SPIRITED DEBATE ABOUT SWITCHES

Petitioners and Protestors Have Lively Discussion at Council

BOTH SIDES PRESENT CLAIMS FORBID TO CITY FATHERS.

The Matter Again Taken Under Adjudication by the Council Had Will Be Finally Passed on Next Meeting.

The crossing of Shoshone street by switching tracks was again postponed by the city council last night after a brilliant debate lasting more than two hours, in which both the friends and opponents of the plan participated. The petitioners and their representatives asserted that this proposed extension was necessary for normal development of the city, that it would hamper the growth of the town to deny it, that the conflict was one between different elements of property owners and that the supposedly evil effects which would follow the granting of the petition were imaginary. On the other hand, the advocates of the measure asserted that their intention in the situation was largely esthetic, but that the question of safety also entered into it, that so far from conducting the future growth of the city it would tend to drive away farm trade, and that an extension of the switching tracks from the other side, without crossing, Shoshone street, would cost but little more than the extension asked. To this, the friends of the petition replied that the extension from the other side would cost three times as much as it would have to cross private property and that it was otherwise impracticable.

The council made the consideration of the subject the first order of business and urged that anyone who had anything to say present it. After a short meeting in which the spirit failed to move anyone, Mayor Sweedley asked the friends of the petition to present their case, stating that there was a petition on file before the council but that it was desirable to hear what both parties had to say for themselves. Attorney C. M. Booth, for the petitioners, read the names of eight citizens who had signed the remonstrance who had signed the remonstrance and signed the petition, and the same time authorizing him to withdraw their names from the protest, on the ground that they originally signed it under a misapprehension of facts. He then stated that they present twice and had presented reasons why the petition should be granted and no one had presented reasons why it should not be granted. The mayor recognized the technical force of the objection as applied to Mr. Booth, but made in effect that they were not standing on technical grounds and wanted all that could be said presented by those interested for any reason one way or the other. J. Jensen said that he proposed building if the line was extended. Replying to a question of F. Johnson as to the cost of building he proposed to put up the line to answer, partly on the ground that he had not worked out his plans fully, and partly on the ground that it was not a question in which his interrogator was interested, as long as he intended to build. F. T. Kennedy said that almost all of those on that

ONLY PRELIMINARY WORK AT FACTORY SITE

Thought that Men Will Be Engaged on and After Friday--Headquarters to Go Up Soon.

Beyond some preliminary work nothing has been done since last week on the site of the sugar factory, but it is hoped by Superintendent Cowman of the construction department that they will be ready to engage labor by Friday, before which time he will announce where he and his assistants may be found, as soon as possible the headquarters will be opened on the grounds and the men employed there. Things are progressing nicely in spite of the rather wet and frosty weather and the work is expected to go ahead when once begun.

TWIN FALLS ANTONISHED BY SIMPLE
Twin Falls people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ika. ONE SPOONFUL remedies such surprising food material, relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. Because Adler-Ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, it never causes a recurrence or prevents appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic constipation trouble. The Bedford-Flaher Drug Co., Adv.

AUTO RUN FROM BUIHL TO SHOW

Two Excursions in Cars Planned to This City by West-Enders--Good Roads Movement Progressing.

Among the plans now being talked of by Buihl Auto club members will be an auto run to Twin Falls some day during the automobile show to be held there March 20 to 25, and later another run to Twin Falls to advertise the big Buihl Honeymoon celebration, says the Buihl Herald.

Preparations for the big road campaign to be carried on by the Buihl Independent Road District committee, consisting of the farmers and citizens of Buihl, during the five days freewheel road work will be done, are progressing nicely and by the time the weather and road conditions are favorable, the plans for the work will have been perfected to an extent which will permit of a great deal of valuable work being accomplished. Many farmers have reported to the committee in charge, proffers of tools and men, and of cash contributions.

The automobile owners on the tract have perfected the organization of the Buihl Independent Road District, and by-laws have been prepared ready to be submitted at a grand rally to auto owners and members of the Buihl Business Association, to be held at a near date. On this occasion there will be a big smoker and luncheon and plans for the summer work of the club outlined.

REPUBLICANS MUST "ACT DECENT" TO WIN PROGRESSIVES

A. L. Swin Thinks Republicans Will Accept Progressive Candidate and Platform to Secure Union.

A. L. Swin, of the firm of Swin & Aldrich, was in Buihl Friday, and took time to talk a little politics, says the Buihl Herald. He was interested to learn the result of the meeting of the progressives and progressives last Wednesday in Buihl, and seemed gratified to learn that the progressives and progressives were present and took part. While here he spent a good deal of his time in the company of E. A. Booth, for the petitioners, on the staff of Commander Swin when in Twin Falls county four years ago. "The progressives will accept our candidate as their standard-bearer, in my opinion," said Mr. Swin. He further stated that it is a mistake to say that the progressives are "backing up to the republican party." The progressives are simply accepting the principles of the progressive party, and are not putting up a ticket in Twin Falls county, he said that it depended upon the republican party whether they act decent and do the right thing they will be a united party, and if they don't there will be a third party ticket. The republican party, he said, the democratic ticket," declared Mr. Swin.

STEEL CREW LAYS TIES ON SPUR

Construction Train Arrives Monday Night to Begin Work Tuesday on Laying the Sugar Factory.

Work laying ties on the spur to the sugar factory, began last night by a force of men under the charge of A. Venable, who arrived on a construction train Monday night. As soon as the ties are laid, the men will begin putting down steel, the rails for the spur being now all on hand. Foreman Venable would not set a date for the finishing of the work here, when he said would depend on the condition of the weather and other circumstances, but it will likely be within a week.

FLORY GROCERY IN DOWNTOWN
DOW GOES TO JOHNSON BUILDING
The Flory Cash Grocery will move in about a week from the present location at 322 South Main street to the old stand of the Low Bicycle shop at 222 Main street. The building is being thoroughly overhauled and prepared for the grocery business. The bicycle shop moved Monday to the Johnson building at 155 Second street east.

Brant Camp, of Marysville, Cal., the son of S. B. Camp, a pioneer resident of Twin Falls, who has been here for the past several weeks, is delighting local music lovers with his talents on a variety of instruments, and the accurate young man playing twenty or more kinds.
Mr. Camp revises the music published by the well known music house of J. W. Langford, the publisher of the Twin Falls Times. Mr. Camp has over four hundred original compositions to his credit, one of the most recent being dedicated to the Twin Falls band.
S. B. Camp and daughter will accompany his son back to Marysville, Cal., where the family will make their home in the future.

SHEEPMEN ORGANIZE HERE ON MARCH 4

Temporary Organization Formed and Officers Elected

PERMANENT OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED MARCH 11.

Freight Rates, Range, Marketing of Wool by Small Growers and Other Live Matters to Come Up.

A temporary organization of sheepmen was formed Saturday afternoon in this city by the election of C. L. DeLong of Twin Falls, temporary chairman and L. W. Vorhees of Plover, temporary secretary. After a discussion of the questions of freight rates for lambs, the segregation of wool for small sheepmen, rates on oil cake, lambing and the matter of ranges, the meeting adjourned until March 11, when a meeting will be held at the commercial club room for the purpose of forming a permanent organization and taking up the several matters discussed at the first meeting.

The marketing of wool is considered a serious one for the small grower as the buyers seek the big clips and a man with a small clip sometimes fails to get in touch with a purchaser readily. It is not intended to form a new association, but only to segregate the wool in carload lots so that buyers will be attracted to it.

The freight rates for lambs and for oil cake are also serious matters. The sheepmen generally express themselves as pleased with the program of the association and a big crowd is anticipated at the next gathering. Those present at the meeting all said that the average per cent of lambs saved this year has been anywhere from 75 to 100 per cent for shod lambs and 75 to 80 per cent for range lambs, makes a fine showing.

It was hoped by the members of the new society that every sheepman who can will attend from all parts of the tract and the nearby country and that a big membership for the campaign.

ELK EXCURSION DRAWS BIG CROWD

Train Load Goes to Hansen Sunday Morning to See Animals--Profit to Help Get More Elk.

