Final Scene in Coal Strike Enacted in Offices of Anthracite Operator at Scranton.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—The new agreement that sends the coal workers tomorrow to work tomorrow, 150,000 mine workers, since last September 1, was signed today and anthracite will begin to dig in large quantities by tomorrow night. The final scene in the great coal strike was enacted in the offices of William W. Haglis, president of the Glen Alden Coal company.

The operators have made no statement giving their interpretation of the new agreement. The 115 members of the operators negotiating committee believed the tonnage listed tomorrow for the new region would approach 25 percent or 65,000 tons of the daily average. All this, however, will not be sent to market as many of the companies will have first to satisfy their own needs in order to operate their collieries.

They went to market tomorrow will be distributed on a pro-rata basis by each company.

Large companies reiterated today there would be no increase in the "normal winter price" of anthracite regardless of the pressure of demand. However, the Glen Alden Coal company said they would not speak for small individual operators.

TWIN FALLS WEEKLY NEWS Published 1904-1926 Twin Falls News Publishing Company, Ltd., Publishers

Entered as second class matter December 18, 1904, at the Postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

BUSINESS RECORD "Wash Street" regarding the present business tendency to further growth and consolidation, expresses itself in utterances like this: "from the heart of a big trust company."

"Economy in production, small margins of profit, quick turn-over of capital and hence lower cost to the consumer, are becoming more and more the watchwords of business men, and it is perfectly evident to men of natural intelligence that these ends can better be attained through efficient operation on a big scale."

"The American people are gradually being convinced that, so far as harmful practices are concerned, the size of the concern has no relation to its business ethics."

True in the main no doubt. More also is no crime, or big one, would be more wicked than little men, and big countries than little countries. The main question here is whether big business can be controlled as well as little organizations, when they do misdeeds.

It is also true, generally speaking, that business efficiency increases with growth in size and scale of operations. But not necessarily so. Smaller or later, a big institution may become so ponderous and complicated in its operation that the parts get in each other's way, and it tends to stymie efficiency like governmental administration.

Competition is the life of business. It is also the health of business, morally and economically. When a business gets so big that there is no outside competition any more, it develops dry rot unless its units and individuals compete with each other, and develops moral inequity unless it competes with other big agencies in rendering public service.

THE TAX CUTS It seems assumed that the new federal tax rates will become effective March 15, so that income tax payers can take advantage of them immediately. This is good news for millions of more or less grudging contributors to the government's income.

They are as much pleased with the extent as with the prospect of tax savings. The public can make good use of the $100,000,000 saved in tax by lower tax rates. That in turn should stimulate prosperity. It makes everybody feel better to realize that federal taxes, at least, are rapidly going down.

FIVE SCORE YEARS Dr. Hornell Hart of Bryn Mawr College believes that in another 75 years the average expectation of human life will be 101 years and that many individuals will attain 200 years. "It is an interesting but not wholly delightful prospect, unless with the increasing years come also greater health and greater opportunity for enjoyment of living." Dr. Hart blames these things, though, on the continent. In this visioned future, will not be crippled or wrinkled or lacking in vigor. There will be less drudgery, more of life's ennobling and more leisure.

Wish the scientist make life easier for us and the doctors make it longer. Let us hope that the pathologists will teach us how to live it more richly and wisely.

Torrents of the Ages When the ice began to melt to earnest towards the close of the Pleistocene period, occurred the first formed rivers that would dwarf most of our largest ones today. So great were these torrents, says Nature Magazine, that enormous boulders were rolled along like pebbles, and their transported miles beyond their original position.

Gasoline Substitutes French chemists have developed two new substitutes for gasoline. One is the coke and water is the composition of one, while the other is made from animal and vegetable fats heated with chloride of magnesium or sodium. The process is said to be simple in both of these mixtures.

Insects and Scientists

Scientists are making a special study of ants and insect life as a means of determining changes which have taken place in the earth. The relations insects of one region bear to those of another indicate that certain insects have been introduced in Jamaica, recently, they explored a very neglected section of that country that has been above the sea for a long time. The ants, according to the scientists, which settlers insect cities of great age. This discovery leads authorities to believe that animal life of that life is more closely associated with those of the present than is generally supposed. They found its way from the mainland over a land bridge long since engulfed by the ocean.—Family Herald.

First Air Mail, in 1870 Air mail may be said to date from the days of Paris in 1870-1871. During the siege 54 balloons with about 2,000,000 letters were sent out between September 23, 1870, and January 20, 1871.

DEFENSE WINS JURY SUPPORT

Answers to Interrogatories Favor Hansen Service Man against Machinery Company

Conclusions reached by the jury in trial in district court here in the case of the A. H. Averill Machine company of Portland against Charles Tully of Hansen were set forth in answers to interrogatories propounded by the court for guidance in rendering judgment in the case, the jury's responses to all the questions, according to John W. Graham, defendant's attorney, being entirely in favor of the defendant.

