $10 for visas to visit America for foreign nations instead of turning the other cheek, gave the Yankee wallet a wallop by charging Americans $10 each to cross their frequent frontiers. As not infrequently happens, Europe comes out ahead in this little game. Only a few thousand Europeans visit America each year, while tens of thousands of Americans tour Europe, and most of them pay from $20 to $50 each for visas.

The liberal British press, and the people it represents, seems devotedly to long for the good old days of no passports at all, considering them, now that the war is over, "a sinister reflection on a peaceful land."

DUPES MAKE CRIME EASY FOR CRIMINALS

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 25 (AP)—Crime is made easy by the excessive number of dupes in the country according to George C. Henderson, an authority on criminology.
"It is the victim," he explained, "the sap, dupe, gull and easy mark, whatever you want to call him, who supports thousands of crooks in America and gives the country credit for a two-billion-dollar loss by crime."

"They leave their automobiles unprotected for thieves to steal. They carry large sums for pickpockets to get. They are so weak when they cash checks for strangers. They purchase real estate without looking up the title, invest in schemes without consulting their bankers, pay mediums to talk to the dead, play cards with sharks and bet on prearranged events."

"It is hard for the police to guard them entirely; they must learn to protect themselves."

Second Eliah.

In south India cholera had been raging through a village, but every man and woman who could walk had come to watch the drunken devil priest tear the living sacrifice to death with his teeth. Then, dipping his long whip in the warm blood of the dying goat, he danced round in a frenzy, beating the crowd and assuring them that he was driving the cholera god away from the village. The little Christian community gathered to pray. Suddenly the word came that the chief priest himself was down with cholera, and he sent to beg the white evangelist to come and save him. He went, and to the general amazement the man was saved.

ACTRESS DIVORCES NOTED TENOR

MRS. JOHN W. STEEL, widely known on the stage before her marriage as Sidelie Espino, has been granted a divorce in New York from the noted tenor. She named three young women of the "Follies." They and Steel indignantly denied the charges.

TREASURE SEEKERS HOPEFUL OF HAUL WORTH 10 MILLIONS

LONDON, Dec. 25 (AP)—An effort is about to be made to salvage the vessels of the Turkish fleet, sunk by the combined British, French and Russian squadrons under the command of Sir Edward Cardigan in the harbor of Navarino, on the Greek Mediterranean coast, in 1827. It was announced here recently. The ships, 51 in number, were reported to have carried treasure valued at $10,000,000.

The sunken vessels no said to lie comparatively near the shore in about 30 fathoms of water, and divers who have entered them say they are in a good state of preservation. A number of ships' fittings already have been brought to the surface.

The salvors propose to raise the ships by chains and drag them ashore.

CAUSE AND CURE OF WAR MEETING

Women in Several National Organizations to Meet in Washington in January.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 25 (AP)—The national congress for the Cause and Cure of War, to be held at Washington, D. C., Jan. 19-24, will offer a course of study by the best experts to determine just why wars have occurred and how they can be prevented, and will not be a conference of propaganda or hysteria, according to Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, chairman of the program committee and former president of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Six hundred women representing six large national women's organizations have been invited to attend. They are the Federation of Women's clubs, The National League of Women Voters, the American association of University Women, The National Young Women's Christian association, the National Christian Temperance union and the Council of Jewish women.

With the conclusion of the conference, said Mrs. Winter, a statement of the findings will be drawn up and each of the represented organizations asked to sign it, giving a working basis for further action toward international peace.

ENGINEERING COMPANY TO SEEK TREASURE IN MEDITERRANEAN SEA

TOKYO, Dec. 25 (AP)—An agreement covering a treasure hunt at the bottom of the sea has been made by the Pelagic Ocean Engineering Works of Japan, the Tokyo Marine Insurance company. It has to do with $500,000 in English gold coin, which went to the bottom of the Mediterranean sea when the Nippon Yusen Kasei liner, Yawaku Maru, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in 1917. The specie belonged to the Yokohama Specie bank, but is now the property of the insurance company, which paid full insurance on the loss to the bank.