About 100 people took the "Elk Special" train which left Twin Falls at 9 o'clock Sunday morning to Hansen to see the 19 elk that had been received from Gardner, Montana, to be turned loose in the Rock Creek basin. The party enjoyed the trip very much and after looking over the herd thoroughly, returned, arriving here at 10:15 o'clock. There are five bulls and 14 ewes in the herd. The animals have been taken to the Walker ranch on Rock Creek and fed until spring they will be turned loose. State Game Warden L. C. Jones came with the animals to Hansen and then ran down to Twin Falls Saturday. The elk will be in charge of Assistant Warden Jos. Fitzgerald.

W. R. Priole, who had charge of the excursion said that it netted a profit of $45.00. He said that he would grant a rebate demanded by anyone but that he planned to use it to get more elk. The present herd was furnished by the state. Two years ago an application for elk was made to the State Game Department and action is now being taken in regard to it, so that it is hoped to have another herd furnished by the state next year. The money saved Sunday can be used to help transport them here.

MAD COYOTE KILLED ON ROGERS RANCH

Many Shots Fester Body Before He Is Killed by J. W. Langford--Did Not Bite Anything.

A mad coyote entered a street in Rogerson on head daylight one day last week, according to L. W. Reynolds, who is in Twin Falls today, and though 50 shots were fired from place to place and he was hit many times, he continued going ahead, unmindful of the firing and the wounds until he was shot dead with a charge of buckshot from a gun in the hands of J. W. Langford, the postmaster. The animal was not frothing at the mouth and walked ahead as if he saw nothing and felt nothing. When he attempted to turn his head, he was compelled to switch his whole body around.

PRESIDENT NAMES BAKER FOR CABINET

Former Cleveland Mayor Accepts Portfolio of Secretary of War

WILL TAKE UP HIS DUTIES WITH IN NEXT FEW DAYS.

Appointee Was Once Pupils of President--Lawyer and Leader in Democratic Party in Ohio.

WASHINGTON--Norton C. Baker, former mayor of Cleveland, has been selected by President Wilson for secretary of war.

Mr. Baker's name had been mentioned in connection with the position some time ago. He was offered a place when the cabinet was formed, but declined. He has accepted the position and is now arranging his affairs in Cleveland preparatory to coming to Washington to take up his duties.

The selection of Baker is understood to have been discussed by President Wilson with Col. E. M. House some time ago. When President Wilson was making up his cabinet in 1913 he twice offered the place of secretary of war to Baker, but he declined. The president and Baker have been close friends for some time and Baker is said to be in close sympathy with the president's policies and is known to have had the support of some members of the cabinet for the war office.

When President Wilson recently was touring the middle west on his preparedness program he talked with Mr. Baker in Cleveland. The thirty-day period for which Maj. Gen. Hugh B. Scott, chief of staff, was designated secretary of war in 1912 will expire March 11. It is believed Baker's nomination will be sent to the senate before that date. Baker is 44 years old. He was born in Martinsburg, W. Va., and at the age of 23 was appointed private secretary to President Theodore Roosevelt in Cleveland's cabinet. In 1897 he began the practice of law at Martinsburg, but not long thereafter moved to Cleveland, where he became a solicitor in 1902. He held this office for ten years until his election as mayor.

Baker has received degrees from Johns Hopkins and Washington and Lee universities. For years Baker has been closely identified with the reform movement in Cleveland and has taken active part in the street railway controversy there. When Mayor Tom Johnson died Baker took up the fight for lower fares and was elected mayor of Cleveland. He was elected mayor of the city and finally brought about an adjustment of the street railway franchises in Cleveland.

At the time of the Baltimore convention, when President Wilson was nominated, Baker was prominently connected with the campaign. He was one of the fight he made in support of Wilson. He went to the convention as a Wilson supporter and fought successfully against the application of the unit rule to the Ohio delegation. Baker is highly regarded by the president as a lawyer, Wilson constantly receives the co-operation of all the people of the tract in their work.

READING TABLE FOR THE FARMERS

Leading Publications to Be Found At Room of Bureau of Animal Industry in Court House.

E. J. Follsted, state animal husbandman, and W. B. Riney, agriculturalist, have installed a reading table in their office at the court house. They have on this table considerable number of the latest papers, such as "The Brecker Gazette," "Hoard's Dairyman," "The Rural Hygienic," "Farm Stock," "Farm and Shop Publications," daily market reports from Omaha, Kansas City and Portland, a daily paper and various other publications of interest to farmers. There is also a small library of the latest books and bulletins on various agricultural subjects. This is for the use of all who care to avail themselves of it.

CROW ON INSPECTION.

Adjutant General Crow and Lieutenant Garber, U. S. A., inspecter-in-chief of the Second Infantry, Idaho National Guard, leave today to make an official inspection of the various military companies there. Their itinerary is as follows: Lewiston, March 6; Grangeville, March 7; Coeur d'Alene, March 8; Sandpoint, March 9; Pocatello, March 10; Mars, March 11; Caldwell, March 12; Nampa, March 13; Pocatello, March 14; Boise, March 15; Pocatello, March 16; Boise, March 17; Pocatello, March 18; Boise, March 19; Pocatello, March 20; Boise, March 21; Pocatello, March 22.

CHANGE MADE IN AUTO SHOW DATES

Offer Meetings to Be Extended Two Weeks Longer Owing to Unusual Interest and Success.

Owing to the fact that the evangelistic services in the tabernacle at Twin Falls are meeting with such tremendous success it has been decided to continue them for two more weeks. Consequently it has been necessary for the management of the Twin Falls Auto show to postpone the show. However, the date has now been fixed for the week of April 2-8.

A number of advantages are secured by this change, one of the most important being that certain dealers who were unable to get their new cars in time for the show as planned will now be able to exhibit. The probability of having fair weather and good roads for the show is increased by this change of date, and the attendance will therefore probably be proportionately larger.

The following is a partial list of cars which will be exhibited at the show: Apperson, Briscoe, Buick, Cadillac, Case, Chalmers, Chandler, Chevrolet, Dodge, Ford, Haynes, Hottel, Marmon, Oakland, Overland, Paige, Pathfinder, Pullman, Saxon and several others whose names cannot yet be given. In addition to these there will be a number of accessory exhibits, the following firms having already engaged space for accessories: Twin Falls Auto company, Citizens Electric company, Decker & Allen, Electric Investment company, Skeels-Wiley Drug company, and Constant Bros., of Buihl.

F. H. BUIHL SOCIETY FORMED SATURDAY

Organization Effected and Everything Ready for Movement--Hopes to Enlist All in Cause.

The Frank H. Buihl Monument Association, the organization of which was recommended by the Twin Falls Commercial club directors at their last meeting, was organized at the club rooms Saturday, with the election of R. M. Stetson as chairman and J. McMillan as secretary. The following are the first members: Leo Johnson, Murtuglio, John F. Hansen, Jack H. H. Hansen, M. J. "Frost" Hansen, George Luff, E. E. Newberry, W. S. Starr, W. H. Turner, Kimberly, M. J. Stetson, R. M. McMillan, J. McMillan, H. O. Stetson, Carl Hahn, J. M. Maxwell, Twin Falls, A. J. Milner, Fred Nihart, Buihl, Jake Hahn, H. Schuman, Buihl.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD AN INITIATION

Six Candidates Admitted--The Scouts Will Take Two Weeks Vacation This Year at Galena Summit.

The boy scouts held initiation services at the Presbyterian church basement Friday night, the work being put on by J. McMillan. Six candidates were accepted. The boys have arranged for an eight and a quarter acre patch of ground in Orchards on which to raise sugar beets this year to defray the expense of a camping trip to the Snake River. The first aid corps is now taking examinations in order to be in first class condition for the trip. The new headquarters quarters will be established in Box canyon on grounds belonging to the Electric Investment company and donated for that purpose.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN PROVES WORTH OF WILLARD BATTERY

H. R. Sawyer, retail milk dealer at Pocatello, N. H., has installed what appears to be an enviable record for successive starts from the storage battery on his delivery car. The battery, which is 1915 model, and the battery a Willard, in delivering goods to customers, Mr. Sawyer has kept an accurate record of stops and starts. He starts his motor from the battery 125 times every day on the average. This number is in addition to the starts he makes with his motor for his own use. He has 48 stops a day. Mr. Sawyer's car has a proximate mileage of 6700. The original Willard battery delivered 1400 miles. Mr. Sawyer is well adjusted in any way, which performance speaks more for Willard batteries than any amount of literature could do.

