Tales of Wholesale Corruption in Pittsburgh Told; Alleges Pinchot Opponents Spent Nearly Half Million.

(By The Associated Press.) When it was reported that the wholesale corruption in Pittsburgh, a Pennsylvania stronghold during the Pennsylvania republican primary last month, was charged today before the senate campaign investigating committee by C. C. McGovern, western manager for Governor Pinchot.

McGovern told the committee that his information was that the Pepper force had employed 35,500 voters from information given him before and after the primary election, which 20,000 votes cast for Pinchot had been counted for somebody else.

When it was explained that these "watchers" were paid $10 each, McGovern said that up to a total which they said was $401,000. On this basis he figured that each vote for Pinchot in Allegheny county had cost $4.10 and each vote for Vane $3.21.

McGovern declared his conviction "to a pure purchase of votes" and added that this primary "could anything in my recollection." He asserted that from information given him before and after the primary election, which 20,000 votes cast for Pinchot had been counted for somebody else.

COMMISSION CERTIFIES SUM DUE WESTERN ROAD

ANGERED YOUTH SLAPS PREMIER

Young Hungarian Republican Attacks Count Bethlen at League Palace in Geneva.

GENEVA, June 10. (AP)—This is for an unskilled Hungary, "shouted" László De Juth, a young Hungarian republican today, as towering above the count in the lobby of the League of Nations, he brought his right hand with vigorous swing across the premier's face.

Count Bethlen was just stepping out of a meeting of the sub-committee of the council which reported on the League of Nations for the league's financial control when he met the unexpected assault which roused the count to anger and staggered back and immediately those near at hand surrounded his assailant, who was put under guard.

De Juth, a fashionably dressed youth, declared that he had wanted the count to be elected to the council but did not properly represent Hungary. He wished to give a public demonstration of the count's unfitness.

This is the first time the League of Nations palace has been the scene of a criminal or political attack. It was immediately referred to the committee by the council and by a letter headed by Sir Eric, secretary general of the league, expressing profound indignation.

American Flag Over Each Grave, Symbol Of Redmen's Faith

Osage Indians Mark Resting Places of Dead With Old Glory as Emblem of Belief.

PAWBUKA, Okla., June 10. (AP)—Over the grave of each Osage Indian in the Osage nation floats an American flag—a symbol of the red man's faith in the "Great White Father."

The white man's will wells have made the Osage the richest people on earth. Interests of the tribe are pooled by the government and every year the flood of black gold pours in an average amount of $1,000,000 into the lap of each member.

This condition has made the Indian the envy of men, aristocratic white man. He has been cheated, robbed and even slain for his wealth.

Although it is said, the Osage has maintained steadfast confidence in the power of the government and the white man's will wells.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 10. YALE PROFESSOR FINDS TREE THAT GIVES MILK

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 10. (AP)—A "cow tree" that gives milk was among the new discoveries of trees discovered by Professor Samuel J. Record of the Yale forestry school on Wednesday on a trip to British Honduras and Guatemala.

"At the first stroke of the Guatemalan's ax, a creamy white latex fairly gushed out of the thick bark," Professor Record said today in describing the tree. It looks so much like real milk and was so free from stickiness that I could not resist the temptation of tasting it. I found it sweet and palatable and my only regret was that I have no way of taking back a quantity of it to try it on a dish of bananas."

LETTER CAUSES REIGN UPROAR

German Legislative Body Is Thrown in Turmoil by Von Hindenburg's Declaration.

BERLIN, June 10. (AP)—The reichstag was in an uproar today when the subject of President Von Hindenburg's letter declaring official confirmation of the former ruler's "primary" nature, the wrath of the socialists. They abandoned the reserve with which the presidential office has heretofore been treated and openly criticized the action of the president.

Charging the president with "giving up the neutrality which he solemnly promised to observe in internal political controversy," the socialists, former Chancellor Herman Mueller, declared "this constitutes a violation of the non-partisanship incumbent upon the president by virtue of his office."

President von Hindenburg's letter was addressed to Count Friedrich von Loebel, monarchist leader and Von Hindenburg's campaign manager in the presidential election. Von Hindenburg characterized the proposed return of the property of the former German emperor and other German rulers as "an attack on the constitutional foundations of the state and a violation of the fundamental laws of morals and justice."

