THE FEDERAL GAME LAW

The sportsman of the West are this year for the first time to encounter the full rigor of the Federal migratory bird law. The federal game laws made to suit eastern conditions and for the pleasure of the eastern millinaires, gives the West a good hard blow and practically kills the sport of duck shooting. As most Western sportsmen will know, the flight of ducks owing to the scarcity of feeding grounds is for the most part in the very early morning and late in the evening. Strict compliance with federal regulations of shooting only between sunrise and sunset would make a very slim bag for every Western sportsman.

The law passed to stop the slaughter of ducks on the Chesapeake bay like most federal laws lacks elasticity because most of the people sent to Washington must kneel under to the Eastern legislators in Congress, who in turn are dominated without a doubt by the wealthy leisure class.

The sportsman of the West are a law abiding bunch of men and the federal authorities will have little trouble in enforcing the law however obnoxious it now appears to be to the Westerners.

A CURE FOR LAWLESSNESS

A recent editorial in Leslies' Weekly has much of truth in it that it will do no harm to pass on to the Times readers. Advocating military training for every man in the nation and establishment of military drill in the public schools, the popular weekly brought out the idea of the effect of rigid discipline of Germany upon the characters of its citizens in making them law abiding and law respecting. In contrast is shown in particular the attitude of many respectable citizens toward our National, State and City laws. It mentioned in particular, the tendency of erstwhile law abiding citizens to break speed ordinances in the big cities and laugh at the matter of arrest and fine as if the breaking of that particular law was a joke, when these same men would cut off their right hand rather than break other laws no more necessary to the public welfare. There is much truth in the contention of Leslies' that we Americans chafe at regulations. There is a tendency to go the pace when we figure that we will not be caught. If it rested only with automobile spending it would be bad enough, but when the idea permeates the whole of society, there is serious danger. Children of today think nothing of stealing fruit and doing the thousand and one things that are just the merest steps over the boundary line of law and order. The parents laugh at the pranks as a joke with never a thought that the seeds of disrespect for law are thus being sown. Military training from the standpoint of national defense may or may not be essential, but rigorous discipline which will inculcate the needed respect for those in authority is the one great thing which the average American now lacks. Our unpreparedness naturally may be the greatest with individuals who must are the units out of which will come a united and ready nation.

THE SECRET OF GERMAN SUCCESS

Hatred as a spur to increased activity has been noted in Germany, and to judge from recent reports, has not proved its entire success. (Now the Russians are making experiments along the same line, and we learn from the Hamburger Fremdenblatt that the Russian "Cadet" party has issued a pamphlet urging the political leaders to inspire the peasants with hatred of Germany. In this way it is hoped the Russians will be stimulated to greater efforts to drive back the invader. Incidentally the pamphlet pays a high tribute to German efficiency and thoroughness, and says the Fremdenblatt goes on to ask: "What is the secret of the German successes? Are not our armies just as brave? The Germans had no great leaders; there was no Napoleon among them. It is nonsense to speak of the invincibility of the Germans. The war will be decided by economic conditions, although we see that Germany's strength has not weakened, but even seems to have increased. Germany has given the world an example of how success inevitably follows well planned organization of the means of production.

"To do this, the whole nation has to participate in the war, the whole nation has to be inspired by one great ideal, the whole country has to live in feverish excitement, just as do the soldiers at the front. The front is everywhere in Germany—at the loom, at the clerk's desk, at the sewing machine, as well as in the trenches."

Turning from Germany to Russia, it is candidly admitted that this participation by the entire nation is lacking and that the apathy of the peasant is a danger to the Russian cause: "Here in Russia, on the other hand the spur of war does not produce untold action as among our enemies. They are fighting, and we are sitting at home—that is the general principle. The desire for victory must be implanted deep in the heart of the nation."

"The more mobilization of industry is such too narrow an aim. Even today the peasant regards the war utterly without comprehension. It is only if the reason for the great conflict had never been explained to him, and that is why he believes the most impossible rumors. So far no one has been able to point out to him how vitally the war affects the people themselves.

"We must never, not even now, forget the foundation of the entire Empire—the peasants."

"We must satisfy the peasant physically and mentally. We must give the peasant the source of light—a quick, practical war-education. Thus all his hazy ideas will be dispelled, and he will gain strength.

