CANAL BOARD TO ORGANIZE FRIDAY

New Managers to Take Charge of Irrigation System

NEW OFFICERS TO BE SELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR

Frank Brown, W. O. Taylor, J. H. Seavers, J. H. Barker and F. A. Kennedy constitute Board.

We, the undersigned, voters at the annual election of stockholders held on the 11th day of January, 1916, do hereby certify that the following persons are declared elected by the Board of Directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, received the number of votes as follows: Frank Brown, 70,554.44; George C. Lath, 46,412.74; J. H. Seavers, 70,412.21; W. O. Taylor, 89,263.42; J. H. Barker, 71,033.81; Frank Brown, 118,448.78; J. H. Spiller, 37,117.80; F. A. Kennedy, 70,657.93.

The grand totals of votes cast and counted at the election were 579,870.10. The total shares divided 662.3. Total shares voted 116,417.22.

We hereby certify that the following persons are declared elected: Frank Brown, W. O. Taylor, J. H. Seavers, J. H. Barker, F. A. Kennedy.

The above official announcement, signed by all the voters appointed to conduct the voting of the Canal company election tells the story of the result of the contest. Tuesday, the 12th of January, was the day when the election of officers, getting three out of five, Frank Brown was elected the largest number of votes cast, resides in Piler; W. O. Taylor lives in this city; J. H. Seaver is a resident of Castleford; J. H. Barker, from the Lacuna district, near Buhl; F. A. Kennedy resides in Kimberly. The general sentiment is that good men were selected to the board and that out of the men placed in nomination, it would have been impossible to pick a bad bunch. The new board of directors will meet and organize Friday. The election of the secretary-treasurer and the appointment of a water superintendent will be among the things that will be considered, although the last named issue may not arise at once. The future policy of the board will be developed at the Friday meeting and subsequent gatherings.

One of the features of the gathering this year that commanded universal praise, was the manner in which Mayor E. M. Swooley presided.

CONSTRUCTION CREW ARRIVED THIS WEEK

Work Begins Soon on Spur to Sugar Factory. Rails Arrive on the Way. Weather Hinders.

The line for the spur to the site of the sugar factory has been surveyed, the engineers completing the work Friday night. The construction train, containing the crew which has been laying steel along the short line from St. Anthony to this city, pulled in on the spur this morning and the work of laying steel will begin as soon as the weather will permit. Antonio Vennetti, assistant foreman, who has charge of the crew, told a representative of the Times that work would probably not begin for a couple of weeks on account of the bad weather, but that they would begin as soon as possible. Three carloads of steel were on their way here today, and in a few days, the rails will be in hand next week so that the material will be assembled shortly. Until the weather permits, the crew began to work a day longer than necessary and an early improvement in the weather will see things on the move.

BUILT PEOPLE HURT IN RUNAWAY TUESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morrison Thrown From Buggy. Injuries Are Not Considered Serious.

While returning to their home near Buhl, after attending the canal election Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morrison were thrown from their rig and were bruised them, but not seriously injuring them. It is not known what frightened the horse, but it is reported, bumped the horse against a rock or some other obstruction that threw the occupants out.

PLANS FOR POSTOFFICE ARE UP TO CITIZENS

Congressman Smith Says Additional Appropriation Cannot Be Secured Until Later.

That Congressman Addison T. Smith is not pleased with the new department design for the Twin Falls post-office building is made evident in a letter received yesterday by Secretary James McMillan, of the Commercial club, in which the congressman declares that he is surprised at the change of plan from the one endorsed by the people here and had been set aside for something looking like a garage and urging the business men to determine what they want and make their plans known. He suggests that in his opinion the handsome marble structure endeavor would cost little more than the ugly brick one planned. The letter follows:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4, 1916. Mr. James McMillan, Secretary, Commercial Club, Twin Falls, Idaho. Dear Mr. McMillan:

On receipt of your letter suggesting that a photograph of the proposed federal building at Twin Falls be forwarded to me I telephoned to the supervising architect for a copy of such photograph or of a photograph of a building similar to the one it is proposed to erect at Twin Falls, but not until today was my request complied with.

I was very much surprised to observe that the building suggested nearly three years ago as a plan to follow in the construction of a building at Twin Falls has been not added and a new plan substituted which is very much less pretentious in its appearance, and looks more like a first class garage than a government building. I took the matter up with the officials and was advised that the construction of a building similar to the one determined upon three years ago, and that buildings more plain and simple in their general appearance must be substituted. I suggested that the wishes of the people in a community where a building was to be constructed should be taken into consideration and that the whim of a cabinet officer who has no interest in the locality and whose judgment is no better than other people's who do not have access to an official position. I also suggested that the term of a cabinet officer is very short while the people in a community are able to live a century, and their wishes will be done at this time because of the failure of the employment emergency act owing to the recent decision of the supreme court.

Sincerely yours, ADDISON T. SMITH.

MONTENEGRO HARD PRESSED BY TEUTONS

Kingdom Never Before Conquered Faces Fate of Belgium

AUSTRIA IF SUCCESSFUL CAN COMMAND ADRIATIC

Interest Centers on the Montenegrin Front. No Notable Events on Other Battle Lines.

LONDON.—Cettigne, the capital of Montenegro, now seems likely to suffer the fate of Belgium and British observers are already anxiously watching for an attack from Montenegro is likely to hold over the allies at Salonika.

Fighting is going on all around Cettigne, the small town which nearly a year ago ceased to be the seat of the Montenegrin government. Never before in the long history of the little Montenegrin kingdom has it been compelled to have a foreign conqueror, but there seems little hope that it can long withstand the overwhelming strength of General Kovačević and his army.

For Italy the new Austrian success has a most ominous aspect. The long narrow Italian peninsula is peculiarly vulnerable to an attack from the sea. Any really great Austrian naval base in the magnificent harbor of Cattaro would have been impossible without the capture of the Montenegrin coast.

While attention is centered on developments on the Adriatic coast, it is announced from Rome that two Italian ships the Brindisi and Clitta Di Palermo, last week struck mines and sank. A majority of the crews were saved.

The Russian front the Austrian official communication records renewed desperate attacks by the Russians on the Bessarabian frontier but insist that the attack everywhere was repulsed. The Petrograd communication is silent on the subject, but the Russians usually do not mention defeats until they are well on the road to completion.

LARGE FORCE FOR GRADE ON MONDAY

County Commissioners in Meeting This Week Decide to Improve Bad Places on Falls Grade.

"We intend to blast out the bad places in the grade on the Shoshone road and make it a thoroughfare that will prove attractive to tourists and others who wish to cross the canyon in autos," said Dr. B. B. Atkinson, president of the board of commissioners. "The top of the grade is already in good condition, but the bottom part on the south side is far from satisfactory."

The board has decided to blast out the bad places at the bottom of the grade and construct a new road. For this purpose a large force will be put to work Monday morning. The work will be done at this time because of the failure of the employment emergency act owing to the recent decision of the supreme court.

TRUSTEES PROGRAM PROGRESSING WELL

County Superintendent Goes to Buhl to Make Final Arrangements For Session.

