

NAVY OFFICIALS STILL LOOK FOR PLANE'S SAFETY Intensive Search for Ill-Fated PN-9 and Crew Goes Steadily On; Admiral Moffet Issues Statement.

(By The Associated Press.) HONOLULU, Sept. 2.—Over a full day has passed without word from the missing navy seaplane PN-9, No. 1, and her crew of five men.

As yesterday, the final four hours of daylight showed no activity by those searching the vast stretches of the Pacific, making every effort to reach the seaplane's crew before nightfall set in.

Meanwhile, reports from information centers here seeking late reports on the PN-9, without a stop jump from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor, was interrupted about 1:42 p. m. (Alaskan time) yesterday while some hundred miles off the coast of the island of Maui by exhaustion of the fuel supply.

The crew was thrown into an uproar this morning through circulation of a rumor that the plane had been sighted. Navy authorities issued the following statement:

Banner Is Denied. "The seaplane has not been found despite all rumors to the contrary. We are in constant touch with the Army and Navy planes."

Officers Bill Hopwood. "Officers of the Pearl Harbor station persisted in their belief that the aviators would be rescued. It was admitted that the plane had been seen by John Hougler and his men on the island of Nihoa, but they insisted that failure to sight the seaplane did not mean that it had been abandoned."

Commercial ships, including the freighter Tanager, were instructed to keep close lookout for the PN-9. It is believed that the seaplane is somewhere in the area.

CAVALRY ORDERED OUT TO STOP LOOTING IN EL PASO FLOOD AREA El PASO, Texas, Sept. 2.—A group of cavalrymen departed late today to the flooded area along the Rio Grande, just east of El Paso, in order to stop looting of partially flooded homes which had been abandoned.

Flood waters of the river which built through El Paso this afternoon, was getting deeper this evening. More than 100 houses are standing in water. At places in suburban additions of El Paso water was standing three feet deep.

Reinforcements were rushed from Fort Bliss to aid workers from the city, who number several hundred, in repairing the broken dykes. Five miles east of El Paso traffic was halted over the lower valley road along the banks of the Rio Grande, and diverted to a higher highway.

MANY SETBACKS TAKE TOLL OF GROWING CROPS Excess of Rainfall Vies With Near Drought as Disturbing Factors in Country's Agricultural Prospects.

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—A general slight deficiency in rainfall and excessive temperatures throughout the middle and central southwest during August retarded maturity of the late plant crop and materially reduced the pasture acreage of stockmen, but nowhere save in the southeastern Texas cotton belt and Oklahoma did it approach a serious drought.

Reports today from the area known by North Dakota, Texas, Nebraska and Ohio showed an August rainfall deficiency ranging from 25 in North Dakota to 2.5 inches in northern Ohio, but all states except Oklahoma, were in the conclusion, the beneficial effect of the dry spell on the early crop had more than offset the damage to the late plant in the grip of the worst dry spell in its history.

Paper and Pulp Securities Should be Watched, Babson

During Last Depression in the Stock Market Companies Suffered Severely but Conditions Now Are Good.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 2.—(Special to The News)—During the last depression in the stock market the pulp and paper companies suffered severely, especially the securities of some of the best Canadian companies, such as the Spanish River Pulp and Paper company, the Laurentide company, and the Abitibi Power and Paper company. The stocks of the International Paper company in the United States were off severely while the Canadian company, one of the largest owners of pulp lands in Canada, went into receivership and has since been taken over by the International Paper company. During the past year, however, the price of nearly all of their stocks have shown marked increases and Mr. Babson has been asked as to what these increases have been due. His reply is as follows:

"Of course the general rise in the price of pulp and paper stocks during the past year has been due primarily to the general improvement in the stock market as a whole. Stocks seem to be going up about as fast as the good and the bad. When the general tendency of the market is upward, practically all securities are taken up, and in this manner, in general, the situation is entirely changed and advertising has been the means of reducing selling costs in many lines. Newspaper advertising is not a necessary part of the business plan. Furthermore, the good-will gained by national advertising is developing monopolies which are far more profitable than any other kind of trust. Moreover, this has no relation to the fact that in the past few years the monopolies which are thus being unconsciously formed by national advertising."

