& A. M., closed here today after a three-day session.

The convention opened Tuesday morning with the regular business session.
Tuesday evening an informal reception and smoker was held for the visiting masters. There were a number of musical selections and speeches were given by several Masons. The Most Worshipful Grand Master Francis Jenkins gave an address on the subject of "Unity, Peace and Free Masonry." Grand Senior Warden S.
M. Coffin spoke on the "Symbolism of the Masonic Apron." Curtis F. Pike of Boise spoke on "Americanism and Free Masonry," and brief, impromptu talks were made by several other Masons. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Aged Mason Ill

A regrettable incident of the day occurred when Jonas W. Brown of Boise was suddenly stricken with illness and was taken to the Twin Falls hospital.
It was at first feared that he was seriously ill, but to soon rallied and today is able to get out, although unable to attend the Masonic meetings. He is the oldest Mason in the state, being 93 years of age, and is one of the past grand masters in attendance.

Wednesday morning the business session of the order was continued.
In the afternoon a special trip was made by the visiting Masons, escorted by local Masons, to Shoshone falls. The ride was taken in the electric cars of the railway company.

Thursday morning and afternoon were given over to the election of officers and closing business matters of the order.
It was the decision of the order that the next meeting will be held in Boise. At this time the Masons will gather to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Idaho order and the two hundredth anniversary of the organization of the grand lodge in the United States.

The Rev. L. B. Franck, rector of the local Episcopal church, served as grand chaplain during the convention. In the absence of the regular grand chaplain.

rett of Decatur, Ill., and Charles Wellie of Helena, Mont.

Some 80 or more lodges of the state were represented. One hundred and ninety Masons registered and a number dropped in who did not register. Over 125 of those attending were from out of town.

WILL SPEAK AT MODERN WOODMEN BANQUET TONIGHT

CONGRESSMAN ADDISON
T. SMITH IS EXPECTED
HOME THIS AFTERNOON

CRACKEN ALREADY IN BOISE—BORAH AND BRADY NOT EXPECT-ED BACK FOR ANOTHER MONTH

Following the adjournment of Congress, Addison T. Smith remained in Washington closing up departmental matters and finally left for Twin Falls Monday morning. He will arrive here on the afternoon train today and will be taken immediately to the home of J. E. Bellville, at Maple Grove farm, where a picnic of former residents of Ohio is being held.

The Congressman is a former Buckeye and has been asked to address the gathering.

Tonight Congressman Smith will be present at the big class adoption of the Modern Woodmen lodge here, of which he is a member. The reception of new members will be followed by an address from Mr. Smith, after which all will adjourn to the former Presbyterian church, where a banquet banquet will be served to the Woodmen by the Baptist ladies.

Will Tour State

The next two months will be busy ones for the Congressman. Saturday he goes to Gooding to speak at the Methodist conference to be held there, then to Boise to confer with some of the state leaders. There he will be assigned by the state central committee to make a speaking tour of the state, which will probably keep him there pretty much occupied up until election time. He has declined the invitation of the Congressional committee to speak in other states.
Congressman McCracken has been home in Boise several days, but Senator Brady will rest in Washington a week or two before returning. Senator Borah is planned to speak in 24 states and will reach Idaho until a short time before the close of the campaign.

OPENING DAY SEPTEMBER 20

Annual festivals and celebrations are held by nearly every community. Pendenton has her annual "Roundup." Elko the "Rodeo," and Cheyenne "Frontier Days."

Glenwood Springs, a "Strawberry Festival," Grand Junction, an "Apple Pie Day," Rocky Ford, a "Wagon Day," Salt Lake City her "Wizard of the Wasteland" and Southern Idaho is awakening to the fact that the fair to be held at Filer, September 20 to 23, will be about the biggest event of the kind that has ever been held in this section of the country.
Inquiries and applications are pouring in by every mail, and from these it is safe to assume that entries will be greater than at any previous fair ever given in the state of Idaho.

The fair grounds, at the edge of the pretty town of Filer, are today the scene of busy activity. Workmen are there by the dozens, hurrying here and there on their various missions, and the place teems with activity, like a hive of busy bees. The grounds are smooth and level as a floor and are nearly surrounded by trees.

The nice track will be one of the best in the western country and many records will be broken.

FECT ORGANIZATION

ONE CONTEST AMONG THE DEMO-CRATS—C. L. GREEN CHOSEN FOR TWIN FALLS DISTRICT NO. 6 WAS CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

Whether or not a candidate for nomination on a party ticket before the primaries may, upon being to win the nomination, be elected a precinct committeman at the same election is the problem which is perplexing the county committeemen and is being considered at their meeting today. At the time of going to press the county attorney is looking into the legal status of the matter, and the board will reach a decision today.

