BONDS SOLD AT
PREMIUM OF $2488.Lumberman Trust Co. of Portland, Highest Bidder.THIRTEEN FIRMS IN COMPETI-TION--ALL OFFER PREMIUMS.Money Will Be Received at 2 o'clock
Saturday and Paid to Water Company at Once.

The credit of the city of Twin Falls is shown by the fact that the $50,000 loan of waterworks bonds sold Wednesday morning at a premium of $2488 to the Lumberman Trust company of Portland, Ore., which was the highest of the 13 competing bidders. All bidders offered a premium, the smallest being the sum of $631, offered by the Central Bank & Savings company of Denver. The second highest bid was that of R. M. Grant & Co. of Chicago for $82,183, and the third, the joint bid of Keene, Taylor & Co. and the International Investment Co. of Denver, for $82,037.

The city will be able to use all the money received in the development of the system, as the $400 attorney fee required to cover the cost of legal advice was balanced by a rebate on a previous fee paid to Wood & Oakley by a former city council of Chicago, who passed final judgment on the proceedings in the present case. The money for the bonds will be paid on before 2 o'clock April 1 and will be promptly turned over to the city, which will thereby acquire a waterworks system.

The list of bids, in the order opened, were as follows:

Union Trust & Savings bank, Spokane, $81,697; R. M. Grant & Co., Chicago, $82,183; Snyder Spitzer & Co., Toledo, $81,656; Bolger, Moser & Williams, Chicago; Keene, Taylor & Co. and International Investment Co., Denver, $82,037; Central Bank & Savings Co., Denver, $80,531; Provident Savings Bank & Trust Co., Cincinnati, $81,080; Keene, Taylor & Co., Portland, Ore., $82,488; James N. Wright & Co., Denver, $81,224.

FARCE PRESENTED AT HIGH SCHOOLPublic Speaking Class Entertains Assembly--False Mexican Report Causes Stir.

Students of the public speaking class presented a very clever little farce in assembly last Friday morning, entitled "To Oblige Benson."

Those taking part were: James L. Barker, Theodore Holderman, Ray Butler, Atwill, Ode and Helen Strohecker.

This senior class has completed its work in American history and will commence the study of civics next week.

A committee of seniors have been working on the matter of the commencement play. They have sent out for a number of plays to be read and will choose the one to be presented first.

Last week someone started the rumor that the militia had been called to Mexico. This immediate construction, however, because a large number of the high school boys are members of the state militia.

The basketball season is over, the sophomore class winning the class championship by defeating the seniors. Baseball practice will commence immediately and coaching sessions will soon have a good team in working order.

JOHNSON AUTO SALES CO.
WILL BUILD AUTO STORE

The Johnson Auto Sales Company purchased two lots on Shoshone avenue east from C. C. Beech with a view of the immediate construction thereon of a modern auto store, with a dimension of 50 by 125 feet. This company, which distributes the Hudson car for Twin Falls and 10 other counties, intends to keep a large stock on hand at all times. The Maxwell car is also handled in large quantities and will be moved to the new store to this city. Distributing Manager Truett of Salt Lake is now in the city and declares himself pleased with the business which the company has built up.

Attendance Will Be Large--Tabernacle Is Prepared.

A special feature of the Twin Falls Automobile show will be the formal opening next Monday evening, April 3, at 8:30 p. m., which will be attended by the mayor and other city officials, as well as the officers of the Commercial club, Merchants' association and Automobile club.

The Twin Falls Commercial club will have charge of the opening exercises, which will be brief, but impressive. Carl Dolong, vice-president of the Commercial club, will welcome the visiting automobile men and Mayor Sweetley will surrender to the assembled automobile men for the week of the show the great key to the city, a prominent automobile man will accept for the auto men, and in this fitting manner the big show will be launched upon its first voyage for the week which will be here on the 10th of April.

Carloads of glittering, beautiful automobiles are arriving daily for the big show, which opens next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. All this week busy workers have been engaged in transforming the big tabernacle into a fitting showroom for the many beautiful exhibits which will be here on the 10th of April.

VISITORS TO BE
ROYALLY RECEIVEDProgram Preparing for Those at Republican ConventionINVITATIONS EXTENDED TO SPEND SEVERAL DAYS IN CITYFree Auto Trips Provided to All Parts of Adjoining Country as Guests of City.

All the Twin Falls hospitality will be at the service of the Republican delegates and others who come to the city to attend the Republican state convention, April 20. They are invited to stay at least three days, so that they can see the country, and will be furnished free auto-rides to all parts of the tract by the reception committee of the Twin Falls Commercial club. The committee agreed upon Tuesday are already busy in planning ways and means to show everyone that comes a good time. Charles D. Thomas is looking after the musical attractions and Arthur J. Pooley is getting a lot of auto lined up to take the visitors on real joy rides. A number of letters are being sent out today inviting the delegates and friends to come April 19 and to stay as long as possible after the convention adjourns. The reception committee includes a number of leading Democrats and contains representatives from Buhl, Kimberly, Piler and Mars. The managers declare that nothing will be left undone to make the visiting contingent feel at home, and then some.

JUDGE DIETRICH REVERSES
DECISION IN TAX CASE1913 Assessment Against Salmon River Canal Company Set Aside
Upon Rehearing in Federal Court.

Following a decision by the supreme court of the state, Judge Dietrich permitted the case of the Twin Falls Salmon River Land and Water company against Twin Falls county to be reheard, and has rendered a decision reversing his former judgment, and holding that the company could not legally be assessed in 1913.

The case involved a $10,000 in taxes for the year 1913, the county contending that the company was still in possession of an equity in the irrigation system on the Salmon river tract. The company claimed exemption under the law that provides that after a certain act system had been sold to a private company, the company could not be assessed.

POSTAL LAWS ARE TO BE ENFORCEDGrowth of City Demands That Rules Be Carried OutRESIDENTS MUST GET MAIL BY CARRIER OR GIVE REASON.Increase of 50 Per Cent in Business of Office in Two Years, With Little Help Increase.

"Owing to the tremendous growth of the business of the Twin Falls postoffice, without any corresponding increase in the office force, it will be necessary, in order to avoid congestion and secure prompt delivery, for people living here to comply with the law with reference to having their street address put on their mail," said Postmaster A. M. Strout yesterday for a TIMES representative.