"During previous business depression newspaper advertising fell off very considerably, but not so during the recent depression. Now most newspapers are running more advertising than they have ever before. General business is quiet in many sections and many lines. Even advertising experts are suggesting that in years to come more advertising space will be required in dull times than in boom times. This is because it is believed that manufacturers and merchants should even go into the field to purchase advertising space. Of course this is very good for the publishers and tends to increase the use of paper for its means that advertising, which was once a loss, is becoming a profitable and stable industry. Economists even talk of the time when newspaper publishers will be a great factor in stabilizing business conditions by taking out the weeds and pulling up the vines. In fact, advertising rates in boom times, to serve as a check on the situation, and lowering them in times of depression to encourage buying. This situation has undoubtedly helped paper securities."

"Another factor in the situation has been a declining supply of pulp wood. Of course, this has always been true as a danger signal, and it is quite plain to the increase in price as the result. However, the increase in the cost of wood pulp has thus far been mainly due to the increase in the wages and living of the men who are sent into the woods. A chart of the price of bacon and beans coincides almost exactly with a chart of the price of pulp as it comes from the forest. On the other hand, little has been done in reforestation and, of course, the wood suitable for pulp is continually decreasing. Moreover, if reforestation is to be done on a commercial basis it must be done in the south where there is plenty of rain and sunshine. Up to the present time the best examples of reforestation may be found at Douglas, La., where the work has been done under the direction of General Manager Sullivan of the Great Southern Lumber company."

"In view of the fact that the natural supply of paper is on the increase, and that reforestation in Canada will be impractical on account of its slow progress, the Canadians are talking very strongly about restricting the exportation of pulp wood, or of putting on a very heavy export duty. If this is done Ontario and Western Quebec fear a retaliation by us in the shape of a coal embargo, and as they are rather far from the coal fields of Alberta and Nova Scotia this is of some concern to them. What the outcome will be only time can tell. Personally I believe that the future of both Canada and the States lies in co-operation and reciprocity rather than in retaliation and tariffs of any kind. "Artificial silk, or Rayon, as it is called, is rapidly becoming a factor in the pulp wood market. Few people realize the tremendous growth of this industry which puts pulp wood in at one end of a machine and turns out silk at the other end. Of course up to the present time this silk is not as strong as real silk. It does not wash as well and does not take dyes the same as natural silk, but improvements are rapidly being made. The increase in use of artificial silk, or Rayon, is largely responsible for the revolution now taking place in the textile industry and the unemployment resulting in those mills which have absolutely bucked the rising tide of Rayon."

"Up to the present time the news papers and book publishers have been the only customers for wood pulp, although some is used for wrapping papers, etc. In years to come the textile field will use more pulp than the newspaper field. This means a higher price for pulp and newspaper. Without a doubt this will bring in substitutes, but up to the present time these substitutes are no very practical. We hear about the conversion into pulp of sawgrass, cornstalks, etc. It is very possible that some annual product of the field will be found as a substitute for pulp wood, but nothing up to the present time has developed."

"All of this means that pulp wood should continually increase in price and pulp and paper plants which own these lands should make a large amount of money during the next few years. When it comes to a long distance investment in the pulp and paper industry in southern lands rather than northern lands, with the supply of pulp wood lands, the northern lands are more successful. That is, we are at a time when it is necessary to depend on reforestation the southern mill will be in a much more strategic position and much closer to the source of supply. Most of the northern pulp and paper mills have water power which will increase in value and which may sometime take the place in income producing ability of the old sawmills. This is especially true of companies like the Spanish River Pulp and Paper company, the Laurentide company, the Abitibi Power and Paper company, the International Paper company in the States which is now in control of the New England Power syndicate, owned by Chase & Harriam."

"Considering the falling of pulp and paper stocks as an investment, they look fairly good at the present time, although they are selling at very high prices. Each plant, however, should be studied independently as to its available pulp lands, its undeveloped water power, and its future outlook as reforestation becomes a necessity. In the meantime newspapers and other purchasers of papers must be prepared to pay gradually higher prices in years to come, especially in view of the demand which is coming from the textile industry. General business is showing some improvement. The Babson chart now registering 7 per cent above normal, while at this time last year it was 14 per cent below normal."