The case in question is with regard to Twin Falls Precinct No. 6, in which C.
L. Green, candidate for nomination for sheriff, received a majority of votes for committeeman. It is decided that his candidacy for the nomination bars him from any other office in this election, the place will be given to one B. White, who received the next highest vote.

In compliance with the state law, these county committeemen of both parties will assemble at noon tomorrow at the courthouse to perfect permanent organizations.
A chairman and secretary will be chosen by both committees at this time. While the Democratic candidates have not set a definite date to meet and plan the coming campaign, the Republican candidates will take the opportunity offered by the committee meeting tomorrow to go together and perfect their organization.

FACTS REGARDING THE NEW FEDERAL FARM LOANS ACT

AUTHOR OF RURAL CREDIT BILL EXPLAINS ITS WORKING DETAILS

HENRY F. HOLLIS, UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE, GIVES DETAILED SUMMARY OF NEW FEDERAL LAW

Perhaps one of the best explanations of the new federal farm loan act, signed by President Wilson July 17 last, and known as the rural credits bill, is the following detailed summary, issued by the author of the bill himself, Henry F. Hollis, United States senator from New Hampshire:

"John Brown lives on a farm in the Middle West. The soil is heavy and black, but it has been exhausted by a process of cropping and more like mining than farming. Everything has been taken from it. Nothing has been restored. That is why the owner, grown rich from gold excavation, has sold out and moved to town.

"The bare prairie of the farm has taken nearly all of Brown's savings. The buildings look like the bones of a dead animal. The land is in need of drainage; the soil needs fertilizer.

"Brown's neighbor is prosperous. He has treated his land like a farm, not like a mine. He has used good seed, good stock, and drainage pipes and purchased commercial fertilizer by the ton. At the end of the year his barn is full and his crops are safe from the weather, while Brown's crops are meager, and further reduced by frequent wettings.

Brown Needs Cash

"It is plain that Brown needs cash capital, but he has been brought up to save, not to borrow. He looks upon a mortgage as a disgrace. The only time he borrowed, he was unable to pay at maturity. He was charged a commission and an exorbitant rate of interest for a renewal. His mortgage was a burden for years, and always a nightmare.

"Then Brown's cousin Joe comes to visit. Joe is a success in the Eastern city, doing business largely on borrowed capital. He tells John that every prosperous manufacturer borrows money. He asks John what he supposes banks are for if it is disgrace to borrow.

"Brown is half convinced. He gathers courage one day to go to the nearest bank. He feels shaky to cut stubble in the midst of so much marble and brass and mahogany. His courage oozes, his voice shakes, he is clearly overawed, and the bank official decides that he is a cheap fellow.

"Brown is glad to escape with his hat. He scarcely recalls why he went, but he is fused, but there was talk of dear money, and the risk of tying demand deposits up in long term loans. The real reason is that the banker doesn't know Brown or his farm.

"And then Brown's friend Robinson turns up one day, fresh from attendance on a hearing by the federal farm loan board, recently organized by President Wilson under the rural credits bill. The board is touring the country to ascertain the farm loan needs of the various districts. Brown's interest is aroused. Here is help to which he is entitled as a farmer and an American. He writes to the federal farm loan board at Washington, and this is what he learns:

Twelve Districts

"The United States will shortly be divided into 12 land bank districts, each containing a federal land bank. One of these will be established in a city not far from Brown. The sole object of loaning money to farmers for productive purposes of the security of their farms. The farmer will borrow, not as a favor, but as a right.

"Every borrower will take 5 per cent of his loan in stock, and thereby become a partner in the enterprise. He will get his money at once. Any profit will be returned to him in the form of a dividend. The rate cannot exceed 6 per cent. The law fixes that. But the rate may be as much lower as cheap money and good management will warrant.

"Brown learns that the land bank will not deal directly with him, but through a national farm loan association composed of ten farmers who wish to borrow. So he puts in a few minutes visiting his neighbors. He finds nine of them who need cash capital. He invites them to a meeting in his kitchen.

"Brown and his friends organize a farm loan association. From the farm loan board they receive circulars and blanks.

The benefits are so great and the plan so simple that they would be suspicious if the money had come from Wall street rather than from the government.

"They elect officers, fill out the blanks, sign their names, giving the amount of money required by each, and send their application to the land bank of their district. The land bank sends an agent to investigate. He makes a favorable report and they receive a charter covering their county. Brown is made the secretary-treasurer.

"Brown receives with the charter blanks for mortgages and appraisals. The loan committee of his association fills out an appraisal for each loan. Brown forwards these to the land bank. The land bank appraiser examines each farm and recommends the loan. The mortgage papers are then executed and forwarded to the land bank.

"The money is sent back to Brown for distribution among the borrowers. Thereafter he collects and forwards to the land bank installment payments on each loan as they become due. For this service he receives a small fee.