"The business of the office for the past quarter was 25 per cent greater than for the corresponding quarter in 1915 and 50 per cent greater than for the corresponding quarter in 1914," he continued, "while the office force has been increased only 5 per cent. Only 12 per cent of the mail arriving in this office is directed in compliance with the law, while 90 per cent of it should be. As a result, the sorting out of the mail which should be properly addressed and is not, requires the labor of one man all of the time. We have about 15,000 names which is necessary for a man to remember when sorting. If the mail is addressed to the right street number, the sorting takes but little time, the mail can be distributed promptly and there is little chance for mistakes. If it is not, the time taken is much greater and the chance for error is greatly increased. There are 50 daily newspapers coming to the general delivery in Twin Falls and these are taken by home delivery men. It takes 10 years. The law requires that anyone having a fixed residence in a carrier district who fails to have mail delivered by carrier must give a reason for such failure in writing to the postmaster. We have not enforced this law, but will now do so. The director of the city is up to date and where there is doubt about the residence of a person, we look it up, but that takes valuable time. The changes of address take much time as they average from 25 to 50 a day. Here, for instance, is the table for the last two years, showing the number of persons who have changed their residence. I mention this to show you that, with the growth of the city, there is considerable shifting around among the people, getting themselves readjusted, and this means more work without more help to do it, and necessitates a more orderly and systematic arrangement of the mail. There is a law pending in congress which, if passed, will compel us to put a charge of one cent on every letter which we are to look to the directory to find its owner's address, but this law has not yet been enacted. People should write to the newspapers, and have their street address put on their papers, if they are on the route of any carrier, their rural route put on their papers, and have their papers addressed to the general delivery where they are received in the office. They should also request all papers which they are in care of to be sent to the office. This will insure prompt delivery. As it is now, we have in some instances been compelled to miss a delivery through inability to get the mail straightened out and distributed in time to send out with the carriers.

"I feel sure when the people realize the importance of this matter they will not fail to comply with rulings which are alike convenient for themselves and for us."

TIMES NEWS BULLETIN
GIVES IMPORTANT NEWS

"THE TIMES" bulletin this morning contained much important news, including the information that Carrasco has granted the right to American troops to use Mexican railroads; that the Democratic house caucus had voted in favor of the most manufacturers of arms and ammunition; and that several big battles were in progress in Europe. It was also learned from the same source that Colonel Roosevelt had again denounced the Mexican policy of President Wilson.

JUDGE DAN WELTY
DECLINES JUDGESHIPDeclines That His Physical Condition
Would Render Him Incompetent to Fill Office.

In an address to the public in general and his friends in particular, Judge Dan T. Welty of Camdenton, Mo., declined to accept the position of probate judge tendered to him by the board of county commissioners, citing as his reason his inability, through physical incapacity, to fill the office in a competent manner. He declared that he felt that he would be unable to do his full duty by the public and that this would put a burden on those having dealings with the office.

The address follows:

"To the Public and Many Friends: Owing to conditions best known to me, I could not carry on and execute the duties vested in the probate judgeship of Twin Falls county, however much I would have liked to have done so."

"With physical conditions existing, I could not carry on the duties of that office and I do not want to place the burden upon others or have the public suffer from it. Any other matters than competency could have been passed."

"I think my friends and the public will think me for being frank as to the conditions existing, and I appreciate the honor you have tried to confer, but believing a public trust should be competently and faithfully filled, I do not believe under the conditions existing, from any viewpoint I may take, I could comply, and I regret it very much."

"I will ask the pardon of those who have assisted me for lending the encouragement I did without sounding my own condition more fully. Respectfully, DAN T. WELTY."

W. J. SMITH DECLINES TO FILE
PETITION FOR COUNTY JUDGE

"If I were ten or fifteen years younger, I would not mind tackling the office of county judge," said Judge W. J. Smith today to a representative of THE TIMES. "But, as I am, I am going to decline. The office is a hard one to fill, owing to the continual mental strain. If a man wants to do anything like justice to his fellowman, he will study a great deal in a close before depriving him of his liberty. My petition was put out by my friends, and I am pleased with the number of names of people in all lines of activity that appeared on it. But I have pulled it down and will not accept."

Judge Smith has served in a judicial capacity for 20 years, part of which time was spent as probate judge of Shoshone county. He is at present police judge and justice of the peace in Twin Falls.

HANSEN MAN COMMITS
SUICIDE AT BRIDGEWalter Kennedy, 40, From Railroad Bridge Near Snake Creek--Was Temperarily Demented.

Walter Kennedy, a Hansen farmer, committed suicide by jumping off the railroad bridge near the Oregon shore of Snake Creek, this city Thursday morning, about 11:15 o'clock, while temporarily demented as a result of ill health.

Mr. Kennedy came to this city this morning in a bulch, accompanied by his wife, to take treatment at the Twin Falls hospital, where he had been receiving several treatments a week for some months. His wife left him and came down town, and her return found that he had written a will, which showed that his mind was not sound. She laughed at him about this, and he was so angry that he jumped off the bridge. Kennedy seemed so come to himself completely, and thinking that he was better, she asked him to temporarily and he followed, supposedly for the purpose of coming down town. The nurses at the hospital, however, became uneasy and started to look for him almost as soon as he had gone. Mrs. Kennedy, on learning that her husband had left the hospital, notified the police, while two nurses, Miss Palmer and Miss Grossman, started for the bridge. On their way they saw him, but were unable to reach him before he took the fatal leap.

Kennedy was about 40 years of age. He showed but few marks about the head, but was instantly killed by the fall of 55 feet into the canyon.

SUSPENDED FROM TREE
WHILE JOKEING LUNCH

Throughout the filming of "What Happened to Father," which will be shown at the Idaho Friday and Saturday, Frank Daniels played many pranks on his supporting company. The musical comedy king who is starred in this filmograph of a new feature, is a practical joker and he entered into the spirit of the uproarious comedy to such an extent that he played a trick for his fellow players. Their chance came when Daniels, in the story, is thrown from an automobile, and hangs, suspended by his fingers, from the top of a tree. The entire company, with a yell of delight, assured him the pose was fine and asked him to "hold it," while they took a picture of him. Daniels, being to a neighboring inn, they lunched at leisure and then returned to further jesting at the comedian's expense. They had to fight their way through a blue haze of profanity in order to reach the sturdy oak and release the suffering friend. The filmograph comedian is cured of practical joking, and he didn't wait for January 1st to swear off.

HIDE THIEF STILL RETICENT.

The preliminary trial of Gordon Borg, the hide thief captured in this city Sunday, has not yet been held. Borg, who was captured by the police, capturing the other members of the gang supposed to be operating, but as this can hardly be realized, now that they have been arrested, to get away, it is thought that the arrangement will soon be made. Borg confessed at one time of two men being connected with him, though he would not confess to the theft himself, nor incriminate others. It is believed, however, that he was not alone.