Horsemen From Many Sections Gather in Salt Lake for Race Meet Opening.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 2 (AP)—Horse race followers from all sections of the west are here for the opening tomorrow of the 30-day fall meet of the Utah Racing association at which more than $125,000 in purses will be offered. Several hundred horses shipped from many eastern and western American tracks and from Canada are quartered at the state fair grounds at which the race track is located and the race plant hastily built for the recent 2-day spring meets of the association has been greatly improved. The feature race tomorrow will carry a purse of $1,500. It is for two-year-olds and an opening day event. Another large purse will be put up for the feature event on Labor day at which many visitors from other intermountain states are expected. Advertisers from Butte, are to be offered three five special railroad cars full to be started from there. William P. Kyne of San Francisco, who in past years operated tracks at Reno, Nev., and Phoenix, Ariz., is general manager of the Utah Racing association. Horse racing in Utah with the pari-mutuel system of betting was legislated after the last Utah legislature.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

The department of agriculture announced that 550,000 farms had rolled compared with 505,000 last year. Secretary Wilbur said he would postpone the PMA flight to Hawaii tomorrow unless the P-N-2 No. 1 was found. Secretary Work invited the public's suggestions and criticisms of the interior department's activities. Disapproval of a proposed oil rate revision in the Mid-Continent field was recommended to the interstate commerce commission.

OBLIGATIONS OF ARMS SESSION MUST BE KEPT

Secretary of State Kellogg in Address Before American Bar Association Outlines Chinese Policy.

(By The Associated Press) DETROIT, Sept. 2.—Willingness to carry out scrupulously the obligations and promises made in China by the United States at the Washington arrangements conference was expressed tonight by Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state, in an address before the American Bar association. Kellogg, accompanied by the announcement, however, was an incident that China at the same time would be required to "perform the obligations of a sovereign state in the protection of foreign citizens and their property."

Mr. Kellogg declared for the first time that he believed the people of Chicago had been appointed American special commissioner to the proposed commission on "extra-territorial" treaty revision and other special privilege questions for which no date as yet has been fixed. Mr. Strawn's reaction to act as a special commissioner, with Minister John Van A. MacLaurin at the conference which is to be convened in Peking October 23, already had been announced, but until the secretary spoke tonight there had been no indication who would represent the United States on the extra-territorial commission.

"I believe the people of this country sympathize with these aspirations of the Chinese people and that this government would be willing to give up these extra-territorial rights as soon as China shall demonstrate that her laws and judicial system are adequate for the protection of foreign lives and property with China," Mr. Kellogg said.

"China has invited commerce and development and, of course, it is her duty as a sovereign nation to fulfill her obligations under the terms of nations and to protect foreigners in their lives and property. I am sure that the United States has always been most desirous to respect and uphold Chinese sovereign rights and the development of a stable government."

"I know that I have, since I became secretary of state, worked earnestly to carry out the provisions of the treaties and resolutions adopted at the Washington conference with respect to the holding of the tariff conference and the appointment of the commission on extra-territoriality. Unfortunately the conditions in China have not been such as to favor our aspirations in these respects."

Survey Shows 22 Individuals and 64 Corporations in Idaho Pay More Than $1000 Each.

BOISE, Sept. 1. (AP)—Twenty-two in dividends and 64 corporations in Idaho paid income taxes totaling more than $1,000 each during 1924, according to figures obtained at the Boise office of the Internal Revenue bureau. These figures, bureau officials explained, give the information as to the actual incomes of individuals, since where income is derived from stock dividends the tax is paid by the corporation, while income from tax-exempt bonds is not given out. In the case of individual returns those of husband and wife have been combined.

The heaviest tax was paid by the Hecla Mining company, which contributed $125,000. This is the only payment of more than $100,000. The Hecla, the Hercules Mining company, paid $85,214, and the Tamarack and Custer Consolidated Mining company, whose tax was $21,507, are the largest of the mining companies filing reports. The Skaggs United States, with $55,147, the Winton Lumber company, which paid $5,451, and the C. Anderson company, which paid $2,700, are other heavy taxpayers among the corporations.

