WARNS GROWERS OF POTATO DISEASES

Prevalence of Disease in Stored Crops.

HANDBERS URGED TO FIGHT DISEASE AND HOLD REPUTATION

Agriculturist Birch Yields Many Cautions on Tract and Finds Some Danger.

County Agriculturalist W. N. Birch desires to call the attention of Twin Falls County Potato Growers to the prevalence of disease in stored crops.

If the matter is taken up promptly and every grower co-operates by refusing to plant diseased seed, or to plant seed in infected ground, there is no apparent reason why these diseases cannot be controlled.

Soak all seed potatoes before cutting in a solution of four ounces of corrosive sublimate in thirty gallons of water, for one or two hours.

When cutting seed potatoes, first cut a thin slice from the stem and end of each tuber.

Infected tubers are covered with what look like specks of dirt, singly or in groups, which cannot be rubbed off.

Any grower wants further information the County Agriculturalist will be glad to furnish it.

Few people who have been following the trend of events with regard to the irrigation matters in this state can get much encouragement for any improvement until the false sentiment favoring suppression of facts is removed and the people of the state stand up squarely to the mark against fake advertising and the exploitation of the state's resources. There is no reason why the people should condone falsehood and misrepresentation on the part of any person. There is every reason why the state through its officials should back up false statements of such promoters with the good name of the state. Black eyes for irrigation bonds and projects are to be regretted, but rather than blame the settler who wants his just rights it is time that the state take cognizance of the right place to lay the cause of the trouble. It is too easy to call the settler an agitator, mightier hard to call the lying promoter a crook. It is time for the people of this state to go on record for right and justice.

THE RIGHT RING

President Wilson's words regarding the hyphenated American in his recent message have a sound ring of truth that should send a thrill through the really loyal Americans regardless of politics. It is high time for the loyal Americans to place themselves on record for the American flag and government through thick and thin. The man who for selfish gain or misguided love for any other nation cannot or will not remain loyal should be given notice to leave the country. The many acts of violence in the past three months, by irresponsible aliens and possibly some naturalized citizens should make the American people realize how thin a hold American ideas of liberty have upon people who come here only for the dollars of profit.

It is no time for making a political issue of our national defense plans and it is with pride that the Times points to the loyal support of the President by many of the Republican Congressmen and Senators in his attempt to do the right thing for the whole nation.

Muzzling the German Press

Cribbed, cabled and confined by the restrictions of the Prussian Department of the Interior, the freedom of the press—at least in the Kingdom of Prussia—is a thing of the past. This we learn from the Berlin Vorwärts, whose free-spoken Socialist soul chafes under "an iron censorship." This organ admits the necessity of a military supervision, to which it "cheerfully submits," but when all political criticism of purely domestic questions is forbidden the Vorwärts is moved to wrath. How thoroughly the papers are controlled is shown by the publication of a confidential letter addressed by Geheimrat von Loebell, Prussian Minister of the Interior, to the higher officials under his jurisdiction. According to the Vorwärts the Minister writes:

"The great and manifold domestic problems which will have to be solved after the war demand on the part of the authorities the cultivation of ap-cial relations with the press, an increased attention to journalistic tendencies and views, and a more intense effort to gain, wherever possible, influence over its attitude. This applies more particularly to the little district and communal papers whose attitude is of preponderant importance in shaping the sentiments of the country and determining the outcome of future elections."

Geheimrat von Loebell then shows some of that far-sighted thoroughness which has made Prussia the preponderating power in the Teutonic world. He sketches the arrangements he has made to control the press. "A Central Bureau of the German Press" is established whose business is to supply news and editorials to the provincial editors, and even, if need be, an entire newspaper, lacking only the heading and local items. Herr von Loebell goes on to say that "the entire machinery of the correspondence bureau will be watched over and deliberately influenced by my reports" and he recommends his subordinates "to sound the newspaper publishers and editors in so far as they are accessible to your influence; to draw their attention to the above Bureau, persuade them of the advisability of making use of it, and recommend them to get into touch with headquarters. The constant personal contact of the authorities with the newspapers in, both in the big cities and in the country districts, necessary and indispensable as an aid in the organization of domestic policy."

At the risk of being again suppressed, the Vorwärts thus proceeds to comment on the Minister's instructions.

"At a time when, through the complication of the civil strife, we are being deprived of the right to discuss such burning questions of Prussian policy as the extension of the franchise, the right of combination, the problems of taxation; when limits are imposed on us even on such a grave question as the national food-supply; at such a time an influential Prussian Minister is allowed to write in secret—and thus the more effectively—upon the organization of domestic policy" and to prepare future elections in accordance with his desires.