Only by the fierce fire of hatred can the Russian peasant be roused to effective action, we are told, and the writer proceeds:

"The Germans have been fighting for a year against entire Europe. What gave them the strength to do this? The Krupp factories? By no means. All Germans, high and low, are not only people who can read and write, but also they are efficiently educated, so that the entire nation is able to understand political ideas and to act accordingly.

"United and energetically let us now bring light into the huts of the peasants, the Russians as well as the non-Russians. They shall all learn to Russian and to understand what the enemy is. Let us sow hatred among the people, among the peasants in the villages. Hatred against the Germans is the first bit of knowledge which we must impart to them.

"Only by this means will we be able

IRVING CUMMINGS

Irving Cummings in the $30,000 "Flying A" photoplay "THE DIAMOND FROM THE SKY"

AT THE ORPHEUM, MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

You who have seen the remarkable picture public from coast to coast dramatic talent displayed by Irving Cummings as the hero in "The Diamond From the Sky," know that this great film star has set a new high mark in motion picture interpretation. The magnetic personality of Mr. Cummings is one of the factors that has brought such pronounced success to this wonderful "Flying A" continued photoplay. The entire cast is probably the greatest ever assembled for a film production.

Little Pickford and Irving Cummings, principals in "The Diamond From the Sky," written by Roy L. McCardell and filmed by the Flying "A" studios for weekly installment release, are winning the hearts of the motion picture public from coast to coast. Two more attractive "young leads" scarcely could have been chosen for this powerful story, which hinges essentially upon the personalities of Esther and Arthur Stanley. The sense of romance is strong in each, and at no point does their performance fall short of what would be expected of young persons in their extraordinary situations in life. In this week's chapter, full of thrilling revelations for both hero and heroine, Mr. Cummings proves himself a finished and versatile actor and Miss Pickford's appealing charm is enhanced with every turn of fortune or misfortune the story brings to the little heroine.

HALF MILLION CARS SOLD

Having a Value of Almost Half a Billion Dollars.

Sales of pleasure cars of all types up to June 30, according to a statement of Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, amounted to 665,225 cars. The date given is the end of the year in the industry. There were sold during the year 37,700 commercial vehicles. The pleasure cars were valued at $450,941,131 and the commercial cars at $72,622,692. The call for the big luxurious cars continues, although the greatest sales during the past year have been in the rural districts. The number of cars increased 36 per cent but the value increased only 10 per cent, indicating the greater value the makers have been giving purchasers, as manufacturing costs were brought down and fewer changes made in chassis construction. The demand from abroad has increased remarkably. American makers have thus far been unable to care for this demand.

Auto Freight Cars.
There were used for automobiles in August 15,141 freight cars, a considerable increase over $22, the figure last year for August. The traffic department of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce has taken the matter of keeping automobile trade freight cars in the auto trade and 1500 railroads have agreed to aid, owing to the shortage of the special cars for the motor car business. The Detroit office of the traffic department covers each day's shipments with a request sent to the destination that the cars be promptly returned when unloaded.

Mechanical Pollinating Found Unsuccessful.

Mechanical devices for pollinating red clover have not been found successful by investigators of the department, who have been studying the problem of red clover seed production. On the other hand, the investigators found that the bumblebee is an efficient cross-pollinator and that under certain conditions the honeybee may also be most useful.

For some years there has been an insufficient supply of homegrown red clover seed. As a result not only has the price of the seed been high, but large quantities of foreign seed, which is frequently inferior to the domestic, have had to be imported. In consequence, the maintenance of an adequate clover acreage has become a rather serious problem. To remedy the situation, attempts have been made to ascertain the minimum quantities of seed per acre required to secure a satisfactory stand and the conditions necessary to maintain such a stand. In addition, efforts have been made to develop a heavy-seeding, hardy tetra- or tetra- and finally various mechanical forms of pollination have been experimented with.

Bulletin No. 289, a professional paper of the department, which has just been published, contains the results of experiments in the pollination of red clover. These experiments show that that yield of seed obtained on heads which were not pollinated or which were self-pollinated in different ways was practically negligible. The actual amount was less than one-half of one per cent, and this insignificant quantity, it is said, may be accounted for by accidental pollination from outside sources. In contrast with these results it was found that the bumblebee was able to pollinate from 30 flowers a minute in dry weather. When few nectar-producing plants are available it was found that the honeybee also collects large quantities of pollen from red clover and in the process cross pollinates of the flowers takes place.

