ADDS TITLE TO EDITOR'S LIST

Former Reporter Writes Book on Life of James Gordon Bennett; Herald Publisher.

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—James Gordon Bennett the younger, who succeeded his father as chief Livingston, is the subject of a new romantic newspaper story of fact. It is the only book on Bennett written by one of the men who was intimately associated with him.

Albert Stevens Crackett, for many years a correspondent for Bennett on the Herald and later editor of World Traveler Magazine, is the author, and he has titled his book "When James Gordon Bennett Was Caliph of Baghdad."

The author tells how Bennett earned his money as a correspondent for Bennett on the Herald and later editor of World Traveler Magazine, in the author, and he has titled his book "When James Gordon Bennett Was Caliph of Baghdad."

An authentic as Bennett was, however, he had a sense of humor which he occasionally displayed. He placed a practical joke on a guest on the morning in the form of his bath. The commode had been moved by slipping the nozzle of a fire hose through the cabin port and firing a full blast of water into the man's face.

HOOVER IS NOT ALARMED OVER BALANCE OF TRADE

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Various changes in economic conditions during the past few months, which have caused a drop of $1,250,000 in the nation's exports and again of $647,000, 202 in imports, should not be taken as a reflection on the nation's business, in the opinion of Secretary Hoover.

Declaring today that the country, at the present stage of the trade balance sheet, could not return a favorable balance at the end of the fiscal year of the five or six hundred million dollars he regards as necessary to offset "invisible" expenditures abroad, the commerce secretary said there was nothing to be a comfortable balance in the country's favor through payments on foreign loans.

NEW SKYLINE IS TWICE AS HIGH

Box-Like Structures of Old Chicago Overshadowed by Spires, Domes and Towers.

CHICAGO, May 13 (AP)—Chicago's loop, which only a few years ago housed a monotonous collection of box-like structures all under 300 feet, today is rapidly being transformed into a territory of sky-reaching spires, domes and towers.

A new skyline is in process of formation, an impressive one that of Manhattan, and at a level double the height of the old line.

Lifting of the building height restriction gave impetus to the architectural reformation, which in addition to popularizing the tower, included a somewhat final use of the set back, a regular feature of present-day New York construction.

The old building line here was 200 feet, permitting structures of 18 to 20 stories. To take advantage of every bit of available space allowed under the restrictive ordinance, virtually all loop buildings were of the parking-box variety and crowned by a heavy cornice. Not a roof was to be seen and the only feature of any consequence was the Tower building in Michigan avenue, somewhat similar to the old Madison square tower and like it topped by a graceful fluted dome.

But when the building height was raised, structures began to shoot skyward. Some of the older buildings turned on a new extra floor, while most of the new ones climbed up around the 40 story level.

One of the first of the new structures was the Wrigley tower, which elevates white and marble just north of the Chicago river, its lines designed to accentuate the feeling of height.

These two buildings with the Allerton club, a massive pile of masonry in the most modern of architectural styles and showing a complete roof, dominate the rapidly growing skyline of the near north side, an area especially redeveloped since the Michigan avenue link bridge was pushed over the Chicago river at a cost of $10,000,000.

Across the river from the Wrigley building, the impressive Jewelers' tower is nearing completion on the former Chicagoable decked home yard, Wacker Drive, formerly the bay by South Water street. The main building is topped by a tower, which in turn is capped by a dome to be studded with colored glass and illuminated at night. The building rises 40 stories to a height of 225 feet.

In the heart of the loop, the great stone steeples of the Chicago temple, surmounted by a cross 200 feet along street level. A block away is the tallest shaft in the world, the 111 story Morrison tower. One of the most commanding of the new Michigan avenue structures is the 72 story Strass building.

An interesting feature of the buildings of 10 to 20 stories is that most of them have roofs that can be seen from the street. The box and the cornice are pushing into the architectural limbo.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR TELLS OF SURRENDER OF GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE

KANSAS CITY, May 13 (AP)—Captain Alfred Horegard of the union cavalry set his horse very erect and solemnly on April 10, 1865, as he watched the formalities of Lee's surrender to Grant, beneath the trees in the yard of the McClain home at Appomattox court house, Virginia.

Captain Horegard was 31 then, and now at 92 and not quite an erect but with a certain military bearing nevertheless, the captain sits most of the day in a swivel chair in his tiny native office. He is one of the few survivors of the score or more officers and men who witnessed Lee's formal capitulation.