That the meeting of trustees called for Buhl, February 8, at the time that the moveable university extension school is in session there, will be of unusual value to the education institution of the county is an opinion shared by all educators here. The program for the session is well advanced and the county superintendent is actively at work on it and it will be ready for publication in a few days.

Wednesday in connection with the preparation of the program.

JEROME BOY DIES HERE

Charles Henry Gerboth, aged 17 years a son of Charles W. Gerboth, a hardware merchant and bank director of Jerome, died Wednesday morning at the Twin Falls hospital and was taken to Jerome that afternoon for interment. He underwent an operation in Salt Lake City about four months ago and seems never to have recovered completely thereafter. The young man and his parents were well known in this city.

ACTION TAKEN ON MEXICAN OUTRAGE

Carranza Advised By Consul That Our Citizens Must Be Protected

WASHINGTON REQUIRES PURSUIT AND PUNISHMENT OF SLAYERS

Atrocious Acts Must Be Suppressed and American Property Protected. Our Advice Emphatic.

WASHINGTON.—The state department Wednesday announced that Secretary Lansing's protest, telegraphed to American Consul Silliman at Queretaro, demands protection for Americans. It denounces the murders as a "diabolical outrage."

The number of foreigners massacred in the bus canyon west of Santa Ysabel Monday afternoon was placed at 19 late Wednesday. It was authoritatively stated that General Pablo Lopez, a Yagui chieftain, closely allied with a General Francisco Villa, commanded the massacre. About 200 bandits attacked the train, it was said, while two hundred were grouped as a reserve to one side of the right of way.

Arrivals from Chihuahua City said that a troop train of 20 cars conveyed between five hundred and one thousand Carranza troops had preceded the military company special by about 12 minutes, leaving the capital. The engine and two cars of the train were said to have been derailed by the bandits in order to stop the passenger train of Americans. What became of the Carranza soldiers, it was in the military train has not been learned.

Following is the statement of Mr. Holmes, as given to the state department, and press Wednesday night: Our train left Chihuahua City Monday morning at 11 o'clock. The train was stopped at or about the ranch Haza, about five miles west of Santa Ysabel between 1:30 and 2 o'clock that afternoon. While the train was standing at the station of Santa Ysabel two armed Mexicans took us and scrutinized the train. The Mexicans passengers at Santa Ysabel told me afterward that the riders had inured to there were any soldiers on the train.

"At the point of the massacre our train was stopped in a cut, so that the last car was just inside the cut. We were stopped by a Mexican train. The front trucks of one of the coal cars which was seen to be off the track. This was the first we knew of a train preceding us. This was about 100 yards around the train in front."

"When our train was stopped Newman and I were sitting together and Evans came and looked out of our window. Evans, Newman, Macellion and I then got off the train. Watson was then getting off or about to do so. He looked back and saw him. Just after alighting I heard a volley of rifle shots from a point on the hill between 100 and 200 yards from the train. Looking around I could see a bunch of about 12 or 15 men standing in a solid line, shoulder to shoulder, aiming directly at us. They were 50 or 75 feet away. The coach cut off my view so I could not see how many hands there were. I saw the eye of one of the men in the Santa Ysabel river at that point was about 12 feet. On the other side was much greater. To the rear of the train was an embankment declining towards the river."

"Watson after getting off ran toward the river. Macellion and I followed him. Macellion fell, I do not know whether he was killed then or tripped. Watson kept running and they were still shooting at him when he fell. Watson fell about 100 yards from the train. I saw him fall in some brush, probably 100 feet from the rear of the train. I looked back and saw a bunch of Mexicans shooting in the direction at which Watson was running. I saw that they were shooting at the train and thinking they believed me already dead. I took a chance and crawled into some thick bushes. I crawled through the bushes and ran down the bank of the river. I then made my way to a point probably 100 yards from the bank. There I lay under the bank for half an hour and heard shots by ones and twos and threes. I did not hear any sort of groans or yells or cries from our Americans."

KING HEADQUARTERS CHANGED

The headquarters of the King Auto company has been moved this afternoon from the old stand at 218 Main street to the old Iris theatre building at 225 Shoshone street. The manager, F. A. Nelson, who expected to be present at the moving is in Boise, where he has been confined to his room for 16 days.

SCHOOL SAVINGS TO BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

Plan to Teach Habit of Thrift to the Boys and Girls in the City Schools. Purpose Worthwhile.

The plan for the establishment of a system of school savings in the local schools will become effective next Monday, January 17. The new plan is to be put into effect with the opening of the second semester of the present school year.

Supplementing the scheme of encouraging boys and girls in the local schools to become actual depositors in the local banks and thus practice habits of thrift and saving, the teachers will place particular emphasis on the matter of boys and girls becoming savers. A few minutes each week will be devoted to lessons in thrift in every grade in the elementary schools. In these lessons of thrift, the teachers will endeavor to inculcate habits of saving and discourage practices of extravagance. This is not simply a campaign to get boys and girls into actual commercial relations with the banking institutions of our community and thus begin early habits of thrift and good business; this is, with equal emphasis, a campaign against habits of wastefulness. It is a fight against cheap candy or any other cheap commodity that attracts boys and girls because of the large quantities that can be bought for a small sum of money. It is primarily a campaign to make our boys and girls business men and business women. It is a struggle on the part of the public schools for the early establishment of habits of thrift and saving that will make secure for every child successful business and economic future. It is a struggle worthy of the good people of our community.

It is hoped that every father and mother will exert extra effort to explain to the teachers the importance of this campaign. It is a splendid spirit of sympathy and co-operation that will make a positive help. The home can do much to give its child a lot of backbone and stability.

The local banks that are operating in this city are the First National bank and the Twin Falls Bank & Trust company. The selection of the bank is left entirely with the parents of the children. The bank will exert no influence in this matter whatsoever.

This is purely a unity of home, school and bank. The school will favor the economic future of every child in the Twin Falls schools. The purpose behind the movement is to encourage the child to save every dollar in this unity put forth every effort to accomplish this purpose.

FOUR NEW TEACHERS ARE SELECTED

Board of Education Elects Misses Goebel, Leonard, Hobbs and Jackson to Positions.

At the regular meeting of the board of education held Monday evening, January 10, the following teachers were elected to positions in the Twin Falls schools:

Miss Ellen Goebel of St. Charles, Mo., takes the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Grace Buttrick formerly instructor of German in the high school. Miss Goebel recently received her master's degree at the University of Chicago and is a teacher of wide experience.

Miss Marion Leonard, of Lake City, Minn., takes the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Fries, formerly the fourth grade teacher of the Lincoln school. Miss Leonard is a graduate of the advanced course of the Wisconsin normal school and has had several years experience as a teacher.

Miss Leila Hobbs takes the position made vacant by the resignation of Miss Margaret Williams formerly teacher in the second grade of the Bickel school. Miss Hobbs is a graduate of the advanced course of the Shiprock, Pa., state normal school. She has had four years of teaching experience.

Miss Lucille Jackson takes the position created by the addition of an extra teacher in the primary grades. Miss Jackson is a home in Emmett, Idaho, and she is a graduate of the advanced course of the Albion, Idaho, state normal school. During the present year she has been teaching in the Barclay schools, where she has taught for the last four years. She will be assigned work in the First A and Second B grades in the Bickel school.