CONVENTION GOES TO POCATELLO

Democrats Choose Pocatello and Set May 18th as the Date

ADMINISTRATIONS OF WILSON AND ALEXANDER ENDORSED.

Wilson Being Unanimous. Choice of Party, Preferential Primary Is Dispensed With.

BOISE--In view of the fact that there were no state laws to regulate a presidential primary, its excessive cost, and the apparent unity on President Wilson, the Democratic state central committee concluded not to hold a preferential primary in this state. This action was taken at a meeting held yesterday evening.

The debate on the report of the committee on resolutions threatened to be overheated at times but there were no personalities. John F. Nugent and Assistant United States Attorney J. K. Smeed led the anti-primary forces, while Harry L. Day and Haveland Macbeth spoke for the primary.

The committee on resolutions reported at 8 p. m. A majority report, signed by J. R. Smeed, L. C. Jones and David L. Evans, after endorsing the administration of President Wilson, recommended that each county be allowed six delegates for every representative it had in the house of representatives. It contained the following:

"That the aforesaid delegates from each county of the state of Idaho shall be selected as follows: The Democratic central committee of each of the said counties is hereby empowered to select the said delegates from such county, or to provide such means for the selection of delegates from such county central committee shall in its discretion see fit."

"The minority report, signed by Haveland Macbeth, J. M. Adams, also endorsed the president and governor and recommended that counties be allowed one delegate for every one hundred votes cast for President Wilson in the last election. In moving the adoption of the majority report J. R. Smeed said it would be impractical to give the counties representative in the state central committee for president because new counties had been created, precincts had been cut up and no basis could be arrived at.

John F. Nugent also defended the majority report. He said that all was harmonious in Democratic ranks at present. The provision in the Baltimore platform was not mandatory, he explained, and he read a letter from National Chairman McComb which said that the preferential primary in Idaho was unnecessary.

If a preferential primary were held, admitted Mr. Nugent, Jerome J. Day would receive an invitation over H. Elder beyond a doubt. There could be no restriction on the amount of money spent. The lead and timber in the north would poll more Republican votes for Day in that section than the Democrats could poll for the same purpose. The Republicans would control the Democratic primaries as they had on other occasions.

A. C. Hindman defended the majority report, declaring that a preferential primary was impractical and too expensive. The vote resulted as follows: For the preferential primary: Blighman, Boise, Bonnellville, Boundary, Charwater, Coeur d'Alene, Genesee, Jefferson, Latah, Lewis, Madison, Shoshone, Twin Falls and Washington. Total, 15.

Against the preferential primary: Ada, Adams, Bannock, Bear Lake, Benewah, Blaine, Bonner, Canyon, Clearwater, Coeur d'Alene, Genesee, Idaho, Kootenai, Lemhi, Lincoln, Madison, Nez Perce, Owyhee, Power and Teton. Total, 22. Pocatello defeated Twin Falls by one vote for the convention.

Mrs. John Balch of Kimberly, who underwent a severe operation Friday, is getting along nicely.

BUHL DECLINES TO HELP COUNTY FAIR

Business Men's Organization on West
End Says It Will Win County Division—Pledge Patronsage

Recently Earl Walker was sent to Buhl to take up the proposition of assisting that town for county fair purposes, says the Fair Journal. The business men's organization on the west end would take the proposition up at their next business meeting and act as a unit. This they did, and the following communication from their secretary is the result of their deliberations:

Buhl, Idaho, Feb. 28, 1916.

Mr. A. E. Anderson, Fair, Idaho.
Dear Sir: Answering your inquiry regarding the advisability of proceeding further in the matter of fair subsidization here, I do not believe it advisable at the present time. As you know the county division fight is on again and this time we will win. We are preparing to spend a great deal of money on road work and a great deal will be subscribed privately to the road fund. Our board of directors requested me to say that at the present time they can offer no encouragement. You may depend on Buhl though for a liberal patronage of the fair. Very truly yours,

JOHN M. IRADLEY, Secretary.

We are extremely sorry that Buhl takes the above position. Buhl is a neutral ground on the county division proposition, and furthermore, looks upon the county fair as an enterprise that means everything to this section. We hear by grapevine wireless that certain Republican politicians of Twin Falls have promised Buhl county division if in turn they will support the Republican nominees. If true, this is a silly proposition and one not founded on either sound judgment or one capable of being deluged. The people of Twin Falls are not fools. If such a proposition was put up by a few fine taffed politicians, but one done it with a view of giving Buhl the double cross. Let's get down to brass tacks. Buhl has no disposition to fight county division provided the line is located three or three and one-half miles west. But if Buhl is to be shown no consideration whatever, the chances are that they will not look with favor upon dividing the county. This little village has raised over $7,000 for the fair, and certainly is not presuming when they can only do towns to help. It is not a Buhl surprise alone, but a county concern. We hope our neighbor on the west end will reconsider and stand taken and join with this section in putting across a proposition that means everything to this whole section.

EXPLAINS METHODS OF CLOVER SEED PRODUCTION

J. W. Thonetz, speaking on Clover Seed Productions at a recent meeting in Buhl, according to the Pioneer stated that he had found that the early spring was the preferable time to sow clover seed, and he did not particularly favor sowing it with a furrow crop, stating that the usual result is that the clover is neglected. He discussed methods of keeping the seed clean and touched upon the irrigating feature of clover seed culture. Mr. Beck took up the subject of irrigating and gave the results of experience in different parts of the tract. It was of the opinion that a grave mistake is made in not keeping sufficient water on the plants for the first year at all times. Mr. Harvey heartily seconded Mr. Beck's opinion along this line and it seemed to be the general opinion of all who had made a study of the subject.

FOUR CITIZENS ADMITTED.

Four new citizens were admitted Saturday by Judge H. Beck. Peter Joseph Holland and Neil Mackay renounced allegiance to George V. of Great Britain and Ireland. Frank Joseph of Austria might have had on him, while H. Barker Thordmorden dropped his Danish citizenship.

REGULATIONS FOR LENT PUBLISHED

Servants At Catholic Church Twice a Week During Time—Rules For Observance of Fasts Are Given.

Tomorrow is Ash Wednesday and will be celebrated in the morning at the Catholic church by blessing and distribution of ashes, which will be followed by a sermon by the priest. In the evening there will be services including a sermon by a visiting priest. During Lent, which continues until April 22, there will be services held every Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. Sunday services will be held at present at 8 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The following are the regulations for the observance of Lent, which includes the fast of Lent. All the faithful, who have completed their twenty-first year, are, unless exempted or legitimately dispensed, bound to observe the fast of Lent. All days of Lent, Sundays excepted, are fast days of obligation, on which only one full meal is permitted.

By dispensation, a meal is allowed at the principal meal on all days of Lent, except Wednesdays, Fridays, the Ember Saturdays, March 18, and Holy Saturday, April 22. The use of fish and flesh meat is forbidden at the same meal, even on Sundays, in Lent.

Custom sanctions the taking of a cup of coffee, tea or thin chocolate in the morning, and in the evening a collation which should not exceed the weight of an ordinary meal. At this collation meat only is forbidden, the use of butter, cheese, milk and eggs are allowed. In violation of a Special Indulgence of the Holy See, the use of lard and drippings is permitted in the preparation of abstemious food.

When the principal meal cannot be taken at mid-day, it may be taken in the evening, and the collation in the morning. All persons under twenty-one years, or over sixty years of age, those who are engaged in hard labor, the sick and the infirm, those who are unable to fast without injury to their health, are exempt from the obligation of fasting. Those who have any reasonable doubt as to their obligation to fast or abstain should consult their confessor.

Those who are not bound to fast may use flesh meat on one day each day on which its use is permitted. The time for fulfilling the precept of Easter Communion extends, in the United States, from the first Sunday of Lent, March 12, to Trinity Sunday, June 18.

In virtue of a special indulgence granted to the United States, we permit workmen and their families the use of flesh meat once a day, with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday and Saturday in Holy Week, and the day of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary, September 8. Those who avail themselves of this dispensation are not allowed to eat flesh or fish at the same meal, and they are exhorted to perform some other act of mortification.