General Lee, accompanied by an adjutant and two orderlies, rode into the yard," recalls the captain. "One of the orderlies jumped from his horse and held the bridle of Lee's mount while the confederate chieflain dismounted.

General Grant at once emerged and came to meet his erstwhile adversary. Both saluted, then shook hands cordially. Grant was dressed in his field service uniform, but the officer from that of the common soldier.

Lee walked toward Grant's quarters. His six-foot figure was straight and trim. General Grant at once emerged and came to meet his erstwhile adversary. Both saluted, then shook hands cordially. Grant was dressed in his field service uniform, but the officer from that of the common soldier.

Captain Horegard was born September 10, 1834, in Alsekoon county, Virginia, which later became a part of the new state of West Virginia. His own father were with the North and he served throughout the war in Sheridan's cavalry.

FEET USED IN FILMS AS MEANS OF EXPRESSION

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 13 (AP)—Among the motion picture hits they are making a number of film scenes nowadays from the ankle down.

At one time there was an unwritten law governing directors which said that the face must be the sole medium of pictorial expression. All other portions of the anatomy were barred for this purpose.

Then along came Charlie Chaplin with his funny feet and kicked such a hole in the unwritten statute that scores of pediculators now are tramping through and over it.

In the recent First National picture, Charlie Murray, comedian, played several different parts so thoroughly digested in each, that from the ankles up, he was unknown to his audience. His instructor Murray to wear the same shoes throughout, however, and by close-ups of his feet his identity, although hidden in the film story, was revealed to the spectators.

Alfred Green has a formula for making feet talk. Dirty and smudged shoes he uses in close-ups to denote addresses; light weight, neat foot gear indicates health.

MUTTON STEW REMOVED FROM TABLES OF ENGLISH TOMMY

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—Mutton stew, along with lamb chops and roast mutton, has been crossed off the menu of the British army, as a measure of economy.

SOME SPLENDID BUYS

TWO COUNTRIES WORRY LEAGUE

Brazil and China Firm in Urging Permanent Members of Council be Increased to Ten.

GENEVA, May 13. (AP)—Brazil and China caused consternation in the secret session of the commission studying reconstruction of the League of Nations council yesterday by urging that number of permanent members of the council be increased to ten.

As the tonnage of the commission's majority has been for an increase in the number of permanent members, yesterday's development was regarded as a speaking ill for attainment of unanimity in the report which the commission will make in the coming week.

With Germany's entrance, the council will have five permanent members, while ten places already are to be held in reserve for the United States and Russia. The recommendation of Brazil and China would mean an immediate augmentation of three new permanent members.

Exercise Firm Purpose.

The commission's deliberations have been marked to date by the exercise of courtesy but firm diplomatic pressure on Brazil and Spain, the two main aspirants for permanent seats. This has been done by provisional adoption of the Cecil proposal providing that non-permanent or elected members, until they can no longer prevent the entrance of Germany by threatening a veto.

Having suggested this possibility of non-election to Brazil and Spain, the representatives of the great powers have been busy in backing the former's position by indicating indirectly they could virtually become permanent members if being selected for all time.

Future assemblies, however, must decide whether special seats can be elected for voting on the future. The period and if it is admitted whether Brazil or Spain would be content with such an arrangement.

Brazil showed no sign of satisfaction when the commission to permit free discussion, went into secret session to debate the question of what extent the council should be enlarged, if at all. It was then that Brazil and China demanded an increase in the number of permanent seats to ten.

NORTH SIDE COMPANY BUYS BLACKFOOT WATER

ROME, May 12.—Negotiations were completed at a recent meeting of directors of the Seattle Water Company, L. D., whereby the company purchased 75,000 acre-feet of rights in the water from Blackfoot reservoir on the Blackfoot Indian reservation. This additional water will be used to supplement the company's water in Jackson Lake and American Falls reservoirs.

Under terms of the contract, one-half the entire amount of the water now freed, will be delivered immediately by way of the Blackfoot river, and thence through the Snake to American Falls, where it will be stored until conditions warrant its use.

The other half, or any portion of it, will be delivered later, at the request of the canal company.

JEROME REJECTS POWER DEVELOPMENT SCHEME

JEROME, May 12.—The Jerome city council has definitely decided to decline the Gooding city council's invitation to join in the proposed development of a power site on Box Canyon creek, located in the southeast part of Gooding county.

The Gooding council filed on the water right, and its engineers say that the proposed plant would have sufficient capacity to furnish a number of towns in this vicinity, located West and down to compete in movement to establish a municipal power plant to supply the three towns.