STOCKMEN GET LARGE SUM

CHICAGO, June 10. (AP)—In 1918, the stockmen of the United States received about $100,000,000 for their 300,000 carloads of livestock, while in 1925 they received $100,000,000 for 220,000 carloads. H. B. Park, traffic manager of the Chicago livestock exchange, said today in a luncheon address before the food products club.

"This may explain in part the recent election in Iowa," said the speaker.

FARMER RELIEF LEGISLATION IN HOME STRETCH

McNary Measure, Featuring Equalization Fee; Apparently Losing Ground in Senate as Race Nears Finish.

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 10.—Farm relief legislation started down the home stretch today in the senate with the McNary equalization fee bill losing ground.

The senate agreed by unanimous consent to limit debate beginning next Tuesday. The McNary bill, which was introduced on Wednesday, is expected by floor managers. Champions of the McNary measure have the support of the senate today and they conceded tonight that the bill would have a close shave.

They had depended on help from the southern democrats, but leaders of the minority declared the bulk of the bill on the ground that it would serve to make tariff protection a permanent policy of the government.

Declines Endorsement. They received scanty show from Secretary Mellon declined to give the equalization fee principle his endorsement. He had been asked by the senate to give an opinion on the day and they conceded tonight that the bill would have a close shave.

Encouraged by these developments the administration forces offered a substitute which would be used by a federal marketing commission as loans to cooperative farm organizations for the marketing of surplus products.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., June 10. (AP)—A Wyandotte county jury must decide today how loud a whistle should sound as the result of a $10,000 damage suit filed today for Harvey Fanning, 10-year-old son of M. P. Fanning, a farmer.

The petition asks $10,000 from the Fanning railroad, alleging "an unreasonably loud blow" frightened horses, causing it to run away and injure the child.

The engineer or fireman—blow the whistle to attract the attention of a girl who was in the buggy, the petition claims.

TRACING FOX GENEALOGY BACK TO ORIGINAL PAIR

MINNEAPOLIS, June 10. (AP)—The tracing of all registered fox genealogy back to the original pair of silver foxes taken from the wilds of Prince Edward Island, soon will be made possible.

The first local statistics of fox ancestry will be published this year by the American National Fox Breeders' association. The record will comprise eight volumes, involving progenitors of more than 200,000 foxes distributed over 100 ranches in the United States and Alaska.

Dillon and Oulton, Canadian trappers, years ago captured the first pair of silver foxes in the northern wilds. This catch laid the foundation of an industry which now comprises ranches in 22 states, representing an investment of $100,000,000 and an aggregate livestock exceeding 100,000,000.

ONE KILLED IN MINNES DISPUTE

Utah Man Drives Prospectors Off Property at Point of Gun; Ends in Shooting.

PARK CITY, Utah, June 10. (AP)—Joseph Whitford, also known as James Albee, was shot and instantly killed today by James P. Burns, 65, on mining claims owned by Burns.

Burns, who surrendered to the police after the killing, said that Whitford, Leo Spiess and Theodor Gamble were prospecting on ground which Burns claimed as his property. Burns said he ordered the trio off his land. They immediately left, he said, and Burns, who had a rifle, followed them for some distance to make sure that they were leaving. Whitford, Burns said, turned to him and said: "You've followed us far enough."

Whitford pulled his gun, Burns asserted, but before he could fire, the elder man shot him.

BRAZILIANS MAY QUIT ASSEMBLY

Indications Point to South American Country Leaving League of Nations Altogether.

GENEVA, June 10. (AP)—Brazil has resigned as a member of the council of the League of Nations in which she holds a non-permanent seat. As Brazil's resignation from the League of Nations, the decision on this important item will be communicated later.

Such, in brief, is the substance of a telegram from his government, which the League of Nations secretary general, at a meeting of the council tonight, as given out by league officials and confirmed by members of the Brazilian delegation. The council did not accept Brazil's resignation and it is not known yet if any of the league states is empowered to do so.

A feature of a most exciting day in league history was the announcement by the representative of Spain that her attitude towards the general council problem remained unchanged.

Both Brazilian and Spanish announcements, which arise from the fact that the council is not in a position of obtaining permanent seats in the council is hopeless, have created the greatest confusion and it is not known yet if either whether Brazil and Spain actually intend to quit the league.

Diplomatic efforts will be concentrated to induce them not to take what Sir Austen Chamberlain has called an irreversible step, perhaps by promising to support both of them for reelection as temporary members.

