

STOCKS RALLY AFTER PERIOD OF DEPRESSION

Swollen Streams of Liquidation Dry up Over Night and Issues Go Five to 25 Points Higher During Session.

N.W. YORK, March 4 (AP)—The swollen streams of liquidation which have been pouring into the New York stock exchange for a week dried up overnight and a sensational rally of 5 to 25 points followed today in scores of issues when strong financial interests stepped forward and began rebuilding the shattered market structure.

Judged by the averages, the recovery was more extensive than yesterday's reaction which had preceded it. The average of 20 leading industrial issues showed a net gain of 5.3 points on the day, or more than the combined net losses of 2.24 points on Wednesday and 3 points on Tuesday, when the selling movement was in full swing. The average of 30 leading railroad issues recorded a net gain of 4.61 points, as against a loss of 2.09 points yesterday.

Buying Ordealy The buying movement, being under control of real headed financiers, was steadily that the reckless selling of distressed issues, especially those which preceded it, with the result that trading was in substantially reduced volume. Total sales today as compiled by the Associated Press tabulators, were 2,620,400 shares, as compared with 2,770,400 yesterday's record-breaking session.

Panama Bonds rounded upward one to five points within the first few minutes of trading. United States steel common opened at 12 1/4, an overnight gain of 1/4 point. Rice traders hammered it up to 12 1/2. Wheat advanced 1/4 point, absorbed however, and supporting orders increased. Meanwhile, all other stocks on the list were forging steadily upward.

Upward movement gathered momentum as the session progressed, culminating in a sharp rally in the afternoon over extended shorts covering to cover. General Electric was in the vanguard, that starting at 30 1/2 and then racing to 32 1/2, up 24 points on the day. American Gas scored an extreme gain of 15 points at 312, and settled back to 300. The Dow Jones industrial average jumped 15 1/2 points to 179 1/2, closing three-fourths of a point below the top.

Five Close Lower Fewer than a half dozen active issues showed a loss of 1/2 point or more. More than 50 showed net gains of 5 to 12 1/2 points, and more than 200 closed to the right of their previous day's closing.

Among the many groups of shares represented on the exchange, the oil stocks offered the best resistance to selling pressure and the best gains. The issues today carried them back to within striking distance of the 1925 peak. American Petroleum and Tidewater, which are expected to be consolidated within the next few days, were within two points of their 1925 peak.

Mid-Ocean Rescue Related in Radio Message of Liner Six Men Afloat on Disabled Schooner Picked up by Holland-American Ship; Suffered Long Exposure.

N.W. YORK, March 4 (AP)—Rescue in mid-ocean today was reported by a liner Volendam of six men who had been afloat on a disabled schooner since December 11, when it was wrecked off the coast of Newfoundland. The message was from Desian Lang, grand heir to the Atlantic liner company in New York, a passenger on the Volendam. The name of the schooner was not given. The rescue was made last night by Mr. Lang in his message, which was received by Robert J. Egan, secretary of the Atlantic liner company, at the following: "Notify Associated Press captioned rescue and five men afloat since December 11 on sailing sinking schooner on way Spain to New York."

Officials of the Holland-American line said they had received no report of the rescue from Captain DeKoning of the Volendam. Attempts will be made by wireless to reach the boat which is due to arrive at Plymouth, Canada, on Monday. The Volendam sailed from New York Saturday for Plymouth, Cherbourg, France, and Rotterdam.

Mr. Lang is on a trip to England on business connected with the Atlantic liner company.

Records of 1925 show that the organization served 68,118 children. They were in orphanages, homes, day camps, hospitals, refuge camps, and other institutions. In 1925 the relief work served 15,522,163 meals or rations to feed the entire population of New York City for two days.

HUGE PROJECT BEFORE SENATE

Construction of $300,000,000 Irrigation and Flood Control System Asked of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Construction of a $300,000,000 flood control, irrigation, and power development project in the Colorado river of Glen Canyon and Bridge Canyon, Arizona, as a substitute for the Boulder canyon project, was proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Cameron, republican, Arizona. The measure introduced at the request of the Arizona high line canal association, contemplates the reclamation of 3,000,000 acres of arid land in Arizona, the making available of a domestic water supply for Los Angeles and other southern California cities and the delivering of water for irrigation to the Imperial and Coachella valleys of California.

High Line Canal This would be done by means of a so-called high line canal, which would flow from the Colorado river near Topock, Arizona, and deliver it at a point 250 miles distant from the point of diversion. Construction cost would be $300,000,000. The project would be repaid to the government from lands irrigated and power sold at the dam sites, would be sold to pay the cost of construction of these projects. The high line canal association of Arizona includes in its membership eleven members of the present Arizona state legislature and is headed by the state Senator Fred Doolittle, who has introduced the measure and is expected to introduce a bill for a fair hearing to every plan of development of the river.

Develop River Development as proposed in the Cameron measure contemplates a comprehensive development of the Colorado river project, which would cost between $50,000,000 and $1,000,000,000. While Cameron expects the project to be repaid, it necessarily include his views on the subject of Colorado river development, he presented it to the senate, he said, in accordance with his desire to give a fair hearing to every plan of development of the river.