The Wendell council recently approved money to assist in employing an engineer to make a detailed report of the approximate cost of the proposed plant.

The next issue of the Telephone Directory goes to press May 18th. Any changes or additions should be made before that time.

MANY REACHED BY DEMONSTRATION

Extension Division Program Carries Assistance to Idaho Housewives.

BOISE, May 13.—More than 10,000 individuals, the vast majority of them Idaho housewives, have been reached through the university extension division's home demonstration program, according to information which has just been released through the office of the state bureau of extension by Miss Marion Hepworth, Idaho's home demonstration leader.

"Our program has concerned itself with clothing, home management, and home improvement generally," said Miss Hepworth Wednesday, "but our most important project has consisted in exploitation of the fundamentals of nutrition. Definite nutrition projects have been developed in 33 counties and some 6000 prefts have been carefully following the outlines furnished by this department."

"Meal planning in accordance with our instructions has resulted in systematic preparation of balanced meals precisely suited to age and occupation. Children in homes where our nutrition program was followed were measured and weighed at regular intervals, the health nurse carefully furnished for this purpose, regularly indicating the most gratifying progress a wholesome, nutritious diet was made to accept the suggestions offered."

"Demonstration gardens have been a feature of our work along this line. Leaders of the several nutrition groups, assisted by the county agents, and local home demonstration agents, have been successful not only in developing model gardens along conventional lines but also in producing types of vegetables never before grown in their particular localities. Storage, canning and drying of vegetables for winter use also have been strongly stressed."

Extension Division Bulletin Gives Advice on Identification and Control.

"Idaho Weeds, How to Know and Control Them," is the title of a 72 page bulletin just issued by the University of Idaho Extension Service. The publication, which gives comprehensive information on identification and control of some 25 weed pests found in Idaho, is now available.

To aid the farmer in identifying the pests, plant and seed description and plates illustrating the weeds and their seeds are included. They are accompanied by detailed outlines of control methods which are based, to a large extent, upon experimental work carried on by the department of agronomy, University of Idaho agriculture experiment station, in cooperation with farmers in many sections of the state. The agronomy department has been conducting experimental work in weed control for several years.

Joint authors of the bulletin are H. W. Hubbard, university agronomist; E. H. Ashby, seed commissioner and extension agronomist; and Miss Jessie C. Myers, seed analyst for the extension division and the experiment station. Particular emphasis is laid by the authors upon the necessity for community effort.

"If the serious weed pests of any district are to be eliminated," says the bulletin, "community effort is essential. Weeds are flourishing in the same manner throughout the state. On the other hand the situation is rapidly improving where concerted community action is practiced."

The first necessity in any weed control program it is pointed out is clean seed. "No matter how much care is given to eradicating weeds from our farms," the bulletin says, "if one fails to use crop seeds free from weeds much of the work is lost. Not only is the soil reinfested with the common weeds but often new and serious weed pests are introduced by the seed."

Losses caused by weeds constitute one of the big items in our farming program which can be held only by immediate concerted action."

BAMBOO PIPE ORGAN STILL IN SERVICE AFTER CENTURY

MANHUA, P. I., May 13 (AP)—Fascinating melodies of sweet, well rounded tones will flow from the pipes of the bamboo organ built into the church at Lao Hsai more than 100 years ago by the Augustinian fathers.

This ancient instrument of sacred music is constructed wholly of bamboo cut from a jungle near the church. The builders trenched the bamboo to make it impervious to the elements. The pipes were buried in sand for six months for seasoning and hardening as a protection against both the atmosphere and white ants, which attack nearly all wooden articles in this climate.

CHINESE FITTINGLY BURY THEIR DEAD IF THEY MUST STARVE

PEKING, May 13 (AP)—Proper respect must be paid the Chinese dead even if the living relatives must starve.

A funeral in China, where ancestor worship prevails, is an affair of great importance and becomes a calamity, especially to the poor. Certain foods must be provided and religious rites observed. A proper coffin must be obtained, regardless of financial ability to purchase it, and a certain number of horses and lumber-carriers are required for "face-pigeon."

The exhibition is intended as "an illustrated history of the century and a half of American independence and will not fail to show incidentally the rise and progress of the flag arts during that period."

AMERICAN FARM EXPERTS AID CHINESE IN FAMINE PROBLEM
PEKING, N. Y., May 12 (AP)—American agricultural experts are helping their Chinese colleagues solve the problem of famine prevention in the hunger-stricken republic of the Orient.