Nor are protests confined to such radical organs as those of the Social Democrats, for we find Theodore Wolff, editor of the powerful Berliner Tageblatt, uttering a pointed protest at the limitations imposed by the authorities. Dr. Wolff compares the freedom of criticism allowed to the French press with the restrictions imposed in Germany and continues:

"We have a different system. German papers are allowed to print very much more war-news, and also the official bulletins of the enemy, but in expressing opinion they are forced to exercise considerable restraint. Every one recognizes the necessity of military censorship, and submits unconditionally to the military position, fortunately quite different from that of the Entente peoples. Therefore, Germany's military critics are spared many of the difficulties which the French and English are forced to meet."

"But apart from strategy, tactics and military organization, there are many happenings and measures about which differences of opinion are possible. . . ."

"But there are other questions, ideas and plans about which everybody speaks in political circles, but which may not be mentioned in print. These are questions which do not concern other countries in any way, but are of the very first importance because they deal with matters of the internal organization of the Empire."

"The Imperial Chancellor has shown the German people pretty pictures of the future, and we hope that we will be free to see these ideas assume tangible form. He, too, surely feels that the new spirit of the times must have with nothing so little in common as with the spirit of Metetrnich."—Literary Digest.

ABROGATE TRAFFIC AGREEMENT

Ho Grande, Missouri Pacific and the Western Pacific Railways Divorced.

Preparations are being made by the Denver & Rio Grande to abrogate all traffic agreements with the Missouri Pacific on January 1st, and it is possible that within a few days notice will be given all Missouri Pacific agents to seek new quarters other than those of the Denver & Rio Grande offices. The separation of the two roads is to be complete. Missouri Pacific agents will cease to solicit freight for the Denver & Rio Grande and the Denver & Rio Grande agents will devote their entire time to obtaining traffic between Salt Lake and Denver, making no recommendations as to what roads shall receive the haul east of there. The first move looking toward the separation of the two roads will be the taking off of the Scenic Limited, the only through train between St. Louis and San Francisco, on December 12. The Denver & Rio Grande has served notice on the Missouri Pacific that the Scenic Limited will not run over its tracks after that date. The Western Pacific has also served notice that the Scenic Limited will not be handled west of Salt Lake. In addition to cutting itself free from the Missouri Pacific the Denver & Rio Grande also proposes to free itself of the traffic agreement with the Western Pacific. It is understood that the receivers of the Western Pacific have been notified that they will be asked to confer with the traffic department of the Denver & Rio Grande relative to the segregation of ticket offices and traveling passenger agents. The changes of schedule on the Denver & Rio Grande which go into effect December 12, will consist of the taking off of the Scenic Limited and the running of trains No. 1 and No. 2 as the Scenic Limited. Trains No. 4 and No. 5 will be run on the schedule of the Scenic Limited.—Salt Lake Herald-Republican.

ARTESIAN CITY NEWS

Mrs. S. F. Strong who has been at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. E. Tidwell in Wellington, Utah, for the past two months on account of her illness, returned home last week, after her mother's death which occurred on December 1, and the friends of Mrs. Tidwell are very sorry to hear of her death and sympathetic with the bereaved family.

Mr. B. R. Randall and Orson Strong are hauling posts from the Cottonwood district this week.

Mr. Tabb and Earl Witt, of Hansen, stopped here last Thursday, while enroute to Oakley for their car, which is being repaired there.

There will be a Christmas entertainment given by the G. A. R. December 24, at 2 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Orson Strong and Mrs. R. B. Handell were calling at the home of Mrs. T. J. Rutledge and Mrs. Roy Taylor Friday.

Mr. H. Hart attended a party Saturday evening given by the G. A. R. veterans of Twin Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fuller were shopping in Murtaugh Monday.

Mr. Frank Smith had the misfortune to lose seven calves with the blackleg in one day of this week, and Mr. A. J. Fuller lost five. They are very busy at the present time vacating for it.

Mr. Samson has several men busy building sheep sheds on the Howers' ranch to be ready before the stormy weather sets in.

Mr. Thomas, of Basin, Idaho, brought a load of thoroughbred sheep through here last Thursday night from Hollister. He is taking them to his home in Idaho.

Mrs. Roy Taylor and Miss Anna Dalquist were shopping in Twin Falls, Saturday.