Big Sum Expended in Near East for CARE OF REFUGEES

N.W. YORK, March 4 (AP)—More than $41,787,770 has been spent by the Near East Relief since its inception in 1915 in aiding refugees and orphans. It was shown in its annual report issued today. In addition it has distributed $12,800,000 worth of relief supplies.

Cleveland H. Dulge, treasurer of the organization, speaking at the annual convention, pointed out that for the first time in eight years the Near East relief had a balance at the close of the 1925 business. This was made possible through an increase in nearly a half million dollars in contributions over the previous year, he said. Total receipts for 1925 were $4,252,232.

The organization is headed by Near East relief workers from all parts of the field of operations. Forty-five per cent of the work is done in the Near East. The organization is headed by Dr. W. W. Post of Boston, who has been connected with relief work in Turkey for 40 years.

Records of 1925 show that the organization served 68,118 children. They were in orphanages, homes, day camps, hospitals, refuge camps, and other institutions. In 1925 the relief work served 15,522,163 meals or rations to feed the entire population of New York City for two days.

BRITISH READY TO AID NATION TO OBTAIN PLACE

Foreign Secretary Leaves for Geneva With View of Doing Nothing to Hurt Germany in Getting League Seat.

(By the Associated Press) LONDON, March 4.—The net result of today's debate in the house of commons on the Geneva meeting of the league of nations March 8, was to leave matters much as they were, according to Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs, who will go to Geneva with the policy of the government and who notes, as nothing to hurt Germany's chance of becoming a member of the league.

Sir Austen made a long statement in the house, but his speech left the opposition criticism unavailing. Former Premier Lloyd George, with his aptness of phrase, put the matter thus: "Badly Coked 'The wine of Locarno is already badly coked, due to this unfortunate series of incidents. The foreign secretary set his keynote at the start of his speech. 'It is a wish very close to a pherant that in my tenure of office as foreign secretary, I might carry the general sentiment of the nation with me and that nothing may be done which would hurt Germany's chance of becoming a member of the league.'"

Both the prime minister and the foreign secretary strongly emphasized that Great Britain was only a single nation at Geneva and therefore could neither be a single nation nor a single nation of European powers.

Stand L Made Sir Austen insisted on the impossibility of any single nation seeking to lay down in advance a plan of action for the league council and assembly. The right of Germany, the United States and Russia to permanent seats in the league council and assembly, he asserted, but similar claims of other nations was a matter for an interchange of views and free play of thought within the body of the assembly.

He said that the British government would lead itself—trying to recreate in the league council scraps of opposing forces, which were the cause of Europe before the war.

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The department of the interior today drafted a bill embodying a compromise agreement between the department and a group of western senators for financial support for settlers on reclamation projects. The bill was prepared at the request of the western senators who directed their financial department's recommendations for state aid for settlers until it was shown that the plan was feasible.

Under the terms of the measure $500,000 will be appropriated out of the federal reclamation fund for a three year experiment in aiding settlers financially. Basis of Policy. At the end of three years the farmers given such aid will be compared with those not receiving financial support and the department will form the basis for a future policy. The measure was the outcome of a conference of the interior department, Secretary Work, Director Mend of the reclamation service and senators from western states. After the conference of several hours and shown that the interior department officials and the senators were far apart, Senator Swope, republican, Utah, suggested the compromise proposal and the conference ended with the senators requesting the secretary to have the secretary of the department prepare a legislative draft incorporating the agreement.

Bill Provisions. The bill, as drafted by the department, provides that the settlers selected for the experiment will be confined to not more than two existing reclamation projects, although several projects had been under discussion. The secretary of the interior would be authorized to advance $5,000 for permanent improvements and for the purchase of livestock to an extent of a farm of 100 acres, or more to the extent of a smaller tract. The government's investment would be protected by a first lien on the farmers' property and would be paid over in five installments at four per cent interest.

FARM RELIEF IS UP FOR ACTION

House Committee Tackles Question in Earnest and Begins Hearing of Testimony.

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Farm relief, having been in the background since congress convened, was tackled in earnest by the house agriculture committee today when it began hearing the testimony of representatives of farmers in eleven middle western states. In their opening statement, the delegates requested their endorsement of the Dickinson bill, which would establish a federal farm bond and loan program for farmers, request relief for their surplus crops by paying against them an equalization fee and placing it in a revolving fund.

Favor Amendment Under questioning by the committee, however, the witnesses said they favored an amendment, and the committee then suggested that a new bill be drafted. The delegates promised to submit the outline of a measure by tomorrow. The farmers' representatives, who included the committee of 22 appointed by the House of Representatives, put in the afternoon and evening working out their plan in greater detail. The committee members, however, leaving made it clear that they would require a practical explanation of any method of relief presented.

PARIS SEES EFFECT OF PROHIBITION IN CLOSING OF CAFES

PARIS, March 4 (AP)—Paris felt the impact of prohibition for two hours this morning. Probably for the first time in the city's history it was impossible to buy drinks were served except the cafes and bars obeyed the orders of the merchant syndicates to close down in protest against the financial measures instituted by parliament, restrictive taxes and the taxing of city dwellers to more heavily than the farmers.

The cafes found only a small percentage of their patrons who had closed restaurants closed promptly at 2 o'clock and it was almost a dead city from 2 to 4. Closure of the strike was everywhere rigorous, if half hearted. A few of the grand department stores remained open.