Soldiers and sailors in the service of the United States are exempted from the rule of abstinence all through the year, except on Ash Wednesday, Good Friday and Saturday in Holy Week, and on the vigils of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary and Christmas.

That there may be more abundant opportunities for the exercise of the Holy Season, it is hereby ordained that, in addition to the Sunday devotions, Lenten exercises be held by the priests in the churches, especially in the cities and towns, so that the people may have the opportunity to be given after an appropriate instruction or the Stations of the Cross.

KILLS MAN WHO MARRIED HIS DIVORCED WIFE

Shoots Husband and Then Attempts to Take the Life of Former Wife and Sister.

NAMPA.—Sam Richardson, a farmer living nine miles southwest of Nampa, was shot and instantly killed about 7:30 on Wednesday evening by B. H. Harburg, whose divorced wife, Richardson, married about a year ago. Harburg shot several shots at Mrs. Richardson, who was standing in the doorway of her home, and then turned and escaped with a severe beating. Harburg made his escape and is being pursued with bloodhounds. Harburg had been feeding sheep near Meridian. He drove to the Richardson home in a heavy rain and proceeded to shooting. When Richardson admitted him to the kitchen, he addressed Mrs. Richardson in a friendly manner, which Richardson reported. A quarrel followed in which Harburg drew a revolver and shot Richardson, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Richardson ran to the front of the house, where Harburg aimed a shot at her, but his sister, Mrs. Vanderbrook, who was standing in the doorway, grappled the shooter and succeeded in knocking him down. The effect of the shot on his revolver was empty. Harburg then beat her over the head with the weapon and fled.

REPUTATION OF BRANDIS EX- CELLENT SALES WITNESS

WASHINGTON.—Edward F. McClinton of Boston, member of Louis D. Brandis' law firm testified again today before the senate committee investigating the fitness of Mr. Brandis to be a member of the supreme court. Today the witness continued his statement regarding the United Shoe Machinery company matters which he began last yesterday afternoon.

Stephen S. Greco, former president of the American Bar Association, testified that Mr. Brandis was "an excellent" man as he knew him, "both as to ability and character." He said he was speaking of his reputation outside of Boston as he had only talked with one of two Boston lawyers about him.

SURVEY CHANGES LINES ON NORTH SIDE

Area Affected Not Large and Farmers Take Action to Have Old Lines Proved.

Government surveys have made a re-survey of township 9 south which embraces a part of the North Side Tract south of Jerome. This township is bounded by the Snake River canyon to the north and the line between townships 8 and 9 south to the south. The re-survey does not effect established lines north of this line, it effects the north and south section lines that are affected. These corners correspond on the township line between townships 8 and 9 south, but at this point southward diverge eastward of the established lines about fifteen feet to the mile, making a discrepancy between the two surveys at the south line of township 9 of about 100 feet.

When the company survey was made and under which these lands were entered and proved up on a government corner were found on this portion of the tract and the company engineers were obliged to establish their own corners. Now, for some reason, the government has made a survey, and the lines this survey has established do not coincide with the company line in the particulars above stated. In some instances valuable improvements, even the buildings and fences, have been placed on the adjoining entry.

The matter has been taken up with Surveyor General Stephan D. Uiter, of Boise, under whose supervision the work has been done, and R. C. Silver, representing the company, has had conferences with him. Some of the entries are also aware of the situation and are looking out for their interests. As a result of this it has been decided to secure protests from the entries interested to be forwarded to Washington and some method adopted by which the boundaries of the subdivisions as entered will not be legally disturbed. This might be done by re-surveying, calling each quarter section a lot under a specified number.

In carrying out this decision the entries will be asked to sign a circular letter to file protest accompanied by a small plat showing the location of the cultivated ground and buildings upon their entries. These protests will be forwarded to the surveyor general's department, but filed at the company office in Jerome. This is so that the company engineers will be able to show the location of the survey as it is affecting the entries. This plat, with the protests to go to the first office.

A similar situation arose on the South Side project and also on the Salmon River project, and resulted in some litigation and in all instances the matter has not yet been fully settled on these tracts. If the entries effected in township 9 south will act promptly upon receipt of the circular letter from the company and co-operate actively with the local entries who have already been at work on the project, it is believed that trouble and confusion may be avoided and that all will be allowed to retain the tracts as originally filed upon. It is impossible to say the matter be attended to promptly.

WOOL CROP WILL SHOW INCREASE FOR SEASON

SALT LAKE.—Preparations for the 12th annual wool show are being made by the shearing pens along the line of the Salt Lake Route and the Denver & Rio Grande railroads. At Blackrock, Utah, and along the line, wool buyers are being put in condition. Wool buyers expect the 1916 crop of Utah, to exceed the 1915 crop by about 10 per cent. A part of the clip already has been contracted for in the southern part of the state.

In this state shearing is not before the lambing season, while in Idaho and Montana the lambing season comes before the shearing of the ewes. This is due to Utah having a milder climate. During the early clipping season in Utah many of the ewes suffer if cold rains come during the shearing season.

BURLEY WILL VOTE ON SCHOOL BOND THIRD TIME

BURLEY.—Upon the petition of the business men of Burley and others the school board has called another election to pass upon the question of bonding the district for $10,000 to complete the high school building and pay off present indebtedness. The election will take place on Tuesday, March 21.

It is to be hoped that a full representation of the voters of the district will be met at this election. The question should be settled this time, and in the manner desired by a majority of the people. Other places are holding schoolhouses. Twin Falls, last voting $10,000 for a new one, and if the proposition of the district is ready to quit they should come out and say so. Burley Bulletin.

PIONEER PASSES.

Whitney McCrory, who died March 2, 1896, at the home of his son in Salt Lake City, Utah, was a pioneer of the Twin Falls tract. He was born in Morrow county, Ohio, April 12, 1834. Mr. McCrory had been an invalid for the past year and had spent the winter in California to benefit his health. He leaves a wife and four children and two sisters. His children are Bert McCrory, Kimbly, Idaho; Mrs. H. J. Reese, Livingston, Montana; Leroy McCrory, near Utah; Lathier McCrory, Salt Lake City. His sisters are Mrs. Newton Robinson, Mayville, Mo.; Mrs. Freda McCrory, Merings, Idaho. At the time the end came his wife and two sons were at his bedside. Services were held Saturday, March 5, 1916, at Taylor's chapel. Interment was at Wasatch Lawn cemetery, in Salt Lake City.

BRADY IMPROVES SLOWLY.

WASHINGTON.—Senator Brady is able to take automobile rides occasionally, but the condition of his health will not allow him to visit the senate yet.

THE NORTH AND SOUTH RAILROAD

Senator Day Returns From Chicago Where He Went to Interview Capitalists on Proposition.

Actual construction of the north and south railroad is becoming nearer a possibility every day. This is clearly indicated by an interview with Governor Alexander, following the return of State Senator Jerome J. Day from Chicago where he held a satisfactory conference with financiers interested in the road building. Handicapped by the last legislature in failing to make an appropriation for the north and south railroad construction to the commission, the commission has been forced to meet most of the expenses out of his own pocket. Governor Alexander has tendered what assistance he could financially. It is pointed out by the governor that while the result of the conference at Chicago is favorable to the action of a partisan press which has displayed venom and sarcasm has not done the project any good and may seriously hinder it.

When interviewed regarding the prospects of the north and south road and the outcome of the conference Senator Day had with financiers in Chicago, Governor Alexander said: "The north and south railroad seems to be a very lively baby. Senator Day has just returned from Chicago, where he had a conference with big financial interests and his report is very gratifying. He met people with whom I have had conference in person, by letter and by telegram for several months, and Senator Day reports that the parties seem to be in earnest and have the money and backing to undertake the enterprise, finance it and complete it."

"The tendency seems from the conference that there is a bigger project for the state, namely, connecting the north and south ends of Idaho. The parties themselves have been pretty well over Idaho and Senator Day reports that they know all the ins and outs in a surprising degree of every town and its capabilities, and know of every man of influence and importance in the state of Idaho as well as in every western state and they are thoroughly alive to the importance of the issue presented to them."

The governor said that very many questions, especially as to the political feeling in Idaho relative to public ownership of railroads in order that their investment would be safeguarded, all of which Mr. Day answered very satisfactorily.

There has been a conference arranged within the next 30 or 40 days when the north and south commission and the governor will meet the interested parties at a point and date which is not open for publication as yet.