Hand operated brushes for cross-pollination were also experimented with. Instead of increasing the seed yield, however, there were found actually to decrease it—a fact which is accounted for by the injuries the flowers received from the bristles of the brushes.

TOWN TURNED OVER TO FILM COMPANY

J. Vessell, which has approved by Chief of Police Sam Jeffries, Police Judge F. A. Wilson and J. C. Metzger, secretary of Chamber of Commerce, and Merchants and Manufacturers' Association.

Director Carbanne contemplates using the fire department, police department, municipal band and polling booths. This marks the first time in the history of motion pictures that a complete town has been turned over to a motion picture company.

GAINS MADE ON WESTERN FRONT

pos in Champagne, where in December they made a considerable gain of ground. Saturday's attack, however, gave them possession of more territory than they had retaken from the Germans since the latter dug themselves in after the battle of the Marne.

Take a Big Bite.

According to the French account, the Germans were driven out of their trenches over a front of 15 miles carrying in depth from two-thirds of a mile to two and a half miles. Apparently the advantage is being pressed still further, as the French communication makes only the briefest mention of the operations.

Weaken German Position.

The importance of this gain lies in the fact that every yard of ground taken in this region weakens the German position around Verdun, from which the Germans might be compelled to retire should the French succeed in making any further advance.

The French also have regained the cemetery of Souleuvre and trenches east of the high water mark in the Arras district, which was the scene of heavy fighting earlier in the year. There the Germans had built what they considered almost impregnable fortifications.

Attack of British.

This attack was made in co-operation with the British, who attacked on either side of La Bassée canal. The attack to the south side of the canal, Field Marshal Sir John French reports was a complete success. Trenches five miles in width and about 400 yards in depth were taken at this point.

This push forward gives the British possession of the road from Lens to the Bassée canal. The attack to the north, which also fell into the hands of the British, is at the end of the road near La Bassée. It is only 12 miles from Hulluch to Lille.

Take Hill No. 70.

North of the canal the British were unable to hold the ground gained and had to fall back to the trenches which they had left in the morning. The attack, however, accomplished one purpose, according to Field Marshal French, German reserves were sent to check this move thus giving the British south of the canal an opportunity to consolidate their new positions.

Unable to Hold Ground.

A somewhat similar maneuver took place to the north and south of the Menin road, east of Ypres and results were the same. North of the road, the British were unable to hold the ground taken, while to the south they gained about 600 yards of the German trenches and consolidated the ground won. So far as is reported the British took 420 prisoners, 100 machine guns and several trenching guns.

Fighting on Russian Front.

Some of the fiercest fighting of the campaign is in progress on the Russian front. The Germans continue their furious attacks in an effort to drive the Russians out of Dvinsk, while in Volhynia, and Galicia, the Russians continue to harass the Austro-Germans who had designs on them, from which towns they now are further away than they were a few weeks ago.

General Ivanoff apparently is determined to hold back the Austro-Germans and his efforts are meeting with a considerable measure of success. The fortress triangle which includes Dubno, Tarnopol, and Lutsk, is almost entirely in the possession of the Russians.

In Galicia, the Austrians have been driven back across the rivers which run parallel to the border. The Italians like the rest of the allies report a number of successes in the fortified mountains from the Austrians.

LOST IN NEVADA DESERT

Lone Woman Has Had Experience While Lost.

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—Again indisputable evidence has been offered supporting the claims that the Lincoln Highway across the State of Nevada is very poorly posted with guiding signs. This time the evidence has been brought home more forcibly than in previous instances, in that a lone woman driving a car across the continent and seeking to follow the great national transcontinental motor road, became lost on the Nevada desert, struck off on the wrong road and for a period of more than ten hours was lost in a very perilous position.

Several hours afterward this woman—Miss Anita King, who is seeking to drive a Kissel-Kar across the continent accompanied by someone—was found in a faint alongside of her car by three prospectors, who placed her in their car and carried her to Lovelock, Nevada, where she was given food and shelter. Miss King could get no definite information concerning the course of the Lincoln Highway and after retaining her car was started on her way to Winnemucca, Elko, Orden and Salt Lake City, where she arrived last Thursday.