The action was instituted by the company for recovery of approximately $2000 on account of unpaid promissory notes secured by mortgage on farm lands given in 1916 by Tully and his mother, Mrs. Anna Tully, in payment for a threshing outfit.

The jury found that while Charles Tully was enlisted in the military service during the world war, his mother in May, 1918, gave the outfit to a representative of the company that, if so consented to sale of the outfit and entered into contract for sale to J. D. Sanchez of 40 acres of land covered by the mortgage, the promissory notes would be retained. The jury further found that Mrs. Tully informed four notes each in the sum of $1000 given to her by Sanchez and that she understood that she was thereby incurring liability as guarantor of the notes; that the company through its representative, developer and defrauded Mrs. Tully in regard to the Sanchez notes; that Sanchez bought the threshing outfit from the company in May, 1919, while defendant Tully was in the military service and away from home, such appropriation being without his consent and without authority at that time; that the value of the property was $1000 and that defendant Tully has not ratified the sale to Sanchez.

This action was the last to be tried by the jury during the present term of court.

COUNTERS OF CATHCART UTTERLY EXHAUSTED IN BATTLE WITH OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—The strain of her tough battle with immigration authorities to gain admission to the United States was heard today to toll tonight on Vera, Countess of Cathcart, at Ellis Island, where she has been held since a special board of inquiry ordered her detention, on grounds of moral turpitude, she said she was "utterly exhausted," and said she could not see any one.

Mrs. Gordon Carr, a friend who has visited the countess daily, expressed concern over her condition.

"The countess is extremely nervous and it is absolutely necessary that she have quiet," Mrs. Carr said, adding that the countess was being down in her room, her hands swollen from nervous exhaustion.

Theatre

Timorral Jiggs with his precocious and droll wit, excited in "Bringing Up Father in Gay New York," were welcomed Thursday evening at the Orpheum theatre by an appreciative audience.

The playhouse, alone, wholehearted entertainment with abundant mirth, music and color, and the most engaging of George McManus potential farcical humor, captured the hearts of the principal roles, Walter Veran as Jiggs was delightful both in his pathos and in his droll wit, and in his droll and musical acts; Louise Veran was an ideal Muggie, and Lolita Amiel was charming in the part of the daughter, Katie, winning the audience with her excellent voice and pleasing personality. Harry Birch, Pollock work in the part of Kitty, accepted Walter was entirely satisfactory. Billy Maxwell as Dinky Monroe held an independent role. A critic might have detected in his performance a flavor more redolent of Putah and Pummer than of the "rank" and the "rank" which alone, delighted the audience hardly less in his part as the Duke of Idaho, filled aspirant Kitty's hand and millions, and with his line as vendor of souvenirs and candy before the show and between the acts.

Proed Roberts, fitted with the play, reflected exceptional talent in singing and dancing numbers, and those of them who were called upon to take more prominent parts gave performances that reflected credit on themselves and the offering.

Altogether "Bringing Up Father" was this year, as has been expected, one of the most satisfactory performances of its kind that has been made available to Twin Falls playgoers.

"ENCHANTED HILL"

Every once in a while there suddenly appears on the film horizon a motion picture that offers something new in the way of story and theme. Originality in photography, especially in the use of light and shadow, is the very reason. "The Enchanted Hill," the new outdoor melodrama, is a case in point for special and honorable mention.

It is Paramount's version of Peter B. Kyne's vivid novel, and was produced by Lew Wolff with an all-star cast featuring Jack Holt, Florence Vidler, Nanci Boy and Mary Brian.

The background of the story is the vast, picturesque, wooded, land of romance, adventure, passion and rugged men.

"THE TIMBER WOLF" For thrills and speed, a wild drama, conceived by competent players, "The Timber Wolf," starring Buck Jones, popular actor, takes the cable. This gripping action drama is shown at the Orpheum theatre today.

The story is by Jackson Grayzer, interesting and full of action. It follows the life of a man who, while the logic of this story is a lumber camp, the same solid quality of his gripping western stories has been injected into the tale with startling results.

The story is of a man of the north.

"MY CHINA DOLL"

The most sale for the much-lauded musical extravaganza, "My China Doll," which comes to the Orpheum next Monday, February 22, is now open at the Orpheum theatre box office, and patrons desiring choice seats should not delay in making their reservations.

Barbara Bronell, bewitching little musical comedy star, will be seen in the leading role, ably surrounded by a metropolitan cast and big chorus of unusually pretty girls.

Striking in design and dressed to the minute in gorgeous and fanciful costumes, "The Land of Flowers," one of the many beautiful scenes which go to make up the series of transformations, will prove a nothing short of a veritable surprise.