Police Called Out Extra police patrolled the streets but today there were no reports of the bombardment of an intractable hotelier's shop with various missiles. Some of the cafes had been closed an hour longer Paris might have seen its first crop of bootleggers. "They are not here," a coal bootlegger "great here!" many Americans asked jestingly, when even the American owned bars refused to serve drinks. The tobacco shops, being under government license, could not shut down but solved the problem by screening off the bars from the tobacco counters with a barricade of chairs.

The strike was observed in a majority of the towns and cities throughout France but with rather quiet results.

NAVY AWARDS BIG CONTRACT FOR ENGINES

Secretary Wilbur Announces Granting of Authorization for 150 Airplane Motors All Equipment Now Ordered.

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Secretary Wilbur announced today that with authorization for $2,000,000 contract for 150 airplane engines to the Packard Motor Car company of Detroit, Mich., the navy's aviation contract made by the government since the war, had completed the placing of orders for naval airplane equipment aggregating 40,500,000.

The orders cover 116 planes of various types and 331 engines. Additional contracts bearing the signature cover an outlay of $3,700,000 still to be made, which will provide for 127 additional planes.

Will Equip Carrier. "All of the planes and engines with the exception of twenty training planes and some amphibians will be fitted with special landing gear," the secretary's announcement said. "The Wilbur announcement showed not only that the navy was going ahead with its aviation department, but that it was equipping carriers.

Contract Placed. Plans covered already placed include 27 Boeing patrol planes, 35 Curtiss fighting planes, 10 Loening amphibians, 25 Martin combined scout and torpedo planes, 30 "consolidator" training planes. A contract also has been placed for 20 three engine biplane planes, 30 biplane fighters, 100 amphibians, and 27 additional Loening amphibians.

Pointed out that the Packard 800 horsepower engines were of the same type as those installed in the 1915 seaplane which was scheduled to make the Hawaiian flight but was not completed in time to hop off from the carrier. The reason for the change with the huge order for these engines, it was added that it marked "transition from the old type of engines to the new type of engines in this particular type as the motors are of the largest type made in the United States. The use of heavy navy aircraft, the department declared, would make the air fleet more powerful and more ready to use anywhere else in existence."

Diary Written by Couple Snow Bound in Ranger Cabin Tells of Fight for Existence Before Rescuers Arrived.

WESTWOOD, Cal., March 4 (AP)—The story of a fatal winter storm in the mountains of California, which killed a man and a woman, was told in a diary written by a couple who were trapped in a ranger cabin for five days before rescuers arrived.

The diary, written on leaves torn from the service register of the ranger cabin, tells the simple account of the story of how they starved to death by eating sparrows, but makes no mention of their struggle to stay alive before being rescued by two state highway employees and later rescued by a party which had been brought to a hospital here, where they recovered their belongings they experienced in gnawing at their shoes, which they had holed.

Started for Reno. The diary relates how they started for Reno, Nev., after the snowing of Thursday, February 18. After reaching a point high in the mountains their automobiles started to rattle all that day and night they spent in their car without food. During the night, it rained and the snow began to fall. The progress was impossible. The next day they began to feel hunger, but having exhausted their supplies of food, they started on February 22. We are getting weak.

MADE DRAWN INTO MURDER OF DIRECTOR

New York Officials Take Action in Unsolved Slaying of William Desmond Taylor. Miss Minter Questioned.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 4.—Investigation of the unsolved murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, was resumed today when District Attorney Max Keys of Los Angeles, held a long distance conversation with Miss Minter, former motion picture actress and friend of the slain man.
Mr. Keys said Miss Minter, who was questioned but not suspected when Taylor was killed in 1921, called him voluntarily.
"Miss Minter wanted to know what chance of the case we were investigating and asked if she could be of any help," Mr. Keys' assistant deputy, District Attorney Davis said.
"Miss Minter," who also was a motion picture star, when the murder occurred and who also was questioned, is also living here, and it was reported that Mr. Keys would question her.
"You may say for Mr. Keys," Mr. Davis said, "that if Miss Minter comes to get in touch with him he will be very glad to talk to her. As to whether he will ask her to see him, I can not state.
"It would be impossible to give out any information as to reports that we have a clue to the whereabouts of Edward Davis, Taylor's former valet. Really, we can give out no more definite information at this time."

MACMILLAN BELIEVES MOST EXPEDITIONS TO NORTH POLE WILL FAIL

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 4.—Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, today expressed the opinion that all the expeditions towards the north pole planned for the summer would probably fail with the exception of the one headed by Roald Amundsen.
He said Amundsen will not die, but has the best chance of reaching the pole as the ice is too rough for planes to land and the winter is over and the most of the time. He said he found few landing places during his last year's explorations.

SENATOR EDWARDS IS DESIROUS OF A VOTE ON BEER AND WINES

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A challenge to Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, to let the country vote on the question of light wines and beer was issued tonight by Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey.
"If, as Mr. Wheeler strenuously remarks, my proposal would be 'as futile as my efforts to make New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic ocean,' why isn't he willing that the people be given an opportunity of voting 'dry' as he believes they should?" asked Senator Edwards. "For my part, I have the utmost confidence that the result would overwhelmingly favor light wines and beer."

INCOME FEATURE REMAINS IN BILL

Compulsory Declaration of Earnings for Taxing Purposes Re-Incorporated in Measure.