In a wire to the local Kissel-Kar branch Miss King attributes her experience, which was a thrilling and nerve-racking one as any woman motorist has been privileged to describe, to the lack of proper signposting of the Lincoln Highway, a complaint which has been made to motorists and motor car dealers in this part of the state many times. Miss King's experience on her self-planned "Kissel to Coast" drive and which she has chosen to make absolutely alone, adds considerable weight to the allegations of previous transcontinental motorists. There are many motorists here who believe that it is high time that some definite action be taken to see that the Lincoln Highway, as actually marked across the state of Nevada.—Elko Free Press.

NEW GRASS CROP

Bull Farmer Has Great Faith in Noudan Grass For This Country.

A grass which is new to this section of the country, and one which is comparatively new to the United States, is being experimented with this summer by John Mills, who lives six miles northeast of Duhl. It is known as Sudan grass, and Mr. Mills is enthusiastic about the future of it for pasture, hay, and silage production on this tract. It is said to produce from fifteen to twenty tons of silage per acre.

Mr. Mills has planted one acre of the Sudan grass in rows about eighteen inches apart, and it is "about as high as the neck and most of it is headed. It is said to be a very hardy plant and will grow in corn or as millet. The grass has a stem resembling like rice, though not nearly so heavy, and the leaves look much like the blades of orchard grass. The interior of the stem is soft and spongy.

"Bill Minder," the Canadian who planted the crop with Mr. Mills, said that his stock ate it more readily than any other feed he has, and it will make a larger tonnage good per acre. He will thresh the crop for the seed and feed the straw to his stock. Cattle and horses are said to eat the straw greedily.—Duhl Herald.

REBUILDING SUNBEAM DAM

Force of Men Under Mark Collin Start Work at Mackay.

Engineer Mark Collin, of Boise, with a crew of about a dozen men, on Monday morning started work on rebuilding the dam on Salmon river, at the mouth of Yankee Fork, which develops the power for driving the Sunbeam power plant of the Custer Slide mining company.

The plant has not been in operation for several years and the action of the water has partially undermined the lower toe of the structure and the repairs to be made are found to be quite extensive, requiring several weeks' time and a large amount of cement and material to put the power dam in a safe and satisfactory condition for operation. By making the repairs at this time, the great, with low water it can be done more economically and insures a structure that will withstand the high waters of next spring.

Early next spring the power plant will be put in operation and will deliver power to the Montana mines, the Sunbeam mill and the big aerial tram way that the Custer Slide company will install this fall.—Mackay Miner.

DROWNED IN SHALLOW POOL

Body of John F. Sanders, of Gooding, Found on His Clover Creek Ranch.

John F. Sanders, a well known rancher on Clover creek, was found dead in a pool of water on his ranch last Thursday evening. It is supposed that he was stricken with paralysis, causing him to fall into the water and that he was either dead when he fell in or death was caused by drowning. Deceased had been living alone on his ranch and Thursday evening Mrs. Arthur Sanders, a relative who lives near by, went to see how he was getting along. He was not at the house and a search of the premises led to the discovery of the body lying in a pool was formed by a spring. A bucket and cup near the pool indicated that he had gone to the spring for a bucket of water. The pool is not over three feet deep.

Sheriff Sam Sanders, nephew of the deceased was notified and he immediately started for the ranch, accompanied by County Coroner Lamb, who found that no inquest was necessary.

The funeral was held on Friday, the remains being interred in the Sanders family burial ground, near the Joel Sanders ranch.

Deceased was born in Beaton county, Oregon, and was 50 years old. He leaves a divorced wife and two grown children, who reside in California.

Several months ago he suffered a paralytic stroke and it is supposed that his death was due to a second attack which caused him to fall into the water. He had resided on Clover creek about eight years.—Gooding Leader.

PROVES EASY VICTIM

Former State Immigration Commissioner Rich Fleeced.

Some months ago Sam Rich, one of the best known farmers of the Blackfoot section, and known throughout the state as former immigration commissioner, engaged in some sort of speculative scheme with one Franklin Helm, in which it appeared that certain land propositions appraised.

At any rate, it seems that Sam, and not the land, was the principal object for speculation on the part of the versatile Helm, who maneuvered in such a manner as to induce Sam to endorse a bogus draft drawn on a New York bank in the sum of $2,000.

Helm secured the money by cashing the draft at a Blackfoot bank, after which he managed to escape Sam's vigilance and drifted to other climes.

