

Engineer Instantly Killed When Rogerson Branch Line Engine Hurtles from Rails

E. L. Thompson Crushed, to Death by Tender on Crossing Near This City When Obstruction Derails Train.

Earth piled by a road grader on a railroad crossing a mile and a quarter southwest of here late Wednesday afternoon in a hollow way caused the derailment and overturning of the locomotive of the Oregon Short Line Twin Falls-Rogerson branch train in which E. L. Thompson, 45, engineer, was instantly killed.

The engineer's body was removed from between the front wheels of the tank, which remained on the rails. It is believed that he had been thrown or leaped from his seat at the right side of the engine as it turned over to left and fell between the rails under the tank. The head was under the rail that was elevated when the engine went over, and one leg was pinned under a brake beam.

Buns Along on Ties

The locomotive that was bringing a train of eight freight cars and one combination baggage and passenger car to Twin Falls from Rogerson, traveled on the ties for about 150 feet after the accident, when it derailed from the rails at the crossing by the accumulation of earth that was three or four inches deep and that filled the gaps between the crossing ties.

First warning of the mishap came to trainmen and two passengers on board when a series of severe shocks and a crash of cars as the locomotive lurched itself in the ground at the side of the track.

Three firemen, under great noise and strain, ran to the rear of the train bringing word of the wreck. He (Continued on Page Two.)

Crop Yields Will be Below Average Says Federal Farm Board

Wheat Under Five-year Mark, Asserts September Production Forecast: Potato Prospects Dismal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Crop yields this year will be on the whole well below the average of recent years, the department of agriculture's crop reporting board announced today in its September production forecasts. There will be a general decline in the general situation in the month.

Spring Wheat Higher. Spring wheat yields are running slightly higher than early expectations. The crop is now estimated at 2,400,000,000 bushels, or 21,000,000 more than early August conditions indicated, and 1,000,000,000 more than the 1,400,000,000 bushels now produced last year.

Wheat production is estimated at 416,000,000 bushels, making the country's total prospective wheat crop 2,716,000,000 bushels, or 22,000,000,000 bushels more than produced last year, but 137,000,000 bushels less than the five year average.

Oats Show Gain. Threshing of oats results against early expectations and production of 1,672,000,000 bushels is indicated. This is a gain of 75,000,000 over last month's forecast.

Foreign Prospects Announced. Washington, Sept. 9.—Foreign prospects for wheat announced today by the department of agriculture, indicate that in 24 countries of the northern hemisphere the yield will total 433,000,000 bushels, compared with 2,303,000,000 last year, while in the southern hemisphere, crops are increasing and a record average is apparent.

Italy. In 14 European countries, an increase of 14,000,000 bushels over last year's harvest was estimated. German production estimates placed the crop at 107,000,000 bushels, a preliminary estimate of 100,000,000 made on the basis of the June 1 report, is now 113,000,000 bushels, an increase of 13,000,000 bushels over last year's total of 99,000,000 bushels.

Argentina. The wheat acreage in Argentina was planted at 18,000,000 acres, an increase on record, against 14,332,000 in 1924, the June 1 report. Private sources in Australia said the crop there was equal to last year, but probably slight increase in some areas.

HUNDREDS VIEW EXHIBITS AND RACES AT FAIR

Governors Day Sees One of Largest Crowds in History in Attendance; Moore Guest of Honor.

Governor's day at Twin Falls county's tenth annual fair at Filer Wednesday was also an excellent day when viewed from any standpoint for the agricultural exhibits and one of the largest crowds in the number of the institution was on the fair-grounds throughout the day and evening. Respecting the entries in crowded exhibits halls filling the big grandstand to the limit of its capacity during the afternoon's racing events and vaudeville entertainment, and through the midway with its many amusements and devices for amusement.

Governor C. C. Moore was introduced to the fairgoers by W. D. Gibbs of Filer, member of the Idaho house of representatives of the last legislative session. The governor did not acknowledge the introduction with manifest pleasure but did not make a speech. He occupied a place opposite the starters' stand at the race track and throughout the day he mingled with the other fairgoers in all of their pursuits and activities.

Prize Exhibits. "You have here, to my mind," Governor Moore stated, "the finest fair grounds in the state and the exhibits are simply amazing."