MRS. NORVELL'S MEETINGS IN KIMBERLY WELL ATTENDED

Reports from Kimberly indicate that the meetings being held there this week by Mrs. Norvell are being largely attended. The movement in Kimberly started out with great enthusiasm with the address of Dr. French E. Oliver last Friday, and interest is reported as increasing steadily ever since.

The Magel brothers garage is going up rapidly and will be completed in a comparatively short time.

KILLED BY FALL FROM STAIRS.

Mrs. Charles A. Jones, aged 52 years, was killed Tuesday evening by a fall from an outside stairway at her home, two miles southeast of Hansen. Mrs. Jones had returned from Twin Falls, where she attended the funeral of Mrs. Edwards, and while on the back stairs, where about 5:30 o'clock, tripped and fell about eight feet, sustaining internal injuries from the fall. She was in good health and was the mother of seven children, five of whom live elsewhere. The funeral announcement has not yet been made.

CHRISTIANS HOLDING GREAT
REVIVAL MEETING IN KIMBERLY

That the revival conducted by Evangelist Snodgrass, assisted by Mr. Talley, as singer, is proving a great success in the report received from Kimberly. Thirty-eight had confessed Christ up to Tuesday night and many others had expressed themselves as interested. It is expected to close Friday night and is pronounced entirely satisfactory by the members of the Christian church and by the people of Kimberly in general.

WOULD UTILIZE WATER TANK

Secretary James McMillan of the Commercial club suggested to the city council at its meeting yesterday that the old water tank be moved from West Main street east to the Newell addition, where it could be used for distributing water there and for piping drinking water to the schools.

NORTHSIDE BUSY AND WANTS FARM HANDS

Wendell Man Says There Are Places for 20 Men There and at Jerome Prosperous Year Predicted.

There is a shortage of men on the north side tract, according to A. T. Eakin of Wendell, who was in this city yesterday on his way to Buht on business. Mr. Eakin said he knew of eight vacant jobs in Wendell and as many more in Jerome on farms near the city, and that he was convinced that the two towns could take care of 20 men. He suggested that probably a few of the men could find places at Hazelton and Eden and other towns along the north side branch. "The farmers of the country over there are busier now than they have ever been before at this time of year," he said, "as they realize that the best thing they can do is to get their crops in early. They are all anticipating a year of great prosperity and want men to help them plant things. Of course, the north side cannot take care of a great many workmen, but a number can get jobs. Some have been drifting in lately and they have all secured places. Any workman who does not care to go over personally and desires to investigate conditions, can do so by writing to Editor Pyne of the Wendell Irrigator, who is sec-

HOW TWIN FALLS DOES THINGS

(E. B. Shepard, in the Wendell Irrigator.)
WOULD you like to have others admire you? If you would, have something good to say about everybody (except yourself) about your neighbor, about your town and your country. Boast, even if you have to go out of your way; lend a helping hand; don't think of dwelling someone misery just because you are not fortunate in some petty scheme; have some word of encouragement always for the fellow who is down, and, remember, you may be down tomorrow; cause others to think you are so successful and prosperous that you can only see good in everything. It is the man with the petty grievance, the small man, who knocks. Try to be above small things. If you keep boasting everywhere you go, in a country where you can't boast.

A FORD OUTING ON BIRTHDAY

MIDVILLE—Russell Newman is of age today—to be exact, he is 105 years of age today—and he's proud of it. He isn't in the least when asked when he was born. He was born March 20, 1811, in Virginia. In celebrating his birthday, he prevailed on C. C. Hargrove to let him take out a Ford and drive around town. Hargrove went along, just so as to be where he could put on the brake if Mr. Newman got to hitting up the gas too much. For a couple of hours he drove about the town, perfectly contented with everything but the speed. He did crumple a little because he couldn't smoke up the trail for a speed of about 80 miles, but otherwise he was satisfied. Almost all kinds of transportation except "foot and a horseback" have been invented since he first saw the light of day, but he is still looking for faster traffic. He would take a chance. Times want ads bring results.

SOCIETY NOTES

Society items for this column will be gladly received by The Times. Phone 125-W. The Society Editor.

The Ladies' Pioneer club was entertained at the B. F. Atkinson home Thursday of last week by the following hostesses: Mesdames Munsie, Davis, Turner and Sullivan. A business session was followed by refreshments. A large attendance was recorded.

The Wayside club met with Mrs. Rose Rutherford Thursday. Mrs. Hamilton was leader. She read a very interesting paper on "Balanced Rations," that being the subject for the day. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Four guests were present.

Mrs. Marshall Ross of Spokane, who is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Everett Sweeney, was the honored guest at a party at the Isle given by Mrs. Sweeney last Thursday evening. After the entertainment the guests were invited to Mrs. Sweeney's home where light refreshments were served.

Thursday of last week the Salmon Social club met with Mrs. Rayl with 20 members and their visitors present. The hostess had for amusements a musical and patriotic guessing game. In the musical game first prize was won by Mrs. John Partridge, an embroidered handkerchief, and in the patriotic game Mrs. Logan won first prize, a pretty crocheted neckerchief. After lunch was served the members departed.

Mrs. L. Closs entertained with a theatre party at the Isis Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Marshall Ross of Spokane, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Everett Sweeney. A supper followed at the Closs home. The table centerpiece was a glass basket filled with pink and white peas. The place cards were decorated with sweet pea colors. The colors pink and white were used as a motif of the menu. Twelve ladies were present.

The ladies of the Addison Avenue Kensington club and their husbands, met with Mr. and Mrs. Riley, Thursday of last week. A program consisting of reading and music was given and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to games and conversation. At five o'clock a bountiful supper was served. The favors for the men, suggestive of St. Patrick's day, were pipes, and shamrock were presented to the ladies. Miss Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. Hammond were guests.

Mrs. Ira Mallory was hostess to the Shamrock club Thursday afternoon, March 16. After the usual business meeting, the Misses Alla Seeborn and Mary Griffith entertained the ladies with piano solos. Mrs. Charles Mallory was presented with a beautiful corsage, she having recently sold her home in this neighborhood and expect to move to another vicinity. Mrs. Swift and Mr. Near were guests of the club. Ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

Hard times, though evidenced, was not complained of at the banquet and reception tendered Wednesday night to Grand Chamberlain Charles E. Hildebrand of the Knights of Pythias, who was here on his annual tour of inspection. In this case the induction, "If work increases with your abundance, cut out the work" was literally observed, for the lodge work of the evening was postponed in order that the rest of the program might be carried out. After a short, light refreshment, the Pythian sisters and a few guests entered and spent a pleasant hour, after which there was a "hard time" of singing and dancing. The chamberlain was accompanied by his wife.

