World War Veteran, in Written Confession, Gives Details of Mail Car Looting.

CHRYSENNE, Wyo., Dec. 15 (AP)—Howard E. Barnett, world war veteran of several major campaigns, today told through a written confession that he was admitted as evidence in United States district court, how he and one of seven defendants met on train near Union Pacific mail train near Post Springs, Wyoming, August 15, 1925, and looted $25,000 in funds and jewelry.

Barnett said in his confession that he was first approached in Salt Lake City by one of the conspirators, who asked him if he wanted to make some money driving a car. The money of the conspiracy was taken from the confession by order of the court. He said he went over the ground of the robbery and saw the mail car, but that the men were kept from him but that the men were kept.

No More Worry
"We won't have to worry the rest of our lives."
On the night of August 15, the defendant said, he and two other men went to Hamon, Wyoming, and one of them told him, "This is going to be a mail robbery and you have to take a revolver, a pistol and a handkerchief to put over his face. Then just get on the car and wait for a signal from the door of the mail carriage and crawl inside his accomplice leading the way and ordering the clerks to drop the floor of the carriage and the accomplice cut open the registered mail sacks after the clerks had been bound and tied and the mail was taken and went back to ask one of the clerks where it was. "The clerk said he did not know where it was, and he said he had to go through everything," the statement said.

Received $110 for Work
His accomplice, after further search, the statement continued, found money, bank notes and checks, which they put in a sack and dropped off the train when they saw flashlight signals outside. Barnett said he made his accomplice left that night near Rock Springs and that he went in a hotel where another accomplice gave him $100 and a light blue suit, the statement said.

GREEN FLATLY DENIES CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Colonel Ned Green, deposed prohibition administrator for northern California and Nevada, had his day in court today in his trial on charges of embezzling government liquor, but he was not permitted to testify that he was the victim of a plot to remove him from office.

Deposed Prohibition Administrator Has His Day in Court; Plot Testimony Stricken.

Colonel Green put on record a flat denial that he had violated the Volstead act. He testified his duties some times required him to drink confidential liquor, but that he always had done his drinking in his hotel room. Previously he had told the court his duties often made it necessary for him to obtain the labels and boxes of liquor seized by prohibition agents.

Objections Block Testimony

Colonel Green attempted to relate the facts of a supposed conspiracy by certain unidentified men and women to remove him from office, but was blocked by objections. The chief counsel for the government, Theodore J. Roche, then explained that it was hoped to show that Colonel Green had been asked to raise a certain sum, but discovered that it was part of a plot to compromise him with the government.

Idaho Falls Man Takes Stand to Tell of Slaying

BOISE, Dec. 15 (AP)—Arguments are to commence Thursday morning in the case of Herman Albers, lawyer, slain proprietor, who is charged with first degree murder for the alleged slaying of Ed Irwin on October 4.

Idaho Falls Man Takes Stand to Tell of Slaying

Other Albers, a partner of Albers, when testifying, declared that the men had been close together when the fatal shots were fired and that he believed Irwin had reached for a gun as Albers fired.

The state inferred in its cross-examination of Albers that he acted as a "lookout" for Albers while he entered a cigar store and called Irwin outside. The state also intimated that Albers was carrying a gun at the time of the shooting and that he and Albers had planned to shoot Irwin as he came outside. Albers vehemently denied the inferences.

SOULD EXONERATED OF CHARGES OF BRIBERY

PORTLAND, Maine, Dec. 15 (AP)—United States Senator Arthur R. Gould was exonerated six years ago by an investigating committee of the New Brunswick purification of bribery charges. State Senator Frederick W. Hinckley said tonight after word had been received from Portland, New Brunswick, that his official records of the investigation into the St. John Valley & Quebec railway matter, involving Mr. Gould, were missing from the files. Senator Hinckley said he had been unaware of this investigation until Monday when he appeared as counsel for Mr. Gould before the senate committee which had been referred charges that he had paid a bribe of $100,000 in 1919 to a K. P. Plouffe, then premier of New Brunswick, in connection with a contract for rights to build the railroad.

McKaig Challenges Editor to Debate On Power Project

Challenge to J. H. Masters, publisher of the Twin Falls Times, to debate feasibility of proposed development of the Clear Lake power site by a mutual company, was issued here Wednesday evening by Ray McKaig of Boise, former editor of the proposed alternative paper. McKaig's challenge is as follows:

"Since the editor of the Twin Falls Times has not seen fit to raise the issue, I have run up the flag on the Idaho Power company and torn down the flag of the progressives because I rejected the proposed Clear Lake Mutual Power company. I challenge him to a debate on that subject before any group of citizens of this city."