"The expense of the trip, which has been many hundreds of dollars, was paid by the Senator. Senator Day and the governor, but Mr. Day would not accept any money from the governor per such agreement, claiming that it is a public duty and a benefit to the state to further this project and he preferred to pay all his expenses out of his own exchequer and he certainly is to be commended and praised for his public spirit and generosity."

"I know some people who say secrecy about our movements on this project."

"I am sorry to say the reason for secrecy is that the political press of the state feel such strong resentment at what I have done at my own expense and the expense of Senator Day that they would prefer to neutralize my efforts and have no road rather than have my office and the commission I appointed appear to receive any honor or glory for performing this simple public service for the state of Idaho that will be of lasting benefit to the inhabitants yet to come. If the people I am dealing with would come in contact with the senators and commission displayed by the political press over a great enterprise of the highest importance to the state they might misinterpret the true feelings of the people of the state of Idaho on this enterprise. All of which would not be true, as the people of Idaho want this road and will build it, the better. The people as a whole are in favor of it and the politicians and political press are in favor of it, but are opposed to the present governor to further it."

"The railroad will go on just the same and whatever I can do will be done."

"The University of Idaho has asked the public utilities commission about plans and profiles of same, and I have requested Mr. Farver to communicate with the university and very other state school, and in they can assist the commission by furnishing data gratis, to have them do so."

"I will probably send the state engineer over the line this spring to get us more information on the matter and I have no doubt Senator Day will join me in furnishing the money to do it with."

"I know the people want the north and south railroad and I am also cognizant of the fact that they ought to be made acquainted with what I am doing, and I repeat that this is as far as I can go now. They will have to trust to the integrity of Senator Day, Hon. A. F. Farver, Dr. Paddock and myself to carry the work forward to the best of our ability."

"Appropriation? No, there is no appropriation; the legislature appropriated money for everything in the world that anyone wanted money for, but not a cent for the north and south railroad."

"No, there will be no hat passed around, and no collection made, which is usually done in the communities through which the proposed road is to be built. Such contributions are usually squandered and no road built. The money we need will come from private sources and be donated to the people of the state of Idaho for the pure motive of patriotism and public benefit."

"No, this is not all I know about the north and south railroad, but it is all I will say for publication at present. Will I make a statement later on in relation to the north and south road? I think I will, always keeping the parties interested to myself for the present, but you can state to the people of Idaho that their interests are being well looked after."

Last Friday afternoon a few of the musical members of the school presented a very clever little entertainment, entitled "The Musical Janitor." The dialogue was entirely extemporaneous but the musical numbers were well practiced and delivered in good form. The first number was a piano solo by Mr. Ernest Camp. The program was given as follows: piano solo, Zella Lamore; piano duet, Jeanette Walker and Corinne Taber; quartette, Jennie Walker, Corinne Taber, Pauline Field and Lucille Wolfe; violin solo, Herbert Hardin; cornet solo, Ray Bigger; vocal solo, Emory Bennett; quartette—French horn, Emory Bennett; cornet, Ray Bigger; trombone, Rex Thomas; bass, Herbert Hardin; clarinet solo, Ray Bigger; xylophone solo, Laurie Wall.

The preliminaries for the declamatory contest was held last Friday afternoon. The results follow: Oratorical class: Theodore E. Bowen, first place; James Harvey, second; Raymond Butler, third; humorous class: Henry Howe, first; Margie Son, second; Michael Thometz, third; dramatic: Mildred Conway, first; Rosemond Runkel, second; Gladys Dwight, third.

The local contest will be held in the near future.

The Junior play, "Green Stockings," will be given in the high school auditorium next Friday night.

The debate with Pocatello will be held a week from next Friday.

THE TWIN FALLS TIMES

TWICE-A-WEEK

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by the TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY, Ltd.

TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

NOTICE: DISCONTINUANCE. Many subscribers prefer not to have their subscriptions interrupted in case they fail to remit before expiration. Notwithstanding this, it is not assumed that continuous service is desired; still, subscribers are expected to notify us with reasonable promptness to stop if the paper is no longer desired.

Entered at the Twin Falls postoffice as second class matter as a twice-a-week publication, October 18, 1910.

A TWIN FALLS DAILY.

Many people who are vitally interested in the progress of this city have approached us on the proposition of publishing a daily newspaper, expressing their belief that the time either had arrived or would shortly arrive, when the local field would be sufficiently remunerative to warrant the publication of a good, live daily.

We are not at all certain that such a time has not already arrived, and to determine whether the people of Twin Falls really want and can afford a daily of the character it would require—for we are certain Twin Falls would be satisfied with nothing but the best—we have placed a man in the field whose business it will be to reduce the optimism of those wanting to see the community served by a daily newspaper, to an advertising contract.

The general public is prone to lose sight of the fact that a newspaper generally is not, and certainly should not be an endowed institution. It would only be like to give the community its better representation than it is able, not because of financial inability of its publishers, but because expenses must always be made to bear a proper relation to returns, just as in any other business. Newspapers, as a rule, go farther, often much farther than they are warranted, in the portion of their income that they return to the community, than any other business institution.

THE TIMES is ready, is able, to give this community the sort of daily it wants. Such a daily must be second to none in the state. It must cover the field exhaustively. It must extend its territory to include all of the towns in this section. It must secure the best telegraphic service obtainable. It must maintain a staff of trained correspondents and reporters. It must be equipped financially as well. All of this is thoroughly appreciated by THE TIMES, and the management will continue its efforts to produce a more and more creditable semi-weekly unless and until it can enter the daily field on such a basis as outlined. Our friends may be assured of this.

It should be plainly understood that THE TIMES is not asking the community to finance the daily proposition for it. THE TIMES is in a position to undertake the publication of such a daily as the community may well be proud of, and will do so just as soon as it can be convinced that there is sufficient business in the city to warrant the step.

As soon as the canvass of the business men which is now being made, is complete, THE TIMES will make an announcement that will be of interest to all interested in this matter.

The Twin Falls country, conceded on every hand to be verging upon a season of growth and prosperity unprecedented in its history, certainly would not be served antagonistically by a daily of the character outlined, and nothing would please THE TIMES more than the opportunity of rendering this service.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM.

The receipt of several contributions from TIMES readers discussing different matters of public interest from many points of view, has led to the establishment of a department known as the "Public Forum" for the accommodation of subscribers who have views on questions of general interest which they desire to present to the public. While assuming no responsibility and while desiring to permit the greatest freedom of expression, it is deemed necessary to retain the right to reject any communication, where there seems sufficient reason for so doing, and in order to enable anyone desiring to contribute to these columns to so shape contributions that they may obviate the painful experience of having their rejected, the following suggestions are given:

Articles must be of reasonable length. It is frequently necessary to cut down important articles written by the staff on account of lack of space, and to delete out of proportion items of trivial importance for the same reason. Articles of contributors cannot be given more consideration than is accorded free matter from the staff of the paper. It is possible that on some occasions long articles of unusual merit may be accepted when regular copy is scarce, but this should not be considered a precedent, giving the right to another contributor to demand that another article of equal length be accepted under different circumstances.

All matter must be free from personalities and declamatory denunciation, and must be purely expository and argumentative. The idea is to permit discussion of issues of vital public interest and not to create space for the venting of personal spite or mere denunciation of any individual, party or institution. Of course, this does not mean that men or parties may not be mentioned for the purpose of criticizing their attitude, but such mention should be incidental to the main purpose of discussing a principle.

The article published must be free from any advertising of a direct or indirect character. The department must not be used for propaganda. The systematic monopolization of such department for the furthering of any cause would destroy its usefulness.

The aim of THE TIMES is to make the department what its name implies, a place for the free discussion of vital issues in a purely impersonal, argumentative way, and this cannot be done if it is monopolized by any particular party, faction or organization.

IN PLAIN ENGLISH.

(Salt Lake Telegram)

"She was as much to blame as I," is the plea of Will Orpet, who is accused of the murder of the unfortunate Marian Lambert.

Whether the girl, who was found dead in the woods at Lake Forest, near Chicago, a few weeks ago, committed suicide or was murdered has caused hardly less discussion than this remark of her former sweetheart.