In honor of Mrs. Norville, of the Ladies' Pioneer club, Mrs. A. B. Hildebrand entertained a very enjoyable party last Friday afternoon. Conversation and music formed the afternoon's program. Refreshments were served in the dining room where a course luncheon was served. Green and white formed the color motif of the evening. The centerpiece was a cluster of green carnations, suggestive of St. Patrick's day. Over the table both sides of the banquet hall a green cloth was placed as a favor to the turned over to the fund for the entertainment of the state federation. However, this will be optional with the guests. Mrs. White also announced that the rural clubs will have charge of the "better buy contest," which will take place Saturday, April 1.

After some discussion concerning the club breakfast, Mrs. Ripley took charge of the program, the subject of which was "Lilies." In a very pleasing manner Mrs. Brown gave some interesting facts concerning the early history of our state. She was followed by Mrs. Dwight, who sang one of Cadman's productions, "As in a Rose Jar." Her accompanist was Miss Tisdale and the number was greatly appreciated.

"Conservation" was the subject of a most comprehensive paper read by Miss M. J. Sweeney. It was evident that the lady had given her subject careful study and also succeeded in awakening an interest in conservation which will be telling in its results. The last number on the program was a mandolin solo by Miss Ruth Hewitt, accompanied by Miss Ruth Ripley. Miss Hewitt is an artist on the mandolin and the ladies considered it a treat to hear her.

The subject for next week's meeting will be "Art," and the reader Mrs. Conway. All are urged to be present, as a special effort is being made to make the day enjoyable. Mrs. White and Mrs. Murphy will speak of the ten masterpieces, and Mrs. Schroeder will tell what these paintings mean to the world. An exhibit of famous works of art will be made.

A wonderfully brilliant program was enjoyed by the members of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon, March 23. The evening was devoted to "Masterpieces in Painting," by Mrs. J. R. Conway, to whom great credit is due for the brilliancy of the afternoon. The hall was decorated for the occasion to represent an art gallery. Many reproductions of the old masters graced the walls, these pictures being loaned by Mrs. Conway of Twin Falls.

The first number on the program was a piano solo by Miss Vesta Thomas, which was beautifully rendered and much appreciated. It followed the "ten masterpieces of the world":

Mrs. Murphy gave the biography of the artists alternately with Mrs. Dr. White, who gave a description of the pictures.

Mrs. Wilton Peak, in his usual pleasing manner, sang one of Coburn's very fine compositions, accompanied beautifully by the composer.

To close the program, a truly wonderful summary of the great masters and their works was given by Mrs. Schroeder, who certainly is a genius to summarizing.

During the afternoon it was moved, seconded and carried that the price per plate for the club breakfast should be 75 cents.

Mrs. Dr. White announced the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association at the high school Friday evening, March 31. A very interesting program is promised.

Miss Thurgate will discuss the playground needs for children, with a reading by Miss Gladys Dwight; also music by the high school band.

The rural clubs asked the Twentieth Century club to elect three judges from amongst their members to act as judges in the bread-baking contest, which will take place Saturday, April 1, 1916, at the City Market company's store. The following judges were elected: Mrs. Ormsby, Mrs. Beatty, Mrs. Pittman.

The president announced, "home products week," April 1 to 7, and asked all members to do their best in co-operating with the manufacturers and merchants in boosting home products.

The president also announced the annual election would take place next Tuesday, April 4, the polls to be open from 2:30 until 4:30 p. m., using the Australian ballot.

To close the afternoon, the president read some very fitting lines composed by Miss Margaret Conway, which are truly worthy of space and congratulatory mention:

"Up in the shadows above my bed—
Up in the darkness overhead—
There is a galaxy fair to see,
Along with pictures only for me.
A vision of light and life it seems,
Holding shadows, radiant dreams.
And when it is night and all is still,
And the breeze creeps over the lonely hill,
And the Nightingale sighs to the blushing rose,
And the daytime flowers silently close,
I lie, white-eyed, on a downy bed—
And smile at the shadows overhead.
For Memory has painted these pictures for me
And hunk them there in my gallery."

WATCH CONGRESS.

While every American citizen should watch with patriotic interest the development of the critical situation beyond the Rio Grande, with a view of doing his full duty to his country in case any unfortunate turn of affairs should take place, it would be well at the same time to keep an eye on congress where grafting legislation may be slipped through if people concentrate all their attention on the trouble beyond the border.

For instance, the water power bill is now pending. That measure probably means more for wool or wool of future generations than any development on the border. When the Ferris bill was pending in its original form many commercial organizations passed resolutions denouncing it, because of the improper obstacles it was said to throw in the way of electrical development. Just what these were was not made clear, but if they existed they should have been eliminated; and it seems that they were eliminated with a vengeance. As the bill passed the senate, in an amended form, it seems to be all that a "water hog," "land grabber" or public service monopolist could desire. Some of those who voted for it in the senate did so, according to their own statements, because they felt sure that the house would strike out objectionable features.

Now, the people need not think that there will be no development if they properly protect the interests of posterity when enacting legislation governing water power. The monopolist is an expert bluffer. If he can he will convince both the people and congress that unless they give him all that he wants industry will be ruined. It is unfortunate that so many lights in the realm of big business are public mendicants to a degree that would shame a professional hobo; but they are. They will wheedle if they can, and threaten if they think it effective, but will lie down nicely if "their bluff is called."

A few weeks ago when a bill was introduced in congress for a government factory to make armor plate, because it appeared that the armor plate manufacturers were making enormous profits on their business, that they had been selling to foreign nations at a much lower price than they did to the United States government and that they were at least indirectly fomenting rebellion between nations, Senator Penrose arose and delivered an ultimatum in their behalf to the effect that if such measure were enacted the manufacturers would force the price of armor up $200 a ton. The "bluff was called" and the senate passed the bill. The armor plate trust did not raise the price. Instead, it came to the lower house of congress through its agents and offered to reduce the price of armor from $425 a ton to $395 if congress would defeat the bill. The lesson is that the people need not be frightened into giving away the heritage of their children by the bugaboo and gnomes conjured up by monopolists. If a reasonable power bill, affording ample protection to the people, is passed, not a single legitimate investor will refrain from putting his money into development work.

Watching congress in matters of this kind is a less exciting sport than observing great statesmen slay greaser hordes at long range; but it is part of the humdrum work that the author of "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" had in mind when he said it.

The water power measure, while important, is only one of the many that are pending that, if the people become altogether too absorbed in matters beyond the Rio Grande, may be found when of which future generations will mourn the loss.

