ELDER FACTION DEFEATED IN ELECTION OF TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN AT CONVENTION

Antis Succeed In Electing Temporary Chairman By Vote of 177 to 171. Apparently In Control of Committee on Credentials With One Vote to Good. One County Doubtful But Claimed By Bowen's Supporters.

CONVENTION NEWS.
The first of the reports of THE TIMES is in attendance at the Pocatello convention, and will keep THE TIMES advised by wire of developments at the convention.

Bulletins will be posted on the TIMES bulletin board throughout the evening, and will be shown on the screen at the 1815 theater.

(Special Dispatch—Wed. 3:00 P. M.)

POCATELLO, Ida.—The Elder faction met defeat in the hands of the anti-Elder forces on the first vote taken at the Democratic convention shortly after noon today, when M. J. Kerr, of Fremont county, was selected as temporary chairman against A. C. Hindman, of Ada county, the candidate of the Elder forces, the vote being 177 to 171. Hindman was nominated by G. W. Tamm, of Nez Perce, who addressed the convention in behalf of his nominee. The nomination of Kerr, however, by John P. Nugent, of Boise, one of the leaders of the Elder-Nugent-Pence faction. Mr. Kerr was nominated by M. J. Kerr, of Fremont county. The nomination was seconded by Twin Falls, Latah, Ada, Shoshone and Madison counties.

The situation is complicated by reason of Kerr's being a delegate who pledged to support Elder for national committeeman, the Fremont county delegation being instructed for Elder. Late this morning, however, though E. M. Wolfe, of Twin Falls, thought he was the candidate of the anti-Elder forces for temporary chairman, but the plan was later changed, and the anti-Elder forces who thought they could secure more votes for Kerr by reason of his being an instructed delegate for Elder.

Clark of Lincoln county, was nominated by H. M. Hall, of Jerome, but withdrew in favor of Kerr. So attempt was made at the first session of the convention, which convened at 12:15, to settle the contests from Canyon, Cassia and Washington counties, involving 42 delegates. A committee consisting of delegates from the various counties was selected to decide these contests and any action that is taken will be reported to the convention tomorrow. At 4:30 this afternoon, at which time the convention resumes. It is claimed that on the committee on credentials, Elder controls the majority, while his opponents control the convention, with Idaho county in doubt. The anti-Elder forces believe they will be able to swing Idaho county into the Elder column, and that they will be able to put their children votes on the committee against the sixteen votes of the Elder forces.

It appears at this time that A. M. Bowen, of Twin Falls, has the vote of Elder for national committeeman, although it is claimed by the anti-Elder forces that they will be able to put a dark horse candidate across in the event they cannot elect Elder. The vote for temporary chairman and the line-up of the credentials committee.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM AT LATERING TONIGHT

Arrangements made late Tuesday morning for the transfer of the commencement exercises from the high school to the Lavington theater were most fortunate, as even the theater will be able to handle only a portion of the crowds that wished to attend the Commencement program.

Tuesday afternoon THE TIMES announced the change to the Lavington theater and the opening of seat reservations for the following morning. Within one hour after the announcement the seats were sold. Wiley Drug store Wednesday morning, every seat in the house had been taken.

An unprecedented crowd will pack the theater tonight to witness the graduation of Twin Falls' largest class.

Eighty-five young men and women will be graduated from the high school at tonight's exercises, being the largest class that has ever graduated from the Twin Falls high school.

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS AN "AMERICAN CITIZEN"

Large Audience Sees Patriotic Play In Which Seniors Are Represented By Excellent Talent.

The Senior class presented their annual class play Tuesday night in the high school auditorium before a large audience. Unusually talent and preparation were shown in the presentation of the play, "An American Citizen," which was wisely chosen. Dignitously staged under the able direction of Miss Helen Potter with appropriate settings, the parts were all handled in a skillful manner, making the play worthy of much merit.

Miss Mildred Conway in the leading role did full justice to a difficult part by her usual winning manner. Impersonating Miss Beatrice Carew, a young lady of English birth, she fitted into a part where no little ability was called for. Her gown was both pretty and becoming, as were also those of the other young ladies in the play. Miss Conway, the love lost maiden lady, Miss Dwight appeared to the best advantage in this role, and created no small laughter as did Eugene Howe, the anti-Elder real estate agent with numerous investments. Alvin Odor, Edith Clark and Juanita Dean had parts with much humor throughout the play. As much credit must be given Miss Gladys Dwight, who characterized the sentimental type in the person of Miss Carew, the love lost maiden lady. Miss Dwight appeared to the best advantage in this role, and created no small laughter as did Eugene Howe, the anti-Elder real estate agent with numerous investments. Alvin Odor, Edith Clark and Juanita Dean had parts with much humor throughout the play.

The lines of the play were perfectly committed and there was not a flaw to mar the high standard of the Senior's production. Previous to the play proper was the presentation of the memorial by William Leiser and the presentation of the pennant by Ronald Boone. The speaker insisted that the bringing about of the harmonious relations needed must come through the recognition of the individual in the community. A personal God upon which belief they could found the idea of the principle of harmony. It was true in this as in all things temporal that to those who sought the Kingdom of God and His justice all other things would be added. As in other cases of discord, the first step must be through an understanding of the position occupied by the other fellow. Hatred in this case like hatred in the family, and between people, of different creeds, must only result in discord and disaster.

With love of God, love of humanity, love of country, love of the Stars and Stripes and a sincere Christian spirit, social problems could be solved. The speaker said that through the ages and made no attacks during his talk, which was applauded from time to time, and heartily applauded at its close.

Mrs. J. H. Brashear entertained on last Thursday a number of friends at a pretty party in honor of her daughter, Mrs. A. James, who is visiting here from Colorado. The following guests were present: Mesdames Swin, Cross, Boone, Jenkins, Cohen, Church, Henderson, Coughlin, Johnson, White, Barnes, Cowling, Redlands, Salladay. The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the guests spent an enjoyable afternoon with games and needle work, after which they were served a dainty two-course luncheon.