"She was as much to blame as I," is the modern substitute for Adam's defense. And the new form has two advantages over the ancient, it comes nearer the truth, and it has the backing of science.

Much sentimentality is ordinarily wasted on any two persons who make an excursion away from conventional paths. In the present moralizing on the Lambert-Orpet case, there are the usual warnings to girls, with explanations of why it happened.

Idleness which permits flirtations is cited among the causes, by no less an authority on sex problems than Gertrude Atherton, the novelist. Mrs. Atherton blames modern life for an abnormal amount of flirting.

But science says all flirting is normal—even the birds flirt. Ignorance of things her mother should have taught her is frequent among comments on cases of this kind.

But every girl who is old enough to think herself in love knows very well that she has a natural instinct which works for her own protection.

And she knows that she is as much to blame as the man when she lets her propensity for flirt overcome her instinctive prudence.

There is undoubtedly an increasing amount of familiarity in the conduct of boys and girls today. In the mixing of many people in the national melting pot, a great deal of seam must rise and a great deal of sediment has got to sink.

In this mixing process, if a high standard of morals and manners is to survive, we must have done with hypocrisy and prudishness, and pretense in the education of boys and girls.

We must stop deceiving ourselves about the ways of nature. Each sex must assume its own responsibility for its own weaknesses.

POSSIBILITIES IN STATE POLITICS.

(Boise New Freedom)

In the field of state politics it is beginning to be evident that the Democrats will renounce Governor Alexander without opposition, and will also most probably name T. A. Walters of Caldwell for Attorney-General and J. W. Tanner of Piler for Lieutenant-Governor, those gentlemen having made extra good runs as candidates two years ago. Sentiment is also working in favor of James H. Forney as northern Idaho's candidate for Congress, while A. C. Hindman of Boise, H. D. Best of Shoshone, Chase A. Clark of Mackay and Bert H. Miller of St. Anthony are most prominently mentioned for south Idaho's candidates. Clarence Van Dusen is in the field for State Auditor. This comprises the list of prospective Democratic candidates up to date.

Among the Republicans, the usual disagreement among northern Idaho Republicans is evident as to the gubernatorial candidate, and one is driven to the conclusion that this condition is fostered by certain foxy politicians of the south. Of course if the north cannot unite the south can step forward in the interest of harmony and take the cake. By-long odds D. W. Davis of American Falls is in the lead among south Idaho aspirants. Mr. Davis has ideas that make the basis of a campaign and furthermore is displaying political sagacity of no mean order. Unless complications arise he will doubtless capture the nomination with ease, but his desire to lead a forlorn hope shows more zeal than judgment.

BUHL A HUSTLING CITY.

It is up to everybody to doff the hat to Buhl as a live, energetic city which is destined to grow and earn "a place on the sun." The auto owners are behind a movement, noted recently in THE TIMES, to place a man and team constantly on the roads around town to keep the bridges in repair and to mend the bad places, and if the work gets too heavy, the patrolman is empowered to hire needed assistance during times of special stress. While this will add much to the pleasure of the auto owners it will also add much to the trade of Buhl, which will draw people from a greater distance than would otherwise be the case, on account of the fine condition of the highways. The movement is one which Twin Falls might well emulate. Good roads always constitute an asset to a city and the better the roads, the greater the asset.

A MIGHTY NOBLE DEED.

(Parma Herald)

County Attorney H. A. Griffiths has ordered the use of all slot machines and punch boards in the county discontinued. It was high time that something was done along this line. Those monsters of iniquity were sapping the lifeblood of our citizens; debasing the fathers and driving the mothers to suicide, debauching the sons, ruining the daughters and sending the soul of the unborn child to perdition. We're glad they're gone never to return under the same name. We never could win on the darn things anyhow.

SPIRITED DEBATE

ABOUT SWITCHES

side intended building, citing Max Plink, who would build a warehouse; William Perrine, who would build a store house for apples; Archie Mann and D. B. Seaman.

The negative then had an inning, their case being opened by E. J. "The council then adjourned until the next meeting, after which a conflict of interest resulted. He said that it was his interest to have the switch opposite the yards of the Perrine bridge and that he intended, but he had never had the nerve to ask that it be done. He insisted that there was plenty of vacant lots in the city and that it was justice to those who had bought this the tracks should not be extended. He asserted that it would prove an inconvenience to those coming from the country over the Rock Creek bridge, and would moreover be a source of danger. He said that he understood that three people had been left at different times crossing the single switch across Second street. He said that the people were talking of putting in an extensive bridge and putting across Rock Creek, "which many of us hope will be built," but if this switch were constructed across Shoshone street the bridge would be almost useless as far as trade would be driven elsewhere. L. L. Breckenridge also decried the selfishness of the protest. He said that he was favorable to it in a private way but opposed in a public way. A truck across the street back from the Twin Falls Milling and Elevator company would be to his financial interest, but he had not asked it. When a member of the council had discussed the matter informally with other members of the council and all agreed that it would be a bad thing for the city. A truck across the street could be suggested and would save one switching a day for the mill during the busy season, with the result of saving a change of seven cents a day. But he believed that the extension would hurt the town and he had not asked for it. The same council had turned down a proposition to run a truck on Shoshone for the Perrine electric railway. He said that it was merely a matter of pulling the small amount of freight that would cross the street now it would make little difference, but if the town should grow as all believe it is bound to do, an inevitable result of having that the thoroughfare would be ruined. He insisted that equally good switching facilities could be obtained at slightly greater cost by extension from the other side.

M. J. Sweeley said that he did not appear as attorney for anybody, but thought the extension would be a bad thing. Every time a passenger train arrived in town from 10 to 50 people could be crowded up the street, those consisted of women and children now perfectly safe. This condition would no longer exist were the petition granted. If one company received an extension another could demand one and so on until the street would be a network of tracks. The fact that the extension would be for the city and the depot was in his opinion a fatal objection. Shoux City, town, where he formed the idea, had made the mistake now suggested here and having grown to be a city of 60,000, regretted it. He added that the city should not allow the street to be given for subways on the main streets and make the trains pass underneath. Attorney Booth came back ready for the fray. He ridiculed the arguments of the opponents of the extension and asked where the farm trade which it was supposed would be driven away would go to. If this were sufficient to drive away trade, how was it that farmers came from the south side of town to trade? All that was wanted was to put the switch across with sufficient cars to take care of the business. This would involve little switching. The council had the right to insist on safeguards at the crossing as a condition of granting the franchise. The council of which Mr. Breckenridge was a member had granted a franchise to the Perrine railroad to cross Main street, where the traffic was much greater than across the proposed switch at Shoshone, at least 10 times as great. The danger at the intersection of Shoshone and Main streets was many times as great as that at an argument for insisting that a city have but one street? He said that the matter of the matter of switching from the other side showed that it would cost more than three times as much, and that it would increase the cost of the switch engine as it would to alter the proposed franchise. He again insisted that it was a contest of property owners on one side against property owners on the other. If a man should propose to put a 14-story office building opposite the postoffice, ought a permit be required on property from down town folks whose offices might be emptied? The principle was the same. Shoux City had grown to be a city of 60,000 because the men there were builders and did not oppose the upbuilding of the city. Mr. Breckenridge said that his recollection of the granting of the right to cross Main street by the council of which he was a member was that the right had been granted for five years to the Perrine railway. Furthermore, he urged that the electric line was less dangerous and got into a good natured exchange of compliments with Mr. Booth on the subject. George F. Sprague closed for the negative side, by saying that he was present at the time that the city was laid out. The original plan provided for a switch crossing Shoshone at the point named. The council objected and after hearing their case the engineer said they were right and recommended that the switch not be put in. He said that Salt Lake City had had troubles of the kind named. He had the extension, would be to his interest. He argued that the difference between this crossing and the one over the main tracks was that the people had ample opportunity to see a train from either direction as they approached the track, but would not in case a switch were erected and warehouse buildings constructed, saying that the accident on Main recently was due to a building preventing the people in the car from seeing the approaching train. The council then laid the matter over until the next meeting. Highest market price paid for baled alfalfa hay the year round. John Fluke, Twin Falls, Idaho. Telephone 708-W. —Adv.

