HERRIOT SHOWN FRENCH FAVOR

President of Chamber of Deputies Gets Ovation From Left Wing of That Body.

PARIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—M. Herriot's opening speech as president of the chamber of deputies this afternoon furnished occasion for the coalition of the left to give him another ovation. Immediately afterward the finance committee rejected M. Poincaré's state stamp tax on business transactions.

The political situation can be judged by these acts. The left coalition is pressing its campaign against Finance Minister Doumergue and Premier Briand while putting Herriot forward at every opportunity and making no secret of its intention to force him back into the premiership.

It is admitted by M. Briand's friends now that his government can be saved from disaster only by the votes of the moderate conservative opposition. M. Briand says, nevertheless, he will insist on a debate in the chamber rather than allow the action of the finance committee which has already rejected three important provisions of M. Doumergue's bills, to force the resignation of the minister of the interior.

May Force Issue.
The premier may force the question to an issue upon the finance committee. Withdrawal of some of its decisions, which now appears impossible. The moderates and conservatives, to whom M. Briand must look for his majority to defeat the campaign of the coalition remain hesitant.

Several of the leaders of the group of the right declare that they would permit themselves to be duped if they aided the Briand cabinet as the premier was one of the first to break "the sacred union" of the parties that existed throughout the war, and that even if saved by the conservatives votes he would again cast his lot with the coalition of the left.

The Willents are touted as one of the strongest teams in the district and are expected to repeat their triumph of the football season. Millet has been working with the Bruin squad this week and may be used at center and Johnson either shifted to guard or held in reserve.

The Blue and White team is shaping up rather well for early season and Philus has considerable material to pick from. Martin and Herich seem to be the choice for forward although Gwila has been showing nice shifts lately and was good in the "Klondike" game. His shooting at present is superior to any other forward. Kelley has been doing nice work at guard and probably will be used most of the season, while Potter and Herz have been also showing well in practice. After the close of this amateur Plasty will have some younger material to work on and it is also possible that Vincent Naylor will be eligible to play.

The district championship last year and several of the last year's champions are back. Most deputies give Filor the best chance of taking the district championship. Gooding has made a nice showing so far and no doubt will prove serious contenders but the Wildcats look strong and no doubt will be in the final running. Dehl and Hahluha are showing well and are the mainstays of the Filor defense while Harrell is a slippery forward and will make his mark before the season is over.

The Filor girls are a strong aggregation and the Bruin girls will meet real opposition tonight. The girls' teams, as usual, stage the basketball raise and the games commence at 7:30 o'clock.