JUDGE WELTY'S STATEMENT.

It isn't often that a man of the educational qualifications and native ability of Judge Dan T. Welty declines a position because of the possibility that he may be physically unable to do it at all times to his full duty to the people, and when such event does occur it is worthy of more than passing notice. Although it is reported that Judge Welty is 66 years of age, and possibly not as robust as he was 30 years ago, there are many men holding public office in the United States today who are less physically fitted for the task than he. The idea that a public servant should be able at all times to give full return to the people for salary paid is a sound one, though it is "more-honored by breach than by observance" among those who imagine that the public would do well to invest in their services. The chances are that the contingency feared by Judge Welty, that ill health would prevent his performing the duties of that office, would not be realized should he accept the position, and the ground on which he declines is itself a good reason why the commissioners should endeavor to induce him to reconsider his declination, as Chairman Carlson indicated to THE TIMES that they would.

There is, of course, plenty of good timber among those mentioned for the place, and among those not mentioned, for that matter, but the public statement of Judge Welty shows him to be a man among a thousand, and the sort of person whom the public should attach to his service. THE TIMES learned that Judge W. J. Smith of Twin Falls, whose friends have been circulating a petition urging his appointment to the vacancy in the probate court, has announced that he could not serve if appointed, setting forth reasons similar to those given by Judge Welty, who has declined the office. The county may well congratulate itself on having two men of the caliber of Judge Welty and Judge Smith among its citizenship.

DEATH VALLEY DODGE WINS FAME.

"Death Valley Dodge," the famous Dodge Brothers' motor car that was the vehicle of a trip last year through Death Valley, has won national attention because of the nature of the journey, has won new fame on the coast. Driven by Teddy Tetzlaff, the famous racing driver, the car made the night trip over the mountains of California from Northridge, in the Ojai valley, to San Luis Obispo in slightly more than 12 hours.

The run was started at 10 o'clock at night, after all the witnesses had predicted that it would be impossible to get through, owing to the roughness of the roads, which are regarded as exceedingly dangerous even in the day time.

FRUIT SELLING TALK AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Representative of Government Marketing Department Talks to Farmers and Fruit Growers.

Ways and means to get the farmers and fruit growers together for the purpose of marketing crops, especially the apple crop, was the purpose of an address made yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Twin Falls Commercial club by C. E. Bassett, of the marketing bureau of the department of agriculture, in which the terms of the uniform contract suggested for the producers and selling agents by the government was discussed. A similar meeting was held at Buhl at the same time.

"Under the Clayton amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law, farmers are no longer prohibited from forming organizations to control the price of their products within certain limits," said Mr. Bassett, "and we are now endeavoring to arrange for the disposition of this year's crop with such machinery as we have on hand."

"Formerly, any agreement with a view of combining for marketing or for the limiting of the output was illegal. Now farmers can organize for the purpose of disposing of their own crops, provided that the organization is not capitalized and that the crops controlled are owned by the men themselves. No one can buy the products of others and legally enter a combination controlling their disposition. The organizations that can now be formed will be of great value in opening new markets in South America and elsewhere which it would bankrupt a single producer to try to open. The farmers formerly wanted to learn to produce more, but now want to learn how to sell to better advantage, and the department is trying to help them."

"At the time of the deliberation and a very full discussion of each of the activities proposed, the representatives of the shipping agencies present unanimously and very enthusiastically expressed themselves as being in full sympathy with the entire tentative plan and they desire to do all in their power to put the plan into operation during 1916, provided it secured the approval of the federal authorities. While it is evident that practically all the shipping agencies are willing to undertake the job of adopting this plan, it must be clearly understood that its success depends upon the cooperation of the farmer who has the power to control his shipping agent through the giving or withholding of tonnage."

"At the present time, if the office then proceeded to draw up a plan which would include the best ideas of a great number of fruit growers and shippers, together with their own ideas, that were supported by the experience along similar lines of marketing work in various parts of the country, in order that the office might be assured that such a plan would be acceptable to the shipping agencies of the northwest, it was thought that these agencies, into an executive conference, at which time the tentative plans were explained in detail. This conference was attended by Mr. Welby, of the leading marketing agencies in the four states, and a canvass of those present showed that they represented over 75 per cent of the Pacific northwest during the past year."

The following is the form of the contract submitted for consideration: In the mutual advantages to be derived herefrom, it is agreed between the parties to this contract as follows:

"(1) The grower shall have the exclusive right and authority to fix the price at which his products or any part thereof may be sold by the selling agent, but in no event shall the price of any such product be higher than the best market price obtainable after offering the same, the selling agent shall in no event be responsible for failure to negotiate sales at such prices.

"(2) It shall be the duty of the agent to co-operate with all growers' representative selling agents who are members of the Fruit Growers' Agency, Incorporated, for the following purposes:

"(a) To secure information as to grower conditions in order to determine the economic values of varieties and grades.

"(b) To work in close harmony with growers with the aim of securing uniform methods in the harvesting, grading, packing and the physical handling of the fruit from tree to car; and to secure a standardization and enforcement of the grading and inspection rules of the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

"(c) To agree upon a date after which no contracts for tonnage shall be entered into.

"(d) To discuss in conference market conditions and experiences with various mediums used in the markets for the purpose of ascertaining the most efficient agency and market outlet for the economical performance of their mutual contract.

"(e) To secure improvement in transportation and storage service and conditions.

"(f) To work out definite plans for the development of various business and marketing agencies, with experienced men and the combined resources of the said agents.

"(g) To develop foreign markets for the fruit of the growers.

"(h) To conduct comprehensive foreign investigations for the purpose of knowing trade demands and making reliable trade connections.

"(i) To see that the fruit is prepared for market so that the grade and pack may be in accordance with the best trade demands.

"(j) To supervise the physical handling of the shipments through to final destination and to secure adequate insurance so that the hazards may be reduced.

"(k) To secure capable foreign agents to conduct sales abroad.

"(l) To expand old markets and develop new ones by direct contact and through the solicitation of special agents.

"(m) To devise ways and means to safeguard and secure prompt collections.

"(n) To secure adequate transportation facilities by underwriting steamship charters and promoting new fruit trade routes.

"(o) To pool proceeds of sales and share, pro rata, any loss sustained in the development of new markets according to the varieties and grades over definite periods, so that profits and losses therefrom may be equalized.

"(p) To secure the standardization of agents' accounting records, to the extent that all account sales issued by the said shipping agencies will be figured on the same basis and in such manner that they will be uniform, allowing true comparisons to be made by the grower between the services rendered and prices secured by the different agencies.