Mr. Benj. Lott went to Nevada, the first of this week for his brother, Orville, who has been trapping for the past two months. He reports very bad results, not much game.

Mr. Roy Taylor came home for a visit from Murtaugh Saturday evening.

RECORDS OF IDAHO COWS

E. F. Rinehart Compiles Some Very Interesting Figures.

The first Cow Testing association of Idaho is now well under way on the Twin Falls tract. A visit around the association finds many surprised cow owners. In some cases the cow that the owner never suspected is proving to be the best in the herd. In others the favorites are standing way down in production.

Complete figures for October show that there were 25 herds with a total of 557 cows on test.

45 cows made over 40 pounds of fat each during the month. The milk is weighed daily. The test is made once a month by Mr. Koster, the official tester and all calculations are made by him.

The best breed? Oh yes! Pick it out.

	Breed	lbs.	perc't	lbs.
Registered Holstein	1416	3.9	55
Registered Jersey	1106	4.6	51
Grade Holstein	1545	3.2	45
Grade Jersey	987	6.1	49
Grade Jersey	913	5.4	49
Grade Jersey	781	6.3	48

A Jersey heads the list for November. One herd of 11 Holsteins produced 443 pounds of fat during the month. A herd consisting of 26 grade and pure bred Jerseys produced 375 lbs. of fat during the month.

All of these that are doing well are stabled and carefully fed—most of them on corn silage and hay and grain.

The daily ration of the best cow is here given.

Corn silage, 35 pounds.
Alfalfa hay, 23 pounds
Ground barley, 4½ pounds.

With this particular cow it takes 8.4 cents worth of raw material to manufacture one pound of butter-fat.

On this trip Mr. Johnson, who judged the cattle at the Minn-casala fair bought 17 cows for his farm. He did not buy those reported as "gives a good mess of milk" or "fills a big nail, twice a day" nor yet the kind "you take care of" but those that he knew definitely to the exact fraction of a cent as to the cost of production.

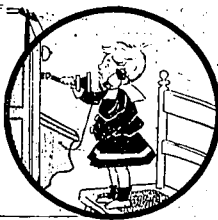

E. F. RINEHART, Rupert, Idaho.

OLD DEPOT DOOMED

Old Pocatello Land Mark Will Give Way to Tide of Progress.

After getting a land mark in Pocatello for 33 years, the old Short Line depot gave way to a steady development that it demands the ground upon which it stands for more tracks to accommodate the rapidly increasing traffic that must be handled by the Gate City of the northwest. This morning a crew of workmen attacked the structure with a vim which signified that ere long it would be relegated to the pleasure day scrap heap of railroad development in Pocatello.

The building served well its purpose and accommodated hundreds of thousands of travelers during the time which it was in active use. Since the completion of the new Short Line station, the old structure has stood vacant for 30 days, an advertisement appearing calling for bids on the building, but no one appeared to have use for it and until today it was used to occupy valuable ground while standing idle.

The office and hotel building, just to the south of the depot, were erected four years after the passenger station, which was built in 1882, and it also will be removed at this time.—Pocatello Tribune.

OBJECTS TO NAME ON BALLOT

Borah Vetoes Effort Made by His Friends in Oregon.

Senator Borah of this state has vetoed the efforts of those in Oregon seeking to form an organization in his behalf as a prospective candidate for the presidency and announces he will not be a candidate at the Oregon primary election next May. Idaho's senator has sent this notification to his friends in the webfooted state through a letter to I. N. Smith, a Portland attorney, formerly a resident of Idaho. Mr. Smith and others had plans made to organize a "Borah-for-President" club for the primary campaign to secure the Oregon delegation for Senator Borah.

Accordingly they wrote to Senator Borah, outlining their plans and asking his approval. His reply was anything but an approval. While thanking Mr. Smith and Mr. McDonald for their apparent interest in his behalf he emphatically disapproved of the movement to link him up with any aspirations for the presidency.

"I hope that Oregon will send a strong un instructed delegation to the convention," says the letter. "The delegation should consist of men who can take up the situation and be ready when the time comes to vote for the best available candidate. The delegation should keep in mind," he adds, "the strong progressive tendency of the times."

Cannot be Induced. While Senator Borah suggests an un instructed delegation from Oregon it will be impracticable under the primary system to send an un instructed delegation to the convention.

The various candidates for the presidential nomination will have their names printed on the ballot, the candidate receiving the plurality of votes cast by the electors of his party becoming the state's choice for the nomination.