It is agreed that if the engineering company finds the specie, it shall retain 80 per cent, returning 20 per cent to the insurance company.

EVERY YEAR A BETTER YEAR

Planning goes on strike and water pipes burst, children howl with frost bitten fingers and toes, people shiver in houses and offices and the streets look bare and inhospitable.

But all this is the very smallest and least important part of the visit to the Twin Falls County of Jack Frost and the Storm King. Inconveniences there may be, some of them serious, but the air is tonic in its effects, rye checks for young and old are in evidence everywhere.

Older people get more out of the exercise, the winter atmosphere is clean and invigorating and healthful.

There will be no hangover crop of grasshoppers and insect pests in this section next spring. The white fly will not again menace the best crop.
An abundance of water for irrigation is assured, with its accompanying bountiful crops. With the constant improvement in European credits, an enlarged market for agricultural products is certain. The increased buying power of Europe may not be large but it will be there just the same. Slowly but surely agricultural prosperity looms daily nearer. Next year will be a better year for agricultural America.

These are the thoughts which cheer
the flagging spirits and bid men hope as of old.

"Every year a better year for the Twin Falls Country" never supplied a better commentary, slogan than it does now.

THE BIGGEST AIRSHIP

It is thrilling to learn that the Navy Department plans to build an airship of the Zepplin type, with a capacity of 9,000,000 cubic feet. That would be more than twice the size of the Los Angeles, German-built and American-owned, now the biggest airship in the world. It would be 1,000,000 cubic feet larger than two giants recently ordered by Great Britain.

Such a craft would cost about six million dollars. It would have nearly four thousand horsepower and could carry a "pay load" of twenty-two tons of freight or passengers.

It is better, no doubt, to have naval competition take this form, instead of the old competition in battleships. It is more constructive, and there is more to be learned by it.
The proposed airship could be used for military purposes, but would be intended primarily for the peaceful carrying of mail and passengers across the Atlantic, just as the two big British airships are intended primarily for service between England and Australia.

At the same time, it seems premature to eliminate how many millions a year such a vessel would earn. It may as well be recognized that this is a risky business. The dirigible balloon is yet experimental, and the bigger the gas bag the bigger the risk.

BOARD VOTES TO STANDARDIZE HOSPITAL HERE

Commissioners Divide, Two to One, When Majority Approves Reorganization of Institution's Management.

Twin Falls county commissioners Friday afternoon voted, two to one, to adopt for the management and control of the Twin Falls county general hospital the minimum requirements for standardization as laid down by the American College of Surgeons, reversing to the board the right to appoint a majority of the members of the executive committee to be appointed under standardization provisions, and requesting the Twin Falls County Medical association to form a staff, elect officers and adopt by-laws in accordance with standardization requirements, and to meet with the board of county commissioners on Wednesday next to consider these by-laws.

Adoption of the standardization program was moved by Commissioner T. D. Connor and seconded by J. D. Barnhart, chairman of the board. Commissioner O. E. Carlson, who voted against standardization and subsequently filed a formal protest against the board's action, demanded roll call vote.

Connor Sees Advantages.

Commissioner Connor, in moving adoption of the standardization program, stated that he was convinced standardization would not lessen power of the county commissioners in management of the hospital; that it would result in more efficient service and protection for the public, provide for the establishment of a training school for the benefit of local girls who desire to become nurses, and would result in saving of thousands of dollars to the taxpayers annually. He stated that he believed that if standardization should not prove satisfactory there would be nothing to prevent the county commissioners from going back to the old system. In explanation of his vote against standardization, Commissioner Carlson stated that he objected to action of so great importance being taken by the board which is to go out of office within a few days. In his formal protest, Commissioner Carlson expressed the opinion that standardization "will increase the burden of expense both to the taxpayer and to the patients," and objected to exclusion, under standardization of osteopathic and chiropractic doctors and their patients from the hospital on the grounds that all taxpayers are entitled to benefits of the institution which is publicly owned, "the expenses of which are met largely by taxation."

Favored by Physicians.