"(q) To secure an annual audit of the sales records of the current season's business of said agents by firms of certified public accountants recognized standing the reports of these audits to be available to the growers not later than one month prior to the closing of the contract for the next season.

"(r) To make all possible legal and banking arrangements for the financing of the growers.

"(s) Advancements shall in no case be made in such manner as to pass title of the fruit."

IDAHOME BREAD BAKING CONTEST

THIS ANNUAL EVENT, CONDUCTED UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE FEDERATION OF RURAL CLUBS, WILL TAKE PLACE

SATURDAY, APRIL 1ST

Three Prizes of Idahome Flour

FIRST PRIZE
SECOND PRIZE
THIRD PRIZE

FIVE SACKS
THREE SACKS
TWO SACKS

The loaves of bread entered in this contest, made from IDAHOME FLOUR, should be left at the CITY MARKETING COMPANY Saturday morning, April 1st. The Bread will be judged Saturday afternoon by the TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

Daughter Dear:

Your long letter is here giving the comments on the proofs of my pictures. How am I to know which you want finished? Judging from your letter, you like them all the best! It's a situation quite like your racing with your brother when you were babies; you would always say "We bent hove together." It seems you think each proof is a winner.

I'm glad you like the one with the ten-service on the little table at my side. You say it seems so real to you, reminding you of the time when you would come trooping, home with your merry crowd after a tennis game. And it was real too; instead of pouring tea on the veranda at home, I was pouring tea at The Bisbee Studio. I was just handing a cup to Mrs. Bisbee when the picture was taken.

I will ask what a 12 by 20 picture will cost if made from that negative; it will not be more than I can afford, since you are so eager for it.

Lovingly,
MOTHER.

All members of Ascension church are expected to be present. A cordial invitation to all.

Next week the rector is to conduct a mission at Mountain Home. Bishop Funston of Idaho issued a pastoral call to all his clergy, requesting them to hold a mission some time before Easter. The bishop's hope is to extend the Master's kingdom by increasing its spirituality. His pastoral is as follows:

"Bible, Isa. Dec. 14, 1915.—Rev. and Dear Brother: I desire to write to you briefly to indicate my hearty approval of our clergyman of the district making arrangements for a preaching mission in their several fields, to take place either during the Epiphany or Lenten season. I would suggest that the keynote of the mission be the fundamental gospel truths, with a brief explanation of the position of the church in the world."

"I would further suggest personal interviews in every case in which it seems probable that any individual can be brought to a willingness to confess Christ before men. I would further say that wherever a missionary is brought to a mission, he should have provision made for him before he leaves for his entertainment and expenses, but in no case will I approve of any such expenses beyond reasonable limits."

"I consider it an important feature of these missions to keep all suggestions of competition or unbecoming raising out of the thoughts of the people. We must consider it a part of our work covered by our regular salaries, and not as a means of augmenting our income in the slightest degree. Let these secular things be attended to beforehand in a quiet, unobtrusive way. These thoughts may seem unnecessary; but the success of a mission depends to no small extent on just such things."

"As your bishop, I will say that I expect and desire every clergyman in this district to arrange for, and lead a mission, if one has not already been held by him."

"Wishing you God's richest blessing in Christ Jesus and an outpouring of the Holy Spirit, I am, dear brother, most cordially yours, JAMES B. FUNSTON."

DOG-KILLING TO BE RESUMED.

"It is reported on what seems excellent authority that a dog-killing crusade, accompanied by the arrest of owners, will soon take place in the city and county simultaneously. Many dog owners are braving the orders and ordinances, and according to current reports, will have to suffer the consequences."

EXCELS IN EXCELLENCE ANY

CASE SEEN IN PICTURES

Headed by William Farnum, the surpassing $100,000 star lured from the silent stage by William Fox to head a number of notable feature releases, the cast which is engaged in the presentation of "A Soldier's Oath," at the Isla Monday, and Tuesday evenings, is in itself exceptional; as usually, producers of motion pictures content themselves by placing one big name at the head of a production and letting "fillers" do the rest. Not so with William Fox, however; this indefatigable manufacturer of the best the market affords upon the screen is not satisfied until he has secured himself of securing the finest of photoplays—the screen drama de luxe; until he has surrounded his star with a cast fully capable of bringing out the finest points and dramatic action of the photoplay to be made.

"A Soldier's Oath," which is from the pen of Daniel Rosevelt, a fighting relative of William Farnum, Mr. Fox has been particularly careful personally to select an aggregation of actors and actresses of the highest caliber, the lights and shades of this delightful and thrilling romantic drama of the screen.

William Farnum in his masterly portrayal of Pierre Duval, there appears that dainty and beloved heroine of the shadow stage, Miss Dorothy Davenport, Kittens Keane, the most charming child upon the spoken or silent stage, as Mavis, daughter of Duval, at the age of five, and that well-known leading man, Henry Herbert as Lazarre, the treacherous duelist.

"BIRTH OF A NATION" AT LAYING THREE NIGHTS

The magnitude of David W. Griffith's feat in staging "The Birth of a Nation," which appears at the Laying theatre in this city next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is almost appalling—at least to the devotees of the other kind of theatrical entertainment. Where now are the little groups of actors, the phlegmatic scenery and the petty properties of the so-called "stock-in-trade" drama? By comparison with the new art, the "legitimate" measures to the mountain like a molehill. Instead of scenery for his background, Griffith has used Nature. For subject he has covered 150 years of American life and history. Eighteen thousand people have done his bidding, and in the raising rides of the Ku Klux Klan 200 riders and horses sweep over the dusty roads.

No wonder that this magnificent historical spectacle is the talk of the country. It has established an entire new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacles with an orchestral score perfectly synchronized to the action. It has also created a tremendous sensation because of its vast and more forceful treatment of the theme of Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman," which, both as book and play, treated the greatest failure of the last decade.

The great deeds of the civil war and the horrors of reconstruction are made to live again and the nation reborn is apotheosized. Mr. Griffith, pioneer among directors, managed this stupendous achievement without the aid of dialogue or speech for motion pictures with music and effects tell vividly this thrilling tale of fifty years ago.

LAMBS REACH TEN CENTS IN PORTLAND

—Cattle Firm—Hogs Are Easing a Little.

There has been absolutely no striking of sheep since Monday, says the Portland Live Stock Reporter of Thursday. Not even a single head has relieved the monotony of the stalled load receipts. Prices are exceptionally strong. Lambs will bring five and from some quarters the word has been given out that extra good lambs would bring even an increase over this quotation. The quality was good. Wethers are in almost as great a demand as lambs, and ewes are quoted at unusually high figures. Prices here on sheep are higher than any place on the coast. This fact, however, does not seem to bring about shipments, due, no doubt, to the shortness in the country and to the fact that there is very little stuff ready for shipping at this time. Local authorities say: "Quiet trading, continued firmness and the high prices paid for wool since the civil war, both here and in the east, are the salient points in the local wool market."