Long Period Loans

"Brown's loan may run for any period from 5 to 40 years. With each payment of interest a certain fixed percentage of the principal is paid. If the interest rate is 5 per cent, and he pays in 1 per cent yearly on the principal, the whole debt will be paid out in 35 years, and this clearing on the mortgage will return from a total payment each year of 5 per cent of the original loan covering interest, expenses and installments on principal.

"Five per cent of Brown's loan comes to him in stock of his association. If the enterprise makes earnings, Brown will get his share in dividends on his stock. When his loan is paid in full, he receives 100 per cent on his stock in cash. It is a co-operative system.

"We have projected Brown's experience a few months into the future, but the plan is accurately outlined. Brown looks forward to January 1st with confidence and entire self-respect. He will receive on his mortgage 50 per cent of the value of his land plus 20 per cent of the value of his buildings. He will make repairs, pay drains and buy live stock, machinery and fertilizer.

"He will pay 1 per cent a year on the principal, and in 35 years he will have as he pleases after 5 years and thereby reduce his interest payments in proportion.

"Plan is Co-operative

"Banks will see Brown no more, hat in hand, lips quivering, courage oozing. Brown and his associates have a charter which makes available for them and their neighbors long term money on easy payments and at the lowest rates. This money is not borrowed on a right, and they and other borrowing farmers control the whole system. It is co-operative. They own the shares. They receive the profits.

"And all this has been made available to the American farmer through the federal farm loan act."

PIANO RECITAL AT HANSEN AUDITORIUM

Miss Marjorie Smith Displays Splendid Technique in a Well-Rendered Program From Old Masters

Miss Marjorie Smith, piano student of Mrs. E. P. Hinton, gave a seventh-grade recital at the Hansen school auditorium Friday evening, September 8, assisted by Mrs. W. O. Smith of Twin Falls, Miss McVey, Mesdames Willis Sampson, E. R. Spith, E. P. Hinton and Messrs. Willis and Otis Sampson.

Miss Smith has only had two years of training and displayed great talent by the way she rendered her selections. While the entire program was of the old masters, Miss Smith executed with mastery and ease, as to tonight her audience. The piano solos by Miss McVey and Mrs. Sampson were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. W. O. Smith's vocal solos were pleasing and well rendered. The vocal quartet, Mesdames Hinton, Smith and Messrs. Willis and Otis Sampson, was received with high appreciation.

PLAN TO SHIP A CAR LOAD OF BEE HONEY

Hagerman Valley Concern Has 1200 Colonies in Valley Around Buhl

Earl Hanks of Hagerman, manager of the Hagerman Valley Bee & Honey company, received the attention of a number of interested parties on Broadway, in Buhl, last week, when he stopped his Ford auto truck, containing 15 cases of honey, and delivered it to the Buhl Herald. The carload consisted of 35 head of registered Hampshire rams and four head of registered Rambouillet rams.

These rams were purchased at the show connected with the National Wool Growers' association, which was held in Salt Lake. The highest price paid for a ram was $1000, which was paid for a Hampshire. The next was $875 for a Hampshire. J. H. Beaver, living in the Castleford country, paid $415 for a Hampshire ram.

Brown Bros. purchased some of the first-price yearling Hampshire rams, paying $205 apiece for them. Four of the Ramboulets were purchased by S. A. Gillett, west of Buhl.

With the importation of this bunch of high-class sheep, the Buhl country can boast of some of the finest stock in the state, and the attention of the breeders of sheep throughout the United States was called to this section from the fact that some of the best rams at the big show were purchased from breeders here.

These rams were purchased at the show connected with the National Wool Growers' association, which was held in Salt Lake. The highest price paid for a ram was $1000, which was paid for a Hampshire. The next was $875 for a Hampshire. J. H. Beaver, living in the Castleford country, paid $415 for a Hampshire ram.

Brown Bros. purchased some of the first-price yearling Hampshire rams, paying $205 apiece for them. Four of the Ramboulets were purchased by S. A. Gillett, west of Buhl.

With the importation of this bunch of high-class sheep, the Buhl country can boast of some of the finest stock in the state, and the attention of the breeders of sheep throughout the United States was called to this section from the fact that some of the best rams at the big show were purchased from breeders here.

COMMEND IDAHO GUARDS

High Praise From Officers of the Regular Army

"HEADQUARTERS NOGALES DIST. CAMP STEPHEN LITTLE, Sept. 6, 1916. From the district adjacent to the command of the Second Idaho Infantry. Subject, Inspection of Troop." The following extract from the report of the district inspector in his recent inspection of the National Guard organizations is furnished for your information: March discipline poor, except in the Idaho regiment. The march discipline of the Idaho regiment was excellent on the day I was with it, and it was a particularly hot, trying day. This regiment carried 15 miles, marched 15 miles, were closed up with no unnecessary noise; no straggling; apparently none footed nor weary and not a single man fell out. The district commander is greatly pleased with the favorable report made by the inspector on this feature of your training.