PARK, March 4.—The compulsory declaration of income by every one whether subject to income tax or not was re-incorporated in the financial bills by the chamber of deputies today.
This feature, which was modified by the chamber in the first instance so as to exempt a great many taxpayers, such as workers and farmers, now stands as it was originally introduced. The senate, it is believed, will object to this provision.
The chamber also passed the article requiring foreigners living in hotels and furnished apartments and paying rent of a thousand francs or more a month to deposit 25 per cent of their rent with the proprietors of their lodgings to guarantee the payment of income tax. Only those having apartments on lease or on a quarterly renting arrangement have been obliged to pay on the basis of estimating their

PROSPECTOR TELLS OF RICH VALLEY IN NORTH WHERE GOLD RUNS HIGH

SEATTLE, Wash., March 4.—Burr C. Scott, miner and prospector, told the Seattle Mining club here yesterday that a tropical valley which he reported discovering four years ago in an unexplored part of British Columbia, 500 miles south of the Arctic circle, contains vast riches including oil, gold, silver, lead, platinum and asphalt. Scott said a strike of small lodes he panned $1700 in gold in 12 days.

He declared that white deer, small buffalo and other animals and birds live in the valley which is 20 miles long and three miles wide. Snow seldom falls due to sheltering mountains, chinook winds and bubbling hot springs. Scott said a strike of small lakes there abounded in trout.

PROFESSOR SAYS PEOPLE AT MERCY OF MACHINES

CHICAGO, March 4.—The American people are at the mercy of machines, says Dean John F. Clark of the economic department of the University of Chicago, in a forthcoming book of social control of business.

"We are living in the midst of a revolution which is transforming the character of every business and the economic life of every citizen," he declares. "The penalty for failure to increase efficient service of the machines we have developed is inability to maintain our growing numbers. The human race has become confined in the habit of multiplying and unless he first gets rid of this habit we must go on increasing the efficiency of our producing system."

Many Witness First Day's Play in Buhl Basket Ball Tournament; Three Games Hold the Center of Interest

Twin Falls and Bliss Lead Two Teams Playing With Two Victories and No Defeats; Filer Falls to Gooding Quintet.

How they stand:

Team	Won	Lost
Bliss	2	0
Gooding	1	0
Buhl	1	0
Filer	1	1
Rupert	1	1
Paul	0	1
Gannett	0	1
Caray	0	2

About 2500 people witnessed the first day's play of the sixth annual district basket ball tournament. The spacious Buhl gym was well filled at every session the evening round drawing the largest crowd. Approximately 1200 people. Three games were outstanding in the day's play. The Filer-Gooding contest in the afternoon proved thrilling with Gooding on the long end of the score. The Buhl-Bliss encounter in the evening secured a victory for Bliss. The Buhl-Bliss contest in the evening secured a victory for Bliss. The Buhl-Bliss contest in the evening secured a victory for Bliss.

The morning session opened promptly at 10:30 a. m., with Bliss taking an easy game from Caray 38 to 22. Twin Falls followed and Bliss took a two point victory from the north side five 17 to 15.

The afternoon games opened with Bliss taking a 21-10 victory from Gannett. The east end five is showing as one of the strong teams in the contest and little trouble with the boys from the north side. Twin Falls and Paul started the next contest and the Bruins won handily from the east end 37 to 29. The Paul-Bliss were scrapping all the way and it was not an easy victory for the Bruins.

Filer-Gooding The Filer-Gooding contest was the thriller. In these two quintets are well matched both in size and speed and it was little wonder that the contest was so close. Filer with neither side scoring early. Gooding took the lead and held it at the end of the half 8 to 0. Moore and Bell gathered 2 points each. Adkins counted for 4 points while Hurlbut converted one free throw. Gooding men scored as follows: Filer, 17; Bell, 11; Hurlbut, 11; Loveloy, 5; Prince 1 and Loveloy 8. These two teams have been doing well in the strongest of the tournament and the contest has been looked forward to with much interest by the fans. The game lived up to expectations.

Jerome eliminated the Caray quintet with ease taking the contest 29 to 19. Caray was under way and the first half allowed the Jerome five to pile up a large lead. The Caray quintet staged a wonderful comeback in the last period and ran a 24-point start up to 19 while Jerome had trouble getting 8 counters. Had the Caray played the whole game they would have been a close contest.

Bliss-Buhl contest was a fast affair. The Bliss five are long and rangy and make all their baskets by the long shot route. Buhl displayed nice shooting but were unable to hit the long shots that eventually won for Bliss. The Bliss five are a brotherly aggregation. The fans were all out for all brothers. The Buhl team could not hit their stride in the first half and Bliss piled up 21 points while Buhl five could only score 9. The Buhl team came back in the second half with a rush and scored 22 points while Bliss could only score 5. It was a nice comeback for the west end team and had the game lasted a few minutes longer Buhl might have won it. Bliss and Bell were the point man of the game with 13 points each. Filer and Bell gathered 8 points. For Bliss G. Palmer was high with 11 points. A. Palmer got 3, C. Palmer got 4 and Thompson accounted for 2.