Plant breeding authorities of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell university are operating with the Nanking university college of agriculture and forestry in a concerted effort to produce better varieties of crops in China in the hope that the menace of famine may be greatly lessened if not ultimately removed.

FLAPPERDOM DEFENDED BY SECRETARY DAVIS

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Flapperdom found a staunch supporter in James J. Davis, secretary of labor, who declared they adhere to the Arlington cemetery, likened the modern girl with her short skirts, to the girls of the early nineteenth century. Davis agreed that some flappers are frivolous, but that the overwhelming majority were "quite as sedate as were their mothers at the same age." Flappers had existed for the past two thousand years about whom he said, "They were always there, and their elders that are being zapped today. It was my doubt about it, he urged his hearers to read Edmund Burke, who "threw his question to be read in mind, that because half a dozen grasshoppers under a fern were their mothers at the same time, it did not follow that they were the only inhabitants of the field, for in that same field thousands of cattle grazed and sheep grazed contentedly in the shadow of the British oak."

"Thus," he added, "might we speak of our modern flappers in comparison with the whole. They are few in number."

Some allowance must be made for the spirit of youth, the secretary asserted in alluding to any belief that the flappers whose escapades entice us to the cinema are so much more necessary to shoot Niagara."

Is Age Controlled by Glands?

Dr. Serge Voronoff of France, famous physician and surgeon, who has devoted years to research in connection with glandular treatment, says: "A man is worth only as much as his glands."

"The new scientific formula—Glandogen—embodies this method. Glandogen is a highly concentrated gland compound in convenient, compact tablet form which combines the important extracts of the vital glands of healthy young animals with other efficacious ingredients. Hundreds of weakened men and women are today taking Glandogen. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. At All Serranum Johnson Drug Stores—Adv.

High School Enjoys Program of Music

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilton Peck, with their son, Hubert, and daughter, Priscilla, presented a musical program for the high school, and an unusual number of guests Thursday afternoon. The opening number was a group of songs by Mr. Peck, "Where'er You Walk," (Handel) and "Would You Gain the Tender Creature," (from Aida and Galatea (Händel)). "Drifting and Dreaming," a piano solo, by Hubert, was given pleasingly by Master Wilton Peck. Priscilla Junior Peck sang, "The Junco Song," and the lyric music series and was warmly received by her audience. The next number was a second group by Mr. Peck, "O Willow, Willow," an English folk song; "O A the Airt the Wind Can Blow," the poem by Robert Burns and the air by William Marshall; and "Hill on Moses," a negro spiritual. Mrs. Peck sang, "Forensic Mia," and "Hills in March," from "Songs of the Pyrenees." The closing group was interpreted by Mr. Peck, and was composed of three songs, "The Singing Girl of Shan," (Barnet), "The Bird of the Wilderness," (Horsman), and "Mantling," (Leon Cavaller). Arrangements were played by Mrs. Wilton Peck. The stage was particularly attractive with a setting arranged by Mr. Peck. All numbers were heartily received, which generous response was given.

HEADS MUSICIANS FOR TWENTY-SEVENTH TIME

SALT LAKE CITY, May 13 (AP)—President Joseph N. Weber, New York, of the American Federation of Musicians, was unanimously nominated to succeed himself as head of the organization for the twenty-seventh time at today's session of the convention here. Other officers were also unanimously nominated. Formal election will be held tomorrow.

A resolution adopted today and much discussed by delegates gives hint that a fight with theatrical syndicates may be started by the federation. The resolution charged that theatrical syndicates are constantly committing laborious acts in the federation by eliminating music from drama houses. To overcome this condition the resolution asked that a committee be appointed by President Weber to investigate the condition and report at the next convention.

WHEAT FAVORED BY OPEN WINTER

Only Two and a Half Per Cent of Idaho Fall Planted Grain is Abandoned.

BOISE, May 13.—Due to the open winter and favorable conditions this spring, only 2.5 per cent, or 11,500 acres of Idaho winter wheat acreage will not be harvested, according to the May crop report issued by J. H. Johnson, agricultural statistician. With the exception of 1919, this is the smallest percentage winter-killed since 1915. In 1919, 2 per cent of the acreage was winter-killed. In 1925, 17.5 per cent, and the average for the past 10 years is 6.3 per cent. The report provides for harvest this year total 66,000,000 bushels, and 427,000 acres were harvested.

Crop in Excellent Condition.