Under the new Oregon primary law, as amended at the last legislature, each voter will be permitted to vote for six delegates—two from each respective congressional district and four from the state at large.

Senator Borah's elimination of himself and the probability that Justice Hughes will not allow the use of his name at the primaries leaves the field open to half a dozen or more other aspirants, some of whom, it is felt, will be more or less active in the primary campaign.

Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, Senator Cummins of Iowa, and Senator Burton, of Ohio, doubtless will contest for the Oregon indorsement. Ex-Senator Root, of New York; Senator Sherman, of Illinois, and Vice President Fairbanks of Indiana, also may be in the field. It is reported that friends of Henry D. Estabrook, an attorney of New York, who visited Portland in the early part of the fall, expect to open campaign headquarters here soon after the first of the year in the hope of putting him forward as the "dark-horse" candidate.—Capital News.

POTATO VARIETIES

One or Two Kinds, Adapted to Soil and Climate, Most Profitable.

With the close of the potato harvest season for 1915 the time seems opportune to call to the attention of both the grower and the seedman the desirability of considering seriously a very material reduction in the number of varieties grown in any given community or section of the country.

It has been the history of every other staple crop that the fewer varieties grown the more easily marketed. The pioneer fruit grower in America tried to grow as large a list of varieties as he could afford to purchase, with the tendency to reduce the list to the least number that can be depended upon to meet the market requirements. The reason for this is that it has been found a much easier task to sell large quantities of one variety than an equal quantity made up of a large number of varieties. It is believed that the same principle applies to the potato crop.

In a recent publication by the department, Bulletin No. 175, a system of classification of potatoes is presented in which the leading commercial types are referred to 11 groups, and a list of the varieties studied which are thought to belong to each group is furnished. In many cases the varieties listed in each group are so nearly identical that in the opinion of the author of the bulletin there is no justification for the retention of more than 10 per cent. of them.

The commercial grower should determine what group or class of potatoes is best adapted to his climatic and soil conditions, and then confine his efforts to not more than one or two varieties within that group. In this way it will be possible for him to become more familiar with the behavior of the variety he is growing; to recognize its special cultural requirements; and to offer for sale a much more uniform and high-grade product than where he is dissipating his energies on a dozen or more varieties.

The potato growers of some of our Middle West States, particularly those of Wisconsin, are being strongly urged by their potato specialists and state associations to adopt the community plan of growing potatoes of one, or at the most, two varieties. In this way the buyer can be assured of securing a uniform stock, in carload lots, of Green Mountain, Rural New York, or other classes of potatoes.

The movement must come from the grower through confining his efforts to a few varieties, preferably not more than one or two. These should be selected intelligently, with reference to soil and climatic conditions. For example, the Green Mountain group is particularly well adapted to the cooler for Christmas are those which add to the comfort and satisfaction of the loved one. Useless petty gifts are soon forgotten with the giver. Those of value live in the memory. In making that Christmas selection do not overlook the fact that in pretty and substantial furnishings for the home is a hundredfold satisfaction, because the joy over the gift grows as the days and months pass. Why not look over our big stock of furniture for that gift.

For Mother—A fine range "The Eternal", a kitchen cabinet with its economy of space, in saving steps, a pretty rug or a rocker.

For Dad—A big easy chair or a book rack or book case, a big comfortable footstool for those tired feet.

For Sister—A pretty bed room suite, a dainty wicker rocker for her room, a cedar or wicker skirt box.

For Baby—Cute little beds and rockers.

These are the appreciated gifts that make Christmas the very best day of the year, because of the idea of service back of the gift. Let us show you some of the many practical and beautiful gifts that we have in our big stock.

and moister regions of the United States. The Rural New Yorkers, while succeeding under similar conditions, is also able to produce satisfactory crops where air and soil temperatures are higher and where the summer precipitation is scant, provided moisture is abundant in September and October. The Irish Cobbler group, consisting of early varieties, is at its best in the north, but also produces well when planted as an early truck crop in the South.

The size of the seedman's lists is very largely, if not entirely, governed by the grower, and the remedy lies wholly with him.

The efforts of the potato grower, dealer and seedman should be directed as follows:

1. Reduce the variety list to a few standard commercial varieties.
2. Standardize these by careful selection and culture.
3. Adopt the community plan of growing but one or two varieties and advertise this fact to the public.
4. Demand a higher grade seed potato from your seed grower or dealer, but in so doing be willing to pay a correspondingly better price for it.