The Rupert-Twin Falls clash, the last of the day's play was a scintillating game. The Bruins started off with the lead but did not hold it long. Rupert forged ahead and at the end of the first half led 29 to 19. Buhl came back in the second half and for a time apparently cinched the game but the Bruins lived up to their name and fought for every point taking a lead over the Rupert five. Again Rupert threatened and the Bruins held only to hold only a two point lead at the final gun. It was a fast game from the start both teams playing good basketball and it was a nip and tuck until the last minute of play. For Twin Falls Navin was high point man with 14 points, Gwin and Kelly, both gathered 8 points. Martin 5, Bertach 6 and Hollis Martin 1. For Rupert Higgins counted for 13, J. W. Bowman 7, Saeddon 5 and Phillips 6.

Homey Hudson, regional manager for the United States Veterans Bureau at Boise and John Gray also of Boise are the officials, both men are graduates of the university of Idaho. For Rupert Higgins counted for 13, J. W. Bowman 7, Saeddon 5 and Phillips 6.

DUMB BELLS

With ease and without confusion by those in charge and the spacious seating capacity enabled all spectators to be seated throughout the games. The Bliss high school band furnished the music for the meet.

At 5:30 yesterday all coaches and their teams were guests at a banquet served in the Methodist church. The Buhl girls team acted as hosts for the occasion. John I. Hillman and Ira Thomsen, both high school band members, were called upon by Rev. Van Fatten during the banquet. Homey Hudson also responded and praised the spirit of sportsmanship that prevails during the contest.

TEAMS TO MEET IN TOURNAMENT

Second Day of Basket Ball Contests at Buhl to See Some Fast Playing is Prediction.

The second day of the basketball tournament will open this morning at 10:30 with Gannett and Filer meeting in the first game. This should be a hard game for the Wildcats to take for the Rupert five handed Gannett a sound whipping yesterday. Filer and Gannett will engage in the second game of the morning session and this should prove a hard contest. Filer is somewhat handicapped by the illness of her players and cannot put out the brand of basketball that she did earlier in the season. However this game will be interesting.

Bliss and Twin Falls will open the afternoon session and this should be a real contest. The Bliss five are larger than any other team in the meet and play a nice game. So far the Bliss have been displaying excellent self team work and will not doubt give the Bliss team a hard run.

Buhl and Jerome will meet again in the second game of the afternoon session. These two teams battled to a close end yesterday and no doubt this afternoon game will be a fast one. Both teams will be fighting for their existence in the tournament for each have had a game and the loser of this afternoon's contest is eliminated.

Rupert will open the night session with the winner of the Gannett-Filer contest. The probability of Filer's existence in the tournament for each have had a game and the loser of this afternoon's contest is eliminated.

So today's schedule promises some mighty fast and interesting battles and no doubt the Buhl gym will be thronged to accommodate the crowd. The attendance for the first day exceeds that of last year by considerable margin. The Bliss high school band furnished the music for the meet.

What's What in The Sport World

Copyright, 1925, King Features. By FRANK G. MENKE. And now these funny collegiate football folks are thinking of forcing Souths to sign a pledge that they'll never, never sign to play professional sports while they are still attending school in one or another of the college athletic unions. 'Whoopee-pee—there's a chuckle! Some of the big boys in the western conference have been doing a lot of thinking of late, in regard to how they can stop the footballing and other stunts from leaping the gap between college and professional sports. While they never sign to play professional sports while they are still attending school in one or another of the college athletic unions, they would read out like this:

I agree that I will not sign any agreement to play professional sport while I am a student at such-and-such college. The pledge idea is, in its entirety, not a laugh and a bundle of prolonged giggles. It means nothing. For if a boy was quite a star at basketball, football, and tennis, that he'd become "pro" after he quit school, he naturally makes every effort to keep the signing of any document to that effect a very thick and dank secret.

No Punishment If the secret journal and snappet at him, and he became exposed as a young man who has resigned to play professional sports while he was still at college and signing his name in behalf of his darling old Alma Mater—well, what of it? The punishment couldn't be anything else but banishment from the eleven or the nine—and he then could get his further banishment or footballing on "pro" for it.

The most amazing part of the fight that's being waged just now against professional football by collegiate folks is "what's the reason for it all?" Why the intensity of the battle? The collegiate folks never forget to stop the collegians from leaving college to adopt a pro baseball career, to become professional basketball players, professional hockey performers. Why are they so dead set against football that they are burning midnight oil trying to find ways and means of killing it off?

Isn't there some reason for it deeper than the apparent reason that they are merely trying to preserve the amateur sanctity of the boy's foot? Just a few of the reasons are: (1) They are afraid that if pro football lives and prospers, and the pro play in their college days, the college folks are the Friedman's, the Oberholsters, etc.—that pro football will outrange college football in the matter of attendance. Ignore Existence

"HANDS OFF MOVIES!"

THERE ARE too many restrictions, prohibition, censorship, you cannot do this or that in this country, Judge Ben Lindsey says. Let people alone and they are usually right, the famous Denver jurist contends at the three-day Motion Picture Council, in conference in Chicago.

For such games over games, where a lot of children—some great, some fair and some mediocre—are sitting for some sort of amusements. Collegiate authorities long ago, in their haughty, disdainful way, insisted that college football was not the public's business—that it was played largely for the benefit of the graduates of the rival colleges. That might have been true when football was a sport. It is not true now. The colleges must depend in a large measure for its football profits from the cash turned into the box offices by the

As time goes on, and the collegiate people have not seen more and will more about the evils of the professional game, they very weeping and wailing in a spirit of that they are fighting pro football all to perpetuate their own career unimpeded on football as a commercialized sport. For a long time now, the colleges and universities have been ignoring the existence of pro baseball and other pro sports.