Miss Elsie Spafford has issued invitations for an afternoon party Saturday.

LATE NOTICES, PROGRAMS, AND ADVERTISEMENTS CANNOT BE HANDLED

Musical programs, church notices, lodge and labor news and other notices not strictly speaking, NEWSPAPER, must be submitted to the editor of THE TIMES before Monday or Wednesday evenings, to get into the editions of the succeeding days. Our equipment must be kept clear on publication days to handle LATE NEWS.

Attention of advertisers is called to the fact that advertising forms close the evening preceding publication day, and copy cannot be handled on those days in the future. Each edition of THE TIMES leaves the composing room at 3:00 o'clock sharp, and the papers are on their way to city subscribers by special car.

NEWS is handled on publication days practically up to the moment the forms leave the composing room. These restrictions as to notices and advertising are necessary in order to make THE TIMES A NEWS PAPER.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS NOT BADLY HURT

J. C. Moore Makes Statement About Its Conditions

HALF OF CHERRY CROP PROBABLY IN SACK.

Thinks Total Profits As Good As Last Year—Some Peaches Have Expired.

That there will be as many cherries in the orchard of the Crystal Springs Orchard company this year as last year, that some peaches will be saved and that the total crop saved will probably bring as much money on the market as if no frost had occurred, anywhere, was the opinion expressed by J. C. Moore of the Crystal Springs Orchard company Tuesday. Mr. Moore said:

"The orchard was examined by Donny & Co. and State Fruit Inspector Brannen, immediately after the frost and they reported a good one-half of the cherry crop saved and a percentage of the peaches which they could not estimate. They figured that there would be some peaches there but how many they did not attempt to estimate as it would require some time after the frost to determine the action of the sun on the crop. Saturday I was at the orchard and saw the condition of the fruit. Mr. Reynolds, our foreman, said that there would be a nice crop of cherries as the trees were very heavily loaded before the frost and that there would be at least one-half remaining at maturity of the crop, which according to estimate should be at least as many cherries as we had last year, which was seven tons. We had estimated that we would have three times as many cherries this year last year, the estimate being based upon the full crop on all of the orchard and being so equally distributed over the trees.

"As to the peach crop, our first estimate was that we would have about ten per cent of the crop should the trees have lost from sixty to eighty per cent of the crop and they said they could carry as they were also very heavily bearing. I phoned to the orchard today and our foreman advised that we will soon find out just how much they did when we were at the orchard and he thinks that as time goes on conditions will look better instead of worse.

"I think I have been conservative in the above statements and really expect results to be considerably better than I have indicated. We will know within a very few days now as the weather is warmer and when the trees are exposed to the sun and weather conditions we will soon find out in a definite way just what has happened to the orchard.

"The reports go to the effect that the entire crop of the orchard is lost today and I think the entire crop is lost in that valley. We estimate that where the present shortage of fruit crops, what we will save will be worth as much or more than a full crop would have been worth if the entire northwest was in full production."

GLENN'S FERRY WOULD JOIN SOUTHERN IDAHO LEAGUE

GLENN'S FERRY, Ida.—A new semi-professional baseball league for southern Idaho was practically decided on at a meeting held in Twin Falls during last week. The organization will consist of teams from Kimberly, Burley, Rupert, Twin Falls, Shoshone and Jerome. Games will be held on Sundays and holidays. There has also been some intimation that a team from Burley may join. With another team in it, it might probably be necessary to make it an eight-team league. This might open an opportunity for Glenn's Ferry to put a team in. Glenn's Ferry is as large as some of the towns and could put out a team that would compare favorably with any of the others.—Glenn's Ferry Gazette.

ABANDONED TEAM HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED

Misunderstanding About Arrangements Cause of Mysterious Affair.

The identity of the team found on Seventh avenue north Sunday has been established. The owner is not the victim of foul play and a great mystery has been solved. Fred Witt recognized the animal yesterday evening as belonging to his brother-in-law, George E. Peterson, who left Sunday night for Duluth, Minnesota, as a culmination of a quarrel with his wife, which resulted in her applying for a divorce.

Peterson and his family came here eight months ago and rented a farm near the city. They did not get along well together and a couple of weeks ago she left him and went with the younger child to the home of her brother-in-law, Fred Witt.

Peterson followed her there and Witt says charged him with urging her to leave and threatened to fight him. Witt denies responsibility for the separation. On May 8, as noted by THE TIMES the following day, Mrs. Peterson sued for divorce. By agreement he kept the older child which he has taken to the home of the father in Minnesota. Mrs. Peterson took the younger child with her. Peterson then sold all the furniture that he could dispose of. It is said, and made arrangements with a man named Brunet or Brunet, to take the team back to the ranch. The latter understood that the team was to be left at the Gallagher barn and went there for several times. It is said that Peterson borrowed $200 on the team from George Brunet, giving a bill of sale. Why he left it on Seventh avenue north has not been explained.

Attorney J. H. Wise, who represents Mrs. Peterson, is making arrangements to find out what equity, if any, his client has in the team and wagon.

TWIN FALLS IN MOVIES IN CHICAGO SHOW

Short Line Will Assist In Advertising Country At A Big Exhibit.

That Idaho will be placed on the map through the free advertising invited in the Record-Herald exhibit near the union depot in Chicago during the coming week is the information that has been received from the Chicago show. Twin Falls will have an opportunity to show her brand of apples, which she has been showing through the medium of several hundred feet of film which will be taken by the Oregon Short Line railroad. The exhibit is the first of its kind in the Northwest. All Idaho is expected to be presented at the show through this means. This subject will probably be handled at the show, and the Twin Falls exhibit, called in connection with the proposed extension of the railroad from here to Castledale.

Arrangements with the railroad will permit within 500 miles of Chicago buying tickets to the city will be given free tickets, the ordinary price of which would be 50 cents for a show of the magnitude of the one contemplated. All the roads and several states have exhibits. Mr. Perkins, hearing of the matter, busied himself and got busy and interested. Gerrit Fort of the Union Pacific, who in turn sent a letter to D. S. Spencer, of the Oregon Short Line.