Folklore People to Memorialize Author Of Kentucky Home

Famous Old Song of Southland to be Sung at Shrine During Celebration of Fourth.

HARDSTOWN, Ky., June 10. (AP)—American Folklore societies are to memorialize a man who wrote "My Old Kentucky Home."

On July 4, 1824, while a land outside the home of Stephen Foster was playing for the national holiday, the famous composer was born. His song will be played and sung here, around his statue and in the home where he wrote it, this July 4.

Under a storm of protest, a resolution to adopt a song other than "My Old Kentucky Home" as the official song of the Commonwealth was defeated in the house during the legislative session. The senate had passed a resolution substituting a song "Kentucky" composed recently by Mrs. Leola Cook.

Foster's biographers told a sad and true story. He walked the streets of Louisville in old shabby and shabby clothing. He would write and compose a song in the morning, and in the afternoon would appear in the streets in the morning before night." He died when 37.

LIQUOR ORDER SURVIVES ROW

House Judiciary Committee Refuses to Approve Britten Proposal for Nullification.

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Taking a hard line in the controversy over prohibition, the house judiciary committee today refused to approve a resolution to prohibit use of state and local police as federal enforcement agencies.

The proposal, sponsored by Representative Britten, republican, Illinois, would have nullified the recent order issued by President Coolidge which, although held legal by a majority of the senate judiciary committee, probably will not be carried into effect, at least for the time being.

POPULATION OF U. S. FORECAST

Engineer of Bell Telephone Company Estimates 146,000,000 People by 1950.

TULSA, Okla., June 10. (AP)—The probable population of the United States in 1950 will be approximately 146,000,000, according to working estimates brought today before the National Association of Real Estate Boards by E. N. Wilson of St. Louis, commercial engineer of the Southwest Bell Telephone company.

By that time the urban regions, which he said contains 54.4 per cent of the total population, will have a total of about 80,500,000 or an increase of 62 per cent over the 1920 total. Rural communities, Mr. Wilson's figures showed, would then have a total population of approximately 65,500,000. Their population may be expected to increase only eight per cent over the period.

The population expectancy for the United States in 1950 is now four million less than it appeared to be several years ago, he said. "The revision is due principally to changes in the immigration movement and the acceleration of the movement from farms and smaller towns to the cities."

Home- Hunters Seek Outlook.
The present trend of home-hunters in the outskirts of the cities via the hot automobile roads, according to J. E. Miller of Geneva, Ohio, vice chairman of the farm lands division, is predicted to be a great increase in the population of areas just outside the corporate limits. Two acres is his average for a suburban farm, and advised against novelty advertising in selling them. The local papers, he said, are the best.

Boys Grouping of Broken.
Amalgamation of real estate brokers into large, consolidated corporations, able to give complete real estate service to the community in which they operate, will be the ultimate brokerage business, in the view of Leonard P. Reutter, former president of the Detroit board.

Such an amalgamation would bring the best service to the public and the greatest access to the operators, he declared.

Business buildings which are not erected with a view of filling a logical need according to the location become expensive monuments, Stanley M. Michael of Cleveland, told another section of the session.

"Surveying the needs of a community for housing, and for applying a logical need, is an intelligent way in which to proceed before any building is erected," he said.

Joseph Henry Is Lonely Caretaker Of Army's Secret Atlantic Cables

BOSTON, June 10. (AP)—A little gray-steps with a queer signal hanging from his mouth and his eyes cast about in the great port of eastern and southern United States. Yet thousands of travelers who view it never suspect that this vessel, the only one of its class, is vitally concerned in the defense of the American coast.

The ship is the U. S. S. Joseph Henry. Its work is the maintenance of a secret system of submarine telephone cables that enables the coast artillery to train its big guns on targets out at sea. The Joseph Henry, anchored here or there or buried steaming about its business, is the only visible evidence of these under-water communication lines.

"Coast Artillery."
It might be appropriately called "the outfit of the coast artillery." The eyes that help find the range of distant targets are located far away from the harbor fort, sometimes on a neighboring promontory; sometimes on an island in the harbor. The cables are the nerves that carry the ranging information to the "guns" that fires the big batteries.

The fact that these under-water cables exist is a secret. Their exact location, however, is a military secret. They are laid so that they are out of the way of shipping lanes and submarines. Nevertheless, every so often, some vessel fouls one of the cables, or a new cable must be laid, or a cable develops a leak.