SUNDAY LAST DUCK DAY

Sunday will be the last day for the hunting of ducks in this section, according to the law. The game warden, who says that he will get after violators of the law on Monday and stay on their trail. There has been some talk of the game warden's time of closing and the authoritative statement of Mr. Fitzsimmons will end the discussion.

NOTHING DONE ON LOST RIVER PROBLEM

Claim Made That 150 Settlers Would Be Deprived of Rights.

WOULD LOSE LANDS IF STATE ENTERED INTO CONTRACT

Donald Holds Hearing on the Matter, But Defers Action Until A Later Date.

More than 800 persons, representing about 150 settlers, will be obliged to forsake their lands on Lost River and Antelope creeks, turning back to the government domain about twenty-eight thousand acres of land, if the state could enter into a contract with the Utah Construction company for the rebuilding of the Big Lost river project, according to Senator Hays and the state land board Tuesday afternoon.

Senator Macbeth said the settlers in Blaine and Custer counties intended to fight the matter to the end. Legal steps will be taken to prevent the Utah Construction company from taking water from Big Lost river and Antelope creek, which the senator contends, in what the construction company intends to do should the contract submitted by it to the land board be approved by the state.

It will simply mean that the courts will have to determine whether the Utah Construction company's water rights, taken out in 1905 when they were granted fifty thousand inches from Big Lost river and five thousand inches from Antelope creek, are of sufficient value to warrant the state's action.

Mr. Macbeth said that under the water rights granted to the construction company in 1905 it would have been necessary to construct a dam, and that the natural flow from the Big Lost river and Antelope creek would be cut off. The state would mean he said, that practically $750,000 worth of water rights would be lost.

Blaine and Custer county settlers to irrigate the first unit of the construction company's proposed work, and that the construction company would not be obliged to pay out a dollar to transfer the water.

Charles C. Sherman, representing settlers on one of the tracts, said the proposed contract was "pernicious." Furthermore, he said, it was a question of whether the construction company could furnish two acre feet of water per acre for the first unit to be irrigated, which is the Arco tract owned by the state.

He declared that there were times when the settlers would be obliged to have more than the amount mentioned in the contract. He said by the attorney general if he thought the land board would be justified in signing the contract with the construction company, he would not be able to furnish more than two acre feet of water per acre, he replied.

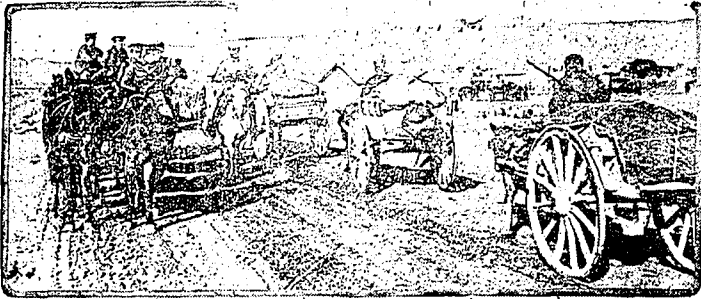

Attorney Snow, representing the construction company, said that was what he knew of the matter where the construction company was concerned. He said that the settler was in good faith. He sought, however, that after the initial payment of the contract was made, demands, outside of interest, for possibly three or five years. This matter, however, was up to the construction company and he would not discuss it. He said the construction company contemplated a bond of 5 per cent of the estimated cost of the construction work.

No action was taken by the board regarding the contract. The meeting was moved in the nature of a hearing and it is likely the subject will be brought before the board again at an early date.

IDAHO POPULATION INCREASES

Unofficial estimates have been compiled, giving the population of continental United States—New Year's day, 1916—compared with the census of 1910. The population of Idaho is estimated at 430,235, compared with 325,594 in 1910. The increase for the state was 104,641. Continental United States, including Porto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines, shows an estimated population as New Year's day of 161,203,215, compared with 95,590,331 a year ago, an increase for the year of 1,517,884. It has been said that the census of April 15, 1910, the population was 92,000,000, showing an increase to the present of 9,200,000.

WILSON FORCES ACCEPTANCE OF NEW INTERNATIONAL LAWS POLITICAL PLANS

BEING DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON—Before the European war began there was no international law on submarine warfare. By virtue of United States demands, finally granted by two great nations and supported by the allies through interchange of state papers—the United States has been responsible for the following international code:

No merchant ships of whatever nationality shall be torpedoed without warning. Passengers and crew of all ships halted shall be secured in a "place of safety" unless land is near and the sea is calm.

Ships which attempt to escape by flight, resist capture or attack the submarine, forfeit protection of international law. All those captured, including neutrals, Submarine commanders may be justified in torpedoing of suspicious and hostile maneuvers of a vessel justify belief in its hostile intentions. After a vessel halts, even though having originally attempted flight, submarines cannot continue bombardment or torpedo until all aboard are "boarded."

Neutral ships carrying absolute contraband may be sunk without mortality. An unsettled point is the number and caliber of guns a merchant vessel may carry and still avoid classification as an armed ship.

Medicine Makers in the State Capital Assume Air of Ancient Oracles, Many Guessing.

BOISE—Makers of political medicine are at work fixing up all sorts of brews that will cheer and incite as well as the discarded beverage produced "under the Annheuser-Busch" and interested parties can get any sort of dose wanted in regard to either presidential or gubernatorial candidates for Republican nomination. The Roosevelt issue is worrying some of the politicians, just how many it is hard to say. The "insiders" are either troubled by it or are putting off a final decision until the "Night of the Racial Countenance." There is a rumor abroad, however, to the effect that the movement for the Rough Rider is a faint shadow at the moment. The man from Oyster Bay will announce that he has no personal ambition except to serve his country, that he is willing to sacrifice personal feeling to do that and that the only thing to do to prevent control of things from the disbeliever Democracy is to get together on Charles E. Hughes and reproduce the old Cincinnati stunt with modern trimmings. Hughes is one of the Near Progressives, who is quite satisfactory to all respectable standpoints. They like his opposition to the income tax amendment and his also discrimination between small grangers and big beneficiaries of privilege while governor of New York. It is figured by the fellows who claim to be "insiders" that Roosevelt will be willing to play the role assigned so long as he is taken into confidence before hand. It is an open secret that some of the politicians who backed him for the presidential nomination in 1912 intended only to use him to make the nomination of Taft practically untenable and then allow him to take the honor of throwing the prize to some one among themselves. "No would be satisfactory to all elements. Roosevelt is not a political amateur by any means. He was willing to take the credit for nominating a compromise man, providing that the convention would not enough, at his contesting delegates to give him control of the convention. This the old guard did not dare to do, and the plotters in the Roosevelt ranks found themselves outwitted. There is really little chance that Borah will get the nomination, even if those who hand out the above dope are mistaken. But he will get plenty of advertising throughout the country, will have a large delegation in the convention and will gain plenty of prestige in Idaho. He has recently conferred with Teddy and the men are working together.