Although the cattle receipts have been very light, the cattle market has been anything but a peddling affair. Everything that has come in sight has been eagerly snapped up. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday's receipts altogether have not totaled more than 150 head. Of these receipts there were four cars of very good steers. The balance were simply "drive-in" stuff from nearby dairy farms and cut-outs from loads of mixed shipments. There has been no deviation from Monday's strong market. Steers selling fully as well and, if anything, perhaps better than Monday in some classes. While there has been nothing in the yards as good as the corned stuff Monday, which was exceptional, the steers the last few days were very good hay-fed. Monday showed up with larger hog receipts than has been the rule for several weeks past, but since Monday the receipts have been lighter than usual. Scarcely more than 1000 head in the last three days. Prices have showed little change. Hogs that show

STUB TO NEW PROJECT FROM HERE PROBABLE

Preparations for Work on Wicks-honey Carey Act Project Under Way and Road Needed.

The latest developments in railroad circles indicate that a stub road will be constructed shortly from some where on the Twin Falls branch, probably from this city, to the Wicks-honey project, east of the central part of Owyhee county, in the Bruneau country. This project will open in about two years with 25,000 acres of watered land, according to the information made public by the Wicks-honey Land & Water company. There are 78,000 acres in the segregation, but, warned by the experience of other companies on other projects and by the recent ruling of the land board that no lands can be sold in a Carey project heretofore until water is actually on the land, the company is making preparations to irrigate the acreage which the engineers have pronounced practicable. A railroad is considered necessary, and, while there is some talk of running the line from Boise, and while there is also a report that it will extend from the north side lines, it is the opinion of those interested in the project that the stub will be from the Twin Falls branch.

BUHL TO HAVE CITY DELIVERY.
Buhl will have letter carriers in the near future, the postoffice receipts having reached the point required by law for such service.

SPARRING MATCH EXPECTED IN TOWN OF FILES SHORTLY.
Plans for a 10-round boxing match between Ralph Main of Filer and James McCarroll of Boise are being talked about by promoters of the game played in the squared circle, and it is planned to put it off at Filer shortly. The men weigh 165 pounds each and will put up a royal contest in the opinion of their backers.

$500.00 REWARD

The Sawtooth Grazing Association will pay $500.00 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person stealing sheep or lambs from any member of this association.

any kind of finish are getting in on the high spot. Nothing, however, has been sold above Monday's prices. Quality not warranting anything unusual in the price line. For the most part receipts have been a minus quality since Monday. Outside of two loads of Washington hogs, they have been local. North Portland prices have been very good in comparison with eastern markets. While eastern markets have shown a loss of strength, this market has taken on considerable strength the last few weeks. The bulk prices here being something better than either the Denver or several other of the eastern market centers.

CLARK NEWS.

(From the Kimberly Call)

A Greek workman with the crew of truckers here was quite badly injured by slipping from a car that was standing on the spur. Dr. Alexander of Twin Falls was called out to attend the injured man.

O. H. Brown, better known here as the "Jolly Raleigh man," with his little grandson, was a business caller here Saturday. Mr. Brown has turned the affairs of the Raleigh business over to other parties and now farms a ranch near Filer.

Isabelle Clark, who was a visitor at the Negie home in Twin Falls, returned home after a pleasant visit. George McKesson's mother is visiting with her son here for a few days.

Invitations are out for a dancing party at the home of D. F. Clark. We wish to correct an error in the item of last week that stated that John Ault of Twin Falls had moved out onto the George Swartz place. Instead, it should have read that "John Ault was helping Charley Overfield move out to that place."

George and Charles Bunnell, who recently held a sale near here, were callers in the neighborhood Monday. J. C. Chapman is building a large chicken house and sheds near here, preparatory to going into the chicken business on a large scale.

The monthly meeting of the Wayside club was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Rutherford. After a short business session, refreshments were served and enjoyed by the members present.

Mrs. W. P. Ludon and little daughter were shoppers in Twin Falls Monday.

Quite a little excitement was stirred up in our neighborhood one day last week, owing to a false rumor in regard to the mills of T. W. Falls being ordered out to the front, and to move within 48 hours. Tension was relieved, however, when the report was proven groundless.

LeRoy Valentine is the proud possessor of a new bicycle, which he purchased last week. Mrs. Avery Washaw returned home from Provo, Utah, on Tuesday, after a ten days' visit with her husband at that place.

Emil Faulk and mother were shoppers in Twin Falls Saturday. D. F. Clark, F. T. Brown and wife and Marion Birdhold autored out to the Salmon tract on Monday. They tell of seeing a large number of Chinese pheasants while on their trip and were told that the birds run about with flocks of domestic chickens.

Pete Trapper, a young farmer of this country, has rented a farm near Filer and moved there last week. Mr. Trapper plans on becoming one of the successful beet growers.

Edward Washaw is a visitor at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gates of Twin Falls, has returned home. Charley Overfield and wife were shoppers in Twin Falls Saturday.

A steam engine is busy this week in the neighborhood pulling apple tree stumps so that the ground may be shown and worked into shape for a beet crop.

NEW ORGANIZATION PLAN FOR SCHOOLS

Board Adopts System Centralizing Authority.

SUPERVISOR OF ELEMENTARY EDUCATION IS SELECTED.

Changed System Will Result in Saving of $1900 a Year and Will Produce Educational Uniformity.

With a view of simplifying the control of the grade schools, of bringing about uniformity of method and management, of meeting conditions resulting from the erection of a new school and of cutting down expenses, the Twin Falls board of education has adopted the recommendation of Superintendent Hal G. Blue that a supervisor of elementary work be created, who will have charge of all the grade schools, and that the routine and clerical work of each building be left to the principal of such building, who will, at the same time, be able to devote a great part of the school day to teaching. In addition to the greater efficiency which it is hoped will result from this change, it is believed that there will be a net saving of $1900 a year to the district. Miss Elizabeth M. Shotwell, for several years principal of the Lincoln school, has been tendered the position of supervisor of elementary education. Speaking of the system yesterday, Superintendent Blue said: "In regular session, the board of education voted to make a change in the plan of organization pertaining to the elementary grades of the Twin Falls schools. The plan of elementary organization that now prevails in the local schools is that wherein the supervision of instruction in any elementary grade building is given over to the building principal, who is also the administrative head of the building."