If this situation occurs anywhere from Portland, Maine, to Galveston, Texas, the Joseph Henry appears on the scene. It is designated a mine layer, although it never laid a mine and probably never will. A hundred and sixty-five feet long and displacing 601 tons, its only distinguishing characteristics are a huge reel of wire, mounted horizontally on its forward upper deck, a big sheave on a forward boom, and another pair of sheaves at the bow.

It looks like a navy ship, but it is operated by the army, being attached to the Seventh Coast Artillery at Sandy Hook. The crew consists of enlisted coast artillerymen and warrant officers under Captain T. H. Parker. It is supposed to carry a crew of 25, but the vessel is generally short-handed. When not working it lies up in the shadow of the Statue of Liberty at Bedloe's Island.

Repairing Damaged Cables.
Wind and tide must often determine the movements of the Joseph Henry. It slips away to where the cable has been snipped, drags about on the bottom for a while with a grapping hook, and hauls up one end of the broken line. The line may have been badly damaged. It is strung through a sheave then wound on the big reel as the ship moves forward, slowly through the water.

The cable looks like rope, less than three inches in diameter, but it is of sterner stuff than most ropes. It weighs about 10 pounds to the foot. If it is of the "50-pair" variety, its core consists of 250 separate wires in insulation. About them is a water-tight lead sheath. The lead is wound with the "serving" and outside of that is bound heavy steel "armor wire."

It is not easy to work with. Kinks must be taken out. Leaks and short circuits must be found. Restored to perfect condition, the cable is taken out again by the Joseph Henry to be re-laid. A small boat picks up a buoy and brings a rope aboard to which the other broken end has been attached. Then this end is dragged aboard.

While the Joseph Henry is at work a signal swings from the mast which means in the international code "Engaged in cable work; not under control."

The end of the broken cable just dragged aboard is cut off and tested with a man working on the land to help, if possible. Then the wire ends are "shuffled out in position, they are spliced, matched by "pairs," insulated, bound with tape, and covered with a leaden sleeve. The joint is "served" or sealed. It is "served" with the joint covering and bound over with the armor wire. Then the splice in the armor wire is served over with tape and the cable is ready to lay again.

Slowly the ship moves forward. A brake controls the big revolving drum. "Splice!" a deckhand shouts and the brake is released while a splice rides through the sheave. The cable is laid and brought ashore. It is tested for leaks and connected to the maze of wires leading into the switchboard of the fort. There the responsibility of the Joseph Henry ends.

LITTLE THEATRE NEEDS ARTISTS

Noted Professional Urges Amateurs to Stay With Movement to Assure Its Success.

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—If the Little Theatre movement is to succeed those within the ranks must be real artists and not have to work merely in the professional stage.

So believes Walter Hartwig, who four years ago started the Little Theatre tournaments in New York, the last three of which were won by the Dallas players.

Hartwig looks forward to the day when the Little Theatre will be so well established it can provide remuneration for the members through a division of profits. At present he hopes to see the numerous groups begin, nationwide tours and through their general excellence enhance the spoken drama "on the road."

"Only this I mean, the Dallas players would go to San Francisco and other large cities for engagements of a week each," he explained. "Chicago, Cleveland, New Orleans, Louisville, the Carolina Playmakers and others would do likewise. Each could come to New York for a week's run."

Hartwig Is Pessimistic.

Hartwig has been stage manager for Daniel Frohman for many years. He is pessimistic about the present professional theatre.

"It has been isolated in a form and everything placed on a business basis," he gave as one of the reasons. Certainly no theatre can expect to progress when the mechanics back-stage are paid more than most of the artists.

"When a Little Theatre actor or playwright achieves recognition, and such added fame on Broadway, he only wentons his own organization and virtually has no opportunity for the accomplishment of anything worth while on the professional stage."

In this connection, he pointed out that Oliver Hindell, of Dallas brought four actors to New York last year and returned with two. Numerous others who had their early training in the Little Theatre now are on Broadway—some employed and others making the dreary round of the agencies.

ENTER "GRIFTER" TO PLY HIS TRADE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—In the Broadway forties, where the grifters drift by day and night, where the auto traffic rules no hand, and where "Grip" flourishes with no thought of "Grip" an unknown Ohio automobilist was accorded truly royal courtesies.