The growing crop had a May 1 condition of 97 per cent of normal, which is the highest since 1921, and compares with 81 per cent of the year ago. Assuming average variations to prevail until harvest, a 97 per cent condition indicates a production of 9,243,000 bushels, or 27 bushels produced 10,902,000 bushels, on a smaller acreage. The 1925 average, 1916-25, harvested total is 8,570,000 bushels.

Rye Crop Flourishing.

The 3,000 acres of rye remaining for harvest indicate a production of 49,470 bushels, based on a condition of 97 per cent. Production in 1925 was 40,000 bushels, and the 10-year average, 116,000 bushels.

It is estimated that 672,000 tons of hay are on farms, carried over from last year's harvest. Production in 1925 was 600,000 tons, and the 10-year average, 116,000 bushels. A year ago only 188,000 tons remained on farms. Hay requirements the past feeding season were comparatively light because of the mild winter.

This year's hay crop is starting out with very favorable prospects. Alfalfa and clover have made excellent growth and the first crop will be cut earlier than usual. Time hay has a condition 85 per cent of normal, and earlier with 90 per cent a year ago, and a 10-year average of 91 per cent.

Season Is Early.

Fully 88 per cent of the plowing usually done by May 1 has been completed this year, against 85 per cent completed last year. Spring plowing is 80 per cent completed, compared with 75 per cent completed up to May 1, 1925.

In the eleven western states the season is earlier than normal, while in practically all other states it is later. Only 5.6 per cent of the nation's winter wheat acreage was winter-killed compared with 13.3 per cent, or 27,085,000 acres remaining for harvest in 1925. A May 1 condition of 84 per cent is unusually good, since it was 77 a year ago and 82.6 the 10-year average for May 1. The May 1 forecast indicates a 518,000,000-bushel crop. Production last year was 398,400,000 bushels, and the 10-year average is 4,557,600,000 bushels.

WEATHERVANE 200 YEARS OLD IS STILL IN SERVICE

ALBANY, N. Y., May 13 (AP)—The old weathervane brought to the Dutch settlement here in 1614, is still in active service. It is a jaunty chattering of broken brass, perched not on a weather vane but on a piece of the Madison Avenue Reformed church. Except for three bullet holes, which tradition says were the results of punishment for the wandering and peevish covetous Indians, the trim and well-proportioned cock has borne his weathered wings proudly raised, heaving with the winds and the storms, surviving from all points of the compass the city he has known since it was in swaddling clothes. Hevered as the oldest relic of Albany's early days, the weathervane has been in its present position since the erection of the church in 1857. In that year it was resolved to duty after an eight-year vacation that had begun when the ancient church at the foot of State street, on which it had stood for 150 years, was demolished.

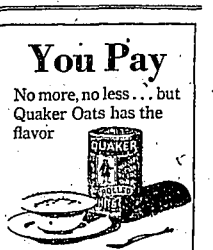

NO SKYSCRAPERS JOB UNDER DEN LINDEN; 80 FOOT LIMIT

BERLIN, May 13 (AP)—No skyscrapers for Unter den Linden is the slogan proposed by the Berlin building commission. The city council instituted a price control for the best plan to reconstruct the well known boulevard so as to adapt it to modern requirements without robbing it of its general historical aspect. Even the best of the plans were so fantastic that the alteration of the boulevard was given up. The commission compromised by increasing the maximum height of buildings on Unter den Linden from 60 to 80 feet.

SCHOOL TAX ELECTIONS ARE MOBBED PERJURATORY AFFAIRS

MOBILE, May 13 (AP)—The election for the purpose of determining whether local boards should be permitted to levy taxes beyond the statutory limit for school purposes have been largely perjury in Idaho this spring, according to the state superintendent of public instruction. In almost every instance, the voters have signed quite willing to accept the statement of school authorities that additional funds are required and have cast their ballots accordingly. One city in which the original extra levy was voted down last year, a decision that produced a favorable vote of more than two to one.

Some 50 years were spent perfecting the famous Quaker flour. Once you taste it, you are spoiled for ordinary oats. Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "heart" of the oat. GUARANTEED KARNAK TO HELP HIS FRIEND

"That's How Much Faith I've Got In This Medicine Since It's Fixed Me Up So Fine," Says Former Idaho Man.

"Well sir, I just told a friend of mine to get a bottle of Karnak and if it didn't help him I would pay for it myself. He got it from me. He got in this medicine since it's fixed me up so fine."—dear G. E. Farmer, 103 W. Pacific St., Eugene, Wash., formerly of Twin Falls, Idaho. "I tell you, I suffered with a terrible case of stomach trouble," continues Mr. T. G. Kaulbach, "and stomach pains that followed every meal were simply awful. Then, too, I suffered with a numb feeling in my arms almost continually—just seemed like there was no circulation in my hands. I was so nervous that I'd just tremble at times, and I always felt tired and worn out."