The new plan of elementary organization will place the work of supervising teachers and improving instruction results in the entire elementary system in charge of one individual, while the clerical work and routine management of each grade building will be placed in charge of a principal, who will devote the greater part of each day to teaching. In addition to her teaching, the building principal will have definite office hours during the school day when she can meet pupils, parents or wagon drivers, take up matters of discipline, handle problems relative to the management of the building, and look to other routine and clerical details that pertain to her office. The organization in the building will be such that the principal will have charge of no room, but will meet her classes in a room used only for the purpose of recitation. Should any matter arise which would need the immediate attention of the principal, she can send her pupils to their room, while she will be free to devote herself to the problem at hand. The building principal will have nothing to do with the supervision of teaching or problems pertaining to the improvement of instruction results. "The Hickel school has been in charge of a principal whose time has been devoted to the supervision of the teaching in the building and also problems of management of the building. This has been equally true with the Lincoln school."

"The thing which made it essential, that the board plan to reorganize the supervision work in the elementary grades was the fact that during the summer an additional elementary school will be constructed. It is expected that the new elementary school will be a smaller unit than any of the present elementary schools."

The matter of cost entered into the plan of reorganization to some extent. School boards and administrators throughout the land are giving proper emphasis and attention to the economic factor in education. This is not done for the purpose of stinting or limiting educational opportunities for boys and girls, but rather for the purpose of securing wise investments. With the addition of the new elementary school, the cost of the elementary grades for the next school year would amount to approximately $3800. Now, it would be impossible to invest this $3800 in the supervision of teaching. This is because of the fact that the building principal is necessarily required to devote a good share of her time to routine matters of building management and to a certain amount of clerical work that must be accomplished in each building to give definiteness and system to the organization of the schools. This makes it evident that of the $3800 investment in the supervision of teaching, a large portion of it would be invested in clerical work and problems of routine relative to building management. It is at this point that the factor of economy becomes important. It cannot be ignored. It is not a good economic policy to divert money intended to be used for the purpose of improving teaching results into channels that lead into ordinary clerical work and building management.

"Under the new organization, the building principal will receive an additional salary because of the extra duties relative to her office. This extra salary will be in addition to the regular teaching salary. It is thought that the extra cost of the three elementary buildings will be in the neighborhood of $300. The salary of the supervisor of elementary grades will be approximately $1600. This will make the cost of supervision of teaching and building management of the elementary grades approximately $1900. Thus a saving of 50 per cent will be effected under the new plan of organization without in any sense deteriorating the work of the schools or lessening the opportunity for growth and development for all children enrolled. If the factor of efficiency is considered in any way, the new organization will raise it to a higher level."

"Another factor considered in the plan of reorganization is the field of educational science. Under the present plan of organization, whereby the building principal is the supervisor of instruction, there will be as many personalities affecting supervisory problems and instructional results as there are building principals. There will always be some differentiation relative to teaching problems in the system. It is impossible to effect uniformity of method and supervisory principles as long as the system is broken up into three distinct elementary units, each of which is required to devote a large portion of its day to problems of building management. One can clearly see the educational advantages arising from a type of organization that brings one individual to the field of supervision and teaching. Here the supervisor would have in mind the teaching needs of the entire system. She would be relieved of all responsibility of building management and clerical work. She would not be immersed in the day-to-day routine problems of the building and office and would, therefore, have the opportunity of devoting all her thought and skill and energy to the one aim—improvement of the results of instruction. This in itself is a distinct advantage. Under the new type of organization, the supervisor of elementary grades, the principal of the school and the superintendent of schools would co-operate with the view of determining what ideals and aims shall unify and coordinate the instruction throughout the entire system. When building principals absorbed in problems of control, management and teaching attempt to formulate policies of instruction to direct their execution, the result to the system is usually a loss of unity and a definite degree of co-ordination. Under the new type of organization, all the teachers of a given grade being under the same supervisor, the same standard of achievement will be required of all and the same tests applied to determine the relative efficiency. The stimulating effect of this cannot help but be marked. When the school system is broken up into three units, each of which is presided over by a supervising principal, there can not be uniformity of method and standards by which efficiency is determined."

The new type of organization is distinctively advantageous in that it relieves the supervisors of instruction of all the narrow duties of building management; in that it produces co-ordination and continuity throughout the entire system; in that it clarifies aims and ideals relative to administrative policies and hastens their realization; in that it creates uniform standards and applies uniform measures of achievement; and in that it stimulates and regards individual initiative."

"The board of education has invited Miss Elizabeth M. Shotwell to accept this new position of supervisor of elementary grades. Miss Shotwell has been principal of the Lincoln school for several years and is thoroughly acquainted with the educational needs relative to this position. She has worked as principal of the Lincoln school who has achieved a splendid success. In her work as supervisor of elementary grades, the first thing she has given to the Lincoln school has been a valuable asset of the entire system. The tender of this important position to Miss Shotwell is a splendid recognition of her very efficient work, as well as a belief in her ability to meet all of the requirements involved in the position."

"The board has invited Miss Ethel M. Taylor, who has been principal of the Hickel school for the last two years, to accept a position in the department of English of the high school. In addition to her work at Drake university, where she received her Bachelor's degree, Miss Taylor has done some special work at the University of Chicago and the University of Missouri. Before leaving Drake university, Miss Taylor conducted some classes in the academic department. She has been most successful in her work at the Hickel school. Miss Taylor's work as supervisor of the elementary grades at the Hickel school has given her a broad knowledge of educational problems affecting grades below the high school."

"The superintendent of schools will be glad to have time to discuss the new plan of organization with any person who is interested in the matter. He will be very glad to go into the details of the situation from the standpoint of economy. He will be very glad to explain the purpose of learning more about the plan. He can be reached by telephone or letter at any time. In case any patron is unable to reach him for personal reasons, he will be glad to clear up any problems by personal letter. The plan of education and the supervision of schools have the interests of the entire system at heart. Under no circumstances would they promote any policy that would lead into the work of the schools in any way. Rather, they seek at all times to adopt such measures that will promote the best interests of the school and maintain a high standard of efficiency."

Buy Early

The effect of the great war on men's clothing will be felt this spring—still more next fall.

We retailers have had to buy with greater care and discrimination than ever, to protect our customers against poor fabrics.

That's why we appreciate having a line of medium-priced clothes for men and young men that is absolutely dependable—Clothcraft.

Every piece of cloth that enters the factory is tested mechanically to determine its strength and chemically to prove its ingredients. This is but the first of a long series of safeguards that protect Clothcraft values.

But don't wait too long, there'll be greater demand than ever this spring for nationally known value like Clothcraft.