Helm was later located at the Utah hotel, in Salt Lake, and Sam hopped a train and went after the fine haired adventurer, and found him. He threw a variety of excuses to the fellow, who professed to be a wealthy broker, and had him guarded for the time being, inasmuch as Helm claimed his ability to make the crooked action good. While waiting for him to prove it, the wily Helm again slipped through the lines and was not detected again until within the last few days, when he was arrested in the Palace hotel in San Francisco, where he was still a "wealthy broker," according to what he was saying, but had seen the advisability of meeting the opponent into a simple application of "Frank Helm's," as a little thing the change in his name had no more effect on him than changing worthless paper into real money.

Helm is being held by the Prince authorities in felony charge, and Sheriff Sims of Blackfoot will leave for the coast within the next day or two to secure his prisoner, following the completion of the extradition papers. Helm, alias Halpin, declines to make any statement regarding his arrest. Apparently "business" had been as good as usual, and he never was pinched for money—until the officers did the pinching. He will be brought back to Blackfoot and will have an opportunity of meeting the late Sam face to face.—Pocatello Tribune.

TO COOL BUTTER AND MILK.

Device Made of Strips of Sheet Iron and Covered With Bleached Linen is Quite Handy.

I consider my cooler the handiest and most practical thing of the kind I have ever seen, says a writer in an exchange. It is made of three two-inch strips of heavy sheet iron six feet long for side pieces and five round pieces of the same material 2 1/2 feet in diameter for shelves. All this is covered with bleached domestic or coarse white linen.

A straight strip of the linen reaches from the top shelf to the bottom and a funnel-shaped piece is sewed on top and bottom to make a smooth covering for the ends, writes a writer in Oklahoma Farmer. It may be fastened with buttons or with hooks and eyes. Over the cooler are hung two covered cans with a tiny faucet or hole in one side. Each can holds a gallon of water. The water drips down over the cooler sheet and the evaporation keeps it perfectly cool all day.

Food of all kinds, cooker or raw fruit, milk, butter, everything, in fact, may be kept cool and delicious during the hot summer days. To the woman who can't afford a refrigerator it means a saving of time, trouble and money. The cost is about $2.50. It may be hung under a tree, in the yard or in a hallway, where the wind will strike it. If in the house a pan should be set under it to catch any surplus water there may be.

The Presbytery of Twin Falls, with a territory of six counties, recently held its last stated meeting at Wendell, where Pastor Chas. Thomson and his people set a new record in the matter of hospitable entertainment of the ministers and elders who convened. It can also be truly said that the music furnished for the occasion by Ed. Conroy, of College and Center, has yet to be surpassed in the history of the Presbytery. Rev. W. S. Young, of Boise, now of Eden, was the guest of honor, preaching a strong sermon on "Self-Mastery," as retiring Moderator; and Dr. Shepherd, of Twin Falls, was elected Moderator for the coming year. Rev. M. Van Patten, of Buhl, was elected temporary clerk, and Rev. J. K. MacKilivray was re-elected stated clerk and transferor for a term of three years. At their own request Rev. J. Colvin was dismissed as Kendall Presbytery and Rev. H. A. C. Evans, of the Presbytery of Grand Ronde, Mr. Colvin's place at Hollister and Rogerson has been taken by Rev. J. D. Keith, who comes to us from the northern church. Mr. Brown's place at Gooding will be temporarily supplied by Rev. T. W. Hine, of Hagerman. Bellevue remains vacant for the present because of Mr. Young's removal to Eden. Dr. Shepherd has planned and proposed two efficiency conferences to be held in February, one at Jerome and one at Twin Falls, which promises to be of great benefit to the church officers of each church in their local organizations. Presbytery adopted the plan as outlined, but more of the particulars will be submitted later. Rev. Chas. D. Chaffin, D. D., of Boise, gave a splendid address on "The Church in the Future," at the Shepherd preaching. Encouraging and vigorous reports were made also on Sabbath observance by Rev. W. S. Young; on temperance by Rev. C. Thomson; evangelism by Mr. Evans; and on systematic benevolence by Dr. Shepherd for the executive commission. That Sabbath school work was well to the front will be seen in the program of the Presbytery Conference held on Tuesday afternoon, presided over by Rev. C. M. Junkin, the chairman of this work. ## Glad To Show You Coats with their rather close fitting waist lines and a graceful flare in the skirt. Some utility coats are cut on lines straighter, which give more fullness to the garment. The longer coats are the most favored. High buttoned reversible collars, set-in sleeves, large side pockets all appeal to those who like novel effects. Plaids are the chief novelties in fabrics with plushes, velours, velvet cords and chevrons holding sway in the more conservative garments. We will gladly show them to you—any time.