In the meantime the state situation is causing plenty of vexation of spirit among the politicians. Captain Davis is openly in the field on a platform that would dovetail well into a platform which Hughes sought to run for president. If he is to run at all, it advocates small reforms as fundamental and will please many good people who do not wish the privileges of respectable folks disturbed. Davis comes out strong against sectionalism, which is a good move on his part, since if that issue should govern he would be out of the running. Before the civil war in this country, the Democrats, in order to hold the party together, were in the habit of uniting northern men with southern leanings. The politicians in the north are taking their cue from this and are explaining that while from the north, their hearts beat in unison with the people of the south. Lieutenant Governor Herman H. Taylor, who nearly lost his scalp in 1914, to Editor J. W. Tanner of the Elmer Journal, is out for something bigger this time. It is said by those who ought to know.

Frank A. Davis, of Moscow, thinks he wants to be governor and this will divide the north. There is a rumor abroad that State Auditor Tustan was at a conference in St. Paul, Minn., that he brought all sorts of assurances of good will from the southern county politicians. Huston denies this and the lieutenant governor denies that he attended the conference in question. Guy Martin is mentioned for both governorship and for the position of attorney general.

In the meantime sentiment in the Democratic ranks is unanimously in favor of Wilson and Alexander. A small element of the party oppose the preparedness ideas of the president in some respects, and some Democrats still retain an affection for W. J. Bryan, but they feel that though Bryan may oppose the preparedness program, it does not mean that he will refuse to support President Wilson after the election. To support a Republican and elect him over Wilson on that is-

66,000 SIXES FOR THE MEN WHO KNOW

WITH the establishment of a remarkable selling record in the motor car industry there arises a desire to discover and test why and how such a demand came into existence. While it is easier to analyze causes after the event than before, this particular situation could safely have been predicted in advance—and was. The men responsible for the manufacture and sale of upward of 66,000 cars of a very distinctive type had no misgivings as they launched their plans. Within twelve months they must place these cars in the hands of the American public.

Yet they knew that the task could be accomplished readily. Their work was simple. They had only to respond to a demand.

The buyer of a valve-in-head Six is not a faddist. He is a thinker. He is the best emotional of motor car purchasers. He is not swayed easily. He can not be "Stamped."

He has not arrived at his decision hastily.

Men who will possess the upward of 66,000 Valve-in-head Sixes long before the end of the 1916 season, will have thought Six and Valve-in-Head months before they became owners.

The act of purchase is an outward manifestation of a conviction.

Two vital considerations brought them to a decision.

First—the valve in the head is the one means of bringing the explosive power to bear directly upon the piston.

Secondly—the six is the extremely simple form of motor in which the power impulses overlap.

The first is power. The second is smoothness. Both are flexibility—efficiency—economy. Both are tried, tested and proved.

Sonorous phrase has had nothing to do with the upward of 66,000 sale.

The determining factor has been the hundreds of thousands of cars running easily, swiftly, dependably, at low cost—and the name Buick.

Despite our lower price we guarantee 1916 Buicks contain more drop forgings, better upholstery, better paint and finish—greater quality throughout—greater quality throughout—than any previous models. Buick cars are furnished complete to the smallest detail.

Regardless of the car you buy or the price you pay, nowhere can you get greater value.

POVERTY IS CAUSE OF MOST ALL ILLNESS

Man who made Panama Healthful Says Doubling of Wages Was The Principal Means Used.

CHICAGO, Jan.—Major General William C. Gorgas, who waged successful war against the yellow fever scourge in Panama, was presented with the gold medal of the Geographical society of Chicago for his distinguished services to humanity.

The gold medal has been bestowed on only two other men, Captain Amundsen, who reached the south pole and Major General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal. The presentation was made by Dr. Frank Billings at a banquet. General Gorgas spoke on "Sanitation in its Relation to Geography."

"Disease is about as strong and terrible an enemy as any war that is likely to invade the United States," he said. "The prevalent disease in this country is poverty."

"Science knows that the chief cause of disease is poverty—that disease can never be eliminated so long as people are forced to live poorly and close together. We are endeavoring to do everything we can by educating the people. In Panama we were able to eliminate poverty. The government paid us wages. Poverty vanished and with it disease."

"How can we eliminate poverty?" the general said. "I am not a socialist, nor a single taxer, nor anything radical, political or social. But one solution is the throwing open of unworked lands of this country. It would not matter if one man owned the whole United States so long as he kept it worked. But it becomes dangerous when one man owns a great deal of land and permits it to remain unoccupied. If the congested city population could be turned into this vast space a great part of our disease problem would solve itself."

SIX NEW HAVIN DIRECTORS ACQUITTED

Jury Returns Mixed Verdict. Five Including Rockefeller, Must Stand New Trial.

NEW YORK—Six of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, charged by the government with criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were found not guilty late Sunday by the jury that for nearly three months has been trying the case. The jury disagreed on the five others.

Those of whom the jury disagreed were William Rockefeller, New York; Charles F. Brooks, Ansonia, Conn.; Charles M. Pratt, Brooklyn; Lewis Cass Ledyard, New York, and Edward D. Robbins, New Haven.

The verdict was returned at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, 61 hours of deliberation, and the jury was discharged. The final vote on the five defendants upon which the jurors did not agree stood 3 to 4 for acquittal.

R. L. Batts, chief counsel for the government, announced that he would move for a new trial of these five. This will be done, he said, before any effort will be made to try the six other former directors of the road that were indicted, but who obtained the right to be tried separately.

CAPT. DAVIS AND HIS PLATFORM

The platform on which Capt. E. G. Davis proposes to make the race for the Republican nomination for governor can hardly be criticized. Most of the things he stands for are either good or harmless; it might be added that all will no doubt be put forth in substance by other Republican aspirants for the nomination. The generalities set forth by ex-Governor Haines' private secretary are entirely commendable as far as they go.

In asserting that those who steal directly from the public treasury are less dangerous offenders against good government than some other types of public officials, Capt. Davis utters a pregnant, trite and generally recognized truth. But in attributing an underlying cause of bad government other practices and superficial evils of which he perhaps justly complains, he shows what we would regard in a man of wide experience, as a surprising lack of knowledge of the things that make government bad.

Whether the governor of Idaho does or does not need a private secretary, a conference if not a necessity that governors of all parties in this state have afforded, constitutes a question of greater or lesser importance. If the office is a useless appendage it should be eliminated, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Davis ought to have some first hand information on the subject.

So many matters of comparatively small importance are mentioned in Capt. Davis' platform that it is difficult to gather a clear idea of just what fundamental issues he wishes to urge as the reason for his candidacy.

A STANDPAT COMPROMISE IN SIGHT

George Able once used as the topic for a fable the story of the quarrel of a husband and wife over the name of the new member of the family. The "head" of the family insisted emphatically on Bill. The "better half" stood pat for Aubrey De Courcy. After many harsh recriminations and bitter tears a compromise was effected. The son was named Aubrey De Courcy.

So with the getting together of the Progressive and Reactionary wings of the Republican party. If eastern news reports to the effect that the conflicting elements of the Republican party are becoming more harmonious, are indeed to be believed at all, then there is no avoiding the conclusion that their differences are being compromised on a standpat basis.

The faction that dictated the Volstead conference surrenders nothing voluntarily. If anything essential is given up, the result must be a compromise.