Members of the county medical association at a recent meeting went on record unanimously in favor of adoption of the standardization program, and at a subsequent meeting with the county commissioners the subject was debated at length, the arguments for the opposition being presented by Commissioner Carlson and Dr. Emma C. Crossland, osteopathic practitioner. Text of the resolution adopted Friday by majority vote of the commissioners for standardization of the hospital is as follows:

Be it resolved, that the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county, Idaho, adopt for the management and control of the Twin Falls county general hospital the minimum requirements for standardization as laid down by the American College of Surgeons, but that said board of county commissioners reserves the right to appoint a majority of the members of the executive committee to be appointed under the provisions of the said minimum requirements for standardization.

That the Twin Falls County Medical association be requested to form a staff, elect officers and adopt by-laws in accordance with the said minimum requirements for standardization, for the carrying out of said requirements, and that all regularly licensed physicians and surgeons be requested to meet with the above named board of county commissioners on the 31st day of December, 1924, for consideration of said by-laws.

Carlson States Case.

Commissioner Carlson's formal protest stated: "The undersigned member of the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county, Idaho, voted against the adoption of the standardization program, and in so doing he expressed his belief that the standardization program would result in an increase of expense to the taxpayer and to the patients, and that it would result in the exclusion of osteopathic and chiropractic doctors and their patients from the hospital on the grounds that all taxpayers are entitled to benefits of the institution which is publicly owned, 'the expenses of which are met largely by taxation.'"

SALVATIONIST LEADER GIVES THANKS FOR AID

Appreciation on the part of Twin Falls corps of the Salvation Army of assistance given the organization in its Christmas relief work was expressed Friday evening by Captain A. Watkinson. A total of 25 baskets of provisions and holiday delicacies was distributed by the organization Christmas eve and Christmas day, and with the donations of cash placed in the Christmas kettles displayed on the streets, and of potatoes, onions and beans given by local warehouses, this, Captain Watkinson stated, could not have been done. She expressed appreciation especially of the donation by people of Knoll community who furnished 17 dressed chickens and a great quantity of canned fruit that went into the baskets.

More than 150 persons crowded the Salvation Army hall at Sunday school Christmas exercises Wednesday evening at which gifts were distributed among members of the Sunday school and other children.

HEARS PLEA FOR DIVORCE

Evidence in support of petition filed Friday by W. P. Guthrie as attorney for divorcé Vanderford, was presented before the district court the same day and the case was by Judge W. A. Babcock taken under advisement. Mrs. Vanderford, who asks for custody of her infant son, alleged that her husband had deserted her ever since the date of their marriage, December 5, 1923, at Payette.

DENIES MISUSE OF NAME

Ford Motor company's claim that Ed George, proprietor of the Empire Auto shop, Second avenue north, illegally makes use of the name Ford, using in advertising and in signs the words "Ford specialist," "Ford repairing," is denied in an answer filed Friday in district court here to a suit recently instituted by the Ford company to restrain George from continued use of these words.

Falls county desires to place on record his protest against the action taken by a majority of the board on the 20th day of December, 1924, in passing a resolution to standardize the Twin Falls county general hospital. I believe that standardization of the hospital according to the minimum requirements of the American Medical association, will increase the burden of expense both to the taxpayer and to the patients. I understand it is planned to establish a school for training of nurses in the hospital and to use the undergraduate nurses in the hospital. This, it seems obvious, will mean either that untrained nurses will be entrusted with work for which they are not fitted, to the peril of the patients, or else there will be a duplication of nurses and an added and unnecessary expense. This institution is too small and the expense in proportion to the number of patients treated is already too great to justify any increase in expense.

"Another ground for objection is the fact that, under the standardization rule, no doctors will be admitted to practice in the hospital unless they are regular medical doctors. This, of course, will mean the exclusion of osteopathic and chiropractic doctors, from which it follows that if a patient happened to believe in either of these methods of treatment, he cannot make use of the hospital—which is the only hospital available—unless he renounces his belief in these power treatments and accepts the services of a regular practitioner. In view of the fact that this is a publicly owned institution, the expenses of which are met largely by taxation, it seems to me that this is to deprive the citizens and taxpayers of rights given him by the constitution and laws of this state, and make the board of control of the standardized hospital greater in power than the constitution of the state and the acts of the state legislature."