It's chances for success are slim indeed. For it is proved that the public is not interested in the sport of what sort of uniform is worn by a great football player. It makes no difference if he is an ex-collegian, or never went to college at all. If he can play the game, and play it in spectacular fashion and provide thrills, then the public will follow a professional.

rough-necked, non-collegiate spirit. And now the college public has suddenly decided that it likes pro football as well, if not better than the collegiate brand, and now it is a great success for it in 1925 and beyond—well, the collegiate folks, naturally, have gone out a fonder for the means of professional football, and are trying to stamp it out, not because pro football is an evil but to perpetuate their own monopoly. They cannot do. But it can't be done.

By Cobb is the greatest left handed lefty baseball has known; Rogers Hornsby undoubtedly is the mightiest of all who have swung from the starboard side of the plate. And the old thing is that the careers of these two men are more alike in many ways. Each is a Southener. Each went from a small league in the Southland directly into the majors. Cobb cut the Tigers $700; Hornsby cut the Cardinals $500. Neither man was regarded highly in his first year under the big top. Cobb's first year was a thing worth while with the nines. Cobb hit for only .240—Hornsby hit for .216.

Each really started in his second year. And since that time each has stood forth as the flashing star in his league. Cobb tied the old mark for hitting above .300 for three different years. And then, not to be outdone, Hornsby made it a triple hit by knocking out .400 in 1925. He did not do it until the third time above that mark.

The vast difference between the two lies in their style of play. Cobb is a flash of fire on the ball field; Cobb is the most colorful man of any time. Hornsby, quiet, unobtrusive; is the quietest of all. He is a steady, tenacious, hard-headed, hard-boiled, but in an almost striking way, he is neither spectacular nor exciting in anything he does. Even in his superlative hitting he makes the feat seem something just ordinary.

Hornsby in 1925 led a mark that Cobb hung up and which was supposed to be "unapproachable." From 1900 to 1913 inclusive Cobb hit for a grand average of .306. He has felt no man ever would outpace that consecutive five year showing. But when Hornsby delivered a .400 mark for 1925 he made a grand average of .402 for himself.

The comparative figures follow:

Year	Cobb	Hornsby
1921	.307	.377
1922	.401	.383
1923	.381	.420
1924	.424	.410
1925	.403	.300
Average	.402	.399

Hornsby, it will be seen, duplicated Cobb's record of hitting .400 for two successive years. By turning in .424 in 1922 and coming back with .403 in 1923, Cobb made his .400 mark in 1921, 1922 and 1923. Hornsby's natural ambition not merely to go beyond that Cobb has done in the past, but to equal his own record of four of those 400 batting marks. It is possible for him—if the National League doesn't give its pitchers a break in 1926 and if he does not miss a mission through 1925 and in the later

TWIN FALLS WEEKLY NEWS

Published by the Twin Falls Publishing Company, Inc., Publishers. Entered as second class matter December 15, 1904, at the Postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of October 3, 1917.

IT'S LATE TIME... Farm Problem Near Solution, Leaders Claim... 'Jardine Says We Must Stop Exporting Wheat'...

These were recently quoted by H. H. Hatfield, who is now in Twin Falls in the interests of the United States Chamber of Commerce, before a local ingénieur club. Mr. Hatfield believes that a majority of all domestic products are in fact to be exported...

Mr. Hatfield quoted a few more newspaper headlines which are not without interest. Not everybody will be familiar with them all but they all appeared in various newspapers as quoted within a period of less than ten days.

Half a dozen newspaper reporters were in court today. The order, a part of the minutes of the court, was read again today. It instructs newspapers having a circulation in Harney county to refrain from publishing any part of the testimony in the charge of murder in connection with the death of J. A. McMorro.

But it can be said that there is any great gainfulness of thought apparent in the utterances of the men who glow on the newspaper interviews on general topics of current interest to the people as a whole.

There is no cause for discouragement in all this. If the headlines were anything at all it is that the best minds of the country are at work. Nobody is asleep at the switch, nobody is endeavoring to dodge. And out of the mass of conflicting impressions must eventually come the ones which are right.

VAN SWERINGENS DISCUSS PLANS

Refusal of Commission to Permit Road Merger Leads to Conference With Attorneys.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 4 (AP)—The decision of the interstate commerce commission, disapproving the proposed plan for the unification of the Nickel Plate, Chesapeake & Ohio, Locking Valley, Pere Marquette and Erie railroads was discussed by C. P. and W. Van Sweringen with their advisers today. An announcement will be made until the findings have been thoroughly studied. This will take several days, it was said.

The conference, which began shortly after the return of W. A. Colston, chief counsel of the Nickel Plate, from Washington, lasted virtually all day. Other attendees included J. J. Hernet, president of the Nickel Plate, and Newton B. Baker, who assisted in the hearings before the interstate commerce commission.

Have Plenty of Time

The Van Sweringens interests have two years and six months in which to devise a new plan which will meet with the approval of the commission, provided that the plan does not materially change the rights of the stockholders.