By command of Brigadier General Humber: J. T. Dean, Lieutenant Colonel.

SEPTEMBER CLUB MEETING

Kimberly Road Ladies Spend Delightful Afternoon

The September meeting of the Kimberly Road club was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Porter, with Mrs. Butler assisting as hostess. After the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Porter entertained the club by reading a number of interesting selections from Every Woman. The hostess then led the way to the grape arbor, where the table was spread and a delicious lunch was enjoyed by all.

SERIOUSLY HURT IN MOTORCYCLE SMASH

TWIN FALLS BOY UNCONSCIOUS FOR SEVERAL HOURS AT SALEM, OREGON HOSPITAL

Orvel Gloystein, sufferer of concussion of the brain when thrown from his machine in Territo Drive for a New Record From Canada to Mexico

"Saw your brother yesterday at 2 o'clock. Improving and doing nicely. He is conscious and says to tell you he is glad he is alive. The cause of the accident was a bunch of holes in the road, and, evidently lost control of machine."

This was the message received Monday by Wendell Gloystein, who gave the first information to the family that there was even a possibility of recovery for Orvel Gloystein, who was injured in a motorcycle accident about three hours' ride south of Portland last Thursday night. Information as to the cause of the accident is extremely meager, a dispatch to the Portland Oregonian laying the cause to the rocky condition of the road. It is known that Orvel was making a supreme effort to break the previous record made by "Cannonball Baker" covering the 1445 miles between Canada and Mexico in 31 hours. He was already pretty well south, and at the rate he was going was destined to have set a record that would not have been broken again soon.

Fast Night Riding

Leaving Portland at 9 o'clock Thursday evening, Gloystein and his guide, Louie Carl Rose, the Excelsior dealer in Portland, were doing some fast, night riding and were only a few miles from Salem, Ore. It was at a Salem hospital that Orvel was taken after the accident and where he lay for several hours in a state of unconsciousness.

If he had been successful in setting a new record in the tri-union run, it was the intention of the Excelsior company to give Orvel an opportunity to drive for them in a transcontinental run from San Francisco to New York city. The father of the boy did not hear of his accident until Monday morning, when other sons, Wendell and Prentiss, keeping the first telegrams from her until Monday, when it was learned that the immediate danger was over.

Young Gloystein left Twin Falls at 4 o'clock a. m. Thursday, August 10 for the run of 1071 miles to Los Angeles. A telegram announcing his arrival there was received by his family here at 1:30 p. m. Saturday evening, showing that he must have covered a little more than 400 miles every 24 hours. From Los Angeles he drove through to Vancouver, B. C., scouting the route for his dash for record honors.

POLIOMYELITIS APPEARS IN BUHL

Baby Suffers Slight Attack—Light Case in Filer Shows Some Improvement

A slight case of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis is reported by Dr. C. Weaver, assistant county physician, Buhl. The child attacked is the 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Warner and the case is a slight one, similar to that reported from Filer. When the case was reported to Dr. Falk of Boise, head of the state health department, he suggested that children's day and the better babies contest at the county fair to be held in Filer this month be abandoned as a matter of precaution. The local physicians, county commissioners and county fair committees, while not feeling any great alarm over the appearance of the second light case of the disease, have agreed to act upon suggestion of Dr. Falk and will not hold the special children's day at the fair as announced in the general program.

So little apprehension is felt by physicians and authorities in the community that it was decided not to close the schools in Buhl. The case at Filer is improving and the schools in Filer have reopened Monday of this week, after having opened on Monday of last week and closed the next day. The report that the Hughes child in Filer had died of infantile paralysis was erroneous. The child is improving.

M. E. CHURCH TO BE HANDSOME EDIFICE

Plans Are Completed and Bids of Contractors Will Soon Be Called For

The foundation for the substantial addition being built on the Methodist church property is practically complete, as are also the plans of the architect, B. Morgan Webb. These plans are now in the hands of the contractors and bids will soon be called for.

The building will be of brown sandstone in the Gothic style. The brick facing of the present structure will also be removed and faced with the brown sandstone to harmonize with the large auditorium being constructed.

The seating capacity of the new auditorium will be 750 people, and the building is so arranged that the auditorium of the present structure may be thrown open in connection with the new part and the total seating capacity increased to 1150. The basement will contain a Sunday school auditorium seating 150. The present hall will be so arranged as to heat the new section and also to furnish cold air through the use of fans for warm weather. The present bell tower will be removed and the building constructed without bell tower, which plans conform to those in general use nowadays. When completed, the whole will be a handsome and imposing structure.

MIXED "FIGGERS"

THAT WILSON made such a poor showing in Maine must have been a matter of profound regret to his supporters, despite the assertions of many that "it makes no difference."