An Idaho paper the other day took occasion to remind its readers that Wilson was a minority president, in that he did not receive a majority of the total vote. If anyone who is interested will take the trouble to look it up he will find that minority presidents were not unknown before. Lincoln, at his first election, was a minority president, so was Haywood, and Garfield, who followed him, and Cleveland again. Harrison, who separated Cleveland's two terms, not only was a minority president, but his popular vote fell below Cleveland's by 98,000. Cleveland, in his second election, was again a minority president, with respect to the total vote. Indeed, with three or more strong parties in the field, it is more than likely the successful one will be a minority official.

CAPACITY HOUSE DISAPPOINTED WITH LECTURE COURSE NUMBER

(Review)
The "Servant in the House" course, many one of the regular lecture course attractions, failed to meet its appointment here Tuesday evening on account of missing connection at Minidoka. Wednesday evening, however, it was greeted by a full house, owing to the fact of the general sale of season tickets. The theme and lesson of the story or play, is the victory of real and simple goodness over selfishness and self-righteousness and selfishness, and it is therein developed with skill and power. The presentation by this company as seemed to the critic, was sadly marred by the unnatural and affected declamations and monotonousness of the "Servant" whose make-up as the Christ, although probably conventional, appeared in doubtful taste and was not at all pleasing. The histrionic honors of the east were easily taken by the "common laborer" and the bishop of Lancaster, each of whom carried a difficult part admirably. Mary, the daughter, showed the best in her most trying passages, while the priest and his wife were infinitely poor all the time.

SCRIVER-FARRIS LECTURE COURSE STARTS SUNDAY

"Individual and Community Progress"
Topic of Opening Address in Evening at School Auditorium.

The Scriver-Farris lecture course opens Sunday evening at 7:30 in the high school auditorium with Mr. Scriver giving the first lecture. He has announced he will speak on "Individual and Community Progress." This company came to Twin Falls highly recommended. They are doing a much needed work in that they are trying to teach people that to live is to "love thy neighbor as thyself." Mrs. Grace Farris, of this course, is considered one of the best teachers of practical Christian psychology in this country. The ladies of our city are especially fortunate in having her to lead them in a study of the larger things of life. She will conduct Sunday classes for ladies only every afternoon at 2:30, beginning Monday. Harry Scriver is not an ordained minister. He is an ex-country newspaper editor. He says God is not half as mysterious as man and that if man would follow, he would be led. On Wednesday evening he will address the men of Twin Falls on "Success and Failure." On Thursday evening he will speak on "That Boy." This subject in the study of his life and he is desirous that all parents should hear this. He speaks every evening at 8:00.

These people come under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association, which should be given the loyal support of all. No admission charged but a silver offering is taken.

SEED SHOW TO BE HELD AT CALDWELL

Splendid Program and Many Good Treasures. Opens January 19 For Three Days.

January 19, 20 and 21 are the dates of the state seed show to be held at Caldwell this year, which should be a center of attraction for Canyon county farmers. The show not only will display a large attendance of farmers, but the premiums offered, including many specials made by Caldwell merchants should call forth numerous exhibits from this leading agricultural county in the state. Competition in the show is to be divided into three classes. Division I, is for the ranchers, division II, for dealers and merchants and division III, for boys and girls' clubs. The cash prizes are confined to exhibits in the first division, but any of the exhibits in division II, may also be entered in competition with those of the growers.

It is requested that all exhibits be sent by parcel post or express, prepaid, not later than Jan. 14, to the Idaho Seed Growers' association, care W. T. McCall, Caldwell. Exhibits must absolutely be in place by 9 o'clock of the morning of January 20. Among the pertinent rules governing the competition should be mentioned the restriction limiting during the season of 1915 in the state of Idaho. Exhibits containing seeds of noxious weeds are barred, as are also duplicate entries by any exhibitor. Seed produced on lots of less than one-half acre or for experimental purposes may not be entered. Exhibits from seed houses or dealers are solicited but appear for display purposes only, having no part in the competition.

STILL HIGHER GO ALL STOCK PRICES

The beef steer trade was active and the market strong compared with the rates commanded by steers last Monday says the Portland Live Stock Reporter. Some day-olds went as high as $7.60, a price fully 25 cents higher than other coast or middle western markets for steers of the same class. A choice lot of 3-year-old steers averaging 652 pounds, brought $7.99 this morning. Fulfed steers are advanced to $7.50.

Offering of cattle today was heavier on the local market than it has been for several weeks. Receipts during the week were below last year's but today put the balance on the right side. Early activities in the hog department were featured by anxious buyers to take on all supplies at an advance of 10 to 15 cents. The supply was quite liberal, $50 being received, with the quality exceptionally good. Tops sold at $5.90, with the bulk going at $5.85 to $5.90.

The Portland market today is only 5 cents lower than Chicago and is 30 cents higher than Omaha. This market is the highest recognized market west of Chicago and is also the premier of the Pacific coast. Lambs were sold today at $8.25; yearling wethers at $7.15 and ewes at $6.20.

LOCAL MARKETS.

The prices on the local markets stand up well, but in some instances they fluctuate considerably, some times from day to day. This is a natural result of the price of wheat, sheep and hogs. The hog market has gone up steadily of late, being 50 cents a hundred higher than it was a short time ago. Today's prices follow:

Wheat	$1.42	$1.50
Potatoes, white, f. o. b.	12	10
Potatoes, russet, f. o. b.	10	8
Stoves	$5.25	$5.25
Cows and bulls	$3.50	$4.00
Lambs	60	70
Swine	50	60
Hogs	$5.00	$5.20
Chickens	80	90
Springs	12	10
Butter	12	10
Oatmeal	80	100
Ducks	80	100
Backs	80	100
Eggs	20	30

POTATO BREAKFAST WILL BE SIZZLING CELEBRATION

From sly winks that are being passed around among those whose duty it is to ramrod through the potato breakfast on the morning of January 21, bright and early, there must be something mighty comical in the wind. They say that the gridiron will be sizzling and that the local statement of business magnates will be sizzling as delightfully as do the big guns at Washington, when the press boys put them on to roast. The tickets for the affair will be 10 per cent, and every cent of it will be earned by those preparing the meal and program, while it will be worth ten times as much. The tickets will be on sale Tuesday, January 18, at the Commercial club and in the hands of a committee consisting of M. L. Ashton, M. J. Sweeley, A. R. Hicks, W. R. Friebe, J. E. Read, Dr. F. F. McAtos and C. D. Thomas for the more serious minded who desire some solid stuff amid an ocean of portentiousness. There will be a saccharine oration by Secretary Frank G. Taylor, of the Amalgamated Sugar company, who promises to suit the taste of the other pundits present and offset the frivolous remarks of M. J. Sweeley, who will be the toastmaster for the occasion.