KIMBERLY GROWING FAST SAYS BREMER

New Buildings Springing Up Everywhere In The Town to the East.

That Kimberly is growing like a green bay tree, with new buildings springing up every few days, is the statement Tuesday afternoon by Gov. O. Bremer, who was over in regard to the finishing operations involved in the installation of a modern bathing room in his barber shop.

The new building to go up, according to Mr. Bremer, is a new bakery and restaurant erected on Main street between the "Village" and the "Smith Shop" and the new blacksmithing headquarters of W. A. Gill. The old restaurant run by W. T. Rice has added a new partner in the person of William Downey.

DELEGATION OUT ON JARBIDGE ROAD

Twin Falls County Commissioners in Party

STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEER AND OTHER ENGINEERS GO.

Hope to Devise Means to Avoid Crossing the Famous Crispin Grade.

A party consisting of the entire board of county commissioners from this county, J. J. Gregory and H. J. Jones of the county board of Elko county, New, State Highway Engineer, Robert of Boise, and former State Highway Engineer Smith of Pocatello, Secretary James McMillan of the Twin Falls Commercial club, W. T. Woods of the Idaho State Highway Commission, left yesterday morning for Jarbidge road, for the purpose, if possible, of making arrangements for improving this road. An engineer of the Alaska Trading & Transportation company, and a party of citizens from Jarbidge, had arranged to meet the party at Three Creek and accompany them over the road.

Last week the Twin Falls county commissioners, replying to a letter from the Owyhee county board, which expressed doubts as to its ability to be present, strongly urged that at least one member of that board join the party. It is hoped to follow a route which will avoid the Crispin grade, on which considerable money has been spent, but which it is felt can be substituted for by another route, which is much better than it can be put in shape for an auto road.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR TAKING SMALL ARTICLES

Cases Pending Before Probation Officer For Final Determination.

Two Stradley boys, William Francis and a boy named Deschell, were taken into custody Saturday by officers on the charge of paring a number of small articles from garages and barns. They were brought before Probation Officer Ormally, and their cases are still pending. A number of articles taken were found hidden, and some of them had been taken from the Crispin grade, among the last named being an auto tire. Mr. Ormally was warned to be careful about purchasing articles from minors in the future, and a notice was made that anyone buying any article from a minor without permit from the probation officer would be prosecuted. A number of small articles taken from Ford cars were found in use by boys around town in the construction of "wireless stations," and an effort is being made to bring the matter to the boy who stole them. It is not believed that they were taken by any of the boys now in custody.

DR. CHALFANT PLEASED WITH TWIN FALLS

Head of Children's Home Relations Warm To Publicity of People.

Dr. C. L. Chalfant left Monday after spending a week in this city in behalf of the Children's Home, of which he is superintendent. Dr. Chalfant says that Twin Falls is the best city in the state relatively speaking, in the matter of contributing to the cause of the orphans. This year proved no exception, though he did not have the figures for comparison. He said that he left, the sum received was large. He occupied the Presbyterian pulpit Sunday. He left for Buhl Monday, to continue his tour of the children always received hearty cooperation in the west end city.

RAILROAD MASS MEETING FOR NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

A mass meeting of the people of Twin Falls for the purpose of promoting the construction of a railroad to Castledale will be held Monday night at the rooms of the Twin Falls Commercial club. Those pushing the proposition feel that the publicity should get behind the project. Everybody, whether intending to assist financially or not, is urged to come. So much encouragement has been received that it is believed that with a little enthusiasm and push on the part of everyone the project can speedily be brought to a successful conclusion.

RESPECT TO COURT URGED BY BAR

Twin Falls Bar Association
Passes Resolution

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE IS ALSO SELECTED.

Association Would Expedite
Procedure in Justice and Probate Courts.

Respect for the court by members of the bar was endorsed by the Twin Falls County bar association at a meeting held in the court room yesterday morning, at which resolutions were also passed respecting practice in probate and justice courts, looking to the prevention of unnecessary delay and expense in civil cases, and at which a legislative committee consisting of Attorneys E. M. Brown, E. M.

Wolfe, C. L. DeLong, E. A. Walters,
members, and President C. M. Booth, ex-officio member, was appointed.

The resolutions with reference to respectful attitude in the court room
were as follows:

Whereas, respect for constituted authority is one of the prime duties of American citizens; and

Whereas, respect for the courts is peculiarly one of the duties of the members of the bar, and other officers of the court; and

Whereas, a degree of formality becomes at times necessary as a medium of expressing respect for the courts;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Twin Falls County bar association that the following rule of conduct be observed by members of this association:

That when the Judge of the district court shall enter the court room for the purpose of taking his place upon the bench, either upon the convening of court in the morning of each day,
or after the noon recess of each day,
the members of the bar in attendance
on said court, or present in the court room, shall arise to their feet until the court shall have been seated; and be it further resolved that during the session of court, or present in the court room, shall refrain from smoking, reading newspapers, using the table for foot-rests, or holding in their mouths unlighted cigars, pipes or cigarettes.

Passed and approved this 15th day of May, 1916, by the Twin Falls County bar association, Twin Falls, Idaho.

RAMES HAS FUNNY EFFECT ON THIS HOG

Bert Parish of Burley, related an experience this week he had in seeing a pig with the rabies. He was in company with a number of men when Tom Thomas, who the peculiar actions of a pig attracted the attention of these present. Mr. Parish says the animal would initiate a bucking manage and then spin around and around.
When it would exhaust itself at this stunt the pig would lie down for a few minutes and then repeat the other performance. It is presumed the pig was either bitten by a coyote that had rabies, or had eaten part of the carcass that was only partly cremated
after being killed. The pig was shot—

OAKLEY SETTLERS BRING ACTION

Apply for Writ of Mandate to Compel Co. to Supply Water.

HAVE PAID MAINTENANCE BUT REFUSE TO PAY ON CONTRACTS.

Issue Involved Applies to Other Projects. Company Withholding Water To Enforce Contract Payments.