The use of the term "Untrified" by Democratic newspapers with reference to the Democratic Party recalls Walt Mason's sprightly comment in the case of what the Kansas man once termed an instance of "mixed figgers."

A great many years ago, when Mason was doing newspaper work in Nebraska, the late Paul Vandervoort of that State was elected President of the "Reform Press Association," an organization of newspapers of Populist persuasion, a party then in the height of its meteoric flight across the political sky. Mr. Vandervoort was something of an orator, but he concluded his annual address to the Populist editors in these words: "Let us seize firm hold of the wheel of the ship of state, and steering it surely up the hill of prosperity, guide it safely into the green pastures beyond." Mason produced the Vandervoort peroration with this comment: "I have often warned them never to let Paul Vandervoort get hold of that old ship of state. It would be just like him to run it up a hill and founder it in a cornfield."

Seriously, is there not some slight difference between a Democratic majority of three thousand four years ago and a Republican majority of fifteen thousand now?

THE TRUTH

AS a means of shedding light upon a subject of more than passing interest, namely, as to just when the members of the National Guard now engaged in police duty will be returned to their homes, Secretary of War Baker announces that the Department has no fixed policy as to this.

Absence of fixed policy, or any policy at all, appears to be one of the chief characteristics of the Government. Heretofore it has been confined pretty much to the Presidential end of the Administration, aided by what assistance Secretary of the Navy Daniels has been able to offer, but it is, perhaps, not to be wondered at that the disease has begun to permeate into the lower strata.

This is the policy which has "kept us out of war" and which, followed to a logical conclusion, may be depended upon to keep us out of almost anything, including the place of respect and honor which America once held in the eyes of the balance of the world.

Secretary Baker is to be congratulated upon his candor.

AN UNIQUE FEATURE

SCIENTISTS long ago decided that the speck-of-dirt theory, as applied to human diatetes was untenable. Were this not the case, the Oregon Short Line would be enabled to pose as one of the greatest of all aids to human happiness.

If any one doubts the justice of this inference, let him take a ride up or down the branch, anywhere between Buhl and Minidoka. No one knows the amount of dust the human system is capable of absorbing in a given period, but captain it is that in few places are conditions more favorable for a test.

GOOD TIMES AHEAD
FOR BUSINESS GIRLS

Season to Open Soon for This Popular Club—Reception to Be Held First

When the plans of officers and committees of the Business Girls' club are finally arranged, the schedule will show a busy year, full of jolly good times and of splendid growth and development of this popular club, which numbers nearly 100 members, and which will probably exceed that number considerably before the new year.

The first meeting of the club proper for the year will be an informal reception, to be held the latter part of this month in some large hall in the city. According to the plans of the committee, there will be nothing stiff or dull about this first meeting. Efforts will be made to have every business girl in town, including teachers, at this opening gathering.

A live, interesting home-talent play is the next item on the schedule and work on these plans has already started. It will be in charge of Mrs. Wilfred McKay-Olsen, whose ability in this line is unquestioned.

Third in the list is a big bawlowen party, when all the pent-up longing of

GO AND ENLIST

A CHICAGO judge steps gracefully, if briefly, into the limelight. Judge Fisher earns his right to a line in the Associated Press dispatches through the fact that he sentenced a young man found guilty of theft to a year's imprisonment, with the alternative of a year's enlistment in the Army. The youth chose the Army.

Probably the motive was sound enough, but what shall be said of the theory of a system which, if carried out generally, would make an army of convicted thieves? Is this the learned judge's idea of the way to go about the difficult task of inducing increased enlistment? Does he suppose that his action will either improve the morals of the Army or render Army life more attractive for those who might see fit to enter it via some other route than that of a Chicago police court?

The incident may be accepted as the best of all evidence of the judge's estimate of the American Army—and the pitiful part of it is that the judge's estimate is about half way right.

FICKLE CLOVER SEED

CLOVER SEED, like wheat, is an international game—and the game, so far as the price in this country is concerned, is played at Toledo. The seed market is much more fickle than wheat, and generally fluctuates several dollars several times each season. To this rule last year was an exception, the market going in only one direction—up. This year clover is back at its old tricks, and alsike particularly has already taken a journey from less than eight dollars fifty cents per bushel to more than eleven dollars, back to eight dollars seventy cents and up to nearly nine dollars fifty cents. Right now it is hesitating, although an advance may usually be expected in September.

Last year's good prices were due to an almost complete failure in the main clover sections of the East. This year the crop outlook there is much better, but their crop is not yet secure. The export situation in Europe will have considerable influence on the market. Our imports last year from Italy and France totaled two hundred thousand bags. Weather and crop conditions during the next two weeks have the power to make or break the clover market.