Should they change the stockholders' rights, the plans must be submitted to stockholders, and the Van Sweringens would have an indefinite time in which to present them to the commission.

These conditions are provided for in an agreement entered into August 29, 1924, between the stockholders of the five roads and a committee appointed to carry out the plan disapproved by the commission Tuesday. It was approved by 94 per cent of the stockholders of all roads and had four years to run.

THE AMERICAN VENUS

It, as some one has pointed out, "is a thing of beauty is a joy forever," then "The American Venus" which opened at the Idaho yesterday for a three days' run, may rightfully be called an enduring screen classic. For it contains a richness of costume, a magnificence of setting, a sumptuousness of mounting and a superabundance of feminine youth and loveliness that combine to make it quite the most eye-dazzling spectacle the silver sheet has ever seen.

And yet, all these gorgeous trappings are merely the glorified trimmings for a sippy, thrill-filled story that holds the interest with its perpetual motion, exciting situations and ceaseless laughter.

Roasted in clean, fresh air a few pounds at a time

HILLS BROS. Coffee is not roasted in bulk, but, rather, a few pounds at a time. This patented continuous-roasting process permits of even temperature and constant ventilation. Clean, fresh air circulates through the roast, developing that inimitable flavor that has made Hills Bros. Red Can the pride of the coffee-loving West.

To prove what controlled roasting does for coffee, break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Release an aroma the like of which you never met before. Then—brew a cup and raise it to your lips. In all the world, no flavor to compare to this! Ask for Hills Bros. by name and look for the Arab on the can. It's quite important.

To make a perfect cup of coffee, brew as described in "The Art of Entertaining," mailed free upon request. Write Hills Bros., San Francisco.

JAYLOR PLAYERS

"The Cowboy, Judson and the Lady," on the boards at the Laverling for today and tomorrow, complete again with a Toly part, in which Glen Taylor continues to star as an excruciating comedian, was played last evening to an appreciative, good-sized audience.

The western drama, with its setting just north of 30 north of the Mexican boundary in Arizona—the first of its type to be presented here by the Taylor company—depicted life as it might have been in that section of our country some years ago. Glenn supplied the comedy throughout and the element of pathos was skillfully absent.

Even when Jack Wahlen was the "hot" party in a murder, everyone was happy—Jack was carrying the part of a trouble making Mexican.

Ralph Holland, playing the part of the parson, got his little probably from the fact that he had fallen from the beaten path and was a direct contrast to a representative of the clergy.

Only a Balanced Food can build a perfect body

"A sound mind in a sound body"—that was the ancient's ideal of manhood. Today, the world still sets the same requirement for success.

It demands an alert mind, steady nerves, strong muscles, sturdy bones—and a good digestion.

Such a perfect balance of body and brain must, of course, be built on a perfectly balanced food. And in SHREDDED WHEAT you have ready for instant serving, all the food elements the body needs—in just the right proportions—and in easily digested form.

Besides, it is good to eat. Served cold, served with hot milk, or topped with preserves, jellies or golden melted butter SHREDDED WHEAT is a treat that tempts—and in its tempting it brings you health.

FOREIGN TRADE DINNER IS HELD

Latin America, Philippines and Mexico Join to Discuss Dealings With United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4 (AP)—Latin America, the Philippines and Mexico joined tonight in a dinner meeting of the delegates to the export and importers of the United States wherein they meet the demands made upon them and wherein they fall to make the most of their opportunities.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover has discouraged the efforts of Brazil to effect loans in the United States.

E. A. Kahl of W. R. Grace & Company of San Francisco and New York told the meeting that the United States funds thus made available would be used for market manipulations.

GRASSLESS GOLF COURSE CARVED FROM MOUNTAIN

HELENA, Mont., March 4 (AP)—The grassless golf course of the Helena Country club is evidence that grass is not essential to a golf hole. This pleasant sightless hole course is without a blade of green on tee, fairway or putting green.

Vanderbilt Leaves For Island Where He Will Hunt Fish

Party Aboard Private Yacht Bound for Galapagos, Once Rendezvous of Notorious Adventurers.

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—William K. Vanderbilt, Jr. aboard his 21-foot yacht, the Arctis, is bound for the Galapagos islands, once a rendezvous of an adventurer, after taking his leave a month ago, as merely as his forefathers who made the islands their base, but he is hunting fish, and not men.

His officers verified this today, but would say nothing more. Professor William Beebe, who took the Arctis to the Sargasso sea before he left the yacht for the expedition but today said he was not at liberty to tell of the plans.

Colonel Roosevelt Narrowly Escapes Death in Himalayas

Caught in Snowslide While Crossing Asiatic Range; Other Adventurers.

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—After obtaining specimens of some of the best game known to sportsmen during an eleven months hunting trip in the wilds of India, China and Russia, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his brother Kermit arrived tonight on the Berengaria with their wives and Kermit's children. Facilitating it became known that the expedition had almost lost Colonel Roosevelt's life. In crossing the Himalayas mountains over the Karakoram pass, he was caught in a snow slide and carried down a steep mountain. With agility, however, he cut his way down on top of the slide instead of under it.

Colonel Roosevelt's first words on arrival here were "I felt 'Gif' for a fight or a frair" and didn't know which it would be until he had a chance to avert the political situation.

