WASHINGTON, March 22. (AP)—Dissemination of a statement giving the views of the Civil Liberties union in opposition to proposal registration of aliens brought open criticism from the floor of the hearing today before the house immigration committee. The statement, given out by Mrs. Elizabeth Keogh, retraceable witnesses as having testified before the committee on the subject, and Chairman Johnson who had declared in the registration issue to come up today, declared its distribution on the floor of the hearing today, entered by Representative Sahah, democrat, Illinois, who declared the chairman's criticism was unwarranted.

The hearing was called to give the union an opportunity to present its opposition to a proposed deportation bill. Witnesses representing various organizations, however, objected to what they termed its drastic provisions. The bill, which would strip citizenship from a foreign-born alien who would make it necessary for an alien to have had a certain number of years of residence in the United States. Dr. W. L. Varva, who presented a statement, for the administrative committee to be declared to alien churches, declared certain features of the bill should be revised to provide for a hearing in every case. He said that the tragedy of having persons railroad out of the country, who have a legal right of residence, was a tragedy.

WOMAN, MIGHT SAVE CHAPMAN

Attorneys for Convicted Slayer Appeal to Unknown Girl to Come to His Assistance; Is Final Effort.

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, March 25.—A woman entered the details of a man case tonight as counsel for the condemned murderer prepared for a final effort to obtain a new trial and save him from the gallows.
After announcing that the petition for a new trial on the basis of recently disclosed evidence would probably be filed tomorrow, Frederick J. Gresh, chief counsel for Chapman, made an appeal to a woman, who had been identified as the woman who had been with Chapman, does not know, to come to Chapman's assistance.

Need Testimony.

The woman, who is a resident of New Britain, Conn., he said, can corroborate the evidence of a long British man who said he saw the man who fled from the New Britain store when Patroman James Skelly was murdered. This man has asserted the fleeing man was not Chapman, Gresh said.

During the trial of Chapman for murder, the attorney said, this man wrote a letter signed "fair play" and told of seeing the supposed number of Skelly.

Tells of Incident.

Yesterday he called on Mr. Gresh and said that on the night of the murder he accepted an acquaintance with the New Britain girl and went with her to where Skelly was murdered. She had not revealed this before, he said, because he is married.

Gresh asked that the woman come forward and substantiate "fair play" story. Other important witnesses in Lynn, Mass., and New Britain also are being sought, it was said.

Plan Observance Of Forest Week

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, March 25.—Five resolutions to launch the Idaho observance of "American Forest Week," April 18 to 21, have been adopted by the faculty of the University of Idaho school of forestry, and state Forest Week chairman, Executive persons, including four members of the Idaho forestry academy, faculty, will serve.

The purpose of the observance is to give the Idaho citizen, along with the economic importance of Idaho's forest resources, and to exhibit the actual working of the new Idaho forestry act.

"Do you know that more than two-fifths of the entire area of Idaho, approximately 40,000,000 acres, are forested?" asks a bulletin issued by the general committee. "Idaho's lumber industry is one of the most important in the state, paying out annually more than $22,000,000 for wages and supplies. The value of state-owned timber in Idaho is conservatively placed at $100,000,000.

"The greatest menace to Idaho's forests is fire, and the fire hazard is far greater than in any other state."
Plans are being made by the committee in charge to send speakers into high schools throughout the state for special "Forest Week" programs. Three cash prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded to the three best essays written by next year's high school students on the subject.

HONESTY OF PIMA INDIAN WOODCUTTER WITH JUDGE WINS FREEDOM FROM JAIL

YUENSH, Ariz., March 25 (AP).—His honesty, coupled with the kindness of a California woman today won freedom from jail for Fernando Galles, a Pima Indian woodcutter.
A week ago, Galles was fined $25 for drunkenness. Unable to pay the fine, he was confined in jail. He pleaded that he could pay the fine if the judge would allow him to do so with wood, hauled in from his home 20 miles distant. The offer was accepted and Galles, after a few days in jail, was freed. He said it would take four days of wood to pay the fine.
However, his wagon broke down after he had hauled about 70 miles of wood. He returned to jail, and swore to give himself up and pleaded to the judge why he could not fulfill his promise.
He found that an unknown San Diego woman who read of his unusual sentence had sent $10 to cover half the fine and the judge, feeling himself anxious to free him, as he had done in California, released the Indian.

FINANCE PLAN WINS SUPPORT

Weakness of Franc Best Argument in French Lobbies for M. Peret's Measure.