THE LESSON

IF there is one lesson stronger than another to be drawn from the recent Primary election, it is that the people as a whole cannot be induced to vote twice in the selection of a single set of candidates.

Over the state as a whole it is apparent that about thirty-five per cent of the voting strength of Idaho voted. The balance did nothing. Is this popular government?

There will not be a normal vote in the forthcoming election. There is bound to be a certain element among the people who, having voted in the Primary, will be careless as to whether they vote in the election or not. Can the result obtained in such an election be regarded honestly as the voice of the people?

Possibly a return to the Convention system would be too radical a step, in the light of the obvious theoretical advantages of the Primary, but surely some method can be devised to get away from its many just as obvious weaknesses.

No man with the greater good of the commonwealth at heart likes to think that the thickness of a candidate's roll, everything else being equal, is frequently the deciding element in his selection, yet this is often the method employed under the Convention system. It is often the only method of selection which can be employed.

But even at that, a return to the old system does not suffer by comparison to a continuance of the Primary law in its present form.

PLAN HOG CHOLERA
CONTROL EXHIBITS

Dr. W. A. Sullivan Will Demonstrate the Government's Work at the Three Big Fairs

With hog cholera control exhibits at the three big fairs of Southern Idaho, the Minidoka county fair at Rupert, the Minidoka fair at Burley and the Southern Idaho fair at Filer, Dr. W. A. Sullivan, the federal government cholera expert, expects to use fair time as a particularly opportune occasion for spreading information on the subject among the farmers.

At each fair a demonstration will be held showing methods of vaccinating and the use of the hog cholera serum. The control exhibit will also show hog cholera lesions and views of the work done and now accomplished in this section of the state.

Miss Edith Holcomb, graduate of the Lincoln Conservatory of Music, will accept a limited number of pupils after September 20th, at the Twin Falls Conservatory.

Local Men to Supply Twin Falls with Fruit

Realizing that there is to be a shortage of fruit of all kinds in Twin Falls this year, the Twin Falls Vinegar and Cider Co., together with R. Philoe, have made arrangements whereby there will be several carloads of fruit, shipped in from the various fruit districts of the Northwest.

R. Philoe will take charge of the fruit at this end, while the Twin Falls Vinegar and Cider Co. will see to the purchasing and shipping at the other end. Owing to the shortage of cult apples to be used for cider, they have shipped their machinery into the districts that were not hurt by the frost, where they will grind and be able to supply their customers with sweet cider as usual. They will then be on the ground at the fruit districts and can in that way select the best fruit obtainable for the Twin Falls people.

If you want printing done, by all means have it done right. The News printing department has machinery, equipment of type of latest fashions, and men of skill and experience to handle them.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT HAS EARLY START IN TWIN FALLS

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES
IS WELL ATTENDED

ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN IN PLANS
PROPOSED—MRS. PACKARD HOLDS CLOSE ATTENTION WITH TALKS OF SOCIAL WORK

A real Christmas spirit and enthusiasm gathering of people in early September, before the opened for the year, when fall hats were just being thought of and the song of the lawnmower was still heard abroad in the land was the unusual condition pre-valing at a meeting Friday evening.

The affair, which was the annual meeting of the Associated Charities, was held in the office of Superintendent Hal G.
Blue, in the high school building. Mrs.
Kennedy Packard, president of the organization, was in the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and other preliminary work, the election of officers was held, as follows:

President, Mrs. Kennedy Packard; vice-president, Mrs. Spencer T. Murphy; secretary, Miss Jessie Warrington; treasurer, W. Young; board of directors, Mrs.
Elizabeth A. Ellsbard, Supt. Hal G. Blue, John R. Ault.

In discussing plans for this year's work, the matter of the annual soliciting was taken up at length. Professor Blue agreed to visit the banks and two or more young ladies will be asked to visit the offices and shops throughout the city. The hope was expressed by those in attendance that the people of the city who expect to visit in the work this year, especially, establish a precedent by mailing their checks to the treasurer, instead of bringing them to the office. The president, in speaking of the donations made last year, which were larger than any previous year, made special mention of Mrs. Anderson, manager of the Orpheum, whose contribution to the expenditure of the minutes of the previous meeting, the largest individual donation. Large sums were also given by a number of business houses and individuals. "I find that the people of Twin Falls are inherently generous and need only to know of the needs of the poor and unfortunate and to be given an opportunity to contribute to their help."

Two Pathetic Cases

The president took up the needs of the present time and urged that publicly be given not only to the poor but to the work of the individuals, for the purpose of supplying the needs at once.
"Our supply room needs replenishing immediately," she said, "as it is almost exhausted of supplies. We need, especially, children's clothing. Right now we need outfits for eight or ten children that they may remain in school. We need warm clothing for a little boy of 6 years, and clothing and children's books for a little boy of 11 years, who has had two serious operations and is frail and sick. And these are just the advance individuals in the small army that are to be taken care of as the cold weather comes upon us."