An action effecting the operation of every Carry act project in the state commenced Saturday in the supreme court when 43 settlers of the Twin Falls-Oakley project, who have paid their maintenance and operation charges for 1915, but who decline to make payments demanded on their principal and interest charges on water contracts, unless the company will guarantee to supply them with the amount of water their contracts call for, applied for a writ of mandate to compel the company to deliver them
the water to which they are entitled.

Under a clause of its contract with the settlers the company refused to deliver water to those who, it alleged,
were able to pay the charges demanded this year. The settlers claim that they did not receive sufficient water in 1915 and had no assurance that the company would be able to furnish enough for irrigation this year, and they objected to making further interest payments without a guarantee from the company that its part of the contract would be fulfilled.

Such a condition has never arisen in Idaho and the outcome will be awaited with great interest by water users on Carry act projects. The case requires nearly a week of preparation on the part of the Deputy Attorney General D. A. Dunning and W. L. Dunn of Oakley, attorneys for the Oakley water users, with the assistance and direction of Attorney General Peterson.

While the state is not a party to the action, the attorney general's department took part as a friend of the settlers. Mr. Dunning and Mr. Dunn worked day and night all week, discussing the case out of the statutes. They ing no precedents to guide them, it was quite a task for them to frame
the complaint, which is a lengthy document.

The title of the case is Home Alfalfa and 22 other settlers vs. the Twin Falls-Oakley Land & Water company, a corporation, and James C. Puellicher, George L. Edwards and A. C.
Robinson, Messrs. Puellicher, Edwards and Robinson are attorneys representing the bondholders. The plaintiffs are settlers owning approximately 7000 acres of cultivated land, which water is urgently needed.

The amount of land on the project for which water will be required this year is estimated at 21,000 to 24,000 acres. Of this area the owners of between 2000 and 3000 acres have paid up and are receiving water. There are 6400 acres of paid up water rights and about 3000 acres which no payment is asked this year.

The complaint alleges that the growing crops of the plaintiffs require immediate application of water, otherwise they will become a total loss. It is alleged that there is now in the company's reservoir or canals, under the control of the defendants, sufficient water which can be furnished the plaintiffs without impairing the rights of others.

While it is not so stated in the complaint, the water users claim that if the company is permitted to withhold water from them until its demand for payments is met, they will not be able to produce crops or earn enough to meet their payments; that the company, if its action be sustained, can forever deprive them of water if they do not make the payments required.
They also wish to be assured that the company will be able to deliver them
the amount of water called for in their contracts, concerning which they profess doubt because of past experience.

The state now has under consideration a proposal to cut down the acreage of the project to an amount commensurate with the amount of water available.

The company insists that it is in position to furnish the amount of water contracted for and that those settlers who are able to pay should pay the charges demanded. It is willing to compromise with those who are not in position to pay, so its representatives declare. The settlers are asking how the company proposes to find out who are able to pay and who are not. They say the company is arrogating too much power. All they want, say the settlers, is a guarantee that their experience of last year, when they suffered for lack of water, will not be repeated.

The company, say the settlers, can take other means of collecting its payments. It holds a lien on the settlers'- lands for its water rights, so it is alleged, but that lien, so the water users assert, does not give the company power to deprive the settlers of water,
thus depreciating its own security.

In the meantime, the water is consuming in the reservoir and the crops of the settlers are suffering for irrigation. Hence the appeal to the supreme court for a writ of mandate to compel the company to deliver water. It is the most unique proceeding in the history of irrigation in Idaho.—Boise Statesman.

"The Natural Shortening"

Make delicious pie crust
after this recipe

Mix one scant teaspoon salt with one and one-half cups pastry flour. Chop in scant half cup chilled Cottolene. Mix in gradually three tablespoons cold water. Mix well, but do not knead with hands. If soft, lay paste in pan and place on ice till chilled.

Sprinkle flour on molding-board; flour rolling-pin; roll out flat, then roll up into form of jelly roll; stand it on end; pat down and roll into circular shape. When rolled into proper size cover sides and bottom of pie dish. Fill in pie material. Roll top crust in same way, making several incisions to allow for filling and puffing in baking.

Cottolene makes pie-crust light, flaky, wholesome:
it excels for all shortening and frying.

Its use is simple, and you can get it in pails of various sizes to suit your convenience. Ask your Business Progress

The business man, or the business enterprise, that makes the best progress takes advantage of modern aids and systems. Not the least important of these are the facilities, advice and credit to be found in a good banking connection.

Your relations with the Twin Falls Bank & Trust Company can be made a certain factor in your success.

Hollister Items

Times' Special Correspondence.

The Hollister schools closed for the season Thursday, May 11th, with the graduating exercises which took place at the auditorium. The following program was given before a large and appreciative audience:

Piano duet—Misses Faith Saltee and Minnie Pereboom.

Invocation.

Song, selected—Mr. F. H. Ward.

Class Prophecy—Eighth Grade.

Marjorie League.

Violin solo—Mr. Neale Hazzard.

Song, "A May Morning"—Miss Georgia Saltee.

Address—Rev. J. D. Keith.

Songs, (a) "The Lost Chord" (b) "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes"—Mr. J. A. Scheib.

Presentation of diplomas—Pres. A. E. Larson.

Class song, "Though We Part, I'll Not Forget Thee"—Graduating class.

Benediction.

The high school graduates are:

Misses Faith Saltee and Minnie Pereboom.

Those graduating from the eighth grade are: Marjorie League, Marjorie Leese, Bernice Lency, Gladys Palmer, Clara Pereboom, Esther Darrington, Lynn Barnhouse, Russell Heck and Elwood Henstock.

Misses Blanchard, Breeze and Chandler, of the corps of teachers have left.

Miss Blanchard going to Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Breeze to Twin Falls, Miss Chandler to her home at Jerome, while Miss Haskin will be on her ranch near here.

Other interesting features connected with the closing of school were picnics, Wednesday the 10th, given to each room by their respective teachers and a game of ball Thursday the 11th, between the eighth and seventh grade boys.