Why, since taking two bottles of the medicine my troubles have completely disappeared. It's a pleasure to sit down and eat a real meal, and I also have my pain, headaches or any kind of discomfort afterward.

"My nerves were steady as a rock, and that numb feeling has all disappeared. I just feel like a new person."—T. G. Kaulbach, Twin Falls, Idaho. "I had a most wonderful result from Karnak, too, and we can't say enough for the medicine."

Woman Burglary Suspect Released

Mrs. Pearl Miller, burglary suspect, was released from custody here Thursday when Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor in protest against a motion for dismissal of charges of violation of automobile registration laws that were preferred against her Wednesday when she was released under habeas corpus proceedings in district court.

Mrs. Miller had been detained at the request of Caldwell, Washington authorities, along with two men who gave the names of Carl Mason and Cecil Martin, charged with burglary and safe breaking in a Piggly Wiggly store at Colville last February. Both men and the woman were arrested last Friday and held for investigation in connection with burglary and safe-breaking in the high school building here from which about $600 was taken.

Writs of habeas corpus have been issued in the cases of the two men suspects, on which hearings will be held next Saturday.

The charges against the woman which were dismissed Thursday were based on evidence that one of the two truck cars in which the accused persons had arrived in Twin Falls about a month ago carried license plates issued to O. I. Morris at Meyer Falls, Washington. Pearl Morris was said to have told the officers that clerical error had been made in the issuance of the license for which she had applied.

FIXES TIME FOR ATTACK ON MOTH

District Horticultural Inspector Reports Winged Pests Active in Orchards.

Examination of cherry trees in different parts of the Twin Falls district, shows that eating moths are now out, and depositing eggs, according to Edgar V. Ripson, district horticultural inspector, who has issued the following statement to apple and pear growers. This means that the tiny worms will be entering the apples in from 10 to 14 days, dating from May 12, or about May 22, except where dates have already been set.

It takes to complete his spraying should time the application so as to cause the hatching of the pest on May 22. It will mean in some cases that those who have been delayed in completing their early spray will probably will have to begin start spraying shortly in order to have a fresh dose of poison on the worms and fruit by the time the worms hatch.

The season of 1925 promises to be one of heavy worm infestation and growers are urged to use every precaution in the time of application, strength of material (six pounds of lead arsenate to each 200 gallons), and thoroughness, spraying each cluster of fruit from two opposite sides, in order to avoid a heavy loss of fruit this fall.

Attention is again called to the fact that late sprayed apples, showing any material, will undoubtedly have to go through a cleaning process if they are disposed of, which will increase the harvesting cost much more, a thing which all wish to avoid.

We must therefore concentrate our warfare against the first brood keeping the small, but rapidly growing pest covered with a fresh coat of poison every 10 days or two weeks, during the hatching period, which during a normal season covers a period of from 30 to 45 days.

Growers desiring any further information in regard to control of this pest should get in touch with the inspector and all neglected orchards should be reported at once.

Question of who broke a contract for purchase of potatoes last fall is in issue in the case of the O. J. Johnson Produce company of Twin Falls against John W. Hartin of Kimberly on trial in district court here. Defendant Hartin has filed a cross-complaint and the difference between the quantities in terms of each is $537.50.

Plaintiff, according to evidence, contracted in October to purchase to the effect of 42 acres of potatoes grown by defendant for $1,550 a hundred pounds; that some potatoes were delivered under this contract, and that later in the month defendant refused to make further deliveries. Defendant claims that the purchaser refused to accept the truck loads of potatoes and therefore broke the contract, and that plaintiff owes defendant $289.50.

Nearly a score of witnesses were called to the stand during the course of the trial which opened Thursday, and it is to be resumed today. The case for the plaintiff is being conducted by Porter and Witham and for the defendant by Stephan and North.

WILD FLOWER SKETCHES IN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

Sketches of Idaho wild flowers in color, many of which were new to high school students and older persons who viewed them, made up an interesting and instructive exhibit placed on display Thursday afternoon in the high school library by Mrs. L. Topp, who has been in Twin Falls for several days making sketches of the flora of this region in preparation for a book on the subject that is to be published in the near future.

The exhibition was arranged under auspices of the Twentieth Century Club.

Merchant Financial Wreck

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors, and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of MAYR'S and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and stays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince of money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.