The governor declared that it was his belief that Idaho should have three or four big district fairs and suggested such fairs should be situated at Filer, Boise, Blackfoot and Lewiston. Opening of the three-day baby- clinic Wednesday afforded a new interest center on the fair grounds and during the day more than 100 babies and youngsters of pre-school age were brought by their parents for examination to the clinic and nurses who are co-operating with the state bureau of child welfare in the undertaking.

Hundreds of fairgoers during the day availed themselves of the hospitality of the women's rest room that has been newly fitted up for the fair this year and where hostesses serve punch and water and a player piano and phonograph provide music and surroundings that are most pleasing.

Today, Bull Day. Today is to be Bull day at the fair. (Continued on Page Six)

REWARD SLEUTH FOR PENDING VISIT

Former Assistant Chief Not to Issue Another Statement Attacking Air Service Until Investigation is Completed.

(By The Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 9.—Colonel William Mitchell, whose attacks on the aviation service in his administration have drawn official censure, announced tonight that he would make no more formal statements until after his interview with a representative of the inspector general's department assigned to investigate Mitchell's recent statement on the Shenandoah disaster.

Colonel George A. Nugent of the coast artillery, who was interviewed by the inspector general's department to investigate Mitchell's statement, is expected to reach San Antonio Friday night or Saturday morning.

Release Statement. Colonel Mitchell, this afternoon released his statement in a form in which he declared that "the investigation that is being made of the war and navy department's investigation of the Shenandoah disaster is a sufficient guarantee of the integrity of the investigation."

All officers here discussed freely the making of Colonel Nugent to investigate the Mitchell case, pointing out that Colonel E. B. Root, who also is attached to the coast artillery and stationed in San Antonio, had outranked Colonel Nugent by 100 days.

Secretary Wilbur Answers Criticism on Loss of Airship

NAVAL HEAD ISSUES STATEMENT ON SHENANDOAH AND PN-9 NO. 1 DISASTERS AFTER CONFERENCE WITH COMMANDER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Secretary Wilbur today issued a statement in reply to the criticism resulting from the loss of the Shenandoah and the airplane PN-9 No. 1.

The statement was issued after the secretary had conferred with Captain W. W. Steele, commandant of the Lakeside naval station, and Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, who returned to Washington today.

"If some view would not waiting for the termination of the formal inquiry," declared the secretary, "to our best belief misleading statements that are being published."

"The flight of the Shenandoah," he declared, was determined upon last month by the navy department, and the flight of the Havant flight, Colonel William A. Mitchell in his recent attack on the navy and navy air service, was referred to the navy department as an effort to offset failure of the two other ventures.

Chairman Butler of the house naval affairs committee, who also called on Secretary Wilbur today, announced that a congressional investigation would be made of the Shenandoah disaster and the attack of Colonel William Mitchell on the administration of the air service.

Two to be Called. Both Colonel Mitchell and Captain Anton Heinen, dirigible construction engineer, who had been called to give evidence in the navy department, were called by the chairman today. It also will investigate statements attributed to Mrs. Landwehr, widow of the crew member that her husband had taken the dirigible out on the dissection ground after the crash of the Shenandoah. Mrs. Landwehr said her husband had been wounded and had not criticized the secretary.

Chairman Lambert of the special house committee, who also called on Secretary Wilbur today, announced that a congressional investigation would be made of the Shenandoah disaster and the attack of Colonel William Mitchell on the administration of the air service.

Mitchell's charges deserve more consideration by our officials, to be made by the navy department, but we are not prepared to give any advice from qualified observers who can form their own conclusions on the facts and figures of the investigation. Mitchell is undoubtedly competent to the issue he has raised, but we are not prepared to give any advice from qualified observers who can form their own conclusions on the facts and figures of the investigation.

Secretary Wilbur in his statement, referred also to the criticism that the state of the number of helium gas valves was responsible for the crash, and said he had directed attention to the fact that the investigation and learned officers in the navy to "ascertain the actual facts" of the disaster.

Failure of the flight and apparent loss of the men, the admiral said, have not been a surprise. The fact that the PN-9 No. 1, if it fell near Hawaii as (Continued on Page Three.)

FIRST SEGREGATION HAS
DAY AT JEROME FAIR

IDEN, Sept. 9.—Friday, September
10, has been announced as First Segregation day at the Jerome county fair and officials of the fair association are planning on making the day
one of the most important of the year's entertainments. One of the features of the real big day by arranging for a base ball game between the Jerome and Sagebrush teams...