PIONEER WOMAN AT REST

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Cryder, of Curry, who died at North Yakima, Washington, last week was held in that city Tuesday. Her husband, Henry Cryder and her children who went immediately on learning that she was dying, have not yet returned. Mrs. Cryder went to North Yakima a few weeks ago to visit her daughter, Mrs. Phil, and her son Harry, who live there and about two weeks before her death she was on her death bed. Mrs. Cryder was a pioneer of Twin Falls, coming here years ago with her husband, Mr. Cryder, who was at one time connected with the Farmers & Merchants bank of this city and later with the Adams-Pittenger Lumber company. The following children survive her: Mrs. S. D. Pate, wife of the editor of the Burley Bulletin, who was at one time school superintendent here; Phil, Clinton Smith, of Curry; Mr. Phil of North Yakima; Harry Cryder, of North Yakima and Orrie Cryder, of Curry.

COLEMAN DENIED PARDON BY THE STATE BOARD

The application of Fred M. Coleman, defaulting deputy state treasurer, for a full and complete pardon from the state penitentiary, was again unanimously denied by the board of pardons today. On both occasions that Coleman asked consideration of the board he had secured less than half of the minimum of his sentence, which is two and one-half years. The maximum of his sentence is 10 years. He confessed to the embezzlement of $27,000 of the state funds. Although there have been reports of immunity offered him because of his assistance in locating the treasury shortage, these are denied by pardon board members and their action today, is taken as their answer to them.

Fred P. Tilton, Agent
Twin Falls, Idaho Route 2

It is very, very easy for a concern to advertise "this has been the biggest year in our history," "our business is steadily improving," etc. And it is also very easy for you to doubt such assertions, isn't it? Naturally, for they are generalities, at best, without one concrete fact for your consideration.

Personally, we are never greatly impressed by sweeping assertions of great gains—unless specific proof is offered. A few definite statements are far more convincing to us than a page of paragraphs without figures for thoughtful comparison.

So we will not waste space in telling you whether our business is big or little, or even whether it is growing. We simply state one fact and from it you will draw your own conclusion.

During the year 1915 we had in window displays the portraits of over 600 different people. We wish we had three times the window space; we could easily fill it without exhausting the samples of our every-day work. You've seen the window displays; there was no room for hundreds of other portraits just as beautiful. Come and we will show them to you, as many of them as you want to see.

39TH CENTURY MEMBERS ENJOY LEGISLATIVE DAY PROGRAM

The principal feature of Legislative Day at the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon was an address by Hon. M. J. Stevely, the object of which was to give the members a better understanding of the making of laws in their own state. That the ladies appreciated the effort was evidenced by the large number in attendance. Each of whom felt repaid in the knowledge gained by the lucid manner in which the speaker handled his subject.

Opening the program Miss Nellie Toudale sang three numbers from the splendid compositions of Calman. Miss Toudale's expression was such as to put the very soul of the composer into his productions, so vastly different from the meaningless jingles so frequently heard in modern music. Miss Vesta Thomas was the able accompanist. At the close of the program the singer announced that Calman would be in Salt Lake sometime during the middle of March and could be secured to give a concert in Twin Falls if the proper guarantee can be given. The co-operation of the club will probably be given in furthering the movement.

Another musical number was an instrumental duet by Misses Ripley and Walker, a very pleasing selection and well rendered.

At a business meeting following the question of the annual Colonial ball was discussed and the unanimous decision was that the ball be given sometime during the early part of February.

The president announced a very important business meeting for January 15th and urged every member to be present.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Twice-a-Week Times Takes Lead In Circulation in This Section of Idaho

THE CIRCULATION OF THE TIMES EXCEEDS THAT OF ANY OTHER NEWSPAPER—WEEKLY, SEMI-WEEKLY OR DAILY—PUBLISHED IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE.

We are able to make this announcement, which will be of special interest to advertisers who wish to reach the people of this section, by reason of the addition of the subscription list of THE HERALD, the Salmon tract newspaper, to the circulation of THE TIMES.

The recent change in management, whereby the editor and publisher of THE HERALD assumed the management of THE TIMES, necessitates the consolidation of the two circulations.

THE HERALD is the only county paper having an extensive circulation in the southern portions of the county, and the addition of its list of subscribers to that of THE TIMES extends the circulation of the TWICE-A-WEEK publication especially to the towns of ROBINSON, AMSTERDAM, HOLISTER, BERGER, and greatly increases the Twin Falls city as well as rural circulation. After Saturday's issue the publication of THE HERALD will be discontinued.

"ALL THE NEWS FIRST" will be our slogan. To promote the interests of this big section of southern Idaho our most sincere desire: To publish a complete newspaper, our aim.

"A reliable newspaper with the largest circulation" is the combination that makes THE TIMES the best and cheapest advertising medium; reaching the greatest number of people with the least expense.

The solution of your advertising problem is the TWICE-A-WEEK TIMES—the complete newspaper.

Flue Musical Program at Ascension Episcopal Church Reproduced by Request.

By reason of the numerous requests for the flue musical program at the Ascension Episcopal church last Sunday will be repeated next Sunday. The choir under Director Paulen delighted the congregation and visitors, and was composed of the following: Hanson, Meach, Hayward, Higgins, Watson, Crowley, tenors; Haged, Leigh, Kinsler, Paulen and Mallin; sopranos; Meadams Tucker, Treman and Signins; and Misses Hingate, Taylor and Smith; alto; Meadams Bowen and Treman; and Misses Haged and Coxen. A duet by Meadams Tucker and Treman was much appreciated and the tenor singing of Mr. Kinsler was pronounced worthy in the chautauque circle. Mrs. M. L. Warren, as organist, played the accompaniment to the satisfaction of all. Dr. Higgins is president of the choir. The sermon of the pastor, Rev. L. B. Franck, was attuned to the music and appealed strongly to the people present.

The following is the program which was given and which will be repeated next Sunday. Processional, "The Church is Our Foundation," Berg. Sermon Hymn, "Brightest and Best," Mendelssohn. Sermon. Offertory, by choir, "I Waited for the Lord," Mendelssohn. Recessional, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War."

My work is always in the sand hills and I have to cover about one hundred square miles of the worst roads on earth. I have driven my car over 6,000 miles without a breakdown, something never done with any other car over these same roads. In the sand hills I go from 13 to 15 miles per gallon of gas. If I run north on the hard roads I would average between 18 and 20 miles."

"THE DIAMOND FROM THE SKY"

ent I'll use the ready cash. And now, if you don't mind, for it is getting toward morning, I will leave you.
"No, I won't go out the front door," he chuckled as they walked from the room and down the grand staircase in the silent mansion. "I'll go out the way I came in. It's good luck."

In the library Arthur sank again into the easy chair. Not one word had he spoken. He was ready to part with the blackmailer as he was ready to part with life itself—without fear and without hope.

At the thought his eyes fell upon the brassy glass, the poisoned chalice with which he was to drink his toast to Death.

Luke's eyes followed him. "Why, I declare," he cried, with an air of clumsy playfulness, "I actually forgot to take my brim with my coffee!" He picked up the glass. "At parting," he said, "the toadmy flye drinks your good health!"

Arthur stared as though to stop him, but he was without fear and without hope. This was destiny. What man may read the book of his fate? It was gypsy blarney that Luke and not he was to pledge the toast to Death.

Luke drained the brim with a gulp, then flicked his lips. "Quiver stuff that," he said. "Why, curse it, it burns like acid!" He looked at Arthur's son, and plain as words he read what was in the dark eyes of the other.