MAKE GREAT STATE FAIR

Nampa and Caldwell Business Men Discuss Location of State Fair.

On the invitation of the Idaho State Fair association, a small delegation of Nampa business men went to Caldwell Wednesday night to discuss with representatives of the association the proposition of bringing the state fair to Midway, four miles from Nampa. "Caldwell realizes," said one of the members of the fair board, "that she can retain the fair on its present basis, but we want something better, we want to raise the fair out of the county fair class. We want to make it a truly great fair, representative of the state fair as a whole."

"For that reason we want the influence and co-operation of Nampa and her citizens. If the two towns will pull together and work they can get the support from the state and the recognition of livestock associations and farmers' associations and with that we can have the one big agricultural show in the state of Idaho. It is a splendid chance for us to bury our petty jealousies and do something big for southwestern Idaho."

Even though Caldwell should go ahead and expand the fair alone and without the help of her neighbor she would be handicapped, for she has not the hotel facilities to care for a vast throng of visitors from all parts of the state as would be attracted by a fair such as we propose. With Nampa co-operating with us and their fair held at Midway, ample accommodations could be secured for the visitors." The Nampa delegation was very favorably impressed with the proposal to change the location of the Idaho state fair from Caldwell to Midway. They have been busy since their return from the meeting in discussing the matter with local business men and should there appear to be a general sentiment in favor of making the change, a mass meeting will no doubt be called to go into the matter in greater detail.—Nampa Leader-Herald.

"The man who leaves his son a good name to keep, dies richer than he who leaves his son a great fortune to spend."

Today (Thursday) the Salmonites are enjoying a "soaker" which is descending from the heavens above. The heavens have opened up again to put a "damper" on the dismayed sitters of the Salmon river tract, kindly reminding them of kind providence has not deserted them. We still have faith.

N. Morrison from Pleasant Valley neighborhood, was a Berger visitor Monday. Mr. Morrison, who is an extensive cattle raiser on the Twin Falls tract, is out looking for hay. Hay seems to be a very scarce article and seemingly it cannot be had for love or money, neither on the Twin Falls tract, the land of plenty, nor elsewhere.

W. W. Johnson, one of our enterprising farmers and member of the board of education, was transacting business in Piler Wednesday.

Frank Holloway was attending to "business matters in Piler Tuesday. Some of our people have been confined to their homes on account of having been attacked by the influenza.

Will Dye who went back to his old home in Kansas last spring has returned to the land of sunshine. Will is the owner of a nice eighty acre tract of dry land which he found anywhere. He is the possessor of several nice cedar trees on his place in Cedar draw which runs through a corner of his place. His farm lies within a mile of the future metropolis of the Salmon, Berger.

C. E. Carder and family with other neighbors were pleasantly entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Parrott Sunday.

Berger Literary society will meet next Saturday evening for the purpose of reorganizing and to elect new officers and to get the ball rolling, to set the wheels of literary entertainment in motion for the coming winter months, that the people of this community, who have a few months of freedom from farm work (Oh yes that winter delivery came near omitting this) might improve the opportunity by attending the literaries and enjoy programs and social gatherings and become better acquainted with one another. Notwithstanding privations and hardships, caused by shortage of water, the people of this community will not be down to inactivity, they are a class that cannot be downed by repair, but always on the alert, active-prepared for whatever may come. Always having hope and faith and trust that better things are in store for them before long.

W. L. Doramus' pleasantly entertained friends and relatives Sunday, among whom were L. T. Newland, Ray Miller, Mrs. Glasgow of Twin Falls, and Miss Cioe Thomas, of Nampa.

FILER NEWS

(From the Filer Journal.)
The Christmas seals are sold only for the war against tuberculosis.

Miss Williams came up from Kimberly to spend Thanksgiving with her parents.

Miss Glenn came down from Twin Falls to spend Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Dunce.

C. A. Love was transacting business in the county seat last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Biggs and daughter of Buhl were guests of Filer friends and relatives over Sunday.

H. J. Weaver and wife left Saturday morning for San Francisco, where they will watch the exposition close.

Everybody is having trouble with bad colds. An epidemic of grippe seems to be running its course at this time.

Mrs. Truitt and daughter Geraldine, returned Monday from a five weeks visit to San Francisco. They report a splendid time.

The dance last Thursday night was quite a success despite the bad weather. About thirty couples enjoyed an evening of rare pleasure.