District workers will be appointed soon by the president, two women in each district into which the community is divided, for this purpose and plans for the winter are to be worked out.

Christmas Cheer Distributed

Those attending the meeting were held in close attention for an hour or more by the president's recital of the social service part of her work last winter.
Especially interesting were her accounts of the work done at Christmas time. She told how 27 dinners were prepared and delivered to as many places; how she visited, alone men who were "bachelors" in lodges they were using their money on stopping place. They had only gunnybags for beds and bedding and they cooked their meals over the cold weather, in tin cans over a campfire of brushwood, down in the canyon. "They may have been the most miserable creatures on the face of the earth; I don't know; but they had one good meal and a word of Christmas cheer. And we found two white-haired men living in tin old barn, and we helped them to have something like a good Christmas meal.
Scores of children would have had no toy or gift of any kind on Christmas day had it not been for the Associated Charities. Color, race, sex, religion nor anything else, made any difference—we helped them all."

"In the other line of our work we helped many unfortunate people to find their relatives, built up their health and strength until they were able to travel, outfitted them and saw them safely off to other states where they were cared for by relatives who, in many cases, did not know of their plight or whereabouts. And ardent charity labor has been lost. In several cases we helped people just once, but the satisfaction of seeing them secure good positions and make good, and the further satisfaction in their sincerity by their return to us of the money expended for them."

Outside Solicitors Not Welcome

The matter of soliciting by outsiders of aid for themselves was also carefully discussed. The example of the phase of the subject was cited by the president. "A man came to my door recently asking for financial aid," she stated. "His face was a mass of scars and, altogether, he was a most unprop-erly looking man. He said he was a home and he said he lived in Twin Falls and had lived there for six or eight years. I told him if he had come to Twin Falls to live he would have had to have had no other place to go. I told him that we had enough such people of our own to care for and that he must remain in Pocatello at once and apply to Pocatello people for aid, and not to Twin Falls people. He had in possession a property signed permit from Twin Falls officials granting him permission to solicit money here, but it was no practical reason why Twin Falls should support Pocatello people.

I took the matter up at once with Commissioner Carlson, who, in his laudable way, persuaded the man to return to Pocatello. We have such instances as these to face all the time, and they are not pleasant. I think we should have a city ordinance prohibiting such practice." With the season of greatest need approaching, with only the most meager treasury and practically no clothing in the charities storehouse, an urgent call is made for the assistance of the community to bear this matter in mind.
The Associated Charities, through the newspapers, asks that anyone having good clothing which they are discarding leave it at the office of W. J. Young, on East Main street, where donations of money have it ready for the solicitor or mail checks for the same.

SOMEWHAT ABOUT THE MYSTERIOUS AZTECS

Until Thomas H. Ince undertook the making of his remarkable Triangle feature, "The Captive God," little was known of the most mysterious and remarkable of early American people—the Aztecs.

These were the original Mexicans; the name that is Aztec. Whence they came is not known, but they were undoubtedly descended from Asiatic voyagers. Theirs was a strange mixture of primitive civilization and primitive savagery. They were remarkably skilled in the arts and in building, had a form of picture writing somewhat resembling the Egyptian, and what is described as the most bloodthirsty religion the world has ever known.

The Aztecs were at their zenith when the Spanish explorers made their way to the mainland from West Indies more than 400 years ago. Their capital was the 14th century. Their capital was and had been for centuries on the site of the present Mexican capital and it had a population of several hundred thousand people. They were a highly organized community with weird and shocking habits and customs, only obscure records of which have been preserved.

This picture will be shown at the Orpheum this week.

FALL STYLES SEEN AT FASHION SHOW

MANY PEOPLE ATTEND AUTUMN OPENINGS AT THREE STORES TO SEE THE NEW CREATIONS

Millinery, Suits, Coats and Other Articles of Wearing Apparel Are Displayed Large Attendance at Each Store and Much Interest Is Shown

On Monday evening fashion shows were conducted at the Hat Shop, Riley's and the North Mountain. Each store was crowded throughout the evening by many women, a few interested and several reluctant men.

Each store was arranged in its most attractive manner and the beautiful processes of Eastern markets displayed to splendid advantage. The hat creation being probably the most urgent just now, those worn by the several living models in each store were carefully scrutinized, tried on and prized by hat-cog-ner women. A number of the patient bus-bands stood outside the millinery stores and, when they thought no one was looking their way, peered curiously in at the scenes in store. A few brave ones went in with their wives to give expert testimony and opinion on the becomingness or unbecomingness of the new colors and shapes—and prices.