"It was a trap!" he shrieked. "D—n your grinning, treacherous face, it was a trap! A gypsy trick! You have poisoned me!"

And, reeling and cursing and grasping at himself as though to stay the agony that burned at his vitals, Luke staggered through the window—low to the lawn and across the grass plot to the driveway at the back of the mansion.

And then a great glare of light played upon him like a mighty beam of incandescence, and with a rushing shriek from the electric horn Blair's heavy motor tore around the corner of the great mansion and in a flash had struck the poisoned man, crushing in his face and leaving him a huddled, quivering mass in the roadway.

John Powell clutched at his heart. In the agony of the moment his soul seemed to leap from him as he peered from behind the window shade at this last tragic toll taking of Death, the guardian of the diamond from the sky! There was a shriek from Vivian as the swift auto struck the poisoned man. Then a crashing of the brakes, the car stopped with a jerk, and Blair ran back to the quivering figure in the roadway.

One glance at the crushed, disfigured face and Blair, in merciful pity strange to him, placed his hand over to hide the dreadful sight. He bent down.

There was every evidence in the attitude to show it was. The wallet had fallen from the breast coat pocket of the dead man. Blair knew it. He called for Vivian, and as she ran toward him he tore from the breast of the dead man the diamond from the sky, while the halted auto throbbed and panted as though it glowed at what it and Blair had done!

"A gypsy trick!" the dying man had cried. There were other gypsy tricks. John Powell was dead; with him should Arthur Stanley pass! The now nameless man ran to his room and hastily donned a heavy dark suit of cloth.

The cries of Vivian and Blair had roused the house, and the nameless man heard the half-dressed servants rushing down the stairs over to the front door at the back of the house. Women, he passed to the library, and then, as they bore the corpse of him they thought John Powell to the front and into his mansion for the last time, the man who had been Arthur Stanley and John Powell slipped from the window, stole across the lawn and made his way through the muck before dawn to the bungalow.

Bringing out the great, birdlike machine, he rose with it and climbed up the chimney of the wind and rode upon the wings of the morning!

Out to sea, far out! This was a death to die! But the wings of the morning wafted exultation to his soul. He cast aside the book of his degradation and turned and wheeled his distant flight—clear of mind and clean of soul again!

On the wings of the morning, and far below a gypsy caravan. "Either, my beloved, and Lazar, my dear mother!"

And then, on the wings of the morning, something snipped. Down, down, he plunged. He saw in the bright light of day that now filled the earth the gypsy caravan, and he could discern the slight figure of Esther.

Then he felt the air rise up on either side as he sank down like a plummet. And so he went down, down—seeing, he believed, the outstretched arms and upturned face of Esther—without fear and without hope.

At the mansion of the late John Powell a wreath of flowers is on the door. The newspapers record occasionally of his death and the strange story Blair has disclosed that the mad millionaire, who took poison and threw himself in the way of an onrushing automobile, was not John Powell, but Arthur Stanley.

The Supposed Death of Arthur Stanley, fugitive from justice in Virginia and heir to an English earldom and the diamond from the sky!

A gypsy hunchback riding to the dead man's house on a travel dred horse is told all this. It turns out, anyway. How shall he take such a message to a dying mother?

Silencing the Questioners.
A French gentleman who had been with M. de Talleyrand for twenty years accompanied him to the congress at Vienna after Napoleon's exile to Elba. People naturally concluded that this long intimacy had made him familiar with a number of particulars of the minister's life and bearing also upon the events with which he had been mixed up. Worried with questions, the friend invariably replied that he knew nothing, but the questioners would not be satisfied and returned to the charge.

"Very well," finally said Talleyrand's confidant; "I'll tell you a peculiar and altogether unknown fact in connection with M. de Talleyrand. Since Louis XV. he's the only man who can open a soft boiled egg with one backward stroke of his knife without spilling a drop of the contents of the shell. That is the only peculiarity I know in connection with him."

Discretion had scored a decisive victory. From that moment the questions ceased.

Outmatched.
"Did you hear about the row round at Pennecker's house last night?" Mr. Jones asked his wife as they sat at supper.

"No," said the lady much interested. "What happened?"

"Pennecker tried to thrust his wife, and the police were called just in time to avert a tragedy."

"Oh, the brute! Did they take him to prison?"

"No; they carried him round to the hospital."—New York Journal.

The Absentminded Waiter.
Hungry Man (to man behind the counter)—Bottle of milk and graham crackers.

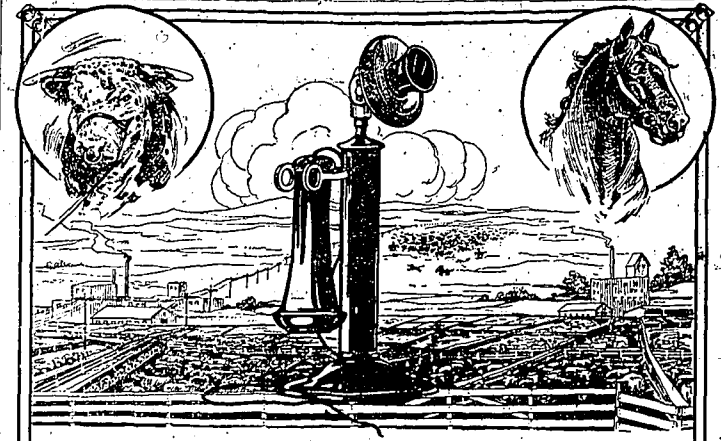

"Yes, sir. Want a bowl with it?"

"No, thank you. I ate in the stopper and I'll drink through it."

"Yes, sir. Have a spoon with it?"

"Oh, no. I always eat milk with a knife."

"Yes, sir. Spoon's safer, though. You're liable to cut yourself with a knife."—Baltimore Times-Dispatch.

The Stock Industry and the Telephone

No single industry derives more benefit from a comprehensive telephone service than does the stock business.

Telephone service unites the breeder, the shipper and the market in a community of interest.

The market uses telephone service in canvassing the territory of supply.

The breeder uses telephone service in keeping in touch with demand.

The shipper uses telephone service to keep himself informed as to market conditions.

The ranchman uses telephone service in the economical handling of his stock on the range—in feeding, in negotiations with buyers and in securing cars and making other shipping arrangements.

Altogether, comprehensive telephone service is a valuable factor in the growth and development of the stock industry.

TALKS ON THRIFT

Take the Proposition to Your Banker.

Unless all signs fail, the one certain result of the European war is going to be a general stimulus to American industry. Our mills are running to full capacity; our crops are bumper ones; our banks are clogged with money; our people employed at good wages and constantly shorter hours, making things for Europe, to eat, and wear and shoot. We shall have great prosperity.

With prosperity comes the promoter, trying to get some of that prosperity without working for it. He will have great schemes to make you (and himself) rich. You first—then himself; or vice versa. Faked by the thousand will follow in the wake of prosperity, all seeking to separate you from your money. The warning is particularly opportune now. Beware the promoter. If you are offered any scheme to make money, take it to your banker. If it offers over six per cent, turn it down on general principles. The promoters find poor pickings when you take his proposition to the bank man. Ask the banker: Would you go into this with the bank's money? And if he wouldn't—don't you.