E. W. Hall left Monday for a summer's sojourn in Kansas and Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lowe have gone to Kellogg, Idaho, where they will reside and where Mr. Lowe will engage in the pursuit of milking.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nunnally have gone to their ranch near Rogerson for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lloyd are back home from Twin Falls where they went for the treatment of Mr. Lloyd's eyes.

He was seriously hurt by an auto crash breaking his eye cased while in the act of starting the machine, and though at the time of the accident there was grave apprehension as to whether he would be able to retain the use of his eyes, it now appears that both will continue to have their normal use.

The Ladies Aid society will meet at the church Wednesday, May 17th, at 2:30, for the transaction of important business, and all the Hollister ladies are invited to come and assist.

Freshments will be served by Mrs. C. J. Cavaness and Mrs. J. D. Keith.

Unseasonable cold weather has prevailed here for the past week which has caused the water to freeze to some extent in the irrigation ditches, thus hindering the work, and of course the growth of the grain and alfalfa; this on the 6th and on the 9th severe wind and dust storms came, making work and living both disagreeable; altogether we are having a dry, cold spring.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mullin have gone into Twin Falls to reside where Mr. Mullin will serve as his trade as a carpenter while the grain season comes on to harvest time.

Mrs. Shoemaker is wholly exonerated.

Woman Who Killed Husband and Daughter at Glenns Ferry Cleared at Inquest.

The verdict of the coroner's jury completely exonerating Mrs. Pearl F. Shoemaker Thursday to be exonerated by popular in Glenns Ferry, and in Mountain Home, is the statement of Attorney E. M. Wolfe of this city who defended Mrs. Shoemaker before the jury for the killing of her husband and daughter. Great applause greeted the finding and the woman was kissed and hugged by the other women in the audience.

Mr. Wolfe said that the testimony relative to the cruelty and ungovernable temper of Shoemaker was strutting. The specific sections of the findings which have to do with the killings read as follows:

We further find that the killing of Muriel E. Holin Shoemaker was an unavoidable mistake.

We further find that the killing of Charles T. Shoemaker was in self-defense and excusable, and exonerate such Pearl F. Shoemaker.

After quiting the verdict the Glenns Ferry Gazette, among other things, says:

The foregoing tells its own story.

Mrs. Pearl F. Shoemaker, who on the evening of Wednesday, May 3, shot her husband, Charles T. Shoemaker, and her nine-year-old daughter, Muriel E. Shoemaker, a free woman. The above verdict was rendered by ten members of the jury of twelve which had been organized in the joint inquest and preliminary hearing which was held under the authority of Justice Allen Miller as committing magistrate here yesterday.

The hearing was held in the Knox building, running from 9 o'clock in the morning until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the building was packed with people the entire time. A considerable number of witnesses were called and eager interest was manifested among local people. The testimony of all witnesses tended to bring about the verdict which was given. There was practically no conflicting evidence, and there was none which in any way was unfavorable toward the defendant.

The jurymen were out but a short time before reaching their verdict. Their verdict terminates the case. Mrs. Shoemaker has been exonerated of any criminality which may have been claimed to prompt her acts.

The Gazette believes that it states the truth when it says that the verdict of the jury echoes the sentiment of an overwhelming majority of local people. Mrs. Pearl F. Shoemaker was, to all appearances, more sinfully against than sinning.

KING BOREAS SAYS HE AND JACK FROST MADE VISIT TO HELP CHARLIE HUGHES

Hopes to Get Votes of Apple Men for Republicans

By J. D. WHELAN

"YES, I thought that I would blow in awhile and bring my pal Jack Frost along. There are there simply to maneuver and help Charlie's presidential campaign along a little," said old King Boreas Thursday night, as he left for the south after having spent some time with his confederate in the orchards and spud patches on the Twin Falls tract.

"Now, I realize that you folks are going to have a good year here and that the country will continue to be prosperous as a whole," he continued, "but every little danger helps the chances of the Republicans, because it gives them an opportunity to lay it upon the Democrats, which they do. Charlie's my sort, not one of the numbers like Theodore. By the way, don't you call him Charlie or he'll freeze you, and you won't like that, but the concealed surface is my delight, so I do not care how cold a reception I get when I try to be familiar. Now, Teddy is different and I don't like him either. But the house is dead and the new tack of the Republicans is to boost home issues and work the soft pedal on foreign affairs. Your friend the News doesn't know that, it seems, and is just starting out to roast Wilson's foreign policy, when that strike is out of tune. A few weeks ago when I looked at it, Teddy was going to be it. That would have been in harmony with the brass band, but not now. Things along that line began to die out on the very day that the Idaho state Republican convention met here so it was necessary for the resolutions committee to amputate the leg of the midget, and plunk and trim the toes off the other so that it came in with a limp, and took as if it had been through a lighthouse. Events such as the primaries in the Mississippi valley states and the resurrection of Teddy's signed letter demanding that the United States be neutral in the matter of the Mexican invasion killed his chances and the recent diplomatic exchanges of the administration with Germany buried them, so there was nothing to do but make internal issues sole heir, and the matter of putting in Charlie as administrator without bond is now in progress. The indignation of the people against Charlie. He is a fine arctic sort of man with a judicial mind like Jack Taft's, and his friend George Harvey admits that he has no experience with governmental affairs and seems to take the view that the qualifications of a president should be the same as those of a juror. I like Charlie. He stands well with respectable big business that is cold and formal and doesn't steal out of the till, taking it rather from the privileged and legal, but granted, I would as soon have fairbanks, but he is impossible.

Coming back to your friend the News, it strikes me that it is quite as low as a patriot as it is as a practical politician. When the first invasion was made on American soil in 1910, the State of Arizona introduced a resolution into the senate placing the military of the United States at the beck of President Taft, to preserve order on the border. It was a mild enough resolution, simply introduced to indicate that the senate was back of the administration in whatever it wanted to do. But the other side, the big Republicans fought it and killed it, with the aid of the president. When 20,000 troops were sent south later on it was carefully explained that they were there simply to maneuver and that building was mean. Why it all. Anyhow nothing happened. The Republican dogs of war were not barking furiously then as they are now, for they had their own administration in and could afford to be conservative. It wasn't the other fellow's ox which was gone. The Republicans have the work of the national government in six years late as a patriotic cry, even if it were not always a misleading cry, and is six weeks late from the standpoint of good politics.