PARIS, March 25 (AP).—Activities relative to M. Peret's financial measure were continued tonight by the holders of the chamber of deputies, where the friends of the government are endeavoring to bring into law enough deputies to pass the bill, the weakness of the franc in the argument which has had the most influence in the past two days.
It is regarded as possible that the government could muster a majority were it not for the determined opposition of the moderate and conservatives to Louis Malvy's presence in the cabinet as minister of the interior.

Malvy Takes Trip.

M. Malvy went to the south of France a few days ago to regenerate from a collapse which he suffered at the conclusion of a speech in his own defense in the chamber, and it is currently reported he left his resignation in the hands of Premier Briand to become effective whenever the premier considered it necessary.
It was rumored by several deputies that M. Briand had sacrificed two ministers of finance and the least that he would expect in return would be the sacrifice one minister of the interior in order to get a majority to pass the financial restoration measure.

AMERICAN ROMANCE ENDS ON BERLIN'S WHITE WAY

BERLIN, March 25 (AP).—Three year romance of two young Americans ended in tragedy on Berlin's "white way" early today when John B. Goodrich, a medical student from Monroe, N. H., shot and killed Miss Alice Fitzner, a dancer from Cleveland, described as unusually beautiful, and then killed himself. He was 23, she 21.
The shooting occurred while the couple were riding in a taxicab making his way among the after-theatrical crowds. Jealousy of an impoverished Russian mobster named Wastner, who was dancing in the same theatre with Miss Fitzner, is believed to have been the cause for Goodrich's action. He died almost immediately, but Miss Fitzner lived a few hours in a hospital.

Sounded Like a "Slam"

He is still wondering what the young lady meant, if anything. When she happened along he was at one end of a line, the other end being far off in the "Fishing, I see," said the girl.
"Yes," responded the young man. And then he added, in a peculiar vein: "She took the bait."
Strolling along, the girl pleasantly called back over her shoulder: "I hope you have a large catch."

WOULD RESCIND TAX ON WATER

Utah May Pass Legislation Similar to Idaho Law Regarding Irrigation Pumping.

SALT LAKE, March 25 (AP).—Possibility of legislation in Utah which would exempt from taxation water used for irrigation pumping purposes loomed when the report of Professor William Peterson on his investigation of tax reduction on power used for irrigation pumping in Idaho was submitted here today to the Utah water storage commission. The investigation was made at the request of J. R. Murdoch who suggested the organization of tax reduction on power used for irrigation in the Weber-Pravo projects.
Cites Idaho Law.
Mr. Peterson reported that the Idaho law provides that property used for generating and delivering irrigation power to the extent that such property is used for the purpose of pumping water for irrigation purposes on lands within Idaho is exempt from taxation, such tax exemption to accrue to the benefit of the consumer of such power, except in cases where water so pumped is sold or rented to other parties for irrigation purposes.
"In order to have such a law operative in Utah it would be necessary to have additional legislation," Mr. Peterson reported. "It would seem that inasmuch as irrigation canals are exempt from taxation in Utah and the power and pumping equipment which takes the place of such canals attaches to those lands where pumping is necessary, that a law similar to the one in Idaho is right and just."

TWIN FALLS TO MEET KIMBERLY

First Baseball Game of Season Will Be Played Tonight in Neighboring Town.

The first baseball game of the 1926 season will be played tonight at Kimberly when the Bruins tangle with the Kimberly ball tossers. This game is only a practice game and will give Platino a chance to get a line on the material reporting for the national pool.

A squad of 40 men have been out at Lincoln field for the past few days and working out every night but so far there is a dearth of pitchers. The infield will probably not be a serious problem and outfielders also are plentiful. The mounders have been working for three days and so far have not displayed anything exceptional.

Kimberly Strong.
The Kimberly club should be a good one this year as it was at work possibly a little longer than the Bruins also, and probably can take this first game.

The game will be played on the Kimberly high school diamond and will be called at 4 p. m.

STRIBLING WINS FROM SLATTERY

Georgia School Boy Trounces Buffalo Rival in Convincing Fashion at Garden.

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Young Stribling, light heavy weight champion of Georgia, squared accounts with his youthful Buffalo rival, Jimmy Slattery tonight. Before a capacity crowd of 18,000 in Madison Square Garden, the speedy Georgian punched his way to decisive victory over Slattery, gaining the judges' decision in a 16-round match punctuated with thrills.

Stribling not only avenged the score with Slattery, who gained a six-round decision over the Georgian two years ago, but did it in convincing fashion. Slattery was outpunched and out-generalized except for occasional flurries and was on the verge of a knockout in the seventh round under a barrage of terrific right hooks to the jaw.