His open sedan was not money or influence, but two wheels of the auto, vernacular "battery trouble." On a Saturday afternoon he parked one block off Broadway, where a mag-for-tips—waiter parked, auto during theatre hours. The Okie said he was leaving his car while he fixed "battery trouble."

He left and was not seen there.

 Idaho's able leaders have drawn California's attention to Idaho's opportunities, and centers of the Pacific Northwest are due for an awakening to an appreciation of Idaho's possibilities for trade expansion, according to the Spokane Spokesman-Review,
 which says:

In recent addresses in Spokane,
 there were three speakers—Senator Gooding, Governor Moore and President H. K. Stephens of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.
 These eminent speakers, in the order of western markets and a western outlet for the products of their state. The interest on the part of here and at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon last week, has not yet come to full realization of the great value of the Pacific coast. Idaho must turn to the west for better markets.

That was the object of the reception given by Governor Moore and other state officials, with Presi-

 of the state chamber of commerce,
 to Los Angeles and the southwest.
 The Idaho visitors were surprised by facts that Los Angeles had as-

Los Angeles has become the feet on the side of Spokane and other interior communities by appointing before the interstate commerce commission and opposing the application of the railroads.

In making this change of base
 Los Angeles was not actuated altogether by altruistic motives. Her leaders had the understanding and vision to discern that the Pacific coast is a more fertile field for
 —to cultivate friendly relations with the interior, to foster Los Angeles increasing shipping, and to protect its manufacturing interests from the competition of Chicago and the middle west that was threatened by the then pending rate case.

If that is sound policy for Los Angeles, it is equally sound for Portland, Seattle and Tacoma. It is strange that a matter of this nature has slipped to the rear of the eyes of the horizon, has escaped the observation of the leaders of thought and action in the great cities of the Pacific northwest.

Celebration Crowd Here Will See Genuine Frontier Days' Pack Train

A frontier pack train such as played an important part when gold mining was the only industry and stock growing was in its infancy in this region, is to be a feature attraction of the celebration of the Fourth of July in Twin Falls on July 6. It was announced Tuesday evening by E. L.
 Ashburn, mayor of Twin Falls, and chairman of the celebration committee.

The mayor's announcement disclosed
 the feature attraction of the celebration for which plans have been in the making since last December and in which all the towns and communities of southern Idaho and northern Nevada are to participate, bringing to Twin Falls for the day one of the largest crowds in the history of the city.

The pack train, the mayor announced, will be a campaign feature and will be a genuine frontier pack train, and will be staged by the Utah Construction company under direction of Archie Johnson, local manager.

Scores of mules and horses together with all pack-train equipment will be brought down from the mountains and construction company's great trucks for staging of this celebration feature. It is to be an accurate reproduction of the pack trains of the early days of this region, were the only means of transportation of supplies to the interior, and the pack trains were the only means of transporting cattle ranches. It will restore the occasion an illustration of the past, and will be a feature of the celebration. The pack train will be a time residents providing for the later comes an extraordinary opportunity for gaining an insight into the conditions of the past. The pack train has begun the establishment of an empire in this region.

COUNCIL TALKS WATER RATE AND SYSTEM NEEDS

Discusses Problem of Securing Necessary Equipment Without Increasing Charge to Consumers.

How to procure equipment for purchase of needed equipment for the municipal waterworks system without increasing the present water rate was a problem that claimed the attention of Twin Falls city council in regular session Monday evening. No decision was reached.

The councilman also discussed provisions of a proposed amendment to the city charter which would require
 specific definitions of the terms, "garbage," "rubbish," and "containers,"
 and would require that all such
 improvement district funds to meet
 expense of garbage collection on Third avenue north was authorized,
 and establishing district for the current season was voted.

Facts and Figures
 Discussion of waterworks revenue and requirements brought out the fact that the present rate with a dollar minimum charge last year brought in a revenue of approximately $28,000.
 Total expenditures were approximately $31,000. The balance at the end of the fiscal year, in conformity to the city charter, was $2,000. The councilman also discussed provisions of a proposed amendment to
 the city charter which would require
 specific definitions of the terms, "garbage," "rubbish," and "containers,"
 and would require that all such
 improvement district funds to meet
 expense of garbage collection on Third avenue north was authorized,
 and establishing district for the current season was voted.