"But Jack and I want to do what we can for Charlie and if we can make times a little less prosperous in the apple orchards it will help that much. If Doc Sullivan and his assistants had not been kept here by the war, they would have secured some support among the big farmers. The Democrats are always the 'goats' on the hard times issue. Cleveland was elected in 1892 on the tariff issue, and in 1896 Grover was nominated and four years later times were no prosperous and there was so much money in the treasury that the Republicans made a campaign issue of the fact that Cleveland did not spend it. But Republicans have forgotten about the panic of 1893 and the long years of subsequent misery. My friend Ben Harrison, a fine, old gentleman, went in in 1888 and in 1890 we had a panic which resulted in the biggest majority for the Democrats in the lower house of congress that was ever given to any party and which brought about the organization of the Populist party. This party carried four states and polled more than 1,000,000 votes in 1892 on the hard times issue, and Grover was returned to power as a result of the financial troubles of 1890, and the passage of Republican legislation like the McKinley tariff bill and the Sherman silver act. These Republican laws were all on the financial issue, in fact, no effort had been made to repeal them when the great panic of 1893 broke out, and still we charged Grover with the financial trouble. In fact, he denied that the Republicans were responsible for the other panics and depressions. We will forget about the trouble of 1897 which Senator Aldrich said was the worst financial panic that ever happened in America and which threw 250,000 men out of employment on the railroad. Industry alone. We hope that others will forget it too, its embarrassing. We hope that they will also forget that the Democrats had the financial legislation that the Republicans said they favored but would never pass, and that this prevented the greatest panic in the history of the world from accompanying the breaking out of war. Consarn 'em, if the Democrats had just taken this part out in talking as we have done, and if we had had the panic, and Jack and I would not have needed to make this extra visit, and your Rip Van Winkle contemporary would not have needed to try to advance the foreign issue too late for publication.

But, I fear that there is no up again, anyhow, but there is nothing like trying. Whew, his cold, I must heat it south to get warmed up. Goodbye."

To be more than a mere "scrap of paper," a guarantee must be absolute—and backed by a concern able and willing to make it good.

The General's guarantee is not only absolute; it is backed by a business operating the world's largest roofing mills, and making one-third of all the roll roofing made in America. That's the guarantee behind

Certain-teed Roofing

The guarantee is for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). There is no evasion about it—no attempt to sell sutta—a high-sounding something "just as good." There is no substitute for a real guarantee. You get an absolute guarantee on CERTAIN-TEED because the General knows that no better roofing can be made. Its raw materials and method of manufacture are both certified by the General's board of graduate chemists, and he knows he's taking no chance in guaranteeing them to you. That's what "CERTAIN-TEED" means—certified and guaranteed. Experience has proven that the guarantee is conservative, and that CERTAIN-TEED will outlast the period of guarantee.

The roofing felt, as it comes bone dry from the rollers, is given a thorough saturation of a special blend of soft asphalt, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then given a harder coating of another blend of asphalt. This keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing. Roofing is impervious to the elements only so long as the asphalt saturation lasts. CERTAIN-TEED retains its soft saturation, and is in good condition for years after the harder, drier kinds have become useless.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-covered shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

Many of the children of the Twin Falls country are certain that our studio is really Toy-land for they find in it so much that children like to play with and there are always interesting things for them to think about while their pictures are being made. The little folks are never in a hurry to leave our studio.

One little boy, whose mother had made an appointment for his sitting for the next day, simplified matters by suggesting "I guess I'll just stay all night so I'll be ready." We had made negatives several times for this lively lad and he knew by experience that when little boys have their pictures made at Bisbee's, they are likely to have a jolly, good time. Why not—since it certainly means better pictures?

Notice to Water Users Through the City Mains

Due to the fact that the filter beds are sufficient to take care of only a small portion of water entering the city mains, and through their use our pressure is held so low that we cannot give satisfactory pressure service to the many users or for fire protection, we will, after the 22nd day of May, and until further notice, discontinue the use of the filter beds, and run water directly from the reservoir.

We recommend that all water used for drinking purposes be boiled.

The Theatres

CAIMEN IS THE ONLY GENUINE CHAPLIN FEATURE
Charlie Chaplin's Burlesque on Carmen, Essanay's four-act feature, has been released through the V. L. S. E. and will be shown at the Isis theatre just as soon as a date can be secured. It is the only genuine Chaplin feature to be had and is a scream of laughter from start to finish. Every one in the country knows of this Chaplin comedy, and has been waiting to see it.

Carmen, as all the world knows, is the classic tale of love and passion, written by a Frenchman, and is so appealing it has been translated into every language and made into a play and into an opera and finally into a photograph.

The story is that of a young Heutenant who is sent into a Spanish province to stop smuggling which is costing the government thousands of dollars yearly. He proves adamant to bribes and is in the despair of the smugglers. But Carmen, a kypsy girl, beautiful, alluring and unscrupulous, guarantees to make Lieutenant Josee see reason. He falls for her arts, betrays his trust and kills a brother officer, after which he joins the kypsy band.

Carmen does not love him. She deserts him for a popular torador. Jose follows her to Madrid, where he kills her and himself.

The thing is so big, it lends itself readily to burlesque. And Chaplin, as the smitten soldier, uses Edna Purviance and the situations made by the story to such effect the comedy is one continuous laugh. The situations aren't changed. But it is Chaplin as the "low brow" in the part that makes it ridiculous. Edna Purviance is a beautiful comedian. Carmen, and Chaplin is a well-meaning and therefore extremely funny lover.

"THE CAVERN"—THE STORY.

Madeline Mischief becomes tired of the ceaseless round of balls, parties and toasts, and seeks real adventure. She makes a wager with Dolly Van Dream that she can pick a man at random from the "submerged tenth" and make a social lion of him, without his being discovered. She drops a letter from the window of her room in a fashionable hotel, that contains half of a hundred dollar bill and instructs the finder to give it to the first man she meets, the man to call at her apartments and receive the other half of the bill.