A WONDERFUL BARGAIN

A Hygeno Carpet Sweeper is needed in every home—the modern sanitary sweeper, much better than the ordinary wooden sweeper because its special sanitary construction eliminates the harboring of disease germs. Built of steel, light weight, very easy running, strong and durable—will last for years. We consider ourselves fortunate in being able to offer our patrons such a remarkable useful household article at such a seasonably low price. It is a wonder special sale offering and we advise you to be here on time if you want to own one, as they are bound to go like hot cakes. The HYGENO Sweeper factory is making several thousand daily to supply the demand of all the leading stores throughout the United States, who are making a special sale feature of these sweepers. We were able to get only 200 at this time for this sale—not enough to go 'round, we know. This is not a money profit special but an advertising proposition. Everyone who can get one of these carpet sweepers for 98c will talk about their good fortune for a long, long time. Don't be misled by the price. The carpet sweeper is a regular $3.00 value.

Public Forum

Like Stand of Commercial Club.
With great pleasure and satisfaction do we settlers on the Salmon River project appreciate the fact that the Twin Falls Commercial club does not hesitate to express in THE TIMES its sincere sympathy for us; and last, but not least to point out to the State Land board its duty in the Salmon River matter.
We have been looking for such a statement for a long time, as it seems natural to us that the neighboring country should look upon Twin Falls as interested in its welfare, as well as in its own. We are very pleased with the expression of the Commercial club, and feel certain that it will interest itself in our behalf the officials of this state will pay more attention to what ought to be done for our relief. Militarism and the Boy Scout Movement.

What does the future hold in store for America? Can it be that she is doomed to follow in the footsteps of Europe? These questions are agitating the minds of millions today, for the spirit of militarism seems to have come to us, as it were from some unknown world, filling the unhealthy recesses of our minds and hearts and dictating our policies. This spirit is neither new nor old. It speaks to the men tottering under the heavy burden of many winters, and they shout: "Prepare ye to slaughter!" It hovers over the babe in its mother's arms and causes a lullaby to be sung in the name of "patriotism," and lavishly supplies it with "tin-soldiers" and airplanes with "Zehns," before the little victim outgrows his knee pants, this spirit gives him into the keeping of a scout master who administers the finishing touches to the first stages of military preparedness. Is this the anti-Christ that is working in our midst? Can you imagine Jesus as a scout master?

Listen! With apologies, I ask you to think of Jesus, whose every expression had the universal ring, gathering the little boys of his country around him and teaching them patriotism bounded by geographical lines and holding before them as ideal patterns of conduct the would take the pattern of the Knights of the Round Table.

HAVE YOU ANY FRIENDS?

Who Would Like to Know More About the Twin Falls Country?

We have just off the press one of the most complete crop reports, together with a general description of the Twin Falls country as you like, each copy inclosed in a neat envelope ready for mailing. We have thousands of these descriptive postcards for distribution and our printers have promised to print more on request. So many of our friends in the middle west whose land is not netting them more than 3 per cent after paying taxes and upkeep, while the land is decreasing in fertility and report must be had to commercial fertilizers. Others might like a better climate, severe electric storms and cyclones are unknown. You may know others who would like to escape the hazard of floods and drought. Have your friends in any part of the great west who would like to know more about our wonderful country? This is the greatest country on earth. Just tell your friends about it or let us tell them for you.

—strutting, in gorgeous dress, before the king, with a dagger, red with blood, hanging by their side. With apologies, I ask you to think of Him telling these boys that they should learn to discipline and control themselves that they will obey the orders of "all duly authorized authority" without any thought on their part concerning the orders, and then leading these same boys out into the wooded hills and there directing them in "war games" that they be prepared to "serve their country in the hour of their need."

The above mentioned "mental and physical drilling" for boys scouts in the Twin Falls country of scoutcraft—outlined in the "Hand Book for Boys"; and the scout master PLAINLY himself to carry out this program. The fact that many preachers, and Sunday school teachers are acting as scout masters presents to my mind the ridiculous idea of Jesus as a scout master. Again I say it is with apologies I ask people to think of Him engaged in such work. This kind of teaching is the work of the anti-Christ. The B. D. who teaches this is a Doctor of Darkness instead of a Doctor of Divinity. He is sowing seed that will grow into the tree of life, and in due time this tree of death will bring forth fruit. Past experience teaches us that its fruit is bitter, nevertheless must be eaten when it ripens. The people of Europe are eating of this fruit now. They are eating because they enjoy it. The eating of this fruit is causing them indescribable pain, but they have to eat it, it is eat. Even though they are full to the point of bursting they must eat it all, for there is an eternal law which compels one to reap that which he sows. I am not a prophet, but common sense tells me that if we, the citizens of the United States, whose government that even some "patriots" admit is based on barbarism with the dollar-mark as the symbol of its god, continue to sow the seeds of militarism and barmy patriotism in the filthy soil of here, we will some day reap a harvest of death that will make the present European conflict appear small in comparison with it. One of the great tragedies of today is the fact that in our homes, our schools and our churches the minds of little children are fed on the psychological rot of material patriotism—patriotism for land and instead of men, patriotism that is nourished on the will of greed instead of the milk of love, patriotism that calls for the sac-office of men and principle for property instead of the sacrifice of property for men and principle and that boys, with baby voices, are lured into church basements, and there drilled in the rudiments of militarism that they may be prepared to protect this mammonistic commercialized god—"Americanism."

Without fear of INTELLIGENT criticism, I wish to say to those who are interested in the propaganda of Christianity, that Christianity is cosmopolitan in its every phase. Therefore, barmy patriotism is a barrier which must be destroyed before your answer for God's kingdom to come and His will be done on earth as it is in heaven can be answered.

Yours sincerely,

SAM GILLELAND,

SHEEP BUYERS ARE

EAGER TO PURCHASE

Lambs Rough $2.25 on Portland Market—Cattle and Hogs Are Steady—Eastern Buyers Want Wool.

As usual buyers were awaiting any kind of sheep with considerable eagerness Tuesday, says the Portland Live Stock Reporter of Thursday. There were no arrivals and hence no market.

Wednesday a few breeder ewes with lambs were unloaded. No sheep for today's market. Demand continues as formerly with nothing in the way of receipts.

The excellent demand should accelerate shipments. Nothing has sold over $2.25 but the reason is chiefly because there hasn't been any to try out the market.

The bulk sold Wednesday at $3.85 49.00, a week ago at $3.75 49.00, a month ago at $3.40 49.50, a year ago at $3.40 49.50, 2 years ago at $3.25 49.50, 3 years ago at $3.00 49.50, 4 years ago at $2.75 49.50. Current quotations are:

Choice lambs	$3.90 49.25
Common lambs	$3.00 49.75
Ewes and wethers	$2.75 49.75
Choice yearlings	$3.75 49.00
Good yearlings	$3.00 49.75
Choice wethers	$3.00 49.75
Good wethers	$2.75 49.00

than is common at this point. The bulk of the calves were too heavy, however, for vealers and the vealers received were not fat. Prices were nothing startling but correctly reflected the quality. The heavy ones went at $5.00 and vealers at $7.00 for the best.

Wednesday had 14 calves on the market, the balance being here for feed and rest. They sold from $5.00 to $7.00. Nothing better than fair arriving.

Dairy cows Wednesday sold from $2.50 to $6.00 and light on the $6.00 variety at that. They did not show the finish of the previous day's run. General quotations are:

Best selected, 850-1000 lbs.	$5.00 49.50
Best selected, 700-800 lbs.	$4.50 49.50
Choice stock heifers	$4.50 49.50
Good to choice stock cows	$4.50 49.50

Two loads of Valley hogs moved this morning at $8.00. Additional hogs are expected late this afternoon.

The bulk sold Wednesday at $7.00 49.00, a week ago at $7.00 49.00, a month ago at $7.00 49.00, a year ago at $7.00 49.00, 2 years ago at $7.00 49.00, 3 years ago at $7.00 49.00, 4 years ago at $7.00 49.00. General quotations are:

Prime light	$8.00 49.15
Prime strong weights	$8.00 49.15
Good to prime mixed	$7.00 49.75
Through heavy packing	$6.00 49.00
Pigs and skips	$5.00 49.00

With eastern dealers ready to pay such high prices in the west for wool on the sheep's back, some Boston traders have considered it worth while to take up for speculation some of the territory wool offerings in this market. These lots have been priced at figures fully as low as the first costs of the wools yet to be shown and for this reason, alone, they ought to prove better prices for local buyers than the lines that will not be shipped to Boston for several months to come.