Requirements Listed
 Necessity for replacement of much of the wooden pipe in the water works system for making for extra expenditures by the city was discussed this year, Mr. Smith stated. Last year two barrels of new pipe were laid to replace old pipe. This year, Mr. Smith figures, at least four barrels of new pipe should be used. This involves an expenditure of approximately $10,000, or about $2,000 more than was spent for new pipe last year. Other items of extra expense last year, as outlined by Mr. Smith, include buying of a steam boiler installation to provide an emergency water supply in the event of low water in the main, and installing a new device for feeding chlorine into the water in the process of purification, and purchase and installation of a new dynamo, according to estimates, would cost $2,000; the disconnector $1,700 and the pump $3,000.

PREN MOORE PREDICTS EGG PRODUCTION JUMP

Rapid and substantial development of the poultry industry in this Idaho will make possible the shipment of 400 cases of eggs from this region this year, according to estimates made by Iren C. Moore, University of Idaho poultry specialist, who, with Mr. W. V. Larson, Twin Falls, Idaho, poultry department, was in Twin Falls Monday.

Large lots of accredited flocks in connection with the development of the industry was pointed out by Mr.
 Moore, who called attention to the fact that the University of Idaho has put in flock mating agreements must be received by him by July 1, and that applications should be made through the county agent's office.
 Mr. Parkhurst's business here was to gather data with respect to the poultry industry.

BERLENBACH IS SUCCESSFUL IN HOLDING TITLE

Light Heavy Weight Champion Beats Young Stribling, Georgia Challenger, in Tame-Air at Yankee Stadium.

(By the Associated Press.)
YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 10.—Dan Berlenbach easily won back the challenge of Young Stribling, the world's light-heavy weight title tonight, battering the young Georgian into decisive defeat in a match that fell far from the spectacular heights expected of it.

A crowd of 50,000 saw the champion give Stribling an unmerciful pounding almost from start to finish, forcing the battle in nearly every round and piling up a margin on points that made the judges' decision at the finish a mere formality.

Stribling, flashy and confident by comparison with Berlenbach's slow maneuvering at the start, got away in passively in the first three rounds but a smacking left hook, planted just over the heart brought him up short in the fourth round.

Decisive Punch.
That punch, abruptly checking a headlong rush by the Georgian, really was the deciding factor and the turning point. After it, Stribling seemed bereft of his usual speed and agility. He was a mark for Berlenbach's driving rights and lefts to the body mixed with hooks to the head that had the northern youth groggy in at least four of the ensuing rounds—the sixth, tenth, twelfth and fourteenth.

Fighting on the defensive for the last few rounds except for one flustering rally in the ninth, Stribling resorted to all his tricks and tactics to stave off Berlenbach's steady rushes and punishing blows.

Berlenbach tried hard to score a knockout. He had Stribling in full retreat a good share of the time and connected solidly on occasions but not infrequently to the Georgian's down.

Fast Preliminary.
Bergman, Sammy Baker, solidly welterweight from Mitchell field, but took his way to the judges' decision over Red Herring, of Gulfport, Miss., in a tournament match, the first preliminary to the Berlenbach-Stribling title bout.

The solidly boxer was the aggressor most of the way, landing with damaging effect to the head and body and flooring Herring for a count of four in the fifth round. This was the only knockout. Baker weighed 145 1/2 and Herring 135.

The second preliminary was over almost before it started, with Monte Munn, of Lincoln, Nebraska, scoring a technical knockout over Joe Burkin, negro heavy weight of Dallas, Texas, after only one minute and 29 seconds of the first round had elapsed.

Munn, a former member of the Nebraska legislature and brother of Wayne (Big) Munn, the wrestling champion, was a former member of the Nebraska legislature and brother of Wayne (Big) Munn, the wrestling champion, was a former member of the Nebraska legislature and brother of Wayne (Big) Munn, the wrestling champion.

Round One.
Stribling landed the first punch, a light right to the chin. Berlenbach countered with a weak left to the body. They danced around cautiously, Berlenbach ripped his left to the challenger's ribs. At close quarters Berlenbach missed a left hand and took Stribling's right to head. They clinched and Berlenbach scored to the body with his left. A planning right handered off Berlenbach's head but it was unneeded the champion's left. The bell stopped Berlenbach's counter.

Round Two.
Stribling rusted in but Berlenbach clinched. A left to the body caused Stribling to back. Another left sent the challenger's head back but the blows were weak. A swinging right struck Berlenbach in the face and he clinched. They wrestled around. The referee cautioned Stribling for holding.