J. A. Cron was notified in town one day last week. Mr. Cron has moved to Twin Falls, and can no longer claim Filer as his home. If he runs for the canal board again he will have to do so from that place. We understand, however, that he has higher ambitions in the office-holding line. There is only a rumor he has never told us of such intentions.

We notice by an Illinois paper that Carl Hougan, formerly of this place is making good with his concert company. The Geneva (Ill.) Republican Journal says: "Hougans Chicago Orchestra was greeted by a small audience at State's hall Tuesday evening but it was an appreciative one. The orchestra was one of the finest that appears in cities the size of Geneva. The rendition of the 'Chicago Blacksmith' was masterful. Mr. Hougan is a cornetist of rare ability, ranking among the great artists of the country, and as a violinist Mr. Hoffman holds his own in the front ranks. An effort is being made for a return date of this company."

Mrs. T. E. Moore has the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deklotz are visiting in San Francisco.

Hay is hay. The price seems to be mounting higher all the time.

The dentist is being given a coat of paint and a good overhauling generally.

Another Thanksgiving has come and gone, and the usual exercises observed by the churches in Filer.

Hurry Gashart is helping Mr. Snyder during his big clearance sale preparatory to moving in his new brick building.

D. F. Detweiler has returned from Sandeale, Ill., where he visited after marketing his sheep in Chicago.

The Misses May and Grace Holger spent Thanksgiving day and the week following with their home people in Twin Falls.

Wm. Clark and wife of Mackay, Idaho were guests at the L. M. Smith home over Thanksgiving. Mrs. Clark is a sister of Mr. Smith.

H. E. Edwards, a clerk in the employ of the Fountain has been very sick the past week, suffering from tubercular pneumonia. He is much better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shorer and children are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver. They leave for their old home in Ohio in a few weeks.

Last Saturday a very fine piano was delivered to J. W. Holahan. It was an acoustic grand and was sold by the local agent, Mrs. Chas. Costello.

S. P. Buck, of Buhl, was in Filer yesterday, making a canvas for the book he is going to issue on the resources of Twin Falls county.

There seems to be a shortage of hotel accommodations in Filer. Hardly a night but what someone has to hunt for a place to sleep. A better location for a good hotel cannot be found.

Rev. Mr. Huff spent Sunday in Filer. Monday night he preached in the M. E. church. Had the weather not been so disagreeable and a little longer another even of the meeting, he would have been greeted by a church full of people.

C. B. Taylor who was formerly in the hotel business here was returned and rented the Miller hotel and is now running same. C. B. is a hotel man all right and will give patrons of the place first class service.

order of the day the past week. Reports are to the effect that lots of snow is falling in the mountains at this time. This is good news at any rate.

Mrs. Costello left Tuesday for San Francisco on a month's visit. On her return she will again take up her music work and also start a music house in Filer. She expects to carry a line of sheet music and also small musical instruments.

Talk about radishes, P. McAllister has everything heat in this section.

Last spring he sent away for some seed and in the lot received some Japanese radish seed. These radishes never quit growing, attaining a size as big as cabbages. There is one hanging in Graves' office that will give the reader some idea of their mammoth proportions. They are sound clear through, and will keep all winter long without getting stroug.

Ray Overbaugh and his uncle, Mr. Finch, bought the ranch where J. E. Lacy has been living the past several years. It is known as the H. L. DeYoung farm, and it is located about three miles northeast of Buhl.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Baldwin left their ranch and moved to Dresden, Kans., last week, where they formerly lived. Mr. Baldwin went with the emigrant car, and Mrs. Baldwin and the children followed later by train.

Carl Meyer, of Grangerville, Ida., is visiting at the C. H. Taylor home as a guest of Glen Taylor. Both boys are graduates of the agricultural department of the University of Idaho, and they were classmates at Moscow.

J. H. Shields went to Los Angeles, Cal., last Sunday evening where it is reported that he will be married to a young lady with whom he was a classmate in the University of California, at Berkeley. He expects to be gone several weeks, and a more complete announcement will appear later.

Mrs. T. H. Miller, returned Sunday from a six weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Oregon and Washington. She went to Portland, Spokane and Seattle, returning Sunday noon.

STORE NEWS

Most women who give attention to dress and personal appearance, like silk stockings. There are some who do not like them, and there are some who think it extravagant to buy them, and there are others who do not care for an article that requires the attention that silk hosiery does, to keep it in good condition for any length of time, but really and truly there are few women who would be made unhappy over a gift of good silk stockings, and particularly so at Christmas time.