Charles George, composer of the music, lyricist and librettist, is also the designer of the scenery, costumes and novelties, has woven a romance out of the nature story of the "Land of Flowers," which shows a delicate appreciation for romance and nature.

TAYLOR COMPANY SCORES

In spite of heavy competition in town, the Taylor Players, Thursday night again played to an almost exacting house. The event of the evening being the presentation of "The Mountain Girl," a comedy drama in four acts. Glenn Taylor playing "Dinky" part, the comedy leads is holding his place in the hearts of his audience.

Each one of the eight parts were played with finish last night and the character makeups were of the highest type.

The same production will again be given tonight and tomorrow night, with a matinee on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

TWIN FALLS TO BATTLE BUHL FIVE TONIGHT

Bruins Must Win This Game to Play in District Tournament, Close Contest Looked For.

Twin Falls Bruins will meet Buhl in the last basket ball game that counts in the percentage column here tonight. Upon the outcome of this game depends the Bruins' fate. If they win, they play in the district tournament; if they lose, they have one more game and the basket ball season is over. The game last week at Buhl between these two teams was an exciting and interesting a basket ball contest as has ever been played in the district so far this season. The game ended in a tie and the extra period was necessary to determine the winner. In view of that game the fans will no doubt witness one of the fastest games seen on the local court when the two teams struggle tonight. The Bruins looked slow and tired against Jerome and did not play up to standard and will have to increase their speed if they hope to win from the west-end fives.

Coneil Sport's team has been working all week end and took a game from Kimberly on Tuesday, while the Bruins were winning from Hollister. The Bruins however, played poorly on Wednesday night. Both teams should be in good condition for the battle and fans as though they would be treated to a real game of basket ball.

The Bruin girls are still smarting from the defeat the Buhl maidens handed them last week and will attempt a comeback. The Buhl coaches have not been defeated all season and have a formidable aggregation. Metz, the best forward on the team, is still suffering from illness and will not be able to play, but the balance of the team is in excellent shape.

The Bruin girls have been hard at work all week and expect to take the game from last year's champions. The games start at 7:30 and it will behoove the fans to get there early for a capacity crowd which should be on hand. A large delegation of Buhl fans is expected.

AMSTERDAM HAILS SNOW

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 18.—A welcome snow began falling Monday night and continued with no sign of abating late Tuesday evening.

Gerrit J. Peters and Steffen Bue returned here on Friday evening, where they had been for several days in connection with litigation in the federal courts relative to Salmon lands.

J. E. Pohlman is home after having spent the past month at his old home surroundings in Iowa.

Miss Margaret Peters spent the week end at the Guy Peters home, near Hollister.

Miss Helma Fisher was a week-end visitor with her folks in Twin Falls. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thometz were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Dora Kunkel.

The patrons of the Amsterdam post office are rather disappointed in having the mail service reduced to three mails each week. It is hoped arrangements will soon be made restoring the service to the former people.

Mrs. Emma Kubus is quite ill with influenza and improving slowly. Those from this vicinity who went to Hollister on Monday morning to meet the special train to Wells and hear Governor C. Moore were disappointed when they learned he was not on the train.

Lois, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dora Kunkel, is still confined to her bed and improving very slowly. A. Delgado from Rock Creek was in town on Tuesday. He was en route to Coeur d'Alene, where his cattle are grazing.

MANY GAMES TO GET ATTENTION

Paul and Burley, Filer and Bliss, Gooding and Boise Basketball Contests Planned.

PAUL, Feb. 18.—(Special to The News)—The Paul basket ball team will meet the Burley five here Friday night. The contest that is expected to be close. Paul has not been defeated by a team in this sub-district so far, and Paul fans is the only class that has defeated the local quintet. The Paul team defeated the Burley five earlier in the season and the Burley aggregation is thriving for revenge.

FILER, Feb. 18.—(Special to The News)—The Filer Wildcats will meet the Bliss team here Friday night in a return game. The Bliss team were defeated by the Wildcats earlier in the season and this is the second game of the series. The Wildcats have had considerable rest and are in tip-top form and expect to have little trouble in winning over the north side unit. Filer has but one more game that offers her standing in the sub-district, and that is with the Buhl quintet next week. The Wildcats defeated the west-end team on the Buhl floor one week ago and will probably be able to turn the trick again next week.

GOODING, Feb. 18.—(Special to The News)—The Gooding basket ball team will meet the Boise quintet here Friday night. Gooding, located in Boise in the early season and handled the Capital city a neat trimming and later the Boise quintet having a season behind them, expect to return Gooding the same dose. If Gooding defeats the Boise five here tomorrow night the teams that go to the state tournament from the south central district need have little fear of any team from the northwest, for Boise has defeated all the teams in that district. The only team that gave them much trouble was the Caldwell five.