Round Three.

Round Four.
Stribling put over a left to the face and the usual clinch followed. They wrestled around. Stribling leaning in an effort to find an opening. A left to the side of the head staggered the challenger. A short left to the body brought blood to the challenger's mouth. Another left to the head sent Stribling to the ropes and he drove into a clinch immediately. Two lefts to the head staggered the challenger and he backed up. Another short left to the face stung Stribling but the bell prevented the champion's follow.

Both missed leads and they clinched. A left and right to the face left Stribling wide open and the champion smashed over his driving left. Stribling landed a hard right to the body, but took Berlenbach's left to the face. Both landed lefts to the head and then clinched. The crowd biased as Stribling came in close to Jung up. A driving left square to the face forced the challenger to back. They were dancing at the bell.

Round Six.
At close quarters a punch to the body with honors even. Stribling walked into lefts to the face and then grabbed to clinch. A left to the ribs lifted Stribling off his feet. They clinched and danced as the crowd looked for action. Two lefts to the head and one to the body weakened the challenger and he covered up. The champion was forcing the fighting. A ripping left to the ribs caught Stribling open and he clinched just as the bell rang.

Round Seven.

Clinch followed clinch as the boxes fought cautiously. Two more crashing lefts to the head brought fresh blood from the challenger's mouth. The champion showed his teeth, Stribling continued to hold on. The champion came out of a clinch with blood coming from his left eye just as the round ended.

Round Eight.
Stribling sent Berlenbach's head back with left and the usual clinch followed. Stribling tore in, missed attempted to clinch with Berlenbach but missed his grip and fell to the canvas. He was up immediately. Berlenbach's took Stribling's left on his glove and crossed with his own left to send Stribling's head back. Four times Stribling hung off the head. In every clinch Stribling hung off. The bell found them locked tight.

Round Nine.
They met in a clinch and waited to the ropes. The champion waited. Stribling lunged and crashed his right to the jaw. A wild right landed to the side of the champion's head and he was up. Stribling's longer with driving lefts to the body. Stribling slipped—an uppercut to the champion's face and then hung on. A left to the face lifted Stribling off his feet and he was grabbing to clinch as the bell rang.

Round Ten.
The referee cautioned Stribling for holding as the men met in a clinch. Stribling ripped his right to Berlenbach's ribs and almost toppled the champion from the ring. Stribling came in fast but Berlenbach held him off with a straight left to the face. The crowd roared as Stribling failed to hold on. Stribling hung to Berlenbach's body every time they came to close quarters. The champion sent over a crashing left to the head and Stribling saved himself from going down by grabbing the champion on his way. They were waiting at the bell.

Round Eleven.
Stribling staggered Berlenbach with a straight right to the head and then backed up. Stribling attempted to hang on but the champion's sweetly body caused him to lose his grip and Berlenbach beat him back body about the body. Berlenbach ripped over two hard lefts to the ribs and then held his challenger off with his left arm extended. The referee had trouble parting the pair just before the bell sounded.

Round Twelve.
Stribling sent the champion back on his heels with a left to the face and then hung on. Stribling landed a weak right to the head but Berlenbach countered with a left to the ribs. Berlenbach jared Stribling with a right to the body. Berlenbach hit him to the body as Stribling came into hang on. Another straight left to the face brought nose blood from the challenger's mouth. Stribling was not landing a blow as he tried to evade Berlenbach's onslaught at close quarters. Stribling was hanging on as usual at the bell.

Round Thirteen.
Stribling came in and jared the champion with a left to face. Berlenbach missed a left and clinched. Stribling threw Berlenbach off the head and Stribling ducked and grabbed to the body in an effort to dodge the champion's right. The champion drove Stribling to a corner and showered him with lefts to the body and head. They wrestled around. Stribling continued to hang on. Five times Berlenbach scored to the body as Stribling was getting his grip on Berlenbach's body. The bell found them dancing around.

Round Fourteen.
Stribling drove a savage right to the body then jabbed to the face with his left. Stribling landed another good right to the body but Berlenbach punched him about the body. Stribling's next rush drove Berlenbach through the ropes but he was back in the ring without a count. Every charge resulted in a clinch from which the referee had difficulty in breaking them. Berlenbach brought his left into play again to the body as Stribling hung on to save himself from punishment as the bell rang.