Before the dye situation became as serious as it is now, and cotton yarns were as high as they have been for some time, I placed an order with one of the best manufacturers of hosiery, for a good quantity of genuine thread silk stockings, made with flare top, wide garter welt, high spliced heel, double heels and toes, double soles, fashioned in-step and ankle, a really splendid article, and the kind that you will be asked a dollar and a quarter to a dollar and a half for elsewhere, but owing to the advantages under which I made this purchase, I can sell them to you at one dollar a pair, three pair in a box for two dollars and eighty-five cents. BOARD OF HEALTH BULLETIN

Watch for the School Diseases.

Diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles are very contagious (catching) diseases. They spread quickly from the child that is sick to other children. It is important to send for the doctor in case a child is not getting well. The following signs of the disease and advice as to how to care for them will be of help to you.

Diphtheria.
Signs—Sore throat with a gray film or membrane on the throat and tonsils or in the nose; fever.

It is caused by a germ called the diphtheria bacillus. This can be grown in a tube of jelly called a culture. Diphtheria often ends in death, especially when it affects the windpipe. It is then called "strump."

The only cure for diphtheria is antitoxin. If antitoxin is given on the first day of the disease and in large enough dose, diphtheria dies out of one hundred patients; if given later, the infection is harmless; not painful, and leaves no scars.

Children who have diphtheria must be kept away from the rest of the family until culture from the nose and throat no longer show the diphtheria bacilli.

Scarlet Fever.

Signs—A bright red rash over the whole body coming out one day after sickness begins; sore throat; vomiting; high fever; four or five weeks later the skin peels off in scales.

Children who have scarlet fever must be kept away from the rest of the family until the skin has finished peeling and the child is declared well by the doctor or nurse of the Department of Health.

HANN JUBILEE SINGERS

Greatest Company of Colored Artists on Lyceum Platform.

The Hann Jubilee Singers, of Chicago, will appear at the High School Auditorium on the evening of December 15th, under the auspices of the Ideal Bible class of the First Christian church of this city. One of the most popular companies today is the Hann Jubilee Singers, which for several years were known as the Midland Jubilee Singers. The present organization is stronger than ever and beyond doubt one of the greatest aggregations of colored singers in the U. S. today. In the 1914 tour the Pacific Coast all the principal cities were visited and better than 10,000 miles were covered. Committees demand this company year after year because of their remarkable ability as musicians and singers. Chicago critics are strong in their praise of the Hann Jubilee Singers. Constantine Nicolay, Chicago Grand Opera Co., said "Mr. Hann is one of the best singers on the Lyceum platform, a veteran in the rendition of southern melodies, himself worth the price of admission." The program will be somewhat as follows:

Grand Chorus, "Bridal Chorus" Company
Plantation song, "Exhortation" Mr. Hann and company
Fireside song, "Those Endearing Charms" Mme. Talbert and Co.
Negro revival song, "Feather in the Hat" Messrs. Garner and Co.
Negro lullaby, "Go to Sleep" Miss Maye Morrison and Co.
Trio, prison scene, "Faust" Mr. Hann
Talbert, Messrs. Garner and Hann
Plantation song, "Kentucky Home" Mr. Garner and Co.
FAIRY TALES
Quartette, Act II, "La Boheme" Mme. Talbert
Miss Morrison, Messrs. Garner, Hann
Solo, "The Swan" Mr. Talbert
Trio, solo, "Goddard" Mr. Hann
Soprano solo Indian Bell Song from "Lakme" Mme. Talbert
Bass solo, "The Song of the Sea" Mr. Hann
Readings, negro dialect from Dunbar Mr. Garner
Male Quartette, "Comrades in Arms" Messrs. Garner and Talbert
Hann, Barry, Garner and Talbert
Grand finale, "Patriotic Medley."
Tickets on sale at Skeels-Willey Drug store. Admission, adults 75c, children 50c.

A LIVE PLAY

Well Known Dramatic Critic Praises "Twin Beds."