The largest individual payment was made by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day of Wallace, who gave the government $9,596, or $4,798 each.

Of the 10 corporations in this state which pay an income tax of more than $10,000, four are in Boise, three in Boleo, and one each in Pocatello, Coeur d'Alene and Salt Lake, the latter operating through a Boise branch.

The list of the larger taxpayers of the state, both individual and corporations, follows:

"BLACK LIGHTNING"
A thrilling and tense dramatic story is involved in a way that is bounded by realism and color in the big production "Black Lightning," which comes to the Idaho theatre to-day for the balance of the week.

The film is away from the stereotyped features both in its sight of romantic construction and cast which is headed by "Thunder"—The Marvel and includes such players as Clara Bow, Harold Auah, Eddie Phillips, James Mason, Joe Butterworth, Mark Fenton and John Prince. It was directed by that well known director, James P. Hogan.

Many thrilling scenes and big emotions are staged in "Black Lightning," with all of the action taking place in the hills of the Kentucky Mountains, centering around a bloody feud which has been raging for years. It is a picture that has a modern love story and will appeal to all lovers of good films.

The added feature consists of a brand new "Our Gang" comedy, "Boys Will Be Boys," and the latest News Weekly. Don't forget that next week is Paramount week and "The Ten Commandments."

CALLES SEES HOPEFUL PROSPECT FOR MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1. (AP)—Addressing the opening session of congress Tuesday, President Calles said the situation between the United States and Mexico growing out of the warning given Mexico last June by Secretary of State Kellogg had cleared in a friendly spirit and that Mexico and the United States were proceeding along the path of cordial and sincere understanding.

President Calles declared the prospect hopeful that Mexico would resume payment of her foreign debt. The government, he said, intends to resume payment "within the shortest possible period consistent with certain unavoidable national needs, which must be fulfilled first."

President Calles recommended that congress enact legislation restricting the issuance of permits to foreigners and foreign corporations to own land, water rights and sub-surface rights, meaning mining property in Mexico.

"The next night was the First Presbyterian church rehearsal and all attending Mexico and the United States were enthusiastic with the splendid and sincere understanding."

The next rehearsal will be held at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Friday evening. Any person not associated with any other church is asked to meet Mr. Shearer.

STOCKMEN GIVE LAND PROGRAM

Montana Grazers Present View to Senate Sub-Committee, Offer 11 Recommendations

HELENA, Sept. 2 (AP)—Greater local control of national forests, an area leasing system, treatment of grazing privileges the same as water rights, longer term contracts for grazing rights, creation of a board of appeal for determination of disputes between administrator and user, and fixing of grazing charges at not more than 10 per cent above the cost of administration, were the recommendations made Monday by stockmen to the senate sub-committee on public lands here in a hearing here.

Stockmen presented a score of witnesses to give their view of proper management of grazing lands; their principal testimony being set out in the record by J. E. Moser of Dillon, president of the Montana livestock commission and former state senator; H. Williams, president of the Montana Wood Growers' association. The recommendations relating to administration of national forests and those regarding the public domain were presented to the committee. The resolutions were prepared and adopted at a joint meeting Sunday night of representatives of the state livestock association and the state wool growers' association. At the close of the session the committee held its second day of hearing at the state capitol building party left for Missoula, Mont.

Enoch Arden Story Brought to Light By Double Suicide

Belgian Girl Remarries Following First Husband, British Officer, Killed in Action.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An international Enoch Arden story in real life, with a tragic ending, has been disclosed with the suicide of Walter J. Fitzpatrick, a manufacturer, and his wife, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, as a Belgian girl, was married previously to a British officer in a war romance, following his death she was killed in action she came to this country and married Fitzpatrick. Then the first husband reappeared.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was found asphyxiated in her New Garden apartment last Tuesday.

She had evidently turned on the burners of a range in the kitchen.

She notified her husband who was in Ireland, Fla., on business. The police of that city telegraphed her that he had shot and killed himself in a secluded spot near the city a few hours after the telegram arrived.