HELD ON CHARGE OF KIDNAPING

V. W. McDonald, hailing from Mon-where up the line, is held in the county jail on a charge of kidnaping his 6-year-old daughter from his divorced wife, Mc-Donald was arrested early Saturday morning on complaint sworn out by Mrs.
Pearl McDonald and the hearing was set for Tuesday morning of this week. However, the complaining witness in the meantime took her children and departed for parts unknown, and if she does not appear within a day or two McDonald will be released.

The couple secured a divorce some time ago in Idaho Falls or Blackfoot and the mother was given the custody of the two children, a boy and a girl.

In the early hours of the morning, Saturday, Judge Ostrom was routed from his slumbers to issue a warrant for the arrest of McDonald upon complaint of Mrs. Pearl McDonald. Officers searching for the missing daughter, Wanda, found her in possession of a woman of assumed name, who was with McDonald at a local hotel. The child was restored to its mother and McDonald lodged in jail.

With the failure of the child's mother to appear against McDonald, the case will probably be dismissed in a day or two.

ENROLLMENT FIRST WEEK OF SCHOOL UNPRECEDENTED

OPENING IS AUSPICIOUS, WITH CROWDED CONDITIONS PREVAILING

TWO HUNDRED TWENTY-THREE MORE PUPILS ENROLLED THIS YEAR, THAN AT OPENING LAST YEAR—ALL GRADES INCREASE

With the enrollment figures at hand for the four schools in Twin Falls before the close of the first week of school, a remarkable increase in attendance over last year is shown. The opening enrollment last year was 716. This year's enrollment on Wednesday of this week was 1939, an increase this year of 223.

Organization of the school work for the year is being carefully arranged and the attendance in each room is being proportioned as evenly as possible. An overcrowding in a number of rooms was experienced the first few days, but those conditions are being remedied as rapidly as possible.

Splendid Record Made

Last year there were 1325 pupils in the grades; this year there are 1516. Last year there were 391 in the high school; this year there are 423. This year's high school enrollment shows freshmen 114, sophomores 101, juniors 61, seniors 57. The total eighth-grade enrollment is 151. According to the statement of teachers, the eighth-grade and freshmen enrollment in the Twin Falls schools is seldom equaled anywhere as to ratio.

The following is the enrollment of each school:

Grade	Dickel	Lincoln	Washington	Total
First	71	85	70	226
Second	81	85	75	241
Third	69	85	64	218
Fourth	69	82	58	209
Fifth	72	82	50	204
Sixth	61	76	30	167
Seventh	57	61	24	142
Eighth	76	76	24	176

Grand total 1516

The teaching force, which numbered 60 last year, has been increased to a force of 67, and Superintendent Blue announces that it will probably be necessary to add another teacher to the force in the near future.

Last year some 235 pupils enrolled at the opening of the last semester, making the total at the close of school approximately 1951, or only 12 more than enrolled at the opening of school this year. It is 200 more than the attendance at the close of the present school year will be something like 2139 pupils.

LITTLE STAR BIG HIT

Ann Pennington Scores in Famous Play— "Basil Snowflake"

Ann Pennington, the celebrated little Broadway star, makes her motion picture debut in the Famous Players production, "Basil Snowflake," which is the Paramount attraction at the Idaho theatre this week. Known all over the country as a dancer and comedienne, Miss Pennington has been wisely starred in a play which is a story of musical comedy life, thus giving her the greatest opportunity to display her far-famed talent on the screen. Shown at the Idaho Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 18 and 19.

Around the life of the Western gold miner there has ever been cast a romantic halo. This breath of romance has been blown into the thrilling novel, "The World's Great Secret," by E. Phillips Oppenheim, and has been flashed into living fire on the screen by the Famous Players Film company in its adaptation of the celebrated novel in which beautiful Pauline Frederick is starred. It is the featured Paramount attraction at the Idaho Friday and Saturday of this week.

"The Shrine of Happiness," a colored Pathé, starring Jackie Saunders, will be seen at the Idaho Wednesday and Thursday of this week. This feature was filmed by Balboa, with the help of California's smiling sunshine.

VERDICT RENDERED FOR THE DEFENDANT

Case of Two Hoolster Men and Team of Horses is Heard in the Probate Court

The case of W. D. Cowger against P. J. Freeman, both residing near Hoolster, was heard before Judge Ostrom Monday afternoon and Tuesday and a verdict for the defendant was rendered by the jury.

The case grew out of the renting by Freeman of a team of horses belonging to Cowger. Freeman had the team from August 3 until August 25. When he returned the team one of the horses was sick and soon after its return it died. Cowger brought suit against Freeman for damages in the sum of $250, claiming overwork and poor care of the team resulted in the death of the horse.

After hearing the testimony of 15 witnesses from the Hoolster vicinity and hearing all the evidence, the jury decided that the horse came to its death by natural causes, not due to overwork or lack of care on the part of Freeman.