Willis Sibert Cather in a recent number of McClure's magazine has a most interesting review of what is called "The Sweated Drama." The writer begins her article by saying "The difference between the play that succeeds because it is alive and a play that 'goes' because it has been galvanized into a jerky activity by the producer and stage manager is readily felt, but difficult to define." The she goes on to take up some of the plays lately current in New York theatres, including "Twin Beds," of which the talented writer has this to say:

"Another New York play with plenty of movement is 'Twin Beds' by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo—made up of popular types and manners, regular diversions, and a popular furniture. This farce has the unusual merit of a last act with something to say, as tacit vociferously and when it is out of breath stops. The complications arise from a similarity of the suites in New York apartment houses, and the dissimilarity of the people who are packed in these human cocoons and made neighbors by a bond no more personal than a lease. So unpretentious, it has a great deal more substance and spirit than many so-called plays that have been written of New York life. The humor does not entirely depend upon mistakes and misunderstandings, and the first act, in which there are not 'beds at all' is quite as interesting as the second or third. The lines are spontaneous and amusing, and the characters are most engaging people, sketched by a spirited hand."

"Twin Beds" will have a local presentation on Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, December 20th. Seats are now on sale at Skeels-Willey Drug Co.

NEW YORK METROPOLITAN CO.

Lavering Theatre, December 22, Under the Auspices of Lecture Course.

A rare treat is to be given the Twin Falls music lovers Wednesday evening, December 22nd, when the New York Metropolitan Opera company will be at the Lavering theatre under the auspices of the lecture course. Every member of the company is a first-class artist, headed by Skjorgaard, the great Danish violinist. The entertainment given by this remarkable company of instrumental artists and singers is of the highest style of the popular Sunday concert held in the Metropolitan opera house, New York City. Greatest variety of music deriving from our favorite operas in the beautiful original costumes, folk songs in national costumes, the famous sextette from "Lucia" and the "Dance" from the "Tales of Hoffman," classical music, chamber music, popular music, in fact an entertainment for everybody.

STORE NEWS

I sometimes wonder if you good folks, who have been buying here for sometime, and have been saving money on your purchases, have been telling all your friends and relatives, so that they can become customers of this store, and make savings on their purchases too. I should like to feel that each one who has become a customer of this store; and benefited by my prices, would feel that they wanted to tell others. I know that many of you have done this and it has been a great help and I appreciate it very much, but I want this business to keep on growing faster all the time, and in turn for all the good you do me, I can, and will keep on doing you good, by continuing to sell goods at right prices, so let us all work together, and make this the biggest and best store in this part of the country. WE can do it, but let it be WE.

A retail business could hardly exceed this one in its proportion of satisfied customers. This is due to a broad, liberal policy, the selling of dependable merchandise, the consideration of your interests, the lasting guarantee, the final satisfaction. People like these things and act on them. It gives them confidence. That is the policy of this store.

ELABORATE CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS AT BISBEE'S

If Santa Claus wanted to fuse a room in his headquarters in Twin Falls, he would choose The Bisbee Studio. Even then he wouldn't be sure that he hadn't wandered into Fairyland. Dozens of polychrome flash light colored decorations in various places and every window is hospitable with a holly wreath. From the soft white of the basket chandeliers hang festoons of white and red tinsel, tied with crimson ribbon and sparkling with holly berries. But best of all, a tall canopy balsam in the nicest kind of a Christmas tree. There are rosy-cheeked apples and a great, big corn-coppper and glewing three-placed wurn and ruddy with Christmas cheer. No wonder the windows have to be washed every morning because so many wee, little folks looked through them, the day before. It's surely a room that children love and in the display case there are two life-size portraits telephoning to Santa all about it. Of course, it's for grown people too and they are enjoying it as much as anyone. In fact, the studio is for everybody. It's Christmas!—Adv.

TRAIN CLAIMS VICTIM

P. Orker Killed at Beetville, Monday, by O. S. L. Train.

That modern juggernaut, the railroad locomotive, added another to its immense toll of death Monday afternoon when P. Orker was struck and instantly killed by the Oakley train at Beetville, a loading station three miles southwest of Burley on the Oakley branch of the Short Line. The exact details of the killing may never be known, but it would seem that the deceased was picking up head along the track, where they had fallen from passing beet cars and either did not notice the approaching train or else miscalculated the distance and failed to clear the track in time.

The body was hurled some distance from the track and horribly mangled, being ripped open by the full strength from the chile down, and one leg entirely severed at the hip. Coroner Gelligoy was notified but deeming that the circumstances of the death were too plain and evident to warrant the expense of an inquest, none was held, and undertaker C. O. Yates took charge of the remains and gave them proper interment.

The victim of this sad accident was a respectable and well thought of resident of the community, living at the farm home of I. W. Pepper, where the family naturally feel keenly this untimely loss and Mr. Pepper hopes that no more of his workers will fall into the fatal path of the railway train.—Burley Advocate.