"Let us debate," resolved, that the Clear Lake Mutual Power company is not feasible for the farmers of the Twin Falls county and is a practical proposition for the farmers will cost too much.

"I will prove that no group of farmers, say 25, by clubbing together and putting up their own lines and poles and transformers and incorporating the Clear Lake power site for less than 2 cents a kilowatt from the Idaho Power company by taking at least 10,000 kilowatts a month. That is a minimum. Any group of 25 farmers will use that much if they use electricity for power and cooking and lighting."

"I will prove that this rate is as cheap as is that for power sold the cooperatives line of farmers in the Minidoka project, and also that the public utilities commission will have the Idaho Power company join the line to the farmers, as the government pitches up the coop lines in Minidoka county."

"I will show that the Clear Lake Mutual will have to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to develop the plant on the river after the government spend that money they will have to spend at least $250 each to get the light to their homes. Whereas they can build their own coop lines and connect with the feed wires of the Idaho power line by applying through the public utility commission, they can get this power at less than 2 cents a kilowatt, thus saving the cost of in developing the Clear Lake Mutual those hundreds of thousands of dollars."

"I will show that the Clear Lake Mutual has no guarantee other than some engineer's word what the cost of electricity will be. Now, if the editor, or if he refuses, and Mr. Dibble wants to debate on this, I am ready. And I suggest, let the farmers decide for themselves if I am wrong. I did not mean to get drawn into this. But I was accused of a sinister purpose and called names for criticizing this proposed mutual company. I suggest that instead of calling names, we show the facts at the debate."

Senator McKaig of Oregon and Representatives Lea and Carter of California headed the delegation, which was told that the board at this time would be unable to make a favorable report on the project, but would grant writ, unless a further hearing held at which additional information would be submitted.

METHODISTS OF SOUTHERN IDAHO TO GATHER HERE

Hundreds of Church People Will Congregate in Twin Falls January 25 and 26 for First Meeting of Kind in State.

Hundreds of members and many of the pastors of the eastern district of the Methodist Episcopal church, which includes all territory east and south of Boise in Idaho, will meet in Twin Falls January 25 and 26, at the first Methodist men's and women's council ever held in Idaho.

Address will be given by Dr. E. Guy Cuthall of Theology, president of the Allis School of Theology; Bishop Edgar Blake, Paris, France, resident bishop of the Paris area of Europe; Dr. Lorenzo H. King, editor of the Shepherd's Christian Advocate, of Atlanta, Georgia; Bishop William C. Shepard of Portland, resident bishop of the Portland area and many other leaders.

Preliminary arrangements for the meeting in Twin Falls were completed by Dr. Edgar L. White of Twin Falls, while in Portland, where he attended a Methodist men's council December 29 and 30, in which 2400 men participated. The convention here will be similar to those conducted during the past few months in Seattle, Spokane, Portland and eastern cities, with the exception that participation on the part of women will be solicited here.

Dr. Bert Smith of Chicago, national secretary of the conference, will preside at the opening of the Methodist Episcopal church, will arrive here January 21 to take charge of the affair.

Purpose of the meeting, Dr. White stated Wednesday evening, is to inspire and encourage not only men and women of the Methodist church, but to build up spiritual morale of Christian people.

The meeting will be held in the Methodist church main auditorium here. The forenoon of January 25 will be given over to the district conference and other business as may need be transacted. The afternoon of the first day and the following day and evening will be given over to speakers.

On January 27 and 28 a similar meeting will be held in Boise, with the same speakers appearing on the program.

SPHINX HAS MAN'S FACE
The supposition that the head of the Sphinx was that of a female was dispelled by the discovery of fragments of a beard. Mr. Piazzi Smyth says: "It is a man's face and had once a large stone beard." # Final Tribute Paid Twin Falls Pioneer

Funeral services for James Cannon Moore, pioneer of the Twin Falls country who died early last Monday morning at the Twin Falls county general hospital at the age of 82 years were conducted Wednesday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Blue & Company mortuary. Rev. Arthur Peterson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. Two songs, "Lead Kindly Light," and "Love That Will Not Let Me Fall," were sung by A. Wilson Ford, who played his own accompaniment on the piano. The profession of final tributes that was evident at the services clearly attested to the high regard in which the deceased was held by the many people with whom he has spent the past score of years.

Funeral services were held by P. E. Chamberlain, B. T. Hamilton, E. Minutely, F. R. Cox and Thomas Cavender. The body was laid at rest in the Twin Falls cemetery.