Mary Louise Bernier, daughter of a wealthy Belgian merchant, married Colonel Jack Leaverett of the British army in 1917. After the second Maine offensive Leaverett was reported missing. Distressed, his bride came to this country. She married Fitzpatrick in 1920, first obtaining a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Whether meeting her first husband (report on her name), Mrs. Fitzpatrick's friends did not know. An unfinished suicide note, addressed to Miss Glerie, Weber, dress shop proprietor by whom she had been employed, stated merely that "Life is not worth living" and that she wanted to be buried under her maiden name.

Miss Weber told the police that the Fitzpatricks separated about a year ago. He had frequently threatened to kill himself, she said.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE GIVES SHIPPERS REAL CONCERN

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP)—The unofficial strike of seamen in Australia, which has gradually involved the home ports, South Africa and India, has been regarded anxiously by the shipping board until today when half a dozen of the ports were affected and a number of big liners held up.

The ship owners therefore have decided that it is time to act and tomorrow morning notification will be given through the press by the Australian lines at all points in Australia, that all men on strike must return to duty within 24 hours.

At the same time the ship owners announce they will make no concession on the strike matter, nor discuss any settlement through the Australian seamen's union, and that, provided the men return to work within the stipulated time, there will be no reprisals, as they believe the strikers have been misled by their leaders.

WINTER WHEAT PRODUCT EXCEEDS REQUIREMENTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—American winter wheat production this year will exceed the requirements on the basis of the present intentions to plant wheat, the department of agriculture today announced, and the surplus here will face increasing production abroad in the world market.

A winter wheat crop of 260,000,000 bushels will be produced, the department said, if the farmers adhere to their plans to plant about 4,000,000 acres more than last year, and if the present crop yield is 14 1/2 bushels.

This will be about 44 per cent more than last winter's crop and, coupled with the spring harvest, which the statement said had averaged 250,000,000 for the past five years, would produce an exportable surplus of between 150,000,000 and 210,000,000 bushels.

CAMP PROGRAM OF BOY SCOUTS IS SET FORTH

Over Eight Hundred Within Jurisdiction of Snake River Council Take Advantage of Outdoor Opportunities.

The final report of camping department for the present camping season largely occupied the attention of the Snake River Council members at the regular quarterly meeting held in Jerome Wednesday evening.

A feature of the summer camp this season was the increase in adult leadership. Twenty-seven men divided the supervision of the four weeks among them, while several others spent a day or two each in camp.

Careful check of the National Council, H. R. A., camp grading system was made by the camping department of the local council, and Camp Shoshone was scored as a Class A camp.

Special notes of appreciation were made by the council of the work of Chairman T. M. Robertson of the camping committee.

The field department report showed 357 scouts registered in 50 troops, with six new troops approximately 100 scouts to be added soon.

The educational department announced that the local council will have in the near future a number of summer camps.

Twin Falls Merchants to Join in General Invitation to Visit Stores and View Wares; No Buying to be Done.

Definite decision has been reached to hold a "window shoppers' night" in Twin Falls on Tuesday evening, September 15, according to announcement Wednesday evening by F. W. Brunnagh, chairman of the chamber of commerce merchants' committee.

It will be the second window shoppers' night in Twin Falls history. The first window shoppers' night, two years ago, brought not less than 5000 persons to town and more than 70 per cent of the retailers in all lines of business participated with special displays of merchandise.

Window shoppers' night this year, Mr. Brunnagh stated, will conform to the plan worked out two years ago in that no sales will be made nor will any goods be reserved, but all of the business houses participating will arrange attractive displays of their wares and join in a general invitation to the people of this region to visit the stores and inspect merchandise offerings.

Appeal to Men Too

All lines of business will be represented, Mr. Brunnagh stated, and displays of merchandise that will attract and interest the men are to be arranged as well as exhibits of reasonable offerings of special interest to women folks.

Suit to set aside a judgment for $1000 issued in district court here in March, 1922, in favor of C. E. Lind against the Paysee Investment company, and an attachment under this judgment that was levied upon a Buick car, was instituted in district court here Wednesday by J. P. Lambert through J. H. Bohwell and W. Or Chapman, attorneys. The complaint alleges that at the time the judgment was issued the defendant corporation had forfeited its charter and had not the capacity to sue or be sued. Robert B. Paysee and E. Curtis Wares, trustees for the investment company, and Carl E. Lind are named as defendants.