The Gooding quintet has improved a great deal since the first game between these two teams and has won the championship of the north side sub-district by coming through a tournament undefeated. Boise will have her hands full if she wins from the local team. The Capital city quintet will play Shoshone on Saturday night following the Gooding game. These two teams also clashed earlier in the season and Shoshone is hoping to hand Boise a beating.

BEAUVILLE, France, Feb. 18 (AP)—Helen Wills returned to the tennis courts today for the first time since Tuesday's quiet. Suzanne Lenglen. Through the effects of that struggle appeared in her rather pale and drawn face, she played today with vigor and achieved two one-sided victories in the opening rounds of the singles and mixed doubles of the Beauville tournament. Miss Lily Hamilton, promising young English player, in two hours won, and then, with Charles H. Kingsley of England, won from Miss Dorothy Thompson and Roger Dupuis, 6-1, 6-0. Meanwhile, the great crowd, Miss Lenglen, remained indoors, asking for this time to recover from the strain of her victory of Tuesday. She will not appear again until Sunday, when, with Mrs. Stettin, she will play the quarter final of the women's doubles, having reached that stage through default of opponents in the first and second rounds.

Arnold, president of the club, presided over the business of the evening. Citizens of Twin Falls and the Twin Falls country in the Twin Falls special excursion train to leave here March 25 or 26, for 10 days trip, will visit San Francisco, Los Angeles and return by way of Salt Lake, according to plans that have been approved by the Chamber of Commerce Directors, it was announced Thursday evening by Asher H. Wilson, president of the chamber of commerce.

Not only have the directors approved the project, Mr. Wilson stated, but they will urge it at a joint meeting of the general membership of the chamber of commerce to be held on Tuesday or Wednesday evening of next week, following which it is expected that committee will be named to work out detailed plans.

Friendship Motive
The excursion train will run over the Oregon Short Line extension from Twin Falls to Wells that was placed in operation last Monday, one of the prime purposes of the excursion being the promotion of friendly relations between the Twin Falls country and the cities of the coast.

It is expected that the excursion will bring into close relationship as a result of the building of the extension that shortens the distance between Twin Falls and San Francisco by nearly 300 miles.

Plans of $45.17 will be made effective for the excursion, including relative arrangements made by chamber of commerce and railroad officials. Business fares will be approximately $10.00. The excursion train will be held intact throughout the 10 days trip, and according to agreement with railroad officials, it will be parked near the depot in cities where night stops are to be made so that Pullman quarters may be used as headquarters and home for the excursionists throughout the trip.

TRUSTEE IN BANKRUPTCY CLAIMS DISPUTED FUNDS

Money levied upon by the sheriff under execution in an action brought by Harry Applebaum of Murling against Edwin U. Moyes, and awarded to Applebaum under verdict returned by a jury in district court last Tuesday which determined that the money belonged to Edwin U. Moyes, and not to his father, W. U. Moyes, who urged a third party claim, is now claimed by J. Paul Thomas, Twin Falls attorney, as trustee in bankruptcy for Edwin A. Moyes.

Mr. Thomas, who is represented in this matter by J. H. Barnes, attorney, filed in district court Thursday a petition for an order of the court requiring all persons who have asserted claim to the money to appear in court and show cause why it should not be delivered to the trustee in bankruptcy. The amount involved is approximately $100, for which amount judgment was rendered in probate court in favor of W. U. Moyes, appeal being taken by Applebaum to the district court where the judgment was reversed by the jury's verdict that awarded him $80.

Band Men Making Plans for Season

Twin Falls band may be reconstituted this year with the financial backing afforded by renewal of the contract with the Kimberly Chamber of Commerce under which the Twin Falls band last year furnished music for a series of Saturday evening concerts at Kimberly last year, but it is the hope of a large number of members of the organization that a measure of support may be forthcoming in Twin Falls to reconstitute the band this year in and for Twin Falls. It was stated Wednesday evening by a veteran member of the band.

Under the terms of the contract with the Kimberly Chamber of Commerce that year the Twin Falls band agreed to furnish music for Kimberly but was retained only for a concert only in the case of the fair at Filer for which it furnished music.

During many summer seasons in the past, Twin Falls band, which was one of the first organizations formed in the early history of the city, played series of musical concerts in the city park and large numbers of people have enjoyed the opportunity. An appropriation of municipal funds for the support of the band has been made for several years, and the organization has had concert in Twin Falls given nearly two years ago when a contingent of seven young men from the city park and lived adjoining their homes.

In the present purpose of the local bandmen, it was stated, to give one or more concerts in Twin Falls this year, one at a place in advance of the regular concert season, and another one at a later date.

The organization had last year a membership of 25, and under the leadership of Lieutenant J. G. Thompson, leader of the regimental band of the 14th Field Artillery regiment during the world war.