The letter falls into the hands of Haulick Smagge, a coal heaver. He finds his way to Madeline's apartments. She is overjoyed at the success of her plan, and calls him in to putting himself unreservedly in her hands. The ministrations of barbers, haberdashers and gentlemen's tailors, transform him into a presentable personage. Madeline now begins his education and introduces him to members of the "400." Smagge, now a "good" man, is readily accepted by society. Dolly Van Dream immediately falls in love with him, but Smagge becomes enamoured of his benefactress.

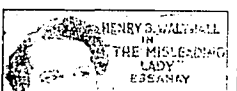

The situation harbors a crisis in the making until Smagge and Madeline are held up by a coal cart that has met with an accident. Smagge goes to help, and with the feel of coal, diverts to his original self.

Smagge returns to his former haunts, but finds the polish acquired as a society lion does not find favor with his old associates. He wanders forth until needs require he go to work. He is given employment in a steel mill. His invention of a mechanical device, brings wealth and place. Madeline visits the plant and again meets Smagge, whom she has never quite forgotten. The two, renewing old acquaintanceship, find, now that Smagge has developed into a stable man of affairs, they have much in common and the picture closes as the girl, roared in the lap of luxury, willingly gives herself into the keeping of the man, her cave man, whom she had rescued from the "submerged tenth" on a wager.

The picture, with Robert Edison and Fay Wallace in the leading roles, will be shown at the Isis theatre, Friday and Saturday. An amusing comedy feature, Frank Danilels, is included in the program.

"THE MISLEADING LADY" AT THE MOHAWK TUESDAY

"The Misleading Lady," a five-act photoplay adapted by L. S. Sheldon from the drama of the same title by Charles W. Goddard and Paul Dickcy, will be shown at the Isis theatre Monday and Tuesday evenings. Henry R. Walthall and Edna Mayo are the leads in the story that deals with a woman's contumacy of a man and his reversion to type in his wooing of her.

The supporting cast went to Milwaukee, where many "ets" of wilderness scenes were taken.

Goddard and Dickcy were sure of success when they wrote the play because they struck a universal cord. All the world loves a lover and the more brutal the wooing, the more it appeals. So when a girl is kidnapped by a man and chained to the floor with a dog chain, and when that man takes her in his arms and carries her despair, her frustration, searching, the seer experiences the thrill that always accompanies the knowledge of a passion that is beyond the pale.

And Henry R. Walthall and Edna Mayo cleave true to the pith of the story. There is no digression. It is a rough wooing, roughly wrought, a prize piece of art in which delicate pictures are made with a misgiving hammer. And in the conclusion, there is the joy that always comes to one at the sight of a successful love affair.

"The board of membership of Philadelphia speaking highly of this picture, one of its members writing: 'Wish to inform you that Dr. L. S. Oberholzer, secretary, and Mrs. E. C. River, vice-chairman of the state board of censors, informed the writer that they consider 'The Misleading Lady,' the best picture that has ever been screened before the public, and stated while they have seen many thousands of subjects, do not consider 'The Misleading Lady,' second to any one of them in merit, in their estimation, is far superior to any subject that has been screened in their inspection room.'

Announcement of Candidacy

On May 4, I announced my candidacy for the nomination for the office of state superintendent of public instruction, subject to the wishes of the Republican electors of the state at the primary election of November 7.

In announcing my candidacy, I take the position of heartily endorsing resolutions recently adopted by the state board of censors, favoring a constitutional amendment for the abolishment of the office, thus eliminating duplication in the state department of education.

If elected, I shall do what is in my power toward perfecting the organization of the unified plan of administration of the state, as well as to perform the duties of the office to the best of my abilities.

Serves them right

There are a good many women who have found that high priced coffee can also be economical.

They have divided the cost of a pound by the number of cups it will make—this has proved its economy. Such coffee as Schilling's Best not only tastes better, but goes further. The price is not low, but a pound flavors more cups.

Part of the quality-economy of Schilling's Best is due to the vacuum-sealed tins in which you buy it. These tins permit us to protect all its fresh-roasted flavor. They have made fine coffee economical. Schilling's Best is sold only through grocers. It is always packed ground.

SUNSHINE HIGHWAY IS NEW PROPOSED ROAD

Planned to Run From Northport, Washington, Through Twin Falls to Nogales, Ariz.

The proposal to build a road known as the Sunshine Highway, is suggested for consideration by the Sunshine Highway association in connection with the National Highway association, as part of an extensive system of highways connecting every part of the nation. The Sunshine highway route runs from Northport, Washington, to the Canadian border, to Nogales, Arizona, on the boundary of Mexico, and traversing six states, touching two capitals, Boise and Phoenix, running through 28 counties. A. L. Swim of this city has had considerable correspondence with the officials in regard to it, and has suggested several changes in the route, where he believes that it would make it more satisfactory to the traveling public. Mr. Swim has been corresponding with C. S. Hoag, of Elly, Nev., who is much interested in the subject.

The plan of the National Highway association is to construct national highways built by the government through all the states, connecting the state capitals and largest cities, state highways built by the states, connecting the different counties, and county and district highways constructed by those respective political divisions connecting the numerous communities within their borders. The association is not under any, builds no roads and is interested only, as an association, in arousing public interest in the subject of good roads.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that Twin is on its way to become famous of account of the splendid logs made of the connecting roads in this state by the Twin Falls Auto club. These logs are being used with due credit given, by the Blue Cook company in getting out descriptive maps of the auto roads of the nation. The work of the club was also warmly praised by A. L. Westgard, vice president and director of transcontinental highways of the National Highway association, who was here two years ago.

Further information relative to the progress toward the construction of the Sunshine Highway is expected by Mr. Swim from time to time.

MOTION PICTURES BY HOME PEOPLE

Local Company Formed to Produce Films for Theatres

MODERN CAMERA WILL BE USED IN GETTING SCENERIES.