OFFERS ADVICE TO WATER USERS

Superintendent Harley Rayburn Suggests Running a Small Stream to Ward Off Frost.

Owing to the fact that mild winter temperatures are characteristic of this part of Idaho, the average household has needed to give but little attention to the care of the plumbing. But with the present continued cold snap which is driving the frost deeper and deeper into the earth every 24 hours, this care-free attitude must give place to some concern if widespread trouble is to be avoided, according to Harley Rayburn, superintendent of the city waterworks department.

"The first thing for everyone to do," said Mr. Rayburn further, "is to ascertain whether the house he is occupying provided with an adequate water supply. If not, or if the water is not running freely, a stop and waste that actually works. Try it out and know that it is 100 per cent efficient. If it can not be turned off, or if on being turned, it does not shut off the water, have the matter attended at once. In case pipes freeze and water is shut off, the house can then be protected from flooding when they are thawed. Also the water can be turned off during the night when the freezing is most likely to occur and almost certainly provide safety from this annoyance. It is a simple thing to do. All that is to be done is to keep the water running in the basement every evening and take care of the matter, but it is a great deal more trouble to have to wait to use in the morning and to water your turn for a plumber to come and make the necessary repairs. Houses of the most careful construction and with furnace heat are having trouble. Don't pin your faith to anything but a good stop and waste which will turn the water off and drain the pipes every night.

"Allowing the water to run from one tap on the premises, just a small stream to keep the pipes from freezing, is a safeguard. This is a precaution that must be used with wisdom and discretion, as too much water run into the sewers will cause conditions there that are as bad as the ills we would try to cure by this remedy. Do not open the faucet wide. Just a small, slow stream from one tap will do as well. If the cold weather continues it will be beyond the power of the operating force, of the department to give prompt attention to all the trouble calls that will accumulate. It is a time when every man and woman must give the best possible thought and care to the plumbing and try to side step trouble."

The department has for the past week abandoned all efforts to keep office hours and has maintained a night force for emergencies. In the greater number of the breaks the trouble could have been avoided had the proper care been exercised, the superintendent stated and in many instances when buildings have been flooded the damage might have been reduced to the minimum had someone on the premises known where the stop was located.

SOUND TAPS FOR W. W. HUMPHREY

Venerable Comrades Read G. A. R. Burial Service for Veteran and Pioneer.

Taps was sounded Friday afternoon for William W. Humphrey, 80, veteran of the Civil war and pioneer of the Yellowstone park region, and of the Twin Falls country, whose death occurred last Monday evening following several months of failing health.

Two venerable comrades, J. D. Smith, commander, and James M. Bice, adjutant of Dan McCook post, stood in bitter chill of the afternoon at the graveside and read the burial service of the Grand Army of the Republic. Thereafter a firing squad composed of eight enlisted men of company, C. Twin Falls unit of the Idaho national guard, under command of First Lieutenant J. L. Hodgins, fired volleys over the grave and a guardsman bugler sounded the notes of the army's farewell.

Friends who assembled to attend the funeral services conducted by the Rev. Beni S. Kayser at St. Edward's church, included many of the pioneer settlers of Twin Falls, and the Twin Falls country and a delegation of members of the Elks lodge, of which Mr. Humphrey was a honored member. Comrades of the Civil war were there, too, but only the sturdiest of them could brave the winter weather to take part in the final service. A profusion of floral offerings bore evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Humphrey was held in the community.

Services at the church opened with a solo by A. Wilton Peck, past com-

Mr. M. S. Hoover, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Dear Sir:—I want to say a few words for the Gregg Business College.

I completed a commercial course several years ago in an accredited school and after investigating your course decided to take a review of the work.

If a student will study and try to improve his time, there is no reason why he can not get as much benefit at the G. B. C. as he could in the larger institutions. I believe he can accomplish more because of the personal attention given each individual.

After finishing two months work in the G. B. C., I am very well pleased with your methods.

Very truly yours,