Glad To Show You Suits

which reveal in a most attractive way the authentic styles for fall. Striking novelties that revel in individuality bring forth many expressions of praise. Suit jackets are not of any set length, but vary in harmony with the style of the suit. Smart, severe lines predominate, high buttoned neck set-in sleeves and full flared skirts are characteristics. Broadcloths, worsteds, poplins, gabardines and serges are the most popular fabrics. Come, we are glad to show you one or as many as you care to see.

Silks are especially popular this Fall, novelties being very plentiful. Anticipating a large demand, we bought liberally.

Wool fabrics, of course, will be most generally used and plaids will be the popular pattern.

Braids and metal embroideries in various widths offer many suggestions for adding attractive touches to new gowns.

In every way we are prepared to help the home dressmakers. We are "Glad to Show You."

SOUVENIR DAY, 100 STORY BOOKS, 'THE QUILLIVERS' RIDE' FREE

By Claude Wetmore A CHARMING STORY for boys and girls of the adventures of the wee QUILLIVERS in BIG FOLKS' LAND—a story that will hold any child's interest to the very end, and teach a lesson of life-long value.

The first 100 boys and girls who present to THE MAJESTIC RANGE SALESMAN at our store, between 3 and 5 p. m., TUESDAY, written answers to the following questions, will receive this fascinating story book FREE.

- 1-What range is your mother now using? 2-Give names of anyone you know needing a new range. 3-The Majestic Range has many points of superiority—which does your mother consider best? 4-What is your age? 5-When is your birthday? $1.00 AIR GLOBE FREE

The boy or girl giving the nearest and best answer to the third question may select any $1.00 article from our stock IN ADDITION TO THE SOUVENIR.

A PRIZE FOR EVERYBODY Don't be discouraged if you are not one of the 100 to get the story book. You will receive a MAJESTIC PUZZLE CARD that will afford you many hours of amusement. Be sure to have your answers ready to hand in at our store Tuesday afternoon, between three and five. They must be WRITTEN if you wish to receive a souvenir or prize.

SPECIAL—All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you 'ALL ABOUT RANGES'—show you why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

COME, IF YOU INTEND TO BUY OR NOT EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water in heater—HOW the top is heated—WHY the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW THINGS shown by one who knows. COME.

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE (whether you buy in any way the same), we will give free, one handsome set of ware as illustrated here, or a special set of ALUMINUM WARE.

Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO EXAMINE IT.

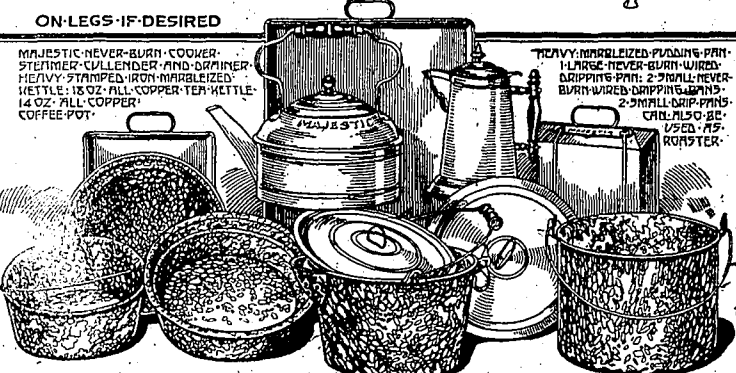

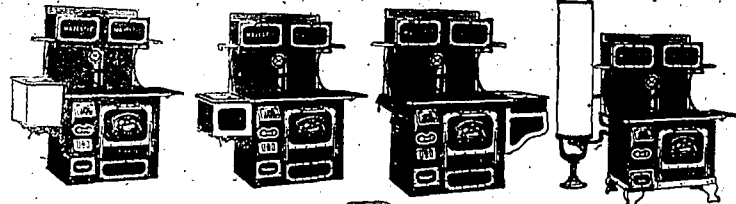

Which Shall It Be?

DO YOU intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn out cook stove? You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year. You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right; in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while. You know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

THE GREAT MAJESTIC MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON RANGE

YOU make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically all tight—lined with pure asbestos—putting being malleable cast iron—has a movable reservoir and an oven that doesn't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (through winter just as all over without turning), heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime 'unsight unseen'; you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300 per cent stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Talking about the value of plenty of porch room, here's an Idahoan who evidently has firm convictions on that point.