Saves Child from Hotel Blaze

MRS. FANNIE RESNICK, shown with her daughter, Solma, who, clasped the girl in her arms and jumped from the third floor of a blazing hotel at Hurleyville, N. Y. The mother suffered a broken back, but the child was unharmed. Nine lost their lives and twenty three were injured in the fire.

States eighty large mammals for the field mammals. There were also more than eight hundred small mammals, birds and reptiles, some of which he described, but not before being described by scientists.

He said he believed that some of the animal groups were the only complete groups that any museum in the world had for certain species. Among the trophies were four ox-bow horn horns with horns measuring more than fifty inches in size. He said he believed the party had obtained the largest box horn on record, a pair measuring 92 inches long by Kermit. Specimens of the Asiatic wapiti, cousin of the American elk and the largest deer in the eastern hemisphere were obtained.

a solid gold or silver bracelet, in its plain metal design such like the "wedding ring" worn by brides of certain primitive African tribes, in fact in her hands called the "Twenty-fifth Century Wedding Ring," or by rapid alteration, the "Alimony Ring."

ROBERTS EATS ONIONS

SALT LAKE CITY, March 4 (AP)—Gosh, all I remember, if you didn't have to catch me eating onions!

Will Rogers, world-famous comedian, cowboy, author and feature writer, is reported to have said here today when interviewed by a girl reporter.

BODY STARS IN UNUSUAL ROLE

Suave Villain of Screen Wins Friends With Culinary Accomplishments.

HOLLYWOOD, March 4 (AP)—Lew Cook has achieved new fame in Hollywood—not as an actor but as a cook. Cooking is Cody's hobby and career; it is his favorite dish. Many are the evenings that he has a few friends at his home to eat the dinners he has concocted.

So famous have these "concocted" affairs become that a reporter started on a trail to learn the hobbies of the other stars. Here are some of the things that came to light.

Ma Murray confessed that she reads the newspapers every day and is well-grounded on such subjects as reproduction and international relations. Bill and Gifford are her favorite sports and she has a constant desire to go shopping for the latest clothes.

Working out new style designs and following new modes takes part of Marion Davies time while not working on the screen. Many of her discoveries are used on the screen.

Lon Chaney, the "man of a thousand faces," seldom is recognized as he goes out making about Hollywood. He collects rare examples of hand-made jewelry and his pet pastime is deer hunting.

Norah Shearer puts in much of her spare time on the tennis courts, as does Charles Ray. Jackie Coogan just at present has a fondness for handball and structural toys. A pet rabbit also demands attention.

Your Income Tax

Your income tax for the year 1925 is less, in proportion to your income, than was the tax in 1924. A rate reduction, however, is not the only benefit afforded by the revenue act of 1925 to the taxpayer. The revenue act of 1924 requires that returns be filed by every single person whose net income for 1925 was $1000 or more, or whose gross income was $2000 or more, and by every married couple whose aggregate net income was $2000 or more, or whose aggregate gross income was $4000 or more. Last year returns were required for married couples whose aggregate net income was $2500 or more, and of single persons whose net income was $1000 or more. Husband and wife, living together, may include the income of each in a single joint return, or may file a separate return, showing the income of each. Net income is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, tax debts, contributions, etc.

Device Clears Spray From Ship's Lookout

One of the most responsible positions in the world is that of the man on the bridge directing the course of a great ship. For him, clear, certain and unobstructed vision is imperative at all times, and especially so in a driving storm when sight is most difficult. His eyes are constantly protected as he looks out, and a clear sheet of glass is the obvious suggestion. But rain and spray and snow drive against the glass and obscure the course of the vessel. The most constant wiping of the surface, even by the most untiring mechanical devices, is often of little avail. Sudden blizzards and recently there has come a solution of this perplexity and, as usual, a very simple one. A polished glass disk, rotated by an electric motor at such a speed that nothing can be deposited on it that will interfere for an instant, is the solution of the problem.

Situation Summed Up in One Short Sentence

Robert was in for a trying ordeal and he knew it. As he stood on the doorstep of old Sir George's house he assured himself that there were far easier things in the world than coming to "talk father."

A mild opened the door and he was shown into the drawing-room while the servant approached her master. Some few moments later he found himself alone in the library with the old gentleman, who was looking very stern, due to an attack of indigestion.

"Ah, here you are," was Mr. George's not too gracious greeting. "And why do you want to marry my daughter?" This took Robert by surprise, and before he could think of a fitting reply the query was repeated: "Now, sir, come. Why do you want to marry my daughter? That's what I want to know."

"Because—er—" stammered the young man. "I—er—I have no reason."

"Exactly, my dear sir," broke in the older man. "Exactly."

ELECTION INFORMATION

Hours of voting—1 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. today.

Qualifications of Voters—"All qualified electors who are taxpayers in the district and all parents or guardians of children in the district who are qualified voters, are entitled to vote."

Voters of Twin Falls Independent school district at an election today will record their answer to the request of the board of education to levy seven mills tax for operation of the public schools during the coming year.

The seven-mills levy according to estimates made by the board, will raise approximately $62,000. Levy in the same amount was authorized for this purpose by the voters at an election a year ago.

School enrollment, according to members of the board of education, is projected at a high mark in Twin Falls and indicates a need for a substantial increase for the coming year, involving necessity for employment of additional teachers.