Plans for the annual Harvest Festival in Hamilton have all been made and the date for the same is being advertised for September 15. With the cooperation of the various branches of the first segregation, the Hamilton business and the working hard to make the day the best ever had. A complete program for sports is being prepared and will be announced later. Plans for the reading of the constitution of each school have been made. Considerable interest in the festival is being shown,
which is an assurance that the affair
will be a great success.

The meeting held at Jerome last Friday by the Jerome county commissioners and the trustees of the various school districts of the county, the question of the indivisibility of the various districts voting the tax levy for the coming year was up for discussion. At the regular annual elections of school districts held last week, practically all the districts voted the 10 mill levy to be used for the purpose of raising funds to carry on the school work. It was brought out in the meeting that, with the exception of two districts of the county,
all districts were on a cash basis.

of such a woman.

While the north magnetic pole at-

direction when the magnetic equator is

Hay Artificially Dried
The United States government is making a keen interest in a process for artificially drying hay or corn that has recently been perfected by the Institute of Food Research at Cornell University. The process is very simple and inexpensive, costing only $200 for installation and $200 a ton for operation. This cost remains constant, while the cost of naturally drying the hay is $2.00 a ton in a good year and may be $3.00 in a bad year. Air is heated by paraffin fuel and driven into the hay by means of a fan.

century Thomas Malthus threw a scare
into the world by announcing that accidentally he had figured out that the increase in population was getting so far ahead of the increase in food production that the human race would eventually starve unless war and pestilence killed off some. Modern economists point out that the development of farm machinery and the development of the arts have done so much to disprove it. The production of food per person engaged in agriculture today is more than double what it was in 1670.

Action of the Poles
While the north magnetic pole at-

repels the south end, the south mag-repels the south end. This is true, no matter in what part of the earth the needle is placed, and there is no reversal of the direction when the magnetic equator is crossed.

LEGION TO HAVE 5000 MEMBERS

Idaho Department Commander Outlines Ambition for Service Men's Organization.

"We expect to have 5000 members in the American Legion in this state for 1925," was the statement of State Commander O. W. Worthwhile at a large gathering of executive men at the headquarters of the American Legion here Wednesday. The state commander outlined his policies for the coming year for the legion, stressing the fact that there were about 20,000 members in the state and that only 2000 were new members of the legion. Commander Worthwhile stated that in his opinion many were kept out of the legion largely because they were not acquainted with the work that had been accomplished by the national and state organization. He detailed the history of the achievements of the legion in taking care of the disabled veteran and his family. His plans call for the enrolling of all old members between November 2 and 11 and for the securing of new members between December 1 and January 1. The state commander was accompanied on his trip by State Adjutant Lester Albert, State Service Officer W. O. Hall and Ralph H. Broadbent, executive of the Veterans' Welfare Bureau. Each of the party were called upon to explain their particular work and were followed by a round table discussion by all members of the local post.

VETERANS WILL MOVE ON OMAHA

Twin Falls Post Names Committee to Co-operate in National Convention Plans.

A. L. Christensen of Dorney, one of a committee of three appointed by state commander of the American Legion for the purpose of securing a large delegation to attend the American Legion national convention at Omaha October 4 to 9, was in Twin Falls Wednesday and attended a special meeting of the Twin Falls post called for the visit of the state commander. Mr. Christensen outlined the plan for taking a special train to Omaha from Idaho to divertive Idaho products. It is proposed to send the Legion band and two cars of Idaho products which will be given away during the convention. The Upper Snake river valley has already organized and has arranged to send at least a carload of Idaho potatoes to be served by the leading hotels in Omaha on one day of the convention. Each potato will be labeled with the slogan "Watch Idaho." It is the plan of the local post to enlist the support of all the civic organizations of Twin Falls and send along with the potatoes, beans to be served at the same time and exhibits of fruit and vegetable grown on Twin Falls farms. The whole exhibit will be shown as an Idaho exhibit and no special mention made of any section of the state, the whole plan being to advertise Idaho and its products. The local post appointed a committee composed of J. L. Hodgkin, Harry Benoit, H. R. Parry, Ralph Pink, Morris G. Hooley to start the organization in Twin Falls and enlist the aid of the surrounding communities. It is the hope of the local committee to take some of the best exhibits from the fair and sell immediately start work on the project.