Round Fifteen.
They shook hands. Two clinches followed. Berlenbach poured both gloves to his challenger's body as Stribling came in to hang on. They wrestled around the ring to the delight of the spectators. ## Camel is the smoker's sign of friendship

IN THE home, or at the club—in busy office or crowded street—whenever friend meets friend, you will hear that magic invitation—have a Camel!

And wherever Camels are lighted, men come together in more friendly understanding. No other cigarette ever had or made so many friends or brought so much added friendliness to the world as Camel, for Camel's quality is a universal language.

Camel is more than a cigarette. It is an experience in smoking enjoyment—the finest this old earth affords. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown, and these fine tobaccos are superbly blended, as in no other cigarette. The enjoyment of Camels goes on forever, for they never tire the taste no matter how liberally you smoke them. They simply never leave a cigarettey after-taste. No other cigarette in the world is like them. Millions of experienced smokers who could well afford to pay more will buy and smoke only Camels.

Whenever and wherever you meet a friend, let that be a standing invitation to the sheepest enjoyment that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

ELECTION DAY STIRS RUMANIA

Returns Reveal Sweeping Victory for Premier Averescu; Many Petty Disputes.

BUCHAREST, June 10 (AP)—(Delayed)—From one end of Rumania to the other cries of triumph, jubilation and violence have followed the recent parliamentary election which returned a sweeping victory for Premier Averescu.

Minor assaults, numerous arrests, the forcible prevention of voters, polluted ballots and even nonvotes themselves from entering the election district, were legion, as indeed they are at every Rumanian election of the kind.

The final tabulations showed that Premier Averescu captured 80 per cent of the majority in both houses. The national peasant coalition obtained about 15 per cent and the Bratianu group, which it is stated in political circles is really an anti-Averescu peasant faction, obtained a few scattering places in each chamber.

State of Siege. The entire town of Rumania was mobilized for ten days, the country was virtually in a state of siege. Having no voice through the army and the police obeyed implicitly the orders of the existing Averescu government regarding the election.

The government has promised a complete investigation into charges that peasants were killed, 20 were wounded in Transylvania during the recent district elections there.

Why Americans Excel

The genius of America is restless. It is always striving to master new problems; and when new problems are solved, it advances to others. It is never satisfied.

For that reason we are constantly moving forward into new fields of discovery—insatiable, always demanding something newer, something better, something different.

Nothing demonstrates this more remarkably than the advertisements you read. They cover the entire range of human requirements—from the absolute necessities of life to the most refined luxuries. Yet they are constantly changing. This continual change means fresh material, fresh ideas, a stimulus to new endeavor.

The moment you cease to find interest in the advertisements of the offerings of industry, of commerce, of art—that moment you will begin to retrogress, and the world will slip away from you.

Lawson's condition, according to Dr. J. E. Langenwatter, county physician, was regarded Thursday evening as being serious.

SHIPPERS WORK OUT PLANS TO MARKET CROPS

Advisory Board Collects Production Data for Working Out Program in Conference With Carriers.

Growers and shippers of southern Idaho and other central western states will assemble with representatives of railroad systems in Twin Falls on July 8 at a meeting of the central western shippers' advisory board to work out plans for reducing transportation and marketing of this season's crops, it was announced here Wednesday by W. L. Harvey, of Denver, secretary of the board.

The board, through its representatives in all parts of the region, is engaged in collecting information as to probable volume of crop and livestock movements with view to working out the most advantageous and economical program for handling this freight.

Works With Carriers.

The board is working with carriers in close cooperation with the carriers, and recently it has been given the right to requisition from the carriers important information that has a bearing on the shippers' problems.

The data with respect to freight volume and available carriers' equipment will be laid before the meeting at Salt Lake and effort made to work out a satisfactory program for handling the freight.

One of the big achievements of the board in this region has been recorded in connection with assistance given important growers in orderly marketing of their products.

Coal Movement Heavy.

One of the interesting bits of information that has come to the attention of the board, Mr. Harvey stated, has to do with records for coal shipments, showing an unusually heavy movement of coal for this season into the consumers' bins. This fact, Mr. Harvey stated, indicates that coal—ordinarily used in the beet digging season for hauling coal, will be released this year by the coal interests so that a plentiful supply of coal will be made available this year for the hauling of beets.