Belief Is That Great Scenery, Twin Falls and Rock Creek Offer Great Possibilities.

That the grandeur and splendor of the local scenery has at last been realized and its possibilities as a means of producing motion pictures has finally been appreciated by the organization of the "Pleasure" Film Producing company, by local people, for the manufacture of moving picture films, using southern Idaho as a basis of operations. James T. Ament, general manager of the new company, William L. Rogers will direct the staging of the photoplays and V. J. Ament will photograph the scenes.

arios. Speaking of the matter yesterday, Mr. T. Ament said:

"A complete equipment, including one of the best cameras on the market, has already been ordered, and within a week or two, a host of local actors will pose before the camera. The whole cast will be composed of local talent and there is every indication that a very competent group of actors can be secured. The first film will be shown at a local theatre in a short time, after which the films will be distributed to all parts of the country."

"The local scenery is especially adapted to moving picture photography, providing background for every conceivable situation. The Twin and Shoshone falls offer a very pretty setting, besides offering the possibilities of some very dramatic pieces of photography. Rock creek and the Snake river canyon afford unlimited variety in scenery. Together with the large tracts of sage brush, and the great orchards of the vicinity, this tract can provide a suitable stage for any story. The local irrigating system with its great network of dams and canals can offer numerous stories and plots for the movie photographer, thus making this locality an ideal spot for this enterprise."

"Besides providing delightful and interesting pictures for the local towns, these photoplays will furnish widespread advertising for the Twin Falls tract, for the company has arranged to distribute the films to every part of the country. All title and subtitle of the 'Pleasure' Producer films will use views of Twin Falls as a background. Through the medium of these films people in all parts of the United States will be informed of conditions existing in southern Idaho and will thus see the great possibilities of irrigated farming in the west."

CHAUTAUQUA TO BE BETTER THAN EVER

J. C. Herberman Says It Will Have Great Program—Urges Use of Printer's Ink.

Declaring that the Twin Falls chautauqua last year was the largest in circuit including 210 cities, including Los Angeles and El Paso, and eight state capitals, J. C. Herberman, of the Elisen-White circuit paid an eloquent tribute to the enterprise of this city yesterday at the noon luncheon of the Twin Falls Commercial club at the Parish hall. The luncheon was served by the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church and will be made a weekly affair.

Mr. Herberman came as the advance man of the chautauqua which will open here June 19 and continue for a week. He spoke at some length on the attractions and pointed out that in substituting Dr. Charles Zauben for Nels Darling, a distinct advance had been made. Dr. Zauben is a lecturer of international reputation, both on sociology and civic organization and has written books that are authorities on the subject. Mr. Herberman spoke in words of unstinted praise of the parish hall, and urged that provisions be made for the health amusement of the boys and girls now growing up. All the arrangements and speakers for the coming year are superior to those on the program last year, where changes have been made.

He spoke of the public spirit manifested in the campaign for members in the Twin Falls Commercial club as analogous to the spirit shown in California where each community proceeds on the theory that it is the best on earth. He said that just before dinner he mentioned the New York Marine band as one of the coming attractions to a Twin Falls man and the latter said at once, "That band is nothing in comparison with the Twin Falls band." "That is the sort of spirit that makes a community," declared Mr. Herberman.

In conclusion he strongly urged the use of printer's ink in connection with the spirit of co-operation and mutual helpfulness as a means of upbuilding the community.

The 60-cent merchants' dinner proved a popular affair and the large crowd present voted with practical unanimity for its continuance.

WASHINGTON BOUND OVER.

Part II.—Orchestra "The Superlative Pat," Jessie Malloy; Class History, Edward West; monologue, Helen Cochran; "The Clover Meadow," Lobs Smith; duct, Alma Hilderbrand and Helen Cochran; class prophecy, Alma Hilderbrand; presentations of diplomas; orchestra.

Misses Elva and Fern Averill are back from a fortnight's visit with friends in Filer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gibbs have purchased and moved into the former Buchanan home.

S. T. Buchanan has retired from the government forestry service and will go into hardware business here with H. H. Clark, as it is said.

H. H. Goldsworthy happened to be a painful accident here on Thursday. While riding in an auto with some friends going out to his home, some pigs ran out from under a small bridge just at the instant the party was crossing, and the machine striking one of the pigs, was almost overturned and Mr. Goldsworthy was thrown out, cutting his face, dislocating his right thumb and bruising his left hip. He was brought here and given treatment and is now growing better.

Dr. D. D. Joldersma and wife, with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Clark, made a flying trip to Twin Falls Saturday afternoon.

Sherriff Kendall and County Attorney Davies were here Sunday looking up evidence on some cases with which their respective offices are connected. They returned to Twin Falls the same day.

Following some previous quarrels and a personal fracas a few days ago, a shooting scene occurred here Saturday, May 13, at half past eight in the evening, between Henry McCollum and George Washington, with the result that Mr. McCollum fell to the sidewalk and the shooting ended. It was found that Mr. McCollum was shot in the right leg between the hip and the knee, the ball entering at the outer side of the limb and ranging downward. He was conveyed to the McMillan hotel and in the absence of Dr. Joldersma, Dr. Alexander of Twin Falls was called, and after temporary treatment an ambulance conveyed the wounded man to a Twin Falls hospital for operation and treatment. Messrs. Washington and a son of Mr. McCollum, who had struck Mr. Washington while the latter was under arrest, were arrested and carried to Twin Falls to prison to await further developments.

The trees, gardens and grass here have been severely injured by the frozes of the past week, the weather since the dust storm of the 6th, going below the freezing point every night since until Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Purdy, who came to their home here early in April from a winter on the coast, removed to their ranch near here on the 15th. They will spend the summer there.

Mr. J. S. Russell, cashier of the Bank of Rogersburg, went to Twin Falls on business Monday.

Dr. R. D. Joldersma goes to Buhl Tuesday to attend the Twin Falls county medical association.

Mr. Edward Askew, who has been in Twin Falls for treatment of a light case of fever, is greatly improved and is back with his family.