"We'll venture that the medicine cabinet is just that much the smaller."

The more porch and the more it's used, sleeping and awake, the better for health and happiness.

HANSEN NOTES

The Panama-Pacific exposition is proving a great attraction to the people of this section of the country. Several parties have gone and more are planning to get away just as soon as the harvest is over. Jack Craig left Thursday morning, accompanied by Roy W. Gager, Peter Link and Leo Hernandez. They are making the trip in Mr. Craig's truck and expect to camp out along the road. Several families are planning on this ideal vacation, and if the roads hold good will no doubt have an experience worth while.

Mr. W. R. Eastabrooks has gone to his former home, at Idaho Falls, to oversee the harvesting of the crop on his ranch there.

Miss Emmen Polton has been visiting at the homes of relatives and friends for a couple of weeks. Miss Polton meted to Nyssa, Oregon, with her parents a year ago.

Both days of the Kimberly Booster's fair drew big crowds from Hansen, and all were well pleased with the entertainment, the sports and the exhibits. The bucking contests were a great attraction, but the interest taken in the samples of seeds and grain showed the main object of the visit of many.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Krumm and family left for their old home in Ohio last week. They have not been back since they came out here, a great many years ago, and so expect to spend some time in visiting old friends and places of interest.

The new home of A. E. Pettigrove is rapidly taking shape and will make an attractive addition to his ranch. The house is large and arranged with all modern conveniences. J. Provost and W. F. Brewer are doing the work. Mr. Ora McVey also has a new home nearing completion on his block on the south side of town, which adds greatly to the appearance of our growing town.

Orison and Evangeline Provost left a week ago for Lincoln, Nebraska, where they will attend high school this winter.

The annual Methodist conference held at Boise last week, returned Jey, S. E. Yaggy to his former post at Hansen and Kimberly, fact which his friends will be glad to hear.

Mr. J. B. Poston, of Lovell, Oklahoma, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Otis Sampson for a few days.

Mrs. E. T. Provost was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Eastabrooks. A number of the young ladies of Hansen were present and enjoyed the afternoon with the bride. A novel feature sike seed on twenty-six acres. Alsike is now selling at 14 cents, red clover at 17 cents, alfalfa at 16 cents and wheat at $1.25 per hundred. Spud digging has commenced in earnest, but the crop reports have been turned out by the farmers. The Japs have arrived for toping betts and will commence work next Monday morning. This is where Hansen will again show what kind of farmers live here. The country is full of visitors from the middle west and who almost refuse to believe that such crops are raised here until they see the actual rush that the farmer gets. They are carrying back glowing reports of the Twin Falls country and most of them say that they will come back to live if they can only sell out back east.

DAIRY NOTES

Alfalfa is nature's choicest gift to the dairy farmer.

Feed the silage after milking or an hour or two previous.

The development of the dairy herds begins with her feeding when a calf.

A calf should be weaned from its mother within three days after its birth.

The cow is the unit of the dairy industry. Upon her quality its success depends.

An abundance of alfalfa and bran insures a sufficient amount of protein and mineral matter.

One of the greatest arguments in favor of fall freshening is that it balances the work of the farm to a nicety.

All bulls should be treated as though they were ugly and vicious. Any other method of treating them is careless in the extreme.

Cream that is too ripe is not fit for butter-making. It should be churned as soon as it reaches the proper degree of acidity.

Corn cut at the dent stage of maturity has reached its maximum growth and silage made at this time has its maximum value.

Even under best of conditions calves are inclined to bark apple trees, and should not be turned loose in young orchards.

If milk contains large numbers of blood corpuscles or pus cells, it is an indication that the cow from which it was drawn is diseased.

WELL SUITED FOR MOTION PICTURES

Thomas Jefferson, co-starred with Tully Marshall in "The Sable Larch," at the Fine Arts Film Studio, is well known to theatergoers, as the result of his performances of "Rip" in "Rip Van Winkle." This play was first introduced by his father, Joseph Jefferson, who, when seriously ill, recommended his son at his bedside and sent him out as his successor.

Thomas Jefferson is well suited for motion picture work, as his father taught him never to act to the audience, but for the audience, and the same applies in film acting; act for the camera, and not to the camera.