Years ago a Western concern organized a bank and offered the stock broadened. It was a clever scheme—a few selected and a profitable one. It had much more and should have come to a better end. But it was too good, and the promoter could not stand the prosperity it brought him.

Two hard working miners got interested and sought the advice of their banker. He advised against it. "But it pays ten per cent, and you only four; and besides, they say the stock will double in value in a year." Yes, all that may be true," said the banker, "but you're not strong enough to take the risk and for the possible profit you can't afford to chance a probable loss. They went in and in less than six months the bank went broke and the miners nearly went broke with it—they had plunged. Today that stock lies hidden in the boxes, mute evidence of what happens when you go against the advice of your banker.

A certain steamboat captain never carried more than a hundred dollars a month, and yet in the course of twenty-five years he was able to raise a family, dress and educate them, provide a handsome home, clear of debt for them, and leave his widow with enough to support her in comfort for life—all this on a hundred a month. He saved him the earned. The secret may have lain with the wife, or with him, or with both; but the result was there just the same. What this man did you can do. He stuck close to the bank; gained a bank and offered the stock broadened. It was a clever scheme—a few selected and a profitable one. It had much more and should have come to a better end. But it was too good, and the promoter could not stand the prosperity it brought him.

The really big things are not hawked about the streets like vegetables. The big deals are not for the "cheap public." Henry Ford never offered his stock broadened. A certain New York undertaker (now bankrupt) did. Standard Oil never went with but in hand, seeking those who would buy. Big things are for the few; little things for the many.

You worked pretty hard for your money, and it ought to work for you. Not overwork, but just keep comfortably busy. It will work right faithfully, for compound interest grows apace; but if you work it too hard, it will, like the faithful old horse, keep going for a time, but eventually fail. You do not try the impossible. Four per cent, with safety in better than ten per cent, with risk. Don't lose your principal trying to bet big interest. You must sacrifice one of two things. Principal or income. Keep safe, and your income will be small but sure; but if you seek large returns, you must of a certainty jeopardize your principal. Better reach your goal by the jumps than land you on the ground each time, rather than take flying leaps in the dark. Thrift consists in leaving some good things alone. The promoter is one. His best scheme is set good enough for you.

bought his home and paid for it by degrees, carried a fair amount of insurance, never tried any schemes, and held fast to what he got.

Bohler, Aye,
Parrott, Aye,
Williams, Aye.

Those voting Nay: none.

The Mayor thereupon declared that

No matter how simple the proposed home may be, it pays to do a little planning for it.

This is especially the case when ideas and suggestions—real serviceable help—are so easily obtainable at our office.

Our plan service is quite different from the usual variety.

We have no plans to sell, and no special type of house which we try to induce you to build.

We believe that any home, to be satisfactory, must reflect the owner's own personality.

Our whole system of rendering assistance to the prospective home builder is based on that idea.

EXCITING PLOT OF "SAVED BY WIRELESS"

New Triangle Keystone Play an Amazing Extravaganza of Espionage and War Preparation.

Mack Swain plays the part of an international secret service man in the astonishing extravaganza of espionage, "Saved by Wireless," the Triangle Keystone play, presented at the Orpheum this Friday and Saturday. The chief spy (Mack Swain) and his trusty aid (Chester Conklin) are two international secret service men of questionable "credentials." They have taken up headquarters in an underground refuge, from which they direct their operations. They are seeking to steal the valuable code book from the minister of war (Nick Cogley). Cogley's Butler is in league with the two spies and keeps them in touch with developments at headquarters.

By a forged letter Conklin gains access to the prime minister. He falls in love with that dignitary's daughter (Irene Carver). The butler steals the code book from the minister and turns it over to Swain. They force the minister Conklin to return to the dock. The butler attempts to take the yacht on which Harry, the lover of the girl is coming. Conklin sends a wireless to the boat, is discovered by Swain and bound and gagged. Swain races to the light house, where he hopes to turn off the lights, thus causing the yacht to be wrecked. His auto is pursued by a traffic policeman with a motorcycle. Conklin is freed by the secretary, chatters an aeroplane and hastens to the lighthouse.

Cogley suspects Harry of stealing the code book and sets the police after the boat. Harry and the girl decide to flee. There is a fight in the air between Conklin and Swain, in which Swain is kicked from a rope from the aeroplane and drops on the yacht. He is blown up in the explosion. Cogley rescues Conklin from the girl from the water, but she turns him down for Harry. Conklin, weeps out his troubles on the shoulder of the forgiving prime minister.

MARTYRS OF THE ALAMO

"Remember the Alamo!" long the rallying cry in the affairs in Texas between Americans and Mexicans, lends interest to the thrilling historical drama of early days in Texas, "Martyrs of the Alamo" to appear at the Orpheum this Friday. Santa Anna, dictator of Mexico, comes to San Antonio, Texas, and there enacts a series of outrages upon Americans living there.

The wife of Captain Dickinson is injured by one of the dictators officers. When her husband goes to demand satisfaction he is thrown into jail. There are introduced Bowie, Crockett and Silas Smith. The last of the trio, played by Sam De Grasse, falls in love with the old soldier's daughter (Dorinda Hanson). These leaders of the Texans successfully conceal their arms when Santa Anna issues a pro-

Immation, confiscating all weapons. With these arms the Texans capture the Alamo, a combined military and fort.

Santa Anna, who has been away during the capture of the fort, returns and lays siege with 6,000 men. After ten days of desperate resistance the fort is taken. Only Silas Smith, who had been sent to Sam Houston for aid, Mrs. Dickinson and her baby and the old soldier's daughter are spared. Houston hears of the fate of the defenders of the Alamo when Mrs. Dickinson and her child ride into his camp. With his small force he gives battle to Santa Anna's army on the San Jacinto river. The 6,000 Mexicans are routed by the few hundred Texans and Santa Anna is taken prisoner. He is released only after he has agreed to grant the independence of Texas.

FAMOUS PHOTOPLAY AT THE ISIS NEXT WEEK

The story of "The Regeneration," the memory of Owen Kildare and of the Alamo those who had redeemed him from the life of a drunkard and an outcast, will be seen by millions on the screen when William Fox presents this remarkable and unusual story to the world.

No expense has been spared to make "The Regeneration" one of the strongest pictures that has ever been filmed. Under such a great director as R. A. Walsh and with scenes and settings on which no cost was spared, with rapid from the East that it took weeks and months to secure, and in fact with everything as nearly human as human ingenuity can make it, this picture it is predicted, will be an epoch in the film world. There are scenes of New York life that are too human and too perfect to describe by words. The part of the Rose is taken by Anna Nilson, who for the past four years has been considered one of the sweetest and most charming actresses of the shadowy screen. Others to contribute to the success of the cast are Rockwell Follows, who became a star on Broadway his first year in the theatrical world; William Sheer, who has made millions of friends on the screen through his exceptionally fine character work, and thousands of others who go to make this grand picture the success that it is bound to have.

Aggressive use of the transistated columns will rent good properties, in or out of season, and practically cut out losses from vacancies.