Such is the confidence of some local dealers in local values that the remaining wools are fast coming into a few strong hands and these lots are likely to be held by the new owners for higher than the present fair rates.

FILER HAPPENINGS
(From The Filer Journal)

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Connor of Twin Falls, were Filer visitors Monday. T. D. was here on official business from the sheriff's office and Mrs. Connor to visit friends.

Lyman Stewart has resigned as cashier on route 1 to take effect on the 22nd in order to devote all his time to the creamery business. His substitute, Glenn Showers, has also resigned.

Mrs. E. H. Martin of Cadesby, Idaho, desires information about her son Orville. When she last heard from him he was near Filer, working on a ranch. His last letter was dated Dec. 1, 1915. He is 17 years old, 5 ft. 4 in. high. Leave information concerning him at this office.

Complimentary to Mrs. Clouchcock of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Ingling of Pocatello, district president of the Woman's club, the following ladies took luncheon with them at the drug store Wednesday noon: Mesdames Truitt, Shearer, Fitzgerald, Childs and Tanner.

On Monday evening Mrs. E. H. Ripley, entertained a number of the young friends of her daughter Dorothy. The little folks were taken to the Gem theatre to enjoy the beautiful film, "Seven Sisters," and later to the drug store, where ice cream and cake were served. They reported a most delightful evening.

The box social at Washington school was not very well attended, and there were no boxes for sale, but the net sum of $20.20 was netted from a cake which was given to the girl receiving the biggest number of votes. Berneke Deklatz proved to be the most popular girl, with Mary Musser a close second. The program given by the scholars was a credit to them and their teachers, and the track meet was enjoyed by all.

Filer is to be congratulated on the fact that she will soon have an up-to-date bakery. N. A. Jackson of Twin Falls, who has recently sold the bakery up there, has moved to Filer and fixed up the room formerly used by J. F. Blakeley as a restaurant. He has put in large plate windows and built one of the best ovens on the tract. Mr. Jackson thoroughly understands the bakery business and will give Filer the best service she has ever had.

On Tuesday Mrs. Beem entertained the ladies of the Birthday club with a turkey dinner. Covers were laid for twelve, consisting of the following ladies: Mesdames Showers, Cedarholm, Lorain, Young, Spencer, T. D. Smith, Schindler, Hughes, Grandin, Fisher, Telford, Shinn and Tanner. The guests found their place at the table by means of souvenir Washington notepaper. The dinner was all that could be desired, and the afternoon was pleasantly passed in social converse.

The Filer Woman's club met yesterday afternoon at the club rooms. An average attendance was present and enjoyed the resources of Idaho. Mrs. Ingling of Pocatello, the district president, was present and gave a talk upon the line of improvements the clubs of the district have made. She complimented the Filer club very highly on the work they are doing. Mrs. H. W. Clouchcock of Twin Falls, was another guest of the day and gave a talk upon the line of improvements the clubs of the district have made. JAPAN'S RULER A WRESTLER

Placed in the Art, So Popular in His Empire, by the Son of a Poor Farmer.

The mikado of Japan, whose subjects have been doing so much to help the allies in the present war, is a thorough soldier, and has a wonderful knowledge of military tactics and history. When he was quite a boy, he was induced by his father, the late emperor, to take a keen interest in the principles of national defense. He was taught wrestling and was made to try his prowess with young men in the humblest walks of life.

On one occasion, he was present with his father at a big wrestling tournament and took part in many of the matches. He threw all of his opponents until there stepped into the ring a young farmer's son of such a burly build that it was evident that the future mikado would have a very rough time of it. However, he went manfully to work, but was heavily beaten, and had to confess that the farmer's son was victor.

After the match, the late emperor went for the umpire, and, pointing to the farmer's son who was feeling rather uncomfortable at having beaten his future sovereign, he said: "I wish to speak with that young man."

When the lad appeared before him, the mikado remarked: "My son, henceforth you will become one of the companions of my own son, and will live and study with him while he remains at school, for later on, when he becomes emperor, he will need many a man like you."

The help to the imperial throne of Japan and the common farmer's boy became the greatest of friends, and the present mikado possibly owes a great deal of his democratic spirit to that memorable wrestling bout.

THIS NEGRO HAS MANY WIVES

Large Delegation of Them Visits Malachi Jenkins in Prison at Thomasville, Ga.

Thomasville, Ga.—Malachi Jenkins is a Thomas county negro who confessed to having entered the matrimonial state just 22 times. Malachi's latest mate lives in Lowndes county, and, being anxious to see her again and weary of the separation, he broke jail here and made his way to her home.

Suspecting him of having returned to his family, the police went on a still hunt for Jenkins. He is now in his old cell, where he probably will have to remain for some time longer.

Ten of Jenkins' wives attempted to visit him at the county jail on one day.

Man Who Served Five Years in Revolution Buried in Cemetery in Indiana.

Franklin, Ind.—In a secluded spot in the Glen Park cemetery, four miles east of Greenwood, lies the body of John Parr, who, as far as known, is the only revolutionary soldier buried in Johnson county. A white stone slab, almost covered with weeds and underbrush, was photographed by visitors at the cemetery, and the headstones revealed the following inscription:

JOHN PARR.
Aged 32 years 2 months and 23 days. He served five years in the Army of the Revolution and was in the battles of Monmouth, Brandywine, etc.

Mr. Parr was a relative of the Jarrs of Johnson county and Newcastle, Ind.

JAPANESE AN ABLE ORATOR

Young Student Has Carried Off Two Prizes Within a Remarkably Short Time.

One of the most interesting features of the international students' reunion held at San Francisco, Cal., last August was the oratorical contest for a prize of $50, offered by Director General John Harriott of the Pan-American union, for the best oration on the subject of Pan-American relations.

The winner of the prize, Mr. Ren Hiroo, is a senior in the economic department of Stanford university.

He was born in Hirogo prefecture, Japan, February 3, 1891. After finishing his secondary education in Japan, he came to the United States in 1907, and entered the San Jose High school at San Jose, Cal.

In 1912 he entered the College of the Pacific, and the following year transferred to Stanford university.

In May, 1915, Mr. Hiroo won the first prize of $50 in an oratorical contest on Japanese-American relations, held under the auspices of the Japanese Association of American College Graduates. The winning of two prizes within a period of three months stamps the brilliant young Japanese as an orator and thinker of marked ability.

Soldier Dies by Schedule.

News of the death in the British trenches of Lieut. John W. Barnett, graduate of the University of California and a leader in athletics, has been recalled here by John Stroud, graduate manager, and showed that the young officer was killed within a few days of the time limit he had put on his life.

In a recent letter Lieutenant Barnett said he had been promoted to be a range finder.

"The average life of a range finder is 30 days," his letter said. "I have been on the job 17 days. You will know soon whether or not I shall outlast the average."

Fighting within a few miles of where Lieutenant Barnett died are his two brothers, one of whom was his classmate at Berkeley. All are under twenty-five—Berkeley (Cal.) Dispatch to New York World.

Texas Has Third Party Fly.

It was a Texas cattleman from the Gulf coast, and he stood on the droe camp at the top of the stock yards exchange viewing the cattle pens, the packing houses and the Kaw, relates the Kansas City Star.

"In all my recollections," he said, "we never had such a terrible year for flies. Cattle are almost skinned alive by the third party fly." (Only he said "pahty.")

"Third party fly?"

"Tenthredinid pahty fly."

He explained that the "third party fly" was a fly a little smaller than a housefly, but with a terrible sting, and that it made its first appearance in Texas the same year the first "third party" did. Hence the name.

Names Is Names.

Ochoahacoomuck has scored two Harvard records which bid fair to stand for generations to come. "Cheese" is the only pure-blooded Indian who can bear a Harvard degree, and he has the longest surname of the 7,567 living Harvard alumni.

Aab of Stam, a recent graduate, lacks a handle to his name, and consequently he is first choice for the shortest name.

Swiss rollers would hail with delight a chance to harmonize to such names as Ho, Hu, Li, Lo and Ma, the names of Japanese graduates.

Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer are catalogued, and are South, West, North and Easton—Cambridge Correspondent New York World.