A majority of ringhounds critics gave Slattery a few months rest with "Mr. Stribling" while "Mr. Jax" was his son's chief ring adviser.

almost from the start to finish but even his whitening failed to keep him out of the way. Stribling's rushes and driving attack to the head and body. The Buffalo boy held his rival even for the first half of the battle, with neither able to go much telling damage, but the Georgian's advantage in weight, reach and hitting power told heavily throughout the closing half of the battle, except for a courageous stand by Slattery in the eighth round.

Slattery held Slattery groggy under a smacking attack to the head in the seventh round. It seemed only the bell saved the Buffalo youngster from being knocked out. He was reeling backward, blood streaming from his mouth, and almost helpless as the Georgian tried desperately to put over a decisive punch. A succession of overhead hooks to the jaw nearly spelled Slattery's doom in this structure, the most spectacular of the fight.

Slattery's clever punching, particularly in the second, fifth and ninth rounds, all of which he won, brought cheers from his big following in the crowd, but the Buffalo lad lacked the punch to back up his rallies. It was a rough and tumble encounter for the most part with Stribling's superior strength giving him a big advantage at close quarters. The Georgian weighed 172 pounds to Slattery's 163 1/2.

Most of the Stribling family was at the ring side to cheer the Georgian's victory. The fighter's young society bride of a few months sat with "Mr. Stribling" while "Mr. Jax" was his son's chief ring adviser.

"Have a Camel"

These words are first call to the world's finest smoke

THE choicest tobaccos grown are bought for Camel cigarettes. Millions of dollars are spent every year to insure their uniform quality.

No money is spared in the making of Camels. The tobacco is cured carefully and aged long. The exclusive Camel blend of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos is the work of experts. The paper in which Camels are rolled is specially made in France to obtain the best. Nothing is too good or too expensive that will make Camels a better smoke. But not a cent is spent to doll up Camel cigarettes. No fancy tips or gay and wasteful wrappings. We believe that the smokers of America want smoking quality without frills.

Camels simply will not tire your taste or leave a cigaretty after-taste, no matter how liberally you smoke them!

"Have a Camel" is the password to the quality cigarette, with all the quality in the tobacco.

BEE GROWERS HOLD SESSION

Interesting Story of Profits Made in Crop is Told at Dinner Meeting.

Between thirty and forty farmers of this section met at the home of Mrs. E. J. Leonard for a dinner last night and later engaged in a lengthy discussion of the sugar beet industry here in an effort to devise plans for increasing the beet acreage.

Nearly all present took occasion to enter the discussion and the consensus of judgment of the entire meeting amounted to a strong endorsement of the sugar beet as a profitable and useful crop. Many of the speakers told of an experience covering years of beet growing, one or two being grown in other places before coming to Twin Falls. Some of the speakers admitted considerable disappointing years with the crop but all agreed that, year in and year out, sugar beets made money, not alone through the sale of the crop, but because of the advantageous use which could be made of the pulp or feed and through the general advantages to the land brought about by the crop.

Crop Possibilities.

Some interesting figures as to beet crop possibilities were given by Big Hager, agriculturalist of the American Sugar Company but the bulk of the discussion was among the growers and dealers. The speaker who was minimized by one speaker who stated that he had grown sugar beets for several years in the vicinity of the white fly pest was dangerous only under extraordinary conditions which rendered the plant so weak that it was unable to throw off the pest. It was stated that ordinarily the amount of damage was quite negligible. A number among those present stated that they had voluntarily increased their beet acreage this year in order to help sell the total crop, several calling attention to the fact that a failure on the part of the sugar company to continue operations would have an effect which would be felt by the entire community.

Creating Interest.

A number of suggestions were made as to the proper method to be pursued in the future. It was suggested that the amount of beet acreage to be planted in the crop and insure the planting of a sufficient acreage to ensure several cutting of the crop. The popular idea was advanced by a grower who suggested the idea of a series of small beet meetings in which the whole matter of beet growing could be discussed in the various neighborhoods. Many after much expressed interest in the matter. It was stated that the growers that were crop were planted early and the white fly made its appearance by a strain that no charge would be made for the seed and the ground could be plowed up and re-planted in beets or some other crop. One speaker among the growers urged the planting of beets, even if the crop were grown at a loss, in order to create the confidence of the sugar industry in Twin Falls.

All present told of the profits from the crop in detail and a general pledge of assistance in the securing of additional acreage was offered. A number of Twin Falls business men were present at the meeting.

Quaker Oats "stands by" you through the morning

That's why doctors urge it to start every day

To feel right through the morning, you must have well-balanced, complete food at breakfast. For most other meals—that is, at luncheon and at dinner—you usually get that kind of food.

But at breakfast the great dietary mistake is most often made—a hurried meal, often badly prepared.

This Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder; 58% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "laxative" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Food that should start every breakfast in your home.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain oatmeal. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers.
